

qtr. abbr quarter

qty. abbr quantity

qua /'kwɑ:/ prep, formal : in the character or role of (someone or something) : AS — used to indicate that someone or something is being referred to or thought about in a particular way • The artist qua artist is less interesting to me than the artist as a human being. — see also SINE QUA NON

¹quack /'kwæk/ verb quacks; quacked; quack-ing [no obj] of a duck : to make a loud sound • We could hear the ducks quacking.

²quack noun, pl quacks [count] : the loud sound that is made by a duck — compare ³QUACK

³quack noun, pl quacks [count] informal

1 disapproving : an unskillful doctor or a person who falsely claims to have medical skills • That quack almost killed me by prescribing the wrong medication. • Her doctor turned out to be a real quack.

2 Brit — used in usually a negative or humorous way to refer to a doctor • a visit to the quack

— compare ²QUACK

— quack adj, always used before a noun • quack medicines • a quack doctor quack-ery /'kwækəri/ noun [noncount] disapproving : the methods and treatments used by unskillful doctors or by people who pretend to be doctors • His cure was nothing but quackery.

quad /'kwɑ:d/ noun, pl quads [count] informal

1 : QUADRANGLE 2 • Meet me at the quad after class.

2 : QUADRICEPS • She suffered a quad injury. — usually plural • I overworked my quads at the gym.

3 : QUADRUPLET • She gave birth to quads.

quad-ran-gle /'kwɑ:,dræŋgəl/ noun, pl -ran-gles [count]

1 geometry : a flat shape that has four sides and four angles : QUADRILATERAL

2 : an open square or rectangular area at a college, school, etc., that is surrounded by buildings on all four sides quad-rant /'kwɑ:drənt/ noun, pl -rants [count] : one part of something that is evenly divided into four parts • Draw two intersecting lines that divide the page into four quadrants. • The town is located in the northwest quadrant of the state.; especially, geometry : one part of a circle that is evenly divided into four parts qua-drat-ic equation /kwɑ'drætik-/ noun, pl ~ -tions [count] mathematics : an equation in which the highest unknown variable is multiplied by itself only once • $x^2 + 4x + 4 = 0$ is a quadratic equation.

quad-ri-ceps /'kwɑ:drə,seps/ noun, pl quadriceps [count] : a large muscle at the front of your upper leg • He felt a pain in his right quadriceps. • My quadriceps are sore.

quad-ri-lat-er-al /,kwɑ:drə'lætərəl/ noun, pl -als [count] geometry : a flat shape that has four sides and four angles qua-drille /kwɑ'dril/ noun, pl -drilles [count] : a dance for four couples who each form one side of a square ♦ This dance was popular in the 18th and 19th centuries.

— quadrilateral adj • The sheet of metal was cut into even quadrilateral shapes.

qua-dril-lion /kwɑ'driljən/ noun, pl quadrillion or quadrillions [count] : the number 1,000,000,000,000,000 : one thousand trillion quad-ri-ple-gia /,kwɑ:drə'pli:ʒijə/ noun [noncount] medical : a condition in which you are permanently unable to move or feel your arms and legs and most of your body because of injury or illness quad-ri-ple-gic /,kwɑ:drə'pli:ʒik/ noun, pl -gics [count] medical : a person who is permanently unable to move or feel both arms and both legs because of injury or illness — compare PARAPLEGIC

— quadriplegic adj, always used before a noun • quadriplegic patients quad-ru-ped /'kwɑ:drə,ped/ noun, pl -peds [count] technical : an animal that has four feet • Horses and cows are quadrupeds. — compare BIPED

¹qua-dru-ple /kwɑ'dru:pəl/ verb -dru-ples; -dru-pled; -dru-pling

1 [no obj] : to become four times bigger in value or number • The value of the stock has quadrupled in the past year. • The town's population has quadrupled in the past 50 years.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to become four times bigger • He quadrupled his winnings. • The company has quadrupled the number of its employees.

²quadruple adj

1 : four times bigger in size or amount • She ordered a quadruple espresso.

2 always used before a noun : having four parts or including four people or things • a quadruple murder [=a murder of four people]

qua-dru-plet /kwɑ'dru:plət/ noun, pl -plets [count] : one of four babies that are born at the same time to the same mother — usually plural • She had (a set of) quadruplets. [=she gave birth to four babies] — compare QUINTUPLET, SEXTUPLET, TRIPLET, TWIN quaff /'kwɑ:f/ verb quaffs; quaffed; quaff-ing [+ obj] old-fashioned + literary : to drink a large amount of (something) quickly • We stopped at a bar and quaffed a few beers.

quag-mire /'kwæg,majə/ noun, pl -mires [count]

1 : an area of soft, wet ground — usually singular • After a lot of rain, the dirt road becomes a quagmire.

2 : a situation that is hard to deal with or get out of : a situation that is full of problems — usually singular • The trial became a legal quagmire. • She's caught in a quagmire of debt.

qua-hog /'kou,hɑ:g/ noun, pl -hogs [count] US : a type of large clam that is eaten as food

¹quail /'kweil/ noun, pl quail or quails

1 [count] : a kind of small wild bird that is often hunted

2 [noncount] : the meat of quail eaten as food • We had quail for dinner.

²quail verb quails; quailed; quail-ing [no obj] literary : to feel afraid and often to show your fear in a way that can be clearly seen • Other politicians quailed before him. • He quailed at the thought of seeing her again.

quaint /'kweint/ adj quaint-er; -est

[or more ~; most ~] : having an old-fashioned or unusual quality or appearance that is usually attractive or appealing • The fishing village was very quaint. • The writer talks about the quaint customs of the natives. • They have some quaint [=outdated] notions about how women should behave.

— quaint-ly adv • The town is quaintly old-fashioned.

¹quake /'kweik/ verb quakes; quaked; quak-ing [no obj]

1 : to shake because of fear, anger, etc. : TREMBLE • He quaked with fear. • She was quaking with rage.

2 : to shake violently • The explosion made the whole house quake.

²quake noun, pl quakes [count] informal : EARTHQUAKE

Quak-er /'kweikə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a member of a Christian religious group whose members dress simply, are against violence, and have meetings without any special ceremony or priests — called also Friend

— Quaker adj • a Quaker school/family

qual-i-fi-ca-tion /,kwɑ:ləfə'keɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] a : a special skill or type of experience or knowledge that makes someone suitable to do a particular job or activity — usually plural • He has the best qualifications for the job. • She has the proper qualifications to teach. • academic/educational/technical qualifications b : something that is necessary in order for you to do, have, or be a part of something — usually plural • What are the qualifications for owning a gun? • He met all the health qualifications for joining the army.

2 formal : something that is added to a statement to limit or change its effect or meaning [noncount] I agree with the statement without qualification. [=I agree completely] [count] They will agree to the deal only with the qualification [=stipulation] that they get 40 percent of the profits.

3 [count] Brit : an official record or document (such as a degree, certificate, or diploma) which shows that you have completed a course of study or training and are qualified to do something • She is finishing up her qualification in marketing. • He is studying for his teaching qualification. • Students working towards their qualifications. • Her paper qualifications [=her qualifications on paper; her qualifications as shown by documents] make her a good candidate, but do you think she has the right personality for the job?

4 [noncount] : the act of qualifying for something or the fact of having qualified for something • Your credit card will be sent to you by mail upon qualification. [=when you have qualified to receive it] • The team earned qualification for the tournament. [=the team qualified to play in the tournament]

qual-i-fied /'kwɑ:lə,faid/ adj

quail

1 [more ~; most ~] : having the necessary skill, experience, or knowledge to do a particular job or activity : having the qualifications to do something • She is highly qualified for the job. • He is qualified [=eligible] to run for president. • She is qualified [=licensed] to practice law in this state. • fully qualified teachers/nurses • I'm not qualified to give you advice about what you should do.

2 formal : not complete : limited in some way : PARTIAL • She gave a qualified yes to the question. • The plan was given qualified approval.

qual-i-fi-er /'kwɑ:lə,fajə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person or team that has defeated others to enter a competition • She's one of the qualifiers for the tournament.

2 : a game or contest that a person or team must win in order to enter a particular competition • She'll be playing in the tournament this year after winning the qualifier.

3 grammar : a word (such as an adjective or adverb) or phrase that describes another word or group of words : MODIFIER

qual-i-fy /'kwɑ:lə,fai/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to give (someone) the necessary skill or knowledge to do a particular job or activity • His experience qualifies him for the job. • The training will qualify you to sell insurance. b [no obj] : to have the necessary skill or knowledge to do a particular job or activity : to have the qualifications to do something • They both qualify for the job.

2 [no obj] : to pass an exam or complete a course of study that is required in order to do something • Lawyers may only work in the state in which they qualified. [=passed the exam] — often + as • He has just qualified as a doctor/pilot.

3 a [no obj] : to have the right to do, have, or be a part of something • Did she qualify to receive financial aid? • Financial assistance is available for those who qualify. — often + for • Town residents qualify for a discount on the tickets. • To qualify for the contest, you must be at least 18 years old. b [+ obj] : to give (someone) the right to do, have, or be a part of something • The win qualifies her to compete in the final race. • The certification qualifies you to teach only in this state. — often + for • The insurance plan qualifies you for an eye exam every two years. • Further education will qualify you for a pay raise.

4 [no obj] : to have the skills that are required or do the things that are required to become a member of a team or to be allowed in a competition • Only those racers who qualify will continue to the next round. • She tried to get into the tournament, but she failed to qualify. — often + for • She qualified for the Olympic team.

5 a [no obj] : to have all the necessary qualities to be thought of or described in a particular way — + as • Does this shirt qualify as business attire? • Living in a camper for a weekend does not qualify as outdoor camping. • A 10–3 victory qualifies as a blowout. • The book is too short to qualify as a novel. b [+ obj] : to give (someone or something) the right to be thought of or described in a particular way — + as • His brief time in the army doesn't qualify him as a military expert.

6 [+ obj] formal : to make (a statement) more specific or limited in meaning or effect • I would like to qualify [=modify] what I said earlier to avoid any misinterpretation.

7 [+ obj] grammar : to limit or describe the meaning of (a word or group of words) : MODIFY • Adjectives qualify nouns.

qual-i-ta-tive /'kwɑ:lə,tetrv/ adj : of or relating to how good something is : of or relating to the quality of something • a qualitative analysis of the product [=an analysis concerned with the quality of the product] • The research showed a qualitative difference between the two teaching methods. [=showed that one teaching method is better than the other] — compare QUANTITATIVE

— qual-i-ta-tive-ly adv

1 qual-i-ty /'kwɑ:ləti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : how good or bad something is • Pollution affects air/water quality. • The restaurant serves food of high quality. [=the food at the restaurant is very good] • The dress material is of poor quality. [=the dress material is not good] — often + of • The quality of the service we received was very good. • The quality of their products has gone down. • His attention to detail shows in the quality of his work. • She has raised/improved her quality of life [=she has become more successful] with her new career. • The drug is used to improve the quality of life for patients who have chronic illnesses. [=to make their lives more pleasant and enjoyable]

2 [count] : a characteristic or feature that someone or something has : something that can be noticed as a part of a person or thing • Honesty is a desirable quality. • Stubbornness is one of his bad qualities. • She has strong leadership qualities. • The house has many fine qualities. • His music has a primitive quality. — often + of • Hardness is a quality of steel. • He considered the good and bad qualities of the car before buying it.

3 [noncount] : a high level of value or excellence • wine of quality [=very good wine] • They offer quality at a reasonable price.

2 quality adj, always used before a noun

1 : very good or excellent • The restaurant offers quality service. • The store sells quality furniture at reasonable prices. • It can be difficult to find quality childcare. • He had a quality education.

2 Brit : intended for people who are educated and who care about serious matters • a quality newspaper/paper • the quality press quality assurance noun [noncount] : the activity of checking goods or services to make sure that they are good — abbr. QA

quality control noun [noncount] : the activity of checking goods as they are produced to make sure that the final products are good — abbr. QC quality time noun [noncount] : time that you spend giving all of your attention to someone who is close to you (such as your child) • Spending some quality time after work with your children is very important. • Dad and I spent some quality time together.

qualm /'kwɑ:m/ noun, pl qualms [count] : a feeling of doubt or uncertainty about whether you are doing the right thing • He accepted their offer without a qualm. — usually plural; often + about • She had/felt some qualms about moving to the big city. • He had no qualms about accepting their offer.

quan-da-ry /'kwɑ:ndri/ noun, pl -ries [count] formal : a situation in which you are confused about what to do • The unexpected results of the test have created a quandary for researchers. • He was in a quandary [=unsure, confused] about which candidate to choose.

quan-go /'kwæn,gou/ noun, pl -gos [count] Brit : an organization that deals with public matters and is supported by the government but that works independently and has its own legal powers ♦ Quango was formed as an abbreviation of “quasi-nongovernmental organization.”

quanta plural of ¹ QUANTUM

quan-ti-fi-er /'kwɑ:ntə,fajə/ noun, pl -ers [count] grammar : a word or number (such as “many,” “few,” “some,” “two,” or “2”) that is used with a noun to show the amount of something • “Five” in “the five men” is a quantifier.

quan-ti-fy /'kwɑ:ntə,fai/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing [+ obj] formal : to find or calculate the quantity or amount of (something) • It is difficult to quantify intelligence. • Doctors have quantified the risks of smoking cigarettes. • It is impossible to quantify the number of Web sites on the Internet.

— quan-ti-fi-able /'kwɑ:ntə'fajəbəl/ adj • The health risks are not quantifiable. • quantifiable benefits quan-ti-ta-tive /'kwɑ:ntə,tetrv/ adj : of or relating to how much there is of something : of or relating to the quantity or amount of something • a quantitative analysis/measurement • Scientists are gathering quantitative information about human intelligence. — compare QUALITATIVE

— quan-ti-ta-tive-ly adv

quan-ti-ty /'kwɑ:ntəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 : an amount or number of something [count] The wine is made in small/large quantities. — often + of • I ate a large quantity of food. [=I ate a lot of food] • Farmers grow large quantities of wheat and corn. • Add a half a cup of oil, and the same quantity of vinegar. [noncount] The boss is worried about quantity as well as quality. • Production saw an increase in quantity. [=there was an increase in the amount produced] — abbr. qty.

2 : a large amount or number of something [count] — + of • Police found quantities of drugs and guns in the house. • There is a quantity of information [=a lot of information] available on this topic. [noncount] Blood cells are produced in quantity. [=in large amounts] • The family buys food in quantity.

known quantity : someone or something whose abilities or characteristics are well known • When she was cast in the role of the princess, she was already a known quantity from her work in several films.

unknown quantity : someone or something whose abilities or characteristics are not yet known • If you've never been published before, you're an unknown quantity, so you're going to have difficulty selling your first novel.

quantity surveyor noun, pl ~ -ors [count] Brit : someone whose job is to estimate the amount and cost of materials needed for building something and how long it will take to build

¹quan-tum /'kwa:ntəm/ noun, pl quan-ta /'kwa:ntə/ [count] physics : the smallest amount of many forms of energy (such as light)

²quantum adj, always used before a noun, physics : of, relating to, or using the principles of quantum theory • quantum physics

quantum leap noun, pl ~ leaps [count] : a sudden large change, development, or improvement • Prices have taken a quantum leap upward. • The new drug is a quantum leap in the fight against cancer. — called also quantum jump

quantum mechanics noun [noncount] physics : a branch of physics that deals with the structure and behavior of very small pieces of matter

quantum theory noun [noncount] physics : a theory in physics that is based on the idea that energy (such as light) is made of small separate units of energy

¹quar-an-tine /'kworən,ti:n/ noun [noncount]

1 : the period of time during which a person or animal that has a disease or that might have a disease is kept away from others to prevent the disease from spreading • a six-month quarantine

2 : the situation of being kept away from others to prevent a disease from spreading • The infected people were put into quarantine. • The cows will be kept/held in quarantine for another week. • The dog was put/placed under quarantine

²quarantine verb -tines; -tined; -tin-ing [+ obj] : to keep (a person or animal) away from others to prevent a disease from spreading : to put or keep (a person or animal) in quarantine • The hospital quarantined the infected patients. • The dog was immediately quarantined.

quark /'kwoək/ noun, pl quarks [count] physics : any one of several types of very small particles that make up matter

¹quar-rel /'kworəl/ noun, pl -rels [count]

1 : an angry argument or disagreement • a lover's quarrel = a quarrel between lovers • They had a quarrel about/over money. • a quarrel between husband and wife • She had a quarrel with her mother.

2 : a reason to disagree with or argue about something — + with • I have a few quarrels with your plan. • I have no quarrel with [=I do not object to] your plan. • It would be foolish to pick a quarrel [=start a quarrel] with him.

²quarrel verb -rels; US -reled or Brit -relled; US -rel-ing or Brit -rel-ling [no obj] : to argue about or disagree with something • The children quarrel all the time. • She and her husband are always quarreling about/over money. • I don't want to quarrel with you. • I won't quarrel [=disagree] with your version of what happened.

quar-rel-some /'kworəlsəm/ adj [more ~; most ~] : ready or likely to argue or disagree • She is very quarrelsome. • a quarrelsome person

¹quar-ry /'kwori/ noun [singular] : an animal or person that is being hunted or chased • The dogs chased their quarry. • The detective followed his quarry into a nightclub. — compare ²QUARRY

²quarry noun, pl quar-ries [count] : a place where large amounts of stone are dug out of the ground • a limestone quarry — compare ¹QUARRY

³quarry verb -ries; -ried; -ry-ing

1 : to dig or take (stone or other materials) from a quarry [+ obj] — often used as (be) quarried • Limestone is quarried in this area. • The stone used for these buildings was quarried from a nearby site. [no obj] an area where workers are quarrying for limestone

2 [+ obj] : to make a quarry in (a place) — usually used as (be) quarried • This area has been quarried for limestone. — quarrying /'kworijɪŋ/ noun [noncount] quart /'kwoət/ noun, pl quarts [count]

1 US : a unit of liquid measurement equal to two U.S. pints or 0.946 liters — abbr. qt.

2 Brit : a unit of liquid measurement equal to two British pints or 1.14 liters — abbr. qt.

¹quar-ter /'kwoətə/ noun, pl -ters

1 [count] : one of four equal parts of something • Cut the pie

into quarters. • A quarter [=fourth] of the class voted "no."

2 [count] : a unit of something (such as weight or length) that equals one fourth of some larger unit • an inch and a quarter • a quarter of a cup of sugar • It happened three quarters of a century ago. [=75 years ago]

3 [count] : one of four divisions of an hour : a period of 15 minutes • He was three quarters of an hour early. • It is now (a) quarter to four. = (US) It is now (a) quarter of four. [=it is 15 minutes before four o'clock] • The alarm went off at (a) quarter past six. = (US) The alarm went off at (a) quarter after six. [=15 minutes after six o'clock]

4 [count] : one of four divisions of a year : a period of three months • The company's profits rose in the second quarter. • (Brit) quarter day [=the first day of a financial quarter when payments are due]

5 [count] : one of four divisions of a school term usually lasting about 12 weeks • She received her grades for the first quarter. — compare SEMESTER, TERM, TRIMESTER

6 [count] : one of the four equal parts of the playing time of a game (such as basketball or American football) • There are two minutes left in the third quarter. • The final quarter of the game was very exciting.

7 [count] : a coin of the United States and Canada that is worth 25 cents • Do you have a quarter for the parking meter?; also : the sum of 25 cents • The candy costs a quarter.

8 [count] : a person or group of people or an area in which people live • Concern has been expressed in many quarters. [=many people have expressed concern] • The move was met with dismay in this quarter. • My brother and I have not spoken in years so I expect no help from that quarter. [=I expect no help from my brother] • Complaints came from all quarters [=from many people or places]

9 [count] : a part or area of a city • She lives in the historic quarter. [=district]

10 quarters [plural] : the place where someone lives • Our living quarters were very comfortable. • soldiers'/servants' quarters

11 [count] : one of the two times during a month when a quarter of the moon's surface can be seen • The moon was in its/the first quarter. • a quarter moon

at/in close quarters : close together usually in a very small space • The sailors were living in close quarters. • We could observe the behavior of all the animals at close quarters. [=from a short distance]

no quarter literary : no pity or mercy — used to say that an enemy, opponent, etc., is treated in a very harsh way • The soldiers showed/gave no quarter to the enemy. • They received no quarter or sympathy.

²quarter verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing [+ obj]

1 : to divide or separate (something) into four parts • The hunters quartered the deer. • She quartered the potatoes.

2 : to provide (someone) with a place to stay for a usually short period of time : to provide living quarters for (someone) • We were quartered in log cabins at the camp.

³quarter adj, always used before a noun : equal or about nearly equal in size, value, amount, etc., to one fourth of something • a quarter century ago • a quarter acre of land • They live less than a quarter mile from us.

¹quar-ter-back /'kwoətə,bæk/ noun, pl -backs [count] American football : a player who leads a team's attempts to score usually by passing the ball to other players — abbr. QB; see also MONDAY-MORNING QUARTERBACK

²quarterback verb -backs; -backed; -back-ing [+ obj] US

1 American football : to play the position of quarterback for (a team) • He quarterbacked his high school team.

2 : to lead or organize (something) by making important decisions • She quarterbacked the company's latest ad campaign.

quarterback sneak noun, pl ~ sneaks [count] American football : a play in which the quarterback runs forward immediately after receiving the ball instead of handing it or throwing it to another player • He ran a quarterback sneak up the middle for a touchdown.

quar-ter-deck /'kwoətə,dek/ noun, pl -decks [count] : the upper level of a ship's deck that is located toward the rear of the ship and that is used mainly by officers quar-ter-final (US) or Brit quar-ter-final /'kwoətə'fainl/ noun, pl -nals [count] : one of four matches, games, or contests to decide the four people or teams that will continue playing in a competition (such as a tennis tournament) • He lost in the quarterfinal. — often plural • She won in the quarterfinals but lost in the semifinals. — often used before another noun • a quarterfinal match quarter horse noun, pl ~ horses [count] : a small, strong horse that can run very fast for short distances quarter hour noun, pl ~ hours [count] : 15 minutes • Trains depart every quarter hour. : a period of time that lasts for 15 minutes • I waited a quarter hour in line.

¹quar·ter·ly /'kwɔ:təli/ adj : happening, done, or produced four times a year • The company holds quarterly meetings. • a quarterly report — quarterly adv • The payments are made quarterly. [=four times a year] • The interest on the account is compounded quarterly.

²quarterly noun, pl -lies [count] : a magazine that is published four times a year • a literary quarterly

quar·ter·mas·ter /'kwɔ:tə,mæstə, Brit 'kwɔ:tə,mɑ:stə/ noun, pl -ters [count]

1 : an army officer who provides clothing and supplies for soldiers

2 : a navy officer who is in charge of the steering of a ship and the use of signals on a ship quarter note noun, pl ~ notes [count] US : a musical note equal in time to ¼ of a whole note — called also (Brit) crotchet

quar·tet /kwɔ:tət/ noun, pl -tets [count]

1 : a group of four singers or musicians who perform together • He is a member of a jazz quartet.

2 : a song or piece of music performed by four singers or musicians • a string quartet by Beethoven

3 : a group or set of four people or things • The author wrote a quartet of novels about the same character.

quartz /'kwɔ:təs/ noun [noncount] : a mineral that is often found in the form of a hard crystal and that is used especially to make clocks and watches qua·sar /'kwei,zɑ:/ noun, pl -sars [count] astronomy : a very bright object in space that is similar to a star and that is very far away from the Earth and gives off powerful radio waves

quash /'kwɑ:ʃ/ verb quash·es; quashed; quash·ing [+ obj]

1 : to stop (something) from continuing by doing or saying something • The riot was quashed by police. • The couple quashed rumors that they were engaged.

2 law : to decide that (a ruling, decision, etc.) is wrong and no longer valid • The judge quashed [=overturned] the verdict of the lower court and ordered a new trial.

qua·si- /'kwei,zai, 'kwɑ:zi/ combining form : in some way or sense but not in a true, direct, or complete way • His appearance on TV earned him quasi-celebrity [=near-celebrity] status. • a quasi-historical novel • a quasi-official organization [=an organization that is like an official organization but that is not actually official] qua·train /'kwɑ:,trein/ noun, pl -trains [count] : a poem or verse that has four lines

¹qua·ver /'kwervə/ verb -vers; -vered; -ver·ing [no obj] of your voice : to produce sound in an unsteady way especially because you are afraid or nervous : TREMBLE • Her voice quavered during the speech. • He spoke in quavering tones.

— qua·very /'kwervəri/ adj • a quavery voice

²quaver noun, pl -vers [count]

1 : an unsteady sound in someone's voice that is caused by fear or other strong emotions • There was a quaver in his voice.

2 Brit : EIGHTH NOTE

quay /'ki:/ noun, pl quays [count] : a structure built on the land next to a river, lake, or ocean that is used as a place for boats to stop for loading and unloading freight and passengers quay·side /'ki:,saɪd/ noun, pl -sides [count] : the area of land next to a quay • a quayside café

quea·sy /'kwɪ:zi/ adj quea·si·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having a sick feeling in the stomach : suffering from nausea • The boat ride made me a little queasy. • She complained of a queasy stomach. • a queasy sensation

2 : having an unpleasantly nervous or doubtful feeling • He feels queasy about taking the test. • She had the queasy feeling that she was being watched.

— quea·si·ness noun [noncount]

queen /'kwɪ:n/ noun, pl queens [count]

1 a : a woman who rules a country and who usually inherits her position and rules for life • She was crowned queen of England. • the reign of Queen Elizabeth b : the wife of a king • the king and his queen

2 a : a girl or woman who is highly respected and very successful or popular • She's a fashion queen. • the queen of the blues b : a girl or woman who is awarded the highest honor for an event or contest • She was voted queen of the prom. • the homecoming queen c : something that is thought of as female and that is considered better than all others • This ship is the queen of all the ocean liners.

3 : the most powerful piece in the game of chess that can move any number of free squares in any direction — see picture at CHESS

4 : a playing card that has a picture of a queen • the queen of hearts/spades/clubs/diamonds — see picture at PLAYING CARD

5 : a female insect (such as a bee or ant) that lays eggs • a queen bee

6 informal + offensive : a homosexual man who usually acts like a woman — see also DRAG QUEEN queen·ly /'kwɪ:nli/ adj : resembling a queen or suitable for a queen • She maintained a queenly posture. • queenly dignity

Queen Mother noun

the Queen Mother : the widow of a king who is the mother of the current king or queen

Queen's Counsel noun, pl ~ -sels [count] : a barrister who is chosen to represent the British royal family in a court of law — used when Britain is ruled by a queen; abbr. QC turn Queen's evidence Brit, law ♦ If you are charged with a crime and you turn Queen's evidence (or turn King's evidence), you agree to give information (such as the names of other criminals) to the court in order to reduce your own punishment. • One of the gang members turned Queen's evidence [= (US) turned state's evidence] and testified against the other members.

Queen's evidence noun

queen-size /'kwɪ:n,saɪz/ or queen-sized /'kwɪ:n,saɪzd/ adj, US, of a bed : having a size of about 60 inches by 80 inches (about 1.5 by 1.9 meters) — compare FULL-SIZE, KING-SIZE, TWIN-SIZE

¹queer /'kwɪə/ adj queer·er; -est

1 old-fashioned : odd or unusual • The sky was a queer shade of red. • a queer odor • I had a queer feeling that something bad was about to happen. • He's a bit queer in the head. [=he's mentally strange or unwell; he's slightly crazy] — see also queer fish at ¹FISH

2 informal + usually offensive : HOMOSEXUAL ♦ Queer in this sense is offensive in most of its uses, but it is also now sometimes used in a neutral or positive way especially by some homosexual and bisexual people. • queer culture • She is interested in taking a class in queer studies.

— queer·ly adv • a queerly shaped cloud • He looked at her queerly. — queer·ness noun [noncount]

²queer noun, pl queers [count] informal + usually offensive : a homosexual person

³queer verb queers; queered; queer·ing [+ obj] informal : to spoil or ruin (something) • The sudden storm queered our plans. • (US) Something queered the deal. • (Brit) The unexpected delay queered his pitch [=ruined his plans]

quell /'kwel/ verb quells; quelled; quell·ing [+ obj]

1 : to end or stop (something) usually by using force • Police quelled [=quashed] the riot.

2 : to calm or reduce (something, such as fear or worry) • The president's remarks quelled [=eased] employees' fears.

quench /'kwentʃ/ verb quench·es; quenched; quench·ing [+ obj] formal : to stop (a fire) from burning : to put out (a fire) • Firefighters quenched [=extinguished] the flames.

quench your thirst : to cause you to stop feeling thirsty • a drink that will quench your thirst • He quenched his thirst by drinking a bottle of water.

quer·u·lous /'kweɹjələs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : complaining in an annoyed way • The child said in a querulous [=whining] voice that he didn't like carrots. • querulous customers

— quer·u·lous·ly adv — quer·u·lous·ness noun [noncount]

¹que·ry /'kwɪri/ noun, pl que·ries [count] : a question or a request for information about something • I have a query about my order. • an Internet query • The librarian responded to my query.

²query verb queries; que·ried; que·ry·ing [+ obj]

1 chiefly US : to ask (someone) a question • The reporter queried [=questioned] several citizens about the tax hike. • They conducted a survey in which several hundred people were queried about their dietary habits.

2 : to ask questions or express doubt about (something) • She queried [=questioned] the teacher's decision.

3 : to ask (a question) • "What's that?" he queried.

que-sa-dil-la /ˌkeɪsəˈdiːjə/ noun, pl quesadillas [count] : a Mexican food which consists of a flat piece of bread (called a tortilla) that is folded around a filling of meat, cheese, or other ingredients and usually fried

¹quest /ˈkwest/ noun, pl quests [count] formal + literary

1 : a journey made in search of something • They went on a quest for gold.

2 : a long and difficult effort to find or do something • a quest for answers • The team's quest to win a championship finally came to an end. • He refuses to give up his quest to discover the truth.

in quest of : searching for (something) • She is in quest of the perfect wine.

²quest verb quests; quest-ed; quest-ing [no obj] formal + literary : to go on a journey to find something • They were questing for gold.

¹ques-tion /ˈkwestʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a sentence, phrase, or word that asks for information or is used to test someone's knowledge • Can I ask you a personal question? • Please answer my question. • I don't understand the question. • Are there any more questions? • I have a couple of legal questions (for you). • In answer to your question, our next meeting will be on Friday. • The essay questions on the test were easy/hard. • There are 10 multiple-choice questions on the exam. • The exam included several questions on/about current events. • The question arose as to who would be responsible for caring for our grandmother. • I expected him to ask where I worked, but the question never came up. • I am sure to get a raise. The question is [=what I want to know is], how much it will be? • The key question in solving the mystery is, how did the murderer enter the house? • One question still remains: Do we have the funding for this project? • (formal) She posed the question of [=she asked] whether we could get funding for the project. • Stop avoiding the question and answer me! • She hoped to avoid awkward/embarrassing questions about her personal life during the interview. • Whether voters will support him remains an open question. [=no one knows yet whether voters will support him] • There are still many unanswered questions about his past. • It was a rhetorical question. I didn't expect an answer. • "How can we reduce expenses without cutting important programs?" "(That's a) good question." [=I don't know] • The big question [=the thing everyone would like to know] is, will he be number one in the football draft? • There will be a question and answer session [=a period of time when people can have their questions answered] following the speech. • (formal) The lawyer would like to put another question to the defendant. [=ask the defendant another question] — see also LEADING QUESTION

2 [count] : a matter or problem that is being discussed : a subject or topic • Her paper raises several questions [=issues] that need to be discussed/addressed. • It is still an open question whether or not you may go. — often + of • The class discussed the question of stem cell research. • The question of buying or leasing a car is really up to the buyer to decide on.

3 [noncount] a : doubt or uncertainty about something • There was little question of her being able to do the work. • There is considerable question about the actual value of the property. — often used in negative statements • There is no question but that there will be some protest about his decision. • There was no question of/about his loyalty. • There is no question that he was one of the greatest players of the game. • There's no question about it—that girl has talent! • Without question, it was his best performance by far. [=it was definitely his best performance ever] • She trusted him without question. b : a state of doubt or uncertainty • The results of the study have come into question. = The results of the study have been called into question. [=people are expressing doubts about the results] • The fact that he plagiarized throws/brings/calls into question the authenticity of his earlier writings.

4 [noncount] : the possibility or chance of something happening or of someone doing something — used in negative statements • There was no question of escape. [=escape was not possible] • There was no question of him forgetting about what happened.

a question of — used to say that one thing results from or requires another • "I can't go!" "If it's just a question of money [=if money is the only problem], I can let you borrow some." • It's only a question of time [=a matter of time] before/until we catch him. • Is success all just a question of being in the right place at the right time?

beg the question see BEG

beyond question 1 : completely certain or definite • His genius is beyond question. 2 : in a way that is completely certain : without any doubt • The new evidence establishes his innocence beyond (all) question.

in question 1 — used to indicate the specific thing that is being discussed or referred to • The painting in question is by Rembrandt. • What is in question is not the candidate's private life but her policies. • Where were you on the Sunday in question? 2 : in a state of doubt or uncertainty • His suitability for the job is in question. • The results of the study are in question.

open to question : not known for sure : UNCERTAIN • Her intentions are open to question. • The author's exact meaning is open to question.

out of the question : not possible or allowed • Asking my father for money was completely out of the question. • Wearing a stained blouse to dinner was out of the question.

pop the question see ¹POP

²question verb -tions; -tioned; -tion-ing [+ obj]

1 : to ask (someone) questions about something • The reporter questioned her at length on her life as the First Lady. • The witness was questioned by the defense. • Police questioned [=interrogated] the suspect carefully. — often + about • She was questioned about her husband's mysterious disappearance.

2 : to have or express doubt about (something) • I could tell that she was questioning my decision. • He began to question his ability to do the job. • I trusted him and I never questioned what he told me. • The lawyer questioned the truth of the witness's statement. • He began to question whether the things she had said were really true.

— ques-tion-er noun, pl -ers [count] • The mayor's first questioner at the town meeting asked about the new parking regulations.

ques-tion-able /ˈkwestʃənəbəl/ adj

1 : not likely to be true or correct : giving reason to doubt or question something • The truth of the statements was highly questionable. • a questionable conclusion • It is questionable whether this is the right decision. [=I question/doubt whether this is the right decision]

2 : likely to be bad : not worthy of trust • The water available in the village is of questionable quality. • a man of questionable character • They acquired the money through questionable means.

3 : not certain : unknown or undecided • The company is facing a questionable future.

— ques-tion-ably /ˈkwestʃənəbli/ adv • questionably obtained money

¹questioning adj : showing a feeling of doubt or a desire to ask a question in order to get information • She gave him a questioning look.

— ques-tion-ing-ly adv • She looked at him questioningly.

²questioning noun [noncount] : the activity or process of asking questions • The police took him in for questioning. • the questioning of authority question mark noun, pl ~ marks [count]

1 : the punctuation mark ? that is used after a direct question or to indicate that something (such as a birth date) is uncertain

2 a chiefly US : someone or something that causes feelings of doubt or uncertainty • The future of the company remains a question mark. [=no one knows what will happen in the company's future] • His leg is still sore and he remains a question mark for next week's game. [=it is not certain that he will be able to play in next week's game] • The team's pitching is a big question mark this season. b ♠ If there is a question mark over something, there is doubt about it. • Her injured elbow puts a big question mark over her chances in the tournament.

question master noun, pl ~ -ters [count] Brit : QUIZMASTER

ques-tion-naire /ˌkwestʃəˈneəri/ noun, pl -naires [count] : a written set of questions that are given to people in order to collect facts or opinions about something • (US) Would you please fill out this questionnaire? = (Brit) Would you please fill in this questionnaire?

¹queue /'kju:/ noun, pl queues [count]

1 chiefly Brit : a line of people who are waiting for something
• The people formed a queue [= (US) line] at the ticket window. • We were forced to stand/wait in a queue. • a bus/taxi queue

2 computers : a series of instructions that are stored in a computer so that they can be processed later • Three jobs remain in the printer queue.

jump the queue Brit : to go ahead of the other people in a queue : to go to the front of a queue instead of waiting • He tried to jump the queue but they wouldn't let him.
— see also QUEUE-JUMPING

²queue verb queues; queued; queuing or queueing [no obj] chiefly Brit : to form or wait in a line • Hundreds of people queued [= (US) lined up] for a chance to meet him. • The crowd was queuing at the snack bar. — often + up • The crowd was queuing up at the snack bar.

queue-jumping noun [noncount] Brit : the act of going ahead of other people in a queue instead of waiting your turn • Police say that the fight broke out over queue-jumping. [= (US) cutting in line] — see also jump the queue at ¹QUEUE

¹quib-ble /'kwɪbəl/ verb quib-bles; quib-bled; quib-bling [no obj] : to argue or complain about small, unimportant things — usually + about or over • People ignored the main point of the speech and quibbled about its length. • Why are you quibbling over such a small amount of money?

²quibble noun, pl quibbles [count] : a small complaint or criticism usually about something unimportant • Our only quibble about the trip was that it rained a lot. • a minor quibble

quiche /'ki:f/ noun, pl quich-es [count, noncount] : a pie made with eggs, milk, cheese, and vegetables or meat

¹quick /'kwɪk/ adj quick-er; -est

1 : done or happening in a short amount of time • a quick look/glance • They had a quick drink at the bar. • She took a quick shower. • She gave him a quick kiss. • You're back already? That was quick! • We made a quick decision, but it turned out to be a good one. • He got a quick reply to his inquiry. • The car made a quick [=sudden] left turn.

2 : fast in thinking, learning, or understanding • a quick mind/learner • quick students • His quick thinking/wits allowed him to escape trouble. • (US) She is a quick study who learned her job easily. • Her friends admired her quick wit.

3 a : fast in moving or reacting • He walked with quick steps. • She has quick, agile hands. • Please be quick. We can't wait much longer. • He has a quick temper. [=he gets angry very quickly and easily] b : tending to do something very quickly or too quickly — followed by to + verb • He is always quick to criticize other people, but he gets angry if anyone criticizes him. • She was quick to excuse her son's behavior.

4 : able to be done, obtained, or achieved easily and in a short amount of time • a quick and easy recipe • He made a quick profit/buck selling the car. • There is no quick fix for these problems. [=there is no fast and easy solution for these problems]

be quick on the draw see ²DRAW

quick off the mark see ¹MARK

the quick and the dead literary : living people and dead people

— quick-ness noun [noncount] • The track coach was impressed with her quickness. • He is known for his quickness of wit. • The child amazes me with his quickness to learn.

²quick adv quicker; -est informal : in a fast or quick manner : QUICKLY • a scheme to get rich quick • "Come quick!" she shouted. • I got used to living with a roommate pretty quick. • I can't run any quicker. • The new student learned (the) quickest. • Quick! [=come/move quickly] The train is leaving. • They came quick as a flash. [=very quickly] — often used in combination • quick-growing birches • a quick-thinking rescuer

³quick noun

cut (someone) to the quick : to make (someone) very upset • Her harsh words cut him to the quick. [=he was deeply hurt by her harsh words] the quick : the very sensitive area of flesh under a fingernail or toenail • He had bitten his nails to the quick.

quick-en /'kwɪkən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to make (something) faster • She quickened [=hastened] her steps. • We quickened the pace. [=we started to walk faster] • Stimulants can quicken the heart rate. b [no

obj] : to become faster • His pulse quickened at the thought of seeing her again. • a quickening tempo

2 formal + literary a [+ obj] : to make (something, such as a feeling) stronger or more active • The approach of the deadline quickened our sense of urgency. b [no obj] : to become stronger or more active • The drama quickened when police arrived at the scene.

quick-fire adj, always used before a noun, chiefly Brit : done or coming very quickly one after another : RAPID-FIRE • quick-fire responses/questions/jokes quick-ie /'kwɪki/ noun, pl -ies [count] informal

1 : something that is done very quickly • "Do you have any other questions?" "Just a quickie." • I would like to have a meeting. It'll be a quickie. — often used before another noun • a quickie divorce/marriage

2 : an act of sexual intercourse that is done in a very short amount of time

quick-lime /'kwɪk,lɪm/ noun [noncount] : ²LIME

quick-ly /'kwɪkli/ adv [more ~; most ~] : in a fast or quick manner • They quickly moved away when they saw the oncoming car. • The investigators must act quickly. • Please get here as quickly as possible. • We ate too/very quickly. • They quickly settled the dispute.

quick-sand /'kwɪk,sænd/ noun, pl -sands

1 [noncount] : deep, wet sand into which heavy objects sink easily

2 : a situation that is dangerous and difficult to escape from [noncount] the quicksand of depression [plural] freed from the quicksands of war

¹quick-silver /'kwɪk,sɪlvə/ noun [noncount] old-fashioned + literary : MERCURY 1a

²quicksilver adj, always used before a noun, literary : changing quickly and often • his quicksilver [=mercurial] temperament

quick-tem-pered /'kwɪk'tempəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : becoming angry quickly and easily : having a quick temper • a quick-tempered coach

quick-wit-ted /'kwɪk'wɪtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing the ability to think and understand things quickly • a quick-witted opponent/defendant • quick-witted humor • a quick-witted reply — opposite SLOW-WITTED quid /'kwɪd/ noun, pl quid also quids [count] Brit, informal : one pound in money • We lost a few quid on the horses. • The ticket costs five quid.

quids in Brit, informal ♦ If you are quids in, you have made a good profit. • I was quids in by the time I left the horse races.

quid pro quo /'kwɪd,prɒ'kwɒ/ noun, pl quid pro quos [count] : something that is given to you or done for you in return for something you have given to or done for someone else • If he helps us, he'll expect a quid pro quo. [=he'll expect us to do something for him]

qui-es-cent /kwaɪ'ɛsnt/ adj

1 formal : not active : QUIET • a quiescent state

2 medical : not now developing or causing symptoms • quiescent disease • a quiescent virus

— qui-es-cence /kwaɪ'ɛsn/ noun [noncount] • long periods of quiescence

¹qui-et /'kwajət/ adj qui-et-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : making very little noise • a quiet engine • the quiet hum of the refrigerator • He spoke in a very quiet voice. • She was as quiet as a mouse. [=very quiet]

2 a : not talking • Surprisingly, the class was quiet. • "Be quiet!" she scolded. • Can't you be quiet for one minute? [=can't you stop talking?] • She suddenly turned/became/went quiet. [=she suddenly stopped talking] b : tending not to talk very much • He's a very quiet person. • She has a quiet disposition/temperament.

3 : not having much activity or movement • a quiet [=calm] sea • During the morning, business was quiet. • Some days at the store are quieter than others. • a quiet town/village/neighborhood • a quiet stretch of road • He led a quiet life.

4 : not disturbed by noise or people • We enjoyed a quiet [=peaceful] dinner for two. • I was looking forward to a quiet cup of tea. • I decided to do a little quiet reading.

5 : not shown or done in an obvious way • She worked with quiet determination. • There is a quiet confidence about him. • He was filled with quiet desperation/rage. • A quiet revolution was underway.

keep quiet 1 : to not say anything or make any noise • Please keep quiet during the movie. • He thought about telling the police what he knew, but he decided to keep quiet.

[=he decided not to say anything] 2 keep quiet about (something) or keep (something) quiet : to not say anything about (something) • She kept quiet about her plans to change jobs. • She kept her plans quiet. 3 keep (someone) quiet a : to prevent (someone) from speaking or to prevent (someone or something) from making noise • She gave the dog a bone to keep him quiet. b : to prevent (someone) from revealing information about something • They paid money to the witness to keep him quiet. • What'll it take to keep you quiet?

— qui-et-ly adv [more ~; most ~] • He spoke/moved quietly. • She was quietly reading in her room. • He is quietly confident that he will win. • She quietly retired from the sport.

— qui-et-ness noun [noncount] • the quietness of the forest/neighborhood • His quietness bothered her.

2 quiet verb -ets; -et-ed; -et-ing [+ obj] chiefly US : to make (someone or something) quieter, calmer, or less intense • The announcer was trying to quiet [= (Brit) quieten] the crowd. • She tried to quiet [=calm, soothe] the crying baby. • Her comments have done nothing to quiet [=lessen] the controversy. • Unfortunately, his efforts did little to quiet [=dispel] our doubts. — often + down • The announcer was trying to quiet down [= (Brit) quieten down] the crowd.

quiet down [phrasal verb] chiefly US : to become quiet or quieter : to become calmer or less noisy • The children started to quiet down [= (Brit) quieten down] after dinner. • He told the crowd to quiet down. • Things are quieting down in town. [=the town is becoming less busy]

3 quiet noun [noncount] : the quality or state of being quiet or calm • the quiet of a wooded trail • Can I have some quiet here? I'm trying to study. • I need a little peace and quiet. on the quiet : in a secret or quiet way : without people knowing • The deal was made on the quiet.

qui-et-en /'kwajətən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing [+ obj] Brit : 2 QUIET • trying to quieten (down) the crowd quieten down [phrasal verb] Brit : to become quiet or quieter • The children quietened down after dinner.

qui-etude /'kwajətu:d, Brit 'kwajə,tju:d/ noun [noncount] literary : the state of being quiet or calm : QUIETNESS • the quietude [=calm] of the forest quiff /'kwɪf/ noun, pl quiffs [count] Brit : hair at the front of a person's head that is brushed upward; also : POMPADOUR quill /'kwɪl/ noun, pl quills [count]

1 a : the hollow central part of a feather b : a large, stiff feather from the wing or tail of a bird

2 : a pen that is made from a feather — called also quill pen

3 : one of the hollow, sharp parts on the back of a porcupine quilt /'kwɪlt/ noun, pl quilts [count] : a bed cover with stitched designs that is made of two layers of cloth filled with wool, cotton, or soft feathers quilt-ed /'kwɪltəd/ adj : having two layers of stitched cloth filled with wool, cotton, or soft feathers • a quilted jacket/coat quilt-er /'kwɪltə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who makes quilts quilt-ing /'kwɪltɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the activity or process of making a quilt • Her hobbies include knitting and quilting.

2 : the material or stitching that is used in making quilts • diamond quilting

quin /'kwɪn/ noun, pl quins [count] Brit, informal : QUINTUPLET

quince /'kwɪns/ noun, pl quinc-es

1 [count, noncount] : the yellow fruit of an Asian tree that is used for making jam, jelly, etc.

2 [count] : the tree that produces quince • a flowering quince

qui-nine /'kwai,nain, Brit 'kwɪ,ni:n/ noun [noncount] : a drug that is made from the bark of a tree and used especially to treat malaria

quint /'kwɪnt/ noun, pl quints [count] US, informal : QUINTUPLET

quin-tes-sence /'kwɪnt'sɛns/ noun

the quintessence formal 1 : the most important part of something • The quintessence of music is the melody. 2

: the perfect example of something • He was the quintessence of calm. [=he was perfectly calm]

— quint-es-sen-tial /'kwɪnt'sɛnsjəl/ adj • He was the quintessential cowboy. [=he was the perfect example of a cowboy] • She's the quintessential New Yorker. — quint-es-sen-tial-ly adv • The humor in the movie is quintessentially British.

quin-tet /'kwɪnt'et/ noun, pl -tets [count]

1 : a group of five singers or musicians who perform together • a famous brass/jazz quintet

2 : a piece of music for five singers or musicians • a piano/string quintet

1 quin-tu-ple /'kwɪn'tʌpəl, Brit 'kwɪntjʊpəl/ verb -tu-ples; -tupled; -tu-pling

1 [no obj] : to become five times bigger in value or number • The town's population has quintupled in the past 50 years.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to become five times bigger • We quintupled our earnings. • The company has quintupled the number of its employees.

2 quintuple adj

1 : five times bigger in size or amount • Share prices are quintuple what they were a few days ago.

2 always used before a noun : having five parts or including five people or things • a quintuple homicide/murder [=a murder of five people]

quin-tu-plet /'kwɪn'tʌplət, Brit 'kwɪntjʊplət/ noun, pl -plets [count] : one of five babies that are born at the same time to the same mother — usually plural • She had (a set of) quintuplets. [=she gave birth to five babies] — compare QUADRUPLET, SEXTUPLET, TRIPLET, TWIN

1 quip /'kwɪp/ noun, pl quips [count] : a clever remark • witty/amusing quips • They traded quips over a beer.

2 quip verb quips; quipped; quip-ping [+ obj] : to make (a clever remark)

quirk /'kwɜ:k/ noun, pl quirks [count]

1 : an unusual habit or way of behaving • Everyone has their little quirks.

2 : something strange that happens by chance • Their meeting was a (strange) quirk of fate/nature.

quirky /'kwɜ:ki/ adj -i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : unusual especially in an interesting or appealing way • quirky ideas/behavior • He has a quirky sense of humor. • a quirky new sitcom quis-ling /'kwɪzɪŋ/ noun, pl -lings [count] old-fashioned : a person who helps an enemy that has taken control of his or her country : TRAITOR — often used before another noun • a quisling regime/government quit /'kwɪt/ verb quits; quit also quit-ted; quit-ting

1 informal : to leave (a job, school, career, etc.) [+ obj] He quit his job. • She quit college after one semester. • She decided to quit show business. • He quit teaching after five years. [no obj] Many workers are quitting because of poor pay. • She hates her job and she's thinking about quitting. • I quit!

2 chiefly US, informal : to stop doing (an action or activity) [+ obj] She quit smoking/drinking years ago. • I wish you would quit bothering her. • He angrily told her to quit it [=to stop doing what she was doing] [no obj] We're going to quit for the day. It's too hot to keep working.

3 [no obj] informal : to stop working • The engine suddenly quit. • The car quit [=broke down] a few miles down the road.

4 formal : to leave (the place where you live) [+ obj] They quit the city for a quiet life in the country. • The landlord gave the tenants notice to quit the premises. [=the landlord formally told them that they had to leave] [no obj] The landlord gave the tenants notice to quit.

quite /'kwɪt/ adv

1 a : to a very noticeable degree or extent : VERY ♦ Quite is a more forceful word than fairly but it is a less forceful word than extremely. It is used more often in British English than in U.S. English, but it is not an unusual or rare word in U.S. English. • She did quite well. • He is quite ill/rich/busy. • The room is quite large/small. • They were quite surprised. • Blue jays are quite common in this area. • We go out to dinner quite frequently. • The entertainment was quite good. • We live quite near the school. • Quite frankly, we felt it was not our responsibility. • Quite simply, we do not have the resources. • She sings quite wonderfully. b — used to make a statement more forceful • I quite liked/enjoyed the music. • “We're sorry for the trouble.” “That's quite all right.” • The work has value in itself, quite apart from the good effects it produces. • I haven't seen her for quite some time. [=a long period of time] • I decided I had heard quite enough. • It was quite something [=a major event] for a small-town boy to be interviewed for the national news. — often used with a, an, or the before a noun • She is quite a beauty. [=she's very beautiful] • The news was quite a shock. [=the news was very shocking] • My promotion was quite a surprise. • We had quite a lot of food at the dinner party. • It was quite an eventful week. • We were in line for quite a while. • She has made quite a career for herself. [=she has had a very successful career] • The award is quite an honor. [=is a very impressive honor]

2 : completely or entirely • “Are you quite finished?” “Not quite.” • We quite agree. • I am quite capable of doing it myself, thank you. • They assured me that I was quite mistaken. • Something wasn’t quite right. • We hadn’t quite made up our minds. • She’s quite right, you know. • I quite forgot your birthday.

3 : exactly or precisely • No one realized quite what was happening. • Quite why he left is unclear. • That is not quite what I said.

4 Brit — used to express agreement • “We need to let children be children.” “Quite.” • “There is little violence in his films.” “Quite so.” • “They have no one but themselves to blame.” “Quite right.”

quite a bit see ¹BIT

quite a few see ¹FEW

quite the contrary see ¹CONTRARY

quits /'kwɪts/ adj, chiefly Brit, informal : having nothing owed by either side • Here’s the money I owed you. Now, we’re quits. [=even] call it quits informal : to quit or end something (such as a job, relationship, or activity) • She decided to call it quits after many years in office. • After eight years of marriage, she and her husband are calling it quits. • I’m ready to call it quits.

double or quits see ³DOUBLE

quit-ter /'kwɪtə/ noun, pl -ters [count] informal + disapproving : a person who easily gives up or stops doing something : a person who quits • Don’t be a quitter. I know you can do it.

¹quiver /'kwɪvə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing [no obj] : to shake because of fear, cold, nervousness, etc. : TREMBLE • Her lips quivered when she heard the bad news. — often + with • He was quivering with excitement/rage.

²quiver noun, pl -vers [count]

1 : a shaking sound, movement, or feeling that is caused by fear or other strong emotions — usually singular • I could hear a quiver [=quaver] in her voice. — often + of • He felt a quiver of excitement/anticipation.

2 : a case used for carrying arrows quix-ot-ic /kwɪk'sɑ:tɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : hopeful or romantic in a way that is not practical • a quixotic solution/pursuit • They had quixotic dreams/visions about the future.

¹quiz /'kwɪz/ noun, pl quiz-zes [count]

1 US : a short spoken or written test that is often taken without preparation • The teacher gave us a quiz on the material we studied yesterday. — see also POP QUIZ

2 : a set of questions about a particular subject that people try to answer as a game or competition • a trivia/health quiz

²quiz verb quizzes; quizzed; quiz-zing [+ obj]

1 : to ask (someone) questions about something — usually + on or about • They quizzed him on his knowledge of old jazz tunes. • He is being quizzed by investigators about his possible involvement in the crime.

2 US : to give (someone) a quiz — usually + on • The teacher quizzed us on the material we studied yesterday.

quiz-mas-ter /'kwɪz,mæstə, Brit 'kwɪz,mɑ:stə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : a person who asks the questions for people to answer on a quiz show — called also (Brit) question master

quiz show noun, pl ~ shows [count] : a radio or television program during which people compete with each other by trying to answer questions • a popular TV quiz show • a quiz show contestant/host quiz-zi-cal /'kwɪzɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : showing that you do not understand something or that you find something strange or amusing • He gave me a quizzical look. • There was a quizzical expression on his face. • She raised a quizzical eyebrow when she saw what he was wearing.

— quiz-zi-cal-ly /'kwɪzɪkli/ adv • He looked at me quizzically.

quoit /'kwɔɪt/ noun, pl quoits

1 quoits [noncount] : a game in which players try to throw rings over a small post that is standing upright in the ground

2 [count] : a ring that is used in quoits

Quon-set /'kwɑ:nset/ trademark — used for a type of metal shelter that has a curved roof quo-rum /'kwɔrəm/ noun [singular] : the smallest number of people who must be present at a meeting in order for decisions to be made • We need five people to make a quorum.

quo-ta /'kwɔutə/ noun, pl -tas [count]

1 : an official limit on the number or amount of people or things that are allowed • import/export quotas • The agency imposes strict fishing/hunting quotas. • The company has imposed quotas on hiring. • He lost his driver’s license because he exceeded the quota of traffic violations.

2 : a specific amount or number that is expected to be achieved • The department set new sales quotas in January. • They filled/met their quota for new members. [=they got the number of new members that they were trying to get] quot-able /'kwɔutəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : deserving to be quoted : interesting or clever enough to be quoted • a quotable phrase/author quo-ta-tion /kwɔu'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : something that a person says or writes that is repeated or used by someone else in another piece of writing or a speech • literary/illustrative quotations [=quotes] • He gathered quotations from the trial transcript to prove his point. • a well-known quotation attributed to Abraham Lincoln • a book of humorous quotations

2 [noncount] : the act of using quotations in a piece of writing or a speech • She relied heavily on quotation in her essays, which made them less original.

3 [count] : a written statement of how much money a particular job will cost to do • The builder gave us several price quotations [=quotes] for the new housing complex.

4 [count] finance : a statement of the current value of stocks, bonds, or goods • foreign stock quotations [=quotes]

quotation mark noun, pl ~ marks [count] : one of a pair of punctuation marks “ ” or ‘ ’ that are used to show the beginning and the end of a quotation, to show that something is a title, to show that a word or phrase is being used in a special way, etc. — usually plural • There were quotation marks around the phrase. = The phrase was in quotation marks. • Titles of newspaper articles should be placed/put in quotation marks. — called also (Brit) inverted comma

¹quote /'kwɔut/ verb quotes; quot-ed; quot-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to repeat (something written or said by another person) exactly — often + from • She quoted a passage from the book in her article. b [+ obj] : to write or say the exact words of (someone) • He began his speech by quoting Shakespeare. • Can I quote you on that? [=can I tell other people that you said that?] • He was quoted as saying that there would be further delays. [=it was reported that he said that there would be further delays] • The reporter quoted the police chief as saying that an investigation would be launched soon. c : to write or say a line or short section from (a piece of writing or a speech) [+ obj] He quotes the Bible frequently. [no obj] — + from • He quotes from the Bible frequently. d — used in speech to show that you are exactly repeating someone else’s words. • When I asked him if he’d be seeing her again, he said, quote, “Not if I can help it.” • He said, and I quote, “Not if I can help it.” — often followed by unquote • She said it was quote, “time for a change,” unquote. • He said he’s been living under, quote, unquote, “intense pressure.”

2 [+ obj] : to mention (something) as an example to support an idea or statement • She said this kind of occurrence is common, and she quoted [=cited] several instances of almost identical behavior.

3 [+ obj] a : to tell someone the price at which something can be bought or done — often + for • The sales associate quoted (us) an unreasonably high price for the car. b finance : to state the current price of (something, such as a stock) — usually used as (be) quoted • Shares for the stock are being quoted at $68. • a list of companies that are quoted on the stock exchange [=companies whose stocks are sold on the stock exchange]

²quote noun, pl quotes [count]

1 : QUOTATION • Each chapter of the book began with an inspirational quote. • She included quotes from the poem in her essay. • The article included quotes from the mayor and several councilors. • The price quotes exceeded our expectations. • I checked the stock quotes online.

2 : QUOTATION MARK • The phrase was in quotes. [=there were quotation marks around it] • Titles of newspaper articles should be placed/put in quotes.

quoth /'kwɔuθ/ verb, old-fashioned + literary — used to mean “said” in phrases like quoth I, quoth he, etc. • “What a fool,” quoth he. [=“what a fool,” he said] • “... Quoth the raven, ‘Nevermore.’” —Edgar Allan Poe, “The Raven” (1845) quo-tid-i-an /kwɔu'tɪdɪjən/ adj, formal + literary

1 : ordinary or very common • a quotidian existence/life

2 : done each day • quotidian [=everyday] routines quo·tient /'kwɒʃənt/ noun, pl -tients [count]

1 mathematics : the number that results when one number is divided by another

2 : the degree to which a specific quality or characteristic exists • an actress whose likability quotient is high [=an actress who is very likable] — see also INTELLIGENCE QUOTIENT

Quran or Qur'an variant spellings of KORAN

qv abbr which see — used to direct a reader to another page where more information can be found ♦ Qv comes from the Latin phrase “quod vide.”

QWER·TY /'kwɛti/ adj, of a keyboard : having the letters q, w, e, r, t, and y arranged in a row in the top row of letter keys

• Most computers come equipped with a monitor and a full QWERTY keyboard.

R

¹r or R /'ɑː/ noun, pl r's or rs or R's or Rs : the 18th letter of the English alphabet [count] There are two r's in “tomorrow.” [noncount] “River” begins and ends with r. — see also THREE R'S

roll your r's see ¹ROLL

²r abbr 1 radius 2 or R right • L or R

¹R — used as a special mark to indicate that people over the age of 17 or 18 may see a particular movie but that younger people may only see the movie in a movie theater with a parent or guardian • The movie is rated R. — compare G, NC-17, PG, PG-13, X; see also R-RATED

²R abbr 1 registered trademark 2 Republican • Sen. Jane Smith R-PA 3 R. river • R. Trent

rab·bi /'ræbaɪ/ noun, pl -bis [count] : a person who is trained to make decisions about what is lawful in Judaism, to perform Jewish ceremonies, or to lead a Jewish congregation • He is a rabbi. • Rabbi Jane Smith

rab·bin·ic /'ræbɪnɪk/ or rab·bin·i·cal /'ræbɪnɪkəl/ adj, always used before a noun : of or relating to rabbis, their writings, or their teachings • rabbinic commentaries/texts • rabbinical traditions

¹rab·bit /'ræbət/ noun, pl rab·bits or rabbit

1 [count] : a small animal that usually lives in holes in the ground and has long ears, soft fur, and back legs that are longer than its front legs • We keep rabbits as pets. • a rabbit hutch • a rabbit hole

2 [noncount] : the fur or meat of a rabbit • a stew made with rabbit = a rabbit stew • a rabbit coat rabbit

²rabbit verb -bits; -bit·ed; -bit·ing

rabbit on [phrasal verb] Brit, informal : to talk for too long about something that is not important or interesting — often + about • He rabbited on about all his problems.

rabbit punch noun, pl ~ punches [count] : a quick punch to the back of the neck or the kidneys that is illegal in boxing rabbit warren noun, pl ~ -rens [count]

1 : a series of underground tunnels where rabbits live

2 : a building or place with many connected rooms, passages, etc., where you can get lost very easily • The Pentagon is a rabbit warren of corridors.

rab·ble /'ræbəl/ noun, disapproving

1 [singular] : a large group of loud people who could become violent : MOB • an angry/unruly rabble

2 the rabble : ordinary or common people who do not have a lot of money, power, or social status — often used in a humorous or exaggerated way to suggest the attitudes of wealthy and powerful people • celebrities who live in beautiful homes far away from the rabble

rab·ble·rous·er /'ræbəl,raʊzə/ noun, pl -ers [count] disapproving : a person who makes a group of people angry, excited, or violent (such as by giving speeches) especially in order to achieve a political or social goal

— rab·ble·rous·ing /'ræbəl,raʊzɪŋ/ adj • a rabble-rousing speech/politician — rabble-rousing noun [noncount]

ra·bid /'ræbəd/ adj

1 : affected with rabies • rabid dogs

2 [more ~; most ~] : having or expressing a very extreme opinion about or interest in something • a politician with rabid supporters • Her husband is a rabid baseball fan.

— ra·bid·ly adv • Photographers rabidly pursued her wherever she went.

ra·bies /'reɪbɪz/ noun [noncount] : a very serious and often fatal disease that affects animals (such as dogs) and that can be passed on to people if an infected animal bites them

rac·coon /'ræ'kuːn/ noun, pl raccoon or rac·coons

1 [count] : a small North American animal with grayish-brown fur that has black fur around its eyes and black rings around its tail

2 [noncount] : the fur of a raccoon • a raccoon coat

raccoon

¹race /'reɪs/ noun, pl rac·es

1 a [count] : a competition between people, animals, vehicles, etc., to see which one is fastest • a bicycle/boat/car/yacht race — see also DRAG RACE, FOOTRACE, HORSE RACE, RAT RACE, SACK RACE b the races : an event at which there is a series of horse races • Let's go to the races this weekend.

2 [count] : a contest or competition in which different people or teams try to win something or to do something first • the race for governor • a baseball pennant race • the race to find a cure for the disease

3 [singular] : a situation in which someone has to do something very quickly because there is not much time • It was a race against time to disarm the bomb. • It was a race against the clock to finish the job on time.

— compare ³RACE

²race verb races; raced; rac·ing

1 a [no obj] : to compete in a race • Eight horses will race for the cup. • That horse will never race again. b [+ obj] : to compete in a race against (someone) • She's going to race the champion. • They raced each other home. • I'll race you to see who gets there first.

2 [+ obj] : to drive or ride (something) in a race • She races cars/horses for a living.

3 [no obj] : to go, move, or function at a very fast speed • The people raced [= (more commonly) ran] for safety. • The flood raced through the valley. • His heart was racing. [=was beating very fast] • Her mind was racing. [=she had many thoughts going quickly through her mind] • The truck's engine was racing. • The dog raced ahead of me.

4 [+ obj] : to cause (the engine of a vehicle) to go very fast • The drivers raced [=revved] their engines while waiting at the starting line.

5 [no obj] : to try to do something very quickly because there is not much time • She is racing against the clock to be sure the assignment is handed in on time. • Researchers are racing (against time) to find a cure.

³race noun, pl rac·es

1 : one of the groups that people can be divided into based on certain physical qualities (such as skin color) [count] It is their hope that the rac·es can live in harmony. [noncount] The company does not discriminate on grounds of race, age, sex, or religion. — often used before another noun • Politicians are trying to improve race relations. • race discrimination — see also HUMAN RACE

2 [count] : a group of people who share the same history, language, culture, etc. • the English race • She is the descendant of a noble race. • a mythical race of giants

3 [count] : a group of related or similar animals or plants • a distinct race of birds

— compare ¹RACE

race-bait-ing /ˈreɪs,betɪŋ/ noun [noncount] US, disapproving : the unfair use of statements about race to try to influence the actions or attitudes of a particular group of people • a politician who is being accused of race-baiting

race car noun, pl ~ cars [count] US : a very fast car that is used in professional auto racing — called also racing car; see picture at CAR race course (US) or Brit race-course /ˈreɪs,kɔːs/ noun, pl ~ cours-es [count] : a course or track that is used for racing; especially, chiefly Brit : a grass track that is used for horse racing race-go-er /ˈreɪs,gowə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly Brit : a person who goes to a race race-horse /ˈreɪs,həʊs/ noun, pl -hors-es [count] : a horse that is bred and trained for racing rac-er /ˈreɪsə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person or animal that races • He is a stock car racer. • His horse will be a great racer.

2 : a car, boat, etc., that is used in racing race riot noun, pl ~ -ots [count] : a violent fight between people of different races : a riot that is caused by racial anger, hatred, etc.

race-track /ˈreɪs,træk/ noun, pl -tracks [count] : a track or course that is used for racing • a bicycle racetrack; especially, US : a track that is used for horse racing race-way /ˈreɪs,wei/ noun, pl -ways [count] chiefly US : a course or track that is used for racing : RACETRACK

ra-cial /ˈreɪʃəl/ adj

1 : relating to or based on race • racial stereotypes/prejudices • What is your racial identity? • a racial minority

2 always used before a noun : existing or happening between people of different races • striving for racial equality/harmony • There was racial tension on campus. • racial segregation — ra-cial-ly adv • a racially mixed population ra-cial-ism /ˈreɪʃəlɪzəm/ noun [noncount] chiefly Brit, old-fashioned : RACISM

— ra-cial-ist /ˈreɪʃəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] — racialist adj [more ~; most ~] • racialist [=racist] thinking racing noun [noncount] : the sport or profession of racing horses, cars, etc. • auto/yacht racing — often used before another noun • his racing career • racing fans racing car noun, pl ~ cars [count] : RACE CAR

rac-ism /ˈreɪsɪzəm/ noun [noncount] disapproving

1 : poor treatment of or violence against people because of their race • Have you experienced racism? • a protest against racism

2 : the belief that some races of people are better than others • the racism that was the basis of apartheid

— rac-ist /ˈreɪsɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • racists and bigots — racist adj [more ~; most ~] • He was accused of making a racist remark. • racist attitudes/practices

¹rack /ˈræk/ noun, pl racks

1 [count] : a frame or stand that has shelves, hooks, slots, etc., in which or on which you place things • a bike/hat/luggage/magazine/wine rack • The store has racks of dresses. • Place the pie on the middle rack in the oven. • During the store's sales, the clothes were flying off the rack. [=people were buying the clothes very quickly] — see also DISH RACK, ROOF RACK

2 the rack : a machine used in the past to hurt people by stretching their bodies • The prisoners were tortured on the rack. — sometimes used figuratively • The interviewer put me on the rack and asked some really tough questions.

3 [count] technical : a bar with teeth that fit into a gear or a wheel in a machine • a car with rack and pinion steering

4 [count] : a pair of antlers • a deer with a huge rack

5 [count] US, informal : ¹BED 1 • soldiers heading back to the rack after a long day

6 [count] US a : a triangular frame that is used to group the balls together in a billiard game b : a group of billiard balls that have been set up with a rack • a tight/loose rack off the rack US : in a store where clothes are sold in different sizes that are not made to fit a particular person • He bought that suit off the rack. [= (Brit) off the peg] — see also OFF-THE-RACK on the rack Brit, informal : in a very bad or difficult situation • They had their opponents on the rack in the first half.

— compare ³RACK, ⁴RACK

²rack verb racks; racked; rack-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (someone or something) to suffer pain or damage — usually used as (be) racked • He was racked with/by jealousy [=he was very jealous] when he saw his ex-wife with another man. • a body racked by disease • The team has been racked by dissension. [=the team has experienced a lot of dissension] • The country was racked by civil war.

2 US : to put (balls) in a rack for a game of billiards • Rack the balls (up) and we'll play some pool.

rack up [phrasal verb] rack up (something) informal : to achieve or get (something) as time passes : ACCUMULATE • I wanted to rack up as many points as possible. • The company has racked up huge losses/sales.

rack your brain/brains : to think very hard in order to try to remember something, solve a problem, etc. • I've been racking my brain, but I can't remember his name.

³rack noun, pl racks [count, noncount] : a cut of meat from a lamb or pig that includes some of the ribs • We had (a) rack of lamb for dinner. — compare ¹RACK, ⁴RACK

⁴rack noun [noncount] : the state of being destroyed or ruined • The old house has gone to rack and ruin. [=has become ruined] — compare ¹RACK, ³RACK

¹rack-et or rac-quet /ˈrækət/ noun, pl rackets or rac-quets [count] : a piece of sports equipment that is used to hit a ball or other object in games like tennis, badminton, squash, etc. • a tennis racket — compare ²RACKET

²racket noun, pl -ets

1 [singular] : a loud, unpleasant noise • The kids have been making a terrible racket. • What's all the racket?

2 [count] : a business that makes money through illegal activities • He was a member of a criminal racket. • He ran protection rackets for the mob.

3 [singular] US, informal a : an easy way to make money • Is that all you do for a living? What a racket. b : a job or business • Acting has got to be a tough racket to succeed in. — compare ¹RACKET rack-e-teer /ˈrækəˈtiə/ noun, pl -teers [count] : a person who makes money through illegal activities rack-e-teer-ing /ˈrækəˈtiəriŋ/ noun [noncount] : the act or crime of making money through illegal activities • He was arrested and charged with racketeering.

ra-con-teur /ˈræ,kɑːnˈtə/ noun, pl -teurs [count] formal : someone who is good at telling stories rac-quet-ball /ˈrækət,bɑːl/ noun, pl -balls

1 [noncount] : a game played on a court with four walls by two or four players who use rackets to hit a soft ball against the walls • They were playing (a game of) racquetball.

2 [count] : the ball that is used in racquetball racy /ˈreɪsi/ adj rac-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : exciting, lively, or amusing often in a way that is slightly shocking • a racy [=risqué] novel/movie • racy humor

— rac-i-ly /ˈreɪsəli/ adv • a racily explicit movie — rac-i-ness /ˈreɪsɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

rad /ˈræd/ adj rad-der; rad-dest [also more ~; most ~] US slang : very appealing or good • The party was totally rad. [=awesome, cool] ra-dar /ˈreɪ,dɑː/ noun, pl -dars : a device that sends out radio waves for finding out the position and speed of a moving object (such as an airplane) [count] a powerful radar [noncount] The approaching planes were detected by radar. — often used figuratively in informal U.S. English • A career in politics wasn't even on my radar (screen) at that point. [=I wasn't thinking at all about a career in politics] • an actor who has fallen off the radar [=who has stopped being noticed or talked about] • He tried to stay under the radar [=unnoticed] as he went about his business.

radar gun noun, pl ~ guns [count] : a small device that uses radar to measure the speed of a moving object (such as a car or a ball)

R

¹ra·di·al /'reɪdɪəl/ adj : arranged or having parts arranged in straight lines coming out from the center of a circle • the radial form of a starfish

— ra·di·al·ly adv • The streets extend radially from the city's center.

²radial noun, pl -als [count] : a type of strong tire in which cords underneath the rubber run across the tire's surface — called also radial tire

ra·di·ance /'reɪdɪjəns/ noun

1 : a quality of brightness and happiness that can be seen on a person's face [singular] She had a youthful radiance about her. [noncount] Her face glowed with radiance.

2 [singular, noncount] : a warm, soft light that shines from something • the radiance of the rising sun

ra·di·ant /'reɪdɪjənt/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : having or showing an attractive quality of happiness, love, health, etc. • a radiant smile • She had a radiant inner glow. • She looked radiant at her wedding.

2 [more ~; most ~] : bright and shining • the radiant sun • radiant blue skies

3 always used before a noun, technical : sent out from something in rays or waves that you cannot see • radiant heat • radiant energy — ra·di·ant·ly adv • She smiled radiantly as she accepted the award.

ra·di·ate /'reɪdɪ,eɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to go out in a direct line from a central point or area • Spokes radiate (out/outward) from the center of the wheel.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move in a specified direction from a source • The pain was radiating down my arm.

3 a [+ obj] : to send out (something, such as heat or energy) in rays • The sun radiates heat and light. b [no obj] : to come or go out in the form of rays • Heat radiates from the sun.

4 [+ obj] : to show (a feeling or quality) very clearly • She has a smile that radiates warmth. • He radiated pride in his achievements.

ra·di·a·tion /,reɪdɪ'eɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 : a type of dangerous and powerful energy that is produced by radioactive substances and nuclear reactions • She was exposed to high levels of radiation.

2 medical : the use of controlled amounts of radiation for the treatment of diseases (such as cancer) • He goes in for radiation next week. — called also radiation therapy, radiotherapy

3 a : energy that comes from a source in the form of waves or rays you cannot see • ultraviolet radiation b technical : the process of giving off energy in the form of waves or rays you cannot see • the sun's radiation of heat radiation sickness noun [noncount] medical : an illness that results from exposure to too much radiation ra·di·a·tor /'reɪdɪ,eɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

1 : a large, metal device that is next to the wall in a room and that becomes hot and provides heat for the room when hot water passes through it

2 : a device that is used to keep the engine of a vehicle from getting too hot — see picture at CAR

¹rad·i·cal /'rædɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : very new and different from what is traditional or ordinary • The computer has introduced radical innovations. • radical ideas about education b : very basic and important • There are some radical differences between the two proposals. • The new president has made some radical changes to the company. • radical reforms

2 : having extreme political or social views that are not shared by most people • radical liberals/conservatives • a radical wing of extremists

3 US slang, somewhat old-fashioned : very appealing or good • The party was totally radical! [=cool]

— rad·i·cal·ly /'rædɪkli/ adv • She has proposed a radically different approach to the problem. • The hurricane radically changed the landscape. • radically new technology

— rad·i·cal·ness noun [noncount]

²radical noun, pl -cals [count] : a person who favors extreme changes in government : a person who has radical political opinions • He was a radical when he was young, but now he's much more moderate.

rad·i·cal·ism /'rædɪkəlɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : the opinions and behavior of people who favor extreme changes especially in government : radical political ideas and behavior • political radicalism rad·i·cal·ize also Brit rad·i·cal·ise /'rædɪkəlaɪz/ verb -izes; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] : to cause (someone or something) to become more radical especially in politics • The war has radicalized an entire generation of young people.

ra·dic·chio /ræ'dɪkɪjəʊ/ noun, pl -chios [count, noncount] : a plant which has reddish or green leaves that have a bitter taste and that are eaten in salads

radii plural of RADIUS

¹ra·dio /'reɪdɪəʊ/ noun, pl -di-os

1 [noncount] : the system or process that is used for sending and receiving signals through the air without using wires • The news was sent/received by/over radio. — often used before another noun • radio communications/signals

2 [noncount] : programs that are broadcast by radio • I listen to the radio all the time. • I heard the news/song on the radio. — often used before another noun • radio programs/shows/stations — see also TALK RADIO

3 [count] a : a device that is used to receive the signals that are broadcast by radio • There's a problem with the car's radio. • a portable/transistor radio • The radio was playing very loudly. • Turn up/down/on/off the radio. b : a device that is used to send and receive messages by radio • two-way radios • The pilot's radio wasn't working.

4 [noncount] : the business that makes and broadcasts radio programs • He became the most popular talk show host in radio. • She is a powerful force in radio.

²radio verb -dios; -di-oed; -dio-ing : to send a message to someone by radio [no obj] The police radioed for backup. • The stranded sailors were radioing for help. • The pilot radioed in to the control tower. [+ obj] The police radioed a report back to the station. • They radioed the Coast Guard for help.

ra·dio·ac·tive /,reɪdɪjəʊ'æktɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or producing a powerful and dangerous form of energy (called radiation) • Uranium and plutonium are radioactive. • radioactive material/waste

— ra·dio·ac·tive·ly adv — ra·dio·ac·tiv·i·ty /,reɪdɪjəʊ'æktɪvəti/ noun [noncount] • the radioactivity of certain elements ra·dio·car·bon dating /,reɪdɪjəʊ'kɑ:bən-/ noun [noncount] technical : CARBON DATING

radio-controlled adj : controlled by radio signals sent from somewhere else • a radio-controlled toy car ra·di·og·ra·phy /,reɪdɪ'ɑ:grəfi/ noun [noncount] medical : the process of taking a photograph of the inside of a person's body by using X-rays — ra·di·og·ra·pher /,reɪdɪ'ɑ:grəfə/ noun, pl -phers [count] medical ra·di·ol·o·gist /,reɪdɪ'ɑ:lədʒɪst/ noun, pl -gists [count] medical : a doctor who is trained in radiology ra·di·ol·o·gy /,reɪdɪ'ɑ:lədʒi/ noun [noncount] medical : a branch of medicine that uses some forms of radiation (such as X-rays) to diagnose and treat diseases radio telescope noun, pl ~ -scopes [count] technical : a piece of equipment that receives radio waves from space and that is used for finding stars and other objects ra·dio·ther·a·py /,reɪdɪəʊ'therəpi/ noun [noncount] medical : RADIATION 2

— ra·dio·ther·a·pist /,reɪdɪəʊ'therəpɪst/ noun, pl -pists [count]

radio wave noun, pl ~ waves [count] : an electromagnetic wave that is used for sending signals through the air without using wires

rad·ish /'rædɪʃ/ noun, pl -ish-es [count] : a small, round vegetable that is red or white, is eaten raw in salads, and has a sharp spicy taste; also : the plant that produces this vegetable — see color picture on page C4; see also HORSERADISH ra·di·um /'reɪdɪjəm/ noun [noncount] : a radioactive element that is used medically in cancer treatments

ra·di·us /'reɪdɪjəs/ noun, pl ra·dii /'reɪdɪ,ai/ [count]

1 technical : a straight line from the center of a circle or sphere to any point on the outer edge • Measure the radius of the circle.; also : the length of this line • a radius of 10 inches — see picture at GEOMETRY; compare DIAMETER

2 : an area that goes outward in all directions from a particular place • The new museum is expected to draw people from a wide radius. • More than 100,000 students live within a 10-mile radius of the university. [=within 10 miles of the university] • There are three restaurants within a one-block radius of our apartment.

3 medical : the bone in the lower part of your arm on the same side as your thumb — see picture at HUMAN ra-don /ˈreɪ,dɑːn/ noun [noncount] : a radioactive element which is a gas that is used medically in cancer treatments

RAF abbr Royal Air Force

raf-fia /ˈræfɪə/ noun [noncount] : material that looks like string, is made from palm leaves, and is used to make baskets, hats, etc.

raff-ish /ˈræfɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not completely acceptable or respectable but interesting and attractive • raffish charm • raffish behavior • He's a raffish character.

— raff-ish-ly adv — raff-ish-ness noun [noncount]

1 raf-fle /ˈræfəl/ noun, pl raf-fles [count] : a contest that a group or organization uses to earn money and that involves people buying numbered tickets in exchange for a chance to win a prize • We're having a raffle to raise money for new playground equipment. • We are selling raffle tickets.

2 raffle verb raf-fles; raf-fled; raf-fling [+ obj] : to give (something) as a prize in a raffle — usually + off • Our church will raffle off turkeys this Thanksgiving.

1 raft /ˈræft, Brit ˈrɑːft/ noun, pl rafts [count]

1 : a flat structure that is used for floating or sailing on water

2 : a plastic or rubber boat that you have to fill with air in order to use — see also LIFE RAFT

— compare 2 RAFT

2 raft noun, pl rafts [count] : a large amount or number or people or things • a raft of political supporters — compare 1 RAFT

1 raf-ter /ˈræftə, Brit ˈrɑːftə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : one of the large, long pieces of wood that support a roof — usually plural • a room with beautiful exposed rafters — compare 2 RAFTER

2 rafter noun, pl -ters [count] : a person who makes or travels in a raft • whitewater rafters — compare 1 RAFTER

raft-ing /ˈræftɪŋ, Brit ˈrɑːftɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the activity of traveling down a river on a raft • whitewater rafting — often used before another noun • a rafting trip • rafting equipment

1 rag /ˈræg/ noun, pl rags

1 [count] : a piece of cloth that is old and no longer in good condition : a scrap of cloth • She used a rag to mop up the spill. • I tore the old towel into rags. — see also DO-RAG

2 rags [plural] a informal : CLOTHES • expensive French rags — see also GLAD RAGS b : clothing that is in poor condition • He threw away a bunch of old rags. • a homeless person wearing rags = a homeless person (dressed) in rags

3 [count] informal : a newspaper of poor quality • He's a writer for our local rag.

4 [count] : a piece of ragtime music • a piano rag

a red rag to a bull see 1 RED

chew the rag see 1 CHEW

from rags to riches : from being poor to being wealthy : from a state of having very little money to a state of having a lot of money • She went from rags to riches overnight.

2 rag verb rags; rag-ged; rag-ging informal : to laugh at and make jokes about (someone) [+ obj] The other kids ragged [=teased, razzed] him for having a crush on the teacher. [no obj] (US) — + on • The other kids were always ragging on me because I wasn't good at sports.

rag-a-muf-fin /ˈrægə,mʌfən/ noun, pl -fins [count] somewhat old-fashioned : a child who is dressed in rags and is usually dirty and poor rag-bag /ˈræg,bæg/ noun, pl -bags [count] chiefly Brit : a collection of very different things • a ragbag of ideas

rag doll noun, pl ~ dolls [count] : a soft doll made of cloth

1 rage /ˈreɪdʒ/ noun, pl rag-es

1 a [noncount] : a strong feeling of anger that is difficult to control • Her note to him was full of rage. • He was shaking with rage. • a fit of rage — see also ROAD RAGE synonyms see 1 ANGER b [count] : a sudden expression of violent anger • She was seized by a murderous rage. • His rages rarely last more than a few minutes. • He flew into a rage. [=he suddenly became extremely angry]

2 [singular] a : something that is suddenly very popular • Karaoke is (all) the rage these days. [=karaoke is very popular] b : a strong desire by many people to have or do something — + for • I don't understand the current rage for flavored coffee. [=I don't understand why flavored coffee is so popular]

2 rage verb rages; raged; rag-ing [no obj]

1 : to talk in an extremely angry way • She raged about the injustice of their decision. • Protesters and activists have raged against the company [=have angrily criticized the company] for years. : to shout loudly and angrily • The manager raged at the umpire.

2 : to happen or continue in a destructive, violent, or intense way • A storm was raging outside, but we were warm and comfortable indoors. • The fire raged for hours. — often + on • The debate rages on in Congress.

rag-ged /ˈrægəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having an edge or surface that is not straight or even • a ragged outline • ragged [= (more commonly) jagged] cliffs

2 a : in bad condition especially because of being torn • a ragged dress • a boy in ragged jeans • the notebook's ragged [=tattered] pages b : wearing clothes that are torn and in poor condition • a ragged orphan

3 : tired from effort or stress • You look a little ragged—did you have a rough week?

4 : not as good as possible : having good parts and bad parts • a ragged performance

5 : harsh and not regular : not smooth or even • The patient's breathing is ragged. • a ragged cough/breath on the ragged edge US, informal : very close to failure • We are running on the ragged edge financially. • Our budget is on the ragged edge as it is.

run (someone) ragged informal : to make (someone) very tired • All this travel is running me ragged! • He was run ragged [=worn out] with/by all the travel.

— rag-ged-ly adv • coughing raggedly • dressed raggedly — rag-ged-ness noun [noncount]

rag-gedy /ˈrægədi/ adj rag-ged-i-er; -est [or more ~; most ~] informal : not in good condition : RAGGED • a raggedy old doll • raggedy clothes • a raggedy group of soldiers raging adj, always used before a noun

1 : very wild and violent • a raging storm • The fire quickly turned into a raging inferno.

2 : very great, strong, or impressive • raging ambition • The book was a raging success.

3 : causing a lot of pain or distress • a raging headache • her raging anguish rag-lan /ˈræglən/ adj, always used before a noun : attached at a line that goes from your neck to the area under your arm • a sweater with raglan sleeves; also : having sleeves like this • a raglan sweater/shirt ra-gout /ˈræ'guː/ noun, pl -gouts [count, noncount] : a stew of meat, vegetables, and spices

rag-tag /ˈræg,tæg/ adj, always used before a noun, informal : made up of different people or things and not organized or put together well • a ragtag group of musicians rag-time /ˈræg,tam/ noun [noncount] : a type of lively music that is often played on the piano and that was very popular in the U.S. in the early part of the 20th century rag-top /ˈræg,tɑːp/ noun, pl -tops [count] chiefly US, informal + somewhat old-fashioned : a car with a roof that can be folded down : CONVERTIBLE

rag trade noun

the rag trade chiefly Brit, informal : the business of designing, making, and selling clothes : the fashion industry rag-weed /ˈræg,wɪd/ noun [noncount] : any one of a group of North American plants that release a lot of pollen into the air and that can cause allergic reactions in some people

rah-rah /ˈrɑːrɑː/ adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US, informal : showing a lot of enthusiasm usually in a way that is annoying • We were getting sick of his rah-rah attitude about the school. • rah-rah cheerleaders

1 raid /ˈreɪd/ noun, pl raids [count]

1 : a surprise attack on an enemy by soldiers or other military forces • They launched/mounted a raid against the enemy. • The building was destroyed in a bombing raid [=a surprise attack in which bombs are used] — see also AIR RAID

2 : an occurrence in which police suddenly enter a place in a forceful way to find criminals, illegal drugs, etc. • Weapons were also seized during the drug raid. • They caught five smugglers in the raid.

3 chiefly Brit : an act of going into a place (such as a bank) in order to steal something : HEIST • a bank raid

2 raid verb raids; raid-ed; raid-ing [+ obj]

1 : to attack (a place or group) in a sudden and unexpected way • The village was raided often by neighboring tribes.

2 a : to enter (a place) suddenly in a forceful way in order to look for someone or something • Police raided the house and found drugs. • Federal agents raided the warehouse, seizing stolen property and arresting five smugglers. b : to enter (a place) in order to steal or take something • Two armed men raided [(more commonly) robbed] the bank on Tuesday. • The boys raided the fridge [=took food from the refrigerator] when they got home from soccer practice. • She raided her sister's closet to find something to wear to the party.

— raiding adj • The village needs protection from raiding tribes. • a raiding party [=a group of people who attack a place or group]

raid-er /'reɪdər/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who suddenly and unexpectedly attacks a place or group • The village needs protection from enemy raiders.

2 : a person who enters a place in order to steal or take something • Raiders had emptied the tomb of treasure.

3 : a person who tries to take control of a business by buying a lot of its stock • He made his fortune as a corporate raider.

¹rail /'reɪl/ noun, pl rails

1 [count] a : a bar that goes from one post or support to another and that is used to form a barrier • She leaned over the rail of the ship. • We sat on the fence rail and watched the cows. — see picture at HOUSE; see also GUARDRAIL, HANDRAIL b : a bar used to hang something from • He hung the curtains on the rail.

2 a [count] : one of the bars of steel that form a train's track — usually plural • The train went off the rails. = (chiefly Brit) The train jumped the rails. — see also THIRD RAIL b [noncount] : ¹RAILROAD • transportation by rail • commuter rail [=part of a railroad made especially for people who work in a city but live outside it] — often used before another noun • rail travel • passenger rail service [=trains that take passengers rather than cargo] between the two cities — see also MONORAIL go off the rails informal : to lose control and start to behave in a way that is not normal or acceptable • He was a promising student but he went off the rails after he started taking drugs. • The government has gone (completely) off the rails.

²rail verb rails; railed; rail-ing [+ obj] : to use rails to create a barrier around or at the edge of (something) — usually + off • They've railed off [(more commonly) fenced off] the garden. — compare ³RAIL

— railed adj • a railed balcony/platform

³rail verb rail; railed; railing [no obj] formal : to complain angrily about something • old men railing at/against the government • The workers railed about the unfair treatment they'd received. — compare ²RAIL rail-card /'reɪl,kɑːd/ noun, pl -cards [count] Brit : a card that you can use to buy railroad tickets at a price that is lower than the usual price • a student railcard

rail-ing /'reɪlɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count] : a barrier that is made of rails supported by posts • He leaned on the deck's railing and watched the sun set. — see picture at HOUSE rail-lery /'reɪləri/ noun [noncount] formal : friendly joking about or with somebody • affectionate raillery

rail-man /'reɪlmən/ noun, pl -men [count] Brit : RAILWAY-MAN

¹rail-road /'reɪl,rəʊd/ noun, pl -roads [count] US

1 : a system of tracks on which trains travel • a transcontinental railroad [(chiefly Brit) railway] — often used before another noun • a railroad station • railroad cars/workers/travel

2 : a company that owns and operates trains • an employee of the railroad [(chiefly Brit) railway]

²railroad verb -roads; -road-ed; -road-ing [+ obj]

1 : to force (something) to be officially approved or accepted without much discussion or thought • a controversial law that is being railroaded through Congress • a bill that was railroaded into law

2 US : to convict (someone) of a crime unfairly • They claim she was railroaded.

3 : to force (someone) into doing something quickly or without enough information — usually + into • He railroaded her into signing the contract. • She's trying to railroad us into buying the house.

— rail-road-er noun, pl -ers [count] US • He worked as a railroader [=a person who works for a railroad company] all his life. — rail-road-ing noun [noncount] • the history of railroading [=of trains, railroads, the people who work on them, etc.]

railroad crossing noun, pl ~ -ings [count] US : a place where a road crosses railroad tracks — called also (Brit) level crossing rail-way /'reɪl,weɪ/ noun, pl -ways [count] chiefly Brit : ¹RAILROAD rail-way-man /'reɪl,weɪmən/ noun, pl -men [count] Brit : a man who works for a railroad company

rai-ment /'reɪmənt/ noun [noncount] literary : CLOTHING • gorgeous/glamorous raiment

¹rain /'reɪn/ noun, pl rains

1 : water that falls in drops from clouds in the sky [noncount] The weatherman forecasts rain for this afternoon. • We could hear the sound of (the) rain on the roof. • Everyone went inside when the rain began to fall. • He was standing outside in the pouring rain. [=rain falling in large drops and with a lot of force] • Take an umbrella with you. It looks like rain. [=the sky looks the way it does when there is going to be rain] [count] spring/summer rains • What the garden needs is a good, soaking rain. • A light/heavy rain began to fall. • There has been some flooding due to the recent heavy rains. — see also ACID RAIN

2 [noncount] : weather in which there is a lot of rain : rainy weather • We've had a week of rain.

3 rains [plural] : large amounts of rain that fall at a particular time of year • The rains came and flooded the valley.

4 [singular] : a large amount of something falling from above • a rain of ash/ashes

(as) right as rain see ¹RIGHT

rain or shine or come rain, come shine or come rain or come shine — used to say that something will happen even it rains • The party will be on Tuesday, rain or shine. — sometimes used figuratively • I'll always love you, come rain or come shine. [=I will love you no matter what happens]

— rain-less adj • a rainless week

²rain verb rains; rained; rain-ing

1 [no obj] — used with it to say that rain is falling • Take an umbrella with you. It's raining. [=rain is falling from the sky] • The weatherman said it will rain later this afternoon. • It rained all day. • It's raining (pretty) hard/heavily. [=there is a lot of rain falling] • It's raining lightly. [=there is a small amount of rain falling]

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to fall from above in large amounts • Ashes rained (down) from the volcano. • Sparks from the fireworks rained on the field.

3 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to fall in large amounts • The volcano rained ashes on the city. • The boxers rained blows/punches on each other. [=the boxers hit each other many times] be rained out (US) or Brit be rained off : to be canceled because of rain • Today's game was rained out and will be played tomorrow instead.

rain cats and dogs informal : to rain very hard rain on someone's parade US, informal : to spoil someone's pleasure • I don't mean to rain on your parade, but I have some bad news.

when it rains, it pours (US) or chiefly Brit it never rains but it pours informal — used to say that when something bad happens other bad things usually happen at the same time • The team not only lost the game but three of its best players were injured. When it rains, it pours.

¹rain-bow /'reɪn,bəʊ/ noun, pl -bows [count] : a curved line of different colors that sometimes appears in the sky when the sun shines through rain

²rainbow adj, always used before a noun : of, relating to, or including people of different races, cultures, etc. • a rainbow coalition

rain check noun, pl ~ checks [count] US

1 : a ticket given to people so that they can go to another event (such as a baseball game) if the one they were watching or planning to go to is canceled or stopped because of rain

2 : a promise to allow someone to buy or do something in the future because it is not possible to buy or do it now • The store offered rain checks when the sale items had all sold. • She asked if she could have/take a rain check on the invitation for dinner. [=she said she wasn't able to come to dinner and asked if she could be invited again at a future time] • "Would you like to go to lunch with me?" "I'm afraid I can't today. Can I take a rain check?" [=can I go to lunch with you another day?]

rain-coat /'reɪn,kəʊt/ noun, pl -coats [count] : a coat that you wear when it rains in order to stay dry — see color picture on page C15

rain date noun, pl ~ dates [count] US : a date for something to happen if it cannot happen on its original date because of rain • The bike trip is scheduled for May 18th, with a rain date of May 25th.

rain·drop /'reɪn,dʒɒp/ noun, pl -drops [count] : a single drop of rain rain·fall /'reɪn,fɔ:l/ noun, pl -falls : the amount of rain that falls on a particular area [count] This area has an average annual rainfall of 12 inches. • areas with heavy rainfalls [noncount] an increase in annual rainfall rain forest noun, pl ~ -ests [count, noncount] : a tropical forest that receives a lot of rain and that has very tall trees • the Amazon rain forest — called also tropical rain forest rain·proof /'reɪn,pru:f/ adj : able to keep rain out : not allowing rain to come through • a rainproof jacket • The tent is rainproof.

rain·storm /'reɪn,stɔ:m/ noun, pl -storms [count] : a storm that produces rain rain·wa·ter /'reɪn,wɑ:tə/ noun [noncount] : water that falls as rain • a bucket filled with rainwater

rain·wear /'reɪn,weə/ noun [noncount] : clothing that you wear when it rains in order to stay dry rainy /'reɪni/ adj rain·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : having a lot of rain • It's been rainy all day today. [=rain has been falling all day] • rainy weather for a rainy day informal : for a time in the future when something will be needed • He set a little money aside for a rainy day. [=he saved a little money so that he would have it if he needed it in the future] • I have some money that I'm saving for a rainy day.

¹raise /'reɪz/ verb rais·es; raised; rais·ing [+ obj]

1 a : to lift or move (something or someone) to a higher position • Raise your hand if you know the answer. • Raise your arms above your head. • He raised his head and looked around. • She raised her eyes from her book and stared at him. • He raised the cup to his lips and drank. • I raised the lid and peeked inside. • Let's raise the windows and get some fresh air in here. • We raised the flag to the top of the pole. b : to lift or move (something or someone) to a standing or more upright position • They raised [=erected, put up] a flagpole in the quadrangle. • I carefully raised her to a sitting position. • She raised herself onto her knees. — often + up • He slowly raised himself up off the floor. • The men raised up the barn's walls with pulleys. — opposite LOWER

2 a : to increase the amount or level of (something) • Our landlord is raising the rent. • The store is raising its prices. • The governor wants to raise the minimum wage. • He matched the bet and then raised it. • The college is raising its standards for admission. • Exercise raises your body temperature. • The ad campaign is intended to raise awareness of the importance of a healthy diet. • Exposure to secondhand smoke raises the risk of lung cancer. • The captain tried to raise the spirits of his crew. [=the captain tried to cheer them up] b : to increase the quality of (something) • She needs to raise her game in the play-offs. [=she needs to play better in the play-offs]

3 : to collect (money) from people for a particular cause • The organization is raising money to help the hurricane victims. — usually + for • The students are raising money for their school.

4 : to form (something, such as an army) by gathering a group of people together • The rebels were able to raise an army quickly.

5 a : to mention (something) for people to think or talk about • The issue of money was never raised. • I'm sorry that I have to raise this subject, but we can't ignore it any longer.

b : to cause people to think about or be aware of (something) • The book raises many questions about our biological origins. • The discovery raises the possibility of a cure for the disease. [=the discovery makes it possible that a cure for the disease will be found]

6 : to cause (something) to happen or exist : to produce (something) • The news raised hopes for peace. • The news raised fears of war. • Her comment raised a few smiles/laughs. • He was so tired he could barely raise a smile. [=he could barely smile] • The laws were passed without raising much opposition. • A passerby saw the intruders and raised [=sounded] the alarm. • The audience raised a cheer [=the audience cheered] at the end of the speech. • Some people are raising a ruckus/fuss/stink [=are complaining or objecting very angrily] about the proposed tax.

7 chiefly US : to take care of and teach (a child) : to bring up or rear (a child) • We have raised two wonderful girls. • They have raised their children to be well-mannered. • She was raised by her grandparents. • He was raised (as) a Baptist. = He was raised Baptist. • My dad was raised on a farm. • Some kids are raised on (a diet of) junk food. • I was born and raised here. • This is a wonderful place to raise a family.

8 : to keep and take care of (animals or crops) • He raises [=breeds] chickens on his farm. • They're raising [=growing] corn this year.

9 : to cause (a dead person) to live again : RESURRECT • He claimed that he could raise people from the dead. = He claimed that he could raise the dead. • That noise is loud enough to raise the dead.

10 formal : to stop or remove (something that is preventing or blocking an activity) often for only a short period of time • They raised the siege/embargo/blockade. • The city has temporarily raised [=lifted] its ban on smoking in bars.

11 : to build (a monument, statue, etc.) : ERECT • The city raised a monument in his honor.

12 mathematics : to multiply (a number) by itself a specified number of times • Raise two to the fourth power. • Two raised to the fourth power is 16.

13 : to get (someone) to speak with you on a radio : to contact (someone) by radio • We tried to raise him on the radio, but we couldn't get through.

14 : to bet more than (a previous player in a card game) • I'll match that bet and raise you five. [=I'll increase your bet by 5]

raise a glass see ¹GLASS

raise an/your eyebrow, raise eyebrows see EYEBROW

raise Cain US, old-fashioned 1 : to behave wildly and make a lot of noise • They were always getting drunk and raising Cain. 2 : to complain in a loud or angry way • The townsfolk raised Cain [=raised hell] about the tax increase.

raise hell see HELL

raise its ugly head see ¹HEAD

raise the bar see ¹BAR

raise the roof see ¹ROOF

raise your voice : to speak loudly especially because you are angry • Don't you raise your voice at me! • The baby is sleeping, so try not to raise your voice. • Many people raised their voices [=spoke out] in protest. = Many voices were raised in protest.

²raise noun, pl raises [count] US : an increase in the amount of your pay • I asked my boss for a raise. [= (Brit) rise] • a raise in salary = a pay raise raised adj : higher than the surrounding area or surface • a raised platform • a raised flower bed • a plaque with raised lettering raised ranch noun, pl ~ ranches [count] US : a house that has two floors with its front entry located between the floors rai·sin /'reɪzn/ noun, pl -sins [count] : a dried grape used for food — see also GOLDEN RAISIN rai·son d'être /,reɪ,zʊnz'detrə/ noun, pl rai·sons d'être /,reɪ,zʊnz'detrə/ [count] formal : the thing that is most important to someone or something : the reason for which a person or organization exists • Art is his raison d'être.

ra·ja or ra·jah /'rɑ:dʒə/ noun, pl -jas or -jahs [count] : a king or prince in India

¹rake /'reɪk/ noun, pl rakes [count] : a tool that has a series of metal, wooden, or plastic pieces at the end of a long handle and that is used to gather leaves, break apart soil, make ground smooth, etc. • a leaf rake — compare ³RAKE, ⁴RAKE

²rake verb rakes; raked; rak·ing

1 : to use a rake to gather leaves, break apart soil, make ground smooth, etc. [+ obj] rake (up) leaves • I raked the gravel smooth. • Rake (out) the soil until it's level. • rake the lawn [=use a rake to remove leaves, sticks, etc., from the lawn] [no obj] We raked all afternoon.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to move (your fingers or something similar) through or along something • He raked his fingers through his hair. • The cat raked its claws along/down the post.

3 [+ obj] : to shoot many bullets along (something) • Two men raked the car with gunfire.

4 [no obj] Brit, informal : to search through something by using your hand • He raked [=rifled] through the drawers, trying to find the letter. • She raked around in her handbag.

rake in [phrasal verb] informal 1 rake (something) in or rake in (something) : to earn or receive (a large amount of money) • The movie raked in over $300 million. 2 rake it in

: to earn a lot of money • The owners of that restaurant must be really raking it in.

rake over [phrasal verb] rake over (something) chiefly Brit, informal : to continue to think or talk about (something that happened in the past) • Don't spend so much time raking over the past.

rake (someone) over the coals see COAL

rake up [phrasal verb] rake (something) up or rake up (something) informal : to talk about (something unpleasant that happened in the past) • There's no need to rake those old controversies up again. • She didn't like to rake up [=dredge up] bad memories.

³rake noun [singular] : an upward or downward slant : SLOPE • the slight/steep rake of the stage • the forward rake of the barge — compare ¹RAKE, ⁴RAKE

⁴rake noun, pl rakes [count] old-fashioned : a man who leads an immoral life and is mainly interested in pleasure • a selfish rake — compare ¹RAKE, ³RAKE

rake-off /'reɪk,ɑ:f/ noun, pl -offs [count] chiefly Brit, informal : a share of a profit that is usually earned illegally • The bookmaker took a 20 percent rake-off.

rak-ish /'reɪkɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 somewhat old-fashioned : having an unusual quality that is attractive and stylish • a rakish smile • He wore his hat at a rakish angle. [=tipped to one side in a way that is attractive]

2 old-fashioned, of a man : immoral and devoted to pleasure • a rakish [=dissolute] aristocrat

— rak-ish-ly adv • He smiled rakishly.

¹rally /'ræli/ noun, pl -lies [count]

1 : a public meeting to support or oppose someone or something • a political rally • Supporters held a rally for the candidate. • Protesters staged an antiwar rally. • a youth rally [=a public meeting for teenagers and young adults] — see also PEP RALLY

2 finance : an increase in price or value after a decrease in price or value • Stock prices are up after the dollar's rally yesterday.

3 sports : an occurrence in which a team or player that has been behind or playing badly begins to play well • The team's late-game rally [=comeback] helped them win the game.

4 sports : a continuous series of hits back and forth between players in tennis or a similar game • She ended the rally with a hard overhand shot to the far corner.

5 : a car race that is usually held on public roads • a road rally • a professional rally driver

²rally verb -lies; -lied; -ly-ing

1 a [no obj] : to meet publicly to support or oppose something : to come together for a rally • His supporters will rally tomorrow morning outside the capitol. b [+ obj] : to cause (people) to join together to publicly support or oppose something • The group is trying to rally voters for the election. • The shootings rallied protesters who say the city neglects poorer neighborhoods.

2 [no obj] : to publicly support or oppose something or someone as a group • Many people in the community have rallied to the mayor's side. [=have publicly shown support for the mayor] • Parents rallied for/behind [=publicly showed support for] the new dress code guidelines. • Students rallied against [=publicly showed opposition to] the new dress code guidelines.; also : to join together as a group to do something • Concerned people around the country have rallied (together) to help raise money for the victims.

3 [+ obj] : to cause (a group of people) to have new energy and enthusiasm in a difficult time or situation • The coach rallied his players for the second half of the game. • As the deadline approached, it was clear that we needed to rally the troops. [=to urge everyone to work harder]

4 [no obj] : to improve suddenly after a period of weakness, failure, etc. • We were trailing for most of the game, but we rallied in the fourth quarter and ended up winning. • Stocks rallied [=increased in price or value] at the close of trading today. • The patient briefly rallied [=got healthier] but then became much worse and died a few days later.

rally around or chiefly Brit rally round [phrasal verb] rally around/round (someone or something) : to join together to support (someone or something) in a difficult time or situation • We rallied around our neighbors when their house burned down. • When the town library lost its funding, the community rallied around it.

rallying cry noun, pl ~ cries [count] : a word or phrase that is used to make people join together to support an idea, cause, etc. • the rallying cry of a political movement • "We believe!" became the rallying cry of the fans.

rallying point noun, pl ~ points [count] : someone or something that makes people join together to support a person, cause, etc. • His promise to improve education has become a rallying point for his supporters.

¹ram /'ræm/ noun, pl rams [count]

1 : an adult male sheep — compare EWE, ¹LAMB

2 a : a piece of machinery that is used to hit or lift something else • a hydraulic ram b : BATTERING RAM

²ram verb rams; rammed; ram-ming

1 a : to forcefully hit something [+ obj] His car/boat rammed mine. • They deliberately rammed my car from behind. [no obj] They rammed [=crashed] into my car from behind. • The car slid and rammed against the wall. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to forcefully hit something • He deliberately rammed his car into mine. • She rammed her fist against the wall in anger.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to push (something) into a position or place with force • She rammed the cork into the barrel. • He opened the chute and rammed the clothes down. — sometimes used figuratively • The law was rammed [=pushed] through Congress.

ram (something) down someone's throat see THROAT

ram (something) home : to make (something) very clear and obvious in a forceful way • He tried to ram home the importance of meeting the deadline. • She hoped that the pictures and examples would ram her point home.

RAM /'ræm/ noun [noncount] computers : the part of a computer in which information is stored temporarily when a program is being used • My computer is slow because it needs more RAM. — called also random-access memory; compare ROM

Ram-a-dan /'rɑ:mə,dɑ:n, Brit 'ræmə,dæn/ noun, pl -dans [count, noncount] : the ninth month of the Islamic year when Muslims do not eat or drink anything between sunrise and sunset

¹ram-ble /'ræmbəl/ verb ram-bles; ram-bled; ram-bling [no obj]

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to walk or go from one place to another place without a specific goal, purpose, or direction • He often rambled [=roamed] around/about the countryside in an old truck. • She rambled [=wandered] along the riverbank. — sometimes used figuratively • The trail rambles [=meanders] through the woods for miles.

2 : to go from one subject to another without any clear purpose or direction • She rambled for several minutes before introducing the main speaker. • He's funny, but he tends to ramble. — often + on • The novel's first chapter rambles on for about 100 pages.

²ramble noun, pl rambles [count]

1 chiefly Brit : a long walk for pleasure • We went for a ramble along the beach. • He encountered many interesting people in his rambles in the country.

2 : a long speech or piece of writing that goes from one subject to another without any clear purpose or direction • The first chapter is a 100-page ramble. • We had to listen to another one of his long rambles about politics and religion.

ram-bler /'ræmblər/ noun, pl -blers [count]

1 chiefly Brit : a person who goes on long walks for pleasure

2 : a plant that grows up and over fences, walls, etc. • These roses are ramblers, so they will eventually cover the fence.

¹ram-bling /'ræmbəlɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 of a building : big and having many rooms that are arranged in an irregular shape • a rambling old farmhouse

2 : not having a specific goal, purpose, or direction • a rambling car ride • a rambling lecture

3 of a plant : growing up and over fences, walls, etc., in an irregular way • rambling roses

²rambling noun, pl -blings

1 [noncount] chiefly Brit : the activity of walking for pleasure : HIKING • She enjoys rambling, swimming, and biking. • Would you like to go rambling?

2 ramblings [plural] : spoken or written words that go from one subject to another without any clear purpose or direction • We ignored her drunken ramblings.

ram-bunc-tious /ræm'bʌŋkʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] US : uncontrolled in a way that is playful or full of energy • a class full of rambunctious [=boisterous, (Brit) rumbustious] children • a rambunctious crowd/audience

ram-e-kin /'ræməkən/ noun, pl -kins [count] : a small, usually round bowl that has steep sides and that is used for cooking and serving food for one person ra·men /'rɑ:mən/ noun [noncount] : very thin, long noodles used in Asian cooking • a bowl of ramen ram-i-fi-ca-tion /,ræməfə'keɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] formal : something that is the result of an action, decision, etc. — usually plural • They discussed the possible ramifications [=consequences] of the new treaty. • The government's actions in this case could have major political ramifications.

¹ramp /'ræmp/ noun, pl ramps [count]

1 US : a usually sloping road that connects a road to a highway • an exit/entrance ramp — called also (Brit) slip road; see also OFF-RAMP, ON-RAMP

2 : a piece of equipment with a slope that is used to join two surfaces that are at different levels or heights • The loading dock has a ramp. • a wheelchair ramp [=a ramp for someone in a wheelchair to use instead of stairs to enter into a building]

²ramp verb ramps; ramped; ramp-ing

ramp up [phrasal verb] ramp up or ramp up (something) or ramp (something) up : to increase or to cause (something) to increase in speed, size, etc. • Work started slowly, but now we're ramping up to full speed. • The company has been ramping up production. • The work is going too slowly. We need to ramp it up a bit.

¹ram-page /'ræm,peɪdʒ/ noun, pl -pag-es [count] : an occurrence of wild and usually destructive behavior • a murderous rampage • (chiefly US) Rioters were/went on a rampage, looting shops and setting fires. = (chiefly Brit) Rioters were/went on the rampage.

²rampage verb -pages; -paged; -pag-ing [no obj] : to act or move in a wild and usually destructive way • Rioters ramped through the streets of the city. • rampaging soccer fans

ram-pant /'ræmpənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 usually disapproving — used to describe something that is very common or that is spreading very quickly and in a way that is difficult to control • There is evidence of rampant corruption in the local government. • rampant crime/disease • Rumors of her engagement were rampant. = Rumors of her engagement ran rampant. [=there were many rumors that she was engaged to be married]

2 : growing quickly and in a way that is difficult to control • a weed that's rampant in this area

— ram-pant-ly adv

ram-part /'ræm,pɑ:t/ noun, pl -parts [count] : a tall, thick stone or dirt wall that is built around a castle, town, etc., to protect it from attacks — usually plural • The city's ramparts crumbled long ago.

ram-raiding noun [noncount] Brit : the crime of driving a car or truck into a store window in order to steal the things that are in the store ram-rod /'ræm,rɔ:d/ noun, pl -rods [count] : a metal bar that is used to push explosive material down into the barrel of some old-fashioned guns straight as a ramrod or ramrod straight : in a very straight and stiff way — used especially to describe the way someone stands or sits • The guard stood straight as a ramrod. • He sat in the saddle, ramrod straight.

ram-shack-le /'ræm,ʃækəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : in a very bad condition and needing to be repaired • a ramshackle [=dilapidated] old house • a ramshackle [=run-down] neighborhood

2 : not carefully made or put together • The movie's ramshackle plot is confusing and not believable.

ran past tense of ¹RUN

¹ranch /'ræntʃ, Brit 'rɑ:ntʃ/ noun, pl ranch-es [count]

1 : a large farm especially in the U.S. where animals (such as cattle, horses, and sheep) are raised — see also DUDE RANCH

2 chiefly US : a farm for a special crop or kind of animal • an almond ranch • a cattle/mink ranch

3 US : RANCH HOUSE 2 — see also RAISED RANCH

²ranch verb ranches; ranched; ranch-ing

1 : to live or work on a ranch [no obj] My grandfather started ranching here 150 years ago. [+ obj] The family has ranched 10,000 acres here for the past 150 years.

2 [+ obj] chiefly US : to raise (an animal) on a ranch • The family has been ranching cattle here for 150 years.

ranch dressing noun, pl ~ -ings [count, noncount] US : a creamy salad dressing ranch-er /'ræntʃə, Brit 'rɑ:ntʃə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who lives or works on a ranch • a cattle rancher ranch house noun, pl ~ houses [count]

1 : the main house on a ranch

2 US : a house that has a single story and a roof that is not very steep ranching noun [noncount] : the activity of raising animals on a ranch • cattle ranching • The land is highly suitable for ranching.

ran-cid /'rænsəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 of food : having a strong and unpleasant smell or taste from no longer being fresh • rancid butter • Some foods become/go/turn rancid quickly.

2 chiefly US : full of anger and bitterness • The argument turned rancid.

ran-cor (US) or Brit ran-cour /'ræŋkə/ noun [noncount] formal : an angry feeling of hatred or dislike for someone who has treated you unfairly • She answered her accusers calmly and without rancor. • In the end, the debate created a degree of rancor among the committee members.

— ran-cor-ous (US) or Brit ran-cour-ous /'ræŋkərəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a rancorous debate

rand /'rænd/ noun, pl rand [count] : the basic unit of money in the Republic of South Africa

R & B abbr rhythm and blues • an R & B band = a band that plays R & B

R & D abbr research and development • She works for a computer firm doing R & D. • She works in the R & D department.

ran-dom /'rændəm/ adj [more ~; most ~] : chosen, done, etc., without a particular plan or pattern • a random sequence of letters • A random sample/sampling/selection of doctors from around the country were selected for the study. • We tasted the wines in random order and then rated each. • a random collection of buttons • random drug testing • She collects random photographs that she finds in antique shops. • Pick a random word on the page. • The computer program generates a list of random numbers.

at random : in a way that does not follow a particular plan or pattern • Our names were chosen/selected/picked at random from the list. • People drifted in and out of the gallery at random all evening.

— ran-dom-ly adv • The ropes had been cut randomly to different lengths. • We were each asked to randomly pick a word on the page. — ran-dom-ness noun [noncount]

random-access memory noun [noncount] : RAM

ran-dom-ize also Brit ran-dom-ise /'rændəmaɪz/ verb -izes; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] technical : to arrange or choose (something) in a random way or order : to make (something) random • The numbers have been randomized. • a randomized selection/sequence • A randomized study of patients treated with the drug showed it to be effective.

R & R abbr rest and recreation; rest and recuperation; rest and relaxation • We rented a cottage in the country to get a little R & R.

randy /'rændi/ adj rand-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] chiefly Brit, informal : sexually excited • a randy [=horny] bachelor • She was feeling a little randy.

rang past tense of ³RING

¹range /'reɪndʒ/ noun, pl rang-es

1 [count] : a group or collection of different things or people that are usually similar in some way — usually singular; usually + of • We'll be covering a range of topics in this class. • The rugs are available in a range of colors. • The new computer system should solve a whole range of problems.

2 [count] : a series of numbers that includes the highest and lowest possible amounts — usually singular • What's the salary range for the job? [=what are the highest and lowest salaries that people are paid for the job?] • The car is out of our price range. [=it is too expensive] • Bicycles come in every price range. • The game is designed for children in the 7 to 13 age range. • His blood pressure is in the normal range. • Tickets cost in the $200 range. [=tickets cost approximately $200]

3 [count] : the total amount of ability, knowledge, experience, etc., that a person has — usually singular • an actor with an impressive range [=an impressive ability to act many roles] • The technical vocabulary is a little outside my range (of expertise).

4 [count] : all of the notes that a particular person can sing or that a particular musical instrument can make — usually singular • The song is out of my vocal range. • The singer's range has gotten broader over the years.

5 a : a specified distance [noncount] The photograph was taken at close/short range. [=taken from a close distance] • You can see the whole playing field at long range. [=from far away] [count] Both photographs were shot at close ranges.

b : the distance over which someone or something can see, hear, or reach someone or something else [noncount] We were within the siren's range. = We were within range of the siren. [=we could hear the siren] • I can't get the radio station west of the mountains because I'm out of range there. • She told the children not to wander out of range of her voice/vision. • The troops were within range of the enemy's artillery. [count] a missile with a 400-mile range = a missile with a range of 400 miles • The antenna gives the radio a range of about 20 miles. c [count] : the distance that an airplane or other vehicle can travel before it needs more fuel • The airplane has a 1,200-mile range. = The airplane has a range of 1,200 miles.

6 [count] : a series of mountains or hills in a line • the northern and southern mountain ranges — sometimes used in the names of mountain ranges • the Cascade Range

7 US : open land that farm animals (such as cows and sheep) use for grazing and roaming : RANGELAND [noncount] the areas of open range in Wyoming [count] The book identifies plants that grow on the western ranges.

8 [noncount] : the ability to move around • He wears loose clothing to give his arms and legs free range of motion.

9 [count] : the area in which an animal or plant naturally lives • The grizzly bear's range is largely limited to the northwestern parts of North America.

10 [count] a : a place where people can practice shooting guns • a firing/shooting/rifle range b : a place where weapons are tested • a missile range c : a place where people can practice hitting golf balls : DRIVING RANGE

11 [count] US : a large piece of kitchen equipment that consists of an oven and a stove • a gas/electric range [= (Brit) cooker] — see picture at KITCHEN

12 [count] chiefly Brit : a group of related products that are sold by one company • The company has a wide product range. • a full range [=line] of electrical supplies

²range verb ranges; ranged; rang-ing

1 [no obj] : to include everything between specified limits • The selection of food *rang*ed from mild to very spicy. • The game is designed for children whose ages range between 7 and 13. = The game is designed for children *rang*ing in age from 7 to 13. • The rugs range in size/price/color. [=there is a variety of rugs in different sizes/prices/colors] • Items on the menu range from American fare like hamburgers and hot dogs to Italian pasta dishes.

2 [no obj] : to live or grow in a particular area • Grizzly bears range over a much smaller area than they once did. • The plant once *rang*ed across the island.

3 [no obj] : to move around an area • The tribe *rang*ed [=roamed] far and wide in search of good land. • The farmers let the horses range [=rove] freely. — often used figuratively • The essay ranges widely over a variety of topics.

4 [+ obj] formal : to arrange (people or things) in a particular place or area • The children *rang*ed themselves around the teacher's chair to listen to the story. — usually used as (be) *rang*ed • Chairs *were rang*ed along the edge of the garden. • Soldiers *were rang*ed along the palace walls.

5 [+ obj] formal : to join with other people who support or oppose someone or something • They have *rang*ed them-selves in opposition to the proposed new law. — often used as (be) *rang*ed • Several groups *are rang*ed against the proposed new law. [=several groups have joined together to fight/oppose the proposed new law]

range-land /'reɪndʒ, lænd/ noun, pl -lands [count, non-count] US : open land that farm animals (such as cows and sheep) use for grazing and roaming rang-er /'reɪndʒə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 a : a person in charge of managing and protecting part of a public forest • She's now a ranger at a national forest in Montana. — called also forest ranger b : a person in charge of managing and protecting part of a national park • We were fortunate enough to get a tour from a ranger when we visited Yellowstone National Park. — called also park ranger

2 : a soldier in the U.S. Army who has special training especially in fighting at close range

3 Ranger Brit : a girl between the ages of 14 and 19 who is a member of the Girl Guides organization — called also Ranger Guide rangy /'reɪndʒi/ adj rang-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 of a person : tall and thin • a rangy teenager

2 of an animal : having a long body and long legs • rangy cattle

3 of a plant : tall and having few leaves • a rangy shrub • the plant's rangy stems

¹rank /'ræŋk/ noun, pl ranks

1 a : a position in a society, organization, group, etc. [non-count] people of high rank and profession • She's not concerned about rank or wealth. • Unlike in chess, all the game pieces in checkers are of equal rank. [=value] [count] officers with the rank of captain • He rose to the rank of partner in the law firm. • He longed to join the upper social ranks. • military ranks such as private, corporal, and sergeant • He moved up/rose through the ranks to become vice president of the company. • a photographer in the front rank [=an excellent photographer] • a writer of the first rank [=an excellent writer] b [noncount] : a high position in a society, organization, group, etc. — usually used after of • Expensive cars are sometimes seen as a badge of rank. • The guest lecturer is a novelist of rank [=of high regard; of esteem] who has won many prestigious awards.

2 ranks [plural] a : the people or things that belong to a particular organization or group • A company spokesperson announced that the company will be decreasing its ranks by 200. [=laying off 200 employees] • The organization's ranks have doubled in the past two years. • The restaurant has made it to the city's front ranks. [=the restaurant is one of the best in the city] — often + of • More older adults are choosing to join the ranks of college students. • the growing/swelling ranks of vegetarians b : the people in the army, navy, air force, etc., who are not officers • The flu swept through the ranks, infecting almost every soldier. • Several men were selected from the ranks.

3 [count] : a row of people or things • The troops stood in ranks. • Twelve soldiers stood in the front rank. — compare ⁵FILE

4 [count] Brit : TAXI STAND

break ranks also break rank 1 : to step out of a line • The soldier was disciplined for breaking ranks. 2 : to no longer agree with or support a person or group — often + with • The senator decided to break ranks with others in his party and support the proposal. • One scientist has broken ranks with her colleagues and questioned the research.

close ranks : to join together to support or protect someone or something that is in trouble • The police officers closed ranks when their captain was being investigated for misconduct. • The family closed ranks to protect one of their own.

pull rank : to use your high position in a society, organization, group, etc., to order someone to do something or to get special treatment or privileges • He's their boss, but he doesn't like to pull rank (on them) if he can avoid it.

²rank verb, not used in progressive tenses ranks; ranked; rank-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to place (someone or something) in a particular position among a group of people or things that are being judged according to quality, ability, size, etc. • A magazine recently *rank*ed the school as one of the best in the country. — often used as (be) *rank*ed • The museum *is rank*ed among the best in the U.S. • The young gymnast *is rank*ed fifth in the world. — see also OUTRANK b [no obj] : to have a particular position in a group of people or things that are being judged according to quality, ability, size, etc. • The city currently *rank*s as the world's largest. • Our professor *rank*s with/among the best in her field. [=is one of the best in her field] • This kind of mistake *rank*s right up there with [=is as bad as] forgetting your mother's birthday. • Students who rank in the top third of their class have a better chance of being accepted to the college of their choice.

2 [+ obj] : to arrange (people or things) in a line or row — usually used as (be) *rank*ed • The books *were neat*ly *rank*ed in rows.

³rank adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : having a strong, unpleasant smell • the rank [=foul] smell of the alley • a rank odor

2 a [more ~; most ~] : very bad and obvious • His rank [=flagrant] dishonesty makes it impossible to trust him. • rank [=glaring] hypocrisy b always used before a noun : complete or total • You can't expect a rank beginner like her to know all the rules of the game.

3 of plants : growing too quickly and over too much land • rank weeds

rank and file noun

the rank and file 1 : the people in the army, navy, air force, etc., who are not officers 2 : the members of a group or organization who are not leaders • The rank and file is/are unhappy with the chairman's decision. • the rank and file of the union

– rank-and-file adj, always used before a noun • rank-and-file members

¹rank-ing /ˈræŋkɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US : having a high position or the highest position in a group or organization • a ranking news analyst • Who is the ranking officer here? • the country's ranking law school — see also HIGH-RANKING, LOW-RANKING, TOP-RANKING

²ranking noun, pl -ings

1 rank-ings [plural] : a list of people or things that are ordered according to their quality, ability, size, etc. • She is currently fifth in the world gymnastics rankings. [=she is ranked as the fifth best gymnast in the world] • He is number two in the class rankings.

2 [count] : the position of a person or thing in the rankings • The new coach led the team to a No. 1 ranking.

ran-kle /ˈræŋkəl/ verb ran-kles; ran-kled; ran-kling : to cause (someone) to feel angry or irritated especially for a long time [+ obj] The joke about her family rankled her. [no obj] The fact that he never repaid the money still rankles (with her) years later.

ran-sack /ˈrænsæk/ verb -sacks; -sacked; -sack-ing [+ obj] : to search (a place) for something in a way that causes disorder or damage • Robbers ransacked the apartment looking for money. • The room had been ransacked.

¹ran-som /ˈrænsəm/ noun, pl -soms : money that is paid in order to free someone who has been captured or kidnapped [count] The kidnappers demanded a ransom of one million dollars. [noncount] The family is willing to pay ransom for his release. • The ransom note explained the terms under which she would be released. • ransom money/payment • (chiefly US) A group of men is holding the ship's crew for ransom = (Brit) A group of men is holding the ship's crew to ransom — sometimes used figuratively • (Brit) The boy used his bad temper to hold his mother to ransom, forcing her to buy him sweets. — see also KING'S RANSOM

²ransom verb -soms; -somed; -som-ing [+ obj] : to pay money in order to free (a person who has been captured or kidnapped) • He was held captive for a week before he was ransomed and returned to his family.

rant /ˈrænt/ verb rants; rant-ed; rant-ing : to talk loudly and in a way that shows anger : to complain in a way that is unreasonable [no obj] “You can rant and rave all you want,” she said, “but it's not going to change things.” — often + about • He always *rant*s about the evils of the film industry. — often + on • She *rant*ed on for hours about the smoking ban. [+ obj] He *rant*ed that they were out to get him. — rant noun, pl rants [count] • We had to listen to his rant about the evils of the film industry.

rant-ings /ˈræntɪŋz/ noun [plural] : loud and angry comments that continue for a long time • the rantings of a crazy person

¹rap /ˈræp/ noun, pl raps

1 [count] : a quick hit or knock • I was startled by a sharp rap on/against/at the window/door. • He gave me a rap on the knee.

2 [count] US, informal : a statement by police or the government saying that someone has committed a crime — usually singular • She faces a murder rap [=charge] for the death of her boyfriend. — see also BEAT THE RAP (below)

3 the rap informal : the blame or punishment for something • He took the rap for his brother in order to protect him.

4 [count] US, informal : a complaint against someone or something : something that someone or something is criticized for — usually singular • The main rap against him is that he isn't totally honest about what he knows.

a rap on/over/across the knuckles informal : criticism or punishment that is given in a gentle way for something that you did wrong • I received a rap on the knuckles for missing the meeting.

beat the rap US, informal : to avoid being sent to jail for a crime • He was arrested for assault, but he beat the rap.

bum rap informal 1 US : an unfair claim that someone has committed a crime or done something wrong • The defendant was sent to jail on a bum rap. 2 chiefly US : a criticism or bad opinion that is not deserved or fair • The teenagers say they've all gotten a bum rap because one person damaged some property. • She thinks motorboats get a bum rap from environmentalists. • He was given a bum rap by reviewers.

— compare ³RAP

²rap verb raps; rapped; rap-ping

1 : to quickly hit or knock (something) several or many times [+ obj] The teacher rapped the desk with her knuckles. • The boy teased the dog by *rap*ping a stick on the fence. [no obj] Someone was *rap*ping on the door.

2 [+ obj] chiefly Brit : to say (something) quickly and forcefully — usually + out • The officer rapped out [=barked out] a command.

3 [+ obj] : to criticize (someone or something) publicly • The report *rap*s the organization for failing to develop a plan.

rap someone on/over/across the knuckles or rap someone's knuckles : to criticize or punish someone in a gentle way for doing something wrong • The boss rapped me over/on the knuckles for missing the meeting.

— compare ⁴RAP

³rap noun, pl raps

1 [noncount] : a type of music that has words that are spoken with the rhythm instead of being sung • He listens mostly to rap. — often used before another noun • a rap album/artist/group/song • rap music

2 [count] : a rap song • He performed a rap.

— compare ¹RAP

⁴rap verb raps; rapped; rap-ping [no obj]

1 : to perform rap music or a rap song • The band has been *rap*ping at local clubs. • He *rap*s in the band.

2 informal : to talk in a free and informal way • I enjoyed *rap*ping with him about sports.

— compare ²RAP

ra-pa-cious /rəˈpeɪʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : always wanting more money, possessions, etc. : wanting more than is needed or deserved • a rapacious thief • a rapacious [=greedy] businessman

— ra-pa-cious-ly adv — ra-pa-cious-ness noun [noncount] — ra-pac-i-ty /rəˈpæsəti/ noun [noncount]

¹rape /ˈreɪp/ verb rapes; raped; rap-ing [+ obj] : to force (someone) to have sex with you by using violence or the threat of violence • He is accused of raping the girl. • She was raped by a fellow student.

²rape noun, pl rapes

1 : the crime of forcing someone to have sex with you by using violence or the threat of violence [noncount] He has been charged with (committing) rape. [count] There has been a decrease in the number of reported rapes. • a rape trial [=the trial of someone who has been accused of rape] • rape victims — see also DATE RAPE, GANG RAPE, STATUTORY RAPE

2 [noncount] literary : the act of ruining or destroying something — usually + of • the rape of the land • the rape of privacy

— compare ³RAPE

³rape noun [noncount] : a plant that is grown as food for farm animals and as a source of oil • rape oil — called also (chiefly Brit) oilseed rape, rapeseed — compare ²RAPE rape-seed /ˈreɪp,sɪːd/ noun, pl -seeds

1 [noncount] : ³RAPE

2 [count] : the seed of the rape plant

rap-id /ˈræpəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : happening in a short amount of time : happening quickly • a rapid [=quick] change in temperature • There's been rapid growth in the number of new businesses in the town. • Scientists are concerned about the rapid disappearance of the island's coral reefs.

2 : having a fast rate • a rapid heartbeat • rapid breathing

3 : moving quickly • She carefully guided the boat through the rapid water.

— ra-pid-i-ty /rəˈpɪdəti/ noun [noncount] • Doctors were amazed by the rapidity [=speed] of his recovery. — rap-id-ly adv • the rapidly [=quickly] changing temperature • He was breathing rapidly. • Her heart beat rapidly.

rapid eye movement sleep noun [noncount] : REM SLEEP

rap-id-fire /ˈræpədˈfaɪə/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : coming quickly one after another • The comedian's rapid-fire jokes kept the audience laughing. • rapid-fire changes

2 of a weapon : able to quickly shoot bullets one after another • a rapid-fire rifle rap-ids /ˈræpədz/ noun [plural] : a part of a river where the water flows very fast usually over rocks

shoot the rapids see ¹SHOOT

rapid transit noun [noncount] chiefly US : the system that is used in cities for quickly bringing people to and from places on trains, buses, etc. • We'll use rapid transit to get from the airport to the hotel.

¹ra-pi-er /'reɪpiə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a straight sword that has a narrow blade with sharp edges

²rapier adj, always used before a noun : extremely sharp • his rapier wit

rap-ist /'reɪpɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who rapes someone : a person who commits rape • a convicted rapist rap-pel /rə'pel/ verb -pels; -pelled; -pel-ling [no obj] US : to move down a steep cliff, rock, etc., by pushing your feet against its surface and sliding down a rope • They rappelled [= (chiefly Brit) abseiled] down the rock's face.

rap-per /'ræpə/ noun, pl -pers [count] : a person who performs rap music or speaks the words of a rap song rap-port /ræ'pɔə/ noun, formal : a friendly relationship [singular] He quickly developed a good rapport with the other teachers. [noncount] She works hard to build rapport with her patients. • There is a lack of rapport between the members of the group.

rap-por-teur /,ræ,pɔə'tɜ:/ noun, pl -teurs [count] : a person whose job is to do research and present official reports on a particular subject • He was selected to be the UN's rap-porteur on nuclear energy.

rap-proche-ment /,ræ,prouʃ'mɑ:nt, Brit ræ'prɒʃmən/ noun, formal : the development of friendlier relations between countries or groups of people who have been enemies [singular] Officials hope that these talks will lead to a rap-prochement with the rebels. [noncount] The possibility of rapprochement between the two countries seems unlikely.

rap session noun, pl ~ -sions [count] US, informal : a meeting at which a group of people talk informally about a particular subject • a rap session for teenagers about/on drunk driving rap sheet noun, pl ~ sheets [count] US, informal : a list kept by the police of all the times a person has been arrested • He has a long rap sheet. [=he has been arrested many times] — called also (Brit) charge sheet rapt /'ræpt/ adj, literary + formal : showing complete interest in something • The students listened with rapt attention. • rapt audiences • The children sat rapt as the puppets danced. — rapt-ly adv • The students listened raptly.

rap-tor /'ræptə/ noun, pl -tors [count] technical

1 : a bird (such as an eagle or hawk) that kills and eats other animals for food : BIRD OF PREY

2 : a small or medium-sized dinosaur that ate other animals

rap-ture /'ræptʃə/ noun, pl -tures literary + formal : a state or feeling of great happiness, pleasure, or love [noncount] We listened with rapture as the orchestra played. • a smile of rapture • He listened to the wind in the trees, his eyes closed in rapture. [count] — usually plural • This dessert will send people who like chocolate into raptures. [=this dessert will be loved by people who like chocolate] • Critics went into raptures over her performance.

rap-tur-ous /'ræptʃərəs/ adj : showing extreme pleasure, love, or enthusiasm for someone or something • The novel has received rapturous [=ecstatic] reviews. • rapturous applause • a rapturous description of the landscape — rap-tur-ous-ly adv

¹rare /'reə/ adj rar-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : not common or usual : not often done, seen, or happening • She has the rare [=uncommon] ability to make people feel comfortable even in difficult situations. • These colors are rare [=infrequent] among birds of North America. • a rare disease • It is still rare [=unusual] for a woman to hold an executive position in some industries. • He had the rare opportunity of meeting the President. • Only in rare instances is surgery necessary to treat the condition. • He eats meat only on rare occasions.

2 : having only a few of its kind in existence • a collection of rare books • a list of rare and endangered species • a rare [=scarce] gem

3 technical, of air : not having much oxygen : RAREFIED • It's difficult to breathe in the rare air at these heights.

— compare ²RARE

— rare-ness noun [noncount] • The gem's rareness [=rarity, scarcity] makes it very expensive.

²rare adj, of meat : cooked for only a short time so that the inside is still red • rare roast beef • I like my steak rare. — compare MEDIUM, WELL-DONE — compare ¹RARE

— rare adv • "How would you like your steak cooked/done?" "Rare, please."

rare bird noun, pl ~ birds [count] : an unusual or uncommon person or thing • The little diner is a rare bird in a city full of expensive restaurants.

rare-bit /'reəbət/ noun, pl -bits [count, noncount] : WELSH RAREBIT

rar-e-fied /'rerə,faid/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 often disapproving : understood by only a small group of people : only for people who know about a particular thing • She has never been comfortable in the rarefied [=esoteric] world of art dealers.

2 technical, of air : not having much oxygen because of being high up in the atmosphere • It's difficult to breathe in the rarefied air near the mountain's peak.

rare-ly /'reəli/ adv [more ~; most ~] : not very often • She rarely talks about her past. • These machines only need to be fixed very rarely. = These machines rarely need to be fixed. • The temperature rarely [=seldom] drops below freezing here. • Rarely do we see this kind of weather in our area. • Only rarely is surgery necessary to treat this condition.

rarely ever see EVER

rarely if ever see EVER

rar-ing /'rerən/ adj, informal : ready and excited to start to do something : very eager • The kids are raring to get to work on the tree house. • She's been raring to go since dawn.

rar-i-ty /'rerəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [count] : a person or thing that is not common or usual : a person or thing that is not seen or does not happen often • In most sports, athletes over the age of 50 are rarities. • Snow is a rarity in this part of the world.

2 [count] : something that is valuable because there are few of its kind • He is selling most of his collection, keeping only the real rarities.

3 [noncount] : the quality of being rare • The rarity of the disease makes it difficult to diagnose.

ras-cal /'ræskəl, Brit 'rɑ:skəl/ noun, pl -cals [count]

1 informal + humorous : a person and especially a young person who causes trouble or does things that annoy people • Which one of you rascals woke me up?

2 old-fashioned : a cruel or dishonest man • a lying rascal — ras-cal-ly adj, old-fashioned • rascally kids • a rascally man

¹rash /'ræʃ/ noun, pl rash-es

1 : a group of red spots on the skin that is caused by an illness or a reaction to something [count] The baby has a skin rash. • The doctor said she developed the rash because of the medicine. • an itchy rash • I break out in a rash if I eat shellfish. [noncount] Symptoms of the disease include rash and fever. — see also DIAPER RASH, HEAT RASH

2 [singular] : a series of usually unpleasant things or events that happen in a short period of time • There has been a rash of robberies in the city this summer. • a rash of fires

²rash adj

1 : done or made quickly and without thought about what will happen as a result • He later regretted having made such a rash [=hasty] promise. • Their rash actions resulted in a serious accident that could have killed someone. • a rash statement • Please don't do anything rash. [=foolish]

2 not used before a noun : doing something quickly and without thinking carefully about what will happen as a result • Don't be rash about this decision. Take your time. • It was rash of you to make that promise.

— rash-ly adv • He had promised rashly to take care of the farm for her. — rash-ness noun [noncount] rash-er /'ræʃə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly Brit : a thin piece of bacon or ham • We were served eggs, a few rashers (of bacon), and coffee.

¹rasp /'ræsp, Brit 'rɑ:sp/ verb rasps; rasped; rasp-ing

1 [+obj] : to speak in a way that sounds rough or harsh • "Let go of my arm," she rasped.

2 [no obj] : to make a rough, harsh sound • The metal boxes rasped as they were dragged across the floor.

3 [+obj] : to rub (something) with a rough object or substance • I used a rock to rasp (away) the rough parts of the stick.

— rasping adj • a rasping [=rough, harsh] voice

²rasp noun, pl rasps

1 [count] : a metal tool that has sharp points and that is used to make rough surfaces smooth

2 [singular] : a rough, harsh sound — often + of • He heard the rasp of metal boxes being dragged across the floor.

rasp-ber-ry /'ræz,beri, Brit 'rɑ:zbri/ noun, pl -ries [count]

1 : a soft, red berry that is sweet and juicy • ice cream with raspberries • raspberry jam — see color picture on page C5

2 informal : a rude sound made by pushing your tongue outside your lips and blowing air out of your mouth • One of the children made/blew a raspberry at him. — called also (US) Bronx cheer

raspy /'ræspi, Brit 'rɑ:spi/ adj rasp·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]: having a rough, harsh sound • Her voice was raspy from yelling so much.

Ras·ta /'rɑ:stə, Brit 'ræstə/ noun, pl -tas [count] informal : RASTAFARIAN

Ras·ta·far·i·an /,rɑ:stə'farijən, Brit ,ræstə'feriən/ noun, pl -ans [count]: a member of a religious movement among black Jamaicans which teaches that black people will eventually return to Africa and which worships Haile Selassie, the former Emperor of Ethiopia ♦ Rastafarians usually wear dreadlocks and do not eat meat.

— Ras·ta·far·i·an·ism /,rɑ:stə'farijə,nizəm, Brit ,ræstə'feriə,nizəm/ noun [noncount]

¹rat /'ræt/ noun, pl rats [count]

1: a small animal that has a pointed nose and a long, thin tail • a dirty old building infested by rats and mice • a lab/lab-oratory rat [=a rat that is used by scientists for experiments] • He came in from the rain looking like a drowned rat. [=looking very wet and miserable] — see picture at RODENT

2 informal a: a person who is not loyal or who cannot be trusted • I can't believe that rat turned us in to the police! b: a person who is bad or cruel • No one understands why she's with a rat like him.

3 US, informal: a person who spends a lot of time in a specified place • a mall rat • Every night he goes to work out with the other gym rats.

smell a rat informal: to think or suspect that something is wrong about a situation • She smelled a rat when her husband came home with lipstick on his collar.

— see also PACK RAT, RUGRAT

²rat verb rats; rat·ted; rat·ting informal: to tell someone in authority (such as the police) about something wrong that someone has done: to betray someone [no obj] The teacher knows what we did, which means that somebody ratted. — often + on • I am trying to find out who ratted on me. [+ obj] (US) — + out • Someone ratted him out to the police. • They accused him of ratting out his own brother.

rat·arsed /'ræt,ɑ:st/ adj, not used before a noun, Brit slang: very drunk

rat·a·tat /'rætə,tæt/ or rat·a·tat·tat /,rætə,tæt'tæt/ noun [singular]: a quick series of knocking, tapping, or cracking sounds • the rat-a-tat of gunfire ra·ta·tou·ille /,ræ,tæ'twi:/ noun [noncount]: a thick stew that is made of vegetables (such as eggplant, tomatoes, and squash) and sometimes meat

¹ratch·et /'rætʃət/ noun, pl -ets [count]: a device made up of a wheel or bar with many teeth along its edge in between which a piece fits so that the wheel or bar can move only in one direction

²ratchet verb -ets; -et·ed; -et·ing [+ obj]: to increase or decrease (something) especially by a series of small steps or amounts — usually + up or down • Banks are ratcheting up interest rates. • A little salt will ratchet up the flavor. • The company ratcheted down costs by using cheaper materials.

¹rate /'reit/ noun, pl rates [count]

1: the speed at which something happens over a particular period of time • The cold weather meant a slower growing rate for many crops. • At the rate we're moving, it will be morning before we arrive. • People work at different rates. • Gun violence is increasing at an alarming rate. • Snow was falling at a rate of three inches per hour. • There has been a fall in the rate of inflation.

2: the number of times something happens or is done during a particular period of time • There is a high success rate for this surgery. [=this surgery is often/usually successful] • Economists are concerned about the city's rising unemployment rate. [=the increasing number of people who are unemployed] • Crime rates have declined in recent years. • The nurse will check your heart/pulse rate. [=the number of times your heart beats in a minute] — see also BIRTHRATE, DEATH RATE

3: an amount that is paid: a price or amount to be paid that is set according to a scale or standard • The hotel's rates start at $65/night. [=the least expensive rooms at the hotel cost $65 for one night's stay and other rooms cost more than $65] • What's the interest rate on the loan? • tax rates • Regular admission to the theater is $12, the student rate is $8, and the rate for senior citizens is $6. — see also EXCHANGE RATE, PRIME RATE at any rate — used to indicate that something is true or certain regardless of what else has happened or been said • This restaurant has the best food—or at any rate, the best pasta dishes—in the city. • At any rate [=in any case], cooking with fresh ingredients makes everything taste better. • It is possible that she was nervous. At any rate, her singing was still good.

at a rate of knots Brit, informal: very fast or quickly • We were bowling along the motorway at a rate of knots.

at this/that rate: if things continue to happen in the same way they have been happening • At this rate, the town's farmland will be gone within 20 years.

going rate: the average or usual price that is charged for something • What's the going rate for a new computer? •

You can hire a babysitter for a going rate of $10/hour.

²rate verb rates; rat·ed; rat·ing

1 a [+ obj]: to make a judgment about the quality, ability, or value of (someone or something) • On a scale of 1 to 5, I'd rate the book at/a 4. • Judges rated each song according to a number of criteria. — often used as (be) rated • The school is rated above average. • the highest rated [=ranking] radio show — see also OVERRATE, UNDERRATE b [no obj]: to be judged as having a particular level of quality, ability, or value • The car rates as one of the best on the market. [=the car is one of the best on the market] • The movie rates among the worst ever. • The shoes rate high as far as comfort goes, but they're not very stylish.

2 [+ obj]: to consider something or someone to be (something) • The boat is just large enough to be rated a ship. • Based on recent polls, the policy should be rated a failure.

3 [+ obj]: to officially state that a movie, video game, etc., is appropriate for a specific audience — usually used as (be) rated • The movie is rated G for general audiences.

4 [+ obj]: to state the normal power or limit of (a machine, engine, etc.) — usually used as (be) rated • The submarine is rated to withstand tons of pressure. — usually + at • The engine is rated at 500 horsepower. • an outlet rated at 15 amps

5 [+ obj]: to deserve (something) because of being important, good, etc. • The new museum rates a visit. [=the new museum is worth visiting] • I don't understand why the ceremony didn't even rate [=merit] a mention in the newspaper. [=I don't understand why the ceremony wasn't mentioned in the newspaper]

6 [no obj] US, informal: to be liked by someone and get special treatment or privileges — usually + with • He really rates with the boss. [=the boss really likes him]

7 [+ obj] Brit, informal: to think of (someone or something) as being good or of a high quality: LIKE • I don't rate their chances (of winning). • They didn't rate him as a player.

rate of exchange noun, pl rates of exchange [count]: EXCHANGE RATE

rath·er /'ræðə, Brit 'rɑ:ðə/ adv

1: to some degree or extent • Yesterday was a rather [=fairly] hot day. • That sounded rather [=quite a bit] like thunder. • a rather [=quite] common flower • It's getting rather [=pretty] late. We'd better get to bed. • The movie is a comedy, but rather a dull one. • a rather [=somewhat] serious condition • I think the children watch rather too much television. • It rath-er annoyed me that he was late picking me up. — often used to make a statement less forceful • He has been spending rather a lot of money lately. • She rather likes chocolate. • To tell you the truth, I rather think you are wrong. • You're driving rather fast, don't you think?

2 a — used to introduce a statement that indicates what is true after you have said what is not true • I don't like chocolate—rather, I love chocolate. • What matters is not how often you call, but rather what you say. • It wasn't red but rather a shade of bright orange. b — used to introduce a statement that corrects what you have just said • We can take the car, or rather, the van. • My father, or rather, my stepfather, will be visiting soon.

3 Brit, old-fashioned — used to express agreement • “Wasn't the show fantastic?” “Rather!”

rather than 1: in place of (something or someone): instead of (something or someone) • He writes at a table rath-er than a desk. • Why do one thing rather than another? • Rather than using dried herbs, he picked fresh ones from the garden. : and not • She reacted by laughing rather than by getting upset. • He was happy rather than sad. 2 — used to say what is not chosen or done because something else is chosen or done instead • Rather than continue the argument, she walked away. • I chose to sing rather than play an instrument.

would rather — used to indicate what you want or prefer to do, have, etc. • She would rather drive than take the train. • I would rather you didn't tell them. [=I would prefer it if you didn't tell them] • We'd rather go somewhere warm. [=we'd prefer to go somewhere warm] • "If you'd rather, we can go outside." "No, thanks—I'd rather not." • Which beach would you rather [=would you like to] go to?

rat·i·fy /ˈrætəˌfaɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy·ing [+ obj] : to make (a treaty, agreement, etc.) official by signing it or voting for it • A number of countries have refused to ratify the treaty.

— rat·i·fi·ca·tion /ˈrætəfəˈkeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • ratification of the treaty

rating noun, pl -ings

1 [count] : a measurement of how good, difficult, efficient, etc., something or someone is • The President's approval rating is lower than it was a month ago. [=fewer people approve of the President this month] • The school has an above-average academic rating. • The article compares the fuel-economy ratings of various cars. — see also CREDIT RATING

2 the ratings : numbers that show how many people watch or listen to a particular television or radio program • "How is the show doing in the ratings?" "It's down in the ratings [=few people are watching it]. I think it'll be canceled."

3 [count] : a symbol that is officially given to a movie, video game, etc., to tell people what audience it is appropriate for • Both movies received G ratings. [=both movies are rated G; both movies are appropriate for people of all ages]

4 [count] : a statement about the normal power or limit of a machine, engine, etc. • a 15 amp rating • The car has a horsepower rating of 500.

5 [count] Brit : someone in the navy who is not an officer ra·tio /ˈreɪʃi,ou/ noun, pl -tios [count] : the relationship that exists between the size, number, or amount of two things and that is often represented by two numbers • The college has a 12:1 ratio between students and teachers. = The college's student-to-teacher ratio is 12 to 1. [=for every 12 students, there is one teacher] • What is the length-to-width ratio? — often + of • The ratio of students to teachers is 12 to 1. • Women outnumbered men by a ratio of three to two. [=for every three women, there were two men] • The office has a high ratio of males to females. [=there are many more males that work at the office than females] — see also ASPECT RATIO

¹ra·tion /ˈræʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 a [count] : a particular amount of food that is given to one person or animal for one day • The soldiers were given their rations for the day. • The horse was fed its ration of oats. • The prisoners were kept on short rations. [=were given very little to eat each day] b rations [plural] : food or supplies • The campers were getting low on rations. [=had used most of their food]

2 [count] : a particular amount of something (such as gasoline or food) that the government allows you to have when there is not enough of it • a gas ration • weekly sugar and butter rations

²ration verb -tions; -tioned; -tion·ing [+ obj] : to control the amount of (something, such as gasoline or food) that people are allowed to have especially when there is not enough of it • During the war, the government rationed gasoline. — often used as (be) rationed • Gasoline was rationed during the war.

— rationing noun [noncount] • The drought has forced the government to institute water rationing.

ra·tio·nal /ˈræʃənəl/ adj

1 : based on facts or reason and not on emotions or feelings • a rational decision/choice • I'm sure there is a rational [=sensible, reasonable] explanation for his decision.

2 : having the ability to reason or think about things clearly • No rational [=sane] person would behave like that. • Humans are rational beings. [=are able to use reason when thinking about something] — opposite IRRATIONAL

— ra·tio·nal·i·ty /ˈræʃəˈnæləti/ noun [noncount] formal • The rationality of that statement is questionable. — ra·tio·nal·ly adv • Think about the problem rationally. • She stayed calm and acted rationally. [=sensibly] ra·tio·nale /ˈræʃəˈnæl/ noun, pl -nales [count] somewhat formal : the reason or explanation for something — usually singular • That was a strange decision. What was their rationale? — often + for, behind, or of • What was her rationale for leaving school? • He explained the rationale behind his early retirement. • I don't understand the rationale of his decision.

ra·tio·nal·ism /ˈræʃənəlɪzəm/ noun [noncount] philosophy : the belief that reason and experience and not emotions or religious beliefs should be the basis for your actions, opinions, etc.

— ra·tio·nal·ist /ˈræʃənəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] — rationalist or ra·tio·nal·is·tic /ˈræʃənəlɪstɪk/ adj, always used before a noun • a rationalist philosophy/thinker ra·tio·nal·ize also Brit ra·tio·nal·ise /ˈræʃənəlaɪz/ verb -iz·es; -ized; -iz·ing

1 : to think about or describe something (such as bad behavior) in a way that explains it and makes it seem proper, more attractive, etc. [+ obj] She tried to rationalize her grandson's strange behavior by blaming it on the boy's father. • He couldn't rationalize buying such an expensive car. [no obj] She knows she shouldn't have done it—she's just trying to rationalize.

2 [+ obj] chiefly Brit : to find ways to make (something, such as an industry, a company, etc.) waste less time, effort, and money • Management is thinking of ways to rationalize our system of production.

— ra·tio·nal·i·za·tion also Brit ra·tio·nal·i·sa·tion /ˈræʃənələˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˈræʃənəlˌaɪˈzeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • Listening to his rationalizations [=excuses] makes me angry.

rat race noun

the rat race : the unpleasant life of people who have jobs that require them to work very hard in order to compete with others for money, power, status, etc. • She is quitting the rat race to spend time with her family. • He wants to get out of the rat race.

rat run noun, pl ~ runs [count] Brit, informal : a small street that connects larger roads and that drivers use to get more quickly to the place they are going rats /ˈræts/ interj, informal — used to express disappointment or annoyance • Rats! I lost again. • Rats! I left my pocketbook in the car.

rat·tan /ˈrætən/ noun [noncount] : a plant with very long, strong stems that are woven together to make baskets, furniture, etc. • baskets made of rattan — often used before another noun • a rattan [=wicker] chair

¹rat·tle /ˈræt/ verb rat·tles; rat·tled; rat·tling

1 a [no obj] : to hit against something repeatedly and make a quick series of short, loud sounds • The window rattled as the truck drove by. • The coins rattled in the box. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to move or shake and make a series of noises : to cause (something) to rattle • She rattled the jar with the coins in it. = She rattled the coins in the jar.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to make quick, short, loud sounds while moving • The old truck rattled down the street. • The train rattled by.

3 [+ obj] : to upset or disturb (someone) • The question rattled [=unnerved] the speaker. — often used as (be) rattled • I was rattled by his questions. • He's an experienced performer who is not easily rattled.

rattle around [phrasal verb] rattle around or rattle around (something) informal : to live or spend time in a place that is very big • Her husband died last year, and now she's just rattling around in that huge house by herself. • rattle around the house • We rattled around Europe last summer. — sometimes used figuratively • An old song has been rattling around in my head all day.

rattle off [phrasal verb] rattle (something) off or rattle off (something) informal : to say (something) quickly or easily from memory • The teacher rattled off the answers. • She rattled off the names of all 50 states.

rattle on [phrasal verb] informal : to talk for a long time about things that are not interesting or important — often + about • Grandpa would rattle on [=go on] about his childhood for hours. • She rattled on and on about the party. [=she talked for a long time about the party]

rattle someone's cage see CAGE

rattle through [phrasal verb] rattle through (something) Brit : to do (something) quickly • We rattled through the meeting.

— see also SABER-RATTLING

²rattle noun, pl rattles [count]

1 : a series of short, loud sounds — usually singular • We heard a rattle from inside the box. • the rattle of machine guns

2 : a baby's toy that makes a series of short sounds when it is shaken

3 : the group of hard, loose pieces (called scales) that cover the end of a rattlesnake's tail

- rat·tler /ˈrætəl/ noun, pl rat·tlers [count] informal : RAT-TLESNAKE
- rat·tle·snake /ˈrætɪlsneɪk/ noun, pl -snakes [count] : a poisonous American snake with a group of hard, loose pieces (called scales) at the end of its tail that it shakes to make a noise
- rat·tle·trap /ˈrætɪltræp/ noun, pl -traps [count] US, informal : something (such as a car) that is old, noisy, and not in good condition • Are you still driving that old rattletrap? — often used before another noun • a rattletrap car/bus
- rattling /ˈrætɪŋ/ adv, Brit, informal + old-fashioned : very or extremely • a rattling good story
- rat·ty /ˈræti/ adj rat·ti·er; -est informal
- 1 US : in very bad condition • a ratty [=shabby] old sweater • ratty [=unkempt] hair • Those shoes are getting pretty ratty.
- 2 Brit : easily angered or annoyed • She gets ratty [=chiefly US] cranky if she doesn't get enough sleep.
- rau·cous /ˈrɑːkəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]
- 1 : loud and unpleasant to listen to • raucous shouts/laughter
- 2 : behaving in a very rough and noisy way • a raucous crowd
- rau·cous·ly adv — rau·cous·ness noun [noncount]
- raunch /ˈrɑːntʃ/ noun [noncount] informal + sometimes disapproving : something that deals with or relates to sex in usually a shocking or offensive way • a movie full of raunch
- raun·chy /ˈrɑːntʃi/ adj raun·chi·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal
- 1 : dealing with or suggesting sex in a way that is somewhat shocking • a raunchy [=dirty] magazine/movie/joke
- 2 US, disapproving : very dirty, smelly, etc. • raunchy old sneakers • a raunchy smell
- raun·chi·ness /ˈrɑːntʃɪnəs/ noun [noncount]
- rav·age /ˈrævɪdʒ/ verb rav·ag·es; rav·aged; rav·ag·ing [+ obj] formal : to damage or harm (something) very badly • The enemy ravaged [=plundered] the village. — often used as (be) ravaged • The village was ravaged [=devastated] by the plague. • The forest was ravaged by fire. • the ravaged people/city/land
- rav·ages /ˈrævɪdʒəz/ noun [plural] literary : destruction or damage — usually + of • the ravages of war/disease — sometimes used figuratively • Her face showed the ravages of time. [=her face looked old, wrinkled, etc.]
- ¹rave /ˈreɪv/ verb raves; raved; rav·ing
- 1 : to talk or write about someone or something in an excited or enthusiastic way [no obj] — usually + about or over • Critics raved about the new play. • Customers rave over the restaurant's pizza. [+ obj] "It's his best performance yet," raved one movie critic.
- 2 [no obj] : to talk loudly in an angry or wild way • The guy on the corner was raving like a madman. • The coach ranted and raved at the referee.
- ²rave noun, pl raves [count]
- 1 : a statement of enthusiastic praise or approval • Her review of the movie was a rave. — often plural in U.S. English • The movie got raves from the critics. [=the critics praised the movie very enthusiastically] — often used in the phrase rave review • The movie got rave reviews from the critics. [=was highly praised by the critics] • My kids give my cooking rave reviews.
- 2 : a large party that lasts all night in which people dance to electronic dance music
- rav·el /ˈrævəl/ verb -els; US -eled or chiefly Brit -elled; US -el·ing or chiefly Brit -el·ing [no obj] formal + literary : to become divided into separate threads : UNRAVEL • The fabric will ravel.
- raveled (US) or chiefly Brit ravelled adj • a ravelled edge • a raveled sleeve
- ¹ra·ven /ˈreɪvən/ noun, pl -vens [count] : a bird that has shiny black feathers and looks like a crow but is larger
- ²raven adj, always used before a noun, literary : shiny and black • raven hair
- rav·en·ing /ˈrævənɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun, literary : hungry and eager to kill • ravening wolves — often used figuratively • the ravening paparazzi
- rav·en·ous /ˈrævənəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very hungry • By the time dinner was ready, we were ravenous. • a ravenous wolf • After hiking all day, I had a ravenous appetite. [=I was extremely hungry] — sometimes used figuratively • She was ravenous for public attention.
- rav·en·ous·ly adv • I felt ravenously hungry. • The birds were feeding ravenously after their long flight.
- rav·er /ˈreɪvə/ noun, pl -ers [count]
- 1 : someone who goes to a rave
- 2 Brit : someone who goes to many parties
- ra·vine /ˈræviːn/ noun, pl -vines [count] : a small, deep, narrow valley
- ¹raving adj, always used before a noun, informal
- 1 : talking or acting in a crazy way • a raving lunatic
- 2 : very great — used to make a description more forceful • She's cute, but she's no raving beauty. • a raving success
- ²raving adv, informal : completely or fully • That guy is (stark) raving mad. [=that guy is completely insane]
- rav·ings /ˈrervɪŋz/ noun [plural] : statements that have no meaning or that sound crazy • Don't listen to her ravings. • the ravings of a madman
- rav·i·o·li /ˈræviˈoʊli/ noun, pl ravioli also rav·i·o·lis [count, noncount] : pasta that is shaped like a square and is filled with meat, cheese, or vegetables • a plate of ravioli • These ravioli are delicious. — see picture at PASTA
- rav·ish /ˈrævɪʃ/ verb -ish·es; -ished; -ish·ing [+ obj] literary
- 1 : to fill (someone) with pleasure, joy, or happiness — usually used as (be) ravished • She was ravished by the country's beauty. • He was ravished by her charm.
- 2 : to force (a woman) to have sex with you by using violence or the threat of violence : RAPE
- rav·ish·ing /ˈrævɪʃɪŋ/ adj : very beautiful • She looked ravishing. [=stunning] • She is a ravishing beauty. • a ravishing view of the ocean
- rav·ish·ing·ly adv • She is ravishingly beautiful.
- ¹raw /ˈrɑː/ adj raw·er; raw·est
- 1 : not cooked • raw meat/vegetables • You can eat carrots raw. = You can eat raw carrots.
- 2 a : in a natural state : not treated or prepared • raw silk/steel • raw sewage • Fold the raw [=unfinished] edge of the fabric under. — see also RAW MATERIAL b : not yet organized or changed in any way • He entered the raw data into a spreadsheet.
- 3 : very sore : damaged and painful from harsh conditions, rubbing, etc. • hands raw from windburn • The shoes rubbed my heels raw. • His throat was raw from the cold air. — sometimes used figuratively • The article touched/struck/hit a raw nerve. [=the article hurt or upset the people who read it]
- 4 : powerful and not controlled • I was impressed by the raw energy of his performance. • The town was destroyed by the raw power of the tornado. • raw emotion/anger
- 5 : having no experience or training • raw [=green] recruits/soldiers • The team has a lot of raw talent. [=the team has a lot of talented but inexperienced players]
- 6 : wet and cold • a raw winter day
- 7 US : rude or offensive • raw language
- raw·ness noun [noncount]
- ²raw noun
- in the raw 1 : in a natural or unfinished state • The sculpture is still in the raw. • a firsthand look at poverty in the raw 2 : not wearing clothes : NAKED • He sleeps in the raw. [=in the nude]
- raw bar noun, pl ~ bars [count] US : an area in a restaurant where uncooked shellfish is served
- raw·boned /ˈrɑːboʊnd/ adj [more ~; most ~] US : thin with bones that show under the skin • He was tall and raw-boned.
- raw deal noun, pl ~ deals [count] : an unfair way of treating someone — usually singular • We're getting a raw deal [=are being treated unfairly] with the new tax laws.
- raw·hide /ˈrɑːhaɪd/ noun [noncount] : the skin of a cow before it has been prepared or made into leather
- raw material noun, pl ~ -als [count, noncount] : the basic material that can be used to make or create something • Wheat and rye are the raw materials for a flour mill. • His experiences during the war were the raw material for the story.
- ¹ray /ˈreɪ/ noun, pl rays [count]
- 1 a : one of the lines of light that you can see coming from an object • A ray of sunlight shone on her face. • We were blinded by the sun's rays. • Rays of light reflected off the mirror. ♡ In informal English, if you catch some rays, catch a few rays, soak up a few rays, etc., you sit or lie in the sun. • I'm going to the beach to catch some rays. [=to sunbathe] b technical : a thin beam of energy (such as heat or light) that moves in the form of waves • harmful ultraviolet rays — see also CATHODE-RAY TUBE, DEATH RAY, GAMMA RAY, X-RAY
- 2 : a very small amount of something • I saw a tiny ray of recognition in his eyes. • We're finally starting to see a ray of hope [=a reason to start being hopeful]. • The announcement is/brings a ray of hope to all of us who have been fighting this disease.

ray of sunshine : someone or something that makes a person happier or a place more cheerful • Their baby girl was their own little ray of sunshine. • He was a ray of sunshine to his patients.

— compare ²RAY

²ray noun, pl rays [count] : a fish with a flat body and a long, narrow tail — see color picture on page C8; see also STING-RAY — compare ¹RAY

ray-on /'reɪ,ɑ:n/ noun [noncount] : a smooth fiber that is used in making clothing • The shirt is made of rayon. • a ray-on shirt raze /'reɪz/ verb raz-es; razed; raz-ing [+ obj] : to destroy (something, such as a building) completely : DEMOLISH — often used as (be) razed • The old factory was razed to make room for a parking lot.

razor /'reɪzə/ noun, pl -zors [count] : a tool or device with a sharp edge that is used to shave or cut hair from the face, body, or head • an electric razor • a disposable/safety razor — see picture at GROOMING razor's edge or razor edge — used in various phrases to refer to a dangerous position or a position in which two different things are carefully balanced • He's a thrill-seeker who likes living on the razor's edge. • The country's future is balanced on a razor's edge. • He walks a/the razor edge [=walks a/the fine line] between humor and bad taste in his comedy.

razor blade noun, pl ~ blades [count] : a small, thin, sharp piece of metal that is used in a razor — see picture at GROOMING razor-sharp adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very sharp • Sharks have razor-sharp teeth.

2 : showing a lot of intelligence or the ability to think quickly • She was razor-sharp in the debate. • He has a razor-sharp wit/mind.

razor-thin adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US : very small or thin • razor-thin models • He won by a razor-thin margin. • It was a razor-thin victory. [=a victory that was won by a very small margin or amount] razor wire noun [noncount] : strong wire that has many sharp metal pieces on it and is put around an area to keep people out or in raze /'ræz/ verb raze-es; razed; raze-ing [+ obj] US, informal : to make playful or unkind comments about (someone) : TEASE • We razed the other team's pitcher. • Quit razing me!

raz-zle-daz-zle /,ræzəl'dæzəl/ noun [noncount]

1 : noisy and exciting activity meant to attract attention • The kids enjoyed the razzle-dazzle of the circus.

2 American football : an action, movement, etc., that is done to confuse an opponent • The team used a little razzle-dazzle to score the winning touchdown.

— razzle-dazzle adj, always used before a noun • a razzle-dazzle dance routine • some razzle-dazzle piano work

razz-ma-tazz /,ræzmə'tæz/ also chiefly Brit razz-a-ma-tazz /,ræzəmə'tæz/ noun [noncount] : noisy and exciting activity meant to attract attention • show-business razzmatazz

RBI /,ɑ:bɪ'aɪ/ noun, pl RBIs or RBI [count] baseball : a run that is scored as a result of a specific batter's hit, walk, etc. ♦ RBI is an abbreviation of "run batted in." • A runner scored from third base on his long fly out, so he'll get (credited with) an RBI on that play. • He leads the league in RBIs.

RC abbr Roman Catholic

Rd or Rd. abbr road • 14 Wisteria Rd.

RD abbr, US rural delivery ♦ The U.S. Postal Service chooses official routes for the delivery of mail in rural areas, where houses are fairly far apart. • John Smith lives on RD 2. [=on the rural mail-delivery route numbered 2 in his town] • John Smith, RD 2, Box 237

-rd — used in writing after the number 3 for the word third • my 3rd [=third] try • I placed 43rd in the class.

RDA abbr, US recommended daily allowance; recommended dietary allowance • 50 percent of the U.S. RDA of iron

¹re /'reɪ/ noun [noncount] music : the second note of a musical scale • do, re, mi, fa, sol, la, ti

²re /'reɪ, 'ri:/ prep, formal : on the subject of : regarding or concerning — used in business and legal writing and e-mail before a word or phrase that states the subject you will be discussing • re your letter of last month • Re: Changes in procedure

RE abbr, Brit religious education • He teaches RE at the local school.

re- /ri/ prefix

1 : again • refill [=fill again] • redo [=do over; do again]

2 : back to an original place, condition, etc. • recall [=call something back]

¹reach /'ri:tʃ/ verb reach-es; reached; reach-ing

1 a : to be able to touch, pick up, or grab (something) by moving or stretching [+ obj] She couldn't reach the apple. She was too short. • He couldn't reach the apple, even with a stick. • Can you reach me that pencil? = Can you reach that pencil for me? [=can you pick up that pencil and give it to me?] [no obj] It's no good. I can't reach. [=I can't touch what I'm trying to touch] b : to move or stretch (your hand, arm, etc.) when you are trying to touch or grab something [+ obj] — + out, into, up, etc. • I reached my hand out (to her). = I reached out my hand (to her). • She reached her hand into her purse to get her wallet. [no obj] She can't reach that far. — usually + out, into, up, etc. • I reached up to pull the cord. • She reached into her purse. • He was reaching out to grab the railing when he fell.

2 [+ obj] : to arrive at (a place that you have been traveling to) • We reached California after driving for two days. • The rescue team reached the stranded hikers this morning. [=the rescue team arrived this morning at the place where the hikers were stranded] — often used figuratively • He reached [=got to] the play-offs but was eliminated in the first round.

3 — used to say that something is big or long enough to touch a certain place or point [+ obj] Their land reaches the river. • The phone cord doesn't reach the table. = The phone cord isn't long enough to reach the table. • When she is sitting, her feet don't reach the ground. [=her feet don't touch the ground because her legs are short] [no obj] Skirts must reach (down) below the knees. • Their land reaches to the river. • The phone cord doesn't reach.

4 [+ obj] a : to grow, develop, or increase to (a particular amount, size, etc.) • You are an adult when you reach [=become] 18. • The lottery is expected to reach $50 million. • The temperature could reach 100°F this afternoon. • These plants can reach (up to) 6 feet tall. • The winds could reach 60 mph. b : to come to (a particular situation or condition) • The situation has reached [=gotten to, arrived at] a critical point. • We've reached a crisis in the negotiations. c : to succeed in achieving (something) after making an effort over a period of time • The school has reached their goal of raising $10,000. • They are still trying to reach an agreement. • Have you reached a decision? • Has the jury reached a verdict?

5 not used in the progressive tenses [+ obj] a : to be seen or heard by (someone) • Your letter reached me yesterday. [=I received your letter yesterday] • The news just reached us. [=we just heard the news] • The news won't reach his parents until tomorrow. • She left a message for her boss, but it didn't reach him. b : to call or write to (someone) : to communicate with (someone) • I tried to reach [=contact] you by phone. • You can reach me by e-mail.

6 [+ obj] : to get the attention or interest of (someone) • The company is using TV commercials to reach a bigger audience. • Her music reaches young people.

7 [+ obj] informal : to make (someone) understand or accept something • I don't think I'm reaching my son.

reach for [phrasal verb] 1 reach for (someone or something) : to move your hand in order to get or touch (someone or something) • She reached for the salt and pepper. • He reached into his pocket for a dime. • She reached inside the bag for a pen. • The frog jumped as she reached for it. 2 reach for (something) : to try hard to achieve or succeed at (something) • Success won't come to you, you have to reach for it. — see also reach for the moon at ¹MOON, reach for the stars at ¹STAR reach out [phrasal verb] 1 : to make an effort to do something for other people • The church is reaching out to help the poor. 2 reach out to (someone) a : to offer help or support to (someone) • The students are reaching out to the homeless. • a community reaching out to refugees b : to try to get the attention and interest of (someone) • He's reaching out to young voters.

— reach-able /'ri:tʃəbəl/ adj • The island is only reachable by boat. • a reachable goal • She is always reachable by cell phone. • Some children are just not reachable. [=some children refuse to accept what their parents, teachers, etc., tell them]

²reach noun, pl reaches

1 : the distance that you can stretch your arm to touch, pick up, or grab something [singular] The toy was within/in her reach. [=she was able to touch/reach the toy] • Keep chemicals out of the reach of [=away from] children. • The ball was just out of her reach. [=she was not quite able to touch or grab the ball] • The ball was beyond her reach. [=the ball was too far away for her to grab] • The boxer has a long reach. [=can reach a long way; has long arms] [noncount] He kept a dictionary within reach. [=nearby] • The child tried to grab anything in reach. [=anything that was close enough to touch] • The ball was just out of reach.

2 : the ability or power of someone or something to do, achieve, or control something [singular] Victory was within their reach. [=they were close to victory] • Buying a new car is beyond our reach right now. [=we do not have enough money to buy a new car right now] • His illness was beyond the reach of medicine. [=medicine could not cure his illness] [noncount] Victory was within reach. • Their goal is out of reach.

3 reaches [plural] a : the parts of an area that are a long way from the center • The country's farthest reaches had not been explored. — often + of • the outer reaches of the universe • the further reaches of the valley • the northern reaches of the country — sometimes used figuratively • Scientists are still discovering the far reaches of the human mind. b : levels of an organization • the upper/higher/lower reaches of the business c : a straight part of a stream or river • the upper/lower reaches of the river within (easy) reach of : close to (something) • Our house is within easy reach of the highway.

re-act /ri'ækt/ verb -acts; -acted; -act-ing [no obj]

1 : to behave or change in a particular way when something happens, is said, etc. • When I told her what happened, she reacted with anger. • I didn't expect him to react that way. • The firefighters reacted quickly when they heard the alarm. — often + to • She reacted to the news by getting angry. • Most people reacted positively to the smoking ban. — see also OVERREACT

2 of a chemical substance : to change after coming into contact with another substance — often + with • The chemicals react with each other to form a gas. — often + together • Ozone is formed in the atmosphere when sunlight and hydrocarbons react together.

3 medical : to be affected by a drug, food, etc., in usually a bad way • He reacted badly to the drug.

react against [phrasal verb] react against (someone or something) : to do things that are opposed to (something or someone that you disagree with) • He belonged to a group of artists who reacted against convention by doing things in a completely new way.

re-ac-tant /ri'æktənt/ noun, pl -tants [count] chemistry : a substance that changes when it is combined with another substance in a chemical reactionre-ac-tion /ri'ækʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : the way someone acts or feels in response to something that happens, is said, etc. [count] Their reaction to the news was positive. • When I told him what happened, his immediate reaction was one of shock. • The announcement produced an angry/stunned reaction from most of the people at the meeting. • My first reaction when I met him was not to trust him. • There has been a mixed reaction [=people have reacted in different ways] to the new policy. [noncount] There hasn't yet been much reaction to the announcement. • The newspaper received many angry letters in reaction to [=in response to] the editorial.

2 : an action or attitude that shows disagreement with or disapproval of someone or something [count] — usually singular; often + against • The modernist movement in literature was a reaction against traditional literary conventions. [noncount] There has been strong reaction against the government's policies.

3 reactions [plural] : the ability to act and move quickly in order to avoid sudden danger • A good driver has quick reactions. • The speed of his reactions saved his life.

4 medical : an occurrence in which your body is affected by a drug, food, etc., in usually a bad way [count] I had/suffered a (bad) reaction to the medicine. • Something she ate caused/triggered an allergic reaction. [noncount] There is a risk of adverse reaction to the medicine.

5 a chemistry : a chemical change that occurs when two or more substances combine to form a new substance [count] The reaction of hydrogen with oxygen makes water. • chemical reactions [noncount] a substance produced by chemical reaction b [count, noncount] physics : a process in which the nucleus of an atom is changed by being split apart or joined with the nucleus of another atom — called also nuclear reaction; see also CHAIN REACTION

6 [count, noncount] physics : a physical force that opposes the action of an equal and opposite force • For every action, there is an equal and opposite reaction.

7 [noncount] formal : a strong tendency or desire to oppose new political or social ideas • They have had to fight against the forces of reaction.

re-ac-tion-ary /ri'ækʃəneri, Brit ri'ækʃənri/ noun, pl -aries [count] disapproving : a person who is strongly opposed to new political or social ideas — reactionary adj [more ~; most ~] • reactionary views/opinions/ideas • a reactionary politician

re-ac-ti-vate /ri'æktəveɪt/ verb -vates; -vat-ed; -vat-ing [+ obj] : to cause (something) to start working or happening again : to activate (something) again • reactivate the alarm • Once his debt was paid, his account was reactivated.re-ac-tive /ri'æktiv/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : done in response to a problem or situation : reacting to problems when they occur instead of doing something to prevent them • a reactive strategy • The government's response to the problem was reactive rather than proactive. — compare PROACTIVE

2 chemistry : tending to change into something else when mixed with another substance • a reactive chemical/substance

re-ac-tor /ri'æktər/ noun, pl -tors [count] physics : a large device that produces nuclear energy — called also *nuclear reactor*¹read /ri:d/ verb reads; read /'red/; read-ing /'ri:dn/

1 a : to look at and understand the meaning of letters, words, symbols, etc. [no obj] She learned to read at a very early age. [+ obj] Can you read decimals/music/Braille? • I can't read your handwriting. • He claimed that he could read my palm. [=look at the lines on the palm of my hand and tell me what was going to happen to me in the future] b : to read the words of (a book, magazine, etc.) [+ obj] He likes reading the newspaper. • She reads a lot of mystery novels. • We will be reading (works by) Milton in the class. • She starts work every day by reading her e-mail. • Didn't you read the instructions? [no obj] He likes to read. • She doesn't read much. • Please read from Chapter 5 through Chapter 10. c : to speak aloud the words of (something written) [+ obj] He read the poem aloud. • The teacher read a story to us. = The teacher read us a story. • He wrote down the address I gave him and read it back to me. [no obj] Her mother read to her every night at bedtime. — see also READ OUT (below)

2 : to learn information about something from a book, newspaper, etc. [no obj] — often + about • I read about the fire in the newspaper. — sometimes + of • I have read of such things happening elsewhere. [+ obj] — + that • I read somewhere that he's making a new movie. • I read that they got married.

3 [+ obj] a : to learn information about (someone) by looking at how that person behaves • I can't read her—I'm not sure if she likes me or not. • You're an easy person to read. b : to learn information about (something) by looking at particular characteristics • A good canoeist can read the rapids. • (golf) She missed the putt because she didn't read the green correctly. • (American football) The quarterback read the defense correctly.

4 [+ obj] : to understand (something) in a particular way • The way I read it, we're supposed to show up at 3 p.m. • The situation is hard to read. [=interpret] — often + as • I read his actions as a cry for help.

5 [+ obj] a : to show (words) for someone to read • The sign reads [=says] "No Trespassing." b : to show (a temperature, weight, number, etc.) • The thermometer reads 90 degrees. • The clock read 4:30.

6 [no obj] : to be written in a particular way • The definition reads awkwardly. [=the definition is awkwardly written] • This essay will read better if you reorganize it. • The speech reads well. [=the speech is written well] • The first chapters read like a lecture.

7 [+ obj] : to get information from (something) • Someone reads the water meter once a month. • A scanner reads the bar codes on packages. • The computer can't read that disk.

8 [+ obj] : to hear and understand (someone) over a radio • Can you read me now? • I read you loud and clear.

9 [+ obj] : to replace (a word or number) with another word or number — used to indicate how something written or said should be changed or corrected • In the second problem, read 5 instead of 3. [=the number should be 5, not 3]

10 Brit : to study (a subject) especially at a university [+ obj] He read history at Oxford. [no obj] — often + for • She is reading for a business degree.

read between the lines : to look for or find a hidden meaning that is not directly stated or obvious in something that someone writes or says • Her letter seemed pretty cheerful, but if you read between the lines, you can tell that she's not really happy.

read into [phrasal verb] read into (something) : to think of (something, such as a comment or situation) as having a meaning or importance that does not seem likely or reasonable • You're reading too much into her remarks. [=her remarks do not have the meaning or importance that you think they have] read lips : to understand what people are saying by watching the movement of their lips : LIP-READ • deaf people who know how to read lips • I couldn't hear what he was saying, but I was able to read his lips. ♦ People who tell you to read their lips mean that you should pay close attention to what they are saying. • "Can't I please go?" "Read my lips: you're not going, and that's final!"

read out [phrasal verb] read (something) out or read out (something) : to read (something) aloud especially to other people • I read out the names on the list.

read over [phrasal verb] read over (something) or read (something) over : to read (something) from beginning to end especially to look for mistakes or check details • He read over [=read through] the directions/contract carefully.

read (someone) like a book : to easily understand the true thoughts and feelings of (someone) by looking at how that person acts or behaves • My mom always knows when I'm lying. She can read me like a book.

read someone's thoughts or read someone's mind : to know or guess what someone is thinking • She looked deep into his eyes, trying to read his thoughts. • "I think we should go out to a movie tonight." "You read my mind. I was thinking the same thing."

read (someone) the riot act see ¹RIOT

read through [phrasal verb] read through (something) or read (something) through : to read (something) from beginning to end especially to look for mistakes or check details • Remember to read through [=read over] the essay before you hand it in. • He read the instructions through twice before he tried to assemble the bicycle.

read up on [phrasal verb] read up on (something) : to read a lot about (something) in order to learn about it • I read up on the history of the war.

take (something) as read Brit : to accept or assume that something is true and does not need to be proved • You can take it as read [=you can be sure] that there's nothing really new in their proposal.

²read /'ri:d/ noun, pl reads [count] informal

1 : something (such as a book) that is read — usually singular • The book is an easy read. [=the book is easy to read; reading the book is easy] • The book is a good/quick/enjoyable read.

2 : an act of reading something (such as a book, article, etc.) • He reviewed the book after several reads. — usually singular • Give this article a read [=read this article] and tell me what you think of it.

3 chiefly Brit : a period of time spent reading • She was lying in bed having a peaceful read.

³read /'red/ adj : having knowledge that has been gained from reading books, articles, etc. — used after an adverb • He is well-read. • He is better read than most people. • She is widely read in [=she has read a lot of] American literature.

read-able /'ri:dəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : easy and enjoyable to read • a highly readable book • The travel guide is very readable.

2 : clear and easy to read • She has such beautiful, readable [=legible] handwriting. — opposite UNREADABLE; see also MACHINE-READABLE — read-abil-i-ty /,ri:də'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] • I enjoy the clarity and readability of his writing style.

read-er /'ri:də/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who reads a book, magazine, newspaper, etc. • The book's ending leaves readers to draw their own conclusions. • She's a fast/slow/avid/voracious reader. • He's not much of a reader. [=he doesn't enjoy reading books, magazines, etc.] • a magazine with three million readers — often + of • a reader of science fiction • regular readers of the newspaper — see also MIND READER, NEWSREADER

2 : a machine that is used for reading text or information that is stored on film, tape, etc. • a microfilm reader • a card reader

3 : a book that is used to learn how to read or to practice reading in your own language or in a foreign language • a first-grade reader

4 or Reader Brit : a teacher at a university who ranks just below a professor read-er-ship /'ri:dəʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships [count]

1 : the number or group of people who read a particular newspaper or magazine — usually singular • The magazine's readership decreased when the editors changed the format. • an enthusiastic/devoted readership • The newspaper has a readership of around 5,000.

2 or Readership Brit : the position of a reader at a university • She holds/has a readership in chemistry.

read-i-ly /'redəli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 : quickly and easily • readily understandable/available • simple instructions that anyone can readily understand

2 : in a way that shows you are willing to do something : without hesitation or complaint • She readily [=willingly] admits that she is to blame. • He readily agreed to help us.

read-i-ness /'redɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

1 : the state of being ready or prepared for something • The soldier lay in readiness. — often + for • They're unsure of their daughter's readiness for kindergarten.

2 : the state of being willing to do something — usually followed by to + verb • He showed a readiness [=willingness] to help us.

read-ing /'ri:dɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 a [count] : the act of reading something • She gave the manuscript a careful reading. [=she read the manuscript carefully] • The family attended the reading of her will. • The speech ended with a reading from his latest novel. • After several readings, I finally understood the meaning of the poem. b [noncount] : the activity of reading a book, magazine, etc. • He needs help in reading. • They both love reading. • The teacher gave us a list of books for further reading on the subject. • The book makes for interesting/good reading. [=the book is interesting/good] • He has done a lot of reading on this subject. — often used before another noun • reading glasses • a reading light

2 a : a book, article, etc., that is being read or that is intended to be read [count] The reading for today is about human cloning. — often plural • The teacher assigned several readings to the class. • What are the readings for the next class? [noncount] Moby-Dick is required reading for any scholar of 19th-century American literature. • Shakespeare is not exactly light reading. [=the works of Shakespeare are not easy to read] — often used before another noun • Did you bring any reading material/matter for the trip? • Students were given a summer reading list. • What is your child's reading level? [=how difficult are the books, articles, etc., that your child reads?] b [count] : a part of the Bible that is read aloud as part of a religious service • The pastor selected a reading for tonight's service.

3 [count] : a particular opinion or understanding of something • We need to get a better reading on [=a better idea of] what they intend to do. — often + of • I disagree with his reading [=interpretation] of what happened. • Her reading of the text is that the main character is depressed. • The judge made his ruling according to a strict reading of the law.

4 [count] : an event at which something is read aloud to an audience • a poetry/book reading

5 [count] : the temperature, weight, number, etc., that is shown on a measuring instrument • The thermometer reading was 20 degrees. • Meter readings are taken once a month. • The scale gave an inaccurate reading.

6 [count] : an occurrence in which a proposed bill is discussed in a legislature before it becomes law

re-ad-just /,ri:jə'dʒʌst/ verb -*just*s; -just-ed; -just-ing

1 [no obj] : to change in order to work or do better in a new situation : to get used to a new situation or change • It takes time to readjust after a loved one dies. — often + to • The children need time to readjust to the new school.

2 [+ obj] : to change or move the position of (something) slightly • She was constantly readjusting her glasses. • He re-adjusted the picture on the wall.

— re-ad-just-ment /,ri:jə'dʒʌstmənt/ noun, pl -ments

[count] She was constantly making readjustments to her glasses. [noncount] After the divorce, he had a tough period of readjustment.

re-ad-mit /ˌriːjədˈmɪt/ verb -mits; -mit-ted; -mit-ting [+ obj]

1 : to allow (someone) to again join a club, group, etc., or enter a place • They refused to readmit her to/into the club. • Only people who have ticket stubs will be readmitted (to the theater).

2 : to take (someone) into a hospital as a patient again • He was readmitted soon after being discharged.

read-only adj, computers : capable of being viewed but not of being changed or deleted • a read-only file/document

read-only memory noun [noncount] computers : ROM

read-out /ˈriːdˌaʊt/ noun, pl -outs [count] computers : a small screen that shows information • The calculator has a digital readout.; also : the information shown on such a screen • He checked the readout on the screen.

1 ready /ˈredi/ adj read-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 not used before a noun : prepared to do something • I'll be ready in 10 minutes. • "Can we leave now?" "I'm ready when you are." • We didn't have much time to get ready [=to prepare] before they arrived. • (somewhat formal) We need more time to make ready. — often followed by to + verb • We are ready to make changes. • The kids are ready to go/leave. • Are you ready to learn/listen? • The boss is ready to speak to you now. • She got/made herself ready to go. • Doctors are ready and waiting to give help when it's needed. — often + for • She's busy getting the children ready for school. • Are you ready for your test? • We need time to get/make ready for the long trip. • The soldiers are ready for anything that the enemy might do.

2 not used before a noun : properly prepared or finished and available for use • Dinner is ready. • The college's new dormitory will be ready (by) next year. • Your prescription will be ready in about 20 minutes. • The car won't be ready until tomorrow. • We got everything ready for the party before the guests arrived.

3 not used before a noun : almost about to do something • He looked like he was ready to cry. [=like he was about to start crying] • I was ready to walk out of the room [=I felt like walking out of the room] when he said that.

4 not used before a noun a : willing and eager to do something • She's always ready with advice. = She's always ready to give advice. [=she likes to give advice] • He is always ready to help his friends. • He was angry and ready for a fight. b : needing or wanting something as soon as possible — usually + for • I'm tired and ready for bed. [=I want to go to bed] • The house looks like it's ready for a paint job. [=looks like it needs to be painted]

5 always used before a noun : quick and clever • a ready answer/wit

6 always used before a noun : available for immediate use • ready money/cash • (Brit) a ready meal • She has ready access to the files. [=she can get and use the files very quickly and easily]

(get) ready, (get) set, go also Brit ready, steady, go — used as a command to start a race

ready to roll see ¹ROLL

2 ready verb read-ies; read-ied; ready-ing [+ obj] formal : to prepare (someone or something) • They readied the room for guests. • She readied herself to speak. • We have to ready ourselves for a tough fight ahead.

3 ready noun, pl readies

at the ready : available for immediate use • The tourists kept their cameras at the ready.

the ready or the readies Brit, informal : money that can be used immediately • I'm a bit short of the ready just now.

ready-made /ˌrediˈmeɪd/ adj

1 : prepared in advance for immediate use • ready-made clothing/meals

2 always used before a noun : already created or provided • The snowstorm gave us a ready-made excuse not to go to the party. • a ready-made solution ready-to-wear adj : made in a standard size and not made for a particular person • a ready-to-wear suit

re-af-firm /ˌriːjəˈfɜːm/ verb -firms; -firmed; -firm-ing [+ obj] : to formally state (something) again in order to emphasize that it is true • The President reaffirmed his commitment to cutting taxes. • She reaffirmed her stance on the issue.

— re-af-fir-ma-tion /ˌriːəfəˈmeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

re-agent /riˈeɪdʒənt/ noun, pl -agents [count] chemistry : a substance that is used to test for the presence of another substance by causing a chemical reaction with it

1 re-al /ˈriːjəl/ adj

1 : actually existing or happening : not imaginary • The movie is based on real events. • The detective Sherlock Holmes is not a real person. • He has no real power; he is just a figurehead. • The battle scenes in the movie seemed very real to me. • The team has a real chance at winning. • There is a very real possibility that we will be moving to Maine. • In real life, relationships are not perfect. • The actor looks taller on TV than he does in real life. • I finally got to talk to a real live person [=an actual person] instead of a machine. • He's always daydreaming and seems to be out of touch with the real world. • Their son finally went out into the real world [=the world where people have to work, deal with daily problems, etc.] and got a job.

2 : not fake, false, or artificial • real [=genuine] leather • a real diamond • Your real friends [=the people who are truly your friends] would be here to help you. • What is his real name? • Tell me the real reason you need the money.

3 : important and deserving to be regarded or treated in a serious way • This is a very real problem/danger/concern. • They have avoided talking about the real issues. • There is no real reason to worry.

4 always used before a noun — used for emphasis • There's a real surprise at the end of the movie. • Receiving this award is a real thrill. • He's being a real jerk.

5 : strong and sincere • I have no real interest in sports. [=I'm not very interested in sports] • He made a real effort to improve his grades. • There was a look of real [=genuine] astonishment on her face. • She showed real delight/happiness when I told her the good news.

6 always used before a noun, finance : measured by what money can actually buy at a particular time • a real increase in wages as compared to inflation • Charitable donations declined in real dollars last year.

for real informal 1 : true and genuine • The information is for real. 2 US a : honest and serious • He convinced us that he was for real and really wanted to help. • Is that guy for real? b : genuinely good, skillful, etc. • The team has proven that it's for real this year. [=has proven that it's good and has a real chance of winning] 3 : seriously or truly • He's in trouble for real. [=he's really in trouble] • They were just pretending to argue before, but now they're doing it for real.

get real informal : to start to think in a serious or reasonable way : to stop having foolish ideas, hopes, etc. • We have to get real about this problem. • You think you can get into Harvard with those grades? Get real.

keep it real informal : to talk and behave in an honest and serious way that shows who you really are • He says he's just trying to keep it real.

the real deal see ³DEAL

the real McCoy see MCCOY

the real thing see THING

— re-al-ness noun [noncount] • The jeweler verified the realness [=genuineness] of the diamond. • The audience was impressed by the realness [=realism] of the movie.

2 real adv, chiefly US, informal : very or really • We had a real good time. • The water is real warm. • He is real fast. • We went to bed real late. • a real old car real estate noun [noncount] chiefly US

1 : property consisting of buildings and land • He sells real estate. — often used before another noun • a real estate broker/business/investment • real estate prices/values

2 : the business of selling land and buildings • She works in real estate.

real estate agent noun, pl ~ agents [count] chiefly US : a person in the business of selling land and buildings — called also (Brit) estate agent

re-align /ˌriːjəˈleɪn/ verb -aligns; -aligned; -align-ing [+ obj]

1 : to change the position or direction of (something) slightly usually in relation to something else • She realigned the mirror. • We had to realign the text to fit it on the page. • The car's wheels were realigned.

2 : to organize (something) in a different way • The company has realigned [=reorganized] several departments.

realign yourself : to begin to have different opinions, beliefs, practices, etc. : to become a member or supporter of a different group • She has realigned herself with the conservatives.

– re-align-ment /ˈriːjəˈlaɪnmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count] His car is due for a realignment. [noncount] the benefits of corporate realignment

re-al-ism /ˈriːjəˈlɪzəm/ noun [noncount]

1 : the quality of a person who understands what is real and possible in a particular situation and is able to deal with problems in an effective and practical way • He has a sense of realism about what can be done to improve the economy.

2 : the quality of being very much like real life : the quality of seeming to be real • The realism of her dream was alarming.

3 : a style of art or literature that shows or describes people and things as they are in real life • the stark realism of the play/painting

re-al-ist /ˈriːjəˈlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]

1 : a person who understands what is real and possible in a particular situation : a person who accepts and deals with things as they really are • I'd like to think that these problems can be solved easily, but I'm a realist. I know that a lot of hard work will be needed.

2 : an artist or writer who shows or describes people and things as they are in real life

– realist adj, always used before a noun • a realist [=realistic] approach to the problem • a realist painting

re-al-is-tic /ˈriːjəˈlɪstɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : able to see things as they really are and to deal with them in a practical way • He tried to be realistic about the situation. • We have to be realistic and accept the fact that these problems cannot be solved easily. — opposite UNREALISTIC

2 : based on what is real rather than on what is wanted or hoped for : sensible and appropriate • The plan is not very realistic. • a realistic approach/goal • It's not realistic to expect people to spend that much money on wedding gifts. — opposite UNREALISTIC

3 : showing people and things as they are in real life • a realistic painting/novel/description • The battle scene in the movie was very realistic. [=it seemed very much like a real battle] — opposite UNREALISTIC

– re-al-is-ti-cal-ly /ˈriːjəˈlɪstɪkli/ adv • We need to deal with these problems realistically. • We can't realistically expect the war to end soon. = Realistically, we can't expect the war to end soon. • The movie portrayed the battle very realistically.

¹re-al-i-ty /riˈæləti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the true situation that exists : the real situation • He refused to face/accept reality. [=the truth] • the difference between fiction/fantasy and reality • She's out of touch with reality. [=she does not know what is really true] • The reality is that we can't afford to buy a house. • He used television as an escape from reality.

2 [count] : something that actually exists or happens : a real event, occurrence, situation, etc. • The movie shows the harsh/grim/stark realities of war. [=the things that really happen in a war] • Her dream of competing in the Olympics became a reality. [=she competed in the Olympics, as she had dreamed of doing] • They made the plan a reality. — see also VIRTUAL REALITY in reality : in truth — used to stress that something is true or real especially when it is different from what was believed or expected • They talked as if they had accomplished a lot, but in reality they did very little. • In reality, she was 15 years younger than she looked.

²reality adj, always used before a noun — used to describe television shows in which people who are not actors are shown living with, dealing with, and often competing against each other in real-life situations • reality television/TV/shows

reality check noun, pl ~ checks [count] informal : something which shows you that the real situation is different from what you believed or hoped — usually singular • Her friends gave her a reality check about her boyfriend. [=told her the truth about her boyfriend] • He was starting to think he was infallible, so the criticism from his boss served as a reality check.

re-al-iz-able also Brit re-al-is-able /ˈriːjəˈlaɪzəbəl/ adj

1 : possible to achieve • a realizable goal/plan

2 finance : in a form that can be easily sold for money • realizable assets

re-al-i-za-tion also Brit re-al-i-sa-tion /ˈriːjəˈleɪzəʃən, Brit ˈriːjəˈleɪzəʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [singular] : the state of understanding or becoming aware of something • There is a growing realization that changes need to be made to the coaching staff. • She had a/the sudden realization [=she suddenly realized] that things had changed between them. • He came to the realization [=he realized] that he was adding up the wrong numbers.

2 [count] formal : the act of achieving something that was planned or hoped for — usually singular; usually + of • He was thrilled by the realization of his lifelong dream.

3 [noncount] finance : the act of selling property in order to get money • the realization of assets

re-al-ize also Brit re-al-ise /ˈriːjəˈlaɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj]

1 : to understand or become aware of (something) • They did not realize the risk/danger that was involved. • He finally realized the scope of the problem. • I realize (that) this is an unusual situation. • She realizes how much things have changed. • Do you realize how difficult that stunt is? • You just have to realize that you can't always get what you want. • She slowly realized what he was trying to say.

2 : to cause (something) to become real — usually used as (be) realized • Our worst fears have been realized. [=the things that we most feared have actually happened]

3 formal : to achieve (something, such as a goal, dream, etc.) • He realized a lifelong dream/goal by winning an Olympic medal. • He finally realized his ambition to start his own business. • She hasn't yet realized her potential as a golfer. [=she hasn't become as good as she can be]

4 formal : to earn or get (money) by sale or effort • We can realize a profit by selling the stock. • The furniture of the estate realized $10,000 at the auction.

real-life adj, always used before a noun : happening in the real world rather than in a story : happening in the real life of someone • real-life problems/events • a real-life drama re-al-lo-cate /ˈriːələˈkeɪt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing [+ obj] : to move or direct (something) so that it can be used for a different purpose • After the class trip was canceled, the money was reallocated to cover the cost of the dance. • We need to reallocate our resources.

– re-al-lo-ca-tion /ˈriːələˈkeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

re-al-ly /ˈriːjəli/ adv

1 — used to refer to what is true or real • She didn't really mean it. • Is that really a word? • It turned out that the bone wasn't really broken. • He might really be the one she's going to marry. • They really are twins. • What really happened? • There are really only two choices. • Who really cares? • I'm not hurt—really. [=I am being honest when I say I'm not hurt] • Did you really [=honestly] think I wouldn't notice?

2 : without question or doubt — used to make a statement more definite or forceful • You should really see a doctor about your back pains. • I really believe she's not coming back. • You really should try some of this cake. • She really is a nice person. • We really need the extra money. • He really likes her. [=he likes her very much]

3 : to a great degree : VERY • The dog runs really fast. • The water is really hot/cold. • She's a really nice person. • It's a really [=truly] beautiful day. • a really frightening/funny story • I had a really good time at the party.

4 — used to reduce the force of a negative statement • I don't really agree with you. • It really doesn't matter.

5 — used in speech to show surprise, doubt, or interest • "They're getting divorced." "Really?" [=I am surprised to hear that and would like to hear more] • "I think she likes me." "Oh, really?" [=I am doubtful that she really likes you]

6 US — used in speech to express agreement with what someone has just said • "He shouldn't be allowed to do that." "Yeah, really. Who does he think he is?"

7 — used in speech to show that you are annoyed • Really, you could have mentioned it sooner. • Really, you're being ridiculous.

not really — used to say "no" in a way that is not very forceful or definite • "Was the movie good?" "Not really." [=the movie wasn't very good] • "Do you want to go to a movie?" "No, not really." [=no, I am not very interested in going]

realm /ˈreɪlm/ noun, pl realms [count]

1 : an area of activity, interest, or knowledge • new discoveries in the realm of medicine • in political and legal realms • the realm of art/science/education • A victory by the team seems within the realm of possibility. [=a victory seems possible] • It's not beyond the realm of possibility [=it's not impossible] that he will return.

2 : a country that is ruled by a king or queen • a peaceful realm

re-al-po-li-tik /reɪˈɑːl,pouli,tɪk/ noun [noncount] : a system of politics based on a country's situation and its needs rather than on ideas about what is morally right and wrong real-time adj, always used before a noun : happening or shown at the speed at which a computer receives and processes information • real-time data/chatting/video – real time noun [noncount] • We chatted online in real time.

Re-al-tor /ˈriːjəltər/ service mark — used for a real estate agent who is a member of a national licensing association

re-al-ty /ˈriːjəlti/ noun [noncount] US : REAL ESTATE

¹ream /ˈriːm/ noun, pl reams

1 [count] : an amount of paper that equals 480, 500, or 516 sheets

2 reams [plural] informal : a large amount of writing — usually + of • She took reams of notes. [=she took a very large amount of notes]

²ream verb reams; reamed; ream-ing [+ obj] US, informal : to criticize (someone) in an angry way • He got reamed in the press for his comments. — often + out • She reamed him out for leaving the lights on.

re-an-i-mate /ˈriːˈænə,meɪt/ verb -mates; -mat-ed; -mat-ing [+ obj] : to give new life or energy to (something) • The touchdown reanimated the crowd. • She knows how to reanimate a dull conversation.

reap /ˈriːp/ verb reaps; reaped; reap-ing

1 [+ obj] : to get (something, such as a reward) as a result of something that you have done • She is now reaping the benefits/rewards of her hard work. • He reaped large profits from his investments.

2 : to cut and collect (a plant, crop, etc.) from a field [+ obj] The workers were out reaping the crops. [no obj] The workers were out reaping in the fields.

reap what you sow : to experience the same kind of things that you have caused other people to experience • If you're rude to everyone, you'll reap what you sow. [=people will be rude to you]

reap-er /ˈriːpər/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person or machine that cuts and collects crops — see also GRIM REAPER

re-ap-pear /ˈriːjəˈpiər/ verb -pears; -peared; -pear-ing [no obj] : to appear again after not being seen, felt, etc., for a period of time • We watched the fireflies in the field vanish and then reappear. • Call the doctor if the symptoms reappear. [=come back]

– re-ap-pear-ance /ˈriːjəˈpiərəns/ noun, pl -anc-es [count] — usually singular • The bird was believed to be extinct until its recent reappearance. [noncount] The vaccine prevents reappearance of the disease.

re-ap-ply /ˈriːjəˈplaɪ/ verb -plies; -plied; -ply-ing

1 [+ obj] : to put or spread (something) again on a surface, a part of the body, etc. • She reapplied her makeup. • The finish needs to be reapplied.

2 [no obj] : to ask formally for something (such as a job, admission to a school, a loan, etc.) again usually in writing • She plans to reapply to the school. • He reapplied for the job.

3 [+ obj] : to cause (force, pressure, etc.) to have an effect or to be felt again • The defense reapplied the pressure in the second half.

re-ap-praise /ˈriːjəˈpreɪz/ verb -prais-es; -praised; -prais-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to make a new judgment about the value of (something) • Our house is being reappraised for tax purposes.

2 : to think about (something) again in order to decide whether you should change your opinion about it : REASSESS • The bad economic news is forcing many people to reappraise their investment strategies.

– re-ap-prais-al /ˈriːjəˈpreɪzəl/ noun, pl -als [count] tax reappraisals [noncount] The situation has changed and requires some careful reappraisal.

¹rear /ˈriər/ noun, pl rears

1 [noncount] : the part of something that is opposite to or away from the front part : the back part of something • There are two bedrooms at the rear. — often + of • The store is in the rear of the building. • We sat toward the rear of the train/boat.

2 [count] informal : the part of your body that you sit on : BUTTOCKS — usually singular • He slipped and fell on his rear. [=rear end]

bring up the rear : to be in the last position in a group, line, etc. • At this point in the voting, Jones is leading with Smith in second place and Johnson bringing up the rear. • They entered the room first and I brought up the rear.

²rear adj, always used before a noun : at or near the back of something • The car's rear bumper was damaged. • We used the rear [=back] entrance of the hotel. • the horse's rear [=hind] legs • the car's rear lights/window

³rear verb rears; reared; rear-ing

1 [+ obj] : to take care of (a young person or animal) • His family rears [=raises] cattle. • They reared [=brought up, (chiefly US) raised] their children to be polite and well-mannered. • books on child-rearing — often + on • The kitten was reared on special food. • He was reared on comic books. [=he read a lot of comic books when he was young]

2 [no obj] of an animal : to rise up on the back legs with the front legs in the air • The horse reared (up) in fright.

3 [no obj] : to rise high in the air • The cliff wall reared (up) above us.

rear its ugly head see ¹HEAD

rear admiral noun, pl ~ -als [count] : an officer of high rank in the navy

rear end noun, pl ~ ends [count]

1 : the part of the body you sit on : BUTTOCKS • She stood up and brushed off her rear end.

2 : the back part of something (such as a vehicle) • The car's rear end was badly damaged in the accident.

rear-end /ˈriərˈɛnd/ verb -ends; -end-ed; -end-ing [+ obj] chiefly US, informal : to drive into the back of (a vehicle) • Someone rear-ended my car at a stoplight. = My car was rear-ended at a stoplight. • I got rear-ended.

rear guard noun, pl ~ guards [count] : a group of soldiers who are placed at the back of an army and who protect the army from being attacked from behind rear-guard /ˈriərˌɡɑːd/ adj, always used before a noun : fought or conducted by a group of soldiers at the rear of an army especially during a retreat • a rearguard battle/defense • The army fought a courageous rearguard action. — often used figuratively to describe an effort or fight to change or stop something that is very close to happening or being done • The town has been fighting a rearguard action to prevent the multiplex from being built.

re-arm /riˈɑːm/ verb -arms; -armed; -arm-ing

1 [no obj] : to obtain new weapons • The treaty forbids the country to rearm.

2 [+ obj] : to supply (someone or something) with new weapons • Another country was rearming their enemies.

– re-ar-ma-ment /riˈɑːməmənt/ noun [noncount] • naval rearmament • They announced plans for rearmament.

rear-most /ˈriərˌmoʊst/ adj, always used before a noun : at the very rear of something : farthest back from the front • the rear-most part of the building • the rear-most seats

re-ar-range /ˈriːjəˈreɪndʒ/ verb -rang-es; -ranged; -rang-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to change the position or order of (things) • He rear-ranged the furniture. • She rearranged the letters of her name to spell different words. b : to change the position or order of the things in (something) • Because of the cancellation, he had to rearrange his schedule. • rearrange the living room

2 : to change the time or location of (something) • He asked his secretary to rearrange [=reschedule] the appointment.

– re-ar-range-ment /ˈriːjəˈreɪndʒmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount] • Her schedule required rearrangement.

rear-view mirror /ˈriərˌvjuː-/ noun, pl ~ -rors [count] : a mirror in a vehicle that allows the driver to see what is behind the vehicle — see picture at CAR

¹rear-ward /ˈriərˌwɔːd/ adj, somewhat formal

1 : located at, near, or toward the back of something • the rearward section of the store

2 : directed toward the rear of something : BACKWARD • a rearward glance • rearward motion

²rear-ward (chiefly US) /ˈriərˌwɔːd/ or chiefly Brit rear-wards /ˈriərˌwɔːdz/ adv, somewhat formal : at, near, or toward the rear • He glanced rearward. [=backward]

rear-wheel drive noun [noncount] : a system that applies engine power to the rear wheels of a vehicle • a car with rear-wheel drive

¹rea-son /ˈriːzn/ noun, pl -sons

1 [count] : a statement or fact that explains why something is the way it is, why someone does, thinks, or says something, or why someone behaves a certain way • I gave a reason for my absence. • Is there a reason for your strange behavior? • There is a reason why they don't want to come. • I can't give you the report for the simple reason that it isn't yet finished.

• She explained her reasons for deciding to change jobs. • He wanted to know the reason for their decision. • “Why don’t you want to go to the party?” “No (particular) reason. I just feel like staying home tonight.” • Give me one good reason why I should believe you. • For obvious reasons, we can’t do that yet. • For reasons of space, some of the charts and graphs have been omitted from the article. • She resigned for personal reasons. • He is always late, for some/whatever reason. [=he is always late, and no one knows why] • He tends to get upset for no reason. • She did things for no good reason. [=there was no acceptable explanation for her actions]

2 [noncount] : a fact, condition, or situation that makes it proper or appropriate to do something, feel something, etc. • There is no reason [=cause] to panic. • There’s no reason for you to feel that way. • I had sufficient/adequate/enough reason [=justification] to leave. • He saw no reason to pursue the issue any further. • They want to try something different, and that’s reason enough for the change. • He was found not guilty by reason of insanity. [=not guilty because he was insane when he committed the crime] • We have (every) reason to believe he is lying. • The company fired him with/without reason. [=there was/wasn’t a good reason for the company to fire him] • She decided, with reason, to find somewhere else to live. • Poor work conditions are all the more reason to find another job.

3 [noncount] : the power of the mind to think and understand in a logical way • Human beings possess the power of reason. • (old-fashioned) He lost his reason. [=he became insane]

4 [noncount] : ideas and opinions that are fair, sensible, and appropriate • I can’t get him to listen to (the voice of) reason. = I can’t get him to see reason. • He is not open to reason. [=he is not listening to logical or sensible thinking]

rhyme or reason see ¹RHYME

stand to reason : to be sensible or understandable • If her friends don’t want to go, it stands to reason [=it makes sense] that she won’t want to go either.

within reason : within reasonable or sensible limits • You can do anything you want, within reason. • The price is within reason.

²reason verb -sons; -soned; -son-ing

1 [no obj] : to think in a logical way • He lost the ability to reason.

2 [+ obj] : to form (a conclusion or judgment) by thinking logically • He reasoned that both statements couldn’t be true. • She reasoned that something must be wrong.

reason out [phrasal verb] reason (something) out or reason out (something) : to find an explanation or solution to (something, such as a problem, question, mystery, etc.) by thinking about the possibilities • He reasoned out [=worked out] the problem by himself.

reason with [phrasal verb] reason with (someone) : to talk with (someone) in a sensible way in order to try to change that person’s thoughts or behavior • They tried to reason with him, but he wouldn’t listen.

rea-son-able /ˈriːznəbəl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : fair and sensible • We have reasonable cause not to believe him. • She offered a reasonable compromise. • Your idea sounds reasonable. • It’s not reasonable to expect perfect weather. • Please be more reasonable. There is no way I’ll be able to finish all this work in so little time. • A reasonable man would not expect such a thing. • Our boss has reasonable expectations of his employees. • The request/offer seems reasonable. • We finished within a reasonable [=acceptable] amount of time. — opposite UNREASONABLE

2 : fairly or moderately good • The team has a reasonable chance of winning. • He makes a reasonable amount of money. — see also reasonable facsimile at FACSIMILE

3 [more ~; most ~] : not too expensive • The store’s prices are reasonable. • The hotel offers excellent accommodations at reasonable rates. — opposite UNREASONABLE — rea-son-able-ness /ˈriːznəbəlˌnəs/ noun [noncount] • We appreciated the reasonableness of his decision.

rea-son-ably /ˈriːznəbli/ adv

1 : to a fair or moderate degree : FAIRLY • The estimate was reasonably accurate. • They’re doing a reasonably good job. • He is doing reasonably well in school. • The food is reasonably affordable/inexpensive/cheap. • She is reasonably intelligent. • I’m reasonably sure that the work will be done soon.

2 [more ~; most ~] : in a logical and sensible way • “Why don’t we take turns?” she suggested reasonably. • We might reasonably assume he’ll be available. • The judge reasonably believes that some form of punishment is necessary. • We need to discuss this problem reasonably.

3 [more ~; most ~] : in a fair or appropriate way • a reasonably priced car [=a car that is not too expensive] • She can reasonably be expected to show up on time.

reasoned adj, always used before a noun : based on sensible and logical thinking • a reasoned argument/conclusion • a reasoned appeal • a place for reasoned debate

rea-son-ing /ˈriːznɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the process of thinking about something in a logical way in order to form a conclusion or judgment • Could you explain your reasoning? • They told everyone the reasoning behind the decision. • a conclusion based on fallacious/flawed/false/sound reasoning • scientific/logical/legal reasoning • a method/mode/pattern of reasoning • She chose to follow a particular line of reasoning. [=she chose to use a specific set of reasons in order to reach a conclusion]

2 : the ability of the mind to think and understand things in a logical way • Humans possess the power of reasoning.

re-as-sem-ble /ˈriːjəˈsembəl/ verb -sem-bles; -sembled; -sem-bling

1 [+ obj] : to put the parts of (something) back together : to assemble (something) again • She reassembled the puzzle.

2 [no obj] : to meet as a group again after a period of time : to assemble again • The committee will reassemble [=reconvene] next month.

re-as-ert /ˈriːjəˈsæt/ verb -serts; -sert-ed; -sert-ing [+obj]

1 : to make other people accept or respect (something that has been in doubt) • He tried to reassert his authority/leadership/power/control.

2 : to state or declare (something) more strongly or clearly : to state again that (something) is true • She reasserted her innocence. = She reasserted that she was innocent.

reassert itself : to start to have an effect again after a period of not having an effect • Traditional values have reasserted themselves. • An earlier pattern may reassert itself.

— re-as-ser-tion /ˈriːjəˈsɜːʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

re-as-sess /ˈriːjəˈses/ verb -sess-es; -sessed; -sess-ing [+obj]

: to think about (something) again in order to decide whether to change your opinion or judgment of it : to assess (something) again • The doctor reassessed the injury. • She convinced him to reassess the issue.

— re-as-sess-ment /ˈriːjəˈsesmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount]

re-as-sur-ance /ˈriːjəˈʃərəns/ noun, pl -anc-es

: something that is said or done to make someone feel less afraid, upset, or doubtful [count] Experts offered their reassurances that the accident wouldn’t happen again. [noncount] He received reassurance from his family. • Children need a lot of reassurance.

re-as-sure /ˈriːjəˈʃə/ verb -sures; -sured; -sur-ing [+obj]

: to make (someone) feel less afraid, upset, or doubtful • Experts reassured the public that the accident wouldn’t happen again. • I tried to reassure myself that the children were safe. • The news didn’t reassure him.

reassuring adj [more ~; most ~]

: making someone feel less afraid, upset, or doubtful • The news was somewhat/slightly reassuring. • a reassuring change • She gave me a reassuring smile. • It was deeply reassuring to hear his voice.

— re-as-sur-ing-ly adv • She smiled reassuringly.

re-bate /ˈriːbeɪt/ noun, pl -bates [count]

1 : an amount of money that is paid back to you because you have paid too much • a tax rebate [=refund]

2 : an amount of money that a business or company pays back to you because you have bought a particular product or service • a mail-in/store rebate • There is a $50 rebate offered with the printer.

¹reb-el /ˈrebəl/ noun, pl -els [count]

1 : a person who opposes or fights against a government • The government captured six armed rebels. — often used before another noun • a rebel army/leader • rebel forces/groups • the rebel movement

2 : a person who opposes a person or group in authority • He was a rebel against the school administration. : a person who does not obey rules or accept normal standards of behavior, dress, etc. • He is a typical teenage rebel. • a fashion rebel

²re-bel /rɪˈbel/ verb -bels; -belled; -bel-ling [no obj]

1 : to oppose or fight against a government • When the government imposed more taxes, the people rebelled. • The protesters are *rebell*ing against the new tax law.

2 : to oppose a person or group in authority • Children often rebel against their parents. : to refuse to obey rules or accept normal standards of behavior, dress, etc. • He rebeled against the social conventions of his time.

re·bel·lion /rɪˈbɛljən/ noun, pl -lions

1 : an effort by many people to change the government or leader of a country by the use of protest or violence [count] The king's army suppressed/quelled/crushed the rebellion. • The unfair tax laws sparked a rebellion. • A rebellion broke out. [noncount] The peasants rose in rebellion.

2 : open opposition toward a person or group in authority [count] She's the head of a rebellion against the leaders of the party. [noncount] Recent election losses have led to open rebellion among some party members, who are calling for a complete change of leadership.

3 [noncount] : refusal to obey rules or accept normal standards of behavior, dress, etc. • signs of teenage rebellion

re·bel·lious /rɪˈbɛljəs/ adj

1 : fighting against a government • a rebellious army • rebellious peasants

2 [more ~; most ~] : refusing to obey rules or authority or to accept normal standards of behavior, dress, etc. : having or showing a tendency to rebel • a rebellious child • a rebellious look • He's always had a rebellious streak. [=he has always been inclined to disobey]

— re·bel·lious·ly adv • She glared back rebelliously. • He responded rebelliously. — re·bel·lious·ness noun [noncount]

re·birth /rɪˈbɜθ/ noun, pl -births [count]

1 : a period in which something becomes popular again after a long period of time when it was not popular — often + of • the rebirth of pop music • The war generated a rebirth [=revival, renaissance] of patriotic feeling.

2 : a period of new life, growth, or activity • the natural cycle of birth, death, and rebirth in plants • the rebirth [=revival, renaissance] of the old shopping district • a spiritual rebirth

re·boot /rɪˈbu:t/ verb -boots; -boot-ed; -boot-ing computers

: to turn off a computer and then immediately turn it on [+ obj] She tried to reboot her computer after it froze. [no obj] After you install the software, you will have to reboot.

re·born /rɪˈbɔ:n/ adj

: having new or stronger religious beliefs • a reborn Christian be reborn : to be born again : to become alive again after death • The phoenix is a mythical bird that is reborn from its own ashes. — often used figuratively to describe something that becomes active or popular again • After years of renovations and improvements, the city has been reborn as a tourist destination.

¹re·bound /rɪˈbaʊnd/ noun, pl -bounds [count]

1 : the act of bouncing back after hitting something • The fielder caught the ball on the rebound off the wall. [=caught the ball when it rebounded off the wall]

2 : a ball, puck, etc., that bounces back after hitting something • He caught/grabbed the rebound.

3 basketball : the act of catching the ball after a shot has missed going in the basket • He led the league in rebounds last year.

4 : an increase or improvement after a decrease or decline • There has been a recent rebound in stock prices.

on the rebound 1 : sad and confused because a romantic relationship has recently ended • She refused to date him while he was still on the rebound. 2 chiefly US : getting better • His health is on the rebound.

²rebound verb -bounds; -bound-ed; -bound-ing

1 [no obj] : to bounce back off something after hitting it • The baseball rebounded off the wall.

2 [no obj] : to increase or improve after a recent decrease or decline • Share prices are rebounding. • She rebounded quickly from the loss. • He is rebounding [=recovering] from the injury well.

3 basketball : to catch the ball after a shot has missed going in the basket [no obj] She is good at both shooting and rebounding. [+ obj] He rebounded the ball and quickly passed it to a teammate.

re·buff /rɪˈbʌf/ verb -buffs; -buffed; -buff-ing [+ obj] formal

: to refuse (something, such as an offer or suggestion) in a rude way • Our suggestion was immediately rebuffed. • The company rebuffed the bid. • She rebuffed him when he asked her for a date.

— rebuff noun, pl -buffs [count] • Our suggestion was met with a sharp rebuff.

re·build /rɪˈbɪld/ verb -builds; -built /rɪˈbɪlt/; -build-ing

1 : to build (something) again after it has been damaged or destroyed [+ obj] He rebuilt his house after it was destroyed by a fire. [no obj] They tried to rebuild after the earthquake.

2 : to make important improvements or changes in (something) [+ obj] They are rebuilding [=renovating, remodeling] an old house. • He is trying to rebuild [=restore] his reputation. • The new owner plans to rebuild the franchise. [no obj] The team is rebuilding after losing most of its top players.

re·buke /rɪˈbju:k/ verb -bukes; -buked; -buk-ing [+ obj] formal

: to speak in an angry and critical way to (someone) — often + for • She was rebuked [=reprimanded] for being late. • The boss rebuked us for talking too much.

— rebuke noun, pl -bukes [count] • He was stunned by the harsh rebuke from his father.

re·bus /rɪˈbʌs/ noun, pl -bus-es [count]

: a riddle or puzzle made up of letters, pictures, or symbols whose names sound like the parts or syllables of a word or phrase

re·but /rɪˈbʌt/ verb -buts; -but-ted; -but-ting [+ obj] formal

: to prove (something) is false by using arguments or evidence • Her lawyer attempted to rebut the witness's testimony.

— re·but·tal /rɪˈbʌtəl/ noun, pl -tals formal [count] Her report is a rebuttal of some common misconceptions. • In an angry rebuttal, the researchers claimed they were being unfairly scrutinized. [noncount] He said in rebuttal that he hadn't cheated.

re·cal·ci·trant /rɪˈkælsətrənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

: stubbornly refusing to obey rules or orders • a recalcitrant prisoner

— re·cal·ci·trance /rɪˈkælsətrəns/ noun [noncount]

¹re·call /rɪˈkɑ:l/ verb -calls; -called; -call-ing

1 not used in progressive tenses, somewhat formal : to remember (something) from the past [+ obj] She wanted to send him a letter but couldn't recall his address. • I don't recall what time they said they would be here. • It is important to recall that not very long ago cell phones did not exist. • From what I recall, I think the library is two blocks down on the left. • "The first time we met," he recalled, "we got into a big argument." [no obj] As you may recall, we had agreed that decisions would require prior approval. • "What's his address?" "I don't recall."

2 [+ obj] a : to ask or order (someone) to return • The government recalled the soldiers to active duty. = The soldiers were recalled to active duty. • The ambassador was recalled from abroad. b : to ask people to return (a product with a defect or problem) • The factory is recalling all the cars because of a problem with the brakes. • Officials recalled two tons of contaminated meat today.

3 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to cause (something) to be thought of : to bring (an image, idea, etc.) into your mind • The old stone town hall recalls [=resembles] a stone house from medieval Europe. • Seeing her again recalled memories of the happy times we spent together.

²re·call /rɪˈkɑ:l/ noun, pl -calls

1 [singular] : an official order for someone or something to return • They issued a recall of workers after the layoff.

2 [count] : a request by a company for people to return a product that has a defect or problem • The factory has issued a recall of all cars with the defective brakes. • a beef recall

3 [noncount] : the ability to remember what has been learned or experienced in the past • She did mental exercises meant to improve her recall. • He has total recall. [=the ability to remember all the details of things exactly as they happened]

4 [singular] US : a way in which a public official may be removed from office by a special vote of the people • Many people are calling for a recall of the mayor. • a recall election beyond recall : impossible to bring back : not able to be brought back or remembered • Her youth was (gone) beyond recall. [=her youth was gone and could not be brought back] • events that are now beyond recall

re·cant /rɪˈkænt/ verb -cants; -cant-ed; -cant-ing formal

: to publicly say that you no longer have an opinion or belief that you once had [no obj] Church officials asked the minister/priest to recant. [+ obj] Witnesses threatened to recant their testimony when the court released their names to the paper.

— re·can·ta·tion /rɪˈkænˈteɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

re·cap /rɪˈkæp/ verb -caps; -capped; -cap-ping

: to give a brief summary of what has been done or said before [+ obj] At the end of the program, the announcer recapped the day's news. • Before we continue, let's recap what we have done so far. [no obj] Before we continue, let's recap.

– recap noun, pl -caps [count] • The article provides a short recap of recent political developments. • Before we continue, here's a recap of what we have done so far.

re-ca-pit-u-late /ˌrɪ:kəˈpɪtʃəˌleɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing formal : to give a brief summary of something : RECAP [+ obj] To recapitulate what was said earlier, we need to develop new ways to gain customers. [no obj] We understood your point, there's no need to recapitulate.

– re-ca-pit-u-la-tion /ˌrɪ:kəˈpɪtʃəˌleɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] She provided a recapitulation [=summary] of events leading up to this point. [noncount] His speech was so complex that recapitulation is impossible.

re-cap-ture /rɪˈkæptʃə/ verb -tures; -tured; -tur-ing [+ obj]

1 : to catch (someone or something that has escaped) • The guards recaptured the escaped prisoner.

2 : to gain control of (a place or position) again after losing it • The soldiers recaptured the hill they had lost the day before. • In the final lap of the race, he recaptured the lead.

3 : to experience or bring back (a feeling, quality, or situation) again • They are trying to recapture those happy times they had together. • The documentary recaptures the social tensions of the 1960s.

– recapture noun [noncount] • The escaped prisoners have so far avoided recapture.

re-cast /rɪˈkæst, Brit rɪˈkɑːst/ verb -casts; -cast; -cast-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to change the actors in (a play, movie, or television show) • The director decided to recast the movie with unknowns. b : to give a new role to (an actor) • When she quit the movie, I was recast in the leading role. • The director recast some of the actors in the play.

2 : to present (something) in a different way • You should recast the last sentence in your essay to make it clearer. • He recast his political image to fit the times.

rec-ce /ˈreki/ noun, pl -ces [count, noncount] Brit, informal : RECONNAISSANCE

rec'd abbr received • your letter rec'd March 3

re-cede /rɪˈsiːd/ verb -cedes; -ced-ed; -ced-ing [no obj]

1 : to move away gradually • The floodwaters slowly receded. • I felt sad as I watched the ship recede from view.

2 : to become smaller or weaker • We listened as the sound of the sirens receded [=faded] into the distance. • The pain from my headache slowly began to recede.

3 ✧ If your hair is receding, you are gradually losing the hair that is at the front of your head. • His hair started receding when he was in his thirties. • He has a receding hairline.

4 ✧ A receding chin/forehead is a chin/forehead that slants backward.

re-ceipt /rɪˈsiːt/ noun, pl -ceipts

1 [count] : a piece of paper on which the things that you buy or the services that you pay for are listed with the total amount paid and the prices for each • Keep your receipt in case you need to return anything.

2 [noncount] formal : the act of receiving something • The form should be completed and returned within 30 days of receipt. • Open immediately upon/on receipt of the package. • I am in receipt of your instructions. [=I have received your instructions]

3 receipts [plural] : money that a business, bank, or government receives • Our company deposits cash receipts every day.

re-ceiv-able /rɪˈsiːvəbəl/ adj, always used after a noun, business : not yet paid • accounts receivable [=the amounts of money that people and (other) businesses owe you] re-ceiv-ables /rɪˈsiːvəbəlz/ noun [plural] business : the amounts of money that other people and businesses owe you • Our receivables are down this quarter.

re-ceive /rɪˈsiːv/ verb -ceives; -ceived; -ceiv-ing

1 [+ obj] : to get or be given (something) • You will be charged a late fee if the electric company does not receive your payment on time. • I received a letter/call from her yesterday. • You will receive a discount if you spend over $100. • This spring he'll receive [=be awarded] his PhD in physics.

2 [+ obj] : to react to (something) in a specified way • She received the news of his death with remarkable calmness. — often used as (be) received • Her new book was well/poorly received by the critics. [=the critics liked/disliked her new book] • The results of the study were received with considerable skepticism.

3 [+ obj] formal : to welcome (someone) in usually a formal way • The ambassador received [=greeted] his guests as they arrived at the party.

4 [+ obj] : to accept (someone) as a member of an organization, church, etc. — + into • She was received into the church/university.

5 [+ obj] a : to suffer (an injury) • He received [=got] a broken nose when he slipped and fell on the ice. b : to be given (a punishment) • She received a heavy sentence from the judge.

6 [+ obj] : to experience or take (a medical treatment) • He receives an injection once a week to treat his allergies. • Only one of the patients receiving the new treatment is experiencing bad side effects. • He received a kidney transplant.

7 [+ obj] a : to get (signals that are sent to a television, radio, etc.) • We were unable to receive the broadcast. • A satellite receives the signals and then sends them back to earth. b : to be able to hear (someone who is talking to you on a radio) • I'm receiving you loud and clear.

8 American football : to be the player or team to which the ball is kicked when play begins [no obj] They won the coin toss and chose to receive. [+ obj] They chose to receive the kickoff.

9 [+ obj] law : to buy or take (goods that have been stolen) illegally • He was found guilty of receiving stolen goods.

on/at the receiving end ✧ If you are on/at the receiving end of something bad or unpleasant, you are the person it is directed at. • It's not often that I find myself on the receiving end of such insults.

received adj, always used before a noun, formal : widely accepted • What was radical thinking in times past has become received wisdom today.

Received Pronunciation noun [noncount] : the British pronunciation of words that is based on the speech of educated people and is sometimes considered to be the standard pronunciation — abbr. RP

re-ceiv-er /rɪˈsiːvə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : the part of a telephone that you pick up and hold near your face when you are making or receiving a phone call • She angrily slammed down the phone's receiver.

2 : radio or television equipment that changes signals into sound and pictures • a satellite receiver

3 American football : a player who catches passes thrown by the quarterback — see also WIDE RECEIVER

4 law : a person who is chosen to take control of a bankrupt business or its property • She was listed as the receiver in the bankruptcy proceedings.

5 law : a person who buys or takes goods knowing that they have been stolen • a receiver of stolen property re-ceiv-er-ship /rɪˈsiːvəˌʃɪp/ noun [noncount] law : the state of a business that has been placed under the control of a receiver because it is bankrupt • Years of financial difficulty eventually placed the company into receivership.

receiving line noun, pl ~ lines [count] US : a group of family members and friends who stand in line at a wedding, funeral, or other formal occasion to welcome or greet guests and receive their good wishes, their sympathy, etc.

re-cent /ˈriːsnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : happening or beginning not long ago • Recent events have brought attention to the problem. • I usually watch that show every week, but I missed the most recent episode. • Medical science has made amazing progress in recent decades/years. • She's a recent college graduate. [=she graduated from college a short time ago] • The change was recent. • That was the biggest earthquake in recent history/memory.

re-cent-ly /ˈriːsntli/ adv [more ~; most ~] : during the period of time that has just passed : not long ago • She recently graduated from college. • I was going to paint the room white, but more recently I've been considering a light blue. • I saw him recently for the first time in many years. • Only recently did they decide to move. • Until recently I had no idea where I would end up finding a job.

re-cep-ta-cle /rɪˈseptɪkəl/ noun, pl -ta-cles [count]

1 formal : a container that is used to hold something • She used the box as a receptacle for her jewelry. • a trash receptacle — sometimes used figuratively • He became a receptacle for his father's love and kindness.

2 US : a device into which an electric cord can be plugged in order to provide electricity for a lamp, television, etc. • an electrical receptacle [=outlet]

re-cep-tion /rɪˈsepʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : the kind of welcome that someone or something is given — usually singular • The performers did not get the warm reception they had hoped for. • His suggestion was given a cool reception. [=people were not enthusiastic about his suggestion]

2 [count] : a social gathering to celebrate something or to welcome someone • The school held a reception for the new students and their families. • a wedding reception

3 [noncount] : the act or process of receiving, welcoming, or accepting something or someone • He decided to run for a seat on the school committee only a year after his reception into the community. • Her job is to deal with the reception of donations.

4 [noncount] — used to describe how well or badly a radio, television, etc., is able to receive signals • Our TV gets poor reception because of all the trees around the house. • My cell phone reception is terrible.

5 [noncount] : a desk or area in a hotel, office building, etc., where visitors first go after entering • Check in at reception when you arrive. = Check in at the reception desk when you arrive. • I waited in the reception area. [=lobby]

6 [count] American football : the act of catching a forward pass • He had three receptions [=he caught three passes] in today's game.

reception class noun, pl ~ classes [count] Brit : a class for young children who are just starting to go to school re-cep-tion-ist /rɪˈsepʃənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person whose job is to deal with the people who call or enter an office, hotel, etc.

reception room noun, pl ~ rooms [count] Brit : a room in a house (such as a living room) that is used for sitting and not for cooking, sleeping, etc. • For sale: house with 2 bedrooms, 1 bathroom, and 2 reception rooms.

re-cep-tive /rɪˈseptɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : willing to listen to or accept ideas, suggestions, etc. • I was happy to be speaking before such a receptive audience. — often + to • He was receptive to the idea of going back to school.

— re-cep-tive-ness noun [noncount] • He was pleased by the receptiveness of the audience. — re-cep-tiv-i-ty /rɪˈsepˈtɪvəti/ noun [noncount] • the audience's receptivity to his theories

re-cep-tor /rɪˈseptər/ noun, pl -tors [count] biology : a nerve ending that senses changes in light, temperature, pressure, etc., and causes the body to react in a particular way

1 recess /ˈriːsɪs/ noun, pl -cess-es

1 [noncount] US : a short period of time during the school day when children can play • The students play outside after lunch and at/during recess. • Do you have morning recess? — called also (Brit) playtime

2 : a usually brief period of time during which regular activity in a court of law or in a government stops [count] The judge called for a recess [=break] for lunch. • The Senate debates will continue after the August recess. [noncount] The Senate wanted to vote on the bill before recess.

3 [count] : a dark, hidden place or part — usually plural; often + of • the dark recesses of the forest • He buried the memory in the deepest recesses of his mind.

4 [count] : a part of a wall that is set back from the rest of the wall

2 recess verb -cesses; -cessed; -cess-ing US : to stop regular activity in a court of law or in a government for a usually short period of time [no obj] The trial recessed for the holidays. [+ obj] The judge decided to recess the trial for the holidays.

recessed adj : set back into a wall or ceiling • The shelf is recessed into the wall. • The room has recessed lights/lighting. • recessed shelves

re-ces-sion /rɪˈseʃən/ noun, pl -sions

1 : a period of time in which there is a decrease in economic activity and many people do not have jobs [count] Many people lost their jobs during the recent recession. • an economic recession [noncount] The economy is in deep recession. • The President helped pull the country out of recession.

2 [noncount] formal : the act of moving back or away slowly : the act of receding • the recession of the floodwaters

re-ces-sion-ary /rɪˈseʃəˌneri, Brit rɪˈseʃənri/ adj : of or relating to an economic recession • in these recessionary times re-ces-sive /rɪˈsesɪv/ adj, biology : causing or relating to a characteristic or condition that a child will have only if both of the child's parents have it • recessive genes • Red hair is a recessive trait. = Red hair is recessive. — opposite dominant

re-charge /rɪˈtʃɑːdʒ/ verb -charges; -charged; -charging

1 : to refill (a battery) with electricity [+ obj] When the computer beeps, you need to recharge the battery. [no obj] It takes about an hour for the battery to recharge.

2 [no obj] : to regain your energy and strength • Take a break to give yourself time to recharge.

recharge your batteries informal : to rest and relax in order to regain your energy and strength • We took a nap after work to recharge our batteries before going out dancing.

— re-charge-able adj • rechargeable batteries

re-charge-er /rɪˈtʃɑːdʒər/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a machine that recharges batteries • The digital camera has a built-in re-charger.

re-cher-ché /rəˈʃeɪʃeɪ, Brit rəˈʃeɪʃeɪ/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : unusual and not understood by most people • recherché references re-cid-i-vist /rɪˈsɪdəvɪst/ noun, pl -vists [count] formal : a person who continues to commit crimes even after being caught and punished

— re-cid-i-vism /rɪˈsɪdəˌvɪzəm/ noun [noncount] • We hope the new program will lower recidivism rates.

rec-i-pe /ˈresəpi/ noun, pl -pes [count]

1 : a set of instructions for making food • The recipe calls for fresh thyme. • I didn't read the recipe carefully. • This is one of my grandmother's recipes. • a recipe book [=cookbook] — often + for • a recipe for beef stew

2 : a way of doing something that will produce a particular result — + for • He says he has an infallible recipe for success. • "She's planning to do the plumbing herself." "That's a recipe for disaster." [=that will result in disaster]

re-cip-i-ent /rɪˈsɪpijənt/ noun, pl -ents [count] formal : a person who receives something • welfare recipients — often + of • She is the recipient of many honors. [=she has received many honors]

re-cip-ro-cal /rɪˈsɪprəkəl/ adj — used to describe a relationship in which two people or groups agree to do something similar for each other, to allow each other to have the same rights, etc. • a reciprocal trade agreement between two countries • a reciprocal exchange of information • The plan will only work if both sides fulfill their reciprocal [=mutual] obligations.

— re-cip-ro-cal-ly /rɪˈsɪprəkli/ adv

re-cip-ro-cate /rɪˈsɪprəˌkeɪt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing

1 a : to do (something) for or to someone who has done something similar for or to you [no obj] She was harshly criticized, but she did not defend herself or reciprocate in any way. [=she did not criticize the people who criticized her] [+ obj] They appreciated her kindness but were not ready to reciprocate the gesture. b [+ obj] : to have (a feeling) for someone who has the same feeling for you • It broke his heart to learn that his love was not reciprocated. [=that the person he loved did not love him]

2 [no obj] technical : to move back and forth again and again • a reciprocating saw

— re-cip-ro-ca-tion /rɪˈsɪprəˌkeɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

rec-i-proc-i-ty /ˌresəˈprɑːsəti/ noun [noncount] formal : a situation or relationship in which two people or groups agree to do something similar for each other, to allow each other to have the same rights, etc. : a reciprocal arrangement or relationship • The proposal calls for reciprocity in trade relations.

re-cit-al /rɪˈsaɪtəl/ noun, pl -als [count]

1 : a dance or musical performance • piano recitals • a dance recital

2 : the act of reading something out loud or saying something from memory usually for an audience • a poetry recital — often + of • He gave a recital of his own poems before a large group of students.

3 : a long description or list that includes many things — often + of • Her speech was actually just a long recital of names, places, and dates.

rec-i-ta-tion /ˌresəˈteɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : the act of reciting something: such as a : the act of saying or repeating something out loud for an audience [noncount] the recitation of poetry/prayers [count] a poetry recitation b [count] : the act of describing or listing many things in a series — often + of • a recitation of our successes and failures • dry recitations of statistics rec-i-ta-tive /ˌresətəˈtɪv/ noun, pl -tives music : a passage in vocal music (such as an opera) in which the words are sung in a way that resembles speech [count] the second recitative of Act II [noncount] The opera made use of recitative.

re·cite /rɪ'saɪt/ verb -cites; -cit-ed; -cit-ing

1 : to read (something) out loud or say (something) from memory usually for an audience [+ obj] He recited the poem/passage with great feeling. [no obj] He began to recite from the Koran.

2 [+ obj] : to say or describe (a series or list of things) • He can easily recite all the facts about any player on the team.

reck·less /'rɛkləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not showing proper concern about the possible bad results of your actions • He is a wild and reckless young man. • She has gotten two tickets for reckless driving. [=driving a car in a dangerous manner] • He showed a reckless disregard for the safety of others. • He spends money with reckless abandon.

— reck·less·ly adv • They recklessly threw themselves into battle. — reck·less·ness noun [noncount] • financial recklessness

reck·on /'rɛkən/ verb -ons; -oned; -on-ing [+ obj]

1 informal : to think or suppose (something) : to believe that (something) is true or possible • I reckon that we'll have to leave early. • Do you reckon you'll be able to go to the grocery store after work? • We'll have to leave early, I reckon. • "Do you think it will rain?" "(I) Reckon so." [=I think it will]

2 : to calculate or guess (an amount, number, value, etc.) : to have or form a general idea about (something) • They reckoned that they would reach their destination by noon. • I reckon [=estimate] the height of the building to be 70 feet. • Losses were reckoned to be over a million dollars.

3 : to think of (someone or something) as being something specified — usually used as (be) reckoned • She was reckoned [=considered] to be among the group's leaders. = She was reckoned as one of the group's leaders.

reckon on [phrasal verb] reckon on (something) : to expect (something) to happen : to plan on (something) • The train was an hour late, which was something we hadn't reckoned on. • She reckoned on winning the election. [=she expected to win the election] reckon up [phrasal verb] reckon up (something) or reckon (something) up chiefly Brit : to calculate the total number or amount of (something) • He reckoned up the bill.

reckon with [phrasal verb] 1 reckon with (something) : to consider or think about (something) when you are making plans • They hadn't reckoned with all the paperwork that went along with buying a new house. 2 reckon with (someone or something) : to deal with (someone or something that can cause problems or trouble) • Anyone who tries to change the system will have to reckon with me. = Anyone who tries to change the system will have me to reckon with. [=I will oppose/fight anyone who tries to change the system] ♦ If you are a person/force to be reckoned with or a person/force to reckon with, you are someone who is strong and cannot be ignored. • When he won his first three matches, the other players realized that he was a force/man to be reckoned with.

reckon without [phrasal verb] reckon without (something or someone) chiefly Brit : to fail to consider (something or someone) when making plans • They thought they could defeat him, but they reckoned without his determination.

reckoning noun

1 [noncount] : the act of calculating the amount of something • I was more than $10 off in my reckoning. • By my reckoning [=by my calculations], he should be in his 80s by now.

2 a [noncount] : the time when your actions are judged as good or bad and you are rewarded or punished • When the day of reckoning comes, we will have to face some unpleasant truths. b [count] : the act of judging something — usually singular • In the final reckoning her earliest books are the best.

3 [noncount] Brit : the group of people or things that are considered likely to win or be successful • Our football team hardly comes into the reckoning. • Because of his injury, he is out of the reckoning. • The team is still in the reckoning.

re·claim /rɪ'kleɪm/ verb -claims; -claimed; -claim-ing [+ obj]

1 : to get back (something that was lost or taken away) • Sons and daughters are proudly reclaiming the traditions that their parents had forgotten. • She reclaimed the title of world champion this year. • You might be able to reclaim some of the money you contributed.

2 : to make (land) available for use by changing its condition • Environmental groups have been reclaiming contaminated sites. • Acres of land were reclaimed by conservationists. • reclaimed swampland

3 : to get (a usable material) from materials that have been used before • The factory reclaims fibers from textile wastes. • These bottles were made from reclaimed [= (more commonly) recycled] plastic.

— rec·la·ma·tion /,rɛklə'meɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • land reclamation

re·cline /rɪ'klaɪn/ verb -clines; -clined; -clin-ing

1 [no obj] formal : to sit back or lie down in a relaxed manner • She was reclining on the sofa, watching TV.

2 : to lean backward [no obj] Does that chair recline? • The theater has reclining seats. [+ obj] He reclined his seat so that he could nap more comfortably.

re·clin·er /rɪ'klaɪnə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a comfortable chair which has a back that can lean back at an angle — see picture at LIVING ROOM re·cluse /'rɛ,klʊ:s, Brit rɪ'klʊ:s/ noun, pl -cluses [count] : a person who lives alone and avoids other people • My neighbor is a recluse—I only see him about once a year.

— re·clu·sive /rɪ'klʊ:sɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] • my reclusive neighbor • a reclusive lifestyle

rec·og·ni·tion /,rɛkɪg'nɪʃən/ noun

1 a : the act of accepting that something is true or important or that it exists [noncount] The procedure is gaining recognition as the latest advance in organ transplant surgery. • The Olympic Committee gave official/formal recognition to the sport. [singular] His smile was a recognition that things were not so bad. b [noncount] : the act of accepting someone or something as having legal or official authority — often + of • the recognition of the territory as a state • They demand legal recognition of their rights.

2 [noncount] : the act of knowing who or what someone or something is because of previous knowledge or experience • She somehow escaped recognition. [=she was not recognized; no one knew who she was when they saw her] • The renovations changed the house beyond (all) recognition. [=changed the house so much that it looked completely different and could not be recognized as the same house]

3 [noncount] : special attention or notice especially by the public for someone's work or actions • Her paintings received recognition from her fellow artists. • All she wanted was some recognition for her work. • He finally received the recognition that he deserved. • They were awarded medals in recognition of their bravery.

4 [noncount] computers : the ability of a computer to understand and process human speech or writing • speech/voice/handwriting recognition

re·cog·ni·zance /rɪ'kɑ:gnəzəns/ noun [noncount] US, law : a legal promise made by someone before a court of law that must be kept to avoid being punished • He was released on his own recognizance. [=he promised to do what the court wanted him to do and the court let him go]

rec·og·nize also Brit rec·og·nise /'rɛkɪg,naɪz/ verb -nizes; -nized; -niz-ing [+ obj]

1 not used in progressive tenses : to know and remember (someone or something) because of previous knowledge or experience • I didn't recognize you at first with your new haircut. • I can always recognize him from far away by/from the way he walks. • They recognized the odor at once.

2 : to accept or be aware that (something) is true or exists • It's important to recognize [=be aware of] your own faults. • They started talking and quickly recognized [=realized] how much they had in common.

3 : to accept and approve of (something) as having legal or official authority • The U.S. government has now recognized the newly formed country. • They refused to recognize the treaty.

4 : to think of (someone or something) as being something specified • The institute is an internationally recognized authority on eye surgery. • Walt Whitman is recognized as one of America's great poets.

5 : to publicly give special attention or notice to (someone or something) • They recognized her years of service with a special award. • We want to find an appropriate way to recognize his achievements.

— rec·og·niz·able also Brit rec·og·nis·able /'rɛkɪg-,naɪzəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • She has one of the most recognizable faces in the movie industry. • The bird is easily recognizable because of its bright red feathers.

— rec·og·niz·ably also Brit rec·og·nis·ably /'rɛkɪg-,naɪzəbli/ adv • recognizably different versions

re·coil /rɪ'kɔɪl/ verb -coils; -coiled; -coil-ing [no obj]

1 : to quickly move away from something that is shocking, frightening, or disgusting : to react to something with shock or fear • We recoiled in horror at the sight of his wounded arm. • He recoiled from her touch. — often used figuratively • We recoiled at the prospect of having to spend that much money to fix the car.

2 of a gun : to move back suddenly when fired • The rifle recoiled and bruised my shoulder.

2 re-coil /'ri:kɔjəl/ noun [singular] : the sudden backward movement of a gun that happens when the gun is fired • The gun has a sharp recoil.

rec-ol-lect /,rɛkə'lekt/ verb -lects; -lect-ed; -lect-ing [+ obj] : to remember (something) • I've been trying to recollect what happened. • I don't recollect telling him anything, but maybe I did. • She couldn't recollect who had mentioned his name in the first place. • From what I recollect, they said four of them were coming.

rec-ol-lec-tion /,rɛkə'leɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : the act of remembering something or the ability to remember something • Her recollection of the accident is very different from mine. • To the best of my recollection [=from what I can remember], I only met them once.

2 [count] : something from the past that is remembered : MEMORY • She has only a vague recollection of her seventh birthday party. • His novel is largely based on his own recollections of his childhood in the inner city. • He says he has no recollection of what happened. [=he doesn't remember what happened]

re-com-mence /,ri:kə'mens/ verb -menc-es; -menced; -menc-ing formal : to begin (something) again after stopping [+ obj] The countries agreed to recommence the peace talks. [no obj] Production will recommence in early fall.

rec-om-mend /,rɛkə'mend/ verb -mends; -mend-ed; -mend-ing [+ obj]

1 : to say that (someone or something) is good and deserves to be chosen • A friend recommended this restaurant. • I can't decide between the lasagna and the salmon. Which do you recommend? • They recommended her for a promotion after only two years. • The film is recommended to anyone who liked her earlier movies.

2 : to suggest that someone do (something) • It is strongly recommended that you change the oil in your car every 5,000 miles. • Take only the recommended dose of cough syrup. • I recommend [=suggest] getting to the theater an hour early to be sure you get tickets. = I recommend that you get to the theater an hour early. • You may decide to pursue the matter in court, but I wouldn't recommend it.

3 : to make (something or someone) seem attractive or good • As a vacation destination, the area has much to recommend it [=there are many things that make it a good vacation destination] • He has little/nothing to recommend him as a political candidate. [=he has little/nothing that suggests he would be an attractive or successful candidate]

rec-om-men-da-tion /,rɛkəmən'deɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : the act of saying that someone or something is good and deserves to be chosen • My boss wrote me a glowing letter of recommendation • We picked this restaurant on his recommendation [=because he recommended it] • Employees are frequently hired on the recommendation of a friend in the company.

2 [count] : a suggestion about what should be done • The report made very specific recommendations for policy reform. • He rejected his doctor's recommendation [=advice] that he work less and exercise more. • The committee's recommendation to hire a new director has been well received.

3 [count] chiefly US : a formal letter that explains why a person is appropriate or qualified for a particular job, school, etc. • The application requires two written recommendations. [=references]

1 rec-om-pense /'rɛkəm,pens/ noun, formal : something that is given to or done to thank or reward someone or to pay someone for loss or suffering [singular] He is asking for a just/fair recompense for the work he's done. [noncount] She is seeking recompense [=compensation] for medical fees. • He received $10,000 in recompense for his injuries.

2 recompense verb -pens-es; -pensed; -pens-ing [+ obj] formal : to give something (such as money) to (someone) as a reward or as a payment for loss or suffering • The company has agreed to recompense [= (more commonly) compensate] her for the injuries she sustained on the job.

re-con /'ri:kə:n/ noun, pl -cons [count, noncount] US, informal : RECONNAISSANCE rec-on-cile /'rɛkən,sajəl/ verb -ciles; -ciled; -cil-ing formal

1 [+ obj] : to find a way of making (two different ideas, facts, etc.) exist or be true at the same time • I'm afraid her story cannot be reconciled with the proven facts. [=her story must be false because it does not agree with the proven facts] • You'll need to reconcile [=settle] your differences with her. • It can be difficult to reconcile your ideals with reality.

2 : to cause people or groups to become friendly again after an argument or disagreement [+ obj] His attempt to reconcile his friends (with each other) was unsuccessful. — often used as (be) reconciled • After many years, they are finally reconciled (with each other). [=they are friendly again] [no obj] We will never reconcile. • After many years, they finally reconciled (with each other).

reconcile to [phrasal verb] reconcile (someone) to (something) : to cause (someone) to accept (something unpleasant) • He eventually became reconciled to his position in life. • I reconciled myself to the loss.

— rec-on-cil-able /,rɛkən'saɪləbəl/ adj • Your theory is easily reconcilable with our results.

rec-on-cil-i-a-tion /,rɛkən,sɪli'eɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions formal

1 : the act of causing two people or groups to become friendly again after an argument or disagreement [noncount] Signing the trade agreement was praised as an act of reconciliation between the two countries. [count] He contacted us in hopes of a reconciliation.

2 : the process of finding a way to make two different ideas, facts, etc., exist or be true at the same time [noncount] The differences in their philosophies are beyond reconciliation. [=cannot be reconciled] [count] a reconciliation of opposing views re-con-dite /'rɛkən,dart/ adj, formal : not understood or known by many people • a recondite subject/fact

re-con-di-tion /,ri:kən'dɪʃən/ verb -tions; -tioned; -tion-ing [+ obj] : to return (something) to good condition by repairing it, cleaning it, or replacing parts • He reconditioned the old car. • a reconditioned engine re-con-fig-ure /,ri:kən'fɪgjə, Brit /,ri:kən'fɪgə/ verb -ure; -ures; -ur-ing [+ obj] : to change the way (something) is arranged or prepared for a particular purpose • We reconfigured the floor space to make it easier to work in. • The network has been reconfigured.

re-con-nais-sance /rɪ'kɑ:nəzəns/ noun, pl -sanc-es : military activity in which soldiers, airplanes, etc., are sent to find out information about an enemy [noncount] There are two helicopters available for reconnaissance. • reconnaissance missions/aircraft [count] They did/conducted a reconnaissance of the enemy's position.

re-con-noi-ter (US) or Brit re-con-noi-tre /,ri:kə'nɔɪtə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing : to go to (a place or area) in order to find out information about a military enemy : to do a reconnaissance of (a place) [+ obj] An expedition reconnoitered the coast to find out the exact location of enemy forces. [no obj] They were sent ahead to reconnoiter.

re-con-sid-er /,ri:kən'sɪdə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing : to think carefully about (someone or something) again especially in order to change a choice or decision you have already made [+ obj] She refused to reconsider her decision not to loan us the money. • Local opposition has forced the company to reconsider building a new warehouse here. [no obj] We hope you will reconsider.

— re-con-sid-er-a-tion /,ri:kən,sɪdə'reɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • The plan was sent back to the board for reconsideration.

re-con-sti-tute /rɪ'kɑ:nstə,tu:t, Brit rɪ'kɒnstə,tju:t/ verb -tutes; -tut-ed; -tut-ing [+ obj]

1 formal : to form (an organization or group) again in a different way • They have plans to reconstitute the bankrupt company. • a newly reconstituted committee

2 technical : to return (something, such as dried food) to a former state by adding water • reconstituted potatoes

— re-con-sti-tu-tion /rɪ,kɑ:nstə'tu:ʃən, Brit rɪ,kɒnstə'tju:ʃən/ noun [noncount]

re-con-struct /,ri:kən'strʌkt/ verb -structs; -struct-ed; -struct-ing [+ obj]

1 : to build (something damaged or destroyed) again • After the earthquake, many houses needed to be reconstructed. • Archaeologists were able to reconstruct most of the ancient village from their findings.

2 : to find out and describe or show the way an event or series of events happened • They are attempting to reconstruct the events that led to the bridge's collapse. • Police reconstructed the crime.

re-con-struc-tion /ˌri:kən'strʌkʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : the act or process of building something that was damaged or destroyed again • the reconstruction of the dam

2 [noncount] : the process of putting something (such as a country) back into a good condition • the reconstruction of postwar Europe • reconstruction of the health-care system

3 : a process in which an event or series of events is carefully examined in order to find out or show exactly what happened [noncount] They were able to determine the cause of the accident by careful reconstruction of the events leading up to it. [count] The police staged a reconstruction of the crime/accident.

4 or Reconstruction [noncount] US : the period from 1867 to 1877 when the southern states joined the northern states again after the American Civil War re-con-struc-tive /ˌri:kən'strʌktɪv/ adj, medical : done on a body part to return it to a former shape or to change the way that it looks • a reconstructive operation • His face was badly damaged and will require reconstructive surgery.

re-con-vene /ˌri:kən'vi:n/ verb -venes; -vened; -ven-ing

1 [no obj] : to meet again after a break • Congress/Parliament will reconvene after the holiday.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (a group of people) to meet again after a break • The association reconvened the conference every three years.

¹rec-ord /ˈrɛkəd/ noun, pl -ords [count]

1 : an official written document that gives proof of something or tells about past events • There is no record of their first meeting. • Please submit your school records [=an official list of your classes, grades, etc.] with your application. • dental/medical/financial/court records • Unfortunately, there is no record of the transaction. • keep/maintain (good) records

2 a — used to talk about the things that someone or something has done in the past • The candidate has a strong environmental record. [=has a history of voting for laws, supporting projects, etc., that help the environment] • a voting record • She has a good driving record. [=she has not had any car accidents, traffic tickets, etc.] • The company has a perfect safety record. [=the company has had no accidents, injuries, etc.] • The team had a losing/winning record last season. [=the team lost/won most of the games it played last season] — see also TRACK RECORD b : CRIMINAL RECORD • The defendant does not have a record. [=has not been arrested in the past for a crime]

3 : a performance or achievement that is the best of its kind • a new record for the high jump • He broke the record for the high jump. [=he jumped higher than anyone else had ever jumped] • She set a record for the most sales in the history of the company. [=she made more sales for the company than anyone else ever had] • He holds the world/Olympic record for the shot put. [=he has thrown the shot put farther than anyone else in the world/Olympics] • She holds the (team/school's) record for the most strikeouts in a game.

4 a : a flat, round disc on which sound or music is recorded • He has a collection of old records. • play a record — sometimes used figuratively • He sounds like a broken record. [=he keeps saying the same thing over and over again] b : a musical recording on a record, CD, etc. • Have you heard the band's latest record? • a hit record [=a record or CD that is very popular and sells many copies] — often used before another noun • an independent record label/company [=a company that produces musical recordings] • She just signed her first record [=more commonly recording] contract.

a matter of record see MATTER

for the record 1 — used to indicate that a statement will be written down in an official record • The judge asked her to state her name for the record. 2 — used to indicate that you are making a statement which is important and should be remembered • I'll do what you want, but (just) for the record, I don't think this is a good idea.

off the record — used to describe a statement that is not official and should not be repeated or made public by being used in a newspaper, magazine, etc. • Government officials did speak to reporters, but only off the record. [=the reporters were not allowed to publish the things the officials said] • Her remarks were strictly off the record. • Off the record, I don't think he has any real chance of winning.

of record formal 1 : having an official status • his attorney of record • the company's shareholders of record 2 : regarded as an accurate and trusted source of information • a newspaper of record

on record 1 — used to indicate that someone is making or has made an official or public statement • She is on record as supporting the program. [=she has publicly stated that she supports the program] • The judge's opinion is on record. • The governor went on record as being opposed to higher taxes. 2 : included or described in official records • This has been one of the worst years on record [=one of the worst years ever recorded] for winter storms.

on the record — used to describe a statement that is official and can be repeated or made public by being used in a newspaper, magazine, etc. • The reporter made it clear that the interview was on the record.

set/put the record straight : to provide the facts about something that people have a false understanding or idea about • Let me set the record straight about what really happened last week.

²re-cord /rɪ'koəd/ verb -cords; -cord-ed; -cord-ing

1 [+ obj] : to write (something) down so that it can be used or seen again in the future : to produce a record of (something) • Be sure to record all your business expenditures. • He recorded the incident in his journal. = The incident was recorded in his journal. = His journal recorded the incident. • The first recorded [=known] case of the disease occurred two years ago. • There are similar events all throughout recorded history.

2 [+ obj] : to show a measurement of (something) : to indicate (something) • The thermometer recorded 40 degrees below zero. • A seismograph is a device that measures and records the intensity of earthquakes.

3 : to store (something, such as sounds, music, images, etc.) on tape or on a disk so that it can be heard or seen later : to produce a recording of (something) [+ obj] Please record the television program for me. • He recorded the birthday party with his new video camera. • He just recorded his latest album. • The show is recorded in front of a live audience. [no obj] The band spent all night recording. — see also PRERECORD

³rec-ord /ˈrɛkəd/ adj, always used before a noun : best or most remarkable among other similar things • We've had record temperatures. [=temperatures that are higher/lower than temperatures have ever been at this time of year] • He finished in record time. [=in the least amount of time ever] • A record number [=the highest number ever] of voters turned out for the election. • Gas prices are at a record high. [=higher than they have ever been] record book noun, pl ~ books [count] : a book that has records of the best or most remarkable performances or achievements in a particular sport or activity — usually used figuratively • His long jump earned him a place in the record book. [=his long jump set a record] • That game was one for the record books. [=many records were set during that game]

record-breaking adj, always used before a noun : better, greater, higher, etc., than any other in the past : beyond any previous record • a record-breaking high jump • The outdoor concert drew a record-breaking crowd to the park. [=the largest crowd to ever be at the park]

— record breaker noun, pl ~ -ers [count]

recorded delivery noun [noncount] Brit : CERTIFIED MAIL • I sent the package by recorded delivery.

re-cord-er /rɪ'koədə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a device that records sounds or images or both so that they can be heard or seen again — see also COCKPIT VOICE RECORDER, FLIGHT RECORDER, TAPE RECORDER

2 : a musical instrument that is shaped like a tube with holes and that is played by blowing into the top of the tube — see picture at WOODWIND

3 : a judge in some courts of law

4 : a person whose job is to record official information • She works as the clerk and recorder at the county courthouse.

record holder noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : the person or thing that has achieved something no other person or thing has achieved : a person or thing that holds a record • He is the marathon world record holder. [=he has run a marathon in less time than any other person in the world] • They're developing an airplane that is expected to be faster than the current record holder.

re-cord-ing /rɪ'koədɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [count] : music, sounds, or images that have been stored on a record, CD, computer, etc., so that they can be heard or seen again • a digital recording • early recordings of jazz

2 [noncount] : the act or process of storing sounds or images on tape or a disk — usually used before another noun • a recording studio/session • a recording artist [=a person who performs music for recordings]

record player noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a device used for playing musical records

¹re-count /rɪ'kaʊnt/ verb -counts; -count-ed; -count-ing [+ obj] formal : to tell someone about (something that happened) : to describe or give an account of (an event) • John later recounted how he got lost on the way home. • He recounted the conversation that he had with his boss. — compare ²RECOUNT

²re-count /rɪ'kaʊnt/ verb -counts; -count-ed; -count-ing [+ obj] : to count (something) again • They carefully recounted the votes. • We recounted the money to make sure it was all there. — compare ¹RECOUNT

³re-count /rɪ'kaʊnt/ noun, pl -counts [count] : a second count of the votes in a very close election • The election was very close and the loser demanded a recount.

re-coup /rɪ'ku:p/ verb -coups; -couped; -coup-ing [+ obj] : to get back (money that has been spent, invested, lost, etc.) : RECOVER • It will be hard for us to recoup the loss. • Movie studios can turn to video sales to recoup the costs of a movie that does poorly at the box office. • She recouped only a portion of her investment.

re-course /rɪ'kɔ:s, Brit rɪ'kɔ:s/ noun [noncount] : an opportunity or choice to use or do something in order to deal with a problem or situation • His only recourse [=the only thing he can do] is to file a complaint with the management. • She has no legal recourse against the magazine. [=there is no legal action she can take against the magazine] • He had no recourse to legal help. [=he was not able to get legal help] • The dispute was settled without recourse to law.

re-cov-er /rɪ'kʌvə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing

1 [no obj] a : to become healthy after an illness or injury : to return to normal health • She had a heart attack but is recovering well. — often + from • He's at home recovering from the flu. • I feel fully recovered from my surgery. b : to return to a normal state after a period of difficulty • Share prices will be down until the economy recovers. — often + from • The team never recovered from the devastating loss. • The city will recover from this recession eventually.

2 [+ obj] a : to get (something, such as an ability or feeling) again • He'll try again when he recovers [=regains] his confidence. • She recovered consciousness in the hospital. • I slipped, but somehow recovered my balance. • He suffered a stroke and hasn't yet recovered the use of his left arm. b : to get back (something stolen or lost) • The police recovered his stolen wallet. • The program helps users recover computer files that have been deleted. • a recovered computer file — often + from • Very little was recovered from the wrecked ship.

c : to get back (money that has been spent, invested, etc.) • The author gets no royalties until the publisher recovers [=recoups] the expenses of publication. • He may sue the company to recover damages for injuries caused by the device. [=to get money from the company to make up for being injured by the device]

— re-cov-er-able /rɪ'kʌvərəbəl/ adj

re-cov-er /rɪ'kʌvə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing [+ obj] : to cover (something) again : to put a new cover on (something) • She re-covered the old chair with a new fabric.

re-cov-er-ing /rɪ'kʌvərɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun : in a state in which you have stopped or are trying to stop a behavior (such as drinking alcohol or using drugs) that you have been doing for a long time and that is harmful to you • a recovering alcoholic • recovering drug addicts • (humorous) He describes himself as "a recovering politician."

re-cov-ery /rɪ'kʌvəri/ noun, pl -er-ies

1 [count] : the act or process of becoming healthy after an illness or injury : the act or process of recovering — usually singular • The patient made a miraculous recovery. • Therapy played a vital role in his recovery. • The card said, "Best wishes for a speedy recovery." [=a quick return to health] • She is expected to make a complete/full recovery. [=to recover fully; to have no lasting health problems] • She's on the road to recovery. [=in the process of becoming healthy again]

2 : the act or process of returning to a normal state after a period of difficulty [count] — usually singular • the forest's natural recovery after a fire • The army helped with the recovery efforts after the storm. • We should see a gradual eco-nomi*c recovery* in the next few months. [noncount] This policy may slow the pace of economic recovery.

3 [noncount] : the return of something that has been lost, stolen, etc. • We hope for the recovery of the stolen paintings. • Their mission was the recovery of the space capsule. • programmers trained in data recovery [=getting back computer files that are or seem to be lost]

4 [noncount] : the act or process of stopping the use of drugs, alcohol, etc., and returning to a healthy way of living • Admitting that you are addicted to a drug is an important step toward recovery. • She's battled alcoholism most of her life, but she's in recovery now.

5 [noncount] : the act of getting something (such as oil, gas, gold, etc.) out of a substance that is deep in the ground • a technique used in oil and gas recovery

recovery room noun, pl ~ rooms [count] : a room in a hospital where patients are taken for special care after an operation

re-cre-ate /rɪ'kri'eɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] : to make (something from the past) exist or seem to exist again : to create (something) again • The movie set re-creates a London street of 1895. • The scene of the crime was re-created based upon police photographs.

— re-cre-a-tion /rɪ'kri'eɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] a perfect re-creation of a colonial village [noncount] The investigation involved careful re-creation of the crime scene.

rec-re-a-tion /rɛkri'eɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : something people do to relax or have fun : activities done for enjoyment [noncount] The fields next to the school are used for recreation. • a recreation center/area/facility [count] Hiking and gardening are our favorite recreations. [=pastimes]

rec-re-a-tion-al /rɛkri'eɪʃənəl/ adj

1 : done for enjoyment • recreational activities

2 of a drug : used for pleasure instead of for medical purposes • Marijuana is a recreational drug. • recreational drug users recreational vehicle noun, pl ~ -cles [count] US : a large vehicle that often has a bathroom, kitchen, and beds for use during travel and camping; especially : MOTOR HOME — called also RV; compare CAMPER recreation ground noun, pl ~ grounds [count] Brit : an area of public land that is used for sports and outdoor games recreation room noun, pl ~ rooms [count]

1 : a public room in a school, hospital, etc., that is used for games and social activities

2 US : a room in a house that is used for playing games, watching television, etc. — called also (informal) rec room

re-crim-i-na-tion /rɪ'krɪmə'neɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : an angry statement in which you accuse or criticize a person who has accused or criticized you [count] The discussion turned into a heated debate with recriminations flying back and forth. [noncount] The meeting ended with bitterness and recrimination. • words of recrimination

rec room /rɛk-/ noun, pl ~ rooms [count] US, informal : RECREATION ROOM

¹re-cruit /rɪ'kru:t/ verb -cruits; -cruit-ed; -cruit-ing

1 a : to find suitable people and get them to join a company, an organization, the armed forces, etc. [+ obj] He was recruited by the army after high school. • Public schools are recruiting new teachers. • College football coaches spend a lot of time recruiting high school athletes. [no obj] College football coaches spend a lot of time recruiting. • Some parents don't think the military should be recruiting from high schools. b [+ obj] : to form or build (a group, team, army, etc.) by getting people to join • We recruited a crew of volunteers to help us. • recruit a regiment • recruit an army

2 [+ obj] : to persuade (someone) to join you in some activity or to help you • I recruited my brother to drive us to the concert. • She recruited four friends to distribute food to the homeless with her.

— re-cruit-er noun, pl -ers [count] • an army recruiter — re-cruit-ment /rɪ'kru:tmənt/ noun [noncount] • recruitment of college graduates

²recruit noun, pl -cruits [count]

1 : a person who has recently joined the armed forces • army recruits

2 : a person who has recently joined a company, organization, etc. • the newest recruit on the team • She's one of the department's new recruits.

rec-tal /rɛktl/ adj, medical : relating to, affecting, or located near the rectum • rectal cancer rect-an-gle /rɛk,tæŋɡəl/ noun, pl -an-gles [count] geometry : a four-sided shape that is made up of two pairs of parallel lines and that has four right angles; especially : a shape in which one pair of lines is longer than the other pair • squares and rectangles — see picture at GEOMETRY

– rect-an-gu-lar /ˈrɛkˈtæŋɡjələ/ adj • a rectangular shape rec-ti-fy /ˈrɛktəˌfaɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing [+ obj] formal : to correct (something that is wrong) • The hotel management promised to rectify the problem/situation.

– rec-ti-fi-ca-tion /ˈrɛktəfəˈkeɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

rec-ti-lin-e-ar /ˈrɛktəˈlɪniə/ adj, technical : made with straight lines • rectilinear forms/designs/shapes : having many straight lines • the rectilinear skyline/architecture of a modern city rec-ti-tude /ˈrɛktəˌtuːd, Brit ˈrɛktəˌtjuːd/ noun [noncount] formal : the quality of being honest and morally correct • No one questioned his moral rectitude. [=integrity]

rec-tor /ˈrɛktə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

1 : a priest or minister who is in charge of a church or parish

2 chiefly Brit : a person who is in charge of a university or school rec-to-ry /ˈrɛktəri/ noun, pl -ries [count] : the house where the rector of a Christian church lives rec-tum /ˈrɛktəm/ noun, pl -tums [count] medical : the end of the tube in your body that helps digest food : the last part of the large intestine — see picture at HUMAN re-cum-bent /rɪˈkʌmbənt/ adj, formal : lying down • The Egyptian sphinx has the body of a recumbent lion. • a recumbent position

re-cu-per-ate /rɪˈkuːpəˌreɪt, Brit rɪˈkjuːpəˌreɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing

1 [no obj] : to return to normal health or strength after being sick, injured, etc. : RECOVER • She took a day off to recuperate. — often + from • Dad is recuperating from knee surgery.

2 [+ obj] Brit : to get back (money that has been spent, invested, lost, etc.) • The company is expected to recuperate [=recoup, recover] its losses in the next two months.

– re-cu-per-a-tion /rɪˈkuːpəˌreɪʃən, Brit rɪˈkjuːpəˌreɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

re-cu-per-a-tive /rɪˈkuːpəˌreɪtɪv, Brit rɪˈkjuːpəˌreɪtɪv/ adj, formal : helping you to return to normal health or strength : helping you to recuperate • the recuperative [=healing] powers of the body [=the body's ability to heal] re-cur /rɪˈkə/ verb -curs; -curred; -cur-ring [no obj] : to happen or appear again : to occur again • There is only a slight chance that the disease will recur. • The same problem keeps recurring.

– recurring adj • She suffers from recurring headaches. • a recurring injury/nightmare re-cur-rence /rɪˈkərəns/ noun, pl -renc-es : a new occurrence of something that happened or appeared before [count] We hope to prevent a recurrence of the disease. [non-count] high/low rates of recurrence re-cur-rent /rɪˈkərənt/ adj : happening or appearing again and again • a recurrent fever/infection • The loss of innocence is a recurrent theme in his stories.

– re-cur-rent-ly adv

re-cy-cle /rɪˈsaɪkəl/ verb -cy-cles; -cy-cled; -cy-cling

1 a [+ obj] : to make something new from (something that has been used before) • The company recycles plastic. • They're studying various ways to recycle garbage into fuel. • The oil is recycled. • The doormat is made from recycled tires.
b : to send (used newspapers, bottles, cans, etc.) to a place where they are made into something new [+ obj] Town residents are required to recycle cans and bottles. [no obj] We make efforts to recycle.

2 [+ obj] : to use (something) again • The author recycles a familiar story in her latest novel.

– re-cy-cla-ble /rɪˈsaɪkləbəl/ adj • recyclable bottles
– recyclable noun, pl -cla-bles [count] • Put all recyclables [=recyclable materials] in the green bin.
– recycling noun [noncount] • The recycling of plastics is encouraged. • (US) Put the recycling [=the materials that can be recycled] out by the curb in the morning. — often used before another noun • a recycling plant [=a factory that recycles materials] • the city's recycling program

¹red /ˈrɛd/ adj red-der; red-dest [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having the color of blood • a shiny red fire truck • bright red shoes • dark red apples

2 : reddish brown or reddish orange in color • She has red hair. [=she is a redhead] • a red fox

3 of a person's face : pink because of embarrassment, anger, etc. • His face turns red when he gets angry. • When she realized her mistake, she turned beet red [=she blushed] • (Brit)

His face went red with embarrassment.

4 of eyes : having many red lines from lack of sleep, drunkenness, etc. : BLOODSHOT • Her eyes were red from crying.

5 somewhat old-fashioned, informal + disapproving : supporting Communism : COMMUNIST a red rag to a bull Brit, informal : something that makes a person very angry • Just mentioning his poor marks to him was waving a red rag to a bull.

not one red cent see CENT

paint the town red see ²PAINT

– red-ness /ˈrɛdnəs/ noun [noncount] • There was swelling and redness around the site of the bee sting.

²red noun, pl reds

1 : the color of blood [noncount] The artist uses red to symbolize passion. • a lady dressed in red [count] the reds and oranges of autumn leaves — see color picture on page C1

2 [count, noncount] : RED WINE

3 Red [count] somewhat old-fashioned, informal + disapproving : a Communist or someone who supports Communists in the red : spending and owing more money than is being earned • Apparently the company had been in the red [=had been losing money] for some time before it went out of business. — compare in the black at ²BLACK see red informal : to become very angry • The construction delays on the highway have many commuters seeing red.

red alert noun, pl ~ alerts : a warning that there is great danger [count] — usually singular • The commander issued a red alert. • A red alert was sounded on the island as the storm approached. [noncount] The troops have been put on red alert

red blood cell noun, pl ~ cells [count] : a red-colored blood cell that carries oxygen from the lungs to other parts of the body — called also red blood corpuscle, red cell, red corpuscle; compare WHITE BLOOD CELL

red-blood-ed /ˈrɛdˈblədəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : full of energy, strength, and strong emotion • Every red-blooded teenager wants a car. • your average red-blooded sports fan • I did what any red-blooded woman would do: I demanded an apology.

red-brick /ˈrɛdˌbrɪk/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : made of red bricks • a historic redbrick mansion

2 Brit — used to describe British universities that were created in the late 19th or early 20th century and that have buildings made of red bricks • He attended a redbrick university. — compare OXBRIDGE red card noun, pl ~ cards [count] soccer : a red card that a referee holds in the air to indicate that a player who has broken the rules of the game will not be allowed to continue playing — compare YELLOW CARD

red carpet noun

roll out the red carpet : to formally greet or welcome an important guest who has just arrived • The governor rolled out the red carpet for his dinner guests.

– red-carpet adj, always used before a noun • a red-carpet welcome • We got the red-carpet treatment [=we were treated like very important people] when we arrived.

red cell noun, pl ~ cells [count] : RED BLOOD CELL

red-coat /ˈrɛdˌkəʊt/ noun, pl -coats [count] : a British soldier of the 18th and early 19th centuries and especially during the American Revolution

red corpuscle noun, pl ~ -puscles [count] : RED BLOOD CELL

Red Crescent noun

the Red Crescent : an organization in Islamic countries that helps people who are suffering because of a war or natural disaster

Red Cross noun

the Red Cross : an international organization that helps people who are suffering because of a war or natural disaster

red deer noun, pl ~ deer [count] : a large kind of deer with big antlers that lives in Europe, Asia, and Africa — compare ELK 1 red-den /ˈrɛdn/ verb -dens; -dened; -den-ing : to make something red or to become red [+ obj] First-degree burns redden the skin. [no obj] Her face reddened when her name was announced.

red-dish /ˈrɛdɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : somewhat red • the reddish clay • She has reddish-brown hair.

re-dec-o-rate /rɪˈdɛkəˌreɪt/ verb -rates; -rat-ed; -rat-ing : to change the appearance of the inside of a house, building, or room by painting the walls, changing the furniture, etc.

[+ obj] They redecorated [=redid] three rooms in their house.
[no obj] She helped us redecorate.

– re-dec-o-ra-tion /ri,dɛkə'reɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

re-deem /rɪ'di:m/ verb -deems; -deemed; -deem-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (something that is bad, unpleasant, etc.) better or more acceptable • The exciting ending partially redeems what is otherwise a very dull movie. • The restaurant's excellent service is not enough to redeem [=compensate for] the mediocre food. • He wants to redeem his reputation.

2 : to exchange (something, such as a coupon or lottery ticket) for money, an award, etc. • You can redeem this coupon at any store. • You have 90 days to redeem your winning lottery ticket. • This voucher can be redeemed for a free meal at several local restaurants.

3 : to buy back (something, such as a stock or bond) • The government will pay you interest when it redeems the bonds you bought. • The company redeemed some of its stock.

4 : to pay back (money that is owed) • redeem a debt

5 formal : to do what is required by (a pledge or a promise) : FULFILL • The President redeemed his campaign promise. [=he did what he promised to do]

6 Christianity : to save (people) from sin and evil • They believe that Jesus Christ was sent here to redeem us from sin.

redeem yourself : to succeed or do something good after you have failed or done something bad • They can redeem themselves for yesterday's loss by winning today's game.

re-deem-able /rɪ'di:məbəl/ adj

1 : able to be exchanged for money or goods • The gift certificate is redeemable at any store location. • (Brit) The voucher is redeemable against any purchase.

2 US : able to make something that is bad or unpleasant more acceptable, enjoyable, etc. • That movie had no redeemable [=redeeming] qualities whatsoever. [=nothing about the movie was good, enjoyable, etc.]

re-deem-ing /rɪ'di:mɪŋ/ adj : making a bad or unpleasant thing or person better or more acceptable • He had few redeeming qualities. [=he had few good qualities to offset his bad qualities] • The job's only redeeming feature is the employee discount.

re-deem-er /rɪ'di:mə/ noun, pl -ers

1 [count] : a person who brings goodness, honor, etc., to something again : a person who redeems something • He was considered the redeemer of the family's reputation/virtue.

2 the Redeemer : JESUS CHRIST

re-demp-tion /rɪ'dɛmpʃən/ noun, pl -tions : the act, process, or result of redeeming something or someone: such as a [noncount] : the act of making something better or more acceptable • the redemption of his reputation • The situation is beyond/past redemption. [=it is too bad to be corrected or improved]
b : the act of exchanging something for money, an award, etc. [count] stock redemptions [noncount] the redemption of coupons
c [noncount] Christianity : the act of saving people from sin and evil • the redemption of sinners : the fact of being saved from sin or evil • a sinner's search for redemption • bad people who are beyond/past redemption [=who cannot be saved]

– re-demp-tive /rɪ'dɛmptɪv/ adj • the redemptive power of art/love/sports

re-de-ploy /rɪ'di'plɔɪ/ verb -ploys; -ployed; -ploy-ing

1 : to move (soldiers or equipment) to a new area [+ obj] The soldiers were redeployed to the country's capital. [no obj] Most units will redeploy to their home bases.

2 [+ obj] formal : to move (something, such as money) from one area or activity to another • They redeployed their assets into mutual funds.

– re-de-ploy-ment /rɪ'di'ploɪmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount]

re-de-sign /rɪ'di'zain/ verb -signs; -signed; -sign-ing [+ obj] : to change the design of (something) • The book's cover has been redesigned for the new edition. • We're redesigning our kitchen. • a newly redesigned Web site – redesign noun, pl -signs [count, noncount] • The redesign of the Web site has been a great success.

re-de-vel-op /rɪ'di'veləp/ verb -ops; -oped; -op-ing

1 : to change the appearance of an area especially by repairing and adding new buildings, stores, roads, etc. [+ obj] The city has plans to redevelop the neighborhood. — often used as (be) redeveloped • A portion of the property is being redeveloped into condos. [no obj] The city has plans to redevelop.

2 [no obj] : to happen or develop again • We need to make sure that these problems don't redevelop.

– re-de-vel-op-ment /rɪ'di'veləpmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount] • urban redevelopment

red-eye /'rɛd,aɪ/ noun, pl -eyes

1 [count] US, informal : a flight in a passenger airplane that happens late at night or that continues through the night • He caught/took the red-eye to Los Angeles. • a red-eye flight red-faced adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing a red face especially because you are embarrassed, angry, or ashamed • I was red-faced [=very embarrassed] when I realized the stupid mistake I'd made. • He was red-faced with rage/shame.

2 [noncount] : the appearance of a person's eyes as red in a photograph that was taken with a flash • The digital photo editing program can be used to remove red-eye.

red flag noun, pl ~ flags [count] : a warning sign : a sign that there is a problem that should be noticed or dealt with • Gaps in your employment history are red flags to employers.

red giant noun, pl ~ giants [count] astronomy : a very large star that has a reddish color

red-hand-ed /'rɛd'hændəd/ adv : while doing something wrong or illegal • The robbers were caught red-handed by the police. [=the robbers were caught while they were stealing] red-head /'rɛd,hɛd/ noun, pl -heads [count] : a person who has red hair • Her brothers are both redheads.

– red-head-ed /'rɛd,hɛdəd/ adj • a redheaded actress red herring noun, pl ~ -rings [count] : something unimportant that is used to stop people from noticing or thinking about something important • The argument is a red herring. It actually has nothing to do with the issue. • The plot of the mystery was full of red herrings.

red-hot /'rɛd'hɑ:t/ adj

1 a : glowing red because of being very hot • red-hot coals

b : extremely hot • a red-hot iron • a bowl of red-hot chili

2 informal a : very active or successful • The local economy has been red-hot. • The team is red-hot again this year. b : extremely popular • a red-hot vacation destination c : new and exciting • red-hot news

re-dial /'ri:,dajəl/ verb -dials; US -dialed or Brit -dialled; US -dial-ing or Brit -dial-ling : to select a series of numbers on a telephone again : to dial again [+ obj] Did you re-dial the number? [no obj] The number was busy, so she re-dialed.

– redial noun [noncount] • The phone has a redial function. • You can dial the same number again by pressing the redial button.

redid past tense of REDO

red ink noun [noncount] chiefly US — used to describe a situation in which a business, organization, etc., is spending more money than it is earning and has a lot of debt • The company was drowning/awash in red ink. [=deeply in debt]

re-di-rect /rɪ'də'rekt/ verb -rects; -rect-ed; -rect-ing [+ obj]

1 : to change the path or direction of (something) • They dug trenches near the river to redirect the flow of the water. • Traffic will be redirected to avoid downtown. • Visitors to the old Web site address are redirected automatically to the new one. • I tried to redirect their attention to the other painting.

2 : to use (something) for a different purpose • redirect tax dollars • It's time to redirect your energy to your homework.

3 Brit : to send (a letter or package) to a new mailing address : FORWARD

– re-di-rec-tion /rɪ'də'rekʃən/ noun [noncount]

re-dis-cov-er /rɪ'di'skʌvə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing [+ obj] : to find (something lost or forgotten) again : to discover (something) again • She rediscovered her love of ballet when she was in her 50s.

re-dis-trib-ute /rɪ'di'stri'bju:t/ verb -utes; -ut-ed; -ut-ing [+ obj] : to divide (something) among a group in a different way • Unused federal funds will be redistributed to other states. • The government redistributed the land to the settlers.

– re-dis-trib-u-tion /rɪ,distrə'bju:ʃən/ noun [noncount] • the redistribution of wealth re-dis-trict /rɪ'dɪstrɪkt/ verb -tricts; -trict-ed; -trict-ing [+ obj] US : to divide (a town, state, etc.) into new political or school districts • The town was redistricted last year.

red-letter day noun, pl ~ days [count] informal : a very happy and important day • Yesterday was a red-letter day for the graduating class.

red-light adj, always used before a noun : having many prostitutes • the city's red-light district/area

red meat noun [noncount] : meat that is red when it is raw — used especially to refer to beef; compare WHITE MEAT

red-neck /'red,nek/ noun, pl -necks [count] US, informal + usually disapproving : a white person who lives in a small town or in the country especially in the southern U.S., who typically has a working-class job, and who is seen by others as being uneducated and having opinions and attitudes that are offensive

— redneck also red-necked /'red,nekt/ adj • a redneck sheriff • a redneck town

re-do /ri'du:/ verb -does /ri'daz/; -did /ri'did/; -done /ri'dan/; -do-ing /ri'du:wiŋ/ [+ obj]

1 : to do (something) again especially in order to do it better • Let's hope we don't have to redo our paperwork.

2 : to change (something, such as a room or part of a room) so that it looks new or different • I want to redo the kitchen and put in new cabinets and new appliances.

— re-do /ri'du:/ noun, pl -dos [count] informal • There are no redos in the Olympics. [=there are no opportunities to do something again if you do not like how you did it the first time]

red-o-lent /'redələnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary + formal

1 : having a strong smell : full of a fragrance or odor • a redolent bouquet — often + of • a room redolent of spices — often + with • The sauce was redolent with the smell of basil.

2 : causing thoughts or memories of something • a room redolent [=reminiscent] of the 1940s

re-dou-ble /ri'dəbəl/ verb -dou-bles; -dou-bled; -dou-bling

: to greatly increase the size or amount of (something) [+ obj] They redoubled their efforts to finish the work on time. [no obj] Their efforts to finish the work redoubled as the deadline drew near.

re-doubt /ri'daʊt/ noun, pl -doubts [count]

1 : a small building or area that gives protection to soldiers under attack

2 : a safe or protected place • The refugees gathered in a hilly redoubt several miles outside the city.

re-doubt-able /ri'daʊtəbəl/ adj, literary + formal : causing or deserving great fear or respect : very powerful, impressive, etc. • a redoubtable [=formidable] warrior • There is a new biography of the redoubtable Winston Churchill.

re-dound /ri'daʊnd/ verb -dounds; -dound-ed; -dounding [no obj] formal : to have a particular result — used especially to describe how something affects someone or something or affects the opinion that people have about someone or something; + to • It redounds to his credit that he worked so hard to prevent this crisis. [=he deserves credit for working so hard] • a policy that may redound to the advantage of our competitors [=that may help our competitors]

red panda noun, pl ~ panda also ~ pandas [count] : a small Asian animal that has reddish-brown fur and a long tail

red pepper noun, pl ~ -pers

1 [count] : a type of hollow vegetable (called a pepper) that is red and that can be eaten raw or cooked

2 [count] : a hot pepper that is red and that is added to food to make it spicy; also [noncount] : CAYENNE PEPPER

re-draft /ri'dræft, Brit ri'dra:ft/ verb -drafts; -draft-ed; -draft-ing [+ obj] : to make a new version of (a document, plan, etc.) • A meeting was called to redraft the state budget proposal.

re-draw /ri'dra:/ verb -draws; -drew; -drawn; -draw-ing [+ obj] : to draw (something) again usually in a different way • The company is redrawing its logo. — often used figuratively • The country's borders were redrawn after the war. [=the borders were changed]

¹re-dress /ri'dres/ verb -dress-es; -dressed; -dress-ing [+ obj] formal : to correct (something that is unfair or wrong)

• We hope that all these grievances/problems will be redressed [=remedied] immediately. • It is time to redress the injustices of the past. • They've been treated unfairly, and it's time to redress the balance. [=make the situation fair]

²redress noun [noncount] formal : something (such as money) that is given to someone to make up for damage, trouble, etc. • Their lawyer has said that they intend to seek redress [=compensation] through the courts.

red-shirt /'red,ʃɪt/ noun, pl -shirts [count] US, sports : a college athlete who practices with a team but does not play any official games ♦ Since college athletes are only officially allowed to play for four years, being a redshirt for a year makes it possible for an athlete to attend the school for five years and play for four of those years. • a redshirt freshman — redshirt verb -shirts; -shirt-ed; -shirt-ing [+ obj] He was redshirted his freshman year. [no obj] He redshirted (during) his freshman year.

red-skin /'red,skin/ noun, pl -skins [count] informal + offensive : NATIVE AMERICAN ♦ The word redskin is very offensive and should be avoided.

red-tailed hawk /'red,teɪld-/ noun, pl ~ hawks [count] : a type of American hawk that has a reddish tail — called also redtail red tape noun [noncount] disapproving : a series of actions or complicated tasks that seem unnecessary but that a government or organization requires you to do in order to get or do something • bureaucratic red tape • You would not believe the red tape involved in getting the required permits.

re-duce /ri'du:s, Brit ri'dju:s/ verb -duc-es; -duced; -duc-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make (something) smaller in size, amount, number, etc. : DECREASE • The medicine reduces the risk of infection. • We are trying to reduce our debt. • Stricter speed limit enforcement has reduced the number of car accidents. • Her prison sentence was reduced from 15 years to 10. • a drastically reduced price

2 [+ obj] a : to cause (someone) to be in a specified state or condition — + to • The movie's ending reduced them to tears. [=made them cry] • The crowd was reduced to silence. [=became suddenly silent] b : to cause (something) to be in a specified form by breaking it, burning it, etc. — + to • reduce stone to powder • mountains that will someday be reduced to sand • Their house was reduced to ashes [=was completely burned/destroyed] by the fire. • The city was reduced to rubble/ruins by the bombing. c : to force (someone) to do something that causes shame, embarrassment, etc. — followed by to + -ing verb • The museum has been reduced to begging for funding.

3 [+ obj] : to describe (something) in a way that includes only some of the facts and details — + to • You're reducing religion to a list of do's and don'ts. • Her argument can be reduced to a few essential points.

4 : to boil (a liquid) so that there is less of it [+ obj] Simmer the broth until it is reduced to 2 cups. [=until there are only two cups of it] [no obj] Simmer the broth until it reduces to 2 cups.

5 [+ obj] : to change (someone's rank) to a lower or less important one • As part of her sentence, the sergeant's rank was reduced to private.

6 [no obj] US, informal : to gradually decrease your weight by eating less • He's on a (weight) reducing diet.

7 [+ obj] mathematics : to change (a fraction) so that it is written with the lowest possible numbers • You can reduce $\frac{3}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$.

reduced circumstances formal : a situation in which you have less money than you used to have • He found himself living in reduced circumstances after he lost his job. • We will have to adjust to our reduced circumstances.

— re-duc-er noun, pl -ers [count] • a fever reducer • noise/weight reducers — re-duc-ible /ri'du:səbəl, Brit ri'dju:səbəl/ adj • The theories are not reducible to easy interpretation. • The fraction is reducible.

re-duc-tion /ri'dʌkʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : the act of making something smaller in size, amount, number, etc. : the act of reducing something [count] a drastic/marked/sharp/significant reduction in size • troop reductions = reductions in the number of troops • cost/price/rate reductions [noncount] Many voters want to see some reduction of the deficit.

2 [count] : an amount by which something is reduced • There is a 20 percent reduction on selected items during this sale.

re-duc-tive /ri'dʌktɪv/ adj, formal + often disapproving : dealing with or describing something complicated in a simple or too simple way • a reductive interpretation of the theory • reductive methods of analysis

re-dun-dan-cy /ri'dʌndənsi/ noun, pl -cies

1 a [noncount] : the act of using a word, phrase, etc., that repeats something else and is therefore unnecessary • Avoid redundancy in your writing. b [count] : a word, phrase, etc., that repeats something else and is therefore unnecessary : a redundant word, phrase, etc. • Try to avoid using redundancies in your writing.

2 technical : a part in a machine, system, etc., that has the same function as another part and that exists so that the entire machine, system, etc., will not fail if the main part fails [count] The design incorporates several redundancies. [noncount] a system with a high level of redundancy

3 Brit a : the act of ending the employment of a worker or group of workers [count] compulsory/voluntary redundancies [=layoffs] [noncount] The restructuring is expected to result in the redundancy of several hundred workers. b [noncount] : the fact of being dismissed from a job because you are no longer needed • The workers are now facing redundancy.

re·dun·dant /rɪˈdʌndənt/ adj

1 : repeating something else and therefore unnecessary • He edited the paper and removed any redundant information or statements. • Avoid redundant expressions in your writing. • Some people say that since all adages are old, the phrase “old adage” is redundant.

2 technical — used to describe part of a machine, system, etc., that has the same function as another part and that exists so that the entire machine, system, etc., will not fail if the main part fails • The design incorporates several redundant features.

3 Brit : dismissed from a job because you are no longer needed • More than 200 of the company’s employees have already been made redundant. [=laid off]

— re·dun·dant·ly adv • In the phrase “old adage,” “old” is sometimes thought of as being used redundantly.

red wine noun, pl ~ wines [count, noncount] : wine that has a red color

red·wood /ˈred,wʊd/ noun, pl -woods

1 [count] : a very tall evergreen tree

2 [noncount] : the wood of a redwood

red zone noun

the red zone American football : the area of the field that is inside an opponent’s 20-yard line • The team has had trouble scoring when it gets into the red zone.

reed /ˈri:d/ noun, pl reeds [count]

1 : a tall, thin grass that grows in wet areas • the reeds along the edge of a pond

2 a : a thin strip of wood, metal, or plastic inside some musical instruments (such as clarinets and oboes) that makes a sound when you blow over it b : a musical instrument that has a reed • the orchestra’s reeds • the reed section of the orchestra

re·ed·u·cate /riˈɛdʒə,keɪt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to teach (someone) to do or understand something in a new way • The program reeducates people about how to eat in a more healthful way. • (disapproving) camps that were used to “reeducate” political prisoners [=to force political prisoners to accept the official ideas and beliefs of the government]

2 : to train (someone) for a different job • We need to reeducate the workers who lost their jobs when the factory closed.

— re·ed·u·ca·tion /riˈɛdʒəˈkeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • a need for reeducation about how to eat in a more healthful way • reeducation camps for political prisoners reedy /ˈri:di/ adj reed·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : full of or covered with reeds • a reedy marsh

2 : having a weak, high-pitched sound • reedy music/voices

3 US : long and thin • reedy legs/arms reef /ˈri:f/ noun, pl reefs [count] : a long line of rocks or coral or a high area of sand near the surface of the water in the ocean — see also BARRIER REEF, CORAL REEF

ree·fer /ˈri:fə/ noun, pl -fers informal + old-fashioned

1 [noncount] : MARIJUANA • smoking reefer

2 [count] : a marijuana cigarette • smoking a reefer reef knot noun, pl ~ knots [count] chiefly Brit : SQUARE KNOT

reek /ˈri:k/ verb reeks; reeked; reek·ing [no obj]

1 : to have a very strong and unpleasant smell • The garbage reeks. [=stinks] — often + of • The room reeked of smoke.

2 usually disapproving — used to say that it is very obvious that someone or something has a lot of a specified thing; usually + of • a neighborhood that reeks of poverty [=a neighborhood in which everyone is clearly very poor] • She reeks of money. [=she dresses, acts, etc., in a way that shows that she has a lot of money]

¹reel /ˈri:l/ noun, pl reels [count]

1 a : a device shaped like a cylinder that a string, cord, etc., is wrapped around • a garden hose reel • (Brit) a cotton reel [= (US) a spool of thread] b : a device that is attached to the handle of a fishing pole and used to wrap and release the line • He bought a new rod and (fishing) reel. — see picture at FISHING c : an object that is used to hold and release film or tape • a reel of film

2 : a part of a movie that is on a reel of film • There’s an exciting chase scene in the movie’s second reel.

— compare ⁴REEL

²reel verb reels; reeled; reel·ing

reel in [phrasal verb] reel (something) in or reel in (something) : to pull in (a fish that is caught on a hook on the end of a fishing line) by turning the reel of a fishing rod reel off [phrasal verb] reel (something) off or reel off (something) : to say (something) easily and quickly • She reeled off the right answers without hesitation.

— compare ³REEL

³reel verb reels; reeled; reeling [no obj]

1 : to be very shocked, confused; and upset • Still reeling from the death of her husband, she was now dealing with having to find a new job. • I couldn’t believe what I was hearing. My head reeled.

2 : to move or fall back suddenly • He suddenly reeled back against the wall. • The surprise attack sent the enemy reeling.

3 : to move or walk in a way that is very unsteady • He was reeling drunkenly down the street. • They reeled around the room, laughing hysterically. • When she opened her eyes, the room was reeling. [=the room looked like it was moving in an unsteady way]

— compare ²REEL

⁴reel noun, pl reels [count] : a lively dance originally from Scotland and Ireland; also : the music for this dance — see also VIRGINIA REEL — compare ¹REEL

re·elect /ˌri:jəˈlekt/ verb -elects; -elect-ed; -elect-ing [+ obj] : to elect (someone) again • The town reelected her (to be) mayor. • He was reelected to the school committee.

— re·elec·tion /ˌri:jəˈleɪkʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • The senator decided to run for reelection.

re·emerge /ˌri:jɪˈmɛdʒ/ verb -emerg-es; -emerged; -emerg-ing [no obj]

1 : to come out of something you have entered • The rescuers didn’t reemerge from the cave until hours later.

2 : to be seen or known again • an old style that has re-emerged [=has become popular again] • The former actor has reemerged as a candidate for mayor.

re·en·act /ˌri:jəˈnækt/ verb -acts; -act-ed; -act-ing [+ obj] : to repeat the actions of (an event) • The group reenacted a famous American Civil War battle.

— re·en·act·ment /ˌri:jəˈnæktmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount]

re·en·ter /riˈɛntə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing : to enter again; such as a : to go into (a place you have left) again [+ obj] They’ve reentered the country. • The space shuttle has safely reentered the Earth’s atmosphere. [no obj] If you leave the theater, you won’t be allowed to reenter without showing a ticket stub. b [+ obj] : to go back into (a game that you were participating in earlier) • The quarterback reentered the game in the second half. c [+ obj] : to type in (words, data, etc.) again on a computer • The original file was corrupted, so they had to reenter the data.

— re·en·try /riˈɛntri/ noun, pl -tries [noncount] Reentry to the theater will be permitted with a ticket stub. • The space shuttle needs to be controlled precisely during reentry. [count] shuttle reentries

re·es·tab·lish /ˌri:jɪˈstæblɪʃ/ verb -lish-es; -lished; -lish-ing [+ obj] : to establish (someone or something) again; such as a : to cause (someone or something) to be widely known and accepted again • The city is trying to reestablish itself as a tourist destination. b : to make (something) exist again • The school was reestablished last year in a new town. • She is working hard to reestablish her political influence. • The crew has reestablished communication with the ship.

— re·es·tab·lish·ment /ˌri:jɪˈstæblɪʃmənt/ noun [noncount]

re·eval·u·ate /ˌri:jɪˈvæljəˌweɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] : to judge the value or condition of (someone or something) again • We will reevaluate your progress after six months.

re·ex·am·ine /ˌri:ɪgˈzæmən/ verb -l-ines; -l-ined; -l-in-ing [+ obj] : to examine (someone or something) again usually in a new or different way • The book reexamines traditional family roles.

ref /ˈref/ noun, pl refs [count] informal : a referee in a game or sport

ref. abbr reference

re·fec·to·ry /rɪˈfektəri/ noun, pl -ries [count] : a large room where meals are served at a place (such as a seminary or monastery) where many people live re·fer /rɪˈfə/ verb -fers; -ferred; -fer·ring [+ obj] : to send (someone or something) to a particular person or place for treatment, help, advice, etc. • How can doctors refer patients for treatment without examining them first? • Most of the patients we see here were referred by other doctors. — usually + to • My doctor referred me to a specialist. • The Senate bill has been referred to the Finance Committee. • The company is referring people to its Web site for more information.

refer to [phrasal verb] 1 refer to (something) : to look at or in (something) for information • She often refers to her notes when giving a speech. • Please refer to our Web site for more information. 2 refer to (something) : to have a direct connection or relationship to (something) • The word “finch” refers to a kind of bird. • The numbers shown in the text refer to footnotes at the bottom of the page. 3 a refer to (someone or something) : to talk about or write about (someone or something) especially briefly : to mention (someone or something) in speech or in writing • No one referred to the incident. b refer to (something or someone) as (something) : to call (something or someone) by (a specified name or title) • The victim was referred to only as “John Doe.” • At one time, people referred to the city as the Paris of the East.

¹ref-er-ee /ˌrɛfəˈriː/ noun, pl -ees [count]

1 : a person who makes sure that players act according to the rules of a game or sport • a football/soccer referee
2 Brit : ¹REFERENCE 3a

²referee verb -ees; -eed; -ee-ing sports : to act as a referee in (a game or sport) [+ obj] She refereed the basketball game. [no obj] He has refereed for several years now.

¹ref-er-ence /ˌrɛfrəns/ noun, pl -enc-es

1 : the act of mentioning something in speech or in writing : the act of referring to something or someone [count] references to an earlier event • Bob’s nickname was “Elvis,” a reference to the way he styled his hair. [=people called Bob “Elvis” because he styled his hair in the same way Elvis Presley did] [noncount] She made reference to our agreement. [=she mentioned our agreement] • The numbers were calculated by reference to the most recent census. — see also FRAME OF REFERENCE, POINT OF REFERENCE

2 [noncount] : the act of looking at or in something for information • The report was filed for future reference. [=so that people could look at it later] • Reference to a map will make the position clear. — see also CROSS-REFERENCE

3 a [count] : a person who can be asked for information about another person’s character, abilities, etc. • She listed her former teacher as a reference when she applied for the job. — called also (Brit) referee b : a statement about someone’s character, abilities, etc. [count] Her former teacher gave her a reference when she applied for the job. [noncount] Her teacher gave her a letter of reference.

4 [count] : something (such as a book, dictionary, encyclopedia, etc.) that people can look at or in to find information about something • a small dictionary that is a handy reference • How many references do you use in your essay?

in reference to or with reference to formal : about or concerning (something or someone) : in relation to • I have something further to add with reference to [=with respect to, in regard to] what was said earlier. • I am writing in reference to your recent letter. • The course covers ancient history with special reference to the Roman Empire. [=the course is about ancient history and especially about the Roman Empire]

terms of reference see ¹TERM

²reference verb -ences; -enced; -enc-ing [+ obj] : to mention (something or someone) in speech or in writing : to refer to (something or someone) • The book references many other authors who have written on this topic.

³reference adj, always used before a noun

1 : used to find information about something • a reference book • a list of reference materials/sources

2 : used to tell people where information can be found • a reference mark/number reference library noun, pl ~-braries [count]

1 : a collection of books often about a particular subject • a reference library of science

2 : a library that lets you use books while you are there but does not allow you to take the books home — compare LENDING LIBRARY

reference point noun, pl ~ points [count] : POINT OF REFERENCE ref-er-en-dum /ˌrɛfəˈrɛndəm/ noun, pl -da /-də/ or -dums : an event in which the people of a county, state, etc., vote for or against a law that deals with a specific issue : a public vote on a particular issue [count] They are having/holding a referendum to decide the issue. = They are having/holding a referendum on the issue. [noncount] The issue was decided by referendum.

re-fer-ral /rɪˈfərəl/ noun, pl -rals [count] : the act of sending someone to another person or place for treatment, help, advice, etc. • She got a referral (to a specialist) from her doctor. = Her doctor gave her a referral.

¹re-fill /rɪˈfɪl/ verb -fills; -filled; -fill-ing

1 [+ obj] : to fill (something) again • He refilled his glass from the nearby pitcher. • I need to refill my prescription. [=to get more of a prescribed medicine]

2 [no obj] : to be filled again • The reservoir will refill once it begins raining.

— re-fill-able /rɪˈfɪləbəl/ adj • a refillable propane tank • The prescription is refillable.

²re-fill /ˈriːfɪl/ noun, pl -fills [count] : a new supply of something • The restaurant advertised free refills (of soda). • prescription refills re-fi-nance /ˌrɪːfəˈnæns, rɪˈfaɪˌnæns/ verb -nanc-es; -nanced; -nanc-ing [+ obj] : to get a new loan to pay (an older debt) : to finance (something) again • refinance a mortgage • They’re refinancing their home.

re-fine /rɪˈfaɪn/ verb -fines; -fined; -fin-ing [+ obj]

1 : to remove the unwanted substances in (something) • refine oil/sugar

2 : to improve (something) by making small changes • The inventor of the machine spent years refining the design. • The class is meant to help you refine your writing style.

— re-fin-er noun, pl -ers [count] • oil/sugar refiners [=companies that refine oil/sugar] — refining noun [noncount] • oil production and refining

refined adj

1 : free of unwanted substances : PURE • refined flour/metals/oil/sugar

2 [more ~; most ~] : improved to be more precise or exact • She has become more refined in her painting technique. • refined testing methods

3 [more ~; most ~] : having or showing the good education, polite manners, etc., that are expected in people who belong to a high social class • refined and civilized people • He has very refined manners. • refined and elegant works of art

re-fine-ment /rɪˈfaɪnmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 [noncount] : the act or process of removing unwanted substances from something : the act or process of making something pure • oil refinement

2 [noncount] : the act or process of improving something — often + of • the refinement of testing methods

3 [count] : an improved version of something — often + of • The game is a refinement of last year’s version.

4 [count] : a small change that improves something • Several engine refinements have resulted in increased efficiency.

5 [noncount] : the quality of a person who has the good education, polite manners, etc., that are expected in people who belong to a high social class • a person of great refinement

re-fin-ery /rɪˈfaɪnəri/ noun, pl -er-ies [count] : a place where the unwanted substances in something (such as oil or sugar) are removed : a place where something is refined • oil/sugar refineries

re-fin-ish /rɪˈfɪnɪʃ/ verb -ish-es; -ished; -ish-ing [+ obj] US : to remove the coating on the surface of (furniture, a floor, etc.) and put on a new coating : to put a new finish on (something) • She made her living repairing and refinishing wood floors. • refinished antique furniture re-fit /rɪˈfɪt/ verb -fits; -fit-ted; -fit-ting [+ obj] : to make (something, such as a boat) ready for use again especially by adding new parts • refit a ship for service • They’re refitting the building with hardwood floors.

— re-fit /ˈriːfɪt/ noun, pl -fits [count] • The ship was in port for a refit. — refitting noun, pl -tings [count, noncount]

re-flect /rɪˈflekt/ verb -flects; -flect-ed; -flect-ing

1 a [no obj] of light, sound, etc. : to move in one direction, hit a surface, and then quickly move in a different and usually opposite direction — usually + off • The light reflected off the mirror. • The sound of our voices reflected off the walls of the tunnel. b [+ obj] ✧ When a surface reflects light, sound, or heat, it causes the light, sound, or heat that hits it to move or bounce away in a different direction. • A polished surface reflects light. • The tiles are used to reflect heat. • The moon shines with reflected light. [=the moon shines because it is reflecting the light that shines on it from the sun]

2 [+ obj] : to show the image of (something) on a surface • The old church is reflected in the glass exterior of the skyscraper. • The clouds were reflected [=mirrored] in the surface of the lake.

3 [+ obj] : to show (something) : to make (something) known • Her book clearly reflects her beliefs. • Where you learned a language is reflected in your accent.

4 [no obj] a : to cause people to think of someone or something in a specified way — + on or upon • The book leaves out things that might reflect badly/poorly on him. [=things that might make him look bad] • Your achievement reflects well on your school. = Your achievement reflects credit on your school. [=your achievement shows that your school taught you well] b : to cause people to disapprove of someone or something — + on or upon • His bad behavior reflects on all of us.

5 a [no obj] : to think carefully about something • You should take some time to reflect before you make a decision. — often + on or upon • I've been reflecting on my experiences here. b [+ obj] : to think or say (something) after careful thought • She was disappointed with their decision, but she reflected that it could have been worse. • "It could have been worse," she reflected.

reflected glory noun [noncount] : respect or admiration that you get because of something that someone else has done • He enjoyed basking in the reflected glory of his famous brother's success.

re-flec-tion or chiefly Brit re-flex-ion /rɪ'flekʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : an image that is seen in a mirror or on a shiny surface • She was looking at her reflection in the mirror. • He saw the reflections of the clouds on the lake.

2 [count] : something that shows the effect, existence, or character of something else — often + of • The high crime rate is a reflection of the violence of our society. • artistic styles that are reflections of different cultures • The movie is an accurate reflection of what life is like in small towns.

3 [singular] : something that causes people to disapprove of a person or thing — + on or upon • His bad behavior is a reflection on all of us. [=it makes people think badly of all of us] • You're not to blame for these problems. They're no reflection on you. [=they do not show anything about your character]

4 [noncount] : careful thought about something • She had no time for reflection. • spending time in quiet reflection • On/Upon reflection [=after thinking about it], I decided to accept their offer.

5 [count] : an opinion that you form or a remark that you make after carefully thinking about something — usually plural • The book features the writer's reflections on America and its people. • personal reflections

re-flec-tive /rɪ'flektɪv/ adj

1 a [more ~; most ~] : causing light, sound, or heat to move away : reflecting light, sound, or heat • The material is highly reflective. [=it easily reflects light] • reflective surfaces b : relating to or caused by light that reflects off a surface • the reflective glare of the shiny metal

2 [more ~; most ~] : thinking carefully about something : THOUGHTFUL • She was in a very reflective mood.

3 — used to say that one thing shows what something else is like; + of • The school is reflective of society: the same problems that exist in society exist at the school.

— re-flec-tive-ly adv • He spoke softly and reflectively about his experiences.

re-flec-tor /rɪ'flektər/ noun, pl -tors [count] : an object that is used to reflect light • safety devices such as bicycle reflectors • Reflectors are placed along the lanes of the highway.

re-flex /'rɪːfleks/ noun, pl -flex-es

1 [count] : an action or movement of the body that happens automatically as a reaction to something • the cough/gag reflex • reflexes such as swallowing and blinking • a reflex action/response

2 [count] : something that you do without thinking as a reaction to something • Disagreeing with my suggestions has become almost a reflex for him.

3 reflexes [plural] : the natural ability to react quickly • an athlete with great/quick reflexes • My reflexes are slower now that I'm older.

re-flex-ive /rɪ'fleksɪv/ adj

1 grammar : showing that the action in a sentence or clause happens to the person or thing that does the action • In "I hurt myself," the verb "hurt" is reflexive. • In the sentence

"We forced ourselves to finish the assignment," the word "ourselves" is a reflexive pronoun.

2 : happening or done without thinking as a reaction to something • For many people, the reflexive response to this kind of demand is to say no. • music that triggers reflexive toe tapping — re-flex-ive-ly adv • Many people respond reflexively to this kind of demand by saying no.

re-flex-ol-o-gy /,rɪːflek'sɑːlədʒi/ noun [noncount] : a method of relieving pain or curing illness by pressing on particular parts of a person's hands or feet

— re-flex-ol-o-gist /,rɪːflek'sɑːlədʒɪst/ noun, pl -gists [count]

re-flux /'rɪːflʌks/ noun [noncount] medical : a backward flow of the contents of the stomach into the esophagus that causes heartburn • acid reflux

re-fo-cus /rɪ'foukəs/ verb -cus-es; -cused; -cus-ing : to focus again: such as a : to adjust (something, such as a camera or a lens) again to make an image clear [+ obj] She refocused the camera. [no obj] The camera refocuses automatically. b : to cause (something, such as attention) to be directed at something different [+ obj] She refocused her energies toward a career in music. • He needs to refocus his attention on his schoolwork. [no obj] Sports are not a priority now. You need to refocus and improve your grades.

re-for-es-ta-tion /rɪːforə'steɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : the act of planting tree seeds or young trees in an area where there used to be a forest — compare DEFORESTATION

— re-for-est /rɪ'forəst/ verb -ests; -est-ed; -est-ing [+ obj] • They are reforesting the burned areas of land.

¹re-form /rɪ'foʊm/ verb -forms; -formed; -form-ing

1 [+ obj] : to improve (someone or something) by removing or correcting faults, problems, etc. • The program is designed to reform prisoners. • They want to reform campaign spending. • The laws need to be reformed.

2 [no obj] : to improve your own behavior or habits • The program is designed to help former gang members who are trying to reform.

— re-form-able /rɪ'foʊməbəl/ adj • Some prisoners are not reformable. — reformed adj, always used before a noun • reformed tax laws • a reformed criminal

²reform noun, pl -forms

1 [noncount] : the improvement of something by removing or correcting faults, problems, etc. • A group of senators are calling for reform of the nation's health-care system. • economic/educational/political/tax reform • a reform movement 2 [count] : an action, plan, rule, etc., that is meant to improve something • He has proposed a list of political reforms.

Re-form /rɪ'foʊm/ adj : accepting and following only some of the traditional beliefs and customs of Judaism • Reform Judaism • a Reform congregation

re-form /rɪ'foʊm/ verb -forms; -formed; -form-ing : to form (something) again [+ obj] They decided to re-form the band. [=to bring the members of the band together again] [no obj] The ice re-formed on the lake. [=ice formed on the lake again]

ref-or-ma-tion /ˌrɛfə'meɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 formal : the act or process of improving something or someone by removing or correcting faults, problems, etc. [noncount] the reformation of our justice system • education reformation [(more commonly) reform] [count] — usually singular • a radical reformation of society

2 the Reformation : the 16th-century religious movement that led to the establishment of the Protestant churches

re-for-ma-to-ry /rɪ'foʊməˌtɔːri, Brit rɪ'foːmətri/ noun, pl -ries [count] US, old-fashioned : REFORM SCHOOL

re-form-er /rɪ'foʊmə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who works to change and improve a society, government, etc. • an economic/educational/social reformer

re-form-ist /rɪ'foʊmɪst/ adj

1 : wanting to change and improve a society, government, etc. • a reformist group/movement

2 : of or relating to the work of a reformer • reformist efforts/views reform school noun, pl ~ schools [count] US, old-fashioned : a place where young people who have committed crimes are sent to live and be taught to behave in ways that are socially acceptable re-fract /rɪ'frækt/ verb -fracts; -fract-ed; -fract-ing [+ obj] technical, of an object or substance : to make (light) change direction when it goes through at an angle • Prisms refract light. • Light is refracted when it hits water.

- re·frac·tion /rɪ'frækʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, non-count] • the refraction of light through water — re·frac·tive /rɪ'fræktɪv/ adj • the refractive properties of the glass
- re·frac·to·ry /rɪ'fræktəri/ adj [more ~; most ~]
- 1 medical : difficult to treat or cure • a refractory disease
- 2 formal : difficult to control or deal with • a refractory [=disobedient] child
- ¹re·frain /rɪ'freɪn/ verb -frains; -frained; -frain·ing [no obj] formal : to stop yourself from doing something that you want to do • I was going to make a joke but I refrained. — usually + from • Please refrain from smoking. • She refrained from saying what she truly felt.
- ²refrain noun, pl -frains [count]
- 1 : a phrase or verse that is repeated regularly in a poem or song : CHORUS
- 2 : a comment or statement that is often repeated • A common/familiar refrain among teachers these days is that the schools need more funding.
- re·fresh /rɪ'freʃ/ verb -fresh·es; -freshed; -fresh·ing [+ obj]
- 1 : to make (someone) have more energy and feel less tired or less hot • A cold shower should refresh you. [=make you feel better] • Sleep refreshes the body.
- 2 : to give someone more of (a drink) : to fill (someone's glass, cup, etc.) again • Can I refresh your drink? [=would you like me to fill your glass again?]
- 3 computers : to put (something, such as a page on the Internet) into a computer's memory again in order to show any new information : to cause an updated version of (something, such as an Internet page) to appear on a computer screen • Try refreshing [=reloading] the home page.
- refresh someone's memory* : to remind someone about something : to help someone to remember something • I'm not sure of the address. Can you refresh my memory? [=can you remind me?]
- refreshed adj [more ~; most ~] • I felt very refreshed after taking a nap.
- re·fresh·er /rɪ'freʃə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly US : something that helps you to remember something you have forgotten : a reminder about something — usually singular; usually + on • Before we play, I need a refresher on the rules. [=I need someone to remind me about the rules] • Some people need a refresher on how to be polite.
- refresher course noun, pl ~ courses [count] : a training class which helps people review information or learn new skills needed for their jobs • The staff is required to take refresher courses every three years.
- re·fresh·ing /rɪ'freʃɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~]
- 1 : pleasantly new, different, or interesting • Working on the new project was a refreshing change. • It is refreshing to hear some good news about him.
- 2 : making you feel more rested, energetic, cool, etc. • a refreshing glass of cold water • My swim was very refreshing.
- refreshing·ly adv • refreshingly different/honest • The water was refreshingly cool.
- re·fresh·ment /rɪ'freʃmənt/ noun, pl -ments
- 1 refreshments [plural] : drinks and small amounts of food • Light refreshments will be served/provided at the meeting. • They provided plenty of liquid refreshments. [=drinks, especially alcoholic drinks]
- 2 [noncount] : food and drink • The workers were in need of refreshment. • (humorous) Would you like some liquid refreshment? [=an alcoholic drink]
- 3 [noncount] : the process of becoming rested and regaining strength or energy • We went camping for relaxation and refreshment.
- re·fried beans /rɪ'fraɪd-/ noun [plural] : a Mexican food that consists of beans that are cooked with seasonings, fried, then mashed and fried again
- re·frig·er·ate /rɪ'frɪdʒə'reɪt/ verb -ates; -at·ed; -at·ing [+ obj] : to put or keep (something, such as food) in a refrigerator in order to make it cold or keep it fresh • Refrigerate the mixture for an hour before serving. • The potato salad needs to be (kept) refrigerated.
- refrigerated adj • Ice cream is delivered in a refrigerated truck. [=a truck that has a refrigerator for keeping things cold] — re·frig·er·a·tion /rɪ'frɪdʒə'reɪʃən/ noun [non-count] • The salad does not need refrigeration.
- re·frig·er·a·tor /rɪ'frɪdʒə'reɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a device or room that is used to keep things (such as food and drinks) cold — called also fridge; see picture at KITCHEN
- re·fu·el /rɪ'fjuːl/ verb -els; US -eled or Brit -elled; US -el- ing or Brit -el·ling : to add fuel to (an airplane, a truck, etc.) [+ obj] The crew refueled the airplane. — often used as (be) refueled • The airplane needs to be refueled. [no obj] The airplane landed to refuel.

ref·uge /rɛ'fjuːdʒ/ noun, pl -ug·es

- 1 [noncount] : shelter or protection from danger or trouble • They were seeking refuge. = They were seeking a place of refuge. [=a safe place] — often + in or from • We took refuge in [=we took shelter in, we went into] a nearby barn during the storm. = We found refuge from the storm in a nearby barn. • They sought refuge in another country. [=went to another country for protection] — often used figuratively • After the death of her husband, she took/sought/found refuge in her music.
- 2 [count] : a place that provides shelter or protection • wild-life refuges [=areas where wild animals are protected] — often + for • The area is a refuge for wildlife. • The shelter is a refuge for abused women.
- ref·u·gee /rɛ'fjuːdʒi/ noun, pl -gees [count] : someone who has been forced to leave a country because of war or for religious or political reasons • Thousands of refugees have fled the area. • refugee camps
- ¹re·fund /rɪ'fʌnd/ verb -funds; -fund·ed; -fund·ing [+ obj] : to give back money that someone paid for something (such as a product that was returned or a service that was not acceptable) • If you are not completely satisfied, we will refund the purchase price. • We will refund (you) your money. • They refused to refund the ticket. [=to give back the money that I had paid for the ticket]
- re·fund·able /rɪ'fʌndəbəl/ adj • The fee is not refundable. • a refundable security deposit
- ²re·fund /rɪ'fʌnd/ noun, pl -funds [count] : an amount of money that is given back to someone who has returned a product, paid too much, etc. • No refunds or exchanges are allowed. • She demanded a refund. • The store gave me a full refund. [=gave me back all the money I paid] • We received a tax refund this year. [=this year we paid too much income tax so we got some money back]
- re·fur·bish /rɪ'fəbɪʃ/ verb -bish·es; -bished; -bish·ing [+ obj] : to repair and make improvements to (something, such as a building) • They are refurbishing [=renovating] the old house. • They sell refurbished computers. [=old computers that have been repaired so that they are in good condition]
- re·fur·bish·ment /rɪ'fəbɪʃmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount] • The hotel is closed for refurbishment. [=renovation]
- re·fus·al /rɪ'fjuːzəl/ noun, pl -als [count] : an act of saying or showing that you will not do, give, or accept something : an act of refusing • My request for more money was met with a flat/firm refusal. — often + of • Her refusal of the job surprised us. — often followed by to + verb • She worried about his stubborn/steadfast refusal to eat.
- (the right of) first refusal : the right to accept or refuse something before it is offered to anyone else • If we decide to sell the house, we'll give our tenants first refusal. [=we will offer to sell the house to our tenants before offering to sell to other people]
- ¹re·fuse /rɪ'fjuːz/ verb -fus·es; -fused; -fus·ing
- 1 : to say that you will not accept (something, such as a gift or offer) [+ obj] He refused the job. [=he did not accept the job] • I could hardly refuse [=could not refuse] the money. • The offer was too good to refuse. [=the offer was so good that I had to accept it] [no obj] When they offered me the money, I couldn't refuse.
- 2 : to say or show that you are not willing to do something that someone wants you to do [no obj] They asked her to help but she refused. [+ obj] — usually followed by to + verb • He refused to answer the question. • She flatly/stubbornly/steadfastly refused to help. • They refuse to accept the truth.
- 3 [+ obj] : to not allow someone to have (something) • They were refused [=denied] admittance to the game. • They refused him a visa. [=they did not give him a visa]
- ²ref·use /rɛ'fjuːs/ noun [noncount] formal : something (such as paper or food waste) that has been thrown away : trash or garbage • a pile of refuse [=rubbish]
- re·fute /rɪ'fjuːt/ verb -futes; -fut·ed; -fut·ing [+ obj] formal
- 1 : to prove that (something) is not true • The lawyer refuted the testimony of the witness. • refute an argument/claim
- 2 : to say that (something) is not true • He refuted [=denied] the rumor about him. • He refutes the notion that he's planning to retire soon. • She refuted the allegations against her.

– ref-u-ta-tion /ˌrɛfjuˈteɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, non-count] formal • a refutation of the theory

¹reg /ˈrɛɡ/ noun, pl regs [count] US, informal : REGULATION • a list of proposed regs

²reg abbr 1 register; registered; registration 2 regular

re-gain /riˈɡeɪn/ verb -gains; -gained; -gain-ing [+ obj]

1 : to get (something) again : to get back (something that you lost) • I regained [=recovered] my health/strength. • She fell into a coma and never regained consciousness. • He slipped but quickly regained his footing. • The actor has recently regained some of his former popularity. • The pilot struggled to regain control of the plane. • The home team attempted/tried to regain possession of the ball.

2 literary : to get back to (something) : to reach (a place) again • They finally regained the shore.

re-gal /ˈriːɡəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : of, relating to, or suitable for a king or queen • He has a regal bearing. [=he is very dignified, authoritative, etc.] • a ceremony of regal [=royal] splendor

– re-gal-ly /ˈriːɡəli/ adv • She waved regally to the crowd.

re-gale /riˈɡeɪl/ verb -gales; -galed; -gal-ing regale with [phrasal verb] regale (someone) with (something) somewhat formal : to entertain or amuse (someone) by telling stories, describing experiences, etc. • He regaled his party guests with stories of his adventures abroad.

re-ga-lia /riˈɡeɪljə/ noun [noncount]

1 : special clothes and decorations (such as a crown or scepter) for official ceremonies • Her royal/ceremonial regalia was quite impressive. • The queen was in full regalia.

2 : special clothing of a particular kind • The war regalia of the tribe is on display at the museum. • He was dressed in cowboy regalia.

¹re-gard /riˈɡɑːd/ noun, pl -gards

1 [noncount] : care or concern for someone or something — often + for or to • He has no regard for my feelings. [=he doesn't care at all about my feelings] • She seems to have little regard for her health. • Would you please show some regard for others? • The company acted without regard for the safety of its workers. • She was hired without regard to race, age, or gender. [=race, age, and gender did not influence the decision to hire her] • The President acted with due regard to [=with the proper care for] the welfare of the nation.

2 : a feeling of respect and admiration for someone or something [singular] — often + for • I have a great regard for his ability. • The students have a high regard for their teacher. [=the students respect and admire their teacher very much] [noncount] She has won the regard [=esteem, respect] of the other scientists in her field. • I have no/little regard for his opinions. • His work is held in high regard. [=his work is greatly respected]

3 regards [plural] : friendly greetings • Give/Send them my (warm/kind) regards. [=greet them for me; tell them I am thinking of them] — sometimes used to end a letter • I look forward to seeing you soon. Regards, John.

in that/this regard formal — used to refer to something just mentioned • He is studying law and in that regard he is doing very well. [=he is doing well studying law] • We will take care of supplying the food, so you have nothing to worry about in that regard.

in/with regard to formal : relating to (something) • This letter is in regard to your unpaid balance. [=this letter concerns your unpaid balance] • I have a question with regard to [=concerning, regarding] your last statement.

²regard verb -gards; -gard-ed; -gard-ing [+ obj]

1 : to think of (someone or something) in a particular way • He is highly regarded by his coworkers. [=his coworkers have a very high opinion of him] — often + as • She regards him as a friend. [=she considers him a friend] • He regards himself as an expert. • The book is widely regarded as his best. [=many people think the book is the best that he has ever written]

2 formal : to look at (someone or something) • The police officer regarded the group of teenagers with suspicion.

as regards formal : relating to (something) : in or with regard to (something) • As regards [=regarding] your first question, we cannot assist you.

regarding prep, somewhat formal : relating to (something) : ABOUT • The teacher talked to the students regarding their homework. • I have a question regarding your earlier comments.

re-gard-less /riˈɡɑːdləs/ adv : in spite of difficulty, trouble, etc. : without being stopped by difficulty, trouble, etc. •

It may rain, but I will go regardless. [=I will go even if it rains; I will not be stopped from going] • It was raining, but we went for a walk regardless. [=anyway]

regardless of : without being stopped or affected by (something) • He runs every day regardless of the weather. [=he runs every day no matter what the weather is like] • Regardless of [=despite] our request, he would not alter his plans.

re-gat-ta /riˈɡɑːtə, Brit riˈɡætə/ noun, pl -tas [count] : a race or a series of races between boats (such as sailboats) re-gen-cy /ˈriːdʒənsi/ noun, pl -cies [count] : a government or period of time in which a person (called a regent) rules in place of a king or queen • The people supported the regency. • Peace was restored during the regency.

Re-gen-cy /ˈriːdʒənsi/ adj, always used before a noun : of, relating to, or like the styles in Britain during the period 1811–20 • an example of Regency furniture/architecture/style

re-gen-er-ate /riˈdʒenəˌreɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing

1 biology : to grow again after being lost, damaged, etc. [no obj] The lizard's tail can regenerate. • The tissue cells regenerated. [+ obj] The lizard is able to regenerate its tail. • The tissue cells can regenerate themselves.

2 [+ obj] formal : to give new life to (something) • The land is regenerated [=renewed] by the rotation of the crops. • The plan is meant to regenerate [=revive] the economy.

– re-gen-er-a-tion /riˈdʒenəˌreɪʃən/ noun [noncount] – re-gen-er-a-tive /riˈdʒenəˌreɪtɪv, Brit riˈdʒenəˌreɪtɪv/ adj • the regenerative process re-gent /ˈriːdʒənt/ noun, pl -gents [count] : a person who rules a kingdom when the king or queen is not able to rule because he or she is sick, too young, etc.

Regent adj, always used after a noun : ruling because the king or queen is unable to rule : acting as a regent • the Prince Regent

reg-gae /ˈreɪgeɪ/ noun [noncount] : popular music that is originally from Jamaica and that combines native styles with elements of rock and soul music

reg-i-cide /ˈrɛdʒəˌsaɪd/ noun, pl -cides

1 [noncount] : the crime of killing a king or queen

2 [count] : someone who kills a king or queen

re-gime /reɪˈziːm/ noun, pl -gimes [count]

1 : a form of government • a socialist/Communist/military regime : a particular government • The new regime is sure to fall.

2 : a system of management • Under the new regime, all workers must file a weekly report.

3 : REGIMEN • He was put on a strict exercise regime.

reg-i-men /ˈrɛdʒəˌmən/ noun, pl -mens [count] : a plan or set of rules about food, exercise, etc., to make someone become or stay healthy • a daily training/exercise regimen • a strict treatment/drug regimen — often + of • a regimen of daily exercise

¹reg-i-ment /ˈrɛdʒəˌmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count] : a military unit that is usually made of several large groups of soldiers (called battalions) • infantry/cavalry regiments

– reg-i-men-tal /ˈrɛdʒəˌmentl/ adj, always used before a noun • the regimental commander/headquarters

²reg-i-ment /ˈrɛdʒəˌment/ verb -ments; -ment-ed; -ment-ing [+ obj]

1 : to organize and control (something) strictly • They carefully regiment their son's diet/schedule/life.

2 : to control the behavior of (people) strictly • She criticized the way the school regiments its students by having strict rules.

– reg-i-men-ta-tion /ˈrɛdʒəˌmənˈteɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • She did not like the school's regimentation. – regimented adj [more ~; most ~] • The school was highly regimented. • a regimented schedule/routine/lifestyle • He's following a regimented diet.

re-gion /ˈriːdʒən/ noun, pl -gions

1 [count] : a part of a country, of the world, etc., that is different or separate from other parts in some way • The bird returns to this region every year. • The plant grows in tropical regions. [=areas] • He's the company sales manager for the entire Southwest region. — often + of • the agricultural/coastal/mountainous regions of the country • the Amazon region of South America • the desert regions of the world • the winemaking regions of France • the unknown regions of outer space

2 [count] : a place on your body : an area that is near a specified part of your body • She has a pain in the lower back re- gion. — often + of • He felt a pain in the region [=vicinity] of his heart.

3 the regions Brit : the parts of a country that are not close to the capital city • attempts to go outside of London and stimulate cultural life in the regions

(somewhere) in the region of : close to (an amount) • He makes somewhere in the region of [=about, approximately] $100,000 a year.

— re-gion-al /'ri:dʒənəl/ adj • He spoke with a regional accent. [=an accent that occurs in a particular region] • a regional newspaper/school — re-gion-al-ly adv • The newspaper is sold regionally. • a regionally based newspaper

re-gion-al-ism /'ri:dʒənə,lɪzəm/ noun, pl -isms

1 [noncount] : interest in or loyalty to a particular region • The residents have a strong sense of regionalism.

2 [count] : a word that is used in a particular region • The word “pop” for “soda” is a Midwest regionalism.

¹reg-is-ter /'redʒəstə/ noun, pl -ters [count]

1 : an official list, book, or system for keeping records of something — often + of • The church keeps a register of births, marriages, and deaths. • a national register of historic places • a register [= (US) registry] of voters • (Brit) After the students were seated, the teacher called/took the register. [=read a list of the students' names out loud and noted which students were there and which were not]

2 formal : a part of the range of musical notes that a person's voice or an instrument can reach • a singer's upper/middle/lower register

3 : CASH REGISTER • She works at the register in a grocery store.

4 US : a cover on an opening (such as a heating vent) that has parts which can be opened or closed to control the flow of air

²register verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to record information about (something) in a book or system of public records • He registered the birth of his child. • She registered her new car. • The car was registered under my name. • The company registered its trademark. • Only 32 cases of the disease have been registered. b : to put your name on an official list [no obj] Did you register to vote? — often + at or for • We registered at the hotel. • Patients must register at the front desk. • The students registered for classes. [=the students enrolled in classes] • All men between the ages of 18 and 25 must register for the draft. [+ obj] She is busy registering the students/voters/guests. — see also PREREGISTER ♦ If you register as something or if you are registered as something, you enter or have entered your name on an official list which indicates what group you belong to. • He registered as a Republican. = He is registered (to vote) as a Republican. • She registered as unemployed/disabled.

2 [+ obj] : to show or record (an amount, value, etc.) • Roast the meat for two hours or until the meat thermometer registers 140 degrees. • an earthquake that registered 6.3 on the Richter scale

3 [+ obj] : to get or reach (something) : ACHIEVE • The team finally registered a victory after losing three games in a row. • The company registered over one billion dollars in sales.

4 a [no obj] : to be recognized or remembered • It took a moment for what she was saying to register. [=it took a moment before I understood what she was saying] — often used in negative statements • The name didn't register with me. [=I didn't recognize the name] b [+ obj] : to notice or realize (something) — often used in negative statements • She didn't register my presence until I spoke to her.

5 formal : to show (a feeling or emotion) [+ obj] Her face registered anger/fear/surprise. • Fear was registered on her face. [no obj] Fear registered on her face.

6 [+ obj] : to send (a letter, package, etc.) by registered mail to protect it from damage or loss • Please register this letter.

7 [+ obj] formal : to make (something) known officially and publicly • I want to register a protest over their decision.

registered adj

1 a : having the owner's name entered in an official list or register • a registered trademark/security b : having your name entered in an official list or register • Are you a registered voter?

2 : sent by registered mail • a registered letter registered mail noun [noncount] : mail that is recorded in the post office where it is mailed and then recorded again in each post office it reaches and that is treated with special care — called also (Brit) registered post; compare CERTIFIED MAIL

registered nurse noun, pl ~ nurses [count] : a nurse who has more training and experience than a licensed practical nurse and who has passed a special exam — called also RN — compare LICENSED PRACTICAL NURSE, PRACTICAL NURSE

register office noun, pl ~ -fices [count] Brit : REGISTRY OFFICE

reg-is-trar /'redʒəstrə/ noun, pl -trars [count]

1 : someone who is in charge of keeping records especially of births, marriages, and deaths

2 : an officer of a college or university who is in charge of registering students and keeping academic records

3 Brit : a doctor who is training at a hospital to become a specialist in a particular field of medicine : RESIDENT

reg-is-tra-tion /'redʒəstreɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 a : the act or process of entering information about something in a book or system of public records [noncount] — often + of • the registration of motor vehicles • the registration of trademarks [count] trademark registrations b : the act or process of entering names on an official list [noncount] Student registration (for courses) ends today. • Voter registration begins today. • A $75 registration fee is due. [count] Registrations for the test/course are lower this year than they were last year. [=fewer people have registered for the test/course this year]

2 [count] US : a document showing that something (such as a vehicle) has been officially registered • The police officer asked to see my driver's license and registration.

registration number noun, pl ~ -bers [count] Brit : LICENSE NUMBER

reg-is-try /'redʒəstri/ noun, pl -tries [count]

1 : a place where official records are kept • the Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles

2 US : a book or system for keeping an official list or record of items • a voter registry [=register] • a gift registry [=a list kept by a store of the things that someone wants as gifts]

registry office noun, pl ~ -fices [count] Brit : a place where marriages are performed and where records of births, marriages, and deaths are kept re-gress /'ri:gres/ verb -gress-es; -gressed; -gress-ing [no obj] technical : to return to an earlier and usually worse or less developed condition or state • The patient is regressing to a childlike state.

— re-gres-sion /rɪ'ɡreʃən/ noun, pl -sions [count, non-count]

¹re-gret /rɪ'ɡret/ verb -grets; -gret-ted; -gret-ting [+ obj]

1 : to feel sad or sorry about (something that you did or did not do) : to have regrets about (something) • Don't say anything you might regret later. • I deeply regret what I said. • She does not regret leaving him. • He regrets not traveling more when he was younger. • He says he doesn't regret anything that he's done in his life. • If you don't travel now, you might live to regret it [=you might feel sorry or disappointed about it in the future]

2 not used in progressive tenses — used formally and in writing to express sad feelings about something that is disappointing or unpleasant • We regret to inform you [=we are sorry to tell you] that we have offered the job to someone else. • We regret any inconvenience these delays may cause. • Dr. Smith regrets that she will be unable to attend. [=Dr. Smith cannot attend] • It is to be regretted [=it is regrettable/unfortunate] that the program has lost its funding.

²regret noun, pl -grets

1 : a feeling of sadness or disappointment about something that you did or did not do [count] She has no regrets about leaving him. • My greatest regret is not going to college. [noncount] She expressed (her) regret for calling me a liar. • To my regret I never visited Europe. • It is with deep regret that he is announcing his resignation. • Much to the regret of my parents, I decided not to go to college. = Much to my parents' regret I decided not to go to college. [=my parents were disappointed that I did not go to college]

2 regrets [plural] : a statement saying politely that you will not be able to go to a meeting, party, etc. • My coworker gives/sends her regrets for not being able to attend the meeting.

re-gret-ful /rɪ'ɡretfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling or showing regret : sad or disappointed • He is regretful about not coming with us.

re-gret-ful-ly /rɪ'ɡretfəli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 : with regret : with sadness or disappointment • "I must leave now," he said regretfully. • I must regretfully decline your invitation.

2 — used to say that something is regretted • Regretfully [=regrettably, unfortunately], we can't go. [=we are disappointed that we can't go] re-gret-ta-ble /rɪ'grɛtəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing sadness or disappointment : UNFORTUNATE • His decision to quit is regrettable. • It was a regrettable mistake.

re-gret-ta-bly /rɪ'grɛtəbli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 — used to say that something is disappointing or regrettable • Regrettably [=unfortunately], I cannot go. • Regrettably, the movie theater was shut down.

2 : to an extent that causes disappointment or regret • There has been a regrettably [=disappointingly] large decline in wages. • The progress of the work was regrettably slow.

re-group /ri'gru:p/ verb -groups; -grouped; -group-ing

1 : to form into a group again [no obj] Members of the search party will regroup in the morning. [+ obj] The general regrouped his forces after the retreat.

2 [no obj] : to stop for a short time and prepare yourself before you continue doing something that is difficult : to stop and think, reorganize, etc., before continuing • Let's regroup and try this again. • Wait a minute. I need to regroup. • The coach called a time-out to give his players time to regroup.

reg-u-lar /'regjələ/ adj

1 a : happening over and over again at the same time or in the same way : occurring every day, week, month, etc. • He works regular hours. [=he works at the same time every work day] • He has never held a regular [=steady] job. • Most days she follows a regular routine/schedule. • The music has a regular [=steady] beat. b : happening at times that are equally separated • The town holds regular meetings. • five regular payments of $100 • His breathing/heartbeat is regular. [=normal] • The sales team meets on a regular basis. [=regularly] • The buses run from 4 a.m. to midnight at regular intervals. [=there is the same amount of time between buses] — opposite IRREGULAR

2 always used before a noun a : happening or done very often • Seeing wildlife is a regular [=common] occurrence where she lives. • We made regular use of the pool. • Getting regular exercise is important. • Exercise has become a regular part of my lifestyle. • The theater was in regular use [=was used continuously] for over 20 years. b : doing the same thing or going to the same place very often • He is a regular contributor to the magazine. • She is a regular [=frequent] guest on the TV show. • He is one of the store's regular customers. [=customers who shop at the store frequently]

3 : spaced an equal distance apart • The seedlings were planted in regular rows. • The wallpaper has a regular pattern of stripes. • The boards are placed at regular intervals. [=the space between each board is the same]

4 always used before a noun a : normal or usual • Our regular business/office hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. • The regular price is $45, but it is on sale for $30. • I saw a different doctor because my regular doctor was on vacation. • He is substituting today for the regular quarterback. • The class will meet at the regular time tomorrow. • The regular [=scheduled] television programming was interrupted by a special report. • The regular season for football begins soon. • Parties are a regular feature of college life. • He sat down in his regular spot. b chiefly US : not special or unusual • Do you use regular or premium gas in your car? • Would you like a regular [=normal size] soda or a large? • He's a regular [=average, ordinary] guy. • It's nothing special, just a regular [=basic] stereo. = It's just a regular old stereo. • He drinks regular coffee. [=coffee that has caffeine]

5 [more ~; most ~] a : having a shape that is smooth or even • a regular surface/outline b : having parts that are arranged in an even or balanced way • He has very regular features.

6 grammar : following the normal patterns by which word forms (such as the past tenses of verbs) are usually created • "Talk" is a regular verb because its past tense is "talked." • nouns with regular plural forms

7 always used before a noun, informal — used for emphasis • She's become a regular [=real] expert on fitness.

8 : able to have normal bowel movements : not constipated • Eating plenty of fiber helps me keep/stay regular.

9 [more ~; most ~] : having or being menstrual cycles that usually last the same number of days each time • She is very regular. = Her cycle is very regular.

10 always used before a noun : belonging to a country's official army • the regular army/troops/soldiers

2regular noun, pl -lars

1 [count] : someone who goes somewhere very often • They are regulars at the bar/restaurant.

2 [count] : someone who often or usually performs, plays, etc. • He is a regular on the television show. • the regulars on a baseball team

3 US : something that is average or usual in quality or size [noncount] Do you drink decaf or regular? [=regular coffee] • "What kind of gas do you put in your car?" "I use regular." [count] We'll have one large soda and two regulars.

4 [count] : a soldier who belongs to a country's permanent army — usually plural • The regulars were called to battle. — compare IRREGULAR

reg-u-lar-i-ty /'regjə'lerəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the quality of being regular: such as a : the quality of something that happens very often or with the same amount of time between each occurrence — often + of • the regularity of the seasons — often used after with • She appears with regularity [=appears regularly] on the show. • Fights break out with some regularity. • Robberies have been occurring with increasing/alarming regularity. b : the quality of something that has parts which are arranged in an even or balanced way • the regularity of his features

2 [count] : something that happens very often or with the same amount of time between each occurrence • Scientists analyzed regularities [=patterns] in the sun's emissions.

reg-u-lar-ize also Brit reg-u-lar-ise /'regjələ'raɪz/ verb -izes; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] : to make (something, such as a situation) regular, legal, or officially accepted • Under the program, illegal immigrants would be able to apply to regularize their status.

reg-u-lar-ly /'regjələli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 a : at the same time every day, week, month, etc. : on a regular basis • The sales team meets regularly. • We go to church regularly. • a regularly scheduled program b : very often • They play golf regularly. • She goes out to dinner quite regularly.

2 : with the same amount of space between each thing • a series of regularly [=evenly] spaced lines

reg-u-late /'regjəleɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to set or adjust the amount, degree, or rate of (something) : CONTROL • The dam regulates the flow of water into the river. • The thermostat regulates the room's temperature. = The room's temperature is regulated by the thermostat.

2 a : to bring (something) under the control of authority • We need better laws to regulate the content of the Internet. • Laws have been made to regulate working conditions. b : to make rules or laws that control (something) • The government regulates how much lead may be found in our water supply. • The department regulates foreign trade.

1reg-u-la-tion /'regjə'leɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : an official rule or law that says how something should be done • safety regulations [=codes] • Builders must comply with the regulations. • federal/state/government regulations • regulations on the disposal of waste • Each agency has its own set of rules and regulations. synonyms see LAW

2 [noncount] : the act of regulating something — + of • the regulation of gun sales by the government • the body's regulation of blood pressure

2regulation adj : in agreement with the official rules • a regulation [=official] baseball • Students must wear regulation uniforms. • The length of the field is not regulation. = The field is not regulation size.

reg-u-la-tor /'regjəleɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

1 : a device for controlling the level or amount of something (such as speed or temperature) • a pressure regulator

2 : an official who works for the part of the government that controls a public activity (such as banking or insurance) by making and enforcing rules • federal/state regulators

reg-u-la-to-ry /'regjələ'tori, Brit 'regjə'leɪtri/ adj, always used before a noun, formal : making or concerned with making official rules about what is acceptable in a particular business, activity, etc. • a regulatory agency/authority • They are seeking regulatory approval for the merger.

re-gur-gi-tate /ri'gʌdʒə'teɪt/ verb -tates; -tat-ed; -tat-ing

1 : to bring food that has been swallowed back to and out of the mouth [no obj] The bird regurgitates to feed its young. [+ obj] The bird regurgitates food to feed its young. • regurgitated food

2 [+ obj] disapproving : to repeat (something, such as a fact, idea, etc.) without understanding it • She memorized the historical dates only to regurgitate them on the exam. • The speaker was just regurgitating facts and figures.

— re-gur-gi-ta-tion /ri,gə'dʒə'teɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1re-hab /'ri:hæb/ noun [noncount] informal

1 : a program for helping people who have problems with drugs, alcohol, etc. — often used after in or into • He is in rehab. • She checked herself into rehab. — compare DETOX

2 : the process of helping someone (such as an injured patient or a drug user) to become healthy again : the process of rehabilitating someone • He has had two months of rehab. = He has been/gone through two months of rehab. • The rehab for his leg injury is going well. • a rehab center/program

2rehab verb -habs; -habbed; -hab-bing US, informal : REHABILITATE [+ obj] It could take him several months to rehab his knee. • trying to rehab drug addicts • They're planning to rehab that old building. [no obj] He's still rehabbing from the injury.

re-ha-bil-i-tate /,ri:jə'bɪlə'teɪt/ verb -tates; -tat-ed; -tat-ing

1 : to bring (someone or something) back to a normal, healthy condition after an illness, injury, drug problem, etc. [+ obj] The clinic rehabilitates drug addicts. • He's still rehabilitating the knee he injured last summer. • They try to rehabilitate horses that have suffered injuries. [no obj] She's still rehabilitating [=recovering] from her ankle injury.

2 [+ obj] : to teach (a criminal in prison) to live a normal and productive life • The program is intended to rehabilitate criminals.

3 [+ obj] : to bring (someone or something) back to a good condition : RESTORE • The country has rehabilitated its image since the war. • The city plans to rehabilitate its slum areas.

— re-ha-bil-i-ta-tion /,ri:jə'bɪlə'teɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • His rehabilitation was successful. • the rehabilitation of drug abusers/criminals • a rehabilitation [=rehab] center/program

re-hash /ri'hæʃ/ verb -hash-es; -hashed; -hash-ing [+ obj] disapproving

1 : to present (something) again in a slightly different form • You're just rehashing the same argument all over again.

2 : to talk about or discuss (something) again • rehashing old memories

— re-hash /'ri:hæʃ/ noun, pl -hash-es [count] • The newest book is just a rehash of her earlier work.

re-hears-al /ri'hæsəl/ noun, pl -als : an event at which a person or group practices an activity (such as singing, dancing, or acting) in order to prepare for a public performance [noncount] She was 15 minutes late to rehearsal. • The production of King Lear has been in rehearsal for nearly a month. [=the actors have been practicing their parts in the play together for nearly a month] [count] There are only three more rehearsals before the concert. — often used figuratively • This tournament is a rehearsal for the Olympics. — see also DRESS REHEARSAL, WEDDING REHEARSAL rehearsal dinner noun, pl ~-ners [count] US : a formal meal after a wedding rehearsal for the people participating in a wedding ceremony

re-hearse /ri'hærs/ verb -hears-es; -hearsed; -hears-ing

1 a : to prepare for a public performance of a play, a piece of music, etc., by practicing the performance [+ obj] The orchestra is rehearsing a piece by Schumann. • rehearse a play/scene/dance [no obj] The band stayed up late rehearsing for the big show. b [+ obj] : to direct (a group of people) as they prepare for a public performance • We were allowed to watch the director rehearse the dancers.

2 [+ obj] : to say or do (something) several times in order to practice • lawyers rehearsing their closing arguments • He rehearsed his dance moves in front of the mirror.

— rehearsed adj • well-rehearsed dancers [=dancers who have been rehearsed well; dancers who have been directed well during rehearsal] • a rehearsed statement • Her story sounded rehearsed. [=it seemed like a story she had practiced telling; it did not sound natural or true]

re-heat /ri'hi:t/ verb -heats; -heat-ed; -heat-ing [+ obj] : to make (cooked food that has become cool) hot again • I'm just going to reheat some leftovers for dinner.

re-hire /ri'hajə/ verb -hires; -hired; -hir-ing [+ obj] : to hire (someone) back into the same company or job • His contract expired, but the company decided to rehire him for another project.

re-house /ri'hauz/ verb -hous-es; -housed; -hous-ing [+ obj] Brit : to give (a person or animal) a different and usually better place to live • The organization is working to re-house families who were displaced in the fire.

1reign /'reɪn/ noun, pl reigns [count]

1 : the period of time during which a king, queen, emperor, etc., is ruler of a country • She was a popular ruler throughout her reign. • the reign of Queen Elizabeth

2 : the period of time during which someone is in charge of a group or organization • his reign as department chairperson • her reign as team president

3 : the period of time during which someone or something is the best or the most important, powerful, etc. • his reign as heavyweight boxing champion • the reign of digital technology

2reign verb reigns; reigned; reign-ing [no obj]

1 : to rule as a king, queen, emperor, etc. • The king reigned in a time of peace and prosperity. — often + over • She reigned over her kingdom for many decades.

2 : to be the best or the most powerful or important person or thing • The lion reigns as king of the jungle. • As a director, he still reigns supreme. [=he is still the best]

3 — used to say that a quality exists to such a degree in a place or situation that it affects everything about that place or situation • Silence reigns in the old library's dusty aisles. • Chaos reigned in the city [=chaos was everywhere in the city] after the military coup.

— reigning adj • the reigning king/queen • She remains the reigning diva of pop music. • the reigning champion re-ig-nite /,ri:jɪg'naɪt/ verb -nites; nit-ed; nit-ing

1 : to begin to burn again or to cause (something) to begin to burn again [no obj] Be careful that the embers don't reignite. [+ obj] Heat will reignite the smoldering rags.

2 [+ obj] a : to give new life or energy to (someone or something) • The incident reignited racial tensions. b : to cause (something) to suddenly occur again • The study has reignited debate on the issue.

reign of terror noun, pl reigns of terror [count] : a period during which a person or group commits violent acts against many people and causes a lot of fear • The dictator seized power and began a reign of terror. • The sheriff put an end to the killer's reign of terror. — often used figuratively • a temperamental CEO's reign of terror

re-im-burse /,ri:jəm'bəs/ verb -burs-es; -bursed; -burs-ing [+ obj] : to pay someone an amount of money equal to an amount that person has spent — often + for • We will reimburse you for your travel expenses. = We will reimburse your travel expenses. • I should be reimbursed for the fees.

— re-im-burs-able /,ri:jəm'bəsəbəl/ adj • reimbursable expenses — re-im-burse-ment /,ri:jəm'bəsmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount] • I received a partial reimbursement for my travel expenses.

1rein /'reɪn/ noun, pl reins [count]

1 : a strap that is fastened to a device (called a bridle) placed on the head of an animal (such as a horse) and that is used to guide and control the animal — usually plural • The rider pulled on the reins to stop his horse. — see picture at HORSE

2 a : the ability to limit or control something • We need to keep a rein on our spending. [=we need to limit/control our spending] • He has people working for him, but he has/keeps a tight rein on every part of the process. b : the power to guide or control someone or something — usually plural • They held the reins of government/power. [=they controlled the government] • She handed the reins of the company to her successor. = She handed over the reins of the company to her successor. • The President-elect will officially take the reins [=take control] in January.

free/full rein : the opportunity to act freely • The studio gave the director free rein [=complete control] over the movie. • Give full rein to your imagination.

2rein verb reins; reined; rein-ing rein in [phrasal verb] rein (someone or something) in or rein in (someone or something) 1 : to limit or control (someone or something) • Congress must rein in spending. • You had better rein that kid in before she gets hurt. 2 : to make (an animal) stop by using reins • The rider reined in his horse.

re-in-car-nate /,ri:jən'kɑːneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing be reincarnated : to be born again with a different body after death • Some religions teach that we are reincarnated [=reborn] many times on the way to enlightenment. — sometimes used figuratively • The old mill is being reincarnated as a condominium complex.

– reincarnated adj • They believe that the boy is their reincarnated leader.

re-in-car-na-tion /ˌriːjənˌkɑːneɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : the idea or belief that people are born again with a different body after death • Many people believe in reincarnation.

2 [count] : someone who has been born again with a different body after death — often + of • They believe that the boy is the reincarnation of their leader. — sometimes used figuratively • The café is a reincarnation of an eatery of the same name that existed across town years ago.

rein-deer /ˈreɪnˌdiər/ noun, pl reindeer [count] : a large type of deer that lives in northern parts of the world : CARIBOU • a large herd of reindeer

re-in-force /ˌriːjənˈfɔːs/ verb -forc-es; -forced; -forc-ing [+ obj]

1 : to strengthen (a group of people) with new supplies or more people • The captain sent out another squad to reinforce the troops. • Our camp is reinforced with supplies flown in by helicopter.

2 : to strengthen (something, such as clothing or a building) by adding more material for support • She reinforced the elbows of the jacket. [=she sewed more material onto the elbows of the jacket] • The soldiers reinforced [=strengthened] the barricades with sandbags. • The levees will need to be reinforced.

3 : to encourage or give support to (an idea, behavior, feeling, etc.) • The bad weather forecast only reinforces our decision to leave early tomorrow. • Some critics say that the movie reinforces negative stereotypes about the military. • We do our best to reinforce good conduct in the classroom.

reinforced concrete noun [noncount] : concrete that has metal bars inside of it to make it stronger

re-in-force-ment /ˌriːjənˈfɔːsmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 reinforcements [plural] : people and supplies that are sent to help or support an army, military force, etc. • “We’re outnumbered! Call for reinforcements!” • We need to prevent enemy reinforcements from reaching the front line.

2 a [noncount] : the act of strengthening or encouraging something • The bridge is in need of reinforcement. • the reinforcement of stereotypes b [count] : a thing that strengthens or encourages something • The teacher introduced the new vocabulary words and then used a game as a reinforcement. [=as something that would help the students understand/remember the words]

3 : a response to someone’s behavior that is intended to make that person more likely to behave that way again [count] positive/negative reinforcements [noncount] You should encourage good behavior with positive reinforcement.

re-in-state /ˌriːjənˈsteɪt/ verb -states; -stat-ed; -stat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to put (someone) back in a job or position that had been taken away • After his name was cleared, he was reinstated as committee chairperson. • The company promised to reinstate [=rehire] the employees that had been laid off.

2 : to begin using or dealing with (a law, policy, system, etc.) again • The school board voted to reinstate the school’s uniform policy. • the year the death penalty was reinstated • The court case was dismissed by the judge but reinstated [=reopened] on appeal.

– re-in-state-ment /ˌriːjənˈsteɪtmənt/ noun [noncount] • the reinstatement of the death penalty

re-in-sure /ˌriːjənˈʃʊər/ verb -sures; -sured; -sur-ing [+ obj] : to insure (something) again so that the insurance is shared by more than one company

– re-in-sur-ance /ˌriːjənˈʃʊərəns/ noun [noncount] – re-in-sur-er /ˌriːjənˈʃʊrər/ noun, pl -ers [count]

re-in-ter-pret /ˌriːjənˈtɜːprət/ verb -prets; -pret-ed; -pret-ing [+ obj] : to understand and explain or show (something) in a new or different way • New information may force us to reinterpret the evidence. • The director wants to reinterpret the old play for a modern audience.

– re-in-ter-pre-ta-tion /ˌriːjənˈtɜːprəˈteɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] modern reinterpretations of Shakespeare’s plays [noncount] These works of art are always open to reinterpretation. [=can always be explained or understood in a different way]

re-in-tro-duce /ˌriːjɪntrəˈduːs, Brit ˌriːjɪntrəˈdjuːs/ verb -duc-es; -duced; -duc-ing [+ obj]

1 : to begin using (something) again • The school has decided to reintroduce some of its old policies.

2 : to return (an animal or plant) to the area where it used to live • Several species of endangered fish are being reintroduced into the river.

– re-in-tro-duc-tion /ˌriːjɪntrəˈdʌkʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

re-in-vent /ˌriːjənˈvent/ verb -vents; -vent-ed; -vent-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make major changes or improvements to (something) • The candidate promised to reinvent Social Security.

2 : to present (something) in a different or new way • chefs who reinvent regional favorites using exotic ingredients reinvent the wheel informal : to waste time trying to do something that has already been done successfully by someone else • When designing new software, there’s no need to reinvent the wheel.

reinvent yourself : to become a different kind of person, performer, etc. • She’s a classical singer who’s trying to reinvent herself as a pop artist.

– re-in-ven-tion /ˌriːjənˈvenʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • the reinvention of the education system

re-in-vest /ˌriːjənˈvest/ verb -vests; -vest-ed; -vest-ing

1 a : to use (the profits of an investment) to buy more investments [+ obj] Many investors reinvest their dividends. [no obj] Before you reinvest, consider your options carefully.

b [+ obj] : to use (money that a business has earned) to improve the business • The company reinvests a portion of its profits in new products.

2 [no obj] US : to spend money, time, energy, etc., to make improvements to something valuable — often + in • We need to reinvest in our neighborhoods.

– re-in-vest-ment /ˌriːjənˈvestmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount] • the reinvestment of earnings/dividends • neighborhood/community reinvestment

re-is-sue /ˌriːtʃuː/ verb -is-sues; -is-sued; -is-su-ing [+ obj]

: to publish or produce (something, such as a book or recording) again : to issue (something) again • The publisher has decided to reissue the author’s out-of-print books. • My favorite album is being reissued on CD. [=my favorite album is being produced again as a CD]

– reissue noun, pl -is-sues [count] • That’s not the original album—it’s a reissue.

re-it-er-ate /ˌriːtəˈreɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj]

somewhat formal : to repeat something you have already said in order to emphasize it • reiterate a claim/view/point • She avoided answering our questions directly, instead reiterating that the answers could be found in her book. • Allow me to reiterate: if I am elected, I will not raise taxes.

– re-it-er-a-tion /ˌriːtəˈreɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] The report was nothing more than a reiteration of statements by officials. [noncount] the reiteration of certain themes in the author’s books

re-ject /rɪˈdʒekt/ verb -jects; -ject-ed; -ject-ing [+ obj]

1 : to refuse to believe, accept, or consider (something) • My teacher rejected my excuse for being late. • The committee rejected my proposal/idea/suggestion/motion. • I agree with several points of her argument, while rejecting [=disagreeing with] her conclusions. • She rejected the package/letter [=she did not accept the delivery of the package, letter, etc.] and returned it unopened.

2 : to decide not to publish (something) or make (something) available to the public because it is not good enough • My article/book/paper was rejected. • The produce inspector rejected several crates of berries that had begun to grow mold.

3 a : to refuse to allow (someone) to join a club, to attend a school, etc. • The college rejects hundreds of applicants each year. b : to decide not to offer (someone) a job or position • We rejected 5 of the 10 job applicants right away.

4 : to refuse to love, care for, or give attention to (someone) • The mother cat rejected the smallest kitten and refused to feed it. • Rejected by society, these street kids have to fend for themselves. • He still loves her even though she’s rejected him before. • He wanted to ask her on a date, but he was afraid of being rejected.

5 medical, of a person’s body : to produce substances that try to harm or destroy (a transplanted organ, a skin graft, etc.) • The patient’s immune system rejected the transplanted heart. = The patient rejected the transplanted heart.

– re-jec-tion /rɪˈdʒekʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] The committee was unanimous in its rejection of my proposal. • After many rejections, her novel was finally accepted for publication. [noncount] In any transplant operation, there is a risk of organ rejection. • a rejection letter [=a letter saying that you or something you have written, made, etc., has been rejected]

re-ject /rɪˈdʒekt/ noun, pl -jects [count]

1 : something that is not good enough for some purpose : something that cannot be used or accepted • Stack the promising applications here, and put the rejects over there. • One way to save on clothing costs is to buy (factory) rejects. [=clothes that are sold for a lower price because they have flaws]

2 : a person who is not accepted or liked by other people • the rejects of society = society's rejects • (informal) Ignore him, he's a (total/complete) reject.

re-jig /rɪˈdʒɪg/ verb -jigs; -jigged; -jig-ging [+ obj] Brit, informal : REJIGGER

re-jig-ger /rɪˈdʒɪgə/ verb -jig-gers; -jig-gered; -jig-ger-ing [+ obj] US, informal : to change or adjust (something) : REARRANGE • We'll have to rejigger [= (Brit) rejig] the family finances to pay for the new car. • The TV network is rejiggering its schedule.

re-joice /rɪˈdʒɔɪs/ verb -joic-es; -joiced; -joic-ing [no obj] : to feel or show that you are very happy about something • We all rejoiced over/about/in/at our friend's good luck. • The fans rejoiced when their team finally won the World Series. = The fans rejoiced in their team's World Series victory.

rejoice in the name/title of Brit, humorous : to have a name/title that makes people laugh or smile • a woman who rejoices in the name of Eugenia Whelpbottom — rejoicing noun [noncount] • There was much rejoicing when the soldiers returned home.

re-join verb -joins; -joined; -join-ing

1 /rɪˈdʒɔɪn/ : to become a member of (a group or organization) again [+ obj] I'll be rejoining my family for the last part of our vacation. • Now that the kids are in school, I'm ready to rejoin the workforce. [no obj] The original drummer left the band in 2000 but rejoined two years later.

2 /rɪˈdʒɔɪn/ : to come together with (something) again [+ obj] This trail eventually rejoins the main trail. [no obj] The river divides here, but the two streams rejoin downstream.

3 /rɪˈdʒɔɪn/ [+ obj] formal : to reply to (something said or written) especially in a rude or angry way • "You're a fine one to talk," she rejoined. [=replied, retorted]

re-join-der /rɪˈdʒɔɪndə/ noun, pl -ders [count] formal : a usually rude or angry reply to something written or said • The article was a stinging rejoinder to her critics. • a witty rejoinder

re-ju-ve-nate /rɪˈdʒuːvəˌneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (someone) feel or look young, healthy, or energetic again • The spa treatment rejuvenated me.

2 : to give new strength or energy to (something) • Each candidate claims to have a plan to rejuvenate the sagging economy. • Her efforts to rejuvenate her career have so far been unsuccessful.

— rejuvenated adj [more ~; most ~] • I felt rejuvenated [=refreshed] after a nap and a shower. • a rejuvenated economy — rejuvenating adj [more ~; most ~] • rejuvenating face cream • The swim was very rejuvenating. — re-ju-ve-na-tion /rɪˈdʒuːvəˌneɪʃən/ noun [noncount] physical/economic rejuvenation [singular] The city has experienced a rejuvenation.

re-kin-dle /rɪˈkɪndl/ verb -kin-dles; -kin-dled; -kin-dling [+ obj] : to cause (something, such as a feeling) to be strong or active again • The movie has rekindled public interest in the trial. • The court's controversial decision is sure to rekindle debate about this issue. • rekindle an old romance

— rekindling noun [singular] • a rekindling of interest/debate

re-lapse /rɪˈlæps/ noun, pl -laps-es

1 : the return of an illness after a period of improvement [count] Everyone thought she was well until a sudden relapse sent her back to the hospital. [noncount] Patients who stop taking the medication have a higher risk of relapse. [=they are more likely to get sick again]

2 : a return to bad behavior that you had stopped doing [count] a drug addict who has had a relapse [noncount] a drug addict who has a history of relapse • The program has a low rate of relapse. [=most people who use the program do not return to the bad behavior they had stopped doing]

re-lapse /rɪˈlæps/ verb -laps-es; -lapsed; -laps-ing [no obj]

1 a : to become ill again after a period of improvement in health • If you don't continue your treatment, you could re- lapse. b of an illness : to return or become worse after leaving or improving for a period of time • Malaria can relapse years after the original infection.

2 : to return to a bad condition, form of behavior, etc. • The country soon relapsed into chaos. • She stayed out of trouble for a long time, but then she relapsed into her old ways. • Many former smokers relapse [=begin smoking again] in times of stress.

re-lat-able /rɪˈleɪtəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] US : possible to understand because of being like something you have known, experienced, etc. • The show has likable characters in relatable situations. [=in situations that people can relate to] re-late /rɪˈleɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing

1 [+ obj] : to show or make a connection between (two or more things) • relate cause and effect — often + to • Few of the people who became sick related their symptoms to the food they'd eaten the day before.

2 [no obj] : to understand and like or have sympathy for someone or something • You must be feeling awful. I went through something similar myself last year, so I can relate. — usually + to • I can relate to your feelings. • I've never been able to relate to him very well. • The audience needs to be able to relate to the characters in the story. • He writes songs that people can really relate to.

3 [+ obj] formal : to tell (something, such as a story) • The book relates [=recounts] a tale of jealousy and heartache. • We listened eagerly as she related the whole exciting story.

4 [no obj] — used to describe how people talk to, behave toward, and deal with each other; usually + to or with • The way a child relates to [=interacts with] her teacher can affect her education. • They are very formal in the way they relate [=interact] with each other.

relate to [phrasal verb] relate to (someone or something) : to be connected with (someone or something) : to be about (someone or something) • The readings relate to the class discussions. • Their grudge relates back to a misunderstanding that took place years ago. • other information relating to his performance — often used as (be) related to • The survey suggests that financial success is closely/strongly/directly related to a person's level of education. — see also RELATE 1, 2, 4 (above)

related adj

1 : connected in some way • ancient history and other related subjects/areas/fields • drug-related crimes [=crimes that are connected to illegal drugs]

2 not used before a noun : in the same family • I just found out that my best friend and I are related through distant cousins. • We all call her "auntie," but we're not actually related. [=we're not in the same family] • My stepmother and I are not related by blood. [=my stepmother and I do not share biological ancestors; our biological families are different] • My sister-in-law and I are related by marriage. [=my sister-in-law is married to someone in my family]

3 : belonging to the same group because of shared characteristics, qualities, etc. • Horses and donkeys are related. • closely/distantly related species • The words "play" and "playful" are related.

re-la-tion /rɪˈleɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 relations [plural] a : the way in which two or more people, groups, countries, etc., talk to, behave toward, and deal with each other • The incident led to tense international relations. — see also INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS b formal : SEXUAL INTERCOURSE • sexual relations outside of marriage

2 : the way in which two or more people or things are connected [count] the relations [= (more commonly) relationships] between weather events and erosion [noncount] This movie bears no relation to the book by the same title. [=it is not connected to the book at all; the movie and the book do not tell the same story, have the same characters, etc.]

3 : a person who is a member of your family [count] We threw a big party for all our friends and relations. [=relatives] • Is he a relation of yours? [=are you related to him?] [noncount] I'm Jill Jones, and this is Mike Jones—no relation. [=we have the same last name but we are not related; we are not members of the same family] in relation to formal 1 — used to talk about what something is like by comparing it to something else or by seeing how it is related to something else • The monkey's eyes are large in relation to its head. • understanding literature in relation to history 2 : about (something or someone) • I have several comments to make in relation to [=in/with reference to, regarding] the subject at hand.

re·la·tion·ship /rɪˈleɪʃən,ʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships

1 [count] : the way in which two or more people, groups, countries, etc., talk to, behave toward, and deal with each other • The relationship between the two countries has improved. • She has a close relationship with her sister. • We have a good working relationship. [=we work well together] • I have a love-hate relationship with my ex. [=I have strong feelings of both love and hatred for my ex]

2 [count] : a romantic or sexual friendship between two people • She has had many bad relationships. • I am not in a relationship right now.

3 : the way in which two or more people or things are connected [count] the relationship between mental and physical health • the doctor-patient relationship [noncount] “What is your relationship to the witness?” “He is my father/friend/boss.” • Her earlier paintings bear little relationship to her later work. [=her earlier paintings are very different from her later work; her earlier paintings are not obviously connected to her later work]

¹rel·a·tive /ˈrelətɪv/ noun, pl -tives [count]

1 : a member of your family • At the family reunion, I saw relatives I haven't seen in years. • He inherited a small piece of land from a distant relative.

2 : something that belongs to the same group as something else because of shared characteristics, qualities, etc. • The donkey is a relative of the horse.

²relative adj

1 a : compared to someone or something else or to each other • the relative value of two houses • What are the relative advantages of the different methods? [=what are the advantages of each method compared to the others?] • the relative positions of the islands • We discussed the relative merits of each school. • The car might seem expensive, but it's all relative. [=the car is expensive compared to some cars but not to other cars] b : seeming to be something when compared with others • I'm a relative newcomer to the area. [=I am not really new to the area but I am more of a newcomer than many people] • We did it with relative [=comparative] ease.

2 grammar : referring to a noun, a part of a sentence, or a sentence that was used earlier • “Who,” “whom,” “whose,” “which,” and “that” are all relative pronouns. • The phrase “that won” in “the book that won” is a relative clause.

relative to formal 1 — used to describe what someone or something is like when compared with or measured against someone or something else • Dolphins have large brains relative to their body size. • The value of the house is low relative to similar houses in the area. 2 : concerning or about (something) : referring to (something) • We will discuss matters relative to peace and security.

rel·a·tive·ly /ˈrelətɪvli/ adv : when compared to others •

The car's price is relatively high/low. [=the car's price is fairly/somewhat high/low when compared to the price of other cars] • We've had a relatively [=comparatively] warm/cool/dry spring. • There were relatively few people [=a fairly small number of people] at the meeting last night. • The house is relatively [=fairly] new.

relatively speaking 1 : when compared to others that are similar • The procedure was quick, relatively speaking. • This is a pretty good college, relatively speaking. • Relatively speaking, the movie wasn't bad. 2 — used to say that something is true or correct as a general statement even if it is not entirely true or correct • The trip was, relatively speaking, a disaster.

rel·a·tiv·ism /ˈrelətɪvɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : the belief that different things are true, right, etc., for different people or at different times • moral/cultural relativism

— rel·a·tiv·ist /ˈrelətɪvɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • cultural relativists — relativist also rel·a·tiv·is·tic /ˈrelətɪvɪstɪk/ adj • a relativist view

rel·a·tiv·i·ty /ˈrelətɪvəti/ noun [noncount] physics : a theory developed by Albert Einstein which says that the way that anything except light moves through time and space depends on the position and movement of someone who is watchingre·launch /rɪˈlɑːntʃ/ verb -launch-es; -launched; -launch-ing [+ obj] : to launch (something) again: such as a : to send or shoot (something, such as a rocket) into the air or water or into outer space again • relaunch the space shuttle b : to offer or sell a new version of (something, such as a product) • The company is preparing to relaunch its software. • The editor relaunched the magazine with a new title and a better format.

— re·launch /ˈriːlɑːntʃ/ noun, pl -launch-es [count] • The company has announced the relaunch of its software.

re·lax /rɪˈlæks/ verb -lax-es; -laxed; -lax-ing

1 : to become or to cause (something) to become less tense, tight, or stiff [no obj] Her grip on my hand relaxed [=loosened] only after the roller coaster had come to a complete stop. • The muscles in my neck and shoulders should relax after a nice hot shower. [+ obj] When the roller coaster stopped, she relaxed [=loosened] her grip on my hand. • A hot shower relaxed the tight muscles in my neck and shoulders. — sometimes used figuratively • Winter has finally relaxed its grip on the country.

2 [no obj] : to stop feeling nervous or worried • I can't relax with all this noise! • Just relax, there's nothing to worry about. • Try to relax and enjoy the ride.

3 [no obj] : to spend time resting or doing something enjoyable especially after you have been doing work • After work I like to come home and relax [=unwind] for a while in front of the television. • She likes to relax with a glass of wine [=to have a glass of wine] before bed.

4 : to become or to cause (something, such as a rule or law) to become less severe or strict [+ obj] The commission has voted to relax industry regulations/restrictions/standards. [no obj] Fashion rules have relaxed a lot in recent years.

5 [+ obj] formal : to allow (something, such as your attention or concentration) to become weaker • We mustn't relax our vigilance for a moment!

6 [+ obj] chiefly US : to use a chemical treatment on (hair) in order to make it straight or straighter

re·lax·ant /rɪˈlæksənt/ noun, pl -ants [count] : a substance (such as a drug) that relaxes you, your muscles, etc. • a *muscle relaxantre·lax·a·tion /ˈriːlæksəˈʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] a : a way to rest and enjoy yourself • I like to play the guitar for relaxation. b : time that you spend resting and enjoying yourself • What I need is some rest and relaxation.

2 : something that you do to stop feeling nervous, worried, etc. [noncount] relaxation techniques/exercises [count] (Brit) Her favourite relaxation is listening to music.

3 [noncount] : the act of making something (such as a muscle) less tense, tight, or stiff • the relaxation of muscles = muscle relaxation — sometimes used figuratively • the relaxation of winter's grip on the country

4 : the act of becoming or causing something to become less severe or strict [noncount] Workers demanded the relaxation of the company's strict dress code. [count] a relaxation of rules • relaxations of safety regulations

re·laxed /rɪˈlækst/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : calm and free from stress, worry, or anxiety : not worried or tense • Nothing makes me feel more relaxed than a nice hot bath. • I used to get really nervous performing, but I'm pretty relaxed about it now. • He's a very relaxed guy.

2 : informal and comfortable : CASUAL • The restaurant had a relaxed atmosphere. • The seminar was very relaxed—we met at the professor's house instead of the lecture hall. • We have a relaxed dress code at the office.

3 : not strict or carefully controlled • a relaxed set of rules • He has a relaxed attitude towards his studies. [=he is not very serious about his studies]

4 chiefly US, of hair : made straight or straighter with a chemical treatment • relaxed hair

5 of clothing : not tight • relaxed [=loose-fitting] jeans

re·lax·er /rɪˈlæksə/ noun, pl -ers [count, noncount] chiefly US : a chemical treatment that is used to make curly hair straight or straighterre·lax·ing /rɪˈlæksɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : helping you to rest and to feel less tense, worried, nervous, etc. • quiet, relaxing music • We spent three relaxing days at the beach.¹re·lay /ˈriːleɪ/ noun, pl -lays [count]

1 : a race between teams in which each team member runs, swims, etc., a different part of the race • I'm running (in) the relay at tomorrow's track meet. • the 4x100 relay [=a relay with four parts that are 100 meters each] • Our relay team is training for next weekend's race.

2 : the act of passing something from one person or device to another • a satellite relay of a television signal • (baseball) The shortstop's relay (throw) from center field was too late to catch the runner at home; also : a system for doing this • We set up a relay to carry buckets of water to the campsite. • a satellite relay system

3 : a group of people, horses, etc., that takes the place of others so that something (such as a job or an activity) is done continuously • They worked in relays to clear the rubble.

R

4 technical : a device that is used to cause a switch to open or close automatically when there is a change in the current that is flowing through a circuit • an electromagnetic relay

2 re-lay /rɪˈleɪ/ verb -lays; -layed; -lay-ing [+ obj] : to pass (something, such as a message or information) from one person or device to another • Messengers on horseback relayed battle plans to the front lines. • Please relay the news to the rest of the team. — often used as (be) relayed • This report is being relayed to us by our crew at the scene of the accident. • Data relayed from the aircraft will be recorded on the ground.

1 re-lease /rɪˈliːs/ verb -leas-es; -leased; -leas-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to allow (a person or animal) to leave a jail, cage, prison, etc. : to set (someone or something) free • The hostages have been released. • The judge released the prisoner. • The lion was released from its cage. • There is a lot of controversy over whether or not wolves should be released into the park. b : to stop holding (someone or something) • The hot-air balloon pilot signaled the ground crew to release [=let go of] the ropes. • I released my son's hand; and he ran out onto the playground. c : to allow (a substance) to enter the air, water, soil, etc. • Plastic releases [=emits] dangerous chemicals when it burns. • The factory faced serious fines for releasing dangerous chemicals into the river. • Heat is released into the atmosphere by cars. • During exercise, the body releases chemicals in the brain that make you feel better. d : to cause (an emotion, a feeling, etc.) to go away by expressing it or dealing with it in some way • She started to cry, releasing all of her repressed emotion. • Exercise is a good way to release stress/tension.

2 : to free (someone) from a duty, responsibility, etc. • The contract was declared null, and we were released from our agreement/obligation. • I released him from his promise. [=I said that he did not have to do what he had promised to do] 3 : to give up control or possession of (something) • The local police released the evidence to the FBI. 4 : to make (something) available to the public • The band hopes to release their new album by next summer. • The police will not release the names of the teenagers involved in the robbery. • They released a statement this afternoon. 5 : to allow (part of a machine, device, etc.) to go back to its normal position • The camera's shutter will stay open until the button is released. • release [=disengage] the parking brake

2 release noun, pl -leases

1 : the act of releasing someone or something: such as a : the act of allowing a person or animal to leave a jail, cage, prison, etc. [noncount] the release of the hostages • The prisoner is eligible for early release. • There was a controversy over the release of wolves into the park. [count] The prisoner was given an early release. b : the act of allowing a substance to enter the air, water, soil, etc. [noncount] the release of heat into the atmosphere • Exercise triggers the release of chemicals in the brain that make you feel better. [count] an accidental release of pollutants into the river c : the act of freeing someone from a duty, responsibility, etc. [noncount] They've filed a request for release from the contract. [count] They're requesting a release from their contractual obligations. d [noncount] : the act of making something available to the public • The release of the book is scheduled for next month. • The government has tried to bar the release of the documents. • The film's general release is Friday. [=the film will begin to be shown in theaters on Friday] • (Brit) The film is on general release. [=the film is being shown in theaters]

2 a [singular] : a way of dealing with and getting rid of unpleasant emotions, feelings, etc. • Dancing is a great release (from stress). • activities that offer a release from stress b formal : an end to pain, distress, etc. [noncount] We mourned her death, but were glad it brought her release from pain. • a feeling of release [singular] Her death brought her a release from pain.

3 [count] : something (such as a new product or an official statement) that is made available to the public • new product releases • the band's latest release • the year's top CD releases • The company has issued a release about the new software. — see also PRESS RELEASE

4 [count] : an official document which states that a company, person, etc., is not responsible if you are hurt while doing something • The company requires visitors to the mine to sign a release before they go below ground. • a release form

5 [count] : a device that allows a part of a machine to move freely • the shutter release on a camera

6 [count] US, sports : the action or manner of throwing a ball — usually singular • The quarterback has a quick release.

rel-e-gate /ˈreləˌgeɪt/ verb -gates; -gat-ed; -gat-ing [+ obj]

1 formal : to put (someone or something) in a lower or less important position, rank, etc. — usually used as (be) relegated; usually + to • an important historical figure who is usually relegated to footnote status • The team's best player has been relegated to a backup role because of injuries. • old books relegated to the attic

2 formal : to give (something, such as a job or responsibility) to another person or group • The bill has been relegated to committee for discussion.

3 Brit : to move (a sports team) to a lower position in a league — usually used as (be) relegated; usually + to • The team have been relegated to the Second Division. — opposite PROMOTE

— rel-e-gation /ˈreləˌgeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • her relegation to a backup role

re-lent /rɪˈlent/ verb -lents; -lent-ed; -lent-ing [no obj] somewhat formal

1 : to agree to do or accept something that you have been resisting or opposing • Our application was initially refused, but the city relented in the end and the permit was issued. • They had refused to pay and relented only after being threatened with a lawsuit.

2 : to become less severe, harsh, strong, determined, etc. • He will not relent [=give up] in his effort to clear his name. • The winds would not relent.

re-lent-less /rɪˈlentləs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : continuing without becoming weaker, less severe, etc. • Her relentless optimism held the team together. • relentless winds

2 : remaining strict or determined • The hunter was relentless in pursuit of his prey. • a relentless opponent of deregulation — re-lent-less-ly adv • She is relentlessly optimistic. • a hunter relentlessly pursuing his prey [=pursuing without stopping]

rel-e-vant /ˈreləvənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : relating to a subject in an appropriate way • a relevant [=pertinent] question • The ideas and observations expressed in the book are still relevant today. — often + to • Her comments were not relevant [= (more formally) germane] to the discussion. • Do you have any experience that is relevant to this job? — opposite IRRELEVANT

— rel-e-vance /ˈreləvəns/ or rel-e-van-cy /ˈreləvənsi/ noun [noncount] • The question lacks relevance. — rel-e-vant-ly adv • It's a funny story, and more relevantly, it's true.

re-li-able /rɪˈlɪəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : able to be trusted to do or provide what is needed : able to be relied on • a reliable car • a reliable source of safe drinking water [=a way to get safe drinking water every time you need it] • He's not very reliable. You can't always count on him to do what he says he'll do.

2 : able to be believed : likely to be true or correct • a reliable witness • It's a rumor, but I heard it from a reliable source. [=someone who is likely to have accurate information] • We can't write a report without reliable data. • We need more reliable information before we can take action.

— re-li-abil-i-ty /rɪˌlɪəˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount] • These cars are known for their reliability. — re-li-ably /rɪˈlɪəbli/ adv • How can I get my computer to work reliably? • Few analysts can reliably estimate corporate profits.

re-li-ance /rɪˈlɪəns/ noun [singular] : the state of needing someone or something for help, support, etc. — usually + on or upon • The region's reliance on tourism has only grown in recent years. • Some farmers are taking steps to reduce their reliance on pesticides.

re-li-ant /rɪˈlɪənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : needing someone or something for help, support, etc. : DEPENDENT — usually + on or upon • Most college students remain reliant on their parents' support. • Students have become too reliant on/upon calculators and don't truly understand basic mathematical principles. — see also SELF-RELIANT

rel-ic /ˈrelɪk/ noun, pl -ics [count]

1 : something that is from a past time, place, culture, etc. — often + of or from • relics of ancient China • relics from the war • This law is a relic of a bygone era. • Typewriters are a relic of the past [=typewriters are no longer used or considered modern]

2 : an object (such as a piece of clothing or the bone of a saint) that is considered holy • holy/sacred relics

re·lief /rɪˈli:f/ noun, pl -liefs

1 : a pleasant and relaxed feeling that someone has when something unpleasant stops or does not happen [noncount] I felt such a sense of relief after I finished my thesis. • He expressed relief that the crisis was finally over. • Much to everyone's relief, the airplane took off without any problems. • She breathed a sigh of relief. [=she no longer felt tension, worry, fear, etc.] [singular] What a relief it is to be back home.

2 [noncount] : the removal or reducing of something that is painful or unpleasant • I want relief from my headaches. [=I want my headaches to stop] • pain relief • Exercise is an excellent source of stress relief. • Both candidates promised tax relief for middle-class families.

3 [noncount] a : things (such as food, money, or medicine) that are given to help people who are victims of a war, earthquake, flood, etc. • disaster/famine relief • Countries from around the world have been sending relief to the flood victims. • Relief workers [=people whose job it is to provide aid] delivered medical supplies. • We donated to the relief effort for the hurricane victims. b chiefly US, old-fashioned : money that is given by the government to poor people : WELFARE • My father lost his job and we had to go on relief.

4 [noncount] : a person or group that replaces another person or group that needs rest or has finished a period of work • 30,000 troops will be sent abroad as relief for the deployed soldiers. — often used before another noun • The relief driver took over after the midway point of the race. • a relief crew

5 : something that is enjoyable and that replaces for a short time something that is boring, unpleasant, or difficult [singular] Just one day of sunshine would be a welcome relief from the rainy weather we've been having lately. [noncount] His character provides a little comic relief in what is otherwise a very serious and dramatic movie.

6 a [noncount] : a way of decorating wood, stone, metal, etc., with designs that stick out above the surface • Each gold coin depicts the queen's head in relief on the front. b [count] : a work of art with designs that stick out above the surface • ancient marble reliefs — see also BAS-RELIEF

7 [noncount] : a situation in which something is more noticeable when it is compared to something else • The trees stood in stark relief against the sky. • Her political activism throws the apathy of others into sharp relief. [=makes the apathy of others very noticeable] relief map noun, pl ~ maps [count] : a map that uses different colors or textures to show the height or depth of mountains, hills, valleys, etc.

relief pitcher noun, pl ~ -ers [count] baseball : a pitcher who comes into a game when another pitcher is removed from the game — called also reliever relief road noun, pl ~ roads [count] Brit : a road that can be used to avoid a busy area, another road with heavy traffic, etc.

re·lieve /rɪˈli:v/ verb -lieves; -lieved; -liev·ing [+ obj]

1 : to reduce or remove (something, such as pain or an unpleasant feeling) • I took a pill to relieve my headache. • I wish I could relieve your suffering. • What's the best way to relieve stress? • She tried to relieve the tension by making a joke.

2 : to make (a problem) less serious • an effort to relieve traffic congestion • relieve poverty • We need to find ways to relieve overcrowding in our schools.

3 : to take the place of (someone who has been working, fighting, etc.) • I've come to relieve the guard on duty. • The soldiers were relieved by 30,000 fresh troops. • (baseball) He relieved the starting pitcher in the sixth inning.

4 : to make (something) less boring, dull, etc., by including a part that is different • His latest book is a long, serious novel relieved only by the occasional joke.

relieve of [phrasal verb] relieve (someone) of (something) 1 formal : to take (something that is difficult or unpleasant) from (someone) • She signed a contract that relieved him of all responsibility regarding the business. • The law relieves you of any liability. [=under the law, you will not be liable]

2 informal + humorous : to steal (something) from (someone) • Someone relieved him of his wallet. [=someone stole his wallet] 3 : to remove (someone who has done something wrong) from (a post, duty, job, etc.) • The general was relieved of his command.

relieve yourself : to pass waste from your body • He stopped the car and went out into the woods to relieve himself. [=urinate] • The puppy relieved himself on the carpet.

relieved adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling relaxed and happy because something difficult or unpleasant has been stopped, avoided, or made easier : feeling relief • I was relieved to hear that you're feeling better. • He was greeted at the door by his much relieved mother.

re·liev·er /rɪˈli:və/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : something that relieves pain, stress, etc. • pain relievers like aspirin and ibuprofen • Exercise is a good stress reliever.

2 baseball : RELIEF PITCHER

re·li·gion /rɪˈlɪdʒən/ noun, pl -gions

1 [noncount] : the belief in a god or in a group of gods • Many people turn to religion for comfort in a time of crisis.

2 : an organized system of beliefs, ceremonies, and rules used to worship a god or a group of gods [count] There are many religions, such as Buddhism, Christianity, Hinduism, Islam, and Judaism. • Shinto is a religion that is unique to Japan. • I think that children should be taught about different religions. [=faiths] • It is against my religion [=my beliefs do not allow me] to drink alcohol. [noncount] They advocated for freedom of religion. [=the right to choose what religion to follow and to worship without interference] • She no longer participates in organized religion. [=a belief system that has large numbers of followers and a set of rules that must be followed]

3 informal : an interest, a belief, or an activity that is very important to a person or group [count] Hockey is a religion in Canada. • Politics are a religion to him. [noncount] Where I live, high school football is religion. • Food is religion in this house.

find/get religion informal + sometimes disapproving 1 : to become religious : to decide to follow a particular religion • Lots of people get religion in prison. • My dad found religion after surviving a car accident. 2 : to stop doing something that others think is wrong and begin to do something others think is good or correct • Automakers have found religion, finally bringing more hybrid vehicles to market. • The mayor got religion on public transit and is now pushing plans to build a new subway.

re·li·gi·os·i·ty /rɪˌlɪdʒiˈɑ:səti/ noun [noncount] sometimes disapproving : the state of being religious • a man of deep religiosity [=a very/deeply religious man]

re·li·gi·ous /rɪˈlɪdʒəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : of or relating to religion • My religious beliefs forbid the drinking of alcohol. • religious groups/organizations/schools • Religious leaders called for an end to the violence.

2 : believing in a god or a group of gods and following the rules of a religion • She is very religious. • My grandfather was a deeply religious [=spiritual] man. • His wife is very active in the church, but he's not religious himself.

3 informal a : very careful to do something whenever it can or should be done — usually + about • She's religious about using her seatbelt [=she always uses her seatbelt] when she drives. b : very interested in or involved with something — usually + about • The people here are religious about college football.

re·li·gi·ous·ly /rɪˈlɪdʒəsli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 : concerned or connected with religion • He is religiously observant. • Voters in this part of the country tend to be religiously and socially liberal.

2 : very regularly or carefully • She swims and lifts weights religiously. • I read the classified ads religiously. • This recipe must be followed religiously.

re·lin·quish /rɪˈlɪŋkwɪʃ/ verb -quish-es; -quished; -quish·ing [+ obj] formal : to give up (something) : to give (something, such as power, control, or possession) to another person or group • I will not relinquish my rights. • She was forced to relinquish control of the project. • The court ordered him to relinquish custody of his child.

— re·lin·quish·ment /rɪˈlɪŋkwɪʃmənt/ noun [noncount]

rel·i·quary /ˈreləˌkwəri/ noun, pl -quar·ies [count] : a container that is used to hold holy objects (called relics)

1 rel·ish /ˈrelɪʃ/ noun, pl -ish-es

1 [count, noncount] : a seasoned sauce that is used to add flavor to other foods and that is made of chopped fruit or vegetables • mango relish; especially : such a sauce made from pickles • I like to eat hot dogs with mustard and relish.

2 a [noncount] : enjoyment of or delight in something • She plays the role with great relish. • He took particular relish in pointing out my error. b [singular] : a feeling of liking something • He showed little relish for the job. [=he did not like the job]

2 relish verb -ishes; -ished; -ish-ing [+ obj] : to enjoy or take pleasure in (something) • I relish traveling to new places. • I don't relish the idea/prospect/thought of working late tonight. • He relishes the chance/opportunity to compete again.

re-live /ri'liv/ verb -lives; -lived; -liv-ing [+ obj] : to experience (something) again in your imagination : to remember (something) so clearly that the same emotions you felt in the past are felt again • an athlete trying to re-live his glory days • He would sometimes re-live the battle in his dreams.

re-load /ri'loud/ verb -loads; -load-ed; -load-ing

1 : to put bullets, film, etc., into something (such as a gun or camera) again [+ obj] They reloaded their rifles. • I need to reload the camera. [no obj] The soldiers reloaded.

2 : to put data into a computer's memory again [+ obj] If the images don't display, reload the page. [no obj] Exit the program and reload.

re-lo-cate /ri'lou,keit/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing : to move to a new place [no obj] He relocated to Los Angeles for his new job. • How can we convince more businesses to relocate to/in this city? [+ obj] The company decided to relocate its headquarters.

— re-lo-ca-tion /ri:lou'keifən/ noun, pl -tions [count, non-count] • corporate relocations

re-luc-tant /ri'laktənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling or showing doubt about doing something : not willing or eager to do something • We were reluctant to get involved. • He might agree but seems reluctant to admit it. • a reluctant participant

— re-luc-tance /ri'laktəns/ noun [singular] They have shown a reluctance to take risks. [noncount] He agreed to help us with much/great reluctance. — re-luc-tant-ly adv • She reluctantly agreed to pay the fine.

re-ly /ri'lai/ verb -lies; -lied; -ly-ing rely on/upon [phrasal verb] 1 rely on/upon (someone or something) a : to need (someone or something) for support, help, etc. : to depend on (someone or something) • My mother relied on me for financial support. • They rely on a well for all their water. • She relies on her sister to drive her to school. • He no longer relies upon his parents for money. b : to trust or believe (someone or something) • She's someone you can rely on. • You can rely on him to do it right. • I relied heavily upon your advice. • You could always rely on [=count on] him to disagree. [=you could always be sure that he would disagree] 2 rely on/upon (something) : to expect (something) with confidence : to be certain that (something) will happen or exist • The economy may improve next year, but it's not something you can rely on.

REM /'rem, ,æɪ, 'em/ noun [noncount] : REM SLEEP

re-main /ri'mein/ verb -mains; -mained; -main-ing

1 [no obj] : to be left when the other parts are gone or have been used • Little remained after the fire. • Only two minutes still remain in the game. • The memory of that day will remain [=stay] with me for the rest of my life.

2 not used in progressive tenses [no obj] : to be something that still needs to be done, dealt with, etc. • The question/mystery remains: who fired the shot? — often followed by to + verb • Much work remains to be done. [=there is much work still to be done] • It remains to be seen [=it is uncertain] whether or not she was lying.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] some-what formal : to stay in the same place or with the same person or group : to stay after others have gone • She remained in Boston after she finished college. • The soldiers were ordered to remain at their posts. • I remained behind after the class had ended. • He remained with the team.

4 not used in progressive tenses [linking verb] : to continue in a specified state, condition, or position • She remained [=kept, stayed] calm. • Please remain standing/seated. : to continue to be something specified • It remains true that the best wines are not always the most expensive. • The weather re-mained cold. • The victim's identity remains a mystery. • They have remained friends. [=they are still friends]

the fact remains see FACT

— remaining adj • Add the remaining ingredients to the sauce. • a few remaining guests

1 re-main-der /ri'meində/ noun, pl -ders

1 the remainder : the part that is left when the other people or things are gone, used, etc. • Most of the university's students live on campus and the remainder [=the rest] rent apartments in town. — often + of • The players will be suspended for the remainder of the season. • The remainder of the money will be donated to charity.

2 [count] mathematics a : the number that is left when one number is subtracted from another number • 2 subtracted from 5 gives a remainder of 3. b : the number that is left over when one number does not divide evenly into another number • 5 goes into 29 five times with a remainder of 4.

3 [count] : a book that is sold at a reduced price by the publisher : a book that is remaindered

2 remainder verb -ders; -dered; -der-ing [+ obj] : to sell (a book) at a reduced price because not many copies are being sold and no more copies will be produced • The book did not sell well and ended up being remaindered.

re-mains /ri'meinz/ noun [plural]

1 : the dead body of a person or animal • Her remains will be returned to her family for burial. • fossil remains of prehistoric animals • human remains

2 : the parts of something that are left when the other parts are gone or used • These photos show the remains of a star that exploded thousands of years ago. • the remains of a medieval castle mortal remains formal : the dead body of a person

1 re-make /ri'meik/ verb -makes; -made /-'meid/; -mak-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make a new or different version of (something, such as a movie, song, etc.) • They will be remaking the film with American actors.

2 : to make (something) into something else • The city is trying to remake [=transform] itself into a regional center for arts and tourism.

2 re-make /'ri:,meik/ noun, pl -makes [count] : a new or different version of a movie, song, etc. • The director's next project will be a remake of King Kong.

re-mand /ri'mænd, Brit ri'ma:nd/ verb -mands; -mand-ed; -mand-ing [+ obj] law

1 US : to send (a case) back to another court of law to be tried or dealt with again • The judge remanded the case for further consideration.

2 always followed by a preposition : to order (someone) to go somewhere — usually used as (be) remanded • He was remanded into custody [=he was sent to prison to wait for his trial] until the end of the month. • She was remanded to drug rehab as part of her sentencing. • (Brit) She was remanded on bail [=she was allowed to post bail and wait for her trial at home instead of in prison]

— remand noun, pl -mands [count, noncount] • (US) The appellate court will hear the case on remand. [=the case has been remanded and will be heard by the appellate court] • (Brit) He's in prison on remand awaiting trial. [=he has been remanded to prison and is awaiting trial]

remand centre noun, pl ~ -tres [count] Brit, law : a jail for people who are waiting for trial or sentencing

1 re-mark /ri'maək/ noun, pl -marks

1 [count] : something that someone says or writes to express an opinion or idea : COMMENT • I was offended by his re-mark. • I've heard many disparaging remarks about him. • an author known for making witty/clever remarks

2 [noncount] formal : the act of noticing or making a comment about something • The incident passed without remark.

3 remarks [plural] : a short speech or a part of a speech • opening/closing remarks

synonyms REMARK, OBSERVATION, and COMMENT mean something that is said or written and that gives an opinion. REMARK often suggests a quick thought or an informal judgment. • He made a casual remark about the food. OBSERVATION often suggests an opinion expressed after looking closely at and thinking about something. • She published her observations on whales after 10 years of study. COMMENT often suggests a remark that is meant to explain or criticize. • I asked her to give me her comments on the book when she finished it.

2 remark verb -marks; -marked; -mark-ing : to make a statement about someone or something : to make a remark [+ obj] "It's so hot today," she remarked. • He remarked [=commented] that the movie was disappointing. [no obj] — + on or upon • The mayor remarked on/upon how quickly the construction of the new civic center was progressing.

re-mark-able /ri'maəkəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : unusual or surprising : likely to be noticed • Competing in the Olympics is a remarkable achievement. • a remarkable new theory • The girl has a remarkable talent.

— re-mark-ably /rɪ'mɑːkəbli/ adv • Remarkably (enough), no one was hurt. • They were remarkably successful.

re-mar-ry /ri'meri/ verb -ries; -ried; -ry-ing : to marry again [no obj] I'm not sure if I'll ever remarry. • She never re-married after her husband died. [+ obj] Is he going to remarry his ex-wife?

— re-mar-riage /ri'merɪdʒ/ noun, pl -riag-es [count, non-count]

re-mas-ter /ri'mæstə, Brit ri'mɑːstə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing [+ obj] technical : to make a new copy of (a recording or film) with the sound or image improved • The movie was digitally remastered [=improved using digital technology] for release on DVD.

re-match /ri:mætʃ/ noun, pl -match-es [count] : a match or game that is played by the same people or teams after an earlier match or game — usually singular • After he lost the first game he demanded a rematch.

re-me-di-a-ble /rɪ'miːdɪəbəl/ adj, formal : capable of being solved or cured • This problem is easily remediable.

re-me-di-al /rɪ'miːdɪəl/ adj

1 a : done to correct or improve something : done to make something better • Officials have pledged remedial action/measures to repair damaged bridges. b : done to cure or treat someone • remedial therapy

2 : involving students who need special help to improve in a particular subject • Thirty percent of the new students need remedial classes/courses in math. • remedial education • He's taking a course in remedial reading. • (US) a remedial student [=a student who is taking a remedial class]

1 rem-e-dy /rɛmədi/ noun, pl -dies

1 [count] : a medicine or treatment that relieves pain or cures a usually minor illness • a remedy for fever • The store now sells herbal remedies. [=medicines made from plants] • a shelf of cold remedies [=medicines to take when you have a cold] • Do you know of a good home remedy [=a medicine made at home] for heartburn? • folk remedies [=traditional medicines that are not prescribed by a doctor]

2 : a way of solving or correcting a problem [count] Building more roads isn't always the best remedy for traffic congestion. • You may have no legal remedy [=way of finding a solution using the law] in this dispute. [noncount] The problem was beyond remedy. • She was left without remedy since the court did not recognize her claim.

2 remedy verb -dies; -died; -dy-ing [+ obj] : to solve, correct, or improve (something) • Something must be done to remedy the problem/situation. • The conflict can be remedied by scheduling the meeting for next week.

re-mem-ber /ri'membə/ verb -bers; -bered; -ber-ing

1 : to have or keep an image or idea in your mind of (something or someone from the past) : to think of (something or someone from the past) again [+ obj] I remember my first day of school like it was yesterday. • Do you remember me? I used to work with you many years ago. • Remember when we went hiking last summer? • I remember telling him not to do it, but he did it anyway. • I remember what that felt like. • It was a day to remember. [=it was a special/memorable day] [no obj] As far as I can remember, I've never been late to a meeting. • My family has lived in New York for as long as I can remember. [=for a very long time]

2 : to cause (something) to come back into your mind [+ obj] I couldn't remember how to spell her name. • I can't remember where I put that book. • I remembered that I had left my wallet at home. • Sorry, I don't remember your name. [=I have forgotten your name] [no obj] What was it that I was going to ask him? I can't remember.

3 : to keep (information) in your mind : to not forget (something) [+ obj] Remember the dates for the test. • Thank you for remembering my birthday. • I remembered to feed the cat. • Remember, the trains stop running at 12:30 a.m. • Please remember to take out the trash tomorrow. • (formal) It should be remembered [=it is important to keep in mind] that he made many important contributions to the campaign. [no obj] I don't need to write it down, I'll remember. — see also remember your manners at MANNER

4 [+ obj] : to think about (someone who has died) in a respectful way • On this day, let us remember our nation's veterans. • We should remember the victims of the tragedy. • She is remembered for her contributions to physics.

5 [+ obj] : to give money or a gift to (someone) • Her brother was remembered in her will. [=she wrote in her will that her brother should receive some of her things after her death] • They remembered him on his birthday.

remember me to old-fashioned — used to ask someone to give your greetings to another person • Remember me to your aunt when you see her today.

re-mem-brance /rɪ'membrəns/ noun, pl -branc-es literary

1 [noncount] : the act of remembering a person, thing, or event • a time for remembrance — often + of • The remembrance of his loss seemed to darken his mood.

2 [noncount] : something that is done or made to honor the memory of a person, thing, or event — often + of • The dinner was held in remembrance of my mother.

3 [count] : a memory of a person, thing, or event — often + of • I have many fond remembrances of my youth.

Remembrance Sunday noun, pl ~ -days [count, non-count] Brit : a holiday that is observed on the Sunday closest to November 11 to honor the people who were killed in the two World Wars — called also Remembrance Day

re-mind /rɪ'maɪnd/ verb -minds; -mind-ed; -mind-ing [+ obj] : to make (someone) think about something again : to cause (someone) to remember something • She'll forget to call the doctor if you don't remind her. • Remind me to buy some groceries after work. • I constantly have to be reminded how to pronounce her name. • I had to remind him that we were supposed to leave early. • The audience was reminded to turn their cell phones off in the theater. • (humorous) "We have a test tomorrow." "Don't remind me." [=I don't want to hear about it because it's something unpleasant that I'm trying not to think about] • The mail just arrived. That reminds me, did you mail that letter I gave you yesterday?

remind of [phrasal verb] 1 remind (someone) of (something) : to cause (someone) to remember (something) • I reminded him of his promise to help me. [=I reminded him that he had promised to help me] • This song reminds me of our wedding day. 2 remind (someone) of (someone or something) : to cause (someone) to think of (a similar person or thing) • He reminds me of my uncle. [=he is like my uncle; he looks/acts like my uncle] • This painting reminds me of a picture I saw at the Metropolitan Museum.

re-mind-er /rɪ'maɪndə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : something that causes you to remember or to think about something • The accident was a sobering reminder of the dangers of climbing. • a constant reminder of his past • She sent him an e-mail reminder about the meeting. • I wrote myself a reminder to take out the trash.

rem-i-nisce /rɛmə'nɪs/ verb -nisc-es; -nisc-ed; -nisc-ing [no obj] : to talk, think, or write about things that happened in the past • He reminisced with old buddies at his high school reunion. • She reminisced about her time in Europe.

rem-i-nis-cence /rɛmə'nɪsn̩s/ noun, pl -cenc-es formal

1 [count] : a story that someone tells about something that happened in the past — usually plural; often + of • I listened to my grandmother's reminiscences of her childhood.

2 [noncount] : the act of remembering or telling about past experiences • a time for reminiscence

rem-i-nis-cent /rɛmə'nɪsnt/ adj

1 : reminding you of someone or something else : similar to something else — often + of • His singing is reminiscent of the crooners of the '40s and '50s. • It had a taste reminiscent of spinach.

2, always used before a noun, literary + formal : thinking about the past : having many thoughts of the past • I'm in a reminiscent mood.

re-miss /rɪ'mɪs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not showing enough care and attention • It would be remiss (of me) if I forgot to mention them in my lecture. • I was remiss in paying my bills. [=I neglected to pay my bills]

re-mis-sion /rɪ'mɪʃən/ noun, pl -sions

1 : a period of time during a serious illness when the patient's health improves [noncount] Her cancer has gone into remission. = Her cancer is in remission. [=the symptoms of her cancer have become much less severe] • The patient is in remission. [count] a temporary remission of symptoms

2 formal : the act of reducing or canceling the amount of money that you owe [noncount] The university offers tuition remission to teaching assistants. [=teaching assistants do not have to pay tuition] [count] tax remissions • fee remissions

3 [noncount] Brit : the reduction of a prison sentence • He was given remission for good behavior.

1 re-mit /rɪ'mɪt/ verb -mits; -mit-ted; -mit-ting [+ obj] formal

1 : to send (money) as a payment • Please remit $1,000 upon receipt of this letter. • Payment can be remitted by check.
2 : to cancel or free someone from (a punishment, debt, etc.)
 • The governor remitted the remainder of her life sentence.
remit to [phrasal verb] remit (something) to (someone or something) : to send (something, such as a dispute or a court case) to an authority that can make a decision about it — often used as (be) remitted to • The matter was remitted to a new committee for discussion. • The case was remitted to the state court.

2 remit noun, pl -mits [count] Brit, formal : an area of responsibility and authority — usually singular • The problem was outside/beyond our remit. • She will have a wide remit to reform the company.

re-mit-tance /rɪ'mɪtns/ noun, pl -tanc-es formal

1 [count] : an amount of money that is sent as a payment for something • Please return the form with your remittance. [=payment]

2 [noncount] : the act of sending money as a payment for something • Remittance can be made by check or credit card.

re-mix /rɪ'mɪks/ noun, pl -mix-es [count] : a new or different version of a recorded song that is made by changing or adding to the original recording of the song • dance remixes of rock songs

— re-mix /rɪ'mɪks/ verb -mix-es; -mixed; -mix-ing [+ obj]
 • He remixed the song for the new album. — re-mix-er noun, pl -ers [count] • He is the band's remixer.

rem-nant /rɛm'nənt/ noun, pl -nants [count]

1 : the part of something that is left when the other parts are gone — usually plural; often + of • These villages are the last surviving remnants of a great civilization. • A new police force was formed from the remnants of the army.

2 : a small piece of cloth that is left after the rest of the cloth has been sold • Remnants go on sale next week.

re-mod-el /rɪ'mɑːdl/ verb -els; US -eled or Brit -elled; US -el-ing or Brit -el-ling [+ obj] : to change the structure, shape, or appearance of (something) • We remodeled the kitchen last year.

— remodeled (US) or Brit remodelled adj • newly remodeled [=renovated] bathrooms — remodeling (US) or Brit remodelling noun [noncount] • The office will be closed during remodeling.

re-mold (US) or Brit re-mould /rɪ'məʊld/ verb -molds; -mold-ed; -mold-ing [+ obj] formal : to change (something, such as an idea, a system, or a habit) • She resisted the efforts to remold her image. • The company needs to remold itself [=transform itself] into a smaller and more competitive business.

re-mon-strance /rɪ'mɑːnstrəns/ noun, pl -stranc-es formal : a protest or complaint about something [count] an angry remonstrance [noncount] Many residents wrote letters of remonstrance to city officials.

re-mon-strate /rɛmən'streɪt, rɪ'mɑːn'streɪt/ verb -strates; -strat-ed; -strat-ing [no obj] formal : to disagree and argue or complain about something • He got angry when I politely remonstrated with him about littering.

— re-mon-stration /rɛmən'streɪʃən, rə'mɑːn'streɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] an official remonstration [=protest, complaint] [noncount] letters of remonstration

re-morse /rɪ'mɔːs/ noun [noncount] : a feeling of being sorry for doing something bad or wrong in the past : a feeling of guilt • I could forgive him for what he did if he showed some remorse. — often + for • She was filled with remorse for not visiting her father more often. [=she was very sorry that she did not visit her father more often] • I felt a bit of remorse [=regret] for being so impatient.

— re-morse-ful /rɪ'mɔːsfəl/ adj • She seemed truly remorseful for what she had done. — re-morse-ful-ly /rɪ'mɔːsfəli/ adv • She remorsefully pleaded guilty.

re-morse-less /rɪ'mɔːsləs/ adj

1 : very cruel and showing no pity or sympathy for other people : MERCILESS • a remorseless murderer

2 : continuing in a way that does not end or that seems impossible to stop • his remorseless pursuit of justice

— re-morse-less-ly adv • She attacked her opponent's position remorselessly.

re-mort-gage /rɪ'mɔːɡɪdʒ/ verb -gag-es; -gaged; -gag-ing : to get a second mortgage on a house or to change the mortgage that you have [+ obj] We had to remortgage our house. [no obj] I'd like to remortgage at a lower rate.

1 re-mote /rɪ'məʊt/ adj re-mot-er; -est [or more ~; most ~]

1 a : far away : DISTANT • She enjoys reading about remote lands. • remote galaxies b : far away from other people, houses, cities, etc. • a remote island/village • The mission is to transport medical supplies to remote areas/places/regions of the globe.

2 always used before a noun : far away in time : happening a long time ago or far into the future • a tradition that dates back to remote antiquity • an invention that may be available in the remote future

3 : very small : SLIGHT • There is a remote possibility that I'll be free Friday night. • a remote chance [=a very small possibility]

4 always used before a noun : not closely related • remote ancestors

5 : very different from something • Their traditions are remote from our own.

6 : not friendly or involved with other people : distant or cold in manner • She became very remote in her old age.

7 always used before a noun a computers : connected to a computer system from another place • a remote computer/machine/terminal • Remote users cannot access these files. • The computer is capable of remote access. [=it is possible to become connected to this computer from another place] b

: capable of being controlled from a distance • a remote camera • remote sensors

— re-mote-ness noun [noncount] • The remoteness of his location made it hard for rescuers to reach him. • his remoteness as a father

2 remote noun, pl -motes [count] informal : REMOTE CONTROL

remote control noun, pl ~ -trols

1 [count] : a small device that is used to operate electronic equipment (such as a television) from a distance by using electronic signals • Where did you put the remote control? — called also (informal) remote, (chiefly US, informal) clicker, (Brit, informal) zapper

2 [noncount] : a process or system that makes it possible to control something from a distance by using electronic signals • The bomb was detonated by remote control. • a DVD player with remote control • a remote control camera — remote-controlled adj • a remote-controlled toy car

re-mote-ly /rɪ'məʊtli/ adv

1 : to a very small degree • It's remotely [=barely] possible that they could have met, but I don't think it's very likely. — usually used in negative statements • I've never seen anything remotely like it. [=never seen anything that was like it at all] • I wasn't even remotely involved in that decision. • Nothing he said was even remotely true. [=nothing he said was at all true]

2 technical : from a distance • I can log in remotely to my computer. [=I can log in to my computer by using another computer that is connected to it] • a remotely operated submarine • They can remotely monitor the building. • The door can be unlocked remotely.

remote sensing noun [noncount] technical : the use of satellites to collect information about and take photographs of the Earth

remould Brit spelling of REMOLD

re-mount /rɪ'maʊnt/ verb -mounts; -mount-ed; -mount-ing

1 [+ obj] : to attach (something) to a support again • a diamond remounted in a new setting • I had to remount the tires on my car. • I had trouble remounting the door.

2 : to get on a horse, bicycle, motorcycle, etc., again after getting off or falling off [no obj] She fell off her horse but quickly remounted. [+ obj] She remounted her horse and finished her ride.

re-mov-able /rɪ'muːvəbəl/ adj : able to be removed : made to be detached or taken out • The hard drive is removable. • I'm looking for a digital camera with a removable lens.

re-mov-al /rɪ'muːvəl/ noun, pl -als

1 [noncount] : the act of moving or taking something away from a place • We arranged for the removal of the old car. • The city is having problems with trash/waste/snow removal. • Surgical removal of the tumor might be necessary.

2 [noncount] : the act of making something go away so that it no longer exists • stain removal • the removal of doubt

3 [noncount] : the act of forcing someone to leave a job • removal from office • The scandal resulted in the director's removal. [=dismissal]

4 [count] Brit : the act of moving furniture and other things from one house to another • Local removals [= (US) moves] can be done cheaply. — often used before another noun • a removal [(US) moving] company • removal expenses removal van noun, pl ~ vans [count] Brit : MOVING VAN re-move /rɪ'mu:v/ verb -moves; -moved; -mov-ing [+ obj]

1 : to move or take (something) away from a place • Remove the trash from the front yard. • My tonsils were removed when I was five years old. • Trees help to remove carbon dioxide from the atmosphere.

2 : to cause (something) to no longer exist • These new findings should remove any doubt about his innocence. • What's a good way to remove stains from a silk dress? • The new law would remove obstacles to obtaining a work permit.

3 : to force (someone) to leave a job : to dismiss (someone) from a job • He was removed from office.

4 somewhat formal : to take off (something, such as a piece of your clothing) • Please remove your shoes. • He removed his sunglasses.

remove noun, pl -moves formal : a distance separating one person or thing from another — used with at [count] — usually singular • His anger remains, even at a remove of 20 years. [=even after 20 years have passed] • He keeps the children at a safe remove from the dangers of the city. [non-count] She thrives when she's at some remove from mainstream society.

removed adj, not used before a noun

1 : away from something : DISTANT • We're looking for an apartment somewhat removed from the noise of downtown.

2 : of a younger or older generation • The child of your first cousin is your first cousin once removed.

far removed from : very different from (something) • a pampered life far removed from the poverty of his youth • Hockey and soccer are not that far removed from each other.

re-mov-er /rɪ'mu:və/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : something (such as a chemical) that removes something unwanted from something else • paint/stain remover • nail polish remover

2 Brit : a person or company that is hired to take furniture and possessions from one place to another — usually plural • Don't let the removers [(US) movers] pack your dishes.

REM sleep noun [noncount] : a stage of sleep during which you dream and your eyes make quick movements — called also rapid eye movement sleep, REM re-mu-ner-ate /rɪ'mju:nə'reɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+obj] formal : to pay someone for work that has been done • They were remunerated for their services. = Their services were remunerated.

re-mu-ner-a-tion /rɪ'mju:nə'reɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions formal : an amount of money paid to someone for the work that person has done [noncount] an increase in remuneration • a remuneration package [count] She was given generous remunerations for her work.

re-mu-ner-a-tive /rɪ'mju:nə'reɪtɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : paying a lot of money : PROFITABLE • Our investors are seeking more remunerative opportunities.

re-nais-sance /'renə,sɑ:ns, Brit 'rɪ'neɪsɪs/ noun

1 the Renaissance : the period of European history between the 14th and 17th centuries when there was a new interest in science and in ancient art and literature especially in Italy • a book on the Renaissance — often used as Renaissance before another noun • a Renaissance scholar/painter • Renaissance art

2 [singular] a : a situation or period of time when there is a new interest in something that has not been popular in a long time • The magazine began when the country was undergoing a culinary renaissance. [=rebirth] • The city has experienced a renaissance [=renewal, revival] of interest in historic preservation. b : a period of new growth or activity • the city's economic renaissance [=revival, rebirth]

Renaissance man noun, pl ~ men [count] : a man who is interested in and knows a lot about many things

Renaissance woman noun, pl ~ -men [count] : a woman who is interested in and knows a lot about many things re-nal /'ri:nəl/ adj, always used before a noun, medical : relating to or involving the kidneys • renal disease/failure re-name /ri'neɪm/ verb -names; -named; -nam-ing [+obj] : to give a new name to (someone or something) • Ceylon was renamed Sri Lanka in 1972. • The bridge is being renamed in honor of the city's former mayor.

re-na-scent /rɪ'næsnt/ adj, formal : existing, happening, or popular again • renascent inflation/nationalism

rend /rend/ verb rends; rent /'rent/ also US rend-ed;

rend-ing [+obj] literary : to tear (something) into pieces with force or violence • They rent the cloth to shreds. • mourners rending their clothes/garments in grief — sometimes used figuratively • a family rent [=torn apart] by divorce

ren-der /'rendə/ verb -ders; -dered; -der-ing [+obj]

1 formal : to cause (someone or something) to be in a specified condition • Depression can render a person helpless. • Both passengers were rendered unconscious in the accident. • The sight of her rendered him speechless. • The virus rendered the computer useless.

2 formal : to give (something) to someone • render an apology • He witnessed a car accident and stopped to render aid/assistance. • a fee/payment for services rendered [=for something that a person, company, etc., has done for you]

3 law : to officially report or declare (a legal judgment, such as a verdict) • The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

4 formal : to present or perform (something) • The novel renders a portrait of life in ancient Rome. • poems rendered in the original German • perfectly rendered songs

5 formal : TRANSLATE • render Latin into English • The word was incorrectly rendered as "light."

6 : to melt (fat) especially as a way of removing it from meat • It's important to render the fat from the duck.

7 : to change (something) into a different substance by some process • trees rendered into wood pulp • animal fat rendered into tallow ren-der-ing /'rendərɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count] formal

1 : a performance of a song, play, etc. • She gave an emotional rendering [=rendition] of the national anthem.

2 : a description, explanation, or translation • The book is a faithful rendering of life in a rural community. • a new rendering of the text in English

1 ren-dez-vous /'rɑ:ndɪ,vu:/ noun, pl ren-dez-vous /'rɑ:ndɪ,vu:z/ [count]

1 : a meeting with someone that is arranged for a particular time and place and that is often secret • a romantic rendezvous • He was late for their rendezvous.

2 a : a place where people agree to meet at a particular time • The restaurant will be our rendezvous. b : a place where many people go to spend time • This park/café is a popular/favorite rendezvous [=hangout, haunt] for local teens.

2 ren-dez-vous /'rɑ:ndɪ,vu:/ verb -vouses /-,vu:z/; -voused /-,vu:d/; -vous-ing /-,vu:wɪŋ/ [no obj] : to meet at a particular time and place • The cousins rendezvoused in New York before they flew to London.

ren-di-tion /ren'dɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count]

1 : a performance of something • a moving rendition of an old gospel song

2 : TRANSLATION • a new rendition of the text in English

ren-e-gade /'renɪ,geɪd/ noun, pl -gades [count]

1 : a person who leaves one group, religion, etc., and joins another that opposes it • renegades from the Republican/Democratic Party — usually used before another noun • a renegade Republican/Democrat

2 : someone or something that causes trouble and cannot be controlled • stories about pirates and renegades on the high seas — often used before another noun • drugs that attack renegade cells in cancer patients

re-nege /rɪ'neg, Brit rɪ'ni:g/ verb -neges; -neged; -neg-ing [no obj] : to refuse to do something that you promised or agreed to do • They had promised to pay her tuition but later reneged. — usually + on • They reneged on their promise to pay her tuition.

re-ne-go-ti-ate /,rɪ:nə'gouʃi,eɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing : to discuss again the details of a formal agreement especially in order to change them : to negotiate (something) again [+obj] renegotiate a contract/lease/agreement [no obj] The deal is done. I won't renegotiate.

— re-ne-go-ti-a-tion /,rɪ:nɪ'gouʃi,eɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

re-new /rɪ'nu:, Brit rɪ'nju:/ verb -news; -newed; -new-ing [+obj]

1 : to make (something) new, fresh, or strong again • When you sleep, your body has a chance to renew itself. • This discussion has renewed my hope of finding a solution to the problem. • At the start of each school year, we renew our commitment to helping students succeed.

2 : to make (a promise, vow, etc.) again • She renewed her promise to come see me. • They celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary by renewing their wedding vows.

3 : to begin (something) again especially with more force or enthusiasm • They have renewed their efforts to find a peaceful solution. • The incident has renewed hostilities between the groups. • We hope to renew [(more commonly) resume] negotiations soon. • They recently renewed their acquaintance/friendship after more than 10 years apart. • If you haven't listened to this music since the 1960s, it's time to renew your acquaintance with these songs.

4 : to put in a fresh supply of (something) : REPLACE • You should renew the water in the fish tank once a week.

5 : to cause (something) to continue to be effective or valid for an additional period of time • The landlord agreed to renew our lease for another year. • You can renew your driver's license online. • He forgot to renew his passport and now it's expired. • You should renew your magazine subscription before it runs out. • She renewed the library book. [=she had the library extend the period of time that she can borrow the book]

— renewed adj • She wrote with renewed [=fresh] enthusiasm after meeting with her editor. • We felt renewed [=restored, revived] after a good night's sleep. • There was more violence in spite of renewed efforts to make peace. • We have a renewed sense of pride in our town. • High fuel prices have led to renewed interest in electric cars.

re·new·able /rɪˈnuːwəbəl, Brit rɪˈnjuːwəbəl/ adj

1 : able to be extended for another time period : able to be renewed • a renewable life insurance policy • a renewable lease

2 : restored or replaced by natural processes : able to be replaced by nature • Forests are renewable natural resources, but they must be treated with care. • Wind and water are renewable fuel sources. — opposite NONRENEWABLE

re·new·al /rɪˈnuːwəl, Brit rɪˈnjuːwəl/ noun, pl -als

1 : the act of extending the period of time when something is effective or valid : the act of renewing something [count] The lease calls for yearly renewals. • License renewals can be done online. • You can get a 10 percent savings on subscription renewals. [noncount] His contract is up for renewal at the end of the season. [=it will be time to consider renewing his contract at the end of the season]

2 : the state of being made new, fresh, or strong again : the state of being renewed [singular] High fuel prices have led to a renewal of interest in electric cars. [noncount] She uses flowers in her art as symbols of rebirth and renewal. — see also URBAN RENEWAL

re·nom·i·nate /rɪˈnɑːməˌneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [+ obj] : to nominate (someone) again • The President is likely to be renominated for a second term. • The President has renominated a judge that Congress previously rejected.

— re·nom·i·na·tion /rɪˈnɑːməˌneɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

re·nounce /rɪˈnaʊns/ verb -nounc-es; -nounced; -nounc-ing [+ obj]

1 : to say especially in a formal or official way that you will no longer have or accept (something) : to formally give up (something) • The king renounced [=abdicated] the throne. • She renounced her inheritance. • We will not deal with them until they renounce (the use of) violence/terrorism.

2 : to say in a formal or definite way that you refuse to follow, obey, or support (someone or something) any longer • Many of his former supporters have renounced him. • He renounced his old way of life. • psychiatrists who renounce [=reject] the teachings of Freud ren·o·vate /ˈrenəˌveɪt/ verb -vates; -vat-ed; -vat-ing [+ obj] : to make changes and repairs to (an old house, building, room, etc.) so that it is back in good condition • renovate an old farmhouse • a newly renovated theater • It's an old factory that has been renovated as office space. • We renovated the kitchen three years ago.

— ren·o·va·tion /ˈrenəˌveɪʃən/ noun, pl ~ tions [count] a costly renovation — often plural • The restaurant is closed for renovations. [noncount] The park will be closed during renovation. — ren·o·va·tor /ˈrenəˌveɪtər/ noun, pl -tors [count] • good advice for home renovators

re·nown /rɪˈnaʊn/ noun [noncount] somewhat formal : great fame and respect • He achieved/gained/won great renown for his discoveries. • Her photographs have earned her international renown. • writers of renown [=renowned writers]

re·nowned /rɪˈnaʊnd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : known and admired by many people for some special quality or achievement • a restaurant renowned for its wine list • a renowned scientist

¹rent /ˈrent/ noun, pl rents : money that you pay in return for being able to use property and especially to live in an apartment, house, etc., that belongs to someone else [noncount] How much do you pay in rent? • Rent is due on the first of the month. [count] Our landlord raised the rent. • Rents near the college have risen.

for rent chiefly US : available for use in return for payment : available to be rented • houses for rent [=to let] • bicycles/costumes/rooms for rent

— compare ⁴RENT

²rent verb rents; rent-ed; rent-ing

1 : to pay money in return for being able to use (something that belongs to someone else) [+ obj] We rented our friends' cottage for the month of August. • (US) We rented tables and chairs for the wedding. • (US) We rented [(Brit) hired] a car at the airport. • (US) Do you want to rent a movie/DVD/video tonight? [no obj] When they first moved to town, they rented. [=they lived in a house, apartment, etc., that was rented] • Do you own or rent?

2 [+ obj] : to allow someone to use (something) in return for payment • They rented [=let] their cottage to friends. • We rented them the upstairs apartment in our house. • We rent (out) a room in our house to a college student.

3 [no obj] : to be available for use in return for payment : to be for rent • The cottage rents for $400 a week.

— rent·able /ˈrentəbəl/ adj • rentable storage space • The house is rentable in the winter. — rent·er noun, pl -ers [count] • Renters don't get the tax breaks that home owners get. • The company is the largest car renter in the area.

³rent past tense and past participle of REND

⁴rent noun, pl rents [count] formal + literary : a hole made by tearing something • a rent in the fabric — compare ¹RENT

rent·al /ˈrent/ noun, pl -als

1 : the amount of money paid or collected as rent [count] — usually singular • The average rental is $400 per month. [noncount] thousands of dollars paid in rental • rental fees/income • (Brit) line rental [=money that you pay to use a telephone line]

2 : the act of renting something [count] There are restrictions against rentals to people with pets. [noncount] The movie is available for rental. • a rental agreement

3 [count] chiefly US : something that can be rented • Boat rentals are available on the island. • a two-bedroom rental • I had a rental while my car was being repaired. • a rental car rent control noun [noncount] chiefly US : a system in which the government determines how much rent can be charged for an apartment, house, etc.

— rent·controlled adj • rent-controlled housing • a rent-controlled apartment re·nun·ci·a·tion /rɪˈnʌnsiˌeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : the act of renouncing something or someone [count] the king's renunciation of the throne [noncount] renunciation of violence • Their vows include renunciation of all wealth.

re·open /rɪˈoʊpən/ verb -opens; -opened; -open-ing

1 : to open again after being closed [no obj] The restaurant will reopen in April. • I'm sorry, but the store is closed. We reopen at nine on Monday. • The cut on his knee reopened when he tried to run. [+ obj] The company announced plans to reopen its Detroit factory. • a procedure to reopen a clogged artery — sometimes used figuratively • Telling that story will only reopen old wounds. [=cause people to think of things from the past that make them sad, angry, etc.]

2 a : to start (something) again after a period without activity [+ obj] They reopened [=resumed] the negotiations. • The district attorney reopened the murder case because new evidence was found. [no obj] The negotiations have reopened.

b [+ obj] US : to discuss and make changes to (something that had been considered finished) again • He wants the team to reopen his contract.

— reopening noun [singular] The mayor was present for the library's official reopening. • a reopening of negotiations [noncount] The factory is set for reopening.

re·or·der /rɪˈoʊdər/ verb -ders; -dered; -der-ing

1 : to order (something) again [+ obj] I had to reorder the shirt because they sent the wrong size. • The book sold out the first day, and the store reordered 500 copies. [no obj] Call us when you're ready to reorder.

2 [+ obj] : to arrange (something) in a different order • You need to reorder your priorities. • The coach reordered the batting lineup. • After her husband's death, she reordered her life.

re·or·ga·nize also Brit re·or·ga·nise /rɪˈoʊɡəˌnaɪz/ verb -niz-es; -nized; -niz-ing : to organize (something) again or in a different way [+ obj] The staff is still reorganizing the files according to the new system. • The company was reorganized after it went bankrupt. [no obj] The company is reorganizing as a corporation. • The club had to reorganize when most of its members moved away.

— re-or-ga-ni-za-tion also Brit re-or-ga-ni-sa-tion /ri,ɔ:gənə'zeɪʃən, Brit ri,ɔ:gə,nai'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

¹rep /'rep/ noun, pl reps [count] informal : REPRESENTATIVE • sales reps — compare ²REP, ³REP

²rep noun, pl reps [count] informal : a motion or exercise that is repeated — usually plural • When he does push-ups, he does 3 sets of 12 reps. [=repetitions] — compare ¹REP, ³REP

³rep noun, pl reps [count] US slang : REPUTATION • He's worried about protecting his rep. — compare ¹REP, ²REP

Rep. abbr ¹ Republican ² representative • a letter to Rep. Richard Jones

re-pack-age /ri'pækɪdʒ/ verb -ag-es; -aged; -ag-ing [+ obj]

¹ : to put (something) into a new package • Large pieces of meat are cut and repackaged at the butcher's shop.

² : to present (something) to the public in a new or more attractive way • repackage newspaper comic strips as books • TV studios repackage real-life dramas as entertainment.

¹re-pair /ri'peə/ verb -pairs; -paired; -pair-ing [+ obj]

¹ : to put (something that is broken or damaged) back into good condition : FIX • He repairs clocks. • This old lawn mower isn't worth repairing. • She repaired an old chest that was coming apart. • He underwent surgery to repair a torn ligament in his knee. • There was no hope of repairing the damage—she had to buy a new car.

² : to correct or improve (something, such as a relationship or reputation) • The school is trying to repair its damaged reputation. • Can their marriage be repaired?

— compare ³REPAIR

— re-pair-able /ri'perəbəl/ adj • The computer is not repairable. — re-pair-er /ri'perə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • a repairer of clocks

²repair noun, pl -pairs

¹ : the act or process of repairing something [noncount] The roof is in need of repair. [=the roof needs to be repaired; the roof is damaged, in poor condition, etc.] • a shoe/car repair shop • The car was damaged beyond repair. [=the car was so damaged that it could not be repaired] [count] The repairs were expensive. • We had to make repairs to the roof. • He made a few repairs to the stairs.

² [noncount] : a specified physical condition • His job is to keep the buildings in good repair. [=in good condition] • The roof is in poor repair. • The fence is in excellent repair.

³repair verb -pairs; -paired; -pairing repair to [phrasal verb] repair to (a place) old-fashioned + formal : to go to (a place) • After dinner, the guests repaired to the drawing room for coffee. • (humorous) Shall we repair to the coffee shop?

— compare ¹REPAIR

re-pair-man /ri'peə,mæn/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : a person (especially a man) whose job is to repair things • a TV repairman

rep-a-ra-ble /'repərəbəl/ adj, formal : capable of being repaired • The roof is reparable. [= (more commonly) repairable] • The situation is serious but reparable. — opposite IR-REPARABLE

rep-a-ra-tion /,repə'reɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

¹ reparations [plural] : money that a country or group that loses a war pays because of the damage, injury, deaths, etc., it has caused • The country paid millions in reparations.

² formal : something that is done or given as a way of correcting a mistake that you have made or a bad situation that you have caused [noncount] They've offered no apologies and seem to have no thoughts of reparation. [plural] She says she's sorry and wants to make reparations.

rep-ar-tee /,repə'ti:, Brit ,repɑ:'ti:/ noun [noncount] : conversation in which clever statements and replies are made quickly • The two comedians engaged in witty repatee.

re-past /ri'pæst, Brit ri'pɑ:st/ noun, pl -pasts [count] literary : MEAL • our traditional Thanksgiving repast • She offered us a light repast before we set out on our trip.

re-pa-tri-ate /ri'peɪtri,eɪt, Brit ri'pætri,eɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj]

¹ : to return (someone) to his or her own country • Countries are required to repatriate prisoners of war when conflict has ended. • repatriated refugees

² business : to send (money) back to your own country • repatriate capital/profits — re-pa-tri-a-tion /ri,peɪtri'eɪʃən, Brit ri,pætri'eɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] forced repatriations of political refugees [noncount] displaced persons seeking repatriation

re-pay /ri'peɪ/ verb -pays; -paid /-'peɪd/; -pay-ing [+ obj]

¹ a : to pay back (money that you have borrowed) • repay a loan/debt • You can repay the mortgage over 30 years. b : to make a payment to (a person or organization that has loaned you money) • She would rather have to repay the bank than borrow from her parents and have to repay them.

² a : to do or give something in return for (something) • How can I ever repay your kindness? • He repaid her kindness with cruelty. [=he was cruel to her after she had been kind to him] : to provide something in return for (work, effort, etc.) • Our efforts will be repaid [=our effort will have been worthwhile] if even one person who has never voted before votes on election day. b : to do something for (someone) in return for what that person has done for you • How can I ever repay you for your kindness?

re-pay-able /ri'peɪəbəl/ adj, not used before a noun — used to describe how a loan can be or should be repaid • The loan is repayable in monthly installments. • These loans are repayable over 10 years.

re-pay-ment /ri'peɪmənt/ noun, pl -ments

¹ [noncount] : the act or process of paying back money that you have borrowed • Repayment on education loans begins when you are no longer a student. • The company will use the money for debt repayment. • a repayment plan/program

² [count] chiefly Brit : an amount of money that is paid regularly in order to pay back a loan • monthly repayments [=payments]

re-peal /ri'pi:l/ verb -peals; -pealed; -peal-ing [+ obj] : to officially make (a law) no longer valid • The state legislature eventually repealed [=rescinded] the tax (law).

— repeal noun, pl -peals [count, noncount] • Most voters oppose the repeal of the law.

¹re-peat /ri'pi:t/ verb -peats; -peat-ed; -peat-ing

¹ [+ obj] a : to say (something) again • Will you repeat the question? • He kept repeating the same thing over and over. • He often has to ask people to repeat themselves because he's a little deaf. • The group's message is one that bears repeating. [=is important enough to state more than once] — sometimes used in speech to emphasize a word or phrase • "There are five—(I) repeat—five ways to do this." b : to say (something) after someone else has said it • Repeat after me: "I promise to do my best..." • You are simply repeating, in slightly different words, what has been said already.

² [+ obj] : to say (something that you have memorized) : RECITE • My five-year-old can repeat her favorite stories word for word.

³ [+ obj] : to tell (something that you have heard) to someone else • Please don't repeat what I've told you (to anyone).

⁴ a : to make, do, or achieve (something) again [+ obj] The doctors had to repeat the operation. • We need to avoid repeating the mistakes of the past. • I'm not so sure the team can repeat the success they had last season. • I had trouble in school when I was young and had to repeat (the) third grade. [=I had to stay in the third grade for another year] • She's been absent so much that she is going to have to repeat her sophomore year. • They won the championship last year. Will history repeat itself this year? [=will the same thing happen again?; will they win the championship again this year?] [no obj] (US) • They're trying to repeat as champions this year. [=to win the championship again after winning it last year] b [+ obj] : to present (something) again • The workshop will be repeated in the fall. • The radio station broadcasts the show live on Saturday mornings, and then repeats it on Wednesday nights.

⁵ [no obj] : to begin again • The cycle repeats every 24 hours. • The pattern on the wallpaper repeats every foot or so.

repeat yourself : to say again what you have already said • I've already told you what to do, and I'm not going to repeat myself.

²re-peat /ri'pi:t, 'ri:pi:t/ noun, pl -peats [count]

¹ a : an occurrence in which something happens or is done again — usually + of • We're hoping to avoid a repeat of last year's budget problems. b : something that happens or is done again — usually used before another noun • a repeat win • The company gets a lot of repeat business. [=business from customers who have bought something from the company before] c : someone who does something again • Most of the customers are repeats. — usually used before another noun • repeat customers • There are tougher penalties for re- peat offenders [=people who have committed a crime more than once]

R

2 : a radio or television show that is broadcast again • No, I don't want to watch that. It's a repeat.

3 music : a section of music that is repeated; also : the symbol in written music that shows that a section should be repeated

re•peat•able /rɪˈpi:təbəl/ adj

1 : appropriate to say again to someone else • He said things that aren't repeatable in front of the children. [=things that are too impolite, offensive, etc., to say again in front of the children]

2 : possible to do or make again • repeatable test results

re•peat•ed /rɪˈpi:təd/ adj, always used before a noun : said, done, or happening again and again • The landlord ignored her repeated requests to have the stove repaired. • He never succeeded in spite of repeated attempts. • repeated failures

— re•peat•ed•ly adv • I've told her repeatedly [=many times] to shut the gate when she goes out.

re•peat•er /rɪˈpi:tə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a gun that fires several times without needing to be reloaded

re•pel /rɪˈpɛl/ verb -pels; -pelled; -pel•ling [+ obj]

1 : to keep (something) out or away • a fabric that repels water • The candle repels insects.

2 : to force (an enemy, attacker, etc.) to stop an attack and turn away • Their superior forces repelled the invasion.

3 physics : to force (something) to move away or apart • one electron repelling another • Two positive electrical charges repel each other. • Magnets can both repel and attract one another. — opposite ATTRACT

4 : to cause (someone) to feel disgust • Everyone was repelled [=repulsed] by the sight.

1 re•pel•lent also re•pel•lant /rɪˈpɛlənt/ adj

1 : keeping something out or away • The candle has a repellent effect on insects. — often used in combination • a water-repellent fabric [=a fabric that repels water]

2 [more ~; most ~] formal : causing someone to feel disgust : REPULSIVE • a repellent sight • ideas that are repellent to me [=ideas that disgust me]

— re•pel•len•cy /rɪˈpɛlənsi/ noun [noncount] • a fabric known for its water repellency

2 repellent also repellant noun, pl -lents also -lants : a substance that is used to keep something out or away [noncount] a can of insect repellent [count] a mosquito repellent • Coat the exterior with a water repellent.

re•pent /rɪˈpɛnt/ verb -pents; -pent•ed; -pent•ing formal : to feel or show that you are sorry for something bad or wrong that you did and that you want to do what is right [no obj] The preacher told us that we would be forgiven for our sins if we repented. • criminals who have repented for their crimes — sometimes + of • We must repent of our sins/wrongdoings. [+ obj] The preacher told us that we would be forgiven if we repented our sins.

— re•pen•tance /rɪˈpɛntns/ noun [noncount] • His behavior is a sign of true repentance. • a holy day of fasting, prayer, and repentance — re•pen•tant /rɪˈpɛntnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] • He seemed genuinely repentant. • repentant sinners re•per•cus•sion /rɪˈpɛˈkʌʃən/ noun, pl -sions [count] : something usually bad or unpleasant that happens as a result of an action, statement, etc., and that usually affects people for a long time — usually plural • We didn't expect the decision to have such serious/enormous/tremendous repercussions. [=consequences] • We did not consider the possible repercussions of our actions.

rep•er•toire /ˈrɛpəˌtwɑː/ noun, pl -toires [count]

1 : all the plays, songs, dances, etc., that a performer or group of performers knows and can perform • The band's repertoire includes both classic and modern jazz.

2 : all the things that a person is able to do • He has a limited repertoire when it comes to cooking. — often + of • She has quite a repertoire of funny stories.

rep•er•to•ry /ˈrɛpəˌtɔːri, Brit ˈrɛpəˌtri/ noun, pl -ries

1 : an organized group of actors that performs many kinds of plays with each play being performed for only a short time [noncount] She acted in repertory for many years. • repertory theater [count] Several repertories perform here.

2 [count] : REPERTOIRE 1 • a ballet company's repertory

re•pe•ti•tion /ˈrɛpəˌtɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : the act of saying or doing something again : the act of repeating something • Sometimes repetition is necessary to drive a point home. • Find a synonym for "nice"

in order to avoid repetition. [=using the same word again] • Children's songs involve lots of repetition. • I quit my job at the factory because I hated the mindless repetition.

2 [count] : something that is done or said again • the poem's rhythmic repetitions • Let's determine what caused the error in order to avoid a repetition (of it). • When he does push-ups, he does 3 sets of 12 repetitions. [=informal] reps rep•e•ti•tious /ˈrɛpəˌtɪʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having parts, actions, etc., that are repeated many times in a way that is boring or unpleasant : having too much repetition • He was bored by the repetitious work. • repetitious lyrics • Her writing can be repetitious.

— rep•e•ti•tious•ly adv — rep•e•ti•tious•ness noun [noncount]

re•pet•i•tive /rɪˈpɛtətɪv/ adj

1 : happening again and again : repeated many times • an injury caused by repetitive wrist movements • a repetitive pattern • repetitive stress/strain

2 : having parts, actions, etc., that are repeated many times in a way that is boring or unpleasant : REPETITIOUS • She left the job because the work was too repetitive. • At the risk of being/sounding repetitive, I must remind you again to be careful.

— re•pet•i•tive•ly adv • an injury caused by repetitively flexing the wrist — re•pet•i•tive•ness noun [noncount] re•phrase /rɪˈfreɪz/ verb -phras•es; -phrased; -phras•ing [+ obj] : to say or write (something) again using different words in order to make the meaning clearer • Let me rephrase the question.

re•place /rɪˈpleɪs/ verb -plac•es; -placed; -plac•ing [+ obj]

1 a : to be used instead of (something) • Will computers ever completely replace books? • Paper bags have been largely replaced by plastic bags. b : to do the job or duty of (someone) • She was hired to replace the previous manager.

2 : to put someone or something new in the place or position of (someone or something) • I replaced the old rug with a new one. • They recently replaced the old phone system. • The team's manager was replaced last season. • The patient needed a transfusion to replace lost blood. • They've appointed a new minister to replace the one who just retired. • I guess it's finally time to replace the stove.

3 : to put (something) where it was before • He carefully replaced the vase on the shelf.

— re•place•able /rɪˈpleɪsəbəl/ adj • Don't worry about the broken vase—it's easily replaceable. — opposite IRREPLACEABLE

re•place•ment /rɪˈpleɪsmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 [noncount] : the act of replacing something • She underwent a hip replacement. [=a doctor replaced her hip with an artificial hip] • Is your old dictionary in need of replacement? [=do you need a new dictionary?] • Your car's replacement cost is less than the cost to repair it. [=it costs less to buy a new car than it does to fix your car]

2 [count] : a person or thing that replaces someone or something else • I'm training my replacement. • We need a replacement for our old vacuum cleaner. • Where can we get replacement parts for the tractor?

1 re•play /rɪˈpleɪ/ noun, pl -plays [count]

1 : a game that is played again because there was no winner in a previous game • They scheduled the replay for Saturday.

2 : a recording of something (such as an action in a sports event) that is being shown again • You could see the fumble on the replay. — see also ACTION REPLAY, INSTANT REPLAY

3 : an occurrence in which something happens or is done again : REPEAT — often + of • We don't want a replay of that unfortunate incident.

2 re•play /rɪˈpleɪ/ verb -plays; -played; -play•ing [+ obj]

1 : to play (a game) again because there was no winner in a previous game • The tied game will be replayed on Saturday.

2 : to play (recorded images, sounds, etc.) • The game's highlights were replayed on the evening news. • The footage has been played and replayed on television. — often used figuratively • That night I replayed the conversation in my mind. [=I thought carefully about what had been said during the conversation]

re•plen•ish /rɪˈplɛnɪʃ/ verb -ish•es; -ished; -ish•ing [+ obj] somewhat formal : to fill or build up (something) again •

An efficient staff of workers replenished the trays of appetizers almost as quickly as guests emptied them. • He replenished his supply of wood in preparation for the winter. • Drink this—you need to replenish your fluids after your hike. • plants that replenish soil nutrients

— re-plen-ish-ment /rɪˈplɛnɪʃmənt/ noun [noncount] • The clinic's drug supply is in serious need of replenishment. • the replenishment of soil nutrients re-plete /rɪˈpli:t/ adj, not used before a noun, formal

1 : having much or plenty of something : filled with something • The book is replete with photographs. • The country's history is replete with stories of people who became successful by working hard.

2 : having had plenty to eat : pleasantly full • feeling replete

rep-li-ca /ˈrɛplɪkə/ noun, pl -cas [count] : an exact or very close copy of something • We toured a replica of the ship. • It's an authentic/exact/faithful/perfect replica of an ancient Greek urn.

rep-li-cate /ˈrɛpləˌkɛt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing formal : to repeat or copy (something) exactly [+ obj] Scientists have failed to replicate [=duplicate] the results of his experiment. • They are working on computer-generated speech that replicates the human voice. • DNA replicates itself in the cell nucleus. [no obj] DNA replicates in the cell nucleus.

— rep-li-ca-tion /ˌrɛpləˈkeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, non-count]

re-ply /rɪˈplaɪ/ verb -plies; -plied; -ply-ing : to say, write, or do something as an answer or response [no obj] I wrote to him, but he never replied. [=wrote back] • He never replied [=responded] to my letter/e-mail/invitation. • I called out to them, but no one replied. • He didn't reply to her greeting. • The company has replied to the recent protests by posting an ad in the local newspaper. • She replied to the accusation with a stack of documents proving her innocence. [+ obj] "Do you feel better?" "A little," he replied. [=answered] • He replied politely that he felt a little better.

reply noun, pl -plies : something said, written, or done as an answer or response [count] A timely reply will be appreciated. • His reply was rude. • The invitations have been sent, but we haven't received any replies yet. [noncount] I asked her what was wrong. In reply, she handed me a letter. • He wrote a brief note in reply to her letter.

reply-paid adj, always used before a noun, Brit : POSTAGE-PAID • a reply-paid envelope

re-po /ˈriːpou/ adj, always used before a noun, US, informal : of or relating to the business of taking property from people who have stopped making the payments that they agreed to make to pay for it • a repo company • Their car was taken/repossessed by the repo man. [=a man whose job is to take things from people who are not paying for them]

re-port /rɪˈpoʊt/ noun, pl -ports [count]

1 : a story in a newspaper or on radio or television that is about something that happened or that gives information about something • a news/weather/financial report • a special report on/about health • a report from our correspondent in China

2 a : a written or spoken description of a situation, event, etc. • She wrote/made a report of the meeting. • He gave a detailed/full report on/about the project. • a medical report • a book report • She filled out a police report at the scene of the accident. • Can you give us a quick progress report? [=an explanation of how something is developing] b : an official document that gives information about a particular subject • the government's report on crime in 2006 • The company issued/published/released its annual (business) report.

3 : a written or spoken statement about something that may or may not be true • Unconfirmed reports state that over 100 people were hurt. • Police have received reports of gang activity in the neighborhood. • By/from all reports, you are a very hard worker. [=everyone says that you are a very hard worker]

4 formal : a loud noise made by a gun or an explosion • the sharp report of a rifle

5 Brit : REPORT CARD

re-port verb -ports; -port-ed; -port-ing

1 : to give information about (something) in a newspaper or on television or radio [+ obj] The murder was reported in the national news. • Several TV stations are reporting that the police are close to making an arrest. • Their job is to report the news accurately and fairly. • It was reported (on the news) that two people died in the fire. = Two people were reported to have died in the fire. [no obj] — often + on • He reports on political news for a local TV station.

2 : to tell people about (something) : to make a report about (something) [+ obj] He was asked to report the details of the meeting. • Tomorrow the committee will report its findings on air pollution. [no obj] — often + on • She reported on the project to her manager.

3 [+ obj] a : to describe (a feeling, condition, etc.) • He reported feeling depressed. = He reported that he felt depressed. [=he said that he felt depressed] • The doctor reported some improvement in her condition. b ♦ Something that is reported is said by people and may or may not be true. • Her manner was reported as arrogant. = Her manner was reported to be arrogant. [=people said that she was arrogant] • It is reported that the herb helps reduce anxiety.

4 [+ obj] : to tell the police, fire department, etc., about (something, such as a crime or accident). • He called 911 and reported a fire. • She reported the burglary to the police. • They reported their son missing. [=they told the police that their son was missing]

5 [+ obj] : to tell someone with authority about (someone who has broken a rule, done something wrong, etc.) • They threatened to report him to the police. — often + for • The teacher reported him to the principal for misbehaving in class.

6 [no obj] : to go somewhere and tell someone that you have arrived — usually + for or to • The new recruits are expected to report for duty next week. • Please report to the office immediately when you arrive. • He was asked to report for work at 7:00 a.m.

report back [phrasal verb] 1 : to return to a place in order to report information you have found, do more work, etc. • Report back to my office in two hours. = Report back (to me) in two hours. • Patients must report back to the center for a second treatment. 2 report back or report back (something) or report (something) back : to give (information that you have found) to someone • The policeman reported back that he found nothing wrong. • A committee will study the matter and report back their findings. — often + to • Each researcher reports his results back to the project director.

report sick : to tell your boss, employer, etc. that you are sick and cannot work • He reported sick on Friday (to his supervisor).

report to [phrasal verb] report to (someone) ♦ The person you report to at your job is the person who is directly in charge of what you do, who reviews your work, etc. • She reports to the president of the company.

— reported adj, always used before a noun • the reported findings/facts • a reported crime • The company has suffered losses of a reported two million dollars.

re-port-able /rɪˈpoʊtəbəl/ adj, US : required by law to be publicly reported to the government • a reportable disease • reportable income

re-port-age /rɪˈpoʊtɪdʒ/ noun [noncount] formal : REPORTING • war reportage • reportage of the news report card noun, pl ~ cards [count] US : a written statement of a student's grades that is given to the student's parents — called also (Brit) report

re-port-ed-ly /rɪˈpoʊtədli/ adv : according to what has been said — used to indicate what has been said or reported • The medication's side effects are reportedly few and mild. • They reportedly stole one million dollars.

re-port-er /rɪˈpoʊtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who writes news stories for a newspaper, magazine, etc., or who tells people the news on radio or television • a news/television reporter • She's a reporter for one of the major networks. — see also CUB REPORTER reporting noun [noncount] : the act or activity of telling people the news in a newspaper or on television or radio • firsthand reporting • She is very skilled at reporting.

re-pose /rɪˈpoʊz/ noun [noncount] formal + literary : a state of resting or not being active • His face in repose [=at rest] is serious and thoughtful.

repose verb -pos-es; -posed; -pos-ing formal + literary

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to rest or lay (something) somewhere [+ obj] She reposed her head on a cushion. [no obj] I found her reposing [=relaxing] on the couch.

2 : to place (trust, hope, confidence, etc.) in someone or something • They reposed confidence in their leader. [=they had confidence in their leader]

re-pos-i-to-ry /rɪˈpəːzəˌtɔːri, Brit rɪˈpɒzətɪ/ noun, pl -ries [count] formal

1 : a place where a large amount of something is stored • a repository for nuclear waste • huge repositories of data

2 : a person who possesses a lot of information, wisdom, etc.

• He is the repository of many secrets. • She is the repository of her family's history.

re·pos·sess /ˌri:pə'zɛs/ verb -sess-es; -sessed; -sess-ing [+ obj] : to take (something) back from a buyer because payments are not being made • The bank repossessed her truck.

— repossessed adj • a repossessed house/car • repossessed property — re·pos·ses·sion /ˌri:pə'zɛʃən/ noun, pl -sions [count, noncount] • The judge allowed repossession of the house.

rep·re·hen·si·ble /ˌrɛprɪ'hɛnsəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : very bad : deserving very strong criticism • reprehensible [=contemptible] acts — rep·re·hen·si·bly /ˌrɛprɪ'hɛnsəbli/ adv • They behaved reprehensibly.

rep·re·sent /ˌrɛprɪ'zɛnt/ verb -sents; -sent-ed; -sent-ing

1 [+ obj] a : to act or speak officially for (someone or something) • He represented his company at the meeting. • She hired an agent to represent her in the contract negotiations. b : to have a government position in which you speak or act for (a particular group, state, etc.) • Senator Smith represents the state of Connecticut. c : to speak or act for (someone or something) in a court of law • He represented himself at the trial. [=he spoke for himself at the trial and did not have a lawyer] • The company is represented by a local law firm.

2 [+ obj] a : to be part of a sports event or other competition for (a particular country, city, school, etc.) • She represented the United States in figure skating at the Olympics. b be represented — used to say that people from a particular place or group are present at an event, meeting, etc. • The town was well represented at the meeting. [=there were many people from the town at the meeting]

3 not used in progressive tenses [linking verb] : to form or be something • The money he makes from his investments represents [=constitutes] over half his income. • The court's decision represents a victory for small businesses. • The new prices represent a substantial increase over last year's prices.

4 [+ obj] : to be an example of (someone or something) • He represents everything I dislike about politics/politicians. • They have a collection of animals representing more than 50 species.

5 [+ obj] : to be a sign or symbol of (someone or something) • The flag represents our country. • Letters represent sounds. • High and low temperatures are represented by colored lines on the graph. • She is beginning to question the company and everything it represents. [=stands for]

6 [+ obj] : to show (someone or something) in a picture, painting, photograph, etc. • This painting represents [=portrays, depicts] Queen Elizabeth.

7 [+ obj] : to describe (someone or something) in a particular way • The politician was angry with the newspaper for representing [=portraying] his party negatively. — often used to suggest that a description is false • He represented himself as poor, but I saw him driving an expensive new car.

rep·re·sen·ta·tion /ˌrɛprɪ,zɛn'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : a person or group that speaks or acts for or in support of another person or group • He had no legal representation [=he did not have a lawyer] during the trial. • Each state has equal representation in the Senate. — see also PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION

2 [count] : something (such as a picture or symbol) that stands for something else • The letters of the alphabet are representations of sounds.

3 [count] : a painting, sculpture, etc., that is created to look like a particular thing or person • carved representations of flowers

4 [noncount] : the act of presenting or describing a person or thing in a particular way • the film's heroic representation of America • We discussed the representation of women in Jane Austen's novels.

5 [count] formal a : a statement made to influence the opinions or actions of others • Her representation of the situation was very confusing. • He was accused of making false representations. b chiefly Brit : a formal and official complaint about something • Our ambassador has made representations to their government.

rep·re·sen·ta·tion·al /ˌrɛprɪ,zɛn'teɪʃənəl/ adj : showing people and things as they appear in real life : REALISTIC • representational art • a representational painter

1 rep·re·sen·ta·tive /ˌrɛprɪ'zɛntətɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : typical of a particular group of people or of a particular thing • a representative example • The paintings are representative of English art in the early 19th century.

2 : including examples of the different types of people or things in a group • The students chosen for the survey are a fairly representative sample/sampling of college students from across the U.S.

3 : having people who are chosen in elections to act or speak for or in support of the people who voted for them • representative government • representative democracy

— rep·re·sen·ta·tive·ness noun [noncount]

2 representative noun, pl -tives [count]

1 a : someone who acts or speaks for or in support of another person or group • a sales representative [=a salesperson] • the actor's personal representative [=agent] b : a member of the House of Representatives of the U.S. Congress or of a state government • Do you know who your representatives are? • state representatives • The bill was introduced by Representative Smith.

2 : a person or thing that is typical of a group • a representative of her age group

re·press /rɪ'pres/ verb -press-es; -pressed; -press-ing [+ obj]

1 : to not allow yourself to do or express (something) • She repressed a laugh. [=she stopped herself from laughing] • He repressed his anger.

2 : to not allow yourself to remember (something, such as an unpleasant event) • repress a painful memory

3 : to control (someone or something) by force • The dictator brutally repressed [=subdued, suppressed] political disagreement. • Religious groups were severely repressed.

re·pressed /rɪ'prest/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : stopped from being expressed or remembered • repressed sexuality/anger • a repressed memory

2 : having feelings or desires that are not allowed to be expressed • a repressed child • a sexually repressed man

3 : kept under control by force • a repressed minority

re·pres·sion /rɪ'preʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 a : the act of using force to control someone or something • the state's repression of its citizens b : the state of being controlled by force • They survived 60 years of political repression.

2 : the act of not allowing a memory, feeling, or desire to be expressed • sexual repression re·pres·sive /rɪ'presɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : controlling people by force • a repressive government

2 : not allowing certain feelings or desires to be expressed • a sexually repressive culture

— re·pres·sive·ly adv — re·pres·sive·ness noun [noncount]

1 re·prieve /rɪ'pri:v/ noun, pl -prieves [count]

1 : an official order that delays the punishment of a prisoner who is sentenced to death • He won/got a (temporary) reprieve from his death sentence.

2 a : a delay that keeps something bad from happening • They wanted to close the library, but we managed to get/secure a reprieve for it. b : a period of relief from pain, trouble, etc. • This warm spell has given us a reprieve from the winter cold.

2 reprieve verb -prieves; -prieved; -priev-ing [+ obj]

1 : to delay the punishment of (someone, such as a prisoner who is sentenced to death) • He was sentenced to death but then reprieved.

2 : to prevent (something) from being closed, destroyed, etc., for a period of time • The library has been reprieved and will remain open for at least another year.

rep·ri·mand /ˌrɛprə'mænd, Brit 'rɛprə,mɑ:nd/ verb -mands; -mand-ed; -mand-ing [+ obj] : to speak in an angry and critical way to (someone who has done something wrong, disobeyed an order, etc.) • The soldiers were severely reprimanded. — often + for • She was reprimanded for being late. • The boss reprimanded us for talking too much.

— reprimand noun, pl -mands [count] a severe/mild reprimand [noncount] a letter of reprimand

1 re·print /rɪ'prɪnt/ verb -prints; -print-ed; -print-ing [+ obj]

: to print (something, such as a book, article, etc.) again • She gave permission to reprint her article.

2 re·print /rɪ:prɪnt/ noun, pl -prints [count]

1 : the act of printing more copies of a book • The novel is already on its fifth reprint. • The publisher does reprints of books written in the early 1900s.

2 : a book, story, etc., that is printed again • This is a reprint of an article that was originally published in the New York Times.

re-pri-sal /rɪ'praɪzəl/ noun, pl -sals : something that is done to hurt or punish someone who has hurt you or done something bad to you [count] Enemy officers suffered harsh reprisals. • The allies threatened economic reprisals against the invading country. [noncount] The prisoners kept silent for fear of reprisal. [=punishment] • The hostages were taken in reprisal for the bombing.

¹re-prise /rɪ'priːz/ noun, pl -pris-es [count] : something (such as a piece of music) that is repeated • They ended their performance with a reprise of the opening number. • The team is hoping to avoid a reprise of last year's defeat.

²reprise verb -prises; -prised; -pris-ing [+ obj] : to repeat (something, such as a performance of a piece of music) • reprise a song/play/film • He will reprise his role in the play.

¹re-proach /rɪ'prəʊtʃ/ noun, pl -proach-es formal
1 : a expression of disapproval or disappointment [noncount] She looked at him with reproach. • His actions were above/beyond reproach. [=his actions could not be criticized] [count] Accusations and reproaches from both parties made it difficult to pursue discussions.

2 [noncount] : loss of reputation : DISGRACE • His conduct has brought shame and reproach to his family.

3 [count] : something that causes shame or disgrace — usually singular • This situation is a scandal and a reproach to the entire country.

— re-proach-ful /rɪ'prəʊtʃfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a reproachful look — re-proach-ful-ly /rɪ'prəʊtʃfəli/ adv • She shook her head reproachfully.

²reproach verb -proaches; -proached; -proach-ing [+ obj] formal : to speak in an angry and critical way to (someone) : to express disapproval or disappointment to (someone) — often + for • She reproached her daughter for her selfishness.

reproach yourself : to feel shame or regret because of something you have done • He reproached himself for not telling the truth.

rep-ro-bate /re'prə,bert/ noun, pl -bates [count] formal : a person who behaves in a morally wrong way • drunken rep-robates

— reprobate adj [more ~; most ~] • a reprobate lifestyle

re-pro-duce /,rɪ:prə'du:s, Brit ,rɪ:prə'dju:s/ verb -duc-es; -duced; -duc-ing

1 [+ obj] a : to make a copy of (something) • reproduce a photograph • The concert will be reproduced on compact disc. b : to produce something that is the same as or very similar to (something else) • Sound effects can reproduce the sound of thunder.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to happen again in the same way • They haven't been able to reproduce the results of the first experiment.

3 : to produce babies, young animals, new plants, etc. [no obj] Flies reproduce rapidly. [+ obj] Salmon return to the stream to reproduce offspring. • The virus is able to reproduce itself very rapidly.

— re-pro-duc-ible /,rɪ:prə'du:səbəl, Brit ,rɪ:prə'dju:səbəl/ adj • The results of the experiment were not reproducible.

re-pro-duc-tion /,rɪ:prə'dʌkʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : the process that produces babies, young animals, or new plants • sexual/asexual reproduction

2 [noncount] : the act of copying something (such as a document, book, or sound) • the mass reproduction of fine art • methods of sound reproduction

3 [count] : something that is made to look exactly like an original : COPY • photographic/digital reproductions • a reproduction of the painting

re-pro-duc-tive /,rɪ:prə'dʌktɪv/ adj, always used before a noun : relating to or involved in the production of babies, young animals, or new plants • the reproductive tract/organs/system/cycle • reproductive health/success • (US) He is a leading supporter of reproductive rights. [=a woman's right to choose whether or not she will have a baby]

re-proof /rɪ'pru:f/ noun, pl -proofs formal

1 [noncount] : criticism or blame • The fear of reproof prevented them from complaining.

2 [count] : a statement that criticizes or blames someone • She responded to their reproofs [=rebukes] by walking off angrily.

re-prove /rɪ'pru:v/ verb -proves; -proved; -prov-ing [+ obj] formal : to criticize or correct (someone) usually in a gentle way • The teacher reproved the student for being late.

— reproving adj [more ~; most ~] • a long reproving speech • He gave me a reproving look. — re-prov-ing-ly adv • She looked at me reprovingly.

rep-tile /'rep,tajəl/ noun, pl -tiles [count]

1 : an animal (such as a snake, lizard, turtle, or alligator) that has cold blood, that lays eggs, and that has a body covered with scales or hard parts

2 informal : a person who cannot be trusted or who is not likable • He called the governor's top aide a reptile.

— rep-til-ian /rep'tɪljən/ adj • a reptilian brain/jawbone/claw • The bird was reptilian in appearance. • a reptilian smile

re-pub-lic /rɪ'pʌblɪk/ noun, pl -lics [count] : a country that is governed by elected representatives and by an elected leader (such as a president) rather than by a king or queen • an independent republic • an eastern European republic — see also BANANA REPUBLIC

¹re-pub-li-can /rɪ'pʌblɪkən/ noun, pl -cans [count]

1 Republican : a member of the Republican party of the U.S. • Our state representative is a Republican. • The state's voters are mostly Republicans. — compare DEMOCRAT 2

2 : a person who believes in or supports a republican form of government

3 Republican : a person from Northern Ireland who believes that Northern Ireland should be part of the Republic of Ireland rather than the United Kingdom — opposite LOYALIST

²republican adj [more ~; most ~]

1 Republican US : of or relating to one of the two major political parties in the U.S. • Republican candidates/proposals/voters • the leader of the Republican Party — compare DEMOCRATIC 2

2 : relating to or based on a form of government in which representatives are elected and there is no king or queen • republican reforms • a republican government

— re-pub-li-can-ism or Republicanism /rɪ'pʌblɪkənɪzəm/ noun [noncount] • moderate/conservative Republicanism • Roman republicanism

re-pu-di-ate /rɪ'pjʊ:di,eɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to refuse to accept or support (something) : to reject (something or someone) • a generation that has repudiated the values of the past • He has publicly repudiated the government's policies.

2 : to say or show that (something) is not true • He published an article that repudiates the study's claims. • She says she has evidence which repudiates the allegations.

— re-pu-di-a-tion /rɪ,pjʊ:di'eɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • His statements are a repudiation of the government's policies.

re-pug-nance /rɪ'pʌgnəns/ noun [noncount] formal : a strong feeling of dislike or disgust • They expressed their repugnance at the idea. • They felt nothing but repugnance for the group's violent history.

re-pug-nant /rɪ'pʌgnənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : causing a strong feeling of dislike or disgust : REPULSIVE • a morally repugnant act — often + to • The idea was completely repugnant to us.

re-pulse /rɪ'pʌls/ verb -puls-es; -pulsed; -puls-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to force (someone) to stop attacking you : REPEL • The troops repulsed the attack. • The invaders were repulsed. [=driven back]

2 : to cause dislike or disgust in (someone) • I was repulsed by the movie's violence. • The moldy bread repulsed him.

3 : to reject (someone or something) in a rude or unfriendly way • He repulsed all attempts to help him.

re-pul-sion /rɪ'pʌlsən/ noun, pl -sions

1 : a feeling of strong dislike or disgust [noncount] I read about what happened with a feeling of shock and repulsion. [singular] She felt a repulsion for politics.

2 physics : a force that pushes something away from something else [noncount] magnetic repulsion [count] a repulsion between the particles — opposite ATTRACTION

3 [noncount] : the act of pushing someone or something away : the act of repulsing something or someone • their successful repulsion of the attack/attackers

re-pul-sive /rɪ'pʌlsɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : causing strong dislike or disgust • repulsive and evil acts • a repulsive [=repellent] man • The rotten meat was repulsive. [=nauseating, revolting]

2 physics : of or relating to the force that pushes something away from something else • Magnets have a repulsive effect on each other.

– re-pul-sive-ly adv • a repulsively hideous man – re-pul-sive-ness noun [noncount] • physical repulsiveness

re-pur-pose /ri'pəpəs/ verb -pos-es; -posed; -pos-ing [+ obj] : to change (something) so that it can be used for a different purpose • finding ways to repurpose old computer equipment

rep-u-ta-ble /'repjətəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : respected and trusted by most people : having a good reputation • a reputable source/brand/company • reputable businessmen/scientists/writers — opposite DISREPUTABLE

rep-u-ta-tion /,repjə'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : the common opinion that people have about someone or something : the way in which people think of someone or something [count] This car dealership has a good/bad reputation. [=people think that the car dealership is good/bad] • He has earned/established/acquired a reputation as a first-class playwright. • a teacher with a reputation for patience • Poor customer service has ruined/damaged/destroyed the company's reputation. • The cruise ship lived up to its reputation. [=the cruise ship was as good, enjoyable, etc., as we were told it would be] [noncount] I know that the restaurant, by reputation, is excellent. [=the restaurant has an excellent reputation]

re-pu-te /ri'pjʊ:t/ noun [noncount] formal

1 : REPUTATION • They are held in high/good/bad/low repute. [=they have a good/bad reputation]

2 : good reputation • a scientist of repute [=distinction]

ill repute : bad reputation • She was a woman of ill repute. [=prostitute, whore] • a house of ill repute [=brothel, whorehouse]

re-put-ed /ri'pjʊ:təd/ adj : said to be true, to exist, to have a specified identity, etc. • He is reputed to be a millionaire. [=people say that he is a millionaire] • a reputed gang member • She was hired for her reputed talents as a manager.

– re-put-ed-ly adv • Their pizza is reputedly the best in town. [=people say that their pizza is the best in town]

¹re-quest /ri'kwɛst/ noun, pl -quests

1 : an act of politely or formally asking for something [count] They made a request to begin work immediately. • She filed/sent/submitted a formal request for more information. • He denied/refused/rejected her request. • He fulfilled/granted her request. • The radio program takes requests. [=people can ask for certain songs to be played] • At your request, I am enclosing a full refund of your payment. • Troops were sent at the request of our allies. [noncount] Catalogs are available by/on/upon request. [=you can get a catalog by requesting one]

2 [count] : something (such as a song) that a person asks for • The radio station plays requests. [=songs that people ask the radio station to play] • This next song is a request from one of our listeners.

²request verb -quests; -quest-ed; quest-ing [+ obj]

1 : to ask for (something) in a polite or formal way • He requested a table near the window. [=he asked to be seated at a table near the window] • The governor will request that the legislature raise taxes.

2 : to ask (someone) to do something in a polite or formal way • Gentlemen are requested to wear a jacket and tie. • I am sending your medical records as requested. [=as I have been asked to do]

re-qui-em or Requiem /'rɛkwɪjəm/ noun, pl -ems [count]

1 : a Christian religious ceremony for a dead person — called also Requiem Mass

2 : a piece of music for a requiem

re-quire /ri'kwajə/ verb -quires; -quired; -quir-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to need (something) • We require your assistance. • He is very sick and requires constant care. [=he has to be given constant care] — used to say that something is necessary • The game requires great skill and coordination. [=you must have great skill and coordination to play the game] • It requires great strength to lift 500 pounds. = Lifting 500 pounds requires great strength. • Experience is required for this job. [=you must have experience for this job] • English is a required course. [=a course that must be taken in order to graduate] • The newspaper is required reading [=reading that must be done] in my politics course.

2 : to make it necessary for someone to do something • The law requires everyone to pay the tax. = The law requires that everyone pay the tax. • What will be required of me if I accept the job? = What will I be required to do if I accept the job? • The truck driver carries a special license, as the law re-quires (him to do). = The truck driver carries a special license, as required by law.

re-quire-ment /ri'kwajəmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count]

1 : something that is needed or that must be done • nutritional requirements • a legal/statutory requirement • (Brit) Her services were surplus to requirements. [=more than what was needed]

2 : something that is necessary for something else to happen or be done • He has met the basic/minimum requirements for graduation. • She has fulfilled/satisfied the general requirements of the course.

¹req-ui-site /'rɛkwəzət/ adj, formal : needed for a particular purpose • She has the requisite [=necessary, required] skills/experience for the job.

²requisite noun, pl -sites [count] formal : something that is needed for a particular purpose • Five years of previous experience is a requisite for this job.

req-ui-si-tion /,rɛkwə'zɪʃən/ verb -tions; -tioned; -tion-ing [+ obj] formal : to ask for or demand and take (something) for your use • The officer requisitioned supplies for his troops. • The car was requisitioned by the police.

– requisition noun, pl -tions [count] • The office manager made a requisition [=an official request] for supplies.

re-quite /ri'kwɔɪt/ verb -quites; -quit-ed; -quit-ing [+ obj] formal : to give or do something in return for (something that another person has given or done) • His love for her was not requited. [=she did not return his love; she did not love him] — compare UNREQUITED re-read /ri'ri:d/ verb -reads; -read; -read-ing [+ obj] : to read (something) again • We carefully reread the contract.

re-route /ri'ru:t/ verb -routes; -rout-ed; -rout-ing [+ obj] : to change the normal route of (something) • The airplanes were rerouted due to bad weather.

¹re-run /'ri:,rʌn/ noun, pl -runs [count]

1 : a television program or movie that is shown again • She spent her vacation watching summer reruns.

2 : an occurrence in which something happens or is done again • Voters do not want a rerun [=repeat] of the last election.

²re-run /ri'rʌn/ verb -runs; -ran /-ræn/; -run; -run-ning [+ obj]

1 : to show (a television program or movie) again • Last week's show is being rerun tomorrow night.

2 : to do or run (something) again • They reran the race, but the result was the same. • He reran the software on my computer. • They reran [=repeated] the lab tests.

re-sale /'ri:,seɪl/ noun, pl -sales : the act of selling something that you have bought [count] They earned thousands of dollars on resales of the baseball tickets. [noncount] He buys baseball collectibles and then holds them for resale. • The resale price/value of the car is $8,000.

re-sched-ule /ri'skɛdʒu:l, Brit ri'ʃɛdʒu:l/ verb -ules; -uled; -ul-ing [+ obj]

1 : to schedule (something) for a different time or date • She called to reschedule her appointment. • The meeting was re-scheduled for Tuesday.

2 : to arrange (a loan or debt) to be paid back at a later date than was originally planned • He rescheduled his college loans.

re-scind /ri'sɪnd/ verb -scinds; -scind-ed; -scind-ing [+ obj] formal : to end (a law, contract, agreement, etc.) officially : to say officially that (something) is no longer valid • The navy rescinded its ban on women sailors. • The company later rescinded its offer/decision.

¹res-cue /'rɛskju/ verb -cues; -cued; -cu-ing [+ obj] : to save (someone or something) from danger or harm • The survivors were rescued by the Coast Guard. — often + from • A fireman rescued three children from the burning building. — sometimes used figuratively • She rescued an old chair from the trash.

– res-cu-er noun, pl -ers [count] • Rescuers struggled to free the young man from the car wreck.

²rescue noun, pl -cues [count] : an act of saving someone or something from danger, harm, or trouble • The lifeguard performed a heroic rescue. • The policeman came/went to the rescue of the lost boy. [=the policeman rescued the lost boy] • When her brother lost his job, she came to his rescue by paying his rent. — often used before another noun • a rescue team/squad • a rescue operation/mission

¹re-search /'ri:,səʃ/ noun, pl -search-es

1 : careful study that is done to find and report new knowledge about something [noncount] cancer/AIDS/drug research • medical/scientific/scholarly research • She conducts research into/on the causes of Alzheimer's disease. • Recent research shows/indicates that the disease is caused in part by bad nutrition. • The study is an important piece of research. — often used before another noun • research data/findings • a research group/organization/scientist • a research assistant • a research program/project • a research lab/laboratory/library/center • a research paper/report [plural] (formal + old-fashioned) We read about Sigmund Freud's researches into the human psyche.

2 [noncount] : the activity of getting information about a subject • He did a lot of research before buying his car. — see also MARKET RESEARCH

— re·search·er noun, pl -ers [count] • Medical researchers say that the drug is useless.

2 re·search /rɪˈsɜːʃ/ verb -search-es; -searched; -searching [+ obj]

1 : to study (something) carefully • She is researching [=investigating] the relationship between stress and heart disease. • He spent the summer researching his dissertation.

2 : to collect information about or for (something) • Before going out to eat, she researched area restaurants. • The reporter made hundreds of telephone calls while researching the story.

research and development noun [noncount] : studies and tests that are done in order to design new or improved products • The company spends millions of dollars each year on research and development. — abbr. R & D

research park noun, pl ~ parks [count] US : an area where companies have offices and laboratories and do work involving science and technology — called also technology park, (chiefly Brit) science park

re·sell /rɪˈsel/ verb -sells; -sold; -sell·ing [+ obj] : to sell (something that you bought) • He repaired the motorcycle and resold it for a profit.

re·sem·blance /rɪˈzembəlns/ noun, pl -blanc·es

1 : the state of looking or being like someone or something else [singular] He bears/has a close/striking/strong/uncanny resemblance to his father. [=he looks a lot like his father] • When she showed me her niece's picture, I immediately saw a/the family resemblance. [=a similarity in the way they look because they are related] [noncount] He doesn't look exactly like his father, but there is some resemblance. • There is no resemblance between her and her sister.

2 [count] : something that makes one person or thing like another : SIMILARITY • I noticed some resemblances between them. [=I noticed some ways in which they resemble each other]

re·sem·ble /rɪˈzembəl/ verb, not used in progressive tenses -sem·bles; -sem·bled; -sem·bling [+ obj] : to look or be like (someone or something) • He strongly resembles his father in appearance and in temperament. • Terrier dogs closely resemble each other. • We couldn't find anything resembling [=like] a good restaurant. [=we couldn't find a good restaurant]

re·sent /rɪˈzent/ verb -sents; -sent·ed; -sent·ing [+ obj] : to be angry or upset about (someone or something that you think is unfair) • I resent that remark. • She resented being told what to do. • He resented his boss for making him work late.

re·sent·ful /rɪˈzentfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing a feeling of anger or displeasure about someone or something unfair • She is resentful about being demoted. • He's resentful of his boss. = He feels resentful toward his boss. • a resentful child • She gave me a resentful glare. • a resentful letter to the editor

— re·sent·ful·ly adv — re·sent·ful·ness noun [noncount]

re·sent·ment /rɪˈzentmənt/ noun [noncount] : a feeling of anger or displeasure about someone or something unfair • She bore/felt/harbored bitter feelings of resentment toward her ex-husband. • He's filled with resentment at/against his boss. • He expressed his resentment of the new policies.

res·er·va·tion /ˌrezəˈveɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : an arrangement to have something (such as a room, table, or seat) held for your use at a later time • We made dinner reservations at the restaurant for 6 o'clock. • I have a hotel reservation.

2 : a feeling of doubt or uncertainty about something [count] My only reservation about buying the car was its high price. — often plural • She had reservations about changing jobs. [noncount] He supported her decision without reserva- tion. [=he completely supported her decision]

3 [count] : an area of land in the U.S. that is kept separate as a place for Native Americans to live • a Navajo reservation

4 [count] US : an area of land on which hunting animals is not allowed • a wildlife reservation [=reserve]

1 re·serve /rɪˈzɜːv/ verb -serves; -served; -serv·ing [+ obj]

1 : to make arrangements so that you will be able to use or have (something, such as a room, table, or seat) at a later time • We reserved a hotel room. • This table is reserved for someone else. • The seats are reserved under my name.

2 : to keep (something) for a special or future use • We will reserve this wine for a special occasion. • She usually reserved her best dishes for very important dinners. • She spoke in a tone of voice that she usually reserved for her students. [=that she usually only used for her students]

3 : to choose to do (something) at a later time : DEFER • I will reserve judgment [=will not make a judgment/decision] until I know the full story.

4 : to have or keep (something, such as a right) for possible use at a future time • We reserve the right to make further changes to the agreement if necessary.

2 reserve noun, pl -serves

1 [count] : a supply of something that is stored so that it can be used at a later time • oil reserves • a cash reserve • He had to call upon his inner reserves of strength to keep going.

2 [count] : a military force that is additional to the regular forces and that is available if it is needed • the army reserve — often plural • He is a member of the reserves.

3 [count] : an area of land where animals and plants are given special protection • a forest/wildlife reserve — see also NATURE RESERVE

4 [count] : an area of land where Native Americans live : RESERVATION • a Navajo reserve

5 [noncount] : the quality of a person who does not express feelings, opinions, etc., in an easy and open way • His natural reserve is sometimes mistaken for unfriendliness.

6 [count] : a player on a team who takes the place of a regular player who is injured or cannot play • the reserves on a football team in reserve : kept for future or special use • She has a lot of money (kept) in reserve in case problems arise.

without reserve : in a free and complete way • They trusted him without reserve. [=trusted him completely]

re·served /rɪˈzɜːvd/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : not openly expressing feelings or opinions • She is a very reserved young woman.

2 : kept for use only by a particular person or group • a reserved parking space • The front row is reserved for faculty.

reserve price noun, pl ~ prices [count] : the lowest price that a seller will accept for the thing that is being sold at an auction

re·serv·ist /rɪˈzɜːvɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a member of a military reserve • an army reservist

res·er·voir /ˈrezəˌvwaːr/ noun, pl -voirs [count]

1 : a usually artificial lake that is used to store a large supply of water for use in people's homes, in businesses, etc.

2 : a place (such as a part of a machine) where a liquid is stored • The pen has a large ink reservoir. • the engine's oil reservoir

3 : an extra supply of something • Colleges and universities provide reservoirs of talent for job recruiters. • She found the reservoirs of energy she needed to finish the job.

re·set /rɪˈset/ verb -sets; -set; -set·ting [+ obj] : to set (something) again: such as a : to move (something) back to an original place or position • The machine reset the bowling pins. b : to put (a broken bone) back in the correct position for healing • His broken leg had to be reset. c : to put (a gem) into a new piece of jewelry • reset a diamond d : to change (something) so that it shows a different time or can be used again • He reset his watch. • reset the timer to 10 minutes • The fire alarm was reset. • reset a trap

re·set·tle /rɪˈsetl/ verb -set·tles; -set·tled; -set·tling

1 : to begin to live in a new area after leaving an old one : to settle again [no obj] They left town and resettled out west. [+ obj] He resettled his family in the valley.

2 [+ obj] : to begin to use (an area) again as a place to live — usually used as (be) resettled • The area was resettled in the 1800s.

— re·set·tle·ment /rɪˈsetlmənt/ noun [noncount]

re·shape /rɪˈʃeɪp/ verb -shapes; -shaped; -shap·ing [+ obj] : to give a new form or shape to (something) • The body of the car was reshaped to allow for more cargo space. •

These changes will reshape the future. • He reshaped the plot of his story.

re-shuf·fle /rɪˈʃʌfəl/ verb -shuf·fles; -shuf·fled; -shuf·fling [+ obj]

1 : to shuffle (cards) again • The dealer reshuffled the cards.
2 : to change the way the parts of (something) are arranged or organized • The President reshuffled his Cabinet. [=changed the jobs/positions of the people in his Cabinet] • We had to reshuffle [=rearrange] our schedule.

— reshuffle noun, pl -shuffles [count] • There has been a major reshuffle in the department.

re·side /rɪˈzaɪd/ verb -sides; -sid·ed; -sid·ing [no obj] formal

1 : to live in a particular place • He resides in St. Louis. • He still resides at his parents' house.

2 : to exist or be present • The power of veto resides with the President. [=the President has the power of veto] • Meaning resides within the text of the poem. • The importance of this decision resides in the fact that it relates to people across the country.

res·i·dence /ˈrezədəns/ noun, pl -denc·es formal

1 [noncount] : the state of living in a particular place • He recently ended his residence at the apartment complex. • Birds have taken up residence [=established a home] in the barn. • (US) a residence hall = (Brit) a hall of residence [=a place where students live at a college or university]

2 [count] : the place where someone lives • a two-story residence • Police surrounded the residence. — often used to refer especially to a large and impressive house where an important or wealthy person lives • He spent three months at his summer residence. • the prime minister's residence

3 [noncount] : legal permission to live in a country • They were granted/denied residence in this country.

in residence 1 : living in a particular place at a particular time • The Queen was not in residence at the palace when the fire broke out. 2 : having an official position as a writer, artist, etc., who has been chosen to live and work at a college or other institution for a period of time • She is the artist in residence at the museum this summer.

res·i·den·cy /ˈrezədənsi/ noun, pl -cies formal

1 a [noncount] : the state or fact of living in a place • proof of residency [=residence] • You must meet the town's residency requirement in order to vote. b [singular] : a period of time when someone lives in a place • a four-year residency in the country

2 [count] : legal permission to live in a place • He was granted/denied residency. [=residence]

3 [count, noncount] chiefly US : a period when a doctor receives advanced training at a hospital in order to become a specialist in a particular field of medicine • She recently completed her residency in pediatrics. • a residency program

4 [count, noncount] : a period of time when a writer, artist, etc., lives and works at a college or other institution

¹resident /ˈrezədənt/ noun, pl -dents [count]

1 : someone who lives in a particular place • She is a resident of New York. [=she lives in New York] • apartment residents

2 US : a doctor who is training at a hospital to become a specialist in a particular field of medicine • a first-year resident

²res·i·dent adj

1 : living in a particular place usually for a long period of time • the city's resident voters • Several tribes are resident in this part of the country.

2 always used before a noun : working regularly at a particular place • the magazine's resident critic — often used humorously to refer to the person in a group who has a particular skill, area of knowledge, etc. • He is our resident trivia expert.

res·i·den·tial /ˈrezəˈdenʃəl/ adj

1 : containing mostly homes instead of stores, businesses, etc. • a residential area/street/neighborhood

2 : used as a place to live • residential property

3 : of or relating to the places where people live • The company offers insurance for commercial and residential customers. • residential insurance policies

4 a : providing students a place to live • residential colleges

b : requiring students to live at a school while taking classes • residential study • a residential course

5 a : provided to patients who are staying at a place for medical care • residential drug treatment b : requiring patients to stay while they are receiving medical care • a residential treatment center re·sid·u·al /rɪˈzɪdʒəwəl/ adj, formal : remaining after a process has been completed or something has been removed • She's still dealing with the residual effects of the accident.

re·sid·u·als /rɪˈzɪdʒəwəlz/ noun [plural] : additional payments that are made to a person (such as a writer or actor) who worked on a commercial or television program every time the commercial or program is shown again • She earns a lot in residuals.

res·i·due /ˈrezəˌduː, Brit ˈrezəˌdjuː/ noun, pl -dues

1 : a usually small amount of something that remains after a process has been completed or a thing has been removed [count] The grill was covered in a greasy residue from the hamburgers. • The divorce left a residue of pain in the family. [noncount] There was some kind of sticky residue on the floor.

2 [count] formal : the amount of something valuable (such as an estate) that is left after all debts have been paid • She left the residue of her estate to her daughter.

re·sign /rɪˈzaɪn/ verb -signs; -signed; -sign·ing : to give up (a job or position) in a formal or official way [+ obj] The senator was forced to resign his position. [no obj] The newspaper's editor resigned after the scandal. • He resigned from his job as principal of the school.

resign yourself : to make yourself accept something that is bad or that cannot be changed — usually + to • We resigned ourselves to the fact that we were going to lose the game. • You don't have to resign yourself to doing a job that you don't enjoy. — see also resigned to at RESIGNED

res·ig·na·tion /ˌrezɪɡˈneɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : an act of giving up a job or position in a formal or official way [count] The chairman accepted their resignations. [noncount] a letter of resignation

2 [count] : a letter which states that a person has given up a job or position • The manager received resignations from three members of the staff.

3 [noncount] : the feeling that something unpleasant is going to happen and cannot be changed • We accepted the news with resignation. • a sigh of resignation resigned adj, always used before a noun : feeling or showing acceptance that something unpleasant will happen or will not change • She gave a resigned sigh. • “OK, you can go,” he said, in a resigned voice.

resigned to ♦ If you are resigned to something, you accept a bad situation that cannot be changed. • She was resigned to a long visit with his mother. • I'm resigned to having to work this weekend. • He was resigned to the fact that an expensive vacation would have to wait.

— re·sign·ed·ly /rɪˈzaɪnədli/ adv • She shook her head and sighed resignedly when he told her the news.

re·sil·ience /rɪˈzɪljəns/ noun [noncount]

1 : the ability to become strong, healthy, or successful again after something bad happens • The rescue workers showed remarkable resilience in dealing with the difficult conditions.

2 : the ability of something to return to its original shape after it has been pulled, stretched, pressed, bent, etc. • the resilience of rubber • Cold temperatures caused the material to lose resilience.

re·sil·ien·cy /rɪˈzɪljənsi/ noun [noncount] : RESILIENCE

re·sil·ient /rɪˈzɪljənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : able to become strong, healthy, or successful again after something bad happens • resilient young people • resilient competitors • The local economy is remarkably resilient.

2 : able to return to an original shape after being pulled, stretched, pressed, bent, etc. • a resilient material

— re·sil·ient·ly adv

res·in /ˈrezɪn/ noun, pl -ins [count, noncount]

1 : a yellow or brown sticky substance that comes from some trees and that is used to make various products

2 : an artificial substance that is similar to natural resins and that is used to make plastics — compare ROSIN

— res·in·ous /ˈreznəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a resinous substance

re·sist /rɪˈzɪst/ verb -sists; -sist·ed; -sist·ing

1 [+ obj] : to fight against (something) : to try to stop or prevent (something) • He was charged with resisting arrest. • Many people resisted [=opposed] the efforts of lawmakers to raise taxes.

2 [+ obj] : to remain strong against the force or effect of (something) : to not be affected or harmed by (something) • These windows can resist very high winds. • The drug will help your body resist infection.

3 : to prevent yourself from doing something that you want to do [+ obj] She couldn't resist telling us what she'd heard. •

He was able to resist the urge to tell her his secret. • It was hard resisting the temptation to open the box. • The offer was hard to resist. [no obj] I know I shouldn't have any more cake, but I can't resist.

– re-sist-er /rɪˈzɪstə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • military draft resisters

re-sis-tance /rɪˈzɪstəns/ noun

1 : refusal to accept something new or different [noncount] — often + from • She sensed resistance from some of the staff regarding the changes in policy. — often + to • There was a lot of resistance to the plan when it was first suggested. [singular] They have shown a stubborn resistance to change.

2 [noncount] : effort made to stop or to fight against someone or something • He offered no resistance when he was arrested. [=he did not try to prevent himself from being arrested] • The troops met heavy/stiff resistance as they approached the city. — see also PASSIVE RESISTANCE

3 : the ability to prevent something from having an effect [noncount] The paint shows good weather resistance. — often + to • the body's resistance to disease [singular] Over time the patient/infection could develop a resistance to the drug.

4 [noncount] : a force that slows down a moving object (such as an airplane) by going against the direction in which the object is moving • reducing wind resistance

5 or Resistance [singular] : a secret organization that fights against enemy forces who have gained control of a region, country, etc. • a member of the French Resistance • resistance forces

6 [noncount] technical : the ability of a substance to prevent electricity from passing through it • electrical resistance take/follow the path/line of least resistance : to choose the easiest way to do something instead of trying to choose the best way • She tends to follow the path of least resistance instead of going after what she really wants.

re-sis-tant /rɪˈzɪstənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : opposed to something : wanting to prevent something from happening — usually + to • People are often resistant to change.

2 : not affected or harmed by something • These plants are resistant to cold temperatures. • He became resistant to the medication. — often used in combination • a water-resistant watch

re-sis-tor /rɪˈzɪstə/ noun, pl -tors [count] technical : a device that is used to control the flow of electricity in an electric circuit

re-sit /rɪˈsɪt/ verb re-sits; re-sat /rɪˈsæt/; re-sit-ting [+ obj] Brit : to take (an examination) again • He has to resit [=re-take] the exam he failed.

– re-sit /rɪˈsɪt/ noun, pl -sits [count] • He passed the resit.

res-o-lute /ˈrezəˌluːt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very determined : having or showing a lot of determination • She is a resolute competitor. • He has remained resolute in his opposition to the bill. • a leader with a stern and resolute manner

– res-o-lute-ly adv • The senator is resolutely opposed to the bill.

res-o-lu-tion /ˈrezəˌluːʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 a [noncount] : the act of finding an answer or solution to a conflict, problem, etc. : the act of resolving something • a court for the resolution of civil disputes • conflict resolution

b [count] : an answer or solution to something • We found a resolution to the dispute.

2 : the ability of a device to show an image clearly and with a lot of detail [count] computer screens with high resolutions [noncount] The monitor has excellent resolution. • a high-resolution copier/monitor/camera

3 [count] : a promise to yourself that you will make a serious effort to do something that you should do • He made a resolution to lose weight. [=he resolved to lose weight] • Her New Year's resolution [=her promise to do something differently in the new year] is to exercise regularly.

4 [noncount] : the quality of being very determined to do something : DETERMINATION • They admired his courage and resolution. [=resolve]

5 [count] : a formal statement that expresses the feelings, wishes, or decision of a group • The assembly passed a resolution calling for the university president to step down.

6 [noncount] : the point in a story at which the main conflict is solved or ended • the resolution of the plot

re-solve /rɪˈzɒlv/ verb -solves; -solved; -solv-ing

1 [+ obj] : to find an answer or solution to (something) : to settle or solve (something) • The brothers finally resolved their conflict. • The issue of the book's authorship was never resolved. • His speech did nothing to resolve doubts about the company's future. • They haven't been able to resolve their differences.

2 [+ obj] : to make a definite and serious decision to do something • She resolved to quit smoking. • He resolved that he would start dating again.

3 [+ obj] : to make a formal decision about something usually by a vote • The committee resolved to override the veto.

4 formal : to change into separate parts or a different form by usually a gradual process [+ obj] The mixture was resolved into two parts. [no obj] The image eventually resolved into the shape of a person's body.

– re-solv-able /rɪˈzɒːlvəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a resolvable conflict

2 resolve noun [noncount] : a strong determination to do something • His comments were intended to weaken her resolve but they only served to strengthen it.

resolved /rɪˈzɒːlvd/ adj : feeling strong determination to do something • I was resolved [=determined] to find out the truth.

res-o-nance /ˈrezənəns/ noun [noncount]

1 formal : the quality of a sound that stays loud, clear, and deep for a long time • the resonance of the singer's voice

2 formal : a quality that makes something personally meaningful or important to someone • His story didn't have much resonance with the audience.

3 technical : a sound or vibration produced in one object that is caused by the sound or vibration produced in another

res-o-nant /ˈrezənənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : producing a loud, clear, deep sound • a resonant church bell • the resonant tones of the piano • He has a deep, resonant voice.

2 : strongly affecting someone especially with a particular quality • resonant images of heroism • His words were resonant with meaning.

– res-o-nant-ly adv

res-o-nate /ˈrezəˌneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [no obj]

1 : to continue to produce a loud, clear, deep sound for a long time • The siren resonated throughout the city.

2 : to have particular meaning or importance for someone : to affect or appeal to someone in a personal or emotional way — usually + with • Her speech resonated with voters. [=voters liked and were impressed by her speech]

res-o-na-tor /ˈrezəˌneɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a device used to make something (such as a musical instrument) louder

1 re-sort /rɪˈzɔːt/ noun, pl -sorts

1 [count] : a place where people go for vacations • a ski/beach/golf resort • a resort hotel

2 [count] : something that you choose for help • “We may have to ask them for more time.” “That should be our last resort.” [=that should be something we do only if nothing else works] • Our first resort was to go to the police. • The company will only declare bankruptcy as a last/final resort. = (Brit) The company will only declare bankruptcy in the last resort. • a weapon of last resort [=a weapon that is only used if its use cannot be avoided]

3 [noncount] : the act of doing or using something especially because no other choices are possible — usually + to • The police hope to end the standoff without resort to force. [=without using force]

2 resort verb -sorts; -sort-ed; -sort-ing

resort to [phrasal verb] resort to (something) : to do or use (something) especially because no other choices are possible • We want to resolve this crisis without resorting to violence. • He had to resort to asking his parents for money.

re-sound /rɪˈzaʊnd/ verb -sounds; -sound-ed; -sound-ing [no obj]

1 : to become filled with sound — usually + with • The hall resounded with cheers.

2 : to make a loud, deep sound • The organ resounded throughout the church.

3 : to make a strong impression or have a great effect on people • His speech resounded throughout the world.

re-sound-ing /rɪˈzaʊndɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : producing a loud, deep sound that lasts for a long time • a resounding crash

2 : leaving no doubt : very definite • The play was a resounding [=great, huge] success. • a resounding victory • The class answered with a resounding no.

– re-sound-ing-ly adv

re-source /'ri:soʊs, Brit rɪ'zɔ:s/ noun, pl -sourc-es

1 [count] : something that a country has and can use to increase its wealth • Oil is essentially their only resource. — usually plural • The country has vast mineral resources. • coal, oil, and other natural resources

2 [plural] : a supply of something (such as money) that someone has and can use when it is needed • Their financial resources are severely limited. [=they do not have much money] • If we pool our resources [=if we combine our money] we can buy the car. — see also HUMAN RESOURCES

3 [count] : a place or thing that provides something useful • The library/Internet is a useful resource [=source] for information. • The computer laboratory is an essential resource for students.

4 a [count] : an ability or quality that allows you to do the things that are necessary — usually plural • Does he have the intellectual resources to do the job? • During his illness she discovered vast inner resources that gave her the strength she needed. b [noncount] formal : an ability to deal with and find solutions for problems • She is a worker of tremendous resource. [=resourcefulness]

re-source-ful /rɪ'soʊsfəl, Brit rɪ'zɔ:sfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : able to deal well with new or difficult situations and to find solutions to problems • a resourceful leader

— re-source-ful-ly adv • She handled the problem very resourcefully. — re-source-ful-ness noun [noncount]

¹re-spect /rɪ'spekt/ noun, pl -spects

1 : a feeling of admiring someone or something that is good, valuable, important, etc. [noncount] He has earned/gained/won their respect. • The soldier saluted as a sign of respect. • Despite our differences, I have enormous respect for him. • She has a lot of respect for his opinion. [=she values his opinion very highly] [singular] I have a great respect for his accomplishments.

2 : a feeling or understanding that someone or something is important, serious, etc., and should be treated in an appropriate way [noncount] She showed no respect [=consideration] for my feelings. • I expect to be treated with respect. • He has no respect for the rules. [=he does not obey/follow the rules; he disregards the rules] [count] He has a healthy respect for the dangers of the work he does. [=he is aware of the dangers and does the work in a careful way]

3 [count] : a particular way of thinking about or looking at something • The show was perfect in all respects. [=in every way] • Your theory makes sense in one respect. • In many respects [=in many ways], her life has been a hard one.

4 respects [plural] : a polite greeting or expression of kind feelings • Please give/send my respects to your parents. [=please tell your parents I said hello] • I paid my respects [=offered my condolences] to the family at the funeral. • We went to his funeral to pay our last/final respects with (all) (due) respect — used as a polite or formal way of saying that you disagree with someone • I have to say, with all respect, that I don't think your solution will work. • With all due respect, I must disagree with your conclusions.

with respect to also in respect to or chiefly Brit in respect of formal : about or concerning (something or someone) : in relation to (something or someone) • There is a question with respect to your earlier comments. • There have been problems with respect to transferring the data from the old computer to the new one.

²respect verb -spects; -spect-ed; -spec-ting [+ obj]

1 : to feel admiration for (someone or something) : to regard (someone or something) as being worthy of admiration because of good qualities • The students respect the principal for his honesty. • I respect what she has accomplished.

2 : to act in a way which shows that you are aware of (someone's rights, wishes, etc.) • He respected my wish for quiet. [=he was quiet because he knew that was what I wanted] • Please respect my privacy. • You must learn to respect other people's property.

3 a : to treat or deal with (something that is good or valuable) in a proper way • We need to respect the environment. b : do what is required by (a law, rule, etc.) • She always respects [=observes] the speed limit.

as respects formal : about or concerning (something) : with respect to (something) • She is very liberal as respects human rights.

— re-spect-er /rɪ'spektə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • He wants to be seen as a respector of the environment. • (formal) The law is no respecter of persons [=the law applies to all people in the same way]

re-spect-able /rɪ'spektəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : considered to be good, correct, or acceptable : decent or correct in character, behavior, or appearance • respectable people • She comes from a very respectable family. • wearing respectable clothes

2 : fairly good • She makes a respectable [=decent] salary. • Her grades were respectable [=satisfactory] but not great.

— re-spect-abil-i-ty /rɪ'spektə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] • He has an air of respectability about him. — re-spect-ably /rɪ'spektəbli/ adv • He was respectably dressed.

respected adj [more ~; most ~] : admired by many people • She is a highly respected professor. • He is one of the most respected people in the film industry.

re-spect-ful /rɪ'spektfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : showing or having respect • a respectful manner — often + of • Children should be respectful of their elders.

— re-spect-ful-ly /rɪ'spektfəli/ adv • He respectfully removed his hat when he entered the building. — re-spect-ful-ness noun [noncount] re-spect-ing /rɪ'spektɪŋ/ prep, formal : about or relating to (something) : with respect to (something) • We have heard no information respecting [=concerning, regarding] the path of the storm.

re-spec-tive /rɪ'spektɪv/ adj : belonging or relating to each one of the people or things that have been mentioned • The brother and sister returned to their respective [=own] bedrooms. • They are all very successful in their respective [=individual] fields.

— re-spec-tive-ly /rɪ'spektɪvli/ adv • The boy and girl are 12 and 13 years old respectively. [=the boy is 12 and the girl is 13]

res-pi-ra-tion /ˌrɛspə'reɪʃən/ noun [noncount] medical : the act or process of breathing • The doctor checked his heart-beat and respiration. — see also ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

res-pi-ra-tor /ˌrɛspə'reɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

1 : a device that you wear over your mouth and nose so that you can breathe when there is a lot of dust, smoke, etc., in the air

2 medical : a device that helps people to breathe when they are not able to breathe naturally • The doctors put her on a respirator.

re-spi-ra-to-ry /ˌrɛspə'reɪtəri, Brit rɪ'spɪrətəri/ adj, medical : of or relating to breathing or the organs of the body that are used in breathing • respiratory diseases/illnesses/infections • the respiratory system [=the lungs or other organs used in respiration]

re-spire /rɪ'spaɪə/ verb -spires; -spired; -spir-ing [no obj] technical : BREATHE 1 • Fish use their gills to respire.

re-spite /ˌrɛspət, Brit 'rɛ,spait/ noun, pl -spites : a short period of time when you are able to stop doing something that is difficult or unpleasant or when something difficult or unpleasant stops or is delayed [count] — usually singular • The weekend provided a nice respite from the pressures of her job. • a temporary respite [noncount] The bad weather has continued without respite.

re-splen-dent /rɪ'splɛndənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary : very bright and attractive • The fields were resplendent with flowers. • She looked resplendent in her green evening gown. • a bird with resplendent yellow feathers

— re-splen-dent-ly adv

re-spond /rɪ'spa:nd/ verb -sponds; -spond-ed; -spond-ing

1 : to say or write something as an answer to a question or request : REPLY [no obj] She hasn't yet responded to my letter. • My mother responded to my request with a firm no. • The teacher asked a question, but the student didn't respond. [+ obj] "Are you ready?" he asked. "No," she responded. • When I asked him what he was doing, he responded that it was none of my business.

2 [no obj] : to do something as a reaction to something that has happened or been done • Police quickly responded to the call for help. • She responded to their decision by threatening to quit. : to have a particular reaction to something • He doesn't respond [=react] well to criticism. • Most readers responded favorably to the book. [=most readers liked the book]

3 [no obj] : to have a good or desired reaction to something • The patient is responding to the treatment. [=the patient is getting better because of the treatment]

re-spon-dent /rɪ'spa:ndənt/ noun, pl -dents [count] : a person who gives a response or answer to a question that is asked especially as part of a survey • A majority of respondents said they disagreed with the mayor's plan.

re•sponse /rɪˈspɑːns/ noun, pl -spons-es

1 : something that is said or written as a reply to something [count] He got a response to his letter. [noncount] I am writing in response to your letter of July 17. • She asked him but he gave/made no response. [=he did not answer]

2 : something that is done as a reaction to something else [count] When I told him my plan, I wasn't expecting such an enthusiastic response. • Her response to their decision was to threaten to quit her job. • The patient suffered an adverse response to the medication. [=the patient became worse after taking the medication] [noncount] When you knocked on the door, was there any response?

re•spon•si•bil•i•ty /rɪˈspɑːnsəˈbɪləti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the state of being the person who caused something to happen • He accepted full responsibility for the accident. [=he admitted that the accident was his fault] • The boys denied any responsibility for the damage to the fence. • A terrorist group has claimed responsibility for the bombing.

2 a : a duty or task that you are required or expected to do [count] The janitor has many responsibilities. • Mowing the lawn is your responsibility. • She has to deal with a lot of family and work responsibilities. • It is your responsibility to give the company two weeks notice if you decide to leave. • A teacher's most important responsibility is to help her students. = A teacher's first responsibility is to/toward her students. [noncount] In her new position, she will have much more responsibility. b [count] : something that you should do because it is morally right, legally required, etc. • We have a responsibility to protect the environment. • The government's responsibility is to serve the public.

3 [noncount] : the state of having the job or duty of dealing with and taking care of something or someone • The principal has responsibility for 450 students and a staff of 35.

4 [noncount] : the quality of a person who can be trusted to do what is expected, required, etc. • She is completely lacking in responsibility. • The boy developed a sense of responsibility with his first job.

on your own responsibility ✧ To do something on your own responsibility is to do it without being told to and to accept the blame if it has a bad result. • He changed the schedule on his own responsibility.

re•spon•si•ble /rɪˈspɑːnsəbəl/ adj

1 — used to describe the person or thing that causes something to happen • Those responsible will be punished/rewarded. — usually + for • The technicians found the glitch that was responsible for [=that caused] the computer crash. • Police caught the youths responsible for the vandalism. • Who was responsible for the accident? • She's responsible for most of the improvements here in recent months. • He holds me responsible for [=blames me for] the project's failure.

2 : having the job or duty of dealing with or taking care of something or someone — + for • She is responsible for the company's publicity. • Each child is responsible for his or her own belongings. • The committee is responsible for organizing the dance. • You are responsible for mowing the lawn. • Who was responsible for choosing this location? • Parents are responsible for their own children.

3 [more ~; most ~] : able to be trusted to do what is right or to do the things that are expected or required • She is a very responsible worker. • Is he responsible enough to have a car? — opposite IRRESPONSIBLE

4 [more ~; most ~] : involving important duties, decisions, etc., that you are trusted to do • She got a higher salary and a more responsible position at the company.

5 : working under the direction and authority of a particular person — + to • I am responsible to her, and she is directly responsible to the company president.

— re•spon•si•bly /rɪˈspɑːnsəbli/ adv [more ~; most ~] • Our leaders must act responsibly.

re•spon•sive /rɪˈspɑːnsɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : reacting in a desired or positive way • The patient was not responsive to the treatment. • They weren't very responsive to my suggestion. [=they did not respond very favorably to my suggestion]

2 : quick to react or respond • The store is very responsive to the needs of its customers. • a car with responsive steering [=steering that works quickly when you move the steering wheel]

— re•spon•sive•ly adv — re•spon•sive•ness noun [non-count]

¹rest /ˈrest/ noun

the rest : the part that is left when other people or things are gone, used, etc. • You bring these bags in, and I'll bring the rest. [=the remainder] • Thanks for your help. I can handle the rest. • Linda, Joan, Donna, and the rest — often + of • He would regret that decision for the rest of his life. • She went shopping and spent the rest of her money on dinner. • We finished the rest of the cake. • He worked in the morning and relaxed (for) the rest of the day.

— compare ²REST

²rest noun, pl rests

1 : a period of time in which you relax, sleep, or do nothing after you have been active or doing work [noncount] a day of rest • I was ordered to get some rest. • None of us had/got much rest last night. [count] — usually singular • I need a rest. [=break] • The coach canceled practice to give his team a rest. • a 10-minute rest period — see also BED REST

2 [noncount] : a state in which there is no motion • an object in a state of rest

3 [count] : an object that is designed to support or hold something • a knife/spoon rest • the violin's chin rest — see also ARMREST, FOOTREST, HEADREST

4 [count] a : a period of silence between musical notes b : a symbol in music that shows a period of silence between notes

at rest 1 : not moving • The object is at rest. [=motionless]

2 : no longer living : DEAD • After years of suffering, she is finally at rest. 3 : in a relaxed and comfortable state • You can set/put your mind at rest [=you can relax and stop worrying] come to rest : to stop moving • The ball came to rest against the curb. • Her eyes came to rest on a mysterious man. [=she stopped looking around and looked at the mysterious man] give it a rest informal — used to tell someone to stop talking about something • Oh, give it a rest! I don't want to hear it.

give (something) a rest informal : to stop doing or using (something) • Hey, give the TV remote a rest and go outside to play!

lay (someone) to rest : to bury (someone who has died) — usually used as (be) laid to rest • She was laid to rest in the church's graveyard.

lay/put to rest (something) or lay/put (something) to rest : to make someone stop thinking about or believing (something) by showing it is not true • I want to lay/put to rest any lingering doubts about my decision.

— compare ¹REST

³rest verb rests; rest-ed; rest-ing

1 [no obj] : to stop doing work or an activity • We will not rest until we discover the truth. : to spend time relaxing, sleeping, or doing nothing after you have been active or doing work • The workers were resting in the shade. • They expect to rest [=relax] while on vacation. • He is resting comfortably after his ordeal. • She went to her room to rest for a while.

2 [+ obj] a : to give rest to (someone) • The coach canceled practice to rest his team. • May God rest her soul. [=I pray that God will give her soul peace now that she has died] b : to stop using (something) so that it can become strong again • He rested his horse before continuing the journey. • You should rest your eyes after all that reading. • The pitcher needs to rest his arm.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition a [no obj] : to sit or lie on something • The spoon was resting in the cup. • The house rests on a concrete foundation. — often used figuratively • The real authority rests with the committee. • The blame rests (solely) on/with me. [=I am to blame; I am responsible for what happened] b [+ obj] : to place (something) on or against something else • He rested his hand on her shoulder. • She rested her bike against a tree. • He rested his chin in his hands. • Don't rest your elbows on the table.

4 [no obj] : to lie in a grave after death • My grandfather rests [=is buried] next to my grandmother. • May she rest in peace. [=may she have peace in her death]

5 : to stop presenting evidence in a legal case [no obj] The defense rests, Your Honor. [+ obj] The defense rested its case. — see also I rest my case at ¹CASE

let (something) rest : to stop mentioning or talking about (something) • You just won't let this rest, will you? • They told them their decision, but he won't let the matter rest.

rest easy : to stop worrying about something : to not worry about something • I can rest easy knowing that he will be in charge.

rest on/upon [phrasal verb] 1 rest on/upon (someone or something) a : to depend or rely on (someone or something) • All our hopes rested on one man. b : to stop moving and look at (someone or something) • His eyes/gaze rested on the letter. 2 rest on/upon (something) : to be based on (something) • His theory rested upon two important pieces of evidence.

rest on your laurels see LAUREL rest with [phrasal verb] rest with (someone or something) : to be the responsibility of (someone or something) • The final decision rests with you.

rest area noun, pl ~ -eas [count] US : an area next to a highway where people can stop to rest, use the bathroom, get food, etc. — called also (US) rest stop

re-start /ri'sta:t/ verb -starts; -start-ed; -start-ing

1 : to make (something) start again after it has stopped [+ obj] Restart your computer. • restart the video game • They plan to restart negotiations next week. [no obj] After you re-start [=restart your computer], go to the main menu.

2 [no obj] : to start again after stopping • The tournament will restart tomorrow. • The tractor won't restart.

— restart noun, pl -starts [count] • a computer restart

re-state /ri'ste:t/ verb -states; -stat-ed; -stat-ing [+ obj] : to say (something) again or in a different way especially to make the meaning clearer • She needs to restate her arguments.

— re-state-ment /ri'ste:tment/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount] • a restatement of familiar ideas

res-tau-rant /'restə,rɑ:nt/ noun, pl -rants [count] : a place where you can buy and eat a meal • a Mexican/Italian/Chinese restaurant [=a restaurant that serves Mexican/Italian/Chinese food] restaurant car noun, pl ~ cars [count] chiefly Brit : DINING CAR

res-tau-ra-teur /,restərə'tɔ:/ also res-tau-ran-teur /,restə,rɑ:n'tɔ:/ noun, pl -teurs [count] : a person who owns or manages a restaurant rest-ed /'restəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having had enough rest or sleep • They were (well) rested after a long vacation. • She appears rested and sharp. • I want to be rested for the exam.

rest-ful /'restfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : peaceful and quiet in a way that makes you relax • It's restful by the stream. • a restful weekend

— rest-ful-ly adv

rest home noun, pl ~ homes [count] : a place where people who are old or who are unable to take care of themselves can live and be taken care of : NURSING HOME rest-ing /'restɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun, technical : taken or measured when you are relaxed and not moving much • your resting heart rate • the resting metabolic rate resting place noun, pl ~ places [count]

1 : a place where you can stop and rest • We found a good resting place by the side of the trail.

2 : a place where someone is buried • This is her final/last resting place.

3 : a place where something has been put • The monument was moved to a new resting place.

res-ti-tu-tion /,restə'tu:ʃən, Brit ,restə'tju:ʃən/ noun [non-count] formal

1 : the act of returning something that was lost or stolen to its owner • the restitution of her stolen property

2 : payment that is made to someone for damage, trouble, etc. • He was ordered to make restitution to the victim.

res-tive /'restiv/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : feeling bored or impatient while waiting for something to happen or change • a restive audience • The audience grew/became restive.

— res-tive-ly adv — res-tive-ness noun [noncount] rest-less /'restləs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : feeling nervous or bored and tending to move around a lot : not relaxed or calm • restless children who can't sit still • The audience was becoming restless.

2 : unhappy about a situation and wanting change • He started to feel restless and discontent in his job.

3 : having little or no rest or sleep • a restless night

— rest-less-ly adv • They searched restlessly for something new to do. • He tossed restlessly in bed. — rest-less-ness noun [noncount] • the restlessness of the crowd re-stock /ri'stɑ:k/ verb -stocks; -stocked; -stock-ing [+ obj] : to provide a new supply of something to replace what has been used, sold, taken, etc. • We restocked the merchandise after the store closed. • The shelves need to be restocked. • The pond is restocked with trout every spring.

res-to-ra-tion /,restə'reɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : the act or process of returning something to its original condition by repairing it, cleaning it, etc. [noncount] The building is undergoing restoration. [count] — often + of • They have undertaken a careful restoration of the building.

2 somewhat formal : the act of bringing back something that existed before — usually + of [noncount] the restoration of peace after war • the restoration of law and order by the police [count] The town called for a restoration of the law.

3 [count, noncount] somewhat formal : the act of returning something that was stolen or taken — often + of • (a) restoration of stolen property

4 the Restoration : the period in 17th-century English history when Charles II was king after a long period of no king or queen on the throne • The play was written during the Restoration. — often used as Restoration before another noun • a Restoration play

1 re-stor-ative /rɪ'stɔrətɪv/ adj, formal : having the ability to make a person feel strong or healthy again • the restorative powers of rest • a restorative herb

2 restorative noun, pl -atives [count] formal : something that makes a person feel strong or healthy again • Sleep is a powerful restorative.

re-store /rɪ'stɔ:/ verb -stores; -stored; -stor-ing [+ obj]

1 : to give back (someone or something that was lost or taken) : to return (someone or something) — often + to • The police restored the stolen purse to its owner. • The police restored the lost child to her parents.

2 : to put or bring (something) back into existence or use • Surgery will restore his hearing. [=surgery will let him hear again] • The police restored law and order. • The team's victory has restored a sense of pride to the community. [=the team's victory has made the community feel proud again] • The government needs to restore confidence in the economy. 3 : to return (something) to an earlier or original condition by repairing it, cleaning it, etc. • The crew is trying to restore the old house (to its original condition). • He restores old paintings. • an antique car that is being carefully restored • newly/recently restored churches

4 a : to bring (someone) back to an earlier and better condition — usually + to • Her care restored the child to health. b : to put (someone) back in a position — usually + to • His allies restored the king to the throne.

— re-stor-able /rɪ'stɔrəbəl/ adj • The car is in restorable condition. — re-stor-er noun, pl -ers [count] • an art restorer • a restorer of antique furniture

re-strain /rɪ'streɪn/ verb -strains; -strained; -strain-ing [+ obj]

1 : to prevent (a person or animal) from doing something • He could not restrain the dog from attacking. • I wanted to have another serving, but I somehow restrained myself. = I somehow restrained myself from having another serving. • He could restrain himself no longer.

2 : to prevent (a person or animal) from moving by using physical force • Hospital orderlies needed to restrain the patient. • He was restrained and placed in a holding cell.

3 : to keep (something) under control • He could barely restrain his anger. • The manufacturer took measures to restrain costs.

re-strained /rɪ'streɪnd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : showing careful self-control • She was admired for her restrained behavior. • a restrained smile restraining order noun, pl ~ -ders [count] US, law : a legal order saying that someone is not allowed to go near a particular person • The judge issued a restraining order. — often + against • She took out a restraining order against her former husband.

2 : not too colorful or fancy • a restrained style of architecture • The room was decorated with restrained colors.

re-straint /rɪ'streɪnt/ noun, pl -straints

1 [count] somewhat formal : a way of limiting, controlling, or stopping something — usually plural; often + on • The government has placed/put/imposed restraints on imports.

2 [count] formal : a device that limits a person's movement • Make sure the child safety restraint is in place. • The prisoner was placed in restraints.

3 [noncount] : control over your emotions or behavior • His angry response showed a lack of restraint. • The government has acted with restraint in dealing with this crisis. • You should exercise restraint.

4 [noncount] formal : physical force that prevents someone from moving • (US) She was charged with unlawful restraint. • He was placed under restraint. [=he was restrained]

re·strict /rɪ'strɪkt/ verb -stricts; -strict·ed; -strict·ing [+ obj]

- 1 : to limit the amount or range of (something) • Her eye problem restricts her reading. • She was told to restrict the amount of salt she uses. • They want to restrict access to the beach. [=they want to limit who can use the beach] • The new law restricts smoking in public places. • They have accused the government of trying to restrict free speech. — often used as (be) restricted • Visits are restricted to 30 minutes. [=visits cannot be longer than 30 minutes] • The damage from the fire was restricted to the rear of the building. [=the rear of the building was the only part damaged by the fire]
2 : to prevent (someone) from doing something • They say the government is trying to restrict them from speaking out.
3 : to allow (someone) to only have or do a particular thing — usually + to • The doctor restricted her to a low-fat diet. [=she was only allowed to eat a low-fat diet] • He restricts himself to one cup of coffee a day. [=he allows himself to have only one cup of coffee a day]

re·strict·ed /rɪ'strɪktəd/ adj

- 1 : having a set limit • Only a restricted [=limited] number of students will be allowed in the class.
2 [more ~; most ~] : having definite rules about what or who is allowed and not allowed • He is on a severely/very restricted diet. • The beach has restricted access. [=only certain people can go on the beach]
3 : allowing use or entry by only certain people • a restricted country club • You have entered a restricted area.
4 : kept secret from all but a few people : CLASSIFIED • a restricted document • That information is restricted.

re·stric·tion /rɪ'strɪkʃən/ noun, pl -tions

- 1 [count] : a law or rule that limits or controls something • Building in that area came with some restrictions. • travel restrictions • They placed/imposed restrictions on smoking indoors. • They will lift/remove export restrictions.
2 [noncount] : the act of limiting or controlling something • illegal restriction of free speech

re·stric·tive /rɪ'strɪktɪv/ adj

- 1 [more ~; most ~] : limiting or controlling someone or something • restrictive laws/regulations • a very restrictive diet
2 grammar, of a word or group of words : giving information about a person or thing that is needed to understand which person or thing is meant • In the sentence "The book that you ordered is out of print," "that you ordered" is a restrictive clause. — compare NONRESTRICTIVE rest·room /'rest,ru:m/ noun, pl -rooms [count] US : a room in a public place with a sink and toilet : BATHROOM 2 • a public restroom re·struc·ture /rɪ'strʌktʃə/ verb -tures; -tured; -tur·ing [+ obj] : to change the basic organization or structure of (something) • You should restructure this sentence to make its meaning clearer. • The college is restructuring its Humanities Department.

— restructuring noun, pl -ings [count, noncount] • A restructuring of the health-care system is needed.

rest stop noun, pl ~ stops [count] US : REST AREA

re·sult /rɪ'zʌlt/ noun, pl -sults

- 1 : something that is caused by something else that happened or was done before [count] The book is the result of years of hard work and dedication. • The end/final result of his work was a classic American novel. • As a result of [=because of] the accident, he was out of work for three months. • He sprained his wrist and, as a result [=because of this], he will not be playing in the tournament. • Bad weather caused several delays with the result that the work was not completed on time. [=the work was not completed on time because bad weather caused delays] [noncount] The investigation continued without result.
2 [count] a : the final score or a description of who won and lost in a game, election, etc. • What was the result of last night's game? [=who won last night's game?] — often plural • Election results will be posted later. • The play-off roster depends on the results of tonight's game. b Brit, informal : a win especially in a soccer match — usually singular • After several drawn matches, we finally got a result. [=we finally won]
3 [count] Brit : the grade received on a test or examination — usually plural • Have you gotten your exam results yet?
4 [count] : information that you get from a scientific or medical test • My blood test result was fine.
5 results [plural] : something you want that is achieved successfully • We are waiting for the experiment to produce re- sults. • This method gets results. [=this method is effective and successful]

2 result verb -sults; -sult·ed; -sult·ing [no obj] : to happen because of something else that happened or was done before : to be caused by something else • If you take this drug, side effects may result. — usually + from • The fire resulted from an explosion.

result in [phrasal verb] result in (something) : to cause (something) to happen • The disease resulted in his death. : to produce (something) as a result • The trial resulted in an acquittal.

— resulting adj, always used before a noun • the accident and his resulting death

re·sul·tant /rɪ'zʌltənt/ adj, always used before a noun, formal : coming from or caused by something else • She deserves credit for the increase in sales and the resultant increase in profit.

re·sume /rɪ'zu:m, Brit rɪ'zju:m/ verb -sumes; -sumed; -sum·ing formal

1 : to begin again after stopping [no obj] The game resumed after the rain stopped. • Negotiations have resumed. [+ obj] After the rain stopped, the teams resumed play. • She sat down and resumed her work.

2 [+ obj] : to take (a seat, place, position, etc.) again : to go back to (something) • He shook his visitor's hand and resumed his seat. • I resumed my place at the podium. • She will be resuming her position at the company.

ré·su·mé or re·su·me also re·su·mé /'rezə,meɪ, Brit 'rezju,meɪ/ noun, pl -més or -mes [count]

1 US a : a short document describing your education, work history, etc., that you give an employer when you are applying for a job • If you would like to be considered for the job, please submit your résumé. — called also (chiefly Brit) curriculum vitae b : a list of achievements • His musical résumé includes performances at Carnegie Hall, a stint with the New York Philharmonic, and two Grammys.

2 formal : a short description of things that have happened : SUMMARY • a brief résumé of the news re·sump·tion /rɪ'zʌmpʃən/ noun, formal : an act of starting something again after it has stopped : an act of resuming something — usually + of [singular] The rain has stopped, but we're still waiting for the resumption of the game. [noncount] Resumption of peace talks is expected soon.

re·sur·face /rɪ'sʌfəs/ verb -fac·es; -faced; -fac·ing

1 [no obj] : to rise to the surface again after being underwater or underground • The submarine resurfaced.

2 [no obj] : to suddenly be found or appear again • A few of the writer's journals have resurfaced. • His resentment toward her resurfaced.

3 [+ obj] : to put a new surface on (something) : to refinish or repair the surface of (something) • He resurfaced the table. • The road needs to be resurfaced.

re·sur·gence /rɪ'sʌdʒəns/ noun : a growth or increase that occurs after a period without growth or increase [singular] a resurgence of interest/popularity [noncount] There has been some resurgence in economic activity recently.

re·sur·gent /rɪ'sʌdʒənt/ adj, formal : becoming popular, active, or successful again after a period of being less popular, active, or successful • a resurgent stock market • a resurgent politician

res·ur·rect /,rezə'rekt/ verb -rects; -rect·ed; -rect·ing [+ obj]

1 : to bring (a dead person) back to life • The story is about a scientist who claimed that he could resurrect the dead.

2 : to cause (something that had ended or been forgotten or lost) to exist again, to be used again, etc. • He is trying to resurrect his acting career. • an old government program that is being resurrected • Her reputation has been resurrected. [=restored]

res·ur·rec·tion /,rezə'rekʃən/ noun

1 in Christianity a the Resurrection : the event told about in the Bible in which Jesus Christ returned to life after his death b the resurrection or the Resurrection : the event told about in the Bible in which dead people will be brought back to life before the day of final judgment

2 [singular] : the act of causing something that had ended or been forgotten or lost to exist again, to be used again, etc. • He was enjoying the resurrection of his career. • a resurrection of an old theory

re·sus·ci·tate /rɪ'sʌsə'teɪt/ verb -tates; -tat·ed; -tat·ing [+ obj] : to bring (someone who is unconscious, not breathing, or close to death) back to a conscious or active state again • The patient stopped breathing but doctors were able to resuscitate him. — often used figuratively • He is trying to resuscitate his political career.

R

— re-sus-ci-ta-tion /rɪˌsʌsəˈteɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • The patient stopped breathing and required emergency resuscitation. — see also CARDIOPULMONARY RESUSCITATION, MOUTH-TO-MOUTH RESUSCITATION

ret. or Ret. abbr retired • General Smith, U.S. Army (Ret.)

¹retail /ˈriːteɪl/ noun [noncount] : the business of selling things directly to customers for their own use • She has a job in retail. — compare WHOLESALE

²retail adj : relating to the business of selling things directly to customers for their own use • a retail establishment/shop/store • the manufacturer's suggested retail price [=the price of something when it is sold to the final customer] • Is that price retail or wholesale?

³retail adv : in a store that sells things directly to customers for their own use : from a retailer • You usually have to pay more if you buy something retail than if you buy it wholesale. • The product sells retail for about $100.

⁴re-tail verb -tails; -tailed; -tail-ing

1 [+ obj] : to sell (something) to customers for their own use • We retail clothing at the best possible prices.

2 [no obj] : to be sold to the final customer for a specified price • jewelry that retails from $100 — often + at • The item retails at $59.

3 [+ obj] formal : to tell (something) to one person after another : to tell (something) again • retailing [=retelling] gossip re-tail-er /ˈriːteɪlə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person or business that sells things directly to customers for their own use • The company is a leading retailer of women's clothing.

re-tail-ing /ˈriːteɪlɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the business of selling things directly to customers for their own use • She works in retailing.

retail park noun, pl ~ parks [count] Brit : a large shopping area that contains many different kinds of stores

retail price index noun

the retail price index Brit : CONSUMER PRICE INDEX

re-tain /rɪˈteɪn/ verb -tains; -tained; -tain-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to continue to have or use (something) : KEEP • A landlord may retain part of your deposit if you break the lease. • They insisted on retaining old customs. • You will retain your rights as a citizen. • The TV show has retained its popularity for many years.

2 : to keep (someone) in a position, job, etc. • The company's goal is to attract and retain good employees. • The team failed to retain him, and he became a free agent.

3 : to pay for the work of (a person or business) • They have decided to retain a firm to conduct a survey. • You may need to retain an attorney.

4 : to keep (something) in your memory especially for a long period of time • I studied French in college, but I haven't retained much of what I learned. • She has a remarkable ability to retain odd facts.

5 : to continue to hold (something, such as heat or moisture) as time passes • Topping the soil with mulch will help it to retain moisture.

re-tain-er /rɪˈteɪnə/ noun, pl -ers

1 : an amount of money that you pay to someone (such as a lawyer) to make sure that you will have that person's services when you need them [count] They paid a retainer to the lawyer. • They have her on a retainer. [noncount] They have/keep the lawyer on retainer.

2 [count] US : a device that you put in your mouth to keep your teeth in the correct position especially after you have had braces

3 [count] old-fashioned : a servant in a wealthy home • a faithful old retainer

retaining wall noun, pl ~ walls [count] : a wall that is built to keep the land behind it from sliding

¹re-take /rɪˈteɪk/ verb -takes; -took /-ˈtʊk/; -tak-en /-ˈteɪkən/; -tak-ing [+ obj] : to take (something) again • They helped their party retake the Senate. • He retook the lead close to the finish line. • We will have to retake the photograph. • Students can retake the test.

²re-take /rɪˈteɪk/ noun, pl -takes [count]

1 : the act of filming, photographing, or recording something again • The director called for a retake.

2 Brit : an examination that a student takes again after failing or doing poorly the first time re-tal-i-ate /rɪˈtæliːeɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [no obj]

: to do something bad to someone who has hurt you or treated you badly : to get revenge against someone • After the company announced plans to reduce benefits, the union threatened to retaliate by calling for a strike.

— re-tal-i-a-tion /rɪˈtæliːeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [noncount] They lived under the threat of retaliation. • The union has threatened a strike in retaliation for the company's plans to reduce benefits. [count] a quick retaliation — re-tal-ia-to-ry /rɪˈtælijəˌtɔːri/ adj • retaliatory attacks

¹re-tard /rɪˈtɑːd/ verb -tards; -tard-ed; -tard-ing [+ obj] formal : to slow down the development or progress of (something) • The chemical will retard the spread of fire. • The problems have retarded the progress of the program.

²re-tard /rɪˈtɑːd/ noun, pl -tards [count] informal + offensive : a person who has slow mental development; also : a stupid or foolish person

re-tar-dant /rɪˈtɑːdənt/ adj, always used before a noun, technical : able to slow down the progress or development of something — usually used in combination • flame-retardant fabrics [=fabrics that do not catch fire easily]

— retardant noun, pl -dants [count] • a fire retardant

re-tar-da-tion /rɪˈtɑːdəˈteɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 old-fashioned + sometimes offensive : an unusual slowness of mental development • The child suffered severe mental retardation.

2 formal : an act of slowing down the development or progress of something • The chemical induced a retardation of cell growth.

re-tard-ed /rɪˈtɑːdəd/ adj, old-fashioned + often offensive : slow or limited in mental development • mentally retarded

retch /ˈretʃ/ verb retch-es; retched; retch-ing [no obj] : to vomit or feel as if you are about to vomit • I nearly retched. • The smell made him retch. [=gag] re-tell /rɪˈtel/ verb -tells; -told /-ˈtəʊld/; -tell-ing [+ obj] : to tell (a story) again especially in a different way • The movie retells the story of Romeo and Juliet.

— retelling noun, pl -ings [count] • The story is a retelling of a Greek legend.

re-ten-tion /rɪˈtenʃən/ noun [noncount] formal

1 a : the act of keeping someone or something • the recruitment and retention of good employees • the retention of profits from all sales b : the act of keeping extra liquid, heat, etc., inside the body • pills to offset water retention • the retention of fluid

2 : the ability to keep something • The fabric has good color retention. [=the fabric's colors do not fade]

3 : the ability to remember things easily or for a long time • the retention of things learned in school • They say the herb promotes memory retention.

re-ten-tive /rɪˈtentɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : having the ability to remember things easily or for a long time • a retentive mind/memory — see also ANAL-RETENTIVE

— re-ten-tive-ness noun [noncount]

re-think /rɪˈθɪŋk/ verb -thinks; -thought /-ˈθɔːt/; -think-ing : to think carefully about (someone or something) again especially in order to change a choice or decision : RECONSIDER [+ obj] You had better rethink your decision. • The government is rethinking its policy. [no obj] He took a moment to rethink.

— re-think /rɪˈθɪŋk/ noun [singular] • The situation calls for a rethink of the government's policy. — rethinking noun [noncount] • The problem demands some careful/serious rethinking.

ret-i-cent /ˈretəsənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not willing to tell people about things • a quiet, reticent [=reserved] person — often + about • He is reticent about discussing his past.

— ret-i-cence /ˈretəsəns/ noun [noncount]

ret-i-na /ˈretənə/ noun, pl -nas [count] : the sensitive tissue at the back of the eye that receives images and sends signals to the brain about what is seen

— ret-i-nal /ˈretənəl/ adj, technical • the retinal image • a retinal detachment ret-i-nue /ˈretənuː, Brit ˈretənjuː/ noun, pl -nues [count] : a group of helpers, supporters, or followers • the king and his retinue • a pop star traveling with his retinue • a retinue of servants

re-tire /rɪˈtaɪə/ verb -tires; -tired; -tir-ing

1 a [no obj] : to stop a job or career because you have reached the age when you are not allowed to work anymore or do not need or want to work anymore • I want to be healthy when I retire. • She plans to retire (from her job) in two years. • We plan to retire in/to Florida. = We plan to re- tire and move to Florida. • The boxer retired undefeated. b [+ obj] : to cause (someone, such as a military officer) to end a job or career — usually used as (be) retired • The general was retired with honors.

2 [no obj] : to stop playing in a game, competition, etc., especially because of injury • She had to retire during the first set because of a muscle strain.

3 [+ obj] : to take (something) out of use, service, or production • The Navy is retiring the old battleship. • The manufacturer plans to retire that car model in a few years. • The team is retiring his jersey number in honor of his great career.

4 [no obj] formal : to move to a different place • He retired to the library to study. • Shall we retire to the parlor?

5 [no obj] literary : to go to bed • She retired for the night.

6 [no obj] formal : to move away from action or danger : RETREAT • The army was forced to retire from the battlefield.

7 [+ obj] baseball : to cause (a batter) to be out • The pitcher retired seven batters in a row. • She was retired on a fly ball to center field. • He struck out Jones to retire the side. [=to end the inning by getting the final out] retired adj : not working anymore : having ended your working or professional career • elderly retired people • She's a retired teacher.

re-tir-ee /rɪˈtaɪriː/ noun, pl -ees [count] US : someone who has permanently stopped working in a job or profession : a person who has retired • a group of elderly retirees

1 re-tire-ment /rɪˈtaɪəmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 a [count] : the act of ending your working or professional career : the act of retiring • She decided to take an early retirement. • Many fans were surprised by the champion's retirement. • The staff is smaller because of several retirements. b [noncount] : the state of being retired • I'm looking forward to retirement. • He is ready for retirement. • He came out of retirement to play baseball again.

2 : the period after you have permanently stopped your job or profession [noncount] She has remained very active during retirement. [singular] The staff all wished her a long and happy retirement.

3 [noncount] US : the age at which a person usually retires • She reaches retirement [(more commonly) retirement age] next May.

4 [noncount] US : money that you receive from a savings plan or pension once you retire from a job or profession • We can't live on his retirement alone.

2 retirement adj, always used before a noun : of, relating to, or designed for people who are retired • a retirement community [=a place for people who are retired] • retirement benefits/age retirement home noun, pl ~ homes [count] : a place where retired people can live and sometimes be taken care of retirement plan noun, pl ~ plans [count] US : a system for saving money for use during your retirement • My employer offers a good retirement plan.

retiring adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : quiet and shy • a shy, retiring young woman

2 — used to describe a person who will be retiring from a job or profession soon • A banquet was held to honor the retiring senator.

re-tool /riˈtuːl/ verb -tools; -tooled; -tooling

1 [+ obj] : to change or replace the tools or machines in (a factory, workshop, etc.) • The factory has been retooled.

2 US : to make changes to (something) in order to improve it [+ obj] The company is retooling its sales strategies. [no obj] The company is retooling for the future.

1 re-tort /rɪˈtɔrt/ verb -torts; -tort-ed; -tort-ing [+ obj] : to reply to something in a quick and often angry way • “That’s not true!” she retorted. • She retorted angrily that it wasn’t true.

2 retort noun, pl -torts [count] : a quick and often angry reply • He hurled a retort at his accuser. • She made a clever retort.

re-touch /riˈtʌʃ/ verb -touch-es; -touched; -touch-ing [+ obj] : to make small changes to (something, such as a photograph) in order to improve the way it looks • The photo had been retouched to remove the wrinkles around his eyes. • a retouched photograph

— retouching noun [noncount] • They did a lot of retouching to her picture.

re-trace /riˈtreɪs/ verb -trac-es; -traced; -trac-ing [+ obj]

1 : to go back along the same course, path, etc., that you or someone else has taken earlier • retrace a path/route • The crew will attempt to retrace the last voyage of Captain Cook.

• He carefully retraced his steps/footsteps back to the road.

2 : to find out about and describe (someone’s past movements or actions) • Her biographer carefully retraced her childhood. • The police are attempting to retrace his movements on the night of the robbery.

re-tract /rɪˈtrækt/ verb -tracts; -tract-ed; -tract-ing

1 : to pull (something) back into something larger that usually covers it [+ obj] A cat can retract its claws. • The pilot retracted the plane’s landing gear. [no obj] The plane’s landing gear failed to retract.

2 [+ obj] : to say that something you said or wrote is not true or correct • The newspaper retracted [=withdrew] the story. • She was forced to retract [=take back] her statement.

3 [+ obj] formal : to take back (something, such as an offer or promise) • Their college grants were retracted. • They retracted the job offer.

— re-tract-able /rɪˈtræktəbəl/ adj • the plane’s retractable landing gear • The stadium’s roof is retractable.

re-trac-tion /rɪˈtrækʃən/ noun, pl -tions formal

1 [count] : a statement saying that something you said or wrote at an earlier time is not true or correct • His charges were false, and he was forced to make/issue a retraction.

2 [noncount] : the act of moving something back into a larger part that usually covers it : the act of retracting something • the retraction of the plane’s landing gear

re-train /riˈtreɪn/ verb -trains; -trained; -train-ing

1 [+ obj] : to teach (someone) new skills : to train (someone) again • The organization retrains people who have lost their jobs.

2 [no obj] : to learn new skills especially for a different job • He is retraining for another job. • He retrained as a mechanic.

re-tread /ˈriːtred/ noun, pl -treads [count]

1 : an old tire whose surface has been given a new layer of rubber

2 US, informal + disapproving : something that uses ideas, stories, etc., that have been used before • The show is just another TV sitcom retread.

1 re-treat /rɪˈtri:t/ noun, pl -treats

1 : movement by soldiers away from an enemy because the enemy is winning or has won a battle [noncount] The forces are now in (full) retreat. [count] The army passed through the town on/during its retreat (from the battlefield). • He sounded/signaled the retreat. [=made the signal telling soldiers to begin a retreat]

2 [count, noncount] : movement away from a place or situation especially because it is dangerous, unpleasant, etc. • Some of her friends were surprised by her retreat from public life following her defeat in the election. • He made/beat a hasty retreat [=he left quickly] when he realized he had entered the wrong office.

3 [count] : the act of changing your opinion or position on something because it is unpopular — usually singular • The mayor was forced to make a retreat from his earlier position.

4 : the act or process of moving away [count] — usually singular • Scientists continue to measure the slow retreat of the glacier. • the retreat of the floodwaters [noncount] Studies show the glaciers are in retreat. — sometimes used figuratively • Her political influence has been in retreat since the scandal.

5 a [count] : a place that is quiet and private • She went to her mountain retreat for a quiet weekend. • an idyllic/island/isolated retreat b : a trip to a place where you can quietly pray, think, study, etc. [count] We went on a corporate/spiritual retreat. • The church offers retreats several times a year. [noncount] She went on retreat for several weeks last year.

2 retreat verb -treats; -treat-ed; -treat-ing [no obj]

1 : to move back to get away from danger, attack, etc. • When the enemy attacked, our troops were forced to retreat. • They retreated behind trees for safety.

2 : to move or go away from a place or situation especially because it is dangerous, unpleasant, etc. • He quickly retreated from the room. • After her defeat, she retreated from politics.

3 : to change your opinion or statement about something because it is unpopular — usually + from • The mayor was forced to retreat from his original position.

4 : to move backward • As the temperatures warm, the glaciers begin to retreat. • The floodwaters are retreating.

5 : to go to a place that is quiet and private • They retreated into the next room to talk privately.

re-trench /rɪˈtrɛntʃ/ verb -trench-es; -trenched;

-trench·ing [no obj] formal : to change the way things are done in order to spend less money • When the economy slowed, the company was forced to retrench.

– re·trench·ment /rɪ'trentʃmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount] • The company is going through a (period of) retrenchment.

re·tri·al /rɪ'traɪəl/ noun, pl -als : a second trial in a court of law in order to make a new judgment on a case that has been judged before [noncount] His case is coming up for retrial. [count] a series of retrials ret·ri·bu·tion /,retə'bjʊ:ʃən/ noun [noncount] formal : punishment for doing something wrong • The killer acted without fear of retribution. • divine retribution [=punishment by God] — often + for • They are seeking retribution for the killings.

– re·trib·u·tive /rɪ'trɪbjʊtɪv/ adj • retributive justice

re·triev·al /rɪ'tri:vəl/ noun [noncount] : the act or process of getting and bringing back something : the act or process of retrieving something • the retrieval of stolen goods • property retrieval • The system allows quick storage and retrieval of data.

beyond retrieval 1 : not able to be brought back • The satellite is beyond retrieval. • The old data is now beyond retrieval. 2 : not able to be corrected, cured, etc. • The patient may be beyond retrieval. [=the patient may die; the patient may not be able to be saved] • The situation is beyond retrieval.

re·trieve /rɪ'tri:v/ verb -trieves; -trieved; -triev·ing

1 [+ obj] a : to get and bring (something) back from a place • Many archaeological relics were retrieved from the site. • Police retrieved his stolen car. b : to find and get (information) from a computer or disk • You can quickly retrieve data/information. • The files were retrieved from the computer. • He was able to retrieve the document.

2 : to find and bring birds or animals that have been shot back to a hunter [no obj] The dog is learning how to retrieve. [+ obj] The dog has been trained to retrieve birds.

3 [+ obj] formal : to keep (something) from failing or becoming worse • They were able to retrieve [=save] the situation. • Can their relationship be retrieved? [=salvaged]

– re·triev·able /rɪ'tri:vəbəl/ adj • The data should be retrievable.

re·triev·er /rɪ'tri:və/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a dog that is used for retrieving birds or animals that have been shot by a hunter — see also GOLDEN RETRIEVER, LABRADOR RETRIEVER ret·ro /'retrou/ adj [more ~; most ~] : looking like or relating to styles or fashions from the past • the retro look in fashion • retro music

– retro noun [noncount] • Retro is in.

retro- prefix : backward : back • retrograde ret·ro·ac·tive /,retrou'æktɪv/ adj, formal : effective from a particular date in the past • They all received a retroactive pay raise. • The new tax will be retroactive to January 1.

– ret·ro·ac·tive·ly adv • The new law will be applied retroactively.

ret·ro·fit /,retrou'fɪt/ verb -fits; -fit·ted; -fit·ting [+ obj] : to provide (something) with new parts that were not available when it was originally built • The factory has been retrofitted to meet the new safety regulations. • We can retrofit your car with the new fuel system.

ret·ro·grade /'retəgreɪd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 formal : returning to an earlier and usually worse state or condition • a retrograde policy that would leave more people poorer than they are now

2 technical : moving backward • retrograde motion ret·ro·gres·sive /,retə'gresɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : causing a return to an earlier and usually worse state • retrogressive [= (more commonly) regressive] government policies

ret·ro·spect /'retəspekt/ noun

in retrospect : when thinking about the past or something that happened in the past • In retrospect, I made the right decision. • What is interesting in retrospect is how wrong our assumptions were.

ret·ro·spec·tion /,retə'spekʃən/ noun [noncount] formal : the act of thinking about the past or something that happened in the past • This is a time of retrospection for many people.

1 ret·ro·spec·tive /,retə'spektɪv/ adj

1 : of or relating to the past or something that happened in the past • They issued a retrospective report. • a retrospective analysis of what went wrong • The museum is having a retrospective exhibit of the artist's early works.

2 : effective from a particular date in the past • retrospective [= (more commonly) retroactive] laws

– ret·ro·spec·tive·ly adv • Their actions could only be understood retrospectively. • The new law will be applied retrospectively.

2 retrospective noun, pl -tives [count] : an exhibition of work that an artist has done in the past • The museum is featuring a retrospective of Picasso's early works.

re·try /rɪ'traɪ/ verb -tries; -tried; -try·ing [+ obj]

1 : to try (something) again • He retried (entering) the password.

2 : to judge (a court case) for a second time • The judge will retry the case. • The case will be retried.

1 re·turn /rɪ'tən/ verb -turns; -turned; -turn·ing

1 [no obj] : to come or go to a place again : to come back or go back again • We waited for you to return. • She is returning home tomorrow. • I'm leaving but will return at 2 p.m. • She left home never to return. [=she never went home again] — often + from or to • No one was home when I returned from work. • He returned from his trip last night. • I returned to Paris 10 years later. • The bird returns to this area each spring. • He returned to find the house empty. [=he returned and found that the house was empty] — see also RETURN TO (below)

2 [+ obj] a : to bring, give, send, or take (something) to the place that it came from or the place where it should go • I have to return a book to the library. • I'm returning your ladder. Thanks for letting me borrow it. • Return [=bring] this application to me when you have filled it out. • Please fill out the application and return [=send] it to the address below. • She returned the gun to its holster. [=she put the gun in its holster] b : to bring or send (something that you bought) to the place that it came from because it does not work or fit properly, because it is damaged, etc. • The dishes were broken when they were delivered, so I had to return them. • I had to return the shirt and get a bigger size. c : to bring (empty bottles or cans) to a place that collects them so that they can be used again • I'm going to return these bottles and cans (for recycling).

3 [no obj] : to happen or exist again • The pain returned [=re-occurred, came back] about two hours after I took the pill. • His jealousy returned when he saw his ex-wife with her new husband. • Hope has returned to the city. [=the city's people are hopeful again]

4 [+ obj] : to respond to (something) in the same way • He smiled at her, and she returned the smile. [=she smiled at him] • When I told her that she looked beautiful, she returned [=repaid] the compliment by saying that I looked very handsome. • He never returned my phone calls. [=he did not call me back] • Thanks for helping me. I'll be sure to return the favor. [=I will help you when you need help] • When the suspect started shooting, the police were forced to return fire. [=to shoot back at the suspect]

5 [+ obj] formal : to make an official report of (a decision or order) • The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

6 [+ obj] tennis : to hit back (a ball that was hit to you) • He returned her serve. • Her serve is difficult to return.

7 [+ obj] American football : to run with the ball after getting it because of a kick, fumble, etc. • He returned the ball/kick 50 yards.

8 [+ obj] Brit : to elect (someone) to office — usually used as (be) returned • He was returned to Parliament. — often + as • She was returned as prime minister.

9 [+ obj] finance : to produce or earn (something, such as a profit or loss) • The investment returned a huge profit. • bonds that return [=yield] five percent annually return to [phrasal verb] return to (something) 1 : to go to (a place where you work, study, etc.) again after being away for a time • When do you return to school? • She hopes to return to the office next week. — see also ¹RETURN 1 (above) 2 : to start doing or using (something) again especially after a long time • She hopes to return to work [=to start working again] next week. • She hopes to return to working at home next week. • He returned to the old ways of farming. 3 : to start an activity again that relates to (something) • He returned to his book [=he started reading his book again] after feeding the cat. • Let's return to your first question. [=let's discuss the first question you asked earlier] • He returned to football not as a player but as a coach. 4 : to change back to (an earlier or original condition or state) • She soon returned [=reverted] to her old habits. • His breathing returned to normal. [=his breathing became normal again]

2 return noun, pl -turns

1 [singular] : the act of coming or going back to the place you started from or to a place where you were before • We are looking forward to your return. • We're looking forward to our return to Europe. • What is the date of her return from Mexico? [=when is she coming back from Mexico?] • Upon/on his return [=less formally] when he returned; when he came back], he found a note taped to the door. • The bad weather delayed his return home. [=his return to his home] • I stopped by your house on my return home. [=on my way home] • She became sick on her return from America. [=she became sick at the time she returned from America]

2 [singular] : the act of going back to an activity, job, situation, etc. : the act of starting to do something again after stopping • The team looked forward to his return to coaching. • a return to the old ways of farming • He managed the team last year, so his return as a player [=his return to the team as a player and not as a manager] was a surprise.

3 [singular] a : the fact that something (such as a condition, feeling, or situation) happens again — + of • the return of peace to the region • Scientists noticed a return [=recurrence] of the disease in the monkeys. • She noticed a return of his old habits. • the return of spring b : the fact that someone or something changes to a condition or state that existed before • the department's return to normal • The people celebrated their leader's return to power.

4 [singular] : the act of taking someone or something back to the proper place — + of • The police arranged for the return of the stolen goods. [=for the goods to be taken to the place they were stolen from] • The mother demanded a safe return of her child. [=demanded that her child would be brought back to her and not be hurt]

5 a [count] : something that is brought or sent back to a store or business because it does not work or fit properly, is damaged, is not needed, etc. • The store does not accept returns more than 30 days after purchase. b returns [plural] chiefly US : empty cans or bottles that are brought back to a store so that they can be used again

6 finance : the profit from an investment or business [count] Investors are promised a return. • The company had poor returns last year. — often + on • He received a large return on his investment. [=he made a lot of money on his investment] [noncount] The stock has had a high rate of return. — sometimes used figuratively • Her son's success in college was an excellent return on her investment. • She expected some return from the company for all her years of loyal service.

7 returns [plural] : a report of the results of voting • election returns

8 [count] : a report that you send to the government about the money that you have earned and the taxes that you have paid in one year • He has copies of his returns for the last 15 years. • We filed our (income) tax return. [=we sent our tax return to the government] • He filed his 2007 tax return in February of 2008.

9 [count] sports : the act of returning a ball • (tennis) She hit a powerful return. [=she hit back the ball that was served to her very hard] • (American football) a 50-yard kickoff/punt/fumble return [=a 50-yard run with the ball after getting it on a kickoff/punt/fumble]

10 [count] Brit : a ticket for a trip that takes you to a place and back to the place you started from : a round-trip ticket • One return is often less expensive than buying two one-way tickets. • a day return [=a reduced-price ticket for traveling to a place and back on the same day]

by return or by return of post Brit : immediately by mail • I replied by return of post. • I wrote you by return.

happy returns old fashioned — used for wishing someone a happy birthday and to express the hope that he or she will live to celebrate many more birthdays in the future • They wished me (many) happy returns.

in return : in payment or exchange • He helps out and expects nothing in return. • He will not help unless he gets something in return. • The prisoner told the police who had ordered the killing. In return, his sentence was reduced by two years. — often + for • I will lend you the money in return for a favor. • He worked in return for a free meal.

— see also POINT OF NO RETURN

3 return adj, always used before a noun

1 : used in or taken for returning to a place • a return flight/trip • the return road • a return envelope [=an envelope that has an address on it and that you can use to mail something back to the person who sent it to you]

2 : happening or done for the second time • a return visit

3 chiefly Brit : used or paying for a trip that takes you to a place and back to the place you started from • a return [=US round-trip] ticket/fare

re-turn-able /rɪ'tənəbəl/ adj

1 : allowed to be exchanged for a small amount of money at a place that collects empty bottles and cans so that they can be used again • returnable bottles/cans

2 : allowed to be returned • Sale items are not returnable.

return address noun, pl ~-dress-es [count] : an address on an envelope or package that shows where the envelope or package should be returned to if it cannot be delivered — see picture at MAIL re-turn-ee /rɪ,tə'ni:/ noun, pl -ees [count] : someone who returns to a place or activity; especially : someone who returns to a country after being in another country in prison, in military service, etc.

re-turn-er /rɪ'tənə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 Brit : someone who goes back to work after not working for a long period of time

2 American football : a player who returns a punt or kickoff • a punt returner return game noun, pl ~ games [count] : a second game played between the same players or teams — called also (chiefly Brit) return match

returning officer noun, pl ~-cers [count] Brit : an official who organizes an election and announces the result return mail noun [noncount] US : mail that answers or responds to something • We received a lot of return mail after the announcement. • Fill out the enclosed form and send it back by return mail. [=US by return of post] [=immediately; as soon as possible]

Reu-ben /'ru:bən/ noun, pl -bens [count] US : a grilled sandwich that is made from a kind of sliced beef (called corned beef), cheese, and prepared sour cabbage (called sauerkraut)

re-uni-fy /rɪ'ju:nə'faɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing : to make (something, such as a divided country) whole again : to unify (something) again [+ obj] Our goal is to reunify [=reunite] this family by returning the children to their parents. — often used as (be) reunified • East and West Germany were reunified in 1990. [no obj] Germany reunified in 1990.

— re-uni-fi-ca-tion /rɪ,ju:nə'fɪ'keɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the reunification of Germany — reunified adj, always used before a noun • a reunified Germany

re-union /rɪ'ju:njən/ noun, pl -unions [count]

1 : an act of getting people together again after they have been apart : an act of reuniting • an emotional reunion between mother and son • He dreamed of a reunion with his son.

2 : an organized gathering of people who have not been together for a long time • We attended a family reunion. [=a usually large gathering for family members] • (US) a high school reunion [=a reunion of people who studied at a high school at the same time] • (US) Are you going to our 20th class reunion? [=a reunion of the people who graduated with us 20 years ago]

re-unite /rɪ'ju:'naɪt/ verb -unites; -unit-ed; -unit-ing

1 [+ obj] : to bring (people or things) together again especially after they have been apart for a long time • The police reunited the woman and her son. • We need a candidate who can reunite the party. — often + with • The police reunited her with her son. — often used as (be) reunited • She was reunited with her son.

2 [no obj] : to be together again after being apart for a long time • The band reunited for a special concert.

re-up /rɪ'ʌp/ verb -ups; -upped; -up-ping US, informal

1 [no obj] : to officially agree to stay in the military, on a team, with a company, etc., for an additional period of time • When war broke out last year, many soldiers re-upped. • The team's top scorer has re-upped for another three years.

2 [+ obj] : to officially agree or persuade someone to officially agree that an existing arrangement will continue for an additional period of time • Now I have to decide if I should re-up [=renew] my lease/contract. • The team wants to re-up their star player for another two years.

re-use /rɪ'ju:z/ verb -us-es; -used; -us-ing [+ obj] : to use (something) again • I can reuse that container.

— re-use /rɪ'ju:s/ noun [noncount] • the reuse of packing materials as insulation • The motor oil has been processed for reuse. — re-us-able /rɪ'ju:zəbəl/ adj • reusable containers

¹rev /'rev/ verb revs; revved; rev-ving [+ obj] : to cause (an engine) to run more quickly : to increase the revolutions per minute of (a motor in a vehicle) • She sat in the car and revved the engine [=she pressed the car's accelerator when the engine was on but the car was not in gear] while she waited for us. — often + up • He revved up the motorcycle by making adjustments to its engine.

rev up [phrasal verb] informal 1 : to become more active • The campaign is revving up. 2 rev (someone or something) up or rev up (someone or something) : to make (someone or something) more active or effective • Big business spending is revving up the economy. • The company is getting revved up for the launch of its new product line. — see also REVVED UP

²rev noun, pl revs [count] informal : a complete turn of an engine part : REVOLUTION — usually plural • a motor with a speed of 5,000 revs per minute

Rev. (US) or Brit Rev or Brit Revd abbr reverend • Rev. Antonio Weiss • the Revd Peter Smith

re-val-ue /ri'vælju/ verb -ues; -ued; -u-ing

1 finance : to change the value of a country's money so that it is worth less or more when it is traded for another country's money [+ obj] Three of the nations are expected to re-value their currencies soon. [no obj] Most analysts predict that the country will revalue before the end of the year.

2 [+ obj] : to make a new judgment about the value of (something, such as a house or an investment) • Under state law, the town is required to revalue [=reassess] residential properties every five years.

— re-val-u-a-tion /ri,væljə'weɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

re-vamp /ri'væmp/ verb -vamps; -vamped; -vamp-ing [+ obj] : to make (something) better or like new again • The company has revamped the design of its best-selling car. • They are revamping [=renovating] the old house.

— revamp or revamping noun, pl -vamps or -vampings [count] — usually singular • They gave the car's design a revamp. • a complete revamping [=reorganization] of our department

re-veal /ri'vi:l/ verb -veals; -vealed; -veal-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to make (something) known • She would not reveal the secret. • The test revealed the true cause of death. • It was revealed that they stole over $1 million. • They revealed the plans for the new building. — opposite CONCEAL b : to show or prove that (someone) is a particular type of person — often + to be • The book reveals him to be an expert at chess. • She revealed herself to be a talented pianist. — often + as • She revealed the reporter as a liar.

2 : to show (something) plainly or clearly : to make (something that was hidden) able to be seen • The expression on his face revealed how he felt. • The curtain was lifted to reveal the grand prize. • Pulling up the carpeting revealed the home's beautiful hardwood floors. — opposite CONCEAL

re-veal-ing /ri'vi:lɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : giving information about something that was not known before • The book is a revealing account of being part of a gang. • Her comments about her childhood were revealing.

2 : showing parts of the body that are usually hidden from view • She wore a very revealing shirt. • That skirt is much too revealing.

— re-veal-ing-ly adv • The actor talked revealingly about his life.

rev-eil-le /'revəli, Brit ri'væli/ noun [noncount] military : a signal given on a musical instrument (such as a bugle or drum) in the early morning to call soldiers or sailors to duty • He awoke at reveille.

¹rev-el /'revəl/ verb rev-els; US rev-eled or Brit rev-elled; US rev-el-ing or Brit rev-el-ling revel in [phrasal verb] revel in (something) : to enjoy (something) very much • She reveled in her success. • He reveled in other people's misfortune.

²revel noun, pl -els [count] literary + old-fashioned : a noisy and wild celebration — usually plural • holiday revels

rev-e-la-tion /'revə'leɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a usually secret or surprising fact that is made known • The book includes many shocking/startling revelations about the mayor's personal life. • damaging personal revelations • The revelation that she was a drug user was not a surprise to me.

2 [count] : an act of making something known : an act of revealing something in usually a surprising way • Revelations by the newspaper caused a scandal. — often + of • His outburst was a revelation of his true character. • The revelation of her gambling problem followed her bankruptcy.

3 [singular] : something that surprises you • Her talent came as a revelation. [=was completely unexpected] — often + to • The movie was a revelation to me. I didn't know he was such a good actor.

4 : a sign or message from God [count] a divine revelation [noncount] a prophecy made known by revelation

re-ve-la-to-ry /'revələ'tori, Brit 'revə'leɪtri/ adj, formal : making something known : revealing something in usually a surprising way • a revelatory experience/biography

rev-el-er (US) or Brit rev-el-ler /'revələ/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who is celebrating with other people in usually a wild and noisy way : a person who is taking part in revelry • The streets were crowded with revellers on New Years Eve.

rev-el-ry /'revəlri/ noun, pl -ries : a wild and noisy celebration [count] a drunken revelry [noncount] a night of revelry

¹re-venge /rɪ'vendʒ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act of doing something to hurt someone because that person did something that hurt you • an act of revenge • She swore that she would have her revenge. • She wants revenge against her enemies. • He got his revenge. • revenge attacks/killings • He swore to take (his) revenge on his enemies. [=to harm his enemies] • He is seeking revenge for his father's murder. [=he wants to harm the person who killed his father] • The bombing was in revenge for the assassination of their leader.

2 : the act of defeating an opponent who has defeated you in the past • The team is seeking revenge for the loss earlier in the season.

— re-venge-ful /rɪ'vendʒfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

²revenge verb -veng-es; -venged; -veng-ing

revenge yourself on formal : to do something to hurt (someone who has hurt you) : to take revenge on (someone) • She vowed to revenge herself on her father's killer.

rev-e-nue /'revənu:, Brit 'revənju:/ noun, pl -nues finance

1 : money that is made by or paid to a business or an organization [noncount] The factory lost revenue because of the strike by the workers. • The company receives millions of dollars in advertising revenue. [=money paid by advertisers] • The firm is looking for another source of revenue. [plural] advertising and sales revenues

2 : money that is collected for public use by a government through taxes [noncount] Government officials have reported a decrease in revenue. [plural] state and federal tax revenues — see also INLAND REVENUE, INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

re-ver-ber-ate /rɪ'vəbə'reɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [no obj] somewhat formal

1 : to continue in a series of quickly repeated sounds that bounce off a surface (such as a wall) • Her voice reverberated [=echoed] throughout the stadium. — often used figuratively • The effects of that event still reverberate today.

2 : to become filled with a sound • The room reverberated [=echoed, rang] with laughter.

re-ver-ber-a-tion /rɪ,vəbə'reɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 somewhat formal : a sound that echoes [count] the reverberations of her voice [noncount] Although the room was very big, her voice could be heard with little reverberation.

2 [count] : an effect or result that is not wanted — usually plural • The reverberations [=repercussions] of his actions will be felt for years to come. • economic/political reverberations re-vere /rɪ'viə/ verb -veres; -vered; -ver-ing [+ obj] formal : to have great respect for (someone or something) : to show devotion and honor to (someone or something) • The family reveres old traditions. — often + as • The town reveres him as a hero. — often used as (be) revered • He is revered as a hero. • Her poems are revered by other poets.

rev-er-ence /'revərəns/ noun, formal : honor or respect that is felt for or shown to (someone or something) [noncount] Her poems are treated with reverence by other poets. — often + for • a feeling of reverence for tradition [singular] Their religion has/shows a deep reverence for nature.

rev-er-end /'revərənd/ noun, pl -ends [count] : a priest or minister in the Christian church

Reverend adj, always used before a noun — used as a title for a priest or minister in the Christian church • We welcome Reverend John Smith as our guest. — often used after the • the Reverend Mr. Smith • the Reverend John Smith — abbr. Rev. or (Brit) Revd

Reverend Mother noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a woman who is the head of a convent : MOTHER SUPERIOR • I will ask the Reverend Mother what to do. — often used as a form of address • Good morning, Reverend Mother.

rev·er·ent /ˈrɛvərənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : showing a lot of respect : very respectful • a reverent crowd of worshippers • a reverent tone of voice — opposite IRREVERENT

— rev·er·ent·ly adv • They all spoke of her reverently.

rev·er·en·tial /ˌrɛvəˈrɛnʃəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : showing or having a lot of respect : REVERENT • a reverential attitude

— rev·er·en·tial·ly adv

rev·er·ie /ˈrɛvəri/ noun, pl -er·ies formal + literary : a state in which you are thinking about pleasant things [count] I drifted into a reverie. [=daydream] [noncount] He was lost in reverie. [=he was daydreaming] re·ver·sal /rɪˈvɜːsəl/ noun, pl -sals : a change to an opposite state, condition, decision, etc. [count] In a sudden reversal, the mayor has decided not to run for reelection. • the reversal of a decision/position/policy • a surprising/sudden reversal in the value of the stock • We had a role reversal. I became the leader and he became the follower. • In a reversal of roles, he is now taking care of his mother. [noncount] Reversal of the decision is unlikely. ♦ Reversal often means a change to a worse state or condition. • He suffered a financial reversal. • The company had a complete reversal of fortune and went bankrupt.

1 re·verse /rɪˈvɜːs/ verb -vers·es; -versed; -vers·ing

1 [+ obj] : to change (something) to an opposite state or condition. • Our roles as caregiver and patient have been reversed. [=switched] • The runners reversed their direction on the track. • The Supreme Court reversed [=overturned] the decision. • The college is trying to reverse the decline in applicants. [=the college is trying to get more people to apply] • Had our situations been reversed [=if I had been in the situation that you were in], I would have done things differently.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (something, such as a process) to stop or return to an earlier state • We cannot reverse [=undo] the damage that is already done. • The medicine may reverse the course of this disease. [=the medicine may stop this disease from getting worse] • There is no way to reverse the aging process. • The operation cannot be reversed. [=undone] • Can anything reverse the trend toward higher prices?

3 [+ obj] a : to change the order or position of (two things or a series) • Reverse the “i” and “e” in “recieve” to spell “receive” correctly. • My mother and I reversed our roles. Now I’m taking care of her. • We’re going to reverse our usual order and start with Z. b : to switch the positions of the top and bottom or the front and back of (something) • You need to reverse the paper [=to turn the paper around] in the printer so that the letterhead is up. • Reverse that painting [=turn that painting over] so that I can see the back.

4 chiefly Brit : to drive (a vehicle) backward [+ obj] Reverse [= (US) back, back up] the car into/out of the parking space. [no obj] Reverse [= (US) back, back up] into/out of the parking space. • The car reversed. [= (US) backed up] reverse the charges or reverse the charge Brit : to arrange to have the cost of a phone call paid by the person who is called • He telephoned and reversed the charges. [= (US) he called collect] reverse yourself US, formal : to change your decision or opinion about something • The mayor has reversed himself on the issue of raising taxes.

2 reverse noun, pl -verses

1 the reverse : something that is opposite to something else • The river flows south to north, rather than the reverse. [=north to south] • Women may play in the men’s league, but not the reverse. [=but men cannot play in the women’s league] • I thought she would like the movie, but actually the reverse was true. [=she didn’t like the movie] • You don’t owe me any money. If anything, the reverse is true. [=I owe you money] • “Did you think it would be difficult?” “Quite the reverse. [=quite the contrary] I thought it would be easy.” — often + of • The ending of the book was the reverse of what I expected.

2 the reverse : the back side of a coin, document, etc. • The building appears on the reverse of the coin. • Please sign your name on the reverse.

3 [noncount] : REVERSE GEAR • I put the car in/into reverse and backed out of the garage. — sometimes used figuratively • The economy seems to be stuck in reverse. [=the economy is continuing to get worse]

4 [count] formal : a change that makes something worse • The loss of their support was a serious reverse for the project. — usually plural • The company has had some financial reverses. [=setbacks]

5 [count] American football : a play in which one player gives the ball to another player who is moving in the opposite direction in reverse 1 a : in an order in which the last part is first and the first part is last : BACKWARD • In her latest film, the story is told in reverse. We see the main character as an adult in the beginning and as a child at the end. • The winners were called in reverse from last place to first place. b : in a way that is opposite to what is normal or to what happened earlier • Ten years ago, American tourists flocked to Europe. But now that the dollar is weak, we have the same situation in reverse. Europeans are coming to the U.S. in record numbers. 2 : toward an opposite or worse state or condition • The talks between the labor union and workers seem to be moving in reverse.

into reverse : into an opposite state or condition • The decrease in profit has been put into reverse. • The economy has gone into reverse. [=has gotten worse]

3 reverse adj, always used before a noun

1 : opposite to what is usual or stated • Can you say the alphabet in reverse order? • The wheel will not turn in the reverse [=other] direction. • The drug is used to lower blood pressure but may have the reverse effect in some patients.

2 : opposite to the front • Please sign your name on the reverse [=back] side.

reverse-charge adj, Brit : ²COLLECT • a reverse-charge phone call reverse discrimination noun [noncount] : the practice of making it more difficult for a certain type of person (such as a white man) to get a job, to go to a school, etc., because other people who were treated unfairly in the past are now being given an advantage • He claimed that reverse discrimination was to blame for his unemployment.

reverse engineer verb ~ -neers; ~ -neered; ~ -neering [+ obj] technical : to study the parts of (something) to see how it was made and how it works so that you can make something that is like it • They reverse engineered the software.

— reverse engineering noun [noncount]

reverse gear noun, pl ~ gears : a part (called a gear) that makes a motor move a vehicle in a backward direction [noncount] Put the car in/into reverse gear. — sometimes used figuratively • The economy seems to be stuck in reverse gear. [=the economy seems to be getting worse] [count] — usually singular • The tractor does not have a reverse gear.

reverse mortgage noun, pl ~ -gages [count] chiefly US, finance : a legal agreement in which a bank pays you an amount of money equal to the part of your home’s value that you actually own, and you agree that when you sell your home or when you move or die, that amount of money plus interest will be paid to the bank reverse psychology noun [noncount] : a method of getting someone to do what you want by pretending not to want it or by pretending to want something else

re·vers·ible /rɪˈvɜːsəbəl/ adj

1 a : able to be changed back to an earlier or original state • a reversible chemical reaction b : able to be stopped and not causing permanent damage or changes • Some diseases are reversible. • Fortunately, the damage is reversible. — opposite IRREVERSIBLE

2 a : having two sides that can be used • reversible fabrics • The rug is reversible. b : able to be worn with either side facing outward • This coat is reversible.

— re·vers·ibil·i·ty /rɪˈvɜːsəˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount]

re·ver·sion /rɪˈvɜːʒən, Brit rɪˈvɜːʃən/ noun, pl -sions

1 technical + formal : an act or process of returning to an earlier condition or state — usually + to [count] — usually singular • a reversion to a primitive state • a reversion to old customs/habits [noncount] His photos document the land’s reversion to swamp.

2 [count, noncount] law : the returning of property to a former owner or to a person who received the right to it when the former owner died • the reversion of the estate

re·vert /rɪˈvɜːt/ verb -verts; -vert·ed; -vert·ing revert to [phrasal verb] revert to (something) 1 : to go back or return to (an earlier state, condition, situation, etc.) • She has reverted (back) to her old habits. • My blood pressure has reverted to normal. [=has returned to normal; has become normal again] • After playing badly in the last two games, he seems to have reverted to form. [=he is now playing as well as he usually does] • (chiefly Brit) After this one atypical comedy, will he revert to type [=will he do what he usually does] in his next film? 2 revert to (someone or something) law, of property : to be given to (a former owner or a former owner's heir) • The estate reverted to a distant cousin.

¹re-view /rɪ'vjuː/ noun, pl -views

1 : an act of carefully looking at or examining the quality or condition of something or someone : examination or inspection [count] Changes to the building had to be made after the review by the safety inspectors. — often + of • a review of the case • a review of their research/evidence • a review of the policy/rules/regulations • I was disappointed with my salary/pay review. [=a review of an employee's work and performance by an employer to decide by how much his or her pay or salary should be increased] [noncount] After hours of review, the committee made its decision. • a review board/committee • The medical records were sent to the doctor for review. • The grant application is up for review. [=the application for the grant will be looked at] • The book/policy/ruling is under review. [=is being reviewed] • (formal) On review of [=after reviewing] the evidence, the jury finds the defendant guilty. • Upon further review of your situation [=after spending more time looking at and thinking about your situation], we have decided to grant your request. • The decision is subject to review by a higher authority. [=the decision might be studied and then changed by someone who has more power] — see also PEER REVIEW

2 a : a report that gives someone's opinion about the quality of a book, performance, product, etc. [count] I read the book/film reviews in the newspaper. • Reviews of the play were good. [=the people who wrote the reviews liked the play] • Critics gave the new album mixed reviews. [=some critics liked the album, while other critics did not] • a favorable review • The movie received rave reviews. [=reviews that say it is excellent] [noncount] Copies of the book were sent to critics for review. = Review copies of the book were sent to critics. [=copies of the book were sent to critics so that they could read it and then write reviews about it] • The educational software was sent to teachers for review. b [count] : a magazine filled mostly with reviews and articles that describe the writer's thoughts or opinions about a subject — often used in titles • He wrote an article for The Annual Review of Biology. • The Western New England Law Review

3 [count] : a class, a book, an article, etc., that studies or describes something (such as events from a particular time) : SURVEY — usually + of • a review of 19th-century American art • a review of the year's major events • The seminar is a review of the writer's career.

4 US : the act of studying information that was studied before [count] The teacher allowed one more review of our notes before the test. [noncount] I haven't done enough review [=(Brit) revision] for the exam.

5 [count] military : a formal inspection by officers of high rank or by an important person • a review of the cadets

Do not confuse review with revue.

²review verb -views; -viewed; -view-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to look at or examine (something) carefully especially before making a decision or judgment • Scientists are reviewing the results of the study. • I need time to review the situation. • The ruling will be reviewed by the Supreme Court. • The committee reviewed the applications/regulations. • The television show will review last year's major events. b US : to study or look at (something) again [+ obj] She reviewed her notes for the speech. • Please review [=go over, check] your answers before handing in your test. • I need to review [=(Brit) revise] chemistry. [no obj] Students were given time to review [=(Brit) revise] for the test. c [+ obj] : to describe or show (a series of things or events from the past) • The television show will review last year's major events. • The biography reviewed her accomplishments.

2 [+ obj] : to report on or judge the quality of a book, show, product, etc. • Critics have not yet reviewed the movie/play. • The book/album/car was reviewed in this magazine.

3 [+ obj] military : to make an official inspection of (someone or something) • The President reviewed the troops.

— re-view-er /rɪ'vjuːwə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • the newspaper's movie/book reviewer

re-vile /rɪ'vajəl/ verb -viles; -viled; -vil-ing [+ obj] formal : to speak about (someone or something) in a very critical or insulting way • Many people reviled him for his callous behavior. — usually used as (be) reviled • The committee's decision was reviled by reporters. • The policy was reviled as racist. [=people said that the policy was racist]

re-vise /rɪ'vaɪz/ verb -vis-es; -vised; -vis-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make changes especially to correct or improve (something) • Please revise this essay. • We have to revise our plans because of the delays. • I would like to revise my estimate. • You need to buy the revised [=corrected and updated] edition of the textbook.

2 Brit : to study (something) again [+ obj] She revised [=(US) reviewed] chemistry. [no obj] I need to revise [=(US) review] for the exam.

re-vi-sion /rɪ'vɪʒən/ noun, pl -sions

1 : a change or a set of changes that corrects or improves something [count] This edition is filled with revisions. • A revision of the theory will be necessary. • They made revisions to the book. [noncount] The essay needs revision. • The teacher gave me some suggestions for revision.

2 [count] : a new version of something : something (such as a piece of writing or a song) that has been corrected or changed • This is the original version, not the revision. • Here is my revision of the paragraph.

3 [noncount] Brit : study of information that was studied before • Have you done enough revision [=(US) review] for the exam?

re-vi-sion-ism /rɪ'vɪʒənɪzəm/ noun [noncount] formal + often disapproving : support of ideas and beliefs that differ from and try to change accepted ideas and beliefs especially in a way that is seen as wrong or dishonest • She rejects the author's historical revisionism. [=the author's new interpretation of history]

— re-vi-sion-ist /rɪ'vɪʒənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] — revisionist adj • a revisionist argument/view

re-vis-it /rɪ'vɪzət/ verb -its; -it-ed; -it-ing [+ obj]

1 : to go to (a place) again especially after a long period of time • He revisited his old house. • The police revisited the crime scene.

2 : to think about or look at (something) again • The police revisited the case of the unsolved murder. • The book/idea is worth revisiting. • The judge said that he will revisit [=reconsider] his decision.

re-vi-tal-ize also Brit re-vi-tal-ise /rɪ'vaɪtəlaɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) active, healthy, or energetic again • The mayor hopes to revitalize the city. • This shampoo revitalized my hair. [=made my hair look healthy] • The drink revitalized me. [=made me feel full of energy]

— re-vi-tal-i-za-tion also Brit re-vi-tal-i-sa-tion /rɪ'vaɪtələ'zeɪʃən, Brit rɪ'vaɪtə'laɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] economic revitalization • revitalization efforts/plans [singular] a revitalization of the city

re-viv-al /rɪ'vaɪvəl/ noun, pl -als

1 [count] : a period in which something becomes popular again after a long period of time • a jazz revival • a revival of biographical writing • a revival in Gothic architecture • Fashions from the 1970s are enjoying a revival.

2 : the growth of something or an increase in the activity of something after a long period of no growth or activity [count] — usually singular • After four slow years, our business is seeing a revival. • the recent revival of interest in mythology [noncount] The city is showing signs of revival.

3 [count] : the showing of a play, a movie, etc., to the public usually many years after it was last shown : a new production of an old show • There are three musical revivals on Broadway this season. • The opera company is staging a revival of Verdi's Don Carlos.

4 [count] US, religion : REVIVAL MEETING

re-viv-al-ist /rɪ'vaɪvəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]

1 religion : someone who organizes and leads a revival meeting

2 formal : someone who uses or practices something that was popular in the past • a musical revivalist

— re-viv-al-ism /rɪ'vaɪvəlɪzəm/ noun [noncount] • religious revivalism — revivalist adj, always used before a noun • a revivalist preacher/movement revival meeting noun, pl ~ -ings [count] : a meeting or series of meetings led by a preacher to make people interested in a Christian religion — called also (US) revival

re-vive /rɪ'vaɪv/ verb -vives; -vived; -viv-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) strong, healthy, or active again • The doctors were trying to revive the patient. [=to make the unconscious patient conscious again] • Visiting my old house has revived [=brought back] childhood memories. • The water revived [=refreshed] the flowers. • The success of the movie has revived her career. • The government is trying to revive the economy. • Our spirits were revived by his enthusiasm. b [no obj] : to become strong, healthy, or active again • The store's business is beginning to revive.

2 [+ obj] : to bring (something) back into use or popularity • The family is trying to revive an old custom.

3 [+ obj] : to arrange to have (an old play, opera, etc.) performed in front of an audience • He has decided to revive Molière's Tartuffe.

re·viv·i·fy /rɪˈvɪvəˌfaɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy·ing [+ obj] formal : to make (someone or something) strong, healthy, or active again : REVIVE • looking for ways to revivify the city's economy re·voke /rɪˈvəʊk/ verb -vokes; -voked; -vok·ing [+ obj] formal : to officially cancel the power or effect of (something, such as a law, license, agreement, etc.) : to make (something) not valid • The judge revoked her driver's license. • Their work permits were revoked. • He threatened to revoke [=retract, cancel] his offer. • Their privileges were revoked after they misbehaved.

— re·vo·ca·tion /ˌrevəˈkeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • Not paying the fine may mean revocation of your driver's license.

1 re·volt /rɪˈvəʊlt/ verb -volts; -volt·ed; -volt·ing

1 [no obj] : to fight in a violent way against the rule of a leader or government • The group threatened to revolt. — often + against • The peasants revolted against the king. • They revolted against the government.

2 [no obj] : to act in a way that shows that you do not accept the control or influence of someone or something — often + against • Teenagers tend to revolt [=rebel] against their parents. • He revolted against [=disobeyed] religious traditions.

3 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to feel disgust or shock • All the violence revolted me. — often used as (be) revolted • He was revolted by the smell.

2 revolt noun, pl -volts

1 : violent action against a ruler or government : REBELLION [count] the revolt of/by the slaves • The peasants' revolt was crushed by the king. • They staged a revolt, but it was quickly put down. [=they started a revolt, but it was quickly defeated] — often + against • a revolt against the government [noncount] The leader of the group called for revolt. • The people rose (up) in revolt (against the king). [=the people fought against the king]

2 : something which shows that you will not accept something or will not agree to be controlled or influenced by someone or something [count] a revolt by consumers over high prices = a consumer revolt over high prices — often + against • His book is a revolt against conservative thinking. [noncount] Consumers are in revolt against high prices.

re·volt·ing /rɪˈvəʊltɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : extremely unpleasant or offensive • a revolting [=disgusting] smell • The bloody scenes in the movie were positively revolting.

— re·volt·ing·ly adv • The movie was revoltingly violent.

rev·o·lu·tion /ˌrevəˈluːʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 a : the usually violent attempt by many people to end the rule of one government and start a new one [count] the American/French Revolution • The group started a revolution. [noncount] The king knew that there was a threat of revolution. — see also COUNTERREVOLUTION b [count] : a sudden, extreme, or complete change in the way people live, work, etc. • This new theory could cause a revolution in elementary education. • the computer revolution [=the changes created by the widespread use of computers] • The growth of the middle class forced a social revolution. [=a major change in society] • the sexual revolution [=a major change in people's attitudes about sex] — see also INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION

2 technical a : the action of moving around something in a path that is similar to a circle : ROTATION [count] the revolution of the Earth around the Sun [noncount] The period of revolution of the Earth around the Sun is equal to one year. b [count] : a complete turn that is made by something around its center point or line • The Earth makes one revolution on its axis in about 24 hours. • This motor operates at a speed of 5,000 revolutions per minute.

1 rev·o·lu·tion·ary /ˌrevəˈluːʃənəri, Brit ˌrevəˈluːʃənri/ adj

1 always used before a noun : relating to, involving, or supporting a political revolution • a revolutionary war/movement • a revolutionary leader/party

2 [more ~; most ~] : causing or relating to a great or complete change • revolutionary [=radical] ideas • The invention was revolutionary. • a revolutionary new product

2 revolutionary noun, pl -aries [count] : someone who leads, joins, or wants a revolution

rev·o·lu·tion·ize also Brit rev·o·lu·tion·ise /ˌrevəˈluːʃənəɪz/ verb -izes; -ized; -iz·ing [+ obj] : to change (something) very much or completely : to cause a revolution in (something) • The invention of the airplane revolutionized travel. • This new drug may revolutionize cancer treatment. • This discovery has revolutionized our understanding of how the human brain works.

re·volve /rɪˈvəːlv/ verb -volves; -volved; -volv·ing : to turn around a center point or line : ROTATE [no obj] As the gear revolves, it turns the other gears. • The Earth revolves on its axis. [+ obj] The software allows you to revolve images.

revolve around [phrasal verb] 1 revolve around (something) : to move around (something) in a path that is similar to a circle • The planets revolve around the sun. 2 revolve around (someone or something) : to have (someone or something) as a main subject or interest • The discussion revolved around the question of how much money should be given to each department. • Her world revolves around her work/son. [=her work/son is extremely important to her] • His life revolves around playing basketball. [=he plays basketball a lot] • He thinks the world revolves around him. [=he thinks that he is the most important person in the world] • The world does not revolve around you. [=you are not the most important person in the world]

re·volv·er /rɪˈvəːlvə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a small gun with a container for bullets that turns after the gun is fired and puts another bullet into position to be fired next revolving adj, always used before a noun : able to be turned around a center point • The band played on a revolving stage.

revolving door noun, pl ~ doors

1 [count] : a type of door that turns in its frame when it is used and allows people to go both in and out of a large building at the same time

2 [singular] a — used to describe a situation in which the people who have a particular job or position are constantly or frequently changing • The team has gone through a revolving door of coaches. [=has had many different coaches] • The manager's position has become a revolving door. b — used to describe a situation in which someone leaves and returns to a place or position many times • criminals who have entered a revolving door of arrest, prison, release, and then arrest again — revolving-door adj, always used before a noun • revolving-door management • a revolving-door roster of players

re·vue /rɪˈvjuː/ noun, pl -vues [count] : a show in a theater that includes funny songs, dances, short plays, etc., usually about recent events

Do not confuse revue with review.

re·vul·sion /rɪˈvʌlʃən/ noun, somewhat formal : a very strong feeling of dislike or disgust [noncount] She was struck with revulsion at the sight of the dead animal. • I felt revulsion at the thought of [=I was revolted by] his cruelty. [singular] a growing revulsion to war

revved up adj [more ~; most ~] informal : very excited • a rousing song that got the crowd all revved up • He came home all revved up because he had won the tournament. • She is revved up for [=ready for and excited about] her trip. — see also rev up at 1 REV

1 re·ward /rɪˈwɔːd/ noun, pl -wards : money or another kind of payment that is given or received for something that has been done or that is offered for something that might be done [count] The contest offered a cash reward to the first person who could breed a blue rose. • Hard work brings its own rewards. • She is reaping the rewards of success. [=is getting all the good things that come with success] — often + for • You deserve a reward for being so helpful. • A (cash) reward is being offered for the return of the lost dog. • The police are offering a reward for information leading to the capture of the fugitive. • You can go to bed late tonight as a reward for doing so well on that test. • Winning the game was a just reward [=an appropriate result] for the team's effort. • That lying crook got his just rewards. [=just deserts] [noncount] Members will receive a discount in reward for getting friends or family to join. • Her success is just reward for her hard work. [=she deserves her success because of her hard work]

R

²reward verb -wards; -ward-ed; -ward-ing [+ obj] : to give money or another kind of payment to (someone or something) for something good that has been done • She rewarded herself by buying a new pair of shoes. — often + for or with • She rewarded her children with ice cream for being so patient. — often used as (be) rewarded • She was rewarded with a cash bonus. • He was rewarded for his effort. = His effort was rewarded.

re-ward-ing /rɪ'wɔːdɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : giving you a good feeling that you have done something valuable, important, etc. • It was a rewarding [=valuable] experience. • Nursing is a very rewarding [=satisfying] career.

2 : giving you money or profit • The investment has been very rewarding. [=profitable] • Her work is financially rewarding.

¹re-wind /rɪ'waɪnd/ verb -winds; -wound /-'waʊnd/; -wind-ing [+ obj] : to make (a recording) go backwards • Rewind the tape so that we can hear that song again. — opposite ²FAST-FORWARD

²re-wind /rɪ'waɪnd/ noun [noncount] : a function that causes a recording (such as an audiotape or a videotape) to go backwards • Hit the rewind button. — opposite ¹FAST-FORWARD re-wire /rɪ'waɪə/ verb -wires; -wired; -wir-ing [+ obj] : to put new electrical wires in (a building, machine, etc.) • He re-wired the entire house.

re-word /rɪ'wɔːd/ verb -words; -word-ed; -word-ing [+ obj] : to state (something) again using different and often simpler words • You should reword this sentence. • Let me re-word [=rephrase] the question. • They reworded the rule.

re-work /rɪ'wɜːk/ verb -works; -worked; -work-ing [+ obj] : to make changes to (something, such as a piece of writing or music) in order to improve it • The teacher told me to re-work [=revise] my essay. • The design has been completely re-worked.

re-write /rɪ'raɪt/ verb -writes; -wrote /-'rout/; -writ-ten /-'rɪtn/; -writ-ing [+ obj] : to write (something) again especially in a different way in order to improve it or to include new information • The teacher asked him to rewrite the essay. • I had to rewrite the computer program/code. — sometimes used figuratively • You can't rewrite history. [=you can't change the past]

— re-write /rɪ'raɪt/ noun, pl -writes [count] • I usually do several rewrites of my essays.

RH abbr right hand

rhap-so-dize also Brit rhap-so-dise /'ræpsədaɪz/ verb -diz-es; -dized; -diz-ing [no obj] formal : to praise or describe something or someone with a lot of enthusiasm and emotion — usually + about or over • He rhapsodized about his favorite musician. • She rhapsodizes over the food at that restaurant.

rhap-so-dy /'ræpsədi/ noun, pl -dies [count]

1 : a piece of music that is meant to express a lot of emotion and does not have a regular form

2 : a written or spoken expression of great enthusiasm, praise, etc. • The mayor launched/went into a long rhapsody about his plans for the city. • rhapsodies of praise

— rhap-sod-ic /ræp'sɑːdɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • They waxed rhapsodic [=they became very enthusiastic] about the beauty of the area. • rhapsodic music

Rhe-sus factor /'riːsəs-/ noun [noncount] medical : RH FACTOR

rhe-sus monkey /'riːsəs-/ noun, pl ~ -keys [count] : a small monkey that is often used in medical research rhet-o-ric /'rɛtərɪk/ noun [noncount] formal

1 often disapproving : language that is intended to influence people and that may not be honest or reasonable • absolutist/activist/racist rhetoric • angry rhetoric • a speech free of (empty) rhetoric • the rhetoric of politics

2 : the art or skill of speaking or writing formally and effectively especially as a way to persuade or influence people • a college course in rhetoric • classical rhetoric

— rhet-o-ri-cian /'rɛtə'rɪʃən/ noun, pl -cians [count] formal • an expert rhetorician [=a person who is able to use language in a very effective way]

rhe-tor-i-cal /rɪ'torɪkəl/ adj

1 : of, relating to, or concerned with the art of speaking or writing formally and effectively especially as a way to persuade or influence people • a rhetorical device/style

2 of a question : asked in order to make a statement rather than to get an answer • "Should we be leaving soon?" "Is that a rhetorical question?" [=is that a question you're asking as a way to say that we should be leaving soon?] • My question was rhetorical. I wasn't really expecting an answer.

— rhe-tor-i-cal-ly /rɪ'torɪkli/ adv • "Why does it have to rain?" she asked rhetorically.

rheumatic fever noun [noncount] medical : a serious disease especially of young people that causes fever, swelling and pain in the joints, and sometimes damage to the heart

rheu-ma-tism /'ruːmətɪzəm/ noun [noncount] medical : a disease that causes stiffness and pain in the muscles and swelling and pain in the joints

— rheu-mat-ic /ru'mætɪk/ adj • a rheumatic disease • rheumatic pain

rheu-ma-toid arthritis /'ruːmətɔɪd-/ noun [noncount] medical : a serious disease that continues to become worse over a long period of time and that causes the joints to become very painful, stiff, and swollen

Rh factor /,ɑː'eɪf-/ noun [noncount] medical : a substance that is present in the red blood cells of most people ♦ If you do not have Rh factor in your blood, you can become ill by receiving blood from someone who has Rh factor. — called also Rhesus factor; see also RH-NEGATIVE, RH-POSITIVE rhine-stone /'raɪnstəʊn/ noun, pl -stones [count] : a small stone that is made to look like a diamond and that is used in jewelry or for decoration

rhi-no /'raɪnoʊ/ noun, pl rhi-nos also rhino [count] some-what informal : RHINOCEROS

rhi-noc-er-os

/raɪ'nɑːsərəs/ noun, pl

rhi-noc-er-os-es also rhinoceros [count] : a large, heavy animal of Africa and Asia that has thick skin and either one or two large horns on its nose

rhinoceros

rhi-zome /'raɪzəʊm/

noun, pl -zomes [count] botany : a thick plant stem that grows underground and has shoots and roots growing from it

Rh-neg-a-tive /,ɑː'eɪf'negətɪv/ adj, medical : not having Rh factor in the blood • The baby is Rh-negative. • Rh-negative blood rho-do-den-dron /,roudə'dendrən/ noun, pl -drons [count] : an evergreen bush that has large, bright flowers and that is often grown in gardens rhom-boid /'rɑːm,bɔɪd/ noun, pl -boids [count] geometry : a shape with four sides where only the opposite sides and angles are equal

rhom-bus /'rɑːmbəs/ noun, pl -bus-es [count] geometry : a shape with four sides that are equal in length and with four angles that are not always right angles

Rh-pos-i-tive /,ɑː'eɪf'pəːzətɪv/ adj, medical : having Rh factor in the blood • The baby is Rh-positive. • Rh-positive blood

rhu-barb /'ruː,bɑːb/ noun, pl -barbs

1 [noncount] : a plant with large green leaves and with thick pink or red stems that are cooked and used in pies, jams, etc.

• rhubarb pie

2 [count] US, informal + old-fashioned : an angry argument • The coach got into a rhubarb with the umpire.

rhumba variant spelling of RUMBA

¹rhyme /'raɪm/ noun, pl rhymes

1 [count] : one of two or more words or phrases that end in the same sounds • She used "moon" as a rhyme for "June." • He couldn't think of a rhyme for "orange."

2 [count] : a poem or song whose lines end in rhymes • children's rhymes • a catchy rhyme — see also NURSERY RHYME

3 [noncount] : the use of rhymes in a poem or song • They're learning about meter and rhyme. • He delivered the speech in rhyme. [=he used words that rhyme in the speech] • poems that use rhyme rhyme or reason : a good reason or explanation for something — used in negative statements • There seems to be no rhyme or reason to/for some of the things he does. • She does things without rhyme or reason.

²rhyme verb rhymes; rhymed; rhym-ing

1 [no obj] : to have or end with the same sounds • Please find the two lines that rhyme. • words that don't rhyme — often + with • "Bug" rhymes with "rug."

2 [no obj] : to have lines that end with the same sounds • poems that rhyme • rhyming verse/couplets

3 [+ obj] : to use (a rhyme) in a poem, song, etc. • She rhymed "moon" with "June."

rhythm /ˈrɪðəm/ noun, pl rhythms

1 : a regular, repeated pattern of sounds or movements [count] The music has a fast/slow/steady rhythm. [=beat] • African/Caribbean rhythms — often + of • the rhythm of the poetry • the rhythm of his breathing • the rhythm of the tides [noncount] the composer's use of jazz rhythm • He can't play/dance in rhythm. = He has no sense of rhythm. [=he cannot play/dance at the correct speed to stay with the rhythm of the music]

2 [count] : a regular, repeated pattern of events, changes, activities, etc. • She enjoyed the rhythms of country life. • Travel can disrupt your body's daily/biological/circadian rhythm.

rhythm and blues noun [noncount] : a type of popular music performed by African-Americans that was developed originally by combining elements of blues and jazz — abbr. R & B rhythmic /ˈrɪðmɪk/ or rhyth-mi-cal /ˈrɪðmɪkəl/ adj : having a regular repeated pattern of sounds or movements • We could hear a rhythmic drumming/chant outside.

– rhyth-mi-cal-ly /ˈrɪðmɪkli/ adv • She rhythmically tapped her feet.

rhythm method noun [singular] medical : a method of birth control in which a couple does not have sexual intercourse during the time when pregnancy is most likely to happen rhythm section noun, pl ~ -tions [count] : the part of a band that plays the rhythm in a piece of music and that typically includes drums and bass

RI abbr Rhode Island

¹rib /ˈrɪb/ noun, pl ribs [count]

1 : any one of the curved bones of the chest that connect to the spine — see picture at HUMAN

2 : a piece of meat from an animal that includes a rib and that is used as food — see also SPARERIB

3 : a long curved piece of metal, wood, etc., that forms the frame of a boat, roof, etc. • the ribs of an umbrella

²rib verb ribs; ribbed; rib-bing [+ obj] informal : to make jokes about (someone) in a friendly way : to kid or tease (someone) — often + about or over • They ribbed him about/over his silly outfit.

rib-ald /ˈrɪbəld/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : referring to sex in a rude but amusing way • ribald jokes/comments/songs

– rib-ald-ry /ˈrɪbəldri/ noun, pl -dries [count] comedians exchanging ribaldries [=ribald remarks/jokes] [noncount] a scandal that has been the subject of much ribaldry ribbed adj : having raised lines • ribbed fabric • a ribbed sweater

ribbing noun [noncount]

1 : friendly jokes about someone • a little good-natured ribbing between friends — usually used with take • He took some ribbing for the silly hat he was wearing. • I've taken a lot of ribbing about my accent.

2 : raised lines on a surface • the ribbing on a sweater

rib-bon /ˈrɪbən/ noun, pl -bons

1 : a narrow piece of cloth (such as silk) that is used to tie things or for decoration [count] She wore pink ribbons in her hair. • She tied a ribbon around the present. [noncount] a length/piece of ribbon • The present was tied with ribbon.

2 [count] : a short piece of cloth that is given as a military award • The soldier proudly wore his ribbons and medals.

3 [count] chiefly US : a piece of colored cloth that is given as an award in a competition • Her pie won a ribbon at the county fair. — see also BLUE RIBBON

4 [count] : something that is long and narrow like a strip of cloth • a ribbon of road

5 [count] : a long and narrow piece of cloth with ink that is used for producing printed characters in a typewriter or printer

6 ribbons [plural] : narrow pieces of something that has been cut or torn apart • Her pants were torn/cut to ribbons. [=to pieces]

rib cage noun, pl ~ cages [count] medical : the curved wall of ribs that surrounds and protects the chest

rib eye noun, pl ~ eyes [count, noncount] : a large, tender cut of beef from the outer side of the rib — called also rib eye steak

ri-bo-fla-vin /ˌraɪbəˈflɛvən/ noun [noncount] technical : a natural substance (called a vitamin) that is found in certain foods (such as milk, eggs, and leafy vegetables) and that helps your body to be healthy — called also vitamin B₂

ri-bo-nu-cle-ic acid /ˌraɪbənuˈkliːjɪk-, ˈBrit ˌraɪbənuˈnjuːkliːjɪk-/ noun [noncount] technical : RNA

rice /ˈraɪs/ noun [noncount]

1 : small white or brown grains that come from a southeast Asian plant and that are used for food • a bowl/grain of rice • steamed/fried rice • brown/white rice

2 : the plant that produces rice • Rice is the main crop of the country. • a field of rice = a rice field/paddy

rice paper noun [noncount]

1 : a type of thin paper that is made from an Asian plant

2 : a food that looks like paper and that is used for wrapping other foods rice pudding noun [noncount] : a sweet food made of rice cooked with milk and sugar rich /ˈrɪʃ/ adj rich-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having a lot of money and possessions : WEALTHY • a rich person • Her investments have made her rich. • a rich country/area/neighborhood • She is very rich. • (informal + often disapproving) She is filthy rich. = She is stinking rich. [=she is extremely rich; she has so much money that her wealth is disgusting or offensive] • He wrote a book on how to get rich quick. [=how to make a large amount of money quickly] — opposite POOR

2 : very expensive and beautiful, impressive, etc. • rich [=luxurious] robes • rich decorations

3 a : having or supplying a large amount of something that is wanted or needed • The dictionary is a rich source of information. • a rich gold mine • rich [=fertile] soils • protein-rich foods [=foods that contain a lot of protein] — often + in or with • a land rich in resources • foods that are rich in protein • He had a life rich with blessings. b : containing a large amount of fat, oil, etc. : having a lot of flavor and making your stomach feel full • rich [=heavy] foods • a rich and spicy soup • The food was a little too rich for me. c : very interesting and full of many different things • Their country has a rich cultural heritage. • This area has a rich history. • She has a rich vocabulary.

4 : having a pleasingly strong quality • a rich [=dark and vivid] red • a singer with a full, rich voice • rich perfumes

5 informal — used to say that a person's comment or criticism is surprising or amusing because the same comment or criticism could be made about that person • His remarks about the importance of saving money are pretty rich coming from a man who just bought another new car. • "She says we're working too slowly." "Oh, that's rich. She's the one who keeps delaying things with all her meetings."

strike it rich see ¹STRIKE

the rich : people who are rich • the rich and famous/powerful – rich-ness /ˈrɪʃnəs/ noun [noncount] • the richness of the soil • the richness of the food • the richness of the painter's colors rich-es /ˈrɪʃəz/ noun [plural]

1 : large amounts of money and possessions • He acquired riches [=wealth] and fame.

2 : good things that are available to use or choose • We live in a culture that offers many riches. • With so many fine restaurants in the city, diners are faced with an embarrassment of riches. [=there are so many fine restaurants that it is difficult to choose one]

from rags to riches see ¹RAG

rich-ly /ˈrɪʃli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 : in a beautiful and expensive way • The room was richly decorated/ornamented. • richly dressed

2 : in a pleasingly strong way • richly fragrant/colored/flavored • a richly rewarding [=very satisfying] experience

3 : in a generous way • They were richly rewarded for their efforts.

4 : completely or fully • The reward/punishment he received was richly deserved.

5 : having a large amount of something • The book is richly illustrated. [=the book has many illustrations] • a richly detailed description

Rich-ter scale /ˈrɪktər-/ noun

the Richter scale technical : a system of measurement used for showing the strength of an earthquake • The earthquake was a 4.5 on the Richter scale. = The earthquake measured 4.5 on the Richter scale.

rick /ˈrɪk/ verb ricks; ricked; rick-ing [+ obj] Brit : to injure

(a body part) by twisting it • I ricked [=sprained, wrenched] my back/neck.

rick-ets /'rɪkəts/ noun [noncount] medical : a disease in children that is caused by a lack of vitamin D and that causes bones to become soft and to bend

rick-ety /'rɪkəti/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not strong or stable and likely to break • rickety stairs • a rickety little/old table

rick-shaw /'rɪkʃɑ:/ noun, pl shaws [count] : a small, light vehicle with two wheels that is pulled by one person on foot or on a bicycle and that is used in some Asian countries

¹ric-o-chet /'rɪkəʃeɪ/ verb -chets; -cheted /-,ʃeɪd/; -cheting /-,ʃeɪm/ [no obj] : to bounce off a surface and continue moving in a different direction • The bullet ricocheted off the wall.

²ricochet noun, pl -chets

1 [count] : something (such as a bullet or stone) that ricochets off a surface • He was hit by a ricochet.

2 [noncount] : the action of ricocheting off a surface • the ricochet of the bullet off the wall ri-cot-ta /rɪ'kɑ:tə/ noun [noncount] : a soft, white Italian cheese — called also ricotta cheese rid /rɪd/ verb rids; rid also rid-ded; rid-ding

be rid of : to no longer have or be affected or bothered by (someone or something that is unwanted or annoying) • I thought I'd never be rid of that cold. [=I thought that cold would never go away] • He thought he'd never be rid of her. • It's just as well that he left you. You're well rid of him. [=you're better off without him] get rid of : to do something so that you no longer have or are affected or bothered by (something or someone that is unwanted) • It's time to get rid of [=throw away] our old computer and buy a new one. • I got rid of some old furniture by selling/giving it to my nephew. • I've tried everything to get rid of this cold, but it just won't go away. • He kept talking and talking. She finally got rid of him [=she finally got him to leave] by saying she had to make dinner.

rid of [phrasal verb] rid (someone or something) of (someone or something) : to cause (someone or something) to no longer have or be affected by (someone or something unwanted) • The police are trying to rid the town of drug dealers. • rid the garden of pests • She went to the beach to relax and rid herself of all her worries.

want rid of chiefly Brit : to want to no longer have or be affected or bothered by (something or someone unwanted) : to want to be rid of (something or someone) • I could tell that he wanted rid of me.

rid-dance /'rɪdn̩s/ noun

good riddance — used to say that you are glad that someone is leaving or that something has gone • “Did you hear? Jack is leaving for a new job.” “Well, good riddance (to him)! We'll be better off without him!” • Winter is finally over, and I say good riddance!

¹rid-den /'rɪdn̩/ adj : filled with or containing something unpleasant or unwanted • He was ridden with guilt. [=he felt very guilty] — usually used in combination • a flea-ridden dog • a slum-ridden city • He was/felt guilt-ridden for the way he had neglected his son.

²ridden past participle of ¹RIDE

¹rid-dle /'rɪdl̩/ noun, pl rid-dles [count]

1 : a difficult question that is asked as a game and that has a surprising or funny answer • The first person to solve the rid-dle wins a candy bar. — sometimes used figuratively • Stop speaking in riddles. [=stop speaking in a confusing way]

2 : someone or something that is difficult to understand or solve • the riddle of the origins of the universe • My brother has always been a riddle to me.

²riddle verb riddles; rid-dled; rid-dling [+ obj]

1 : to make many holes in (something or someone) with something • The robbers riddled the car with bullets.

2 : to fill (something) with something that is bad or unpleasant — usually used as (be) riddled with • The book is riddled with mistakes. [=the book has many mistakes] • Their theory is riddled with contradictions.

¹ride /'raɪd/ verb rides; rode /'roud/; rid-den /'rɪdn̩/; riding

1 : to sit on and control the movements of (a horse, motorcycle, bicycle, etc.) [+ obj] She learned how to ride a horse when she was young. • Most children learn to ride a bicycle at an early age. • He rides his motorcycle to work every day. [no obj] I never rode on a horse before. • She got on her bicycle and rode away.

2 a : to travel to a place as a passenger on or in (something that is moving, such as a bus, a train, or an elevator) [+ obj] (chiefly US) • He decided to walk to the movies instead of riding the bus. • She rides the subway home from school. • They rode the elevator/escalator to the second floor. [no obj] We rode through the park in a horse-drawn carriage. • The dog rode in the back of the truck. • He has never ridden aboard a cruise ship. b : to go on a mechanical ride at an amusement park or similar place [no obj] We rode on the Ferris wheel. [+ obj] We rode the roller coaster five times.

3 [+ obj] chiefly US : to travel over or on (a road, railway, trail, etc.) in a car, on a train, on a bicycle, etc. • He spends hours riding the back roads in his truck. • riding the rails • We rode the bike trails for hours.

4 [no obj] of a vehicle : to move over the surface of a road in a specified way • The car rides smoothly/well.

5 [+ obj] : to be supported or carried on (a wave) : to move on (a wave) • We watched the surfers riding the waves.

6 [+ obj] US, informal : to criticize or make jokes about (someone) constantly or frequently in usually a harsh or annoying way • The fans have been riding him pretty hard.

be riding for a fall informal : to be doing something that is likely to lead to failure or disaster • They're feeling pretty confident now, but if you ask me, they're riding for a fall.

be riding high informal 1 : to be very happy and excited • She's riding high [=flying high] after her recent win. 2 : to be very successful • The company's stock was riding high after the merger.

let (something) ride informal : to allow (something) to go unnoticed : to ignore (something) • He made a rude remark, but I let it ride. • You have to let his comment ride.

ride herd on US, informal : to keep (someone or something) under close watch or control • We had to ride herd on them to make sure they completed the work on time.

ride on [phrasal verb] ride on (something or someone) 1 : to depend on (something or someone) • The future of the company rides on the success of this deal. • Our hopes are riding on you. 2 ♦ If you have money riding on something or someone, you have bet money on that thing or person. • I have a lot of money riding on this game. • There is a lot of money riding on the outcome of the race.

ride out [phrasal verb] ride (something) out or ride out (something) : to succeed in surviving or getting through (something dangerous or harmful that cannot be stopped or avoided) • The ship/crew rode out the storm. • We managed to ride out the stock market downturn.

ride shotgun informal : to ride in the front passenger seat of a vehicle • You can drive, but only if I can ride shotgun.

ride up [phrasal verb] of clothing : to move up your body as you move • These jeans keep riding up on me. • Her skirt rode up when she sat down.

²ride noun, pl rides [count]

1 a : a usually short journey in or on a vehicle • a two-hour car ride • We went for a ride in the country. • He took me for a ride on his motorcycle. = He gave me a ride on his motorcycle. • I had my first ride in a limousine. • Can I take your bike for a ride? = Can I go for a ride on your bike? [=can I ride your bike?] • Can you give me a ride [=lift] back to town? • I need a ride to work. • She caught/hitched a ride with her coworker. — see also HAYRIDE, JOYRIDE b : a usually short journey on a horse or other animal • We went on a horseback ride. • The kids had a ride on a horse. • They offered pony rides at the fair.

2 — used to describe what the experience of riding in a car or other vehicle is like; usually singular • The car has/offers a smooth/comfortable ride. • The road wasn't paved, so we had a pretty bumpy ride. — often used figuratively • Investors are preparing for a bumpy/rough ride [=a difficult time] in the stock market.

3 a : a large machine at an amusement park, fair, etc., that people ride on for enjoyment • The Ferris wheel is my favorite ride. b : the act of riding on such a machine • We went for a ride on the roller coaster. — see also FREE RIDE along for the ride informal : doing something with other people without being seriously involved in it or having a serious interest in it • He wasn't really interested in buying anything when we went to the store; he was just along for the ride. • He wasn't really interested, but he came/went along for the ride.

take (someone) for a ride informal : to trick or fool (someone) especially in order to get money • I figured out that he was taking me for a ride.

rid-er /'raɪdər/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who rides something • a horseback rider • Watch out for bike riders while driving. • riders on the bus — see also DISPATCH RIDER

2 a : an official document that is attached to another document and that adds to or changes information in the original document • She added a rider to her life insurance policy that increased her coverage. b : an additional part added to a legislative bill • Congress added a rider to the health insurance bill.

ridge /ˈrɪdʒ/ noun, pl ridges [count]

1 : a long area of land that is on top of a mountain or hill • We hiked along the ridge.

2 : a raised part or area on the surface of something • the ridges on the sole of a boot

3 : the place where two sloping surfaces meet • the ridge of a roof

4 weather : a long area of high atmospheric pressure • A ridge of high pressure is coming up from the south. — compare TROUGH 4

ridged /ˈrɪdʒd/ adj : having ridges • ridged potato chips

1 rid-i-cule /ˈrɪdʒ,kju:l/ noun [noncount] : the act of making fun of someone or something in a cruel or harsh way : harsh comments made by people who are laughing at someone or something • She didn't show anyone her artwork for fear of ridicule. • He was a subject/object of ridicule to his coworkers. [=he was ridiculed by his coworkers] • They held him up to (public) ridicule [=they made fun of him publicly]

2 ridicule verb -cules; -culed; -cul-ing [+ obj] : to laugh at and make jokes about (someone or something) in a cruel or harsh way : to make fun of (someone or something) • The other kids ridiculed him for the way he dressed. • They ridiculed all of her suggestions.

ri-dic-u-lous /rəˈdɪkjələs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : extremely silly or unreasonable • She looks ridiculous in that outfit. • Don't be ridiculous! • It was a ridiculous suggestion. • That's an absolutely ridiculous price for that sweater. • He makes a ridiculous amount [=an extremely large amount] of money. — ri-dic-u-lous-ly adv • The movie was ridiculously long. — ri-dic-u-lous-ness noun [noncount]

1 rid-ing /ˈraɪdɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the sport or activity of riding a horse, bicycle, motorcycle, etc. • (US) horseback riding = (Brit) horse riding • We'll go riding after the rain stops.

2 riding adj, always used before a noun

1 : related to or used for riding and especially for riding a horse • riding lessons/gear/boots • a riding helmet

2 US : controlled by a person who sits on it • a riding lawnmower [=a lawnmower that you ride on] rife /ˈraɪf/ adj, not used before a noun : very common and often bad or unpleasant • She visited a country where malaria was rife. [=widespread] • Speculation about who would be fired ran rife for weeks.

rife with : having a large amount of (something bad or unpleasant) : full of (something bad or unpleasant) • The school was rife with rumors. • a history rife with scandal

1 riff /ˈrɪf/ noun, pl riffs [count]

1 music : a short and usually repeated pattern of notes in a song • a guitar riff • He stole that riff from another song.

2 US, informal : a short set of comments on a particular subject — often + on • a comedian's riff on modern love

2 riff verb riffs; riffed; riff-ing [no obj]

1 music : to play a riff • The guitarist riffed over the bass line.

2 US, informal : to talk about a particular subject in usually a quick and lively way : to deliver a riff on or about a particular subject • He riffed on/about how great the economy was doing.

rif-fle /ˈrɪfəl/ verb rif-fles; rif-fled; rif-fling chiefly Brit : to look through something quickly and not very closely [no obj] He riffling through [=rifled through] her purse while she was out of the room. • I riffling through [=flipped through] the magazine. [+ obj] He riffling the pages of the magazine.

riff-raff /ˈrɪf,ræf/ noun [noncount] disapproving : people who are not respectable : people who have very low social status • Try not to associate with that riffraff. — often used in a humorous or exaggerated way to suggest the attitudes of wealthy and powerful people • The doorman kept the riffraff out of the hotel.

1 ri-fle /ˈraɪfəl/ noun, pl ri-fles [count] : a gun that has a long barrel and that is held against your shoulder when you shoot it — see picture at GUN; see also AIR RIFLE, ASSAULT RIFLE

2 rifle verb rifles; ri-fled; ri-fling : to search through something quickly and carelessly often in order to take or steal something [+ obj] He rifled the papers on his desk. • Someone rifled his wallet and took his money. [no obj] He rifled through the papers on his desk. — compare ³RIFLE

3 rifle verb rifles; rifled; rifling [+ obj] : to throw or hit (a ball) with a lot of speed and force • The shortstop rifled a throw to second base for the out. • The forward rifled the ball toward the goal. — compare ²RIFLE ri-fle-man /ˈraɪfəlmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count]

1 : a soldier who carries a rifle

2 : a person who is skilled at shooting a rifle rift /ˈrɪft/ noun, pl rifts [count]

1 : a situation in which two people, groups, etc., no longer have a friendly relationship • The fight will only widen the rift with his brother. — often + between • Nothing could heal the rift between them.

2 a : a deep crack or opening in the ground, a rock, etc. • the rift in the rock • We could see some stars through the rifts in the clouds. b geology : a break in the Earth's crust • Scientists are studying the Mid-Atlantic Rift.

rift valley noun, pl ~ -leys [count] geology : a long, steep valley formed when two parallel rifts form in the Earth's crust and the land between them sinks

1 rig /ˈrɪɡ/ verb rigs; rigged; rig-ging [+ obj] : to control or affect (something, such as a game or election) in a dishonest way in order to get a desired result • They are suspected of rigging [=fixing] the election. — compare ³RIG — rigged adj • The boxing match was rigged. • a rigged election

2 rig noun, pl rigs [count]

1 : equipment or machinery that is used for a particular purpose • an oil-drilling rig = an oil rig • a radio rig

2 US : a large truck that is attached to a trailer • He drives a big rig.

3 : the way the sails and masts are arranged on a ship or boat • the rig of a schooner

3 rig verb rigs; rigged; rigging [+ obj]

1 a : to build or set up (something) usually quickly and for temporary use • We rigged (up) a lean-to. • Aid workers rigged (up) a shelter for the hurricane victims. — see also JERRY-RIGGED, JURY-RIG b : to place (something) in the proper position for use • The stage crew rigged (up) the lights.

2 : to provide (a boat or ship) with ropes, sails, etc. • They rigged (up) the ship and prepared to set sail.

3 a : to provide (someone or something) with particular clothing or equipment — usually + out • They rigged the volunteer firefighters out in nonflammable suits. b : to put something secretly in (a place) — usually + with • They rigged the enemy base with explosives.

— compare ¹RIG

— rigged adj • a fully-rigged ship

rigamarole variant spelling of RIGMAROLE

rig-a-to-ni /ˈrɪɡəˈtəʊni/ noun [noncount] : a type of pasta that is shaped like short, wide tubes rig-ging /ˈrɪɡɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the ropes and chains that are used on a ship to help support the masts and sails • They checked the rigging before they set sail.

2 : equipment that is used for supporting and using lights, curtains, etc., in a theater

1 right /ˈraɪt/ adj

1 usually not used before a noun : morally or socially correct or acceptable • Stealing is not right. • You can't treat me like this! It's not right! • You were right to tell the teacher about the girl who you saw cheating. • Telling the teacher was the right thing to do. • (chiefly Brit) "After I was treated so rudely, I complained to the management." "And quite right too!" [=complaining was the right thing to do] • Since they helped him, it's only right that he should help them too. [=since they helped him, he should help them too] — opposite WRONG

2 a : agreeing with the facts or truth : accurate or correct • the right answer • "Is that clock right? Is it noon already?" "Yes. That's right." • There's something not quite right about his story. • Their theory was proved right. • Let me get this right—you want me to lend you $1,000?! — opposite WRONG b not used before a noun : speaking, acting, or judging in a way that agrees with the facts or truth • You're right; the answer is six. • I bet you like baseball. Am I right? • Am I right in thinking that he should have never loaned her the money? • We thought it was a bad idea, and time proved us right. — often + about • He was right about her not having a job. • "Relationships aren't easy." "You're definitely right about that." • Let me put/set you right about one thing: I did not start this argument! — often followed by to + verb • You're right to take things slowly with your new boyfriend. — opposite WRONG c — used in speech to ask if a statement is correct or to say that a statement is correct • "You took the dog out for a walk, right?" "Yes, I did." • "We met her at the party." "(That's) Right. Now I remember." • "I'll pay for the damages." "(You're) Damn right you will!" [= (more politely) you certainly will] • (Brit) "I'll pay for the damages." "Too right you will." • (Brit) "Things are going from bad to worse." "Too right, mate!" d — used in speech to say you understand and accept what someone has said • "It's getting late." "Oh, right. I'll be ready in a minute." • "I'd like a coffee, please." "Right." = "Right you are." e — used for emphasis at the beginning of a statement • Right. [=all right, OK] Let's get this over with. f — used in speech to express disbelief • "I'm actually quite famous." "Right. And I'm the Pope." "No, it's true." "Yeah, right. I don't believe you."

3 : suitable or appropriate for a particular purpose, situation, or person • She is the right person for the job. • They're not right for each other. • You made the right decision. • Let me show you the right way to do it. • He kept practicing his technique until he got it right. • Hold the bat like this—that's right! • This apartment is just the right size. • That picture would be just right [=perfect] for my living room. • I need to find the right moment to ask him for the money. • I don't have the right tools to do the job. • I'll buy the car if the price is right. • He knows all the right people to succeed in this business. • Becoming a star is often a matter of being in the right place at the right time. • He always knows the right thing to say. — opposite WRONG; see also MR. RIGHT

4 a : in a normal or healthy state or condition • I don't feel quite right. [=I feel somewhat ill] • The fish you bought doesn't smell right. [=it doesn't smell the way it should] • (informal) That boy is not right in the head. • She is not in her right mind. [=she is mentally ill] b not used before a noun : in a proper state or condition • Things are not right between them. [=they do not have a good/happy relationship] • He apologized and tried to put/set things right (with her).

5 always used before a noun a : located on the side of your body that is away from your heart • He felt a pain in his right side. • her right hand/leg b : done with your right hand • He hit him with a right hook to the jaw. c : located nearer to the right side of your body than to the left • on the right side of the street • a chair's right arm • taking a right turn — opposite LEFT

6 US — used to refer to the side of something that is meant to be on top, in front, or on the outside • The CD fell and landed right side up/down. • He turned his socks right side out. — opposite WRONG

7 always used before a noun, Brit, informal : complete or total — used for emphasis • I felt a right fool after making that mistake! • We were in a right mess!

(as) right as rain informal : in excellent health or condition • After a few days of rest, you'll be right as rain again.

get off on the right foot see 1 FOOT give your right arm see 1 GIVE

push the right buttons see 1 BUTTON

— see also ALL RIGHT

— right-ness noun [noncount] • She questioned the rightness of his actions/decision.

R ²right adv

1 : in the exact location, position, or moment that is mentioned • The keys are right where I said they would be. • "Where are my keys?" "They're right here/there." • The bank is right next to the pharmacy. • The parking lot is right in front/back of the building. • He left his bags right in the middle of the floor. • She was waiting right outside the door. • The ball hit me right in the face. • We arrived right at noon. • I'm right behind you. • You are right on time. • When the boss yelled at him, he quit right then and there. • If you need me, I am right here for you. [=I am available to support/help you]

2 : in a direct course or manner • We went right [=straight, directly] home after the game. • He walked right past me without saying hello. • Come right this way, please. • She came right out and said it. [=she said it without hesitating]

3 : in a way that agrees with the facts or truth : CORRECTLY • You guessed right. • You heard right. I got the job. — opposite WRONG

4 : in a suitable, proper, or desired way • He eats right and exercises daily. • You're not doing it right. [=correctly] • Nothing is going right for me today. — opposite WRONG

5 : all the way • We stayed up to watch the game right to the very end. • The car went right [=completely] off the road. • The baby slept right through the night.

6 : without delay : very soon or immediately • She got pregnant right after they got married. • I'll be right with you. • He stepped out for a moment, but he'll be right back.

7 a : toward the right • Turn right. • She looked right and then left. • Please move right. • She ran right and caught the ball. b : towards the political right • a political party that has shifted right • His political views are slightly right of center. [=are slightly conservative] c US : using the right hand • He bats/throws right. [=right-handed] — opposite LEFT

8 : in a complete manner • He felt right [=completely] at home at his new job. • She knew right [= (more commonly) very] well what was happening.

play your cards right see 1 CARD

right and left or Brit right, left, and centre : in a very quick and uncontrolled way • She has been spending money right and left. : in all directions • He was calling out names right and left. • The police were stopping cars right and left.

right away also right off : without delay or hesitation : IMMEDIATELY • Please send out this letter right away. • I could tell right off that he was lying.

right now 1 : in the next moment : IMMEDIATELY • Please clean up this mess right now. 2 : at the present time • He is out of the office right now.

serve someone right see 1 SERVE

³right noun, pl rights

1 : behavior that is morally good or correct [noncount] He's old enough to know the difference between right and wrong. = He's old enough to know right from wrong. • You did right [=you did the right thing] to tell the teacher. • (old-fashioned) He always tried to do right by his employees. [=to treat his employees fairly] [count] We discussed the rights and wrongs of genetic cloning. — opposite WRONG

2 [count] : something that a person is or should be morally or legally allowed to have, get, or do • women fighting for equal rights • The government has denied the people their rights. [=has not allowed the people to do the things that they should be allowed to do] • Knowing the truth is her right. — often followed by to + verb • She has a right to know the truth. • They demanded the right to vote. • You have no right to order me around! • What gives you the right to read my diary? • He has every right to be angry. • You are within your rights to demand a refund. [=you have the right to demand a refund] — often + of • The government must protect the rights of its citizens. • the constitutional right of privacy — see also BILL OF RIGHTS, BIRTHRIGHT, BRAGGING RIGHTS, CIVIL RIGHTS, DIVINE RIGHT, HUMAN RIGHT, WOMEN'S RIGHTS

3 rights [plural] : the legal authority to reproduce, publish, broadcast, or sell something • broadcast rights • movie rights — often + to • The poet's family owns the publishing rights to all his books. — see also COPYRIGHT

4 a [noncount] : a location closer to the right side of your body than to the left : the right side • Swing the bat from right to left. — often used with on • As you come down the street, my house will be on your/the right. — often used with to • Move it to the right. • The picture is to the right of the window. b [count] : a turn or movement toward the right • Take a right at the next intersection. = (US) Make/hang a right at the next intersection. • two rights and then a left

5 [count] : a punch made with the right hand • He hit him with a left to the stomach followed by a right to the jaw.

6 a the Right : political groups who favor traditional attitudes and practices and conservative policies • His nomination is opposed by the country's Right. • The new law is disliked by the Right. • Members of the Right have voiced their opinions on this matter. b the right : the position of people who support the beliefs and policies of the political Right • The party has shifted to the right. [=has become more conservative] — compare LEFT; see also the far right at 2 FAR

by right : according to what is legally or morally correct • The money is mine by right. [=I have the right to have the money] by rights also by all rights : according to what is proper and reasonable • By rights, you should have been the one to receive the promotion.

dead to rights US 1 or Brit bang to rights : with proof that you are guilty • The police had him dead to rights. • She was caught dead to rights on a bribery charge. 2 sports : with no chance of winning or succeeding • The other team had us dead to rights by the end of the first half.

in its own right : because of its own special qualities and not because of a connection with something else • Though it's based on a best-selling novel, the movie is great in its own right.

in the right : in the position or situation of being right • You are in the right to demand a refund/apology. • The judge agreed that he was in the right.

in your own right : because of your own efforts, talent, etc., and not because of your connection with someone else • Her husband is a well-known novelist, but she is a successful writer in her own right.

might makes right see ²MIGHT

of right formal : according to what is legally or morally correct • The estate belongs of right to him. • (law) The federal court may intervene as of right [=the federal court has a right to intervene] put/set (something) to rights : to put (something) back into the normal or proper condition • He helped his mother put things to rights [=put things in order] after his father died.

two wrongs don't make a right see ³WRONG

⁴right verb rights; right-ed; right-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (something) right : to correct (something wrong or unjust) • It was time to right an old wrong. • No one can right all the wrongs in the world.

2 : to return (something) to a proper state or condition • The government needs to do something to right the economy.

3 : to put (something or someone) back in an upright position • They righted the capsized boat. • He quickly righted himself after he fell off the chair.

right angle noun, pl ~ angles [count] : an angle formed by two lines that are perpendicular to each other : an angle that measures 90° • A square has four right angles. • Hold the nail at a right angle to the board. • The two boards are joined at right angles to each other.

right-angled triangle noun, pl ~ -angles [count] Brit : RIGHT TRIANGLE

right-click verb -clicks; -clicked; -clicking [no obj] computers : to press the button on the right side of a mouse or similar device in order to make something happen on a computer • Right-click on the icon and select "Open" from the menu. — compare ¹CLICK 2

right-teous /'raɪtʃəs/ adj, formal

1 : morally good : following religious or moral laws • a righteous person • leading a righteous life

2 always used before a noun : caused by something that you believe is not morally right or fair • righteous anger/indignation — see also SELF-RIGHTEOUS

— right-teous-ly adv — right-teous-ness noun [noncount]

right field noun [noncount] : the part of a baseball outfield that is to the right when you are looking out from home plate • a fly ball to (deep/shallow) right field; also : the position of the player defending right field • He plays right field. — right fielder noun, pl ~ -ers [count]

right-ful /'raɪtʃəl/ adj, always used before a noun, formal

1 : according to the law • The property should be returned to its rightful owner.

2 : proper or appropriate • He will be given his rightful place in the history books.

— right-ful-ly adv • The property is rightfully mine. • She was rightfully praised for all the work she did.

right-hand /'raɪt,hænd/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : located closer to your right hand : located on the right side • Our building will be on the right-hand side. • Please write your name on the bottom right-hand corner of the page. • Take a right-hand turn. — compare LEFT-HAND

2 : made for the right hand • right-hand [(more commonly) right-handed] tools — compare LEFT-HAND

right-hand-ed /'raɪt'hændəd/ adj

1 : using the right hand more easily than the left hand • a right-handed person/pitcher • Most people in my family are right-handed, but I'm left-handed.

2 a : made for the right hand • a right-handed glove b : using or done with the right hand • a right-handed pitch/punch

3 : swinging from the right side of the body to the left side in sports like baseball and golf • a right-handed batter/hitter

— right-handed adv • She bats right-handed. — right-hand-ed-ness noun [noncount]

right-hand-er /'raɪt'hændə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a right-handed person; especially : a right-handed pitcher in baseball • The team has more right-handers than left-handers.

right-hand man noun [singular] : a very important assistant who helps someone do a job • He/She is the CEO's right-hand man.

Right Honourable adj, Brit — used as a title for a member of Parliament right-ist or Right-ist /'raɪtɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who belongs to or supports the political Right — compare LEFTIST

— rightist or Rightist adj [more ~; most ~] • a rightist government • rightist intellectuals

right-ly /'raɪtli/ adv

1 : in a way that is correct : CORRECTLY • If I remember rightly, today is his birthday. • She rightly anticipated a decline in the value of the stock. • He points out, quite rightly, that there are flaws in the theory. • Many people, rightly or wrongly, believe the economy will soon improve.

2 : for a good reason : in a way that is proper or appropriate • She rightly admires his paintings. • People are rightly upset about the city's rising crime rate. • Quite rightly, the police commissioner is being blamed for the city's rising crime rate. • She is proud of her children, and rightly so.

3 informal : with certainty : for sure — usually used in negative statements • I don't rightly know where she went. [=I don't know where she went; I'm not sure where she went] • I can't rightly say what happened.

right-mind-ed /'raɪt'maɪndəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having beliefs, opinions, etc., that most people think are morally or socially right • right-minded citizens righto /,raɪt'ou/ interj, Brit, informal + old-fashioned — used to say that you agree with, understand, or accept something that you have been told • "We need to leave soon." "Righto, I'll get ready."

right-of-way /,raɪtəv'weɪ/ noun, pl rights-of-way also right-of-ways

1 [noncount] : the right to move onto or across a road before other people or vehicles • The other car has the right-of-way. • Pedestrians have the right-of-way here.

2 [count] a : a legal right to go across another person's land b : a path on a person's land which other people have a legal right to use c : a long, narrow area of land that is used for a road, railway, etc. • a railroad right-of-way

right on adj

1 US a : exactly correct • Her assessment of the situation was right on. b informal + somewhat old-fashioned — used to say that you agree completely with what someone has said • "Make love, not war!" "Right on, man!"

2 usually right-on [more ~; most ~] chiefly Brit, informal + sometimes disapproving : having or supporting liberal or left-wing beliefs and opinions about how people should be treated • one of the right-on people

Right Reverend adj — used as a title for a high-ranking member of the clergy right-size /'raɪt,sɑɪz/ verb -siz-es; -sized; -siz-ing : to make a company smaller and more efficient by reducing the number of workers : DOWNSIZE [no obj] The company plans to rightsized. [+ obj] The company has rightsized [=downsized] its staff.

right-to-life /'raɪtə'lɑɪf/ adj, always used before a noun : opposed to abortion • right-to-life groups/activists

— right-to-lif-er /'raɪtə'lɑɪfə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

right triangle noun, pl ~ -angles [count] US : a triangle that has a right angle — called also (Brit) right-angled triangle right-ward (chiefly US) /'raɪtwəd/ or chiefly Brit right-wards /'raɪtwɔːdz/ adv : toward the right • Turn the boat rightward. • She stepped rightward into the light. • He has moved rightward in his political beliefs. — opposite LEFT-WARD

— rightward adj • a rightward turn right wing noun [singular] : the part of a political group that consists of people who support conservative or traditional ideas and policies : the part of a political group that belongs to or supports the Right • His nomination is supported by the party's left wing but opposed by the right wing.

right-wing /'raɪt'wɪŋ/ adj : of, relating to, or belonging to the political Right : having or supporting ideas and policies that are associated with conservative groups • right-wing politics/politicians

— right-wing-er /'raɪt'wɪŋə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • a policy opposed by right-wingers

righty /'raɪti/ noun, pl right-ies [count] chiefly US, informal : RIGHT-HANDER • Our starting pitcher is a righty. — compare LEFTY rig-id /'rɪdʒəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not able to be bent easily : STIFF • a rigid steel beam • The patient's legs were rigid.

2 : not easily changed • a rigid procedure • The periodical has rigid [=strict, inflexible] guidelines for submissions. • a rigid [=strict, unwavering] adherence to the rules

3 : not willing to change opinions or behavior • He is a rigid disciplinarian.

– ri-gid-i-ty /rəˈdʒɪdəti/ noun [noncount] • the rigidity of the plant's stem • the rigidity of the guidelines – rig-id-ly adv • The law was rigidly enforced. • The soldiers stood rigidly at attention.

rig·ma·role or US rig·a·ma·role /ˈrɪɡəməˌroul, ˈrɪgməˌroul, Brit ˈrɪgməˌrəʊl/ noun : a long, complicated, and annoying process, description, etc. [singular] We had to go through the rigmarole of installing, registering, and activating the software before we found out it wouldn't work. [noncount] He just told us what to do without all the usual rigamarole.

rig·or (US) or Brit rig·our /ˈrɪɡə/ noun, pl -ors

1 rigors [plural] : the difficult and unpleasant conditions or experiences that are associated with something • They underwent the rigors of military training. • the rigors of life in the wilderness

2 [noncount] : the quality or state of being very exact, careful, or strict • They conducted the experiments with scientific rigor. • a scholar known for her intellectual rigor rig·or mor·tis /ˌrɪɡəˈmoʊtəs/ noun [noncount] : a temporary stiffness of the body that happens soon after death rig·or·ous /ˈrɪɡərəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very strict and demanding • rigorous enforcement of the rules • rigorous training • a rigorous course of study

2 : done carefully and with a lot of attention to detail • We subjected the data to a rigorous analysis. • a rigorous investigation

3 : difficult to endure because of extreme conditions • a harsh, rigorous climate – rig·or·ous·ly adv • The rules must be rigorously followed. • The data was rigorously analyzed. – rig·or·ous·ness noun [noncount]

rile /ˈraɪəl/ verb riles; riled; ril·ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (someone) angry : to irritate or annoy (someone) • Her comments riled the professor. — usually + up • It doesn't take much to get him riled up. [=angry]

2 US, informal : to make (someone) very excited — usually + up • His antics got the kids all riled up.

¹rim /ˈrɪm/ noun, pl rims [count]

1 : the outer edge of a usually round object • There were chips on the rim of the plate. • eyeglasses with wire rims • The basketball bounced off the rim (of the hoop). • the rim of the volcano

2 : the part of a wheel that the tire is put on • He bought stainless steel rims for his new car. — see picture at BICYCLE – rim·less /ˈrɪmləs/ adj • rimless glasses

²rim verb rims; rimmed; rim·ming [+ obj] : to form or put a rim around (something) • Sharp rocks rimmed [=bordered] the pond. • She rimmed her eyes with eyeliner. • a porcelain bowl rimmed with gold

rime /ˈraɪm/ noun [noncount] : FROST • a heavy coating of rime • rime ice rimmed /ˈrɪmd/ adj : having a particular type of rim — used in combination • horn-rimmed glasses • dark-rimmed glasses • a gold-rimmed plate rind /ˈraɪnd/ noun, pl rinds

1 : the tough, outer skin of some fruits that is usually removed before the fruit is eaten [count] an orange rind • the rind of a watermelon [noncount] grated lemon rind — see color picture on page C5

2 [count, noncount] : a tough, outer surface of some foods (such as certain cheeses) • the rind of a cheese • bacon rind — see also PORK RIND

¹ring /ˈrɪŋ/ noun, pl rings [count]

1 a : a piece of jewelry that is worn usually on a finger • He gave her an engagement/diamond ring. — see color picture on page C11 b : a piece of jewelry that is shaped like a circle and worn in a special hole made in the skin • a navel/nose ring — see also EARRING

2 a : something that is shaped like a circle • He blew smoke rings. • the rings of the planet Saturn • Put the napkins in/through the napkin rings. • I can't find my key ring. [=a metal circle to which keys are attached] — see also ONION RING, TEETHING RING b : something that forms a circle around something else • They built a ring of houses around an open area. • The moon was surrounded by a ring of clouds. c : a circular or curved mark or shape • a white ring around the dog's eye • a ring of dirt in the bathtub • I hadn't slept all night and had dark rings [(more commonly) circles] under my eyes.

3 : an area that is used for shows and contests and is usually surrounded by ropes or a fence • a circus/rodeo ring • a boxing/wrestling ring — see also BULLRING

4 : a group of people who are involved in some illegal or dishonest activity • Police broke up a ring of car thieves. • a smuggling ring

5 Brit : the part on the top of a stove where the heat or flame is produced : BURNER rings around — used in phrases like run rings around to say that one person or thing is much better than others • There's an architect in our firm who runs rings around [=does much better work than] the rest of us. • These are talented kids who can dance rings around [=dance much better than] most of their peers.

throw/toss your hat in/into the ring see HAT

– compare ⁴RING

²ring verb rings; ringed; ring·ing [+ obj]

1 : to form a circle around (something or someone) : to surround (something or someone) • Police ringed the building. • Little cottages ring the lake.

2 Brit : to draw a circle around (something) • He ringed [=circled] the words that were misspelled.

– compare ³RING

– ringed /ˈrɪŋd/ adj • a bird with a ringed bill • Saturn, the ringed planet

³ring verb rings; rang /ˈræŋ/; rung /ˈrʌŋ/; ringing

1 a [+ obj] : to cause (an object or device, such as a bell) to make a sound • She rang the little bell. • Ring the doorbell. • When she discovered the fire she immediately rang [(more commonly) sounded] the alarm. b [no obj] of an object or device : to make a sound especially as a signal of something • The church bells were ringing. • The alarm/doorbell is ringing. • Excuse me, my cell phone is ringing. [=my cell phone is making the sound which signals that someone is calling] c [no obj] : to call someone or something by ringing a bell • You rang, madam? [=you rang a bell to call for me; how can I help you?] — usually + for • She rang for the servants. • He rang for a nurse.

2 [no obj] a : to fill a place or area with sound • Cheers rang through the hall as the winner was announced. • Gunshots rang in the air. — sometimes used figuratively • His words were still ringing in my ears/head. [=I was still thinking about or remembering what he had said] • She entered cautiously, the teacher's warning ringing in her ears. b : to be filled with the sound of something • The hall rang with their cheers. — sometimes used figuratively • The whole town rang with news of the victory. [=many people in the town were talking about the victory] c of the ears : to be filled with a sound that other people cannot hear • His ears were ringing after the concert.

3 [no obj] : to seem to have a specified quality or character • Her explanation didn't ring true. = Her explanation rang false. [=her explanation didn't seem true; it seemed false] • His apology rang hollow. [=his apology did not sound sincere]

4 chiefly Brit : to make a telephone call to someone or something : CALL [+ obj] I'll ring you (up) tomorrow. • He called me yesterday, and I rang him back today. [no obj] I rang this morning. • He's not here right now. Can you ring back later? have/get your bell rung see BELL ring a bell informal : to be familiar • Yes, that name rings a bell. • The term didn't ring a bell with me.

ring in [phrasal verb] 1 ring in (something) also ring (something) in : to celebrate the beginning of (something, such as a new year) • How did you ring in the new millennium? • We're going to New York to ring in the New Year. 2 chiefly Brit a : to make a telephone call to a place (such as the place where you work) • She rang in sick [(US) called in sick] yesterday. [=she telephoned the place where she works to say that she was sick and would not be coming to work] b : to make a telephone call to a radio or television program • Thousands of people rang in [(US) called in] to make a donation. 3 ring in at (an amount) : to cost (a certain amount of money) • These hats ring in at 200 dollars.

ring off [phrasal verb] Brit : to end a telephone call : to hang up • He said he didn't have time to talk and quickly rang off.

ring off the hook US, of a telephone : to ring constantly or frequently • The phone was ringing off the hook all morning. [=many people called during the morning] ring out [phrasal verb] : to be heard loudly and clearly • A shot rang out. [=a loud shot was heard] • Cheers rang out as the winner was announced.

ring the changes Brit : to make changes in order to do something differently, make it more interesting, etc. • The team's manager rang the changes at halftime so that more players would have a chance to play.

ring up [phrasal verb] ring (something) up or ring up (something) 1 : to use a special machine (called a cash register) to calculate the cost of (something, such as goods or services) • The cashier rang up our purchases. 2 : to achieve (something) • The company rang up huge profits last quarter. • She rang up another tournament win.

— compare ²RING

⁴ring noun, pl rings

1 [count] a : the sound that a bell makes • the ring of the doorbell b : the act of making a bell ring • He gave the doorbell a ring. [=he rang the doorbell]

2 [count] a : the sound that a telephone makes when someone is calling • The telephone's ring is loud. — compare RINGTONE b : one of the sounds in the series of sounds that a telephone makes when someone is calling • She waited until the third ring to answer the phone.

3 [singular] : a specified quality • Her story had a ring of truth about it. [=her story seemed true] • His name had a familiar ring to it. [=his name was familiar] give (someone) a ring chiefly Brit : to make a telephone call to (someone) • I'll give you a ring [=give you a call] tomorrow.

— compare ¹RING

ring binder noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a cover for sheets of paper that are fastened into rings that pass through holes on the edge of the paper ring-er /'rɪŋə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : someone who rings a bell • a bell ringer

2 : the part of a telephone that rings to signal that someone is calling • Turn off the ringer on the telephone.

3 informal : a person or animal that enters a contest illegally by using a false name, pretending not to have much skill, etc. • One of the players on the winning team was a ringer.

4 informal : someone who looks very much like another person • He's a ringer for the President. • She's a dead ringer for my cousin Julie. [=she looks exactly like my cousin Julie] ring-fence verb -fenc-es; -fenced; -fenc-ing [+ obj] Brit : to put (an amount of money) aside for a specific purpose : EARMARK • The money was ring-fenced for education programs.

ring finger noun, pl ~ -gers [count] : the third finger especially of your left hand when you count the index finger as the first finger — see picture at HAND ring-ing /'rɪŋɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun

1 a : very loud and clear • a ringing voice b : like the sound a bell or alarm makes • Do you hear that ringing sound?

2 : made forcefully or with confidence • a ringing endorsement/condemnation ring-lead-er /'rɪŋ,li:də/ noun, pl -ers [count] : the leader of a group that causes trouble or is involved in an illegal activity • the ringleader of a gang of criminals ring-let /'rɪŋlət/ noun, pl -lets [count] : a long curl of hair — usually plural • She wore her hair in ringlets.

ring-mas-ter /'rɪŋ,mæstə, Brit 'rɪŋ,mɑ:stə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person whose job is to introduce the performers in a circus and to talk to the audience between performances ring pull noun, pl ~ pulls [count] Brit : PULL TAB ring road noun, pl ~ roads [count] Brit : a road that goes around a city or town ring-side /'rɪŋ,said/ noun [noncount] : the area that is closest to the space used for circus acts, boxing matches, etc. : the seats that are closest to the ring • We were seated at ring-side.

— ringside adj, always used before a noun • We had ringside seats. — ringside adv • We sat ringside.

ring-tone /'rɪŋ,toun/ noun, pl -tones [count] : the sound that a cell phone makes when someone is calling ring toss noun, pl ~ tosses [count, noncount] US : a game in which players try to throw a ring so that it will fall over an upright stick ring-worm /'rɪŋ,wɜ:m/ noun [noncount] : a disease that causes ring-shaped marks to appear on the skin rink /'rɪŋk/ noun, pl rinks [count] : an often enclosed area that has a special surface of ice, smooth pavement, etc., and that is used for skating • an ice-skating/roller-skating rink • a hockey rink • The hockey team is practicing at the rink.

rinky-dink /'rɪŋki,dɪŋk/ adj, US, informal + disapproving : not very large or important : involving only a few people or only a small area • a rinky-dink operation/business • a rinky-dink [=small-time] drug dealer

¹rinse /'rɪns/ verb rins-es; rinsed; rins-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to wash (something) with clean water and without soap • I rinsed my face in the sink. • Rinse out your mouth. • Rinse (off) the apple before you eat it. • rinse (out) a cup • He washed the dishes and then rinsed them thoroughly. b : to wash (something) with a liquid other than clean water • The tools were rinsed in alcohol.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to remove (something) from an object by washing the object with clean water • She rinsed the dirt off the lettuce. • He rinsed the soap out of the cup.

²rinse noun, pl rinses

1 [count] : an act of washing something with a liquid and especially with clean water • Give the apple a rinse [=rinse the apple] before you eat it.

2 : liquid that is used for rinsing something [count] a mouth rinse [noncount] She dunked the dish in the rinse water. • Use sanitizing rinse on the scissors.

3 [count, noncount] : a dye that you put on your hair to change its color for a short time • a bottle of hair rinse

¹ri-ot /'raɪət/ noun, pl ri-ots

1 [count] : a situation in which a large group of people behave in a violent and uncontrolled way • The news about the election caused/started/sparked a riot in the city. • a prison riot • A lot of property was damaged in the recent riots. • riot gear/police

2 [singular] : a place that is filled with something • The field was a riot of wildflowers. [=the field was filled with many kinds of wildflowers] • The woods are a riot of color in the autumn.

3 [singular] informal : someone or something that is very funny • She's a riot. • The movie was an absolute riot.

read (someone) the riot act : to speak in an angry and critical way to (someone who has done something wrong) : to tell (someone) that bad behavior will be severely punished if it continues • His boss read him the riot act for making careless mistakes.

run riot : to behave in a violent and uncontrolled way • People were running riot in the streets. — often used figuratively • Crazy thoughts were running riot through my head. • The weeds have run riot over our poor garden. [=the weeds in our garden have grown quickly and have taken over the garden]

²riot verb riots; ri-ot-ed; ri-ot-ing [no obj] of a group of people : to behave in a violent and uncontrolled way • Students rioted after their team lost the football game.

— ri-ot-er noun, pl -ers [count] • Rioters looted the store.

— rioting noun [noncount] • Police stopped the rioting.

ri-ot-ous /'raɪətəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 of a group of people : behaving in a violent and uncontrolled way • a riotous assembly/crowd

2 : very exciting, fun, or full of energy • a riotous party/celebration • riotous humor

3 : existing or occurring in large amounts : ABUNDANT • a riotous profusion of flowers

— ri-ot-ous-ly adv • The fans celebrated riotously. • He gave a riotously funny performance.

¹rip /'rɪp/ verb rips; ripped; rip-ping

1 a [+ obj] : to tear, split, or open (something) quickly or violently • She ripped the fabric in half. • He ripped open the package. • The dog ripped the pillow to shreds/pieces. • The dog ripped a hole [=made a hole] in the pillow. • The force of the explosion ripped a hole in the wall. b [no obj] : to become torn or split • Her coat ripped when it caught on the doorknob. • The seam has ripped.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to remove (something) quickly or violently • I ripped the poster off the wall. • The sink had been ripped from the wall. • He ripped the page out of the magazine. • She ripped off her mask. • He ripped the letter from my hands.

3 [no obj] : to go or move very quickly through or into something • The fire ripped through the forest. • an epidemic that ripped through the region • The bullet ripped into her leg.

4 [+ obj] : to criticize (someone or something) in a very harsh or angry way • (US) The coach ripped [=ripped into] his team for their sloppy play. • His latest movie was ripped to shreds/pieces by the critics.

let rip informal 1 : to do something in a way that is full of anger or energy • For the concert finale, the band let rip with a fantastic version of the song that made them famous. • I don't think anyone expected the senator to let rip at the press conference like that. [=to speak in such an angry way] 2 let (something) rip : to make (a car, boat, machine, etc.) go very fast — usually used in phrases like let it rip and let her/er rip • Once we got the boat out into the open water, we let it rip.

rip apart [phrasal verb] 1 rip (something) apart or rip apart (something) : to completely destroy (something) by tearing it into pieces • The child ripped the toy apart. • Strong winds had ripped apart many of the little beach bungalows. — often used figuratively • a tragedy/scandal that almost ripped the family apart 2 rip (someone or something) apart or rip apart (someone or something) : to criticize (someone or something) in a very harsh or angry way especially by describing weaknesses, flaws, etc. • Critics ripped the author's latest novel apart. • an article that rips apart the mayor's plan rip into [phrasal verb] rip into (someone or something) : to criticize (someone or something) in a very harsh or angry way • The coach ripped into [=tore into] the team after the game. • She ripped into the band's last performance.

rip off [phrasal verb] informal 1 rip (someone) off or rip off (someone) : to steal from or cheat (someone) • Hundreds of people were ripped off in a scam involving two people who claimed to be collecting money for disaster victims. • The store had been ripping customers off for years. • I wasn't trying to rip you off. I thought $50 was a fair price. 2 rip (something) off or rip off (something) a : to steal (something) • The organization's treasurer ripped off almost $6,000 before being caught. • Somebody ripped off [=stole] all our equipment. = All our equipment got ripped off. [=stolen] b disapproving : to copy or imitate (something) improperly : to make something that is too much like (something made by someone else) • The film has done well, but its makers have been accused of ripping off another movie made 30 years ago. — see also RIP-OFF rip up [phrasal verb] rip (something) up or rip up (something) : to completely destroy (something) by tearing it into pieces • He ripped up the letter.

rip noun, pl rips [count] : a long tear in something • She has a rip in her coat.

R.I.P. or chiefly Brit RIP /ˌɑːˈaɪˈpiː/ abbr rest in peace ✧ R.I.P. is often written on a gravestone as a wish that the person buried there will have peace in death.

rip cord noun, pl ~ cords [count] : a cord or wire that is pulled to open a parachute ripe /ˈraɪp/ adj rip-er; rip-est [also more ~; most ~]

1 of fruits and vegetables : fully grown and developed and ready to be eaten • a ripe tomato • The apples are nearly ripe. — sometimes used figuratively • the violin's full, ripe sound • a story ripe with details [=a story that includes many details] — opposite UNRIPE

2 not used before a noun : ready or suitable for something — usually + for • The army was ripe for action. • a system that is ripe for abuse [=a system that is in such bad condition that it could easily be used wrongly] • The time was ripe for proposing his plan. • We'll make these changes when the time is ripe. 3 of food and especially cheese : brought to full flavor or the best state by being stored for a period of time • a ripe cheese 4 : having a strong and unpleasant smell • Those old sneakers smell pretty ripe.

ripe old age : a very old age • She took up painting at the ripe old age of 85. • They both lived to a ripe old age. — sometimes used humorously • She decided at the ripe old age of 23 that she'd learned all there was to know about human nature.

— ripe-ness noun [noncount] • Check the ripeness of the fruit before you buy it. • the cheese's ripeness

rip-en /ˈraɪpən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 [no obj] : to become ripe and ready to eat • The tomatoes finished ripening on the windowsill.

2 [+ obj] : to make (something) ripe • You can ripen the fruit by placing it in a paper bag and storing it at room temperature for a few days.

rip-off /ˈrɪpˌɔːf/ noun, pl -offs [count] informal + disapproving

1 : something that is too expensive : something that is not worth its price • The food was decent but the drinks were a rip-off. • The bike turned out to be a real rip-off.

2 : something that is too much like something made by someone else • The song is an obvious rip-off. • His new movie's just a rip-off of another movie made 30 years ago. — see also rip off at ¹RIP ri-poste /rɪˈpoust/ noun, pl -postes [count] formal : a quick and clever reply • a witty riposte [=retort]

ripped adj

1 : having rips : torn, split, or opened • She was wearing ripped jeans.

2 US, informal : having a strong and muscular body or shape with little fat • ripped [=chiseled] abs • a ripped body • He is ripped.

rip-ple /ˈrɪpəl/ verb rip-ples; rip-pled; rip-pling

1 : to move in small waves [no obj] Water rippled under the dock. • We could see the lion's muscles ripple. [+ obj] A cool breeze rippled the water.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to pass or spread through or over (someone or something) • Fear/excitement rippled through the room. [=people in the room suddenly felt fear/excitement] • Economists predict that these costs will ripple through the economy. [=will affect the entire economy]

ripple noun, pl ripples [count]

1 a : a small wave on the surface of a liquid • The pebble made ripples in the pond when I threw it in. b : a shape or pattern having small waves • ripples of sand

2 : a sound that gradually becomes louder and then quieter — usually + of • ripples of laughter

3 : something that passes or spreads through or over someone or something — usually singular; often + of • A ripple of fear/excitement spread through the room. [=people in the room suddenly felt fear/excitement]

ripple effect noun, pl ~ -fects [count] : a situation in which one event causes a series of other events to happen • These kinds of crimes create a ripple effect throughout the city. [=they cause more crimes, problems, etc.] • These costs will have a huge/major ripple effect on the economy. [=the costs will cause important changes in the economy]

rip-roar-ing /ˈrɪpˈrɔːrɪŋ/ adj, informal : very loud, lively, and exciting • a rip-roaring party

— rip-roaring adv • He was rip-roaring drunk. [=he was very drunk in a lively and noisy way] rip-tide /ˈrɪpˌtaɪd/ noun, pl -tides [count] : a strong usually narrow current of water that flows away from a shore rise /ˈraɪz/ verb ris-es; rose /ˈrouz/; ris-en /ˈrɪzn/; ris-ing /ˈraɪzɪŋ/ [no obj]

1 a : to move upward • Smoke was rising into the air. • Bubbles rose to the surface of water. • The airplane rose [= (more formally) ascended] into the sky. — often + up • Smoke was rising up into the air. • The airplane rose up from the runway. — sometimes used figuratively • His spirits rose [=he began to feel happier] when he heard the good news. b : to become higher • The tide rose and fell. • The river is rising. c : to slope or extend upward • The land rises as you move away from the coast. • The road rose gently/steeply. • a tower rising above the little town • steeply/sharply rising mountain peaks — often + up • The mountains rose up before us.

2 : to advance to a higher level or position : to become more popular, successful, etc. • a politician who rose to fame/power/prominence very quickly • Empires rise [=become powerful, important, etc.] and fall. • The book has risen to the top of best-seller lists. • She rose through the ranks of the company to become president. [=she began her career with the company with little power or authority and gradually gained more power and authority until she had become president] • She has risen in my estimation. [=I think more highly of her; I respect/admire her more]

3 a : to increase in amount, number, level, etc. : to become more • Sales have risen [=increased] in recent months. • People are angry about rising gasoline prices. • The population has been rising [=growing] dramatically/sharply/markedly. • Stocks rose (by) several points in early trading today. • The market is continuing to rise. b : to become stronger : to increase in strength • The wind rose in the afternoon. • My anger rose as I thought about what she had said. c : to become louder : to increase in volume • The music rose and fell. • Her voice rose to an angry shout.

4 a : to stand up • He rose slowly (to his feet). • She quickly rose from the chair and began to walk away. b : to get up from sleeping in a bed • He rose refreshed after a good night's sleep. • Rise and shine! [=wake up and get out of bed]

5 of the sun or moon : to appear above the horizon • The sun rises [=comes up] in the morning and sets at night. • We watched as the moon rose in the eastern sky. — opposite ¹SET 11

6 of bread, cake, etc. : to become bigger because of being filled with air bubbles made through a chemical process • Yeast will make the dough rise.

7 : to begin to fight in order to remove a ruler or government • The people rose in rebellion/revolt. — often + up • He told the people that they should rise up and overthrow the corrupt government.

8 : to live again after dying : to come back to life • a belief that the dead will rise again [=will live again] • Christians believe that Jesus Christ rose from the dead.

rise above [phrasal verb] rise above (something) 1 : to not allow yourself to be hurt or controlled by (something bad or harmful) • We need to rise above our anger/frustration and find a way to get along with each other. • She rose above the prejudice of her time to become a great civil rights leader. • It's time to rise above petty bickering/politics. 2 : to be or become better than (something) • The quality of the food never rises above average.

rise to the occasion/challenge : to make the special effort that is required to successfully deal with a difficult situation • No one was sure if he could handle the pressure of making a speech, but he rose to the occasion and did an excellent job. • When the company needed to increase its sales, its employees rose to the challenge.

your gorge rises see ¹GORGE

²rise noun, pl rises

1 [count] : an increase in amount, number, level, etc. — usually singular • There has been a sharp/dramatic rise in property values. • The town's population has grown by 200—a rise of more than 20 percent. • a steady rise [=increase] in the number of available jobs • a rise in prices/taxes = (chiefly Brit) a price/tax rise — opposite DECREASE

2 [singular] : an upward movement • We watched the rise and fall of the waves.

3 [singular] : the act of advancing to a higher level or position : the process by which something or someone becomes established, popular, successful, etc. • The book describes the empire's rise and fall. • the meteoric/sudden rise of the Internet • a politician's rise to fame/power/prominence • the rise of nationalism/feminism

4 [count] a : an upward slope • There was a gentle/steep rise in the road as we approached the town. b : an area of ground that is higher than the ground around it : a small hill • We could see the valley below us as we came over the rise.

5 [count] Brit : an increase in the amount of money paid to a worker : RAISE • I asked my boss for a rise. • a pay rise get a rise out of informal : to cause (someone) to react in an angry way : to make (someone) angry or upset • Ignore her. She's just trying to get a rise out of you.

give rise to : to cause or produce (something) • His strange behavior gave rise to rumors about his health. • The recent increase in prices has given rise to concerns about inflation.

on the rise 1 : increasing in amount, number, level, etc. • Prices were falling last year, but now they are on the rise again. • The water level in the lake is on the rise. 2 : becoming more successful, popular, etc. • an actress whose career is on the rise

ris·er /'raɪzə/ noun, pl -ers

1 [count] : a person who gets out of bed after sleeping — used in the phrases early riser and late riser • I'm an early/late riser. [=I get out of bed early/late in the morning]

2 [count] technical : the upright board between two stairs

3 risers [plural] US : a set of tall and wide steps for standing or sitting on • The school choir stood on the risers for the concert.

ris·i·ble /'rɪzəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + disapproving : deserving to be laughed at : very silly or unreasonable • a risible [= (more commonly) ridiculous] title • The suggestion was downright risible.

rising noun, pl -ings [count] chiefly Brit : a violent attempt by a group of people in a country to remove a leader or government : UPRISING • He was the leader of an armed rising against the elected government.

rising star noun, pl ~ stars [count] : a person who is quickly becoming popular, successful, etc. • a politician who is a rising star in the Republican/Democratic Party

¹risk /'rɪsk/ noun, pl risks

1 : the possibility that something bad or unpleasant (such as an injury or a loss) will happen [noncount] I prefer not to expose my money to too much risk. • The degree of risk is minimal. • All investments have/involve an element of risk. [count] The trip didn't seem like much of a risk. • I'm aware of the risks associated with this treatment. • There is a risk of liver damage with this medication. • Wearing a seatbelt greatly reduces the risk of injury or death in a car accident. • We feel that this product presents a significant risk to public health. • To me, skydiving is not worth the risk.

2 [count] : someone or something that may cause something bad or unpleasant to happen • Smoking is a risk to your lungs. • Kids think it's fun, but they don't realize the risks involved. • Excess body fat is a serious/significant health risk. • The government claims she is a risk to national security. — see also SECURITY RISK

3 [count] : a person or thing that someone judges to be a good or bad choice for insurance, a loan, etc. • Drivers who are considered poor risks have to pay more for car insurance. • The bank will determine if a potential borrower is a good/bad credit risk. [=someone who is likely/unlikely to pay back money the bank loans]

at risk : in a dangerous situation : in a situation in which something bad or harmful could happen • They believe that the policy puts the country at risk. • people who are at risk of developing heart disease [=who might develop heart disease] • The program is designed for students who are at risk for/of failure. [=who are in danger of failing] • Many residents remain at risk from floodwaters. • He placed his life at risk to save them. [=he risked his life to save them] • The firefighter went back into the burning building to save the dog—at considerable risk to his own life.

at the risk of (doing something) : despite the possibility of (doing something that could be considered improper, wrong, etc.) • At the risk of being/sounding rude, I have to ask you how old you are. [=I have to ask how old you are even though you may consider me rude for asking] • At the risk of sounding repetitive, I want to say again that our basic problem is a lack of effective leadership.

at your own risk : with full understanding that what you are doing is dangerous and that you are responsible for your own safety • There's no lifeguard here, so if you swim you'll be doing it at your own risk.

calculated risk see CALCULATED run a risk : to do something that may result in loss, failure, etc. • He is not afraid of running risks. [= (more commonly) taking risks] run the risk of : to do something that may result in (something bad or unpleasant happening) • You run the risk of being misunderstood if you don't explain your purpose carefully. • That strategy runs the risk of undermining their authority. • It's a dangerous policy that runs the risk of failure/failing.

take a risk : to do something that may result in loss, failure, etc. • Every time you invest money, you're taking a risk.

²risk verb risks; risked; risk·ing [+ obj]

1 : to put (something) in a situation in which it could be lost, damaged, etc. • She risked her life to save her children. • He risked all his money on starting his own business. — see also risk life and limb at ¹LIFE, risk your neck at ¹NECK

2 : to do something that could result in (something bad or unpleasant) • He risked breaking his neck. • She's risking being considered too sentimental. • The country risked a war. • brave people who risked being killed to help others • I'm not willing to risk getting lost. I'm going to buy a map. • The company is risking the loss of millions of dollars.

3 : to do (something that may have harmful or bad results) • It's not wise to risk traveling so soon after surgery. • We should stop for more gas. We probably have enough, but I don't want to risk it. [=I don't want to possibly not have enough gas] risk factor noun, pl ~ -tors [count] : something that increases risk; especially : something that makes a person more likely to get a particular disease or condition • Age is one of the risk factors for this disease.

risk-taking noun [noncount] : the act or fact of doing something that involves danger or risk in order to achieve a goal • Starting a business always involves some risk-taking.

— risk-taker noun, pl -ers [count] • I'm not much of a risk-taker. [=I don't like to take risks]

risky /'rɪski/ adj risk·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : involving the possibility of something bad or unpleasant happening : involving risk • The proposal seems risky. • It's not as risky [=dangerous] as people think. • a less/slightly risky investment • Her plan is too risky. • Love is a risky business.

[=love involves the possibility of being hurt] • It's a risky move [=an action that may result in something bad or unpleasant happening] for the company.

— risk-i-ness noun [noncount] • I don't like the riskiness of the plan.

ri-sot-to /rɪ'sɑ:tou/ noun, pl -tos [count, noncount] : an Italian dish made with rice and often vegetables or meat

ris-qué /rɪ'skeɪ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : referring to sex in a rude and slightly shocking way • a risqué joke/topic • a song with risqué lyrics

ris-sole /rɪ'soul/ noun, pl -soles [count] Brit : a small mass or ball of chopped and fried meat

Rit-a-lin /rɪ'tələn/ trademark — used for a drug that is given to people who suffer from attention deficit disorder

rite /raɪt/ noun, pl rites [count] : an act that is part of a usually religious ceremony • Incense is often burned in their religious rites. • funeral/purification rites • Police suspect that the crime was a gang initiation rite. [=an act that someone must do in order to officially join a gang] — see also LAST RITES rite of passage noun, pl rites of passage [count] : an act that is a symbol of an important change in someone's life • Her ears were pierced as a rite of passage. • For many, going to college is a rite of passage.

¹rit-u-al /rɪ'tʃəwəl/ noun, pl -als

1 : a formal ceremony or series of acts that is always performed in the same way [count] a religious ritual • an ancient fertility ritual • The priest will perform the ritual. [noncount] He was buried simply, without ceremony or ritual.

2 : an act or series of acts done in a particular situation and in the same way each time [count] the daily ritual of preparing breakfast • the bird's mating ritual [noncount] His day-to-day life is based on ritual.

²ritual adj, always used before a noun

1 : done as part of a ceremony or ritual • a ritual dance • perform a ritual purification

2 : always done in a particular situation and in the same way each time • ritual acts • a ritual greeting/gesture

— rit-u-al-ly adv

rit-u-al-is-tic /rɪ'tʃəwə'lɪstɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : relating to or done as part of a rite or ritual • ritualistic acts • the ritualistic use of incense

— rit-u-al-is-ti-cal-ly /rɪ'tʃəwə'lɪstɪkli/ adv

ritzy /rɪtzi/ adj ritz-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal : very fashionable and expensive often in a showy way • a ritzy resort/club/wedding

¹ri-val /rɪ'væl/ noun, pl -vals [count]

1 : a person or thing that tries to defeat or be more successful than another • The teams have been longtime rivals. • The men are romantic rivals for her affection. • her rival [=competitor, opponent] in the election • the company's chief/main rival — often used before another noun • a rival team/gang/candidate/company/school • He told a rival version of the story. [=a version that disagrees with another version]

2 : something or someone that is as good or almost as good as another person or thing • The company's paper is the rival of any in the world. [=it is as good as any paper in the world] • The company's latest cell phone has no rival/rivals. [=the company's newest cell phone is much better than all others available]

²rival verb rivals; US ri-valed or Brit ri-valled; US ri-val-ing or Brit ri-val-ling [+ obj] : to be as good or almost as good as (someone or something) • The company manufactures paper that rivals the world's best. • The new museum will rival the largest in the world.

ri-val-ry /rɪ'vælri/ noun, pl -ries : a state or situation in which people or groups are competing with each other [count] There is a bitter/friendly rivalry between the two groups. [noncount] a strong sense of rivalry • In our family there was plenty of sibling rivalry. [=competition or jealousy between sisters and brothers]

rive /raɪv/ verb rives; rived; riv-en /rɪvən/; riv-ing [+ obj] formal : to divide or split (something) especially in a forceful or violent way — usually used as (be) riven • The country was riven by civil war. • a family riven with jealousy river /rɪvə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a large natural flow of water that crosses an area of land and goes into an ocean, a lake, etc. • the Mississippi River • The raft is too small to use on this part of the river. • They have a house on the river. [=on land next to the river] • Large boats came up/down the river. [=in the opposite/same direction that the river is flowing] • the mouth of the river = the river's mouth = the river mouth [=the place where the river enters the ocean] — see color picture on page C7; compare STREAM

2 : a large flow of something • Rivers of mud flowed down the hillside. — often + of • The jet stream is a river of air. • I cried a river of tears. [=I cried a lot]

sell (someone) down the river see ¹SELL up the river US, old-fashioned + informal : to prison • They sent him up the river for 10 years.

river-bank /rɪvə'bæŋk/ noun, pl -banks [count] : the ground at the edge of a river • They set up their camp next to the riverbank. [=next to the edge of the river]

river-bed /rɪvə'bed/ noun, pl -beds [count] : the ground at the bottom of a river river-boat /rɪvə'bɔ:t/ noun, pl -boats [count] : a boat that is used on a river river-front /rɪvə'frʌnt/ noun, pl -fronts [count] chiefly US : the land that is next to a river • We went for a walk down at the riverfront. — often used before another noun • riverfront property river-side /rɪvə'saɪd/ noun, pl -sides [count] : the land that is next to a river • We walked along the riverside. — often used before another noun • a riverside community/camp

¹riv-et /rɪvət/ noun, pl -ets [count] : a special kind of metal bolt or pin that is used to hold pieces of metal together

²rivet verb -ets; -et-ed; -et-ing [+ obj]

1 : to attract and hold all of someone's attention — usually used as (be) riveted • I was riveted by her story. [=her story was so interesting that I was giving all of my attention to it] • All eyes were riveted on her as she walked past. [=everyone watched her as she walked past] • the kind of performance that keeps an audience riveted

2 : to make (someone) unable to move because of fear, shock, etc. — usually used as (be) riveted • He was riveted to the spot with fright/amazement. • She stood riveted in place, staring straight ahead.

3 : to fasten (something) with rivets • The iron plates are riveted rather than welded.

— riv-et-er noun, pl -ers [count] • He worked as a riveter in an airplane factory.

riv-et-ing /rɪvətɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very exciting or interesting • The movie/book/narrative was riveting. • a riveting story

Ri-vi-era /rɪvi'ɛrə/ noun

the Riviera : an area by the sea that has warm weather and is a popular place for people to go for vacations • the French/Italian Riviera riv-u-let /rɪvju:lət/ noun, pl -lets [count] : a small stream of water or liquid • rivulets of water/sweat

rm. abbr room

¹RN /rɪ'æn/ noun, pl RNs [count] : REGISTERED NURSE

²RN abbr, Brit Royal Navy

RNA /rɪ'æŋ'eɪ/ noun [noncount] technical : a substance in the cells of plants and animals that helps make proteins — called also ribonucleic acid; compare DNA

¹roach /rəʊʃ/ noun, pl roach-es [count]

1 US : COCKROACH

2 informal : the part of a marijuana cigarette that is left after it has been smoked

— compare ²ROACH

²roach noun, pl roach also roaches [count] : a small European fish that lives in rivers and lakes — compare ¹ROACH road /rəʊd/ noun, pl roads

1 : a hard flat surface for vehicles, people, and animals to travel on [count] a paved/gravel/dirt road • We'll cross the road up ahead at the crosswalk. • He drove off the road. • We parked by the side of the road. • There are lots of cars on the road this morning. • The roads around here are pretty bad. [=the roads are in bad condition] • This is a busy road. [=many cars, trucks, etc., use this road] • These country/mountain roads are beautiful. • icy roads • The post office is up/down this road a bit. [=a short distance further on this road] • There's likely to be a lot of traffic on the main/major roads [=the roads most commonly used], so you may want to take back/side roads. [=roads that are less commonly used and that do not go through the main part of a city, town, etc.] • the county's public/private roads — often used in names • The library is on River Road. [noncount] a desolate stretch of road • Miles of road lay ahead. • The cabin is accessible by road. • traveling on the open road [=on roads that are away from cities and towns] — see also MIDDLE-OF-THE-

ROAD, OFF-ROAD, SERVICE ROAD

2 [count] : a process or a course of action that leads to a certain result • the road to riches/success/victory • They're heading down a dangerous road. [=they're following a course of action that could lead to a bad result] • She had a stroke recently but is on the road to recovery. [=in the process of becoming healthy again] • I've been/gone down this road before. [=I've had this kind of experience before; I've done this kind of thing before] — see also HIGH ROAD

down the road : in or into the future • We don't know what the situation will be like a month/year down the road. • They hope to expand the business somewhere down the road. [=at some time in the future] for the road — used to refer to an alcoholic drink that you have quickly before leaving a place • I'll just have one (more) for the road. [=I'll have one more drink before I leave]

get the/this show on the road see ²SHOW

hit the road informal : to begin a journey • We got up early and hit the road around 7:00. : to go away : LEAVE • Well, I guess it's time to hit the road. • She angrily told him to hit the road. [=get lost] on the road 1 : traveling especially in a car, truck, bus, etc. • We've been on the road since Tuesday. • Musicians often spend many months on the road. 2 of a vehicle a : being used • You don't see too many of those cars on the road anymore. b : in good enough condition to be legally driven • It will cost $1,500 to get the car back on the road.

the end of the road see ¹END

road-block /'roud,blɔ:k/ noun, pl -blocks [count]

1 : a place where police or military officers stop drivers especially in order to examine vehicles

2 US : something that stops progress • That's the one road-block to the plan. • roadblocks on the path to success road hog noun, pl ~ hogs [count] informal + disapproving : someone who drives a vehicle in a way that blocks other drivers road-house /'roud,haus/ noun, pl -houses [count] US, old-fashioned : a restaurant or bar that is on a main road outside a city or town road-ie /'roudi/ noun, pl -ies [count] informal : a person whose job is to help move and set up the equipment of traveling musicians road-kill /'roud,kɪl/ noun [noncount] : animals that have been killed by being hit by cars and other vehicles • There is a lot of roadkill along the highway.

road map noun, pl ~ maps [count]

1 : a map that shows the roads in a particular area • Did you bring a road map?

2 chiefly US : a plan for achieving a goal • a road map to/for peace road rage noun [noncount] : anger and aggressive behavior by a driver who is upset by how another person is driving road-run-ner /'roud,rʌnə/ noun, pl -ners [count] : a North American bird that lives in the desert and runs very fast road show noun, pl ~ shows [count] : a group of people who travel to different places to entertain people or to advertise something road-side /'roud,said/ noun [noncount] : the land that is along a road : the area beside a road • a hamburger stand on/by/at the roadside — often used before another noun • a roadside restaurant • roadside vegetation road sign noun, pl ~ signs [count] : a sign near a road that has information for drivers road-ster /'roudstə/ noun, pl -sters [count] : a car that has two seats and a fabric top that folds back road test noun, pl ~ tests [count]

1 : a test to see how well a vehicle works when it is driven on roads • The car performed well on the road test.

2 US : a test to see how well someone is able to drive a car or other vehicle • I have to take a road test [=driving test] before I can get my license.

— road test verb ~ tests; ~ tested; ~ testing [+ obj] • The car has not yet been road tested.

road trip noun, pl ~ trips [count] US

1 : a long trip in a car, truck, etc. • a cross-country road trip

2 : a trip that is taken by a sports team in order to play one or more games • The team won three of five games on its road trip.

road warrior noun, pl ~ -riors [count] chiefly US, informal : a person who travels a lot especially as part of his or her job road-way /'roud,wei/ noun, pl -ways [count] : the part of a road that is used by vehicles • Police cleared the roadway for the parade.

• a lightweight laptop computer that's perfect for road warriors

road-work /'roud,wɜ:k/ noun [noncount] US : work that is done to build or repair roads • The roadwork caused a back-up in traffic. — called also (Brit) roadworks road-wor-thy /'roud,wɜ:ði/ adj : safe and suitable for using on a road • a roadworthy vehicle — compare AIRWORTHY, SEAWORTHY — road-wor-thi-ness noun [noncount] • The trucks were all tested for roadworthiness.

roam /'roum/ verb roams; roamed; roam-ing : to go to different places without having a particular purpose or plan [no obj] The cattle roamed in search of water. • Goats roam free on the mountain. • He roamed about in search of work. • The chickens are able to roam around freely in the farm-yard. • We roamed around town for a while before dinner. • She liked to roam through the woods. [+ obj] Sheep roamed the hills. • Tourists roamed the streets. • She spent the day roaming [=surfing] the Internet. • His eyes roamed [=he looked carefully around] the room in search of the cat.

roaming noun [noncount] : the use of a cell phone in an area that is outside the usual area and that requires the use of a different network • There are high fees for roaming. — often used before another noun • roaming charges/fees

roan /'roun/ noun, pl roans [count] : a horse that has white hairs mixed in with hairs of a darker color

— roan adj, always used before a noun • a roan horse/mare/colt

¹roar /'rɔə/ verb roars; roared; roar-ing

1 [no obj] a : to make the loud sound of a wild animal (such as a lion) • We heard a lion roar in the distance. b : to make a long, loud sound • The guns/siren roared. • The fans were roaring [=yelling and cheering loudly] after their team scored. • The campfire was roaring. [=the campfire was burning brightly and loudly] • The engine suddenly roared (back) to life [=it made the loud sound of an engine and began running well] — sometimes used figuratively • His career suddenly roared back to life.

2 [no obj] : to laugh loudly • The joke got the crowd roaring. • The audience roared with laughter. [=the audience laughed loudly for a long time]

3 : to shout (something) very loudly [+ obj] "Watch out," he roared. • The crowd roared its approval. — often + out • The general roared out his orders. [no obj] She roared at him for being late.

4 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move noisily and quickly • The truck roared away/off. • The car roared down the street. • The wind roared through the open barn. — sometimes used figuratively • The team came roaring back in the second half to win the game.

²roar noun, pl roars [count]

1 : the loud sound of a wild animal (such as a lion)

2 : a loud, low sound that continues for a long time • the roar of the airplane engines • the roar of the river/crowd • roars of laughter/approval

¹roaring /'rɔrɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun : very loud, active, or strong • the roaring river • a roaring fire • The store does a roaring business/trade. [=the store is very busy and successful] • The show was a roaring success. [=a very great success] • life during the roaring twenties [=the 1920s, when many people lived in a very wild and lively way]

²roaring adv, informal : extremely or very • We had a roaring good time. • He was roaring drunk. [=very drunk]

¹roast /'roust/ verb roasts; roast-ed; roast-ing

1 a : to cook (food such as chicken, potatoes, or beef) with dry heat in an oven or over a fire [+ obj] He roasted the chicken. [no obj] The chicken is roasting in the oven. — compare BAKE, GRILL b : to dry (something, such as a bean or nut) with heat [+ obj] We roasted the peanuts over the fire. [no obj] The peanuts roasted over the fire.

2 [no obj] informal : to be very hot • We were roasting in the hot sun. • You must be roasting [=baking, sweltering] in that sweater.

3 [+ obj] informal : to criticize (someone or something) severely • The movie is being roasted by the critics.

4 [+ obj] US, informal : to criticize (someone who is being honored at a special event) in a friendly or joking way : to tell jokes or funny stories about (someone) • Friends and family roasted him at his 40th birthday party.

— roasted adj • roasted potatoes/garlic/tomatoes • roasted coffee beans • roasted peanuts — roasting adj • the smell of roasting meat • a roasting pan [=a pan used for roasting]

²roast noun, pl roasts

1 : a piece of meat that is roasted [count] She made a roast for dinner. [noncount] We're having pork roast for dinner. — see also POT ROAST

2 [count] US : an outdoor party at which food is cooked over an open fire • a pig roast

3 [count] US : an event at which someone is honored and people tell jokes or funny stories about that person in a friendly way • a celebrity roast

³roast adj, always used before a noun : cooked by roasting • roast [=roasted] chicken/pork/potatoes

roast-er /'roustə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a device used for roasting meat

2 chiefly US : a young chicken that is suitable for roasting — compare BROILER, FRYER roasting noun [singular] Brit : the act of severely criticizing someone • My father gave me a roasting [=yelled at me] for coming home late. • He got a roasting from his boss. [=his boss criticized him severely]

rob /'rɑ:b/ verb robs; robbed; rob-bing [+ obj]

1 : to take money or property from (a person or a place) illegally and sometimes by using force, violence, or threats • Someone tried to rob me. • They robbed the bank. • The cashier was robbed at gunpoint. — often + of • They robbed her of her life savings. • He was robbed of all his money. — sometimes used figuratively • You paid $300 to fix that old car? You got robbed. [=you were overcharged; you spent too much]

2 : to keep (someone) from getting something expected or wanted • He made a great shot, but the goalie robbed him. [=the goalie blocked his shot and prevented him from scoring a goal] — often + of • The other team robbed them of a victory by getting a last-minute goal. • The center fielder made a great catch to rob him of a home run. • Her illness robbed her of a normal childhood. [=she wasn't able to have a normal childhood because of her illness]

rob Peter to pay Paul : to take money that was meant for one person or thing and use it to pay someone else or to pay for something else • She was trying to keep her creditors at bay by robbing Peter to pay Paul. [=using one credit card to make the payments on another credit card] rob (someone) blind : to steal a lot of things or money from someone • If you're not careful, they'll rob you blind.

rob the cradle see ¹CRADLE

rob-ber /'rɑ:bə/ noun, pl -bers [count] : a criminal who steals money or property : a thief who robs people • The store was held up by a gang of robbers. • a bank robber

robber baron noun, pl ~ -ons [count] old-fashioned : a wealthy person who tries to get land, businesses, or more money in a way that is dishonest or wrong

rob-bery /'rɑ:bəri/ noun, pl -ber-ies : the crime of stealing money or property : the crime of robbing a person or place [count] a series of armed robberies • They foiled a bank robbery. [noncount] He is charged with attempted robbery. • She was arrested for robbery. — see also HIGHWAY ROBBERY robe /'roub/ noun, pl robes [count]

1 : a long, loose piece of clothing that is worn on top of other clothes to show that someone has a high rank or an important job • The priest wore a purple robe. — often plural • a judge's robes • The king was dressed in red robes.

2 chiefly US : a loose piece of clothing that wraps around your body and that you wear before or after bathing, swimming, etc., or while resting at home — called also dressing gown; see also BATHROBE

robed /'roubd/ adj : covered with a robe : dressed in robes • The priests were robed in black. • robed monks

rob-in /'rɑ:bən/ noun, pl -ins [count]

1 : a North American bird with a grayish back and reddish breast — see color picture on page C9

2 : a small European bird with a brownish back and orange face and breast

ro-bot /'rou,bɑ:t/ noun, pl -bots [count]

1 : a real or imaginary machine that is controlled by a computer and is often made to look like a human or animal • a talking toy robot • science fiction robots • a robot dog — sometimes used figuratively to describe a person who seems to do things automatically or who seems to have no feelings or emotions • He answered the questions like a robot.

2 : a machine that can do the work of a person and that works automatically or is controlled by a computer • The cars are assembled by robots. • robot technology

— ro-bot-ic /rou'ba:tɪk/ adj • A robotic arm is used to mix the chemicals. • robotic movements — ro-bot-i-cal-ly /rou'ba:tɪkli/ adv • The cars are assembled robotically. • He answered their questions robotically.

ro-bot-ics /rou'ba:tɪks/ noun [noncount] : technology that is used to design, build, and operate robots ro-bust /rou'bast/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : strong and healthy • robust young men and women • He is in robust health.

2 a : strongly formed or built • robust furniture b : successful or impressive and not likely to fail or weaken • a robust company • a robust economy • She offered a robust [=forceful] argument against the plan. c : impressively large • a robust [=heartily] dinner • robust profits

3 : having a rich, strong flavor • a robust [=full-bodied] wine • The sauce has a robust flavor.

— ro-bust-ly adv • robustly healthy young men and women • The food was robustly seasoned. — ro-bust-ness /rou'bastnəs/ noun, pl -nesses [count, noncount]

¹rock /'rɑ:k/ verb rocks; rocked; rock-ing

1 : to move (someone or something) back and forth or from side to side [+ obj] She gently rocked the baby to sleep. • Waves rocked the boat. [no obj] He rocked back and forth while he stood waiting. • The boat rocked back and forth on the waves.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to shake violently • An earthquake rocked the town. • The building was rocked by an explosion. — sometimes used figuratively • The discovery rocked [=shook] the very foundations of their theory.

3 [+ obj] informal a : to cause (someone or something) to be upset or shocked • The news of the murders rocked the town. b : to affect or influence (someone or something) very powerfully • Their invention rocked the computer industry. c : to entertain (someone) in a very powerful and effective way • The band rocked the crowd. • His performance rocked the house. [=the audience loved his performance] • The new video game will rock your world. [=you will really like the new video game]

4 [no obj] informal : to sing, dance to, or play rock music • We were rocking all night long.

5 [no obj] slang : to be very enjoyable, pleasing, or effective • Her new car really rocks. [=her new car is really great] rock out [phrasal verb] informal : to play music in a loud or energetic way • The band rocks out on their new album.

rock the boat see ¹BOAT

— rocking noun, pl -ings [count, noncount] • a slow rocking

²rock noun, pl rocks

1 a [noncount] : the hard, solid material that the surface of the Earth is made of • They drilled through several layers of solid rock. • Moss can grow on bare rock. • The miners made a tunnel through the rock. • volcanic rock — often used before another noun • The mountain had many amazing rock formations. — see also BEDROCK, SHEETROCK b [count] : a piece of rock • a flat rock • (US) We threw rocks [=stones] into the water. • a pile of rocks c [count] : a large piece of rock that sticks up from the surface of the Earth • She climbed the rock. • The ship crashed into the rocks.

2 — used in phrases to say that something is very hard, steady, etc. • This bread is (as) hard as a rock. = The bread is rock-hard. [=the bread is very hard] • Her hand was steady as a rock. [=her hand was very steady] • His muscles are solid as a rock. [=very strong/solid] • The frozen chicken is rock-solid. • The beat of the drum was rock-steady.

3 [singular] informal a : a strong person who can be relied on • We could always count on him—he was our rock. b : someone whose ideas, values, ways of doing things, etc., do not change • Once she makes up her mind, she's (like) a rock. [=nobody can change her mind once she decides something]

4 [count] informal : a diamond or other jewel • Look at the size of that rock on her finger.

5 [noncount] Brit : hard candy that is made in a stick • a stick of rock — compare ROCK CANDY

6 [count] informal : a small hard piece of a drug • a rock of crack cocaine between a rock and a hard place informal : in a very difficult or bad position or situation with no good way of getting out of it • He is caught/stuck between a rock and a hard place.

get your rocks off informal 1 of a man : to have an orgasm 2 : to feel great pleasure or satisfaction • He gets his rocks off bossing everyone around.

live under a rock : to be unaware of things that most people know about • How could you have not heard about it? Do you live under a rock?

on the rocks 1 : having a lot of problems and likely to fail • Their marriage is on the rocks. [=in trouble] 2 of an alcoholic drink : with ice cubes • He ordered a whiskey/Scotch on the rocks.

— compare ³ROCK

³rock noun [noncount] : a kind of popular music with a strong beat that is played on instruments that are made louder electronically • My favorite types of music are jazz and rock. — often used before another noun • rock music • a rock concert/band/star — see also HARD ROCK, SOFT ROCK — compare ²ROCK rock-a-bil-ly /'rɑ:kəbili/ noun [noncount] : a kind of popular music that combines rock and country music rock and roll or rock 'n' roll /,rɑ:kən'roul/ noun [noncount] : rock music

— rock and roll-er or rock 'n' roll-er /,rɑ:kən'roulə/ noun, pl ~ -ers [count]

rock bottom noun [noncount] : the lowest possible level or point • Prices have hit/reached rock bottom. [=have reached the lowest point they can reach] • After years of heavy drug use, she has finally reached rock bottom. • Their marriage has hit rock bottom.

rock-bottom adj, always used before a noun, of a price : very low • The furniture is being sold at rock-bottom prices.

rock candy noun [noncount] US : hard candy that is made on a string rock climbing noun [noncount] : the sport or activity of climbing the steep sides of a mountain or cliff • a book about rock climbing • We are going rock climbing.

— rock climb verb ~ climbs; ~ climbed; ~ climbing [no obj] • He rock climbs and skydives. — rock climber noun, pl ~ -ers [count] • She's a skillful rock climber.

rock-er /'rɑ:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a curved piece of wood or metal on which an object (such as a cradle or chair) moves back and forth or from side to side

2 chiefly US : ROCKING CHAIR

3 a : someone who plays or performs rock music b : someone who enjoys listening to rock music off your rocker informal : CRAZY • You must be off your rocker if you think I'm going to do that!

rock-ery /'rɑ:kəri/ noun, pl -er-ies [count] chiefly Brit : ROCK GARDEN

¹rock-et /'rɑ:kət/ noun, pl -ets

1 [count] : a type of very powerful engine that is powered by gases that are released from burning fuel • a car powered by a rocket = a rocket-powered car — often used before another noun • a rocket engine

2 [count] : a spacecraft or missile that is powered by a rocket engine • a moon rocket • anti-aircraft rockets • a rocket launcher

3 [count] : a firework that goes high in the air before exploding — called also skyrocket

4 [noncount] Brit : ARUGULA

²rocket verb -ets; -et-ed; -et-ing

1 [no obj] : to increase quickly and suddenly • Prices rocketed. [=skyrocketed] • Sales rocketed from 1,000 units last week to 5,000 units this week. — often + up • Interest rates have been rocketing up.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move or rise quickly [no obj] The train rocketed through the tunnel. • The spacecraft rocketed into outer space. • He rocketed to stardom. • Her novel rocketed to the top of the best-seller list. • Their album rocketed up the charts. [+ obj] His role in the movie rocketed him to fame.

rocket science noun [noncount]

1 : the science of designing or building rockets

2 : something that is very difficult to learn or understand • The job is challenging, but it's not exactly rocket science.

— rocket scientist noun, pl ~ -tists [count] • You don't have to be a rocket scientist [=you don't have to be unusually smart] to understand the instructions.

rocket ship noun, pl ~ ships [count] : a spaceship that is powered by rockets rock garden noun, pl ~ -dens [count] : a garden in which plants grow between rocks — called also (chiefly Brit) rock-ery rocking chair noun, pl ~ chairs [count] : a chair that moves back and forth on rockers that are attached to its legs

— see picture at LIVING ROOM rocking horse noun, pl ~ horses [count] : a toy horse that is attached to rockers and that moves back and forth while a child sits on it

rock 'n' roll variant spelling of ROCK AND ROLL

rock salt noun [noncount] : salt that is in the form of large pieces or crystals • I put some rock salt on the sidewalk to melt the ice.

rock-slide /'rɑ:k,slaid/ noun, pl -slides [count] : a large mass of rocks that suddenly and quickly moves down the side of a mountain or hill • a dangerous rockslide

rocky /'rɑ:ki/ adj rock-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : full of rocks : having many rocks • The soil is very rocky. • a rocky coastline

2 : full of problems or difficulties • a rocky journey/marriage • The team had a rocky start this season. • He knew he had a long rocky road ahead of him if he wanted to become a doctor. [=he knew that becoming a doctor would be very difficult]

ro-co-co /rə'koukou/ adj : of or relating to a style of artistic expression that involves fancy curved forms and much decoration and was popular in the 18th century • The chairs are carved in a rococo style. • rococo art rod /'rɑ:d/ noun, pl rods [count]

1 : a straight, thin stick or bar • a curtain rod — see also LIGHTNING ROD, RAMROD

2 : a pole with a line and usually a reel that is used in fishing • a fishing rod

3 old-fashioned : a stick used to hit or whip someone as a form of punishment • He grew up in a time when people still believed in the old saying: spare the rod and spoil the child. [=believed that children should be physically punished for bad behavior in order to be raised correctly] rule with a rod of iron see ²RULE

— see also HOT ROD

rode past tense of ¹RIDE

ro-dent /'roudn̩t/ noun, pl -dents [count] : a small animal (such as a mouse, rat, squirrel, or beaver) that has sharp front teeth — see picture on next page ro-deo /'roudi,ou, rou'dejou/ noun, pl -de-os [count] : an event in which people compete at riding horses and bulls, catching animals with ropes, etc.

roe /'rou/ noun, pl roes [count, noncount] : the eggs of a fish or sea animal • salmon roe

rog-er /'rɑ:ɔʒə/ interj — used to say that a message has been received and understood when you are talking to someone on a radio

¹rogue /'roug/ noun, pl rogues [count]

1 old-fashioned : a man who is dishonest or immoral • a lying rogue [=scoundrel]

2 : a man who causes trouble in a playful way • He's a lovable old rogue.

²rogue adj, always used before a noun — used to describe something or someone that is different from others in usually a dangerous or harmful way • A rogue wave flipped the boat over. • rogue police officers [=dishonest police officers who commit crimes] • rogue states/regimes [=dangerous states/regimes that do not obey international laws] • a rogue elephant [=a dangerous elephant that lives apart from other elephants] rogues' gallery noun [singular]

1 : a collection of pictures of criminals

2 : a collection or list of bad or dangerous people or things • a rogues' gallery of dictators • a rogues' gallery of deadly viruses

rogu-ish /'rougiʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : showing in a playful way that you have done something wrong • a roguish wink/smile

— rogu-ish-ly adv

roil /'rojəl/ verb roils; roiled; roil-ing chiefly US

1 [+ obj] : to upset (someone or something) very much : to cause (someone or something) to become very agitated or disturbed • Financial markets have been roiled by the banking crisis.

2 [no obj] : to move in a violent and confused way • roiling river rapids — often used figuratively • A lot of different emotions were roiling (around) inside her. [=she was experiencing many emotions in a way that was disturbing or confusing]

role /'roul/ noun, pl roles [count]

1 : the character played by an actor • He plays the role of the rodent

mouse

gerbil

chipmunk

squirrel

rat

muskrat

guinea pig

prairie dog

woodchuck, groundhog porcupine

beaver

villain. • She was given the starring/lead/leading role. • I had a minor/major role in the play.

2 a : a part that someone or something has in a particular activity or situation — usually + in • Everyone had a role [=hand] in winning the game. [=everyone helped to win the game] • The government is taking an active role in improving public schools. [=the government is actively involved in improving public schools] • He had a key role in designing the bridge. • She talked about the roles of exercise and a healthy diet in preventing heart disease. • Newspapers play a major role in determining how people think about politics. • Religion plays an important role in his life. [=religion is very important to him] b : the part that someone has in a family, society, or other group • After her husband left her, she had to take on the dual role of mother and father for her children. • She likes to play the role of matchmaker with her friends. • She challenged the traditional roles assigned to women. • We'll switch/reverse roles this time, and you can wash the dishes while I dry them. • It was a case of role reversal: the father stayed home with the children while the mother worked.

role model noun, pl ~ -els [count] : someone who another person admires and tries to be like • Parents need to be good role models (for their children). • Athletes should remember that they are role models.

role-play /'roul,pleɪ/ noun, pl -plays : an activity in which people do and say things while pretending to be someone else or while pretending to be in a particular situation [non-count] The teacher used role-play to show how people should act at an interview. [count] The students did role-plays to practice for their interviews.

— role-play verb -plays; -played; -play-ing [no obj] • children learning to role-play — role-playing noun [non-count] • We do a lot of role-playing in this class.

¹roll /'roul/ verb rolls; rolled; rol-ling

1 a : to move across the ground or another surface by turning over and over [no obj] The children rolled down the hill. • The ball rolled slowly to a stop. [+ obj] She rolled the dice. • He rolled the ball to me. = He rolled me the ball. b : to turn over one or more times [no obj] He rolled (over) onto his back. • The pigs roll (around) in the mud to keep cool. • The car rolled (over) into the ditch. [+ obj] Roll the chicken wings in the batter. • The paramedics rolled him onto the gurney. • (US) He rolled his car in the accident.

2 : to move smoothly on wheels [no obj] The car rolled slowly to a stop. • A police car rolled up next to us. [+ obj] The children rolled the toy car to each other. • The patient was rolled into the emergency room.

3 [no obj] : to move in a smooth, continuous way • We left the movie theater as the final credits rolled. [=were moving across the screen] • The fog soon rolled away. • The clouds rolled past.

4 [+ obj] a : to form (something) into the shape of a ball or tube • She rolled the dough into a ball. • He rolled up the newspaper and swatted the fly. b : to put (something) inside a tube • He rolled the coins. c : to wrap up (something or someone) in a way that forms the shape of a tube • He rolls his own cigarettes. — often + up • She rolled up the meat in a tortilla. • He lay there snugly rolled up in blankets.

5 : to form your body into a ball — usually + up [no obj] He lay down on the bed and rolled [=curled] up (into a ball). [+ obj] He rolled himself up (into a ball).

6 [+ obj] a : to make (something) smooth, even, or flat with a special tool (called a roller or rolling pin) • She rolled (out) the dough. • He rolled the clay flat. • rolled steel/oats b : to spread (something) on a surface with a special tool (called a roller) • She rolled the paint on (the wall).

7 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move forward along the normal course of time • The days rolled [=passed] quickly by. • It got hotter as the day rolled on/along.

8 [no obj] : to move or lean from side to side • The ship heaved and rolled in the storm. • He walked with a rolling gait.

9 [no obj] a : to make a deep, continuous sound • Thunder rolled in the distance. • rolling thunder b : to make a continuous, quick, beating sound • The drums rolled.

10 : to operate (something, such as a movie camera) [+ obj] Roll the cameras when I say "action." [no obj] The camera was not rolling [=filming] at the time.

11 [no obj] : to have a series of successes • The team rolled through the play-offs.

12 : to cause (your eyes) to look up toward the sky in an expression which shows that you think someone or something is foolish or annoying [+ obj] He rolled his eyes at her suggestion. [no obj] Her eyes rolled when he told her his idea.

get rolling informal 1 : to leave • We ought to get rolling if we don't want to be late. 2 : to start doing something • You should get rolling on that assignment. • The project finally got rolling. [=got started]

get/set/start the ball rolling see ¹BALL

heads roll see ¹HEAD

keep the ball rolling see ¹BALL

let's roll chiefly US, informal — used to tell another person or a group of people to start leaving a place or to start doing something • “Let’s roll,” the sergeant shouted to his men.

ready to roll informal 1 : ready to leave • I am all packed and ready to roll. 2 : ready to start doing something • After we got the loan approved, we were ready to roll.

roll around also Brit roll about [phrasal verb] informal : to arrive or happen again • By the time Friday rolls around, I’m ready for the weekend. • We’ll be better prepared the next time the elections roll around.

roll back [phrasal verb] roll back (something) or roll (something) back chiefly US 1 : to reduce (something, such as a price) • The store is rolling back its prices for this weekend only. 2 : to change (something) back to the way it was at an earlier time : to reverse or undo (something) • The manufacturers are lobbying to roll back [=rescind] environmental regulations. • His proposal would roll back the clock on civil rights.

roll down [phrasal verb] roll down (something) or roll (something) down 1 : to move (something) down especially by turning a handle • She rolled down the car window. 2 : to unfold the edge of (something, such as a shirt sleeve or pants leg) to make it longer • He rolled down his sleeves.

rolled into one : combined together into one thing or person • It’s a shopping center, amusement park, and nightclub (all) rolled into one.

roll in [phrasal verb] informal 1 be rolling in (something) : to have a large amount of (something) • They were rolling in money/cash. = They were rolling in (the) dough. = They were rolling in it. 2 : to appear or arrive in large numbers or amounts • The money has been rolling in. • Donations rolled in to help the hurricane victims. 3 : to arrive at a place especially later than usual or expected • Delegates rolled in from all parts of the country. • He finally rolled in at 3:30 in the morning.

rolling in the aisles see AISLE

roll off the tongue see ¹TONGUE roll on Brit, informal — used to say that you want a time or event to come quickly • Roll on Friday. I can’t wait for the weekend!

roll out [phrasal verb] roll out (something) or roll (something) out 1 : to offer or sell (something) for the first time • The company is expected to roll out [=launch] several new products next year. — see also ROLLOUT 2 : to make (something that has been rolled into the shape of a tube) long and flat again • He rolled out [=unrolled] the sleeping bags.

roll out of bed informal : to rise after sleeping in a bed and especially after sleeping later than usual • She rolled out of bed just before noon.

roll out the red carpet see RED CARPET roll over [phrasal verb] 1 informal : to allow yourself to be easily defeated or controlled : to make no effort to fight or compete • I’m not going to just roll over and let them do what they want. 2 roll over (something) or roll (something) over a : to delay the payment of (something, such as a debt) • He wanted to roll over the repayment of the loan until later. b : to place (invested money) in a new investment of the same kind • She rolled over her investments from one fund to another. — see also ROLLOVER

roll the dice see ¹DICE

roll up [phrasal verb] 1 roll up (something) or roll (something) up a : to move (something) up especially by turning a handle • She rolled up the car window. b : to fold up the ends of (something, such as a shirt sleeve or pants leg) to make it shorter • She rolled up her jeans and stepped into the water. 2 informal : to arrive at a place in a vehicle • Celebrities rolled up in their limousines. 3 Brit — used to invite people to gather around to see a show or to buy things • Roll up, roll up [= (chiefly US) step right up] — you won’t find cheaper watches anywhere else! — see also ¹ROLL 4c, 5 (above) roll up your sleeves informal : to prepare to work hard • It’s time to roll up our sleeves and get the job done. • Congress needs to roll up its sleeves and pass the bill now.

roll with the punches informal : to not allow yourself to become upset by things that happen • Roll with the punches and don’t let life get you down!

roll your r’s : to pronounce the sound /r/ with a trill • He rolls his r’s when he speaks Spanish.

²roll /ˈroul/ noun, pl rolls [count]

1 : a long piece of cloth, paper, film, tape, etc., that is rolled to form the shape of a tube or ring • There are two photos left on this roll. • rolls of film/tape • a roll of toilet paper

2 : a paper tube that holds candies, coins, etc., inside • a roll of mints/quarters

3 a : a small loaf of bread for one person to eat • a dinner roll • tuna salad (served) on a roll • a hamburger roll [=bun]

b : a sandwich made with a bread roll • a ham/cheese roll • (US) a clam/lobster roll c : a usually round sweet cake • cinnamon/sweet rolls — compare STICKY BUN; see also JELLY ROLL, SWISS ROLL

4 : a food that is rolled up for cooking or serving • cabbage/sausage/sushi rolls • rolls of sliced ham/turkey — see also EGG ROLL

5 : a thick fold of fat, skin, etc. • A roll of fat stuck out from under his shirt. • rolls of flesh/skin

6 : an official list of names • the voter rolls = (US) the election rolls [=a list of the people who can vote in an election] • welfare rolls [=a list of people on welfare] • The teacher called out the names on the roll. = The teacher called/took the roll. — see also HONOR ROLL, PAYROLL

— compare ³ROLL; see also BANKROLL

³roll noun, pl rolls [count]

1 : a sound that is produced by a series of quick hits on a drum • a roll of the drum — see also DRUM ROLL

2 : a deep, continuous sound • We heard the roll of thunder/cannons in the distance.

3 : an act of rolling something • With a roll of the dice, he won $100. • She showed her annoyance with a roll of her eyes. [=showed her annoyance by rolling her eyes]

4 chiefly US : a movement in which your body makes a complete turn forward or backward on the ground • a forward/backward roll [=somersault]

5 : the act of moving or leaning from side to side • We felt the roll of the ship.

6 : a movement of an airplane in which the airplane is turned upside down and then right side up again a roll in the hay informal + old-fashioned : an act of having sex with someone

a roll of the dice see ¹DICE

on a roll informal : experiencing a series of successes • The team has been on a roll [=has been playing well and winning many games] since midseason. • He’s a funny guy, and last night he was really on a roll. [=he was saying many funny things]

— compare ²ROLL; see also ROCK AND ROLL

roll-back /ˈroul,bæk/ noun, pl -backs [count] chiefly US

: the act of rolling back something: such as a : a reduction or decrease in something • rollbacks in mortgage rates • a government-ordered rollback of gasoline prices • a rollback in environmental regulations b : the act of reversing or undoing something • a rollback of previous wage concessions roll bar noun, pl ~ bars [count] : a metal bar in the roof of a car or other vehicle that is designed to protect riders if the vehicle rolls over roll call noun, pl ~ calls

1 : the act of saying each of the names on a list to find out who is present [count] — usually singular • The sergeant began a/the roll call. [noncount] Two students missed roll call.

2 [count] : a list of people or things — usually singular • The policy is supported by an impressive roll call of scientists.

roll-er /ˈroulə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 a : a part that rolls and is used to move, press, shape, spread, or smooth something • the rollers of a conveyor belt • They moved the monument on rollers. • He flattened the clay with a roller. • a paint roller — see also STEAMROLLER b : a cylinder or rod on which something (such as a window shade or a map) is rolled up

2 : a small plastic or metal tube around which hair is wrapped to make it curl • Her hair was in rollers. [=curlers]

3 : a long, powerful ocean wave

4 : a ball that rolls slowly along the ground • (baseball) He hit a slow roller to the shortstop.

— see also HIGH ROLLER

Roll-er-blade /ˈroulə,bleɪd/ trademark — used for a skate that has wheels set in a straight line on the bottom roll-er coast-er /ˈroulə,koustə/ noun, pl ~ -ers [count]

1 : a ride at an amusement park which is like a small, open train with tracks that are high off the ground and that have sharp curves and steep hills • We went for a ride on the roller coaster. • a roller-coaster ride

2 : a situation or experience that involves sudden and extreme changes • The divorce was an emotional roller coaster

roller coaster

for both of them. • He's had a roller-coaster career. [=a career with many ups and downs]

Roller Derby service mark — used for a sports event in which two teams skate on roller skates around an oval track roller rink noun, pl ~ rinks [count] chiefly US : an enclosed area with a smooth floor that is used for roller-skating roller skate noun, pl ~ skates [count] : a shoe that has wheels on the bottom and that you wear on your foot in order to skate on a flat surface — usually plural • a pair of roller skates — see picture at SKATE roller-skate verb -skates; -skat-ed; -skat-ing [no obj] : to skate on a flat surface with roller skates • I had never roller-skated until last week.

— roller skater noun, pl ~ -ers [count] — roller-skating noun [noncount] • She loves roller-skating. • Let's go roller-skating.

¹rol·lick·ing /ˈrɒlɪkɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun, informal : enjoyable in a lively or noisy way • We had a rollicking good time. • a rollicking tale/tune

²rollicking noun, pl -ings [count] Brit, informal : the act of angrily criticizing someone who has done something wrong • Their boss gave them a rollicking. [=scolding, tongue-lashing] • They got a rollicking from their boss.

rolling /ˈrɒlɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun : having gentle slopes or hills • rolling hills/prairies rolling pin noun, pl ~ pins [count] : a long cylinder that is used for making dough flat and smooth — see picture at KITCHEN rolling stock noun [noncount] : the wheeled vehicles that are owned and used by a railroad roll of honour noun, pl rolls of honour [count] Brit : HONOR ROLL roll-on /ˈrɒl.ɒn/ adj, always used before a noun : rubbed or spread on the body with a bottle that has a rolling ball set into its top • a roll-on deodorant/antiperspirant

— roll-on noun, pl -ons [count] • deodorants sold as roll-ons, sprays, or sticks roll-out /ˈrɒl.aʊt/ noun, pl -outs [count, noncount] : an occasion when a new product or service is first offered for sale or use • the national rollout of a new wireless service — see also roll out at ¹ROLL roll-over /ˈrɒl.əʊvə/ noun, pl -overs [count, noncount]

1 a : the act of delaying the payment of a debt b : the act of placing invested money in a new investment of the same kind — see also roll over at ¹ROLL

2 chiefly US : an accident in which a car, truck, etc., turns over • He was injured in a rollover (accident) on the highway.

3 chiefly Brit : prize money in a lottery that is not won and so is added to the prize money of the next lottery roll-up /ˈrɒl.ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] : something that is rolled into the shape of a tube: such as a US : a food that is rolled up for cooking or serving b usually roll-up Brit : a cigarette that you roll yourself

— roll-up adj • roll-up blinds

¹ro·ly·po·ly /ˈrɒliˈpɒli/ adj, informal : short and fat • a roly-poly man

²roly-poly noun, pl -lies [count, noncount] Brit : a sweet dough that is spread with jam, rolled up, and baked or steamed — called also roly-poly pudding

ROM /ˈrɒ:m/ noun [noncount] : the part of a computer in which information that cannot be changed is stored — called also read-only memory; compare RAM; see also CD-ROM

ro·maine /ˈrɒːmeɪn/ noun [noncount] US : a type of lettuce that has long, crisp leaves — called also (US) romaine lettuce, (Brit) cos lettuce; see color picture on page C4

¹Ro·man /ˈrɒmən/ noun, pl -mans

1 [count] a : a person born, raised, or living in Rome b : a citizen of the ancient Roman Empire

2 roman [noncount] : letters, numbers, etc., that stand upright instead of slanting : roman type • The type should be set in roman. — see picture at FONT

²Roman adj

1 a : of or relating to Rome or the people of Rome • the Roman population • the Roman skyline b : of or relating to the ancient Roman Empire • a Roman emperor • Roman law

2 roman : having letters, numbers, etc., that stand upright instead of slanting • These words are roman. • roman type

Roman alphabet noun

the Roman alphabet : the alphabet that was used for writing Latin and that is now used for writing English and many other European languages

Roman candle noun, pl ~ -dles [count] : a firework that is a long tube that shoots out balls or stars of fire one at a time

Roman Catholic adj : belonging or relating to the Christian church that is led by the pope • a Roman Catholic priest — Roman Catholic noun, pl ~ -lics [count] • Most of the people in this part of the country are Roman Catholics. — Roman Catholicism noun [noncount]

¹ro·mance /ˈrɒːməns/ noun, pl -manc-es

1 : an exciting and usually short relationship between lovers [count] They had a brief romance when they were younger. • a summer romance • They've ended their romance. [non-count] Their friendship blossomed into romance. • a tale of love and romance

2 [noncount] : the feeling of being in love • After only three years together, the romance in their relationship was gone.

3 [count] a : an exciting story often set in the past • a medieval romance b : a love story • She likes reading paperback romances. • an old-fashioned Hollywood romance — often used before another noun • a romance novel

4 [noncount] a : the quality of something that makes it exciting and attractive • the romance of the old West • The novel evoked the romance of Paris in the 20s. b : the excitement or emotional attraction that people feel for something • a book about America's romance with the open road

²romance verb -mances; -manced; -manc-ing

1 [+ obj] : to have or try to have a romantic relationship with (someone) • He was always romancing younger women. • She was romanced by several wealthy young men.

2 [+ obj] US : to give special attention to (someone) in order to get something that you want from that person • The museum's director spends a lot of time romancing potential donors. • a college athlete who's being romanced by several pro teams

3 [no obj] : to talk about something in a way that makes it seem better than it really is • They were romancing about the past.

Ro·mance language /ˈrɒːməns-/ noun, pl ~ -guages [count] : a language (such as French, Italian, or Spanish) that developed from Latin

Ro·man·esque /ˈrɒmənˈesk/ adj : of or relating to a style of architecture that was used in Europe during the 11th and 12th centuries and that included round arches, thick and heavy walls, and small windows • a Romanesque cathedral

Roman nose noun, pl ~ noses [count] : a large nose that curves outward at the top

Roman numeral noun, pl ~ -als [count] : one of the letters that were used by the ancient Romans to represent numbers and that are still used today • In Roman numerals "X" is equal to the number 10. — compare ARABIC NUMERAL

¹ro·man·tic /ˈrɒːməntɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : of, relating to, or involving love between two people • She had romantic feelings for him. • He had a romantic relationship with a coworker. • Her latest movie is a romantic comedy. [=a comedy about two people who fall in love with each other] • His brother was having romantic troubles at the time. • She won't discuss her romantic life with the press. b : making someone think of love : suitable for romance • a romantic sunset/dinner/song c : thinking about love and doing and saying things to show that you love someone • Why can't you be more romantic?

2 : not realistic or practical : not based on what is real • He has some romantic notions about life on a farm. • She had a lot of big romantic dreams of becoming an actress.

3 Romantic : of or relating to Romanticism : stressing or appealing to the emotions or imagination • the Romantic poets/movement • Beethoven was the first great Romantic composer.

— ro-man-ti-cal-ly /rou'mæntikli/ adv • They were romantically involved. [=they had a romantic/sexual relationship with each other]

2romantic noun, pl -tics [count]

1 : a person who thinks a lot about love and does and says things that show strong feelings of love for someone • She married a real romantic who brings her roses every day.

2 : someone who is not realistic or practical : someone who thinks that things are better or more exciting than they really are • Law school is no place for idealists and romantics. • She's a hopeless/incurable romantic.

3 Romantic : a writer, musician, or artist whose work stresses emotion and imagination : a writer, musician, or artist of Romanticism • Beethoven was the first great Romantic among composers.

ro-man-ti-cism /rou'mæntə,sizəm/ noun [noncount]

1 Romanticism : a style of art, literature, etc., during the late 18th and early 19th centuries that emphasized the imagination and emotions

2 : the quality or state of being impractical or unrealistic : romantic feelings or ideas • Try not to discourage the romanticism of college students.

ro-man-ti-cize also Brit ro-man-ti-cise /rou'mæntə,səiz/verb -ciz-es; -cized; -ciz-ing : to think about or describe something as being better or more attractive or interesting than it really is : to show, describe, or think about something in a romantic way [+ obj] The movie romanticizes [=idealizes] the old South. • He has romanticized notions of army life. • a romanticized view of politics [no obj] We were romanticizing about the past.

Rom-a-ny /'rɑ:məni, 'rouməni/ noun, pl -nies

1 [count] : GYPSY

2 [noncount] : the language of the Gypsies

— Romany adj

Ro-meo /'roumijou/ noun, pl -me-os [count]

: a man who has many lovers or who shows strong feelings of love by doing romantic things • He was quite a Romeo when he was younger.

1romp /'rɑ:mp/ noun, pl romps [count] informal

1 : an enjoyable time of rough and noisy play • The dogs love a good romp through the woods.

2 : an easy victory • The game turned into a romp in the second half.

3 : an enjoyable and lively movie, book, play, etc. • His latest film is a wildly amusing romp.

4 often humorous : an act of sexual intercourse • a movie about a businessman having a romp with his secretary

2romp verb romps; romped; romp-ing [no obj]

1 : to play in a rough and noisy way • The kids were romping in the yard.

2 : to easily win a race, contest, etc. — often + to • The home team romped to a 21–6 win/victory. • (chiefly Brit) He is now the favorite to romp home (to victory) in the upcoming election.

3 informal : to move, go, or proceed in a quick, easy, or playful way — usually + through • Hundreds of fans romped through the streets. • She romped through the early rounds of the tournament. • The team romped through the season undefeated.

romp-er /'rɑ:mpə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly US

: a piece of clothing that consists of a shirt with attached pants and that is worn especially by children — usually plural • a little girl wearing rompers — called also (chiefly Brit) romper suit

ron-do /'rɑ:ndou/ noun, pl -dos [count]

: a type of music for instruments in which the main tune at the beginning is repeated after each of the other tunes that are used

1roof /'ru:f/ noun, pl roofs [count]

1 : the cover or top of a building, vehicle, etc. • a shingle/slate/tile roof • The roof is leaking. • the roof of a car • The roof of the old barn collapsed. • We don't have much money, but at least we have a roof over our heads. [=at least we have somewhere to live] • You'll do what I say as long as you're living under my roof. [=as long as you are living in my house] • They all live under the same roof. [=in the same house] • We hope to have sales and service under one roof [=at the same location] in the near future. — see also MOONROOF, SUN-ROOF

2 : the top of the inside of a tunnel, cave, etc.

3 : the top of the inside of your mouth • He bit into a hot slice of pizza and burned the roof of his mouth.

go through the roof informal 1 : to become very angry or upset • When they realized he'd lied to them, his parents went through the roof. 2 : to rise to a very high level • Sales of their new CD have gone through the roof.

hit the roof see ¹HIT

raise the roof informal : to make a lot of noise by playing music, celebrating, shouting, etc. • The crowd raised the roof when the winning goal was scored. • His mother raised the roof when he came home late.

through the roof chiefly US, informal : at an extremely high level • Ticket prices are through the roof.

— roof-less /'ru:fləs/ adj • a roofless stadium

2roof verb roofs; roofed; roof-ing [+ obj] : to cover (something, such as a building) with a roof — often + over or in • We roofed over/in the patio. — often used as (be) roofed • Our house is roofed with asphalt shingles.

— roofed /'ru:ft/ adj • a roofed front porch • thatch-roofed houses roof-er /'ru:fə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who builds or repairs roofs roof-ing /'ru:fiŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : material that is used for building or repairing a roof • asphalt shingles used for roofing

2 : the work of building or repairing roofs • He did some roofing in the summer. • a roofing contractor roof-line /'ru:f,laɪn/ noun, pl -lines [count] : the outline or outer edge of a roof roof rack noun, pl ~ racks [count] : a frame that is attached to the roof of a vehicle and that is used for holding luggage, bicycles, skis, etc.

roof-top /'ru:f,tɑ:p/ noun, pl -tops [count] : the upper surface of a roof • They have a garden on the rooftop of the apartment building. • He wanted to shout from the rooftops when he got the job. — often used before another noun • a rooftop television antenna • a rooftop garden

rook /'ruk/ noun, pl rooks [count]

1 : a large, black European bird that is related to the crow

2 : a piece in the game of chess that looks like a castle tower : CASTLE — see picture at CHESS

rook-ie /'ru:ki/ noun, pl -les [count] chiefly US

1 : a first-year player in a professional sport • There are three rookies in the starting lineup. — often used before another noun • a rookie quarterback • This is his rookie season. [=his first season playing]

2 : a person who has just started a job or activity and has little experience : BEGINNER • an experienced policeman whose partner is a rookie — often used before another noun • a rookie cop

1room /'ru:m/ noun, pl rooms

1 [count] a : a part of the inside of a building that is divided from other areas by walls and a door and that has its own floor and ceiling • Cigarette smoke filled the room. • I could hear the TV from the next room. • The salesman went into the back room [=a room in the back of a building] to get another pair of shoes for me to try. b : a room in a house, hotel, etc., where someone sleeps • a double room [=a room in a hotel where two people can sleep] • Go to your room! • He rents rooms to college students. — see also BEDROOM, GUEST ROOM

2 [noncount] : space that is used for something • We're running out of room in the office. • The sofa takes up too much room. • In the backyard there is enough room to run and play. • Is there enough room to turn the car around? • There's only room for five people in the car. • Don't eat too much. You should leave some room for dessert. • There's no more room on the computer disk to save the file. • Can we make/find room in the garage for the bicycles? — see also ELBOW ROOM, HEADROOM, LEGROOM, STANDING ROOM

3 [singular] : the people in a room • The whole room cheered/applauded.

4 [noncount] : the possibility for something to happen or exist — often + for • There is room for improvement in your essay. [=your essay is not as good as it could be] • There is no room for doubt about his guilt. [=his guilt is certain]

5 rooms [plural] Brit, old-fashioned : APARTMENT • I visited his rooms in London.

2room verb rooms; roomed; room-ing [no obj] US : to live in a room, apartment, or house with another person — + together or with • We roomed together in college. [=we were roommates in college] • He roomed with his brother for several years.

R

room and board noun [noncount] chiefly US : a place to stay with meals provided and included in the price • We paid $50 (for) room and board. [= (chiefly Brit) bed and board] room-er /'ru:mə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : a person who pays rent to live in a house with its owner room-ful /'ru:mfəl/ noun, pl room-fuls /'ru:mfəlz/ also rooms-ful /'ru:mzfəl/ [count] : the amount of people or things that are in a room — usually + of • a roomful of strangers • A roomful of wiring and circuits can now be reduced to a tiny computer chip.

room-ie /'ru:mi/ noun, pl -ies [count] US, informal : ROOM-MATE • She was my roomie in college.

rooming house noun, pl ~ houses [count] US : a house where rooms with furniture are rented to people to live in • After losing his job, he moved to a cheap rooming house.

room-mate /'ru:m,meɪt/ noun, pl -mates [count] : a person who shares a room, apartment, or house with someone else • She was my college roommate. = We were roommates in college.

room service noun [noncount] : the service that is provided to hotel guests so that they can have food, drinks, etc., brought to their rooms • Room service is available. • He ordered a meal from room service. • She called room service.

room temperature noun [noncount] : a comfortable temperature that is not too hot or too cold • Store the wine at room temperature.

roomy /'ru:mi/ adj room-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : having plenty of space or room • The car was roomy [=spacious] inside.

— room-i-ness noun [noncount] • the roominess of the car

¹roost /'ru:st/ noun, pl roosts [count] : a place where birds rest or sleep rule the roost informal : to have the most control or authority in a group • In my small elementary school, bullies ruled the roost.

²roost verb roosts; roost-ed; roost-ing [no obj] of a bird : to rest or sleep somewhere • Pigeons roost on the building's ledge.

come home to roost ♦ If something from your past comes home to roost or your/the chickens come home to roost, you experience problems that you deserve because they are caused by your past actions or are like the problems you have caused for other people. • Her bad decisions are coming home to roost. • He's been cheating people for years but now the chickens are (finally) coming home to roost. [=he is getting what he deserves]

roost-er /'ru:stə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly US : an adult male chicken • We heard the crow of a rooster. — called also cock; compare HEN

¹root /'ru:t/ noun, pl roots

1 [count] : the part of a plant that grows underground, gets water from the ground, and holds the plant in place • Elm trees have shallow roots. • Pull weeds up by the roots so that they don't grow back. — see color picture on page C6

2 [count] : the part of a tooth, hair, fingernail, etc., that is attached to the body • You can tell that she dyes her hair blonde because her dark roots are showing.

3 [count] a : the cause or source of something — usually singular • He believes that money is the root of all evil. [=money causes people to do bad things] • We need to get to the root of the problem. = We need to get to the root cause of the problem. • Simple greed was at the root of the robbery. [=was the reason for the robbery] b : the origin of something — usually plural • Rock-and-roll music has its roots in blues music. [=rock-and-roll music originated/developed from blues music]

4 roots [plural] a : the family history of a person or a group of people • They have traced their roots [=ancestry] back several generations. b : a special connection to something — + in • She's a dedicated teacher with roots in the community. • His family has roots in the New York theater scene. • a novelist with roots deep in Southern life — see also GRASS ROOTS

5 [count] mathematics : a number that is multiplied by itself a certain number of times to produce another number • 2 is the 4th root of 16. [=2 x 2 x 2 x 2 = 16] — see also CUBE ROOT, SQUARE ROOT

6 [count] : a word from which other words are formed • "Butler" and "bottle" come from the same Latin root. • "Hold" is the root of "holder."

put down roots : to become a member of a community and begin to feel that it is your home : to settle and live in one place • The family put down roots in New England. [=they made New England their home] root and branch chiefly Brit 1 : complete or thorough • a root and branch overhaul of local schools 2 : completely or thoroughly • The laws were reformed root and branch.

take root 1 of a plant : to grow and develop roots • There isn't enough time for the grass to take root before winter. 2 : to begin to develop • The classroom should be a place where creativity can take root and flourish. • It was years before democratic ideals took root in that part of the world.

²root verb roots; root-ed; root-ing

1 of a plant a [no obj] : to grow and develop roots • The plants had difficulty rooting in the poor soil. b [+ obj] : to make (a plant) grow and develop roots • She rooted the seedlings in pots before planting them in the garden. • The lichen rooted itself to the rock. • The lichen was rooted to the rock.

2 [+ obj] : to make (someone) unable to move • Fear rooted me to my chair. — usually used as (be) rooted • I was rooted to my chair by/with fear.

root in [phrasal verb] root (something) in (something) : to form, make, or develop (something) by using (something) as a basis • He roots his art in reality. [=bases his art on the real world] — usually used as (be) rooted in • His art is rooted in reality. • Her opinions are deeply rooted in her faith. • a dance rooted in African tradition

— compare ³ROOT, ⁴ROOT

³root verb roots; rooted; rooting [no obj]

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to search for something by moving around or by turning things over • We rooted through the desk drawers for the phone bill. • She rooted around in her purse to find her keys. • I think I'll root around for some leftovers in the fridge.

2 of animals : to look for food under the ground by digging with the nose : GRUB • a rooting pig root out [phrasal verb] root (something or someone) out or root out (something or someone) 1 : to find and remove (something or someone) • The mayor was determined to root out corruption in city government. 2 : to find (something or someone) after searching for a long time • He finally rooted out the cause of the problem.

— compare ²ROOT, ⁴ROOT

⁴root verb roots; rooted; rooting

root for [phrasal verb] root for (someone or something) : to express or show support for (a person, a team, etc.) • They always root for the home team. • We're rooting for the underdog. : to hope for the success of (someone or something) • Remember that we're all rooting for you. [=we all want to see you succeed]

root on [phrasal verb] root (someone or something) on US : to help (someone or something) to win or succeed by expressing or showing strong support • The team is playing for the championship tomorrow, and thousands of fans will be there to root them on. • Her friends and family were there to root her on to victory.

— compare ²ROOT, ³ROOT

— root-er /'ru:tə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

root beer noun, pl ~ beers [count, noncount] : a sweet, brown drink that is flavored with roots and herbs and that contains bubbles • a bottle of root beer root canal noun, pl ~ -nals [count] : a dental procedure to save a tooth by removing the diseased or injured tissue in its root • I need to have a root canal.

root cellar noun, pl ~ -lars [count] chiefly US : a room or large hole in the ground where vegetables (such as potatoes and carrots) are kept root-less /'ru:tləs/ adj : having no home or connection to a place • He was leading a rootless existence. • a rootless drifter — root-less-ness noun [noncount]

root vegetable noun, pl ~ -tables [count] : a vegetable (such as a carrot or potato) that grows under the ground

¹rope /'roup/ noun, pl ropes

1 : a strong, thick string that is made by twisting many thin strings or fibers together [count] Tie the end of the rope to the post. • She made a knot in the rope. [noncount] a six-foot length of rope • We used rope to tie down the furniture in the trailer. • The hostages were tied up with rope. — see also JUMP ROPE, SKIPPING ROPE, TIGHTROPE, TOWROPE

2 [count] : a string on which a number of similar things are held together • a rope of pearls

3 the ropes : the special way things are done at a particular place or in a particular activity • The veteran cop showed the rookie the ropes. • It will take a few weeks for new employees to learn the ropes • someone who knows the ropes

4 the ropes : a fence made of rope that encloses a boxing or wrestling ring • The boxer was pushed back against the ropes. jump/skip rope US : to jump over a rope that is being swung near the ground for exercise or as a game • He jumps rope to warm up before the game. • The kids are outside jumping rope.

money for old rope see MONEY on the ropes informal : in a very bad position or situation : very close to failure or defeat • The company is on the ropes and in danger of closing.

the end of your rope see ¹END

²rope verb ropes; roped; rop-ing [+ obj]

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to bind, fasten, or tie (something or someone) with a rope • The dog was roped to the fence. • The boats were roped together at the dock. • Mountain climbers often rope themselves together for safety.

2 chiefly US : to catch (an animal) by throwing a circle of rope around it : LASSO • He tried to rope the calf.

3 informal : to use clever or tricky methods to get (someone) to do something — + in or into • I didn't want to go to the party, but my friends somehow roped me in. • My friends roped me into going to the party. • I always seem to get roped into driving.

rope off [phrasal verb] rope off (something) or rope (something) off : to separate (an area) from another area with rope • The police roped off the street for the summer festival. • Part of the exhibit had been roped off.

rope ladder noun, pl ~ -ders [count] : a ladder that has short pieces (called rungs) which are held between two long ropes ropy also rop-ey /'roupi/ adj rop-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : similar to rope : like rope in appearance • ropy noodles/vines

2 Brit, informal a : in bad condition • a ropy [=worn] suit : of bad quality • ropy [=shoddy] plumbing b : ill or unwell • The passengers looked a bit ropy after the bumpy flight.

ro-ro /'rou,rou/ noun, pl ro-ros [count] Brit : a ship that is designed and equipped to allow vehicles (such as cars or tanks) to be driven on and off ♦ Ro-ro is an abbreviation of "roll on, roll off."

Ror-schach test /'rɒʃ,ʃɑ:k-/ noun, pl ~ tests [count] technical : a personality and intelligence test in which someone looks at ink blots of different shapes and then describes what the shapes look like ro-sa-ry /'rouzəri/ noun, pl -ries

1 [count] : a string of beads that are used by Roman Catholics for counting prayers

2 the Rosary : a set of Roman Catholic prayers that are repeated in a specific order • recite/say the Rosary

¹rose past tense of ¹RISE

²rose /'rouz/ noun, pl ros-es

1 [count] : a flower with a sweet smell that is usually white, yellow, red, or pink and that grows on a bush which has thorns on the stems • a bouquet of roses • He sent a dozen red roses to his girlfriend on Valentine's Day. — see color picture on page C6; see also BED OF ROSES

2 [noncount] : a slightly purplish-pink color — see color picture on page C3

come out/up smelling like a rose or come out/up smelling like/of roses informal : to have success or good fortune in a situation in which you were likely to fail, be harmed, etc. • The scandal forced several board members to resign, but the chairman came out smelling like a rose. [=the chairman's reputation was not damaged at all] coming up roses informal : turning out to be good • Now that he finally has a job, everything's coming up roses for him. [=many good things are happening in his life]

(stop and) smell the roses informal : to stop being busy and enjoy the pleasant things in life • You shouldn't work so hard. You need to take some time to stop and smell the roses.

wake up and smell the roses see ¹WAKE

ro-sé /rou'zei, Brit 'rəuzei/ noun, pl -sés [count, noncount] : wine that has a pink color

ro-se-ate /'rouzijət/ adj, literary : having a pink color • a bird with roseate feathers rose-bud /'rouz,bʌd/ noun, pl -buds [count] : the flower of a rose that has not opened : the bud of a rose rose-bush /'rouz,bʊʃ/ noun, pl -bush-es [count] : a bush that produces roses

rose-colored (US) or Brit rose-coloured /'rouz-,kʌləd/ adj

1 : having a pink color • a rose-colored wine

2 : tending to think of things as being better than they really are • They always take a rose-colored view of the problem. ♦ If you see or view something through rose-colored glasses/spectacles, you think of it as being better than it really is. • He looks at the world through rose-colored glasses. [=he looks at the world in an overly optimistic way]

rose hip noun, pl ~ hips [count] : a small fruit that grows on some rosebushes

rose-mary /'rouz,meri/ noun [noncount] : an herb that has a sweet smell and that is used in cooking and perfumes • The recipe calls for a tablespoon of rosemary. — see color picture on page C6

rose-tinted /'rouz,tintəd/ adj : ROSE-COLORED

ro-sette /rou'zet/ noun, pl -settes [count]

1 : a badge or ornament that is made of ribbon and folded in the shape of a rose

2 : a design shaped like a rose that is used as a decoration • a rosette of chocolate frosting • Rosettes are carved in the base of the statue.

rose water noun [noncount] : liquid made from roses that has a pleasant smell and is used as a perfume or flavoring rose window noun, pl ~ -dows [count] : a circular window in a church that is made from stained glass with a decorative pattern

rose-wood /'rouz,wʊd/ noun [noncount] : the hard, dark, red wood of some tropical trees that is used especially for making furniture and musical instruments

Rosh Ha-sha-nah /rɑ:ʃhə'ʃɑ:nə/ noun [noncount] : the Jewish New Year observed as a religious holiday in September or October

ros-in /'rɑ:zn/ noun [noncount] : a hard and slightly sticky substance that has various uses (such as to make the bows of violins and similar instruments move more easily across the strings) — compare RESIN

¹ros-ter /'rɑ:stə/ noun, pl -ters [count]

1 a : a list of the people or things that belong to a particular group, team, etc. • His name has been added to the team ros-ter. • a membership roster b US : a group of people or things whose names are included on a roster • The team has a roster of 40 players.

2 : a list that shows the order in which a job or duty is to be done by the members of a group • a duty roster

²roster verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing [+ obj] Brit : to include (someone) on a roster of people who will be doing work • He was rostered for extra duty.

ros-trum /'rɑ:strəm/ noun, pl ros-trums or ros-tra /'rɑ:strə/ [count] formal : a small raised platform on a stage rosy /'rouzi/ adj ros-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having a pink color • rosy cheeks/peaches

2 : having or producing hope for success or happiness in the future • A young man with a rosy [=promising] future. • She has a rosy [=optimistic] outlook on life. • He paints a rosy picture of the company's future. [=he made the company's future sound very good]

¹rot /'rɑ:t/ verb rots; rot-ted; rot-ting : to slowly decay or cause (something) to decay [no obj] The wood had rotted away. • The apples were left to rot. • the smell of rotting garbage — often used figuratively • He was left to rot in jail. [=he was left in jail for a very long time] • I hope he rots in hell [+ obj] Eating too much candy can rot your teeth. — sometimes used figuratively • Too much TV will rot your brain. synonyms see ¹DECAY

²rot noun [noncount]

1 : the process of rotting or the condition that results when something rots • They found a lot of rot in the house's roof. — often used figuratively • moral rot • (chiefly Brit) The rot set in [=things started getting really bad] when the factory closed down. • (Brit) The team stopped the rot [=stopped things from getting worse] with a 5–0 win last night. — see also DRY ROT

2 informal + somewhat old-fashioned : foolish words or ideas : NONSENSE • That's a lot of rot! • all that rot

ro-ta /'routə/ noun, pl -tas [count] Brit : a list that shows who must do a certain job • a rota of housekeeping duties

R

Ro-tar-i-an /rou'terijən/ noun, pl -ans [count] : a member of a Rotary Club

¹ro-ta-ry /'routəri/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : turning around a central point like a wheel • a rotary blade • the rotary action of the wheel

2 : having a part that turns around a central point like a wheel • an old-fashioned rotary phone [=a phone with a dial that turns around a central point]

²rotary noun, pl -ries [count] US : TRAFFIC CIRCLE

Rotary Club noun, pl ~ Clubs [count] : an international organization of businesspeople who raise money to help the sick or poor in their local area

ro-tate /'rou,tet/, Brit rəu'tet/ verb -tates; -tat-ed; -tat-ing

1 : to move or turn in a circle [no obj] As the gear rotates, it turns the other gears. • The Earth rotates on its axis. • The planets rotate around the sun. • a rotating propeller [+ obj] The software allows you to rotate images. • Rotate the sheet of paper 90 degrees.

2 : to regularly change the person who does a particular job so that all the members of a group do it at different times [+ obj] The staff rotates the weekend shift. [no obj] We rotate—she does the dishes one week; I do them the next. • The work is done by volunteers on a rotating basis. [=the volunteers take turns doing the work]

3 : to regularly change the place or position of things or people so that each takes the place of another [+ obj] You should rotate your car's tires once a year. • (US) The soldier was rotated home after six months. [=the soldier was sent home after six months and another soldier took his place] [no obj] The seasons rotate.

4 [+ obj] : to regularly change (crops grown on one piece of land) to make sure the soil stays healthy • They rotate alfalfa and/corn. [=grow alfalfa one year and corn the next]

— ro-tat-able /'rou,tetəbəl, Brit rəu'tetəbəl/ adj • a rotatable platform

ro-ta-tion /rou'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 a [noncount] : the act or process of moving or turning around a central point • the rotation of the Earth around its axis • the rotation of the Moon around the Earth b [count] : a complete turn around a central point • The Earth makes one rotation every day.

2 a [noncount] : the act of regularly changing something by replacing it with something else • crop rotation • Alfalfa and corn are planted in rotation. b : the act of regularly changing the place or position of things or people so that each takes the place of another [noncount] the rotation of the job of club president [count] The car needs a tire rotation.

3 [count] US : the group of people who take turns doing something • Where are we in the rotation? [=when is it our turn?] • (baseball) The team has a good (starting) rotation. [=group of pitchers who start games]

— ro-ta-tion-al /rou'teɪʃənəl/ adj, always used before a noun, technical • the rotational axis • rotational motion

ro-ta-tor cuff /'rou,tetə-/ noun, pl ~ cuffs [count] chiefly US, medical : a group of muscles and tendons that are around your shoulder and that allow it to move in all directions

ROTC /,ɑə'u,ti:'si:, 'rɑ:tsi/ noun [noncount] US : a military program that provides training and financial assistance for college students who become officers in the military at the end of the program • He joined (the) ROTC. • ROTC training begins tomorrow. ♦ ROTC is an abbreviation of "Reserve Officers' Training Corps."

rote /'rout/ noun [noncount] : the process of learning something by repeating it many times without thinking about it or fully understanding it • The children learned the words to the poem by rote.

— rote adj, always used before a noun • rote learning/memorization

ro-tis-ser-ie /rou'tisəri/ noun, pl -ies [count] : a piece of equipment that turns meat over a source of heat so that it cooks on all sides • a chicken cooked on a rotisserie = a rotisserie chicken

ro-tor /'routə-/ noun, pl -tors [count] technical : a part of a machine that turns around a central point • the rotor (blade) of a helicopter • brake rotors

¹rot-ten /'rɑ:tən/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having rotted or decayed and no longer able to be used, eaten, etc. • rotten wood • rotten teeth • rotten eggs • The bananas went rotten. — sometimes used figuratively • The whole political system is rotten. [=corrupt]

2 informal a : very bad or unpleasant • What rotten [=lousy]

luck! • They did a rotten job. • We played a rotten game. [=we did not play well] • What rotten weather we're having. b not used before a noun : not well or healthy • I feel rotten today. c not used before a noun : not happy or pleased • I feel rotten [=I feel guilty; I am upset] about what I said. d : not morally good : not honest, kind, etc. • He was a rotten husband. [=he was not a very good husband] • She's rotten to the core. [=she's a very bad person; she's a very dishonest person] — see also rotten apple at APPLE

3 always used before a noun, informal — used for emphasis when you are angry • You can keep your rotten money!

— rot-ten-ness /'rɑ:tənəs/ noun [noncount]

²rotten adv, informal

1 : very badly or poorly • He treats her rotten.

2 : very much • (Brit) He fancies you (something) rotten. [=he likes you very much] • Those kids were spoiled rotten by their mother.

rot-ter /'rɑ:tə/ noun, pl -ters [count] Brit, informal + old-fashioned : a very bad person • a selfish rotter

Rott-weil-er /'rɑ:t,wailə-/ noun, pl -lers [count] : a type of large dog that is often used as a guard dog — see picture at DOG

ro-tund /rou'tand/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary + humorous : fat and round • a rotund face • a short, rotund man

— ro-tun-di-ty /rou'tandəti/ noun [noncount]

ro-tun-da /rou'tandə/ noun, pl -das [count] : a large, round room and especially one covered by a dome • We stood inside the rotunda of the U.S. Capitol Building.

rouble chiefly Brit spelling of RUBLE

rouge /'ru:ʒ/ noun [noncount] old-fashioned : a red powder or cream that is used to make your cheeks pinker • She was wearing too much rouge.

— rouged /'ru:ʒd/ adj • rouged ladies • heavily rouged cheeks

¹rough /'rʌf/ adj rough-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having a surface that is not even • rough tree bark • a cat's rough tongue • He trimmed the rough edge of the paper. • We traveled over rough dirt roads. • They hiked through rough terrain/country. — opposite SMOOTH

2 : having or causing sudden, violent movements • a rough [=bumpy] ride on an old wooden roller coaster • We were a bit shaken from the plane's rough landing. — opposite SMOOTH

3 somewhat informal : difficult or unpleasant to deal with • She's had a rough [=tough] life/year/time. • He went through a rough patch/period after his divorce. • They've hit a few rough spots in their marriage. • Despite a rough start, the team won more games this season than last. • I had a rough night last night. [=I did not sleep well] • It was rough going [=things were difficult] for a while. • Our ancestors had it rough [=had a difficult existence] compared to us. • He's having a rough time (of it). = He's going through a rough time. [=he is having a difficult time; his life has been difficult recently]

4 : not calm : having large waves, strong winds, storms, etc. • The sea is rough today. • rough waters off the coast • We ran into some rough [=stormy] weather.

5 : not gentle or careful : causing or likely to cause harm or injury • These dishes are not made to withstand rough handling. • The prisoners complained about rough treatment by the guards. • She says the kids are too rough [=rowdy] when they play. • He doesn't like rough sports like hockey. • All right kids—no rough stuff. [=no behaving or playing in a rough way] • Don't be so rough on them [=don't punish or criticize them so harshly] for making a mistake.

6 : having a lot of crime or danger • I live in a pretty rough neighborhood/area.

7 : made or done in a way that is simple or that needs further changes, improvements, etc. • He made a rough sketch of the house. • They built a rough [=crude] shelter out of branches. • He submitted a rough draft of the article. • The project still has a few rough edges. [=the project still has a few things that need to be changed or finished] • The design is still a bit rough around the edges.

8 always used before a noun : not precise or exact : not including all the details • If I were to make a rough guess, I might say there were 100,000 people at the parade. • a rough translation of a Chinese proverb • This sketch will give you a rough idea of what the house looks like.

9 : having a harsh sound • She has a rough voice.

10 Brit, informal : not well • I'm feeling too rough to go out tonight.

– rough-ness noun [noncount] • the roughness of the waves
• surfaces with varying degrees of roughness and smoothness

2 rough adv

1 : in a rough way • The engine is running a little rough. • Life has been treating her pretty rough. • He plays rough with the dog.

2 Brit : outside and without shelter • people living/sleeping rough on the streets

3 rough noun, pl roughs

1 the rough golf : an area on a golf course covered with tall grass that makes it difficult to hit the ball • He hit his drive into the rough.

2 [count] : something (such as a drawing) that is done quickly and is not detailed or finished • He showed me a few roughs of the new building.

3 [count] informal + old-fashioned : a person who is loud and violent • a gang of roughs [=rowdies, hoodlums] in rough Brit : in an unfinished form • The plans were done in rough for preapproval.

in the rough chiefly US : in an unfinished or rough state • Some of the turquoise is polished and some is in the rough. [=not polished] • He admired the beauty of nature in the rough. — see also DIAMOND IN THE ROUGH take the rough with the smooth chiefly Brit : to accept and deal with the bad or unpleasant things that happen in addition to the good or pleasant things • In this business, you have to learn to take the rough with the smooth.

4 rough verb roughs; roughed; rough-ing [+ obj] American football + ice hockey : to hit (a player) very hard in a way that is not allowed by the rules • He was called for roughing the kicker/passer.

rough in [phrasal verb] rough (something) in or rough in (something) : to make a rough or unfinished version of (something, such as a design) as the first step in creating the finished version • Rough in the lettering on your poster. • He roughed in the frame of the new door.

rough it informal : to live usually for a short time without the normal things that make life comfortable • She was roughing it in the wilderness.

rough out [phrasal verb] rough (something) out or rough out (something) : to make (something, such as a drawing or a list) quickly and without including all the details • We'll rough out a general plan.

rough up [phrasal verb] rough (someone) up or rough up (someone) informal : to hit and hurt (someone) • The prisoner claimed that he was roughed up by the guards.

rough-age /'rʌfɪdʒ/ noun [noncount] : plant material that cannot be digested but that helps you to digest other food : FIBER rough-and-ready /,rʌfən'redi/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not complete but good enough to be used • a rough-and-ready solution/method

2 : not having polite manners or fancy skills but ready and able to do what needs to be done • rough-and-ready soldiers rough-and-tumble /,rʌfən'tʌmbəl/ adj, always used before a noun [more ~; most ~]

1 : disorderly, loud, and rough • a rough-and-tumble group of soccer fans • a rough-and-tumble game

2 : very competitive and aggressive • the rough-and-tumble world of politics • a rough-and-tumble competitor – rough-and-tumble noun [noncount] • the rough-and-tumble of our neighborhood soccer games • She joined the rough-and-tumble of politics.

rough diamond noun, pl ~ -monds [count] Brit : DIAMOND IN THE ROUGH 1

rough-edged /'rʌf'edʒd/ adj : having a rough quality : not smooth or refined • rough-edged blues music • rough-edged writing rough-en /'rʌfən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing : to become rough or cause (something) to become rough [+ obj] Rough-en the surface with a file before you apply the glue. • Her hands were roughened by years of hard work. [no obj] Age caused his skin to roughen.

rough-hewn /'rʌf'hju:n/ adj

1 : having a rough and uneven surface • rough-hewn ceiling beams

2 : not polite or educated • a rough-hewn peasant rough-house /'rʌf,haus/ verb -hous-es; -housed; -hous-ing [no obj] US, informal : to play in a rough and noisy way • The kids were roughhousing in the living room.

rough-ly /'rʌfli/ adv

1 : not exactly but close in number, quality, meaning, etc. • Roughly translated, it means "hurry up!" • The new product is modeled roughly on an earlier design. • Roughly [=approximately] 20 percent of our land is farmland.

2 [more ~; most ~] a : in a way that is not gentle or careful • He threw the package roughly in the truck. • The guard told us roughly that we had to stand back. • He pushed her roughly. b : in a very simple or basic way • a roughly [=crudely] built shelter • roughly sketched drawings c : in a way that produces a rough surface • roughly cut timber rough-neck /'rʌf,nek/ noun, pl -necks [count] chiefly US, informal

1 : someone who behaves in a rough, rude, or aggressive way • a town overrun by roughnecks

2 : someone who works on an oil rig or at an oil well rough paper noun [noncount] Brit : SCRAP PAPER rough-shod /'rʌf,ʃɔ:d/ adv : without thinking or caring about the opinions, rights, or feelings of others • They accused the government of riding roughshod over international law. [=of completely ignoring international law] • (US) He achieved success by ruthlessly running roughshod over anyone who got in his way.

rou-lette /ru'let/ noun [noncount] : a game in which a small ball is dropped onto a numbered wheel that is spinning and players bet on which numbered section the ball will rest in — see also RUSSIAN ROULETTE

1 round /'raund/ adj round-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : shaped like a circle or ball • The Earth is round. • little round meatballs • a round table • The baby has a round face. • the owl's big, round eyes

2 : shaped like a cylinder • a round peg

3 : having curves rather than angles • He has round shoulders. • a shirt with a round collar • The corners are round. • the plant's round leaves

4 : slightly fat : PLUMP • a large, round man • his big, round belly

5 always used before a noun a ✧ A round number is a whole number that often ends in 0 or 5 and that is used instead of a more exact number. • The total actually came to $33.02, but the cashier made it a round $33. • In round numbers/figures, the cost of the project adds up to two million dollars. • "How much do you want for it?" "How about 50 dollars? That's a nice round number." b : exact or complete • a round dozen/million – round-ness /'raundnəs/ noun [noncount] • the perfect roundness of the stone

2 round adv

1 chiefly Brit : AROUND

2 : from beginning to end • The bush stays green all year round. [=stays green throughout the entire year] — see also YEAR-ROUND

3 round noun, pl rounds

1 [count] a : one of a series of similar events — often + of • A new round of negotiations is scheduled to begin next week. • Her second round of chemotherapy recently ended. b : a series of similar actions, events, or things — usually + of • She prepared herself for a round of appearances on television and radio shows. • an endless round of business meetings c : a regular series of activities — usually + of • my usual round of chores

2 rounds [plural] : a series of regular or similar visits or stops • The doctor is on her rounds at the hospital. = (US) The doctor is making/doing her rounds at the hospital. [=the doctor is visiting the different patients she sees every day at the hospital] • (US) She made the rounds of the stores [=she went to many different stores] looking for bargains.

3 : a route that is regularly covered as part of a job [plural] (chiefly US) The mailman was on his rounds. [count] (Brit) The postman was on his round.

4 [count] a : a stage of a sports competition in which each player or team plays against an opponent and the winner is allowed to continue to the next stage • The team made it to the final round of the play-offs. • He made it to the next round. b : one of the three-minute periods into which a boxing match is divided • The match lasted five rounds. c : a complete set of holes played in golf : 18 holes of golf • a round of golf

5 [count] : a number of drinks that are served at the same time to each person in a group • I'll buy the next round (of drinks).

6 [singular] : a usually short period of applause, cheering, etc. • The winner got a huge round of applause.

7 [count] a : a shot fired from a weapon • Several rounds were fired. b : a bullet for one shot • There was only one round left in the gun.

8 [count] music : a song in which three or more singers sing the same melody and words but start at different times

9 [count] : a round shape • Cut the carrots into rounds. [=round slices] • a round [=wheel] of cheese

10 [count] Brit a : a whole slice of bread or toast b : a sandwich that is made with two whole slices of bread — usually + of • a round of ham sandwich [=a ham sandwich]

in the round 1 : in a position that allows something to be seen from all sides • a sculpture in the round 2 : with a center stage surrounded by an audience • The play was presented in the round. • a theater in the round

make the rounds (US) or chiefly Brit do/go the rounds ✧ When a rumor, a piece of news, etc. makes/does/goes the rounds, it is passed from one person to another person and becomes widely known. • Rumors about his resigning as CEO were making the rounds. [=were spreading] — see also ³ROUND 2 (above)

4 round verb rounds; round-ed; round-ing [+ obj]

1 : to go or pass around (something) • When we rounded the bend (in the road), we saw two deer in a field. • He slipped when he was rounding first base.

2 : to finish or complete (something) in a good or suitable way — + off or out • They rounded off the meal with coffee and dessert. • Winning the tournament was the perfect way to round out her career. • Two Nobel Prize winners round out the distinguished staff.

3 : to cause (something) to have a round shape — often + off • He rounded off the corners of the table.

4 mathematics : to increase or decrease (a number) to the nearest whole or round number • He rounded 10.6 (up) to 11 and 10.3 (down) to 10. — often + off • You can round off the amounts to the nearest dollar.

round on [phrasal verb] round on (someone) Brit : to suddenly turn toward and attack (someone) — usually used figuratively to describe suddenly beginning to speak to someone in an angry or critical way • She rounded on him and called him a liar.

round up [phrasal verb] round up (someone or something) or round (someone or something) up : to find and gather together (people, animals, or things) • They rounded up the cattle. • The police rounded up all the suspects. • She rounded up people to play basketball. — see also ROUNDUP

5 round prep, chiefly Brit

1 : AROUND

2 : all during : THROUGHOUT • The bush stays green (all) round the year [= (more commonly) year-round]

1 round-about /'raundə,baut/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not direct • He took a roundabout route to town.

2 : not simple, clear, or plain : long and confusing • a round-about explanation • In a roundabout way, he told me that my help was not wanted.

2 roundabout noun, pl -abouts [count] Brit

1 : TRAFFIC CIRCLE

2 : MERRY-GO-ROUND

round-ed /'raundəd/ adj

1 : having a round or curving shape • a countertop with rounded corners • Her shoulders are rounded. • rounded leaves

2 : fully developed • a wine with a rounded character • The novel gives a rounded picture of life as an illegal immigrant in the U.S. — see also WELL-ROUNDED

roun-del /'raundl/ noun, pl -dels [count] chiefly Brit : a round figure or object round-er /'raundə/ noun, pl -ers

1 [count] : a boxing match lasting a specified number of rounds • a 10-rounder [=a boxing match that lasts 10 rounds]

2 rounders [plural] Brit : a game that is played with a ball and bat and that is like baseball

round-ly /'raundli/ adv

1 a : thoroughly or completely • He was roundly defeated. b : by nearly everyone : WIDELY • Her leadership is roundly praised. • He was roundly disliked/ignored.

2 : using plain or strong language • She roundly criticized the plan. • He told them roundly [=bluntly] that they would get no help.

round-rob-in /'raund,rɔ:bən/ noun, pl -ins [count] sports : a competition in which every player or team plays once against every other player or team round-shoul-dered /'raund,ʃouldəd/ adj : having shoulders that slope downward or forward round-ta-ble /'raund,təbəl/ noun, pl -tables [count] : a meeting at which people discuss something and everyone has an equal chance to express an opinion — often used before another noun • a roundtable discussion/conference round-the-clock adj, always used before a noun : AROUND-THE-CLOCK round trip noun, pl ~ trips [count] : a trip to a place and back usually over the same route • It's a 50-mile round trip to my parents' house.

— round trip adv, US • The drive is 50 miles round trip.

— round-trip /'raund,trip/ adj, always used before a noun, US • a round-trip ticket [= (Brit) return]

round-up /'raund,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count]

1 a : the act or process of gathering together animals (such as cattle) by circling around them in vehicles or on horses b : the act or process of finding and gathering together people or things of the same kind • The police ordered a roundup of all the suspects. — see also round up at ⁴ROUND

2 : a brief statement of the most important information : SUMMARY • Here's a roundup of today's news.

round-worm /'raund,wɜ:m/ noun, pl -worms [count] : a small worm with a long, round body that lives inside the bodies of people and animals rouse /'rauz/ verb rouses; roused; rous-ing [+ obj] somewhat formal

1 : to wake (someone) from sleep • He was roused (from sleep) by a loud crash. • I've been unable to rouse her. — sometimes used figuratively • He stood staring into space until he was roused by a tap on his shoulder. • The music roused their spirits.

2 : to cause (someone who is tired or not interested) to become active • What will it take to rouse voters (from their indifference)? • I was so tired I could barely rouse myself to prepare dinner.

3 a : to cause (an emotional response) in someone • His comments roused [=aroused] the anger of many military leaders. b : to make (a person or animal) angry • These animals are dangerous when roused. • She was roused to anger by their indifference.

4 : to cause (something) to happen • The report roused [= (more commonly) aroused] speculation.

rousing adj, always used before a noun

1 : done or said with great enthusiasm or excitement • She was met with a rousing reception. • a rousing speech

2 : causing great emotion, excitement, or enthusiasm • They played a rousing [=stirring] rendition of the national anthem. • a rousing finale/victory

3 : unusually good • The play was a rousing [=remarkable] success.

roust /'raust/ verb rousts; roust-ed; roust-ing [+ obj] US : to force (someone or something) to move from a place • The soldiers were rousted from their beds before sunrise.

roust-about /'raustə,baut/ noun, pl -abouts [count] chiefly US : a worker in an oil field, at a circus, etc., whose job requires strength but little skill

1 rou /'raut/ noun, pl *rou*s

1 [count] : a game or contest in which the winner easily defeats the loser by a large amount • The game turned into a rou in the second half. • After they scored their fourth goal, the rou was on [=the game became a rou]

2 : a confused and disorderly retreat from a place [count] — usually singular • the attack and the rou that followed [noncount] They put the enemy to rou [=they forced the enemy to run away]

2 rou verb rous; rou-ed; rou-ing [+ obj]

1 : to defeat (someone) easily and completely in a game or contest • The reigning champion *rou*ed the contender. • The Nationalist party was *rou*ed in the polls.

2 : to force (someone or something) to move from a place • The army *rou*ed the enemy from their stronghold. — often + out • People were *rou*ed out of their homes by the soldiers.

1 route /'ru:t, 'raut/ noun, pl *route*s [count]

1 a : a way to get from one place to another place • We didn't know what route to take/follow. • an escape route in case of fire • a parade route • We took the scenic route [=a way that is not the fastest way but that has beautiful scenery]

b : a way that someone or something regularly travels along • a major bird migratory route • a bus/truck route • a mail route • (US) She has a paper route [= (Brit) paper round; a job of delivering newspapers to the same places every day]

2 : a way of achieving or doing something • the route [=road] to success • You could take a different route and still arrive at the same conclusion. • I decided to go/take the traditional route [=do the traditional thing] and have a big wedding.

3 US : a usually minor highway • Take Route 2 into town. • We live on a rural route.

2 route verb routes; rout-ed; rout-ing [+ obj] : to send (someone or something) along a particular route • Traffic was routed around the accident. • When the doctor is out, his calls are routed to his answering service.

rout-er noun, pl -ers [count]

1 /'rautə/ : a machine used for cutting a groove into the surface of wood or metal

2 /'ru:tə, 'rautə/ technical : a device that sends data from one place to another within a computer network or between computer networks

1 rout-tine /ru:'ti:n/ noun, pl -tines

1 : a regular way of doing things in a particular order [count] Grandma gets upset if we change her routine. • A brisk walk is part of her morning routine. • The job will be easier once you settle into a routine. • You must go through the whole routine [=all the steps] of disarming the alarm. • an exercise routine [=a set of exercises always done in the same order] [noncount] We keep a copy of all correspondence as a matter of routine. [=as a standard procedure]

2 [noncount] : a boring state or situation in which things are always done the same way • The meeting was a welcome break from routine. [=the meeting was different from what we normally do] • the boring routine of paperwork

3 [count] a : a series of things (such as movements or jokes) that are repeated as part of a performance • a comedy/dance/gymnastics routine b informal : something that is said or done the same way very often — usually singular • Every time I ask him to do something, I get the old "I'm too busy" routine. [=he says "I'm too busy"]

4 [count] : a set of instructions that will perform a particular job on a computer • the installation routine

2 routine adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : done very often • The surgery has become a very routine operation and poses little danger. • He criticized her routine absence from important meetings.

2 : done or happening as a normal part of a job, situation, or process • a routine luggage search • a routine annual physical • routine [=ordinary] business practices

3 [more ~; most ~] a : easily done according to a set way or method • The more you do it, the more routine it becomes. • They hire high-school students for routine work such as filing. b disapproving : boring because of always being done in the same way • Data entry becomes routine very quickly.

— rou-tine-ly adv • They rutinely turn down at least half the applicants.

rove /'rouv/ verb roves; roved; rov-ing literary : to go to different places without having a particular purpose or plan [no obj] We roved [=roamed, wandered] around town/Europe. [+ obj] They roved [=roamed, wandered] the streets of the village. • His eyes roved the room [=he looked around the room] in search of her.

rov-er /'rouvə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 literary : a person who wanders to different places • an aimless rover

2 : a vehicle used for exploring the surface of a moon, planet, etc. • the Mars rover

roving adj, always used before a noun : going to many different places • a roving reporter • roving bands of Gypsies roving eye ✧ If you have a roving eye, you tend to look at and have sexual thoughts about other people even though you already have a wife, husband, etc. • His wife wasn't willing to tolerate his roving eye. [=wandering eye]

1 row /'rou/ noun, pl rows [count]

1 : a straight line of people or things that are next to each other • rows of corn • The desks are arranged in six rows. • The table of figures should include totals at the end of each row and column. • The bookstore has row upon row [=many rows] of self-help books.

2 : a line of seats in a theater, stadium, etc. • I see three empty seats in the second/front/back row. • We have front-row seats for the concert.

3 Row : a street or road — used in names • I live on Vassar Row. • a house on Church Row a tough/hard row to hoe : something that is difficult to do or deal with • I am considering becoming a doctor, but I know that it's a tough row to hoe.

in a row : following one after another • There are three blue houses in a row. • She had her birthday party at the bowling alley three years in a row. [=three consecutive years]

— compare ³ROW, ⁴ROW; see also DEATH ROW, SKID ROW

2 row verb rows; rowed; row-ing

1 : to move a boat through water using oars [no obj] Let's row (over) to the island after lunch. • We'll take turns rowing. [+ obj] They rowed the boat all the way across the lake.

2 [+ obj] : to carry (someone or something) in a boat that you row • I rowed the kids out to the island.

— compare ⁵ROW

3 row noun [singular] : an act of rowing a boat • I went for a row on the lake. — compare ¹ROW, ⁴ROW

4 row /'rau/ noun, pl rows chiefly Brit, informal

1 [count] : a noisy argument • She got into a terrible row [=quarrel] with her boyfriend.

2 [count] : a lot of loud arguing or complaining usually involving many people • The proposal to build a new nuclear energy plant caused a huge row. [=uproar]

3 [singular] : a loud, unpleasant noise • The children got hold of the drums and made an awful row. [=racket]

— compare ¹ROW, ³ROW

5 row verb rows; rowed; row-ing [no obj] Brit : to have a noisy argument with someone • They were rowing again. • He's always rowing with his wife about/over trivial things. — compare ²ROW

row-an /'rawən, 'rowən/ noun, pl -ans [count, noncount] Brit : MOUNTAIN ASH row-boat /'rou,bəut/ noun, pl -boats [count] US : a small boat that is moved through water using oars — called also (Brit) rowing boat; see picture at BOAT

1 row-dy /'raudi/ adj row-di-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : rough or noisy • a rowdy crowd • rowdy children • a rowdy game of basketball

— row-di-ness /'raudinəs/ noun [noncount]

2 rowdy noun, pl -dies [count] : a person who causes trouble in a noisy way — usually plural • a gang of young rowdies

— row-dy-ism /'raudi,ɪzəm/ noun [noncount] • rowdyism among sports fans row-er /'rowə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who rows a boat : OARSMAN, OARSWOMAN • Olympic rowers

row house /'rou-/ noun, pl ~ houses [count] US : a house in a row of houses that shares a wall with the houses next to it — called also (Brit) terraced house

row-ing /'rowɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the sport of racing in long, narrow boats that are moved by using oars • She was on the rowing team.

2 : the activity of moving a boat by using oars • Rowing is good exercise.

rowing boat noun, pl ~ boats [count] Brit : ROWBOAT rowing machine noun, pl ~ -chines [count] : an exercise machine that you use by moving your body as if you are rowing a boat — see picture at GYM row-lock /'rɔ:lək/ noun, pl -locks [count] chiefly Brit : OAR-LOCK

1 roy-al /'rojəl/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : of or relating to a king or queen • the royal family/household/palace • He comes from royal blood. [=he is in some way related to a king or queen]

2 Royal — used in names of organizations that are supported by or that serve a king or queen • the Royal Army • the Royal College of Art • the Royal National Theatre

3 : suitable for a king or queen : elaborate or impressive • They received a royal welcome as they stepped off the plane. • The hotel gave us the royal treatment. [=they treated us like very important people]

4 chiefly US, informal — used to make a statement more forceful • My little brother is a royal pain in the neck.

the royal "we" : the word "we" used by a king or queen instead of "I" • When Queen Victoria said, "We are not amused," she was using the royal "we."

2 royal noun, pl -als [count] informal : a member of a royal family • magazine stories about the private lives of royals

royal blue noun [noncount] : a bright purplish blue — see color picture on page C2

— royal blue adj • a royal blue shirt

Royal Commission noun, pl ~ -sions [count] : a group of people chosen by the British government to examine a particular topic or issue and recommend changes in the law • a Royal Commission on the death penalty royal flush noun, pl ~ flushes [count] : a set of cards that a player has in a card game (such as poker) that are all of the same suit (such as diamonds) and are the most valuable cards (the ace, king, queen, jack, and ten) in that suit

Royal Highness noun, pl ~-nesses [count] — used as a title for a member of a royal family; used with his, her, their, or your • their Royal Highnesses, the Prince and Princess of Wales • Her/His Royal Highness will receive you now. • Thank you, your Royal Highness.

roy-al-ist /'rojəlist/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who believes that a country should have a king or queen or who supports a particular king or queen
— royalist adj

roy-al-ly /'rojəli/ adv

- 1 : by a king or queen • a royally appointed prime minister
- 2 : in a way suitable for a king or queen • We were treated royally. [=we were treated like very important people]
- 3 US, informal — used to add emphasis to statements that usually express anger, frustration, etc. • (impolite) He's royally pissed. [=he's extremely angry] • I screwed up royally. [=very badly]

roy-al-ty /'rojəlti/ noun, pl -ties

- 1 [noncount] : members of a royal family • It was an honor and a privilege to dine with royalty. • On our wedding day, we were treated like royalty.
- 2 [count] a : an amount of money that is paid to the original creator of a product, book, or piece of music based on how many copies have been sold — usually plural • After he died, his family continued to collect royalties on/from his books. • The book has earned $40,000 in royalties. • royalty checks/payments for artists b : an amount of money that is paid by a mining or oil company to the owner of the land the company is using — usually plural • The company pays royalties to the government for drilling rights.

RP abbr 1 Brit Received Pronunciation 2 baseball relief pitcher rpm abbr revolutions per minute ✧ Rpm is used after a number to indicate how many times something turns one complete circle during one minute. • The engine produces 187 horsepower at 6,000 rpm. • a 78-rpm record

RR abbr 1 railroad • Turn left at the RR crossing. 2 or R.R. US rural route ✧ The abbreviation RR is used in mailing addresses to places that are located in the country to show which delivery route the mailbox is located on. • RR 5, Box 653

R-rated adj, US, of a movie : having a rating of R : not suitable to be seen by children because of violence, offensive language, or sexual activity • an R-rated movie — often used figuratively • an R-rated joke

RSI abbr repetitive strain injury; repetitive stress injury

¹RSVP abbr please reply — used on invitations to ask the invited guests to indicate whether they will be able to attend ✧ RSVP comes from the French phrase “répondez s'il vous plaît.”

²RSVP /,ɑːrɛsˌviːˈpiː/ verb RSVP's or RSVPs; RSVP'd or RSVPed; RSVP'ing or RSVP-ing [no obj] chiefly US : to respond to an invitation • They asked us to RSVP by this Friday. • Have you RSVP'd?

Rt or Rt. abbr, US route • Take Rt 70 west.

Rte. or Rte abbr, US route • Take Rte. 70 west.

Rt Hon abbr, Brit Right Honourable

¹rub /'rʌb/ verb rubbs; rubbed; rub·bling

- 1 : to move something (such as your hand or an object) back and forth along the surface of (something) while pressing [+obj] Could you rub my shoulders? • He blinked and rubbed his eyes. • The cat rubbed itself against my leg. [no obj] The cat rubbed against my leg. • Don't rub too hard or you'll tear the paper.
- 2 : to move (two things) back and forth against each other [+obj] He rubbed his hands with glee. — often + together • I rubbed my hands together to warm them up. • The sound you hear is the crickets rubbing their legs together. • We learned how to rub two sticks together to start a fire. [no obj] There was a squeak when the boards rubbed together.
- 3 : to move back and forth many times against something in a way that causes pain or damage [no obj] The back of my shoe is rubbing against my heel and giving me a blister. • There are marks where the chair has rubbed against the wall. [+obj] There are marks where the chair has been rubbing the wall. • I rubbed my knees raw scrambling over the rocks.
- 4 [+obj] : to spread (something) over and into a surface by pressing firmly with your hands • We rubbed the steaks with spices before we grilled them. = We rubbed spices onto the steaks before we grilled them. • I rubbed the ointment onto my sore muscles.

rub along [phrasal verb] Brit, informal : to work, play, etc., together with little or no difficulty • We rub along [=get along] well enough, but we're not really close friends.

rub down [phrasal verb] rub (someone or something) down or rub down (someone or something) : to rub (a person or animal's body) with your hands in order to clean, dry, or massage it • The trainer rubbed down the players after the game to keep them from getting sore. — see also RUB-DOWN rub elbows with (US) or rub shoulders with informal : to meet and talk with (someone) in a friendly way • The award dinner gave me the opportunity to rub elbows with some of today's greatest American poets.

rub in [phrasal verb] rub (something) in or rub in (something) informal : to keep reminding someone of (something that person would like to forget) • She keeps rubbing in the fact that she makes more money than I do. • I know I made a mistake, but you don't have to rub it in.

rub off [phrasal verb] 1 : to come off of a surface and often stick to another surface when the surfaces touch each other • Be careful that the ink doesn't rub off on your fingers. • The paint on the desk is beginning to rub off. — often used figuratively • Her positive attitude rubbed off on other people. [=other people began to have a positive attitude from being around her] • I wish some of your good luck would rub off on me. [=I wish that I would start having good luck too] 2 rub (something) off or rub off (something) : to remove (something) from a surface by rubbing • I rubbed the dirt off (of) the penny.

rub out [phrasal verb] 1 rub (something) out or rub out (something) chiefly Brit : to remove (something) by rubbing especially with an eraser • She rubbed out [=chiefly US] erased the wrong answer from her paper and filled in the correct one. 2 rub (someone) out or rub out (someone) US, informal : to murder (someone) • They say that the Mafia rubbed him out.

rub salt in/into someone's wounds or rub salt in/into the wound informal : to make a difficult situation even worse for someone • It's bad enough that he beat me, but the way he keeps talking about it is just rubbing salt in the wound.

rub someone's nose in informal : to repeatedly remind someone of (a mistake, failure, etc.) • He beat us all in the race and then rubbed our noses in it.

rub (someone) the wrong way (US) or Brit rub (someone) up the wrong way informal : to cause (someone) to be angry or annoyed : IRRITATE • She meant to be helpful but her suggestion really rubbed me the wrong way.

²rub noun, pl rubs

1 [count] : an act of rubbing a surface with your hands or an object — usually singular • After the car was washed, they gave the windshield a quick rub with a dry cloth. • Let me give you a back rub. [=let me rub/massage your back]

2 the rub formal : something that causes a difficulty or problem • Therein/There lies the rub. [=that's the problem] • She's an amazing cook, but she rarely has time to make meals. There's the rub.

3 [count] US : a combination of spices that is rubbed into the surface of meat before the meat is cooked • He used his favorite rub on the steaks. • a dry rub for chicken

¹rub·ber /'rʌbər/ noun, pl -bers

1 [noncount] : a strong substance that stretches and that is made out of chemicals or from the juice of a tropical tree • tires made of rubber — often used before another noun • He was wearing rubber gloves and safety goggles. • shoes with rubber soles • a red rubber ball • a rubber raft — see also FOAM RUBBER

2 [count] Brit : ERASER

3 rubbers [plural] US, informal + old-fashioned : shoes or boots that are made of rubber and that fit over your regular shoes to keep them dry — compare GALOSHES

4 [count] US, informal : CONDOM

5 [count] baseball : a flat piece of hard, white rubber on which the pitcher stands while pitching burn rubber informal : to drive very fast • They were burning rubber up and down the road.

— compare ²RUBBER

²rubber noun, pl -bers [count]

1 : a contest that consists of a series of games and that is won by the player or team that wins the most games (such as two games out of three) • Let's play a rubber of bridge.

2 US, sports : a game that decides who will be the winner of a series of games — usually used before another noun • The teams will play today in the rubber game of the series.

— compare ¹RUBBER

rubber band noun, pl ~ bands [count] : a thin, flexible loop that is made of rubber and used to hold things together — called also (US) elastic, (Brit) elastic band; see picture at OFFICE

rubber boot noun, pl ~ boots [count] US : a tall boot that is made out of rubber and that keeps your feet and lower legs dry — called also (Brit) Wellington rubber bullet noun, pl ~ -lets [count] : a bullet that is made out of rubber so that it hurts but does not kill people and that is used by the police and military to control a crowd rubber cement noun [noncount] : a thick, stretchy glue that contains rubber rub-ber-ized also Brit rub-ber-ised /'rʌbə,raɪzd/ adj, always used before a noun : coated or soaked with rubber • rubberized clothing

rub-ber-neck /'rʌbə,nek/ verb -necks; -necked; -necking [no obj] chiefly US, informal : to look around or stare with great curiosity; especially : to slow down while you are driving in order to stare at something (such as an accident) • She was rubbernecking and almost got in an accident herself.

— rub-ber-neck-er /'rʌbə,nekə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • a traffic jam caused by rubberneckers

rubber plant noun, pl ~ plants [count] : a plant with large, shiny, dark green leaves that is often grown indoors

rubber stamp noun, pl ~ stamps [count]

1 : a small tool that consists of a handle attached to a piece of carved rubber and that is dipped in ink and then pressed on paper to print a date, name, symbol, etc.

2 disapproving : a person or organization that automatically approves everything that someone does or decides • The legislature has been nothing more than a rubber stamp for the President.

rubber-stamp verb -stamps; -stamped; -stamp-ing [+ obj] usually disapproving : to approve or allow (something) without seriously thinking about it • They expected the proposal to be rubber-stamped by the legislature.

rub-bery /'rʌbəri/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : similar to rubber • The hard-boiled eggs were tough and rubbery. • a rubbery material

2 of legs or knees : bending like rubber : weak, shaky, and unstable • Her legs were/felt rubbery when she stepped off the roller coaster.

rubbing noun, pl -bings [count] : an image of a surface that is made by placing paper over it and rubbing the paper with a pencil, crayon, etc. • He made a rubbing of the old tombstone.

rubbing alcohol noun [noncount] US : a liquid that contains alcohol and water and that is used to clean wounds or skin — called also (Brit) surgical spirit

¹rub-bish /'rʌbɪʃ/ noun [noncount]

1 : things that are no longer useful or wanted and that have been thrown out : TRASH • Please, pick the rubbish up off the ground. • (Brit) We saw a rat run through the rubbish tip/dump. [= (US) garbage dump; an area of land where people can dump their rubbish] • (chiefly Brit) Put the potato peels in the rubbish bin. [= (US) garbage can, (chiefly US) trash can]

2 chiefly Brit, informal : words or ideas that are foolish or untrue • I think what he says is absolute rubbish! • That's (a load of) rubbish! I didn't cheat on the test. • "I'm sorry, but I had to do it." "Rubbish!"

3 informal : something that is worthless, unimportant, or of poor quality • The food at that restaurant is complete rub-bish. • I can't believe you waste your time reading that rub-bish. [=garbage]

²rubbish verb -bish-es; -bished; -bish-ing [+ obj] Brit, informal : to severely criticize (someone or something) • The critics rubbished [= (US) trashed] her new book.

rub-bishy /'rʌbɪʃi/ adj [more ~; most ~] Brit, informal : of very low quality • a rubbishy film/book rub-ble /'rʌbəl/ noun [noncount] : broken pieces of stone, brick, etc., from walls or buildings that have fallen • Rescue workers managed to pull two injured people out of the rub-ble. • The earthquake reduced the whole town to rubble.

rub-down /'rʌb,daʊn/ noun, pl -downs [count] chiefly US

: an act of rubbing someone's body to relax the muscles • The trainer gave him a rubdown after the game. — see also rub down at ¹RUB

rube /'ru:b/ noun, pl rubes [count] US, informal : an uneducated person who is usually from the country • They treated us as if we were a bunch of rubes.

Rube Gold-berg /'ru:b'gould,bəg/ adj, always used before a noun, US : doing something simple in a very complicated way that is not necessary • a Rube Goldberg [= (Brit) Heath Robinson] contraption/device/machine ♦ Rube Goldberg was an American cartoonist who was known especially for drawing humorously complicated machines that performed very simple tasks.

ru-bel-la /ru'bələ/ noun [noncount] medical : GERMAN MEASLES

Ru-bi-con /'ru:bi,kɑ:n/ noun

the Rubicon : a limit or point that you reach when the results of your actions cannot be changed • Once you've crossed the Rubicon there's no going back. ♦ This word comes from the name of a stream that separated Gaul from Italy. In 49 B.C., Julius Caesar started a war by illegally marching his army across the Rubicon and into Italy.

ru-bi-cund /'ru:bəkənd/ adj, literary : having red or pink skin : RUDDY • the rubicund face/features of his father

ru-ble (chiefly US) or chiefly Brit rou-ble /'ru:bəl/ noun, pl ru-bles

1 [count] : the basic unit of money of Russia • It costs 40 ru-bles. • a hundred-ruble bill

2 [count] : a coin representing one ruble • She gave the driver a ruble. • a handful of rubles

3 the ruble technical : the value of the ruble compared with the value of the money of other countries • The ruble fell against the U.S. dollar.

ru-bric /'ru:brɪk/ noun, pl -brics [count] formal

1 : a name or heading under which something is classified • They classify very different problems under a general rubric. [=category]

2 : an explanation or a set of instructions at the beginning of a book, a test, etc.

ru-by /'ru:bi/ noun, pl -bies

1 [count] : a deep red stone that is used in jewelry • diamonds and rubies — see color picture on page C11

2 [count, noncount] : a dark red color — see color picture on page C3

— ruby adj • her ruby lips • ruby red ruched /'ru:ft/ adj, of fabric or clothing : gathered into folds • a ruched skirt

ruck /'rʌk/ noun, pl rucks

1 [count] rugby : a group of players who are trying to get the ball while it is on the ground

2 the ruck Brit : ordinary or normal people or events • Her outstanding poetry eventually allowed her to emerge from the ruck. [=the crowd]

3 [singular] Brit, informal : a fight especially among a group of people • He got drunk and started a ruck with the police.

ruck-sack /'rʌk,sæk/ noun, pl -sacks [count] chiefly Brit : BACKPACK

ruck-us /'rʌkəs/ noun [singular] chiefly US, informal : a noisy argument, fight, etc. • They caused quite a ruckus [= (Brit) rumpus] with their yelling. • He raised a ruckus [=got upset and complained very loudly] over the cost of the repairs.

ruc-tions /'rʌkʃənz/ noun [plural] chiefly Brit : angry arguments or complaints • There were ructions over how the opera should be staged.

rud-der /'rʌdə/ noun, pl -ders [count] : a flat, movable piece usually of wood or metal that is attached to a ship, boat, airplane, etc., and is used in steering — see picture at BOAT

rud-der-less /'rʌdələs/ adj : without a leader, plan, or goal • When the Speaker of the House resigned, the party was left rudderless. • a rudderless young man

¹rud-dy /'rʌdi/ adj

1 : having a healthy reddish color • She has a ruddy face/complexion. • ruddy cheeks

2 literary : RED • the ruddy surface of Mars

3 always used before a noun, Brit, informal — used to make an angry or critical statement more forceful • The ruddy squirrels keep eating my birdseed! • He's a ruddy fool!

— rud-di-ness /'rʌdɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

²ruddy adv, Brit, informal : VERY, EXTREMELY — used to rubber stamp

make an angry or critical statement more forceful • It's rud-ly awful!

ruddy well Brit, informal — used before a verb to stress anger, annoyance, or disapproval • I can ruddy well do as I like.

rude /'ru:d/ adj rud-er; rud-est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : not having or showing concern or respect for the rights and feelings of other people : not polite • He made rude remarks/gestures. • I was shocked by her rude behavior. • I can't believe that he was so rude to me. • It is rude (of/for you) to always keep us waiting for you.

2 : relating to sex or other body functions in a way that offends others • rude jokes • I heard someone make a rude noise.

3 always used before a noun : happening suddenly in usually an unpleasant or shocking way • If you think this job is going to be easy, you're in for a rude shock. [=you will be unpleasantly shocked when you find out that this job is not easy at all] • He's about to have a rude awakening. [=he's about to find out something that will shock him unpleasantly]

4 literary : made or done in a simple or rough way : CRUDE • a rude stone farmhouse in rude health Brit, old-fashioned : strong and healthy • We hope to find you in rude health when we arrive.

— rude-ly adv • He rudely interrupted me. • I was rudely [=suddenly and unpleasantly] awakened from my nap.
— rude-ness noun [noncount] • I was shocked by his rude-ness.

ru-di-men-ta-ry /,ru:də'mentəri/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : basic or simple • This class requires a rudimentary knowledge of human anatomy. • He speaks rudimentary English.

2 : not very developed or advanced • rudimentary technology • When baseball was in its rudimentary stages, different teams played by different rules. • Some insects have only rudimentary wings.

ru-di-ments /'ru:dəmənts/ noun [plural] formal : basic facts or skills • the rudiments of grammar/government rue /'ru:/ verb rues; rued; ru-ing [+ obj] formal : to feel sorrow or regret for (something) • He must be ruing his decision now. • I rue the day (that) I signed that contract.

rue-ful /'ru:fəl/ adj : showing or feeling regret for something done • He gave me a rueful smile and apologized.

— rue-ful-ly adv • "I still have a scar from the accident," he said ruefully.

ruff /'rʌf/ noun, pl ruffs [count]

1 : a large, round collar of folded fabric that was worn by men and women in the 16th and 17th centuries

2 : a mass of fur or feathers growing around or on the neck of an animal or bird ruf-fi-an /'rʌfijən/ noun, pl -ans [count] old-fashioned : a strong and violent person (especially a man) who threatens and hurts other people • a gang of ruffians

1 ruf-*fl*e /'rʌfəl/ verb ruf-*fl*es; ruf-*fl*ed; ruf-*fl*ing [+ obj]

1 : to move or lift (something) so that it is no longer smooth • Her hair was ruffled by the wind. • The bird ruffled (up) its feathers.

2 : to make (someone) irritated, annoyed, worried, etc. • He ruffled some people with his constant complaining. — usually used as (be) ruffled • That boy is a lot of trouble. It's a good thing his parents aren't easily ruffled. [=don't become upset easily] • The actress was obviously ruffled by the reporter's question.

ruffle feathers informal : to upset or offend someone • His critical remarks ruffled some feathers. = His critical remarks ruffled a few feathers. • His critical remarks ruffled the feathers of the board members. • Her research has been ruffling feathers [=upsetting people] for years. • I agreed to do what they wanted because I didn't want to ruffle any feathers.

2 ruffle noun, pl ruffles [count] : a piece of cloth that is gathered together along one edge and used to decorate something • The dress has a ruffle around the collar.

— ruffled /'rʌfəld/ adj • a ruffled collar

rug /'rʌg/ noun, pl rugs [count]

1 : a piece of thick, heavy material that is used to cover usually a section of a floor • I accidentally spilled wine on the rug. — see picture at LIVING ROOM; see also PRAYER RUG, THROW RUG

2 chiefly US, informal : a small wig that is usually worn by a man to cover a bald spot : TOUPEE • You could tell that he was wearing a rug.

3 Brit : a blanket that you put over your lap and legs to keep them warm

cut a rug see ¹CUT

pull the rug (out) from under informal : to very suddenly take something needed or expected from (someone or something) • We were ready to start work on the project when the mayor pulled the rug out from under us and cut the funding.

sweep (something) under the rug see ¹SWEEP rug-by also Rugby /'rʌgbi/ noun [noncount] : a game played by two teams in which each team tries to carry or kick a ball over the other team's goal line — called also (chiefly Brit) rugby football; see picture at BALL

Rugby League noun [noncount] : a type of rugby played with 13 people on each team

Rugby Union noun [noncount] : a type of rugby played with 15 people on each team

rug-ged /'rʌgəd/ adj

1 : having a rough, uneven surface • the rugged surface of the moon • She did a painting of the region's rugged coastline.

2 of a man's face : having rough but attractive features • People are attracted to his rugged good looks.

3 : strong and determined • rugged pioneers • I admire her rugged individualism.

4 : made to be strong and tough • The chair is made of rugged plastic. • The fabric is lightweight but rugged.

5 : involving great difficulties or challenges : testing your physical, mental, or moral strength • a long and rugged winter • a rugged climb to the top of the mountain • the rugged life of a sailor — rug-ged-ly adv • a ruggedly handsome man — rug-ged-ness noun [noncount] • the ruggedness of the terrain rug-ger /'rʌgə/ noun, pl -gers

1 [count] US, informal : a person who plays rugby • college ruggers

2 [noncount] Brit, informal : RUGBY UNION • He plays rugger.

rug-rat /'rʌg,ræt/ noun, pl -rats [count] US slang : a young child • a mother and her little rugrats

1 ru-in /'ru:wən/ verb -ins; -ined; -in-ing [+ obj]

1 : to damage (something) so badly that it is no longer useful, valuable, enjoyable, etc. : to spoil or destroy (something) • Moths ruined the sweater. • Years of computer use ruined his eyesight. [=made his eyesight very poor] • The bad weather ruined the party. • I ruined the sauce by adding too much garlic. • His low test scores ruined his chances of getting into a good school. • Poor customer service ruined the company's reputation. • You ruined my life! [=you made my life very difficult or unpleasant]

2 : to cause (someone) to lose money, social status, etc. • He was ruined by debt. • The scandal ruined the mayor.

2 ruin noun, pl -ins

1 [noncount] : a state of complete destruction : a state of being ruined • The incident led to the ruin of their relationship. • The abandoned town had gone to ruin. • Don't let the house your grandfather built fall into ruin.

2 [count] : the remaining pieces of something that was destroyed • The castle is now a ruin. — usually plural • the ruins of the ancient city • We saw the (ancient) Mayan/Roman ruins. — sometimes used figuratively • He searched through the ruins of his childhood for the cause of his unhappiness.

3 [noncount] : the state of having lost money, social status, etc. • The drought brought economic/financial ruin to local farmers. • Her drug addiction brought her to the brink of ruin.

4 [singular] : something that badly damages someone physically, morally, economically, or socially • Her drug addiction was her ruin. • Street violence is the ruin of too many young people today.

in ruins : destroyed with some pieces or parts remaining • The building was/lay in ruins. — sometimes used figuratively • After her death, the family was in ruins.

ru-in-a-tion /,ru:wə'neɪʃən/ noun [noncount] formal : the act or process of destroying something • Water pollution is causing the ruination of the fishing industry.

ruined adj, always used before a noun : destroyed or badly damaged so that only parts remain • ruined buildings • a ruined Greek temple ru-in-ous /'ru:wənəs/ adj, formal

1 : causing or likely to cause damage or destruction • Smoking is ruinous [= (more commonly) dangerous, hazardous] to your health. • ruinous effects/consequences

2 : costing far too much money • ruinous price increases

3 chiefly Brit, formal : falling apart : badly damaged • a ruinous building • The house has fallen into a ruinous state.

— ru-in-ous-ly adv • Funding the project would be ruinous-ly expensive.

¹rule /'ru:l/ noun, pl rules

1 [count] a : a statement that tells you what is or is not allowed in a particular game, situation, etc. • I understand the basic rules of chess. • As long as you're living under our roof, you'll follow/obey our rules. • The college has strict rules for qualifying for financial assistance. • The new rule allows/permits employees to dress casually on Fridays. • Under the new rules, casual dress is now allowed. • the company's rules and regulations • It's important to learn the rules of the road before taking your driving test. • It's against the rules to eat during class. • He violated the unwritten/unspoken rule that you must thank your host before you leave a party. • We cannot bend/stretch the rules [=change or ignore the rules] just for you. • If you break the rules, you'll be asked to leave. — see also GAG RULE, GROUND RULE synonyms see LAW

b : a statement that tells you what is allowed or what will happen within a particular system (such as a language or science) • the rules of grammar • the rules of geometry

2 [count] : a piece of advice about the best way to do something • Your speech will go well as long as you follow one simple rule: be confident. • The first rule of driving is to pay attention. • A good rule to follow when traveling is to do as the locals do.

3 [singular] : the way something usually is done or happens • As a rule, I don't drive in the snow. [=I don't usually drive in the snow] • As a general rule, electronic gadgets become smaller as they develop. • Friendly customer service seems to be the exception rather than the rule nowadays. [=friendly customer service seems to be rare these days] • They make it a rule to treat everyone fairly. [=they always treat everyone fairly]

4 [noncount] : the control and power that a particular person, group, or government has over a country or area • Today we celebrate the anniversary of the country's independence from colonial rule. • Under her rule, the country prospered. — see also HOME RULE, MAJORITY RULE

5 [count] old-fashioned : a stick used for measuring things : RULER — see also SLIDE RULE

by the rules : in the way that is most common, expected, and acceptable • After years of boredom, he grew tired of living by the rules. • She has always played by the rules throughout her career.

rule of law : a situation in which the laws of a country are obeyed by everyone • The courts uphold the rule of law.

rule of thumb 1 : a method of doing something that is based on experience and common sense rather than exact calculation • A good rule of thumb for keeping your closet organized is to get rid of any clothes you haven't worn in the past year. 2 : a principle that is believed and followed and that is based on the way something usually happens or is done • As a rule of thumb, stocks that involve greater risk also have the potential of earning you more money.

²rule verb rules; ruled; ruling

1 : to have control and power over a country, area, group, etc. [no obj] The queen ruled for 25 years. • A dynasty ruled over this region during the 11th century. — sometimes used figuratively • After the overthrow of the government, chaos ruled. [=there was a lot of chaos] [+ obj] Who will be the next leader to rule the country? — sometimes used figuratively • That summer, his band ruled the airwaves.

2 [+ obj] : to have great influence over (someone) • Football ruled their lives. • All of his actions were ruled by his religion.

3 : to make a legal decision about something [no obj] The court ruled in favor of the defendant. • The jury ruled against the tobacco companies. • How will the court rule on the motion? [+ obj] The Supreme Court ruled the law unconstitutional. • The board ruled that her behavior was cheating.

4 not used in progressive tenses [no obj] slang : to be very good or popular — used to express strong admiration for someone or something • That movie rules! [=that movie is great] • Your new sneakers rule.

divide and rule see ¹DIVIDE

rule out [phrasal verb] 1 rule (someone or something) out or rule out (someone or something) : to no longer consider (someone or something) as a possibility after careful thought or study • The police ruled them out as suspects when it was proved that they were out of town when the crime was committed. • There are some diseases your doctor will want to rule out before making a diagnosis. 2 rule (something) out or rule out (something) : to make (something) impossible : to prevent (something) from happening • The bad weather ruled out a picnic. 3 rule (someone) out : to remove (someone) from a competition, contest, etc. • He applied for the job, but his lack of experience quickly ruled him out. • (chiefly Brit) She has been ruled out of today's game with a broken thumb.

rule the roost see ¹ROOST

rule with an iron fist/hand (chiefly US) or Brit rule with a rod of iron : to rule a country, area, group, etc., in a very strict and often cruel way • The dictator ruled (the island) with an iron fist.

rule book noun, pl ~ books [count] : a book that contains the official set of rules that must be followed in a game, job, etc. — usually singular • If you're not sure what to do, look in the rule book. — often used figuratively • The rule book says [=the rules say] that once the puck fully crosses the line it is a goal.

ruled adj : printed with lines on which to write • a ruled notebook • wide-ruled notebook paper

rul-er /'ru:lə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person (such as a king or queen) who rules a country, area, group, etc. • a summit attended by a number of rulers from around the world

2 : a straight piece of plastic, wood, or metal that has marks on it to show units of length and that is used to measure things • This ruler shows inches and centimeters. — see picture at CARPENTRY

¹ruling noun, pl -ings [count] : an official decision made by a judge, referee, etc. • The decision overturns the Supreme Court's earlier ruling. • She disputed the referee's ruling.

²ruling adj, always used before a noun : having control and power over a country, area, group, etc. • members of the ruling class • the ruling family/party

¹rum /'rʌm/ noun, pl rums [count, noncount] : an alcoholic drink that is made from sugar • a bottle/glass of rum • rum punch

²rum adj, Brit, old-fashioned + informal : strange or odd • They're a pretty rum lot.

rum-ba also rhumb-a /'rʌmbə/ noun, pl -bas

1 [count] : a type of dance originally from Cuba in which dancers move their hips a lot • They danced a/the rumba.

2 : the music for a rumba [count] The band played a rumba. [noncount] The band plays rumba.

¹rum-ble /'rʌmbəl/ verb rum-bles; rum-bled; rum-bling

1 [no obj] : to make a low, heavy, continuous sound or series of sounds • Thunder rumbled in the distance. • I got hungry and my stomach started rumbling. [=growling] • rumbling machines

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move along with a low, heavy, continuous sound • The train rumbles through town twice a day. • We watched as the trucks rumbled past/by.

3 [no obj] US, informal + old-fashioned : to fight especially in the street • The gangs rumbled in the alley.

4 [+ obj] Brit, informal : to reveal or discover the true character of (someone) • He knows I've rumbled him.

rumble on [phrasal verb] : to continue for a long period of time • The debate rumbled on through newspaper articles.

²rumble noun, pl rumbles [count]

1 : a low, heavy sound or series of sounds • I was awakened by the rumble of a train passing by.

2 US, informal + old-fashioned : a fight in the street especially between gangs rumble seat noun, pl ~ seats [count] US, old-fashioned : a seat in the back of a car that folds down and is not covered by the top ♦ Rumble seats were most common in cars made during the 1920s and 1930s.

rumble strip noun, pl ~ strips [count] : a set of grooves along the edge of a highway or across a road that cause noise and shaking when they are driven over and that are used to warn drivers that they need to slow down or are too close to the edge of the road

rum-bling /'rʌmbəlɪŋ/ noun, pl -blings

1 [count] : a low, heavy, continuous sound or series of sounds • rumblings of thunder — usually singular • The rumbling of the thunder frightened the cat. • the rumbling of distant traffic

2 rumblings [plural] : written or spoken comments showing that people are unhappy about something • There were rum-

blings about rising prices. • the rumblings of revolution

rum-bus-tious /ˈrʌmˈbʌstɪəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] Brit : RAMBUNCTIOUS ru-mi-nant /ˈruːmənənt/ noun, pl -nants [count] technical : an animal (such as a cow or sheep) that has more than one stomach and that swallows food and then brings it back up again to continue chewing it

— ruminant adj • ruminant animals

ru-mi-nate /ˈruːməˌneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [no obj]

1 formal : to think carefully and deeply about something • The question got us ruminating on the real value of wealth. • He ruminated over/about the implications of their decision.

2 technical, of an animal : to bring up and chew again what has already been chewed and swallowed • a ruminating cow — ru-mi-na-tion /ˈruːməˌneɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] ruminations on the meaning of life [noncount] Cows break down their food by rumination.

ru-mi-na-tive /ˈruːməˌneɪtɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : showing careful thought about something : very thoughtful • The poem is dark and ruminative. • She was in a ruminative mood.

rum-mage /ˈrʌmɪdʒ/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition -mag-es; -maged; -mag-ing [no obj] : to search for something especially by moving and looking through the contents of a place • He rummaged through the attic for his baseball card collection. • He rummaged in his pocket for the receipt. • I heard you rummaging around/about in the refrigerator.

rummage noun [singular] chiefly Brit : the act of looking for something among a group of things • Have a rummage through the box [=look through the box] and see if you can find the toy you're looking for.

rummage sale noun, pl ~ sales [count] US : a sale of used items (such as old clothes or toys) especially to raise money for a church, school, charity, etc. — called also (Brit) jumble sale

rum-my /ˈrʌmi/ noun [noncount] : a card game in which each player tries to collect groups of three or more cards — see also GIN RUMMY ru-mor (US) or Brit ru-mour /ˈruːmə/ noun, pl -mors : information or a story that is passed from person to person but has not been proven to be true [count] There are rumors that they are making a new film. • She accused him of starting/spreading rumors about her. • Ever since his sudden resignation, rumors have been flying. • I heard a rumor that they broke up. • “Did you hear that they broke up?” “That’s just/only a rumor.” • The rumor turned out to be false/unfounded. [noncount] You can’t fire him solely based on rumor. • Rumor has it that they broke up.

the rumor mill : a group of people who start and spread rumors • That news should keep the rumor mill churning/running/going for a while!

ru-mored (US) or Brit ru-moured /ˈruːməd/ adj — used to describe what is being said in rumors • The estate sold for a rumored $12 million. [=people say that it sold for $12 million, but that may not be true] • It was rumored that the factory was going to move overseas, but that turned out to be false. • The new boss is rumored to be a bit of a tyrant.

ru-mor-mon-ger (US) or Brit ru-mour-mon-ger /ˈruːməˌmɔːŋə, ˈruːməˌmɔːŋə/ noun, pl -gers [count] disapproving : a person who enjoys spreading rumors

rump /ˈrʌmp/ noun, pl rumps

1 a [count] : the back part of an animal’s body where the thighs join the hips • a horse’s/cow’s rump b [count, non-count] : a piece of meat that comes from the rump of a cow — called also rump steak

2 [count] humorous : the part of the body you sit on : BOTTOM • I slipped and fell on my rump.

3 [singular] chiefly Brit : the part of a group that remains after most of the members of that group have left or been forced to leave rum-ple /ˈrʌmpəl/ verb rum-ples; rum-pled; rum-pling [+ obj] : to make (something) messy or wrinkled • He rumpled her hair affectionately.

— rumpled adj • She put on a rumpled shirt she had worn the day before. • a rumpled bed rum-pus /ˈrʌmpəs/ noun [singular] chiefly Brit, informal : a noisy argument, fight, etc. : RUCKUS • They caused a rumpus [=commotion] with their fighting.

rumpus room noun, pl ~ rooms [count] US, somewhat old-fashioned : a room usually in the basement of a house that a family uses for games, parties, etc.

run /ˈrʌn/ verb runs; ran /ˈræn/; run; run-ning

1 [no obj] a : to move with your legs at a speed that is faster than walking • How fast can you run? • He runs faster than anyone else on the team. • She ran up the stairs to get her jacket. • We ran for the train—but missed it. • I heard her scream and ran to help. • She ran to me for help. • The dog ran away from me. • The dog ran toward me. • When I called the dog, he came running. • Don’t expect me to come running every time you want something. I’m not your servant. • The chickens were running loose in the yard. • The horses ran wild. • He ran at me with a knife. [=he ran toward me with a knife in his hand] — often used figuratively • He ran back to his ex-girlfriend after I dumped him. • You can’t keep running away from your problems. • Don’t come running to me when you get in trouble. • Don’t let your imagination run wild. I’m sure nothing bad has happened. b : to leave a place quickly by running • When the alarm sounded, the robbers ran. • He dropped the gun and ran. • Quick! Run and get a doctor! • The ambushed soldiers ran for cover. • They had the enemy running scared. — often + away • When she saw all the people in the audience, she had a sudden urge to run away. • They ran away screaming. — often + off • When they saw the police, they quickly ran off.

2 a : to run as part of a sport, for exercise, or in a race [no obj] He ran on the track team in college. • She’s running in the marathon this year. • The horse will not be running in this race. [+ obj] I run six miles every day. • She ran a great race. [=she ran very well in the race] • He ran track in college. • She’s running the marathon this year. • The marathon will be run tomorrow. [=people will be running the marathon tomorrow] b American football : to carry and run with (the ball) [+ obj] He ran the football for a 20-yard gain. • He ran the kick back to the 40-yard line. [no obj] He ran for 15 yards. c baseball : to run from base to base [no obj] He runs well and might attempt a steal. [+ obj] He runs the bases well.

3 [+ obj] : to cause (an animal) to run • He ran the horse through the fields.

4 [no obj] chiefly US : to be a candidate in an election for a particular office — often + for • She is running [=(Brit) standing] for mayor. — often + against • He is running against her in the upcoming election.

5 [+ obj] a : to direct the business or activities of (something) • She runs [=manages] the restaurant/hotel/store. • He runs the after-school program. • The President is doing a good job running the country. • The company is badly/private run. • state/family-run companies • I’m old enough to run my own life [=make my own decisions] b : to do (a test or check) on someone or something • The doctors need to run some more tests. — often + on • The doctors ran some tests on the blood samples. • The police ran a security check on him.

6 a [+ obj] : to use and control (something) • I’m not licensed to run [=operate] a forklift. b [+ obj] : to put (something) into operation • You should run the engine for a few minutes before you start driving. • He ran the program (on the computer). c [no obj] : to function or operate • Never leave your car unattended while the engine is running. • He didn’t know the camera was still running. • He had his new computer up and running in no time. — often + on • This software runs on most computers. • The car runs on [=uses] diesel.

7 a usually followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to go on a particular route or at particular times • The bus/ferry runs every hour. • The train runs between New York and Washington. • Trains no longer run on this track. • The buses are running late [=the buses are late] b [+ obj] : to have (a bus, train, ferry, etc.) traveling on a route • They run extra trains on Saturdays.

8 a [no obj] : to make a quick trip to a place for something • She ran (up/down) to the store for bread and milk. • He ran over to the neighbors for some sugar. b [+ obj] : to drive (someone) a short distance to a place or event • I have to run the kids to soccer practice. c always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to bring (something) quickly to someone who is at a particular place • Wait here. I’m just going to run this in/inside to her. • He ran an umbrella out to her before she drove off. d [+ obj] : to do (something that involves making a quick trip) : to do (an errand) • I have a few errands to run after I leave work today.

9 always followed by an adverb or preposition a [+ obj] : to cause (a driver or vehicle) to move in a particular direction • That car tried to run me off the road! • She ran her car off the road. • He ran the car into a tree. b [no obj] of a driver or vehicle : to move in a particular direction • His car ran off the road. = He ran off the road. — see also RUN INTO (below), RUN OVER (below)

10 always followed by an adverb or preposition a [+ obj] : to cause (something) to pass through, over, along, or into something else • She ran her fingers through my hair. • He ran a brush over the dog's fur. • I quickly ran my eyes over/down the list of names. b [no obj] : to travel or spread in a fast or uncontrolled way • Whispers ran through the crowd. • A chill ran up/down my spine.

11 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] a : to go or extend in a particular direction • The boundary line runs east. • The road runs through the mountain. • The highway runs from Boston to New York. — sometimes used figuratively • My tastes in novels run to/toward science fiction and thrillers. [=I tend to like science fiction and thrillers] • Such behavior runs counter to [=such behavior does not agree with] the values of our society. • He does nothing that would run against [=go against] his moral principles. b — used to describe the position of a road, path, etc. • The highway runs close to the shore. • The route runs the length of the eastern coast. • A path runs along the ridge. • The pipes run beneath the floor. • There was a scratch running down the side of the car.

12 [+ obj] : to cause (something, such as a wire or cable) to go or extend from one point to another • He ran the wires up from the basement.

13 [+ obj] : to bring (something) from one country into another country illegally and secretly • He was arrested for running [=smuggling] drugs into the country.

14 a [no obj] : to flow • He left the water running. : to flow in a particular direction • The river runs down to the valley. • The river runs into the gulf. • The tide was running out. • Sand ran out of the bag. • Steam runs through the pipes. • Blood was running down his leg. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to flow or to produce a flow of water • She ran the tap/faucet. • Run the water until it gets hot. c [+ obj] : to prepare (a bath) by running a faucet • She ran a hot bath for her husband. = She ran her husband a hot bath.

15 [no obj] a : to produce a flow of liquid • Chopping the onions made my eyes run. [=water] • I knew I was getting sick when my nose started to run. • a running sore b : to spread or flow into another area • Your eyeliner is running. • Mascara ran from her eyes. • The paint ran in some spots. • The writing was blurred where the ink ran. c : to have a color that spreads onto other pieces of clothing when clothes are washed together • Her red shirt ran and made my blue jeans look purple. • colors that run

16 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to continue or remain effective for a particular period of time • His contract runs until next season. • She received six months on each charge, and the sentences are to run concurrently. • The course runs over a six-week period of time. • The televised game ran 30 minutes over the scheduled time. • The play has run for six months. • Things ran smoothly at the office while the boss was away.

17 [no obj] : to be or to begin to be something specified • The well has run dry. • Her creativity has run dry. • We are running low on fuel. [=our supply of fuel is getting low] • Supplies were running low/short. • We ran short of money. [=we did not have enough money] • I have to hurry. I'm running late. [=I'm late; I'm behind schedule] • The project is running behind schedule.

18 [no obj] : to include everything between specified limits : RANGE • The prices for tickets run from $10 to $50.

19 [+ obj] : to allow charges on (a bill) to add up before paying • He ran a tab at the bar.

20 a [+ obj] : to have (an amount of money) as a price • The rooms run [=cost] $100 a night. b [no obj] : to have or reach a particular length, size, or amount • The book runs (to) nearly 500 pages. • Their annual budget runs to about 5 million dollars. • Their yearly income runs into/to six figures. [=their yearly income is more than $100,000] • Gas is running at over $4 per gallon. [=gas prices are over $4 per gallon]

21 a [+ obj] : to print or broadcast (something) • Every newspaper in the city ran the story. • The ad was run in yesterday's newspaper. • The news station ran a feature on how to eat healthier. b [no obj] : to appear in print or on television • Many of his stories ran in national magazines. • The show has run for five seasons.

22 [+ obj] : to produce (a copy of a document, newspaper, etc.) using a printer or copying machine • 10,000 copies were run for the first edition. — see also RUN OFF (below)

23 a [+ obj] : to have (particular words) in writing or print • "We Will Not Lose" ran the headline. [=the headline was/said "We Will Not Lose"] b [no obj] : to be expressed in words • The definition runs as follows . . .

24 [+ obj] : to drive past or through (a stop sign or red traffic light) illegally without stopping • He ran a red light. = He ran the light. • She ran the stop sign.

25 [no obj] US, of stockings : to start to have a long hole that continues to get longer • The nylons are guaranteed not to run. [= (Brit) ladder]

26 [+ obj] chiefly Brit : to own and maintain (a vehicle) • I can't afford to run a car on my salary.

In addition to the phrases shown below, run occurs in many idioms that are shown at appropriate entries throughout the dictionary. For example, cut and run can be found at ¹CUT and run a tight ship can be found at ¹SHIP.

run across [phrasal verb] run across (someone or something) : to meet (someone) or find (something) by chance • I ran across [=ran into] an old roommate of mine today. • I ran across some old photos from when I was a kid.

run a fever/temperature ♦ If you are running a fever/temperature, you have a body temperature that is higher than normal.

run after [phrasal verb] 1 run after (someone or something) : to run toward (someone or something) in an attempt to catch that person or thing • The dog ran after [=chased] the squirrel. 2 run after (someone) informal + disapproving : to try to start a romantic relationship with (someone) • He's always running after younger women.

run along [phrasal verb] informal + somewhat old-fashioned : to go away : LEAVE • He told the boy to run along home. • Run along now, kid. This doesn't concern you.

run around or chiefly Brit run about or run round [phrasal verb]

1 : to run in an area while playing • The children were running around outside. 2 informal : to go from place to place in a busy or hurried way • I spent the whole day running around doing errands. 3 run around/about/round with (someone) informal + disapproving : to spend a lot of time with (someone) • He runs around with younger women.

run away [phrasal verb] 1 : to leave your home suddenly without permission and go somewhere else to live • He ran away (from home) at a young age. • They ran away [=ran off] together because their families objected to their marriage. — see also RUNAWAY 2 : to avoid a person or situation that makes you feel uncomfortable • You shouldn't keep running away. You should face your mom and tell her how you feel. 3 a run away with (someone) disapproving : to leave a person or place in order to live with and have a sexual relationship with (someone) • He left his wife and ran away with [=ran off with] his secretary. • She ran away with a man old enough to be her father. b run away with (something) : to leave a place with (something that does not belong to you) • The butler ran away with [=stole, ran off with] the family silver. 4 run away with (something) informal a : to be the best or most popular performer in (a performance) • She ran away with [=stole] the show. b : to win (something) very easily • She ran away with the election. • He ran away with first place. 5 run away with (someone) : to make (someone) do something that is not sensible or reasonable • Don't let your imagination run away with you. [=don't let yourself imagine all kinds of things that aren't true] — see also ¹RUN 1b (above)

run by/past [phrasal verb] run (something) by/past (someone) : to tell (something) to (someone) so that it can be considered, approved, etc. • You'd better run this past the boss. [=you'd better tell the boss about this and find out if he/she thinks it is a good idea] • He ran some ideas by her. • (informal) Can you run that by me again? [=can you repeat what you just said?]

run down [phrasal verb] 1 run (someone or something) down or run down (someone or something) : to hit and knock down (a person or animal) with a vehicle • He says she deliberately tried to run him down. 2 a run (someone or something) down or run down (someone or something) : to chase after and catch (a person or animal) • The cops ran the robber down in an alley. b : to find (someone or something) after searching • He wasn't in his office, but I finally ran him down in the faculty lounge. 3 run down or run down (something) or run (something) down a : to use up or cause (something) to use up all of its power • The clock ran down. [=the clock slowed down and stopped working because it did not have any more power] • The watch's battery ran down. • Turn off the radio so you don't run down the batteries. b Brit : to become or cause (something, such as a business or activity) to become gradually smaller • The company has been running down for decades. • The company has been running down its factories/inventory. 4 run (someone or something) down or run down (someone or something) informal : to criticize (someone or something) in usually an unfair way • Don't keep running yourself down like that: you have a lot to offer! 5 run down (something) : to say or repeat (a list of people or things) from the beginning to the end • Let me just run down all the things we need to do. • He ran down the list of names. — see also RUNDOWN

run for it informal : to run to avoid being caught • It's the cops! Run for it!

run high : to be or become very strong or intense • Passions often run high in these debates. [=people often get very angry in these debates] • Emotions are running high between the two teams.

run in [phrasal verb] 1 run (someone) in or run in (someone) informal + somewhat old-fashioned : to arrest (someone) • The police ran him in for being drunk and disorderly. 2 run (something) in or run in (something) Brit : to drive (a new vehicle) carefully for a period of time until it is ready for regular use • You shouldn't drive a new car too fast while you're running it in. [=breaking it in]

run into [phrasal verb] 1 run into (someone or something) : to move into (someone or something) in a sudden or forceful way • He went off the road and ran into a tree. = His car went off the road and ran into a tree. • Some guy on a bike almost ran into me! • She wasn't paying attention and ran right into the table. 2 run into (someone) : to meet (someone) by chance • I ran into [=ran across] an old classmate the other day. 3 run into (something) : to experience (something that is unpleasant or difficult) : ENCOUNTER • We ran into some bad weather on our way home. • We ran into some problems setting up the computer.

run its course ✧ When something runs its course, it begins, continues for a time, and then ends. • The disease usually runs its course in a few days.

run off [phrasal verb] 1 a : to leave or abandon a person or place • Her husband ran off and left her with two small children to care for. — see also ¹RUN 1b (above) b run off with (someone or something) informal : to leave a place with (someone or something) : to run away with (someone or something) • Her husband ran off with his secretary. • She ran off with all the money. 2 run off (something) or run (something) off : to repeat or produce (something) quickly • Would you please run off five copies of this letter? — see also ¹RUN 22 (above) 3 run (someone or something) off or run off (someone or something) US : to force (a person or animal) off your land • He ran us off his property.

run on [phrasal verb] 1 : to talk about something for a long time • He ran on (and on) about politics until everybody was bored. 2 : to keep going without being stopped or interrupted for a long period of time • The meeting ran on for hours.

run out [phrasal verb] 1 a : to come to an end • Time ran out [=expired] before we could tie the game. • My contract will run out soon. b : to become used up • The gasoline ran out before we got to Denver. • Our money finally ran out. [=our money was all used; we had no more money] 2 run (someone) out or run (someone) out of (something) old-fashioned : to force (someone) to leave a place • An angry mob ran him out of town. 3 run out (something) or run (something) out baseball, of a batter : to run hard to first base after hitting (a batted ball) • His manager got angry because he failed to run out a grounder. 4 run out or run out of (something) : to use up the available supply of (something) • We're low on gas. We'd better stop before we run out. • He ran out of space and had to put his address on the other side of the paper. • You have to work faster. We're running out of time. 5 run out on (someone) informal : to leave (someone you should stay with) : to abandon or desert (someone) • She ran out on her husband and children to be with a man old enough to be her father.

run over [phrasal verb] 1 : to go beyond a limit • The meeting ran over. [=the meeting was longer than it was expected or planned to be] 2 a : to flow over the top or edge of something : OVERFLOW • The water was running over onto the floor. b of a container : to have a liquid flow over its edge : OVERFLOW • His cup ran over. 3 run over (someone or something) or run (someone or something) over a : to knock down and drive over or go over (someone or something) • The dog was run over by a car. • The running back ran over two defenders. b : to read, repeat, or practice (something) quickly • Let's run the lines over together one more time. • Can you run over the instructions again?

run past see RUN BY (above)

run through [phrasal verb] 1 run through (something) a : to spend or use up (something) quickly : SQUANDER • He ran through his winnings in a short time. b run through (something) : to read, repeat, or practice (something) quickly • Let's run through our lines one more time. • He quickly ran through the dance routine. — see also RUN-THROUGH c : to occur repeatedly in (something) or throughout (something) • The song has been running through my head all morning. • Thoughts and memories of home kept running through his mind. • A note of despair runs through the narrative. 2 run (something) through (something) : to enter (information) into (a computer) for processing • She ran his name through the police computer to see if he had any previous arrests. • He ran the data through. 3 run (someone) through literary : to push a sword through (someone) • He ran him through with his sword.

run up [phrasal verb] 1 run up (something) or run (something) up a : to raise (a flag) to the top of a flagpole • To celebrate our victory, we ran up our flag. b : to achieve (a large score or lead) • Our team ran up a big lead in the first quarter. • (US) She angrily accused the other coach of deliberately running up the score [=continuing to try to score more points even though they are not needed to win a game] c : to increase the amount of (something) • These extras will run the bill up another $100. d : to get (a large bill, debt, etc.) by buying many things without making payments — often + up • She ran up a large phone bill. • He ran up a lot of debt on his credit cards. 2 run up against (something) : to experience (something difficult) : ENCOUNTER • She has run up against a lot of opposition. • He has run up against a bug in his computer program.

run with [phrasal verb] run with (something) informal : to use (something) in a very energetic, enthusiastic, and effective way • He took the idea and ran with it.

run your mouth informal : to talk too much and in a foolish way • He's always running his mouth about what a great athlete he is.

walk before you (can) run see ¹WALK

²run noun, pl runs

1 [count] : an act of running • He goes for a six-mile run every evening. • She took the dogs out for a run. • When they realized they might miss the train, they broke into a run. [=started running] • The robbers heard the police sirens and made a run for it [=ran away to avoid being captured] • The dog was coming toward us at a run. [=the dog was running toward us] — see also HIT-AND-RUN

2 [count] a : a continuous series of similar things — often + of • We had a long run of cloudy days. • a run of good/bad luck • a long run of wins/losses b : a continuous series of performances or showings • The play had a run of six months on Broadway. = The play had a six-month run on Broadway.

3 [count] : the amount of a product that is produced at one time — often + of • The book had a print run of 10,000 copies. [=10,000 copies of the book were printed at the one time]

4 [count] US : an attempt to win or do something • The team is making a run at the championship. [=the team is playing well and has a chance to win the championship] • She made an unsuccessful run for a seat in the Senate. [=she tried to be elected to a seat in the Senate, but she lost the election] • (informal) "I can't solve this math problem." "Let me take a run at it" [=let me try it]

5 [singular] : the usual or normal kind of person or thing • She's not like the average/normal/general/usual run of students. [=she's not like most students] • The place is different from the usual run of restaurants.

6 [count] a : a score made in baseball when a player reaches home plate after going around the bases • The home team took the lead with three runs in the bottom of the fifth (inning). • a three-run lead — see also HOME RUN b : a score made in cricket

7 [count] American football : a play in which a player tries to move the ball forward by running with it • He scored on a 25-yard run.

8 a [count] : a regular journey that is made by a bus, train, etc. • The bus makes four runs daily. • a delivery run • (Brit) the school run [=a regular trip in which parents take their children to or from school each day] • The planes were sent out on a bomb/bombing run. b [singular] : a short trip in a vehicle • I have to make a quick run to the store.

9 [count] : a track that slopes down and that is used for skiing, sledding, etc. • a ski run [=slope] • a bobsled run

10 [count] : a path that is used regularly by animals • a deer run — see also RAT RUN

11 [count] : an enclosed area for animals where they feed and exercise • a chicken run

12 [count] US : a long hole in a stocking • She had a run in her stocking/nylons. — called also (Brit) ladder

13 [count] music : a series of notes that are sung or played quickly up or down a scale

14 [count] : a situation in which many people want to have, get, or do something at the same time — usually singular; usually + on • There's been a big run on tickets for the game. [=a lot of people have been trying to get tickets for the game] • There was a run on the bank. [=a lot of people were taking their money out of the bank because they were afraid that the bank would fail]

15 [count] : the general way in which something is moving or changing • Investors are anxiously watching the run of the stock market. [=are watching to see if the stock market is going up or down]

16 the runs informal : DIARRHEA • a bad case of the runs

17 [count] technical : an occurrence in which a large number of fish (such as salmon) swim up a river to return to the place where they were hatched and produce young • a salmon run a run for your money ✧ Someone who gives you a (good) run for your money in a game or contest makes it difficult for you to win by trying hard and playing or performing well. • Though they lost, they gave last year's champions a run for their money.

on the run 1 a : running away from someone in order to avoid being captured • an escaped convict on the run • He is on the run from the cops. b : running away because you are about to be defeated • The army had the enemy on the run. 2 : while going somewhere or while doing something else • We ate lunch on the run. 3 informal : continuously busy • He's always on the run.

the run of : the freedom to go anywhere or do anything you want in (a place) • With his parents gone, he had the run of the house.

— see also DRY RUN, DUMMY RUN, LONG RUN, SHORT RUN, TRIAL RUN run·about /ˈrʌnəˌbaʊt/ noun, pl -abouts [count]

1 chiefly US : a small motorboat

2 chiefly Brit : a small car run·around /ˈrʌnəˌraʊnd/ noun

the runaround informal ✧ If someone gives you the run-around or you get the runaround, you are not given the information or help that you need because someone will not answer your questions or deal with your problem directly. • I'm tired of getting the runaround from your customer representatives. • They keep giving me the runaround.

1 run·away /ˈrʌnəˌweɪ/ noun, pl -aways [count] : someone (such as a child) who leaves home without permission : someone who runs away from home • teenage runaways — see also run away at ¹RUN

2 runaway adj, always used before a noun

1 — used to describe a person who has left home without permission or who has escaped from someplace • runaway teenagers • a runaway slave

2 : operating, running, increasing, etc., in a fast and dangerous way that cannot be controlled • a runaway horse/train • a runaway oil well • runaway inflation

3 : extremely successful • a runaway best seller • The play was a runaway success.

4 a : won very easily by a large amount • a runaway victory b : having won very easily by a large amount • She was the runaway winner of the race.

run batted in noun, pl runs batted in [count] baseball : RBI run-down /ˈrʌnˈdaʊn/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : in very bad condition because of age or lack of care •

They lived in a run-down farmhouse in rural Maine.

2 not used before a noun : in poor health or physical condition : worn-out or exhausted • You look run-down.

run-down /ˈrʌnˌdaʊn/ noun, pl -downs [count]

1 : a quick report about the main parts of something • They gave us a run-down on/of the main points of the news.

2 Brit : a gradual reduction in the size of a business, activity, etc. • a run-down of/in our public services — see also run down at ¹RUN

3 baseball : a play in which a runner is chased by two or more opposing players who throw the ball to each other in an attempt to tag the runner out • He was caught in a run-down.

rune /ˈruːn/ noun, pl runes [count] : any of the characters in the alphabets that were used in ancient times by people of Northern Europe

— ru·nic /ˈruːnik/ adj • a runic inscription

1 rung past participle of ³RING

2 rung /ˈrʌŋ/ noun, pl rungs [count]

1 : a piece of wood or metal that is placed between the legs of a chair for support

2 : one of the pieces of wood or metal that is used as a step on a ladder

3 : a position or level within a group, organization, etc., that is higher or lower than others • He was on the bottom rung on the corporate ladder. • the top rung of society • the lowest/highest rung of the pay scale run-in /ˈrʌnˌɪn/ noun, pl -ins [count] informal : an angry argument — usually + with • He had a run-in with the cops.

run·nel /ˈrʌnəl/ noun, pl -nels [count] formal + literary : a small stream run·ner /ˈrʌnər/ noun, pl -ners [count]

1 a : a person who runs as part of a sport, for exercise, or in a race • a long-distance/cross-country/marathon runner • She's a fast runner. b : an animal (such as a horse) that runs in a race

2 a : a person who delivers messages, reports, materials, or products either within a business or organization or to outside locations : MESSENGER b : a person who brings drugs, guns, etc., to a place illegally and secretly • a drug runner

3 baseball : a player who is on base or is trying to reach a base : BASE RUNNER • The runner slid into third base.

4 : a long, thin piece or part on which something (such as a sled, skate, or drawer) slides

5 : a stem of a plant that grows along the ground and that forms new plants • a plant that spreads by sending out runners

6 a : a long, narrow carpet for a hall or staircase b : a narrow cloth cover for a table or other piece of furniture

do a runner Brit, informal : to leave a place quickly by running especially to avoid paying a bill or to escape punishment run·ner-up /ˈrʌnərˌʌp/ noun, pl run·ners-up /ˈrʌnərˌzˌʌp/ [count] : a person or team that does not win first place in a competition but that does well enough to get a prize • the first and second runners-up in the beauty pageant; especially : a person or team that finishes in second place • The winner will receive $1,000 and the runner-up will receive $100.

1 run·ning /ˈrʌnɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the activity or sport of running • He took up running for exercise. • long-distance running • They go running every evening.

2 : the activity of managing or operating something — usually + of • She's in charge of the day-to-day running of the entire operation. • the smooth running of the events

3 : the activity of bringing drugs, guns, etc., to a place illegally and secretly • drug running in the running 1 : competing in a contest • The enthusiasm of his supporters made him decide to stay in the running for mayor. 2 : having a chance to win a contest • She is still in the running for the prize.

out of the running 1 : not competing in a contest • He declared himself officially out of the running for mayor. 2 : having no chance to win a contest • She is now out of the running for the prize.

2 running adj, always used before a noun

1 : operating or flowing • Never add fuel to a running engine. • a running faucet — see also RUNNING WATER

2 : going on steadily or repeatedly for a long period of time • The farmer had a running battle with pests and disease. • a running joke/gag [=a joke/gag that is repeated many times in slightly different ways]

3 : made during the course of a process or activity • The major television stations provided running commentaries on the election results. • She kept a running total of their expenses on the trip.

4 : done while running or immediately after running • a running catch/jump

5 American football — used to describe play in which the ball is moved forward by running rather than by passing • a running play • The team has a strong running game. [=the team is good at moving the ball by running with it]

6 : designed for use by runners • a running track • running shoes

3 running adv, always used after a noun : following or happening one after the other • It has rained (for) three days running. [=for three days in a row; for three consecutive days] • He has won the competition three times running.

running back noun, pl ~ backs [count] American football : a player who carries the football on running plays running board noun, pl ~ boards [count] : a long, narrow board that is attached to the side of a vehicle to make it easier for people to get in and out running mate noun, pl ~ mates [count] chiefly US : the person who runs with someone in an election (such as an election to choose a new president) and who is given the less important position (such as vice president) if they are elected • When John F. Kennedy ran for president, his running mate was Lyndon Johnson.

running start noun [singular] chiefly US — used to say that a person or animal is running at the start of a race, jump, etc. • How fast can you cover 100 meters if you have a running start? [=if you are already running when you pass the starting point of that 100 meters?] • The sprinters were given a running start. [=were allowed to be running at the start of the race] — often used figuratively • The new mayor is off to a running start. [=flying start] [=the new mayor has been successful very quickly] • The company was given a running start [=head start, advantage] by its experience with similar projects in the past.

running time noun, pl ~ times [count, noncount] : the amount of time that a movie, performance, recording, etc., lasts from beginning to end running water noun [noncount] : water that comes into a building through pipes • a cabin with hot and cold running water run-ny /'rʌni/ adj run-ni-er; -est

1 of a food : soft and with a lot of liquid • The scrambled eggs are runny. • The pudding is runnier than I like it.

2 : having a thin flow of liquid flowing out • a little boy with a runny nose • My eyes felt itchy and runny.

run-off /'rʌn,ɔ:f/ noun, pl -offs

1 [count] : an additional race, contest, or election that is held because an earlier one has not resulted in a winner

2 [noncount] : water from rain or snow that flows over the surface of the ground into streams run-of-the-mill /,rʌnəvðə'mɪl/ adj, often disapproving : average or ordinary • a run-of-the-mill performance

runt /'rʌnt/ noun, pl runts [count]

1 : the smallest animal in a group that is born to one mother at the same time • the runt of the litter

2 informal + disapproving : a very small or weak person • a skinny little runt

— runty /'rʌnti/ adj -i-er; -i-est • a runty kid run-through /'rʌn,θru:/ noun, pl -throughs [count] : an activity in which you quickly do or read all the different parts of something especially in order to practice or prepare for something (such as a performance) • She gave her lines/notes a quick run-through. • They did a run-through [=rehearsal] of the play. — see also run through at 1 RUN

run-up /'rʌn,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count]

1 : a usually sudden increase in price • a run-up in stock prices

2 : the period immediately before an action or event • during the run-up to the war/election run-way /'rʌn,wei/ noun, pl -ways [count]

1 : a long strip of ground where airplanes take off and land

2 US : a raised structure along which models walk in a fashion show : CATWALK

ru-pee /ru'pi:/ noun, pl -pees [count] : the basic unit of money in some Asian countries including India and Pakistan ru-pi-ah /ru'pi:jə/ noun, pl rupiah or ru-pi-ahs [count] : the basic unit of money in Indonesia

1 rup-ture /'rʌptʃə/ noun, pl -tures

1 [count, noncount] : a crack or break in something (such as a pipe) • A rupture in the pipeline resulted in major water damage.

2 medical a : a break or tear in a part of the body [count] a rupture of an artery [noncount] an infection that could cause rupture of the eardrum b [count] : HERNIA

3 [count] : a break in good relations between people or countries • The conflict caused a rupture in relations between the former allies. • They're trying to heal the rupture in their relationship.

2 rupture verb -tures; -tured; -tur-ing

1 a : to break or burst [no obj] The pipe ruptured because of high water pressure. [+ obj] High water pressure ruptured the pipe. b [+ obj] medical : to cause a break or tear in (a part of the body) • The impact ruptured his liver. • a ruptured eardrum • I almost ruptured myself [=I almost gave myself a hernia] trying to lift that heavy box.

2 [+ obj] : to damage or destroy (a relationship, situation, etc.) • The scandal ruptured relations between the two countries. • The crime ruptured the peace of a small town.

ru-ral /'rʌrəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : of or relating to the country and the people who live there instead of the city • She lives in a rural area. • a rural community/setting • rural voters — opposite URBAN ruse /'ru:s, Brit 'ru:z/ noun, pl rus-es [count] : a trick or act that is used to fool someone • His act was just a clever ruse to get me to go out with him.

1 rush /'rʌʃ/ verb rush-es; rushed; rush-ing

1 [no obj] : to move or do something very quickly or in a way that shows you are in a hurry • Firefighters rushed to the accident scene. • The children rushed down the stairs. • She rushed past me. • I rushed home from work to get ready for the party. • She rushed through dinner. • I'm getting everything ready tonight so I won't have to rush (around) in the morning. • She rushed to close the window when she heard the rain. • We were rushing to catch the bus.

2 a [+ obj] : to cause or force (someone) to do something too quickly • He got nervous because they rushed him. • Please stop rushing me! — often + into • They rushed her into making a bad decision. b [no obj] : to do something too quickly and often with little thought, attention, or care • He rushed through his work and made a lot of careless mistakes. — often + into • She rushed into (making) a bad decision. • After the divorce, he rushed into another marriage.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to flow or move very quickly in a particular direction • Water rushed through the pipes. • The rushing water broke through the barrier. — often used figuratively • When he saw her photo, memories came rushing back.

4 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to bring or send (someone or something) very quickly to a particular place • He rushed his wife to the hospital. • Supplies for the victims were rushed in. — sometimes used figuratively • Lawmakers rushed the bill through Congress.

5 [+ obj] : to do (something) quickly in a short period of time • He asked the clerk to rush his order.

6 [+ obj] : to run toward (someone or something) very quickly • Several hostages rushed the gunman and knocked him to the ground. • The crowd rushed the stage at the concert.

7 [+ obj] US a : to go through the process of becoming a member of (a fraternity or sorority) • She is rushing a sorority. b : to try to get (a student) to join a fraternity or sorority • He is being rushed by a fraternity.

8 American football : to move a football down the field by running with it instead of throwing it [no obj] He rushed [=ran] for 100 yards in last week's game. = He had 100 yards rushing in last week's game. • The team has a strong rushing defense/attack. [+ obj] He rushed [=ran] the ball for 100 yards in last week's game.

rush out [phrasal verb] rush (something) out or rush out (something) : to produce (something) very quickly • We had to rush the manuscript out so that it could be copied. • Reporters rushed out the story for the morning edition of the newspaper.

2 rush noun, pl rushes

1 [singular] a : a quick, strong, or fast movement • He made a sudden rush toward the door. b : a quick and forceful movement of air, water, etc. • We felt a rush of cold/hot air from the vent. • When the levees broke, the rush of water flooded the area.

2 [singular] : a situation in which someone is doing something very quickly or hurrying • In his rush to get out the door, he forgot his hat. [=he forgot his hat because he was rushing/hurrying to get out the door] • We are in no rush [=hurry] to finish.

3 [count] : a situation in which a large number of people move to or toward one place at the same time usually to do a specific thing or to search for something • Shop early to avoid the Christmas/holiday rush. [=the time when everyone else is doing their shopping] — see also GOLD RUSH

4 [count] : a sudden demand for something by many people • There is always a rush for fans and air conditioners during the first heat wave.

5 [count] US : the process of finding new people to join a fraternity or sorority • a fraternity rush

6 rushes [plural] : the first prints of scenes of a film or movie that have not been edited • The director and the actors watched the rushes from the previous day's filming.

7 [count] : a strong feeling or emotion caused by a drug or by something exciting • The roller-coaster ride gave me a rush. [=thrill] • an adrenaline rush [=high] • I felt a rush of relief after hearing the news.

— compare ³RUSH

³rush noun, pl rushes [count] : a tall plant similar to grass that grows in wet areas and that is used to make baskets and other things when dried — compare ²RUSH

rush·er /ˈrʌʃə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone or something that rushes; especially, American football : a player who carries the ball during running plays • He was the team's leading rusher last year.

rush hour noun, pl ~ hours [count, noncount] : a time during the day early in the morning or late in the afternoon when many people are traveling on roads to get to work or to get home from work • We got caught in the morning rush hour. • rush hour traffic

rusk /ˈrʌsk/ noun, pl rusks [count] chiefly Brit : a dry, hard cookie that is eaten especially by young children

rus·set /ˈrʌsət/ noun [noncount] : a reddish-brown color — see color picture on page C3

Rus·sian /ˈrʌʃən/ noun, pl -sians

1 [count] a : a person born, raised, or living in Russia b : a person whose family is from Russia

2 [noncount] : the language of the Russian people

— Russian adj • Russian food/literature

Russian dressing noun [noncount] US : a type of salad dressing that typically contains chili sauce, chopped pickles, or pimientos

Russian roulette noun [noncount] : a dangerous game in which people fire a gun with a single bullet at their heads without knowing if the bullet will be shot or not — often used figuratively • He was playing Russian roulette with his life. [=he was doing something that was very foolish and dangerous and that could destroy or end his life]

¹rust /ˈrʌst/ noun [noncount]

1 : a reddish substance that forms on iron or some other metal usually when it comes in contact with moisture or air • an old pump covered in rust • rust spots/patches

2 : a disease that causes plants to develop reddish-brown spots

3 : a reddish-brown color

²rust verb rusts; rust-ed; rust-ing

1 [no obj] : to form rust : to become rusty • Your bicycle will rust if you leave it out in the rain. • rusting nails • The paint prevents rusting.

2 [+ obj] : to cause rust to form on (something) • The moist air rusted the latch on the door. • The old iron fence was rust-ed.

Rust·belt /ˈrʌst,belt/ noun

the Rustbelt : the northeastern and midwestern states of the U.S. in which many factories (such as steel mills) have closed because of changes in the economy • Many people have moved from the Rustbelt to the Sunbelt.

¹rus·tic /ˈrʌstɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : of, relating to, or suitable for the country or people who live in the country • The inn has a rustic atmosphere. • a rustic village

2 : made of rough wood • simple, rustic furniture

— rus·tic·i·ty /ˌrʌˈstɪsəti/ noun [noncount] • the rusticity of the inn

²rustic noun, pl -tics [count] : a person who lives in the country

¹rus·tle /ˈrʌsəl/ verb rus·tles; rus·tled; rus·tling

1 a [no obj] : to make a soft, light sound because parts of something are touching or rubbing against each other • The trees rustled in the wind. • Her skirt rustled as she walked. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to make a soft, light sound • He rustled the papers on his desk.

2 [+ obj] : to steal (animals) from a farm or ranch • rustle sheep/cattle rustle up [phrasal verb] rustle (something) up or rustle up (something) informal 1 : to prepare (food, a meal, etc.) quickly • He rustled up a full meal in no time. 2 : to find or get (something) • I'll see if I can rustle up some information about that for you.

— rus·tler /ˈrʌsələ/ noun, pl rus·tlers [count] • a cattle rustler — rustling noun [singular] He heard a rustling in the bushes. [noncount] They were accused of cattle rustling.

²rustle noun [singular] : a quick series of soft, light sounds caused when things (such as leaves or pieces of paper) rub against each other • He heard a rustle of leaves behind him.

rust·proof /ˈrʌst,pruːf/ adj : protected against rusting • a rustproof pipe rusty /ˈrʌsti/ adj rust·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : covered with rust • a rusty old car • rusty nails

2 : not as good as usual or as in the past because you have not done or practiced something for a long time • My tennis skills are a little rusty. • The singers were a bit rusty after the long break.

3 : of the color of rust : reddish brown • rusty hair — rust·i·ness /ˈrʌstɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

¹rut /ˈrʌt/ noun, pl ruts

1 [count] : a long, narrow mark made by the wheels of a vehicle passing over an area • The truck left deep ruts in the muddy ground.

2 [singular] : a situation or way of behaving that does not change • She was stuck in a rut at her old job, so she quit work and went back to school. • It is easy to get into a rut if you're not careful.

— compare ²RUT

— rut·ted /ˈrʌtəd/ adj • a rutted dirt road — rut·ty /ˈrʌti/ adj • a rutty track/road

²rut noun [noncount] : the time when male animals (such as deer) become sexually active • Bucks will defend their territory during the rut. • a stag in rut — compare ¹RUT

— rut·ting /ˈrʌtɪŋ/ adj • a rutting elk/buck • the rutting season ru·ta·ba·ga /ˌruːtəˈbeɪgə/ noun, pl -gas [count, noncount] US : a large, yellowish root vegetable that is a type of turnip — called also (Brit) swede ruth·less /ˈruːθləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having no pity : cruel or merciless • a ruthless killer • The journalist was ruthless in his criticism.

— ruth·less·ly adv • The slaves were ruthlessly abused by their owners. — ruth·less·ness noun [noncount]

RV /ˌɑːˈviː/ noun, pl RVs [count] : RECREATIONAL VEHICLE

Rx /ˌɑːˈeks/ noun, pl Rx's [count] US : a doctor's prescription • an Rx for heartburn — often used figuratively • an Rx for boredom [=a way to stop being bored] ♢ Rx comes from the Latin word “recipe,” which means “take.” It traditionally appears in places where medicines are sold and is often used on signs, in newspaper headlines, etc.

— -ry noun suffix : -ERY • wizardry • citizenry

rye /ˈraɪ/ noun

1 [noncount] : a type of grass that is grown as a grain and used to make flour or whiskey

2 [count, noncount] US : bread that is made from rye flour • a ham sandwich on rye — called also rye bread

3 [count, noncount] : whiskey that is made from rye • a bottle of rye — called also rye whiskey

S

¹s or S /'es/ noun, pl s's or S's : the 19th letter of the English alphabet [count] a word that starts with an s [noncount] a word that starts with s

²S or S abbr 1 small — usually used for a clothing size • The shirt comes in S, M, L, or XL. 2 S south, southern

¹-s noun plural suffix

1 — used to form the plural of most nouns • heads • books • boys • beliefs • mothers-in-law • the Taylors

2 — used with or without a preceding apostrophe to form the plural of abbreviations, numbers, letters, and symbols that are used as nouns • MCs • PhD's • the 1940's • men in their 50s — compare ²-ES

²-s verb suffix — used to form the third person singular present tense of most verbs • falls • takes • plays — compare ²-ES

[']s /s after p, t, k, f, or θ; əz after s, z, ʃ, ʒ, ʒ, or dʒ; z elsewhere/ verb — used as a contraction of is, was, has, and does • She's here. [=she is here] • When's [=when was] the last time you ate? • He's [=he has] seen them already. • What's he want? [=what does he want?]

⁻s /s after p, t, k, f, or θ; əz after s, z, ʃ, ʒ, ʒ, or dʒ; z elsewhere/ noun suffix or pronoun suffix — used to form the possessive of singular nouns, of plural nouns not ending in s, of some pronouns, and of word groups that function as nouns or pronouns • The boy's books were missing. • I called the doctor's (office). • children's clothes • anyone's dog • the man on the corner's hat • someone else's car ♦ The possessive of a plural noun that ends in s is formed by adding an apostrophe alone instead of 's. • The boys' books were missing. The possessive of singular nouns and names that end in s can usually be formed by adding 's. If adding 's would make the word difficult to say, an apostrophe alone may be used instead. • James's mother • Moses' mother

Sa. abbr Saturday

Sab·bath /'sæbəθ/ noun

the Sabbath : a weekly day of rest and worship that is observed on Sunday by most Christians and on Saturday (from Friday evening to Saturday evening) by Jews and some Christians • Our family keeps/observes the Sabbath. [=obeys the rules about what should be done on the Sabbath] • We are careful not to break the Sabbath.

— Sabbath adj., always used before a noun • Sabbath day/dinner/observances sab·bat·i·cal /sə'bætɪkəl/ noun, pl -cals : a period of time during which someone does not work at his or her regular job and is able to rest, travel, do research, etc. [count] Several professors will be taking sabbaticals this year. • She recently returned to work after a two-year sabbatical from her acting career. • a paid sabbatical [noncount] Several professors will be on sabbatical this year.

— sabbatical adj., always used before a noun • I chose to take sabbatical leave next year. • a sabbatical year

sa·ber (US) or Brit sa·bre /'seɪbə/ noun, pl -bers [count]

1 : a long, heavy sword with a curved blade

2 : a lightweight sword that is used in fencing

saber-rattling (US) or Brit sabre-rattling noun [noncount] : actions and statements that are meant to frighten or threaten an enemy by suggesting the possible use of force saber-toothed tiger (US) or Brit sabre-toothed tiger noun, pl ~ -gers [count] : a type of large cat that lived in very ancient times and had long, curved teeth — called also saber-toothed cat

sa·ble /'seɪbəl/ noun, pl sa·bles or sable

1 [count] : a small animal that lives in northern Asia and has soft, brown fur

2 [noncount] : the fur of the sable • a brush/coat made of sable

— sable adj. • a sable brush/coat

¹sab·o·tage /'sæbə,tɑːʒ/ noun [noncount] : the act of destroying or damaging something deliberately so that it does not work correctly • Angry workers were responsible for the sabotage of the machines. • terrorists engaging in (deliberate) acts of sabotage • Officials have not yet ruled out sabotage as a possible cause of the crash. • industrial sabotage

²sabotage verb -tag-es; -taged; -tag-ing [+ obj]

1 : to destroy or damage (something) deliberately so that it does not work correctly • They sabotaged the enemy's oil fields. • The airplane crashed because it was sabotaged.

2 : to cause the failure of (something) deliberately • The lawyer is trying to sabotage the case by creating confusion. • The deal was sabotaged by an angry employee. — sometimes used figuratively • Bad weather sabotaged [=ruined] our plans.

sab·o·teur /sæbə'tɔː/ noun, pl -teurs [count] : a person who destroys or damages something deliberately : a person who performs sabotage • The car's tires were slashed by saboteurs.

sac /'sæk/ noun, pl sacs [count] : a part inside the body of an animal or plant that is shaped like a bag and that usually contains liquid or air • a food storage sac • an air/egg sac

sac·cha·rin /'sækərən/ noun [noncount] : a very sweet, white substance that does not have any calories and that is used instead of sugar to sweeten food • soft drinks flavored with saccharin

sac·cha·rine /'sækərən, Brit 'sækə,rɪn/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : too sweet or sentimental : sweet or sentimental in a way that does not seem sincere or genuine • a saccharine smile • a saccharine love story

sa·chet /sə'ʃeɪ, Brit 'sæʃeɪ/ noun, pl -chets [count]

1 : a small bag that has a powder or a mixture of dried flowers and spices inside it and that is used to give a pleasant smell to clothes, sheets, etc.

2 Brit : a small, thin package : PACKET • a sachet of shampoo/sugar

¹sack /'sæk/ noun, pl sacks

1 [count] : a bag that is made of strong paper, cloth, or plastic • a sack containing flour = a sack of flour • sacks of cement • a grocery sack — see also GUNNYSACK, RUCKSACK

2 [count] : the amount that is contained in a sack • We peeled an entire sack [=sackful] of potatoes.

3 the sack chiefly US, informal : a person's bed • He's still in the sack. Do you want me to wake him? • It's time to hit the sack. [=go to bed] • She has a reputation for being good/great in the sack. [=for being a good sexual partner] • He's ready to jump/climb in the sack [=have sex] with any woman who'll have him.

4 the sack informal : a sudden dismissal from a job • She got the sack [=she was fired] for always being late. • The company gave him the sack [=fired him] for improper conduct.

5 [count] American football : the act of tackling the quarterback behind the line of scrimmage • He was credited with three sacks in yesterday's game.

— compare ⁴SACK; see also SAD SACK

²sack verb sacks; sacked; sack-ing [+ obj]

1 informal : to dismiss (someone) from a job • They sacked [=fired] her for always being late.

2 American football : to tackle (the quarterback) behind the line of scrimmage • The quarterback was sacked twice during the game.

3 US, informal : to put (something) in a sack • Let me sack [=bag] those groceries for you.

sack out [phrasal verb] US, informal : to lie down for sleep • I went upstairs to sack out. • He sacked out on the living room couch. ♦ A person who is sacked out is sleeping. • He was sacked out on the living room couch.

— compare ³SACK

³sack verb sacks; sacked; sack-ing [+ obj] : to destroy and take things from (a place, such as a city or town) especially during a war • The invading army sacked [=plundered, pillaged] the city. — compare ²SACK

⁴sack noun [singular] : the act of destroying and taking things from a place (such as a city or town) especially during a war : the act of sacking a place — usually + of • the sack of Rome — compare ¹SACK

sack·cloth /'sæk,klə:θ/ noun [noncount] : rough cloth that is used for making sacks sackcloth and ashes ♦ To don/wear sackcloth and ashes means to publicly express or show sorrow or regret for having done something wrong. • He should be forced to wear sackcloth and ashes and apologize for his lies.

sack·ful /'sæk,ful/ noun, pl -fuls [count] : the amount that is contained in a sack • a sackful [=sack] of mail/potatoes sack race noun, pl ~ races [count] : a race in which people stand inside large sacks and move forward by jumping • a children's sack race

sac-ra-ment /'sækrəmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 [count] : an important Christian ceremony (such as baptism or marriage)

2 the Sacrament : the bread and wine that are eaten and drunk during the Christian ceremony of Communion • They stood in line to receive the Sacrament.

— sac-ra-men-tal /,sækrə'mentl/ adj • sacramental wine sa-cred /'seikrəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : worthy of religious worship : very holy • a sacred shrine • The burial site is sacred ground. • the sacred image of the Virgin Mary — often + to • The shrine is sacred to millions of worshippers.

2 : relating to religion • sacred scriptures/songs/texts

3 : highly valued and important : deserving great respect • the sacred pursuit of liberty • We have a sacred duty to find out the truth. • Freedom is a sacred right. • They'll make jokes about anything. Nothing is sacred to those guys. • I can't believe they would do that. Is nothing sacred?

— sa-cred-ly adv • sacredly held beliefs — sa-cred-ness noun [noncount] sacred cow noun, pl ~ cows [count] disapproving : someone or something that has been accepted or respected for a long time and that people are afraid or unwilling to criticize or question • The old government program has become a sacred cow.

¹sac-ri-fice /'sækrə,fais/ noun, pl -fic-es

1 : the act of giving up something that you want to keep especially in order to get or do something else or to help someone [count] The war required everyone to make sacrifices. • No sacrifice is too great when it comes to her children. • He made many personal sacrifices to provide help to the city's homeless people. • He made the final/supreme/ultimate sacrifice [=he died] for his country. [noncount] The war required much sacrifice from everyone. • He provided help to the city's homeless people at great personal sacrifice (to himself).

2 a : an act of killing a person or animal in a religious ceremony as an offering to please a god [count] a place where priests performed human/animal sacrifices in ancient rituals [noncount] a place where people were offered (up) in sacrifice to the gods b [count] : a person or animal that is killed in a sacrifice • The villagers hoped the gods would accept their sacrifice. • The goat was offered as a sacrifice.

3 [count] baseball : SACRIFICE BUNT • The runner went to second base on a sacrifice.

²sacrifice verb -fices; -ficed; -fic-ing

1 : to give up (something that you want to keep) especially in order to get or do something else or to help someone [+ obj] She's had to sacrifice a lot for her family. • He sacrificed his personal life in order to get ahead in his career. • I want to follow a diet that is healthful without sacrificing taste. • She was able to ask for their help without sacrificing her dignity. • They sacrificed their lives [=they died] for their country. [no obj] She was willing to suffer, sacrifice, and work for success.

2 [+ obj] : to kill (a person or animal) in a religious ceremony as an offering to please a god • a place where people/animals were sacrificed in ancient rituals

3 baseball a [no obj] : to make a sacrifice bunt • He sacrificed in his first at bat. b [+ obj] : to cause (a base runner) to go to the next base by making a sacrifice bunt — usually used as (be) sacrificed • The runner was sacrificed to second base.

sacrifice bunt noun, pl ~ bunts [count] baseball : a bunt that allows a runner to go to the next base while the batter is put out — called also sacrifice, sacrifice hit sacrifice fly noun, pl ~ flies [count] baseball : a fly ball that is caught by a fielder but allows a base runner to score after it is caught sac-ri-fi-cial /,sækrə'fiʃəl/ adj : of, relating to, or involving sacrifice • sacrificial rites/rituals/offerings • a sacrificial altar • their sacrificial acts of self-denial

— sac-ri-fi-cial-ly adv • a sacrificially slaughtered animal sac-ri-lege /'sækrələdʒ/ noun : an act of treating a holy place or object in a way that does not show proper respect [singular] They accused him of committing a sacrilege. [noncount] They accused him of sacrilege. • an act of sacrilege against the church — often used figuratively • It would be (a) sacrilege to cut down such beautiful trees.

— sac-ri-le-gious /,sækrə'liɟəs/ adj • a sacrilegious act sac-ro-sanct /'sækrou,sæŋkt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : too important and respected to be changed, criticized, etc. • the government's most sacrosanct institutions • The tradition is regarded as sacrosanct.

sad /'sæd/ adj sad-der; -dest [also more ~; most ~]

1 : not happy : feeling or showing grief or unhappiness • He's feeling sad because his pet died. • People were sad that he was leaving. • The experience left her sadder but wiser. • big sad eyes

2 : causing a feeling of grief or unhappiness • Have you heard the sad news about his wife's illness? • It'll be a sad day when you leave us. • a sad love song • a sad poem • a movie with a sad ending • He lived a sad life.

3 : causing feelings of disappointment or pity • The sad fact/truth of the matter is that they are right. • I live a pretty sad [=pathetic] life. I never go out on the weekend. • The government is in sad [=bad] shape. • The new version is a sad imitation of the original movie. • He's a sad excuse for a father. [=he's not a good father] • a sad-looking birthday cake • We needed more money but, sad to say, there wasn't any. • Sad but true, we couldn't afford to go away for even a weekend at the beach. — see also SAD SACK — sad-ness noun [noncount] His leaving caused much sad-ness. [singular] I felt a deep sadness upon hearing the news.

sad-den /'sædn/ verb -dens; -dened; -den-ing

1 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to be sad • It saddens me that we could not agree. • We were saddened to see how ill she looks. • She was saddened over/by the death of her friend.

2 [no obj] : to become sad : to show sadness • Her face/eyes saddened when she heard the news.

— saddening adj [more ~; most ~] • Her death is a saddening loss.

¹sad-dle /'sædl/ noun, pl sad-dles [count]

1 : a leather-covered seat that is put on the back of a horse — see picture at HORSE

2 : a seat on a bicycle or motorcycle — see picture at BICYCLE a burr in/under the saddle see BURR

in the saddle 1 : riding on a horse • a cowboy in the saddle 2 : in control : in a position to decide what happens • After a few setbacks, he's back in the saddle again.

²saddle verb saddles; sad-dled; sad-dling [+ obj] : to put a saddle on (a horse) • He saddled his horse and mounted it. — often + up • He saddled up his horse.

saddle up [phrasal verb] : to get on a horse • He saddled up and rode away.

saddle with [phrasal verb] saddle (someone or something) with (something) : to cause (someone or something) to have (a problem, burden, responsibility, etc.) • His actions have saddled the company with too much debt. • My boss saddled me with the task of organizing the conference. — often used as (be) saddled with • The company is saddled with an enormous amount of debt. • She is saddled [=burdened] with a reputation for not being dependable.

sad-dle-bag /'sædl,bæg/ noun, pl -bags [count] : one of a pair of bags that are laid across the back of a horse behind the saddle or that hang over the rear wheel of a bicycle or motorcycle saddle horse noun, pl ~ horses [count] US : a horse that is used for riding sad-dler /'sædlə/ noun, pl -dlers [count] : a person who makes, repairs, or sells saddles and other equipment for horses sad-dlery /'sædləri/ noun, pl -dlery-ies

1 [noncount] : the work of making, repairing, or selling saddles and other equipment for horses

2 [noncount] : saddles and other equipment for horses

3 [count] : a place where saddles and other equipment for horses is sold or stored saddle shoe noun, pl ~ shoes [count] US : a shoe that has one color on the toe and heel and a different color on the middle part saddle sore noun, pl ~ sores [count]

1 : a sore on the back of a horse caused by a saddle that is not fitted correctly

2 : a sore area on a horse rider's body that is caused by rubbing against the saddle sa-dism /'seɪ,dɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : enjoyment that someone gets from being violent or cruel or from causing pain; especially : sexual enjoyment from hurting or punishing someone • sexual sadism — compare MASOCHISM

— sa-dist /ˈseɪdɪst/ noun, pl -dists [count] • sexual sadists
— sa-dis-tic /səˈdɪstɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • sadistic behavior • a sadistic criminal — sa-dis-ti-cal-ly /səˈdɪstɪkli/ adv

sad-ly /ˈsædli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 : in a way that shows sadness or unhappiness • She shook her head sadly.

2 : in a way that causes feeling of sadness, disappointment, regret, etc. • A cohesive plot was sadly lacking from the novel. • Her work had been sadly neglected. — sometimes used for emphasis • If you think she'll forgive you, you are sadly mistaken

3 : UNFORTUNATELY — used to say that something is disappointing, sad, etc. • I tried to help but, sadly, nothing could be done. • Sadly, her negative attitude began to spread to other people.

sa-do-mas-och-ism /ˌseɪdouˈmæsəˌkɪzəm/ noun [non-count] : sexual behavior that involves getting pleasure from causing or feeling pain

— sa-do-mas-och-ist /ˌseɪdouˈmæsəkɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] — sa-do-mas-och-is-tic /ˌseɪdouˈmæsəˌkɪstɪk/ adj • sadomasochistic sexual practices sad sack noun, pl ~ sacks [count] US, informal + old-fashioned : a person who is not successful or able to do things well : an inept person who causes feelings of pity or disgust in other people • The team is just a bunch of sad sacks. [=losers]

— sad-sack adj, always used before a noun • a sad-sack team • a sad-sack performance

SAE abbr 1 self-addressed envelope 2 stamped addressed envelope sa-fa-ri /səˈfəri/ noun, pl -ris : a journey to see or hunt animals especially in Africa [count] He went on a safari in Africa last year. [noncount] a group of hunters on safari safari jacket noun, pl ~ -ets [count] : a type of lightweight jacket that usually has a belt and four large pockets safari park noun, pl ~ parks [count] chiefly Brit : a park in which wild animals move around freely and are watched by people from their vehicles

¹safe /seɪf/ adj safer; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 not used before a noun a : not able or likely to be hurt or harmed in any way : not in danger • I don't feel safe in this neighborhood. • The kids were safe in the cabin. • We need to make sure that the children are safe and sound b : not able or likely to be lost, taken away, or given away • “Is the money safe?” “Yes, it's in the bank.” • Be sure to keep your wallet safe. [=keep it in a place where it can't be stolen] • The election is next week, and the polls show that her lead is safe. [=her lead is large; she will not lose her lead] • Don't worry. Your secret is safe with me. [=I will not tell anyone else your secret]

2 a : not involving or likely to involve danger, harm, or loss • a world made safe from war • Is it safe to walk here? • He wished us a safe trip. • We are all hoping for their safe return [=hoping that they will return without being harmed] b : providing protection from danger, harm, or loss • I found a safe place to take shelter from the storm. • They live in a perfectly/relatively safe neighborhood. • a safe harbor • We watched the fireworks from a safe distance. • You should keep your money in a safe [=secure] place. • Bigger cars tend to be safer than smaller ones. • the safest way to travel • The shelter provides a safe haven for the homeless.

3 : not causing harm : not dangerous • safe medicine • a safe vaccine • safe drinking water • The book describes which mushrooms are safe to eat and which are not.

4 a : not likely to cause a bad result : not risky • a safe investment/bet b : not likely to take risks : cautious or careful • She's a very safe driver. • It's probably not necessary to check the figures again, but (it's) better (to be) safe than sorry. [=it is better to be careful now so that problems do not occur later on] • To be on the safe side, I checked the figures again. = To be safe, I checked the figures again. • I decided to play it safe [=to be careful and avoid risk or danger] and leave early so that I would be sure to arrive on time.

5 : not likely to cause disagreement or argument • That's a safe assumption. • It's safe to assume that she isn't married. • Politics is not a safe subject around him. He's always angry about something. • I think it's safe to say that he won't be causing any further problems. • She is a safe bet to win the tournament. [=she will probably win the tournament]

6 baseball : successful at getting to a base without being put out • The runner was safe on a close play at first base.

in safe hands see ¹HAND

— safe-ly adv • We arrived home safely. [=without experiencing any problems, accidents, etc.] • Be sure to drive safely. • I can safely say that he won't be causing any further problems.

²safe adv, chiefly US, informal : in a safe way • Be sure to drive safe. [=safely]

³safe noun, pl safes [count] : a strong metal box with a lock that is used to store money or valuable things safe-con-duct /ˈseɪfˈkɑːndəkt/ noun, pl -ducts : protection from the government, police, etc., that is given to a person who is passing through an area that might be dangerous [noncount] They were given safe-conduct through the city. [count] The rebels' leader was granted a safe-conduct to talk with the president.

safe-crack-er /ˈseɪfˌkrækə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly US : a person who steals things by opening safes • The bank was robbed by a professional safecracker.

safe-deposit box noun, pl ~ boxes [count] : a strong metal box in a bank that has a lock and that is used to store money or other valuable things — called also safety-deposit box

¹safe-guard /ˈseɪfˌɡɑːd/ noun, pl -guards [count] formal : something that provides protection against possible loss, damage, etc. • The new law has safeguards to protect the rights of citizens. • There are many safeguards built into the system to prevent fraud. • Practicing good nutrition can be an important safeguard [=defense] against cancer.

²safeguard verb -guards; -guard-ed; -guard-ing formal : to make (someone or something) safe or secure : PROTECT [+obj] laws that safeguard the rights of citizens • You need to safeguard your computer against viruses. [no obj] There are steps you can take to safeguard against identity theft.

safe house noun, pl ~ houses [count] : a place where a person hides from the police, stays to be protected by the police, or is involved in secret activities

safe-keep-ing /ˈseɪfˈkiːpɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act of keeping something safe • I gave her my jewelry for safekeeping while I was away. [=I gave her my jewelry so that she could keep it safe while I was away]

2 : the state of being kept safe • His will is in safekeeping with his lawyer.

safe seat noun, pl ~ seats [count] Brit : a seat in Parliament that is very unlikely to be lost to the opposition in an election safe sex noun [noncount] : sexual activity in which people protect themselves from diseases (such as AIDS) by using condoms or by other methods • a book advising young people to practice safe sex safe-ty /ˈseɪfti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : freedom from harm or danger : the state of being safe • The changes were made in the interest of public safety. • He made some suggestions about how to improve airline safety. • bike/traffic safety • I'm worried about the safety of the people who were left behind. • He sought safety in a church. [=he went into a church to be safe] • She fears for her own safety. [=she is afraid because she thinks she is in danger] • We were reluctant to leave the relative safety of our hotel. • She was only a mile from the safety of her home when the accident occurred. • The climbers were roped together for safety. = The climbers were roped together for safety's sake. • There is safety in numbers. [=you are safer in a group of people than you are when you are alone] • “Safety first” [=the most important thing is to be safe]—that's what I always say. — often used before another noun • safety experts/hazards/precautions • a safety violation • a safety harness/catch • safety devices/features • safety glasses/goggles

2 [noncount] : the state of not being dangerous or harmful • The car has been redesigned for improved/added/increased safety. • The toys are inspected for safety.

3 [noncount] : a place that is free from harm or danger : a safe place • They were led/pulled/dragged to safety by the rescuers. • The injured hiker was finally able to reach safety.

4 [count] US : a device that prevents a gun from being fired accidentally — called also safety catch

5 [count] American football a : a defensive player whose position is far back from the line of scrimmage b : a score of two points for the defensive team when an offensive player who has the ball is tackled behind his own team's goal line safety belt noun, pl ~ belts [count]

1 : a belt that is used to prevent someone from falling or getting injured by holding that person in place

2 : SEAT BELT

safety-deposit box noun, pl ~ boxes [count] : SAFE-DEPOSIT BOX safety glass noun [noncount] : a type of strong glass that breaks into tiny pieces that are not sharp when it is hit hard safety net noun, pl ~ nets [count]

1 : a net that is placed below acrobats to catch them if they fall

2 : something that helps someone who is in a difficult situation • a financial safety net • The program provides a safety net for people who have lost their jobs.

safety pin noun, pl ~ pins [count]

: a metal pin that is used for attaching things and that has a point at one end and a cover at the other into which the pointed end fits safety razor noun, pl ~ -zors

[count] : a razor with a cover for part of the blade to prevent deep cuts in the skin safety valve noun, pl ~ valves [count]

1 : a part in a machine that opens automatically to release steam, water, gas, etc., when pressure becomes too great

2 : something that allows someone to release mental stress and tension in a harmless way • His hobbies act as a safety valve, relieving some of the pressure he feels from his job.

saf·fron /'sæ,frɑ:n, Brit 'sæfrən/ noun [noncount]

1 : an orange powder that is made from a type of flower (called a crocus) and that is used to color and flavor food

2 : an orange to orange-yellow color — see color picture on page C3

sag /'sæg/ verb sags; sagged; sag·ging [no obj]

1 : to bend or hang down in the middle especially because of weight or weakness • The roof is sagging in the middle. • Her cheeks sagged [=drooped] with age. • The shelf sagged [=bowed] under the weight of so many books. • a sagging mattress

2 : to become weaker or fewer • The economy began to sag. • As all our efforts failed, our spirits sagged. • the company's sagging sales

— sag noun, pl sags [count] • a sag in sales

sa·ga /'sa:gə/ noun, pl -gas [count]

1 : a long and complicated story with many details • the saga of a shipwrecked crew • Her first novel was a family saga set in Iowa.

2 : a long and complicated series of events • Getting our car back turned into quite a saga.

3 : a long story about past heroes from Norway and Iceland sa·ga·cious /sə'geɪʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : having or showing an ability to understand difficult ideas and situations and to make good decisions : WISE • a sagacious old man • sagacious advice/counsel

— sa·ga·cious·ly adv — sa·gac·i·ty /sə'gæsəti/ noun [noncount] • The old man was respected for his sagacity. [=wisdom]

¹sage /'seɪdʒ/ noun, pl sag·es [count] formal : a person who is very wise — compare ³SAGE

²sage adj, always used before a noun sag·er; sag·est [also more ~; most ~] formal : very wise • sage advice — sage·ly adv • He sagely suggested that she wait a few days.

³sage noun [noncount]

1 : an herb that has grayish-green leaves which are used in cooking

2 : a light grayish-green color — see color picture on page C6

— compare ¹SAGE

sage·brush /'seɪdʒ,braʃ/ noun [noncount] : a small plant that has leaves with a strong smell and that grows in dry areas of the western U.S.

sag·gy /'sægi/ adj sag·gi·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal : bending or hanging down too much : not firm • a saggy mattress

Sag·it·tar·i·us /'sædʒə'terɪəs/ noun, pl -us·es

1 [noncount] : the ninth sign of the zodiac : the sign that comes between Scorpio and Capricorn and that has a centaur shooting a bow and arrow as its symbol

2 [count] : a person born under the sign Sagittarius : a person born between November 22 and December 21 • Are you a Sagittarius or a Capricorn?

safety pin

sa·go /'seɪgou/ noun, pl -gos [count] : a substance that is made from a type of palm tree and used especially in cooking

¹said past tense and past participle of ¹SAY

²said /'sed/ adj, always used before a noun, formal + law : mentioned or referred to before • The following is a description of how said property [=the property mentioned before] is divided. • by order of the judge of said court

¹sail /'seɪl/ verb sails; sailed; sail·ing

1 a : to travel on water in a ship or boat [no obj] sail across/on/over the sea/ocean • We'll sail along/up/down the coast. • He sailed around the world on a luxury liner. [+ obj] She sailed the Atlantic coastline. b : to control a ship or boat (especially one that has sails) while traveling on water [+ obj] She's sailing a boat in tomorrow's race. • The ship was sailed by a crew of 8. [no obj] I've been sailing since I was a child. • learning to sail c of a ship or boat : to travel on water [+ obj] a ship that has sailed the seven seas [no obj] We sat on the shore watching boats sail by.

2 [no obj] : to begin a journey on water in a ship or boat • We sail at 9 a.m. tomorrow. • They sail for/to San Francisco next week. • The ship will be ready to sail in a week.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move or proceed in an easy, quick, and smooth way • He sailed into the room. [=he walked quickly into the room in a very confident and easy way] • The ball sailed [=flew] over the shortstop's head. • The bill sailed through the legislature. [=the bill passed through the legislature very easily; the bill quickly became a law] • She sailed through the exam/course. [=she easily passed the exam/course] sail close to the wind Brit : to do something that is dangerous or that may be illegal or dishonest • The company was sailing close to the wind, but it's not clear if they were breaking the law or not.

²sail noun, pl sails

1 [count] : a large piece of strong cloth that is connected to a ship or boat and that is used to catch the wind that moves the ship or boat through the water • Wind filled the sails and our journey had begun. • raising and lowering the ship's sails — see picture at BOAT

2 [singular] : a trip in a ship or boat • a sail to San Francisco in full sail also at full sail of a ship or boat : moving through the water by using all of its sails • a yacht in full sail set sail : to begin a journey on water in a ship or boat • They set sail for/from San Francisco tomorrow.

take the wind out of someone's sails see ¹WIND

under sail of a ship or boat : moving through the water by using sails • a ship under sail sail·board /'seɪl,bɔəd/ noun, pl -boards [count] : a flat board that has a sail and that you stand on to ride over the surface of water : a board that is used for windsurfing — see picture at BOAT — sail·board·er /'seɪl,bɔədər/ noun, pl -ers [count] • We watched the sailboarders [=windsurfers] from the shore.

— sail·board·ing /'seɪl,bɔədn/ noun [noncount] • He likes sailboarding. [=windsurfing] sail·boat /'seɪl,bəʊt/ noun, pl -boats [count] US : a boat that has a sail — called also (Brit) sailing boat; see picture at BOAT sail·ing /'seɪlɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the sport or activity of traveling on water in a sailboat • She likes sailing. • They're going sailing next week.

clear sailing (US) or chiefly US smooth sailing or chiefly Brit plain sailing : easy progress : progress that is not blocked by anything • Now that the permit has been approved, we expect to have clear sailing from here on. [=we expect that we will not have any problems from here on] • Her time at college wasn't all smooth sailing. [=she had some problems/difficulties during her time at college] sailing ship noun, pl ~ ships [count] : a ship that has sails sail·or /'seɪlə/ noun, pl -ors [count]

1 : a person who works on a boat or ship as part of the crew • He worked as a sailor on a cargo ship.

2 : someone who controls a boat or ship that has sails • She's a skillful sailor.

sailor suit noun, pl ~ suits [count] : a suit especially for a child that looks like an old-fashioned sailor's uniform

saint /'seɪnt/ noun, pl saints [count]

1 : a person who is officially recognized by the Christian church as being very holy because of the way he or she lived • He was declared a saint in the fifth century. — used as a title before a saint's name • Saint Anne — abbr. St.; see also PATRON SAINT

2 : a person who is very good, kind, or patient • The salesperson was a saint for putting up with them. • a teacher with the patience of a saint [=a very patient teacher]

– saint-hood /'seɪnt,hʊd/ noun [noncount] • The Pope elevated four people to sainthood. [=he made four people saints] • She recently entered the sainthood. [=she recently became a saint]

Saint Ber-nard /'seɪntbə'nɑːd/ noun, pl ~ -nards [count] : a very large, strong dog that was used in the past to find and help lost travelers

saint-ed /'seɪntəd/ adj

1 old-fashioned : unusually good, kind, or patient • my saint-ed old grandmother

2 : admired by many people • They believed whatever they were told by their sainted leader.

saint-ly /'seɪntli/ adj saint-li-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : like a saint : very good and kind • a saintly old man • a saintly smile [=a smile that is like the smile of a saint]

– saint-li-ness noun [noncount]

Saint Pat-ric's Day /,seɪnt'pætrɪks-/ noun [noncount] : March 17 celebrated in honor of Saint Patrick saint's day noun [singular] : a day of the year on which a particular saint is remembered

Saint Valentine's Day noun [noncount] : VALENTINE'S DAY

¹sake /'seɪk/ noun, pl sakes [count]

1 : the benefit of someone or something — used in phrases with for to say that something is done to help a particular person or thing • Please do it for her sake. [=do it for her; do it to help her] • They sacrificed their lives for all our sakes. [=to help all of us] • We must do it for the sake of our country. — used in phrases with for to say that something is done for a particular purpose or to achieve a particular goal or result • For simplicity's sake [=to make this discussion simpler], we'll consider these two options as basically the same. • Let's assume, for argument's sake, that it was a mistake. = Let's assume, for the sake of argument, that it was a mistake. [=let's say for now that it was a mistake so that we can see how that will affect our discussion] • For the sake of clarity [=in order to be clear], I've listed each item separately. • They'll do anything for the sake of (making a) profit. • scholars who pursue knowledge for its own sake [=because they want to learn] • I don't paint for money. My motto is “Art for art's sake” [=I believe in making art for no other reason than that art is important]

2 informal — used in phrases with for to express anger, annoyance, surprise, etc. • For heaven's/Pete's sake, could you hurry up? • Stop asking me questions, for God's sake • For pity's/God's/Christ's sake, what's taking so long? • “You won!” “Oh, for goodness/heaven's/Pete's sake I can't believe it!” ♦ The use of God and Christ in these phrases is offensive to some people.

for old times' sake ♦ If you do something for old times' sake, you do it because you did it in the past and you want to experience it again. • He and his old friends from college went back to the bar for old times' sake.

for the sake of it : for no particular reason • We drove around town just for the sake of it.

— compare ²SAKE

²sa-ke or sa-ki /'sɑːki/ noun, pl -kes or -kis [count, noncount] : a Japanese alcoholic drink that is made from rice — compare ¹SAKE

sal-able or sale-able /'seɪləbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : capable of being sold : good enough to be sold • We'll have to repaint the house for it to be salable. • a salable commodity/product

– sal-abil-i-ty /,seɪlə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

sa-la-cious /sə'leɪʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + disapproving : relating to sex in a way that is excessive or offensive • a song with salacious lyrics • salacious pictures/messages

– sa-la-cious-ly adv — sa-la-cious-ness noun

sal-ad /'sæləd/ noun, pl -ads

1 : a mixture of raw green vegetables (such as different types of lettuce) usually combined with other raw vegetables [count] For dinner we had roast chicken and a salad. • a salad of fresh/local greens • a spinach salad • I tossed the salad with some oil and vinegar and set it on the table. [noncount] a bowl of salad • Would you like soup or salad with your sandwich? • salad greens [=vegetables that are grown for their leaves and commonly used in salads]

2 [count, noncount] : a mixture of small pieces of raw or cooked food (such as pasta, meat, fruit, eggs, or vegetables) combined usually with a dressing and served cold • a delicious pasta/potato/fruit salad • chicken/tuna salad

salad bar noun, pl ~ bars [count] : a place in a restaurant where there is a selection of ingredients that customers can use to make their own salads salad cream noun [noncount] Brit : a thick liquid that is eaten on salads, sandwiches, etc.

salad days noun [plural] somewhat old-fashioned

1 : the period of life when someone is young and does not have much experience • during her salad days as a young reporter in New York city

2 : an early period of success • in his salad days as an actor, when he made one hit movie after another salad dressing noun, pl ~ -ings [count, noncount] : DRESSING 1

sal-a-man-der

/ˈsælə,mændə/ noun, pl -ders [count] : a small animal that looks like a lizard with smooth skin and that lives both on land and in water

salamander

sa-la-mi /sə'liːmi/ noun, pl

-mis [count, noncount] : a large, spicy, and dry sausage that is usually eaten cold

sal-a-ried /'sælərið/ adj

1 of a person : receiving a salary • salaried employees

2 of a job : giving payment in the form of a salary • a salaried position sal-a-ry /'sæləri/ noun, pl -ries : an amount of money that an employee is paid each year ♦ A salary is divided into equal amounts that are paid to a person usually once every two weeks or once every month. [count] She was offered a salary of $50,000 a year. [noncount] Employees receive an annual increase in salary. — compare ¹WAGE

sale /'seɪl/ noun, pl sales

1 a [count] : the act of selling something : the exchange of goods, services, or property for money • They profited from the sale of the house. • the company's online/Internet sales • Salespeople are paid a commission whenever they make a sale [=sell something] b sales [plural] : the total amount of money that a business receives from selling goods or services • Sales are up by $6,000 this month. • the company's annual sales • The company made over one million dollars in sales this quarter. • an increase/decrease in sales • disappointing sales figures [=numbers that show how much money was made from sales]

2 [count] : an event or occasion during which a business sells goods or services at prices that are lower than usual • The store is having/holding a spring sale. • Everything in the store will be 15 percent off during the sale. • There is a sale on flights between New York and Paris. • (Brit) I bought these shoes in the sales [=at a time when many stores have a sale]

— see also CLEARANCE SALE

3 sales [plural] : the business or activity of selling goods or services • He has a job in sales. • The department is in charge of sales and marketing. — often used before another noun • the sales department/manager • a new sales campaign

4 [count] : a public event at which things are sold • They're having/holding a sale of fine antiques next week. — see also GARAGE SALE, RUMMAGE SALE, TAG SALE, YARD SALE for sale : available to be bought • That painting is not for sale. • The restaurant is (up) for sale. • houses for sale on sale 1 : available to be bought • These shoes are on sale at most department stores. • Tickets go on sale [=become available to be bought] next week. 2 chiefly US : selling at a price that is lower than usual • I bought a shirt on sale for $5. • All computers will go on sale [=will be sold for a reduced price] later this month.

on sale or return Brit, business : with the agreement that products which are not sold will be taken back without having to be paid for • The bookstore operates on sale or return. [=books in the store can be returned to the book supplier if the store does not sell them]

saleable variant spelling of SALABLE

sale-room /'seɪl,rʊ:m/ noun, pl -rooms [count] Brit : SALESROOM 2

sales-clerk /'seɪlz,klɜːk, Brit 'seɪlz,klɑːk/ noun, pl -clerks [count] US : a person whose job is to sell things in a store sales-girl /'seɪlz,gɜːl/ noun, pl -girls [count] old-fashioned + sometimes offensive : a woman (especially a young woman) whose job is to sell things • a salesgirl in a department store sales·man /'seɪlzmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : a person (especially a man) whose job is to sell things • a car salesman • He was the company's best salesman last year.

sales·man·ship /'seɪlzmənʃɪp/ noun [noncount] : the skill of persuading people to buy things or to accept or agree to something • good/poor salesmanship • political salesmanship sales·per·son /'seɪlz,pərsən/ noun, pl sales·peo·ple /'seɪlz,pɪ:pəl/ also sales·per·sons [count] : a person whose job is to sell things • The company is hiring new salespeople.

sales pitch noun, pl ~ itches [count] : a speech that you give in order to persuade someone to buy something • He's good at getting customers to listen to his sales pitch. — sometimes used figuratively • It's not clear if voters liked the governor's sales pitch enough to reelect her.

sales·room /'seɪlz,rʊ:m/ noun, pl -rooms [count] US

1 : a place where things that are for sale are displayed • a car salesroom [(more commonly) showroom]

2 : a room in which things are sold at an auction — called also (Brit) saleroom sales slip noun, pl ~ slips [count] US : a piece of paper on which a list of the things that you have bought is printed with the price for each item : RECEIPT sales tax noun, pl ~ taxes [count, noncount] : a tax that is added to the price of goods and services sales·wom·an /'seɪlz,wʊmən/ noun, pl -wom·en /-,wɪmən/ [count] : a woman whose job is to sell things • a retail saleswoman

sa·lient /'seɪljənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : very important or noticeable • the salient facts • a salient characteristic/feature

— salience noun [noncount]

¹sa·line /'seɪlɪn, Brit 'seɪlɪn/ adj, technical : containing salt • a saline solution • a saline lake

— sa·lin·i·ty /seɪ'lɪnəti/ noun [noncount] • testing the salinity of the water

²saline noun [noncount] technical : a mixture of salt and water sa·li·va /sə'laɪvə/ noun [noncount] : the liquid produced in your mouth that keeps your mouth moist and makes it easier to swallow food

— sal·i·vary /'sælə,veri/ adj, technical • a salivary enzyme salivary gland noun, pl ~ glands [count] medical : a small organ that produces saliva in your mouth sal·i·vate /'sælə,veɪt/ verb -vates; -vat·ed; -vat·ing [no obj]

1 : to have a lot of saliva produced in your mouth because you see or smell food that you want to eat • The smell alone was enough to make me salivate.

2 : to have great interest in or desire for something • She was salivating at the prospect of traveling to Europe. • He salivated [(informally) drooled] over his neighbor's new car.

— sal·i·va·tion /sælə'veɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

sal·low /'sæləu/ adj : slightly yellow in a way that does not look healthy • a sallow complexion/face • The child looked sallow.

— sal·low·ness noun [noncount]

¹sal·ly /'sæli/ noun, pl -lies [count] formal

1 : a clever and funny remark • a witty sally [=quip]

2 : a sudden attack in which a group of soldiers rush forward against an enemy

²sally verb -lies; -lied; -ly·ing

sally forth also sally out [phrasal verb] literary : to leave a place • After having breakfast and packing our bags, we sallied forth on the next leg of our trip.

salm·on /'sæmən/ noun, pl salmon

1 [count, noncount] : a large fish that is born in streams but that lives most of its life in the ocean and that is commonly used for food — see color picture on page C8

2 [noncount] : SALMON PINK — see color picture on page C3 sal·mo·nel·la /sæl'mə'nelə/ noun [noncount] : a kind of bacteria that is sometimes in food and that makes people sick salmon pink noun [noncount] : an orange-pink color — see color picture on page C3

sa·lon /sə'la:n, Brit 'sæ,lən/ noun, pl -lons [count]

1 : a business that gives customers beauty treatments (such as haircuts) • a hair/tanning/nail salon — see also BEAUTY SALON

2 old-fashioned : a large room in a fashionable house that is used for entertaining guests

3 : a regular meeting of writers, artists, etc., at someone's home ✧ Salons were common in the 18th and 19th centuries. • a literary salon

sa·loon /sə'lu:n/ noun, pl -loons [count]

1 : a place where alcoholic drinks are served; especially : such a place in the western U.S. during the 19th century

2 : a large, comfortable room on a ship where passengers can talk, relax, etc.

3 Brit : SEDAN — called also (Brit) saloon car

4 Brit : a comfortable room in a pub

sal·sa /'sɑ:lsə/ noun, pl -sas

1 : a spicy sauce made with tomatoes, onions, and hot peppers that is commonly served with Mexican food [noncount] a jar of salsa • chips and salsa [count] a delicious salsa

2 [count, noncount] a : a type of popular Latin-American music • The band was playing salsa. • a salsa band b : dancing that is done to salsa music • We're taking classes in salsa.

¹salt /'sɑ:lt/ noun, pl salts

¹ [noncount] : a natural white substance that is used especially to flavor or preserve food • The soup needs a little more salt. • Season the meat with salt and pepper. • Add a pinch of salt [=a small amount of salt] — see also SEA SALT, TABLE SALT

2 [count] technical : a chemical compound formed when part of an acid is replaced by a metal or something like a metal • mineral/potassium salts

rub salt in/into someone's wounds see ¹RUB

take (something) with a grain/pinch of salt informal : to not completely believe (something) : to be doubtful about the truth or accuracy of (something) • He seems confident, but you should take what he says with a grain of salt.

the salt of the earth : a very good and honest person or group of people • These folks are the salt of the earth.

worth your salt : worthy of ordinary respect — used to say what should be expected from someone who does a job properly, from something that is as good as it should be, etc. • A detective writer worth his salt [=a good detective writer] keeps his readers from solving the mystery. • Any doctor worth her salt [=any good/capable doctor] would have advised you to get a second opinion before having major surgery.

— see also EPSOM SALT, SMELLING SALTS

²salt verb salts; salt·ed; salt·ing [+ obj]

1 : to flavor or preserve (food) with salt • He salted his potatoes. • The meat was preserved by being salted and smoked.

2 : to put salt on (a surface) especially in order to melt ice • The city salted the roads after the snowstorm.

salt away [phrasal verb] salt (something) away or salt away (something) informal 1 : to put (money) in a safe place especially secretly or dishonestly • He salted millions away in a foreign bank account. 2 US : to make your victory in (a game, contest, etc.) certain • They salted away the game by scoring 21 points in the last quarter.

salt with [phrasal verb] salt (something) with (something) : to put something in many places in (a story, speech, etc.) • She salted her speech with many religious references. • The book is salted with witty anecdotes. [=the book has many witty anecdotes throughout it]

³salt adj, always used before a noun

1 : containing salt • salt water

2 : preserved or seasoned with salt • salt [=salted] pork salt-and-pepper adj : having many small spots of black and white • He has a salt-and-pepper beard. • His hair had turned salt-and-pepper.

salt·box /'sɑ:lt,bɑ:ks/ noun, pl -box·es [count] US : a house that has two or more levels in the front, one level in the back, and a steep roof that slopes down from the front to the back

salt cel·lar /'sɑ:lt,selə/ noun, pl ~ -lars [count] Brit : SALT SHAKER

salted adj

1 : having salt added • Cook the pasta in boiling salted water. • salted butter/peanuts — opposite UNSALTED

2 : preserved with salt • salted fish/meat/pork sal·tine /səl'ti:n/ noun, pl -tines [count] US : a thin, salty cracker salt·pe·ter (US) or Brit salt·pe·tre /'sɑ:lt'pi:tə/ noun [noncount] : a white powder that exists naturally in some soils and that is used especially as a fertilizer, in medicine, and to make gunpowder salt shak·er /'sɑ:lt,ʃeɪkə/ noun, pl ~ -ers [count] US : a small container that has holes in its top and that is used for sprinkling small amounts of salt onto food — called also (Brit) salt cellar; see picture at PLACE SETTING

salt·wa·ter /'sɑ:lt,wɑ:tə/ adj, always used before a noun : of, relating to, or living in salt water • saltwater fish • a saltwater pond — compare FRESHWATER

salty /'sɑ:lti/ adj salt·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : containing salt or too much salt • salty foods • a salty lake • I think the soup tastes salty.

2 US, old-fashioned : somewhat rude or shocking • salty language/talk

— salt·i·ness /'sɑ:ltinə/ noun [noncount] • the saltiness of tears sa·lu·bri·ous /sə'lu:briəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : making good health possible or likely • salubrious weather • a salubrious climate/area sal·u·tary /'sæljə,teri, Brit 'sæljətri/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : having a good or helpful result especially after something unpleasant has happened • The accident should be a salutary lesson to be more careful. • a salutary effect sal·u·ta·tion /,sæljə'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a word or phrase (such as “Gentlemen,” “Dear Sir,” “Dear Madam,” or “To whom it may concern”) that is used to begin a letter

2 formal : the act of greeting someone [count] A handshake and saying “hello” are common salutations. [noncount] Shaking hands is a form of salutation.

sa·lu·ta·to·ri·an /sə'lu:tə'torijən/ noun, pl -ans [count] US : the student who has the second best grades in a graduating class — compare VALEDICTORIAN

¹sa·lute /sə'lu:t/ verb -lutes; -lut·ed; -lut·ing

1 : to give a sign of respect to (a military officer, flag, etc.) by moving your right hand to your forehead : to give a salute to (someone or something) [+ obj] He saluted the officer. • Salute the flag. [no obj] The officer saluted.

2 [+ obj] : to show respect for (someone or something) : to publicly praise (someone or something) • We salute our country's soldiers. • The players saluted the fans. • The president saluted her bravery.

²salute noun, pl -lutes

1 : the act of moving your right hand to your forehead as a sign of respect to a military officer, flag, etc. [count] The officers gave the general a salute. [noncount] They raised their hands in salute.

2 : an act or ceremony that shows respect for someone [count] a 21-gun salute [=a military ceremony where 21 guns are fired in the air to honor someone] • The concert was a salute to country music legends. [noncount] Twenty-one guns were fired in salute. • We raise our glasses in salute to the newlyweds.

¹sal·vage /'sælvɪdʒ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act of saving something (such as a building, a ship, or cargo) that is in danger of being completely destroyed • The ship was beyond salvage. • salvage attempts/efforts/operations

2 : something (such as cargo) that is saved from a wreck, fire, etc. • the salvage from the wrecked ship • (US) I got the part from an auto salvage place. [=from a junkyard; from a place where broken cars are taken so that their parts can be removed and sold]

²salvage verb -vag·es; -vaged; -vag·ing [+ obj]

1 : to remove (something) from a place so that it will not be damaged, destroyed, or lost • Divers salvaged some of the sunken ship's cargo. • Few of their possessions were salvaged from the fire.

2 : to save (something valuable or important) : to prevent the loss of (something) • He is trying to salvage his marriage/reputation.

— sal·vage·able /'sælvɪdʒəbəl/ adj • The marriage was not salvageable.

sal·va·tion /sæl'veɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 in Christianity : the act of saving someone from sin or evil : the state of being saved from sin or evil • Pray for salvation.

2 : something that saves someone or something from danger or a difficult situation • The new medication has been her salvation. [=has saved her] • Tourism has been the salvation of the island.

Salvation Army noun

the Salvation Army : an international Christian group that helps poor people

¹salve /'sæv, Brit 'sælv/ noun, pl salves [count, noncount] : a creamy substance that you put on a wound to heal it or to make it less painful • a salve for rashes/sunburns

²salve verb salves; salved; salv·ing [+ obj] : to make (something) less painful • The lotion salved the pain. • He bought her flowers to salve his guilty conscience.

sal·ver /'sælvə/ noun, pl -vers [count] chiefly Brit : a tray that is used for serving food or drinks on formal occasions sal·vo /'sælvə/ noun, pl sal·vos or sal·voes [count]

1 : the act of firing several guns or bombs at the same time • We were driven back by a salvo of cannon fire.

2 : a sudden occurrence of applause, laughter, etc., from many people • a salvo [=burst] of cheers

3 : a strong or sudden attack • The newspaper article was intended as a salvo against the mayor's policies. • He fired the opening salvo of the debate.

Sa·mar·i·tan /sə'merətən/ noun, pl -tans [count] : GOOD SAMARITAN • A Samaritan called a tow truck for us.

sam·ba /'sæmbə/ noun [singular] : a lively Brazilian dance • They danced the samba.; also : the music for this dance • The band played a samba.

¹same /seɪm/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : not different — used when referring to a particular person or thing that is connected to more than one person, time, place, etc. • He has lived in the same city all his life. [=he has only lived in one city] • She and her cousin go to the same school. [=she goes to a particular school, and her cousin also goes to that school] • We graduated the same year. • She saw the same man at several different times and places yesterday. • I'd met him earlier that exact same day. = (US) I'd met him earlier that same exact day. • “Puma” and “cougar” are different names for the very same animal. • The restaurant's owner and chef are one and the same person. [=the owner is also the chef]

2 a : exactly like someone or something else • The words “their” and “there” are pronounced in exactly the same way but spelled differently. • They were wearing the exact same shirt. = (US) They were wearing the same exact shirt. • He should help us—and the same thing goes for you! [=and you should help us too] b : not changed : exactly like an earlier version, event, etc. • She gave the same answer as before. • He eats the same breakfast every day. • The same thing happened to me yesterday. • She is not the same person (that) she used to be—she's changed.

3 — used to describe a quality or characteristic that is shared by more than one person or thing • two people of the same sex [=two people who are both male or both female] • The buildings are the same age/style. • She has the same dark hair and eyes as her father.

at the same time see ¹*TIME*

same difference see DIFFERENCE

the same old informal + usually disapproving — used to refer to something that has not changed • I was hoping for something different, but all I got was more of the same old thing. • They brought up the same old argument/story yet again!

the same thing — used to say that two things are alike or have the same meaning • Lying and cheating amount to much the same thing.

two sides of the same coin see ¹*COIN*

²same pronoun

1 the same a : someone or something that is exactly like another person or thing being discussed or referred to • He ordered the salmon, and I had the same. [=I also had the salmon] • “I'll have a coffee with cream and two sugars.” “Make mine the same.” • Your idea is the same as his. • (chiefly Brit) “Would you like another drink?” “Yes. (The) Same again, please.” [=please bring me another drink that is like the one you have already brought me] • All of your classmates have begun their projects, and I suggest you do the same. • The band's last album was a bunch of bubble-gum pop, and their new release is just more of the same. • He should help us—and the same goes for you! [=and you should help us too] b ♦ Two or more things that are the same are exactly like each other or very similar to each other. • The lunch specials are always the same. • No two fingerprints are ever the same. • The two cars are basically the same.

2 the same : someone or something that has not changed : something that is exactly like it was at an earlier time • After the accident, he was never quite the same again. • Things would never be the same without you! • Things are very much the same as before.

all the same or just the same : despite what has just been said : NEVERTHELESS • Of course it won't be easy. But you should try all the same. • I'm afraid I can't accept your offer. But thank you just the same.

all the same to — used to say that someone does not care about what is chosen or done in a particular situation • We can do it either today or tomorrow—it's all the same to me. [=I am willing to do it either today or tomorrow] • I'd like to go fishing tomorrow morning, if it's all the same to you. [=if you don't object to that] one and the same : one person or thing and not two • The restaurant's owner and chef are one and the same. [=the owner is also the chef] same here informal — used to say that you think, feel, or want the same thing as someone else • "I'm tired." "Same here." [=me too; I'm tired too] • "I'll have a coffee." "Same here, please."

the same to you — used to return a greeting or insult • "Merry Christmas!" "(And) the same to you!" [=Merry Christmas to you too] • "Go to hell!" "The same to you!"

³same adv : in a way that is alike or very similar — usually used after the • The two brands of soda taste the same [=alike] to me. • The words "their" and "there" are pronounced the same but spelled differently. • I feel exactly the same as I did yesterday. • I don't like to dress the same as everyone else. • The business is run much the same as it was 50 years ago. • He ate a sandwich and apple for lunch, same as usual. [=as he usually does]

same-ness /'seɪməs/ noun [singular] : the quality or state of being alike or of not changing • the sameness of the two methods • There is a sameness to his stories that makes them too predictable. • the sameness [=monotony] of daily life same-sex adj, always used before a noun : involving members of the same sex • same-sex twins [=twins that are both boys or both girls] • same-sex couples/relationships • same-sex marriages/unions samey /'seɪmi/ adj, Brit, informal : similar and boring • He has written five samey novels.

¹sample /'sæmpəl, Brit 'sɑːmpəl/ noun, pl samples [count] 1 : a small amount of something that gives you information about the thing it was taken from • a blood/water/soil sample • We would like to see a sample of your work.

2 : a small amount of something that is given to people to try • I tasted a sample of the new cereal. • Free samples were handed out at the store.

3 : a group of people or things that are taken from a larger group and studied, tested, or questioned to get information • The sample included 96 women over the age of 40. • a sample group • A random sample of people filled out the survey. • We looked at a representative sample of public schools.

4 : a small part of a recording (such as a song) that is used in another performer's recording

²sample verb samples; sam-pled; sam-pling [+ obj]

1 : to taste a small amount of (something) • We sampled the wine/food.

2 : to try or experience (something) • She sampled everything the resort had to offer, from golfing to yoga.

3 technical : to test, study, or question (a group of people or things taken from a larger group) to get information • A low percentage of the women sampled said that they smoked during pregnancy. • Five of the 20 schools sampled did not meet the standards.

4 : to use a small part of (a recording, such as a song) in another recording • The rap group sampled the song.

¹sample adj, always used before a noun : used as an example of something • The teacher handed out a sample essay/exam. • Here are some sample questions for the test.

sam-pler /'sæmplə, Brit 'sɑːmplə/ noun, pl -plers [count]

1 : a piece of cloth with letters and words sewn in different kinds of stitches and made as an example of a person's sewing skill

2 : a collection that includes different examples of a particular type of thing • a chocolate sampler • The collection serves as a sampler of American poetry.

sam-pling /'sæmplɪŋ, Brit 'sɑːmplɪŋ/ noun, pl -plings

1 [count] : a small group of people or things taken from a larger group and used to represent the larger group • The reporter asked a sampling of people about their eating habits. • a sampling of the menu's entrées

2 [count] : a small amount of something that is offered to someone to try • We were given a sampling of the food.

3 [noncount] : the act of using a small part of a recording

(such as a song) as part of another recording • The band does a lot of sampling.

sam-u-rai /'sæməraɪ/ noun, pl samurai [count] : a member of a Japanese military class in the past • a powerful samurai • a samurai sword/warrior

san-a-to-ri-um /,sænə'tɔːrɪjəm/ noun, pl -to-ri-ums or -toria /-tɔːrɪjə/ [count] old-fashioned : a place for the care and treatment of people who are recovering from illness or who have a disease that will last a long time — called also (US) sanitarium, (US) sanitorium

sanc-ti-fy /'sæŋktəfaɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to make (something) holy • The priest sanctified their marriage.

2 : to give official acceptance or approval to (something) • The constitution sanctified the rights of the people.

— sanc-ti-fi-ca-tion /,sæŋktəfə'keɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the sanctification of their marriage sanc-ti-mo-nious /,sæŋktə'məʊniəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + disapproving : pretending to be morally better than other people • sanctimonious politicians • a sanctimonious speech/lecture

— sanc-ti-mo-nious-ly adv • She sanctimoniously criticized our plans.

¹sanc-tion /'sæŋkʃən/ noun, pl -tions formal

1 [count] : an action that is taken or an order that is given to force a country to obey international laws by limiting or stopping trade with that country, by not allowing economic aid for that country, etc. — usually plural • The United Nations has decided to impose trade/economic sanctions on the country. — often + against • Sanctions against the country have been lifted.

2 [noncount] : official permission or approval • The country acted without the sanction of the other nations. • Their policy has/lacks legal sanction.

²sanction verb -tions; -tioned; -tion-ing [+ obj] formal : to officially accept or allow (something) • The government has sanctioned the use of force. • His actions were not sanctioned by his superiors.

sanc-ti-ty /'sæŋktəti/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of being holy, very important, or valuable — often + of • the sanctity [=sacredness] of marriage/life/tradition

sanc-tu-ary /'sæŋktʃəri, Brit 'sæŋktʃuəri/ noun, pl -aries

1 [count] : a place where someone or something is protected or given shelter • wildlife/bird sanctuaries • The house was a sanctuary for runaway teens. — often used figuratively • Her garden was a sanctuary from the stress of daily life. [=she felt relaxed and free from stress when she was in her garden]

2 [noncount] : the protection that is provided by a safe place • The refugees found/sought sanctuary when they crossed the border.

3 [count] a US : the room inside a church, synagogue, etc., where religious services are held b : the most sacred or holy part of a religious building • The sanctuary contains the altar of sacrifice.

sanc-tum /'sæŋktəm/ noun, pl -tums [count] somewhat formal

1 : a place where you are not bothered by other people • Her office was her sanctum. — see also INNER SANCTUM

2 : a holy or sacred place • the sanctum of a church

¹sand /'sænd/ noun, pl sands

1 [noncount] : the very tiny, loose pieces of rock that cover beaches, deserts, etc. • The beaches are covered with pinkish sand. • a grain of sand • I have sand in my shoe. — see also QUICKSAND

2 a [noncount] : an area of sand • The children are playing in the sand. • She walked across the hot sand. b sands [plural] literary : the beach or desert • Tourists walked the sands. • They journeyed across the (desert) sands.

head in the sand see ¹HEAD

shifting sands — used to refer to changes that happen as time passes • the shifting sands of war

the sands of time — used to refer to the passage of time • Many civilizations have been buried by the sands of time. [=many civilizations have been forgotten because of the passage of time]

²sand verb sands; sand-ed; sand-ing

1 : to make the surface of something smooth by rubbing it with sandpaper [+ obj] You should sand the shelf before painting it. — often + down • Sand down the table. [no obj] Be sure to sand before you paint the shelf.

2 [+ obj] US : to spread sand over (an icy street, sidewalk, etc.) : to cover (something) with sand • The streets are slippery because they haven't been sanded yet.

sand·dal /'sændl/ noun, pl -dals [count] : a shoe with a bottom part that is held in place with straps around the foot and sometimes the ankle • a pair of sandals • I'm missing a sandal. — see picture at SHOE

sand·dal·wood /'sændl,wud/ noun [noncount] : a yellowish wood with a pleasant smell that is often used to make carved objects and whose oil is used in making perfumes and soaps; also : the tree that this wood comes from

¹sand·bag /'sænd,bæg/ noun, pl -bags [count] : a bag filled with sand and used as a weight or to build temporary walls, dams, etc.

²sandbag verb -bags; -bagged; -bag·ging

1 [+ obj] : to put sandbags around, on, or in (something) • They sandbagged (the area around) the house to protect it from the flood.

2 [+ obj] chiefly US, informal : to hit (someone) with a sandbag — usually used figuratively to describe treating or criticizing someone unfairly • He would have won the election but he got sandbagged by the media.

3 US, informal : to hide your true abilities or purpose in order to deceive people, gain an advantage, etc. [no obj] He claimed he was playing badly because of an injury, but I think he was sandbagging. [+ obj] I think he was sandbagging us.

— sand·bag·ger noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly US

sand·bank /'sænd,bæŋk/ noun, pl -banks [count] : a raised area of sand in a river, ocean, etc. • The ship ran aground on a sandbank.

sand·bar /'sænd,bɑ:/ noun, pl -bars [count] : a raised area of sand with a top that is near or just above the surface of the water in an ocean, lake, or river • We walked out onto the sandbar at low tide.

sand·blast /'sænd,blæst, Brit 'sænd,blɑ:st/ verb -blasts; -blast·ed; blast·ing [+ obj] : to clean, polish, or decorate the surface of (something) by spraying sand on it with a powerful machine • sandblast a building • The metal was sandblasted to remove old paint. = The old paint was sandblasted off the metal.

— sand·blast·er noun, pl -ters [count]

sand·box /'sænd,bɑ:ks/ noun, pl -box·es [count] US : a low box filled with sand that children can play in — called also (Brit) sandpit; see picture at PLAYGROUND

sand castle noun, pl ~ castles [count] : a small model of a castle or other building that is made with wet sand on a beach sand dollar noun, pl ~ -lars [count] US : the round, flat shell of a small sea animal; also : the small sea animal itself

sand dune noun, pl ~ dunes [count] : DUNE

sand·er /'sændə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : an electric tool that is used to make a surface smooth — see picture at CARPENTRY

2 US : a machine that is used for spreading sand on icy roads

S&H abbr, US shipping and handling

S&L noun, pl S&Ls [count] US : SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION — usually used before another noun • S&L executives sand·lot /'sænd,lɑ:t/ noun, pl -lots [count] US : an empty area of land in a city where children play games or sports

— sandlot adj, always used before a noun • sandlot games/baseball

S and M or S&M noun [noncount] : SADOMASOCHISM

sand·man /'sænd,mæn/ noun

the sandman — used to refer to sleep as an imaginary man who makes people sleepy by sprinkling sand in their eyes • The kids are fighting off the sandman. [=the kids are trying not to fall asleep]

¹sand·pa·per /'sænd,peɪpə/ noun [noncount] : stiff paper that has a rough surface on one side and that is rubbed against something (such as a piece of wood) to make it smooth

²sandpaper verb -pers; -pered; -per·ing [+ obj] : to make (something) smooth by rubbing it with sandpaper • You should sandpaper [(more commonly) sand] the shelf before you paint it.

sand·pip·er /'sænd,paɪpə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a type of bird that has long legs and a long bill and that lives near the sea

sand·pit /'sænd,pɪt/ noun, pl -pits [count] Brit : SANDBOX

sand·stone /'sænd,stoun/ noun, pl -stones [count, noncount] : a type of soft stone that is made from grains of sand stuck together sand·storm /'sænd,stɔ:m/ noun, pl -storms [count] : an occurrence in which very strong winds blow sand around very forcefully in the desert • They were caught in a sandstorm.

sand trap noun, pl ~ traps [count] US, golf : an area on a golf course that is filled with sand : BUNKER

¹sand·wich /'sænd,wɪʃ, Brit 'sæn,wɪdʒ/ noun, pl -wich·es [count]

1 : two pieces of bread with something (such as meat, peanut butter, etc.) between them • I had a ham sandwich for lunch. • a peanut butter and jelly sandwich — see also CLUB SANDWICH, OPEN-FACED SANDWICH

2 : two or more cookies, crackers, or slices of cake with something between them • (chiefly US) an ice-cream sandwich [=two cookies with ice cream between them]

²sandwich verb -wiches; -wiched; -wich·ing [+ obj] somewhat informal : to put (someone or something) in the space between two other things or people — usually used as (be) sandwiched between • The little boy was sandwiched between his brother and sister in the back seat of the van. • a thin sheet of aluminum sandwiched between two pieces of plastic • She lives in an old neighborhood sandwiched between the river and the railroad tracks.

sandwich board noun, pl ~ boards [count] : two signs that are worn on the front and back of a person's body and that are used especially for advertising something sandwich course noun, pl ~ courses [count] Brit : a course of study in a college or university during which the students spend some time working in a business or industry sandy /'sændi/ adj sand·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : full of or covered with sand • The soil in my garden is very sandy. • a sandy beach

2 : having a yellowish-gray or yellowish-brown color • sandy hair

— sand·i·ness noun [noncount] • the sandiness of the soil sane /seɪn/ adj san·er; san·est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having a healthy mind : able to think normally • He is perfectly sane. [=he is not mentally ill] • No sane person could do something so horrible. • Trips to the beach keep me sane. [=keep me feeling happy and able to deal with life without becoming too upset, nervous, etc.] • It's hard to stay/remain sane [=to stay relaxed, calm, etc.] when I'm so busy. — opposite INSANE

2 : based on reason or good judgment : rational or sensible • Leaving was the only sane option she had. • a sane policy/decision — sane·ly adv • He spoke sanely.

sang past tense of SING

sang·froid /sɑ:ŋ'frwa:/ noun [noncount] literary : the ability to stay calm in difficult or dangerous situations • He displayed remarkable sangfroid when everyone else was panicking during the crisis.

san·gria /sæn'gri:ə/ noun [noncount] : an alcoholic drink made of red wine, fruit juice, and often soda water san·guine /'sæŋgwən/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : confident and hopeful • She has a sanguine disposition/temperament. • He is sanguine about the company's future.

san·i·tar·i·um /sænə'terijəm/ noun, pl -i·ums or -ia /-ijə/ [count] US, old-fashioned : SANATORIUM

san·i·tary /'sænə,teri, Brit 'sænətri/ adj

1 always used before a noun : of or relating to good health or protection from dirt, infection, disease, etc. • sanitary laws • poor sanitary conditions [=conditions that are likely to give people diseases or infection] • The park had clean sanitary facilities. [=bathrooms]

2 [more ~; most ~] : free from dirt, infection, disease, etc. • The public bathrooms were not very sanitary. [=clean] • san-

sandpiper

sandwich

itary packaging — opposite INSANITARY, UNSANITARY sanitary napkin noun, pl ~ -kins [count] US : a thick piece of soft material that is used to absorb blood during menstruation — called also sanitary pad, (Brit) sanitary towel; compare TAMPON

san-i-ta-tion /ˌsænəˈteɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : the process of keeping places free from dirt, infection, disease, etc., by removing waste, trash and garbage, by cleaning streets, etc. • Diseases can spread from poor sanitation. — often used before another noun • sanitation workers/trucks san-i-tize also Brit san-i-tise /ˌsænəˈtaɪz/ verb -tiz-es; -tized; -tiz-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (something) free from dirt, infection, disease, etc., by cleaning it : to make (something) sanitary • The housekeeping staff sanitized the bathroom.

2 often disapproving : to make (something) more pleasant and acceptable by taking things that are unpleasant or offensive out of it • They're trying to sanitize the news.

— sanitized also Brit sanitised adj • He gave them a sanitized account of his life that did not include his time in prison. — sanitizing also Brit sanitising adj • sanitizing equipment

san-i-to-ri-um /ˌsænəˈtorijəm/ noun, pl -to-ri-ums or -to-ria /-ˈtorijə/ [count] US, old-fashioned : SANATORIUM

san-i-ty /ˌsænəti/ noun [noncount]

1 : the condition of having a healthy mind : the condition of being sane • People have begun to doubt his sanity. • She is the mother of six children but somehow keeps her sanity. • I need a vacation to regain/recover my sanity. [=to begin to feel normal and relaxed again] — opposite INSANITY sank past tense of ¹SINK sans /ˈsænz/ prep : WITHOUT • She went to the party sans her husband.

2 : the condition of being based on reason or good judgment • The sanity of the decision was never in question.

San-skrit /ˈsænˌskɹɪt/ noun [noncount] : a language that was spoken many years ago in India and is still used in the practice of Hinduism • chanting in Sanskrit

— Sanskrit adj, always before a noun • a Sanskrit word/verse/scholar sans ser-if /ˌsænˈserəf/ noun [noncount] technical : one of a group of typefaces that do not have short lines across the top and bottom of the long parts of the letters — see picture at FONT; compare SERIF

San-ta Claus /ˈsæntəˌklaːz/ noun [singular] : an imaginary fat man with a white beard and a red suit who gives toys to children at Christmas — called also Santa, (Brit) Father Christmas

¹sap /ˈsæp/ noun, pl saps

1 [noncount] : a watery juice inside a plant that carries the plant's food • Sap is taken from maple trees to make syrup.

2 [count] chiefly US, informal : a person who is easily tricked or cheated • The poor sap believed everything she told him.

²sap verb saps; sapped; sap-ping [+ obj]

1 : to use up the supply of (something, such as a person's courage, energy, strength, etc.) • Moving the couch up the stairs sapped her strength. • Months of rejections after job interviews sapped his confidence.

2 : to cause (someone) to lose courage, energy, strength, etc. — usually + of • The illness sapped him of his strength. • Her last three losses have sapped her of her confidence.

sap-ling /ˈsæplɪŋ/ noun, pl -lings [count] : a young tree

sap-per /ˈsæpə/ noun, pl -pers [count] Brit : a member of a military unit that builds structures to defend and protect a position

sap-phic /ˈsæfɪk/ adj, always used before a noun, formal + literary : of or relating to sexual relations between women : LESBIAN • a sapphic relationship • sapphic lovers

sap-phire /ˈsæˌfajə/ noun, pl -phires

1 [count, noncount] : a clear, usually deep blue jewel — see color picture on page C11

2 [noncount] : a deep blue color

sap-py /ˈsæpi/ adj sap-pi-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 US, informal a : sad or romantic in a foolish or exaggerated way • The movie was pretty sappy. [=sentimental] • a sappy [= (Brit) soppy] love story b : foolish or silly : not thinking clearly or showing good judgment • She gets all sappy when she is around babies. • a sappy idea

2 : full of sap • sappy wood

Sa-ran Wrap /səˈræn-/ trademark, US — used for a thin sheet of clear plastic that is used to wrap food sar-casm /ˈsɑːkæzəm/ noun [noncount] : the use of words that mean the opposite of what you really want to say especially in order to insult someone, to show irritation, or to be funny • biting/dry sarcasm • a voice full of sarcasm — compare IRONY sar-cas-tic /sɑːˈkæstɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : using or showing sarcasm • a sarcastic person/remark/reply — sar-cas-ti-cal-ly /sɑːˈkæstɪkli/ adv

sar-coph-a-gus /sɑːˈkɑːfəɡəs/ noun, pl -gi /-ˌgaɪ/ also -gus-es [count] : a stone coffin from ancient times • Egyptian/Roman sarcophagi sar-dine /sɑːˈdiːn/ noun, pl -dines [count] : a very small fish that is used for food and is usually packed in a can like sardines : without enough room to move around • A large crowd of reporters was crammed/packed like sardines into a small room.

sar-don-ic /sɑːˈdɑːnɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : showing that you disapprove of or do not like someone or something : showing disrespect or scorn for someone or something • The movie is a sardonic look at modern life. • sardonic humor/comments • a sardonic expression/smile — sar-don-i-cal-ly /sɑːˈdɑːnɪkli/ adv • She smiled sardonically when she heard what had happened.

sarge /ˈsɑːdʒ/ noun [singular] informal : SERGEANT — usually used as a form of address • What should I do, Sarge?

sa-ri /ˈsəri/ noun, pl -ris [count] : a long piece of cloth that is wrapped around the body and head or shoulder and worn by women in southern Asia — see color picture on page C16

sarky /ˈsɑːki/ adj sark-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] Brit, informal : SARCASTIC • sarky comments/remarks sar-nie /ˈsɑːni/ noun, pl -nies [count] Brit, informal : SANDWICH • a bacon/jam sarnie

sa-rong /səˈrɑːŋ/ noun, pl -rongs [count] : a long strip of cloth that is wrapped loosely around the body and worn by men and women of Malaysia and many Pacific islands — see color picture on page C16

SARS /ˈsɑːz/ noun [noncount] : a serious disease that is caused by a virus and that affects your ability to breathe ♦ SARS is an abbreviation of “severe acute respiratory syndrome.”

sar-sa-pa-ril-la /ˌsæspəˈrɪlə, Brit ˌsɑːspəˈrɪlə/ noun, pl -las [count, noncount] old-fashioned : a sweetened drink that is flavored with a substance made from the root of a plant sar-to-ri-al /sɑːˈtorijəl/ adj, always used before a noun, formal : of or relating to clothes • They accused him of having poor sartorial taste. • The wedding party arrived in sartorial splendor.

— sar-to-ri-al-ly adv • my sartorially conservative friend [=my friend who wears conservative clothes]

SAS /ˌesˌeɪˈes/ noun

the SAS : a part of the British military that consists of soldiers who are specially trained for difficult and secret duties — called also the Special Air Service; compare SPECIAL FORCES

SASE abbr, US self-addressed stamped envelope

¹sash /ˈsæʃ/ noun, pl sash-es [count] : a long piece of cloth that you wear around your waist or over one shoulder — compare ²SASH

²sash noun, pl sashes [count] : the frame that holds glass in a window and that allows the window to open or close by sliding up and down — see picture at WINDOW — compare ¹SASH sa-shay /sæˈʃeɪ/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition -shays; -shayed; -shay-ing [no obj] : to walk in a slow and confident way that makes people notice you • The model sashayed down the runway. • She sashayed into the room.

sa-shi-mi /ˈsɑːʃəmi, sɑːʃiːmi/ noun [noncount] : a Japanese food made of thinly sliced raw fish sash window noun, pl ~ -dows [count] Brit : DOUBLE-HUNG WINDOW — compare CASEMENT

Sas-quatch /ˈsæˌskwætʃ/ noun [singular] : a large, hairy creature that walks on two feet like a man and that some people claim to have seen in the northwestern U.S. and western Canada — called also bigfoot; compare ABOMINABLE SNOWMAN

sass /ˈsæs/ verb sass-es; sassed; sass-ing [+ obj] chiefly US, informal : to talk to (someone) in a rude way that does not show proper respect • He got drunk and sassed a cop.

— sass noun [noncount] • Don't give me any sass. [=back talk, (Brit) backchat]

sas·sa·fras /'sæsə,fræs/ noun, pl sassafras

- 1 [count, noncount] : a tall tree of eastern North America
- 2 [noncount] : the dried bark from the root of the sassafras that is used in medicine and as a flavoring

Sas·se·nach /'sæsə,næk/ noun, pl -nachs [count] Scot- land, disapproving + humorous : an English person sassy /'sæsi/ adj sass·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] chiefly US, informal

- 1 : having or showing a rude lack of respect • sassy children • a sassy answer
- 2 : very stylish • her sassy new hairdo • She bought some sassy high heels.

- 3 : confident and energetic • the heroine's sassy charm

¹sat past tense and past participle of SIT

²sat abbr satellite

Sat. abbr Saturday

SAT abbr Scholastic Assessment Test

Sa·tan /'seɪtən/ noun [noncount] : DEVIL 1a • He went to the Halloween party dressed up as Satan. [=the Devil]

sa·tan·ic /seɪ'tænɪk/ adj

- 1 : of, relating to, or worshipping the Devil • a satanic cult/rite
- 2 : very cruel or evil • a satanic serial killer

sa·tan·ism /'seɪtə,nɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : worship of the Devil

-sa·tan·ist /'seɪtənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]

satch·el /'sætʃəl/ noun, pl -els [count] : a small bag that is carried over your shoulder and that is used for carrying clothes, books, etc.

sate /'seɪt/ verb sates; sat·ed; sat·ing [+ obj] formal

- 1 : to fill (someone) with food so that no more is wanted — usually used as (be) sated • He ate until he was completely sated. [=full] • feel sated
- 2 : to end (something, such as hunger or curiosity) by providing everything that is required or wanted : SATISFY • The meal was more than enough to sate his hunger/appetite. • The information sated their curiosity.

sa·teen /sæ'ti:n/ noun [noncount] : smooth cloth that is like satin

sat·el·lite /'sætə,lait/ noun, pl -lites

- 1 a [count] : an object (such as a moon) that moves around a much larger planet b : a machine that is sent into space and that moves around the earth, moon, sun, or a planet ◇ Satellites are used for radio, television, and other types of communication and for studying the objects they move around. [count] Satellites help meteorologists predict the weather. [noncount] Images of the planet are sent by satellite. — often used before another noun • satellite broadcasting/channels/images/radio/TV
- 2 [count] : a country, organization, etc., that is controlled by a larger and more powerful country, organization, etc.

satellite dish noun, pl ~ dishes [count] : a device that is shaped like a large dish and that receives television signals from a satellite high above the earth

sa·ti·ate /'seɪʃi,eɪt/ verb -ates; -at·ed; -at·ing [+ obj] formal : to satisfy (a need, desire, etc.) fully • Her curiosity was never satiated. [=sated]

-sa·ti·a·tion /,seɪʃi'eɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

sa·ti·ety /sə'tajəti/ noun [noncount] technical : a feeling or condition of being full after eating food • eating beyond the point of satiety

¹sat·in /'sætn/ noun [noncount] : cloth that has a smooth, shiny surface • a dress made of satin

²satin adj

- 1 : made of or covered with satin • satin sheets/shoes
 - 2 : having a smooth and shiny surface : SATINY • satin paint
- sat·iny /'sætni/ adj : smooth and shiny like satin • There's a satiny feel to the material. • a smooth satiny finish/texture

sat·ire /'sæ,tajə/ noun, pl -ires

- 1 [noncount] : a way of using humor to show that someone or something is foolish, weak, bad, etc. : humor that shows the weaknesses or bad qualities of a person, government, society, etc. • His movies are known for their use of satire.
 - 2 [count] : a book, movie, etc., that uses satire • The movie is a political/social satire.
- sa·tir·ic /sə'tɪrɪk/ or sa·tir·i·cal /sə'tɪrɪkəl/ adj • The play is a satiric/satirical comedy. • her dry satiric/satirical wit • a satiric/satirical novel — sa·tir·i·cal·ly /sə'tɪrɪkli/ adv • a political subject that is usually treated satirically

sat·i·rist /'sætərɪst/ noun, pl -rists [count] : a person who uses satire in books, movies, etc. • social satirists of the American Dream • the great British satirist, Jonathan Swift sat·i·rize also Brit sat·i·rise /'sætə,raɪz/ verb -riz·es; -rized; -riz·ing [+ obj] : to show that (someone or something) is foolish, weak, bad, etc., by using satire • The book satirizes contemporary life.

sat·is·fac·tion /,sætəs'fækʃən/ noun, pl -tions

- 1 : a happy or pleased feeling because of something that you did or something that happened to you [noncount] He gets/derives great satisfaction from volunteering. • the satisfaction of a job well done • There is some satisfaction in knowing I was right. [singular] She finds a certain satisfaction in helping others. — opposite DISSATISFACTION

- 2 [noncount] : the act of providing what is needed or desired : the act of satisfying a need or desire • sexual satisfaction • the satisfaction of his deep craving for love

- 3 [noncount] formal : a result that deals with a problem or complaint in an acceptable way • I complained to the manager about the poor service but did not get any satisfaction.

- 4 [count] US : something that makes you happy, pleased, or satisfied • Helping others is one of the greatest satisfactions of my life.

to someone's satisfaction : so that someone is happy, pleased, or satisfied • The work was not done to my satisfaction. [=I was not satisfied with the work] • The charge must be proved to the satisfaction of the court. [=the court must be convinced that the charge is true]

sat·is·fac·to·ry /,sætəs'fæktəri/ adj [more ~; most ~] : good enough for a particular purpose : ACCEPTABLE • The job requires a satisfactory level of performance. • Results are less satisfactory than had been anticipated. • He gave a satisfactory account/explanation of how the accident had happened. • The movie was brought to a satisfactory close/conclusion/end. • His work has been satisfactory, but not outstanding. — opposite UNSATISFACTORY satisfied adj [more ~; most ~]

-sat·is·fac·to·ri·ly /,sætəs'fæktərəli/ adv • My questions had been answered satisfactorily. • They performed satisfactorily on the exam.

- 1 : having a happy or pleased feeling because of something that you did or something that happened to you • a satisfied customer • There was a satisfied look/smile on her face. • She sat back from the table, satisfied. — often + with • He's satisfied with things as they are. • They were satisfied with the compromise. — opposite DISSATISFIED

- 2 not used before a noun : completely certain or sure about something : CONVINCED • He was satisfied that she was not lying to him. • You're quite satisfied that he's right?

sat·is·fy /'sætəs,fai/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy·ing [+ obj]

- 1 : to cause (someone) to be happy or pleased • His job satisfies him. • Nothing satisfies her so much as doing a good job. • The movie's ending failed to satisfy audiences. — opposite DISSATISFY

- 2 : to provide, do, or have what is required by (someone or something) • He ate a little food, but not enough to satisfy his hunger. [=not enough to stop him from being hungry] • His curiosity was satisfied by their explanation. • He has satisfied all of his graduation requirements. [=he has done all the things required for graduation] • She satisfied [=fulfilled] all conditions for approval of the loan.

- 3 formal : to cause (someone) to believe that something is true : CONVINCED • They have satisfied themselves that the story is only a rumor.

satisfying adj [more ~; most ~] : making you feel satisfied : giving you what you want or need • You can have a very satisfying lunch at that restaurant. • a totally satisfying movie/novel • It is one of the most satisfying jobs I've ever had.

-sat·is·fy·ing·ly adv • The movie has a satisfyingly happy ending.

sat·u·rate /'sæʃə,reit/ verb -rates; -rat·ed; -rat·ing [+ obj]

- 1 : to make (something) very wet • Saturate the sponge with water. • That last rain really saturated [=soaked] the ground.
- 2 : to fill (something) completely with something • Images of the war saturated the news. • Their new products are saturating the market.

sat·u·rat·ed /'sæʃə,reitəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

- 1 : completely wet • a saturated sponge/towel • His shirt was saturated with sweat.

satellite dish

2 : completely filled with something • the area's already saturated freeways — often + with • Newspapers were saturated with stories about the election. • The room was saturated with the smell of her perfume.

3 technical — used to describe a type of oil or fat that is found in foods such as meat and butter and that is bad for your health • Saturated fats are not easily processed by the body. — compare UNSATURATED

sat-u-ra-tion /ˈsætʃəˈreɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act or result of making something very wet • Heavy rains resulted in the saturation of the soil.

2 : the act or result of supplying so much of something that no more is wanted • the saturation of advertising on television • a product that has reached market saturation [=a product that has saturated the market] — often used before a noun • saturation coverage of a news story • The number of game shows on TV may have reached the saturation point. [=the point at which there are so many that no more can be added successfully]

3 : the act of using military force over a whole area — usually used before another noun • saturation bombing [=bombing in which a very large number of bombs are dropped to cover an entire area instead of being aimed at a specific target]

Sat-ur-day /ˈsætəˌdeɪ/ noun, pl -days : the day of the week between Friday and Sunday [count] They left last Saturday. • He will arrive next/this Saturday. • His birthday falls on a Saturday this year. • (Brit) He will arrive on the Saturday and leave on the Wednesday. • The club meets on Saturdays. = The club meets every Saturday. [noncount] I will arrive on Saturday. = (chiefly US) I will arrive Saturday. — abbr. Sat.

— Sat-ur-days /ˈsætəˌdeɪz/ adv • He visits his parents Saturdays. [=he visits his parents every Saturday]

Sat-urn /ˈsætərən/ noun [singular] : the planet that is sixth in order from the sun and that is surrounded by large rings sat-ur-nine /ˈsætərˌnaɪn/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary : very serious and unhappy • his saturnine [=sullen] looks • He is saturnine in temperament.

sa-tyr or Sa-tyr /ˈseɪtər, Brit ˈsætə/ noun, pl -tyrs [count] : one of the forest gods in Greek mythology who have faces and bodies like men and ears, legs, and tails like goats sauce /ˈsaɪs/ noun, pl sauc-es

1 : a thick liquid that is eaten with or on food to add flavor to it [count] a delicious spaghetti/meat sauce • She tried several sauc-es before she found one she liked. • chicken in/with a cream sauce • Cover the strawberries with the chocolate sauce. [noncount] This pizza needs more sauce. — see also SOY SAUCE, TARTAR SAUCE, WHITE SAUCE

2 [count] : boiled or canned fruit • cranberry sauce — see also APPLESAUCE

3 [singular] chiefly Brit, informal + old-fashioned : rude or impolite language or actions • I've had enough of your sauce!

4 the sauce US slang : alcoholic drinks : LIQUOR • He's been off the sauce [=he has not drunk any alcohol] for a month now. • He's back on the sauce. [=he's drinking alcohol again]

what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander see ¹*GOOSE* sauce-boat /ˈsaɪsˌboʊt/ noun, pl -boats [count] : a long and narrow container that has a handle and a special curved end for pouring and that is used for serving a sauce or gravy with a meal sauce-pan /ˈsaɪsˌpæn, Brit ˈsɔːspən/ noun, pl -pans [count] : a deep, round cooking pan with a handle — see picture at KITCHEN

sau-cer /ˈsaɪsər/ noun, pl -cers [count] : a small, round dish that you put a cup on — see picture at PLACE SETTING; see also FLYING SAUCER

saucy /ˈsaɪsi/ adj sauc-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 somewhat old-fashioned : rude usually in a lively and playful way • a saucy actress • saucy language

2 : served with a sauce • saucy foods • a saucy dish

— sauc-i-ly /ˈsaɪsəli/ adv • He spoke saucily. — sauc-i-ness /ˈsaɪsɪnəs/ noun [noncount] sau-er-kraut /ˈsawərˌkraʊt/ noun [noncount] : a German food made of a vegetable (called a cabbage) that is cut into small pieces and soaked in a salty and sour liquid sau-na /ˈsaɪnə/ noun, pl -nas [count]

1 : a special heated room in which people sit or lie down in order to get hot and sweat • The health club has a pool and a sauna.

2 : a health treatment in which people sit or lie down in a sauna • He talked about the benefits of taking/having a sauna regularly.

saun-ter /ˈsaɪntər/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition -ters; -tered; -ter-ing [no obj] : to walk along in a slow and relaxed manner : STROLL • They sauntered slowly down the street. • Some girls sauntered by. • He sauntered into the store.

— saunter noun [singular] • We took a saunter around the town.

sau-sage /ˈsaɪsɪdʒ/ noun, pl -sag-es : spicy ground meat (such as pork) that is usually stuffed into a narrow tube of skin or made into a small flat cake [noncount] Would you like any/some sausage? [count] breakfast sausages • They bought sausages for the picnic.

not a sausage Brit, informal + old-fashioned : NOTHING • What did they find? Not a sausage.

sausage dog noun, pl ~ dogs [count] Brit, informal : DACHSHUND

1 sau-té /səˈteɪ, Brit ˈsəʊˌteɪ/ verb -tés also -tes; -téed also -teed; -té-ing also -te-ing [+ obj] : to fry (food) in a small amount of fat • Sauté the onion and garlic. • peppers sautéed in olive oil • meat sautéed with herbs

2 sauté noun, pl -tés [count] : a food that is fried in a small amount of fat • a shrimp sauté = (US) a sauté of shrimp

— sauté adj, always used before a noun • sauté [=sautéed] potatoes

1 sav-age /ˈsævɪdʒ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 of an animal : not under human control : WILD • savage [=wild] beasts

2 : very cruel or violent • a savage criminal • He was the victim of a savage attack/beatings. • a savage battle • The coast was lashed by savage storms.

3 : very critical or harsh • savage criticism • He wrote savage satires about people he didn't like.

4 old-fashioned + offensive : having a way of life that is simple and not highly advanced : uncivilized or primitive • a savage country/tribe

— sav-age-ly adv • She was savagely attacked by the dog. • He was savagely beaten. — sav-age-ness noun [noncount] • the savageness [= (more commonly) savagery] of the battle/crime

2 savage noun, pl -ag-es [count]

1 old-fashioned + offensive : a person who has a way of life that is simple and not highly advanced • a wild savage

2 : a person who is very violent or cruel • What kind of savage could have committed such a terrible crime?

3 savage verb -ages; -aged; -ag-ing [+ obj] : to attack or treat (someone or something) in a very cruel, violent, or harsh way • He looked like he'd been savaged by a wild animal. • A hurricane savaged the city. • The newspapers savaged his reputation.

sav-age-ry /ˈsævɪdʒəri/ noun, pl -ries

1 [noncount] : a cruel or violent quality : a savage quality • The savagery of the attack was horrifying. • an act of pure savagery

2 [count] : a cruel or violent act or action • the savageries committed by the soldiers • the savageries of war

sa-van-na also sa-van-nah /səˈvænə/ noun, pl -nas also -nahs [count] : a large flat area of land with grass and very few trees especially in Africa and South America sa-vant /səˈvɑːnt, Brit ˈsævənt/ noun, pl -vants [count] formal

1 : a person who knows a lot about a particular subject • a computer savant

2 : a person who does not have normal intelligence but who has very unusual mental abilities that other people do not have

1 save /ˈserv/ verb saves; saved; sav-ing

1 [+ obj] a : to keep (someone or something) safe : to stop (someone or something) from dying or being hurt, damaged, or lost • He risked his life to save his friend (from drowning). • The organization is dedicated to saving [=protecting] endangered animals. • We need to save the rain forests (from destruction). • He grabbed her arm to save her from falling. [=to stop/prevent her from falling so that she would not be hurt] • The doctors managed to save the soldier's wounded leg. [=to keep the leg from having to be cut off] b : to stop (something) from ending or failing : to make (something) that is in danger of failing) successful • He is trying to save his marriage by going to counseling for his drug addiction. • The new CEO saved the company (from bankruptcy). • She saved a tense situation by staying calm.

2 : to keep (something) from being lost or wasted [+ obj] This new plan will help us save time. = The new plan will save us some time. • Thinner computer monitors save space. [no obj] — + on • A more efficient furnace will save on energy.

3 a : to keep money instead of spending it : to put money away especially in a bank so that you will have it in the future [no obj] She would rather save than spend. • He has been saving (up) for a new car. [+ obj] Save a little money for later. • She saves part of her pay every week. • I saved $20,000 for a down payment on the house. b : to spend less money [no obj] Buy now and save! — often + on • Save on everything in the store! • He saved on [=spent less money for] his car insurance by switching to a different insurance company. [+ obj] She saved $15 at the grocery store by using coupons. — often + on • We're trying to save money on our electric bill.

4 [+ obj] a : to keep (something) available for use in the future • Be sure to save some cookies for your sister. • You need to save (up) your energy for tomorrow. • He saves his best jacket for special occasions. [=he only wears his best jacket on special occasions] • The runners saved their energy for the last lap. = The runners saved themselves for the last lap. b : to keep (something) for someone to use or have • She saved a seat for her friend. • Please save the next dance for me. = Please save me the next dance. [=please don't plan to dance the next dance with anyone but me]

5 [+ obj] : to make (something) unnecessary • Check that you have everything before you leave. It will save your having to go back again. • The shortcut saves an hour's driving.

6 [+ obj] : to keep (someone) from doing something • Thanks for sending out that package. It saved me a trip to the post office. • I'll make the appointment for you to save you the trouble/bother. [=so that you don't have to do it yourself] — often + from • You should cut up the vegetables to save you from doing it later when the guests are here.

7 [+ obj] : to collect or keep (something) • She saved all his letters.

8 : to store (data) in a computer or on a storage device (such as a CD) so that it can be used later [+ obj] You should save your work on/to a disk. • save a file [no obj] Don't forget to save before you close the file.

9 [+ obj] sports a : to stop (an opponent's shot) from scoring a goal • He saved the penalty kick/shot. b : to keep (a game) from being lost to an opponent • The relief pitcher saved the game.

10 in Christianity : to protect or free (someone) from sin or evil [+ obj] He believes that Jesus Christ will save him. [no obj] Jesus saves.

a penny saved (is a penny earned) see PENNY

save face see ¹FACE

save someone's bacon/hide/neck/skin informal : to save someone : to help someone get out of a dangerous or difficult situation • You really saved my bacon by helping out yesterday. • He doesn't care what happens to us. All he's worried about is saving his own skin/neck. [=saving himself] save someone's life 1 or save a life : to stop (someone) from dying or being killed : to rescue (someone) who is in terrible danger • She thanked the firefighters who saved her life. [=rescued her] • a surgical procedure that has saved the lives of thousands of people • The use of seat belts can save lives. • If you donate blood, you might save a life. 2 informal : to help (someone) in an important way — often used to thank someone who helped you • Thanks for covering for me. You really saved my life.

save the day : to make a bad situation end successfully • Just when things looked hopeless, my brother came along and saved the day.

save your breath see BREATH to save your life informal ✧ If you cannot do something to save your life, you are completely unable to do it. • She can't sing to save her life. [=she is a very bad singer]

²save noun, pl saves [count]

1 : a play that stops an opponent from scoring a goal • The goalie made a spectacular save.

2 baseball, of a relief pitcher : the act of keeping a team's lead when replacing another pitcher at the end of a game • He leads the league in saves.

³save prep, formal : other than : but or except • We had no hope save one.

save for : not including (someone or something) : except for (someone or something) • The park was deserted save for a few joggers.

⁴save conj, formal : EXCEPT • Little is known about his early years save that he left home when he was very young.

sav·er /'seivə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : someone who saves money for future use • He is a compulsive saver who always watches his spending.

2 : something that prevents unnecessary waste or loss — used in combination • This recipe is a real time-saver. [=this recipe saves a lot of time] • The new product is an energy-saver.

— see also LIFESAVER

¹saving noun, pl -ings

1 [count] : an amount of something that is not spent or used • The new system will provide a saving in labor. • a saving on fuel — often plural • a savings of 50 percent • The investment offers tax savings. • The savings at the end of the first year will be considerable.

2 savings [plural] : the amount of money that you have saved especially in a bank over a period of time • How much money do you have in savings? • She has her savings in stocks. • They were able to retire on their savings. • His parents lost their life savings [=all the money they had] when the stock market crashed.

²saving adj

1 : preventing the unnecessary waste or loss of something — used in combination • energy-saving technology • space-saving furniture

2 : preventing the unnecessary spending of money — used in combination • money-saving tips • cost-saving strategies saving grace noun, pl ~ graces [count] : a good quality that makes a bad or unpleasant person or thing better or more acceptable • It's expensive, but the machine's saving grace is its ease of operation. • One of her saving graces is a good sense of humor.

savings account noun, pl ~ -counts [count] : a bank account in which people keep money that they want to save • She opened a savings account.

savings and loan association noun, pl ~ -tions [count] US : a business that is like a bank and that holds and invests the money saved by its members and makes loans to home buyers — called also savings and loan, S&L savings bank noun, pl ~ banks [count] : a business where people keep money that they are saving in order to earn interest on it and where they can borrow money to buy homes, cars, etc.

savings bond noun, pl ~ bonds [count] finance : a bond sold by the U.S. government that comes in values of $50 to $10,000

sav·ior (US) or Brit sav·iour /'seivjə/ noun, pl -iors

1 [count] : someone who saves something or someone from danger, harm, failure, etc. • We all felt that she was our savior. • Many people expected him to be the savior of his (political) party.

2 Savior (US) or Brit Saviour — used by Christians to refer to Jesus Christ • saying a prayer to the/our Savior sa·voir faire /sæv,wɑʃ'feɪ/ noun [noncount] formal : the ability to behave in a correct and confident way in different situations • I admire her sophistication and savoir faire. • He handled the problem with his usual savoir faire.

¹sa·vor (US) or Brit sa·vour /'seivə/ noun, pl -vors formal

1 [count] : a good taste or smell — usually singular • She enjoys the savor of a baking pie. • There was a savor to the dish that I couldn't identify. • a savor of mint • an earthy savor

2 [noncount] literary : the quality that makes something interesting or enjoyable • Without her love, life has lost its savor for me.

²savor (US) or Brit savour /'seivə/ verb -vors; -vored; -vor·ing formal

1 [+ obj] : to enjoy the taste or smell of (something) for as long as possible • He savored the aroma of the baking pies. • They savored every last morsel of food.

2 [+ obj] : to enjoy (something) for a long time • She was just savoring the moment. • The team is still savoring its victory. • He savored the memories of his vacation.

savor of [phrasal verb] savor of (something) formal : to seem to suggest or involve (something unpleasant) • That suggestion savors of [=smacks of] hypocrisy.

¹sa·vory (US) or Brit sa·voury /'seivəri/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : having a pleasant taste or smell • a savory aroma

2 : having a spicy or salty quality without being sweet • They prepared an assortment of both sweet and savory foods.

3 : morally good — usually used in negative statements • His reputation was anything but savory. [=his reputation was unsavory] • her less savory friend

²savory (US) or savoury noun, pl -vor-ies [count] formal : a small serving of food that is spicy or salty but not sweet : a savory food • They prepared assorted sweets and savories.

¹sav·vy /'sævi/ noun [noncount] : practical understanding or knowledge of something • He is admired for his business savvy. [=shrewdness]

²savvy adj sav·vi·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] US : having practical understanding or knowledge of something • She's a very savvy investor. • He is savvy about computers.

¹saw past tense of ¹SEE

²saw /'sa:/ noun, pl saws [count] : a tool that has a blade with sharp teeth and that is used to cut through wood, metal, and other hard material • a power saw — see picture at CARPENTRY; see also CHAIN SAW, CIRCULAR SAW, HACKSAW, HANDSAW, JIGSAW — compare ⁴SAW

³saw verb saws; sawed /'sa:d/; sawed or Brit sawn /'sa:n/; saw·ing /'sa:ɪŋ/ : to cut or shape (wood, metal, etc.) with a saw [+ obj] He sawed the boards in half. [no obj] This blade is too dull for sawing.

saw at [phrasal verb] saw at (something) : to try to cut (something) by moving a saw, knife, etc., backwards and forwards • She was sawing (away) at the turkey with a dull knife. — sometimes used figuratively • The violinist sawed (away) at the strings.

saw down [phrasal verb] saw down (something) or saw (something) down : to cut (something) with a saw and bring it to the ground : to cut (something) down • The trees were sawed down.

saw off [phrasal verb] saw off (something) or saw (something) off : to remove (something) by cutting it with a saw • She sawed off the branch.

saw up [phrasal verb] saw up (something) or saw (something) up : to cut (something) into pieces with a saw • He sawed up the boards into foot-long pieces.

⁴saw noun, pl saws [count] : a common saying : PROVERB • His grandfather recited the old saw about an apple a day keeping the doctor away. — compare ²SAW

saw·dust /'sa:,dʌst/ noun [noncount] : tiny particles of wood that are formed from sawing or sanding wood sawed-off shotgun noun, pl ~ -guns [count] US : a shotgun that has a shorter barrel than a regular shotgun — called also (Brit) sawn-off shotgun saw·horse /'sa:,hɔ:əs/ noun, pl -hors·es [count] : a frame on which wood is placed when it is being cut with a saw saw·mill /'sa:,mɪl/ noun, pl -mills [count] : a mill or factory where logs are sawed to make boards

sax /'sæks/ noun, pl sax·es [count] informal : SAXOPHONE • a tenor sax

Sax·on /'sæksən/ noun, pl -ons [count] : a member of the Germanic people who entered and conquered England in the fifth century A.D. — see also ANGLO-SAXON — Saxon adj • Saxon kings sax·o·phone /'sæksə,fəʊn/ noun, pl -phones [count] : a musical instrument that has a curved metal tube and that is played by blowing into a mouthpiece and pressing keys with your fingers — see picture at WOODWIND

sax·o·phon·ist /'sæksə,fəʊnɪst, Brit sæk'sɒfənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : someone who plays the saxophone

¹say /'seɪ/ verb says /'sez/; said /'sed/; say·ing /'seɪŋ/

¹ : to use your voice to express (something) with words [+ obj] "Is anybody there?" he said. • "Good morning," said the woman behind the counter. • I said three words before he interrupted me again. • I just stopped by to say hello. • He left without saying goodbye. • I wanted to say thank you for all you've done for me. • She said something about going to the store after work. • He said something in French. • Anything you say to the police can be used as evidence against you. • Don't believe a word he says. • Please be quiet. I have something to say. • Listen closely, because I'm not going to say this again/twice. • What did you say? • Who shall I say is calling, Sir? • Did she say how to get there? • I said to myself, "I can do it." • He said (that) he was a doctor. • I can honestly say (that) I had never seen that man before today. • I already said (that) I was sorry. • You know what they say, "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em." • As people/they say, "You can't teach an old dog new tricks." • Her eyes are hazel, which is to say [=which means that] they are greenish brown. • "A word of advice: don't mention the war." "Say no more [=I understand you; you do not need to explain it further]—I'll stay off the subject!" [no obj] "What happened next?" "I'd rather not say."

² [+ obj] : to express (an opinion) • She thinks I should break up with him. What do you say? [=what's your opinion?] • What would/do you say to seeing a movie tonight? [=would you like to see a movie tonight?] • "After all, he was the last person to see her alive." "Are you saying that (you think) he killed her?" • I say you're wrong. [=my opinion is that you're wrong] • I wouldn't say (that) he's a great guitarist [=I don't think he's a great guitarist]; he's just OK. • They say (that) you should drink eight glasses of water a day. = It's said that you should drink eight glasses of water a day. [=the opinion of people who know about this subject is that you should drink eight glasses of water a day] • New England is said to be [=many people think New England is] very beautiful in the Fall. • "Is the island nice?" "So they/people say." • I must say it was quite a surprise to hear from him. = I have to say it was quite a surprise to hear from him. • I'm not saying we shouldn't buy the car. All I'm saying is that we should think about it some more. • I didn't really enjoy the movie, but that's not to say it was bad. • Say what you like (about it), I thought it was a good movie. • Seeing your reaction, I would say that you're jealous that he has a new girlfriend. • The dress seems too fancy for the party, wouldn't you say? [=don't you agree?; do you think the same thing?] • I'll say this for him—he's very generous with his money. • "She's a great singer!" "If you say so."

³ : to express (a fact) with certainty [+ obj] No one can say for sure whether it will happen. • It is hard to say what caused the injury. • There's no saying [=it is impossible to know] how many people died in the earthquake. [no obj] "When will you be done?" "I couldn't/can't say." [=I don't know] ✧ This sense is often used in indirect questions beginning with who to express disagreement or to say that something cannot be known for sure. • Who says I can't do it? I can do anything if I put my mind to it. • Who's to say they wouldn't have won if their team was healthy? • Who can say what will happen? [=no one knows what will happen]

⁴ : to give (an order) : to tell someone to do (something) [+ obj] I said leave me alone! • "Why do we have to go?" "Because your father and I said so." • Mom said to wait here. • She's the boss. What she says goes! [=you have to do what she tells you to do] • "Let's try installing the program one more time." "Whatever you say—you're the expert." • "Don't you ever bring that subject up again, do you hear me?!" "Okay, okay. Whatever you say." [no obj] Don't start until I say (so/to).

⁵ [+ obj] : to pronounce (a word) • How do you say your name?

⁶ [+ obj] : to repeat or recite (something) • We always say our prayers before going to bed. • Can you say the poem from memory? • A new priest said Mass this morning.

⁷ [+ obj] : to use written words to give (information) • What does the card say? • Does the article say how the fire happened? • The letter says that I've been accepted to the college. • It says here that there will be a special guest at the concert. • The instructions say to add two eggs.

⁸ [+ obj] : to show or indicate (something) by using numbers, pictures, etc. • The clock says five minutes after ten. • The calendar says that Christmas falls on a Monday.

⁹ [+ obj] : to express (a meaning, emotion, etc.) without using words • She likes art that really says something. • The kind of car you drive says a lot about the kind of person you are. • The look on her face said "I'm sorry." • His face said it all. = His face said everything. [=his face showed how he felt]

¹⁰ a — used to suggest an example or possibility • Let's pick a math problem. Say problem number 3. • Say you do get accepted to the college. Will you go? • We could leave on any day—say on Monday. • Let's say you're right, for argument's sake. • Suppose you won, shall we say, one million dollars. What would you do with it? b — used to suggest a possible or approximate amount, value, etc. • The property is worth, say, four million dollars. = The property is worth four million dollars, say. [=the property is worth about four million dollars]

can't say fairer than that Brit, informal — used to say that you cannot make a better offer than the one you have made • What do you think? I can't say fairer than that, now, can I?

enough said see ³ENOUGH

fair to say see ¹FAIR

go without saying : to be obvious and true • It goes without saying that I'll do whatever I can to help you.

hasten to say see HASTEN

have anything/something (etc.) to say about 1 : to have an opinion to express about (something) • I asked what she thought about the movie, but she didn't have anything to say about it. 2 : to have the ability to influence (something) • "I'm going to the party." "Not if I have anything/something to say about it." [=not if I can stop you] have something/nothing/much (etc.) to say for yourself : to be able or unable to say something that explains what you are doing, have done, etc. • I asked him about school, but he didn't have much to say for himself. • Your teacher says you were caught cheating. What do you have to say for yourself?

having said that or that said : despite what I just said • Their work has been fairly good. Having said that, I still think there's a lot of room for improvement. • Much of the book was very dull. That said, I have to admit that the ending was extremely clever.

I dare say see ¹DARE

if I may say so also if I might say so — used to express criticism or disagreement in a polite way • The whole affair—if I may say so—was a waste of time.

if I say so myself — used when you are saying something that praises your own work, skill, etc. • I did a fine job painting the room, if I say so myself. • I'm a pretty good golfer, if I say so myself.

I hear what you're saying see HEAR

I'll say informal — used to indicate that you completely agree with something just said • "Isn't it hot today!" "I'll say (it is). It's unbearable!"

I say Brit, old-fashioned 1 — used to express surprise, shock, etc. • I say! Isn't that your friend over there? • I say! That's a wonderful idea. 2 — used to attract the attention of someone • I say (there). Can you help me?

needless to say see NEEDLESS never say die see ¹DIE

never say never see NEVER not to say — used to introduce a more forceful or critical way of describing someone or something • His manner was discourteous, not to say offensive. • He was impolite, not to say downright rude!

say cheese see CHEESE

say no : to say that you will not accept or agree to something • We requested more time, but she said no. [=she refused to allow us to have more time] — often + to • She said no to our request. • I never say no to dessert.

say something/little/a lot (etc.) for : to show that (someone or something) does or does not deserve to be praised, admired, etc. • It says a lot for her that she stayed in the game even though she was injured. • The students' low test scores don't say much for the education they're receiving. [=the low test scores show/suggest that the students are not getting a good education]

say the word see ¹WORD

say what US, informal — used to express surprise at what someone has just said • "I'm moving out." "Say what?"

say yes : to say that you accept or agree to something — often + to • They said yes to our plan.

say your piece see ¹PIECE suffice (it) to say see SUFFICE

that is to say see ¹THAT that said see HAVING SAID THAT (above)

that's not saying much — used to indicate that a fact, achievement, etc., is not unusual or impressive • He is a better golfer than me, but that's not saying much (because I'm not a good golfer).

there is something/a lot/much (etc.) to be said for — used to indicate that something has advantages which deserve to be considered when you are thinking about what to do • There is something to be said for small weddings. • It is not necessary, but there is something to be said for traveling abroad to learn a language.

to say nothing of — used when referring to another thing that relates to what you have just said • We need more time, to say nothing of [=not to mention] money. [=we also need more money] • The restaurant makes its own delicious bread, to say nothing of a great spaghetti sauce.

to say the least see ²LEAST

when all is said and done see ³ALL you can say that again informal — used to indicate that you completely agree with something just said • "She's in a bad mood." "You can say that again." [=she certainly is] you don't say — used to express surprise • "She ran off with another man." "You don't say!" — often used ironically to show that you are not at all surprised by something • "They lost again." "You don't say. What's that, eight in a row?"

you might say — used to suggest a possible way of describing or thinking about something • The experience was, you might say, a glimpse into the future.

you said it informal — used to indicate that you completely agree with something just said • "That was a pretty selfish thing for him to do." "You said it." • "Let's grab something to eat." "You said it. I'm starving."

²say noun

1 [singular] : an opportunity to express your opinion • Everybody had a say at the meeting. • We won't make a decision until all members have had their say.

2 : the power to decide or help decide something [singular] The judge will have the final say on/over the divorce settlement. — usually + in • The students want a greater say in decisions that affect their education. [noncount] He had no/some/little say in the matter.

³say interj, chiefly US, informal

1 — used to express surprise, shock, etc. • Say, isn't that your friend over there? • Say, that's a wonderful idea.

2 — used to attract the attention of someone • Say there. Can you help me? • Say, do you want to see a movie tonight?

say-ing /'seɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count] : an old and well-known phrase that expresses an idea that most people believe is true • "Two minds are better than one," as the (old) saying goes.

say-so /'seɪsəʊ/ noun [noncount] informal

1 : a statement that is not supported by any proof • He said he did the work himself, but we have only his say-so that that's what actually happened.

2 : permission that is given by a person who has authority • She left the hospital on the say-so of her doctor. • Nothing was done without his say-so.

3 : the power to decide something • She has the ultimate say-so on/over what will be taught.

S-bend /'es,bend/ noun, pl -bends [count] Brit : a bend in a road or pipe in the shape of the letter S

SC abbr 1 South Carolina 2 supreme court

scab /'skæb/ noun, pl scabs [count]

1 : a hard covering of dried blood that forms over a wound to cover and protect it as it heals

2 informal + disapproving : a worker who does not join a strike or who takes the place of another worker who is on strike scab-bard /'skæbəd/ noun, pl -bards [count] : a protective case for a sword that covers the blade sca-bies /'skerbiz/ noun [plural] : a disease that is caused by small insects and that causes itching and red spots on the skin sca-brous /'skæbrəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 technical : having a rough surface • scabrous skin/leaves

2 formal : referring to sex in a rude or shocking way • a movie with scabrous humor scads /'skædz/ noun [plural] informal : a large amount of something — usually + of • We have scads [=lots] of time left. • scads of money

scaf-fold /'skæfəld/ noun, pl -folds [count]

1 : a temporary or movable platform or structure on which a person stands or sits while working high above the floor or ground

2 : a platform or structure on which criminals are killed by being hanged or beheaded • The condemned man was led to the scaffold.

scaf-fold-ing /'skæfəldɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the metal poles and wooden boards that are used to build or support a scaffold (sense 1) scal-able /'skeɪləbəl/ adj, technical : easy to make larger, more powerful, etc. • a scalable computer network

— scal-abil-i-ty /'skeɪlə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

scal-a-wag (US) or chiefly Brit scal-ly-wag /'skæli,wæg/ noun, pl -wags [count] informal + somewhat old-fashioned : a usually young person who causes trouble : RASCAL • an amusing little scalawag

¹scald /'skɑ:ld/ verb scalds; scald-ed; scald-ing [+obj]

scaffold

1 : to burn (someone or something) with hot liquid or steam
• The steam scalded his skin. — sometimes used figuratively • Tears scalded her face.

2 a : to put (something) in hot liquid or steam for a brief time • Scald the tomatoes in boiling water so that you can peel them more easily. b : to heat (a liquid) until it is very hot but not boiling • scald milk

2 scald noun, pl scalds [count] : a burn left on the skin that is caused by hot liquid or steam scald-ing /'ska:ldɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very hot • The men worked in the scalding sun. • scalding hot water • a scalding bowl of soup

2 : very critical : very harsh or severe • a scalding [=scathing] review of the book

1 scale /'skeɪl/ noun, pl scales : a device that is used for weighing people or things [count] (US) a bathroom scale [plural] (Brit) He stepped onto the bathroom scales. — see picture at BATHROOM

tip the scales see 1 TIP

— compare 2 SCALE, 4 SCALE

2 scale noun, pl scales [count] : one of many small thin plates that cover the bodies of some animals (such as fish or snakes) — compare 1 SCALE, 4 SCALE

3 scale verb scales; scaled; scal-ing [+ obj] : to remove the scales from (a fish) • You should scale, bone, and clean the fish before you cook it. — compare 2 SCALE

4 scale noun, pl scales

1 [count] : a series of musical notes that go up or down in pitch • the C-minor scale • a major scale

2 [count] : a line on a map or chart that shows a specific unit of measure (such as an inch) used to represent a larger unit (such as a mile) : the relationship between the distances on a map and the actual distances • The map uses a scale of one centimeter for every 10 kilometers.

3 [count] : a range of numbers that is used to show the size, strength, or quality of something — usually singular • On a scale of 1 to 10, I give the movie a 9. [=the movie was extremely good] • On a scale of 1 to 5—1 being mild pain and 5 being extreme pain—tell me how much pain you are in. — see also RICHTER SCALE

4 [count] : a range of levels of something from lowest to highest • He is at the top of the pay scale for his position. • Primates are high up on the evolutionary scale. — see also SLIDING SCALE

5 [noncount] — used to describe a model, drawing, etc., in which all of the parts of something relate to each other in the same way that they do in the larger form • The model of the new city hall is to scale. [=the model shows exactly how the parts will relate to each other when it is built] • The diagram was not drawn to scale. • a scale model of a car

6 [singular] : the size or level of something especially in comparison to something else • The company does things on a larger scale than most others. • The mayor surveyed the full scale [=extent] of the damage. • The war could impact the economy on a global scale. [=could impact the economy of the entire world] • They exposed fraud on a grand scale. — see also FULL-SCALE, LARGE-SCALE, SMALL-SCALE

7 [noncount] technical : a hard substance that is formed in pipes or containers holding water

8 [noncount] Brit : a hard substance that forms on teeth : TARTAR • buildup of plaque and scale on the teeth

— compare 1 SCALE, 2 SCALE

5 scale verb scales; scaled; scaling [+ obj] : to climb to the top of (something) • Hikers scaled the mountain. — sometimes used figuratively • She scaled the heights of the publishing industry. [=she rose to a very high position in the publishing industry]

scale back/down [phrasal verb] scale back/down (something) or scale (something) back/down : to decrease the size, amount, or extent of (something) • The committee scaled down the budget. • The company has scaled back production. • We scaled back our original plans.

scale up [phrasal verb] scale up (something) or scale (something) up : to increase the size, amount, or extent of (something) • The company hopes to scale up production soon.

— compare 3 SCALE

scal-lion /'skæljən/ noun, pl -lions [count] US : GREEN ONION

scal-lop /'ska:ləp, 'skæləp/ noun, pl -lops [count]

1 : a type of shellfish that has a flat, round shell with two parts and that is often eaten as food — see color picture on page C8

2 : one of a series of similar curves that form a decorative edge on something

scal-loped /'ska:ləpt, 'skæləpt/ adj

1 : baked in a sauce usually with bread crumbs on top • scal-loped potatoes

2 : having a series of similar, decorative curves along the edge • a scalloped lace collar • Her skirt had a scalloped hem.

scallywag chiefly Brit spelling of SCALAWAG

1 scalp /'skælp/ noun, pl scalps [count]

1 : the skin on the top of your head where hair grows

2 : hair and skin that is cut or torn from the head of an enemy as a sign of victory — often used figuratively • His boss wants his scalp. [=wants to fire him] • Parents of some students are (going) after the principal's scalp.

2 scalp verb scalps; scalped; scalp-ing [+ obj]

1 : to remove the hair and skin from the head of (an enemy) as a sign of victory • Some members of the tribe were scalped by the attacking warriors.

2 US : to buy tickets for an event and resell them at a much higher price • People were scalping [= (Brit) touting] tickets outside the stadium.

— scalp-er noun, pl -ers [count] US • ticket scalpers [= (Brit) ticket touts] scal-pel /'skælpəl/ noun, pl -pels [count] : a small knife with a thin, sharp blade that is used in surgery scaly /'skerli/ adj scal-i-er; -i-est [also more ~; most ~] : covered with scales or flakes • a scaly crocodile • His skin was dry and scaly.

1 scam /'skæm/ noun, pl scams [count] : a dishonest way to make money by deceiving people • She was the victim of an insurance scam. • a sophisticated credit card scam • a scam artist

2 scam /'skæm/ verb scams; scammed; scam-ming [+ obj]

1 : to deceive and take money from (someone) • The company scammed hundreds of people out of their life savings. • I could tell they were scamming you and charging too much.

2 : to get (something, such as money) by deceiving someone • They scammed a lot of money from unwary customers.

— scam-mer noun, pl -mers [count]

scamp /'skæmp/ noun, pl scamps [count] old-fashioned : a child who causes trouble usually in a playful way : RASCAL • a mischievous little scamp scam-per /'skæmpə/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition -pers; -pered; -per-ing [no obj] : to run or move quickly and often playfully • The kids were scampering around the yard. • A mouse scampered across the floor.

scam-pi /'skæmpi/ noun [noncount]

1 US : a dish of large shrimp prepared with a garlic-flavored sauce • shrimp scampi

2 Brit : large shrimp that are often breaded and fried • scampi and chips scam-ster /'skæmstə/ noun, pl -sters [count] informal : a person who deceives people to get their money : a person who scams people • con artists, swindlers, and scamsters

1 scan /'skæn/ verb scans; scanned; scan-ning

1 [+ obj] : to look at (something) carefully usually in order to find someone or something • He scanned the field with binoculars. • He scanned the audience looking for his parents. • She scanned his face for any clue to what he was thinking. • The program is scanning [=searching] the computer's files.

2 : to look over or read (something) quickly [+ obj] She quickly scanned the pages of the newspaper. [no obj] She scanned through the list to find her name.

3 [+ obj] : to look at the inside of (something) by using a special machine • Their bags were scanned at the airport. • This machine scans a patient's brain.

4 : to use a special machine to read or copy (something, such as a photograph or a page of text) into a computer [+ obj] She scanned her photos into her computer. • scan in the number • The cashier scanned the bar code on the box. [no obj] The bar code won't scan. [=the machine is unable to read the bar code]

5 [no obj] technical, of a poem : to have a correct or regular rhythm • These lines do not scan.

2 scan noun, pl scans [count]

1 : the act or process of scanning something: such as a : the act of looking at something carefully or quickly — usually singular • a careful scan of the area • The investigator did a full scan of the computer's files. • She gave the list a quick scan. b : the act or process of using a special machine to see the inside of something (such as a part of the body) • The patient underwent a brain scan.

2 : a picture of the inside of something that is made by a special machine • The doctor examined the bone scans. — see also CAT SCAN scan·dal /'skændl/ noun, pl -dals

1 : an occurrence in which people are shocked and upset because of behavior that is morally or legally wrong [count] There was a major scandal involving the mayor's ties with the Mob. • Government officials were caught in an embezzlement scandal. • Her behavior caused a scandal at school. • a drug/sex scandal [noncount] His actions brought scandal on the team. [=his actions disgraced the team] • There was never a hint/trace of scandal during her time in office.

2 [noncount] : talk about the shocking or immoral things that people have done or are believed to have done • The gossip magazine is filled with rumors and scandal.

3 [singular] : something that is shocking, upsetting, or unacceptable • The high price of gas these days is a scandal. • It's a scandal that this city doesn't have a movie theater.

scan·dal·ize also Brit scan·dal·ise /'skændəlaɪz/ verb -izes; -ized; -izing [+ obj] : to shock or offend (someone) by doing something immoral or illegal • She was scandalized by her son's behavior.

scan·dal·ous /'skændələs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : shocking or offensive • scandalous behavior • Sex was a scandalous subject back then. • The magazine published scandalous pictures of the movie star. • The high price of gas these days is scandalous.

2 : involving immoral or shocking things that a person has done or is believed to have done • scandalous allegations • She was spreading scandalous rumors about him.

— scan·dal·ous·ly adv • scandalously high prices

Scan·di·na·vian /,skændə'nervijən/ noun, pl -vians [count] : a person born, raised, or living in the countries of Scandinavia (Sweden, Norway, and Denmark)

— Scandinavian adj • Scandinavian furniture scan·ner /'skænə/ noun, pl -ners [count] : a device that scans things: such as a : a device that reads or copies information or images into a computer • a price scanner at a supermarket • a photo scanner b : a device that is used to see inside something • a luggage scanner c : a radio receiver that searches for a signal • a police scanner [=a device that is used for listening to the police as they talk to each other over the radio] scant /'skænt/ adj : very small in size or amount • Food was in scant supply. • She paid scant attention to the facts. • Police found scant evidence of fraud.

scanty /'skænti/ adj -i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : very small in size or amount • The cheerleaders wore scanty outfits. • scanty data synonyms see MEAGER

— scant·i·ly /'skæntəli/ adv • scantily dressed/clad dancers [=dancers wearing very little clothing]

scape·goat /'skeɪpɡout/ noun, pl -goats [count] : a person who is unfairly blamed for something that others have done • The CEO was made the scapegoat for the company's failures.

— scapegoat verb -goats; -goat·ed; -goat·ing [+ obj] • He was scapegoated for the company's failures. • He's a victim of scapegoating.

scap·u·la /'skæpjələ/ noun, pl -lae /-,li:/ or -las [count] medical : SHOULDER BLADE

scar /'skɑː/ noun, pl scars [count]

1 : a mark that is left on your skin after a wound heals • The operation left a scar on his stomach. • the soldier's battle scars • scar tissue

2 : a mark on something showing where it has been damaged • The table had several scars on its top.

3 : a feeling of great emotional pain or sadness that is caused by a bad experience and that lasts for a long time • The divorce left her with deep emotional scars.

scar verb scars; scarred; scar·ring [+ obj]

1 : to mark (something) with a scar • His arm was badly scarred after the accident.

2 : to cause (someone) to feel great emotional pain or sadness because of a bad experience • The tragedy left her emotionally scarred. • Divorce can scar a child for life. = Divorce can leave a child scarred for life.

3 : to make marks on (something) that show damage or wear • Your shoes are scarring the floor. • The fence was scarred by rust.

scar·ab /'skerəb/ noun, pl -abs [count] : a large beetle with a black shell ✧ In ancient Egypt the scarab was a symbol of good luck and eternal life.

scarce /'skeəs/ adj scarc·er; scarc·est [also more ~; most ~] : very small in amount or number : not plentiful • Food was getting scarce during the drought. • scarce resources make yourself scarce informal : to leave so that you will not be seen in a certain place • You'd better make yourself scarce before my parents get home.

— scarce·ness noun [noncount] • The *scarce*ness [=scarcity] of the metal made it valuable.

scarce adv, literary : almost not at all : scarcely or hardly • I could scarce believe what I was hearing.

scarce·ly /'skeəsli/ adv

1 : almost not at all : HARDLY • He could scarcely control his joy. • Scarcely a day goes by when they don't see or talk to each other.

2 : by only a small amount of time, space, etc. : BARELY • I had scarcely [=only just] closed the door when the doorbell rang again. • The truck scarcely [=just] made it underneath the low bridge. • He had scarcely enough money.

3 : certainly not • This is scarcely a time to laugh. • I could scarcely tell them they were wrong.

scarcely ever see EVER scar·ci·ty /'skeəsəti/ noun, pl -ties : a very small supply : the state of being scarce [count] — usually singular • There was a scarcity of food. [=there was very little food; there was not enough food] • wartime scarcities [noncount] Scarcity of food forced the herds to move.

scare /'skeə/ verb scares; scared; scar·ing

1 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to become afraid : FRIGHTEN • You scared me. I didn't see you there. • Stop that, you're scaring the children. • The loud noise scared them. = They were scared by the loud noise. • You nearly scared me to death. [=you scared me very much] scare away/off [phrasal verb] scare (someone or something) away/off or scare away/off (someone or something) : to cause (someone or something) to go away and stay away because of fear or because of possible trouble, difficulty, etc. • The dog scared the prowler away. • The noise scared off the birds. • Tourists have been scared off by the recent violence in the city. [=tourists have not visited the city because of the recent violence there] • She finally found a man who's not scared away by the fact that she is a single mom raising two children.

2 [no obj] : to become afraid • I don't scare easily.

scare into [phrasal verb] scare (someone) into (something) : to cause (someone) to do (something) because of fear • The police scared him into confessing his crime. • They tried to scare us into buying more insurance.

scare up [phrasal verb] scare (someone or something) up or scare up (someone or something) US, informal : to find or get (someone or something) with some difficulty • We managed to scare up [=scrape up] the money. • Let's try to scare up some people to play football.

scare noun, pl scares [count]

1 : a sudden feeling of fear • You gave me (quite) a scare. [=you scared me] • She had a pregnancy scare. [=she was afraid she was pregnant]

2 : a situation in which a lot of people become afraid because of some threat, danger, etc. • There have been scares about the water supply being contaminated. • a bomb scare [=a situation in which people are afraid because someone says that a bomb is going to explode]

— scare adj, always used before a noun • a scare story about a possible epidemic • They used scare tactics to teach their children not to smoke cigarettes.

scare·crow /'skeə,krou/ noun, pl -crows [count] : an object that looks like a person and that is placed in a field to scare birds away from crops scared adj [more ~; most ~] : afraid of something : nervous or frightened • The rabbit looked scared. • I am really scared about speaking in front of the class. • He was scared that his mother wouldn't let him go to the movies with his friends. • She's scared to walk alone at night. • The children got scared [=became frightened] and ran away. — often + of • He was scared of asking her out. • She's scared of snakes. • I want to look in the file, but I'm scared of what I'll find. • She was scared to death of flying. = She was scared stiff of flying. [=she was very scared of flying] scaredy·cat /'skeədi,kæt/ noun, pl -cats [count] informal : someone who is very afraid of something — used mainly by children or when speaking to children • Don't be a

- scaredy-cat*. The frog won't hurt you.
- scare-mon-ger-ing /'skeə,mɑ:ŋgərɪŋ, 'skeə,mʌŋgərɪŋ/noun [noncount] formal + disapproving: the act or practice of saying things to make people afraid • They used scaremongering about the economy to influence voters.
- scare-mon-ger /'skeə,mɑ:ŋgə, 'skeə,mʌŋgə/ noun, pl -gers [count] • scaremongers warning the public of global catastrophe
- ¹scarf /'skɑ:f/ noun, pl scarves /'skɑ:vz/ or scarfs [count]
: a long piece of cloth that is worn on your shoulders, around your neck, or over your head — see color picture on page C15
- ²scarf verb scarfs; scarfed; scarf-ing [+ obj] US, informal
: to eat (something) quickly • I scarfed [= (chiefly Brit) scoffed] a big breakfast. — often + down • He scarfed down his lunch and went right back outside.
- scarf up [phrasal verb] scarf (something) up or scarf up (something) US, informal: to take (something) in a quick and eager way • People scarfed up [= snapped up] the free gifts.
- scar-let /'skɑ:lət/ noun, pl -lets [count, noncount]: a bright red color — see color picture on page C3
- scarlet adj • a bird with scarlet feathers
- scarlet fever noun [noncount]: a very serious disease that causes a fever, sore throat, and a red rash
- scary /'skeri/ adj scar-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]
: causing fear • a scary [= frightening] movie • The stranger is scary looking. = He looks scary. = He's scary looking.
- scar-i-ly /'skerəli/ adv • a scarily accurate prediction • Scarily, the story is true. — scar-i-ness noun [noncount]
- ¹scat /'skæt/ interj — used to scare away an animal
- ²scat noun [noncount]: jazz singing with sounds or words that mean nothing
- scath-ing /'skeɪðɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal
: very harsh or severe • a scathing review of the book • a scathing look/comment
- scath-ing-ly adv
- scat-o-log-i-cal /,skætə'lɑ:dʒɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal: relating to things that are disgusting or offensive • scatological humor
- ¹scat-ter /'skætə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing
- 1 a [+ obj]: to cause (things or people) to separate and go in different directions • The wind scattered the pile of leaves. b [no obj]: to separate and go in different directions • The crowd scattered [= dispersed] when the police arrived. • The marbles scattered across the floor.
- 2 [+ obj]: to place or leave (things) in different places • He scattered [= spread] the grass seed over the soil. • She scattered the books on the table. • He scatters his toys all around the house.
- ²scatter noun [singular]: a small number or group of things placed or found apart from each other — usually + of • There was a scatter of empty cans and bottles on the lawn. • a scatter of houses along the river
- scat-ter-brain /'skætə,breɪn/ noun, pl -brains [count] informal: a person who is unable to concentrate or think clearly • Where did I put my keys? I'm such a scatterbrain today.
- scat-ter-brained /'skætə,breɪnd/ adj [more ~; most ~] • scatterbrained people • scatterbrained ideas
- scatter cushion noun, pl ~ -ions [count] Brit: THROW PILLOW
- scattered adj: placed or found far apart • The toys were scattered all over the house. • Clothes were scattered about the room. • The weather forecast calls for scattered [= occasional] showers all day. • Houses are scattered along the river. • My family is scattered throughout the country.
- scat-ter-ing /'skætərɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count]: a small number or group of things or people that are seen or found at different places or times — usually + of • The museum had a scattering of visitors last week. • There were scatterings of geese in the park.
- scatter rug noun, pl ~ rugs [count]: THROW RUG
- scat-ty /'skæti/ adj scat-ti-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] Brit, informal: not having or showing the ability to think clearly • My scatty [= scatterbrained] mother is always losing her keys.
- scav-enge /'skævəndʒ/ verb -eng-es; -enged; -eng-ing
- 1 of an animal: to search for food to eat [no obj] Rats scavenged in the trash. — often + for • The bears scavenged for food in the woods. [+ obj] The bears scavenged the woods for food.
- 2: to search through waste, junk, etc., for something that can be saved or used [no obj] — often + for • They scavenged for antiques at the flea market. [+ obj] He scavenged the town dump for automobile parts.
- scav-en-ger /'skævəndʒə/ noun, pl -gers [count]
- scavenger hunt noun, pl ~ hunts [count]: a game in which players try to find specified items within a particular period of time
- sce-nar-io /sə'nerijou, Brit sə'nɑ:riəu/ noun, pl -ios [count]
- 1: a description of what could possibly happen • A possible scenario would be that we move to the city. • The most likely scenario is that he goes back to school in the fall. • The best-case scenario would be for us to finish the work by tomorrow. • In the worst-case scenario, we would have to start the project all over again.
- 2 formal: a written description of a play, movie, opera, etc.
- scene /'si:n/ noun, pl scenes
- 1 [count] a: a division of an act in a play during which the action takes place in a single place without a break in time • The play's opening scene takes place in the courtyard. • Act I, Scene 3 b: a part of a play, movie, story, etc., in which a particular action or activity occurs • a famous love/fight/chase scene • The actor was nervous about his big scene.
- 2 [count]: a view or sight that looks like a picture • a winter scene • scenes [= images] of poverty
- 3 [count]: the place of an event or action • This is the scene [= location] where the movie was filmed. • a crime scene • Police are now at/on the scene. — often + of • the scene of the crime/attack/accident • The scene [= setting] of the story is New York City in the 1920s.
- 4 [count]: an occurrence in which someone becomes angry and loud in a noticeable way in a public place — usually singular • There was quite an ugly/angry scene at the restaurant. • The little boy made a scene because his mother wouldn't buy him candy.
- 5 [noncount] a: a particular area of activity that involves many people • The music scene is changing in the city. • The nightclub scene isn't for me. = (informal) Nightclubs are not my scene. [= I do not like to go to nightclubs] • He is new to the political scene. [= arena] • After years of making movies, she suddenly vanished from the scene. b: someone's usual area of activity or surroundings: the place where someone lives, works, etc. — used in the phrase change of scene • I'm sick of the cold weather. I need a change of scene. [= I need to go somewhere else]
- 6 [count]: something that happens: an event or occurrence • The book describes scenes [= episodes] from his childhood. — often + of • scenes of violence • a scene of celebration
- behind the scenes: in or into a private or secret place where things are done without being seen or known by the public • The workers behind the scenes have made the event a success. • They made the deal behind the scenes. • We were taken behind the scenes to see the making of the movie. — see also BEHIND-THE-SCENES
- enter the scene see ENTER
- on the scene — used to say that someone or something is or has become an important part of a situation, activity, etc. • She was lonely for a while, but now there's a new boyfriend on the scene. [= she has a new boyfriend] • a popular singer who first burst on the scene last year • Our lives have changed a lot since computers have come/appeared on the scene. — see also SCENE 3 (above)
- set the scene 1: to give someone information that is needed to understand something • Before I tell the story, let me set the scene (for you). 2: to create the conditions in which something can happen • His comments set the scene for an argument.
- scen-ery /'si:nəri/ noun [noncount]
- 1: the walls, furniture, trees, etc., that are used on a stage during a play or other performance to show where the action is taking place • She designed the scenery for the play. • The scenery showed a forest/bedroom.
- 2: a view of natural features (such as mountains, hills, valleys, etc.) that is pleasing to look at • beautiful mountain scenery • We went for a drive to enjoy the scenery.
- 3: the things that can be seen where a person lives, works, etc. — used in the phrase change of scenery • He was looking for a new job because he felt he needed a change of scenery. [= he needed to be in a different place] • We decided to go to a new restaurant for a change of scenery.

sce·nic /'si:nɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having, providing, or relating to a pleasing or beautiful view of natural scenery (such as mountains, hills, valleys, etc.) • the scenic beauty of the countryside • Our hotel had a scenic view of the lake. • a scenic route/drive • The country around here is very scenic.

¹scent /'sent/ noun, pl scents

1 [count] a : a pleasant smell that is produced by something • The flower has a wonderful scent. • the scent of flowers/perfume b : a smell that is left by an animal or person and that can be sensed and followed by some animals (such as dogs) • The dogs followed the fox's scent. • The prisoner escaped because the dogs lost his scent. — often used figuratively • The reporter was on the scent of a big story. [=was following/investigating a big story] • Scientists are on the scent of a cure. [=are looking for and are close to finding a cure] • He was being investigated by federal officials but he somehow managed to put them off the/his scent

2 [singular] a : a slight indication of something that is going to happen or that might happen • There was a scent [=hint] of trouble in the air. [=trouble was developing] b : a quality that suggests or shows the existence of something • Her story has a/the scent of truth. [=her story seems to be true]

3 [count, noncount] : a liquid that is put on your body to give it a pleasant odor : PERFUME • a bottle of scent

²scent verb scents; scent-ed; scent-ing [+ obj]

1 : to become aware of (something) by smell • The dog scent-ed a rabbit. — often used figuratively • We scented [=sensed, detected] trouble and left. • The reporter scented a big story.

2 : to give (something) a pleasing smell • Roses scented [=perfumed] the air. • She scented her handkerchief. • She scented the air with perfume. — often used as (be) scented • The room was scented by the flowers. • The air was scented with/by her perfume.

scent-ed /'sentəd/ adj : having a pleasing smell • sweetly scented flowers/oils • The soap is scented. • a pine-scented candle

scep·ter (US) or Brit scep·tre /'septə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : a long decorated stick that is carried by a king or queen sceptic, sceptical, scepticism chiefly Brit spellings of SKEPTIC, SKEPTICAL, SKEPTICISM

scha·den·freu·de /'ʃɑ:dən,froidə/ noun [noncount] formal : a feeling of enjoyment that comes from seeing or hearing about the troubles of other people

¹sched·ule /'ske,dʒu:l, Brit 'ʃe,dju:l/ noun, pl -ules

1 : a plan of things that will be done and the times when they will be done [count] I have a hectic/busy/full schedule this week. • Students are planning their class/course schedules for next year. • I have a flexible schedule [=I can change the times when I need to do things], so I can meet you at any time. • Sorting the mail is part of her daily schedule. • We have a tight schedule to get this project done. [=we have a small amount of time to finish the project] [noncount] The bus arrived on schedule [=on time; arrived at the time it was expected] • So far, everything is on schedule. [=everything is happening at the time that was planned] • The builders were ahead of schedule [=the builders were completing work earlier than planned] • If we get too far behind/off schedule [=if we do things later than planned] we will not be able to catch up later. • The project is going according to schedule. [=things are happening as planned]

2 [count] a : a written or printed list of things and the times when they will be done • I lost my class/course schedule. b US : a list of the times when buses, trains, airplanes, etc., leave or arrive • a bus/train/airplane/flight schedule [= (Brit) timetable] c : a list of the television or radio programs that are on a particular channel and the times that they begin • a programming schedule d : a list of prices or rates • the doctor's fee schedule • a tax schedule

²schedule verb -ules; -uled; -ul-ing [+ obj] : to plan (something) at a certain time • We scheduled a meeting for next week. • I need to schedule a doctor's appointment. — often used as (be) scheduled • The release of the movie/album is scheduled for next month. • The bus arrived earlier than (it was) scheduled. • I am scheduled to arrive at noon. • The test is scheduled to begin in one hour. • The train will be leaving as scheduled [=on time; will be leaving at the planned time] — scheduled adj • a list of the scheduled events • The plane's scheduled arrival/departure is midnight.

sche·mat·ic /ski'mætɪk/ adj, technical : showing the main parts of something usually in the form of a simple drawing or diagram • a schematic diagram/representation of their business model

¹scheme /'ski:m/ noun, pl schemes [count]

1 : a clever and often dishonest plan to do or get something • a scheme [=plot] to seize control of the government • a scheme to cheat people out of their money — see also PYRAMID SCHEME

2 chiefly Brit : an official plan or program of action • The company has a new scheme for insurance coverage. • a scheme to improve the economy • a training/pension/marketing scheme

3 : the way that something is arranged or organized • the color/decorative scheme of a room • a poem's rhyme scheme the scheme of things : the general way that things are organized and relate to each other • Everyone has their role to play in the (overall) scheme of things. • Our problems aren't really that important in the grand scheme of things. [=aren't really that important when you think about the larger situation]

²scheme verb schemes; schemed; schem-ing [no obj] : to make plans to do or get something in a secret and often dishonest way • He felt that the other men were scheming against him. • He was betrayed by a scheming friend. — often followed by to + verb • She schemed [=plotted] to take control of the company from her brother.

— schem-er noun, pl -ers [count]

scher·zo /'skeɪtsou/ noun, pl -zos [count] formal : a lively, humorous piece of music that is played quickly schism /'sɪzəm, 'skɪzəm/ noun, pl schisms formal : a division among the members of a group that occurs because they disagree on something [count] a schism between leading members of the party • The controversy created a schism [=rift] in the group. [noncount] The church was divided by schism.

— schis·mat·ic /,sɪz'mætɪk, ,skɪz'mætɪk/ adj • schismatic groups schist /'ʃɪst/ noun [noncount] technical : a type of rock that can be broken into thin, flat pieces

schiz·oid /'skɪt,sɔɪd/ adj

1 technical : relating to or having schizophrenia • schizoid symptoms/patients

2 : changing frequently between opposite states • With his schizoid nature, you never know whether he will disagree or agree with you. • The biography shows how schizoid [=changeable, varied] his career has been.

schizo·phre·nia /,skɪtsə'fri:nɪə/ noun [noncount] technical : a very serious mental illness in which someone cannot think or behave normally and often experiences delusions

¹schizo·phren·ic /,skɪtsə'frenɪk/ adj

1 technical : relating to or having schizophrenia • schizophrenic symptoms/patients • She has been diagnosed as schizophrenic.

2 : changing frequently between opposite states • He criticized the government's schizophrenic foreign policy.

²schizophrenic noun, pl -ics [count] : a person who has schizophrenia schlep or schlepp /'ʃlep/ verb schleps or schlepps, schlepped; schlep-ping [+ obj] US, informal : to carry or pull (something) with difficulty : to drag or haul (something) • We schlepped our luggage through the airport.

schlock /'ʃlɑ:k/ noun [noncount] US, informal + usually disapproving : things that are of low quality or value • a film director who's known as a master of schlock

— schlock adj • schlock horror movies — schlocky /'ʃlɑ:ki/ adj schlock·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] • a movie with schlocky special effects

schmaltz also schmalz /'ʃma:ltz/ noun [noncount] informal + disapproving : music, art, etc., that is very sad or romantic in usually a foolish or exaggerated way • The movie has too much schmaltz for me. • orchestral schmaltz

— schmaltzy /'ʃma:ltzi/ adj schmaltz·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] • a schmaltzy love story • The music is very schmaltzy.

schmo or schmo /'ʃmou/ noun, pl schmoes [count] US slang : an ordinary person who is not interesting or unusual in any way • They treated us like a bunch of schmoes. • I'm just an ordinary schmo trying to make a living.

schmooze or shmooze /'ʃmu:z/ verb schmooz·es or shmooz·es; schmoozed or shmoozed; schmooz-ing or shmooz-ing informal : to talk with someone in a friendly way often in order to get some advantage for yourself [no obj] People will have time to schmooze during the cocktail hour. — often + with • She schmoozed with the reporters/boss. [+ obj] He schmoozed his teachers.

— schmooz-er /'ʃmu:zə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

schmuck /'ʃmʌk/ noun, pl schmucks [count] US slang : a stupid or foolish person : JERK • I can't believe what a schmuck that guy is.

schnapps /'ʃnæps/ noun, pl schnapps [count, noncount] : a type of strong liquor schol-ar /'skɑ:lə/ noun, pl -ars [count]

1 : a person who has studied a subject for a long time and knows a lot about it : an intelligent and well-educated person who knows a particular subject very well • a biblical/classical/literary/Shakespearean scholar • She's a renowned scholar of African-American history.

2 : someone who has been given a scholarship • a Rhodes scholar

schol-ar-ly /'skɑ:ləli/ adj

1 : concerned with or relating to formal study or research • His writings have been recently given scholarly attention. • She has a scholarly interest in music. • a scholarly study of words and their origins • scholarly journals/work/writings

2 [more ~; most ~] : having the characteristics of a scholar • a very serious and scholarly young man [=a young man who studies serious subjects and who is learning or has learned a lot about those subjects]

schol-ar-ship /'skɑ:ləʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships

1 [count] : an amount of money that is given by a school, an organization, etc., to a student to help pay for the student's education • She got/received/won a scholarship to Yale University. • The organization is offering five $5,000 scholarships. • He is going to college on a football scholarship. [=a scholarship offered for his ability to play football] • She is attending college on a full scholarship. [=a scholarship that pays fully for a student's tuition]

2 [noncount] : serious formal study or research of a subject • The essay is a work of serious scholarship. • standards of academic scholarship • The book is about his life and scholarship. • biblical/literary scholarship

Scholarship level noun, pl ~ levels [count] Brit : S LEVEL

scho-las-tic /skə'læstɪk/ adj, always used before a noun : of or relating to education • scholastic achievement/aptitude school /'sku:l/ noun, pl schools

a : a place where children go to learn [count] He is going to a different school this year. • The town is building a new school. [noncount] Where do you go to school? • He learned to play the flute at/in school. • Their daughter will start attending school next year. • He left/quit school [=he stopped going to school] when he was 16. — often used before another noun • the school building/newspaper • school lunches/functions/plays/friends • The town has an excellent school system. [=the schools in the town are excellent] b US : a college or university [count] He is transferring to a different school next semester. [noncount] He goes to school in New York. • He is attending law/business/medical school. • She is away at school. c [count] : a division within a university or college for study and research in a particular area of knowledge — usually singular • She is a student at the law/business/medical school. — often + of • the school of art/engineering d [count] : a place where people go to learn a particular skill • acting/driving/language schools

2 [noncount] a : the activity or process of learning or teaching in a school • School is hard for her. • Their daughter will start school next year. • (US) Where do you teach school? • (US) My parents won't let me get a job while I'm in school. = (Brit) My parents won't let me get a job while I'm at school. [=while I am a student in a school] • Stay in school and get your diploma. • He never did well in school. b : the period of time during which students are in school • I missed school yesterday. • He was late for school. [=he was not at the school on time] • Let's meet after school. • School starts at 8:00 a.m. — often used before another noun • the school day/year

3 [count] : the students or students and teachers of a school • The whole school was at the assembly. • Five schools donated money to the homeless shelter.

4 [count] : a group of people who share the same opinions, beliefs, or methods • artists from the Impressionist/Romantic school — often + of • the German school of philosophers/philosophy • a new school of painters/painting • The two authors come from different schools of writing. • There are two main schools of thought [=ways of thinking] on that topic. — compare ³SCHOOL

²school verb schools; schooled; school-ing [+ obj] somewhat old-fashioned : to teach or train (someone or something) to do something • They schooled their children at home. — often + in • She schooled herself in patience. — often used as (be) schooled • He is schooled in five different languages. • The horse is well schooled. [=trained]

³school noun, pl schools [count] : a large group of fish or other ocean animals that are swimming together • Fish swim in schools. — often + of • a school of fish/dolphins — compare ¹SCHOOL school age noun [noncount] : the age when a child is allowed to go to a school • children of school age — school-age adj, always used before a noun • school-age children school-bag /'sku:l,bæg/ noun, pl -bags [count] : a bag for carrying schoolbooks and school supplies school board noun, pl ~ boards [count] US : a group of people who are in charge of local schools — called also (US) school committee school-book /'sku:l,bʊk/ noun, pl -books [count] : a book that is used in schools : TEXTBOOK school-boy /'sku:l,bɔɪ/ noun, pl -boys [count] : a boy who goes to a school — schoolboy adj, always used before a noun • schoolboy [=childish, childlike] pranks/humor school bus noun, pl ~ buses [count] : a bus for carrying children to and from a school school-child /'sku:l,tʃaɪld/ noun, pl -children [count] : a child who goes to a school school district noun, pl ~ -tricts [count] US : an area or region containing the schools that a school board is in charge of school-girl /'sku:l,gɜːl/ noun, pl -girls [count] : a girl who goes to a school school-house /'sku:l,haʊs/ noun, pl -houses [count] : a building that is used as a school schooling noun [noncount] : teaching that is done in a school : EDUCATION • public schooling • He has had little schooling.

school-kid /'sku:l,kɪd/ noun, pl -kids [count] informal : a child or teenager who goes to a school school-leav-er /'sku:l,li:və/ noun, pl -ers [count] Brit : someone who has left school usually after completing a course of study instead of continuing on to a college or university • School-leavers are having trouble finding jobs.

school-marm /'sku:l,mɑːm/ also school-ma'am /'sku:l,mæm/ noun, pl -marms or -ma'ams [count] US, old-fashioned : a woman who teaches in a school in a small town or in the country • a New England schoolmarm school-mas-ter /'sku:l,mæstə, Brit 'sku:l,mɑːstə/ noun, pl -ters [count] old-fashioned : a man who teaches in a school school-mate /'sku:l,mert/ noun, pl -mates [count] : someone who goes to or went to the same school as you • my old schoolmates school-mis-tress /'sku:l,mɪstrəs/ noun, pl -tress [count] old-fashioned : a woman who teaches in a school school-room /'sku:l,ru:m/ noun, pl -rooms [count] : a room where classes meet in a school : CLASSROOM school-teach-er /'sku:l,tɪ:tʃə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who teaches in a school school-work /'sku:l,wɜːk/ noun [noncount] : work that is done in classes in a school or given to students to be done at home — compare HOMEWORK school-yard /'sku:l,jɑːd/ noun, pl -yards [count] : the area next to or surrounding a school where children play schoo-ner /'sku:nə/ noun, pl -ners [count]

1 : a ship that has usually two masts with the larger mast located toward the center and the shorter mast toward the front

2 : a large, tall glass • (US) a schooner of beer/ale • (Brit) a schooner of sherry schtick variant spelling of SHTICK schwa /'ʃwɑ:/ noun, pl schwas [count] technical

1 : a vowel that has the sound of the first and last vowels of the English word America

2 : the symbol ə that is used for the schwa sound

sci-at-ic /saɪ'ætɪk/ adj, medical : relating to or near the hip • sciatic pains sci-at-i-ca /saɪ'ætɪkə/ noun [noncount] medical : pain in the lower back, hip, and especially the back of the thigh that is caused by pressure on the sciatic nerve sciatic nerve noun, pl ~ nerves [count] medical : a nerve that goes from the lower back down the back of the leg

sci-ence /'sajəns/ noun, pl -enc-es

¹ [noncount] : knowledge about or study of the natural world based on facts learned through experiments and observation • modern science • the laws of science • The program encourages students to pursue a career in science. • a list of terms commonly used in science • a new branch/field of science • advances in science and technology — often used before another noun • science teachers/students/classes • Each student is required to complete two science projects.

² [count] : a particular area of scientific study (such as biology, physics, or chemistry) : a particular branch of science • Students are required to take two sciences. • students majoring in a science — see also COMPUTER SCIENCE, LIFE SCIENCE, NATURAL SCIENCE, PHYSICAL SCIENCE, ROCKET SCIENCE

³ [count] : a subject that is formally studied in a college, university, etc. • the science of linguistics — see also POLITICAL SCIENCE, SOCIAL SCIENCE

⁴ [singular] : an activity that is done by using methods that are known to produce particular results • Proper pitching is a science. • Cooking is both a science and an art. • He travels so much that he has packing his clothes down to a science. [=he can pack his clothes very quickly and efficiently because he does it so often] science fair noun, pl ~ fairs [count] : an event at which science projects created by students are shown and often judged for prizes • She won first place at the science fair.

science fiction noun [noncount] : stories about how people and societies are affected by imaginary scientific developments in the future • Time travel exists only in the realm of science fiction. • a science-fiction movie/writer

science park noun, pl ~ parks [count] chiefly Brit : RESEARCH PARK

sci-en-tif-ic /,sajən'tɪfɪk/ adj

¹ : of or relating to science • scientific techniques/knowledge/research • the scientific community

² [more ~; most ~] : done in an organized way that agrees with the methods and principles of science • scientific thinking/reasoning • a scientific approach — opposite UNSCIENTIFIC

— sci-en-tif-i-cal-ly /,sajən'tɪfɪkli/ adv

scientific method noun

the scientific method technical : the process that is used by scientists for testing ideas and theories by using experiments and careful observation

sci-en-tist /'sajəntɪst/ noun, pl -tists [count] : a person who is trained in a science and whose job involves doing scientific research or solving scientific problems • a soil/marine/computer scientist sci-fi /'saɪ'faɪ/ noun [noncount] informal : SCIENCE FICTION • She enjoys watching sci-fi.

— sci-fi adj • a sci-fi novel/story/movie

scim-i-tar /'sɪmɪtər/ noun, pl -tars [count] : a sword with a curved blade that was used in the past especially in the Middle East and western Asia scin-til-la /sɪn'tɪlə/ noun [singular] : a very small amount of something — usually used in negative statements • There's not even a scintilla of evidence to support his story.

scin-til-lating /'sɪntə'leɪtɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very clever, amusing, and interesting • a scintillating lecture/discussion

sci-on /'sajən/ noun, pl -ons [count]

¹ formal : a person who was born into a rich, famous, or important family • He's a scion of a powerful family.

² botany : a piece of a plant that is attached to part of another plant

scis-sors /'sɪzəz/ noun [plural]

: a tool used for cutting paper, cloth, etc., that has two blades joined together in the middle so that the sharp edges slide against each other • He handed her the scissors. = He handed her a pair of scissors.

scl-e-ro-sis /sklə'rouəs/ noun [noncount] medical : a disease in which soft parts inside the body (such as arteries or muscles) become hard — see also MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS

scissors

— scl-e-rot-ic /sklə'ra:tɪk/ adj • sclerotic patients/tissue

¹ scoff /'ska:f/ verb scoffs; scoffed; scoff-ing : to laugh at and talk about someone or something in a way that shows disapproval and a lack of respect [no obj] He scoffed when she told him that she planned to become an actress. • He scoffed at the idea/notion/suggestion of her becoming an actress. [+ obj] "You! An actress?!" he scoffed. "You have no more talent than I do!" — compare ²SCOFF

² scoff verb scoffs; scoffed; scoffing [+ obj] chiefly Brit, informal : to eat (something) quickly • She scoffed [= (US) scarfed] her breakfast. — compare ¹SCOFF

¹ scold /'skould/ verb scolds; scold-ed; scold-ing [+ obj] : to speak in an angry or critical way to (someone who has done something wrong) • He scolded [=reprimanded] the children for making a mess. • The article scolds [= (more formally) berates, upbraids] the United Nations for not doing enough about the situation. • "You should never have done that," she scolded.

— scolding noun, pl -ings [count] — usually singular • The children got a scolding for making a mess. [non-count] Scolding was not necessary.

² scold noun, pl scolds [count] : a person who often criticizes other people in an angry way : someone who scolds other people too often • He can be a bit of a scold sometimes.

sconce /'ska:ns/ noun, pl sconces [count] : an object that is attached to a wall and that holds a candle or an electric light — see picture at LIGHTING

scone /'skoun, 'ska:n/ noun, pl scones [count] : a small, often sweet bread that sometimes has pieces of dried fruit in it — see picture at BAKING

¹ scoop /'sku:p/ noun, pl scoops

¹ [count] a : a kitchen tool like a spoon that has a usually thick handle and a deep bowl for taking something from a container • an ice-cream scoop • a flour scoop b : something that is shaped like a bowl or bucket and used to pick up and move things • a backhoe with a large scoop • the scoop of a shovel [=the part of a shovel that is like a bowl] c : the amount of something that is held in a scoop • a scoop [=scoopful] of ice cream

² [count] : a news story that is reported before other news reporters know about it • The story turned out to be the political scoop of the year.

³ the scoop US, informal : information about something that is currently important or happening or that is interesting to many people • Did you talk to him? What's the scoop? [=what did he say?; what is happening?] • She always knows the scoop. • Here's the scoop on how to clean leather. • I was with them when it happened, so I've got the inside scoop. [=information known only by a particular group of people]

⁴ [count] : the act of picking up something with a quick, continuous motion : the act of scooping something • With one scoop, he gathered up all the clothes on the floor.

— scoop-ful /'sku:p,ful/ noun, pl -fuls [count] • a scoopful [=scoop] of ice cream • scoopfuls of dirt

² scoop verb scoops; scooped; scoop-ing [+ obj]

¹ a : to pick up and move (something) with a scoop, a spoon, etc. • She has a job scooping ice cream. • He scooped flour into the bowl. • A backhoe was scooping dirt from the hole. • The children scooped handfuls of marbles from the pile. — often + out • Cut the melon in half and scoop the seeds out. • He scooped out the leaves from the pool with the net. b : to pick up (something or someone) in one quick, continuous motion • He scooped the dice off the table and rolled again. — often + up • She quickly scooped up her child. • The shortstop scooped the ball up and threw it to first base.

² : to make (a hole, hollow, etc.) by using a scoop, spoon, etc. • Scoop a hole in the dough for the filling. — often + out • The mother turtle scoops [=digs] out a hollow in the sand and lays her eggs in it. • a lake that was scooped out by glaciers long ago

³ : to report a news story before (any other newspaper, news program, etc.) • The city's biggest newspaper got scooped by a weekly paper that released the story a full day before.

⁴ Brit, informal : to win (something, such as a large prize or reward) • He managed to scoop first place.

scoop up [phrasal verb] scoop up (something) or scoop (something) up informal : to take or buy (something) in a quick and eager way • Customers scooped up [=scarfed up] the free samples. — see also ²SCOOP 1b (above)

— scoop-er noun, pl -ers [count] • an ice-cream scooper scoop neck noun, pl ~ necks [count] : a round, low neckline on a woman's shirt or dress — called also scoop neckline scoot /'sku:t/ verb scoots; scoot-ed; scoot-ing informal 1 [no obj] : to go or leave suddenly and quickly • I'm late, so I have to scoot. [=run] • She talked to us for a few minutes before scooting off to some appointment.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition, chiefly US : to move (yourself, your chair, etc.) a short distance in a particular direction [+ obj] She scooted her chair back a few inches. [no obj] He scooted closer to the table. — often + over • She scooted over so he could sit down. • Can you scoot over a little?

scoot-er /'sku:tə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a child's vehicle that is made of a narrow board with two small wheels attached underneath and an upright handle attached on top and that is moved by pushing with one foot while holding onto the handle

2 : MOTOR SCOOTER

1 scope /'skəʊp/ noun

1 : the area that is included in or dealt with by something [non-count] The essay is sweeping/comprehensive in scope. [=the essay includes information, ideas, etc., about many topics] • The law is of limited scope. [=the law applies only to a few situations, people, etc.] • I was impressed by the size and scope of the book. • That problem is somewhat beyond the scope of this discussion. • We want to widen the scope of the study. [singular] This study has a wider/broader scope than previous studies on the subject have had.

2 [noncount] : space or opportunity for action, thought, etc. • A bigger budget will allow more scope [=room] for innovation. • The work has been good, but there's still some scope for improvement.

— compare ²SCOPE

2 scope noun, pl scopes [count] chiefly US : an instrument (such as a telescope or microscope) that is used to look at things • We looked through the scope at the moon. • the scope of a rifle — compare ¹SCOPE

3 scope verb scopes; scoped; scop-ing

scope out [phrasal verb] scope (someone or something) out or scope out (someone or something) US, informal : to look at (someone or something) especially in order to get information • They scoped out [=checked out] the area before setting up the tent. • Players were scoping out the competition. • He wants to scope out [=consider, examine] all of the possibilities before deciding what to do.

1 scorch /'skoʊtʃ/ verb scorch-es; scorched; scorch-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to burn the surface of (something) • Roast the peanuts while being careful not to scorch them. • The hot pan scorched the table. b [no obj] : to be burned on the surface • The fabric/material scorches at high temperatures.

2 [+ obj] : to damage (something) by making it extremely dry • The hot sun scorched the grass. • The land was scorched by drought.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] Brit, informal : to travel very fast • The car went scorching down the street.

— scorched adj • Dinner is a bit scorched. [=burned] • scorched grass

2 scorch noun, pl scorches [count] : a damaged area or mark that is caused by burning • There was a scorch (mark) on the tabletop.

scorched-earth /'skoʊtʃt'əθ/ adj — used to describe a military policy in which all the houses, crops, factories, etc., in an area are destroyed so that an enemy cannot use them • The retreating army adopted a scorched-earth policy.

scorch-er /'skoʊtʃə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal : a very hot day • Tomorrow is going to be a real scorcher.

scorching adj : very hot • several days of scorching heat • a scorching summer afternoon

— scorching adv • The day was scorching hot. [=extremely hot]

1 score /'skoʊ/ noun, pl scores

1 [count] a : the number of points, goals, runs, etc., that each player or team has in a game or contest • The score was tied at 1–1 [=each team had scored one run] after the second inning. • The score (of the game) at halftime was 21–14. • What's the score? • The final score was 4–3. [=the score was

4–3 at the end of the game] b chiefly US : the number of points that someone gets for correct answers on a test, exam, etc. • students with low/high test scores • Only one person had/got a perfect score on the test. [=only one person answered all the questions correctly]

2 [count] a : a document showing all the notes of a piece of music • a musical/orchestral score b : the music that is written for a movie or play • The film's score is by a famous composer.

3 [count] : a mark or cut that is made in a surface with a sharp object

4 pl score [count] formal + literary a : the number 20 • She has written more than a score of books. [=more than 20 books] b : a group of 20 people or things • three score years [=60 years] • A score of people were in attendance. — see also FOURSCORE, THREESCORE

5 scores [plural] formal : a large number or amount of people or things — usually + of • We have received scores of suggestions.

by the score : in large numbers or amounts • Factories are closing by the score. [=a lot of factories are closing] • He's had girlfriends by the score. [=he has had lots of girlfriends]

even the score 1 : to get enough points, goals, runs, etc., to have the same score as your opponent : to tie the score in a game • They evened the score at 5–5. • We evened the score in the second quarter. 2 : to harm or punish someone who has harmed you • She felt they had mistreated her, and she was determined to even the score.

keep score : to officially record the number of points, goals, runs, etc., that each player or team gets in a game or contest • We'll just play for fun. We won't even keep score. • Who's keeping score? — sometimes used figuratively • If you're keeping score at home, this is the third time that he has run for mayor and lost.

know the score informal : to have a good understanding of a situation • Now that she knows the score, she won't make the same mistake again.

on that/this score : with regard to the thing that is being discussed • The work will be done on time. You have nothing to worry about on that score.

settle a/the score : to harm or punish someone who has harmed you • The movie is about a woman who seeks out an old enemy to settle a score. • He says he has a few (old) scores to settle. • She wants to settle the score with her ex-husband.

2 score verb scores; scored; scor-ing

1 a : to get points, goals, runs, etc., in a game or contest [no obj] She scored twice in the game. [+ obj] He scored a run/goal/touchdown. b [+ obj] : to be worth (a particular number of points) in a game or contest • Each correct answer scores two points. • In American football, a touchdown scores six points.

2 : to officially record the number of points, goals, runs, etc., that each player or team gets in a game or contest [no obj] Who's going to score? [=keep score] • [+ obj] Who's going to score the game?

3 : to give (someone or something) a grade or a particular number of points based on the number of correct answers on a test, the quality of a performance, etc. [+ obj] Judges will score the performances based on their artistic and technical features. [no obj] Which judges are scoring tonight?

4 [+ obj] : to write the music for (a movie, play, etc.) • The movie was scored by a famous composer.

5 [+ obj] : to mark or cut the surface of (something) with a sharp object • He used a sharp blade to score the glass.

6 [+ obj] : to achieve or earn (something) • He scored a big success/hit in his first movie.

7 [no obj] : to have success • He has scored again with his latest thriller.

8 a slang : to buy or get (illegal drugs) [+ obj] He couldn't score any drugs. [no obj] Druggies come downtown looking to score. b [+ obj] US, informal : to get (something) • I managed to score a couple of tickets to the game.

9 [no obj] slang : to have sex with someone and especially with someone you do not know well • Did you score (with her) last night?

score off [phrasal verb] score off (someone) Brit, informal : to say or do something in order to get an advantage over (someone) • They're always trying to score off each other.

score-board /'skoʊ,bɔ:d/ noun, pl -boards [count] : a large board on which the score of a game or contest is shown score-card /'skoʊ,kɑ:d/ noun, pl -cards [count]

1 : a card on which the score of a game or contest is record-scooter

ed • a golfer's scorecard • I always like to keep a scorecard when I watch a baseball game.

2 US : a report that gives information about the status, condition, or success of someone or something • The candidate rates highly on the magazine's legislative scorecard.

score-keep-er /'skoʊki:pə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly US : a person who records the official score in a game or contest

score-less /'skoʊləs/ adj

1 — used to describe a game in which no points, goals, runs, etc., have been scored • The game was scoreless after three innings. • a scoreless game

2 — used to describe a player or team that has not scored • He has been held scoreless in the past three games.

score-line /'skoʊlaɪn/ noun, pl -lines [count] Brit : the score and especially the final score of a game or contest

scor-er /'skorə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who scores points, goals, runs, etc., in a game or contest • He's the team's leading/high/top scorer.

2 : SCOREKEEPER

score-sheet /'skoʊʃi:t/ noun, pl -sheets [count] : a piece of paper on which the score of a game or contest is recorded • an official scoresheet

scorn /'skoʊn/ noun [noncount]

1 : a feeling that someone or something is not worthy of any respect or approval • I have nothing but scorn [=contempt] for people who are cruel to animals. • They treated his suggestion with scorn. • an expression full of scorn

2 : harsh criticism that shows a lack of respect or approval for someone or something • Her political rivals have poured/heaped scorn on her ideas for improving the tax system.

scorn verb scorns; scorned; scorn-ing [+ obj]

1 : to show that you think (someone or something) is not worthy of respect or approval : to feel or express scorn for (someone or something) • He scorns anyone who earns less money than he does. • Her actions were scorned by many people. • They were scorned as fanatics.

2 formal : to refuse or reject (someone or something that you do not think is worthy of respect or approval) • She scorned his invitation. — sometimes followed by to + verb • He scorned to reply to their accusations.

scorn-ful /'skoʊnfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling or showing scorn • a scornful look/expression/laugh • He's scornful of anyone who disagrees with his political beliefs. — scorn-ful-ly adv • She stared at him scornfully.

Scor-pio /'skoʊpi,ou/ noun, pl -pios

1 [noncount] : the eighth sign of the zodiac that comes between Libra and Sagittarius and that has a scorpion as its symbol — see picture at ZODIAC

2 [count] : a person born under the sign of Scorpio : a person born between October 24 and November 21 • I'm a Virgo, and my sister is a Scorpio.

scor-pi-on /'skoʊpijən/ noun, pl -ons [count] : a small animal related to spiders that has two front claws and a curved tail with a poisonous stinger at the end — see color picture on page C10

Scot /'ska:t/ noun, pl Scots [count] : a person born, raised, or living in Scotland scotch /'ska:tʃ/ verb scotch-es; scotched; scotch-ing [+ obj] : to stop (something) from continuing by doing or saying something • The administration did everything possible to scotch [=squench] the rumors.

Scotch or scotch /'ska:tʃ/ noun, pl Scotch-es or scotch-es : a kind of whiskey that is made in Scotland [noncount] a bottle of Scotch [count] I'll have another Scotch [=a glass of Scotch], please.

Scotch adj, old-fashioned : of or relating to Scotland or its people : SCOTTISH

Scotch trademark — used for a type of adhesive tape

scot-free /'ska:t'fri:/ adj, informal : without the punishment that is deserved • It's not fair. I was punished and they got off scot-free. [=they were not punished at all]

Scot-land Yard /'ska:tlənd'jaəd/ noun [noncount] : the detective department of the London police • The case is being investigated by Scotland Yard.

Scots /'ska:ts/ adj : of or relating to Scotland or its people : SCOTTISH • a Scots accent • Scots law

Scots noun [noncount] : the English language of Scotland

Scots-man /'ska:tsmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : a man born, raised, or living in Scotland

Scots-wom-an /'ska:ts,wumən/ noun, pl -wom-en

/-,wimən/ [count] : a woman born, raised, or living in Scotland

Scot-tish /'ska:tɪʃ/ adj : of or relating to Scotland or its people • He spoke with a Scottish accent. • the Scottish countryside • Robert Burns was a great Scottish poet.

scoun-drel /'skaundrəl/ noun, pl -drels [count] old-fashioned : a person (especially a man) who is cruel or dishonest • He's a rotten scoundrel.

scour /'skawə/ verb scours; scoured; scour-ing [+ obj] : to search (something) carefully and thoroughly • We scoured the woods for the missing child. • I scoured the book for information. — compare SCOUR

scour verb scours; scoured; scouring [+ obj]

1 : to clean (something) by rubbing it hard with a rough object • He scoured the pan with steel wool. • She scoured spots from the stove.

2 : to cause parts of (something) to be carried away by the movement of water, ice, etc. • Spring rains scoured the hillside. • The river's banks had been scoured [=eroded] by floodwaters.

— compare SCOUR

— scouring adj, always used before a noun • a scouring pad/cleanser [=a pad/cleanser that is used to scour something] scour-er /'skawəɾə/ noun, pl -ers [count] Brit : a small, rough object that is used to clean dishes, pans, etc.

scourge /'skɔ:dʒ/ noun, pl scourges [count]

1 formal + literary : someone or something that causes a great amount of trouble or suffering • a city ravaged by the scourge of unemployment/poverty • The disease continues to be a scourge in the developing world. • Spelling is the scourge of learners of English. [=spelling is very difficult for people who are learning English]

2 : a whip that was used to punish people in the past scourge verb scourges; scourged; scourg-ing [+ obj] formal + literary

1 : to cause a lot of trouble or suffering for (someone or something) • a neighborhood scourged by crime

2 : to hit (someone) with a whip as punishment • The prisoner was scourged with a whip.

scout /'skaʊt/ noun, pl scouts [count]

1 or Scout a : BOY SCOUT b : GIRL SCOUT

2 : a soldier, airplane, etc., that is sent to get information about the size, location, equipment, etc., of an enemy

3 : a person whose job is to search for talented performers, athletes, etc. • a baseball scout — see also TALENT SCOUT good scout US, informal + somewhat old-fashioned : a person who is friendly, kind, helpful, etc. • He's a good scout. [=good egg]

scout verb scouts; scout-ed; scout-ing

1 a always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to search an area or place for something or someone • Two small ships were sent to scout for information about the enemy. • My brother set up the tent while I scouted (around) for firewood. • We scouted around the store to see if anyone was available to help us. b [+ obj] : to explore (an area) in order to find information about it • Several soldiers were sent ahead to scout the area. • She scouted out the town to see if she'd like to live there.

2 : to watch or look at (someone or something) in order to decide if that person or thing is suited for a particular job or purpose [+ obj] He's a talented pitcher who is being scouted by several major-league teams. • She scouts young musicians for one of the country's top orchestras. • The site is being scouted as a possible location for the factory. [no obj] She scouts for one of the country's top orchestras.

scout-ing or Scouting /'skaʊtɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the activities of Boy Scout and Girl Scout groups scout-mas-ter /'skaʊt,mæstə, Brit 'skaʊt,mɑ:stə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : the leader of a group of Boy Scouts scowl /'skawəl/ verb scowls; scowled; scowl-ing [no obj] : to look at someone or something in a way that shows anger or disapproval • The teacher scowled [=glowered] at me when I walked in late. • She scowled [=frowned] in response to his question.

scowl noun, pl scowls [count] : an expression on someone's face that shows anger or disapproval • The teacher gave me a scowl when I walked in late. • She responded to his question with a scowl.

scrab-ble /'skræbəl/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition scrab-bles; scrab-bled; scrab-bling [no obj] : to move the hands or feet in an awkward and hurried way in order to find or do something • She scrabbled around in her handbag for a pen. • He scrabbled at the slippery rock.

— see also HARDSCRABBLE

scraggly /'skrægəli/ adj scraggly-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] chiefly US, informal : growing in a way that is not neat and even : having a ragged appearance • a scraggly beard • scraggly hair/bushes scraggy /'skrægi/ adj scraggy-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal

1 Brit : very thin in a way that does not look healthy : SCRAWNY • a scraggy mongrel • her scraggy neck

2 : having a ragged appearance : SCRAGGLY • a scraggy beard

scram /'skræm/ verb, not used in progressive tenses scrams; scrammed; scramming [no obj] informal + old-fashioned : to leave immediately • The vandals scrammed before the police could arrive. — often used as a command to tell a person or animal to leave • Scram! You're not wanted here!

¹scramble /'skræmbəl/ verb scrambles; scrambled; scrambling

1 [no obj] a always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move or climb over something quickly especially while also using your hands • We scrambled over the boulders and kept climbing up the mountain. • He scrambled up the ramp. b : to move or act quickly to do, find, or get something often before someone else does • reporters scrambling to finish stories by deadline • Both players scrambled for the ball. • News of the factory closing found workers scrambling to find jobs. • It started to rain, and we all scrambled for cover.

2 [+ obj] : to prepare (eggs) by mixing the white and yellow parts together and then stirring the mixture in a hot pan • I'll scramble some eggs for breakfast.

3 [+ obj] : to put (parts of something) in the wrong order — often used as (be) scrambled • The letters of the words are scrambled. [=mixed up]

4 [+ obj] : to change (a radio or electronic signal) so that whoever receives it will not be able to understand it • We will have to scramble our radio communications. • The cable company scrambles the channels that you do not pay for.

5 [no obj] American football, of a quarterback : to run with the ball while being chased by defensive players • The quarterback scrambled for a 5-yard gain.

— scrambled adj • scrambled eggs and toast • a scrambled signal

²scramble noun, pl scrambles : an act of scrambling: such as a [singular] : the act of moving or climbing over something quickly especially while also using your hands • a quick scramble over boulders b [singular] : the act of moving or acting quickly to do, find, or get something • the scramble for power in the country • a scramble for the ball • There was a mad scramble to fill vacant positions at the school. c [count] American football : a play in which the quarterback runs with the ball while being chased by defensive players — usually singular • He gained 10 yards on a scramble.

scrambler /'skræmbələ/ noun, pl -blers [count] : a person or thing that scrambles: such as a : a device that is used to change a radio or electronic signal so that whoever receives it will not be able to understand it • Spies used a scrambler to encode their messages. b American football : a quarterback who scrambles well • Our quarterback is a great scrambler.

¹scrap /'skræp/ noun, pl scraps

1 [singular] : a very small amount — usually used in negative statements • After the scandal, he had no scrap of dignity left. [=he had no dignity left at all] • There is not a scrap [=shred] of evidence that she committed the crime.

2 scraps [plural] : pieces of food that are not eaten and could be thrown away • The dogs begged for scraps from the table. • scraps of dough

3 [count] : a small piece of something that is left after you have used the main part • a scrap (piece) of paper • She made a quilt from fabric scraps. • All that is left of the blanket is a scrap or two. • scrap fabric — see also SCRAP PAPER

4 [noncount] : things from an unwanted or broken object (such as a car) that are useful only in making or fixing something else • scrap metal • He sold the car for scrap. [=he sold it to someone who wanted the parts of the car]

— compare ³SCRAP

²scrap verb scraps; scrapped; scrap-ping [+ obj] : to get rid of (something) because it is damaged, no longer useful, etc. • He scrapped his car after the accident. • The company had to scrap plans for the new building. • Should we scrap the idea?

³scrap noun, pl scraps [count] informal : a physical fight • I got into quite a few scraps when I was a kid. — compare ¹SCRAP scrapbook /'skræp,buk/ noun, pl -books [count] : a book with blank pages to which you attach photographs, letters, newspaper stories, etc., that help you remember a person or time • My mother keeps a scrapbook of all the articles I've ever written.

¹scrape /'skreip/ verb scrapes; scraped; scrap-ing

1 [+ obj] : to damage (the surface of something) or hurt (a part of your body) by rubbing something rough or sharp against it or by making it rub against something rough or sharp • Someone had scraped the car with a key. • I scraped one of the chairs while bringing it up the stairs. • I scraped my knee when I fell.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to rub or cause (something) to rub against a hard surface and make a harsh and usually unpleasant sound [no obj] fingernails scraping against a blackboard • the sound of chairs scraping on the floor as people stood to leave • The boat scraped against the edge of the dock. [+ obj] She scraped her fingernails across the blackboard. • The deer scraped its antlers against the tree.

3 a [+ obj] : to remove (something) from a surface by rubbing an object or tool against it • Scrape the seeds into a bowl. • Scrape the paint from the wood. — often + off • The tool was used to scrape hair off buffalo skins. • Scrape the scales off the fish. • He scraped off the dirt from his shoes. b : to clean (something) by rubbing an object or tool against it • Please scrape your plate into the trash.

4 [+ obj] : to barely succeed in collecting or gathering (something needed or wanted) by making an effort — + together or up • He managed to scrape up enough money for lunch. • We scraped enough players together to play basketball.

bow and scrape see ¹BOW

scrape by also scrape along [phrasal verb]

1 : to live with barely enough money : to be able to buy only the things you need most • Money was tight, but we somehow managed to scrape by. [=survive] • She's scraping along on just a few hundred dollars a month. 2 or scrape through : to succeed at doing something but just barely • He didn't study for the exam and just barely scraped by. [=he passed the exam but came very close to failing]

²scrape noun, pl scrapes [count]

1 : a mark or injury that is caused by something rubbing against something else • There's a scrape on the fender that wasn't there yesterday. • I got a scrape on my knee when I fell. • We survived the accident with a few minor bumps and scraps.

2 informal : a bad, dangerous, or unpleasant situation • legal/financial scraps • She got into a few scraps with the police/law when she was younger.

3 : a harsh and usually unpleasant sound that is made when something rubs against a hard surface • the scrape of fingernails on a blackboard scrap-er /'skreipə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a tool that is used to scrape something off a surface • a paint scraper

scrap heap noun, pl ~ heaps [count] : a place where broken or useless things are taken and left • Her car was sent off to the scrap heap [=dump] after the accident. — often used figuratively • He may be past his prime, but he's not ready for the scrap heap yet. • a minor event consigned to the scrap heap of history

scrapie /'skreipi/ noun [noncount] : a usually fatal brain disease that affects sheep scrap-ing /'skreipɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count] : an object or substance that has been removed from a surface by rubbing an object or tool against it : something that is scraped off of a surface — usually plural • The carpenter brushed the scrapings aside as she worked. • DNA tests on fingernail scrappings from the victim's hands [=on material scraped from the underside of the victim's fingernails] were inconclusive.

scrap paper noun [noncount] : paper that is partly used or is of poor quality but that you can use for unimportant things • Please take out a piece of scrap paper and practice the math problems on the board. — called also (Brit) rough paper, (US) scratch paper scrap-per /'skræpə/ noun, pl -pers [count] chiefly US, informal : a person who fights or struggles against something or to do something • He's quite a scraper.

scrap-ple /'skræpəl/ noun [noncount] US : a dish of meat mixed with spices, broth, and boiled cornmeal that is placed in a mold and served sliced and fried scrap-py /'skræpi/ adj scrap-pi-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal

1 US : ready or eager to fight • He's a scrappy guy you don't want to mess with.

2 US : willing to work hard in order to succeed : determined and tough • a scrappy football player • a scrappy journalist

3 chiefly Brit : not organized or done well • a scrappy essay that should be rewritten scrap-yard /'skræp,jæd/ noun, pl -yards [count] chiefly Brit : JUNKYARD

¹scratch /'skrætʃ/ verb scratch-es; scratched; scratch-ing

1 a : to rub your skin with something sharp (such as your fingernails) especially in order to stop an itch [+ obj] Will you scratch my back for me? • Scratching the itch only makes it worse. • The dog scratched its ear. — sometimes used figuratively • Maybe it's time to scratch the/that itch to travel I've had since I was a kid. [=maybe it's time to satisfy the urge I've had to travel] [no obj] You shouldn't scratch. It'll just make your itch worse. — see also SCRATCH SOMEONE'S BACK (below) b : to make a shallow and narrow cut in (your skin) with something sharp (such as fingernails, claws, etc.) [+ obj] The cat scratched me. • Thorns scratched our legs as we climbed through the briars. [no obj] Careful, the cat will scratch. c [no obj] : to rub a surface or object with something sharp or rough in a way that produces a harsh sound • The dog was scratching at the door.

2 [+ obj] a : to make a line or mark in the surface of (something) by rubbing or cutting it with something rough or sharp • Be careful not to scratch the table. • Someone scratched the paint on my car. b : to make (something, such as a line or letters) in the surface of something by using a stick, a sharp tool, etc. • The little boy scratched lines in the dirt with a stick. • They scratched their initials in the old bridge. c : to write (something) in a quick and untidy way • She scratched a note to herself on a napkin.

3 [+ obj] informal a : to decide not to do or continue with (something) • We had to scratch our picnic plans because of the weather. • We should go to the movies tonight. No, scratch [=forget] that. Let's rent a DVD instead. b : to remove (someone) from the list of players who will be playing in a game • She was scratched from the starting lineup.

scratch a living or US scratch out a living : to earn barely enough money to live • He scratched out a living as a farmer.

scratch off [phrasal verb] scratch (something) off or scratch off (something) 1 : to remove (something) from an object or surface by rubbing with a sharp edge or tool • Scratch off the gray box on the ticket to see if you've won! • She scratched the gum off her shoe with a stick. 2 : to draw a line through (something that is written down) • He scratched his name off the list.

scratch out [phrasal verb] scratch (something) out or scratch out (something) : to draw a line through (something that is written down) • I scratched out the mistake.

scratch someone's back informal : to do something that helps someone else but that is often wrong or difficult to do • You scratch my back, and I'll scratch yours. [=if you do something to help me, I'll do something to help you] scratch the surface : to deal with or learn about only a small part of something • If you think she only did it for the money, you haven't even scratched the surface. [=there are many other factors, reasons, etc., involved] • There's so much to learn about this subject. I feel like I've only scratched the surface.

scratch your head informal : to be confused about something : to think about something you do not understand • His odd behavior left us all scratching our heads. [=we could not understand his odd behavior]

– scratch-er noun, pl -ers [count] • a long-handled back scratcher [=a device you can use to scratch your back]

²scratch noun, pl scratches

1 [count] a : a line or mark in the surface of something that is caused by something rough or sharp rubbing against it • There's a scratch in the paint on the new car! • The table is an antique but it doesn't have any dents or scratches. b : a shallow and narrow cut in the skin that is caused by something sharp • I got a scratch on my leg when I climbed the fence. • He escaped the fire without a scratch. [=without getting hurt; without any injuries]

2 [count] : the sound made when something sharp rubs against a surface or object • The only sound in the room during the test was the scratch of pencils on paper.

3 [noncount] US slang : MONEY • We don't have the scratch to buy a new car.

from scratch 1 : with ingredients you have prepared yourself rather than with a prepared mixture of ingredients bought from a store • bread/cookies made from scratch • I used a frozen pie crust rather than making one from scratch. 2 : from a point at which nothing has been done yet • We will have to start the project from scratch. • He built the company from scratch.

up to scratch chiefly Brit, informal : good enough : as good as expected or wanted — usually used in negative statements • Her performance wasn't up to scratch. [= (US) up to snuff]

³scratch adj, always used before a noun

1 of a golfer : having no handicap • a scratch golfer [=an excellent golfer whose score is usually close to par]

2 chiefly Brit : put together quickly and without enough planning or thought • a scratch team scratching post noun, pl ~ posts [count] : an upright piece of wood that is covered with carpet and kept in a house for a pet cat to scratch scratch pad noun, pl ~ pads [count] US : a small book of blank paper that is used for writing notes, brief messages, etc.

scratch paper noun [noncount] US : SCRAP PAPER scratch ticket noun, pl ~ tickets [count] chiefly US : a small card that has covered areas that you remove by rubbing with the edge of a coin, fingernail, etc., to see if you have won a prize (such as money) — called also (chiefly Brit) scratch card

scratchy /'skrætʃi/ adj scratch-i-er; -est

1 : having a rough sound : having a sound like the sound made when something sharp or rough rubs against a surface or object • listening to scratchy old records • He has a scratchy [=gravelly] voice.

2 informal : rough and irritating to the skin : likely to make you itch • The costume is made from scratchy material.

3 : swollen and sore • He is sick with a scratchy throat.

4 : written in a careless way that is difficult to read • I could barely read her scratchy notes.

¹scrawl /'skra:l/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition scrawls; scrawled; scrawl-ing [+ obj] : to write or draw (something) very quickly or carelessly • She scrawled her signature on the receipt.

²scrawl noun, pl scrawls [count] : something that has been written or drawn very quickly or carelessly • Her signature was just a scrawl.

scraw-ny /'skra:ni/ adj scraw-ni-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : very thin in a way that is not attractive or healthy • a scrawny [=skinny] kid • The only plants in their yard were a couple of scrawny bushes.

¹scream /'skri:m/ verb screams; screamed; scream-ing

1 a [no obj] : to suddenly cry out in a loud and high voice because of pain, surprise, etc. • She screamed when the door suddenly slammed shut. • This is so irritating I could scream. • The crowd screamed with excitement. • He was dragged, kicking and screaming, from the room. b : to say (something) in a loud and high voice because you are angry, afraid, etc. [no obj] He screamed at/for her to stop. [+ obj] "Help!" he screamed. — often + out • The general screamed out orders. c [no obj] : to make a very loud, high sound • Sirens were screaming in the distance.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move very quickly through a place while making a lot of noise • Police cars screamed down the street.

3 [no obj] : to speak, write, or express something in a way that shows intense or uncontrolled emotion • Newspaper headlines screamed about the spike in crime.

4 [+ obj] : to bring (an idea, word, etc.) into your mind very clearly • The amount she paid in taxes was so low that it practically screamed "fraud." [=it very strongly suggested that she had committed fraud] • That big white dress screams "Marry me."

scream bloody murder (US) or Brit scream blue murder informal : to scream, yell, or complain in a very loud or angry way • His political opponents screamed bloody murder when he was appointed to office.

scream for [phrasal verb] scream for (something) informal 1 : to demand or need (something) • People are screaming for news about the virus. • These policies just scream (out) for reform. [=these policies very badly need to be reformed] 2 : to be very suitable or appropriate for (something) • Hot summer days like this just scream for ice cream and visits to the pool.

scream noun, pl screams

- 1 [count] : a loud and high cry or sound • She let out a piercing scream. — often + of • screams of terror • the screams of the fire trucks as they raced by 2 [singular] informal + old-fashioned : a person or thing that is very funny • She's an absolute scream.

scream·er /'skri:mə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal

- 1 : something that moves or works very quickly • The batter hit a screamer right at the shortstop. • She kicked a screamer into the net. • My last computer was pretty fast, but this one's a real screamer.
2 : a person who tends to scream : a person who screams more often or more easily than most people • Don't startle her—she's a screamer.

scream·ing /'skri:miŋ/ adj, always used before a noun

- 1 : very noticeable and difficult to ignore • The room's walls were painted in a screaming yellow. • screaming headlines • a screaming need for reform • (US) I have a screaming headache.
2 US : very fast or powerful • The batter hit a screaming line drive right at the shortstop.

scream·ing·ly /'skri:miŋli/ adv, informal : very or extremely • a screamingly funny film

scree /'skri:/ noun, pl screees [count, noncount] : an area of loose stones on the side of a mountain screech /'skri:tʃ/ noun, pl screech·es [count]

- 1 : a loud and very high cry that usually expresses extreme pain, anger, or fear • With a loud screech, she smashed the plate against the wall.
2 : a loud and very high sound • the screech of brakes screech verb screeches; screeched; screech·ing

- 1 : to cry out or shout in a loud and very high voice because of extreme pain, anger, fear, etc. [no obj] I screeched when I saw the mouse. • He kept screeching at the children to pay attention. [+ obj] "You can't do this to me!" she screeched.
2 [no obj] : to make a loud and very high sound • The car screeched to a halt/stop. [=made a loud and very high sound as it stopped] — often used figuratively • Her promising career screeched to a halt [=suddenly stopped/ended] when she was caught stealing.
— screeching adj • The car came to a screeching halt. • The project came to a screeching halt.

screech owl noun, pl ~ owls [count] : a kind of small American owl that has bunches of feathers that look like ears on the sides of its head screed /'skri:d/ noun, pl screeds [count] disapproving : a long and often angry piece of writing that usually accuses someone of something or complains about something • In her screed against the recording industry, she blamed her producer for ruining her career.

screen /'skri:n/ noun, pl screens

- 1 [count] a : the usually flat part of a television or computer monitor that shows the images or text : the part of a television or computer that you look at when you are using it • Don't sit too close to the screen or you'll get a headache. • A pop-up ad appeared on the screen. • a television/TV screen • a computer/display screen — see picture at COMPUTER b : a large, flat, white surface on which images or movies are shown • When I go to the movies, I like to sit close to the screen.
2 [noncount] : the art or profession of acting in movies • a star of stage and screen [=a famous actor who acts in plays and movies] • The two actors perform well together on screen. [=in movies or on TV] — often used before another noun • a screen actor • She has tremendous screen presence. [=a powerful quality that attracts attention in movies] — see also BIG SCREEN, SILVER SCREEN
3 [count] chiefly US : a sheet that is made of very small wire or plastic strings which are woven together and that is set in a frame in a window, door, etc., to let air in but keep insects out • a window screen • a screen door [=a door that has a screen built into it]
4 [count] : something that is used to hide, protect, cover, or block a person or thing: such as a : a group of trees or plants that separates one area from another • We planted a screen of shrubs so the neighbors couldn't see into our yard. b : a large, thin piece of wood, paper, or cloth that is set in a frame and used to separate one room or part of a room from another • You can change your clothes behind the screen. c : something that hides the real nature of an activity, feeling, etc. • His activities were just a screen for his real plans. d sports : a planned action in some sports (such as basketball or ice hockey) in which a player or a player's view is legally blocked by an opponent • The goalie couldn't see the puck because of the screen. — see also SMOKE SCREEN, SUN-SCREEN, WINDSCREEN

5 [count] American football : SCREEN PASS • The quarterback threw a screen to the halfback.
— see also SILK SCREEN

2 screen verb screens; screened; screen·ing [+ obj]

- 1 : to examine (people or things) in order to decide if they are suitable for a particular purpose • A committee will screen candidates for the job, but the final hiring decision will be made by Ms. Brown. • someone who screens luggage at the airport [=someone who examines the luggage of airplane passengers in order to make sure that nothing dangerous is brought onto an airplane] • We screen the kids' music so that we can approve what they listen to. • He usually screens his (telephone/phone) calls. [=he usually lets his answering machine answer his phone so that he can hear who is calling before he decides to talk to whoever it is]
2 a : to do a test on (someone) to find out if that person has or is likely to develop a disease — usually + for • All blood donors are screened for AIDS. • She was screened for breast cancer. b : to do a test on (a person's blood, urine, etc.) to find out if the person has been using an illegal substance — usually + for • All athletes will be screened for performance-enhancing drugs prior to the events.
3 : to show (a movie, television show, etc.) to the public on a screen • We'll be screening his latest film in two weeks.
4 : to hide, protect, cover, or block (someone or something) with a screen • I was screened by the cars so no one saw me. • The altar was screened. • We planted a row of shrubs to screen our backyard from the neighbors. • The goalie was screened on that play. [=players blocked the goalie from seeing the puck] • a screened porch [=a porch that has walls made of screens] — often used figuratively • We try to screen our children from the violence on TV.

screen out [phrasal verb] 1 screen (someone or something) out or screen out (someone or something) : to remove (someone or something that is not suitable for a particular purpose) from a group that is being examined • Not all students will be allowed to participate. Students receiving a D or lower will be screened out. 2 screen (something) out or screen out (something) : to prevent (something harmful) from passing through • The lotion is supposed to screen out [=block] the sun's harmful rays.

screen·er /'skri:nə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person or thing that screens something or someone; especially : a person whose job is to examine airplane passengers and their luggage in order to make sure that nothing dangerous is brought onto an airplane • Airline screeners found a suspicious package in his luggage which turned out to be a bomb.

screen·ing /'skri:niŋ/ noun, pl -ings : the act of screening people or things: such as a [count] : an event in which a movie is shown to an audience • We were late for the (movie) screening. b : the act of doing a test on a person or a person's blood, urine, etc., to look for evidence of a disease, illegal drug, etc. [noncount] methods of screening for cancer [count] Players must pass three random drug screenings. c : the act of examining people or things in order to decide if they are suitable for a particular purpose [noncount] Federal agents handle passenger and luggage screening at the airport. [count] The company will be conducting applicant screenings Wednesday.

screen pass noun, pl ~ passes [count] American football : a pass to a receiver who is behind the line of scrimmage and is protected by a line of blockers screen·play /'skri:nplei/ noun, pl -plays [count] : the written form of a movie that also includes instructions on how it is to be acted and filmed : the script for a movie • an award for best screenplay screen saver noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a computer program that shows a moving image or set of images on a computer screen when the computer is on but is not being used screen test noun, pl ~ tests [count] : a recording of a short performance by an actor that is made with a movie or video camera and that is used to decide if that person should be given a part in a movie screen-writ·er /'skri:n,raɪtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who writes screenplays

¹screw /'skru:/ noun, pl screws [count]

1 : a narrow, pointed metal cylinder that has a wide flat or rounded top and a ridge (called a thread) that goes around it in a spiral ✧ A screw is used to hold things together or to attach things. It is inserted into wood, metal, etc., by being turned. • Tighten the screws. — see picture at CARPENTRY; compare ¹NAIL 1

2 : an object that has a thread like a screw which is used to attach or connect it to something — usually used before another noun • The bottle has a screw cap/top. [=a cap/top that is attached and removed by turning it]

3 informal + offensive a : an act of sexual intercourse b : a sexual partner

4 slang : a prison guard

have a screw loose or have a loose screw informal : to be crazy • He acts like he has a screw loose. • You've got to have a loose screw to think that's a good idea. = You've got to have a few loose screws to think that's a good idea.

put the screws on/to (someone or something) informal : to use force or the threat of force to make (someone or something) do what you want • The government is finally putting the screws to an industry that's been evading environmental laws for years.

tighten the screws informal : to put more pressure on someone or something to do something • We need to tighten the screws on people who've been evading the tax.

²screw verb screws; screwed; screw-ing

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to attach (something) with a screw • I screwed the boards together. • The cupboards are screwed to the wall.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition a [+ obj] : to turn (something) so that it attaches or connects to something • Screw the cap on tight. • Screw the light bulb into the fixture. b [no obj] : to fit onto or into something by being turned • The lid screws onto the jar. • The light bulb screws right in.

3 informal + offensive a [no obj] : to have sex b [+ obj] : to have sex with (someone)

4 [+ obj] informal a : to take something from (someone) by lying or breaking a rule • I'd given them all of my savings before I realized I was being screwed. [=cheated] — often + out of • The company screwed them out of thousands of dollars of investment money. b : to prevent (someone) from having or getting something that is deserved or expected • He will screw you if you give him the chance. — often + out of or (US) over • She was screwed out of the job. [=she should have gotten the job but she didn't get it] • The company changed its return policy and (totally) screwed me over.

5 [+ obj] informal + impolite — used to express anger, disgust, etc. • She doesn't like it? Well, screw her. • Screw it [=forget it], I'm not waiting around forever.

6 [+ obj] : to press or squeeze (something) so that it is no longer flat or smooth — often + up • He screwed [=crumpled] up the letter into a ball and threw it into the trash.

have/get your head screwed on right/straight see ¹HEAD

screw around [phrasal verb] chiefly US, informal 1 : to do things that are not useful or serious : to waste time • Quit screwing around [=messing around, fooling around] and get back to work. 2 : to have sex with someone who is not your husband, wife, or regular partner • She found out he's been screwing around. [=fooling around] — often + with • She was screwing around with her boss. 3 : to use or do something in a way that is not very serious • I spent the afternoon screwing around [=messing around] on the piano. — often + with • screwing around with paints 4 screw around with (something) : to handle or play with (something) in a careless or foolish way • It's really dangerous to screw around with your cell phone while you're driving.

screw up [phrasal verb] informal 1 a : to make a mistake : to do something incorrectly • Sorry about that, I screwed up. • You really screwed up this time. b screw (something) up or screw up (something) : to make a mistake in (something) • The waiter screwed up our order. • This performance is important, so don't screw it up. 2 screw (something) up or screw up (something) : to damage or ruin (something) • Drugs screwed up her life. : to damage or change (something) so that it does not work properly • I don't know what I did, but I somehow screwed up the computer. 3 screw (someone) up or screw up (someone) : to make (someone) very upset and unhappy for a long time • The divorce really screwed him up. 4 screw (something) up or screw up (something) : to tighten the muscles of (your face or eyes) • He screwed his face up into a frown. • She screwed up her eyes [=she squinted] and tried to read the sign. 5 screw up the/your courage : to make yourself brave enough to do something difficult • I finally screwed up the courage to tell them that I was quitting. — see also ²SCREW 6

¹screw-ball /'skru:ba:l/ noun, pl -balls [count]

1 baseball : a pitch that is thrown with spin so that the ball curves in a direction that is opposite to the direction of a curveball

2 chiefly US, informal : a crazy person : a person who is not able to think in a clear or sensible way • She really did that? What a screwball.

²screwball adj, always used before a noun, US, informal : funny in a very silly and strange way • a screwball comedy screw-driv·er /'skru:draɪvə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a tool that is used for turning screws — see picture at CARPENTRY screwed-up adj [more ~; most ~] informal : not right or normal : not acting or functioning the way a person or thing should • He's a pretty screwed-up kid. • Our computer network is all screwed-up.

screw-top adj, always used before a noun : having a top or lid that that it can be attached and removed by being turned • a screw-top jar [=a jar with a top that screws on] screw-up /'skru:ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] informal + disapproving

1 : a mistake or error • That was a major screwup.

2 : a person who often makes mistakes especially about important things : someone who often screws up • She's a screwup who can't hold down a job.

screwy /'skru:wi/ adj screw-i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal

1 : different from what you expect because of being strange or unusual • I knew something was screwy. • a screwy idea

2 : not sensible or reasonable • screwy people • a screwy foreign policy

¹scribble /'skribəl/ verb scrib·bles; scrib·bled; scrib·bling

1 : to write (something) quickly and in a way that makes it difficult to read [+ obj] She scribbled a note to him and then dashed off to her meeting. • He scribbled down his phone number. [no obj] Students scribbled furiously as the professor lectured. • She was scribbling away in a notebook.

2 [no obj] : to draw lines, shapes, etc., that have no particular meaning in a quick and careless way • The toddler scribbled all over the paper.

— scribbling noun, pl scribbings [count] • I couldn't read the doctor's illegible scribbings.

²scribble noun, pl scribbles

1 [noncount] : writing that is difficult to read because it has been done quickly or carelessly • She could barely make out the doctor's scribble.

2 scribbles [plural] : lines, shapes, etc., that have no particular meaning and are drawn in a quick and careless way • The chalkboard was adorned with the children's scribbles.

scrib·bler noun, pl -blers [count] humorous + disapproving : a writer or author • My wife's a banker, but I'm just a scribbler who writes for the newspaper.

¹scribe /'skraɪb/ noun, pl scribes [count]

1 : a person in the past whose job was to copy manuscripts and books • Medieval scribes were often monks.

2 chiefly US, informal : a journalist or writer • She was interviewed for the newspaper by a local scribe.

²scribe verb scribes; scribed; scrib·ing [+ obj] : to make (a shape, design, mark, etc.) in something by cutting or scratching with a sharp pointed tool • Scribe a line along the board where you will be trimming it.

¹scrim·mage /'skrɪmɪdʒ/ noun, pl -mag-es

1 [noncount] American football : the point in a game at which the center passes or throws the ball to the quarterback • The first play from scrimmage netted them a touchdown. — see also LINE OF SCRIMMAGE

2 [count] US : an informal game that is played for practice : a game that is not official • a preseason scrimmage

²scrimmage verb -mages; -maged; -mag·ing [no obj] US : to play in a scrimmage • We scrimmage every Saturday. • Last weekend we scrimmaged against Bell High.

scrimp /'skrɪmp/ verb scrimps; scrimped; scrimp·ing [no obj] : to spend as little money as you can : to be careful about spending money • They scrumped and saved for their big vacation.

¹scrip /'skɪp/ noun, pl scripts [count] technical

- 1 : a document which says that the person who has the document has the right to something (such as stock or land)
 2 : special money that a government makes during an emergency and that can only be used for a short period of time — compare ²SCRIP

²scrip noun, pl scripts [count] US, informal : PRESCRIPTION

- 1a • I need to get my scrip filled. — compare ¹SCRIP

¹script /'skɪpt/ noun, pl scripts

- 1 [count] a : the written form of a play, movie, television show, etc. • The actors haven't had time to study the script. • She sent her script to several television production studios. • an early version of the script b : a plan for what is going to be done or said in a particular situation • When questioned, officials followed the script and declined comment.
 2 a [noncount] : a type of handwriting in which all the letters in a word are connected to each other • She wrote in script [=cursive] instead of printing. b : a particular style of writing or printing : a way that a particular set of letters, numbers, etc., is written or printed [noncount] words written in cuneiform script [count] roman and italic scripts c : the letters of a language arranged in their usual order : ALPHABET [noncount] languages that use the Cyrillic script [count] The message was written in a foreign script.

²script verb scripts; script-ed; script-ing [+ obj]

- 1 : to write the script for (a play, movie, television show, etc.) • I scripted three episodes of the show. — often used as (be) scripted • The actors' dialogue was carefully scripted.
 2 : to plan how (something) will happen, be done, etc. • The discussion couldn't have gone better if we had scripted it. • The trip didn't go as scripted.

scripted adj : written at an earlier time • a scripted speech/joke; also : planned in a careful way at an earlier time • a scripted campaign • Her public appearances are all scripted events.

scrip-ture /'skɪptʃə/ noun, pl -tures

- 1 Scripture or the Scriptures : the books of either the Old Testament or the New Testament or of both : the Bible • someone who frequently quotes Scripture • Each day they read (from) the Scriptures. • the Hebrew Scriptures
 2 scriptures [plural] : the sacred writings of a religion • sacred/holy scriptures

— scrip-tur-al /'skɪptʃərəl/ adj • a scriptural passage

script-writ-er /'skɪpt,raɪtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who writes the written form of a play, movie, television show, etc. : a person who writes a script • Hollywood *script-writersscrod /'skrɔ:d/ noun, pl scrod [count, noncount] US : a young fish (such as a cod or a haddock) that is eaten as food¹scroll /'skroul/ noun, pl scrolls [count]

- 1 : a long piece of paper that rolls around one or two cylinders and that usually has something written or drawn on it • the Dead Sea Scrolls • He read from the scroll.
 2 : a decoration that looks like the curled ends of a scroll • a scarf with lovely green scrolls on it

²scroll verb scrolls; scrolled; scroll-ing

- computers* : to move text or images of a Web page, document, etc., up, down, or to the side on a computer screen so that you can see all of it. [no obj] scroll through an e-mail • She scrolled (down) to the bottom of the screen. [+ obj] You have to scroll the screen to see the bottom of the Web page.

scroll bar noun, pl ~ bars [count] computers : a narrow bar along the bottom or side of a window that you click on with a mouse to see parts of the window that are hidden scroll saw noun, pl ~ saws [count] US : a machine that has a narrow blade for cutting curves and decorative patterns in wood, metal, plastic, etc.

Scrooge or scrooge /'skru:dʒ/ noun, pl Scroog-es or scrooges [count] informal : a selfish and unfriendly person who is not willing to spend or give away money — usually singular • His boss is a real Scrooge who never gives people raises. ♦ Scrooge is from the name of Ebenezer Scrooge, the main character in the story A Christmas Carol by Charles Dickens.

scro-tum /'skroutəm/ noun, pl scro-tums or scro-ta /'skroutə/ [count] : the sack of skin that contains the testicles of men and male animals scrounge /'skraʊndʒ/ verb scroung-es; scrounged; scroung-ing

- 1 : to persuade someone to give you (something) for free [+ obj] I managed to scrounge enough money for a bus ticket. — often + off or from • I scrounged a few bucks off my friend for lunch. • She scrounged some money from her folks. [no obj] He's always scrounging off his friends instead of paying for things himself.

- 2 US : to get or find something by looking in different places, asking different people, etc. [no obj] We scrounged around for firewood. [+ obj] We managed to scrounge some firewood. — often + up • I tried to scrounge up some tickets to the show, but I didn't have any luck.

— scroung-er noun, pl -ers [count]

¹scrub /'skɹʌb/ noun [noncount]

- 1 : small bushes and trees • A chipmunk hid in the scrub.
 2 : land that is covered with small bushes and trees • In the desert scrub, temperatures can reach well over 100 degrees. — compare ²SCRUB

²scrub noun, pl scrubs

- 1 [count] a : the act of rubbing something hard with a rough object or substance and often with soap in order to clean it : the act of scrubbing something — usually singular • He gave the pan a good scrub. [=he scrubbed the pan] b : a powerful cleanser that is used to clean the skin • a face scrub
 2 scrubs [plural] US : special loose clothing that is worn by people who work in hospitals • hospital/surgical scrubs — compare ¹SCRUB

³scrub verb scrubs; scrubbed; scrub-bing

- 1 : to rub (something) hard with a rough object or substance and often with soap in order to clean it [+ obj] She scrubbed the potatoes. [no obj] We scrubbed and scrubbed until the floor was clean.

- 2 [+ obj] informal : to decide that (something, such as a game, performance, etc.) will not happen : to cancel (something) • They scrubbed the game because of the bad weather.
scrub off [phrasal verb] scrub off (something) or scrub (something) off : to remove (something) from a surface by scrubbing • I scrubbed off the heavy stage makeup. • scrub-bing dirt and grime off the walls

- scrub out [phrasal verb] scrub out (something) or scrub (something) out 1 : to remove (something) from an object by scrubbing • a stain in the carpet that was impossible to scrub out 2 : to scrub the inside of (something) • She scrubbed out the flower pots and filled them with fresh soil.
scrub up [phrasal verb] : to wash your hands and arms thoroughly • The doctor scrubbed up for surgery.

scrub-ber /'skɹʌbə/ noun, pl -bers [count]

- 1 : a tool or machine that is used for scrubbing something • a vegetable scrubber [=a brush that is used for scrubbing vegetables] • a floor scrubber
 2 : a person whose job is to scrub something • She got a job as a pot scrubber.
 3 technical : a machine that removes a dangerous substance from air, water, etc. • The scrubbers will reduce the power plant's sulfur emissions.

scrub brush (US) or Brit scrubbing brush noun, pl ~ brushes [count] : a small brush with stiff bristles that is used for scrubbing things scrub-by /'skɹʌbi/ adj scrub-bi-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

- 1 : covered with small bushes and trees • scrubby land
 2 : small and not growing well • scrubby trees/bushes scrub-land /'skɹʌb,lænd/ noun, pl -lands : land that is covered with small bushes and trees [noncount] a large area of scrubland [count] the scrublands of the American West scruff /'skɹʌf/ noun [singular] : the skin on the back of the neck • She held the kitten by the scruff of its neck.

scruffy /'skɹʌfi/ adj scruff-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal : not neat, clean, or orderly • a scruffy beard • scruffy college students • The neighborhood is full of dilapidated houses with scruffy backyards.

scrum /'skɹʌm/ noun, pl scrums [count]

- 1 rugby a : a way of starting play again in which players from each team come together and try to get control of the ball by pushing against each other and using their feet when the ball is thrown in between them b : the group of players who are involved in a scrum

- 2 : a large group of people who are close together in one place • He pushed through the scrum [=crowd, throng] of holiday shoppers. • The actress was caught in a media scrum. [=a crowd of reporters, photographers, etc.]

scrump-tious /'skɹʌmpʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal scroll

: very pleasant to taste : DELICIOUS • a scrumptious cake

scrunch /ˈskrʌntʃ/ verb scrunch-es; scrunched; scrunch-ing

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to make your body lower or shorter by bending your legs, making your back bend forward, lowering your head, etc. • I scrunched down in the chair. • I spent the night scrunched (up) in the back of the car.

2 [+ obj] : to tighten the muscles of (your face or nose) — usually + up • She scrunched up her face/nose.

3 [+ obj] a : to put (several or many people or things) in a space that is too small — usually used as (be) scrunched • The restaurant's tables are all scrunched together. b : to press or squeeze (something) so that it is no longer flat or smooth • I scrunched the fabric in my hand. — often + up • He scrunched [=crumpled] up the paper and threw it away.

4 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to make the loud sound of something being crushed • The snow was scrunching [(more commonly) crunching] under our feet.

scrunch-ie or scrunchy /ˈskrʌntʃi/ noun, pl scrunch-ies [count] US : a piece of elastic in the shape of a circle that is covered with fabric and used to hold hair back in a ponytail, bun, etc. — see picture at GROOMING

¹scru-ple /ˈskru:pəl/ noun, pl scruples : a feeling that prevents you from doing something that you think is wrong [count] — usually plural • They seem to have no scruples [=qualms] about distorting the truth. • moral/religious scruples • a woman without scruples [noncount] She acted without scruple.

²scruple verb scruples; scru-pled; scru-pling [+ obj] formal : to be unwilling to do something because you think it is improper, morally wrong, etc. — usually used in negative statements • He did not scruple to lie about it. [=he was willing to lie about it; lying about it did not bother him]

scru-pu-lous /ˈskru:pjələs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very careful about doing something correctly • She was always scrupulous about her work. • The work requires scrupulous attention to detail. • They were scrupulous [=meticulous] in their testing.

2 : careful about doing what is honest and morally right • Less scrupulous companies find ways to evade the law.

— scru-pu-lous-ly adv • a scrupulously clean house scru-ti-nize or Brit scru-ti-nise /ˈskru:tənaɪz/ verb -nizes; -nized; -niz-ing [+ obj] : to examine (something) carefully especially in a critical way • I closely scrutinized my opponent's every move. • Her performance was carefully scrutinized by her employer.

scru-ti-ny /ˈskru:təni/ noun, formal : the act of carefully examining something especially in a critical way : the act of scrutinizing something [noncount] the close/careful scrutiny of data • judicial/public/scientific scrutiny • I'd never faced that kind of scrutiny before. • Because of their past crimes, everything they do now will be subject to scrutiny. • Their behavior is under scrutiny again. = Their behavior has come under scrutiny again. [=people are examining their behavior in a critical way again] [singular] Her opinion is based on a careful scrutiny of the text.

scu-ba /ˈsku:bə/ adj, always used before a noun : used in scuba diving • scuba gear • a scuba tank scuba diving noun [noncount] : a sport or activity in which you swim underwater using an air tank and a special breathing machine that you strap on your body • Her hobbies include sailing and scuba diving. • We went scuba diving for the first time this summer.

— scuba dive verb ~ dives; ~ dived; ~ div-ing [no obj] • He plans to scuba dive while on vacation. — scuba diver noun, pl ~ -ers [count] • He's an expert scuba diver.

scud /ˈskʌd/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition scuds; scud-ded; scud-ding [no obj] literary : to move or go quickly • Clouds scudded across the sky.

¹scuff /ˈskʌf/ verb scuffs; scuffed; scuff-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make a mark or scratch in the surface of (something) by scraping it • I scuffed (up) my new shoes the very first time I wore them.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to walk without lifting your feet : to drag your feet while you walk • She scuffed down the hall towards her room.

— scuffed adj • scuffed shoes/boots • an old, scuffed leather jacket

²scuff noun, pl scuffs

1 [count] : a mark that is made by scuffing something • I tried to rub the scuff (mark) out of my shoe.

2 scuffs [plural] US : slippers that are open at the heel • She slid into her scuffs and headed into the kitchen.

scuf-ple /ˈskʌfəl/ verb scuf-plies; scuf-pled; scuf-pling [no obj]

1 : to fight briefly and usually not very seriously • Children scuffled on the playground. • Protesters and police scuffled.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move quickly and with short steps : SCURRY • Small creatures scuffled in the underbrush.

— scuffle noun, pl scuf-plies [count] • They got in/into a scuffle. • A scuffle broke out between the players.

¹scull /ˈskʌl/ noun, pl sculls

1 [count] : a long and very narrow boat that is usually rowed by one or two people • a double scull [=a scull for two people]

2 sculls [plural] : a race using sculls • He took first place in the single sculls.

²scull verb sculls; sculled; scull-ing [no obj] : to row a scull or other small boat • She sculled along the river.

— scull-er noun, pl -ers [count] • He's one of the top scullers in the state. — scull-ing noun [noncount] • She joined the sculling team. • He went sculling early that morning.

scul-ler-y /ˈskʌləri/ noun, pl -ler-ies [count] old-fashioned : a room that is near the kitchen in a large and usually old house and that is used for washing dishes, doing messy kitchen tasks, etc.

sculpt /ˈskʌlpt/ verb sculpts; sculpt-ed; sculpt-ing

1 : to make (something) by carving or molding clay, stone, etc. : to make (a sculpture) [+ obj] She carefully sculpted the wood. — often used as (be) sculpted • The figures were sculpted from wood. • The statue was sculpted in ice. — often used figuratively • She carefully sculpted the narrative of the story. [no obj] The children painted and sculpted all morning.

2 [+ obj] chiefly US : to make (a part of your body) more muscular by doing exercises • Sculpt your back with push-ups.

sculpt-ed /ˈskʌlptəd/ adj

1 a : carved or molded into a particular shape from wood, stone, clay, etc. • a sculpted facade b : made into a particular shape by someone or something • her sculpted bangs • a wind-sculpted rock formation

2 a : having a clear shape • sculpted cheekbones b chiefly US : very muscular and attractive • a lean, sculpted athlete/body

sculp-tor /ˈskʌlptər/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a person who makes sculptures sculp-tress /ˈskʌlptres/ noun, pl -tress-es [count] somewhat old-fashioned : a woman who makes sculptures

sculp-ture /ˈskʌlptʃər/ noun, pl -tures

1 : a piece of art that is made by carving or molding clay, stone, metal, etc. [count] a sculpture of an elephant • an abstract sculpture [noncount] an exhibit of African sculpture — compare STATUE

2 [noncount] : the process or art of carving or molding clay, stone, metal, etc., into a sculpture • She's studying sculpture.

— sculp-tur-al /ˈskʌlptʃərəl/ adj • the sculptural arts • a sculptural piece sculp-tured /ˈskʌlptʃəd/ adj : carved or molded into a particular shape from wood, stone, clay, etc. • a sculptured [(more commonly) sculpted] facade

scum /ˈskʌm/ noun, pl scums

1 [noncount] : a layer of something unpleasant or unwanted that forms on top of a liquid • Boil the chicken and use a spoon to remove any scum that floats to the surface. • pond scum [=a layer of algae on top of a pond]

2 informal : a dishonest, unkind, or unpleasant person [noncount] Ignore him; he's scum. • They are the scum of the earth. [=the worst people on the earth] [count] He's a complete scum.

– scum·my /'skami/ adj scum·mi·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] • scummy water • a scummy person scum·bag /'skam,bæg/ noun, pl -bags [count] slang : a dishonest, unkind, or unpleasant person • She's a total scumbag.

1 scup·per /'skapə/ verb -pers; -pered; -per·ing [+ obj] Brit : to cause (something) to stop or fail • The boss scuppered [= (US) scuttled] the plan. • The latest information could scupper the peace talks.

2 scupper noun, pl -pers [count] technical : a hole in the side of a boat that allows water to drain from the deck

scur·ri·lous /'skərələs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : said or done unfairly to make people have a bad opinion of someone • scurrilous attacks on the senator • scurrilous rumors
– scur·ri·lous·ly adv

scur·ry /'skəri/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition -ries; -ried; -ry·ing [no obj] : to move quickly and with short steps • She scurried off to finish the job. • Mice scurried around the house.

scur·vy /'skəvi/ noun [noncount] : a disease that is caused by not eating enough fruits or vegetables that contain vitamin C

1 scut·tle /'skatl/ verb scut·tles; scut·tled; scut·tling [+ obj]

1 US : to cause (something) to end or fail • He tried to scuttle [= (Brit) scupper] the conference/sale.

2 : to sink (a ship) by putting holes in the bottom or sides
– compare 2 SCUTTLE

2 scuttle verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition scuttles; scuttled; scuttling [no obj] : to move quickly and with short steps • Crabs scuttled along the ocean floor. • He scuttled away to find his hat. — compare 1 SCUTTLE

3 scuttle noun, pl scuttles [count] : a metal pail for carrying coal scut·tle·butt /'skatl,bat/ noun [noncount] US, informal : talk or stories about someone that may not be true • There's some scuttlebutt [=there's a rumor] that he might be planning to leave his wife.

scuz·zy /'skazi/ adj scuz·zi·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] US slang : dirty, dishonest, or unpleasant • He is a scuzzy guy. • a scuzzy bathroom

1 scythe /'saið/ noun, pl scythes [count] : a farming tool with a curved blade and long handle that is used for cutting grass, grain, etc.

2 scythe verb scythes; scythed; scyth·ing : to cut (something, such as grass or grain) with a scythe [+ obj] scything the wheat — often used figuratively • Her hands scythed [=cut through] the air. [no obj] — usually used figuratively • Her hands scythed through the air.

SD abbr South Dakota

SE abbr southeast; southeastern sea /'si:/ noun, pl seas

1 a : the salt water that covers much of the Earth's surface [noncount] We traveled by sea. [=on a ship] — often used with the • The ship sank to the bottom of the sea. [=the ocean] • creatures of the sea • He was sailing the open sea. [=sailing far away from land] — often used before another noun • a sea voyage • a sea animal/creature • the sea floor [plural] (literary) • the uncharted seas — see also HIGH SEAS b or Sea [count] : a large body of water that is part of the sea or that has land around part or all of it • the Mediterranean Sea • the seas of the Southern Hemisphere — see color picture on page C7; see also SEVEN SEAS

2 [count] : an area of the sea — used to describe the movement of the water in the sea • a calm/rough sea — often plural • We sailed in heavy seas. [=in very large waves]

3 [count] : a large amount or number of people or things spread over a large area — usually singular • a sea of screaming fans • a golden sea of wheat — sometimes used figuratively • a sea of sadness

4 or Sea [count] technical : one of the large, flat areas on the moon or on Mars • lunar seas • the Sea of Tranquility at sea 1 : sailing or traveling on the sea • The navy spent as much time in port as they did at sea. • The crew was lost at sea. [=the crew disappeared while traveling on the sea] 2 : confused and not confident • She felt completely at sea when she started her new job.

between the devil and the deep blue sea see DEVIL

fish in the sea see FISH

go to sea somewhat old-fashioned : to become a sailor • He went to sea at a young age.

out to sea : toward or into a part of the ocean that is far away from land • The boat headed out to sea. • He fell overboard and was swept out to sea.

put (out) to sea : to leave a port, harbor, etc., and begin traveling on the sea • The ship put to sea. • We will dock tonight and put out to sea tomorrow.

sea air noun [noncount] : the air near the sea • He breathed in the sea air.

sea anemone noun, pl ~ -nes [count] : a small, brightly colored sea animal that looks like a flower and sticks to rocks, coral, etc.

sea·bed /'si:,bed/ noun

the seabed : the ground that is at the bottom of the sea sea·bird /'si:,bɜ:d/ noun, pl -birds [count] : a bird that lives on or near the sea and finds food in it • gulls and other sea-birds

sea·board /'si:,boɜ:d/ noun, pl -boards [count] : the part of a country that is along or near the sea • He lives on the eastern seaboard. • a seaboard city sea·borne /'si:,boɜ:n/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : carried in a ship sailing across the sea • seaborne cargo

2 : involving or using ships that sail across the sea • seaborne trade sea breeze noun, pl ~ breezes [count] : a light wind that blows from the sea toward land sea captain noun, pl ~ -tains [count] : the captain of a ship that travels on the sea sea change noun, pl ~ changes [count] : a big and sudden change — usually singular • There's been a sea change in public opinion. • Her attitude has undergone a sea change [=her attitude has changed completely] in recent months.

sea·coast /'si:,koust/ noun, pl -coasts : the land along the edge of a sea [count] a beautiful seacoast • the eastern seacoast [noncount] a stretch of seacoast [=coast, shore, shoreline] • a seacoast [=coastal] town sea dog noun, pl ~ dogs [count] old-fashioned + literary : an experienced sailor sea·far·er /'si:,ferə/ noun, pl -ers [count] old-fashioned : someone who works or travels on a boat or ship on the sea : SAILOR sea·far·ing /'si:,ferɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the activity of traveling on the sea especially while working on a boat or a ship • He began a life of seafaring.

– seafaring adj, always used before a noun • He always tells stories from his seafaring days. • a seafaring people • a seafaring adventure sea·floor /'si:,floɜ:/ noun, pl -floors [count] : the ground that is at the bottom of the sea — usually singular • a sunken ship lying on the seafloor

sea·food /'si:,fu:d/ noun [noncount] : fish and shellfish that live in the ocean and are used for food • I'm allergic to seafood. • a seafood dish/restaurant sea·front /'si:,frʌnt/ noun, pl -fronts [count] : the part of a town, area, etc., that is near the sea — usually singular • hotels on/along the seafloor — often used before another noun • seafloor [= (US) oceanfront] property sea·go·ing /'si:,gowɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun : made or used for traveling on the sea • a seagoing [=ocean-going] ship/craft/vessel sea green noun [noncount] : a bluish-green color like the sea — see color picture on page C2

– sea-green adj • She has sea-green eyes.

sea·gull /'si:,gʌl/ noun, pl -gulls [count] : a large, common, usually gray and white bird that lives near the ocean : GULL — see color picture on page C9 sea horse noun, pl ~ horses [count] : a small fish that has a head that looks like a horse's head and that swims with its head above its body and tail

1 seal /'si:l/ verb seals; sealed; seal·ing

1 a [+ obj] : to close (something) tightly so that air, liquid, etc., cannot get in or out • He sealed the jar. — often + up • He sealed up the cracks in the wall. b [+ obj] : to close (an envelope, bag, etc.) by sticking or pressing two of its parts together • Would you seal this envelope? C [no obj] : to become closed tightly • Make sure the bag seals properly.

scythe

S

2 [+ obj] : to cover the surface of (something) with a substance that will protect it • We used a sealant/sealer to seal the wood to make it waterproof.

3 [+ obj] : to make (something) definite and final • His home run sealed the victory. [=his home run made it certain that his team would win] • (informal) They finally sealed the deal. [=they finally reached an agreement and made a deal] • Their decision sealed her fate. = Once they made their decision, her fate was sealed. [=their decision made it certain that something bad or unwanted would happen to her]

4 [+ obj] : to prevent someone from going into or through (an area or place) • Troops have sealed the border between the two countries. • The room/chamber has been sealed and no one can enter.

my lips are sealed see LIP

seal in [phrasal verb] seal (something) in or seal in (something) : to prevent (something that is in something else) from getting out or escaping • He sealed the steak to seal in the juices.

seal off [phrasal verb] seal off (something) or seal (something) off : to prevent people from entering or leaving (an area or place) • Police sealed off the crime scene.

— sealed adj • a sealed jar

²seal noun, pl seals [count]

1 a : an official mark that is stamped on paper or on a small piece of wax to show that something (such as a document) is genuine and has been officially approved • The paperwork must have a notary's seal. b : a small piece of stamped wax or a small sticker that is put on a letter or envelope to keep it closed or to show that it has not been opened

2 : a device with a raised design that can be pressed into something (such as paper or wax) to make a seal

3 a : a piece of material (such as rubber) that is used on the lid of a container to keep air, water, etc., out of the container or to show the container has not been opened • a rubber seal on the jar • The plastic seal on the bottle was broken. b : the state of being closed tightly so that no air, water, etc., can pass through • The caulk gives the window an airtight seal.

seal of approval : an action or statement that shows approval or official acceptance • The bill has the President's seal of approval. • Fans have given the band's new song their seal of approval. [=fans like the band's new song] set the seal on Brit, formal : to make (something) final or definite • The goal set the seal on their victory. [=the goal sealed/assured their victory]

under seal law, formal : having an official seal that prevents the public from seeing or reading it • a document/contract under seal

— compare ³SEAL

³seal /'si:l/ noun, pl seals

1 [count] : a large animal that lives in the sea near coasts, has flippers, and eats fish

2 [noncount] : the skin of a seal usually used for fur • a jacket made of seal

— compare ²SEAL

seal

SEAL /'si:l/ noun, pl SEALs [count] US : a soldier in the U.S. Navy who has special training and belongs to a small group that performs dangerous missions • a Navy SEAL

sea lane /'si:,leɪn/ noun, pl ~ lanes [count] : a route that ships regularly take across the sea

seal·ant /'si:lənt/ noun, pl -ants [count] : a substance that is put on a surface in order to protect it from air, water, etc. — called also sealer sea legs noun [plural] : the ability to walk steadily and not feel sick while traveling on a boat or ship • When I first started sailing, it took me a while to get my sea legs.

¹seal·er /'si:lə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : SEALANT — compare ²SEALER

²sealer noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who hunts seals

2 : a ship that is used in hunting seals

— compare ¹SEALER

sea level noun [noncount] : the average height of the sea's surface ♦ Sea level is a standard level that is used when measuring the height or depth of a place on land • The city is a mile above sea level. • The valley sits well below sea level.

seal·ing /'si:lɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the activity of hunting seals sealing wax noun [noncount] : a type of wax used especially in the past for making seals on letters and documents sea lion noun, pl ~ lions [count] : a large seal that lives near coasts in the Pacific Ocean seam /'si:m/ noun, pl seams [count]

1 a : a line where two pieces of cloth or other material are sewn together • the seams of a dress b : a line where two pieces of wood, metal, dough, etc., are joined together • the seams of a boat

2 technical : a layer of coal, rock, etc., that is between two other layers of rock underground • coal seams • a rich seam of iron ore — sometimes used figuratively to describe a good source of something valuable • The book is a rich seam of information about the history of baseball.

be bursting at the seams see ¹BURST

come/fall apart at the seams informal : to break into parts or pieces — usually used figuratively to describe someone or something that is in very bad condition • The plan/company is falling apart at the seams. • She looks like she's going to come apart at the seams.

sea·man /'si:mən/ noun, pl -men [count]

1 : an experienced sailor

2 : a sailor in the U.S. or British Navy or the U.S. Coast Guard who is not an officer sea·man·ship /'si:mən,ʃɪp/ noun [noncount] : skill in sailing or operating a ship • The captain shows great seaman·ship.

seamed /'si:md/ adj

1 : having a visible line where two pieces of material are joined together • seamed stockings

2 : having deep lines or wrinkles • her seamed face

seam·less /'si:mləs/ adj

1 : having no seams • a seamless rug/boat

2 : moving from one thing to another easily and without any interruptions or problems • The transitions from scene to scene were seamless. • a seamless transfer of power

3 : perfect and having no flaws or errors • a seamless [=flawless] performance

— seam·less·ly adv • The speaker moved from one subject to the next seamlessly.

seam·stress /'si:mstrəs/ noun, pl -stress·es [count] : a woman who sews clothes, curtains, etc., as a job seamy /'si:mi/ adj seam·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : of or relating to unpleasant and usually illegal things (such as crime, drugs, etc.) • the seamy [=seedy] side of the city • She was involved in a seamy corruption scandal.

sé·ance /'seɪ,ɑ:ns/ also se·ance noun, pl -anc·es [count] : a meeting where people try to communicate with the spirits of dead people • They're having/holding a séance.

sea·plane /'si:,pleɪn/ noun, pl -planes [count] : an airplane that can take off from and land on water sea·port /'si:,pɔ:t/ noun, pl -ports [count] : a town or city with a harbor where ships stop to load and unload cargo : PORT • Boston is a major seaport in the northeastern U.S.

sea power noun, pl ~ -ers

1 [count] : a country that has a large and powerful navy • Britain was the world's greatest sea power at one time.

2 [noncount] : the strength and size of a country's navy • a massive increase in sea power

sear /'siə/ verb sears; seared; sear·ing [+ obj]

1 : to burn and damage the surface of (something) with strong and sudden heat • The tree was seared by lightning. • The flames seared my skin. — often used figuratively • That image was seared [=burned] into my memory. [=I cannot forget that image] — see also SEARING

2 US : to cook the surface of (something, such as a piece of meat) quickly with intense heat • The steak was seared over a hot grill.

¹search /'sə:tʃ/ noun, pl search·es

1 : an attempt to find someone or something : the act or process of looking for someone or something [count] a thorough/exhaustive/quick search • We will begin/launch/conduct a search for a new manager this week. • A search and rescue team [=a group of people trained to find and help lost people] was sent out for the hikers. — often + for • The search for the crew was called off. • Police are continuing their search for the killer. [noncount] Scientists are in search of the answer. [=scientists are searching for the answer] — see also STRIP SEARCH

2 [count] : an attempt to find information in a database, network, Web site, etc., by using a computer program • I performed a search for the file. • I did a Web search for restaurants in that area.

2 search verb searches; searched; search-ing

1 a [no obj] : to carefully look for someone or something : to try to find someone or something • They haven't found him yet, so they have to keep searching. • They sought among/through the wreckage (for survivors). • We sought [=looked] everywhere but we couldn't find the keys. — often + for • They're still searching for the lost child. — often used figuratively • Scientists are searching for a cure. [=are doing research to try to find a cure] • He sought for the words to comfort her. [=he tried to think of words that he could say to comfort her] • She sought for an answer to his question. b [+ obj] : to carefully look for someone or something in (something) • Police sought the vehicle. — often + for • He sought his room for his wallet. c [+ obj] : to carefully look through the clothing of (someone) for something that may be hidden • The police sought her for concealed weapons. • He was sought by the guard before he was allowed to enter the courtroom.

2 : to use a computer to find information in (a database, network, Web site, etc.) [+ obj] The software allows you to search thousands of sites at the same time. — often + for • She sought the Web for information about the car. [no obj] She sought for information on the Web.

3 [+ obj] : to look carefully at (something) in order to get information about it • He sought her face, hoping to see some glimmer of emotion.

search me informal — used in speech to say that you do not know the answer to a question • "Why did they do that?" "Search me." [=I don't know] search out [phrasal verb] search (someone or something) out or search out (someone or something) : to find (someone or something) by carefully looking • She sought out the relevant information.

— search-er noun, pl -ers [count] • Searchers couldn't find the lost hikers.

search engine noun, pl ~ -gines [count] : a computer program that is used to look for information on the Internet searching adj, always used before a noun : carefully made, done, asked, etc., in order to find out more information about someone or something • a searching question • a searching gaze/look — search-ing-ly adv • She looked searchingly at us.

search-light /'sɜːtʃlaɪt/ noun, pl -lights [count] : a very bright light that can be aimed in different directions and that is used to find people or things in the dark search party noun, pl ~ parties [count] : an organized group of people who are looking for someone or something that is missing • If the hikers don't return by tomorrow, a search party will be sent out.

search warrant noun, pl ~ -rants [count] : a legal document that gives the police permission to search a place for evidence sear-ing /'siːrɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very hot • the searing heat of the fire

2 : extremely intense, severe, etc. • She felt a searing pain in her foot. • (chiefly US) It was a searing experience.

3 of writing or speech : very strong and critical • a searing review • She made/launched a searing attack on her political enemies.

— sear-ing-ly adv • searingly hot food sea salt noun [noncount] : a type of salt that is made from seawater and is used in cooking sea-scape /'siːskeɪp/ noun, pl -scapes [count] : a picture or painting of the sea • an artist known for her seascapes sea-shell /'siːʃel/ noun, pl -shells [count] : the hard, empty shell of a small sea creature (such as a clam) • She collects seashells.

sea-shore /'siːʃɔː/ noun

the seashore : the land along the edge of the sea that is usually covered with sand or rocks • They built a house near the seashore.

— seashore adj, always used before a noun • the seashore ecosystem sea-sick /'siːsɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling sick because of the movement of a boat or ship that you are traveling on • The storm/waves made her seasick.

— sea-sick-ness noun [noncount] • The medicine prevents seasickness.

1 sea-side /'siːsaɪd/ adj, always used before a noun : located in the area near the sea • a seaside hotel • a quaint seaside town/community

2 seaside noun

the seaside chiefly Brit : the areas or towns along or near the sea • a trip to the seaside

1 sea-son /'siːzn/ noun, pl -sons

1 [count] : one of the four periods (spring, summer, autumn, and winter) into which the year is commonly divided • Spring is my favorite season (of the year). • I enjoy watching the seasons change every year.

2 : a particular period of time during the year: such as a [count] : a period of time when a particular sport is being played • the baseball/football season • The team had a good season last year. [=the team played well last year] — see also OFF-SEASON, POSTSEASON, PRESEASON b : a period of time when a particular event, process, activity, etc., occurs [count] These plants have a short growing season. • the breeding/mating season [=the period of time when animals, birds, etc., are mating] • the Christmas season • (US) the holiday season [=the time from late November through January when several holidays (such as Christmas, Hanukkah, and New Year's Eve) happen] [noncount] The article talks about ways to stay healthy during flu season. [=the time of year, and especially the winter, when many people get influenza and other mild illnesses] • June marks the beginning of tourist season. [=the time when many people go to visit places as tourists] • During peak season [=the time when tourists visit the most], the island is very crowded. c [count, noncount] : a period of time when people are legally allowed to hunt, fish, etc. • Deer season starts next week. • lobster season • hunting/fishing season — see also OPEN SEASON d [count, noncount] : the time of the year during which something grows and can be harvested • blueberry season e : a time of the year during which a particular type of weather usually happens [count] the hot/dry/rainy season [noncount] Monsoon season is coming soon. f [singular] : a time of the year when a new fashion, color, hair style, etc., is popular • This season's fashions are very feminine. • Pink is in style this season. g [noncount] : a period of time when a series of new television shows, plays, etc., are being shown or performed • I can't wait until the new (television) season starts. • The theater company will be putting on plays by Shakespeare this season. • one of the shows in the network's season lineup in season/out of season 1 ✧ When fruits and vegetables are in season, it is the time of year when they are being harvested and are easily available. When they are out of season, they are not being harvested in a place near you and are more difficult or expensive to get. • Strawberries are in season. • They import asparagus when it is out of season here. 2 ✧ When animals, fish, etc., are in season, it is the time of year when they can be legally hunted, caught, etc. When they are out of season, they cannot be legally hunted, caught, etc. • Deer may only be hunted in season. • That fish is not in season. = That fish is out of season.

Season's Greetings — used in writing as a greeting in the time of year when Christmas and several other holidays happen near each other

2 season verb -sons; -soned; -son-ing

1 : to add salt, pepper, spices, etc., to (something) to give it more flavor [+ obj] He seasoned the stew. [no obj] Season to taste. [=add as much seasoning as you like so it tastes good to you]

2 [+ obj] : to make (wood) ready for use by slowly drying it • You must season the firewood.

sea-son-able /'siːznəbəl/ adj, of weather : normal for a certain time of year • We've been having seasonable weather. • These temperatures are seasonable. — opposite UNSEASONABLE — sea-son-ably /'siːznəbli/ adv • The weather has been seasonably cool.

sea-son-al /'siːznəl/ adj

1 : happening or needed during a particular time of the year • The rise in gas prices is seasonal. • The store hires seasonal workers during the holidays.

2 : normal for a certain time of year • seasonal decorations • I have seasonal allergies.

– sea·son·al·i·ty /ˌsiːzəˈnæləti/ noun [noncount] technical • We tracked the seasonality of rainfall levels. – sea·son·al·ly adv • The restaurant changes its menu seasonally.

seasonal affective disorder noun [noncount] medical : an illness that makes people feel sad and tired during the winter because there is less light during the day

seasoned adj

1 of food : having a lot of spices, herbs, salt, pepper, etc., added • a highly seasoned stew

2 always used before a noun : having a lot of experience doing something • a seasoned actor/writer/traveler

3 of wood : dry and ready for use • seasoned lumber sea·son·ing /ˈsiːznɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings : a substance (such as salt, pepper, a spice, or an herb) that is used to add flavor to food [count] My favorite seasonings are black pepper and oregano. [noncount] Add some seasoning to the marinade. • The soup needs more seasoning.

season ticket noun, pl ~ -ets [count] : a ticket for a certain place, activity, or series of events (such as sports contests) that you can use many times during a particular period of time • I have/hold season tickets for our team's games. • I get a season ticket for the commuter train from my employer. • season ticket holders

¹seat /ˈsiːt/ noun, pl -seats

1 [count] : something (such as a chair) that you sit on : a place for sitting • There were seats for six people at the table. • an uncomfortable bicycle seat • a car with leather seats • He used the box as a seat. • He couldn't find his seat in the concert hall. • The city recently built a new 1,000-seat theater. • She booked/reserved a seat on the next flight to Rome. • Please have/take a seat [=please sit down] • The teacher asked us to take our seats. [=sit down in our usual or assigned places] — see picture at BICYCLE; see also BACKSEAT, CATBIRD SEAT

2 a [count] : the part of a chair or other piece of furniture that a person sits on • The stool's seat is broken. • The chairs have woven seats. b [singular] : the part of a piece of clothing (such as a skirt or pair of pants) that you sit on — + of • You have a tear in the seat of your pants. c [count] somewhat old-fashioned : the part of the body on which you sit • I fell off the horse and had a sore seat [=bottom] for weeks.

3 [count] : an official position within an organization and the right to be present when that organization meets • The Democrats gained two more seats in the last election. • She won a Senate seat. • a seat on the federal court • a seat on the board • (chiefly Brit) He took his seat [=began his official duties as a member] in Parliament.

4 [singular] a : a place or area where a particular activity, function, etc., occurs — + of • The university has been a seat of learning since the Middle Ages. • the part of the brain that is the seat of reasoning b : a place (such as a city) where the people who run a government, religion, etc., are based — + of • the seat of government/power • The Vatican is the seat of the Roman Catholic Church. — see also COUNTY SEAT

by the seat of your pants : by using your own judgment and feelings to deal with each new problem or task without planning, preparation, or help from others • He was running the company by the seat of his pants. • We were flying by the seat of our pants when we started our business.

— see also SEAT-OF-THE-PANTS

get/put bums on seats see ⁵BUM

in the driver's seat see DRIVER

on the edge of your seat see ¹EDGE

²seat verb seats; seat-ed; seat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to give (a person) a place to sit • I could seat you here if you wish. — often used as (be) seated • Please be seated. [=please sit down] • She was seated in the front row.

2 : to have enough seats for (a certain number of people) • The restaurant seats 120 (people). • The plans call for a stadium seating 30,000 people.

seat belt noun, pl ~ belts [count] : a strap on a vehicle's seat that holds a person in the seat if there is an accident • Fasten your seat belt. — see picture at CAR

seat·er /ˈsiːtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : something (such as a vehicle) that has a specified number of seats — used in combination • Our couch is a three-seater. — see also TWO-SEATER

seat·ing /ˈsiːtɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [noncount] : seats or places to sit • There won't be enough seating for everyone. • The auditorium has seating for 400. •

There is additional seating on the deck. • The auditorium has a seating capacity of 400. • Here is the seating arrangement/plan [=a plan that shows where people should sit] for our wedding reception.

2 [count] : a scheduled time when people are allowed into a performance, a meal, etc. • There are two seatings for tea. • We bought tickets for the 5:30 seating of the show.

seat·mate /ˈsiːt,meɪt/ noun, pl -mates [count] US : a person who sits next to you in a bus, airplane, etc. • My seatmate on the flight to Rome was very friendly.

seat-of-the-pants adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US : done or made by using your own judgment and feelings without planning, preparation, or help from others • It was a seat-of-the-pants decision.

sea turtle noun, pl ~ turtles [count] : a type of large turtle that lives in the sea

sea urchin noun, pl ~ -chins [count] : a small sea animal that lives on the ocean floor and is covered in sharp spines

sea·wall /ˈsiː,wɔːl/ noun, pl -walls [count] : a wall built to keep sea waves from coming up onto land sea·ward /ˈsiːwəd/ also sea·wards /ˈsiːwədz/ adv : toward the sea • We drifted seaward. • She gazed seaward.

– seaward adj, always used before a noun • the seaward slope of the mountain

sea·wa·ter /ˈsiː,wɑːtə/ noun [noncount] : water in or from the sea

sea·weed /ˈsiː,wɪd/ noun, pl -weeds [count, noncount] : a type of plant that grows in the sea sea·wor·thy /ˈsiː,wɔːði/ adj [more ~; most ~] : fit or safe to travel on the sea • a seaworthy ship — compare AIRWORTHY, ROADWORTHY – sea·wor·thi·ness /ˈsiː,wɔːðɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • He doubted the ship's seaworthiness.

se·ba·ceous /sɪˈbeɪʃəs/ adj, always used before a noun, biology : producing an oily substance in the body • sebaceous glands

¹sec abbr 1 second, seconds • 2 min, 45 sec 2 section • Sec 2, Row K, Seat 45 3 Sec. secretary • Sec. of Internal Affairs

²sec /ˈsek/ noun [singular] informal : a very brief time : SECOND • Wait just a sec.

SEC abbr, US Securities and Exchange Commission ♦ The Securities and Exchange Commission is a part of the U.S. federal government that enforces laws about securities like stocks.

sec·a·teurs /ˌsekəˈtɔːz/ noun [plural] Brit : PRUNING SHEARS

se·cede /sɪˈsiːd/ verb -cedes; -ced-ed; -ced-ing [no obj] : to separate from a nation or state and become independent • South Carolina seceded from the Union in 1860.

se·ces·sion /sɪˈseʃən/ noun, pl -sions [count] : the act of separating from a nation or state and becoming independent • the secession of the Southern states

se·ces·sion·ist /sɪˈseʃənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who thinks that a nation, state, etc., should separate from another and become independent se·clude /sɪˈkluːd/ verb -cludes; -clud-ed; -clud-ing [+ obj] : to keep (someone) away from other people • He secluded himself in his room to study for the exam.

secluded adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : hidden from view : private and not used or seen by many people • a secluded beach • We looked for a secluded spot in the park to have our picnic.

2 : placed apart from other people • She led a secluded [=solitary] life on the family farm.

se·clu·sion /sɪˈkluːzən/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act of placing or keeping someone away from other people : the act of secluding someone • the seclusion of women that occurs in some countries

2 : the state of being away from other people : a secluded state or condition • I enjoyed the seclusion of the island. • After his wife died he lived in seclusion. [=he lived by himself and kept away from other people]

¹sec·ond /ˈsekənd/ adj, always used before a noun

1 a : occupying the number two position in a series • We sat in the second row. • the second house on the left • the author's second novel • B is the second letter in the alphabet. • That's the second time I've seen him today. • The office is on the second floor. [= (US) the floor just above the lowest floor; (Brit) the floor that is two floors above the lowest floor] b : next to the first in importance or rank • Chocolate is my first choice; vanilla is my second choice. • I won second prize.

c : another of the same kind • They needed a second car. [=they needed two cars] • The chair needs a second coat of paint. • The word has a second meaning. [=the word has two meanings] • She took a second helping [=she took another serving] of carrots. • English as a second language [=a language that you learn in addition to the language you first learned when you were a young child] • I could have fired him, but I gave him a second chance. [=I gave him another chance] • I recommend you get a second opinion. [=advice from another doctor to make sure the first advice is right] • He passed her by without (giving her) a second glance. [=he didn't notice her] • She liked the house enough to give it a second look. [=she looked at the house again]

2 — used to refer to the forward gear or speed of a vehicle that is next to the lowest forward gear • You should put the car in second gear when you go up the hill. — sometimes used figuratively • The movie never really gets out of second gear. • The program is shifting into second gear now that all the proposals have been approved.

3 : having or playing the part in a group of instruments that is one level lower than the first • She plays second violin in the city orchestra. — see also play second fiddle at FIDDLE every second — used to indicate how often a repeated activity happens or is done • We elect a mayor every second year. [=in alternate years; every other year]

second only to : only less important than (something or someone) • Rice is second only to corn as the state's major crop.

second to none see NONE

2 second adv

1 : in a position that only comes after one other in time, order, or importance • The university ranks second in the nation. • This is the second most common error made by job applicants. • Milan is Italy's second largest city. • I placed/finished second in the race. = (US) I came in second in the race. = (Brit) I came second in the race. • The misspelled word is in the second to last paragraph. [=in the paragraph that comes just before the last one] — see also SECOND BEST

2 — used to introduce a statement that is the second in a series of statements • It's pointless to plan a trip—first, we can't afford one, and second, we don't have time to take one.

3 second noun, pl -onds

1 [singular] : something that is second : the second thing in a series • His birthday is on the second of June. [=on June 2] • The win was his second of the year. — see also a close second at CLOSE

2 seconds [plural] : another serving of food taken after you are finished with the first serving • Who wants seconds?

3 [singular] : a statement made to support or approve a motion in a meeting • There's been a motion to vote on the proposal. Do I hear a second?

4 [count] : a product that is cheaper than normal because it is damaged or imperfect — usually plural • These curtains are seconds. • The store sells factory seconds.

5 [noncount] : the forward gear or speed in a vehicle that is one speed higher than first gear • Put the car/bicycle in second when you go up the hill.

6 [count] Brit : an undergraduate degree of the second highest level from a British university • He took/received a second in history.

7 [noncount] baseball : SECOND BASE • He stole second. • There's a runner on second.

8 [count] : a person whose job is to help someone who is fighting in a boxing match or duel

— compare 4 SECOND

4 second noun, pl -onds [count]

1 a : a unit of time that is equal to $\frac{1}{60}$ of a minute • There was a delay of several seconds. • a 30-second TV commercial • phone lines transmitting data at 1,200 bits per second • The sound came on for a second or two and then went off again. b informal : a very brief period of time • For a second (there) I thought you were kidding. • This will (just/only) take a second. • I'll be back in a second. [=I'll be back very soon] • I can't come right this second [=at this very moment] • “Did you enjoy her visit?” “I enjoyed every second” [=I enjoyed the entire visit] • I expect her back any second now. [=very soon] • It could happen at any second [=at any time] — see also SPLIT SECOND

2 technical : one of 60 equal parts into which a minute can be divided for measuring angles • 40 degrees, 27 minutes, and 45 seconds

just a second see 2 JUST

just this second see 2 JUST

— compare 3 SECOND

5 second verb sec-onds; sec-ond-ed; sec-ond-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to approve (something, such as a motion) during a meeting so that discussion or voting can begin • I would like to second the motion to adjourn. b informal : to agree with (a suggestion or statement) • “Let's call it a day.” “I'll second that.”

2 /sɪˈkɑːnd/ Brit : to move (someone) from a regular job to a different place, department, etc., for a short period of time — usually used as (be) seconded • She was seconded to the Birmingham office for six months.

— sec-ond-er noun, pl -ers [count] • Nomination forms must be signed by a nominator and a second-er.

1 sec-ond-ary /ˈsekənˌderi, Brit ˈsekəndri/ adj

1 : not as important or valuable as something else • Winning is secondary—we play for the fun of the sport. • There are some secondary issues/considerations which must be taken into account as well. • secondary goals • I want a car that's reliable; the color is of secondary importance. • The secondary roads are indicated on the map with a green line. — often + to • In some children's books, the text is secondary to the illustrations. — compare PRIMARY, TERTIARY

2 : of or relating to education of students who have completed primary school • This job requires at least a secondary [=high school] education. • a secondary English textbook — see also SECONDARY SCHOOL

3 : caused by or coming from something else • a secondary infection • Better gas mileage is a secondary benefit of reduced speed limits. • The biography uses mostly secondary sources. [=information that did not come from original/primary sources but came from research done by others]

— sec-ond-ari-ly /ˌsekənˈderəli/ adv • The building planners are only secondarily concerned with accessibility.

2 secondary noun, pl -aries [count] American football : the players on the defense who are positioned away from the line of scrimmage and who mainly try to stop forward passes by the offense • The team has a strong secondary.

secondary color noun, pl ~ -ors [count] : a color (such as green, orange, or purple) that is formed by mixing two primary colors

secondary school noun, pl ~ schools [count]

1 US : HIGH SCHOOL 1 • a job that requires at least a secondary school education

2 Brit : a school for children between the ages of 11 and 16 or 18 — compare PRIMARY SCHOOL

second banana noun, pl ~ -nanas [count] US, informal : a someone who is not as important or powerful as another person • an actor who always plays (the) second banana to some big star — compare TOP BANANA

second base noun [singular] baseball : the base that must be touched second by a base runner • He slid into second base.; also : the position of the player who defends the area near second base • He used to play second base for the Red Sox. — compare FIRST BASE, HOME PLATE, THIRD BASE

second baseman noun, pl ~ -men [count] baseball : the player who defends the area near second base : the fielder who plays second base second best noun [noncount] : something that is good but not the best • He won't settle for second best.

come off second best chiefly Brit : to finish in second place : to fail to win • Our team came off second best.

— sec-ond-best /ˌsekəndˈbest/ adj, always used before a noun • We were seated at the second-best table. • He was considered the team's second-best pitcher.

second childhood noun [noncount] : a time when an old person whose mind is failing begins to behave like a child again • an old man going through his second childhood

second class noun

1 [noncount] a : a level of service on a train, ship, etc., that is just below first class • The airline offers special services for travelers in first and second class. b : a class of mail in the U.S. that includes newspapers, magazines, etc. c : a class of mail in the UK that costs less and takes longer to arrive than first class

2 [singular] Brit : an undergraduate degree of the second highest level given by a British university • She got an upper second class in English at Oxford.

second-class adj

1 : of or relating to second class • a second-class seat • second-class postage

S

2 : normal for a certain time of year • seasonal decorations • I have seasonal allergies.

– sea·son·al·i·ty /ˌsiːzəˈnæləti/ noun [noncount] technical • We tracked the seasonality of rainfall levels. – sea·son·al·ly adv • The restaurant changes its menu seasonally.

seasonal affective disorder noun [noncount] medical : an illness that makes people feel sad and tired during the winter because there is less light during the day

seasoned adj

1 of food : having a lot of spices, herbs, salt, pepper, etc., added • a highly seasoned stew

2 always used before a noun : having a lot of experience doing something • a seasoned actor/writer/traveler

3 of wood : dry and ready for use • seasoned lumber

sea·son·ing /ˈsiːznɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings : a substance (such as salt, pepper, a spice, or an herb) that is used to add flavor to food [count] My favorite seasonings are black pepper and oregano. [noncount] Add some seasoning to the marinade. • The soup needs more seasoning.

season ticket noun, pl ~ -ets [count] : a ticket for a certain place, activity, or series of events (such as sports contests) that you can use many times during a particular period of time • I have/hold season tickets for our team's games. • I get a season ticket for the commuter train from my employer. • season ticket holders

¹seat /ˈsiːt/ noun, pl -seats

1 [count] : something (such as a chair) that you sit on : a place for sitting • There were seats for six people at the table. • an uncomfortable bicycle seat • a car with leather seats • He used the box as a seat. • He couldn't find his seat in the concert hall. • The city recently built a new 1,000-seat theater. • She booked/reserved a seat on the next flight to Rome. • Please have/take a seat [=please sit down] • The teacher asked us to take our seats. [=sit down in our usual or assigned places] — see picture at BICYCLE; see also BACKSEAT, CATBIRD SEAT

2 a [count] : the part of a chair or other piece of furniture that a person sits on • The stool's seat is broken. • The chairs have woven seats. b [singular] : the part of a piece of clothing (such as a skirt or pair of pants) that you sit on — + of • You have a tear in the seat of your pants. c [count] somewhat old-fashioned : the part of the body on which you sit • I fell off the horse and had a sore seat [=bottom] for weeks.

3 [count] : an official position within an organization and the right to be present when that organization meets • The Democrats gained two more seats in the last election. • She won a Senate seat. • a seat on the federal court • a seat on the board • (chiefly Brit) He took his seat [=began his official duties as a member] in Parliament.

4 [singular] a : a place or area where a particular activity, function, etc., occurs — + of • The university has been a seat of learning since the Middle Ages. • the part of the brain that is the seat of reasoning b : a place (such as a city) where the people who run a government, religion, etc., are based — + of • the seat of government/power • The Vatican is the seat of the Roman Catholic Church. — see also COUNTY SEAT

by the seat of your pants : by using your own judgment and feelings to deal with each new problem or task without planning, preparation, or help from others • He was running the company by the seat of his pants. • We were flying by the seat of our pants when we started our business.

— see also SEAT-OF-THE-PANTS

get/put bums on seats see ⁵BUM

in the driver's seat see DRIVER

on the edge of your seat see ¹EDGE

²seat verb seats; seat-ed; seat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to give (a person) a place to sit • I could seat you here if you wish. — often used as (be) seated • Please be seated. [=please sit down] • She was seated in the front row.

2 : to have enough seats for (a certain number of people) • The restaurant seats 120 (people). • The plans call for a stadium seating 30,000 people.

seat belt noun, pl ~ belts [count] : a strap on a vehicle's seat that holds a person in the seat if there is an accident • Fasten your seat belt. — see picture at CAR

seat·er /ˈsiːtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : something (such as a vehicle) that has a specified number of seats — used in combination • Our couch is a three-seater. — see also TWO-SEATER

seat-ing /ˈsiːtɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [noncount] : seats or places to sit • There won't be enough seating for everyone. • The auditorium has seating for 400. •

There is additional seating on the deck. • The auditorium has a seating capacity of 400. • Here is the seating arrangement/plan [=a plan that shows where people should sit] for our wedding reception.

2 [count] : a scheduled time when people are allowed into a performance, a meal, etc. • There are two seatings for tea. • We bought tickets for the 5:30 seating of the show.

seat·mate /ˈsiːt,meɪt/ noun, pl -mates [count] US : a person who sits next to you in a bus, airplane, etc. • My seatmate on the flight to Rome was very friendly.

seat-of-the-pants adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US : done or made by using your own judgment and feelings without planning, preparation, or help from others • It was a seat-of-the-pants decision.

sea turtle noun, pl ~ turtles [count] : a type of large turtle that lives in the sea

sea urchin noun, pl ~ -chins [count] : a small sea animal that lives on the ocean floor and is covered in sharp spines

sea·wall /ˈsiː,wɔːl/ noun, pl -walls [count] : a wall built to keep sea waves from coming up onto land sea·ward /ˈsiːwəd/ also sea·wards /ˈsiːwədz/ adv : toward the sea • We drifted seaward. • She gazed seaward.

– seaward adj, always used before a noun • the seaward slope of the mountain

sea·wa·ter /ˈsiː,wɑːtə/ noun [noncount] : water in or from the sea

sea·weed /ˈsiː,wɪːd/ noun, pl -weeds [count, noncount] : a type of plant that grows in the sea sea·wor·thy /ˈsiː,wəðɪ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : fit or safe to travel on the sea • a seaworthy ship — compare AIRWORTHY, ROADWORTHY – sea·wor·thi·ness /ˈsiː,wəðɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • He doubted the ship's seaworthiness.

se·ba·ceous /sɪˈbeɪʃəs/ adj, always used before a noun, biology : producing an oily substance in the body • sebaceous glands

¹sec abbr 1 second, seconds • 2 min, 45 sec 2 section • Sec 2, Row K, Seat 45 3 Sec. secretary • Sec. of Internal Affairs

²sec /ˈsek/ noun [singular] informal : a very brief time : SEC·OND • Wait just a sec.

SEC abbr, US Securities and Exchange Commission ♦ The Securities and Exchange Commission is a part of the U.S. federal government that enforces laws about securities like stocks.

sec·a·teurs /ˌsekəˈtəz/ noun [plural] Brit : PRUNING SHEARS

se·cede /sɪˈsiːd/ verb -cedes; -ced·ed; -ced·ing [no obj] : to separate from a nation or state and become independent • South Carolina seceded from the Union in 1860.

se·ces·sion /sɪˈseɪʃən/ noun, pl -sions [count] : the act of separating from a nation or state and becoming independent • the secession of the Southern states

se·ces·sion·ist /sɪˈseɪʃənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who thinks that a nation, state, etc., should separate from another and become independent

se·clude /sɪˈkluːd/ verb -cludes; -clud·ed; -clud·ing [+ obj] : to keep (someone) away from other people • He secluded himself in his room to study for the exam.

secluded adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : hidden from view : private and not used or seen by many people • a secluded beach • We looked for a secluded spot in the park to have our picnic.

2 : placed apart from other people • She led a secluded [=solitary] life on the family farm.

se·clu·sion /sɪˈkluːzən/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act of placing or keeping someone away from other people : the act of secluding someone • the seclusion of women that occurs in some countries

2 : the state of being away from other people : a secluded state or condition • I enjoyed the seclusion of the island. • After his wife died he lived in seclusion. [=he lived by himself and kept away from other people]

¹sec·ond /ˈsekənd/ adj, always used before a noun

1 a : occupying the number two position in a series • We sat in the second row. • the second house on the left • the author's second novel • B is the second letter in the alphabet. • That's the second time I've seen him today. • The office is on the second floor. [= (US) the floor just above the lowest floor; (Brit) the floor that is two floors above the lowest floor] b : next to the first in importance or rank • Chocolate is my first choice; vanilla is my second choice. • I won second prize.

c : another of the same kind • They needed a second car. [=they needed two cars] • The chair needs a second coat of paint. • The word has a second meaning. [=the word has two meanings] • She took a second helping [=she took another serving] of carrots. • English as a second language [=a language that you learn in addition to the language you first learned when you were a young child] • I could have fired him, but I gave him a second chance. [=I gave him another chance] • I recommend you get a second opinion. [=advice from another doctor to make sure the first advice is right] • He passed her by without (giving her) a second glance. [=he didn't notice her] • She liked the house enough to give it a second look. [=she looked at the house again]

2 — used to refer to the forward gear or speed of a vehicle that is next to the lowest forward gear • You should put the car in second gear when you go up the hill. — sometimes used figuratively • The movie never really gets out of second gear. • The program is shifting into second gear now that all the proposals have been approved.

3 : having or playing the part in a group of instruments that is one level lower than the first • She plays second violin in the city orchestra. — see also play second fiddle at ¹FIDDLE
every second — used to indicate how often a repeated activity happens or is done • We elect a mayor every second year. [=in alternate years; every other year]

second only to : only less important than (something or someone) • Rice is second only to corn as the state's major crop.

second to none see ¹NONE

²second adv

1 : in a position that only comes after one other in time, order, or importance • The university ranks second in the nation. • This is the second most common error made by job applicants. • Milan is Italy's second largest city. • I placed/finished second in the race. = (US) I came in second in the race. = (Brit) I came second in the race. • The misspelled word is in the second to last paragraph. [=in the paragraph that comes just before the last one] — see also SECOND BEST

2 — used to introduce a statement that is the second in a series of statements • It's pointless to plan a trip—first, we can't afford one, and second, we don't have time to take one.

³second noun, pl -onds

1 [singular] : something that is second : the second thing in a series • His birthday is on the second of June. [=on June 2] • The win was his second of the year. — see also a close second at ²CLOSE

2 seconds [plural] : another serving of food taken after you are finished with the first serving • Who wants seconds?

3 [singular] : a statement made to support or approve a motion in a meeting • There's been a motion to vote on the proposal. Do I hear a second?

4 [count] : a product that is cheaper than normal because it is damaged or imperfect — usually plural • These curtains are seconds. • The store sells factory seconds.

5 [noncount] : the forward gear or speed in a vehicle that is one speed higher than first gear • Put the car/bicycle in second when you go up the hill.

6 [count] Brit : an undergraduate degree of the second highest level from a British university • He took/received a second in history.

7 [noncount] baseball : SECOND BASE • He stole second. • There's a runner on second.

8 [count] : a person whose job is to help someone who is fighting in a boxing match or duel

— compare ⁴SECOND

⁴second noun, pl -onds [count]

1 a : a unit of time that is equal to 1/60 of a minute • There was a delay of several seconds. • a 30-second TV commercial • phone lines transmitting data at 1,200 bits per second • The sound came on for a second or two and then went off again. b informal : a very brief period of time • For a second (there) I thought you were kidding. • This will (just/only) take a second. • I'll be back in a second. [=I'll be back very soon] • I can't come right this second [=at this very moment] • "Did you enjoy her visit?" "I enjoyed every second" [=I enjoyed the entire visit] • I expect her back any second now. [=very soon] • It could happen at any second [=at any time] — see also SPLIT SECOND

2 technical : one of 60 equal parts into which a minute can be divided for measuring angles • 40 degrees, 27 minutes, and 45 seconds

just a second see ²JUST

just this second see ²JUST

— compare ³SECOND

⁵second verb sec-onds; sec-ond-ed; sec-ond-ing [+obj]

1 a : to approve (something, such as a motion) during a meeting so that discussion or voting can begin • I would like to second the motion to adjourn. b informal : to agree with (a suggestion or statement) • "Let's call it a day." "I'll second that."

2 /sɪˈkɑːnd/ Brit : to move (someone) from a regular job to a different place, department, etc., for a short period of time — usually used as (be) seconded • She was seconded to the Birmingham office for six months.

— sec-ond-er noun, pl -ers [count] • Nomination forms must be signed by a nominator and a second-er.

¹sec-ond-ary /ˈsekənˌderi, Brit ˈsekəndri/ adj

1 : not as important or valuable as something else • Winning is secondary—we play for the fun of the sport. • There are some secondary issues/considerations which must be taken into account as well. • secondary goals • I want a car that's reliable; the color is of secondary importance. • The secondary roads are indicated on the map with a green line. — often + to • In some children's books, the text is secondary to the illustrations. — compare PRIMARY, TERTIARY

2 : of or relating to education of students who have completed primary school • This job requires at least a secondary [=high school] education. • a secondary English textbook — see also SECONDARY SCHOOL

3 : caused by or coming from something else • a secondary infection • Better gas mileage is a secondary benefit of reduced speed limits. • The biography uses mostly secondary sources. [=information that did not come from original/primary sources but came from research done by others]

— sec-ond-ari-ly /ˌsekənˈderəli/ adv • The building planners are only secondarily concerned with accessibility.

²secondary noun, pl -aries [count] American football : the players on the defense who are positioned away from the line of scrimmage and who mainly try to stop forward passes by the offense • The team has a strong secondary.

secondary color noun, pl ~ -ors [count] : a color (such as green, orange, or purple) that is formed by mixing two primary colors

secondary school noun, pl ~ schools [count]

1 US : HIGH SCHOOL 1 • a job that requires at least a secondary school education

2 Brit : a school for children between the ages of 11 and 16 or 18 — compare PRIMARY SCHOOL

second banana noun, pl ~ -nanas [count] US, informal : a someone who is not as important or powerful as another person • an actor who always plays (the) second banana to some big star — compare TOP BANANA

second base noun [singular] baseball : the base that must be touched second by a base runner • He slid into second base.; also : the position of the player who defends the area near second base • He used to play second base for the Red Sox. — compare FIRST BASE, HOME PLATE, THIRD BASE

second baseman noun, pl ~ -men [count] baseball : the player who defends the area near second base : the fielder who plays second base

second best noun [noncount] : something that is good but not the best • He won't settle for second best.

come off second best chiefly Brit : to finish in second place : to fail to win • Our team came off second best.

— sec-ond-best /ˌsekəndˈbest/ adj, always used before a noun • We were seated at the second-best table. • He was considered the team's second-best pitcher.

second childhood noun [noncount] : a time when an old person whose mind is failing begins to behave like a child again • an old man going through his second childhood

second class noun

1 [noncount] a : a level of service on a train, ship, etc., that is just below first class • The airline offers special services for travelers in first and second class. b : a class of mail in the U.S. that includes newspapers, magazines, etc. c : a class of mail in the UK that costs less and takes longer to arrive than first class

2 [singular] Brit : an undergraduate degree of the second highest level given by a British university • She got an upper second class in English at Oxford.

second-class adj

1 : of or relating to second class • a second-class seat • second-class postage

2 a : not given the same rights or treatment as the rest of the people in a society • They complained that they were being treated like second-class citizens. [=being treated as if they were less important and deserving of respect than other people] b : not of the best quality • They received second-class treatment. • a second-class mind/intellect — second-class adv • She always travels second-class.

Second Coming noun

the Second Coming : the time when Christians believe that Jesus Christ will return to judge humanity at the end of the world

second cousin noun, pl ~ -sins [count] : a child of your parent's cousin • Susan is my second cousin. — compare FIRST COUSIN

second-degree adj, always used before a noun

1 US, of a crime : of a level of seriousness that is less than first-degree : deserving punishment but not the most severe punishment • second-degree assault/murder

2 : causing a moderate level of injury • He received/suffered second-degree burns. • a second-degree concussion — compare FIRST-DEGREE, THIRD-DEGREE

— second degree noun [singular] US • He was charged with assault in the second degree.

sec·ond·guess /ˌsekəndˈges/ verb — -guess-es; -guessed; -guess-ing [+ obj]

1 US : to criticize or question the actions or decisions of someone • Don't second-guess the umpire. = Don't second-guess the umpire's decision.

2 : to try to guess or predict what (someone or something) will do • He gave up trying to second-guess the stock market.

— sec·ond·guess·er noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly US • He received criticism from second-guessers in the media.

sec·ond·hand /ˌsekəndˈhænd/ adj

1 a : having had a previous owner : USED • He buys second-hand CDs. • a dealer in secondhand furniture b : buying or selling things that have already been owned or used • He's always haunting the secondhand shops for bargains. • a second-hand bookstore

2 : not original : taken from someone who was not directly involved • secondhand information/reports — compare FIRSTHAND

— secondhand adv • She buys all her clothes secondhand. • I heard about the news secondhand.

second hand noun, pl ~ hands [count] : the hand that marks the seconds on a watch or clock — compare hour hand, minute hand secondhand smoke noun [noncount] : smoke from a cigarette, cigar, pipe, etc., that can be inhaled by people who are near the person who is smoking second-in-command noun, pl seconds-in-command [count] : someone who is ranked second in a group or organization • He served as second-in-command to the sheriff. • the police chief's second-in-command second lieutenant noun, pl ~ -ants [count] : an officer in the U.S. Army, Air Force, or Marine Corps who ranks below a first lieutenant sec·ond·ly /ˌsekəndli/ adv — used to introduce a statement that is the second statement in a series • I'm moving because, for one thing, my apartment is too small, and, secondly, I found one closer to my job. — compare FIRSTLY, THIRDLY se·cond·ment /sɪˈkɑːndmənt/ noun [noncount] Brit : a period of time when you are away from your regular job while you do another job • She returned to London after her secondment in/to Birmingham.

second nature noun [noncount] : something you can do easily or without much thought because you have done it many times before • After a while, using the gearshift becomes second nature.

second person noun [noncount]

1 grammar : a set of words or forms (such as pronouns or verb forms) that refer to the person that the speaker or writer is addressing — often used before another noun • “You” is the second person singular and plural pronoun in English.

2 : a writing style that uses second person pronouns and verbs • The author begins the story in the second person with the sentence “You open the door and step into the room.” — compare FIRST PERSON, THIRD PERSON

sec·ond·rate /ˌsekəndˈreɪt/ adj : not very good : of ordinary or inferior quality • a second-rate education • The meal was only second-rate.

sec·ond·string /ˌsekəndˈstrɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US, sports : not used as one of the regular players on a team • a second-string quarterback — compare FIRST-STRING

— second stringer noun, pl ~ -ers [count] chiefly US

second thought noun, pl ~ thoughts [count] : a feeling of guilt, doubt, worry, etc., that you have after you have decided to do something or after something has happened • After she agreed to lend him the money, she had second thoughts. • She was having second thoughts about getting married. • They throw away perfectly good food without (so much as) a second thought. [=without worrying about it] • Don't give a second thought to [=don't worry about] that broken vase. • He hardly gave it a second thought.

on second thought (US) or Brit on second thoughts : after thinking about something again • On second thought, I think I'll go after all.

second wind noun [singular] : a feeling of new energy that allows you to continue to do something after you had begun to feel tired • The sight of the finish line gave the runners a second wind. • He suddenly got his second wind and was able to complete the project on time.

se·cre·cy /ˈsiːkrəsi/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act of keeping information secret • She swore him to secrecy. [=made him promise to keep a secret]

2 : the quality or state of being hidden or secret • The project was cloaked/shrouded in secrecy. [=the true nature of the project was kept secret]

se·cret /ˈsiːkrət/ adj

1 : kept hidden from others : known to only a few people • the robbers' secret hideout • a secret compartment/passage/cave • a secret formula/ingredient • Her secret wish is to become a senator. • The message was written in secret code. • I don't know the secret password. • He was sent on a secret mission. • They engaged in secret negotiations with the enemy. • She tried to keep her marriage secret. • She has a secret admirer. [=someone admires her but she does not know who it is] • She has a secret lover. [=a lover that no one else knows about] — see also SECRET AGENT, SECRET POLICE, SECRET SERVICE, TOP SECRET

2 [more ~; most ~] : keeping information hidden from others : SECRETIVE • They've been very secret about their plans. — se·cret·ly adv • She wrote to him secretly. • He was secretly delighted by their decision. • They got married secretly.

secret noun, pl -crets [count]

1 : a fact or piece of information that is kept hidden from other people • Don't tell him about the party—it's a secret. • I'm going to tell you a secret, but you have to promise not to tell anyone else. • They're getting married. The secret is out. [=everyone now knows that they're getting married] • He knows how to keep a secret. [=if you tell him a secret he won't tell it to anyone else] • This wine may be Italy's best-kept secret. [=something very good that not many people know about] • It's no secret [=many people know] that he has connections to the Mafia. • I'll let you in on a (little) secret. [=I'll tell you a secret] • The report disclosed the company's dirty little secret. [=something bad that the company does not want people to know] • Don't worry. Your secret is safe with me. [=I won't tell anyone your secret] — see also TRADE SECRET

2 : a special or unusual way of doing something to achieve a good result • You always look great. What's your secret? • She shared her beauty secrets with the group. • The secret to/of a good sauce is the base. • What is the secret to your success? [=why are you so successful?]

3 : something that cannot be explained • the secrets of the universe • one of nature's greatest secrets

in secret : in a private place or manner • They met in secret. [=secretly] make no secret of : to show or express (something) openly : to not try to hide (something) • She made no secret of her dislike for him.

secret agent noun, pl ~ agents [count] : a person who tries to get secret information about another country, government, etc. • He was accused of being a secret agent for a foreign government.

sec·re·tar·i·at /ˌsekrəˈteriət/ noun, pl -ats [count] : a department in a governmental organization that is headed by a secretary or a secretary-general • the United Nations secretariat

sec·re·tary /ˈsekrəˌteri, Brit ˈsekrətri/ noun, pl -tar·ies [count]

1 : a person whose job is to handle records, letters, etc., for another person in an office • You can set up an appointment with my secretary. • He works as a legal secretary. • She is our executive/administrative secretary. [=a secretary with some management duties] — see also PRESS SECRETARY

2 : a person in a club or other organization who is in charge of keeping letters and records • He was the club's secretary.

3 a US : an official who is selected by the President and is in charge of a particular department of the government • the Secretary of Commerce • the Treasury Secretary b Brit : a government official who helps a minister, an ambassador, etc. • He is a junior secretary at the embassy. c Brit : SECRETARY OF STATE 2 — see also FOREIGN SECRETARY

— sec-re-tar-i-al /ˌsɛkrə'terijəl/ adj • secretarial duties

Secretary-General noun, pl Secretaries-General [count] : an official who is in charge of an organization • the Secretary-General of the United Nations

Secretary of State noun, pl Secretaries of State [count]

1 : the head of the U.S. government department that is in charge of how the country relates to and deals with foreign countries • The President appointed the Secretary of State.

2 : the head of one of several important departments of the British government • the Secretary of State for Home Affairs

¹se-crete /sɪ'kri:t/ verb -cretes; -cret-ed; -cret-ing [+ obj] biology : to produce and give off (a liquid) • glands that secrete saliva — compare ²SECRETE

²secrete verb -cretes; -creted; -creting [+ obj] somewhat formal : to put (something) in a hidden place • He secreted [=hid] the money under the mattress. — compare ¹SECRETE

se-cre-tion /sɪ'kri:ʃən/ noun, pl -tions biology

1 [noncount] : the production of a liquid by part of a plant or animal • the secretion of stomach acids • insulin secretion

2 [count] : a substance produced and given off by a plant or animal part • gastric secretions • root secretions that repel insects se-cre-tive /sɪ'krətɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not letting people see or know what you are doing or thinking : tending to act in secret • a highly secretive organization • He's very secretive about his work.

— se-cre-tive-ness noun [noncount]

secret police noun

the secret police : a police organization that is run by a government and that operates in a secret way to control the actions of people who oppose the government secret service noun

1 the Secret Service : a U.S. government department in charge of protecting elected leaders of the U.S. and visiting leaders

2 [singular] : a government department that protects a country's secrets and obtains secret information about other countries • the British secret service

sect /'sekt/ noun, pl sects [count]

1 : a religious group that is a smaller part of a larger group and whose members all share similar beliefs • Buddhist sects • a sect of Judaism

2 : a religious or political group that is connected to a larger group but that has beliefs that differ greatly from those of the main group • a fundamentalist Christian sect • radical Muslim sects

sec-tar-i-an /sek'terijən/ adj : relating to religious or political sects and the differences between them • sectarian movements • The country was split along sectarian lines. • sectarian violence

— sec-tar-i-an-ism /sek'terijənɪzəm/ noun [noncount] • The country was split by sectarianism.

¹sec-tion /'sekfən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] a : one of the parts that form something • the upper section of the bridge • This section of the road is closed. b : a particular area that is part of a larger place • the frozen food section in the supermarket • the library's reference section • the Crown Heights section of Brooklyn • Do you want to sit in the nonsmoking section? c : a part of a newspaper, play, book, etc. • Can I see the sports section (of the newspaper)? • The dictionary includes a section on signs and symbols. • Section 1123 of the bankruptcy code d : a part of a group of people • ads that target one section of the population • He had his own cheering section in the stands. [=his own group of people who were cheering for him]

2 [count] : one of several parts made so that something can be put together easily • The siding comes in five-foot sections.

3 [count] : a part of a band or orchestra that has instruments of a particular kind • the brass section • the rhythm section

4 [count] US : one of the parts of an orange, grapefruit, or similar fruit that can be easily separated from each other • a section of grapefruit — see color picture on page C5

5 [count] medical : a layer cut from a part of the body • He examined tissue sections of the brain under a microscope. — see also CESAREAN SECTION

6 a [noncount] : a diagram showing how something would look if it was cut from the top to the bottom : CROSS SECTION • a drawing of a ship in section b [count] mathematics : a shape that is made when a line cuts through a solid figure • a conical section

7 [count] US : a piece of land that is one mile wide and one mile long

²section verb -tions; -tioned; -tion-ing [+ obj]

1 : to divide (something) into parts • Peel and section the orange. • Section the chicken and marinate the parts.

2 Brit : to officially send (a mentally ill person) to a psychiatric hospital • She was sectioned by the judge.

section off [phrasal verb] section (something) off or section off (something) : to separate (an area) from a larger area • Part of the field was sectioned off for parking.

¹sec-tion-al /'sekfənəl/ adj

1 : showing how something would look if it were cut from the top to the bottom • a sectional drawing/view of a ship

2 : concerned only with one part of a group or community • sectional [= (more commonly) local] interests • sectional conflict

3 : made up of sections that can be put together or taken apart easily • sectional shelving

²sectional noun, pl -als [count] US : a type of long seat (called a sofa) that has three or more separate sections • a leather sectional — called also sectional sofa

sec-tion-al-ism /'sekfənəlɪzəm/ noun [noncount] chiefly US : a tendency to be more concerned with the interests of your particular group or region than with the problems and interests of the larger group, country, etc. • a nation divided by sectionalism

sec-tor /'sektə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

1 : an area of an economy : a part of an economy that includes certain kinds of jobs • the industrial/agricultural/service sector — see also PRIVATE SECTOR, PUBLIC SECTOR

2 : an area for which someone (such as a military commander) is responsible • He was assigned to the northern sector.

3 computers : one of the parts that a computer disk is divided into • Data is stored on the disk in 512-byte sectors.

4 geometry : an area in a circle that lies between two straight lines drawn from the center of the circle to the edge of the circle • a 90-degree sector

sec-u-lar /'sekjələ/ adj

1 a [more ~; most ~] : not spiritual : of or relating to the physical world and not the spiritual world • secular concerns b : not religious • secular music • a secular society • Both secular and religious institutions can apply for the funds. c : of, relating to, or controlled by the government rather than by the church : CIVIL • secular courts

2 — used to describe a member of the clergy who lives in ordinary society and not in a monastery • a secular priest secular humanism noun [noncount] chiefly US : HUMANISM; especially : humanism viewed as a system of values and beliefs that are opposed to the values and beliefs of traditional religions — secular humanist noun, pl ~ -ists [count]

sec-u-lar-ism /'sekjələɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : the belief that religion should not play a role in government, education, or other public parts of society

— sec-u-lar-ist /'sekjələɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]

— secularist or sec-u-lar-is-tic /'sekjələɪstɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • the more secularist wing of the party • a secularistic view

sec-u-lar-ize also Brit sec-u-lar-ise /'sekjələraɪz/ verb -izes; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj]

1 : to take religion out of (something) : to make (something) secular • attempts to secularize the government • a secularized society

2 : to transfer the ownership or control of (something) from a religious organization to the state • The government secularized the hospital.

— sec-u-lar-i-za-tion also Brit sec-u-lar-i-sa-tion /'sekjələraɪzəʃən, Brit 'sekjələraɪzeɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

¹se-cure /sɪ'kjə/ adj se-cur-er; -est [or more ~; most ~]

1 a : protected from danger or harm • We need to make our network more secure against attacks by hackers. • The children were safe and secure in their beds. • A safe is provided go] • He kissed her goodbye and saw her onto the plane. [=he watched her get onto the plane] — see also SEE OFF (below) 16 [+ obj] : to help or support (someone or something) for a particular period of time • We had enough supplies to see us (out) to the end of winter. [=the supplies were enough to last until the end of winter] — usually + through • The support of his friends saw him through his depression. [=helped him to get through his depression] • The legislators vowed to see the bill through Congress to make sure that it became a law. • They have enough money to see them through.

17 [+ obj] : to make a bet that is equal to (another player's bet) in poker • I'll see your 10 and raise you 10. • I'll see you and raise 10.

has seen better days see ¹BETTER

I'll be seeing you informal — used to say goodbye

let me see, let's see see ¹LET

long time no see see ¹LONG

not see the forest/wood for the trees see TREE

see about [phrasal verb] see about (something) 1 : to do what is required for (something) : to deal with (something) • She is seeing about getting tickets to the concert. • I should see about [=attend to] dinner soon. 2 we'll (soon) see about that — used in speech to say that you are not going to allow someone to do something or to behave in a particular way • “He says that he's not going.” “Well, we'll (soon) see about that.”

see after [phrasal verb] see after (someone or something) : to take care of (someone or something) • See after [=look after] the baggage, while I see if our flight is on time. • Can you see after the baby for me?

see and be seen : to see and be noticed by important or fashionable people • We go to the club to see and be seen.

see around/round [phrasal verb] see around/round (something) Brit : to move about while looking at (something) : to tour (something) • If you'd like to see around [=look around] the factory, someone can accompany you.

see double see ⁴DOUBLE

see eye to eye : to have the same opinion : AGREE — usually used in negative statements • They don't see eye to eye on this issue.

see fit see ¹FIT

see here — used to introduce a statement when you want someone to notice what you are saying • See here [=look here], you need to start behaving more responsibly.

see if I care see ²CARE

see in [phrasal verb] see (something) in (someone or something) : to notice or perceive (something good or attractive) in (someone or something) • She saw great musical talent in her son. • I think their plan is crazy, but he apparently sees something in it. • I can't understand what she sees in him. = I don't know what she sees in him. [=I don't know why she likes/admires him]

seeing is believing see BELIEVE

see off [phrasal verb] see (someone) off or see off (someone) 1 : to go to an airport, train station, etc., with (someone who is leaving) in order to say goodbye • She saw him off at the train station. 2 Brit a : to chase or force (someone) away from a place • The police finally saw them off. b : to defeat or stop (an enemy, opponent, etc.) • They saw off the opposition.

see out [phrasal verb] see (something) out : to continue to work at (something) until it is completed • He saw the project out to its very end.

see over [phrasal verb] see over (something) Brit : to walk around and examine (a place) carefully • They went to see the house over. [=look the house over]

see red see ²RED

see stars see ¹STAR

see the back of see ¹BACK

see the light, see the light of day see ¹LIGHT

see things : to see things that do not really exist : HALLUCINATE • There's no one there—you must be seeing things.

see through [phrasal verb] 1 see through (someone or something) : to realize the true nature of (someone or something) • She saw through his lies. [=she knew he was lying] • I can't lie to her—she'd see right through me. 2 see (something) through : to continue to work at (something) until it is completed • He saw the project through to the end. — see also ¹SEE 16 (above)

see to [phrasal verb] 1 see to (something) : to do or provide what is needed for (something) • His uncle saw to his education. [=his uncle made the necessary payments, arrangements, etc., for his education] • The hotel staff saw to

[=attended to] my every need. : to deal with (something) • I have to see to [=attend to] dinner. • I'll see to your order at once. • You really ought to have that rash seen to by a doctor. 2 see to it : to make sure that something is done • Can you see to it that everyone gets a copy of this memo?

see you or see you around or see you later informal — used to say goodbye • “I guess I'll be going now.” “OK. (I'll) See you later.”

see your way (clear) to see ¹WAY what/who should you see but see SHOULD

²*see* noun, pl sees formal

1 [count] : the area in which a bishop has authority : DIOCESE

2 [noncount] : the authority or power of a bishop

3 [count] : the office of a bishop

¹*seed* /'si:d/ noun, pl seeds

1 : a small object produced by a plant from which a new plant can grow [count] a packet of sunflower seeds • He planted/sowed the seeds three inches apart. • (US) apple/orange seeds [= (Brit) pips] [noncount] She raked the grass seed into the soil. • She grows her plants from seed. [=by planting seeds rather than by some other method] — see color picture on page C5

2 [count] : the beginning of something which continues to develop or grow • Her comment planted/sowed a seed of doubt in his mind. [=caused him to begin to have doubts] • The government's policies planted/sowed the seeds of war/destruction. [=created a situation that led to war/destruction]

3 [count] : a player or team that is ranked as one of the best in a competition (such as a tennis tournament) in order to be sure that the best players or teams do not play against each other in the early part of the competition • The top seed won the tournament. • Our team is the number one seed. • She is ranked as the third seed.

4 [noncount] a literary : all the children, grandchildren, etc., of a particular man • the seed of Abraham b old-fashioned + humorous : a man's semen • a man spreading his seed [=fathering many children] go to seed or run to seed 1 : to produce seeds • The flowers will go to seed and spread. • The plant runs to seed rapidly in hot weather. 2 : to become less attractive, effective, etc., because of age or lack of care • He let himself go to seed after he lost his job.

²*seed* verb seeds; seed-ed; seed-ing

1 [+ obj] : to plant (an area of ground) with seeds • We seeded the field with corn. • a newly seeded lawn

2 [no obj] of a plant : to produce seeds • These plants will seed late in the fall.

3 [+ obj] : to remove (seeds) from a fruit or vegetable • After you wash and seed the peppers you can chop them.

4 [+ obj] : to give (a player or team) a particular rank which shows how likely that person or team is to win a competition (such as a tennis tournament) — usually used as (be) seeded • The team/player was seeded first/last in the tournament. • the top-seeded player seed itself of a plant : to produce new plants from its own seeds • This plant spreads quickly because it seeds itself.

³*seed* adj, always used before a noun : used for producing a new crop of plants • seed corn/potatoes seed-bed /'si:d,bed/ noun, pl -beds [count] : an area of soil prepared for planting seeds — sometimes used figuratively • a seedbed for innovation [=a place/situation in which innovation can occur]

seed-less /'si:dləs/ adj : having no seeds inside • seedless grapes • a seedless orange seed-ling /'si:dlɪŋ/ noun, pl -lings [count] : a young plant that is grown from seed seed money noun [noncount] : money that is used for starting a new business, program, project, etc. • He provided seed money for the campaign. — called also seed capital seedy /'si:di/ adj seed-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : dirty or in bad condition • a seedy motel • He was wearing a seedy suit.

2 : not respectable or decent • a seedy bar • a seedy area of the city

3 : having bad morals : DISHONEST • a seedy lawyer

4 : having a lot of seeds • seedy fruit

see-ing /'si:jɪŋ/ conj — used to explain the reason for a statement • Seeing how often she gets into trouble [=since she gets into trouble so often], I don't think we should help her this time. — often + that or as • There's not much we can do, seeing that [=since] they've already made their decision. • See- ing as you've met my family, don't you think I should meet yours? • Seeing as how [=since] I'm not busy right now, I can help you.

Seeing Eye trademark, US — used for a dog that is trained to guide a blind person seek /'si:k/ verb seeks; sought /'sɔ:t/; seek-ing [+ obj] somewhat formal

1 : to search for (someone or something) : to try to find (someone or something) • He is seeking employment. [=he is looking for a job] • The office is seeking a salesperson. • The prince is seeking a wife. • Snakes seek the sun to warm their bodies. • thrill-seeking travelers [=travelers who want to have very exciting/thrilling experiences]

2 : to ask for (help, advice, etc.) • You should visit your doctor and seek his advice. • You should seek medical help immediately if you experience any chest pain or shortness of breath. • The church is seeking donations/volunteers.

3 a : to try to get or achieve (something) • He sought revenge for his son's murder. • During the war, she sought asylum in Spain. • They sought refuge in Canada. • The company is seeking new ways to improve service. • The mayor is seeking reelection. • She seeks perfection in her work. • attention-seeking behavior • Immigrants come to America to seek their fortune. [=to try to become rich] • They are seeking compensation/damages [=they are trying to get money] for their loss. b : to make an attempt to do something • Doctors have been seeking [=trying] to find a cure. • The builders sought to make the bridge stronger.

seek out [phrasal verb] seek (someone or something) out or seek out (someone or something) : to search for and find (someone or something) • His parents sought out the best doctors in the field. • White blood cells seek out and destroy infections.

— see also HEAT-SEEKING

— seek-er noun, pl -ers [count] • seekers of perfection • job/thrill/pleasure/autograph seekers

seem /'si:m/ verb seems; seemed; seem-ing [linking verb]

1 : to appear to be something or to do something : to have a quality, appearance, etc., that shows or suggests a particular characteristic, feeling, etc. • She seemed happy. • He didn't seem interested. • Their request seems reasonable/strange. • What they're doing doesn't seem right to me. • The letter seems important. • Her story seems true. — often followed by to + verb • Her story seems to be true. • She seems to know our secret. [=I have the feeling/impression that she knows our secret] • He didn't seem to remember that part of the story. — often used in the phrases seem like, seem as if, and seem as though • He seems like a nice man. = He seems (to be) a nice man. • We waited for what seemed like hours. • Buying a new car seemed like a good idea at the time. • It seemed as if/though the work would never end.

2 — used with it to make a statement about what appears to be true based on what is known • It seems (that) they forgot about the meeting. • The concert will not take place, it seems. • “Are we on schedule?” “So it seems.” [=yes, I think that we are on schedule] • They are very rude, or so it seems (to me).

3 — used to make a statement less definite or more polite; followed by to + verb • I seem to remember that you said you'd help me. — often used in negative statements • I can't seem to solve the problem. [=I have tried to solve the problem, but I can't] • I couldn't seem to hit the ball straight. • What seems to be the problem? [=what is the problem?]

seem-ing /'si:mɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun, somewhat formal : appearing to be true but not being true or certain : APPARENT • Parents discussed the teacher's seeming lack of interest in the students. • I was fooled by the seeming simplicity of the instructions.

— seem-ing-ly adv • seemingly contradictory statements [=statements that seem to be contradictory] • a seemingly impossible stunt • a seemingly simple job

seem-ly /'si:mlɪ/ adj seem-li-er; -est [or more ~; most ~] formal + old-fashioned : proper or appropriate for the situation • seemly behavior • a seemly reply — opposite UNSEEMLY seen past participle of ¹SEE

seep /'si:p/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition seeps; seeped; seep-ing [no obj] : to flow or pass slowly through small openings in something • Blood was seeping through the bandage. • The chemicals seeped into the ground. • Water was seeping in (through the cracks). — sometimes used figuratively • The secret seeped out.

seep-age /'si:pɪdʒ/ noun, pl -ag-es formal : an occurrence in which a liquid or gas flows or passes slowly through small openings [count] gas/oil seepages • the seepage of water [noncount] Check for seepage in the basement.

seer /'siə/ noun, pl seers [count] : someone who predicts things that will happen in the future • prophets and seers • political seers [=people who make predictions about politics]

seer-suck-er /'siə,sʌkə/ noun [noncount] : a light type of cloth that has an uneven surface and a pattern of lines — often used before another noun • a seersucker dress/jacket/suit

¹see-saw /'si:,sɔ:/ noun, pl -saws

1 [count] : a long, flat board that is balanced in the middle so that when one end goes up the other end goes down. ◇ Children play on a seesaw by sitting on each of its ends and moving each other up and down by pushing off the ground with their feet. • Let's play/ride on the seesaw. — called also (US) teeter-totter; see picture at PLAYGROUND

2 [singular] : a situation in which something keeps changing from one state to another and back again • Their relationship was an emotional seesaw. — often used before another noun • a seesaw battle for power • a seesaw economy

²seesaw verb -saws; -sawed; -saw-ing [no obj] : to keep changing from one state or condition to another and then back again • The lead seesawed between the two runners right up to the finish line. • Stock prices have continued to seesaw. [=to go up and down]

seethe /'si:ð/ verb seethes; seethed; seeth-ing [no obj]

1 : to feel or show strong emotion (such as anger) even though you try to control it • He seethed at his brother's success. — often + with • He seethed with anger/jealousy. • The letter seethes with resentment. • a seething letter

2 : to be in a state of constant activity • We found ourselves in the middle of a seething crowd. — often used as (be) seething with • The island is seething with tourists. [=there are very many tourists moving around on the island] • The field was seething with crickets. • His brain was seething with ideas.

see-through /'si:,θru:/ adj : thin enough to be seen through • a see-through blouse/container • The plastic is see-through. [=transparent]

¹seg-ment /'segmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count]

1 : one of the parts into which something can be divided : SECTION • The railroad track is divided into segments. — often + of • in the final segment of the book • The segment of the population over 70 years of age is growing larger. • The company controls a large segment of the market. • the segments of an orange

2 geometry a : a part of a circle formed by drawing a straight line between two points on the circle b : a part of a straight line between two points

²seg-ment /'seg,ment, Brit seg'ment/ verb -ments; -ment-ed; -ment-ing [+ obj] : to divide (something) into parts • Market researchers have segmented the population into different age groups.

— segmented adj • a worm that has a segmented body = a segmented worm [=a worm whose body is made of different segments or sections]

seg-men-ta-tion /,segmən'teɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : the process of dividing something into parts or segments • the segmentation of the population

seg-re-gate /'segri,geɪt/ verb -gates; -gat-ed; -gat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to separate groups of people because of their particular race, religion, etc. • The civil rights movement fought against practices that segregated blacks and whites. — often + from • He grew up at a time when blacks were segregated from whites. • During religious services, women are segregated from men. — opposite INTEGRATE

2 : to not allow people of different races to be together in (a place, such as a school) • Many states at that time continued to segregate public schools. • racially segregated schools • a segregated neighborhood — opposite INTEGRATE

seg-re-ga-tion /,segri'geɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : the practice or policy of keeping people of different races, religions, etc., separate from each other • racial/religious segregation • They fought to end the segregation of public schools. • the segregation of men and women

seg-re-ga-tion-ist /,segri'geɪʃənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who supports racial segregation • segregationists versus integrationists • a segregationist politician/state/attitude/view se-gue /'se,gweɪ/ verb se-gues; se-gued; se-gue-ing [no obj] : to move without stopping from one activity, topic, song, etc., to another • She quickly segued to the next topic. • The band smoothly segued from one song to the next. • In the movie, a shot of the outside of the house segued neatly to/into a shot of the family inside the house.

— segue noun, pl segues [count] • a nice segue to the next song • She used the question as a segue to her next topic.

seis·mic /'saɪzmɪk/ adj, always used before a noun

1 technical : of, relating to, or caused by an earthquake • seismic activity/data/waves/zones

2 [more ~; most ~] : very great or important • Seismic social changes have occurred. • The discovery caused a seismic shift [=a great change] in public attitudes.

— seis·mi·cal·ly /'saɪzmikli/ adv • a seismically active region [=a region where many earthquakes occur]

seis·mo·graph /'saɪzmə,græf, Brit 'saɪzmə,grɑ:f/ noun, pl -graphs [count] : a device that measures and records the movement of the earth during an earthquake seis·mol·o·gy /saɪz'mɑ:lədʒi/ noun [noncount] : the scientific study of earthquakes

— seis·mo·log·i·cal /,saɪzmə'lɑ:dʒɪkəl/ adj • seismological research — seis·mol·o·gist /saɪz'mɑ:lədʒɪst/ noun, pl -gists [count]

seize /'si:z/ verb seiz·es; seized; seiz·ing [+ obj]

1 a : to use legal or official power to take (something) • Police seized [=confiscated] the weapons and drugs. • The bank seized their property. b : to get or take (something) in a forceful, sudden, or violent way • The army has seized control of the city. • A rebel group attempted to seize power. • He suddenly seized the lead in the final lap of the race. c : to attack and take control of (a place) by force or violence • The soldiers seized [=captured] the fort.

2 a : to forcefully take and hold (someone or something) with your hand or arms : GRAB • He seized her by the arm. • He tried to seize the gun from him. • She seized hold of my hand. [=she seized my hand] b : to take (someone) as a prisoner • The police seized [=arrested] the robbers. • Seize that man! • She was seized by kidnappers and carried off to a hidden location.

3 : to take or use (something, such as a chance or opportunity) in a quick and eager way • He seized the chance/initiative/opportunity to present his ideas to his boss. • My father taught me to seize the day. [=to do the things I want to do when I have the chance instead of waiting for a later time] • Seizing the moment, she introduced herself to the famous film director.

4 a : to begin to affect (someone) suddenly • Panic seized him. = He was seized by panic. b : to have a powerful effect on (someone) • His movies seized the public's imagination. [=the public became very interested in and enthusiastic about his movies] • She was suddenly seized with the idea [=she suddenly had the idea] of owning her own restaurant.

seize on/upon [phrasal verb] seize on/upon (something) : to take or use (something, such as a chance or opportunity) in a quick and eager way • His critics have seized on the scandal to call for his resignation. • She seized on the opportunity to tell her side of the story.

seize up [phrasal verb] : to stop working because the moving parts can no longer move • The engine/brakes suddenly seized up. — sometimes used figuratively • Her brain seized up when she tried to answer the question.

sei·zure /'si:zə/ noun, pl -zures

1 [noncount] : the act of taking control of something especially by force or violence • the seizure of power by the rebels

2 law : the act of taking something by legal authority [noncount] property that is protected from seizure • the seizure of evidence by the police [count] Not all searches and seizures by the police require a warrant.

3 [count] medical : an abnormal state in which you become unconscious and your body moves in an uncontrolled and violent way • an epileptic seizure [=fit] • The patient has been experiencing seizures. [=convulsions]

sel·dom /'seldəm/ adv : not often : almost never • We seldom [=rarely] eat pork. • We seldom go to the movies. • This type of turtle seldom grows over four inches in length. • We seldom agree. = (somewhat formal) Seldom do we agree. • I have seldom had to wait so long. = (somewhat formal) Seldom have I had to wait so long.

seldom ever see EVER seldom if ever see EVER

se·lect /sə'lekt/ verb -lects; -lect·ed; -lect·ing

1 : to choose (someone or something) from a group [+ obj] Please select one item from the list. • The school will only se- lect 12 applicants for enrollment. — often used as (be) select-ed • People were selected at random to take the survey. • The restaurant was recently selected as one of the best in the area. • She was selected to work on the project. • The book is a collection of selected essays and letters. [no obj] Knowing the importance of making the right choice, he selected carefully.

2 [+ obj] computers : to choose (a particular action, section of text, etc.) especially by using a mouse • Use the mouse to select [=highlight] the text you want to copy. • Copy the selected text. • Select "Insert" from the "Edit" menu.

select adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : chosen from a group to include the best people or things • Only a few select employees attended the meeting. • A select committee was formed to plan the project. • The group was small and select. • A select number of people are invited. • Only a select few will be accepted into the program.

2 always used before a noun : of the highest quality • a select hotel • The statue was made from a select [=choice] piece of marble. • He only drinks select wines.

se·lec·tion /sə'lektʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : the act of choosing something or someone from a group • The selection of the best poem was difficult. • His selection as athlete of the year surprised many people. [=people were surprised when he was selected/chosen as athlete of the year] • It was not easy to make my selection. [=it was not easy to choose] — sometimes used before another noun • the selection process/committee/criteria — see also NATURAL SELECTION

2 [count] a : someone or something that is chosen from a group • Who is your selection [=choice] for president? • She sang selections from her new album. [=she sang songs that she selected from her new album] b : a collection of things chosen from a group of similar things — usually singular; usually + of • The pub has a wide selection of beers. [=has many different beers]

se·lec·tive /sə'lektiv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : careful to choose only the best people or things • He is very selective [=picky, choosy] about which tomatoes to use for the sauce. • The club is selective in choosing members. • The college has a highly selective admissions process.

2 : involving the selection of people or things from a group • selective breeding • She has a selective memory. [=she remembers only what she wants to remember]

— se·lec·tive·ly adv • The advertisement selectively targets men between the ages of 18 and 24. • The dog is selectively bred for its calm temperament. — se·lec·tiv·i·ty /sə'lektivəti/ noun [noncount]

se·lec·tor /sə'lektə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

1 : a device used for choosing a function, setting, etc., on a piece of equipment • a channel selector • a gear selector • the input/output selector — often used before another noun • Flip the selector switch from 25 volts to 70 volts.

2 Brit : someone who chooses the best or most suitable people for a sports team • a selectors committee se·le·ni·um /sə'li:nijəm/ noun [noncount] technical : a chemical element that is used in electronic devices to make them sensitive to light self /'self/ noun, pl selves /'selvz/

1 [count] : the person that someone normally or truly is — used to describe the way someone acts or feels • He's just not his usual/normal self today. • She was her old self again after some sleep. [=she returned to behaving/feeling as she normally did after some sleep] • He was a mere ghost/shadow of his former self after the illness. [=he was much weaker after his illness] • She showed her true/real self. [=she stopped pretending and showed what type of person she really was]

2 [count] : a particular part of your personality or character that is shown in a particular situation • She showed her better self at the party. • Her public self is very different from her private self. • He started taking yoga and meditation classes to get in touch with his inner self. [=the emotional and spiritual part of himself]

3 [noncount] : the personality or character that makes a person different from other people : the combination of emotions, thoughts, feelings, etc., that make a person different from others • We each develop a unique sense of self. [=a unique idea about who we are] • Philosophers have written about the conception/idea of the self.

4 [noncount] formal : your own personal interest or advantage • She helped without any thought of self. [=without any thought of trying to make things better for herself]

5 [count] — used to refer to a person • a photo of her younger self • He puts his whole self into each and every game. [=he tries very hard to play his best in each game] • (informal) "Go get me another beer." "You can get it your (own) damn self!" • (informal) I could barely drag my sorry self out of bed.

self- /ˌself/ combining form

1 a : yourself or itself • self-pitying b : of yourself or itself • self-destructive • self-sacrifice

2 : by, to, with, for, or toward yourself or itself • self-made • self-evident • self-propelled • self-addressed • self-respect self-ab-sorbed /ˌselfəb'səʊbd/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : only caring about and interested in yourself • self-absorbed people • He's so (completely/totally) self-absorbed that he didn't even notice I was crying!

– self-ab-sorp-tion /ˌselfəb'səʊpʃən/ noun [noncount]

self-abuse /ˌselfə'bju:s/ noun [noncount]

1 : things that you do that harm your own body or health • drug addiction and other forms of self-abuse

2 old-fashioned + disapproving : MASTURBATION

self-ac-tu-al-i-za-tion also Brit self-ac-tu-al-i-sa-tion /ˌself,æktʃəwələ'zeɪʃən, Brit ˌself,æktʃuə,lai'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] formal : the process of fully developing and using your abilities self-ad-dressed /ˌselfə'drest/ adj : having the sender's address on it so that it can be sent back to that person • a self-addressed envelope self-ad-he-sive /ˌselfəd'hi:siv/ adj : able to stick to something without first being made wet • self-adhesive labels/stamps self-ap-point-ed /ˌselfə'pointəd/ adj, disapproving : thinking of yourself as having a particular position, job, responsibility, etc., without considering the opinions or wishes of other people • a self-appointed guardian of public morals self-as-sem-bly /ˌselfə'sembli/ adj, always used before a noun, Brit — used to describe a product that is bought in parts that you have to put together • self-assembly furniture

– self-assembly noun [noncount] • The box says "self-assembly [=assembly] required."

self-as-ser-tive /ˌselfə'sətriv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very confident and willing to express opinions • a bold and self-assertive young lawyer – self-as-ser-tive-ness noun [noncount] self-as-ser-tion /ˌselfə'səʃən/ noun [noncount] : the act of expressing or defending your rights, claims, or opinions in a confident or forceful way self-as-sess-ment /ˌselfə'sesmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount] : the act or process of judging your own achievements or progress self-as-sur-ance /ˌselfə'ʃərəns/ noun [noncount] : confidence in yourself and your abilities • I was impressed by his self-assurance.

self-as-sured /ˌselfə'ʃəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing confidence in yourself and your abilities • She was calm and self-assured. • He has a self-assured manner.

self-aware-ness /ˌselfə'weənəs/ noun [noncount] : knowledge and awareness of your own personality or character • Her self-awareness was unusual in such a young child.

– self-aware /ˌselfə'weə/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a remarkably self-aware child self-ca-ter-ing /ˌself'keɪtərɪŋ/ adj, Brit : provided with equipment that allows you to cook your own food while you are on holiday • a self-catering cottage/apartment • self-catering holidays – self-catering noun [noncount] Brit • Prices start at £199 for a week's self-catering.

self-cen-tered (US) or Brit self-cen-tred /ˌself'sentəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : too interested in yourself and not caring about the needs or feelings of other people : SELFISH • I think he's a self-centered and opinionated jerk.

– self-cen-tered-ness (US) or Brit self-cen-tred-ness noun [noncount] self-con-cept /ˌself'kɑ:nsept/ noun, pl -cepts [count] formal : the idea that you have about the kind of person you are • Children need to develop a positive self-concept.

self-con-fessed /ˌselfkən'fest/ adj, always used before a noun : freely and openly admitting that you are a particular type of person • a self-confessed forger • a self-confessed television addict self-con-fi-dent /ˌself'kɑ:nfədənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing confidence in yourself and your abilities • a quietly self-confident man • She has a self-confident look about her.

– self-con-fi-dence /ˌself'kɑ:nfədəns/ noun [noncount] • He lacks the self-confidence to speak his mind. – self-con-fi-dent-ly adv

self-con-grat-u-la-tion /ˌselfkən,grætʃə'leɪʃən, ˌselfkən,grætʃə'leɪʃən/ noun [noncount] usually disapproving : a way of behaving or speaking which shows that you are very happy about something that you have done • The president's speech was full of self-congratulation about making the company profitable again.

– self-con-grat-u-la-to-ry /ˌselfkən'grætʃələ'tori, ˌselfkən'grætʃələ'tori, Brit ˌselfkən,grætʃə'leɪtri/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a self-congratulatory attitude/tone self-con-scious /ˌself'kɑ:nʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : uncomfortably nervous about or embarrassed by what other people think about you • She's self-conscious whenever she has to give a speech. — often + about • He's very self-conscious about his appearance.

2 usually disapproving : done in a way that shows an awareness of the effect that is produced : done in a deliberate way • the self-conscious irony in the play • a self-conscious attempt to win people's sympathy

– self-con-scious-ly adv • He self-consciously smoothed his hair. – self-con-scious-ness noun [noncount]

self-con-tained /ˌselfkən'teɪnd/ adj

1 : not requiring help or support from anyone or anything else : complete by itself • a self-contained community [=a community that provides all the supplies, services, etc., that people need for everyday life] • This machine is a self-contained unit/system.

2 [more ~; most ~] : tending to keep thoughts and feelings private and to deal with things without help from other people • He is a very self-contained young man.

3 Brit : having a kitchen and bathroom • a self-contained flat self-con-tra-dic-to-ry /ˌself,kɑ:ntrə'dɪktəri/ adj : having two or more parts that disagree with each other • Your argument is self-contradictory. • a self-contradictory statement self-con-trol /ˌselfkən'troul/ noun [noncount] : control over your feelings or actions • a lack of self-control • You have to show/learn a little self-control. • He lost his self-control and lashed out at the other player. • When it comes to chocolate, I lose all self-control. [=I cannot stop myself from eating too much chocolate]

– self-con-trolled /ˌselfkən'trould/ adj [more ~; most ~] self-crit-i-cism /ˌself'krɪtə,sɪzəm/ noun, pl -cisms : criticism of your own faults and weaknesses [noncount] His autobiography is full of self-criticism. [count] There are many self-criticisms in his autobiography.

– self-crit-i-cal /ˌself'krɪtɪkəl/ adj • a self-critical evaluation self-de-cep-tion /ˌselfdɪ'sepʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] : the act of making yourself believe something that is not true • He was unaware of his own self-deceptions.

self-de-feat-ing /ˌselfdɪ'fi:tɪŋ/ adj

1 : meant to solve a problem but actually causing the same or another problem : causing more problems than it solves • Violence is a self-defeating solution. • a self-defeating strategy/policy

2 : preventing you from doing or achieving something • Don't just assume you'll fail! That's a self-defeating attitude.

self-de-fense (US) or Brit self-de-fence /ˌselfdɪ'fens/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act of defending yourself, your property, etc. • He argued that shooting the burglar was self-defense. • She hit back in self-defense.

2 : skills that make you capable of protecting yourself during an attack • Women are advised to take at least one class in self-defense. • a self-defense instructor self-de-ni-al /ˌselfdɪ'najəl/ noun [noncount] : the act of not allowing yourself to have or do something you want • Dieting is an exercise in self-denial. • The monks lead a life of self-denial. = The monks practice self-denial.

self-dep-re-cat-ing /ˌselfdɛprɪ'keɪtɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : meant to make yourself or the things you do seem unimportant • He spoke in a self-deprecating tone. • self-deprecating humor

– self-dep-re-ca-tion /ˌselfdɛprɪ'keɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • his humble self-deprecation self-de-struct /ˌselfdɪ'strʌkt/ verb -structs; -struct-ed; -struct-ing [no obj] : to destroy itself • The missile automatically self-destructs if it goes off course. — often used figuratively • The team had a large lead most of the game but self-

destroyed in the ninth inning and lost. • a rock star who self-destructed on drugs

– self-destruct adj, always used before a noun • a self-destruct button/mechanism/system self-de-struc-tion /ˌselfdɪ'strʌkʃən/ noun, pl. -tions [count] : the act of hurting or killing yourself • an act of self-destruction • His drinking started him on the path/road to self-destruction.

– self-de-struc-tive /ˌselfdɪ'strʌktɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] • self-destructive behavior self-de-ter-mi-na-tion /ˌselfdɪ,təmə'neɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 : the right of the people of a particular place to choose the form of government they will have

2 : the freedom to make your own choices self-dis-ci-pline /ˌself'dɪsəplən/ noun [noncount] : the ability to make yourself do things that should be done • It's hard to exercise every day. You have to have a lot of self-discipline. • a lack of self-discipline

– self-dis-ci-plined /ˌself'dɪsəplənd/ adj [more ~; most ~] • self-disciplined students self-dis-cov-ery /ˌselfdɪ'skʌvəri/ noun [noncount] : the act or process of gaining knowledge or understanding of your abilities, character, and feelings • She was on a voyage of self-discovery.

self-doubt /ˌself'daʊt/ noun, pl. -doubts : a feeling of doubt about your own abilities or actions [noncount] a moment of self-doubt [count] Right before the start of the race, all his self-doubts returned.

self-drive /ˌself'draɪv/ adj, always used before a noun, Brit 1 of a car : rented from a company • a self-drive [= (chiefly US) rental] car

2 : done by driving yourself • a self-drive holiday/tour

self-ed-u-cat-ed /ˌself'edʒə,keɪtəd/ adj : educated by your own efforts (such as by reading books) rather than in a school • a self-educated businessman self-ef-fac-ing /ˌselfɪ'feɪsɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not trying to get attention or praise for yourself or your abilities : MODEST • He has a self-effacing manner. • She is quiet and self-effacing.

– self-ef-face-ment /ˌselfɪ'feɪsmənt/ noun [noncount] self-em-ployed /ˌselfɪm'plɔɪd/ adj : earning income from your own business or profession rather than by working for someone else • a self-employed businessman

– self-em-ploy-ment /ˌselfɪm'plɔɪmənt/ noun [noncount] self-es-teem /ˌselfə'sti:m/ noun [noncount] : a feeling of having respect for yourself and your abilities • low/high self-esteem • programs to raise/build self-esteem among children self-ev-i-dent /ˌself'evədənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : clearly true and requiring no proof or explanation • The meaning is self-evident. • self-evident truths

– self-ev-i-dent-ly adv

self-ex-am /ˌselfɪg'zæm/ noun, pl. -ams [count] : SELF-EXAMINATION self-ex-am-i-na-tion /ˌselfɪg,zæmə'neɪʃən/ noun, pl. -tions

1 [noncount] : careful examination of your own behavior and beliefs to see whether they are good or bad • the process of self-examination

2 [count] medical : the act or practice of checking your body for symptoms of illness • Doctors recommend a breast self-examination once a month.

self-ex-plan-a-to-ry /ˌselfɪk'splænə'tori, Brit ˌselfɪk'splænə'tri/ adj : easy to understand without explanation • a self-explanatory phrase • The chapter titles of the book are self-explanatory.

self-ex-pres-sion /ˌselfɪk'spreʃən/ noun [noncount] : the expression of your thoughts or feelings especially through artistic activities (such as painting, writing, dancing, etc.) • a form/means/medium/mode of self-expression • The strict rules leave little room for self-expression.

self-flag-el-la-tion /ˌself,flædʒə'leɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : the act of hitting yourself with a whip as a way to punish yourself or as part of a religious ritual — often used figuratively • journalists engaging in self-flagellation [=journalists criticizing themselves very harshly]

self-ful-fill-ing /ˌselffʊl'fɪlɪŋ/ adj

1 : becoming real or true because it was predicted or expected • The prediction of a rise in the stock market became a self-fulfilling prophecy when investors heard the report and began buying stock.

2 [more ~; most ~] : providing happiness and satisfaction : FULFILLING • She finds running her own business very self-fulfilling.

self-ful-fill-ment (US) or Brit self-ful-fil-ment /ˌselffʊl'fɪlmənt/ noun [noncount] : the feeling of being happy and satisfied because you are doing something that fully uses your abilities and talents • She found self-fulfillment [=fulfillment] by starting her own business.

self-gov-ern-ing /ˌself'gʌvənɪŋ/ adj : controlled or ruled by its own members : having self-government • a self-governing territory/body self-gov-ern-ment /ˌself'gʌvənmənt/ noun [noncount] : government or control of a country, group, etc., by its own members rather than by the members of a different country, group, etc. • the island's right to self-government

self-help /ˌself'hɛlp/ noun [noncount] : the action or process of doing things to improve yourself or to solve your problems without the help of others • books on self-help

– self-help adj, always used before a noun • self-help books/manuals self-hood /ˌself,hʊd/ noun [noncount] : the quality that makes a person or thing different from others : INDIVIDUALITY self-iden-ti-fi-ca-tion /ˌselfaɪ,dentəfə'keɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 : the feeling that you share and understand the problems or experiences of someone else • the young teacher's self-identification [=identification] with his students

2 : the act of identifying yourself as a particular kind of person • the teenager's self-identification as a rebel self-iden-ti-ty /ˌselfaɪ'dentəti/ noun [noncount] : the quality that makes a person or thing different from others : INDIVIDUALITY self-im-age /ˌself'ɪmɪdʒ/ noun [noncount] : the way you think about yourself and your abilities or appearance • She has a positive/negative/strong/poor self-image.

self-im-por-tant /ˌselfɪm'pɔ:tnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : having too high an opinion of your own importance • a self-important businessman

– self-im-por-tance /ˌselfɪm'pɔ:tns/ noun [noncount] self-im-posed /ˌselfɪm'pouzɪd/ adj : required by you of yourself : not given to you by someone else • a self-imposed task/deadline/limit • self-imposed exile/isolation/punishment self-in-dul-gent /ˌselfɪn'dʌldʒənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : allowing yourself to have or do whatever you want in a way that is excessive or wasteful • a self-indulgent lifestyle • a self-indulgent millionaire

– self-in-dul-gence /ˌselfɪn'dʌldʒəns/ noun, pl. -gen-ces [noncount] a moment of self-indulgence [count] a small self-indulgence self-in-flict-ed /ˌselfɪn'flɪktəd/ adj : caused by your own actions • a self-inflicted wound • His problems are mainly self-inflicted.

self-in-ter-est /ˌself'ɪntrəst/ noun [noncount]

1 disapproving : concern only for getting what you want or need and not about what happens to other people • They acted out of self-interest and fear.

2 : your own interest or advantage • Our self-interest demands that we help them. [=it benefits us to help them]

– self-in-ter-est-ed /ˌself'ɪntrəstəd/ adj • self-interested behavior self-ish /ˌselfɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : having or showing concern only for yourself and not for the needs or feelings of other people • selfish behavior/motives • a selfish man • She's interested only in her own selfish concerns. • I wish he'd spend less time with his friends and more time with me. Am I being selfish?

– self-ish-ly adv • He selfishly kept the money for himself. • She acted selfishly. – self-ish-ness noun [noncount] • the selfishness of their behavior self-less /ˌselfləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing great concern for other people and little or no concern for yourself • a selfless act • selfless dedication/devotion/love

– self-less-ly adv • He selflessly volunteered to help.

– self-less-ness noun [noncount] self-made /ˌself'meɪd/ adj : made rich and successful by your own efforts • a self-made man self-mu-ti-la-tion /ˌself,mju:tə'leɪʃən/ noun [noncount] medical : the act of wounding yourself on purpose especially because you are mentally ill self-per-cep-tion /ˌselfpə'sepʃən/ noun, pl. -tions [count, noncount] : the idea that you have about the kind of person you are • People's self-perceptions are often very different from the way other people perceive them.

self-pity /ˈselfˈpɪti/ noun [noncount] disapproving : a feeling of pity for yourself because you believe you have suffered more than is fair or reasonable • He was wallowing in self-pity. • She spoke without a trace/hint of self-pity.

– self-pity-ing /ˈselfˈpɪtɪŋ/ adj • a self-pitying complainer self-portrait /ˌselfˈpɔːtræt/ noun, pl -traits [count] : a painting or drawing of yourself that is done by yourself self-pos-sessed /ˌselfpəˈzest/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing control of your feelings or actions especially in a difficult situation • She is a remarkably calm and self-possessed young woman.

– self-pos-ses-sion /ˌselfpəˈzɛʃən/ noun [noncount] self-pres-er-va-tion /ˌselfˌprezəˈveɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : protection of yourself from harm or death • We all have an instinct for self-preservation.

self-pro-claimed /ˌselfprəʊˈkleɪmd/ adj, always used before a noun, usually disapproving : giving yourself a particular name, title, etc., usually without any reason or proof that would cause other people to agree with you • the self-proclaimed king of pop • a self-proclaimed expert self-pro-fessed /ˌselfprəˈfest/ adj, always used before a noun, usually disapproving

1 : SELF-PROCLAIMED • self-professed experts

2 : SELF-CONFESSED • a self-professed sports junkie self-pro-pelled /ˌselfprəˈpeld/ adj : able to move itself by means of a motor • a self-propelled lawn mower [=a lawn mower that you do not have to push]

self-rais-ing flour /ˈselfˈreɪzɪŋ-/ noun [noncount] Brit : SELF-RISING FLOUR

self-re-al-i-za-tion /ˌselfˌrɪːjələˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˌselfˌrɪːləɪˈzeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : the act of achieving the full development of your abilities and talents • Work is often a means of self-realization.

self-re-flec-tion /ˌselfrɪˈflekʃən/ noun [noncount] : careful thought about your own behavior and beliefs : SELF-EXAMINATION • a moment of self-reflection self-re-li-ant /ˌselfrɪˈləjənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : confident in your own abilities and able to do things for yourself : not needing help from other people • She worked very hard to be self-reliant. • a self-reliant adult

– self-re-li-ance /ˌselfrɪˈləjəns/ noun [noncount] self-re-spect /ˌselfrɪˈspekt/ noun [noncount] : proper respect for yourself as a human being • a sense of dignity and self-respect • I lost my job, but not my self-respect.

self-re-spect-ing /ˌselfrɪˈspektɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun : having proper respect for yourself as a human being • No self-respecting person would do something like that.

self-re-straint /ˌselfrɪˈstreɪnt/ noun [noncount] : control over your own actions or feelings that keeps you from doing things you want to do but should not do • I know you like to shop, but you need to exercise/show some self-restraint.

self-righ-teous /ˌselfˈraɪfəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : having or showing a strong belief that your own actions, opinions, etc., are right and other people's are wrong • a self-righteous person/tone • self-righteous indignation • It's OK to criticize, but don't be/get self-righteous about it.

– self-righ-teous-ly adv – self-righ-teous-ness noun [noncount] self-ris-ing flour /ˈselfˈraɪzɪŋ-/ noun [noncount] US : a mixture of flour, salt, and baking powder — called also (Brit) self-raising flour

self-rule /ˈselfˈruːl/ noun [noncount] : SELF-GOVERNMENT self-rul-ing /ˈselfˈruːlɪŋ/ adj : SELF-GOVERNING self-sac-ri-fice /ˈselfˈsækrəˌfaɪs/ noun [noncount] : the act of giving up something that you want to have or keep in order to help someone else • We should honor the courage and self-sacrifice of the brave soldiers who died for our country.

– self-sa-cri-fic-ing /ˈselfˈsækrəˌfaɪsɪŋ/ adj • self-sacrificing parents who put their children first self-same /ˈselfˌseɪm/ adj, always used before a noun, literary : exactly the same • These selfsame [=very same] people who complain about the problem also refuse to help correct it.

self-sat-is-fac-tion /ˌselfˌsætəsˈfækʃən/ noun [noncount] usually disapproving : a feeling of being very pleased or satisfied with yourself and what you have done • his smug self-satisfaction self-sat-is-fied /ˌselfˌsætəsˈfaɪd/ adj [more ~; most ~] usu- ally disapproving : feeling or showing self-satisfaction • a self-satisfied young woman • a self-satisfied smirk

self-seek-ing /ˌselfˈsiːkɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : concerned only about getting what you want or need and not caring about what happens to other people • a self-seeking opportunist • self-seeking behavior/motives – self-seek-er /ˌselfˈsiːkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • He's a self-seeker who'll do anything to get ahead.

self-ser-vice /ˌselfˈsɜːvəs/ adj : allowing or requiring customers to serve themselves without help from workers • a self-service café • a self-service gas station

– self-service noun [noncount] • The gas station only has self-service.

self-serv-ing /ˌselfˈsɜːvɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : having or showing concern only about your own needs and interests • self-serving motives • a self-serving politician self-start-er /ˌselfˈstɑːtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who is able to work without needing a lot of instruction or help • The job requires a highly motivated self-starter.

self-styled /ˌselfˈstajəld/ adj, always used before a noun : called a particular thing by yourself : SELF-PROCLAIMED • self-styled experts self-suf-fi-cient /ˌselfsəˈfɪʃənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : able to live or function without help or support from others • self-sufficient villages/farms • His new job allowed him to become more self-sufficient.

– self-suf-fi-cien-cy /ˌselfsəˈfɪʃənsi/ noun [noncount] • economic self-sufficiency self-sup-port-ing /ˌselfsəˈpɔːtɪŋ/ adj : earning enough money to live without getting help from other people • She hopes to find a better job so she'll finally be self-supporting.

self-taught /ˈselfˈtɑːt/ adj

1 : educated by your own efforts (such as by reading books) rather than by a teacher • a self-taught musician

2 : learned by your own efforts rather than at school • self-taught knowledge self-willed /ˈselfˈwɪld/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : determined to do what you want even though other people may not want you to do it • a stubborn and self-willed child self-worth /ˈselfˈwɜːθ/ noun [noncount] : a feeling that you are a good person who deserves to be treated with respect : SELF-ESTEEM • a healthy sense of self-worth

¹sell /ˈsel/ verb sells; sold /ˈsould/; selling

1 : to exchange (something) for money [+ obj] He sold his car. • He buys and remodels houses and then sells them at a profit. • She sold him a watch for $20. = She sold a watch to him for $20. [no obj] Stock prices are increasing, so now is a good time to sell. — opposite BUY

2 [+ obj] : to make (something) available to be bought • Only a few stores sell that type of equipment. • She sells insurance. [=she has the job of selling insurance to people] • He is selling his car for $1,000. [=he is offering his car for sale at a price of $1,000]

3 [no obj] : to be able to be bought for a particular price — + for or at • Those cookies sell for a dollar apiece. • All items in the store are selling at half price.

4 a [no obj] : to be bought by someone or by many people • That house still hasn't sold. [=no one has bought that house] • The houses in that neighborhood aren't selling. [=people aren't buying the houses that are for sale in that neighborhood] • They hope the new version will sell better than the old one. [=they hope that more people will buy the new version] • The dictionary is selling well. [=many people are buying copies of the dictionary] • The newest model just didn't sell. [=very few people bought it] b [+ obj] — used to say how many copies of something have been sold • Their first album sold more than a million copies. [=more than a million copies of the album were bought]

5 : to cause people to want to buy (something) : to cause the sale of (something) [+ obj] His name on the cover sells the book. [no obj] Good advertising sells.

6 [+ obj] : to persuade someone to accept or approve of (something or someone) • He had a difficult time selling his theory to other scientists. • You will really have to sell yourself at the interview to get that job.

sell a pup see PUP

sell off [phrasal verb] sell (something) off or sell off (something) : to sell (something) especially for a low price in order to get rid of it quickly or to get money that you need • He sold off his car so he could move overseas. • The family plans to sell some of the property off. — see also SELL-OFF sell on [phrasal verb] sell (someone) on (something) : to persuade (someone) to be interested in and excited about (something) • He tried to sell them on the value of the project he was proposing. — often used as (be) sold on • She wasn't sold on the idea. [=she wasn't convinced that it was a good idea]

sell out [phrasal verb] 1 a : to be bought until no more are available : to be entirely sold • Tickets to the concert sold out quickly. • The book has sold out in stores across the country. b : to sell the entire amount of something • Many stores sold out quickly when the book was first published. • The concert sold out quickly. [=all the tickets to the concert were quickly bought] c be sold out : to have sold the entire amount of something • "Are there any more tickets?" "No, I'm sorry, We're (all) sold out." [=we've sold all the tickets] — often + of • The store was sold out of milk again. [=there was no milk at the store because it had all been sold] d sell (something) out or sell out (something) : to sell all of (something) • The tickets were (all) sold out quickly. [=all of the tickets were sold quickly] 2 : to sell all that you own of a business, company, etc. • In the end, the other owners forced her to sell out. 3 disapproving : to do something that does not agree with your beliefs, values, etc., especially in order to make money • Many of the band's fans accused them of selling out when they started appearing in television commercials. • The union sees the deal as selling out to management. [=the union sees the deal as going against their principles and favoring management] 4 sell (someone) out or sell out (someone) informal : to do something that harms or causes trouble for (someone who trusted you) in order to get something for yourself : to betray (someone) • She sold out her accomplices [=she told police who her accomplices were] in exchange for a lower sentence. — see also SELLOUT, SOLD-OUT sell (someone) down the river informal : to do something that harms (someone who trusted you) especially in order to get something for yourself : to betray (someone) • I can't believe my best friend would sell me down the river.

sell (someone or something) short : to put too low a value on the ability, importance, or quality of (someone or something) • Don't sell yourself short. You have some great skills and experience. • I think you're selling the book short; it's a lot more interesting than that.

sell up [phrasal verb] Brit : to sell your possessions, business, etc., especially so that you can move away • They were forced to sell up and go out of business.

sell your body : to accept money in exchange for sex sell your soul (to the devil) : to gain wealth, success, power, etc., by doing something bad or dishonest • He has sold his soul (to the devil) for fame and prosperity.

2 sell noun, pl sells [count] chiefly US : something that is sold — used to say that it is easy or difficult to get people to buy or accept something; usually singular • Her new novel was an easy sell. [=her new novel sold well; many people wanted to buy it] • We need to raise taxes, but that's a tough sell. [=it's hard to persuade people to accept a tax increase] — see also HARD SELL, SOFT SELL sell-by date noun, pl ~ dates [count] : a date that is printed on food packages which shows the last day on which the food can be sold — sometimes used figuratively • He wants to get married before he's past his sell-by date. [=before he's too old]

sell-er /'selə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person or business that sells something • a ticket seller • The seller said that the car was in excellent condition. • We're the number one seller of appliances in the country. — opposite BUYER; see also BOOKSELLER

2 : a product that sells in a particular way or amount • Her new CD is a hot seller. [=a lot of people are buying her new CD] • That book is our top/biggest seller. — see also BEST SELLER

seller's market noun [singular] : a situation in which few things of the same kind are for sale, prices are high, and sellers have an advantage over buyers — opposite BUYER'S MARKET selling point noun, pl ~ points [count] : a quality or feature that makes people want to buy something • The car's new sound system is a selling point. • The house's big/main/major selling point is its location.

selling price noun [singular] : the price for which something actually sells • They asked $200,000 for the house, but the eventual selling price was $175,000. — compare ASKING PRICE sell-off /'sel,ɑ:f/ noun [noncount]

1 US : the sale of a large number of stocks or shares that causes their price to drop • The decline in technology stocks prompted a sell-off that made matters even worse. — see also sell off at ¹SELL

2 Brit : the sale of an industry that is owned by the government to private buyers

Sellotape /'selə,teɪp/ trademark, Brit — used for a type of adhesive tape sell-out /'sel,aut/ noun, pl -outs [count]

1 : a game, concert, etc., for which all seats are sold • The concert/game/performance was a sellout.

2 a : an occurrence in which you do something that does not agree with your beliefs, values, etc., especially in order to make money • The union sees the deal as a sellout. b : someone who does something that does not agree with that person's beliefs or values especially in order to make money • Angry fans called him a sellout when he started appearing in television commercials. — see also sell out at ¹SELL selt-zer /'seltzə/ noun [noncount] : water that has bubbles added to it selves plural of SELF

se-man-tic /sɪ'mæntɪk/ adj, linguistics

1 : of or relating to the meanings of words and phrases • the process of semantic development/change

2 : of or relating to semantics • semantic theory • a semantic analysis/interpretation

— se-man-ti-cal-ly /sɪ'mæntɪkli/ adv • The words are semantically related.

se-man-tics /sɪ'mæntɪks/ noun [noncount] linguistics

1 : the study of the meanings of words and phrases in language

2 : the meanings of words and phrases in a particular context • The whole controversy is a matter of semantics. [=the controversy was caused by people understanding the same words in different ways]

— se-man-ti-cist /sɪ'mæntəsɪst/ noun, pl -cists [count]

sema-phere /'semə,foə/ noun [noncount] : a system used for sending signals by using two flags that are held in your hands

sem-blance /'sembləns/ noun [singular] : the state of being somewhat like something but not truly or fully the same thing — usually + of • They found it hard to maintain any semblance of control. [=to maintain any appearance of having control; to maintain any control at all] • Her life finally returned to some semblance of order/normality. [=her life finally became a little more ordered/normal]

se-men /'si:mən/ noun [noncount] : the sticky, whitish liquid containing sperm that is produced by a male's sex organs

se-mes-ter /sə'mestə/ noun, pl -ters [count] US : one of two usually 18-week periods that make up an academic year at a school or college — compare QUARTER, TERM, TRIMESTER semi noun, pl sem-is [count] informal

1 /'se,maɪ/ : SEMIFINAL — usually plural • The team made it to the semis.

2 /'se,maɪ/ US : a short, heavy truck that has a long trailer attached to the back and that is used to move goods : SEMI-TRAILER

3 /'semi/ Brit : a house that is attached to another house : a semidetached house

semi- prefix

1 : half • a semicircle • semicircular

2 : happening twice during a particular period of time • semiannual • semimonthly

3 : partly : not completely • semitropical

4 : partial : not complete • semiconsciousness

semi-an-nu-al /,semi'ænjəwəl/ adj, chiefly US : happening or produced every six months or twice in each year • my semiannual visit to my cousin • a semiannual journal/report — semi-an-nu-al-ly adv

semi-au-to-mat-ic /,semi,ɑ:tə'mætɪk/ adj, of a gun : able to fire bullets one after the other quickly but not automatically • a semiautomatic rifle/weapon/pistol — semiautomatic noun, pl -ics [count] • The police found a semiautomatic in his car.

semi-breve /'semi,bri:v/ noun, pl -breves [count] Brit : WHOLE NOTE semi-cir-cle /'semi,səkəl/ noun, pl -cir-cles [count]

1 : half of a circle

2 : an arrangement of people or things that forms a semicircle • The children sat in a semicircle. • The houses are built in a semicircle.

— semi-cir-cu-lar /ˌsemiˈsɜːkjələ/ adj • a semicircular driveway semi-co-lon /ˌsemiˈkəʊlən/ noun, pl -lons [count] : the punctuation mark ; that is used to separate major parts in a sentence and to separate items in a series if the items contain commas semi-con-duc-tor /ˌsemikənˈdʌktə/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a material or object that allows some electricity or heat to move through it and that is used especially in electronic devices • Silicon is a semiconductor.

— semi-con-duct-ing /ˌsemikənˈdʌktɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun • semiconducting materials/properties semi-con-scious /ˌsemiˈkɔːnʃəs/ adj : partially conscious : only somewhat awake and able to understand what is happening around you • The victim was semiconscious and could barely talk.

semi-de-tached /ˌsemidrɪˈtæʃt/ adj, Brit : attached to another house by a shared wall on one side • a semidetached house/villa

— semidetached noun [singular] • He lives in a semidetached.

semi-fi-nal /ˌsemiˈfaɪnəl/ noun, pl -nals [count] : either one of two matches, games, or contests to decide which people or teams will be in the final part of a competition (such as a series of races or a tennis tournament) • She played against a lesser-known rival in the (women's) semifinal. — often plural • She won in the quarterfinals but lost in the semifinals. — often used before another noun • the semifinal round • semifinal teams

— semi-fi-nal-ist /ˌsemiˈfaɪnəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • She was a semifinalist in the tennis tournament.

semi-for-mal /ˌsemiˈfɔːməl/ adj, US : somewhat formal : not informal but not highly formal • She wore a semiformal gown to the wedding. • a semiformal dinner party • a semiformal meeting/proposal semi-month-ly /ˌsemiˈmʌnθli/ adj : happening or produced two times in each month • a semimonthly meeting/newsletter

sem-i-nal /ˈsemənəl/ adj

1 formal : having a strong influence on ideas, works, events, etc., that come later : very important and influential • a seminal book/work/writer

2 always used before a noun, medical : of or containing semen • seminal fluid • the seminal duct

sem-i-nar /ˈseməˌnɑː/ noun, pl -nars [count]

1 : a meeting in which you receive information on and training in a particular subject • a writing seminar • a seminar on career planning • educational/investment seminars

2 : a class offered to a small group of students at a college or university • a graduate/philosophy seminar • a seminar room

sem-i-nar-i-an /ˌseməˈneriən/ noun, pl -ans [count] : someone who is studying at a seminary sem-i-nary /ˈseməˌneri, Brit ˈsemənəri/ noun, pl -nar-ies [count] : a school for training religious leaders (such as priests, ministers, and rabbis)

se-mi-o-tics /ˌsiːmiˈɑːtiks, semiˈɑːtiks/ noun [noncount] technical : the study of signs and symbols and how they are used

— se-mi-o-tic /ˌsiːmiˈɑːtik, semiˈɑːtik/ adj • a semiotic analysis/theory semi-pre-cious /ˌsemiˈpreʃəs/ adj, of a jewel : fairly valuable : having somewhat less value than a precious stone • semiprecious stones such as aquamarines and garnets

semi-pri-vate /ˌsemiˈpraɪvət/ adj

1 : available to a small number of people : providing some but not complete privacy • a semiprivate terrace/pool

2 : shared by two patients • a semiprivate room in a hospital semi-pro /ˌsemiˈprou/ adj, always used before a noun : SEMIPROFESSIONAL

— semipro noun, pl -pros [count]

semi-pro-fes-sion-al /ˌsemiprəˈfeʃənəl/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : paid to participate in a sport or activity but not doing it as a full-time job • a semiprofessional pitcher/musician

2 : involving semiprofessional athletes • semiprofessional soccer/football

— semiprofessional noun, pl -als [count]

semi-qua-ver /ˈsemiˌkwervə/ noun, pl -vers [count] Brit : SIXTEENTH NOTE semi-retired /ˌsemirɪˈtajəd/ adj, US : working only part-time at a career, job, etc., especially because you have reached the age at which you no longer need or want to work full-time • a semiretired executive/nurse semi-skilled /ˌsemiˈskɪld/ adj : having or requiring some training : having or requiring less training than skilled labor and more than unskilled labor • semiskilled labor/jobs • semi-skilled and unskilled assembly workers semi-skimmed milk /ˌsemiˈskɪmd-/ noun [noncount] Brit : milk from which some of the cream has been removed — compare SKIM MILK

semi-sweet /ˌsemiˈswiːt/ adj, US : slightly sweet • semisweet chocolate

Sem-ite /ˈseˌmaɪt, Brit ˈsiːˌmaɪt/ noun, pl -ites [count] : a member of a group of people originally of southwestern Asia that includes Jews and Arabs

Se-mit-ic /səˈmɪtɪk/ adj

1 : of or relating to the language family that includes Hebrew and Arabic

2 : of or relating to the Semites semi-tone /ˌsemiˈtoun/ noun, pl -tones [count] music : a difference in sound that is equal to 1/2 of an octave — called also (US) half step

semi-trail-er /ˈseˌmaɪˌtreɪlə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US

1 : a long trailer that has wheels at the rear and is attached at its forward end to a large truck

2 : a large truck with a long trailer attached to the back of it — see picture at TRUCK semi-trop-i-cal /ˌsemiˈtrɔːpɪkəl/ adj : SUBTROPICAL semi-week-ly /ˌsemiˈwiːkli/ adj : happening twice a week • semiweekly classes sem-o-li-na /ˌseməˈliːnə/ noun [noncount]

1 : a type of wheat flour that is often used to make pasta

2 Brit : a sweet dessert made from semolina and milk

sen. abbr 1 senate; senator 2 senior sen-ate /ˈsenət/ noun, pl -ates

1 the Senate : the smaller group of the two groups of people who meet to discuss and make the laws of a country, state, etc. • the New York State Senate; especially : the smaller group of the two groups that form the U.S. Congress • The Senate approved the bill. • The Senate voted to repeal the tax cut. — often used before another noun • The Senate bill was approved. • the Senate race • the Senate majority leader • a Senate aide — compare HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

2 [count] : a group of people who govern some colleges and universities

3 the Senate : the group of officials who led the ancient Roman government

sen-a-tor /ˈsenətə/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a member of a senate or the Senate • Democratic/Republican senators • a former senator • Senator Inouye

sen-a-to-ri-al /ˌsenəˈtorɪjəl/ adj : of or relating to a senator or a senate • senatorial offices/candidates send /ˈsend/ verb sends; sent /ˈsent/; send-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (a letter, an e-mail, a package, etc.) to go or to be carried from one place or person to another • I sent [=mailed] the letter/package/check to her. • (US) I sent it to her by mail. = (Brit) I sent it to her by post. • Please fill out the form and send it back (to us). • He sent me an e-mail. = He sent an e-mail to me. • Supplies were sent (out) to the troops. • Satellites receive signals in space and send them back to Earth.

2 : to give (a message) to someone • Please send my compliments to the chef. [=tell the chef that I enjoyed the food] • Tell her that I send my love. [=tell her that I think of her in a loving way] • When you write to him, please send him my very best wishes. • Send word to the others [=tell the others] that we'll be late.

3 : to tell or cause (someone or something) to go to a place • He became ill and was sent home from school. • She sent the kids to bed immediately after supper. • He was sent to prison for armed robbery. • He sent me (to the store) for bread and milk. • The company sent me to the conference. • “There is a Ms. Jones here to see you.” “Send her in.” • He was sent on a secret mission. • Helicopters were sent (out) to search for the lost hikers. • They sent a limo to pick her up at the airport. • He asked us to send a taxi for him.

4 : to make the arrangements and payments that allow (someone) to attend a school, camp, etc. • They are able to send both their children to private school. • They sent their daughter to soccer camp during the summer. • They are sending their son (away/off) to military school.

5 : to tell (someone or something) to go to a particular person or place for treatment, help, information, etc. • She sent him to the information desk. • The teacher sent [=referred] the students to the dictionary for the meaning of the word. • My doctor sent me to a specialist. • The Senate sent the bill to a committee.

6 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to cause (someone or something) to move in a particular direction or manner • News of the strike sent stock prices down. • The surprise attack sent the enemy running. • The punch sent him to the floor. • He sent the ball into right field. • Her performance sent a chill/shiver up/down my spine. [=made me feel very excited and emotional]

7 : to put (someone) into a particular state or condition • Her lectures often send students to sleep. — usually + into • Their decision sent him into a rage.

send away for [phrasal verb] send away for (something) or send away to (someone) for (something) : to ask to receive (something) by sending a letter, coupon, etc., to someone by mail • I sent away for [=sent off for] a free sample. • You will have to send away to the manufacturer for a refund.

send down [phrasal verb] send down (someone) or send (someone) down Brit, informal : to send (someone) to prison • He was sent down for six years for the robbery.

send for [phrasal verb] 1 send for (someone) : to ask (someone) to come to a place • Someone should send for a doctor. 2 send for (something) : to ask someone to bring or send (something) to you • Send for our free product catalog. • The general has already sent for reinforcements. • She sent for help.

send forth [phrasal verb] send forth (something) formal 1 : to cause (something) to be heard • She sent forth [=emitted, (less formally) let out] a loud cry. 2 : to cause (light, heat, etc.) to move outward from a source • The tropical flowers sent forth [=emitted, (less formally) gave off] a wonderful fragrance. 3 : to produce (something) in the process of growing or developing • The plant began to send forth [=send out] its shoots.

send in [phrasal verb] 1 send in (someone) or send (someone) in a : to tell (someone) to go to a place to deal with a difficult situation • Police were sent in to restore order. b : to tell (a player) to enter a game • He was sent in to replace the starting goaltender. 2 send in (something) or send (something) in : to mail or e-mail (something) to a place • Please send in your poems by October 1.

send off [phrasal verb] 1 send off (something) or send (something) off : to send (something) by mail or another service • I sent off the package yesterday. 2 send off (someone) or send (someone) off chiefly Brit : to order (a player who has broken a rule) to leave the field for the remainder of the game • He was sent off [=ejected] for striking another player. 3 send off for (something) : to ask to receive (something) by sending a letter, coupon, etc., to someone by mail • I sent off for [=sent away for] a sample.

send on [phrasal verb] send on (something) or send (something) on : to cause (something) to go or to be carried from one place to another • I had my mail/post sent on [=forwarded, sent] to my new address. • He had his baggage sent on ahead. [=sent to the place he is going to] send out [phrasal verb] 1 send out (something) or send (something) out a : to mail (something) to many different people or places • Have you sent out the invitations yet? b : to cause (a signal) to go out • The pilot sent out a distress signal. c : to cause (light, heat, etc.) to move outward from a source • The coals sent out [=gave off] a reddish glow. d : to produce (something) in the process of growing or developing • The plant began to send out its shoots. 2 send out for (something) : to ask a restaurant to deliver (food) to you • We sent out for pizza.

send (someone or something) packing informal : to force (someone or something) to leave a place or situation • We were sent packing after the first day of tryouts. • A loss in tomorrow's game will send them packing. [=will eliminate them from the competition]

send up [phrasal verb] 1 send up (something) or send (something) up a : to cause (something) to be heard • He sent up a loud cry. [=he cried out loudly] • b : to cause (something) to move upward • The campfire sent up sparks. • If you need help, send up a flare so that we can locate you. c : to produce (something) in the process of growing or developing • plants sending up new shoots • d : to suggest or propose (something) to a more powerful person or group so that a decision can be made • The bill has been sent up to the Senate for a vote. • They are sending up a new name/applicant for consideration. 2 send up (someone or something) or send (someone or something) up chiefly Brit, informal : to imitate (someone or something) in an amusing way • The show sends up [=parodies] soap operas. — see also SEND-UP send-er /'sendə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who sends a letter, package, message, etc. • He wrote "return to sender" on the package.

send-off /'send,ɑ:f/ noun, pl -offs [count] : an occasion when people gather together to say goodbye to someone who is leaving — usually singular • A crowd of friends gave them a fine send-off.

send-up /'send,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] informal : a movie, song, etc., that imitates the style of someone or something else in an amusing way — often + of • a send-up [=parody] of horror films — see also send up at SEND se-nescence /sɪ'nesns/ noun [noncount] technical + formal : the state of being old or the process of becoming old • premature senescence

— se-nesc-cent /sɪ'nesnt/ adj • senescent cells

se-nile /'si:najəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : showing a loss of mental ability (such as memory) in old age • a senile man in his eighties • Her mother is becoming/getting/going senile.

— se-nil-i-ty /sɪ'nɪləti/ noun [noncount] • Paranoia is a possible sign of senility.

senile dementia noun [noncount] medical : a condition that affects the mind of aging people and causes them to be confused, to forget things, etc.

¹se-nior /'si:njə/ adj

1 not used before a noun, US a : older in age — usually + to • She is five years senior to me. = She is senior to me by five years. [=she is five years older than I am] b — used chiefly in its abbreviated form Sr. to identify a father who has the same name as his son. • John Smith, Jr. and John Smith, Sr. — compare JUNIOR

2 : higher in standing or rank than another person in the same position • a senior officer/manager/executive • the senior vice president of marketing • She is a senior aide to the president. • a senior editor for the magazine • He recently became a senior partner in the accounting/consulting firm. — often + to • He is senior to me. — compare JUNIOR

3 always used before a noun a : of, relating to, or designed for older people • a senior center • senior housing b : designed for or done by adults or people over a certain age • the men's senior baseball league • senior golf

²senior noun, pl -niors [count]

1 : a person who is older than another person • She is five years my senior. = She is my senior by five years. [=she is five years older than I am] — compare JUNIOR

2 : a person who is of a higher rank than another person • As his senior, she commanded quite a bit of respect. • She was his senior in rank.

3 US : a student in the final year of high school or college • high school juniors and seniors — often used before another noun • the senior class/yearbook/prom • She skipped her senior year and went straight to college. • the senior captain of a team — compare FRESHMAN, JUNIOR, SOPHOMORE

4 chiefly US : SENIOR CITIZEN

senior citizen noun, pl ~-zens [count] chiefly US : an old person • programs/activities for senior citizens • a person who is at least a certain age (such as 55) • Senior citizens qualify for a discount at the movie theater.

senior high school noun, pl ~ schools [count] US : a school that includes the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades and often also the 9th grade : HIGH SCHOOL — compare JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

se-nior-i-ty /sɪ'njərəti/ noun [noncount]

1 : the amount of time you have worked at a job or for a company compared to other employees • Promotions are based on merit and seniority. • a teacher with less/more seniority • He has worked here longer than I have, so he has seniority over me.

2 : the state of having a higher rank than another person • a position of seniority

sen-sa-tion /sɛn'seɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a particular feeling or effect that your body experiences • I experienced a stinging/prickling/tingling sensation in my arm. • She felt a burning sensation in her throat. • visual/bodily sensations • a sensation of hunger • She craved new experiences and sensations.

2 [count] : a particular feeling or experience that may not have a real cause • I had a sensation of falling. [=I felt as if I were falling] • She had the strange sensation that someone was watching her. • I couldn't quite shake the sensation that I'd been fooled.

3 [noncount] : the ability to feel things through your physical senses • Her injury left her with no sensation in her legs.

4 [count] a : a lot of excitement and interest — usually singular • The news created (quite) a sensation. • News of the corporate merger caused a sensation on the stock market.

b : someone or something that causes a lot of excitement and interest — usually singular • The rave reviews turned the book into a nationwide sensation overnight. • a music/pop sensation

sen·sa·tion·al /sen'seɪʃənəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : causing very great excitement or interest with shocking details • a particularly sensational trial/crime • sensational headlines • sensational news stories

2 : very excellent or great • a sensational performance/idea • a sensational (new) talent

3 informal : very attractive • She looked sensational in her new dress.

— sen·sa·tion·al·ly adv • The books sold sensationally well.

sen·sa·tion·al·ism /sen'seɪʃənəˌlɪzəm/ noun [noncount] disapproving : the use of shocking details to cause a lot of excitement or interest • The network was accused of sensationalism in its reporting.

— sen·sa·tion·al·ist /sen'seɪʃənəlɪst/ also chiefly US sen·sa·tion·al·is·tic /sen'seɪʃənəlɪstɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • sensationalist tabloids/reporting • sensationalistic newspaper stories sen·sa·tion·al·ize also Brit sen·sa·tion·al·ise /sen'seɪʃənəˌlaɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] disapproving : to describe or show something in a way that makes it seem more shocking than it really is • Journalists should report the news accurately without trying to sensationalize it.

— sensationalized adj • a sensationalized story of a kidnapping

¹sense /'sens/ noun, pl sens-es

1 a [count] : one of the five natural powers (touch, taste, smell, sight, and hearing) through which you receive information about the world around you • All of my senses were on the alert for danger. — often + of • The dog lost his sense of smell. • an acute/poor sense of hearing — see also SIXTH SENSE b [singular] : a physical feeling : something that your body experiences — usually + of • a sense of fatigue/hunger • Ear problems can sometimes affect a person's sense of balance.

2 a [singular] : a particular feeling : an emotion that you are aware of • We had a sense that something wasn't quite right. — usually + of • Once the speech was over, he was filled with a tremendous sense of relief. • a sense of loss/urgency/pride • a sense of well-being • Their sense of accomplishment was obvious. • We felt a growing sense of danger. • The gun gave him a false sense of security. [=made him feel safer than he really was] • She has a strong sense of self. [=she has strong ideas about who she is] b [count] : a personal quality : a specific quality that is part of your personality — usually singular; + of • He had a great sense of adventure. [=he liked adventure very much] • a sense of order/duty • She lacked any sense of responsibility about financial matters. • He had no sense of purpose [=he did not know what he wanted to do with his life] after his divorce. • She has a great sense of humor. [=she says funny things and can see the funny side of things] • He has no sense of humor. [=he does not find things amusing] • His excellent sense of direction [=ability to find his way around easily in a new place] was useful during our travels. • The chairman's speech gave us a clear sense of direction. [=helped us to know what we should try to accomplish]

3 senses [plural] : the ability to think clearly or in a reasonable way • His senses were clear despite his illness. • They hoped recent events would bring them to their senses. [=make them act sensibly] • I was scared out of my senses. [=I was so scared that I couldn't think clearly] • (chiefly Brit) Are you out of your senses? [=out of your mind]

4 [noncount] : a proper or reasonable way of thinking about something : an awareness of what is appropriate • He had the sense to leave when the crowd got rowdy. [=he acted in a sensible way and left when the crowd got rowdy] • She had the good sense to stop before she said too much. • I wish she would see sense [=act in a sensible way] and go to college. — see also COMMON SENSE, HORSE SENSE

5 [noncount] : a reason for doing something : a reason why

something was done • There's no sense [=point] in waiting. • I fail to see the sense of/in that decision. [=I fail to see why that decision was made]

6 [count] : the meaning of something (such as a word or phrase) • Many words have more than one sense. • in the biblical/religious/legal sense of the word • an abstract/broad sense • The American sense of this word differs from the British sense. • He learned the speech by heart but missed the sense entirely. [=he memorized the speech but he did not understand it] — often + of • The oldest sense of the word dates from 1890. • The intended sense of the passage was lost in translation. • The book is a classic in every sense of the word. [=in every possible way] come to your senses : to begin to think in a sensible or correct way after being foolish or wrong • He finally came to his senses and gave up his plans to quit his job and become an artist. • When will you come to your senses? Don't you realize that she's been lying to you?

in a/one sense : in one way : from one point of view • In one sense [=in a way], he was correct.

in no sense : in no way : definitely not • This book is in no sense intended for beginners. = In no sense is this book intended for beginners. [=this book is too hard or advanced for beginners] in some senses : in some ways • In some senses, it was a wasted effort.

knock some sense into someone's head or knock some sense into someone informal : to cause someone to stop thinking or behaving foolishly • I tried to knock some sense into the boy's head, but he just wouldn't see reason.

make (any) sense of : to understand (something) • We couldn't make (any) sense of the instructions. • Were you able to make any sense of what he said?

make sense 1 : to have a clear meaning : to be easy to understand • We read the recommendations and thought they made (perfect) sense. • The instructions don't make any sense (at all). = The instructions make no sense (at all). = The instructions make little sense. • You're not making much sense (to me). [=I can't understand what you're saying] 2 : to be reasonable • It makes sense to leave early to avoid traffic. • It makes little/no sense to continue. [=there is little/no point in continuing] • Why would he do such an awful thing? It makes no sense (to me).

take leave of your senses see ²LEAVE

talk (some) sense into/to informal : to cause (someone) to stop thinking or behaving foolishly • I couldn't talk sense to him. • He talked (some) sense into her and she promised she would get rid of that dangerous car.

²sense verb senses; sensed; sens-ing [+ obj]

1 not used in progressive tenses : to understand or be aware of (something) without being told about it or having evidence that it is true • We sensed danger. • She immediately sensed my dislike. — often + that, what, when, etc. • He sensed what was going on and decided to intervene. • I sensed that I may have offended you. • My mother told me later that even though she was miles away, she could sense [=tell] that something wasn't right at home. • People can sense [=perceive] when someone isn't being honest.

2 of a machine : to detect the presence or occurrence of (something) • A motion detector can sense movement. • a device that senses (the presence of) fine particles in the air — often + that, when, whether, etc. • The system can sense if there is a readable CD in the drive.

sense·less /'sensləs/ adj

1 : done or happening for no reason • a senseless crime/tragedy • senseless deaths • senseless acts of violence

2 — used after beat, knock, etc., to say that someone is hurt badly and becomes unconscious • I was knocked senseless by the fall. [=I fell and hit my head and lost consciousness] • They beat him senseless. = He was beaten senseless. [=he was beaten until he was unconscious]

3 : stupid or foolish • a senseless practical joke • Don't be such a senseless idiot!

— sense·less·ly adv — sense·less·ness noun [noncount]

sense organ noun, pl ~ -gans [count] : a part of your body (such as your eyes, ears, nose, or tongue) that you use to see, hear, smell, taste, or feel things sen·si·bil·i·ty /,sensə'bɪləti/ noun, pl -ties formal

1 [count] : the kinds of feelings that you have when you hear, see, read, or think about something • The speaker gave no thought to the sensibilities of his audience. [=the speaker did not worry about how his audience would feel about what he said] • We don't want to offend the viewers' sensibilities.

[=we don't want to upset the people who watch this]

2 [count] : the kinds of feelings that a certain type of person tends to have • This movie appeals to people with a feminist sensibility. [=this movie appeals to feminists] • The cartoon seems out of line with modern sensibilities. [=the cartoon seems strange or offensive to modern people]

3 : the ability to feel and understand emotions [count] The writer is remembered most for his sensibility. [noncount] She's a woman of poetic/artistic sensibility.

sen-si-ble /ˈsensəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having or showing good sense or judgment : REASONABLE • sensible people • a sensible choice/solution/diet • sensible prices • a sensible answer/question • My teacher gave me some sensible advice. • She was sensible enough to stop driving when she got too tired.

2 : designed to be comfortable, useful, etc., rather than stylish • sensible shoes/clothes • She wore a sensible coat.

— sen-si-bly /ˈsensəbli/ adv • My doctor advised me to eat sensibly. • He was sensibly dressed.

sen-si-tive /ˈsensətɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : easily upset by the things that people think or say about you • a moody, sensitive teenager • He acts like a tough guy, but he's really very sensitive to criticism. — often + about • She's painfully/overly sensitive about her looks. [=she cares very/too much about what people say or think about her looks] • a sensitive soul [=a person who is easily hurt emotionally] — opposite INSENSITIVE b : likely to cause people to become upset • sensitive [=touchy] topics/issues • a politically sensitive decision

2 a : aware of and understanding the feelings of other people • I found him to be a sensitive and caring person. — often + to • She was sensitive to the fears of her patients. — opposite INSENSITIVE b : having an understanding of something : aware of something — + to • We are sensitive to the need to act quickly in this situation.

3 : easily affected by something in a way that is not pleasant or good : reacting to something in, on, or around you in a bad way • sensitive skin — often + to • She is sensitive to pollen (in the air). • My teeth are sensitive to cold foods. • I am sensitive to wheat. [=I become ill when I eat wheat] • Now that I'm older, I'm more sensitive to (the) cold. [=I feel colder in cold surroundings now than I did in the past]

4 : able to express thoughts and feelings through writing, music, dance, etc. • a sensitive poet/artist • an exquisitely sensitive dance performance

5 technical a : able to sense very small changes in something • a highly sensitive device/instrument • sensitive scales b : changing in response to something • light-sensitive film = film that is sensitive to light

6 : needing to be handled in a careful or secret way in order to protect someone or something • highly sensitive information [=information that could be harmful if many people knew it; information that should be kept secret] • sensitive financial data

— sen-si-tive-ly adv • The problem was handled sensitively.

sen-si-tiv-i-ty /ˌsensətɪvəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 a : the tendency to become upset about things that are done to you, are said about you, or relate to you [noncount] I was surprised by her extreme sensitivity about even the smallest suggestions that we made. — often + to • his sensitivity to criticism [count] Their sensitivities were inflamed by his remarks. [=they became very upset by his remarks] b [noncount] : the tendency to cause people to be upset • the racial sensitivity of this issue [=the tendency of people of certain races to become upset about this issue] • This is a matter of great political sensitivity.

2 a : an awareness and understanding of the feelings of other people [noncount] He handled the situation with great sensitivity. • Her decision shows a lack of sensitivity. • I would have appreciated a little more sensitivity from you. [singular] — often + to • She has shown a great sensitivity to the needs of her students. b : an awareness of the details or qualities of something — often + to • He displays a remarkable sensitivity to the subtle nuances of language.

3 : the quality of being easily affected by something in a bad or unpleasant way [noncount] skin sensitivity [=the skin's tendency to react in a bad way to substances that touch it] • drug sensitivity = sensitivity to drugs/medications [count] He has chemical sensitivities. [=his body reacts badly to certain chemicals] • He has food sensitivities. [=he can't eat certain kinds of food] — often + to • a sensitivity to light/pollen

4 [singular] : the ability to express your thoughts and feelings through writing, music, etc. • Her singing is characterized by a rich emotional sensitivity.

5 [noncount] : the quality of needing to be handled in a careful or secret way • the sensitivity of this document/data

6 [noncount] technical : the ability of a device to sense very small changes in something • The new refinements have improved the sensitivity of the motion detector.

sen-si-tize also Brit sen-si-tise /ˈsensətaɪz/ verb -tiz-es; -tized; -tiz-ing [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) sensitive or more sensitive: such as a : to make (someone) more aware of something — usually + to • The program is intended to sensitize students to the dangers of drug use. b medical : to cause (someone) to become sensitive to a substance and to react to it in a bad way — usually + to; usually used as (be) sensitized • If you have become sensitized to an allergen, even an extremely small amount of the allergen in your environment can trigger an attack.

— sen-si-ti-za-tion also Brit sen-si-ti-sa-tion /ˌsensətəˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˌsensəˈtaɪˈzeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] sen-sor /ˈsenˌsoʊ, ˈsensə/ noun, pl -sors [count] : a device that detects or senses heat, light, sound, motion, etc., and then reacts to it in a particular way • a motion/optical sensor • Image sensors are used in digital cameras. • Infrared sensors can track an object's movement.

sen-so-ry /ˈsensəri/ adj : of or relating to your physical senses • A study was conducted on sensory stimulation and its effects on the brain. • sensory perceptions • sensory deprivation

sen-su-al /ˈsensʊəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : relating to, devoted to, or producing physical or sexual pleasure • sensual desires/pursuits/excesses • a very sensual man/woman • Certain fragrances apparently heighten sensual experiences. • a sensual mouth • sensual delights

— sen-su-al-i-ty /ˌsensəˈwæləti/ noun [noncount] • The actress exuded sensuality on screen. — sen-su-al-ly /ˈsensʊəli/ adv [more ~; most ~] • a sensually pleasing experience

sen-su-ous /ˈsensʊəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : affecting the senses in a pleasing way : pleasant, attractive, or appealing in a way that produces or suggests feelings of physical or sexual pleasure • a sensuous voice/mouth • her sensuous lips • The sensuous sounds of soul music created a warm atmosphere. • A gentle, sensuous breeze caressed our faces.

— sen-su-ous-ly adv [more ~; most ~] • a sensuously smooth finish — sen-su-ous-ness noun [noncount] sent past tense and past participle of SEND

1 sen-tence /ˈsentns/ noun, pl -tenc-es

1 [count] : a group of words that expresses a statement, question, command, or wish ✧ Sentences usually contain a subject and verb. In written English, the first word of a sentence is capitalized and the sentence ends with a period, question mark, or exclamation point. • write/construct/analyze a sentence • complete/incomplete sentences

2 law : the punishment given by a court of law [count] a harsh/lenient sentence • a prison/jail sentence • He is serving a 10-year sentence for armed robbery. [noncount] The judge passed/pronounced sentence on him. [=announced what his punishment would be] — see also DEATH SENTENCE, LIFE SENTENCE, SUSPENDED SENTENCE

2 sentence verb -tences; -tenced; -tenc-ing [+ obj] law : to officially state the punishment given to (someone) by a court of law • The defendant was sentenced and fined. — usually + to • The judge sentenced him to prison.

— sentencing /ˈsentnsɪŋ/ noun [noncount] • He will return to the court on Wednesday for sentencing. — often used before another noun • sentencing laws/guidelines sentence adverb noun, pl ~ -verbs [count] grammar : an adverb that limits or describes the meaning of an entire statement rather than just a single word or phrase • “Similarly” and “hopefully” often function as sentence adverbs.

sentence fragment noun, pl ~ -ments [count] grammar : a group of words that is written out as a sentence but that lacks a subject or verb

sen-ten-tious /senˈtenʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + disapproving : having or expressing strong opinions about what people should and should not do • a smug and sententious writer • a sententious speech

— sen-ten-tious-ly adv • He spoke sententiously.

sen-tient /ˈsenʃɪjənt/ adj, technical + formal : able to feel, see, hear, smell, or taste • sentient beings

sen-ti-ment /ˈsentəmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 : an attitude or opinion [count] His criticism of the court's decision expresses a sentiment that is shared by many people.

• an expression of antiwar sentiments • a noble sentiment • "The lecture was interesting, but it was much too long." "My sentiments exactly!" [=I agree with you completely] [non-count] A good politician understands public sentiment. [=understands the opinions held by many or most people]

2 [noncount] : feelings of love, sympathy, kindness, etc. • She likes warmth and sentiment in a movie. • You have to be tough to succeed in the business world. There's no room for sentiment.

sen-ti-men-tal /,sentə'mentl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : based on, showing, or resulting from feelings or emotions rather than reason or thought • He has a sentimental attachment to his old high school. • She saved her wedding gown for sentimental reasons. • He has sentimental ideas about the past. ✧ A sentimental journey is a visit to a place that was once very familiar and that brings back memories of the past. • They took a sentimental journey to England, the country where they had met. ✧ Something that has sentimental value is important to someone because of its connection with a happy time of life, a special person, etc. • I keep this picture because it has sentimental value for me.

2 a : appealing to the emotions especially in an excessive way • a sentimental melodrama b : having or expressing strong feelings of love, sadness, etc., in a way that may seem foolish or excessive • a sentimental person • I tend to get very sentimental when I think about my childhood.

— sen-ti-men-tal-ly adv

sen-ti-men-tal-ism /,sentə'mentə,lɪzəm/ noun [noncount]

: a tendency to have or express feelings of love, sadness, etc., especially in a way that seems foolish or excessive : a sentimental quality • the sentimentalism of 19th-century art

— sen-ti-men-tal-ist /,sentə'mentə,lɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]

sen-ti-men-tal-i-ty /,sentə'men'tæləti/ noun [noncount]

: the quality of being sentimental especially in an excessive way • the sentimentality of Romantic poetry

sen-ti-men-tal-ize also Brit sen-ti-men-tal-ise

/,sentə'mentə,ləɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing : to describe or show (something) in an emotional way that makes it seem more attractive or interesting than it really is : to describe or show (something) in a sentimental way [+ obj] The movie sentimentalizes the past. • sentimentalized stories of childhood [no obj] He does not sentimentalize in his biography.

sen-ti-nel /'sentənəl/ noun, pl -nels [count] : SENTRY • armed sentinels — sometimes used figuratively • The trees stand sentinel [=stand in a row like soldiers] on the cliffs.

sen-try /'sentri/ noun, pl -tries [count] : a soldier who guards a door, gate, etc. • The general placed/posted an armed sentry at the bridge. • The company hired a policeman to stand sentry [=be a guard] by the door.

Sep. abbr September

sep-a-ra-ble /'sepərəbəl/ adj : capable of being separated •

The top and bottom sections are easily separable (from each other). • His religious and political beliefs are not always separable from each other. — opposite INSEPARABLE

— sep-a-ra-bil-i-ty /,sepərə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

1 sep-a-rate /'sepərət/ adj

1 : not joined, connected, or combined : placed or kept apart • two separate building • There are separate restrooms for men and women. • The boys/girls have separate rooms. • They slept in separate beds. • We use the same Internet service provider but have separate accounts. • The company broke up into three separate [=independent] entities. • Each state has a separate set of laws [=has its own set of laws] concerning marriage. • He tries to keep his private life and public life separate (from each other). = He tries to keep his private life separate from his public life.

2 : different from something else • I met him on four separate [=different] occasions. : not related • That's an entirely separate issue.

go your separate ways 1 : to end a relationship with someone • After 20 years of marriage, they decided to go their separate ways. 2 : to go in different directions after being together • After dinner we went our separate ways.

under separate cover see ²COVER

— sep-a-rate-ness noun [noncount]

2 sep-a-rate /'sepə'reɪt/ verb -rates; -rat-ed; -rat-ing

1 [+ obj] : to cause (two or more people or things) to stop being together, joined, or connected : to make (people or things) separate • He separated the fighters (from each other). • They described the process used to separate cream from milk. • (US) He fell and separated [=dislocated] his shoulder. [=caused the bone in his shoulder to move out of its proper position]

2 [+ obj] : to be between (two things or people) • A river separates the two towns. = The two towns are separated by a river. [=there is a river between the two towns] • A great distance separated the sisters from each other.

3 [no obj] : to stop being together, joined, or connected : to become separate • They walked together to the corner, but then they separated and went their separate ways. • The main group separated into several smaller groups. • Oil and water separate when combined together. • The oil separated from the water. • The salt crystals separated out of the liquid.

4 [no obj] : to stop living with a husband, wife, or partner • They separated six months after their wedding. • She separated from her boyfriend last week.

5 [+ obj] : to see or describe the differences between (two things) • We need to separate [=distinguish] fact and/from fiction.

6 [+ obj] : to be the quality that makes (people or things) different : DIFFERENTIATE • Their personalities and political beliefs separate them. • Our ability to reason is what separates us from animals.

7 [+ obj] — used to describe how much difference there is in the scores or positions of people or teams in a race, game, etc. • One goal separated the teams at the beginning of the third period. • Polls show that the candidates are separated by only a narrow margin as the election approaches.

separate off [phrasal verb] separate (someone or something) off or separate off (someone or something) : to cause (someone or something) to be separate from other people or things • He separated himself off from the crowd in the subway.

separate out [phrasal verb] separate out (someone or something) or separate (someone or something) out : to remove (someone or something) from a group • Before you put out the trash, you have to separate out the bottles and cans. • Most schools separate out children with learning problems.

separate the men from the boys : to show which people are really strong, brave, etc., and which are not • The competition has been easy to this point, but now it gets tough and we'll really begin to separate the men from the boys.

separate the sheep from the goats or separate the wheat from the chaff chiefly Brit : to judge which people or things in a group are bad and which ones are good • The magazine describes many different products and then separates the sheep from the goats.

separated adj

1 : not living with a husband, wife, or partner • My sister is separated from her husband. = My sister and her husband are separated.

2 US, medical : not attached because of an injury : DISLOCATED • He suffered a separated shoulder.

3 : located far apart from each other • The birds live on two widely separated islands.

sep-a-rate-ly /'sepərətli/ adv : not together with someone or something else • The two vegetables should be cooked separately. • The software is sold separately from the hardware. • The professor met with each student separately.

sep-a-rates /'sepərəts/ noun [plural] : pieces of women's clothing that can be worn with other pieces in different combinations to form different outfits

sep-a-ra-tion /,sepə'reɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : the act of separating people or things or the state of being separated [count] After a separation of 30 years, she visited her family in Cuba. [noncount] Moving away meant separation from his family. • The U.S. Constitution calls for the separation of church and state [=calls for government and religion to be kept separate from each other]

2 [count] : a situation in which a husband and wife live apart from each other — usually singular • She wanted a separation from her husband.

separation anxiety noun [noncount] : a feeling of strong fear and anxiety that is experienced by a young child when the child is separated from a parent sep-a-rat-ist /'sepərətɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a member of a group of people who want to form a new country, religion, etc., that is separate from the one they are in now

— sep-a-rat-ism /'sepərə'tɪzəm/ noun [noncount] • religious separatism — separatist adj • a separatist movement/group/leader sep-a-ra-tor /'sepə'reɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count] : someone or something that separates two or more things from each other se·pia /'si:pijə/ noun [noncount] : a reddish-brown color — sepia adj • sepia photographs/prints

sep·sis /'sepsəs/ noun [noncount] medical : illness caused by an infection in a part of the body • She was treated for sepsis of the urinary tract.

Sept. abbr September

Sep·tem·ber /sep'tembə/ noun, pl -bers : the ninth month of the year [noncount] early/mid-/late September • early/late in September • School begins on September the fifth. = (US) School begins on September fifth. = School begins on the fifth of September. [count] The weather has been very mild during the past two Septembers.

sep·tet /sep'tet/ noun, pl -tets [count]

1 : a group of seven singers or musicians who perform together

2 : a piece of music that is meant to be performed by seven people sep·tic /'septik/ adj, chiefly Brit, medical : infected with bacteria • a septic leg • The cut went septic. [=the cut became infected]

sep·ti·ce·mia (US) or Brit sep·ti·cae·mia /,septə'si:mijə/ noun [noncount] medical : a dangerous infection of the blood : BLOOD POISONING septic tank noun, pl ~ tanks [count] : a tank under the ground that holds human waste from toilets sep·tu·a·ge·nar·i·an /sep,tu:wəʒə'nerijən, Brit ,sep,tju-əʒə'neəriən/ noun, pl -ans [count] : a person who is between 70 and 79 years old

se·pul·chral /sə'pʌlkɹəl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] literary : very sad and serious : very dismal or gloomy • sepulchral silence/darkness

2 always used before a noun : of or relating to a sepulchre • sepulchral walls • a sepulchral inscription sep·ul·chre or US sep·ul·cher /'sepʌlkə/ noun, pl -chres or US -chers [count] old-fashioned : a place of burial : TOMB

se·quel /'si:kwəl/ noun, pl -quels [count]

1 : a book, movie, etc., that continues a story begun in another book, movie, etc. • The new film is a sequel to the very successful comedy that came out five years ago. • He is busy writing the book's sequel. — compare PREQUEL

2 : something that happens after and usually as a result of a previous event • There is an interesting sequel to my date with her that I'll share with you later.

se·quence /'si:kwəns/ noun, pl -quenc-es

1 : the order in which things happen or should happen [count] a sequence of events [noncount] He listened to the telephone messages in sequence. • After she dropped the photographs, they were out of sequence. [=not in order, out of order]

2 [count] : a group of things that come one after the other : SERIES • a sequence of numbers/thoughts/poems/photographs

3 [count] : a part of a movie, television show, etc., that deals with one subject, action, or idea • a chase sequence in a spy movie • I enjoyed the movie's opening sequence.

se·quen·tial /sɪ'kwɛnʃəl/ adj, formal

1 : of, relating to, or arranged in a particular order or sequence • sequential filing systems • Put the cards in sequential order.

2 : happening in a series or sequence • sequential actions/events

— se·quen·tial·ly adv • I arranged the photos sequentially.

se·ques·ter /sɪ'kwɛstə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter·ing [+ obj]

1 formal : to keep (a person or group) apart from other people • The jury was sequestered until a verdict was reached. • He was sequestered in his room.

2 law : to take (property) until a debt has been paid • Their property was sequestered.

sequestered adj, literary : located in a quiet and private place : SECLUDED • a sequestered house/village se·ques·trate /'si:kwəstreɪt/ verb -trates; trat·ed; -trat·ing [+ obj] chiefly Brit, law : SEQUESTER 2

se·ques·tra·tion /,si:kwə'streɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 US : the act of keeping a person or group apart from other people or the state of being kept apart from other people • the sequestration of a jury • During their sequestration, jurors were not allowed to speak to reporters.

2 chiefly Brit, law : the act of taking someone's property until a debt has been paid • the sequestration of property

se·quin /'si:kwən/ noun, pl -quins [count] : a small piece of shiny metal or plastic that is sewn onto clothes as a decoration

— se·quined or se·quinned /'si:kwənd/ adj • a sequined dress/gown se·quoia /sɪ'kwɔjə/ noun, pl -quoi-as [count] : a very tall evergreen tree that grows in California

sera plural of SERUM

ser·aph /'serəf/ noun, pl ser·a·phim /'serə,fɪm/ or ser·aphs [count] : a type of angel that is described in the Bible : an angel of the highest rank se·raph·ic /sə'ræfɪk/ adj, literary : very beautiful or pure like that of an angel • a seraphic smile • her seraphic face

¹ser·e·nade /,serə'neɪd/ noun, pl -nades [count] : a love song that is sung or played outdoors at night for a woman

²serenade verb -nades; -nad·ed; -nad·ing [+ obj] : to sing or play a serenade for (someone) • He serenaded her from the garden below her window. — sometimes used figuratively • The crickets serenaded us all night long.

ser·en·dip·i·ty /,serən'dɪpəti/ noun [noncount] literary : luck that takes the form of finding valuable or pleasant things that are not looked for • They found each other by pure serendipity.

— ser·en·dip·i·tous /,serən'dɪpətəs/ adj • a serendipitous discovery

se·rene /sə'ri:n/ adj [more ~; most ~] : calm and peaceful • a serene face • serene music/skies

— se·rene·ly adv • She smiled serenely. • The sunset was serenely beautiful. — se·ren·i·ty /sə'renəti/ noun [noncount] • a feeling of peace and serenity

serf /'sɜ:f/ noun, pl serfs [count] : a person in the past who belonged to a low social class and who lived and worked on land owned by another person • medieval serfs

serf·dom /'sɜ:fdəm/ noun [noncount] : the state of being a serf serge /'sɜ:dʒ/ noun [noncount] : a strong cloth that is used to make clothes • a coat made of serge • a blue serge suit

ser·geant /'sɜ:dʒənt/ noun, pl -geants [count]

1 : an officer of low rank in the army or marines — see also STAFF SERGEANT

2 : an officer in a police force with a rank below captain or lieutenant — abbr, Sgt.

sergeant major noun, pl sergeants major or sergeant majors [count] : an officer of low rank in the U.S. Army or Marines Corps

¹se·ri·al /'sirijəl/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : arranged or happening in a series • The pictures are numbered and arranged in serial order. • Scientists made serial observations over a period of two weeks.

2 a of a crime : committed many times usually in the same way • serial murders/rapes b of a criminal : committing a series of crimes • a serial killer/rapist

3 : broadcast or published in separate parts over a period of time • a serial story/novel/publication

4 computers : designed for a computer system in which very small pieces of information are sent one at a time over a single wire • a serial cable/connection/port/printer — compare ¹PARALLEL 3

— se·ri·al·ly adv • serially numbered items • serially connected printers • The story was published serially.

²serial noun, pl -als [count] : a story that is broadcast on television or radio or that is published in a magazine in separate parts over a period of time • a daytime television serial se·ri·al·ize also Brit se·ri·al·ise /'sirijə,ləɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz·ing [+ obj] : to broadcast or publish (something, such as a story) in separate parts over a period of time • Her story was serialized in the magazine.

— se·ri·al·i·za·tion also Brit se·ri·al·i·sa·tion /,sirijələ-'zeɪʃən, Brit ,sɪəriə,ləɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, non-count] serial number noun, pl ~ -bers [count] : a number that is put on a product and that is used to identify it • the serial number of a computer

se·ries /'siriz/ noun, pl series [count]

1 : a number of things or events that are arranged or happen one after the other — usually singular • the summer concert series at the park — often + of • a series of experiments/explosions • We've had a series of problems with our computer network. • an unusual series of events

2 a : a set of regularly presented television shows involving

the same group of characters or the same subject • a popular television series • a five-part series on/about the history of baseball b : a set of books, articles, etc., that involve the same group of characters or the same subject • a comic book series • a series of articles on global warming

3 sports : a set of games that are played between two teams one after the other on different days • The Yankees played a three-game series against the Red Sox last week. • The play-off series between the two teams begins next week. — see also WORLD SERIES in series : one after the other in a particular order • She placed the items in series.

ser·if /'serəf/ noun, pl -ifs [count] technical : one of the short lines near the top and bottom of the long parts of some printed letters — see picture at FONT; see also SANS SERIF se·ri·ous /'sirijəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having an important or dangerous possible result • a serious injury/illness/condition • “You sound terrible.” “It’s just a bad cold. Nothing serious.” • serious risks • For my brother, not going to college was a serious mistake. • Crime is a serious problem in this neighborhood.

2 : involving or deserving a lot of thought, attention, or work • a serious study • The team is a serious contender for the championship. • If you want to quit smoking, you have to make a serious effort. • They had a serious conversation about their relationship. • a serious novel about modern life • The story raises serious questions about our system of justice. • Dog shows are a serious business.

3 : giving a lot of attention or energy to something • serious musicians • She is a serious cyclist who rides 200 miles each week. • Serious journalists do not pry into the personal lives of famous people. • When it comes to fishing, he’s very serious. = He’s very serious about fishing. • My sister is serious about her grades.

4 : not joking or funny • a serious story/opera • Don’t laugh. I’m serious! • Can you be serious just this once? This is important. • He is serious about moving down South. [=he truly wants/intends to move down South] • “He says he won’t do it.” “Are you serious?” • “I’m joining the army.” “You can’t be serious.” [=you have to be joking; I can’t believe that you’re really joining the army]

5 always used before a noun, informal : large or impressive in quality or amount • After business school, he started making some serious money. [=he started making a large amount of money] • These are serious shoes! • They did some serious drinking at the bar. [=they drank a lot]

6 : having or involving strong romantic feelings • Their romance is quite serious. They’re even talking about marriage. • We’ve dated a few times, but it’s nothing serious. • They are a serious couple. • He’s never really had a serious relationship with a woman. — often + about • She and her boyfriend are serious about each other.

7 : thoughtful or quiet in appearance or manner • He looks like a serious person. • You look serious. What’s the matter?

se·ri·ous·ly /'sirijəsli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 : in a serious way • No one was seriously injured in the accident. • I thought seriously about death while I was in the hospital. • You should seriously consider buying a new car. • You don’t mean that seriously, do you? • If you like arguing so much, you should be a lawyer! Seriously, you would be good at it. [=I was joking when I said you should be a lawyer, but I actually think you would be good at it] • It was so hot that we nearly melted. But seriously, it was hotter than I’ve ever experienced. • (informal) “I’ll pay for dinner.” “Seriously?” [=are you being serious when you say that you’ll pay for dinner?]

2 : to a large or great degree or extent • I think you are seriously mistaken. • During her first year in the United States, she was seriously [=very, extremely] unhappy. • She’s a seriously beautiful woman. [=a very beautiful woman]

take (someone or something) seriously : to treat (someone or something) as being very important and deserving attention or respect • He takes his religious faith seriously. • She’s well qualified for the job, so she hopes the company will take her seriously. • His parents threatened to punish him, but he didn’t take them seriously. [=he didn’t believe that they would actually punish him] • Police are taking the matter very seriously. • Don’t take him seriously—he loves to say crazy things. • Most politicians take themselves too seriously. [=think of themselves as being more important than they really are] se·ri·ous·ness /'sirijəsənəs/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of being serious • We were shocked by the serious- ness of her illness. • The child’s seriousness was surprising. • You have to consider the seriousness of the charges against you. • She spoke with great seriousness.

in all seriousness : in a serious way — used to stress that a statement, question, etc., is not a joke • “I was the queen of England in a previous life,” she said in all seriousness. • In all seriousness, if he does propose, what will you say?

ser·mon /'səməŋ/ noun, pl -mons [count]

1 : a speech about a moral or religious subject that is usually given by a religious leader • He preached/delivered/gave a sermon on the importance of kindness.

2 informal + usually disapproving : a serious talk about how someone should behave • Dad gave me a sermon yesterday about doing my homework.

ser·mon·ize also Brit ser·mon·ise /'səmənaɪz/ verb -izes; -ized; -izing [no obj] : to give a sermon to someone; especially, disapproving : to give someone unwanted advice about good moral behavior • She’s a teacher who can talk to her students about serious subjects without sermonizing.

ser·pent /'səpənt/ noun, pl -pents [count] literary : a usually large snake ser·pen·tine /'səpən,tɪn, Brit 'sə:pən,tain/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having many bends and turns • a serpentine [=twisting] path through the woods ser·rat·ed /'seə,ɪtəd, sə'reɪtəd/ adj : having a row of small points or teeth along the side like a saw • a knife with a ser-rated blade/edge ser·ried /'serɪd/ adj, always used before a noun, literary : crowded or pressed together • Flowers came up every spring in their serried ranks.

se·rum /'sirəm/ noun, pl se·rums or se·ra /'sirə/

1 [noncount] medical : the part of blood that is like water and that contains substances (called antibodies) that fight disease • blood serum

2 medical : serum from an animal’s blood that can be added to a person’s blood to prevent or cure disease [noncount] The patient was administered serum. [count] mouse sera

3 [noncount] biology : the watery part of a fluid found in a plant

ser·vant /'səvənt/ noun, pl -vants [count]

1 : a person who is hired to do household or personal duties such as cleaning and cooking • domestic/household servants — see also CIVIL SERVANT, PUBLIC SERVANT

2 : a person who is devoted to or guided by something — often + of • a servant of the truth • She is a servant of her religion.

1 serve /'səv/ verb serves; served; serv·ing

1 a [+ obj] : to give (food or drink) to someone at a meal, in a restaurant, etc. • Soup was served as the first course. • The waiter served our meals quickly. • The restaurant serves excellent Italian food. • Dinner is served. [=dinner is on the table and ready to be eaten] — see also SERVE UP (below) b : to give food or drink to (someone) [+ obj] The waiter who served us was very nice. • Feel free to serve yourself at the salad bar. [no obj] You carve the turkey, and I’ll serve.

2 [+ obj] : to be enough food for (a particular number of people) • We need to make enough soup to serve [=feed] eight people. • The roast should serve six.

3 [+ obj] : to provide service to (a customer) : to help (a customer) make purchases • I’m afraid all of our salespeople are serving other customers right now. • What can we do to serve our customers better?

4 [no obj] a : to be used or seen in a particular way — + as • The trees can serve as shelter from the rain. • The organization serves as a model of social responsibility. • The accident serves as [=is] a reminder of the dangers of drunk driving. • Let that serve as [=be] a lesson to you. b : to have a particular result or effect — often + as • Babysitting his nieces served as a test of his patience. — often followed by to + verb • She tried hard but her efforts only served to bring more attention to her lack of experience.

5 a [+ obj] : to be useful or helpful to (someone) • Her quick wit has served her well on many occasions. b : to provide what is needed by or for (someone or something) [+ obj] The library serves the community. = The library serves the needs of the community. [=provides things that the community needs] • He argued that government too often serves the interests of big business. [=does things to help big business instead of ordinary people] • Arguing with him serves no purpose. [=is not useful or helpful in any way] • If (my) memory serves me (right/correctly) [=if I remember correctly], she is from Los Angeles. [no obj] If memory serves, she is from Los Angeles. • Many people do not believe that justice has been served in his case. [=that he has been given proper punishment or fair treatment by the legal system] — see also SELF-SERVING C [+ obj] : to provide (an area or group of people) with a particular service • This neighborhood is not served with/by garbage collection. • Two elementary schools serve the town.

6 : to hold a particular office, position, etc. : to perform a duty or job [no obj] They served on the jury. • She served on the city council for years. • He served as the club's adviser. • He served for five years in the army. = He served in the army for five years. • She was elected to serve for a second term. [+ obj] We honor those who serve our country. • She served a two-year apprenticeship.

7 [+ obj] : to be in prison for or during (a period of time) • He's serving two years for robbery. • She is serving a life/10-year sentence. • He has served time [=spent time in prison] for drug possession.

8 [+ obj] law : to send or give (someone) official legal papers • He served her with divorce papers. • The police officer served a summons/writ on him.

9 [+ obj] : to give respect and service to (someone or something) • She dedicated her whole life to serving God.

10 sports : to throw a ball into the air and hit it over a net to start play in tennis, volleyball, etc. [no obj] It's your turn to serve. [+ obj] They flipped a coin to decide who would serve the ball first.

first come, first served see ²FIRST serve out [phrasal verb] serve (something) out or serve out (something) : to complete (a term in office, a prison sentence, etc.) • He vowed that he would serve out his five-year term as chairperson. • She served out her sentence in a prison in New York.

serve (someone) right — used to say that someone who has behaved badly deserves a particular punishment, problem, etc. • "I hear his wife is divorcing him." "It serves him right after the way he's treated her." • "He won't even talk to me." "(It) Serves you right for lying to him."

serve two masters : to give equal support to two different causes, groups, etc. • You cannot serve two masters.

serve up [phrasal verb] serve up (something) or serve (something) up : to give (food) to someone at a meal, in a restaurant, etc. • That little restaurant serves up some of the best Indian food in the city. — sometimes used figuratively • The movie serves up a ton of laughs. [=the movie is very funny]

²*serve* noun, pl serves [count] sports : the act or action of throwing a ball into the air and hitting it over a net to start play in tennis, volleyball, etc. • She started the game with a powerful serve. • It's your serve. [=it's your turn to serve the ball]

serv-er /'səvə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 US : a person who brings your food and drinks at a restaurant : a waiter or waitress • She asked our server for another glass of wine.

2 : the main computer in a network which provides files and services that are used by the other computers • the file/mail/Web server

3 : the player who begins play in tennis, volleyball, etc., by serving the ball

4 : something (such as a tray or spoon) that is used to serve food

serv-ery /'səvəri/ noun, pl -eries [count] Brit : a counter in a restaurant where customers pick up their food and bring it back to their tables

¹*ser-vice* /'səvəs/ noun, pl -vics [count]

1 [count] : an organization, company, or system that provides something to the public • the National Park Service • the National Weather Service [=a government agency that provides information about the weather] • Students go to health services for medical attention. • He runs a landscaping service. • Their housing is provided through government services. — see also ANSWERING SERVICE, CIVIL SERVICE, DATING SERVICE, FOREIGN SERVICE, INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE, POSTAL SERVICE, PUBLIC SERVICE, SECRET SERVICE, SOCIAL SERVICES, WIRE SERVICE

2 : work done by an organization or person that does not involve producing goods [count] Take advantage of their free delivery service. • bus/Internet/telephone service — often plural • He offered his services as a babysitter [=he offered to be a babysitter] during the party. • The lawyers offer their services for free to those who cannot afford to pay. • We received a bill for services rendered. [=for work that had been done] • the consumption of goods and services [noncount] We guarantee excellent service. • They have jobs in the service industries [=jobs that involve providing services to customers and not producing a product]

3 [noncount] a : work done for a business or organization : EMPLOYMENT • She retired from the company after 34 years of service. • Pay is determined by length of service. b : work done for your country, government, etc. • a family tradition of public service • Reporters began investigating his record of military service [=time spent serving in the army, navy, air force, etc.] — see also COMMUNITY SERVICE C old-fashioned : employment as a servant • He entered the queen's service. • In those days it wasn't unusual for a person to go into service [=become a servant] as a child. • He was in service all his life.

4 [noncount] : the act of helping or serving customers at a restaurant, hotel, store, etc. • The food was good but the service was terribly slow. • The company is known for its excellent customer service. — see also FULL-SERVICE, LIP SERVICE, ROOM SERVICE

5 [noncount] : use of a machine or vehicle • Our car has given us great service over the years. [=has served us very well over the years] : the state of being available for use • The copier is currently out of service [=out of order] • The new planes will be put into service [=will begin being used] next year.

6 : work that is done to repair something (such as a vehicle) or to keep it in good condition [noncount] He brought his car in for service. • The store provides television sales and service. [count] (Brit) He brought his car in for a service.

7 : a regularly scheduled trip on a bus, airplane, boat, etc. [count] The 10:30 bus service to Boston is canceled today. [noncount] There is ferry service to the island four times a day. [=the ferry goes to the island four times a day]

8 [count] : a religious ceremony • a funeral/memorial/burial service • She goes to the synagogue for services on Friday nights.

9 US the service or Brit the services : a country's military forces : a country's army, navy, air force, etc. • He entered/joined the service when he was 19. • She was in the service for 20 years.

10 [count] : a set of dishes, cups, etc., that match each other • a tea service • I have a china/dinner service for 12 people.

11 [count] sports : the act of serving the ball in tennis, volleyball, etc. : SERVE • a first/second service

12 [noncount] law : the act of giving legal papers to someone • the service of a subpoena

13 services Brit : a place along a highway for drivers to get food, gasoline, etc. — used both as a singular noun and as a plural noun • We stopped at a services.

at someone's service : ready or available for someone's use • I am happy to be at your service if you have any questions. • They made sure there was a car at her service when she got there.

be of service : to be helpful or useful to someone • I am glad to be of service. • May I be of service to you?

do (someone) a service : to do something that helps (someone) • The journalists did the public a service by exposing the corruption. • You are doing us no service by criticizing everything.

²*service verb* -vices; -viced; -vic-ing [+ obj]

1 : to do the work that is needed to keep (a machine or vehicle) in good condition • I need to get my car serviced. • The shop services sewing machines and old typewriters.

2 technical : to pay interest on (a loan or debt) • The company was unable to service the loan.

3 : to provide (someone) with something that is needed or wanted • The bookstore primarily services people looking for out-of-print books.

ser-vice-able /'səvəsəbəl/ adj : ready to use or able to be used • I bought an old but still serviceable bicycle.

service area noun, pl ~ areas [count] chiefly Brit : REST AREA service charge noun, pl ~ charges [count]

1 : an amount of money that is charged for a particular service in addition to a basic fee • Tickets are $25 each plus a $3 service charge per ticket. — called also (US) service fee

2 Brit : an amount of money that is paid to the owner of an apartment building for services (such as garbage collection)

3 Brit : a charge added to a bill in a restaurant to pay for the work of the waitress or waiter service club noun, pl ~ clubs [count] US : a national organization that is made up of groups of local people who work to improve their communities ser·vice·man /'səvəs,mæn/ noun, pl -men /-,mən/ [count] : a man who is a member of the military service mark noun, pl ~ marks [count] : a name, word, symbol, etc., that an organization uses to identify its services — compare TRADEMARK service road noun, pl ~ roads [count] : a road that is near and parallel to a major road and that allows people to go to local stores, houses, etc.

service station noun, pl ~ -tions [count] : GAS STATION ser·vice·wom·an /'səvəs,wumən/ noun, pl -wom·en /-,wimən/ [count] : a woman who is a member of the military servicing noun [noncount] : work done to repair a machine or vehicle or to keep it in good condition • The photocopier needs servicing.

ser·vi·ette /,səvi'et/ noun, pl -ettes [count] Brit : NAPKIN

ser·vile /'səvəl, Brit 'sə:,vail/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + disapproving : very obedient and trying too hard to please someone • In the presence of an authority, he immediately adopted a servile [=submissive] attitude. • a servile assistant — ser·vil·i·ty /sə'viləti/ noun [noncount]

¹serving noun, pl -ings [count] : an amount of food or drink that is enough for one person • This recipe makes four servings [=helpings] of rice and beans. • This is my third serving of mashed potatoes. • According to the package, one serving size is 6 ounces.

²serving adj, always used before a noun : used to serve or give out food • a serving bowl • serving utensils

ser·vi·tude /'səvə,tu:d, Brit 'sə:və,tju:d/ noun [noncount] formal : the condition of being a slave or of having to obey another person • indentured/involuntary servitude

ses·a·me /'sesəmi/ noun [noncount] : a plant that is grown in warm regions and that produces small flat seeds that are used in cooking and as a source of oil — often used before another noun • sesame seeds • sesame oil — see also OPEN SESAME

ses·sion /'seʃən/ noun, pl -sions

¹ [count] : a period of time that is used to do a particular activity • a practice session • Her health insurance will cover 12 one-hour sessions of therapy per year. • a recording/photo session • After the speech there will be a question and answer session. [=a period of time when people can have their questions answered] — see also BULL SESSION, JAM SESSION, RAP SESSION

² : a formal meeting or series of meetings of a group of people (such as a court of law or legislature) [count] the U.N. Special Session on Disarmament [noncount] The board met in closed session [=with no one else present] for four hours to discuss the issue. • Congress is in session [=is meeting] right now.

³ US : a period of time during the year in which a school, college, or university has classes [count] I'm going to take classes during the summer session. [noncount] School will be back in session at the beginning of September. [=school will start again at the beginning of September]

¹set /set/ verb sets; set; set·ting

¹ always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] a : to put (something) in a place or position • Set your books (down) on the table. • We need to set some extra chairs around the table. • He set the ladder against the wall and walked away. • I remember setting my bag right here. b : to put (something) into the surface of something • They set the bricks along the walkway. — often used as (be) set • The posts are set firmly in the ground. • The tiles are set into the wall. c : to attach (something, such as a jewel) to a piece of jewelry or other decoration • The jeweler can set the stone several different ways. — often used as (be) set • Her wedding ring is set [=inlaid] with seven diamonds. • a diamond set in a simple gold band

² always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to cause the action of (a film, story, etc.) to happen in a certain place or during a certain time — often used as (be) set • The play is set in Verona, Italy. [=the action of the play takes place in Verona] • The novel is set in 1943. • a novel set during World War II • The story is set against (the backdrop of) the Second World War. [=the story takes place during the Second World War]

³ [+ obj] a : to make (something) ready to be used : to put (something) in a position to be used • He turned off the car and set the parking brake. • Rangers will set a trap to catch

the bear. b : to put plates, forks, spoons, knives, etc., on a table before serving a meal • Would you please set [=(Brit) lay] the table? • We set an extra place at the table for our guest. • The table was set for two. [=it had two place settings] 4 [+ obj] : to cause (a clock) to show a particular time • We set the clocks ahead one hour for daylight saving time. : to cause the controls of (a clock or other device) to be in a particular position • The alarm was set for 7:00 a.m. = The alarm was set to go off at 7:00 a.m. • I set the timer for/to twenty minutes. • Set the oven to 350 degrees. • In the winter, she sets the thermostat at/to 68 degrees.

5 [+ obj] : to decide on or choose (something) • I set a goal (for myself) to lose 15 pounds by the end of the year. • The company must meet certain conditions set by the government in order to stay in business. • She will be setting the agenda for this afternoon's meeting. • setting boundaries/limits/rules • NASA has not yet set [=named] the date for the shuttle launch. • He has set his sights on becoming [=he has decided to try to become] the next president. • We don't have enough time to do everything. We have to set priorities. [=to decide which things are most important to do]

6 [+ obj] a : to give (a particular price or value) to something • An antiques appraiser set the value of the chair at $500. • If you set your prices too high, no one will buy your products. • Her bail was set at $10,000. = The judge set (her) bail at $10,000. [=the judge decided that she will have to pay $10,000 or stay in jail until her trial] b : to give (a high value or importance) to something • They set a high value on their privacy. [=they value their privacy very highly] • Our family sets great store by/on tradition. [=our family believes that tradition is very important]

7 [+ obj] a : to cause (something) to be accepted as an example, rule, etc. : to establish (a standard, trend, etc.) for others to follow or try to copy • They are improving the safety of their vehicles and setting a higher standard for other companies (to follow). • His style of directing has set a new trend in moviemaking. [=other directors are copying his way of making movies] • His behavior sets a good/bad example for the rest of the children. • The ruling is likely to set a precedent for how future cases are decided. [=future cases will be decided based on this case] • Her lighthearted question set the tone for the rest of the interview. [=it gave the rest of the interview a light and easy feeling] b : to establish (a record) as the performance or achievement that is the best of its kind • She set a record for the most sales in the company's history. [=she made more sales for the company than anyone else ever had] • He set the world record for/in the 100-meter dash.

8 [+ obj] : to cause (someone or something) to be in a specified condition • The slaves were set free. • He made a raft and set it afloat in the river. • They set the house on fire. = They set fire to the house. = (more formally) They set the house afire/aflame/ablaze. [=they caused the house to begin burning] • I wish I knew how to set your mind at ease. [=to help you stop worrying] • She set him right/straight about what happened. [=she told him that he was wrong and explained what really happened] • We should set our own house in order [=correct the way we do things] before we criticize them.

9 : to cause (someone or something) to start doing something [+ obj] We have no idea what set [=got] her crying. — often + to • Her question set me to wondering if I had made the right decision. • They are ready to set the plan in motion. [=they are ready to cause the plan to start happening] • The plan has been set in motion. • Sources say that the governor has set the wheels in motion for a run for the presidency. [=the governor has started to run for president] [no obj] He immediately set to work [=started working] on the project.

10 [+ obj] Brit : to give (someone) a particular job : to require someone to do (a task) • My boss set me to organizing the files. • She set [=assigned] her students the task of writing a three-page report. • setting homework for the children

11 [no obj] of the sun or moon : to move down in the sky and go below the horizon • We sat on the beach and watched the sun set. — opposite ¹RISE ⁵

12 [+ obj] : to put and hold (your jaw, mouth, etc.) firmly into a certain position • She crossed her arms, set her jaw, and refused to answer any questions. • He set his lips firmly.

13 a [no obj] of a liquid : to become thick or hard • The gelatin needs a few hours to set. • My nail polish is still setting. • a quick-setting cement b : to become permanent [no obj] If you don't wash your shirt right away, the stain will set. [=you will not be able to remove the stain] [+ obj] Hot water will set the stain.

14 : to put (a broken bone) into its normal position so it can heal [+ obj] Doctors set her broken leg last week. [no obj] The bones will take several weeks to set. [=grow together]

15 [+ obj] : to give a particular style to (someone's hair) by wetting it, putting it in curlers or clips, and drying it • She gets her hair set and styled twice a week.

16 [+ obj] : to type or print (a word, sentence, etc.) in a particular form or style • a word set in italics set about [phrasal verb] set about (something) : to begin to do (something) • They set about (the task of) creating a new Web site. — sometimes followed by to + verb • They set about to create a new Web site.

17 [+ obj] : to add music to (words) : to create (music) to accompany words — usually + to • She wrote the lyrics, and he set them to music.

set against [phrasal verb] 1 set (something) against (something) a : to compare (something) to (something else) • Let's set the advantages against the disadvantages. — often used as (be) set against • The challenges of fixing the problem now must be set against the dangers of waiting until later to act. • The fines were small when set against the company's huge annual profits. — see also ¹SET 2 (above) b Brit : to list (something) as an expense in order to reduce (income for which you must pay tax) • You can set your mortgage payments against your rental income. 2 set (yourself) against (someone or something) : to decide that you do not support (something or someone) : to be or become opposed to (something or someone) • She set herself against the prevailing beliefs of the time. • He has set himself against (joining) them. 3 set (someone) against (someone) : to cause (someone) to disagree with or oppose (someone) • The incident set brother against sister.

set apart [phrasal verb] 1 set (someone or something) apart : to be a quality that makes (someone or something) better than or different from other people or things — usually + from • What sets her apart (from the other teachers) is her great passion for her work. • His great height set him apart from the other men in his family. 2 set (something) apart : to keep or save (something) for a particular purpose — often used as (be) set apart; usually + for • A few acres of the city were set apart for a park.

set aside [phrasal verb] set (something) aside or set aside (something) 1 : to move (something) to the side because you are not working on it, dealing with it, etc. • Mix the dry ingredients in a small bowl and set the mixture aside. : to wait until later to use or deal with (something) • I've set your memo aside for now but I'll read it this afternoon. • The committee set aside discussion of the proposal until their next meeting. 2 : to keep or save (something) for a particular purpose • The hotel set aside [=set apart] 20 rooms for the guests of the bride and groom. • We need to set some money aside for our vacation. 3 : to stop thinking about, talking about, or being affected by (something) • They decided to set aside their differences and work together. • Setting aside the fact that the meal was extremely expensive, dinner was very enjoyable. 4 law : to change or reverse (a legal decision, conviction, etc.) • The verdict was set aside [=overturned] by the court.

set back [phrasal verb] 1 set (something or someone) back or set back (something or someone) : to make the progress of (something or someone) slower or more difficult : to cause (something or someone) to go back to an earlier or worse condition • A recent lack of funding has set back research on the disease. • If the law is reversed, it will set us back 20 years. [=it will undo 20 years of progress] • setting back progress 2 set (someone) back informal : ²COST • A new suit will set you back at least $200.

set down [phrasal verb] 1 set down (something) : to create or establish (a rule, requirement, etc.) • All participants must follow the guidelines set down [=established] by the organization. • Once she sets down the rules, there's no changing her mind. 2 set (something) down or set down (something) a : to record (something) by writing it down • She took out her notebook and started setting down her thoughts. • When an idea for a song comes to me, I set it down on paper. • setting an agreement down in writing b : to land (an airplane) on the ground or water • We had to set the plane down in a field. 3 set (someone) down : to allow (someone) to get off a bus, airplane, etc. • I asked the taxi driver to set me down [=drop me off, (US) let me off] in front of the library.

set eyes on see ¹EYE

set foot in/on see ¹FOOT

set forth [phrasal verb] 1 literary : to begin a journey • We will set forth [=set out] at dawn. 2 set forth (something) or set (something) forth formal : to explain or describe (something) in an organized way • The author sets forth [=states] the book's premise in its first two pages.

set forward [phrasal verb] set (something) forward or set forward (something) : to explain or describe (something) so that it can be considered • She has set forward [=presented] an ambitious plan to fix the nation's health-care system.

set in [phrasal verb] : to begin to be present, seen, etc. — used of something unpleasant or unwanted that often lasts for a long time • The kids should go outside and play before the rain sets in again. • An infection set in after the surgery. • Reality was starting to set in. [=become obvious] We were not going to win.

set in stone see ¹STONE

set loose see let loose at ²LOOSE

set off [phrasal verb] 1 : to begin traveling in a particular direction • We set off for home. • They set off in a different direction. • In the first chapter, the hero sets off on a long voyage across the ocean. 2 set off (something) also set (something) off : to cause (something) to start or happen • set off an explosion • Her comments set off [=touched off] a chain of events that led to two people losing their jobs. • The incident set off a debate about how public land should be used. 3 set off (something) or set (something) off a : to cause (something) to begin making noise • The thick smoke set off the school's fire alarms. • Your watch will probably set the metal detectors off. b : to cause (fireworks, a bomb, etc.) to explode • They were accused of setting off the bomb that destroyed the building. • It was set off by remote control. c : to make (something) easy to see or notice • The blue in your sweater sets off [=accents] your eyes. • Bright yellow police tape set off the area where the crime occurred. • a quote set off by quotation marks 4 set (someone) off : to cause (someone) to suddenly start yelling, crying, laughing, etc. • I wonder what set her off.

set on [phrasal verb] set (someone or something) on (someone) : to make (a person or animal) suddenly attack (someone) • Police dogs were set on the protesters. • She set her friends on him.

set out [phrasal verb] 1 a : to begin traveling in a particular direction • We got out of the car and set out for the nearest gas station. • They set out toward the east. b : to start doing something : to begin an activity or effort with a particular plan or purpose • She set out with the goal of going to the Olympics. — often followed by to + verb • She accomplishes whatever she sets out [=intends] to do. • I never set out to hurt you. [=I was not trying to hurt you] • He set out to become a lawyer but ended up teaching history instead. 2 set (something) out or set out (something) a : to explain or describe (something) • In the article, the group sets out the role of parents in a child's education. • He set out the basic argument between the two groups. b : to move and organize (a group of things) so that they can be seen or used • We'll need to set a few extra chairs out for our guests. • They set out maps and travel brochures for the tourists to take.

set pen to paper see ¹PEN

set sail see ²SAIL

set the pace see ¹PACE

set the record straight see ¹RECORD set the scene see SCENE

set the stage see ¹STAGE

set to [phrasal verb] Brit, literary : to begin doing something in an active and serious way • We set to and soon finished the work.

set up [phrasal verb] 1 : to prepare for something by putting things where they need to be • We have one hour left to set up for the party. • We had better start setting up. 2 set up (something) or set (something) up a : to create or establish (something) for a particular purpose • A panel needs to be set up to investigate the issue. • She hopes that in a few years she can set up a private practice of her own. • A foundation was set up for people with the disease. • The church set up a school for the city's homeless children. • The hikers set up camp [=they prepared an area where they could sleep outside] just before sunset. b : to arrange and plan (an event or activity) • I'll ask my secretary to set up a meeting with our clients. • Let's set up a time to get together. • He was the one who set up the bank robbery. c : to put (something) in an upright position • They set up flags along the street for the parade. • Help me set the tent up. d : to make (a machine, system, etc.) ready to be used • They set up the movie camera next to the door. • This computer wasn't set up to run so many programs at one time. 3 set (someone) up or set up (someone) a : to cause (someone) to be in a bad situation or to appear guilty • Those aren't his drugs. Someone must have set him up! [=framed him; made it look like the drugs were his] • He claimed he was set up by the police. b Brit : to help (someone) feel healthy and full of energy • She says that daily exercise has set her up to face the challenges of getting old. c : to give (someone) a job, a place to live, etc. • She set me up in a great apartment in the city. • He set his son up with a job at his company. d : to do something that makes it likely or possible for (someone) to do, get, or experience something • The team's excellent defense set them up to score the winning touchdown. — usually + for • I think you're just setting yourself up for a big disappointment. [=you're expecting something that won't happen and you will be disappointed when it doesn't] e : to cause (someone) to meet someone in order to start a romantic relationship • "How did you first meet your husband?" "My best friend set us up." — often + with • She wants to set him up with her sister. 4 set (yourself) up as (something) a : to try to make people believe that you are (something) • She has set herself up as the best alternative to the current administration. • He sets himself up as a defender of the people, but he's really only interested in getting more power. b also set up as (something) or set up in (something) : to start your own business • She set (herself) up as a wedding planner. [=she began working as a wedding planner] • He set up in business after finishing college. — see also SETUP

set up house see ¹HOUSE

set upon [phrasal verb] set (someone or something) upon (someone) : to attack (someone or something) — often used as (be) set upon • The protesters were set upon by police dogs.

set up shop see ¹SHOP

set your heart on see HEART

set your mind to see ¹MIND

set your teeth on edge see TOOTH

²set noun, pl sets

1 [count] a : a group of similar things that belong together — often + of • an extra set of keys • There were two sets of footprints leading to the door. • Her parents bought her a complete set of Shakespeare. [=all of the poems and plays written by Shakespeare] • a set of instructions • a complex set of emotions/ideas b : a group of things that are used together • I need to buy a new set of golf clubs. • a set of dishes • a chess set • an electric train set • a dining (room) set [=a group of furniture for a dining room] — see also TEA SET

2 [count] : a piece of electronic equipment • a radio/stereo set • a television set = (US) a TV set • The kids are allowed to watch two hours of television. After that, I turn off the set. — see also HEADSET

3 [count] a : a place where a movie or television program is filmed or a play is performed • We met on the set of Hamlet. • The actors got along well both on and off the set. [=while they were performing and while they were not] • Quiet on the set! b : the rooms, painted backgrounds, furniture, etc., that are used for a scene in a movie, television program, or play • elaborate stage sets • a set designer — called also (US) setting

4 [count] : one of the parts into which a tennis or volleyball match is divided : a group of tennis or volleyball games • He won a five-set match by three sets to two. — see also SET POINT

5 [count] : a group of songs or pieces that a musician or band performs at a concert • Her band opened the show with a 30-minute set.

6 [singular] somewhat old-fashioned : a group of people who have similar interests or characteristics • His music has become especially popular with the college set. [=with college students] • the younger set • the town's wealthy horsey set [=people who are interested in riding horses] — see also JET SET

7 [count] Brit : a group of students who perform at the same level in a particular subject • She's in the top set for science.

8 [count] mathematics : a group of numbers, points, etc. • the set of positive integers • a finite set of points

9 [count] : the number of times that you perform a group of repeated movements when you exercise • He did 3 sets of 12 push-ups.

10 [singular] : the way you move or hold your body, shoulders, etc. • The set of her shoulders suggested confidence and strength. • the firm set of his jaw — see also MIND-SET

11 [count] : a small bulb that you use to grow a new plant • onion sets

³set adj

1 : having a particular position or location • Her college is set in the countryside. • Their house is set back from the road. • a man with deep-set eyes — see also CLOSE-SET

2 : particular and not changing — used to describe something that has been decided by someone with authority • All the cars on our lot have a set [=fixed] price. • All contestants must write a 200-word essay on a set subject. • Schools must be in session a set number of days each year. • The office is open at set hours during the week. • (Brit) The book is now a set book/text [=a book that students must read] in schools. • (chiefly Brit) The restaurant has a very good set menu. [=a menu with items that cannot be changed]

3 [more ~; most ~] : not likely to change • She has very set ideas about how children should behave. • We're both getting older and more set in our ways. [=more unwilling to change the way we do or think about things]

4 of a person's face or expression : in a firm position that does not move or change • He stared at me with angry eyes and a set jaw. • a set smile • a crowd of set faces

5 not used before a noun, informal : ready or prepared for something • Is everyone set to go? • We're all set. • She's all set for an early-morning start. • If we win the lottery, we'll be set for life. [=we will have everything we need for the rest of our lives]

6 not used before a noun : scheduled or supposed to happen at a certain time — often + for • Your package is set [=slated] for delivery on the 11th. • Her trial is set for October. • The album is set for an early March release. — often followed by to + verb • The album is set to be released in early March. • The game is set to begin at 6:00.

be set against : to feel strongly that you do not want (something) or will not do (something) • Everyone was set against going. • He was dead set against the deal. [=he was very strongly opposed to the deal] be set on : to feel strongly that you want (something) or will do (something) • She has been set on becoming a doctor since she was a child. • I'm not completely set on red for this room.

(get) ready, (get) set, go see ¹READY

have your heart set on see HEART

have your mind set on see ¹MIND

set in stone see ¹STONE

set-aside /'setə,said/ noun, pl -asides

1 [count] : something that is saved and used for a particular purpose; especially, US : a program that requires jobs, money, etc., to be saved for people who have not been given as much as others in the past • minority set-asides

2 Brit a [noncount] : a plan in the European Union in which farmers are paid not to grow a certain crop on a piece of land so that the price for that crop will not decrease too much b [count] : a piece of land on which the crop is not grown set-back /'set,bæk/ noun, pl -backs [count] : a problem that makes progress more difficult or success less likely • Despite some early setbacks, they eventually became a successful company. • a serious/minor/temporary setback

set piece noun, pl ~ pieces [count]

1 : a scene in a movie or play, an image in a painting, a piece of music, etc., that has a familiar style or pattern and that creates a particular and usually dramatic effect • a movie with some lovely set pieces

2 chiefly Brit : a carefully planned and performed group of movements in sports • She scored with a set piece.

set point noun, pl ~ points tennis : a situation in which one player or team can win the set by winning the next point [count] He won with an ace on his second set point. [non-count] He won with an ace on/at set point.; also [count] : the point that must be won to win a set set square noun, pl ~ squares [count] Brit : TRIANGLE 5

sett /'set/ noun, pl setts [count] Brit : a hole in the ground in which a badger lives set-tee /sɛ'ti:/ noun, pl -tees [count]

1 : a long seat that has a back and arms and that two or more people can sit on

2 Brit : SOFA

set-ter /'setə/ noun, pl -ters [count]

1 : a person or thing that determines or establishes something • As a teenager, she was a style setter for her younger sister. [=her younger sister copied her style] • world record setters [=people who set world records] — often used in combination • I like to use the joke as a tone-setter for my speeches. [=use the joke to set the tone for my speeches] — see also PACESETTER, TRENDSETTER

2 : a large dog that has long ears and long, smooth hair • English/Irish setters

set-ting /ˈsetɪŋ/ noun, pl -tings [count]

1 : the place and conditions in which something happens or exists • This would be a beautiful/perfect/ideal setting for a picnic. • You will have the opportunity to view the animals in their natural setting. [=environment] • He tends to be shy in social settings. • dining in a casual/formal setting • urban versus rural settings

2 a : the time, place, and conditions in which the action of a book, movie, etc., takes place • The movie changes the play's setting from the late 18th century to the year 2000. • She uses modern-day Los Angeles as the setting for her book. b US : the rooms, painted backgrounds, furniture, etc., that are used for a scene in a movie or play : SET • stage settings

3 : a particular way of positioning the controls of a machine, system, etc., in order to produce a desired result • Save money by turning the temperature settings up in the summer and down in the winter. • She just learned how to change the settings on her camera.

4 : the metal that attaches a stone or jewel to a piece of jewelry • The ring has a single diamond in a gold setting.

5 : PLACE SETTING

6 : the music that is written to go with a piece of writing • the musician's settings of poems by W. B. Yeats

¹set-tle /ˈsetl/ verb set-tles; set-tled; set-tling

1 : to end (something, such as an argument) by reaching an agreement [+ obj] They were determined to settle the dispute/argument before going home for the day. • settle a case/lawsuit • The two sides have settled their differences. [no obj] He agreed to settle out of court, [=to reach an agreement about a legal case without going to court]

2 [+ obj] : to make a final decision about (something) : DECIDE • We need to settle this question once and for all. • That settles it. I can't take the day off from work, so I'm not going. — often used as (be) settled • It's settled then: you pay for dinner and I'll pay for the movie.

3 : to move to a place and make it your home [no obj] His grandparents were immigrants from Germany who settled in Pennsylvania. • He always thought he'd leave the city and settle in the country. [+ obj] the people who settled the West — often used as (be) settled • The region was settled by German immigrants. • The area was settled in the 18th century.

4 a always followed by an adverb or preposition : to put or place (someone) in a comfortable position [+ obj] He settled the baby into its crib. • She settled herself behind the wheel and pulled the car out of the driveway. [no obj] He settled back into his chair. b [no obj] : to begin to feel comfortable in a new place, job, position, etc. — + in or into • I'm glad to finally be settling in at my new job. • The children are settling into their new school just fine.

5 a [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) quiet or calm • Rocking settled the baby. • She had a drink to settle her nerves. b [no obj] : to become quiet or calm • I'm still waiting for my nerves to settle. [=settle down]

6 [+ obj] : to relieve pain and discomfort in (the stomach) • Ginger and peppermint tea are good for settling the/your stomach.

7 [no obj] a : to move slowly downward : to sink gradually • The foundation of the house has settled a little. • an area where the ground has settled b : to go or fall down to a surface • Dust settled on the shelves. • The cocoa settled to the bottom of the mug. • Some of the contents (of the package) may have settled during shipping. • Fog settles [=collects] in the valley. — see also the dust settles at ¹DUST c : to stop flying, moving, etc., and rest on something — often + on • The birds settled on a branch. • His eyes settled on the woman in the red dress. [=his eyes stopped moving and he looked at the woman in the red dress] — often used figuratively • A hush settled on the crowd. = A hush settled over the room. [=everyone in the crowd/room became quiet] • Boredom settled on the faces of the students. [=the students began to look bored]

8 : to pay money that is owed [no obj] — often + with or up • Before moving he settled with the utility company. • We can settle up later. [+ obj] We settled the bill. • When do you intend to settle your account? [=pay what you owe]

9 [+ obj] a : to arrange who will be given control or ownership of (a property, business, etc.) • She had to settle her aunt's estate after her death. b : to put (something) in order so that nothing else needs to be done • He settled his affairs before entering the army.

settle a/the score see ¹SCORE

settle down [phrasal verb] 1 a : to become quiet, calm, or orderly • Settle down, children. • When things settle down here, I'll come for a visit. b settle (someone or something) down or settle down (someone or something) : to make (someone or something) quiet, calm, or orderly • He managed to settle the dog down long enough to give her the medicine. 2 : to begin to live a quiet and steady life by getting a regular job, getting married, etc. • They swore they would never settle down and get married. 3 : to put yourself into a comfortable position • She settled down on the bed. • He settled down for the night. 4 : to become quiet and begin giving your attention to something • They quickly settled down to their work.

settle for [phrasal verb] settle for (something) : to be happy or satisfied with (something) : to accept (something) • Neither team would settle for a tie score. • He asked his parents if he could borrow $20 but settled for $10. [=he accepted $10 because that was all they would give him] • I'm determined to win the championship and I won't settle for less.

settle on/upon [phrasal verb] 1 settle on/upon (something or someone) : to choose (something or someone) after thinking about other possible choices • We weren't sure what color we'd paint the kitchen, but we finally settled on a soft yellow. • Hours later, they settled on a plan. 2 settle (something) on (someone) chiefly Brit : to arrange to give (money or property) to (someone) • She settled her whole fortune on her grandchildren.

²settle noun, pl settles [count] : a long wooden bench with arms, a high solid back, and often with space under the seat which can be used to store things

settled adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not likely to move or change • settled peoples • She had to adjust to the settled habits of her new coworkers. • He hated moving so often and longed for a more settled life.

2 : comfortable or happy with your home, job, etc. • You'll feel more settled once you make some new friends.

3 : having people living in it • settled areas of the country • a densely/sparsely settled neighborhood [=a neighborhood where many/few people live]

set-tle-ment /ˈsetlmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 a [count] : a formal agreement or decision that ends an argument or dispute • I got the house in the divorce settlement. • The parties have not been able to reach/negotiate a settlement in the case. • an out-of-court settlement [=an agreement made to avoid a court case]; also : an amount of money that someone receives as part of such an agreement • a cash settlement • a settlement of two million dollars = a two-million-dollar settlement b [singular] : the act or process of settling an argument or disagreement • We were hoping for a quick settlement of the dispute between the neighbors.

2 [noncount] : the act of paying back money that is owed — often + of • the settlement of our debts • He paid $20,000 in settlement of a loan.

3 a [count] : a place where people have come to live and where few or no people lived before • English settlements in North America • This was the island's first colonial settlement. b [noncount] : the act or process of moving to a new area or place to live there : the act or process of settling an area or place — often + of • The rifle played a big role in the early settlement of North America. c [count] : a small village • They came upon the ruins of an ancient settlement.

settlement house noun, pl ~ houses [count] US : a place or organization that provides various community services to people in a crowded part of a city set-tler /ˈsetlɚ/ noun, pl -tlers [count] : a person who goes to live in a new place where usually there are few or no people • The town was established by British settlers [=colonists] in 1769.

set-to /ˈset,tu:/ noun, pl -tos [count] chiefly Brit : a usually short fight or argument • He left after a set-to with his girlfriend. — see also set to at ¹SET set-top box noun, pl ~ boxes [count] : a device that is connected to a television so that the television can receive digital signals set-up /ˈset,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups

1 : the process of making something (such as a machine or computer program) ready to be used [count] an online account setup [noncount] The tent is designed for quick and easy setup. [=is designed to be set up quickly and easily] • Setup of the new software is a breeze. — often used before another noun • How much setup time is needed? • Run the setup program on your computer.

2 [count] : the way that something is done or organized • It took me a while to learn the setup of the office's filing system. • We had a great setup. On my days off, my wife would work from home while I took care of the kids. • The software makes it easy to create custom setups.

3 [count] informal : a situation in which someone is deliberately put in a bad position or made to look guilty — usually singular • Those aren't my drugs. This is a setup! Someone is trying to frame me!

4 [count] : the beginning of a story, joke, etc., that explains and leads to what follows — usually singular • This sounds like the setup to one of your jokes. • the setup for a television crime drama — see also set up at 1SET

sev·en /'sevən/ noun, pl -ens

1 [count] : the number 7

2 [count] : the seventh in a set or series • the seven of hearts

3 [noncount] : seven o'clock • "What time is it?" "It's seven." • I leave each day at seven.

at sixes and sevens see SIX

— seven adj • waiting for seven hours — seven pronoun • Seven (of them) passed the test.

sev·en·fold /'sevən,fəʊld/ adj : seven times as great or as many • There has been a sevenfold increase in membership in the past year.

— sevenfold adv • Membership has increased sevenfold.

seven seas noun [plural] : all the waters or oceans of the world • He sailed the seven seas.

sev·en·teen /,sevən'ti:n/ noun, pl -teens [count] : the number 17

— seventeen adj • They lived together for seventeen years.

— seventeen pronoun • We interviewed seventeen (of them). — sev·en·teenth /,sevən'ti:nθ/ noun, pl -teenths [count] • I'll see you on the seventeenth of April. • The bill is due on the seventeenth (of the month). • one seventeenth of the total — seventeenth adj • The paintings were made in the seventeenth century. • He finished in seventeenth place. — seventeenth adv • She finished seventeenth in the race.

¹sev·enth /'sevənθ/ noun, pl -enths

1 [singular] : number seven in a series • I'll be flying in on the seventh. [=the seventh day of the month] • (baseball) He got a base hit in the seventh. [=the seventh inning]

2 [count] : one of seven equal parts of something • Only about a seventh of the town voted for her.

²seventh adj : occupying the number seven position in a series • on the seventh day • the book's seventh edition • her seventh goal of the season • I finished in seventh place in the competition.

— seventh adv • She finished seventh in the race. • the nation's seventh largest city seventh heaven noun [singular] informal : a state of extreme happiness and joy • When I told her she was going to be a grandmother, she was in seventh heaven. [=she was very happy]

sev·en·ty /'sevənti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [count] : the number 70

2 seventies [plural] a : the numbers ranging from 70 to 79 • a salary in the low seventies [=between $70,000 and $74,000]

b : a set of years ending in digits ranging from 70 to 79 • She grew up in the seventies. [=1970–1979] • She is in her seventies.

— sev·en·ti·eth /'sevəntijəθ/ noun, pl -eths [count] • one seventieth of the total — seventieth adj • his seventieth birthday — seventy adj • seventy books — seventy pronoun • Seventy (of them) came to the performance. • seventy of her classmates

sev·er /'sevə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er·ing [+ obj]

1 : to cut off (something) : to remove or separate (something) by cutting • He severed the lowest tree limbs. • His finger was severed in the accident. • a severed head/hand

2 : to end (a relationship, connection, etc.) completely • When she went off to college, she severed [=cut off] (all) ties with her high school friends. • Activists are asking the government to sever all diplomatic relations with the country.

¹sev·er·al /'sevərəl/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : more than two but not very many • It took several days/weeks for the package to arrive. • He arrived several hours ago. • several million people • We added several more names to the list. • The meat can be cooked several ways. • There are several similar stores at the mall.

2 formal : different and separate • a federal union of the several states • After college, we each went our several ways. [(more commonly) went our separate ways; stopped being together]

— sev·er·al·ly /'sevərəli/ adv, formal + law • Both spouses are jointly and severally liable for the tax. [=are liable both together and separately]

²several pronoun : more than two but not very many • Several of the guests left early. • I haven't read all of her books, but I've read several.

sev·er·ance /'sevərəns/ noun [singular] formal

1 : the act of ending someone's employment • a severance of employment — usually used before another noun • severance pay [=money given to someone who has been fired or laid off from a job] • She received a good severance package [=money and other benefits given when employment is ended] when she was laid off.

2 : the act of ending a relationship, connection, etc. — usually + of • a severance of diplomatic relations

se·vere /sə'veɪə/ adj se·ver·er; -est [or more ~; most ~]

1 a : very bad, serious, or unpleasant • severe weather conditions • The storm caused severe damage to the roof. • a severe economic depression • The patient is in severe pain. • children with severe learning disabilities • In the most severe cases, the disease can lead to blindness. b : causing a lot of physical pain or suffering • He suffered a severe head injury. • a severe cold/infection • severe burns/wounds

2 : very harsh • He faces severe penalties for his actions. • The punishment was severe. • severe criticism • a severe critic

3 : requiring great effort • The war was a severe test of his leadership. • a severe challenge

4 : very formal, strict, and serious • a severe young woman • He's very generous despite his somewhat severe manner.

5 : not having much decoration : very plain • a very severe style of architecture • severe clothing • a severe hairstyle

— se·vere·ly adv • severely injured/punished • The accident has severely limited her mobility. — se·ver·i·ty /sə'verəti/ noun [noncount] • At first, they didn't understand the severity of the problem/situation. • We were shocked at the severity of the penalty. • Treatment varies according to the severity of the symptoms.

sew /'sou/ verb sews; sewed; sewn /'soun/ or sewed;

sew·ing : to make or repair something (such as a piece of clothing) by using a needle and thread [+ obj] She sews her own dresses by hand. • He sewed a patch onto his sleeve. • I sewed the button back on the shirt. • The surgeon sewed the wound shut. [no obj] She designs her own dresses and sews in her free time.

sew up [phrasal verb] sew (something) up or sew up (something) 1 : to close or repair (something) by using a needle and thread • He sewed up the tear in his shirt. • The surgeon sewed up the wound. 2 informal a : to do the final things that are needed to complete (something) in a successful way • They're sewing up the details of the agreement. — often used as (be) sewn/sewed up • The deal was sewn up by lunchtime. b : to make (something, such as a victory) certain • He scored a touchdown that sewed up the win/game. — often used as (be) sewn/sewed up • They felt they had the win/game sewn up. [=they felt that they were certainly going to win] • It looks like he has the nomination all sewn up.

sew·age /'su:wɪdʒ/ noun [noncount] : waste material (such as human urine and feces) that is carried away from homes and other buildings in a system of pipes • raw sewage sewage treatment plant noun, pl ~ plants [count] chiefly US : a place where sewage is cleaned so that it is not harmful or dangerous to the environment — called also (US) sewage plant, (Brit) sewage farm, (Brit) sewage treatment works, (Brit) sewage works

¹sew·er /'su:wə, Brit 'sju:ə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a pipe that is usually underground and that is used to carry off water and sewage • a sewer pipe • The water ran into the sewer. — compare ²SEWER

²sew·er /'sowə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who sews things • Both of the children were good sewers and cooks. — compare ¹SEWER

sew·er·age /'su:wərɪdʒ, Brit 'sju:ərɪdʒ/ noun [noncount]

1 : a system or process used for carrying away water and sewage • municipal sewerage

2 : SEWAGE • raw sewerage

sewing noun [noncount]

1 : the act or process of using a needle and thread to make or repair something (such as a piece of clothing) • She enjoys sewing.

2 : things that are used for sewing or that are being sewn • She left her sewing in the living room.

sewing machine noun, pl ~ machines [count] : a machine that is used for sewing things sewn past participle of SEW

sex /'seks/ noun, pl sexes

1 [noncount] : the state of being male or female : GENDER • The form asks for your name, age, and sex. • The couple didn't know what the sex of their baby would be. • How do you tell the sex of a hamster? • discrimination on the basis of sex • the female/male sex • a sex change (operation) [=an operation in which a man's body is changed to be like a woman's body or a woman's body is changed to be like a man's]

2 [count] : men or male animals as a group or women or female animals as a group • This movie will appeal to both sexes. [=will appeal to both men and women] • a battle of the sexes [=a battle between men and women] • Some feel men are the more aggressive sex. • a single-sex dormitory [=a dormitory where only women or men stay] — see also OPPOSITE SEX

3 [noncount] : physical activity in which people touch each other's bodies, kiss each other, etc. : physical activity that is related to and often includes sexual intercourse • All he ever thinks about is sex. • Her mom talked to her about sex. • She doesn't like all the sex and violence in movies. • premarital sex • He had sex with his girlfriend. — often used before another noun • He has a low sex drive [=he does not have a strong desire to have sex] • a sex shop [=a store that sells items relating to sex] • She has an active sex life [=she has sex often] — see also PHONE SEX, SAFE SEX sex act noun, pl ~ acts [count] : an action performed with another person for sexual pleasure • paid to perform a sex act • a pair of actors simulating the sex act [=sexual intercourse]

sex-a-ge-nar-i-an /,seksədʒə'nerijən/ noun, pl -ans [count] : a person who is between 60 and 69 years old sex appeal noun [noncount] : the quality of being sexually attractive • an actor with a lot of sex appeal

sexed /'seks/ adj [more ~; most ~] — used to describe how much sexual interest or desire a person has • a highly sexed man/woman [=a man/woman who has a strong desire for sex]

sex education noun [noncount] : education in schools about sex — called also (informal) sex ed

sex gland noun, pl ~ glands [count] : GONAD

sex-ism /'seks,ɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : unfair treatment of people because of their sex; especially : unfair treatment of women • Have you experienced sexism? • the problem of sexism in language — sex-ist /'seksɪst/ adj [more ~; most ~] • He was accused of being sexist. • Many people thought the ad was sexist. • a sexist remark — sexist noun, pl -ists [count] • He was accused of being a sexist.

sex-less /'seksləs/ adj

1 : not having sexual activity : not including sex • a sexless marriage

2 : not looking like either a male or female • sexless dolls

— sex-less-ness noun [noncount]

sex object noun, pl ~ -jects [count] : someone who is thought of only as being sexually attractive or desirable • movies that portray/treat women as sex objects sex offender noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a person who is guilty of a crime involving sex (such as rape)

sex symbol noun, pl ~ -bols [count] : a usually famous person who is very sexually attractive • a Hollywood sex symbol sex-tant /'seksɪtənt/ noun, pl -tants [count] : an instrument used to determine the position of a ship or airplane by measuring the positions of the stars and sun

sex-tet /'seks'tet/ noun, pl -tets [count]

1 : a piece of music written for six performers

2 : a group of six people or things; especially : a group of six singers or musicians who perform together sex-ton /'seksɪtən/ noun, pl -tons [count] : a person who takes care of church buildings and property and often rings the church's bell during services sex-tu-plet /'seks'tʌplət, Brit 'seks'tjuplət/ noun, pl -plets [count] : one of six babies born at the same time to the same mother • She gave birth to sextuplets. — compare QUADRU-PLET, QUINTUPLET, TRIPLET, TWIN sex-u-al /'seksjʊəl/ adj

1 : of, relating to, or involving sex • sexual activity/reproduction • sexual abuse/desire/attraction • a person's sexual organs • He denied that he had a sexual relationship with her. • sexual partners [=people who have sex with each other]

2 : of or relating to males and females • sexual differences/characteristics • sexual roles

— sex-u-al-ly /'seksjʊəli/ adv • Some teenagers are sexually active. [=some teenagers have sex] • The movie has some sexually explicit scenes. [=the movie has scenes that show sex] sexual intercourse noun [noncount] : sexual activity between two people; especially : sexual activity in which a man puts his penis into the vagina of a woman • a doctor who is accused of having sexual intercourse with one of his patients — called also intercourse

sex-u-al-i-ty /'seksjʊəli/ noun [noncount] : the sexual habits and desires of a person • She is comfortable with her sexuality. • a study of male sexuality sexually transmitted disease noun, pl ~ -eases [count] medical : STD sexual orientation noun [count] : a person's sexual preference or identity as bisexual, heterosexual, or homosexual sewing

tape measure, measuring tape thimble

pincushion

spool of thread (US), cotton reel (Brit)

crochet hook

knitting needles

: the state of being bisexual, heterosexual, or homosexual • His sexual orientation has never been a problem for him at work. • people of different sexual orientations — called also orientation

sexy /ˈseksi/ adj sex-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : sexually appealing, attractive, or exciting • She wore a sexy skirt. • a sexy young actor • Her legs are long and sexy. • a sexy photograph

2 : having interesting or appealing qualities • a sexy story • sexy music

— sex-i-ly /ˈseksəli/ adv • sexily dressed dancers — sex-i-ness /ˈseksinə/ noun [noncount]

SF abbr science fiction

Sgt. abbr sergeant

sh or shh or shhh /ʃ often prolonged/ interj — used to tell someone to be quiet • Shh! The baby is sleeping.

shab-by /ˈʃæbi/ adj shab-bi-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : in poor condition especially because of age or use • The furniture was old and shabby. • He wore a shabby coat. • Her first apartment was pretty shabby.

2 : dressed in clothes that are old and worn • shabby workmen

3 informal : not fair, generous, or reasonable • They complained about the shabby treatment they received at the hotel. • Backing out of the deal was a shabby thing to do.

not (too) shabby informal : fairly good or quite good • He came in second in the race. That's not too shabby for an inexperienced runner. [=that's not bad at all for an inexperienced runner]

— shab-bi-ly /ˈʃæbəli/ adv • The man was shabbily dressed.

— shab-bi-ness /ˈʃæbinəs/ noun [noncount]

¹shack /ˈʃæk/ noun, pl shacks [count] : a small house or building that is not put together well • an old shack in the woods

²shack verb shacks; shack-ed; shacking

shack up [phrasal verb] informal : to live with someone without being married • She shacked up with her boyfriend. • young couples shacking up

¹shack-le /ˈʃækəl/ noun, pl shack-les

1 [count] : one of two rings or bands that are placed around a person's wrists or ankles and that are connected by a chain — usually plural • The prisoner was placed in shackles.

2 shackles [plural] : something that prevents people from acting freely — + of • The country was freed from the shackles of tyranny.

²shackle verb shackles; shack-led; shack-ling [+ obj]

: to put shackles on (someone or something) • The guard shackled the prisoner. — often used as (be) shackled • Their legs were shackled together. — often used figuratively • The people were shackled by poverty.

¹shade /ˈʃeɪd/ noun, pl shades

1 [noncount] : an area of slight darkness that is produced when something blocks the light of the sun • The buildings cast shade on the plaza. • The tree provided plenty of shade. • These plants grow well in shade. • It was a hot sunny day, but luckily their seats for the game were in the shade. • We sat in the shade of a willow tree.

2 [count] a : something that is used to block strong light • He used his hand as a shade as he looked out into the bright sunlight. • an eye shade b : LAMPSHADE • a lamp with a broken shade c US : WINDOW SHADE • She pulled down the shades.

3 shades [plural] informal : SUNGLASSES • She was wearing a cool pair of shades.

4 [noncount] : a darkened area in a drawing, painting, etc. • a painting with contrasting areas of light and shade

5 [count] : a particular type of a color that is lighter, darker, etc., than other types — usually + of • different shades of brown • lipstick in several shades of red • a bright shade of blue

6 [count] : a particular form of something that is usually slightly different from other forms • The word has many shades of meaning.

7 [count] : a very small amount • He saw shades [=traces] of himself in his son. • He is just a shade [=a bit, a little] taller than his brother. • The shirt is a shade too large for me.

draw the shades on see ¹DRAW have it made in the shade US, informal : to have a very easy life or to be in a very good situation • She had to work hard for many years to achieve success, but now she has it made in the shade.

put (someone or something) in the shade chiefly Brit, in- formal : to be much better than (someone or something) • Their performance really put ours in the shade.

shades of — used to say what or who you are reminded of when you look at or think about someone or something • a former actor who's now a politician—shades of Ronald Reagan — shade-less adj • Their yard is bare and shadeless.

²shade verb shades; shad-ed; shad-ing [+ obj]

1 : to shelter (something) from strong light and especially from sunlight • He shaded his eyes (with his hand). [=he placed his hand near his eyes to block the sun] • Several large trees shade the house.

2 : to make an area in a drawing, on a graph, etc., darker than other areas • She shaded the drawing to give it depth. • The shaded part of the graph represents the amount of sales. — sometimes + in • Shade in the circle that indicates the correct answer.

3 US : to change (something, such as the truth) slightly in order to deceive people • The article shaded the truth by revealing only one side of the story. • shading the facts shade into [phrasal verb] shade into (something) : to slowly or gradually change into (something) or become the same as (something) • as day shades into night

shading noun, pl -ings

1 [noncount] : the use of dark areas in a drawing, on a graph, etc.

2 shadings [plural] : small differences • shadings of blue • subtle shadings of meaning

¹shad-ow /ˈʃædɒw/ noun, pl -ows

1 [count] : a dark shape that appears on a surface when someone or something moves between the surface and a source of light • The tree cast/threw a long shadow across the lawn. • You can see your own shadow on a sunny day. — often used figuratively • a town located in the shadow of the Rocky Mountains [=a town located very close to the Rocky Mountains] • The bad news cast a shadow on the party. [=made the party much less enjoyable] • His death left a shadow over her heart. • For years they lived under the shadow of a dictator. [=they were ruled by a dictator] • He couldn't escape his father's shadow. [=he couldn't escape the influence of his powerful/successful father] • She grew up in the shadow of her very popular sister. [=people did not notice her because of all the attention that was given to her sister]

2 : an area of darkness created when a source of light is blocked [noncount] Part of the valley was in shadow. [plural] He saw something moving in the shadows.

3 [singular] : a very small amount of something • I sensed a shadow of disappointment in his expression. • There is not a shadow of (a) doubt [=there is no doubt] that he is lying.

4 [count] : someone who follows another person or who is always seen with another person • He is the President's adviser and shadow.

5 [count] : a dark area of skin under a person's eyes — usually plural • She woke up with dark shadows [=circles] under her eyes.

6 [count] : someone or something that is now much weaker, less impressive, etc., than in the past — + of • The city today is just/only a shadow of what it once was. • He was once a great player, but now he's just a shadow of his former self.

— see also EYE SHADOW, FIVE-O'CLOCK SHADOW

²shadow verb -ows; -owed; -ow-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cover (something) with a shadow — usually used as (be) shadowed • The yard was shadowed [=shaded] by trees.

2 a : to follow and watch (someone) especially in a secret way : TRAIL • Police shadowed the suspect for several days.

b : to follow and watch (someone who is doing a job) in order to learn how to do the job yourself • She spent the night shadowing other waiters at the restaurant.

³shadow or Shadow adj, always used before a noun — used to describe the members of the main opposition party in British politics who would be given important positions in the government if their party won a national election • the shadow cabinet/Chancellor • Shadow Ministers shad-ow-box /ˈʃædɒw,bɔːks/ verb -box-es; -boxed; -box-ing [no obj] : to box with an imaginary opponent as a form of training • He was shadowboxing to stay in shape.

— shadowboxing noun [noncount] shad-owy /ˈʃædɒwi/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : full of shade or shadows • a shadowy lane

2 : dark and mysterious • She was pursued by a shadowy figure.

3 : not clearly seen or understood • He had only a shadowy idea of what they wanted him to do.

shady /'ʃeɪdi/ adj shad-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : giving or providing shade • a shady tree b : sheltered from the sun's light : having shade • Their backyard is nice and shady. • a shady area

2 informal : seeming to be dishonest • a shady business deal • I don't trust him. He seems like a pretty shady character.

1 shaft /'ʃæft, Brit 'ʃɑ:ft/ noun, pl shafts

1 [count] : the long, narrow part of a weapon, tool, instrument, etc. • the shaft of a spear • the shaft of a golf club

2 [count] : a bar in a machine which holds or turns other parts that move or spin • a propeller shaft — see also DRIVE-SHAFT

3 [count] : one of two poles between which a horse is tied to pull a vehicle (such as a carriage)

4 [count] a : an opening or passage straight down through the floors of a building • an air/elevator shaft b : an opening or passage in a mine • a mine shaft

5 [count] formal + literary : a narrow beam of light • They stood in a shaft of sunlight.

6 the shaft US, informal : harsh or unfair treatment • Her boss really gave her the shaft [=treated her unfairly] when he promoted someone less experienced instead of her. • He got promoted and she got the shaft

2 shaft verb shafts; shaft-ed; shaft-ing [+ obj] chiefly US, informal : to treat (someone) unfairly or harshly • You really got shafted in that deal.

1 shag /'ʃæg/ noun, pl shags

1 [noncount] : long pieces of material (such as wool) that are twisted together to make a rug or carpet — often used before another noun • a shag rug • shag carpeting

2 [noncount] : a type of strong tobacco that is cut into very small pieces

3 [count] chiefly Brit : a black bird that lives near the sea : CORMORANT

— compare ⁴SHAG

2 shag verb shags; shagged; shag-ging [+ obj] US : to catch or retrieve (a ball that someone has hit) • (baseball) They shagged fly balls in the outfield during batting practice. — compare ³SHAG

3 shag verb shags; shagged; shag-ging Brit, informal + impolite : to have sexual intercourse with (someone) [+ obj] He shagged her last night. [no obj] They shagged all night. — compare ²SHAG

4 shag noun, pl shags [count] chiefly Brit, informal + impolite : an act of sexual intercourse • a quick shag — compare ¹SHAG shag-gy /'ʃægi/ adj shag-gi-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : long and tangled • shaggy hair • the dog's shaggy coat

2 : covered with hair or fur that is long and tangled • a shaggy dog shaggy-dog story /'ʃægi,dɔ:g-/ noun, pl ~-ries [count] old-fashioned : a long story or joke with an ending that is disappointing or that makes no sense shah /'ʃɑ:/ noun, pl shahs [count] : a king of Iran in past times

1 shake /'ʃeɪk/ verb shakes; shook /'ʃuk/; shak-en /'ʃeɪkən/; shak-ing

1 a : to move sometimes violently back and forth or up and down with short, quick movements [no obj] The ground shook during the earthquake. • The house shook as the train rumbled by. [+ obj] The earthquake shook the ground. • Shake the salad dressing well before using it. • He shook his fist (in the air) and yelled at the driver who cut them off. b [no obj] : to move or have parts of your body move in short, quick movements and in a way that you are not able to control • His hand shook [=trembled] as he reached for the phone. • He was shaking [=shivering] with cold. • She was shaking with laughter [=laughing very hard] as he told us the story. • I could see that he was shaking with anger/rage. [=he was so angry that he was shaking] • I was so nervous that I was shaking like a leaf • She was shaking in her boots/shoes [=she was very nervous] as she waited for the doctor.

2 [+ obj] : to free yourself from (someone or something) : to get away from or get rid of (someone or something) • The fugitive couldn't shake the police. • It's hard to shake the feeling that I'm forgetting something. — sometimes + off • He is trying to shake off a cold.

3 [+ obj] : to cause (a belief, feeling, etc.) to become weaker • The news did nothing to shake my belief that things will be okay. • Her confidence was badly shaken by the accident.

[=she became much less confident because of the accident] • Nothing could shake his faith in God.

4 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to feel fear, anxiety, shock, etc. • The whole town was shaken by the news. — see also SHAKE UP 1 (below)

5 [+ obj] : to force (something) out of something by shaking • He shook (out) the sand from his sandals.

6 : to grasp (someone's hand) with your hand and move it up and down when you are meeting or saying goodbye to each other or as a sign of friendship or agreement [+ obj] I shook his hand. = I shook hands with him. = (somewhat old-fashioned) I shook him by the hand. [no obj] They shook on the deal. = They shook on it [=they shook hands to show that they agreed]

7 [no obj] of your voice : to produce sound in an unsteady way because you are nervous, angry, sad, etc. • His voice shook as he started his speech. • Her voice shook with rage.

more than you can shake a stick at chiefly US, informal : more than you can count • She has more cats than you can shake a stick at. [=she has a lot of cats] shake a leg informal : to move or go quickly • It's time to shake a leg—we're running late. — often used as a command • “Shake a leg! We're going to be late.”

shake down [phrasal verb] US, informal 1 shake (someone) down or shake down (someone) : to get money from (someone) by using deception or threats • mobsters shaking down store owners for protection 2 shake (someone or something) down or shake down (someone or something) : to search (someone or something) thoroughly • The police shook the car down looking for illegal drugs.

shake out [phrasal verb] 1 informal : to happen or end in a particular way • We are just going to wait to see how things shake out. [=turn out] 2 shake (something) out or shake out (something) : to shake (something) back and forth or up and down in order to remove dirt, wrinkles, etc., from it • She shook out the clothes as she took them from the dryer. • He shook the rug out.

shake up [phrasal verb] 1 shake (someone) up or shake up (someone) : to upset (someone) : to shock or frighten (someone) • The accident shook up both drivers. • She was shaken up when she heard what happened. • The layoffs shook up the whole department. — see also ¹SHAKE 4 (above) 2 shake (something) up or shake up (something) : to make many changes in (something, such as a company or organization) • The coach shook things up by hiring new assistants. • The new CEO shook up the company by asking some senior managers to leave. — see also SHAKE-UP shake your head : to turn your head from side to side as a way of answering “no” or of showing disagreement or refusal • When I asked her if she wanted help, she just shook her head.

2 shake noun, pl shakes

1 [count] : a short, quick movement back and forth or up and down • He responded to the question with a shake of his head. • Give the dice a shake.

2 the shakes informal : a condition in which parts of your body move in a way that you are not able to control • The whole experience gave me the shakes. [=made me shake with fear/nervousness] • He drank too much coffee and got a bad case of the shakes.

3 [count] : MILKSHAKE • a chocolate shake

a fair shake informal : a fair deal : fair treatment • The judge gave him a fair shake [=the judge treated him fairly] • She expected to get a fair shake from her boss.

in two shakes informal : very quickly or soon • I'll be ready to go in two shakes.

no great shakes informal : not very good or skillful at something • He's no great shakes as a poker player. = He's no great shakes at playing poker.

shake-down /'ʃeɪk,daʊn/ noun, pl -downs [count] informal

1 US : the act of taking something (such as money) from someone by using threats or deception • He was the victim of a shakedown by a street gang.

2 US : a thorough search of something • The guards conducted a shakedown of the prisoners' cells to look for weapons.

3 : a thorough test of a new ship, airplane, etc., in order to make sure there are no problems or defects • They're putting the system through a shakedown. — often used before another noun • a shakedown cruise/flight

shak-er /'ʃeɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a container that is shaken to mix something or to make something come out • a cocktail shaker • a shaker of salt • a dice shaker — see also PEPPER SHAKER, SALT SHAKER

2 Shaker : a member of a U.S. religious group that is known for living simply in close communities • a member of the Shakers

movers and shakers see MOVER

— Shaker adj, always used before a noun • a Shaker village/community • Shaker furniture [=furniture made in the simple style used by Shakers]

Shake-spear-ean /ˈʃeɪkˈspɪrɪən/ adj : of or relating to William Shakespeare or his writings • Shakespearean drama • a Shakespearean actor shake-up /ˈʃeɪkˌʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] : an important change or series of changes in the way a company or other organization is organized or run • There has been a major shake-up in the company. • a management shake-up — see also shake up at SHAKE shaky /ˈʃeɪki/ adj shak-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : not strong or steady in movement, sound, etc. : tending to shake because of weakness, strong emotion, etc. • I was so nervous that my hands were shaky. [=shaking, trembling] • She took a few shaky steps before she collapsed. • His voice was shaky.

2 : weak and likely to break down, collapse, or fail • a shaky ladder • The company's future is looking pretty shaky. [=the company's future does not look good] • a shaky economy • Her commitment to the cause seems shaky. • His argument/theory rests on shaky ground. [=his argument/theory is not supported by strong evidence] • Their marriage is on shaky ground.

3 : not impressive or effective • the pitcher's shaky performance • The team has performed better lately after getting off to a shaky start. • My memory of that day is a little shaky. [=I don't remember exactly what happened on that day]

— shak-i-ly /ˈʃeɪkəli/ adv • He stood shakily on the ladder. • The pitcher started the game shakily. — shak-i-ness /ˈʃeɪkɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • the shakiness of her voice shale /ˈʃeɪl/ noun [noncount] : a soft kind of rock that splits easily into flat pieces shall /ˈʃæl, ʃəl/ verb, past tense should /ˈʃʊd, ʃəd/ present tense for both singular and plural shall; negative shall not or shan't /ˈʃænt, Brit ˈʃɑːnt/ [modal verb] formal

1 — used to say that something is expected to happen in the future • We shall [=will] arrive tomorrow evening. • I shall not mention it again. = I shan't mention it again. • Perhaps it will happen. We shall see.

2 — used to ask for someone's opinion • “Shall [=should] I call a taxi?” “Please do.” • When shall we leave? [=when do you think we should leave?] • Shall we dance? [=would you like to dance?] • Let's dance, shall we?

3 — used to give a command or to say that you will or will not allow something to happen • You shall leave at once! • They shall not pass.

4 — used in laws or rules to say that something is required • It shall be unlawful to carry firearms. • The jury alone shall decide the verdict. • There shall be no talking during the test. — see also SHALT

shal-lot /ˈʃæləɪt, ˈʃælət/ noun, pl -lots [count, noncount] : a small type of onion that is used in cooking — see color picture on page C4

shal-low /ˈʃælou/ adj shal-low-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : having a small distance to the bottom from the surface or highest point • a shallow dish/pond/grave • The shallow end of the pool is only three feet deep. — opposite DEEP b : not going far inward from the outside or the front edge of something • a shallow closet — opposite DEEP

2 disapproving : not caring about or involving serious or important things • Her boyfriends were all shallow creeps. • She is only interested in shallow [=superficial] things like clothes and money.

3 : taking in a small amount of air • She could only take shallow breaths. • His breathing became very shallow. — opposite DEEP

4 sports : located near the inside edges of an area • (baseball) He hit a fly ball to shallow right field. — opposite DEEP

— shal-low-ly adv • He was breathing shallowly. — shal-low-ness noun [noncount] • They measured the shallow-ness of the water. • She could no longer tolerate his shallow-ness.

shal-lows /ˈʃælouz/ noun [plural] : a shallow area in a river, lake, etc. • The fish lay their eggs in the shallows of the river.

shalt /ˈʃælt, ʃəlt/ second person singular present tense of SHALL, old-fashioned — used after thou • Thou shalt not kill.

1 sham /ˈʃæm/ noun, pl shams

1 [count] a : something that is not what it appears to be and that is meant to trick or deceive people • He claims that the trial was a sham. • Their marriage was a sham. b : someone who deceives people by pretending to be a particular kind of person, to have a particular skill, etc. • Many people believed he could help them, but I knew he was a sham.

2 [noncount] : words or actions that are not sincere or honest • She exposed their sham and hypocrisy.

2 sham adj, always used before a noun : not real : FALSE, FAKE • sham marriages • sham pearls • a sham doctor

3 sham verb shams; shammed; sham-ming : to act in a way that is meant to trick or deceive people [no obj] She wasn't really hurt; she was only shamming. [+ obj] He was shamming illness to avoid work.

sha-man /ˈʃɑːmən, ˈʃeɪmən/ noun, pl -mans [count] : someone who is believed in some cultures to be able to use magic to cure people who are sick, to control future events, etc.

sham-ble /ˈʃæmbəl/ verb sham-bles; sham-bled; sham-bling [no obj] : to walk in an awkward, unsteady way without lifting your feet very high off the ground • He shambled into the room.

sham-bles /ˈʃæmbəlz/ noun : a place or state in which there is great confusion, disorder, or destruction [singular] The city was a shambles after the hurricane. • This room is a shambles. [=mess] • His life was a shambles after the divorce. [noncount] The room was in shambles.

sham-bol-ic /ˈʃæmˈbɑːlɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly Brit : very messy or disorganized • a shambolic system of public transportation

1 shame /ˈʃeɪm/ noun

1 [noncount] : a feeling of guilt, regret, or sadness that you have because you know you have done something wrong • He felt shame for his lies. • The defendant hung his head in shame. [=looked down because he was ashamed] • Shame on you [=you should feel shame] for being so rude.

2 [noncount] : ability to feel guilt, regret, or embarrassment • How could you be so rude? Have you no shame?

3 [noncount] : dishonor or disgrace • Her crimes brought shame upon her family. • There is no shame in admitting your mistakes. [=you should not feel ashamed/embarrassed about admitting your mistakes] • He had to endure the shame of being fired.

4 [singular] : something that is regretted : PITY • It would be a shame to give up now. We're so close to the end. • It's a shame that you'll miss the show. • What a shame that they lost the game. • I heard you lost your job. That's (such) a shame.

a crying shame see CRYING put (someone or something) to shame : to be much better than (someone or something) • Her art project put mine to shame. [=her art project was much better than mine]

2 shame verb shames; shamed; sham-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (someone) to feel ashamed • Her crimes shamed [=disgraced] her family. • He was shamed by his behavior at the party.

2 : to force (someone) to act in a specified way by causing feelings of shame or guilt — + into • The suspects were shamed into confessing. • My sister shamed me into giving the money back.

shame-faced /ˈʃeɪmˌfeɪst/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling or showing shame • He stood there, looking shamefaced. • a shamefaced apology/grin — shame-faced-ly /ˈʃeɪmˌfeɪsədli/ adv • He shamefacedly apologized for breaking the window.

shame-ful /ˈʃeɪmfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very bad : bad enough to make someone ashamed • There is no excuse for such shameful behavior. • a shameful scandal • What a shameful sight.

— shame-ful-ly /ˈʃeɪmfəli/ adv • He has behaved shamefully. [=very badly; disgracefully] • She looked away shamefully. [=she looked away because she was ashamed] • He shamefully turned himself in to the police. — shame-ful-ness noun [noncount] shame-less /ˈʃeɪmləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing no shame • The actor made a shameless plug for his movie. • a shameless display of poor sportsmanship — shame-less-ly adv • He shamelessly gave himself a raise.

— shame-less-ness noun [noncount]

¹sham-poo /ʃæm'pu:/ noun, pl -pooos

1 [count, noncount] a : a special liquid that is used for cleaning your hair • a bottle of shampoo b : a special liquid used for cleaning rugs, carpets, etc.

2 [count] : an act of cleaning hair, a carpet, etc., with shampoo — usually singular • She gets a shampoo every morning.

²shampoo verb -pooos; -pooed; -poo-ing [+ obj] : to clean (something, such as hair, a carpet, etc.) with shampoo • She shampoos her hair every morning. • We need to shampoo the rug.

sham-rock /'ʃæm,rɔ:k/ noun, pl -rocks [count] : a small plant with three leaves on each stem that is the national symbol of Ireland

shandy /'ʃændi/ noun, pl -dies [count, noncount] Brit : a drink made of beer mixed with lemonade shang-hai /'ʃæŋ'hai/ verb -hais; -haied; -hai-ing [+ obj] somewhat old-fashioned

1 : to bring (someone) onto a ship by force • a shanghaied sailor

2 informal : to make (someone) do something by using force or tricks — usually + into • I somehow got shanghaied into babysitting for my sister's kids.

shank /'ʃæŋk/ noun, pl shanks [count]

1 : the straight, narrow part of a tool that connects the part that does the work with the part that you hold • the shank of a drill bit

2 : a piece of meat cut from the upper part of the leg • a lamb/beef shank

3 : the part of the leg between the knee and the ankle — usually plural • an old man with skinny shanks shan't /'ʃænt, Brit 'ʃa:nt/ chiefly Brit : shall not ¹shan-ty /'ʃænti/ noun, pl -ties [count] : a small, simple building that is roughly made from sheets of wood, plastic, etc., and that is used as a house by poor people — compare ²SHANTY²shanty noun, pl -ties [count] : a song that sailors sang in the past while they worked — compare ¹SHANTY

shan-ty-town /'ʃænti,taun/ noun, pl -towns [count] : a town or a part of a town where the people are poor and live in shanties

¹shape /'ʃeɪp/ noun, pl shapes

1 : the form or outline of an object [count] circles, squares, triangles, and other geometric shapes • The cake has a rectangular/circular shape. • The pieces came in many different sizes and shapes. • a cookie in the shape of a heart [=a cookie shaped like a heart] • The cloud took the shape of a dog. [=the cloud looked like a dog] [noncount] The pieces were sorted by size and shape. • The cloud kept changing shape. • The cake was rectangular/circular in shape. • The bike's rim was bent out of shape. [=it was bent so that it was not its usual round shape]

2 [noncount] a : the condition of something or someone — usually used with in • The car was in good/bad/poor shape. • He's in better/worse shape now. • All the players are in top/excellent shape. • She has had quite a few glasses of wine and is in no shape to drive. [=she shouldn't drive because she has drunk too much wine] • Their marriage is in bad/good shape. b : a physically strong and healthy condition • I need to start exercising and get back in shape. • I'm out of shape because I haven't been exercising. • The players were in poor condition, but the coach quickly whipped/licked/knocked/got them into shape. • She stays/keeps in shape by exercising daily and eating well. — often used figuratively • It will cost billions of dollars to get the company back in shape. [=back into good condition]

3 [noncount] : the way something is done : the form of something • Computer technology has changed the shape of communication. • They offered help in the shape of [=in the form of] a loan. [=the help they offered was a loan] • That behavior is not acceptable in any way, shape, or form. [=it is not at all acceptable] • Another newspaper has stopped publication. Is this the shape of things to come in the newspaper business? [=is this what the future of the newspaper business is going to be like?]

4 [noncount] : a definite form or arrangement of something • The plan is finally taking shape. • His discussions with fellow professors and his students gave shape to his book.

5 [count] : a person or thing that cannot be seen clearly • I saw a vague shape [=figure] in the dark. • dark shapes moving in the shadows

bent out of shape see ¹BENT

²shape verb shapes; shaped; shap-ing [+ obj]

1 : to give a particular form or shape to (something) : to work with (a material) in order to make something from it • The artist shaped the stone with a hammer and chisel. — often + into • Shape the dough into loaves.

2 : to influence the development of (something) : to help (something) become what it is • Schools shape the minds of future leaders. • Ads help shape public opinion.

3 : to make (something, such as a plan) by a process of careful thought • They have shaped [=devised] a careful strategy for winning the election.

shape up [phrasal verb] informal 1 : to happen or develop in a particular way • Our plans are shaping up nicely. • This is shaping up to be an exciting year. [=it looks like this will be an exciting year] 2 a : to start behaving in a better or more acceptable way • You'd better shape up and start studying. • If he doesn't shape up, he's going to be fired. ♠ In informal U.S. English, if you are told to shape up or ship out, you will have to leave your job, position, etc., if you do not improve your behavior. b shape up (someone or something) or shape (someone or something) up : to cause (someone or something) to start behaving in a better or more acceptable way • She has really shaped up the sales department. 3 : to make your body stronger and healthier by exercising • He has been shaping up at the gym.

— shap-er noun, pl -ers [count]

shaped /'ʃeɪpt/ adj

1 : having a particular shape or form • a cookie shaped like a heart — often used in combination • an egg-shaped toy • a shirt with a V-shaped collar

2 : shaped or formed in a particular way • a carefully shaped ice sculpture

shape-less /'ʃeɪpləs/ adj

1 a : not having a particular or definite shape • a shapeless blob b : not having the usual or normal shape • an old, shapeless baseball cap

2 : not organized or arranged in a way that is clear and understandable • a shapeless essay/argument — shape-less-ly adv — shape-less-ness noun [non-count] shape-ly /'ʃeɪpli/ adj shape-li-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : having an attractive shape or form • She has a shapely figure.

— shape-li-ness noun [noncount]

shard /'ʃɑəd/ also sherd /'ʃəd/ noun, pl shards also sherds [count] : a sharp piece of something (such as glass or pottery) — often + of • shards of glass¹share /'ʃeə/ verb shares; shared; shar-ing

1 [+ obj] : to have or use (something) with others • We share a house/car (together). — often + with • I share an office with two other people.

2 [+ obj] of two or more people : to divide (something) into parts and each take or use a part • They shared the last cookie. • We shared the money equally.

3 : to let someone else have or use a part of (something that belongs to you) [+ obj] The children need to learn to share their toys. — often + with • He doesn't share his toys with other kids. • Share the cookies with your sister. [no obj] The children need to learn to share (with each other).

4 : to have (something that someone or something else also has) : to have (something) in common [+ obj] We share an interest in baseball. [=we are both interested in baseball] • The two countries share a border. • I know you're worried about the schedule, but I don't share your concerns. [=I don't have the same concerns that you have; I am not worried about the schedule] — often + with • I share these concerns with others in the group. [no obj] — + in • I don't share in your concerns about the schedule.

5 : to tell someone about (your feelings, opinions, thoughts, etc.) [+ obj] Please share any ideas that you may have. — often + with • Would you like to share your feelings with the group? • Thanks for sharing that (with me). [no obj] Thanks for sharing.

6 : to have equal responsibility for or involvement in (something) [+ obj] I share the blame for what happened. [no obj] — + in • We all share in the responsibility for this tragedy. • The whole family shares in the household chores.

share out [phrasal verb] share out (something) or share (something) out chiefly Brit : to divide (something) into parts and give the parts to different people • In her will, she shared out her property to her nephews and nieces. — see also SHARE-OUT

— shar-er noun, pl -ers [count]

²share noun, pl shares

- 1 [singular] : a part of something that has been divided into parts and given to different people • I deserve a share in the winnings. — often + of • I sold my share [=portion] of the business. • I got my share of the profits. — see also LION'S SHARE, TIME-SHARE
- 2 [count] : any of the equal parts into which the ownership of a property or business is divided • 100 shares of stock — see also MARKET SHARE
- 3 [singular] : the amount of something that someone owes or deserves or is responsible for — often + of • Everybody should have to pay their share [=portion] of the dinner bill. • Everyone must accept their share of the blame. • I've done my (fair) share of the work.
- a share of the pie see PIE
- share-crop-per /'ʃeə,kra:pə/ noun, pl -pers [count] : a farmer especially in the southern U.S. who raises crops for the owner of a piece of land and is paid a portion of the money from the sale of the crops
- share-hold-er /'ʃeə,houldə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who owns shares in a company or business : STOCKHOLDER
- share-hold-ing /'ʃeə,houldɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the amount of shares that someone owns in a company or business • He has a substantial shareholding [=he owns a large number of shares] in the company.
- share option noun, pl ~ -tions [count] Brit : STOCK OPTION
- share-out noun, pl -outs [count] Brit : an act of dividing something into parts and giving them to two or more people — usually singular • There was an equal share-out of the money. — see also share out at ¹SHARE
- share-ware /'ʃeə,weə/ noun [noncount] : computer software that you can try for free for a certain period of time before choosing whether or not to buy it — compare FREEWARE
- sha-ria /ʃə'ri:jə/ noun [noncount] : the religious laws based on the Koran that Muslims follow
- shark /'ʃɑ:k/ noun, pl sharks [count]
- 1 : a large and often dangerous sea fish with very sharp teeth — see color picture on page C8
- 2 informal : a person who gets money from people by deceiving or cheating them; especially : a person who wins money in a game by playing well and by being dishonest • a pool shark • a card shark — see also LOAN SHARK
- shark-like /'ʃɑ:k,lai/ adj • a sharklike smile/appetite
- 1 sharp /'ʃɑ:p/ adj sharp-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]
- 1 : having a thin edge that is able to cut things or a fine point that is able to make a hole in things • a sharp knife/pencil • sharp teeth/claws — opposite BLUNT, DULL; see also RAZOR-SHARP
- 2 a : sudden and quick • a sharp drop/rise/decrease/increase in temperature • a sharp break from tradition [=a sudden change from the traditional way of doing things] b : involving a sudden change in direction • He took a sharp left turn. • a sharp curve in the road
- 3 a : clear and easy to see • a sharp image/picture/photograph [=an image/picture/photograph in which the small details can be clearly seen] b : very noticeable • a sharp difference/distinction • Her cheerful mood stands in sharp contrast to her dreary surroundings.
- 4 : having or showing a quick ability to notice and understand things • a sharp student • sharp questions • You have sharp eyes.
- 5 : very sudden and severe • a sharp pain • a sharp disappointment
- 6 : critical or harsh • a sharp reply/attack/criticism/rebuke • He was very sharp with her. [=he spoke to her in a very harsh way] • She has a sharp tongue. [=she tends to say very critical things to people]
- 7 : loud, short, and sudden • a sharp noise
- 8 of cheese : having a strong odor and flavor • sharp cheddar cheese
- 9 : very strong and cold • a sharp, biting wind
- 10 disapproving : clever in a bad or dishonest way • sharp business practices
- 11 : ending in a point or edge • a sharp nose • sharp mountain peaks
- 12 informal : stylish or fashionable • He's a sharp dresser. • a sharp outfit • You're looking very sharp today.
- 13 music a : higher than the true pitch • Her singing was slightly sharp. b : higher than a specified note by a semitone • F sharp — compare ¹FLAT 10, ¹NATURAL 8
- keep a sharp eye on : to watch (someone or something) carefully • Keep a sharp eye on the kids to make sure they don't hurt themselves.
- sharp-ness noun [noncount]
- 2 sharp adv
- 1 : EXACTLY — used to refer to an exact time • It's four o'clock sharp.
- 2 : above the correct musical pitch • He sang slightly sharp. — compare ³FLAT 4
- 3 : SUDDENLY • turn sharp [=sharply] left/right
- look sharp informal : to act quickly : HURRY • You'd better look sharp if you want to be ready on time.
- 3 sharp noun, pl sharps [count] : a musical note that is one semitone higher than a specified note • C sharp; also : a written symbol # that is placed before a note to show that it should be played a semitone higher — compare ²FLAT 3, ²NATURAL 2
- sharp-en /'ʃɑ:pən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing
- 1 [+ obj] : to make (something) sharp or sharper • sharpen a knife/pencil
- 2 a [+ obj] : to make (something) clearer or more distinct • Can you sharpen the image? • The lecture sharpened my understanding of the topic. b [no obj] : to become clearer or more distinct • The outlines of the mountains sharpened as we got closer.
- 3 [+ obj] : to improve (something) • I took a course to sharpen (up) my computer skills.
- 4 [no obj] : to become more severe • The pain suddenly sharpened.
- sharpen up [phrasal verb] : to become better, smarter, more skillful, etc. • You'd better sharpen up if you want to keep your job.
- sharp-en-er /'ʃɑ:pənə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a tool or machine that makes something sharp • a pencil/knife sharpener
- sharp-eyed /'ʃɑ:p'aɪd/ adj
- 1 : having very good eyesight • a sharp-eyed bird
- 2 : having a strong ability to notice things • A sharp-eyed [=perceptive] reader will notice the book's repeating themes.
- sharp-ish /'ʃɑ:pɪʃ/ adv, Brit, informal : QUICKLY • getting the work done sharpish
- sharp-ly /'ʃɑ:pli/ adv [more ~; most ~]
- 1 : in a harsh, critical, or angry way • He spoke sharply to the children and made them cry. • He criticized her sharply.
- 2 : suddenly and by a large amount • The temperature dropped/fell/rose sharply. • Prices are expected to increase/decline sharply. • The car turned/veered sharply to the left. • a sharply angled curve in the road
- 3 : clearly or distinctly • a sharply defined image • Her cheerful mood contrasts sharply with her dreary surroundings.
- 4 : loudly and suddenly • She cried out sharply.
- 5 : with a very sharp edge or point • The knife is sharply pointed.
- sharp-shoot-er /'ʃɑ:p,ʃu:tə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who is skilled at shooting a target with a gun
- sharp-shoot-ing /'ʃɑ:p,ʃu:tɪŋ/ noun [noncount]
- sharp-tongued /'ʃɑ:p'tʌŋgd/ adj [more ~; most ~]
- : tending to say very critical things to people : having a sharp tongue • a comedy about a mild man and his sharp-tongued wife
- sharp-wit-ted /'ʃɑ:p'wɪtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing an ability to think and react very quickly • a sharp-witted young woman • a sharp-witted reply
- shat past tense and past participle of SHIT
- shat-ter /'ʃætə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing
- 1 : to break suddenly into many small pieces [no obj] The window shattered (into a thousand pieces) when it was hit by a rock. [+ obj] The rock shattered the window. • She shattered her leg [=she broke her leg very badly] in a fall.
- 2 [+ obj] : to damage (something) very badly • His dreams were shattered by their rejection. • The end of his marriage shattered him emotionally.
- shattered adj
- 1 : very shocked and upset • The end of his marriage left him emotionally shattered.
- 2 Brit, informal : very tired • I was shattered when I got home from work.
- shattering adj : very shocking and upsetting • The end of his marriage was an emotionally shattering experience.
- shat-ter-proof /'ʃætə'pru:f/ adj : made so that it does not break easily and will not form sharp, dangerous pieces if it does break • shatterproof glass

¹shave /'ʃeɪv/ verb shaves; shaved; shaved or shav·en /'ʃeɪvən/; shav·ing

1 a : to cut the hair, wool, etc., off (someone or something) very close to the skin [+ obj] He shaves himself [=cuts off the hair that grows on his face] every morning before breakfast. • He shaved his head. • She cut herself while shaving her legs. • The sheep were all shaved. • shaved/shaven heads/legs [no obj] He shaves every morning before breakfast. • I cut myself shaving this morning. b [+ obj] : to cut off (hair, wool, a beard, etc.) very close to the skin • He shaved his beard. • She shaves her dog's fur in the summer. — often + off • He shaved off his beard.

2 [+ obj] : to remove a thin layer of (something) from something • He shaved some butter from the container. — usually + off • Shave the bark off the tree.

3 [+ obj] : to reduce something by taking away (a small amount) — usually + off • Can you shave a little off the price? [=can you reduce the price by a small amount?] • She was able to shave a few seconds off the record. [=to beat the record by a few seconds]

²shave noun, pl shaves [count] : an act of shaving — usually singular • He gave himself a shave. [=he shaved himself] — see also CLOSE SHAVE shaven adj : having had the hair, wool, etc., removed : having been shaved • a shaven head — see also CLEAN-SHAVEN

shav·er /'ʃeɪvə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a tool or device that is used to shave hair from your face, body, or head • an electric shaver [=razor] — see picture at GROOMING

2 : a person who shaves • a careful shaver

3 old-fashioned : a young boy • when he was just a shaver shaving noun, pl -ings [count] : a very thin piece removed from something with a sharp tool — usually plural • wood shavings

shaving cream noun [noncount] : a special cream or foam that is spread over your face or another part of your body before shaving — called also shaving foam

Sha·vu·ot /ʃə'vuː, out/ noun [noncount] : a Jewish holiday celebrated 50 days after the first day of Passover shawl /'ʃɑːl/ noun, pl shawls [count] : a piece of cloth that is used especially by women as a covering for the head or shoulders

¹she /'ʃiː/ pronoun

1 : that female — used to indicate a female person or animal that is the subject of a verb • She is my mother. • Ask your sister where she is going. • She has been planning this trip since January. • (on the telephone) "Hello, I'd like to speak with Jane." "This is she." [=I (the person who answered the phone) am Jane] — compare HE

2 somewhat old-fashioned — used to refer to something (such as a ship) that is thought of as having female qualities • She was a fine ship.

²she noun [singular] : a girl, woman, or female animal • "Somebody called when you were out, but I can't remember who." "Was it a he or a she?" — sometimes used in combination • a little black she-cat [=a little, black female cat] s/he /'ʃiː'hiː, 'ʃiːjə'hiː, 'ʃiːslæf'hiː/ pronoun : she or he — used in writing as a pronoun when the subject of the sentence can be either female or male • Once a student has chosen a project, s/he should write a brief description of it.

sheaf /'ʃiːf/ noun, pl sheaves /'ʃiːvz/ [count]

1 : a bunch of stalks and ears of grain that are tied together after being cut • sheaves of wheat

2 : a group of things fastened together • a sheaf of arrows/papers

shear /'ʃiə/ verb shears; sheared; sheared or shorn /'ʃoən/; shear·ing [+ obj]

1 a : to cut the hair, wool, etc., off (an animal) • The farmers sheared the sheep. b : to cut off (an animal's hair, wool, etc.) • The farmers sheared the wool from the sheep. — often + off • The farmers sheared off the wool from the sheep.

2 : to cut off a person's hair — usually used as (be) shorn • His long locks were shorn. • the monk's shorn head

3 literary : to take something away from (someone) — usually used as (be) shorn • a tyrant who has been shorn of power [=a tyrant whose power has been taken away]

shear off [phrasal verb] 1 : to become separated suddenly because of great force • The excess weight caused the bolt to shear off. 2 shear (something) off or shear off (something) : to remove (something) with great force • The impact of the crash sheared off the airplane's wing. — shear·er noun, pl -ers [count]

shears /'ʃiəz/ noun [plural] : a large, heavy pair of scissors — see also PINKING SHEARS

sheath /'ʃiːθ/ noun, pl sheaths /'ʃiːðz/ [count]

1 : a cover for the blade of a knife, sword, etc. • the sheath of a sword

2 : a protective covering • a piece of wire covered with a plastic sheath • a nerve sheath

3 Brit : CONDOM

4 : a close-fitting dress that does not usually have a belt

sheathe /'ʃiːð/ verb sheathes; sheathed; sheath·ing [+ obj]

1 literary : to put (something, such as a sword) into a sheath • He sheathed his sword.

2 : to cover (something) with something that protects it — usually used as (be) sheathed • The ship's bottom is sheathed with/in copper.

sheath·ing /'ʃiːðɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : a protective outer covering • copper sheathing

she·bang /ʃi'bæŋ/ noun

the whole shebang informal : the whole thing : everything that is included in something • You can buy the whole shebang for just $50.

¹shed /'ʃed/ verb sheds; shed; shed·ding

1 [+ obj] : to get rid of (something) • I've been trying to shed some extra pounds. • The company has had to shed many jobs. • She hasn't been able to shed her image as a troublemaker. [=to make people stop thinking of her as a troublemaker]

2 : to lose (leaves, skin, fur, etc.) naturally [+ obj] Snakes shed their skin. • The dog is shedding its fur. • The trees are shedding their leaves. [no obj] The cat is shedding.

3 [+ obj] a : to take off (something you are wearing) • He quickly shed his hat and coat. b Brit : to lose or drop (a load, cargo, etc.) • The lorry shed its load.

4 [+ obj] : to cause (water) to flow off instead of soaking into something • Raincoats shed water.

shed blood see BLOOD shed light on see ¹LIGHT

shed tears see ³TEAR

²shed noun, pl sheds [count]

1 : a small, simple building that is used especially for storing things — see also COWSHED, POTTING SHED, TOOLSHED, WOODSHED

2 Brit : a large industrial building • a railway shed

she'd /'ʃiːd, ʃɪd/ — used as a contraction of she had or she would • She'd [=she had] already eaten by the time we arrived. • She'd [=she would] prefer to wait until next week.

sheen /'ʃiːn/ noun [singular] : a soft, smooth, shiny quality • Her hair has a sheen to it. • the sheen of satin sheep /'ʃiːp/ noun, pl sheep [count]

1 : an animal with a thick woolly coat that is often raised for meat or for its wool and skin • a flock of sheep

2 : a person who does what other people say to do • They followed every new fad like (a flock of) sheep.

a wolf in sheep's clothing see ¹WOLF separate the sheep from the goats see ²SEPARATE

— see also BLACK SHEEP

sheep·dog /'ʃiːp, dɔːg/ noun, pl

-dogs [count] : a dog that is trained to control sheep sheep·herd·er /'ʃiːp, hɜːdər/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who controls a flock of sheep : a person who herds sheep sheep·ish /'ʃiːpɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : showing or feeling embarrassment especially because you have done something foolish or wrong • a sheepish look/grin/smile • He felt a little sheepish.

— sheep·ish·ly adv • He sheepishly admitted his mistake. • She grinned at us sheepishly.

sheep·skin /'ʃiːp, skɪn/ noun, pl -skins

1 [count, noncount] a : the skin of a sheep usually with the wool still on it b : a type of leather made from the skin of a sheep • a bag/coat made of sheepskin

2 [count] US, informal + humorous : a diploma from a college or university • jobs that don't require a sheepskin

¹sheer /'ʃiə/ adj

1 always used before a noun — used to emphasize the large amount, size, or degree of something • The sheer amount of work was staggering. • The sheer number of questions overwhelmed her. • The sheer force of the wind knocked me to the ground.

sheep

2 always used before a noun : complete and total • sheer [=utter] nonsense • sheer [=pure] luck/coincidence/joy

3 : very steep : almost straight up and down • a sheer drop to the sea • sheer cliffs/walls

4 : very thin • sheer stockings/curtains

2 sheer adv : straight up or down • mountains rising sheer from the plains

3 sheer verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition sheers; sheered; sheer-ing [no obj] : to turn suddenly • The boat sheered [=swerved] away from the rocks.

1 sheet /'ʃi:t/ noun, pl sheets [count]

1 a : a large piece of cloth that is used to cover something • We used sheets to protect the furniture when we painted. b : a large piece of thin cloth used on a bed • The sheets are changed daily at the hotel. • He slid between the sheets and went to sleep. — called also bedsheet; see picture at BED

2 : a usually rectangular piece of paper — see also BALANCE SHEET, RAP SHEET, SPREADSHEET, TIME SHEET, WORKSHEET, clean sheet at ¹CLEAN

3 : a thin, flat, rectangular or square piece of something • a sheet of iron/glass — see also BAKING SHEET, COOKIE SHEET

4 : a wide, flat surface or area of something • A sheet of ice covered the driveway. — see also ICE SHEET

5 : a large moving area of something (such as fire or water) • a sheet of flame • sheets of rain

— compare ²SHEET

2 sheet noun, pl sheets [count] technical : a rope or chain attached to the lower corner of a sail and used to change the position of the sail three sheets to the wind old-fashioned + humorous : very drunk • When he staggered out of the bar, he was three sheets to the wind.

— compare ¹SHEET

sheet-ing /'ʃi:tiŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : material (such as plastic) in the form of thin layers used to cover or protect something • We covered the wall with clear plastic sheeting.

2 : cloth that is used to make sheets for a bed sheet lightning noun [noncount] : lightning that appears as a wide flash of light over a large area of sky sheet metal noun [noncount] : thin, flat pieces of metal sheet music noun [noncount] : music printed on sheets of paper that are not bound together

Sheet-rock /'ʃi:t,rɔ:k/ trademark — used for drywall sheikh or sheik /'ʃi:k/ noun, pl sheikhs or sheiks [count]

1 : an Arab chief, ruler, or prince

2 : a leader of a Muslim organization or group sheikh-dom or sheik-dom /'ʃi:kdəm/ noun, pl -doms [count] : an area ruled by a sheikh shei-la /'ʃi:lə/ noun, pl -las [count] Australia + New Zealand, informal : a girl or young woman shek-el /'ʃekəl/ noun, pl -els [count] : the basic unit of money in Israel shelf /'ʃelf/ noun, pl shelves /'ʃelvz/ [count]

1 : a flat board which is attached to a wall, frame, etc., and on which objects can be placed • Put the vase on the shelf. • the top/bottom shelf of the kitchen cabinet • Will you get that book down off the shelf? • We don't have much shelf space. — see also BOOKSHELF

2 geology : a flat area of rock, sand, etc., especially underwater • a coastal shelf — see also CONTINENTAL SHELF

off the shelf : directly from a store without having to be specially made or ordered • The dress was a perfect fit right off the shelf. • equipment purchased off the shelf

on the shelf : in an inactive state : not active or being used • They put their plan to remodel the house on the shelf for the time being. • The quarterback remains on the shelf [=is still not playing] with a severe injury.

shelf life noun, pl ~ lives [count]

1 : the length of time that food may be stored and still be good to eat — usually singular • Rice has a long shelf life.

2 : the length of time during which something or someone lasts or remains popular — usually singular • a movie with a short shelf life

1 shell /'ʃel/ noun, pl shells

1 a : the hard outer covering of an animal, insect, etc., that protects it [count] a turtle's shell • the shell of a crab • We collected shells at the beach. [noncount] jewelry made of shell — see also SEASHELL, TORTOISESHELL b : the hard outer covering of an egg : EGGSHELL [count] broken shells [noncount] a piece of shell c : the hard outer covering of a nut, fruit, or seed [count] a coconut shell [noncount] pieces of walnut shell

2 [count] US : something (such as pasta) that is shaped like a shell • We're going to have stuffed shells for dinner.

3 [count] : the hard outer structure of a building, car, airplane, etc. — usually singular • the shell of an unfinished house • the shell of an airplane • The building was just a bombed-out shell.

4 [count] chiefly US : a hard or crisp piece of bread, dough, etc., that is used to hold a filling • a pastry/pie shell • taco/tortilla shells

5 [count] a : a metal case that is filled with an explosive and that is shot from a cannon • mortar shells b chiefly US : a metal tube that you put into a gun and that holds an explosive and a bullet : CARTRIDGE • The police found several spent shells at the scene of the shooting.

6 a — used in phrases that describe becoming less shy and more willing to talk to other people • Making new friends helped her come out of her shell. = Making new friends brought her out of her shell. b — used in phrases that describe becoming quieter, less active, etc. • He lost confidence in himself and retreated/withdrew into his shell.

2 shell verb shells; shelled; shell-ing [+ obj]

1 : to remove the shell or outer covering of (something) • shell peanuts/peas

2 : to shoot shells at (someone or something) using large guns • They shelled the enemy troops. • The town was shelled during the battle.

3 US, informal : to score heavily against (a pitcher) in baseball — usually used as (be) shelled • He was shelled in the second inning.

shell out [phrasal verb] shell out or shell out (money) informal : to pay a large amount of money for something — usually + for • I'm going to have to shell out for these shoes. • He shelled out $400 for the tickets.

she'll /'ʃi:l, ʃɪl/ — used as a contraction of she will • She'll be home soon.

1 shel-lac /ʃə'læk/ noun, pl -lacs [count, noncount] : a clear liquid that dries into a hard coating and that is put on a surface to protect it

2 shellac verb -lacks; -lacked; -lack-ing [+ obj]

1 : to coat (something) with shellac • shellac the table

2 US, informal : to defeat (a person or team) easily and completely — usually used as (be) shellacked • They were shellacked 14–2 in yesterday's game.

shellacking noun, pl -ings [count] US, informal : a very bad defeat • They took a shellacking in yesterday's game.

shelled /'ʃeld/ adj

1 : having a shell especially of a specified kind • pink-shelled • hard-shelled

2 : having the shell removed • shelled nuts/oysters shell-fire /'ʃel,fajə/ noun [noncount] : the firing of shells from large guns • The soldiers traded shellfire. [=the soldiers fired shells at each other] • The town came under shellfire.

shell-fish /'ʃel,fɪʃ/ noun, pl shellfish : an animal (such as a crab or an oyster) that has a hard outer shell and that lives in water [count] lobsters, crabs, and other shellfish [noncount] a serving of shellfish — see color picture on page C8 shell game noun, pl ~ games [count] US : a dishonest betting game in which someone hides a ball under one of three cups or shells, moves the cups or shells around quickly, and asks an observer to guess which one the ball is under — often used figuratively to describe dishonest actions that are done to trick people • The company was playing an elaborate shell game.

shelling noun [noncount] : the firing of shells from large guns • The town sustained weeks of heavy shelling.

shell shock noun [noncount] old-fashioned : BATTLE FATIGUE

shell-shocked adj

1 old-fashioned : affected with battle fatigue • a shell-shocked veteran

2 [more ~; most ~] : very confused, upset, or exhausted because of something that has happened : very shocked • She was shell-shocked when she heard the news.

shell suit noun, pl ~ suits [count] Brit : a pair of usually brightly colored light, nylon pants and a matching jacket

1 shel-ter /'ʃeltə/ noun, pl -ters

1 a [count] : a structure that covers or protects people or things • a bomb/fallout shelter • We made a shelter from branches. b [count] : a place that provides food and protection for people or animals that need assistance • a shelter for battered women • an animal shelter • homeless shelters c [noncount] : a place to live • The organization provides food and shelter for homeless people.

2 [noncount] : the state of being covered and protected from danger, bad weather, etc. • The crowd ran for shelter when the rain started. • They sought shelter from the storm. • They found/took shelter in a cave during the storm. [=they went into a cave to get out of the storm]

— see also TAX SHELTER

²shelter verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing

1 [+ obj] : to protect (someone) from danger, bad weather, etc. : to provide shelter for (someone) • A cave sheltered the climbers during the storm. • They were accused of sheltering a criminal. [=giving a criminal a place to hide] — often + from • They sheltered themselves from the sudden rain. — often used figuratively • Most parents want to shelter their children from pain and sadness. [=to prevent their children from experiencing pain and sadness] • Investors are trying to shelter themselves from rising interest rates.

2 [no obj] : to be in a place that provides protection from danger, bad weather, etc. : to take shelter • They sheltered in a cave while they waited for the storm to pass.

sheltered adj

1 : providing protection from bad weather • sheltered bays/harbors • The flowers were planted in a sheltered location.

2 [more ~; most ~] sometimes disapproving : protected from dangerous or unpleasant experiences in the world • She has lived a very sheltered life.

3 always used before a noun, Brit : providing care for people (such as old or disabled people) who need help with daily activities • They are moving to sheltered accommodation/housing. • sheltered employment shel-tie or shel-ty /'felti/ noun, pl -ties [count] : SHETLAND SHEEPDOG

shelve /'felv/ verb shelves; shelved; shelv-ing [+ obj]

1 : to put (something) on a shelf • He shelved the books/products. • The books were shelved according to category.

2 : to stop doing or thinking about (something) for a period of time • The idea/plan/project was shelved.

3 US : to make (someone) unable to play or perform — usually used as (be) shelved • He was shelved by injury last year. [=he was unable to play because he was injured]

shelves plural of SHELF

shelving noun [noncount] : shelves or the materials that are used to make shelves • a laundry room with shelving • We need more shelving to finish the bookcase.

she-nan-i-gans /ʃə'nænɪgənz/ noun [plural] informal : activity or behavior that is not honest or proper • They were engaging in some political/financial shenanigans.

¹shep-herd /'ʃepəd/ noun, pl -herds [count] : a person whose job is to take care of sheep — sometimes used figuratively • He was a good shepherd to new students. — see also GERMAN SHEPHERD

²shepherd verb -herds; -herd-ed; -herd-ing [+ obj] : to guide (someone or something) • She carefully shepherded the children across the street. • They shepherded the bill through Congress.

shep-herd-ess /'ʃepədəs/ noun, pl -ess-es [count] old-fashioned : a woman whose job is to take care of sheep shepherd's pie noun, pl ~ pies [count, noncount] : a dish of meat and sometimes vegetables covered with a crust of mashed potatoes sher-bet /'ʃəbət/ also US sher-bert /'ʃəbət/ noun, pl -bets also -berts

1 [count, noncount] US : a frozen sweet dessert made from fruit or fruit juices • a lemon sherbet

2 [noncount] Brit : a sweet powder used to make a bubbly drink or eaten by itself

sherd variant spelling of SHARD

sher-iff /'ʃerəf/ noun, pl -iffs [count]

1 : an elected official who is in charge of enforcing the law in a county or town of the U.S.

2 Brit : the highest official in a county or shire in England or Wales who represents the king or queen and who attends ceremonies and has legal duties — called also High Sheriff

3 : the most important judge in a county or district in Scotland

Sher-pa or sher-pa /'ʃəpə/ noun, pl -pas [count] : a member of a people who live in the Himalayas and who are often hired to help guide mountain climbers and carry their equipment

sher-ry /'ʃeri/ noun, pl -ries [count, noncount] : a type of strong wine with a nutty flavor that is made especially in Spain

she's /'ʃi:z, ʃiz/ — used as a contraction of she is or she has • She's [=she is] quite right! • She's [=she has] been teaching for several years.

Shet-land pony /'ʃetlənd-/ noun, pl ~ pon-ies [count] : a type of small, strong horse

Shetland sheepdog noun, pl ~ -dogs [count] : a type of small dog that has a long, thick coat — called also sheltie

Shia or Shi-'a /'ʃi:ɑ:/ noun, pl Shia or Shi-'a also Shi-as also Shi-'as

1 [noncount] : one of the two main branches of Islam — often used before a noun • the Shia faith/tradition — compare SUNNI

2 [count] : a Muslim who is a member of the Shia branch of Islam : SHIITE

Shi-at-su /ʃi'ɑ:tsu/ noun [noncount] : a Japanese method of relieving pain or curing illness by pressing on particular points on a person's body with the fingertips or thumbs

shib-bo-leth /'ʃɪbələθ/ noun, pl -leths [count]

1 : an old idea, opinion, or saying that is commonly believed and repeated but that may be seen as old-fashioned or untrue • She repeated the old shibboleth that time heals all wounds.

2 : a word or way of speaking or behaving which shows that a person belongs to a particular group shied past tense and past participle of SHY

¹shield /'ʃi:ld/ noun, pl shields [count]

1 : a large piece of metal, wood, etc., carried by someone (such as a soldier or police officer) for protection

2 : something that defends or protects someone or something • the heat shield on a space shuttle • The thief tried to use a hostage as a human shield [=the thief hid behind the hostage so the police would not shoot] • Exercise and good nutrition are a shield against disease. [=exercise and good nutrition protect you from disease] — see also WINDSHIELD

3 US : a police officer's badge

4 : a picture shaped like a soldier's shield that has a coat of arms on it

5 Brit : an award for winning a competition or game

²shield verb shields; shield-ed; shield-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cover and protect (someone or something) • She shielded her eyes. — often + from • She lifted her hand to shield her eyes from the glare. • He was shielded from the rain. — often used figuratively • I think she's shielded her child from the real world for too long. • His friends tried to shield him from the press.

2 : to prevent (someone or something) from being seen — usually + from • A line of trees shields the house from view.

¹shift /'ʃɪft/ verb shifts; shift-ed; shift-ing

1 : to move or to cause (something or someone) to move to a different place, position, etc. [+ obj] I shifted the bag to my other shoulder. • She shifted her position slightly so she could see the stage better. • I shifted [=turned] my gaze toward the horizon. • They shifted him to a different department. [no obj] The wind shifted. • He nervously shifted from foot to foot. • She shifted in her seat. • The population is shifting [=moving] away from the city.

2 : to change or to cause (something) to change to a different opinion, belief, etc. [no obj] Public opinion has shifted dramatically in recent months. [+ obj] Their efforts to shift public opinion have failed. • She refused to shift her ground [=she refused to change her opinion]

3 : to go or to cause (something) to go from one person or thing to another [+ obj] I wanted to shift the discussion back to the main point. • They tried to shift the blame onto/to us. • Their attempts at shifting attention away from the controversy seemed to be working. • The mayor plans to shift some resources to the development project. [no obj] The focus of the debate quickly shifted to more controversial topics. • shifting alliances/demands/patterns

4 US : to change the gear you are using in a vehicle [no obj] She shifted into first gear. • I hear a loud noise when the car shifts. [+ obj] She shifted the car into low gear. — see also DOWNSHIFT, UPSHIFT, shift gears at ¹GEAR

5 [+ obj] Brit, informal : to get rid of (something) • I can't seem to shift this cold. • This detergent will shift even the most stubborn stains.

shift for yourself : to do things without help from others •

She left them to shift for themselves. [=fend for themselves]

shifting sands see ¹SAND

shift the goalposts see GOALPOST

shift yourself Brit, informal : to move quickly : HURRY •

We need to shift ourselves [=get moving] if we're going to make it home before dark.

²shift noun, pl shifts [count]

1 a : a change in position or direction • There will be a shift of responsibility when she takes the new position. — often + in • a shift in the wind • unpredictable shifts in weather • The shift in leadership will take place at the end of the year. b always followed by an adverb or preposition : a change in how something is done or how people think about something • a shift away from tradition • a gradual shift toward more liberal policies • a shift in voter opinion

2 a : a group of people who work together during a scheduled period of time • The day/night shift worked overtime. • The restaurant needed only one shift for lunch. b : the scheduled period of time during which a person works • He works the day/night shift. • waiters working long shifts — see also GRAVEYARD SHIFT, SWING SHIFT

3 : SHIFT KEY

4 : a woman's loose, straight dress

shift-er /'ʃɪftə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : GEARSHIFT shift key noun, pl ~ keys [count] : a key on a computer keyboard or a typewriter that you press to type capital letters — called also shift

shift-less /'ʃɪtləs/ adj, disapproving : lacking ambition and energy • a lazy, shiftless person

— shift-less-ness noun [noncount]

shifty /'ʃɪfti/ adj shift-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal

1 : having an appearance or way of behaving that seems dishonest • a shifty salesman • shifty eyes

2 US : difficult to catch : able to move and change directions quickly • a shifty runner — shift-i-ly /'ʃɪftəli/ adv • He eyed them shiftily. — shift-i-ness /'ʃɪftinə/ noun [noncount]

shii-ta-ke /ʃi'ta:ki/ noun, pl -kes [count] chiefly US : a type of Asian mushroom used in cooking

Shi-ite or Shi-'ite /'ʃi:ait/ noun, pl -ites or -'ites [count] : a Muslim who is a member of the Shia branch of Islam — compare SUNNI

— Shiite or Shi'ite adj, always used before a noun • a Shiite Muslim • the Shiite community

shill /'ʃɪl/ verb shills; shilled; shill-ing [no obj] US, informal + disapproving : to talk about or describe someone or something in a favorable way because you are being paid to do it — often + for • celebrities shilling for politicians — shill noun, pl shills [count] • He's just a political shill.

shil-ling /'ʃɪlɪŋ/ noun, pl -lings [count]

1 : a British coin used before 1971 that was equal to 1/20 of a British pound

2 : the basic unit of money in Kenya, Somalia, Tanzania, and Uganda shilly-shally /'ʃɪli,ʃæli/ verb -shal-lies; -shal-lied; -shal-ly-ing [no obj] informal + disapproving : to hesitate and take a long time to do or decide something • They continue to shilly-shally about what to do.

— shilly-shallying noun [singular] • Congress should stop all the shilly-shallying and just vote.

shimmer /'ʃɪmə/ verb -mers; -mered; -mer-ing [no obj] : to shine with a light that seems to move slightly • The road shimmered in the heat. • The landscape shimmers [=glimmers] with light. • shimmering colors/light

— shimmer noun [singular] • the shimmer of the jewels

— shim-mery /'ʃɪməri/ adj • a shimmery glow/luster

shim-my /'ʃɪmi/ verb -mies; -mied; -my-ing

1 : to move or shake your body from side to side [no obj] They were shimmying on the dance floor. • I shimmied into my jacket. [+ obj] She shimmied her hips.

2 [no obj] US : to vibrate or move very quickly from side to side • One of the car's wheels was shimmying.

— shimmy noun, pl -mies [count] • She gave her hips a shimmy.

¹shin /'ʃɪn/ noun, pl shins [count] : the front part of the leg below the knee • She kicked him in the shin. • a shin pad/guard — see picture at HUMAN

²shin verb shins; shinned; shin-ning [no obj] Brit : SHIN-NY — + up or down • The sailor shinned up the mast. • He shinned down the drainpipe.

shin-bone /'ʃɪn,bəʊn/ noun, pl -bones [count] : the large bone at the front of the leg between the knee and the ankle : TIBIA shin-dig /'ʃɪn,dɪg/ noun, pl -digs [count] informal : a big party • an informal shindig

¹shine /'ʃaɪn/ verb shines; shone /'ʃəʊn, Brit 'ʃɒn/ or chiefly US shined; shin-ing

1 [no obj] : to give off light • The moon/stars shined brightly. • The sun was shining through the clouds. • lamps shining from the windows

2 [no obj] : to have a smooth surface that reflects light • He polished the silver until it shone. [=gleamed]

3 not used in progressive tenses [no obj] : to be very good or successful at an activity • She found a sport where she can really shine.

4 [no obj] : to have a bright, glowing appearance • Her face was shining with joy/excitement. • His eyes were shining.

5 [+ obj] : to point (something that produces light) in a particular direction • Please shine the flashlight over here.

6 past tense and past participle shined [+ obj] : to make (something) bright and shiny by polishing • I shined my shoes. • He had his shoes shined.

make hay while the sun shines see HAY

rise and shine informal — used to tell someone to wake up and get out of bed • C'mon, kids! Rise and shine!

shine through [phrasal verb] : to be seen, expressed, or shown clearly • Once she relaxed, her talent really began to shine through.

²shine noun [singular]

1 : the brightness that results when light is reflected from a surface • the shine of polished silver • He had a nice shine on his shoes. — see also SUNSHINE

2 : the act of polishing a pair of shoes • Would you like a shine? — see also SHOESHINE take a shine to informal : to begin to like (someone or something) • She really took a shine to [=took a liking to] her new neighbor.

rain or shine see ¹RAIN

shin-er /'ʃaɪnə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US, informal : BLACK EYE • He got a shiner during a fight at school.

¹shin-gle /'ʃɪŋɡəl/ noun, pl shin-gles [count] : a small, thin piece of building material that is used to cover the roof or sides of a building hang out your shingle US, informal : to start your own business especially as a doctor or lawyer • She graduated from law school and hung out her shingle.

— compare ³SHINGLE

²shingle verb shin-gles; shin-gled; shin-gling [+ obj]

: to cover (something) with shingles • shingle a house/roof • a house shingled with cedar

³shingle noun [noncount] : small stones that form a beach • She walked along the shingle. • a shingle beach — compare ¹SHINGLE

— shin-gly /'ʃɪŋɡəli/ adj • a strip of shingly beach shin-gles /'ʃɪŋɡəlz/ noun [noncount] medical : a disease that causes pain and red marks on your skin along the path of a nerve shining adj

1 : producing or reflecting a bright, steady light • a shining star

2 : excellent or perfect • Her latest movie is a shining example of what a film can be. • a shining success shin-ny /'ʃɪni/ verb -nies; -nied; -ny-ing [no obj] US : to climb up or down something (such as a pole) by grasping it with your arms and legs — + up or down • He shinnied up [= (Brit) shinned up] the tree to get a better look. • She shinnied down the drainpipe.

Shin-to /'ʃɪn,təʊ/ noun [noncount] : the traditional religion of Japan — called also Shin-to-ism /'ʃɪn,təʊ,ɪzəm/shiny /'ʃaɪni/ adj shin-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : having a smooth, shining, bright appearance • shiny black shoes • a shiny new car

— shin-i-ness noun [noncount]

¹ship /'ʃɪp/ noun, pl ships

1 : a large boat used for traveling long distances over the sea [count] a sailing/cruise/merchant ship • the captain of the shingles

ship [noncount] He will travel by ship. — see also FLAGSHIP, STEAMSHIP, TALL SHIP, TROOPSHIP, WARSHIP 2 [count] : a large airplane or spacecraft — see also AIRSHIP, ROCKET SHIP, SPACESHIP abandon ship see ¹ABANDON jump ship 1 : to leave a ship without the captain's permission • He planned to jump ship at the next port. 2 : to suddenly or unexpectedly leave a group, team, etc. • She jumped ship when the competition offered her a better job.
run a tight ship : to manage or handle a group of people in a strict and effective way • The boss runs a tight ship.
ship comes in ✧ When your ship comes in, you become very successful or wealthy. • She's still waiting for her ship to come in.

²ship verb ships; shipped; ship-ping

1 a : to send (something) to a customer [+ obj] The goods were shipped from a foreign port. • We shipped the items to you last week. = We shipped you the items last week. [no obj] Your order is expected to ship soon. b : to send (a new product) to stores so that it can be bought by customers [+ obj] The company will ship its new software next month. [no obj] The software will ship next month.
2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to send (someone) to a place that is usually far away • The soldiers were shipped overseas for duty. • Her parents are shipping her (off) to boarding school.
3 [+ obj] of a ship or boat : to take in (water) over the side • When the waves increased, the boat began shipping water.
ship out [phrasal verb] : to leave one place and go to another for military duties • The troops will be shipping out next month. — see also shape up or ship out at ²SHAPE

-ship /,ʃɪp/ noun suffix

1 : the state or condition of being something • friendship • apprenticeship
2 : the position, status, or duties of something • professorship
3 : skill or ability as someone or something • horsemanship • penmanship ship-board /'ʃɪp,bɔəd/ adj, always used before a noun

: happening or existing on a ship • shipboard entertainment/meals • a shipboard romance on shipboard : on a ship • They celebrated their honeymoon on shipboard.

ship-build-er /'ʃɪp,bɪldə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person or company that designs and builds ships

— ship-build-ing /'ʃɪp,bɪldɪŋ/ noun [noncount] • a ship-building company ship-load /'ʃɪp'ləʊd/ noun, pl -loads [count] : an amount or number that will fill a ship • a shipload of corn • Shiploads of settlers came to the New World.

ship-mate /'ʃɪp,meɪt/ noun, pl -mates [count] : a sailor who works or sails on the same ship as another sailor ship-ment /'ʃɪpmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 [count] : a load of goods that are being sent to a customer, store, etc. • We sent out another shipment of books. • arms/grain/oil shipments • My order was delivered in two shipments.
2 [noncount] : the act of sending something to a customer, store, etc. • This box is ready for shipment.

ship-per /'ʃɪpə/ noun, pl -pers [count] : a person or company that ships goods or products • fruit/oil/wine shippers

ship-ping /'ʃɪpɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act or business of sending goods to people, stores, etc. • The fruit was ready for shipping. • a shipping clerk [=a person whose job involves shipping things] • What do you charge for shipping and handling? [=for packaging and sending something to a customer]
2 formal : a group of ships • They protected our shipping from submarines during wartime. • international shipping lanes [=paths through the sea that commercial ships can take] ship-shape /'ʃɪp'seɪp/ adj, not used before a noun : clean, neat, and tidy : organized and in good condition • I like to keep my car shipshape. • Everything had to be shipshape before we could sell the house.

ship-wreck /'ʃɪp,rɛk/ noun, pl -wrecks

1 : the destruction or sinking of a ship at sea [count] Only a few sailors survived the shipwreck. [noncount] The crew narrowly avoided shipwreck.
2 [count] : a ruined or destroyed ship • Divers searched the sunken shipwreck. — sometimes used figuratively • His marriage was a shipwreck.

— shipwreck verb -wrecks; -wrecked; -wreck-ing [+ obj] — usually used as (be) shipwrecked • The boat was shipwrecked on the reef. • shipwrecked sailors • a shipwrecked boat ship-yard /'ʃɪp,jɑəd/ noun, pl -yards [count] : a place where ships are built or repaired shire /'ʃaɪə/ noun, pl shires [count]

1 Brit : a county in England — used in the names of British counties • Northamptonshire

2 or Shire : a type of tall, strong horse used for pulling heavy loads — called also shire horse

shirk /'ʃɜ:k/ verb shirks; shirked; shirk-ing : to avoid doing something that you are supposed to do [+ obj] He's too conscientious to shirk his duty/responsibility. [no obj] He never shirked from doing his duty. • They did their duty without shirking or complaining.

— shirk-er noun, pl -ers [count] • She's no shirker.

shirt /'ʃɜ:t/ noun, pl shirts [count] : a piece of clothing for the upper body that has sleeves and usually a collar and buttons down the front — see also NIGHTSHIRT, POLO SHIRT, STUFFED SHIRT, SWEATSHIRT, T-SHIRT, UNDERSHIRT keep your shirt on informal — used to tell someone to calm down or be more patient • “Aren't you ready yet?” “Keep your shirt on! I'll be ready in a minute.”

lose your shirt chiefly US, informal : to lose a lot of money because of a bad bet or investment • He lost his shirt betting on football games. • Many investors lost their shirts when the market crashed.

put your shirt on chiefly Brit, informal : to bet a lot of money on (someone or something) • I put my shirt on a horse in the second race.

the shirt off your back informal ✧ People who would give you the shirt off their back would do anything to help you. • She'd give me the shirt off her back if I ever needed help.

¹shirt-sleeve /'ʃɜ:t,slɪ:v/ noun, pl -sleeves [count] : the sleeve of a shirt in (your) shirtsleeves : wearing a shirt but no coat or jacket • a man in his shirtsleeves • It was hot and most of the crowd was in shirtsleeves.

ship

cruise ship, cruise liner

tanker

container ship

freighter, cargo ship

2 shirtsleeve also shirt-sleeves /'ʃæt,slivz/ adj, always used before a noun, US
1 : not wearing a coat or jacket • a shirtsleeve crowd
2 : warm enough so that you do not need a coat or jacket • shirtsleeves weather
3 : informal and direct • shirtsleeve diplomacy shirt-tail /'ʃæt,teɪl/ noun, pl -tails [count] : the part of a shirt that hangs below the waist especially in the back — usually plural • His shirrtails were untucked.
shirty /'ʃæti/ adj shirt-i-er; -est Brit, informal : angry or irritated • shirty letters of complaint • He was/got shirty with the people who arrived late.
shish ke-bab /'ʃɪʃkə,bɑ:b, Brit 'ʃɪʃkə,bæb/ noun, pl ~ -babs [count] : KEBAB
1 shit /'ʃɪt/ noun, pl shits informal
1 offensive a [noncount] : solid waste that is passed out of the body b [singular] : the act of passing solid waste from the body — used in the phrases take a shit and (Brit) have a shit c the shits : DIARRHEA
2 [noncount] offensive : foolish or untrue words or ideas : NONSENSE • Don't give me that shit! • Why are you telling me this shit? • Just cut the shit [=stop saying meaningless things] and get to the point. • He's full of shit. [=he is lying]
3 [noncount] offensive : something that is worthless, unimportant, etc. • That movie was total shit. • We need to get rid of all that shit [=junk] in the basement. • There's always some shit going on.
4 [noncount] offensive : bad or unfair behavior or treatment • Do what I say, and don't give me any shit. • He's a tough teacher who won't take shit from anyone.
5 [count] offensive : a very bad or annoying person • He's been acting like a total shit.
6 offensive a the shit — used for emphasis after words like beat, scare, surprise, etc. • I'm going to beat/kick the (living) shit out of you! • She surprised the shit out of me. b — used as an interjection • Shit! I dropped my coffee! • Oh, shit. Here she comes.
get/pull your shit together US, offensive : to begin to live in a good and sensible way : to stop being confused, foolish, etc. • I really need to get my shit together and start looking for a job. • He can never seem to pull his shit together enough to keep a job.
give a shit offensive : to care at all about someone or something — usually used in negative statements • I don't give a shit what happens.
in deep shit also Brit in the shit offensive : in a lot of trouble • If his parents find out, he'll be in deep shit.
like shit offensive : very bad • The food tasted like shit. : very badly • She treats him like shit. ✧ If you feel like shit, you feel very sick, unhappy, etc. • I got drunk at the party, and the next morning I felt like shit. [=I felt sick] • When I saw how badly I had hurt his feelings, I felt like shit.
no shit offensive — used to show that you are surprised or impressed by what has been said • “They got married.” “No shit!” — often used in an ironic way when someone makes an obvious statement • “It's cold out there.” “No shit.” [=no kidding] shit happens offensive — used to say that bad things happen as part of life and cannot be prevented the shit hits the fan offensive — used to describe what happens when people find out about something that makes them very angry • I told him I was dropping out of school and the shit hit the fan.
2 shit verb shits; shit or shat /'ʃæt/; shit-ting informal
1 [no obj] offensive : to pass solid waste from the body : DEFECATE
2 [+ obj] US, offensive : to try to deceive or trick (someone) • Are you shitting me?!
shit yourself or US shit your pants offensive : to become so afraid, surprised, worried, etc., that you defecate • He jumped out from behind a tree and I nearly shit my pants.
shit-faced adj, US, informal + offensive : very drunk • He went out last night and got shit-faced.
shit-head /'ʃɪt,hed/ noun, pl -heads [count] informal + offensive : a very annoying, stupid, or unpleasant person • He's acting like a complete shithead.
shit-less /'ʃɪtləs/ adv, informal + offensive : very much : to a very high degree — used for emphasis • I was bored/scared shitless.
shit-load /'ʃɪt,ləʊd/ noun, pl -loads [count] informal + offensive : a very large amount of something • You're in a shit-load of trouble. • They have shitloads of money.

shit-ty /'ʃɪti/ adj shit-ti-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal + offensive
1 : very bad or unpleasant • What shitty weather!
2 : cruel or unkind • He's been pretty shitty to her lately.
1 shiv-er /'ʃɪvə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing [no obj] : to shake slightly because you are cold, afraid, etc. • It was so cold that I was shivering. • She was shivering [=trembling] with fear/excitement.
2 shiver noun, pl -ers [count] : a small shaking movement caused by cold or strong emotion • She felt a shiver of delight/pleasure when she opened the gift. • Her performance was so brilliant that it sent shivers up (and down) my spine. [=it thrilled or excited me] • The look in his eyes gave me the shivers. [=made me very afraid]
shiv-ery /'ʃɪvəri/ adj
1 : shaking because of cold, fear, illness, etc. • He woke up feeling sweaty and shivery.
2 always used before a noun, US, informal : causing shivers • shivery [=cold] weather • a shivery [=scary] horror story shmooze variant spelling of SCHMOOZE
1 shoal /'ʃəʊl/ noun, pl shoals [count]
1 : an area where the water in a sea, lake, or river is not deep • fish lurking in the shoals
2 : a small, raised area of sand just below the surface of the water • The boat ran aground on the shoal.
— compare 2 SHOAL
2 shoal noun, pl shoals [count] : a large group or number — often + of • a shoal [(more commonly) school] of fish • (chiefly Brit) a shoal of letters from angry readers — compare 1 SHOAL
1 shock /'ʃɑ:k/ noun, pl shocks
1 a [count] : a sudden usually unpleasant or upsetting feeling caused by something unexpected — usually singular • If you haven't been there for a while, prepare yourself for a shock: the place has changed a lot. • a terrible/nasty shock • You're in for a big/rude shock if you think this job will be easy. — often + of • the shock of discovering that someone you love has betrayed you • He got the shock of his life [=he was very unpleasantly surprised] when he saw his own name on the list. — see also CULTURE SHOCK, STICKER SHOCK b [count] : something unexpected that causes a sudden usually unpleasant or upsetting feeling — usually singular • Seeing his parents at the rock concert was a shock. • Her death came as a shock to the family. • It came as quite a shock. • It is something of a shock to learn/discover that she is guilty. c [noncount] : a state in which you are experiencing a sudden usually unpleasant or upsetting feeling because of something unexpected • She stood there in shock as he told her what had happened. • They were in a state of shock after hearing the news. = They were in shock over the news. d [count] : a sudden bad change in something • Unfortunately, it's the poor who are most vulnerable to this kind of economic shock. • oil/energy price shocks
2 [noncount] medical : a serious condition in which the body is not able to get enough blood to all the parts of the body ✧ Shock is caused by a severe injury, a large loss of blood, etc. • She was treated/hospitalized for shock after the accident. • He was in (a state of) shock. = He was suffering from shock. — see also SHELL SHOCK, TOXIC SHOCK SYNDROME
3 [count] : the effect of a strong charge of electricity passing through the body of a person or animal — usually singular • When the wires touched, I got a shock. • an electric shock • I walked across the carpet and then got a shock when I touched the metal doorknob.
4 [count] : SHOCK ABSORBER — usually plural • The car needs new shocks.
5 : a violent shake [count] an earthquake shock • The building is made to withstand large shocks. — often + of • the shock of the explosion [noncount] The car's bumper absorbs shock on impact.
a shock to the/your system : something that has a sudden and usually unpleasant effect on you • The cold weather was a shock to my system after being in the tropics. • For freshmen, college life can be a real shock to the system.
— compare 4 SHOCK
2 shock verb shocks; shocked; shock-ing
1 [+ obj] : to surprise and usually upset (someone) • The attack shocked the world. • His anger shocked us. — often used as (be) shocked • They were shocked to discover/learn that their son was taking drugs. — often + at or by • I am shocked at/by how easy it was to do. • Everyone was deeply shocked at/by her behavior. • We were shocked by the news of her death. — often + into • We were shocked into silence by what we saw. [=we were so surprised and upset by what we saw that we could not say anything] • The news was so upsetting that people were finally shocked into (taking) action.

2 : to cause (someone) to feel horror or disgust [+ obj] He enjoys shocking his readers. • I was shocked by their bad language. [no obj] The art exhibit is meant to shock.

— shocked adj • She had a shocked look on her face. • He stood in shocked silence after hearing the news.

³shock adj, always used before a noun — used to describe something that surprises and usually upsets people • Bikinis have lost their shock effect. [=bikinis no longer shock people] • It was a shock [=very surprising] defeat/victory for the team. • He dresses as a woman for shock value. [=in order to shock people] • I don't think there's anything wrong with using shock tactics [=actions, images, stories, etc., that surprise and upset people] to discourage people from driving while drunk. • shock radio/TV [=radio/television programs that are meant to shock and usually offend people] shock horror Brit, informal — used to say that you are surprised by something unpleasant or upsetting when you really are not • Teenagers are—shock horror—having sex.

⁴shock noun, pl shocks [count] : a thick and full mass of hair — usually singular • a shock of hair — compare ¹SHOCK shock absorber noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a device that is connected to the wheel of a vehicle in order to reduce the effects of traveling on a rough surface • The car needs new shock absorbers.

shock·er /'ʃɑ:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal : something that shocks people • The ending of the movie is a real shocker. • Their divorce was a shocker.

shock·ing /'ʃɑ:kɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very surprising and upsetting or causing a sudden feeling of horror or disgust • a shocking crime • The fact that he was married to another woman was a shocking discovery. = It was shocking to discover that he was married to another woman. • shocking news • The number of young teenagers who smoke is shocking.

2 chiefly Brit, informal : very bad • a shocking waste of money/time • The building is in a shocking state.

— shock·ing·ly adv • The movie was shockingly violent.

shocking pink noun [noncount] : a very bright pink color — shocking-pink adj • a shocking-pink dress shock jock noun, pl ~ jocks [count] chiefly US : a person who talks on the radio and says things that are offensive to many people : a radio disc jockey who says shocking things shock-proof /'ʃɑ:k,pru:f/ adj : not damaged if dropped, hit, etc. : resistant to shock • The watch is supposed to be waterproof and shockproof.

shock therapy noun [noncount] : a treatment for mental illness in which the patient is given electric shocks — called also ECT, electroconvulsive therapy, shock treatment shock troops noun [plural]

1 : troops who are specially trained for sudden attacks against an enemy • Shock troops were sent in for a surprise attack.

2 : a group of people who are very active in fighting for a cause • the shock troops of the civil rights movement shock wave noun, pl ~ waves [count]

1 : a movement of extremely high air pressure that is caused by an explosion, an earthquake, etc.

2 : a usually negative response or reaction that many people have to a particular thing • The decision created a shock wave of criticism. — usually plural • The court's ruling sent shock waves throughout the nation.

shod /'ʃɑ:d/ adj, literary : wearing shoes — often + in • His feet were shod in slippers. = He was shod in slippers. [=he was wearing slippers]

shod·dy /'ʃɑ:di/ adj shod·di·er; -est : poorly done or made • shoddy work/workmanship/furniture/goods • They gave a shoddy performance. • shoddy journalism

— shod·di·ly /'ʃɑ:dəli/ adv • a shoddily built barn • a shoddily managed business — shod·di·ness /'ʃɑ:dɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

¹shoe /'ʃu:/ noun, pl shoes

1 [count] : an outer covering for your foot that usually has a stiff bottom part called a sole with a thicker part called a heel attached to it and an upper part that covers part or all of the top of your foot • She bought a pair of shoes. • He took off his shoes and socks. • high-heeled shoes • dress shoes [=shoes for formal events or times] • athletic/running shoes • shoe polish • a shoe store/shop

2 shoes [plural] : another person's situation or position • I wouldn't want to be in his shoes right now. • Anyone in her shoes would have done the same thing. • Try to put yourself in their shoes [=try to imagine yourself in their situation] and think of how you would want to be treated. • I don't think anyone will be able to fill her shoes [=do what she does as well as she does it] after she retires. • He stepped into the shoes [=took the role] of president with ease.

3 [count] : a flat U-shaped piece of iron that is nailed to the bottom of a horse's hoof : HORSESHOE

4 [count] : the part of a brake that presses on the wheel of a vehicle — usually plural • The brake shoes are worn out.

if the shoe fits or if the shoe fits, wear it US — used to say that something said or suggested about a person is true and that the person should accept it as true • “Are you calling me a cheater?” “Well, if the shoe fits, wear it.” [= (Brit) if the cap fits, wear it]

shoe

high heel

sandal

flip-flop, thong (US)

sneaker (US), trainer (Brit) pump (US), court shoe (Brit)

clog

slipper

cowboy boot

loafer

moccasin

wingtip (US)

work boot

the shoe is on the other foot see ¹FOOT

²shoe verb shoes; shod /'ʃɑ:d/ also chiefly US shoed /'ʃu:d/; shoe-ing /'ʃu:wɪn/ [+ obj] : to put a horseshoe on (a horse) • The blacksmith shod the horse. • The horse was taken to be shod.

shoe-box /'ʃu:,bɑ:ks/ noun, pl -box-es [count]

1 : a box that shoes are sold in

2 : a very small home, apartment, room, etc. • Their apartment was just a shoebbox.

¹shoe-horn /'ʃu:,hoən/ noun, pl -horns [count] : a curved device that you use to slide the heel of your foot into a shoe

²shoehorn verb -horns; -horned; -horn-ing [+ obj] : to force (something or someone) into a small space, a short period of time, etc. • A parking garage has been shoehorned between the buildings. • She's trying to shoehorn a year's worth of classes into a single semester. • I don't know how they managed to shoehorn everyone into that little room.

shoe-lace /'ʃu:,leɪs/ noun, pl -lac-es [count] : a long, thin material like a string that is used for fastening a shoe • Tie your shoelaces. • Your shoelace is undone/untied. — called also lace, (US) shoestring; see picture at SHOE shoe-mak-er /'ʃu:,meɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who makes or repairs shoes

— shoe-mak-ing /'ʃu:,meɪkɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

shoe-shine /'ʃu:,ʃaɪn/ noun, pl -shines [count] : the act of polishing someone's shoes in exchange for money — usually singular • Mister, would you like a shoeshine? — often used before another noun • a shoeshine boy/man [=a boy/man who earns money by polishing/shining shoes] • a shoeshine stand shoe-string /'ʃu:,strɪŋ/ noun, pl -strings

1 [count] US : SHOELACE

2 [singular] informal : a small amount of money — usually used in the phrase on a shoestring • She started/began the business on a shoestring. [=using very little money] • The newspaper operates/runs on a shoestring. • The movie was made on a shoestring. — often used before another noun • The business is operating on a shoestring budget. • The store is a shoestring operation right now.

shoestring catch noun, pl ~ catches [count] baseball : a catch made when the ball is just above the ground • The left fielder made a shoestring catch.

shoestring potatoes noun [plural] US : potatoes cut into very thin long pieces and fried in deep fat : very thin french fries shoe tree noun, pl ~ trees [count] : a device shaped like a foot that is placed inside a shoe when it is not being worn to keep it the right shape sho-gun /'ʃouɡən/ noun, pl -guns [count] : any one of the military leaders who ruled Japan until the revolution of 1867–68

shone past tense and past participle of ¹SHINE

¹shoo /'ʃu:/ interj — used when repeatedly moving your hand away from you in a short motion with your fingers down to tell an animal or person to leave • Shoo! Get out of here!

²shoo verb shoos; shooed; shoo-ing [+ obj] : to tell (an animal or person) to leave • We tried to help her, but she shooed us away. • He shooed the cat out of the house.

shoo-in /'ʃu:,ɪn/ noun, pl -ins [count] chiefly US, informal : someone or something that will win easily or is certain to win • The horse is a shoo-in to win the race. — often + for • a shoo-in for the tournament/job/award

shook past tense of ¹SHAKE

¹shoot /'ʃu:t/ verb shoots; shot /'ʃɑ:t/; shoot-ing

T a : to cause a bullet, arrow, etc., to move forward with great force from a weapon [no obj] Does this gun shoot accurately? • Don't shoot. I surrender. • He shot at the deer. • The enemy was shooting at the rescue helicopter. • The sniper was shooting to kill. [=shooting with the purpose of killing someone] [+ obj] She shot the arrow into the air. • I tried shooting a gun for the first time. • He shot a spitball into the girl's hair. • a stunt in which she was shot from a cannon b [+ obj] : to wound or kill (a person or animal) with a bullet, arrow, etc., that is shot from a weapon • He shot two deer this hunting season. • The police shot the suspect in the leg. • She accidentally shot herself in the foot. • Two people were shot dead [=killed with bullets] during the robbery. • The guards were ordered to shoot on sight anyone who tried to escape. [=to immediately shoot anyone they saw trying to escape] c [+ obj] : to remove or destroy (something) with a bullet, rocket, etc., that is shot from a weapon — often + off • He shot the lock off the door. — often + out • She shot out the lights.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition a : to go, move, or pass quickly and suddenly in a particular direction or to a particular place [no obj] They shot past us on skis. • A cat shot [=darted] across the street. • Sparks from the fire were shooting all over. • A sharp pain shot through her chest. • The album shot straight to number one on the charts. [+ obj] The frog shot out its tongue at a fly. • The album shot the band straight to the top of the charts. b : to flow forcefully or to cause (something) to flow forcefully in a particular direction or to a particular place [no obj] Blood was shooting [=spurting] from her neck. [+ obj] The snake shot venom into his eyes.

3 a sports : to kick, hit, or throw (a basketball, hockey puck, etc.) toward or into a goal [+ obj] She shot the ball from mid-field. • He shot the eight ball into the side pocket. [no obj] He shoots; he scores! • You can't really play hockey if you don't have a goal to shoot at. b [+ obj] basketball : to score (a goal) by shooting • He shot 10 field goals during the game. • She is outside shooting baskets. [=practicing basketball] c [+ obj] golf : to achieve (a particular score) • She shot an 81. • He shot a hole in one. d [+ obj] : to play (a sport or game) • They are in the back shooting craps/dice. ♦ This sense is usually used with sports or games that involve shooting a ball. • They shot a round of golf. • Let's shoot some pool. • (US, informal) Let's shoot some hoops. [=let's play basketball]

4 : to film or photograph (something) [+ obj] The movie was shot in Australia. • The scene was shot in slow motion. • Where did you shoot [=take] this photo? [no obj] The director says we'll begin shooting [=filming] next week.

5 [+ obj] : to direct (a look, comment, etc.) at (someone) quickly and suddenly • She shot her sister a disapproving glance/look. — usually + at • She shot a disapproving glance/look at her sister. • He shot some angry words at me when the others left the room.

6 [no obj] US, informal — used to tell someone to begin to speak • You wanted to tell me something? OK, shoot. • "Can I ask you a few questions?" "Shoot."

7 [+ obj] informal : to inject (an illegal drug) into a vein • She began shooting heroin when she was 20.

have shot your bolt see ¹BOLT

shoot daggers at see DAGGER

shoot down [phrasal verb] 1 shoot down (something) or shoot (something) down a : to cause (something) to fall to the ground by hitting it with a bullet, rocket, etc., that is shot from a weapon • The helicopter was shot down. b : to end or defeat (something) • The bill was shot down in the Senate. • Her hopes were shot down. c : to reject (something) completely • My idea was immediately shot down. = My idea was shot down in flames. 2 shoot down (someone) or shoot (someone) down a : to kill (someone) with a bullet shot from a gun • He was shot down in cold blood. • Someone shot him down. b informal : to refuse to accept the offer made by (someone) • I asked her on a date, but she shot me down. [=she said no to me] shoot for [phrasal verb] shoot for (something) chiefly US, informal : to have (something) as a goal • "When would you like to have this completed by?" "Let's shoot for [=aim for] Friday."

shoot for the moon see ¹MOON shoot from the hip : to act or speak quickly without thinking about the possible results • I admit I'm shooting from the hip here, but I think it's a decent idea.

shoot it out : to shoot guns at someone during a fight until one side is killed or defeated • The two gangs shot it out in the street. — often + with • The escaped convict shot it out with the police. — see also SHOOT-OUT shoot off [phrasal verb] Brit, informal : to leave a place quickly and suddenly • I have to shoot off to my next appointment.

shoot the breeze also shoot the bull US, informal : to talk informally about unimportant things • I enjoy shooting the breeze with my neighbors.

shoot the messenger see MESSENGER shoot the rapids : to move quickly in a river where the water flows very fast usually over rocks • whitewater rafters shooting the rapids shoot the shit US, informal + offensive : to talk informally about unimportant things : to shoot the breeze shoot up [phrasal verb] 1 : to grow or increase quickly and suddenly • He shot up to six feet tall over the summer. • Sales have shot up this month. 2 shoot up or shoot up (something) informal : to inject an illegal drug into a vein • They shot up before the party. • shooting up heroin 3 shoot up (something) or shoot (something) up : to shoot many bullets at or inside (something) • He walked in and just started shooting up the place. • He shot the place up.

shoot your mouth off also shoot off at the mouth informal : to talk foolishly, carelessly, or too much about something • She tends to shoot her mouth off. • Try not to shoot your mouth off about this to anyone.

shoot yourself in the foot informal : to do or say something that causes trouble for yourself • By complaining about this you're only bringing attention to your mistakes. You're shooting yourself in the foot.

2 shoot noun, pl shoots [count]

1 a : the part of a new plant that is just beginning to grow above the ground b : a new branch and its leaves on an established plant • Small green shoots grew from the base of the tree.

2 a : an occasion when a movie, television show, etc., is being filmed • She is currently on a movie shoot in London. b : PHOTO SHOOT

3 chiefly Brit a : an occasion when people hunt and kill wild animals • They went on a duck shoot. [=hunt] b : a piece of usually privately owned land that is used for hunting • a 5,000-acre shoot

3 shoot interj, US — used to show that you are annoyed or surprised • "We've missed the train!" "Oh, shoot!" shoot-around /'ʃu:tə,raund/ noun, pl -arounds [count]

US : a usually informal basketball practice shoot-'em-up /'ʃu:təm,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] informal : a movie, television show, or video game that has a lot of killing with guns, bombs, etc.

shoot-er /'ʃu:tə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 a : a person who shoots a weapon • The police are looking for the shooter. — see also SHARPSHOOTER b : a person who throws, kicks, or hits a ball or puck

2 : a small amount (called a shot) of liquor (such as whiskey or tequila) often mixed with another liquid • a whiskey shooter

— see also SIX-SHOOTER, TROUBLESHOOTER

1 shooting adj, always used before a noun

1 a : relating to the act of shooting a gun • a shooting range b : relating to an occurrence in which a person is shot with a gun • The shooting victims [=the people who were shot] remain hospitalized. • a shooting death [=a death caused by being shot]

2 : relating to the action of photographing or filming someone or something • the movie's shooting schedule

3 : moving through part of your body in sudden painful bursts • I've been having shooting pains in my leg.

2 shooting noun, pl -ings

1 [count] : an occurrence in which a person is shot with a gun • There was a shooting last night.

2 [noncount] : the activity or sport of killing wild animals with a gun • They are going shooting [= (more commonly) going hunting] this weekend.

3 [noncount] : the action of photographing or filming someone or something • Shooting of the movie begins next week.

shooting gallery noun, pl ~ -ler-ies [count] : a place where people shoot guns at objects for practice or to win prizes shooting guard noun, pl ~ guards [count] basketball : a player who is one of the two guards on a team and whose main role is to score points shooting match noun

the whole shooting match informal : the entire thing : EVERYTHING • They said that they would pay for the food, music, decorations—the whole shooting match.

shooting star noun, pl ~ stars [count] : a streak of light in the night sky that looks like a star falling but that is actually a piece of rock or metal (called a meteor) falling from outer space into the Earth's atmosphere shoot-out /'ʃu:t,aut/ noun, pl -outs [count]

1 : a fight in which people shoot guns at each other until one side is killed or defeated

2 soccer or hockey : a competition that is used to decide the winner at the end of a tie game by giving each team a particular number of chances to shoot the ball or puck into the goal

3 : a competition between two people or groups that remains very close until the end • The two studios are in a shoot-out for the movie rights to the novel.

1 shop /'ʃɑ:p/ noun, pl shops

1 [count] a : a building or room where goods and services are sold — see also BARBERSHOP, BOOKSHOP, COFFEE SHOP, PAWNSHOP, PRO SHOP, SPECIALTY SHOP, THRIFT SHOP usage In U.S. English, store is more common than shop. When shop is used, it is usually for particular types of small businesses that sell one kind of product or service. Store is used for both small and large businesses, especially ones that sell many kinds of goods and services. In British English store is only used for large businesses that sell many kinds of goods and services and for a few types of smaller business that sell equipment. • (US + Brit) a gift/sandwich/doughnut/flower shop • (US + Brit) an antique shop [= (US) store] • (US + Brit) a pet/card shop [= (US, more commonly) store] • (Brit) a computer shop [= (US + Brit) store] • (Brit) a hardware shop [= (US + Brit) store] • (Brit) The shops [= (US) stores] are always crowded around the holiday season. • (Brit) I'm going to the shops this afternoon. [= (US) I'm going shopping this afternoon; I'm going to stores to look at and buy things]

b : the place where a specified kind of worker works : a worker's place of business • (US) the butcher shop = (Brit) the butcher's shop • (Brit) a chemist's shop [= (US) drugstore]

2 [count] : a place for making or repairing goods, machinery, vehicles, etc. • a repair shop • I took the car to the shop to get new brakes. — see also BODY SHOP, MACHINE SHOP, SWEATSHOP, WORKSHOP

3 [noncount] US : a class in school in which students are taught to work with tools and machinery • I am taking shop this semester. • I made a table in shop.; also [count] : a room in which a shop class is taught • The wood/metal shop is down the hall.

4 [noncount] informal : talk that is related to or about your work or special interests : SHOPTALK • They are always talk-ing shop.

5 [singular] Brit, informal : the activity of shopping for food or other things that are needed regularly • I did my weekly shop. [= (US) (grocery/food) shopping]

a bull in a china shop see ¹BULL

all over the shop Brit : all over the place : EVERYWHERE

close up shop see ¹CLOSE

mind the shop see ²MIND

set up shop : to start a business or activity in a particular place • The restaurant set up shop three blocks from here. • He moved to France, where he set up shop as a writer. • I set up shop in the living room and made phone calls all afternoon.

2 shop verb shops; shopped; shop-ping

1 : to visit places where goods are sold in order to look at and buy things [no obj] Where do you like to shop? • I like to shop at locally owned stores. • They shopped all day. = They spent the day shopping. • She is shopping for a new car. • He is out shopping. • Many people now shop online. [+ obj] (US) They shopped the store(s) in search of gift ideas. [=looked throughout the store(s) for a gift to buy] — see also COMPARISON SHOP, WINDOW-SHOP

2 [+ obj] US : to try to get a company to publish or produce (something) • She's shopping her idea for a film. — often + around • He shopped his manuscript around, but no publishers were interested.

3 [+ obj] Brit, informal : to give information about the secret or criminal activity of (someone) to an authority (such as the police) • His own mother shopped him to the police.

shop around [phrasal verb] : to visit several different places where a thing is sold in order to find the most suitable item or service for the lowest price • She is shopping around for a new car. • Shop around first before you buy a car. • She is shopping around for a bank with low fees. — see also ²SHOP 2 (above)

— shop-per /'ʃɑ:pə/ noun, pl -pers [count] • The stores were crowded with shoppers. • Christmas shoppers [=people who are shopping for Christmas gifts] shop-a-hol-ic /,ʃɑ:pə'hɑ:lɪk/ noun, pl -ics [count] informal : a person who likes to shop very much shop-bought adj, Brit : STORE-BOUGHT shop floor noun [singular] Brit : the area where products are made in a factory • proper safety procedures for the shop floor • managerial control of the shop floor [=of the workers in a factory]

shop front noun, pl ~ fronts [count] : STOREFRONT shop-keep-er /'ʃɑ:p,ki:pə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who owns or manages a shop or store : STOREKEEPER shop-lift /'ʃɑ:p,lɪft/ verb -lifts; -lift-ed; -lift-ing : to steal things from a shop or store [no obj] The manager saw the kids shoplift and called the police. • He was caught shoplifting. [+ obj] The kids shoplifted candy from the store.
– shop-lift-er /'ʃɑ:p,lɪftə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • Police watched for shoplifters. – shoplifting noun [noncount] • She was arrested for shoplifting.
shoppe /'ʃɑ:p/ noun, pl shoppes [count] old-fashioned : ¹SHOP 1a — used in the names of small businesses that sell one type of product or service • Amy's Toy Shoppe • a new mall called "The Shoppes at Woodford Hills" shopping noun [noncount]
1 : the activity of visiting places where goods are sold in order to look at and buy things (such as food, clothing, etc.) • We do (our) grocery shopping once a week. = We go grocery shopping once a week. [=we shop for groceries once a week] • I can do your shopping for you. • When are you going to do the shopping? • I'm going shopping. [= (Brit) going to the shops] • We went shopping for a gift at the mall. — often used before another noun • a shopping area/basket/cart • We're going on a shopping trip in New York City. • a shopping bag [= (Brit) carrier bag; a bag that a store gives you to carry any items you have bought there] • We went on a shopping spree. [=we bought a lot of things in a short period of time]
2 Brit : the things that are bought at a shop or store • Put the shopping in the car.
shopping cart noun, pl ~ carts [count] : ¹CART 2 shopping center (US) or Brit shopping centre noun, pl ~ -ters [count] : a group of shops or stores in one area — called also shopping plaza shopping list noun, pl ~ lists [count]
1 : a list of things to be bought at a shop or store
2 : a long list of related things • a shopping list [=laundry list] of things to be fixed around the house shopping mall noun, pl ~ malls [count] chiefly US : a large building or group of buildings containing many different stores : MALL shop-soiled /'ʃɑ:p,soɪld/ adj, Brit : SHOPWORN shop steward noun, pl ~ -ards [count] : a member of a labor union in a factory or company who is elected by the other members to meet with the managers shop-talk /'ʃɑ:p,tɑ:k/ noun [noncount] chiefly US : talk that is related to your work or special interests • There was a lot of shoptalk at the office party.
shop-worn /'ʃɑ:p,wɔ:n/ adj, US
1 : faded or damaged from being in a shop or store for too long • shopworn [= (Brit) shop-soiled] books/goods
2 : not interesting because of being used too often • shopworn [= (Brit) shop-soiled] stories/sayings/clichés
¹shore /'ʃɔ:/ noun, pl shores
1 : the land along the edge of an area of water (such as an ocean, lake, etc.) [count] a rocky/sandy shore [=coast] • Houses were built on the shores of the lake. • The boat hugged the shore. [=stayed close to the shore] [noncount] We swam to shore. • The boat was about a mile from shore. • The boat headed for shore.
2 shores [plural] literary : a country that touches a sea or ocean : a country that has a coast • My family came to these shores [=came to this country] 100 years ago. • The plant was brought to our shores from Europe. • We arrived on American/British shores.
²shore verb shores; shored; shor-ing
shore up [phrasal verb] shore (something) up or shore up (something) 1 : to support (something) or keep (something) from falling by placing something under or against it • They shored up [=propped up] the roof/wall. 2 : to support or help (something) • The tax cuts are supposed to shore up the economy. • The new player should shore up the team's defense.
shore leave noun [noncount] : official permission for a sailor to leave a ship and go onto land for a period of time shore-line /'ʃɔ:ləɪn/ noun, pl -lines : the land along the edge of an area of water (such as an ocean, lake, etc.) : a coast or shore [count] rocky shorelines • The road runs along the shoreline. [noncount] 1,000 miles of shoreline
shorn past participle of SHEAR
¹short /'ʃɔ:t/ adj short-er; -est
1 a : extending a small distance from one end to the other end : having little length : not long • Her hair is short. = She has short hair. • It's just a short distance from here. = It's just a short distance away. • the shortest rope • One of my legs is slightly shorter than the other. • The coat is short on him. = The coat is too short for him. [=the coat should be longer in order to fit him correctly] b : not great in distance • a short walk/drive/trip • This way is shorter. c : having little height : not tall • He is short for his age. • a short girl

2 a : lasting or continuing for a small amount of time : BRIEF • a short delay/vacation/speech • the shortest day of the year • Life's too short to worry about the past. • The movie/meeting was very short. • You have done a lot in a short space/period of time. • a short burst of speed • I've only lived here for a short time/while. • It's just a short walk from here. [=you can walk there from here in a few minutes] • She has a very short memory. [=she forgets about events, conversations, etc., soon after they happen] b always used before a noun : seeming to pass quickly • She has made great progress in a few short years. • He visited for two short weeks.
3 : having few pages, items, etc. • a short book/poem • I have a list of things I need to do before we go, but it's pretty short. • short sentences
4 of clothing : covering only part of the arms or legs • boys in short pants • a shirt with short sleeves [=sleeves that end at or above the elbows] • a short skirt [=a skirt that ends above the knees and especially several inches above the knees]
5 a : existing in less than the usual or needed amount • We should hurry. Time is short. [=we don't have much time] • Money has been short lately. [=I haven't had enough money lately] • Gasoline is in short supply. [=little gasoline is available] • (US) We can be ready on short notice. = (Brit) We can be ready at short notice. [=very quickly] • (US) Thank you for meeting with me on such short notice. = (Brit) Thank you for meeting with me at such short notice. [=even though you did not know that I wanted to meet with you until a short time ago] b not used before a noun : having less than what is needed : not having enough of something • I can't pay the bill. I'm a little short (of money). [=I don't have enough money] • The team was short (by) two players. = The team was two players short. — often + on • short on time/food/money • She's a little short on patience today. [=she is feeling somewhat impatient] • He's not short on self-confidence. [=he has plenty of self-confidence] • He was long on criticism but short on useful advice. [=he was very critical but did not give any useful advice] c : less than — used in the phrase nothing short of to give emphasis to a statement or description • His recovery is nothing short of a miracle. = His recovery is nothing short of miraculous. [=his recovery is a miracle; his recovery is miraculous] d : not reaching far enough • The throw to first base was short. • a short throw
6 : made smaller by having part removed • a short tax form — often + for • "Doc" is short for "doctor." • "Ben" is short for "Benjamin." • "www" is short for "World Wide Web."
7 not used before a noun : talking to someone in a very brief and unfriendly way : rudely brief • I'm sorry I was short [=abrupt, curt] with you.
8 linguistics, of a vowel — used to identify certain vowel sounds in English • long and short vowels • the short "a" in "bad" • the short "e" in "bet" • the short "i" in "sit" • the short "o" in "hot" • the short "u" in "but" — compare ¹LONG 6 a short fuse see ²FUSE draw the short straw see ¹DRAW
fall short see ¹FALL
in short order : quickly and without delay • In short order the group set up camp. • The papers were organized in short order.
make short work of see ²WORK short and sweet : pleasantly brief : not lasting a long time or requiring a lot of time • That's the way we like the meetings—short and sweet. • I've got a few announcements, but I'll keep it short and sweet. [=I will talk for only a few minutes] short of breath ♦ If you are short of breath, it is difficult for you to breathe. • He is overweight and gets short of breath [=out of breath] just walking to his car. • She was short of breath and unable to talk after her run.
the short end of the stick see ¹STICK
– short-ness /'ʃɔ:tnəs/ noun [noncount] • I was surprised by the shortness of the meeting. • One symptom is short-ness of breath.
²short adv short-er; -est
1 : to or at a point that is not as far as expected or desired : to a point not reaching what is needed for something • The ball fell short. • He threw the ball short. • He began to run/answer and then pulled up short [=stopped suddenly and did not finish] • We made as many cookies as we could, but we came up short [=we had fewer than we needed to have] and there weren't enough for everyone. • Time is running short [=there is little time left to do, accomplish, etc., something] — often + of • He finished in 30 seconds—just one second short of the world record. [=he finished in 30 seconds and the world record is 29 seconds] • She quit school a month short of [=before] graduation. • We came up short of [=we did not achieve] our goal. • Sales for the month came short of our estimates. [=we sold less than we had predicted we would sell] • The attack was just short of a full invasion. • She's just short of six feet tall. [=she is almost six feet tall] • The performance was just short of perfection. = The performance was (only a) little short of perfect. • The running back was stopped short of the goal line. [=was stopped just before the goal line] • He stopped well short of the line. [=long before reaching the line] • The boss said that she was unhappy with some employees, but she stopped short of naming which ones. [=but she did not say which employees she was unhappy with] • We have plenty of shirts left, but we're running short of [=running out of] smaller sizes. [=the available supply of smaller sizes is almost used up]

2 : in a sudden manner • The hunter stopped short [=suddenly] when he saw the deer. • I was wandering through the exhibit when I was brought up short by a striking photograph. [=when a striking photograph made me suddenly stop]

3 : for or during a short time • Her career was short-lasting.

4 : in a way that makes something short • Keep the grass mowed short. • Her dark hair was cut/cropped short. [=she had short hair]

caught short see ¹CATCH cut short : to end (something) earlier than expected • We had to cut our vacation short. • The speech was cut short. [=the speech was interrupted and not finished]

fall short see ¹FALL

sell (someone or something) short see ¹SELL short of : except for (something) : other than (something) •

Short of replacing the motor, I have tried everything to fix the car. • Short of a catastrophe [=unless something terrible happens], I think we'll succeed.

taken/caught short Brit, informal : suddenly needing to use a toilet when there is no toilet available

³short noun, pl shorts

1 shorts [plural] a : pants that end at or above the knees • a pair of shorts • Your shorts are dirty. • short shorts [=shorts that cover very little of the legs] — see color picture on page C14; see also BERMUDA SHORTS b : BOXER SHORTS

2 [count] : a short movie • The short before the main movie was very funny.

3 [count] : SHORT CIRCUIT

4 [noncount] baseball, informal : SHORTSTOP • Who's playing short?

5 [count] Brit : a small amount of liquor that you drink quickly : SHOT • a short of vodka for short : in a shorter form : as an abbreviation • My name is Benjamin, or Ben for short.

in short : in a few words — used to indicate that you are saying something in as few words as possible • The trip was, in short, a disaster. • In short [=in summary], the company is doing extremely well.

the long and (the) short of it see ³LONG

⁴short verb shorts; short-ed; short-ing

1 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to have a short circuit : SHORT-CIRCUIT • The lightning shorted the TV. — often + out in U.S. English • Water shorted out the flashlight.

2 [no obj] : to stop working because of a short circuit : SHORT-CIRCUIT • The hair dryer must have shorted. — often + out in U.S. English • The toaster oven shorted out.

short-age /'ʃɔ:tɪdʒ/ noun, pl -ag-es : a state in which there is not enough of something that is needed [count] a gasoline/water shortage — often + of • a shortage of cash/gasoline/teachers/water • There is no shortage of restaurants [=there are many restaurants] in the city. [noncount] (chiefly Brit) • periods of food shortage short-bread /'ʃɔ:t,bred/ noun [noncount] : a thick cookie made of flour, sugar, and a lot of butter or other shortening short-cake /'ʃɔ:t,keɪk/ noun [noncount]

1 chiefly US : a dessert made with a rich cake that is served with sweetened fruit on top • strawberry shortcake

2 chiefly Brit : SHORTBREAD

short-change /'ʃɔ:t'tʃeɪndʒ/ verb -chang-es; -changed; -chang-ing [+ obj]

1 : to give (someone) less than the correct amount of change • The cashier shortchanged me. I gave her 10 dollars to pay for an $8.95 book, and she only gave me a dollar back.

2 : to give (someone) less than what is expected or deserved • The band shortchanged its fans by playing for only 30 minutes. — often used as (be) shortchanged • He was shortchanged [=was cheated] out of a promotion (by the company). • Many people felt they were being shortchanged by the policy. = Many people felt shortchanged by the policy.

short circuit noun, pl ~ circuits [count] : the failure of electricity to flow properly in a circuit because the wires or connections in the circuit are damaged or not connected properly • The fire was caused by a short circuit.

short-circuit verb -circuits; -circuited; -circuiting

1 a [+ obj] : to cause (something) to have a short circuit • The lightning short-circuited the TV. b [no obj] : to stop working because of a short circuit • The lamp must have short-circuited.

2 [+ obj] : to avoid doing (something) • The owners short-circuited [=bypassed, circumvented] the required inspection.

3 [+ obj] : to stop (efforts, plans, etc.) from succeeding • The lawyers short-circuited [=frustrated, impeded] any attempt to sue the company.

short-com-ing /'ʃɔ:t,kamɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count]

1 : a weakness in someone's character : a personal fault or failing • Her lack of attention to detail is her biggest shortcoming. — usually plural • He has many more strengths than shortcomings.

2 : a bad feature : a flaw or defect in something • The main/major shortcoming of this camera is that it uses up batteries quickly.

short-cut /'ʃɔ:t,kat/ noun, pl -cuts [count]

1 : a shorter, quicker, or easier way to get to a place • Wait, I know a shortcut. Turn left here. • We took a shortcut home. • Let's take the shortcut through the woods.

2 : a quicker or easier way to do something • I used a shortcut to calculate the total weight. • There are no shortcuts to/for learning another language. • Mistakes were made because too many shortcuts were taken.

short-en /'ʃɔ:tən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 [no obj] : to become shorter • The days have begun to shorten. [=last for a smaller amount of time]

2 [+ obj] : to make (something) shorter • shorten a pair of pants • He had to shorten the speech. • Not changing the oil regularly will shorten the life of the engine. [=will cause the engine to fail sooner] • "Franklin D. Roosevelt" is often shortened to "FDR."

— shortened adj. "I've" is the shortened form of "I have." • I heard a shortened version of the song on the radio.

short-en-ing /'ʃɔ:tənɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : a fat (such as butter) that is used in cooking or baking short-fall /'ʃɔ:t,fɑ:l/ noun, pl -falls [count] formal : a failure to get what is expected or needed • a shortfall in milk production • profit shortfalls • We had a budget shortfall. [=our costs were higher than the available amount of money]; also : the amount of such a failure • a $2 million shortfall = a shortfall of $2 million [= $2 million less than is needed]

short-hair /'ʃɔ:t,heə/ noun, pl -hairs [count] : a cat that has short, thick fur — compare LONGHAIR short-haired adj. : having short fur or hair • short-haired cats • a short-haired student — opposite LONG-HAISED short-hand /'ʃɔ:t,hænd/ noun [noncount]

1 : a method of writing quickly by using symbols or abbreviations for sounds, words, or phrases : STENOGRAPHY • The notes were written in shorthand. [=using special symbols] • The secretary takes shorthand. [=writes in shorthand] — compare LONGHAND

2 : a short or quick way of showing or saying something — usually + for • "ASAP" is shorthand for "as soon as possible."

— shorthand adj. always used before a noun • shorthand symbols • a shorthand reporter [=someone whose job is to record in shorthand exactly what is said in a court of law or in a meeting] • (Brit) a shorthand typist [= (chiefly US) stenographer; someone whose job is to record in shorthand what is said and then type it] • "The Far East" is a shorthand term for all the countries of eastern Asia and the Malay Archipelago.

short-hand-ed /'ʃɔ:t'hændəd/ adj.

1 [more ~; most ~] : having fewer than the usual number of people available • The crew was shorthanded. [=someone who is usually in the crew wasn't there] • a shorthanded staff

• We're very shorthanded this week. [=many people who are usually here are not here this week]
2 always used before a noun, ice hockey : made when a team member is off the ice for a penalty • a shorthanded goal short-haul /'ʃɔ:t,ha:l/ adj, always used before a noun
: traveling or involving a short distance • short-haul flights shortie variant spelling of SHORTY short list noun, pl ~ lists [count] : a list of a small number of people or things that have been selected from a larger group and are being considered to receive an award, to get a job, etc. — usually singular • She is on the short list for the Nobel Prize. • The book is on the short list for the National Book Award.
— short-list verb -lists; -list-ed; -list-ing [+ obj] — usually used as (be) short-listed • He's been short-listed for the position. [=he has been put on a short list for the position] • The novel was short-listed to win the award.
short-lived /'ʃɔ:t'lɪvd/ adj short-er-lived; short-est-lived [or more ~; most ~] : living or lasting for a short time • short-lived insects • Her happiness was short-lived. — compare LONG-LIVED short-ly /'ʃɔ:tli/ adv
1 : in or within a short time : SOON • They should arrive shortly. • I'll be ready shortly. • He left shortly after/before you did. • Shortly after [=soon after] she hung up, the phone rang again.
2 : in a very brief and unfriendly way • "I can't help you right now," he said shortly.
short-order /'ʃɔ:t,ɔ:də/ adj, always used before a noun
: making or serving food that can be cooked quickly when a customer orders it • a short-order cook short-range /'ʃɔ:t'reɪndʒ/ adj, always used before a noun short-er-range; short-est-range
1 : able to travel or be used over short distances • short-range missiles/weapons • a short-range radio
2 : involving a short period of time • short-range [=short-term] goals • a short-range weather forecast short run noun
the short run : a short period of time at the beginning of something • One plan had advantages over the short run. — usually used in the phrase in the short run • It won't make any difference in the short run. [=when a small amount of time has passed] • These changes may improve profits in the short run [=in the short term, in the near future], but they are going to cost us money in the long run. — compare LONG RUN — short-run adj, always used before a noun • short-run benefits [=benefits that will exist or continue for a short period of time]
short-sheet verb -sheets; -sheeted; -sheeting [+ obj] US
1 : to arrange the top sheet on a bed in a way that leaves no space for the feet of a person getting into the bed ✧ Short-sheeting a bed is a playful trick. • Somebody short-sheeted my bed at summer camp.
2 : to give (someone) less than what is expected or deserved • Our school district was short-sheeted [(more commonly) shortchanged] by the state government.
short shrift noun [noncount] : little or no attention or thought • He gives short shrift to the author's later works. • The lower classes have gotten/received short shrift from the city government. [=the city government has not paid attention to the problems of the people in the lower classes] short-sight-ed /'ʃɔ:t,saɪtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]
1 a : not considering what will or might happen in the future • shortsighted politicians who only care about how they do in the next election b : made or done without thinking about what will happen in the future • The plan was dangerously shortsighted. • shortsighted policies/investments — opposite (US) FARSIGHTED, (Brit) LONG-SIGHTED
2 Brit : NEARSIGHTED
— short-sight-ed-ness noun [noncount] • We're victims of our own shortsightedness. short-staffed adj [more ~; most ~] : having fewer than the usual number of people available • The team/department is short-staffed. [=shorthanded] • a short-staffed hospital short-stay adj, always used before a noun, Brit
1 : providing a specified service for short periods of time • a short-stay car park
2 : staying at a place (such as a hospital or nursing home) for a short period of time • short-stay patients/residents short-stop /'ʃɔ:t,stɔ:p/ noun, pl -stops [count] baseball

: the player who defends the area between second and third base • an all-star shortstop short story noun, pl ~ -ries [count] : a short written story usually dealing with few characters : a short work of fiction short temper noun, pl ~ -pers [count] : a tendency to become angry easily • She has a short temper.
short-tem-pered /'ʃɔ:t'tempəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]
: easily made angry • short-tempered children • She is short-tempered.
short term noun
the short term : a short period of time at the beginning of something • It will meet our needs, at least for the short term. • His plan has advantages over the short term. — usually used in the phrase in the short term • It won't make any difference in the short term. [=when a small amount of time has passed] • These changes may improve profits in the short term [=in the near future, in the short run], but they are going to cost us money in the long term. — compare LONG TERM short-term /'ʃɔ:t,təm/ adj : lasting for, relating to, or involving a short period of time • the short-term effects of the plan • The company is using a short-term plan/strategy to increase profits. • Her memory of events that happened long ago is still okay, but her short-term memory is failing. [=it is difficult for her to remember things that happened recently] • a short-term contract/investment • short-term [=short-range] goals — opposite LONG-TERM short time noun [noncount] Brit : a work schedule in which an employee works fewer hours than usual • The company hasn't laid anyone off, but a number of employees have been put on short time.
short-wave /'ʃɔ:t,weɪv/ noun, pl -waves [count]
1 : a radio wave with a wavelength between 10 and 100 meters
2 : a radio or receiver that uses shortwaves — shortwave adj, always used before a noun • shortwave frequencies • a shortwave radio/receiver shorty or short-ie /'ʃɔ:ti/ noun, pl short-ies [count] informal : someone who is not tall : a short person • when I was just a shorty — often used as a form of address • How are you today, shorty? ✧ Shorty is often used humorously but can be insulting.
¹shot /'ʃɔ:t/ noun, pl shots
1 [count] : an act of shooting a gun • Two shots were heard. = Two shots rang out. • She fired a warning shot into the air. [=she fired/shot a gun into the air as a warning] • He took a shot at the deer. [=he tried to shoot the deer; he fired a gun at the deer] — see also GUNSHOT, POTSHOT
2 [noncount] a : BUCKSHOT b : the objects (called ammunition) that are shot from cannons and other old-fashioned weapons • musket/cannon shot — see also SLINGSHOT
3 [count] : a person who shoots a gun • She is a very good shot. [=she is skilled in shooting a gun] • You're not a bad shot. [=you are able to shoot a gun fairly well] — see also BIG SHOT
4 [count] : a critical or hurtful remark • They took shots at each other throughout the debate. • As her parting shot [=her final critical comment], she said that the other candidate simply did not understand the needs of the city's citizens. — see also CHEAP SHOT, POTSHOT
5 [count] : the act of hitting someone or something with your hand or an object • The boxer got in a few good shots on his opponent. • She took a shot at me [=tried to hit me] with a snowball but missed.
6 [count] a : an act of kicking, hitting, or throwing a ball or puck toward or into a goal • She scored on a perfect shot from the right wing. • Wow! That was a good/great shot! • He made the shot. [=got the ball or puck in the goal] • He took a shot [=threw the ball toward the goal] but missed. b : a ball or puck that is kicked, hit, or thrown toward or into a goal • The shot went between the goalie's legs. • Her shot landed on the putting green. — see also CHIP SHOT, FOUL SHOT, JUMP SHOT, SLAP SHOT
7 [count] a : an attempt to do something successfully — usually singular • You should give it a shot. [=you should try to do it] • I'll give you one more shot. [=I'll let you try one more time] • They lost, but at least they gave it their best shot. [=try, effort] — often + at • Take another shot at the math problem. • I never changed a tire before, but I'll have a shot at it. • I took/had a shot at (guessing) the answer and guessed right. b : a chance that something will happen or be achieved — usually singular • The horse has a 12 to 1 shot of winning. • It's a 10 to 1 shot that he'll be on time. — often + at • The team has a good shot at winning. • She has a shot at (winning) the title. — see also LONG SHOT

8 [count] informal : ¹PHOTOGRAPH — often + of • I got some good shots [=pictures] of the kids. • Be sure to take/get a couple shots of the car. — see also MUG SHOT, SNAPSHOT

9 [count] : a part of a movie or a television show that is filmed by one camera without stopping • the movie's opening shot • a close-up shot of a beehive

10 [count] chiefly US : an act of putting something (such as medicine or vaccine) into the body with a needle : INJECTION • a flu shot — often + of • a shot of morphine/Novocain

11 [count] a : a small amount of a drink and especially a strong alcoholic drink • tequila shots • a shot glass — often + of • a shot of whisky/espresso — called also (Brit) short b : a small amount of something — often + of • The pilot took a shot of oxygen. • My speech could use a shot of humor.

12 [count] : a heavy metal ball that people throw as far as they can in the athletic event called the shot put a shot US, informal : for each one : A PIECE • They cost $5 a shot.

a shot across the/someone's bow(s) : a warning to not do something or to stop doing something • The fine is a shot across the bow to an industry that thinks it can ignore the law.

a shot in the arm : something that makes someone or something stronger or more active, confident, etc. • The award has given the school a much needed shot in the arm.

a shot in the dark 1 : a guess that is based on very little or no information or evidence • Estimating the cost of a project like this is often a shot in the dark. 2 : an attempt that is not likely to succeed • I know it's a shot in the dark, but I still think we can convince them to join us.

call the shots informal : to be in charge or control of something • Who's the one who calls the shots around here?

like a shot : immediately and very quickly • He started the car and took off like a shot.

²shot past tense and past participle of ¹SHOOT

³shot adj, not used before a noun

1 informal : in a very bad condition • The tires on the car are shot. • It's such a stressful job—my nerves are shot (to pieces).

2 a of a fabric : having threads of a different color woven in — often + with • The dress is blue shot with silver. • blue fabric shot through with silver thread b : having a particular color, quality, feature, etc., throughout — usually + with • His stories are shot with comedy. • black hair shot through with gray shot of Brit, informal : no longer having someone or something that you do not want • I'm ready to get/be shot of [=rid of] this job. • The band wants to be shot of its manager.

shot clock noun, pl ~ clocks [count] basketball : a clock that shows how much time a player has left to shoot the ball shot-gun /'ʃɑ:t,gʌn/ noun, pl -guns [count]

1 : a gun with a long barrel that shoots a large number of small metal balls (called buckshot) — see picture at GUN; see also SAWED-OFF SHOTGUN

2 American football : an offensive formation in which the quarterback is a few yards behind the line of scrimmage at the start of a play shotgun wedding noun, pl ~

ride shotgun see ¹RIDE

-dings [count] : a wedding that happens because the bride is pregnant — called also shotgun marriage

shot put noun

the shot put : an athletic event in which people compete by trying to throw a heavy metal ball (called a shot) as far as possible

— shot-put-ter /'ʃɑ:t,putər/ noun, pl -ters [count]

should /'ʃʊd, 'ʃəd/ verb, past tense of SHALL [modal verb]

1 a — used to say or suggest that something is the proper, reasonable, or best thing to do • You should [=ought to] get some rest. • They should be punished. • We should leave a few minutes early to make sure we get there on time. • Maybe you should consider finding a new job. • I should emphasize that these numbers are only estimates. • My friends say that I should quit the team. • What time should we meet? [=what is the best time for us to meet?; what time do you want to meet?] • Patients should inform the receptionist upon their arrival. b — used with have to say that something was the proper, reasonable, or best thing to do but was not done • You should have been more careful. • She shouldn't have spoken to him so rudely. • What should I have done? • Should I not have gone? [=was it wrong for me to go?] • I should have known that he would be late. [=I didn't know that he would be late, but it would have been reasonable for me to expect it because he is often late] c — used with have to say that you wish someone had seen, heard, or experienced something • You should have seen her face [=I wish that you had seen her face] when she opened the present. • It was so funny. You should have been there.

2 — used to ask for someone's opinion • Should [(more formally) shall] I turn the music down? • What should we have for lunch?

3 — used to say that something is expected or correct • Everyone should [=ought to] have a copy of the handout. • There should be four place settings at the table, not six. • "He feels very sorry about what happened." "Well, he should!" • You should be ashamed of yourself, behaving so rudely to our guests! • They should be here by now. = They should have arrived by now. [=I expected them to be here by now]

4 a — used when saying that you feel a specified way about someone's words or behavior • I'm surprised that he should intentionally be so rude to you. • It's strange (that) you should say that. • Funny you should mention it. [=I think it's odd/strange that you mentioned it] I've been thinking the same thing. b — used to emphasize what you believe, think, hope, etc. • I should imagine it won't take more than two hours to drive there. [=I am fairly certain that it won't take more than two hours] • I should think not. [=I really don't think so] • I should hope that she would apologize. [=I expect her to apologize] • "She apologized for her rude behavior." "Well, I should hope so!"

5 — used with have in negative statements as a polite way of thanking someone for doing something • You really should not have gone to all that trouble on my account—but I'm glad you did! • Flowers for me? You shouldn't have.

6 somewhat formal — used to talk about the result or effect of something that may happen or be true • Should [=if] you change your mind, please let us know. • I will feel very guilty should anything go wrong. [=if anything goes wrong] — usually used with if • I will feel very guilty if anything should [=were to] go wrong. • If he should call [=if he calls], tell him I'm not home. • If you should see them [=if you see them], say hello for me.

7 Brit — used to say that you would do or feel something if something specified happened; only used after I or we • If my husband treated me like that, I should [=would] divorce him. • I should be surprised if many people go to the fair on such a rainy day. • I should not be surprised if no one goes. • I shouldn't [=wouldn't] be surprised at all.

8 Brit — used when giving someone advice; only used after I or we • I should [=would] see a doctor if I were you.

9 Brit — used to say that you want to do or want to have something; only used after I or we • "They really need some help." "Well, I should be glad to help them." • I should like to call my lawyer. • "Would you care for a drink?" "I should like one very much."

how/why should I/we know — used to say that you do not know the answer to a question and are surprised that you were asked it • "Where did they go?" "How should I know?"

what/who should you see but — used to say that you are surprised to see something or someone • I looked up and what should I see but a hummingbird hovering over my head. • They were walking along when who should they see but Kim!

¹shoul-der /'ʃouldər/ noun, pl -ders

1 [count] : the part of your body where your arm is connected • He rested the baby's head on his shoulder. • He grabbed my shoulder and turned me around. • She carried a backpack on one shoulder. • He has broad shoulders. — often used figuratively • The responsibility for the failure falls squarely on her shoulders, [=she is completely responsible for the failure] — see picture at HUMAN; see also COLD SHOULDER shot put

2 a [count] : the part of an animal's body where a front leg is connected • The horse is five feet high at the shoulder. b : a cut of meat from the shoulder of an animal [count] a shoulder of lamb [noncount] We had pork shoulder for dinner.

3 [count] : the part of a piece of clothing that covers your shoulders — usually plural • The jacket is tight in the shoulders. • The blouse has padded shoulders.

4 [count] : a part of something that is near the top and that resembles a person's shoulder in shape — often + of • the shoulder of the hill/bottle

5 [singular] US : the outside edge of a road that is not used for travel • They pulled over to the shoulder to fix the flat tire. — called also (Brit) hard shoulder

a good head on your shoulders see ¹HEAD

a shoulder to cry on 1 : a person who gives you sympathy and support • She's always been a sympathetic shoulder to cry on. 2 : sympathy and support • He offered me a shoulder to cry on when my husband left me.

have a chip on your shoulder see ¹CHIP

head and shoulders above see ¹HEAD

look over your shoulder : to worry or think about the possibility that something bad might happen, that someone will try to harm you, etc. • You can never feel confident in this business. You always have to be looking over your shoulder.

rub shoulders with see ¹RUB

shoulder to shoulder 1 : physically close together • Everyone was standing/squeezed shoulder to shoulder on the crowded bus. 2 : united together to achieve a shared goal • I stand shoulder to shoulder with the other legislators in this effort.

²shoulder verb -ders; -dered; -der-ing

1 [+ obj] : to deal with or accept (something) as your responsibility or duty • He shouldered the blame for the project's failure. • The company will shoulder the costs of the repairs. • She shouldered the full burden of raising three children.

2 a [+ obj] : to push (something) with your shoulder • He shouldered the door open. b always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move forward by pushing through something with the shoulders [no obj] She shouldered through the crowd. [+ obj] She shouldered her way through the crowd.

3 [+ obj] : to place or carry (something) on your shoulder • The soldiers shouldered their rifles and marched away.

shoulder bag noun, pl ~ bags [count] : a bag that is designed to be carried on one shoulder by a strap shoulder blade noun, pl ~ blades [count] : one of the two flat, triangular bones of the shoulder that are located in the upper back — called also scapula; see picture at HUMAN

-shoul-dered /ˌʃouldəd/ adj : having shoulders of a specified kind — used in combination • round-shouldered • broad-shouldered shoulder-high adj : reaching as high as your shoulder • a shoulder-high wall shoulder-length adj, of a person's hair : reaching your shoulders • She has shoulder-length hair.

shoulder strap noun, pl ~ straps [count] : a strap that is used to carry or hold something on your shoulder or to hold up a piece of clothing shouldn't /ˈʃudnt/ — used as a contraction of should not • You shouldn't do that.

should've /ˈʃudəv/ — used as a contraction of should have • I should've known that she would come. • He should've been ready to go.

¹shout /ˈʃaʊt/ verb shouts; shout-ed; shout-ing

1 : to say (something) very loudly [+ obj] Protesters shouted [=screamed, yelled] insults as city officials passed by. • Someone was shouting "Fire!" — often + out • The general shouted out orders to his men. [no obj] There's no need to shout at me.

2 [no obj] : to make a sudden, loud cry • They shouted [=screamed] with delight. — often + out • He shouted out in pain when the doctor moved his broken ankle.

shout down [phrasal verb] shout (someone) down : to shout so that (someone who is speaking) cannot be heard • The crowd shouted him down when he tried to give his speech. [=the crowd stopped him from giving his speech by shouting]

shout your head off see ¹HEAD

shout yourself hoarse : to make your voice hoarse by shouting • He shouted himself hoarse at the game.

²shout noun, pl shouts

1 [count] : a sudden, loud cry — often + of • She gave a shout of surprise.

2 [singular] Brit, informal : a person's turn to buy drinks • It's your shout.

be in with a shout Brit, informal : to have a good chance of winning or achieving something • We aren't too far behind, so we're still in with a shout.

give (someone) a shout informal : to tell (someone) about something when it happens or is ready to be done • I'll give you a shout when it's time to leave.

shouting distance noun [noncount] informal : a short distance • We live within shouting distance of my parents.

shouting match noun, pl ~ matches [count] : a loud, angry argument in which people shout at each other • He got into a shouting match with his neighbor.

shout-out /ˈʃaʊt, aʊt/ noun, pl -outs [count] US, informal : an expression of greeting or praise that is given to someone in the presence of many people — usually singular • I would like to give a shout-out to all the men and women in our armed forces. • During his awards speech, the director gave a shout-out to his production crew.

¹shove /ˈʃʌv/ verb shoves; shoved; shov-ing

1 [+ obj] : to push (something) with force • He shoved the door until it finally opened.

2 : to push (someone or something) along or away in a rough or careless way [+ obj] A large man shoved me out of the way. • She shoved her plate aside. • He shoved me into the pool. [no obj] A group of security guards shoved through the crowd. • The children were pushing and shoving to see the clowns.

shove it US, informal + impolite — used to say that you will not accept or do something • They can take their suggestion and shove it.

shove off [phrasal verb] informal : to leave a place • It's getting late, so I guess I should shove off. • She angrily told him to shove off.

shove over or chiefly Brit shove up [phrasal verb] informal : to move over to make room for someone else • Shove over [=push over] so that I can sit down, too.

shove (something) down someone's throat see THROAT

²shove noun, pl shoves [count] : a strong, forceful push • He gave the door a shove, and it opened.

push comes to shove see ²PUSH

¹shov-el /ˈʃʌvəl/ noun, pl -els [count]

1 : a tool with a long handle that is used for lifting and throwing dirt, sand, snow, etc.

2 : the part of a machine (such as a backhoe) that picks up and moves dirt, sand, snow, etc. — see also STEAM SHOVEL

²shovel verb -els; US -eled or Brit -elled; US -el-ing or Brit -el-ling

1 [+ obj] : to lift and throw (dirt, sand, snow, etc.) with a shovel • He is outside shoveling snow.

2 US a : to remove snow from (a sidewalk, driveway, etc.) with a shovel [+ obj] I have to shovel the driveway. [no obj] I had to shovel for an hour to clear the driveway. b [+ obj] : to create (a path) by removing snow with a shovel • The snow was so deep we had to shovel a path to our front door.

3 [+ obj] informal : to put large amounts of (something, such as food) into something in a quick way • Stop shoveling food into your mouth.

shov-el-ful /ˈʃʌvəl, ful/ noun, pl shov-el-fuls /ˈʃʌvəl, fulz/ also shov-els-ful /ˈʃʌvəlz, ful/ [count] : the amount that a shovel will hold • a shovelful of snow shovel pass noun, pl ~ passes [count] American football : a short pass made by throwing the ball underhand or with a sidearm motion

¹show /ˈʃou/ verb shows; showed /ˈʃoud/; shown /ˈʃoun/ or showed; show-ing

1 [+ obj] : to cause or allow (something) to be seen • He showed her a picture. = He showed a picture to her. • You have to show your tickets/passports at the gate. • You're the only person that I've shown this letter to. • Give them a chance to show (you) what they can do.

2 [+ obj] : to give information that proves (something) • The study/research shows (that there is) a link between cigarettes and lung cancer. • The medication has been shown [=proven] to reduce high blood pressure. • They showed the theory to be faulty. • He seemed perfectly healthy before he had his heart attack. That just goes to show [=shows, proves] that appearances can be deceptive.

3 [+ obj] : to teach (someone) how to do or use something especially by letting that person see you do or use it • You will have to show me how to play the game. • He showed them a card trick. • Definitions tell you the meanings of words; examples show you how the words are used.

4 [+ obj] : to tell (someone) what or where something is by touching or pointing to it • Show me which video game you want to play. • She showed me where Laos was on the globe. • Show me where it hurts. • The guide showed us the church. [=pointed to the different parts of the church and told us about them]

5 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to lead (someone) to a place • He showed us to our seats. • Please show him in/out. [=lead him to the entrance/exit] • She showed them the way to the door.

6 [+ obj] — used to describe what can be seen or noticed when you look at or examine something • Her grades have shown some improvement. [=her grades have improved] • The city's education system is showing signs of improvement. [=the city's education system seems to be improving]

7 [+ obj] : to have an image or picture of (someone or something) • The postcard shows a sunset on the beach. • The photograph shows her as a young woman.

8 : to give (information) in the form of numbers, pictures, etc. [+ obj] The thermostat showed 68 degrees. • The pie chart shows that 20 percent of the money is spent on supplies. [no obj] 3:15 showed on the clock.

9 a [no obj] : to be able to be seen or noticed • The sun showed through the clouds. • The scar hardly shows. • Pull down your skirt. Your slip is showing. [=I can see your slip] • He's been working out a lot, and it shows. — sometimes + up • The mountains showed up clearly against the sky. b [+ obj] : to cause or allow (something) to be easily seen or noticed • A light-colored carpet will show dirt.

10 a [+ obj] : to cause or allow (a feeling, quality, or condition) to be seen or known • The expression on his face showed how disappointed he was. • She is not afraid of showing her true feelings. • Show your support by wearing one of these yellow ribbons. • When you say you dislike computers, you're really showing your age. b [no obj] of a feeling, quality, or condition : to be able to be seen • His disappointment showed in his face.

11 [+ obj] : to give (mercy, respect, etc.) to someone • The judge showed no mercy. • Students must show respect for their teachers. = Students must show their teachers respect. • Please show some compassion.

12 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to see your true ability, power, etc. • They think I'm too old to run the race, but I'll show them! [=I'll run the race and prove that I'm not too old to do it] • He thinks he can tell me what to do, but I'll show him who's boss.

13 : to make (a movie, television show, piece of art, etc.) available for the public to see [+ obj] Some news programs have decided not to show [=air] the video. • She is showing her paintings at an art gallery. [no obj] The movie is now showing [=playing] in local theaters. • She has shown at the art gallery several times.

14 [no obj] chiefly US, informal : to arrive or appear at a place • Many passengers failed to show. — usually + up • Everyone showed up on time. • He didn't show up for work today. — see also NO-SHOW

15 : to enter (an animal) in a competition in which it is judged against other animals of the same kind [+ obj] He breeds and shows poodles. [no obj] Two of our dogs will be showing in the national competition.

16 — used in phrases like have something/nothing to show for to say what someone has achieved or produced by doing something • We worked all day but had nothing to show for it. [=we worked all day but did not achieve/accomplish anything] • He invested millions of dollars into the company, but he has little to show for it. • She has two Olympic gold medals to show for her years of training and practice. [=she won two Olympic gold medals as a result of her years of training and practice] show around also Brit show round [phrasal verb] show (someone) around/round : to act as a guide for someone who is visiting a place : to lead (someone) around a place and point to and talk about the interesting or important things you see • She showed us around (the city).

show off [phrasal verb] informal 1 disapproving : to try to impress someone with your abilities or possessions • The boys were showing off in front of the girls. • Stop trying to show off. 2 show off (someone or something) or show (someone or something) off : to cause (someone or something that you are proud of) to be seen or noticed by a lot of people • She showed her baby off at the office. • He drove around town, showing off his new car. 3 show off (something) or show (something) off : to make (something) very noticeable • She wears tight clothes that show off her figure. — see also SHOW-OFF show (someone) the door, show (someone) to the door see DOOR

show the flag see ¹FLAG

show up [phrasal verb] show up (someone) or show (someone) up informal : to embarrass (someone) : to do something that makes (someone) look foolish, weak, etc. • He was deliberately trying to show up the boss. — see also ¹SHOW 9a, 14 (above) show willing Brit : to show that you are willing and eager to do what is needed • I got in to work extra early to show willing and impress my boss.

show your face : to appear in public and allow people to see you • I don't know how he can stand to show his face around here after what happened.

show your hand also show your cards 1 : to put down your playing cards on a table so that their values can be seen 2 : to tell other people what you are planning to do, want to do, or are able to do • The company wants to avoid showing its hand about its decision until next month.

show yourself 1 : to move out from a hidden place so that you can be seen • The guard ordered him to show himself. 2 : to show that you are a particular kind of person, that you have a particular skill, etc. — followed by to + verb • They showed themselves to be cowards. [=they behaved in a cowardly way] • She has shown herself to be capable of running the company. [=has shown that she is capable of running the company]

show your stuff see ¹STUFF

show your true colors see ¹COLOR

²show noun, pl shows

1 [count] a : a performance in a theater that usually includes singing and dancing • We saw a show last night. = We went to a show last night. • a Broadway/musical show • She was the star of the show. b : a public performance that is intended to entertain people • a one-woman comedy show • a puppet show • The band always puts on a good show. — sometimes used figuratively • The team put on a poor show [=played poorly] in the second half. — see also FLOOR SHOW, HORROR SHOW, ICE SHOW, PEEP SHOW, PUNCH-AND-JUDY SHOW, ROAD SHOW, SIDESHOW

2 [count] : a television or radio program • my favorite (TV) show — see also GAME SHOW, QUIZ SHOW, TALK SHOW

3 [count] : an event at which things of the same kind are put on display for people to look at or buy • an agricultural show • fashion/auto/boat shows • a show of his early paintings — see also TRADE SHOW

4 [singular] a : an action, performance, etc., which clearly shows an ability, feeling, quality, etc. — usually + of • a show of the country's great military strength • a remarkable show of generosity • All of the students signed the petition in a show of unity/solidarity with their classmate. b : an event at which something is done or shown to impress or entertain people — usually + of • a spectacular show of fireworks

5 disapproving : an act of pretending to feel a particular way : an act of behaving a certain way in order to make others like or approve of you [count] — usually singular; usually + of • He made a great show of friendship. • She put on a big show of sympathy, but she really didn't care about his troubles. [noncount] Her friendliness is all show. [=she does not truly have friendly feelings toward others]

6 [singular] : an event, business, etc., and all of the activities that are involved in its success • The new president tried to run the whole show [=be in charge of everything] himself. • A new manager is running the show.

7 [count] : a competition at which animals of the same kind are judged against one another • a dog show • They have two show dogs. [=dogs that compete in dog shows] — see also HORSE SHOW a show of hands : an occurrence in which people put a hand in the air to indicate that they want something, agree with something, etc. • Let me see a show of hands: how many people want a piece of cake?

dog and pony show see ¹DOG

for show 1 : intended to be seen but not used or bought • We're not supposed to eat the fruit on the table. It's just for show. [=it's just being used as decoration] 2 : done in order to make others like or approve of you • He says he enjoys classical music, but it's only for show. [=he pretends to like classical music]

get the/this show on the road informal : to begin an activity or journey • Everyone ready? OK, let's get this show on the road!

on show : put somewhere for people to see • Her paintings are on show [=on display] at the art gallery. • The artifacts will be put on show in the museum. • His work goes on show tomorrow.

the show must go on informal — used to say that a performance, event, etc., must continue even though there are problems show-and-tell /'ʃəʊən'tel/ noun [noncount] : a school activity in which children show an item to the class and talk about it • She brought in a seashell for show-and-tell.

show-biz /'ʃəʊ,biz/ noun [noncount] informal : SHOW BUSINESS • Sometimes the critics love you and sometimes they hate you. That's showbiz.

show-boat /'ʃəʊ,bəʊt/ noun, pl -boats [count]

1 : a large boat that has a theater and a group of performers and that gives plays at towns and cities along a river

2 chiefly US, informal + usually disapproving : a person (such as an athlete) who behaves or performs in a way that is meant to attract the attention of a lot of people • The fans like him, but the other players think he's a showboat.

showboat verb -boats; -boat-ed; -boat-ing [no obj] chiefly US, informal + usually disapproving : to behave or perform in a way that is meant to attract the attention of a lot of people • She was showboating for the cameras when she tripped and fell.

show business noun [noncount] : the entertainment industry involved in making movies; television shows, plays, etc. • She has been in show business for over 30 years. • actors trying to break into show business • show business executives show-case /'ʃəʊ,keɪs/ noun, pl -cas-es [count]

1 : a box that has a glass top or sides and that is used for displaying objects in a store, museum, etc.

2 : an event, occasion, etc., that shows the abilities or good qualities of someone or something in an attractive or favorable way • The convention was a showcase of the company's new products. — usually + for • The program is a showcase for up-and-coming musicians. • The movie is a showcase for her talents.

showcase verb -cases; -cased; -cas-ing [+ obj] : to show (something or someone) in an attractive or favorable way • The program showcases up-and-coming musicians.

show-down /'ʃəʊ,daʊn/ noun, pl -downs [count]

1 : a meeting, argument, fight, etc., that will finally settle a disagreement between people or groups — often + with • Supporters of the bill are in a showdown with the opposition.

2 : an important game or competition — often + with • The team is getting ready for tonight's showdown with last year's champions.

show-er /'ʃəʊə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 a : a device that produces a spray of water for you to stand under and wash your body b : a room or an enclosed area in a room that contains a shower • My hotel room had a shower but no bathtub. • a shower curtain/stall • I couldn't answer the phone because I was in the shower. • The team hit the showers after practice. [=the team went to the locker room and used the showers there after practice] — see picture at BATHROOM c : the act of washing your body with a shower • She took a shower after her run. = (Brit) She had a shower after her run. • a shower cap [=a cap that you wear while you are taking a shower]

2 a : a brief fall of rain or snow over a small area • Light/Heavy showers are expected later today. — see also THUNDERSHOWER b : a large number of small things that fall or happen at the same time — often + of • a shower of sparks/tears • He gave the baby a shower of kisses. [=he showered the baby with kisses]

3 US : a party where gifts are given to a woman who is going to be married or have a baby • a bridal/baby shower shower verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing

1 [no obj] : to wash yourself by using a shower • Please shower before using the pool.

2 : to fall on someone or something in the way that rain falls from the sky [no obj] Sparks from the machine showered onto the floor of the garage. • Rice showered down on the newlyweds as they left the church. [+ obj] A passing car showered her with muddy water. = A passing car showered muddy water on her.

3 [+ obj] : to provide (someone) with something in large amounts • He showered her with gifts/kisses. = He showered gifts/kisses on her. [=he gave her many gifts/kisses]

show-er-head /'ʃəʊə,hed/ noun, pl -heads [count] : the device that controls the spray of water in a shower — see picture at BATHROOM show-ery /'ʃəʊəri/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having a lot of rain showers • We've been having showery weather lately. • It may be showery [=rainy] tomorrow.

show-girl /'ʃəʊ,gɜ:l/ noun, pl -girls [count] : a woman who sings or dances in a musical show showing noun, pl -ings [count]

1 : the act of making a movie, television show, piece of art, etc., available for the public to see • The movie's last showing tonight is at 10:30.

2 : a performance or appearance of a particular kind — usually singular • He had a poor showing [=he performed poorly] in the tournament. • Both candidates are expected to make a good/strong showing [=to get many votes] in next week's election.

show jumping noun [noncount] : the sport of riding a horse over a set of fences as quickly and skillfully as possible show-man /'ʃəʊmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : a person who is good at entertaining people show-man-ship /'ʃəʊmən,ʃɪp/ noun [noncount] : the ability to attract attention and entertain people • political showmanship

shown past participle of ¹SHOW show-off /'ʃəʊ,ɔ:f/ noun, pl -offs [count] informal + disapproving : a person who tries to impress other people with his or her abilities or possessions — see also show off at ¹SHOW show-piece /'ʃəʊ,pi:s/ noun, pl -piec-es [count]

1 : something that is the best or most attractive thing being shown • The museum's showpiece is a painting by Picasso.

2 : something that is seen as an excellent or outstanding example of something • The house is an architectural showpiece.

show-place /'ʃəʊ,pleɪs/ noun, pl -plac-es [count] : a beautiful or important place that people enjoy seeing • They have transformed their home into a showplace.

show-room /'ʃəʊ,ru:m/ noun, pl -rooms [count] : a large room where things that are for sale are displayed • a car showroom • The stereo was a showroom model.

show-stop-per /'ʃəʊ,stɑ:pə/ noun, pl -pers [count] : an act, song, or performer that receives so much applause that the performance is interrupted

— show-stop-ping /'ʃəʊ,stɑ:pɪŋ/ adj, usually used before a noun • a showstopping performance show-time /'ʃəʊ,tɑɪm/ noun [noncount] : the time when a play, movie, etc., begins • We have five minutes until showtime. • Showtime is in five minutes. — often used figuratively in U.S. English • We've been making plans for months. Now it's showtime.

show trial noun, pl ~ trials [count] : a trial in a court of law in which the verdict has been decided in advance • They were forced to confess their guilt in public show trials.

show window noun, pl ~ -dows [count] : a large window in the front of a store that is used for displaying goods that are for sale

showy /'ʃəʊi/ adj show-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : having an appearance that attracts attention • showy blossoms • Perhaps you should wear something a little less showy. • (disapproving) showy [=gaudy] jewelry

shrank past tense of ¹SHRINK

shrap-nel /'ʃræpnəl/ noun [noncount] : small metal pieces that scatter outwards from an exploding bomb, shell, or mine • He has a piece of shrapnel in his leg. • Shrapnel from the explosion wounded many people.

shred /'ʃred/ noun, pl shreds

1 [count] : a long, thin piece cut or torn off of something • The cats tore/ripped the curtain to shreds. [=into many long, thin pieces] • The wallpaper is in shreds. — often + of • shreds of paper/cloth

2 shreds [plural] : a completely ruined condition • An air attack tore the village to shreds. [=completely destroyed the village] • His reputation was in shreds after the arrest. • Critics picked/pulled/tore/ripped the movie to shreds. [=criticized the movie very severely]

3 [singular] : a very small amount of something • He struggled to retain a shred of his dignity. — usually used in negative statements • There's not a shred of evidence showing that he committed the crime. • She made the accusation without a shred of proof.

²shred verb shreds; shred-ded; shred-ding [+ obj] : to cut or tear (something) into long, thin pieces • He shredded the paper/cloth. • Shred the cabbage and add it to the salad. • He shredded the documents. [=he put the documents into a shredder to cut them into pieces]

shredded wheat noun [noncount] : a breakfast cereal that is made from cooked wheat that is shredded and formed into biscuits shred-der /'ʃredə/ noun, pl -ders [count] : a machine used for cutting something (such as paper) into long, thin pieces • a document shredder — see picture at OFFICE

shrew /'ʃru:/ noun, pl shrews [count]

1 : a small animal that looks like a mouse with a long, pointed nose

2 old-fashioned : an unpleasant, bad-tempered woman shrewd /'ʃru:d/ adj shrewd-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : having or showing an ability to understand things and to make good judgments : mentally sharp or clever • a shrewd observer/businessman • She's shrewd about her investments. • a shrewd observation

— shrewd-ly adv — shrewd-ness noun [noncount]

shrew-ish /'ʃru:wɪʃ/ adj, old-fashioned, of a woman : unpleasant and bad-tempered • a shrewish old hag

¹shriek /'ʃri:k/ verb shrieks; shrieked; shriek-ing

1 [no obj] : to make a loud, high-pitched cry • The birds were shrieking in the trees. • The baby shrieked [=screamed] with delight. • She shrieked when she saw a mouse.

2 [+ obj] : to say (something) in a loud, high-pitched voice • "Mommy!" she shrieked.

²shriek noun, pl shrieks [count] : a loud, high-pitched cry or sound • The baby gave a shriek [=scream] of delight. • the shriek of the train's brakes

shrift /'ʃrɪft/ see SHORT SHRIFT

¹shrill /'ʃrɪl/ adj shrill-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having a very loud, high-pitched sound • a shrill whistle/scream

2 : loud and difficult to ignore but often unreasonable • shrill protests/accusations — shrill-ness noun [noncount] — shrill-ly adv • He whistled shrilly.

²shrill verb shrills; shrilled; shrill-ing

1 [no obj] : to make a very loud, high-pitched sound • The bell shrilled.

2 [+ obj] : to say (something) in a very loud, high-pitched voice • "What!?" she shrilled.

shrimp /'ʃrɪmp/ noun, pl shrimp or shrimps [count]

1 : a small shellfish that has a long body and legs and that is eaten as food — see color picture on page C8; compare PRAWN

2 informal : a very small or unimportant person • He's a little shrimp of a boy.

shrimp-ing noun [noncount] : the activity or business of catching shrimp shrine /'ʃraɪn/ noun, pl shrines [count]

1 : a place connected with a holy person or event where people go to worship • a Buddhist shrine • the shrine of Saint Mary • They erected a shrine to the saint.

2 : a place that people visit because it is connected with someone or something that is important to them • tourists visiting the shrines of American independence • The writer's house has become a shrine to/for his fans.

¹shrink /'ʃrɪŋk/ verb shrinks; shrank /'ʃræŋk/ or shrunk /'ʃrʌŋk/; shrunk or shrunk-en /'ʃrʌŋkən/; shrink-ing

1 a [no obj] : to become smaller in amount, size, or value • The sweater shrank when it was washed. • Meat shrinks as it cooks. • The town's population shrank during the war. b [+ obj] : to make (something) smaller in amount, size, or value • Hot water shrank the sweater. • The treatment should shrink the tumor.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to quickly move away from something shocking, frightening, or disgusting • He shrank in horror when he saw the dead cat.

shrink from [phrasal verb] shrink from (something) : to try to avoid (something difficult or unpleasant) : to be unwilling to do (something) • He doesn't shrink from telling the truth, no matter how painful it may be. • She won't shrink from the task.

²shrink noun, pl shrinks [count] informal : a psychiatrist or psychologist • He is seeing a shrink.

shrink-age /'ʃrɪŋkɪdʒ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the amount by which something becomes smaller or less • The shrinkage in contributions is significant. • a shrinkage of 10 percent

2 : the act or process of becoming smaller in amount, size, or value • the shrinkage of the polar ice caps shrinking violet noun, pl ~ -lets [count] informal : a person who is very shy • He's no shrinking violet when it comes to competition.

shrink-wrap /'ʃrɪŋk,ræp/ noun [noncount] : tough, clear, thin plastic that is placed around a product (such as a book or a package of food) and shrunk in order to wrap it tightly — shrink-wrapped /'ʃrɪŋk,ræpt/ adj • a shrink-wrapped book shrive-el /'ʃrɪvəl/ verb -els; US -eled or Brit -elled; US -el-ing or Brit -el-ling

1 [no obj] : to become dry and wrinkled from heat, cold, or old age • plants shriveling in the heat — often + up • The leaves shriveled up in the hot sun.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to become dry and wrinkled — often + up • The heat shriveled up the plant's leaves.

— shriveled adj • She was small and shriveled with age. • a shriveled grape

¹shroud /'ʃraʊd/ noun, pl shrouds [count]

1 : a cloth that is used to wrap a dead body

2 literary : something that covers or hides something — usually + of • covered in a shroud of secrecy/fog

²shroud verb shrouds; shroud-ed; shroud-ing [+ obj] literary : to cover or hide (something) • Fog shrouded the land. • The mountains were shrouded in fog. • Their work is shrouded in secrecy.

Shrove Tuesday /'ʃru:v-/ noun [noncount] : the day before the first day of the Christian holy period of Lent : the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday — called also (US) Fat Tuesday, (Brit) Pancake Day; compare MARDI GRAS shrub /'ʃrʌb/ noun, pl shrubs [count] : a plant that has stems of wood and is smaller than a tree : BUSH — see color picture on page C6 shrub-bery /'ʃrʌbəri/ noun, pl -ber-ies

1 [noncount] : a group of shrubs planted together • a patch of tangled shrubbery

2 [count] : an area planted with shrubs • a large shrubbery

shrug /'ʃrʌg/ verb shrugs; shrugged; shrug-ging : to raise and lower your shoulders usually to show that you do not know or care about something [no obj] I asked if he wanted to go out to dinner, and he just shrugged. [+ obj] He just shrugged his shoulders.

shrug off [phrasal verb] shrug off (something) or shrug (something) off 1 : to think of or treat (something) as not important : to pay no attention to (something) • She shrugged off their concerns. • I warned him about the storm but he just shrugged it off. 2 : to take off (a piece of clothing) by moving your shoulders back and forth • She shrugged off her coat.

— shrug noun, pl shrugs [count] • The suggestion was met with nothing but shrugs. • She answered me with a shrug of the/her shoulders.

shrunk past tense and past participle of ¹SHRINK shrunk-en /'ʃrʌŋkən/ adj : made smaller or shorter • a shrunk old man [=a man who has gotten smaller/shorter in old age]

shtick also schtick /'ʃtɪk/ noun, pl shticks also schticks [count] US, informal

1 : a usual way of performing, behaving, speaking, etc. • That joke is part of his shtick.

2 : something that a person likes to do or does well • Sports are just not my shtick.

¹shuck /'ʃʌk/ noun, pl shucks [count] US

1 : the outer covering of a nut or a plant (such as corn)

2 : the shell of an oyster or clam

²shuck verb shucks; shucked; shuck-ing [+ obj] US : to remove the outer covering of (a plant, such as corn) or the shell of (an oyster or clam) • shuck the corn/oysters shuck off [phrasal verb] shuck off (something) informal : to remove and throw aside (something) • He shucked off his coat.

shucks /'ʃʌks/ interj, US, old-fashioned — used to show that you are disappointed or embarrassed • Oh, shucks, I completely forgot.

shud-der /'ʃʌdə/ verb -ders; -dered; -der-ing [no obj]

1 of a person : to shake because of fear, cold, etc. — often + with • He shuddered [=quivered, trembled] with fear when he heard the scream. — often used figuratively • I shudder at the thought of what might happen. = I shudder to think (of) what might happen. [=I am very worried/fearful about what might happen]

2 of a thing : to shake violently • The old car shuddered to a halt. • The house shuddered as a plane flew overhead.

— shudder noun, pl -ders [count] • I felt a shudder [=tremble] in the floor as the truck drove by. • a shudder of fear

1 shuf·fle /'ʃʌfəl/ verb shuf·fles; shuf·fled; shuf·fling

1 : to slide your feet along the ground or back and forth without lifting them completely [no obj] He shuffled across the floor. [+ obj] She stood there, shuffling her feet, waiting for the bus to arrive.

2 a [+ obj] : to move things or people into a different order or into different positions • She shuffled the papers on her desk. • The manager shuffled the batting order. b : to mix (playing cards) before playing a game so that no one knows what order they are in [+ obj] He shuffled the cards/deck. [no obj] Whose turn is it to shuffle and deal?

2 shuffle noun, pl shuffles

1 [singular] : the act of moving by sliding your feet without lifting them off the ground • We heard the shuffle of feet outside the door.

2 [count] : the act of mixing the order of playing cards : the act of shuffling cards • He gave the cards a good shuffle and then dealt. • Whose shuffle is it? [=whose turn is it to shuffle?]

lost in the shuffle US : not noticed or given attention because there are many other people or things to consider or deal with • With six older kids, the baby sometimes is/gets lost in the shuffle.

shuf·fle·board /'ʃʌfəl,bɔəd/ noun [noncount] : a game in which players use a long stick with a curved piece at one end to slide discs into scoring areas that are marked on the ground shun /'ʃʌn/ verb shuns; shunned; shun·ning [+ obj] : to avoid (someone or something) • He shuns parties and social events. • After his divorce he found himself being shunned by many of his former friends.

shunt /'ʃʌnt/ verb shunts; shunt·ed; shunt·ing [+ obj]

1 : to move (someone or something) to a different and usually less important or noticeable place or position • The company shunted him (off) to the mail room. — often used figuratively • Her suggestions were shunted aside. [=ignored]

2 : to move (a train or railway car) from one track to another

1 shush /'ʃʌʃ, 'ʃʊʃ/ verb shush·es; shushed; shush·ing [+ obj] : to tell (someone) to be quiet • The librarian shushed the noisy children.

2 shush interj — used to tell someone to be quiet • Shush! I can't hear the movie.

1 shut /'ʃʌt/ verb shuts; shut; shut·ting

1 a [+ obj] : to close (something) • Please shut the door/window/lid/drawer. • He shut his eyes and went to sleep. • She shut the book loudly. • I accidentally shut the door on her fingers. b [no obj] : to become closed • flowers that shut at night • The door shut slowly behind me.

2 : to stop the services or activities of (a business, school, etc.) for a period of time or forever : CLOSE [+ obj] The owner is shutting the pub for the weekend. • They plan to shut the factory by the end of the year. [no obj] (Brit) The restaurant shuts [=closes] at 11.

shut away [phrasal verb] shut (someone or something) away : to put (someone or something) in a place that is separate from others • She was shut away in prison for three years. • He shut himself away (in his room) to study.

shut down [phrasal verb] 1 shut down or shut down (something) or shut (something) down a : to close or to cause (a business, factory, etc.) to close for a period of time or forever • They were forced to shut down the store. • The factory shut down. • The vendors started shutting down for the night. b : to stop operating or to cause (a machine) to stop operating • The computer suddenly shut down. [=turned off] • She shut down her computer and went home. — see also SHUTDOWN 2 shut down (someone or something) or shut (someone or something) down informal : to cause (an opponent) to be unsuccessful, unable to score, etc. • The defense shut down the opposition.

shut in [phrasal verb] 1 shut (someone or something) in (something) : to put (someone or something) in a room and close or lock the door • Someone shut the cat in the closet. • He shut himself in his room to study. 2 shut (something) in (something) : to have (something, such as your hand or finger) in between the parts of (something, such as a door or window) when it closes • He accidentally shut his hand in the car door.

shut off [phrasal verb] 1 shut off or shut off (something) or shut (something) off : to stop operating or to cause (a machine, light, etc.) to stop operating • The camera shuts off [=turns off] automatically when not in use. • She shut off the car. • Who shut off the lights? • Shut the television off and go to bed. 2 shut off (something) or shut (something) off : to stop the flow or supply of (something) • Make sure to shut off the water/gas/electricity before beginning any work. 3 shut (yourself) off : to keep (yourself) in a place that is away from other people — usually + from • He shut himself off from his family. 4 shut (someone or something) off from (something) : to separate (someone or something) from (something) — usually used as (be) shut off from • Here on the island, people are shut off from (contact with) the outside world.

shut out [phrasal verb] 1 shut out (someone or something) or shut (someone or something) out : to stop (someone or something) from entering a place • She locked the door and shut him out of the room. • He closed the curtain to shut out the sunlight. • Try shutting out the draft by putting a blanket at the bottom of the door. — often used figuratively • He tried to shut out the memory of that day. = He tried to shut the memory out of his mind. 2 shut out (someone) or shut (someone) out : to not allow (someone) to be involved in your life, to know your personal thoughts and feelings, etc. • I can't help you if you keep shutting me out. — often + of • She shut him out of her life completely. 3 shut out (someone) or shut (someone) out chiefly US : to keep (a player or team) from scoring in a game or contest • The team was shut out [=the team did not score any points] in the first half. — see also SHUTOUT shut up [phrasal verb] 1 informal a : to stop talking, laughing, etc. • He won't shut up about how he won the game. • Can someone get that dog to shut up? — often used as a rude way to tell someone to stop talking • Shut up for a second and listen to what I have to say. b shut (someone) up informal : to cause (someone) to stop talking, laughing, etc. • Nothing shuts her up. 2 shut up (something) or shut (something) up : to close and lock all the doors of (a house, store, etc.) • They shut up the house and left town. ♠ In British English, to shut up shop is to go out of business forever or stop performing all services or activities for a period of time. • Rather than shutting up shop [=closing up shop] entirely, the company laid off half of its workers. • The store has already shut up shop for the day. 3 shut (someone or something) up : to put (someone or something) in a place that is away from other people • He shut himself up in his room all day to study.

shut your mouth or shut your face informal — used to tell someone in a rude way to stop talking • She angrily told him to shut his mouth. ♠ This phrase is also used with other informal words for mouth, such as yap, trap and gob.

2 shut adj

1 : not open : CLOSED • She listened to the music with her eyes shut. • The door slammed shut. • Check to make sure that all the windows are shut. — see also OPEN-AND-SHUT 2 Brit : not operating or open to the public • The store is shut [=closed] for remodeling.

keep your mouth shut see 1 MOUTH with your eyes shut see 1 EYE

shut-down /'ʃʌt,daʊn/ noun, pl -downs [count] : the act of stopping the operation or activity of a business, machine, etc., for a period of time or forever • the shutdown of the factory • a maintenance shutdown — see also shut down at 1 SHUT shut-eye /'ʃʌt,ai/ noun [noncount] informal : SLEEP • You'd better get some shut-eye.

shut-in /'ʃʌt,ɪn/ noun, pl -ins [count] US : a sick or disabled person who rarely or never leaves home • a service that delivers food to elderly shut-ins

shut-out /'ʃʌt,aut/ noun, pl -outs [count] US : a game or contest in which one side does not score • They beat us in a 9–0 shutout. • He pitched a shutout. — see also shut out at 1 SHUT

1 shut-ter /'ʃʌtə/ noun, pl -ters [count]

1 : one of a pair of outside covers for a window that open and close like a door — usually plural • She opened the shutters. — see picture at HOUSE

S

2 : the part of a camera that opens to allow light in when a picture is taken

2 shutter verb -ters; -tered; -ter·ing [+ obj] US

1 : to cover (a window) with shutters • They locked the doors and shuttered the windows.

2 : to close (a business, store, etc.) for a period of time or forever • They declared bankruptcy and shuttered the store.

shut·ter·bug /'ʃʌtə,bʌg/ noun, pl -bugs [count] US, informal : a person who enjoys taking photographs

shuttered adj

1 : having shutters or having closed shutters • shuttered windows • He kept the house shuttered.

2 chiefly US : closed for business for a period of time or forever • old, shuttered factories

1 shut·tle /'ʃʌtl/ noun, pl shut·tles [count]

1 : a vehicle that travels back and forth between places • A shuttle takes people from the parking lot to the airport. — often used before another noun • a shuttle bus/train/service

2 : SPACE SHUTTLE

3 : a pointed tool that is used to weave cloth by pulling a thread from side to side across other threads

2 shuttle verb shuttles; shut·tled; shut·tling

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to travel back and forth between places • We shuttled between the city and the country all summer.

2 [+ obj] : to bring (people) back and forth between places • A bus shuttled people from the parking lot to the dock.

shut·tle·cock /'ʃʌtl,kɔ:k/ noun, pl -cocks [count] : a light object shaped like a cone that is hit over the net in the game of badminton — called also (US) birdie; see picture at RACKET shuttle diplomacy noun [noncount] : activity in which a person travels back and forth between two countries and talks to their leaders in order to bring about agreement, prevent war, etc.

1 shy /'ʃaɪ/ adj shi·er or shy·er /'ʃajə/; shi·est or shy·est —/'ʃajəst/ [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : feeling nervous and uncomfortable about meeting and talking to people • a shy, quiet girl • I was painfully shy as a teenager. • She was too shy to ask for help. b : showing that you are nervous and uncomfortable about meeting and talking to people • her shy manner • He gave her a shy smile.

2 : tending to avoid something because of nervousness, fear, dislike, etc. • publicity shy • camera shy — often + of • He was never shy of controversy.

3 : hesitant about taking what you want or need • Help yourself if you want more. Don't be shy.

4 of an animal : easily frightened : TIMID • animals that are nocturnal and shy

5 chiefly US : having less than a full or expected amount or number : SHORT • We were shy about 10 dollars. — usually + of • He was two weeks shy of his 19th birthday when he joined the army. • The ball stopped just a few inches shy of the hole. • He's three credits shy of his bachelor's degree.

fight shy of Brit : to try to avoid something • She has always fought shy of publicity.

once bitten, twice shy see 1 BITE

— shy·ly adv • He answered/smiled shyly. — shy·ness noun [noncount]

2 shy verb shies; shied; shy·ing [no obj] : to move away from something because of fear • The horse shied when the gun went off.

shy from (US) or shy away from [phrasal verb] shy from (something) (US) or shy away from (something) : to try to avoid (something) because of nervousness, fear, dislike, etc. • They never shied from publicity. • She shies away from making any predictions. • He shied away from discussing his divorce.

shy·ster /'ʃaɪstə/ noun, pl -sters [count] chiefly US, informal : a dishonest person; especially : a dishonest lawyer or politician — often used before another noun • a shyster lawyer

Si·a·mese cat /'sajə,mɪ:z-/ noun, pl ~ cats [count] : a type of cat that has blue eyes and short light-colored hair on the body with darker-colored ears, paws, tail, and face

Si·a·mese twin /'sajə,mɪ:z-/ noun, pl ~ twins [count] : CONJOINED TWIN

1 sib·i·lant /'sɪbələnt/ adj, formal : making or having a sound like the letters s or sh • sibilant consonants/whispers • the sibilant hiss of a snake

2 sibilant noun, pl -lants [count] technical : a sibilant sound (such as s or z)

sib·ling /'sɪblɪŋ/ noun, pl -lings [count] formal : a brother or sister • Do you have any siblings? [=brothers or sisters] • younger/older siblings • sibling relationships • There was barely any sibling rivalry [=competition between brothers and sisters] in our family.

1 sic /'sɪk/ verb sics; sicced /'sɪkt/; sic·cing [+ obj] US, informal : to attack (someone or something) — usually used as a command to a dog • Sic 'em, boy.

sic (something) on (someone or something) : to order (an animal, such as a dog) to attack (someone or something) • He sicced his dog on me. — often used figuratively

• The company sicced their lawyers on me.

2 sic — used in writing after an error (such as a spelling error) in a quotation to show that the error was made by the speaker or writer who is being quoted and not by you • His letter said the people were “very freindly [sic] to me.”

1 sick /'sɪk/ adj sick·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : affected with a disease or illness : ILL • He is at home sick in bed. • She is sick with the flu. • I'm too sick to go to work. • a sick dog • The medicine just made me sicker. • The sickest patients are in intensive care. • My poor rosebush looks sick. • (US) I hardly ever get sick. • (US) She has been out sick all week. = (Brit) She has been off sick all week. [=she has not been at work all week because she is sick] • (formal) Dozens of workers fell sick [=became ill] from exposure to the fumes. • (old-fashioned) He took sick [=became ill] and died. • (informal) He was (as) sick as a dog [=he was very sick] — sometimes used figuratively • a sick economy — see also AIRSICK, CARSICK, SEASICK

2 always used before a noun : of or relating to people who are ill • She has been on the sick list all week. • the hospital's sick ward

3 a not used before a noun, informal : very annoyed or bored by something because you have had too much of it — + of • He was sick of her lies. • I'm getting sick of this cold weather. • I'm sick of pizza—I had it three times this week already. • What are you most sick of? • I'm sick and tired of hearing you two argue. = I'm sick to death of hearing you two argue.

b : very disgusted or angry • The way they treat people makes me sick

4 : not mentally normal or healthy • I know it sounds sick, but I like reading about murders. • He has a sick [=perverted] mind. • sick [=morbid, disturbing] thoughts

5 : relating to very unpleasant or offensive things • sick jokes/humor

6 a : very unpleasant • I had a sick feeling that we were hopelessly lost. b : powerfully affected by a strong and unpleasant emotion — usually + with • She was sick with shame/fear/longing/guilt. • We have been sick with worry about her. = We've been worried sick [=very worried] about her. — see also HOMESICK, LOVESICK be sick : to vomit • I was sick [=vomited, threw up] several times. • The last time I ate oysters, I was violently sick. [=I vomited a lot] • Stop the car—I'm going to be sick [=I'm going to throw up] call/phone in sick ♦ If you call/phone in sick, you make a phone call to your place of work to say you will not be working that day because you are sick. • Two of the waiters called in sick, so we're very short-staffed.

feel sick 1 US : to feel ill • I was feeling sick, so I went home early. 2 : to feel like you will vomit • After eating a whole plate of cookies, I felt sick. 3 US : to feel very upset • I feel sick about what happened.

report sick see 2 REPORT

sick at heart see HEART

sick to your stomach 1 US : caused to vomit • I was sick to my stomach [=I vomited] last night. : feeling like you are going to vomit • When I had the flu, just the thought of eating made me sick to my stomach. [=nauseous] 2 : feeling very disgusted or angry • The way they treat people makes me sick to my stomach.

the sick : people who are sick : sick people • She spent her life caring for the sick and dying.

2 sick noun [noncount] Brit, informal : VOMIT

3 sick verb sick·s; sicked; sick·ing sick up [phrasal verb] sick up (something) or sick (something) up Brit, informal : to vomit (something) • He sicked up [=threw up] his dinner.

sick bay noun, pl ~ bays [count] : a place on a ship that is used to care for sick or injured people sick·bed /'sɪk,bed/ noun, pl -beds [count] : the bed on which a sick person lies • The general gave the orders from his sickbed.

sick day noun, pl ~ days [count] : a paid day in which an employee does not work because he or she is sick sick-en /'sɪkən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 somewhat formal : to become sick or to cause (someone) to become sick [no obj] Many people sickened and died on the long voyage. [+ obj] The bacteria in the drinking water sickened the whole village.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to feel disgusted or angry • We were sickened by the reports of violence.

be sickening for Brit, informal : to be starting to have or suffer from (an illness) • I've been sneezing all day. I must be sickening for something.

sicken of [phrasal verb] sicken of (something) US : to lose interest in (something) because you have had too much of it • He soon sickened of [=got sick of] busy city life and moved out to the country.

sick-en-ing /'sɪkənɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : causing you to feel sick • a sickening [=nauseating] odor/stench • We had reached a sickening [=dizzying] height.

2 : causing a strong feeling of disgust • a sickening display of selfishness • sickening cruelty

3 of a sound : causing great concern especially because someone or something may have been badly harmed • We heard the squeal of brakes and a sickening thud/crash.

— sick-en-ing-ly adv • The cake was sickeningly sweet. • a sickeningly familiar pattern of behavior sick-ie /'sɪki/ noun, pl -ies [count] informal

1 US : SICKO • He's a real sickie.

2 Brit : a day when someone who is not really sick claims to be sick and does not go to work • He took/pulled/threw a sickie to go to the football game.

sick-le /'sɪkəl/ noun, pl -les [count] : a tool with a curved metal blade attached to a short handle that is used for cutting grass, grain, etc.

sick leave noun [noncount]

1 : the number of days per year for which an employer agrees to pay workers who are unable to work because they are sick • employee benefits such as vacation time and sick leave • We are allotted three weeks annual sick leave. — called also sick time

2 : an absence from work because of sickness • He's been on sick leave since last Thursday.

sickle-cell anemia (US) or Brit sickle-cell anaemia noun [noncount] medical : a serious disease that affects the red blood cells and occurs mostly in people of African, Mediterranean, or southwest Asian ancestry sick-ly /'sɪkli/ adj sick-li-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : often affected by a disease or illness : not healthy and strong • a sickly child • a sickly plant b : caused by or relating to sickness • a sickly complexion/appetite

2 a : causing a person to feel sick • A sickly [=nauseating] odor filled the room. b : causing feelings of dislike or disgust • The walls were painted a sickly yellow.

3 : weak and pale • The lamp gave off a sickly glow.

— sickly adv • The dessert has a sickly sweet taste.

sick-ness /'sɪknəs/ noun, pl -ness-es

1 [noncount] : unhealthy condition of body or mind : the state of being sick • She missed work due to sickness. [=illness]

2 [count] : a specific type of disease or illness • He died from an unknown sickness. — see also RADIATION SICKNESS, SLEEPING SICKNESS

3 [noncount] : the feeling you have in your stomach when you think you are going to vomit • The patient complained of sickness [=nausea] and stomach pains. — see also MORNING SICKNESS, MOTION SICKNESS, TRAVEL SICKNESS sickness benefit noun [noncount] Brit : money that is paid by the government to someone who is too sick to work sicko /'sɪkou/ noun, pl sick-os [count] informal : a person who does disturbing things that a person who is mentally normal would not do • She was afraid to walk alone for fear some sicko might be lurking in the shadows.

sick pay noun [noncount] : money that is paid by an employer to a person who misses work because of sickness sick-room /'sɪk.ru:m/ noun, pl -rooms [count] : a room in which a sick person stays • We brought father home from the hospital and converted a spare room into a sickroom.

sick time noun [noncount] : SICK LEAVE side /'saɪd/ noun, pl sides

1 [count] : a place, space, or direction that is away from or beyond the center of something • The army was attacked from all sides. • the right-hand side of the street • the opposite side of the room • Move over. This is my side of the bed. — often used with on or to • You have some dirt on the side of your face. • The car was hit on the driver's side. • They live on the other side of town. • The cabins are on the east side of the lake. • Guards stood on either side of the gate. • The army was surrounded on every side. • He sat on the side [=edge] of the bed. • The statue is leaning to the side. • The dog tilted its head to one side. • Pull over to the side of the road.

2 [count] a : an outer surface or part of something • The box says, "THIS SIDE UP." — often + of • the dark side of the moon • You should season both sides of the steak before you grill it. b : one of the surfaces of an object that is not the front, back, top, or bottom — often + of • Nutritional information can be found on the side of the box. • Red cloth decorated the front and sides of the platform. • The side of the car was badly dented. c : one of the two surfaces of a thin object • Flip the record over and play the other side. — often + of • She wrote on both sides of the paper. • Look on the back side of the note.

3 [count] : a line that forms part of a geometric shape • A square has four sides. : a surface that forms part of a geometric object • A cube has six sides.

4 [count] : one of the slopes of a hill or mountain — often + of • the steep side of the hill • They built a house on the side of a mountain. — see also HILLSIDE, MOUNTAINSIDE

5 [count] a : the right or left part of your body • She likes to sleep on her right side. : the right or left part of your body from your shoulder to your hip • I have a pain in my left side. • We laughed so much that our sides hurt. b : the place directly to the right or left of someone — usually singular • I stood at/by her side as she spoke to reporters. • I was standing on her left side. • She set/put the book to the/one side and looked out the window. — often used figuratively • His wife stood at/by his side [=remained loyal to him] throughout the scandal. • Promise me that you will not leave my side. [=abandon me] — see also BLIND SIDE

6 [count] : one of two or more opinions, positions, etc., that disagree with each other • He listened to both sides of the argument. • My side [=version] of the story is different from his. • She has since changed sides on that issue. • You are both my friends, so I don't want to choose/pick/take sides. [=support one person and not the other] • Are you on my side or his? [=do you support me or him?] • Whose side are you on, anyway? • People on both sides of the dispute [=people who support one position and people who support the other position] agree that changes are necessary. — see also ON YOUR SIDE (below)

7 [count] : one of the two or more people or groups that are involved in an argument, war, etc. • All sides agreed on the treaty. • Each side accuses the other of delaying progress.

8 [count] a : a sports team • There are 11 players on each side. • Our side won the game. • (Brit) a football side • We need to choose/pick sides [=to decide which players will be on each team] before we start playing. b baseball : the players on a team who bat in an inning — usually singular • The pitcher struck out the side [=struck out three batters] in the first inning.

9 a [count] : a particular part or feature of something that is opposite to or different from another part or feature • There are good/positive and bad/negative sides to owning your own business. — often + of • He's learning about the sales side of the business. • She kept her side of the bargain/deal. [=she did what she agreed to do] — see also DOWNSIDE, FLIP SIDE, UPSIDE b — used in phrases like on the large side, on the heavy side, etc., to describe someone or something as somewhat heavy, large, etc. • She has always been a little on the heavy side. [=has always been somewhat heavy] • These pants are on the tight side. [=are a little tight] • The sauce is a bit on the spicy side. [=is a bit spicy] • Your boyfriend is on the young side for you, isn't he?

10 [count] a : a part of someone's personality that is opposite or different from another part • I have never seen this side of you before. • He is in touch with his feminine side. b — used in phrases like be/get on someone's good/bad side and be/get on the right/wrong side of someone to talk about doing things that cause someone to like you or dislike you • Trust me. You don't want to get on his bad side. [=you don't want to make him annoyed or angry] • She tries to keep/stay on her boss's good side by finishing all of her work on time. • If you get on the wrong side of him [=if you make him annoyed or angry] he can be very mean.

11 [count] : the ancestors or relatives of your mother or your father • She gets her red hair from her mother's side. • Both sides of his family are Irish. • my grandfather on my father's side [=my father's father]

12 [count] US : a small amount of food that is ordered in addition to the main meal — often + of • I ordered a side of fries with my hamburger.

13 [count] : one of the two halves of an animal that is eaten as food — usually + of • a side of bacon/pork/beef

14 [count] chiefly Brit : a page of writing on one side of a piece of paper • I wrote two sides in response to the question.

15 [count] Brit, informal + old-fashioned : a television channel — usually singular • What's on the other side?

a thorn in the/your side see THORN

err on the side of see ERR

(from) side to side : moving to the left and then to the right • She shook her head from side to side in disagreement. • waving the flags from side to side • He moved side to side on the tennis court.

let the side down Brit : to disappoint your family, friends, etc., by failing to do what is needed or expected • I feel like I really let the side down. [=let everyone down] on side Brit : included among the group of people who support a particular goal, project, etc. • We need to keep everyone on side. [=on board] on the bright side see BRIGHT on the credit side see ¹CREDIT

on the debit side see ¹DEBIT

on the right/wrong side of 30, 40, 50 (etc.) informal : younger/older than 30, 40, 50 (etc.) • She's still on the right side of 40. [=younger than 40]

on the side 1 a : in addition to the main item in a meal • We were served salmon with rice and grilled vegetables on the side. b : served next to something rather than on top of it • For my salad, I'd like Italian dressing on the side. 2 : in addition to your main job • She sells insurance on the side. 3 : as part of a secret romantic relationship that is outside of your marriage or main romantic relationship • a married man with a girlfriend on the side • She had a fiancé but was seeing another man on the side.

on the wrong/right side of the law — used to say that someone is or is not living the life of a criminal • He has been on the wrong side of the law since he stole a car at the age of 17. • Now that she's out of prison she's trying to stay on the right side of the law. [=trying not to get into trouble with the police]

on your side : as an advantage • He is not a very tall basketball player, but he does have quickness on his side. : helping you to succeed • Luck seems to be on your side tonight. • Time is on our side. [=we have a lot of time to do what we need to do] — see also ¹SIDE 6 (above) side by side 1 : next to each other and facing in the same direction • We walked side by side down the hallway. • They stood side by side at the altar. 2 : together or very close to each other • The tribes have lived peacefully side by side for many years. • People worked side by side to rescue the trapped coal miners.

split your sides (laughing) see ¹SPLIT

the other side of the coin see ¹COIN

the wrong side of the tracks see ¹TRACK

this side of 1 a : very nearly (something) • Their actions were just this side of illegal. [=were almost but not quite illegal] b : that is not (something) : other than (something) • the worst punishment this side of death 2 Brit : BEFORE • She's not likely to be back this side of Monday week.

to the/one side 1 : to a place that is on one side : ASIDE • Please move/step to the side. I need to get past you. • He put his luggage to one side. • She took the boy to the side [=away from other people] and told him to behave. 2 : in a state in which something is not dealt with, done, or used until a later time : ASIDE • Let's put/leave that question to the side for a moment. • He set his household chores to the side to finish writing his essay. • They managed to put some money to the side every month. — see also ¹SIDE 1 (above)

two sides of the same coin see ¹COIN

— compare ⁴SIDE

²*side* adj, always used before a noun

1 : of or located on the side of something • a front and side view of the car • The jacket has side pockets. • Please use the side door/entrance.

2 : happening or done in addition to the main or most important thing • A side benefit of the drug is that it helps patients relax. • She took on a side project/job during the summer. • a side remark/issue

3 : in addition to the main meal • a side salad • I had a burger with a side order of fries. • I'll have rice as a side dish.

³*side* verb sides; sid-ed; sid-ing [+ obj] US : to cover the outside walls of (a building) with long pieces of material (called siding) • They just sided their house.

side against [phrasal verb] side against (someone) : to not agree with (someone) : to not support the opinions or actions of (someone) • They both sided against [=opposed] me. • His father sided with his mother against him.

side with [phrasal verb] side with (someone) : to agree with or support the opinions or actions of (someone) • She sided with her friend in the argument. • They betrayed their country and sided with the enemy.

⁴*side* noun [noncount] Brit, informal : an unpleasantly proud attitude or way of behaving • He was a war hero and yet there was no side to him. [=he was not arrogant or pretentious] — compare ¹SIDE

¹*side-arm* /'saɪd,ɑ:m/ noun, pl -arms [count] : a weapon (such as a sword or handgun) that is worn on your hip or in your belt

²*sidearm* adj, chiefly US : done with your arm moving out to the side • The pitcher has a sidearm delivery. • a sidearm pass — sidearm adv • He throws sidearm.

side-board /'saɪd,bɔ:d/ noun, pl -boards

1 [count] : a piece of furniture that has drawers and shelves for holding dishes, silverware, table linen, etc.

2 sideboards [plural] Brit : SIDEBURNS side-burns /'saɪd,bɜ:nz/ noun [plural] : hair that grows on the side of a man's face in front of his ears — see picture at BEARD side-by-side adj, always used before a noun : positioned next to each other • side-by-side beds : involving things that are positioned next to each other • a side-by-side comparison of the two paintings side-car /'saɪd,kɑ:ə/ noun, pl -cars [count] : a small vehicle that is attached to the side of a motorcycle for a passenger to ride in sided adj : having sides usually of a specified number or kind — used in combination • a two-sided letter • glass-sided buildings — see also DOUBLE-SIDED, ONE-SIDED side effect noun, pl ~ -fects [count]

1 : an often harmful and unwanted effect of a drug or chemical that occurs along with the desired effect • Nausea and diarrhea are the side effects of the drug. • the harmful side effects of using chemicals to kill insects

2 : a result of an action that is not expected or intended • The merger created positive side effects for both companies.

side-kick /'saɪd,kɪk/ noun, pl -kicks [count] informal : a person who helps and spends a lot of time with someone who is usually more important, powerful, etc. • the mayor and his sidekick

side-light /'saɪd,lait/ noun, pl -lights [count]

1 : a piece of information that is in addition to the main information • The book includes some amusing sidelights about his childhood

2 Brit : PARKING LIGHT

¹*side-line* /'saɪd,laɪn/ noun, pl -lines [count]

1 a : a line that marks the outside edge of a sports field or court b : the space outside the area where a game is played on a field or court — usually plural • We stood on the sidelines to watch the game. • He was forced to watch the game from the sidelines. — often used figuratively • His injury has kept him on the sidelines [=has kept him from playing] this season. • He stayed on the sidelines and let his daughter run the family business her way.

2 : a job that is done in addition to your main job • She makes and sells jewelry as a sideline.

²*sideline* verb -lines; -lined; -lin-ing [+ obj] : to prevent (a player) from playing in a game especially because of injury, illness, etc. — usually used as (be) sidelined • He was sidelined with a knee injury. — often used figuratively • a lawyer sidelined by illness • Her career had been sidelined for several years by motherhood.

side-long /'saɪd,lɑ:n/ adj, always used before a noun : made to the left or right or out of the corner of your eye • a side-long look/glance side road noun, pl ~ roads [count] : a smaller road that is connected to a main road • We like driving on side roads when we travel.

— sidelong adv • She glanced sidelong at her brother.

side-sad-dle /'saɪd,sædl/ noun, pl -sad-dles [count] : a saddle that is made for a rider to sit with both legs on one side of the horse

– sidesaddle adv • She rode/sat sidesaddle. [=she rode/sat with both legs on one side of the horse]

side-show /'saɪd,ʃəʊ/ noun, pl -shows [count]

1 : a smaller show that is performed in addition to a main show • a circus sideshow

2 : an activity or event that is less important than the main activity or event • Their disagreement is just a political side-show when compared to the real issues at hand.

side-split-ting /'saɪd,splitɪŋ/ adj, informal : very funny • a sidesplitting comedy/performance side-step /'saɪd,step/ verb -steps; -stepped; -step-ping

1 : to avoid walking into or being hit by (someone or something) by stepping to the right or left [+ obj] She sidestepped the puddle. [no obj] He sidestepped to avoid (being hit by) his opponent.

2 [+ obj] : to avoid answering or dealing with (something) directly • She sidestepped the reporter's question. • They're sidestepping the real issue.

side street noun, pl ~ streets [count] : a smaller street that connects to and often ends at a main road • We live on a quiet side street.

¹side-swipe /'saɪd,swaɪp/ verb -swipes; -swiped; -swip-ing [+ obj] US : to hit the side of a vehicle with the side of another vehicle • The taxi sideswiped a parked car.

²sideswipe noun, pl -swipes [count] : a critical remark about someone or something that is made while talking about someone or something else • She took a sideswipe at the senator's voting record.

side table noun, pl ~ tables [count] : a table that is designed to be placed against a wall side-track /'saɪd,træk/ verb -tracks; -tracked; -track-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (someone) to talk about or do something different and less important — usually used as (be/get) sidetracked • Now, what was I saying? I got sidetracked by that phone call.

2 US a : to change the direction or use of (something) — usually used as (be) sidetracked • The grant money was sidetracked [=diverted] to fund unrelated research projects. b : to prevent (something) from being dealt with — usually used as (be) sidetracked • The real issue has been sidetracked.

side-view mirror noun, pl ~ -rors [count] US : a mirror on the outside of a vehicle that allows the driver to see what is behind and to the right or left of the vehicle • the right/left side-view mirror — called also (Brit) wing mirror

side-walk /'saɪd,wɔ:k/ noun, pl -walks [count] US : a usually concrete path along the side of a street for people to walk on • Bicycles are not allowed on the sidewalk. • sidewalk cafés • a sidewalk sale [=an event in which a store displays its goods outside on a sidewalk] — called also (Brit) pavement; see picture at STREET

side-ways /'saɪd,weɪz/ adv

1 : with one side facing forward • We had to turn sideways to let them through the crowded hallway. • crabs walking sideways along the beach

2 : to or toward the right or left side • Helicopters can fly up, down, forward, backward, and sideways. • She fell sideways and landed on her shoulder. • I looked sideways at him to see if he was smiling.

– sideways adj • a sideways movement/glance

sid-ing /'saɪdɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [noncount] US : long pieces of material that are used to cover the outside walls of a building • vinyl siding — called also (chiefly Brit) cladding

2 [count] : a short railroad track that is connected with the main track

si-dle /'saɪdl/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition si-dles; si-dled; si-dling [no obj]

1 : to move close to someone in a quiet or secret way • He sidled up to me and slipped me a note. • She sidled over and whispered, "Do you see that guy?"

2 : to go or move with one side forward • The crab sidled away. • She sidled through the narrow opening.

SIDS abbr sudden infant death syndrome siege /'si:dʒ/ noun, pl sieg-es

1 : a situation in which soldiers or police officers surround a city, building, etc., in order to try to take control of it [count] the siege of Paris • The castle was built to withstand a siege. [noncount] The city is in a state of siege.

2 [count] : a serious and lasting attack of something — usually singular • He's recovering from a siege of depression. • a long siege of bitterly cold temperatures lay siege to (something or someone) 1 : to surround (a city, building, etc.) with soldiers or police officers in order to try to take control of it • The army laid siege to the city. 2 : to attack (something or someone) constantly or repeatedly — usually used figuratively • Angry taxpayers laid siege to city hall with letters and phone calls.

under siege 1 : surrounded with soldiers or police officers in a siege • The city was under siege and food was getting scarce. 2 : very seriously attacked or criticized by many people • The newspaper has been under siege lately by its readers for printing a false story.

siege mentality noun [singular] : a strong feeling that you are in constant danger or are surrounded by enemies • Living in a high-crime area can create a siege mentality.

si-en-na /si'ɛnə/ noun [noncount]

1 : a brownish-yellow color

2 : a reddish-brown color

si-er-ra /si'erə/ noun, pl -ras [count]

1 : a range of mountains with sharply pointed peaks • The Sierra Nevada is a mountain range in California.

2 : a mountain in a sierra — usually plural • The sierras rose up sharply before us.

si-es-ta /si'estə/ noun, pl -tas

1 : a regular period of sleep or rest in the afternoon in some hot countries [count] Most of the shops were closed after lunch for a two-hour siesta. [noncount] The shops are closed during siesta. • It's siesta time.

2 [count] : a brief sleep : NAP • He's taking a little siesta out there on the patio.

¹sieve /'sɪv/ noun, pl sieves [count] : a kitchen tool that has many small holes and that is used to separate smaller particles from larger ones or solids from liquids have a memory/mind like a sieve informal : to have a very bad memory : to be unable to remember things • I'm sorry. I have a memory like a sieve. What was your name again?

²sieve verb sieves; sieved; siev-ing [+ obj] : to put (something) through a sieve • She sieved [=sifted] the flour into a mixing bowl.

sift /sɪft/ verb sifts; sift-ed; sift-ing

1 [+ obj] a : to put (flour, sugar, etc.) through a sifter or sieve • Sift the flour into a mixing bowl. • sifted flour b : to separate or remove (something) by using a sifter or sieve • Sift the lumps from the sugar. — often + out • Sift out the rocks from the sand. — often used figuratively • The lawyer sifted out the relevant facts of the case.

2 : to go through (something) very carefully in order to find something useful or valuable [+ obj] The police sifted the evidence in hopes of finding a clue. [no obj] The police sifted for clues. • The lawyer sifted through the hundreds of pages of testimony. • Firefighters sifted through the debris.

sift-er /'sɪftə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 chiefly US : ¹SIEVE; especially : a special kitchen tool used for sifting flour, sugar, etc.

2 Brit : SHAKER 1

sigh /'saɪ/ verb sighs; sighed; sigh-ing

1 [no obj] : to take in and let out a long, loud breath in a way that shows you are bored, disappointed, relieved, etc. • He sighed with/in relief when he saw that he passed the test.

2 [no obj] literary : to make a sound like sighing • The wind sighed through the trees.

3 [+ obj] : to say (something) with a sigh • "I may never see my old home again," she sighed.

– sigh noun, pl sighs [count] • She gave a long, weary sigh. • He sank into the chair with a sigh. — often + of • a sigh of disappointment • I can breathe a sigh of relief [=stop worrying] now that she's safe.

¹sight /'saɪt/ noun, pl sights

1 [noncount] : the sense through which a person or animal becomes aware of light, color, etc., by using the eyes : the ability to see • Your sight [=vision, eyesight] weakens as you get older. • She regained sight in her left eye. • He lost his sight [=he became blind] at a young age.

2 [noncount] : the act of seeing someone or something • I know him by sight [=I have seen him], but I don't know his name. • She hated him on sight. [=she hated him the first time she saw him] • The officers were ordered to shoot on sight. — often + of • The (mere) sight of her ex-boyfriend filled her with rage. • We lost sight of the plane. [=we could no longer see the plane] • He faints at the sight of [=when he sees] blood. • He can't stand/bear the sight of blood. • She caught sight of an eagle gliding through the air. — often used figuratively • We must not lose sight of our goal. [=we must keep thinking about our goal]

3 [noncount] : a position in which someone or something can be seen • The ship came into sight. [=into view] • When I looked out the door, there was no one in sight. [=no one could be seen] • Keep out of sight until I tell you it's OK to come out. • The child wandered out of sight. • Get out of my sight. [=go away from me; I don't want to see you] • Don't let the puppy out of your sight. • The rabbit disappeared from sight into the tall grass. • The controls are hidden from sight behind a panel. • She left her purse out in plain sight. = Her purse was in plain sight of anyone passing by. • We finally came in/within sight of the mountains. [=we finally came to a place where we could see the mountains] • A large pole was directly in my line of sight. [=a large pole was blocking my view] — sometimes used figuratively • The end of the project is finally in/within sight. [=the end of the project is finally near] ♦ The phrase out of sight, out of mind means that you stop thinking about something or someone if you do not see that thing or person for a period of time.

4 [count] a : someone or something that is seen • The old dog was a pathetic/sorry sight. • Deer are a common/familiar sight in this area. • I've seen what he looks like when he gets out of bed in the morning, and believe me, it's not a pretty sight. • The birth of the calf was a sight to see/ behold. [=was an amazing or wonderful thing to see] • We enjoyed the sights and sounds of the casino. b : a famous or interesting place in an area — usually plural • Our tour guide showed us the sights. • We saw all the sights of/in the city.

5 [singular] informal : someone or something that is strange, funny, messy, etc. • I'd invite you in, but the living room is a sight. • He was all dressed up as a pirate. It was quite a sight (to see)! • (chiefly Brit) You should get some sleep. You look a sight.

6 sights [plural] : a goal or expectation • The company has raised/lowered its sights for annual sales by five percent. • She has set her sights on becoming a doctor. [=she wants to become a doctor]

7 [count] : a device that is used to aim a gun • He adjusted the sight of the rifle. — usually plural • The deer was in her sights. = She could see the deer in her sights. — sometimes used figuratively • He always had a law career in his sights. [=his goal was always to have a law career]

8 [singular] informal : a large amount or extent : a lot • The car is a sight less expensive and has better gas mileage. • The book is a far sight [=a great deal] better than the movie. • You'll have to work a damn/darn sight quicker than that if you want to get done on time.

a sight for sore eyes : a person or thing that you are very glad to see • After being away from home for so long, my friends and family were a sight for sore eyes.

at first sight see ¹FIRST

drop out of sight see ²DROP

heave in/into sight see ¹HEAVE

no end in sight see ¹END

out of sight US, informal + old-fashioned : very good • The show was really out of sight.

sight gag see ²GAG

sight unseen : without seeing or examining something • They bought the house sight unseen. [=they bought the house without first looking at it]

²sight verb sights; sight-ed; sight-ing [+ obj] : to see (something or someone that is being looked for or that is rarely seen or difficult to see) • They sighted a ship in the distance. • Several bears have been sighted in the area.

sight-ed /'saɪtəd/ adj : able to see : not blind • blind and sighted people • partially sighted people [=people who are not blind but have only a limited ability to see] — see also CLEAR-SIGHTED, FARSIGHTED, LONG-SIGHTED, NEAR-SIGHTED, SHORTSIGHTED sighting noun, pl -ings [count] : an act of seeing something or someone that is rarely seen or difficult to see — often + of • There have been several sightings of whales swimming off the island.

sight-less /'saɪtləs/ adj, literary : not able to see : BLIND • sightless eyes sight-read /'saɪt,ri:d/ verb -reads; -read /-red/; -reading /-ˈrɪdɪŋ/ : to perform (written music) while reading it for the first time without practicing it [+ obj] The orchestra hired her because she could sight-read even the most difficult scores. [no obj] She sight-reads well.

— sight reader noun, pl ~ -ers [count] — sight-reading noun [noncount]

sight-see-ing /'saɪt,sɪjɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the activity of visiting the famous or interesting places of an area • We spent the afternoon sightseeing. • We did a lot of sightseeing on our vacation.

— sight-seer /'saɪt,sɪjə/ noun, pl -seers [count] • The church attracts a lot of sightseers.

sig-ma /'sɪgmə/ noun, pl -mas [count] : the 18th letter of the Greek alphabet — Σ or σ or ς

¹sign /'saɪn/ noun, pl signs [count]

1 : a piece of paper, wood, etc., with words or pictures on it that gives information about something • The sign in the store window says "OPEN." • After you get off the highway, follow the signs for Route 25. • road/street/traffic signs • He ran the stop sign. • There was a "For Sale" sign on the car.

2 : something (such as an action or event) which shows that something else exists, is true, or will happen • All the signs point to him as the guilty party. • She ignored me, which was a sure sign that she was mad at me. • "The company called me in for a second interview." "That's a good sign." • It was a bad sign that he couldn't walk on the injured leg. • There are plenty of warning signs that the company is in danger of bankruptcy. — often + of • Chest pain could be a sign of a heart attack. • We remained alert for any signs of danger. • the telltale signs of the disease • the first signs of spring • The bartender called the police at the first sign of trouble. [=as soon as there was trouble] • The runner showed signs of fatigue. [=appeared to be tired] • His writing is showing signs of improvement. [=appears to be improving] • He showed no sign of remorse. • The planet showed no signs of life. [=there was no evidence of living things on the planet] — see also VITAL SIGNS

3 : a motion, action, or movement that you use to express a thought, command, or wish • They bowed before the king as a sign of respect. • The teacher made a sign for the students to be quiet. • a picture of the president giving the thumbs-up sign — see also SIGN OF THE CROSS

4 : any one of the hand movements that are used in sign language — often + for • Do you know the sign for "thank you"? • the sign for the letter B

5 : a symbol that is used to represent something especially in mathematics • The symbol ÷ is the sign for division. — see also CALL SIGN, DIVISION SIGN, DOLLAR SIGN, MINUS SIGN, MULTIPLICATION SIGN, PLUS SIGN a sign of the times : something that shows the kinds of things that are happening, popular, important, etc., in a culture at a particular period in history • Having metal detectors in schools is a sign of the times.

6 : STAR SIGN • What's your sign?

²sign verb signs; signed; sign-ing

1 a : to write (your name) on something [+ obj] Sign your name on the bottom line. • She met with fans and signed autographs. [no obj] Please sign at the bottom of the application. • Make sure you get all the details before you sign on the dotted line. [=officially agree to buy or do something by signing a document] b [+ obj] : to write your name on (something) especially to show that you accept, agree with, or will be responsible for something • You forgot to sign the document/letter/check. • He was forced to sign the confession. • The contract was signed by both parties. • The author will be signing copies of his books today. • a signed confession • The contract should be signed, sealed, and delivered by tomorrow. • The President signed the bill into law. [=made the bill a law by signing an official document]

2 a [+ obj] : to hire (someone) to do something especially by having that person sign a contract • The team signed the pitcher to a three-year contract. • He is signed to a three-year contract. • The studio signed her to do another movie. = The studio signed her for another movie. — see also SIGN ON (below), SIGN UP (below) b [no obj] : to agree to work for or to produce something for an organization, business, etc., especially by signing a contract • She signed to direct two movies for the studio. — usually + with • She signed with the studio to direct two movies. • He signed with the team for one season. • The band signed with an independent label. — see also SIGN ON (below), SIGN UP (below)

3 : to communicate by using sign language [no obj] The child is learning how to sign. [+ obj] She signed "please."

sign away [phrasal verb] sign (something) away or sign away (something) : to give (something, such as rights or property) to someone by signing a document • He signed away his share of the property.

sign for [phrasal verb] sign for (something) : to sign a document to show that you have received (a package, letter, etc.) • I signed for the package when it was delivered.

sign in [phrasal verb] 1 a : to sign your name on a list, in a book, etc., to show that you have arrived • All visitors must sign in upon arrival. b sign (someone) in or sign in (someone) : to write the name of (someone) on a list, in a book, etc., to show that they have arrived • The receptionist signed the guests in. 2 sign (something) in or sign in (something) : to sign your name on a list, in a book, etc., to show that you have returned (something that you borrowed) • He signed the video equipment (back) in.

sign off [phrasal verb] 1 : to end a letter or broadcast by signing or saying your name • She signed off with "Yours Truly, Maria." • "This is DJ Fresh signing off. Peace." • The radio station signs off [=stops broadcasting] at midnight. 2 US sign off or Brit sign (something) off or Brit sign off (something) : to approve something officially by signing your name • (US) She refused to sign off until the wording was changed. • (Brit) He inspected the memo before signing it off. — usually + on in U.S. English • He signed off on the memo [=he approved the memo by signing it] and gave it back to his secretary for distribution.

sign on [phrasal verb] 1 a : to agree to do something (such as a job) especially by signing a contract • She signed on to the new project. • He signed on [=signed up] as a member of the crew. b sign (someone) on or sign on (someone) : to hire (someone) to do something especially by having that person sign a contract • The studio has signed her on [=signed her up] to do another movie. • She's signed on for another movie. — see also ²SIGN 2 (above) 2 : to start a broadcast by saying your name • "This is DJ Fresh signing on." • The radio station signs on [=begins broadcasting] at 5:00 a.m. 3 Brit : to report officially that you are unemployed in order to receive money from the government • She lost her job and had to sign on.

sign out [phrasal verb] 1 a : to sign your name on a list, in a book, etc., to show that you have left a place • Did the visitors sign out? b sign (someone) out or sign out (someone) : to write the name of (someone) on a list, in a book, etc., to show that they have left a place • The receptionist signed the guests out. 2 sign (something) out or sign out (something) : to sign your name on a list, in a book, etc., to show that you have borrowed (something) • He signed the video equipment out. • The library book is signed out.

sign over [phrasal verb] sign (something) over or sign over (something) : to give (something that you own, such as rights or property) to someone by signing a document • He signed over the property to his brother.

sign up [phrasal verb] 1 a : to sign your name on a document or list in order to get, do, or take something • She signed up for health insurance. • He signed up for tennis lessons. • Students can now sign up for classes. b : to indicate that you will definitely do a job, join a team, etc., especially by signing a contract • He signed up [=signed on] as an Army reservist. • She signed up with another team. 2 sign (someone) up or sign up (someone) a : to add the name of (someone) to an official list in order for that person to get, do, or take something • The church has signed up more than enough volunteers for the festival. b : to hire (someone) to do something especially by having that person sign a contract • The team signed up [=signed on] several new players. • The record label signed the band up. — see also ²SIGN 2 (above) sign-age /'saɪnɪdʒ/ noun [noncount] : signs or a system of signs used to show information about something (such as a business or a road) • Recent airport improvements include more lighting and better signage.

¹sig-nal /'sɪgnəl/ noun, pl -nals [count]

1 : an event or act which shows that something exists or that gives information about something : SIGN • The change in his behavior is clearly a signal [=indication] that there is a problem. • He likes her but he is sending the wrong signals with his constant teasing. — often + of • Inflammation is a signal of infection.

2 : something (such as a sound, a movement of part of the body, or an object) that gives information about something or that tells someone to do something • Don't start until I give the signal. [=sign] • The teacher gave us the signal to finish what we were working on and hand in our tests. • The pilot sent out a distress signal [=a message that the airplane was in danger] before the plane crashed. • They communicated with each other by using hand signals. [=movements of a person's hands that mean something]

3 : a piece of equipment with colored lights that is used on railways and roads to tell people when to go, to slow down, or to stop • Faulty wiring in the train station caused a signal to malfunction. • The traffic signal [=traffic light] was not working.

4 technical a : a message, sound, or image that is carried by waves of light or sound • The video/TV signal is scrambled. • Satellite dishes receive television signals. • a digital signal • The transmitter beams radio signals into space. b : a wave of light or sound that carries a message, sound, or image • We'll need better equipment to generate a 50 Hz signal.

busy signal see ¹BUSY

mixed signals see MIXED

²signal verb -nals; US -naled or Brit -nalled; US -nal-ing or Brit -nal-ling

1 [+ obj] : to be a sign of (something) : to show the existence of (something) • Robins signal the arrival of spring. • The election results surely signal the start/beginning of a new era. • He signaled [=showed, communicated] his irritation by sighing and rolling his eyes dramatically. • Redness, swelling, and painful itching signal [=indicate] an infection. • A lock on the suitcase might signal that there's something of value inside.

2 : to make a sound or motion that tells someone something [no obj] Did he signal before he made the left turn? • They signaled at me to come over to their table. • We signaled for help. [+ obj] He signaled us that it was time to begin the meeting. • The umpire signaled a strike.

³signal adj, always used before a noun, formal : very important or great : SIGNIFICANT • Is he worthy of such a signal honor? • The bill's passage was a signal [=notable] victory for environmentalists.

— sig-nal-ly /'sɪgnəli/ adv • The mayor has signally failed to do what he promised to do.

sig-nal-er (US) or Brit sig-nal-ler /'sɪgnələr/ noun, pl -ers [count] : SIGNALMAN 2

sig-nal-man /'sɪgnlmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count]

1 chiefly Brit : a person who has the job of operating signals on a railway

2 : a person in the military who is trained to send and receive signals

sig-na-to-ry /'sɪgnətori, Brit 'sɪgnətri/ noun, pl -ries [count] formal : a person, country, or organization that has signed an official document • signatories to the treaty/petition • a signatory of the Declaration of Independence

¹sig-na-ture /'sɪgnəʃər/ noun, pl -tures

1 [count] : a person's name written in that person's handwriting • There is a place for your signature at the bottom of the form. • If we can collect 200,000 signatures on our petition, then our candidate will be included on the ballot. • We presented the document to the president for her signature.

2 [noncount] formal : the act of signing something • The contract requires signature by both parties. [=must be signed by both parties] • The bill passed and went to the governor for signature a week ago.

3 [count] : something (such as a quality or feature) that is closely associated with someone or something — usually singular • Her latest movie includes the humor and fast pace that have become her signature.

²signature adj, always used before a noun : closely associated with someone or something : making a person or thing easy to recognize • the chef's signature dish • "Respect" is her signature song/tune. • The director's new movie is a return to his signature style.

sig-n-board /'saɪnbɔəd/ noun, pl -boards [count] : a board with writing or a picture on it that gives information about something (such as a business)

sig-ee /,saɪ'ni:/ noun, pl -ees [count] US, formal : a person, organization, etc., that has signed an official document (such as a treaty or contract) • signees [=signatories] to the treaty/petition sig-er /'saɪnər/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person, country, or organization that has signed an official document • He was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

2 : a person who uses sign language

sig-net ring /'sɪgnət-/ noun, pl ~ rings [count] : a ring that is decorated with a special design and worn on the finger — see color picture on page C11

sig-nif-i-cance /sɪg'nɪfɪkəns/ noun

1 : the quality of being important : the quality of having notable worth or influence [noncount] The discovery has great significance to researchers. • His age is of little significance. • This building should be preserved because of its historical significance. • Does the ceremony have any religious significance? [singular] Her work has a significance that will last beyond her lifetime. — opposite INSIGNIFICANCE

2 : the meaning of something [noncount] I failed to understand/grasp/appreciate the significance of her remarks. • Does the date March 16 have some special significance to/for you? [singular] People in ancient times assigned a particular significance to the number seven.

sig-nif-i-cant /sig'nɪfɪkənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : large enough to be noticed or have an effect • A significant number of customers complained about the service. • He won a significant amount of money. • There is a significant difference in prices between the two stores. • The study found a statistically significant decrease in symptoms in patients who had taken the drug. • His influence on me was significant. = He had a significant influence on me.

2 : very important • a significant event in the history of our nation • Fish is a significant part of their diet. • It is significant that she never mentioned him. — opposite INSIGNIFICANT

3 : having a special or hidden meaning • He gave us a significant wink/look. • a significant [=suggestive] glance

sig-nif-i-cant-ly /sig'nɪfɪkəntli/ adv

1 : in a way that is large or important enough to be noticed or have an effect • People who smoke have a significantly greater risk of developing lung cancer than people who don't. • Another store sold the game for a significantly lower price. • If you take my advice, your chances of winning will increase/improve significantly.

2 [more ~; most ~] — used to say that something is important or meaningful • Significantly, William broke with family tradition and decided not to name his newborn son "William." • It was the first time I had ever traveled outside of the country, but, more significantly, it was the first time I had ever been outside of my parents' supervision.

3 : in a way that has a special or hidden meaning • He looked/glanced significantly in her direction when he said that some of us are not doing our jobs.

significant other noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : someone that you have a romantic relationship with : your husband, wife, boyfriend, or girlfriend • Before you make such an important decision, you should talk it over with your significant other. — abbr. SO

sig-ni-fy /'sɪgnəˌfaɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing

1 [+ obj] : to be a sign of (something) : to mean (something) • Black clothing signifies mourning. • A check mark next to your name signifies that you have met all the requirements. • The recent decline of the stock market does not necessarily signify the start of a recession.

2 [+ obj] : to show (your feelings, intentions, opinions, etc.) by doing something • He nodded to signify his approval. = He nodded to signify that he approved. • He gave her a diamond ring to signify his love.

3 [no obj] formal + somewhat old-fashioned : to have importance : MATTER • Whether he agrees or not does not signify.

sign-ing /'saɪnɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [noncount] : the act of writing your name on something (such as a contract or document) to show that you agree to something — often + of • the signing of the Declaration of Independence • Two people witnessed the signing of the will.

2 [noncount] : the use of sign language • The child uses signing to communicate.

3 a [noncount] : the act of having someone sign a contract with a sports team, record company, etc. • The team has announced the signing of several new players. b [count] : someone who has signed a contract with a sports team, record company, etc. • a list of the team's recent signings sign language noun, pl ~ -guages [count, noncount] : a system of hand movements used for communication especially by people who are deaf sign of the cross

the sign of the cross : a movement of the hand that forms a cross shape and that is done as an expression of the Christian faith • She knelt and made the sign of the cross.

1 sign-post /'saɪnˌpəʊst/ noun, pl -posts [count] : a sign beside a road showing the direction and distance to a place • The signpost says it is 10 miles to the city. — sometimes used figuratively • There are no signposts pointing to a solution.

2 signpost verb -posts; -post-ed; -post-ing [+ obj] chiefly Brit : to provide (something) with signposts or guides • The road from here to London is well/clearly signposted. — sometimes used figuratively • His success has signposted the way for others.

Sikh /'siːk/ noun, pl Sikhs [count] : a follower of Sikhism — Sikh adj

Sikh-ism /'siːkɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : a religion founded in India around 1500 that is based on the belief that there is one God si-lage /'saɪlɪdʒ/ noun [noncount] : food for farm animals that is stored inside a silo

1 si-lence /'saɪləns/ noun, pl -lenc-es

1 [noncount] : a lack of sound or noise : QUIET • I find it hard to sleep unless there is complete silence. • The silence was broken by the sound of footsteps in the hallway.

2 : a situation, state, or period of time in which people do not talk [noncount] We sat there in dead/total/complete silence. • My sister's revelation was met with stunned silence. • Silence fell/descended upon the room. [=the room became quiet] • The professor asked for silence. [count] There was an awkward silence after he confessed his love for her. • A long silence followed her reply.

3 : a situation or state in which someone does not talk about or answer questions about something [noncount] We must break 50 years of silence on issues like the government's involvement in assassination and espionage. • I will not be intimidated into silence. • You don't have to suffer in silence. [=suffer or be unhappy without saying anything] [singular] She finally ended her silence and spoke to the media about what happened. — see also CONSPIRACY OF SILENCE

deafening silence see DEAFENING

silence is golden — used to say that it is often better to remain silent than to speak

2 silence verb -lences; -lenced; -lenc-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (someone or something) to stop speaking or making noise : to cause (someone or something) to become silent • My sister's revelation silenced everyone around the table. • Police silenced the crowd. • Disconnecting the battery will silence the alarm.

2 a : to stop (someone) from expressing opinions that are opposed to your own or from telling people about bad things that you have done • The mayor tried to silence his critics. • I will not be silenced! b : to stop (something) from being expressed or revealed : SUPPRESS • It's obvious that the purpose of this law is to silence dissent.

si-lenc-er /'saɪlənsə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 US : a device that is attached to a handgun to reduce the noise that the gun makes when it is fired

2 Brit : MUFFLER 1

si-lent /'saɪlənt/ adj

1 : not speaking or making noise : QUIET • She was silent for a few minutes as she thought about how to answer him. • Please be silent. • The crowd tell silent as the horrible news was read aloud.

2 always used before a noun [more ~; most ~] : tending not to talk much • My father was a very silent man. • He was the strong, silent type.

3 : not having or making any sound or noise • He said he would call me, but the phone was silent all day. • The radio went silent. [=dead] • A long, silent pause followed her reply.

4 always used before a noun : done, felt, or expressed without speaking • She offered a silent prayer of thanks for her family's safety. • They nodded their heads in silent agreement. • He turned his back on the president in silent protest.

5 : giving no information about something or refusing to discuss something • History books are silent about this shameful incident in our nation's past. • The president remained silent on the issue of funding. • You have the right to remain silent. [=the legal right not to say anything when you are arrested]

6 grammar : written in the spelling of a word but not pronounced • There is a silent "e" in "cane." • The "b" in "debt" is silent.

7 always used before a noun, of movies a : not having spoken dialogue • silent movies/films b : of or relating to movies that have no spoken dialogue • filmmakers of the silent era

— si-lent-ly adv • She sat silently beside me. • The tiger moved silently through the jungle.

silent auction noun, pl ~ -tions [count] : an auction in which people write down their bids for the things being sold silent majority noun

the silent majority : the largest part of a country's population that consists of people who are not actively involved in politics and do not express their political opinions publicly silent partner noun, pl ~ -ners [count] chiefly US : a partner who invests money in a business but is not involved in running the business — called also (Brit) sleeping partner

silent treatment noun

the silent treatment : the act of ignoring someone because you are angry at him or her • I told him that I thought he was crazy and got the silent treatment for the rest of the day. [=he refused to talk to me for the rest of the day] • Whenever she gets mad at me, she gives me the silent treatment [=she does not speak to me]

¹sil-hou-ette /ˈsɪləˈwet/ noun, pl -ettes

1 a : a dark shape in front of a light background [count] the silhouettes of buildings against the sky [noncount] The buildings appeared in silhouette against the sky. b : a picture of something showing it as a dark shape on a light background; especially : such a picture showing a person's face from the side [count] My piano teacher has a framed silhouette of Mozart on her wall. [noncount] a portrait of my mother done in silhouette

2 [count] : the shape or outline of something • He admired the sports car's sleek silhouette.

²silhouette verb -ettes; -ett-ed; -ett-ing [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) appear as a dark shape in front of a light background — often used as (be) silhouetted • The house was silhouetted against the sky.

sil-i-ca /ˈsɪlɪkə/ noun [noncount] : a chemical that contains silicon, that is found in sand and quartz, and that is used to make glass

sil-i-cate /ˈsɪləˌkɛt/ noun, pl -cates [count, noncount] : a chemical that contains silicon and that is used in building materials (such as bricks, cement, and glass) • aluminum silicate

sil-i-con /ˈsɪlɪkən, ˈsɪləˌkɑːn/ noun [noncount] : a chemical element that is found in the Earth's crust and is used especially in computers and electronics

sil-i-cone /ˈsɪləˌkoun/ noun [noncount] : a chemical that does not let water or heat pass through and that is used to make rubber, grease, and in plastic surgery • a prosthesis made of silicone — often used before another noun • silicone breast implants silk /ˈsɪlk/ noun, pl silks

1 : a smooth, soft, and shiny cloth that is made from thread produced by silkworms; also : the thread that is used to make silk [count] silks from China • a variety of silks and satins • embroidery silks [noncount] a dress (made) of blue silk • pure silk • The robe has butterflies embroidered in silk on the sleeves. • Her hair is as smooth as silk. [=very smooth] — often used before another noun • a silk blouse/scarf

2 [noncount] : the thread that is produced by a spider • the silk of a spider's web • spider silk

3 [noncount] : the thin strings in an ear of corn • corn silk

4 silks [plural] : the cap and shirt worn by a jockey • the stable's red and green racing silks

5 Brit : a lawyer who has reached the highest rank : a Queen's Counsel or King's Counsel [count] She maintains a busy practice as a leading silk in employment law. [noncount] He took silk [=reached the highest barrister's rank] in 2001.

silk-en /ˈsɪlkən/ adj

1 : made of silk or a cloth that is like silk • silken [=silk] robes • a silken cord • silken cushions

2 : smooth, soft, and shiny like silk • her silken [(more commonly) silky] black hair • the baby's silken skin

3 of food : smooth, soft, and rich • silken pudding/pâté

4 of a sound : smooth and pleasant to hear • his silken voice • the silken tones of his violin

silk screen noun, pl ~ screens

1 [noncount] : a method of printing in which ink or paint is forced through a stretched piece of silk cloth • artists who work in silk screen — often used before another noun • silk screen printing/designs

2 [count] : a print that is made by silk screen • He decorated the office with paintings and silkscreens.

— silk-screen verb -screens; -screened; -screen-ing [+ obj] • The logo was silk-screened onto T-shirts.

silk-worm /ˈsɪlk,wɜːm/ noun, pl -worms [count] : a catersilhouette

pillar that produces silk which is used to make thread or cloth silky /ˈsɪlki/ adj silky-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : made of silk or of material that is soft, smooth, and shiny like silk • silky lingerie/pantyhose • a silky nightgown

2 : smooth, soft, and shiny like silk • her silky brown hair • The cat has a silky coat. • The material has a silky feel.

3 of food : smooth, soft, and rich • silky chocolate mousse

4 of a sound : smooth and pleasant to hear • a silky voice

5 : having a smooth motion • This car gives a silky ride. • a golfer with a silky swing

— silky-i-ly /ˈsɪlkəli/ adv • a silky smooth fabric — silky-i-ness /ˈsɪlkinəs/ noun [noncount] — silky adv • This lotion will make your skin feel smooth and silky. • The dog's fur is silky soft. • He has such a silky smooth voice.

sill /ˈsɪl/ noun, pl sills [count]

1 a : the shelf at the bottom of a window frame : WINDOW-SILL — see picture at WINDOW b : a piece of wood, metal, or stone at the bottom of a door frame

2 : the part of the frame of a car that is directly under its doors

¹sil-ly /ˈsɪli/ adj sil-li-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having or showing a lack of thought, understanding, or good judgment : foolish or stupid • I hope I didn't make any silly mistakes. • The idea does seem a bit silly. • That's the silliest thing I've ever heard. • You drove in this weather? What a silly thing to do! • Silly me. I locked myself out of the car again. • Ask a silly question, and you get a silly answer. • He looks silly [=ridiculous] wearing that huge floppy hat. • "I can't ask you to do that." "Don't be silly. It is my pleasure."

2 : not practical or sensible • What a silly little purse. It looks too small to hold everything that I'd need to carry.

3 a : not serious, meaningful, or important • I'm tired of watching silly movies. • The book was a silly waste of time.

b : playful and funny • I like a man who can be silly without being immature. • He made a silly face. • He has a silly sense of humor.

4 not used before a noun : in a condition in which you are unable to think clearly • The ball hit him in the head and knocked him silly. • He was beaten silly by thugs. • They drank themselves silly. [=they got extremely drunk]

— sil-li-ness /ˈsɪlɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • the silliness of the whole idea

²silly adv, informal : to an extreme degree • I'm scared silly [=I'm very scared] of speaking to such a large group. • She was bored silly throughout much of the class.

³silly noun [noncount] informal — used to address someone who is being silly • No, silly, I don't need that one; I need the other one.

si-lo /ˈsaɪlə/ noun, pl -los [count]

1 : a tower that is used to store food (such as grain or grass) for farm animals

2 : an underground structure that is used for storing and firing a missile

¹silt /ˈsɪlt/ noun [noncount] : sand, soil, mud, etc., that is carried by flowing water and that sinks to the bottom of a river, pond, etc.

— silty /ˈsɪlti/ adj silt-i-er; -est • silty water

²silt verb silts; silt-ed; silt-ing

1 [no obj] : to become blocked, filled, or covered with silt • The marsh silted over. — often + up • The river delta has silted up over the centuries.

2 [+ obj] : to block, fill, or cover (something) with silt • The entrance to the creek had silted shut. • heavily silted areas — often + up • Sand had silted up the stream bed.

¹sil-ver /ˈsɪlvə/ noun, pl -vers

1 [noncount] : a soft grayish-white metal that is very valuable and is used to make jewelry, coins, knives, forks, etc. • a bracelet made of silver • an artist who works in silver and gold • a wooden statue inlaid with silver • pure/sterling silver

2 [noncount] : objects (such as knives, forks, teapots, candlesticks, etc.) that are made of or covered with silver • We need to polish the silver.

3 [noncount] : coins that are made of silver • a bag of silver

4 [count, noncount] : a shiny light gray color

5 [count] : SILVER MEDAL • She won two silvers in the last Olympics.

²silver adj

1 a : made of silver • silver jewelry/coins • a silver teapot • a silver belt buckle b : containing silver • silver ore • a silver

silo

- mine c : of or relating to silver • Silver prices have risen.
- 2 [more ~; most ~] : having the whitish-gray color of silver • silver hair • a silver car • a dress trimmed with silver ribbon
- 3 always used before a noun : of or relating to the 25th anniversary of an important event (such as a marriage) • They will celebrate their silver (wedding) anniversary this year. = (Brit) They will celebrate their silver wedding this year. • a silver jubilee — compare DIAMOND, GOLDEN
- born with a silver spoon in your mouth* see BORN
- 3 silver verb -vers; -vered; -ver-ing [+ obj]
- 1 technical : to cover (something, such as a mirror) with a thin layer of silver or something that looks like silver
- 2 literary : to make (something) shine like silver • The surface of the lake was silvered by the moonlight.
- silvered adj • a container lined with silvered glass
- silver bullet noun, pl ~ -lets [count] US : something that very quickly and easily solves a serious problem — usually singular • There is no silver bullet that will solve all our economic problems.
- silver dollar noun, pl ~ -lars [count] US : a large silver coin worth one dollar that was used in the past ♦ Silver dollar is now often used to describe the size of something. • He had a bald spot the size of a silver dollar on his head.
- sil-ver-fish /'sɪlvəˌfɪʃ/ noun, pl silverfish [count] : a small silver-colored insect that does not have wings and that lives inside houses
- silver foil noun [noncount] Brit : a very thin sheet of metal (such as aluminum) : FOIL
- silver lining noun, pl ~ -ings [count] : something good that can be found in a bad situation • If there's a silver lining to losing my job, it's that I'll now be able to go to school full-time and finish my degree earlier.
- every cloud has a silver lining* — used to say that every bad situation holds the possibility of something good • When my closest friend moved away, my mother reminded me that “every cloud has a silver lining.”
- silver medal noun, pl ~ -dals [count] : a medal made of silver that is given as a prize to someone who wins second place in a contest • She won a silver medal in the Olympics. — compare BRONZE MEDAL, GOLD MEDAL
- silver paper noun [noncount] Brit
- 1 : paper that is shiny on one side like silver and that is used for wrapping food (such as chocolate)
- 2 : SILVER FOIL
- silver-plated adj : covered with a thin layer of silver • a silver-plated tray
- silver screen noun
- the silver screen* old-fashioned 1 : a screen in a movie theater • one of the greatest films ever to hit the silver screen [=one of the greatest films ever shown in movie theaters]
- 2 : movies in general • stars of the silver screen [=movie stars]
- sil-ver-smith /'sɪlvəˌsmɪθ/ noun, pl -smiths [count] : a person who makes things out of silver
- Silver Star noun, pl ~ Stars [count] : a U.S. military award that is given to a soldier who is extremely brave in battle — called also Silver Star Medal
- sil-ver-tongued /'sɪlvəˌtɒŋd/ adj : able to speak in a way that makes other people do or believe what you want them to do or believe • a silver-tongued politician
- sil-ver-ware /'sɪlvəˌweə/ noun [noncount]
- 1 : objects (such as forks, knives, spoons, dishes, teapots, etc.) for serving food and drink that are made of or covered with silver
- 2 US : forks, knives, and spoons that are made of stainless steel, plastic, etc. — called also flatware
- 3 Brit, informal : something (such as a large cup or trophy) that is given as a prize in a sports contest • The team has gone two seasons without winning any silverware.
- sil-ver-y /'sɪlvəri/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary
- 1 : shiny and white or light gray in color like silver • a pond full of silvery fish • a dress of silvery gray/white silk • Silvery light reflected off the water.
- 2 of sound : high, clear, soft, and pleasant • The violinist played with a bright, silvery tone. • a singer with a beautiful silvery voice
- 1 sim-i-an /'sɪmijən/ adj
- 1 technical : of or relating to monkeys or apes • a study of simian viruses
- 2 literary : like a monkey or ape • his simian facial features
- 2 simian noun, pl -ans [count] technical : a monkey or ape

sim-i-lar /'sɪmələ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : almost the same as someone or something else • Our cats are similar in size/color/appearance. • You two look very/quite similar to each other. • They had similar experiences growing up, even though they came from vastly different backgrounds. • We got remarkably/strikingly similar results. • I was going to say something similar. • I would have reacted in a similar way if it had happened to me. — opposite DISSIMILAR

sim-i-lar-i-ty /ˌsɪməˈlerəti/ noun, pl -ties : a quality that makes one person or thing like another [count] I doubt that these words are related beyond a similarity in sound. • The books share a similarity of ideas. • I see a lot of similarities in them. — often + between • Have you noticed a similarity between these movies? • We discussed the similarities between the author's books. [noncount] Looking at these fossils, I see some similarity to modern-day birds. • I see very little similarity between your situation and his. • Both women have two children and like sports but there the similarity ends. [=they are not alike in other ways]

sim-i-lar-ly /'sɪmələli/ adv

1 [more ~; most ~] : in a similar way : in almost the same way • My friend and I were similarly affected by the new tax law. • The houses are decorated similarly.

2 — used to say that two situations, actions, statements, etc., are alike. • People still painted after photography became popular. Similarly [=likewise], there will still be people who prefer to shoot on film even after digital cameras become the norm.

sim-i-le /'sɪməli/ noun, pl -les grammar : a phrase that uses the words like or as to describe someone or something by comparing it with someone or something else that is similar [count] “She’s as fierce as a tiger” is a simile, but “She’s a tiger when she’s angry” is a metaphor. [noncount] What do you think of the author’s use of simile? — compare METAPHOR

1 sim-mer /'sɪmə/ verb -mers; -mered; -mer-ing

1 : to cook (something) so that it is almost boiling for a certain period of time [+ obj] Simmer the stew for 40 minutes or until the sauce has thickened. • The chicken was simmered in a cream sauce. [no obj] Let the stew simmer (for) 40 minutes.

2 [no obj] a : to be filled with a strong feeling that is difficult to control or hide — usually + with • He was simmering with anger/resentment. b : to be felt strongly by someone without being directly shown or expressed • Anger simmered inside him.

3 [no obj] : to continue for a long time without producing a definite result • The dispute simmered for years before any progress was made. • It’s a debate that has simmered for 30 years and is likely to continue. • simmering conflicts/controversies • Long-simmering tensions between the two groups eventually sparked violence.

4 [no obj] : to develop slowly • The idea for my novel simmered in my mind for quite some time.

simmer down [phrasal verb] : to become calm after being very angry or excited • After he simmered down, we were able to work out a solution to the problem. • “Simmer down! I was just joking. Don’t take it so personally.”

2 simmer noun [singular] : a state of simmering : a way of cooking that is close to boiling • Bring the mixture to a simmer.

sim-per /'sɪmpə/ verb -pers; -pered; -per-ing

1 [no obj] : to smile in a way that is not sincere or natural • He simpered and smirked while he talked to the boss.

2 [+ obj] : to say (something) in a way that is not sincere or natural • She simpered that she had gone to all this trouble for a reason.

— simper noun [singular] • an annoying simper — simpering adj • a simpering reporter sim-ple /'sɪmpəl/ adj sim-pier; -plest [or more ~; most ~]

1 : not hard to understand or do • a simple task • The solution to the problem was relatively simple. • The answer is really quite simple. • a simple [=straightforward] explanation • a simple recipe • There are three simple steps/rules to follow. • The camera is simple to use. • The directions seem simple enough. [=seem fairly simple] • Just press the button. It is as simple as that. = Just press the button. It is that simple. • Don’t go into too much detail in the report. Just keep it simple and to the point.

2 : having few parts : not complex or fancy • The engine has a simple [=basic] design. • a simple machine • The melody is very simple. • She wore a simple [=plain, unadorned] black dress. • We don’t want to spend a lot of money on the party, so we're keeping it simple. [=we're not having an extravagant party]

3 always used before a noun : not special or unusual : ORDINARY • simple folks • I'm a simple farmer just trying to make a living. • He enjoys the simple pleasure of spending time with his wife and kids after work. • Relaxing on the beach and watching the sunset is one of life's simple pleasures.

4 always used before a noun : complete and total — used for emphasis • I watch what I eat, but the simple truth is that I can't resist chocolate. • The simple fact is that he did not study for the exam. • I don't want to go for the simple reason that [=because] I'm very tired.

5 grammar, of a sentence : having only one main clause and no additional clauses • "Last summer was unusually hot" is a simple sentence.

6 old-fashioned : not very intelligent • a mentally simple man • She looked at me as if I were simple.

pure and simple see PURE

the simple life ♦ If you live the simple life, you do not own many things or use many modern machines and you usually live in the countryside. • He lives in a small cabin and enjoys the simple life.

simple fracture noun, pl ~ -tures [count] medical : a break in a bone in which no parts stick out through the skin — compare COMPOUND FRACTURE simple interest noun [noncount] finance : interest paid only on the original amount of money and not on the interest it has already earned — compare COMPOUND INTEREST sim·ple·mind·ed /ˌsɪmpəlˈmaɪndəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not very intelligent • a superstitious and very simpleminded man • He took a simpleminded approach to the problem.

2 : having or showing a lack of good sense or judgment • a simpleminded [=stupid, silly] mistake sim·ple·ton /ˈsɪmpəlˈtɒn/ noun, pl -tons [count] old-fashioned : someone who is not very intelligent or who does not have or show good sense or judgment • The instructions were so complicated I felt like a complete simpleton.

sim·plic·i·ty /sɪmˈplɪsəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the quality of being easy to understand or use • People like the simplicity of the instructions/camera. • For simplicity's sake [=to make it simpler and easier], we have rounded off the numbers to the nearest whole number. = We have rounded off the numbers for the sake of simplicity.

2 a [noncount] : the state or quality of being plain or not fancy or complicated • the simplicity of the music/writing/design • b [count] : something that is simple or ordinary but enjoyable — usually plural • He loved the simplicities of country life.

3 [noncount] : something that is easy to do • Making the dish is simplicity itself, [=very easy] sim·pli·fy /ˈsɪmpləˌfaɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy·ing [+ obj] : to make (something) easier to do or understand • Microwave ovens have simplified cooking. • The new software should simplify the process. • The forms have been simplified.

— simplified adj [more ~; most ~] • Can you explain the problem in more simplified terms? • a simplified version of the instructions — sim·pli·fi·ca·tion /ˌsɪmpləˈfɪkəʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • Voters are pushing for simplification of the tax code.

sim·plis·tic /sɪmˈplɪstɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : too simple : not complete or thorough enough : not treating or considering all possibilities or parts • a simplistic approach to a complicated problem • His interpretation of the theory was too simplistic. • simplistic thinking — sim·plis·ti·cal·ly /sɪmˈplɪstɪkli/ adv • He described the problem too simplistically.

sim·ply /ˈsɪmpli/ adv

1 a : nothing more than : only, merely, or just • Simply add water to the mix and stir. • Simply click on the computer icon and follow the directions. • If he continues to bother you, simply ignore him. • You can order new checks simply by calling or going online. • It is simply a matter of time before something goes wrong. • b : without any question — used to stress the simple truth of a description or statement • That is simply [=just] not true. • The opera was simply marvelous. • She simply can't sing. • I simply could not decide which one I wanted. • She simply does not understand the work that is involved. • There is simply not enough time to visit everyone. • We want to buy the car, but we simply can't afford it. • He is, quite simply, one of the best players ever to play the game. • Quite simply, the countryside is beautiful.

2 a : in way that is clear and understandable • The instructions are simply written. • b : in a way that is plain or not fancy or complicated • She dresses simply. • simply drawn figures • He lived simply on the farm. • c : in a way that is direct and uses few words • The diner is called simply "Joe's." • "Sorry, I can't help you," he said simply. • The problem, put simply, is money. • Simply put, the movie was horrible. • Simply speaking, he's not capable of doing the job.

sim·u·late /ˈsɪmjəˌleɪt/ verb -lates; -lat·ed; -lat·ing [+ obj] : to look, feel, or behave like (something) • The wall surface is made to simulate stone. = The wall surface simulates stone. • The model will be used to simulate the effects of an earthquake. • The material simulates [=imitates] the look and feel of real fur.

simulated adj : made to look, feel, or behave like something : not real • simulated leather • They are trained in simulated combat. • Dummies are used in simulated car crashes.

sim·u·la·tion /ˌsɪmjəˈleɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : something that is made to look, feel, or behave like something else especially so that it can be studied or used to train people [count] — often + of • a computer simulation of spaceflight • simulations of body movements • a simulation of the planet's surface [noncount] They use computer simulation to predict weather conditions.

sim·u·la·tor /ˈsɪmjəˌleɪtər/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a machine that is used to show what something looks or feels like and is usually used to study something or to train people • a flight simulator used by pilots • an earthquake simulator

si·mul·cast /ˈsaɪməˌkæst, Brit ˈsɪməˌkɑːst/ verb -casts; -cast; -cast·ing [+ obj] : to broadcast (a program) by radio and television at the same time • The network will simulcast the game on its radio and television stations. — often used as (be) simulcast • The President's speech will be simulcast this afternoon.

— simulcast noun, pl -casts [count] • a TV/radio simulcast of the concert si·mul·ta·neous /ˌsaɪməˈteɪniəs, Brit ˌsɪməˈteɪniəs/ adj : happening at the same time • The two gunshots were simultaneous. • simultaneous events — often + with • The release of the new album will be simultaneous with the release of the DVD.

— si·mul·ta·neous·ly adv • The speech will be broadcast simultaneously on radio and TV.

¹sin /ˈsɪn/ noun, pl sins

T : an action that is considered to be wrong according to religious or moral law [count] He committed the sin of stealing. • Murder is a sin. • I confessed my sins. [noncount] We are not free from sin. • a world of sin — see also CARDINAL SIN, DEADLY SIN, MORTAL SIN, ORIGINAL SIN, VENIAL SIN

2 [count] : an action that is considered to be bad — usually singular • It's a sin to waste food. — see also BESETTING SIN (as) guilty/miserable/ugly as sin informal : very guilty/miserable/ugly • Even though he was acquitted, most people think he is guilty as sin. • That house is as ugly as sin.

for your sins chiefly Brit, humorous — used to say that you are doing something unpleasant, difficult, etc., as a form of punishment • For my sins, I was made chairman of the board.

live in sin see ¹LIVE

²sin verb sins; sinned; sin·ning [no obj] : to do something that is considered wrong according to religious or moral law : to commit a sin • Forgive me, for I have sinned.

¹since /ˈsɪns/ prep : in the time after (a specified time or event in the past) : from (a point in the past) until the present time • I haven't seen him since yesterday. • I haven't eaten since breakfast. • Since the party, she has not spoken to him at all. • The company has been in its present location since the beginning of the century. • We've been waiting for you since 10 o'clock. • We have been friends since [=ever since] college. • The company started as a small local business 10 years ago and has grown a lot since then, [=within that time] • The house was built in 1919. Since that time [=from 1919 to the present], it has changed owners several times.

since the year one see YEAR

since when? — used to show that you are surprised and often angry, annoyed, or doubtful about what someone has said or done • "I'm a vegetarian." "Since when?" • "You told me to do it." "Since when did you start listening to me?" • Since when is it okay to cheat?

²since conj

T : in the period after the time when • We've played better since you joined the team. • He has had two jobs since he graduated.

2 : from the time in the past when • I have wanted to be a pilot since [=ever since] I was a child. • He hasn't ridden a bike since he was a boy. • (US) It has been over 10 years since I last visited Europe. = (Brit) It is over 10 years since I last visited Europe. • They haven't won a championship since Truman was President.

3 — used to introduce a statement that explains the reason for another statement • Since you've finished all your chores, you may go out and play. • Should we invite someone else since he can't go?

³since adv

1 : from a past time until now • He moved to New York one year ago and has lived there since. [(more commonly) ever since]

2 : after a time in the past • She graduated four years ago and has since married. • He left home two years ago and has since become a soldier.

3 : before the present time • I received your letter some time since. [(more commonly) ago] — see also long since at ²LONG sin·cere /sɪn'siə/ adj sin·cer·er; -est [or more ~; most ~]

1 : having or showing true feelings that are expressed in an honest way • He sounded sincere in his promises. • She seemed sincere in her commitment to finish school.

2 : genuine or real : not false, fake, or pretended • She has a sincere interest in painting. • He showed a sincere concern for her health. • Her apology was sincere. • He made a sincere attempt/effort to quit smoking. • Please accept our sincere thanks. — opposite INSINCERE — sin·cer·i·ty /sɪn'serəti/ noun [noncount] • Some people are questioning the sincerity of her promises. • Her apology was spoken with sincerity. • In all sincerity [=in all honesty], we could not have done this project without your help.

sin·cere·ly /sɪn'siəli/ adv

1 : genuinely or truly : in a sincere or truthful way • He sincerely apologized for breaking the vase. • Do you sincerely [=really] believe that the country is better off now? • I sincerely hope that you do a better job next time. • I am sincerely sorry for your loss. • He tried sincerely to make up for his mistake.

2 ✧ Sincerely, yours sincerely, and (chiefly US) sincerely yours are often used at the end of a formal letter before the sender's signature.

sine /saɪn/ noun, pl sines [count] geometry : the ratio between the long side (called the hypotenuse) and side that is opposite to an acute angle in a right triangle si·ne·cure /saɪnɪkjə/ noun, pl -cures [count] formal : a job or position in which someone is paid to do little or no work si·ne qua non /sɪnɪkwa:'nɑ:n/ noun, pl ~ nons [count] formal : something that is absolutely needed • Patience is a sine qua non for this job.

sin·ew /sɪn,ju:/ noun, pl -ews [count, noncount] : strong tissue that connects muscles to bones • cutting through bone and sinew — often used figuratively • the sinews of power sin·ewy /sɪnjəwi/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having strong and lean muscles • sinewy arms • The lion has a sinewy body. — sometimes used figuratively • sinewy writing

2 : tough and difficult to cut or chew • a sinewy piece of meat sin·ful /sɪnfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : wrong according to religious or moral law • a sinful act [=an act that is a sin] • It is sinful to steal.

2 : very bad or wicked • sinful people

3 informal : extremely enjoyable in a way that makes you feel guilty • a sinful chocolate cake — sin·ful·ly adv • They acted sinfully. • The cake is sinfully delicious. • sinfully rich chocolate — sin·ful·ness noun [noncount]

sing /sɪŋ/ verb sings; sang /sæŋ/ or sung /sʌŋ/; sung; sing·ing

1 : to use your voice to make musical sounds in the form of a song or tune [no obj] She sings in the choir. • The children danced and sang. • She sings beautifully. • He sang softly to the baby. • She's a great actress, and she can dance and sing, too. [+ obj] We all stood and sang the national anthem. • He sang a tune to us. = He sang us a tune. • I can't sing the high notes. • She sang the baby to sleep. [=she sang to the baby until it fell asleep]

2 [no obj] : to make pleasant sounds that sound like music • Do you hear the birds singing?

3 [no obj] : to make a high-pitched whistling sound • The kettle sang on the stove. • The bullet sang past his helmet.

sing a different tune see ¹TUNE

sing along [phrasal verb] : to sing a song together with someone who is already singing or with a recording of the song • If you know the words, sing along (with us). • He loves to sing along with the radio. — see also SING-ALONG sing of [phrasal verb] sing of (someone or something) literary + old-fashioned : to speak or write about (someone or something) especially with enthusiasm • The poet sang of knights and medieval times.

sing out [phrasal verb] sing out or sing out (something) or sing (something) out 1 : to say or shout something loudly • If you need any help, just sing out. • The children sang out [=cried out] "good morning" to the teacher. • The crowd sang out insults. 2 : to sing something loudly • The singer stopped and the crowd sang out the rest of the chorus.

sing someone's/something's praises or sing the praises of someone/something : to say good things about someone or something • His patients all sing his praises. • They were singing the praises of their new equipment.

— singing noun [noncount] • What beautiful singing. • folk singing • There was singing and dancing all night long.

— singing adj • She has a wonderful singing voice. • His singing career is ruined.

sing. abbr singular

sing-along /sɪŋə,lɑ:n/ noun, pl -alongs [count] : an informal occasion or event at which people sing songs together • a Christmas sing-along — called also (Brit) singsong; see also sing along at SING

singe /sɪndʒ/ verb sing·es; singed; singe·ing [+ obj] : to burn (something) slightly • The flame singed his hair. = His hair was singed by the flame. • The wood was singed by the candle.

singer /sɪŋə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who sings • My sister is a pretty good singer; especially : a performer who sings • He is the lead singer in the band. • a country/opera/pop/rock singer — see also FOLKSINGER, TORCH SINGER

singer-songwriter noun, pl -ers [count] : a performer who writes songs and sings them

¹sin·gle /sɪŋɡəl/ adj

1 always used before a noun : not having or including another : only one • They lost by a single point. [=they lost by one point] • A single shoe was found. • It costs $10 for a single glass of wine! • a single serving of carrots • He earns $2,000 in a single week. • There is a single [=uniform] standard for men and women. — sometimes used to emphasize the largeness or importance of something • The fingerprint turned out to be the single most important piece of evidence. • Tobacco is the single greatest/largest/biggest industry in the state. • Drunk driving is the greatest/largest/biggest single killer of high school students. — sometimes used in negative statements to emphasize that there is a complete lack of something • Not a single cookie was left. • Not a single sound was heard. • I could not hear a single word of what he said. • We didn't get a single reply.

2 : not married or not having a serious romantic relationship with someone • a club for single [=unattached, unmarried] people • Are you single? • a single parent/mother/father [=a mother or father who takes care of a child alone]

3 — used for emphasis after words like any, each, every, etc. • He has more home runs than any other single player. [=than any other player] • These laws apply to each single citizen. • I drink milk every single day. • She can't watch him every single minute.

4 always used before a noun : made for one person to use • I stayed in a single room. • I slept in a single bed. [(US) twin bed]

5 Brit : ONE-WAY • a single ticket • How much is the single fare?

²single noun, pl sin·gles

1 [count] : an unmarried person and especially one who is young and socially active — usually plural • The party is for singles. — often used before another noun • a singles bar/club

2 [count] a baseball : a hit that allows the batter to reach first base • He hit a single to right field. — compare DOUBLE, HOME RUN, TRIPLE b cricket : a hit that scores one run

3 singles [plural] : a game of tennis or a similar sport that is played between two players • Do you want to play singles or doubles? • a singles match

4 [count] : a music recording having one main song and sometimes one or more other songs • I bought the single; also : one song from a recording that includes many songs • Have you heard the latest single from the album? • The song was released as a single before the album came out. — compare ALBUM

5 [count] : a room in a hotel, inn, etc., for one person • The hotel has only singles available. — compare DOUBLE

6 [count] US : a one-dollar bill • Do you have five singles for this five?

7 [count] Brit : a one-way ticket • A single to Bath, please.

³single verb singles; sin·gled; sin·gling [no obj] : to hit a single in baseball • He singled to right field.

single out [phrasal verb] single out (someone or something) or single (someone or something) out : to treat or to speak about (someone or something in a group) in a way that is different from the way you treat or speak about others • The teacher singled him out as the only student to get a perfect score on the test. • The coach singled out the players who played poorly. • The reviewer singled her performance out for praise/criticism. — often used as (be) singled out • She was singled out for special treatment.

single bond noun, pl ~ bonds [count] technical : a chemical bond in which two atoms in a molecule share one pair of electrons — compare DOUBLE BOND, TRIPLE BOND sin·gle—breast·ed /ˈsɪŋɡəlˈbrɛstəd/ adj, of a coat, jacket, or suit : having one row of buttons • He wore a single-breasted blazer. — compare DOUBLE-BREASTED sin·gle—deck·er /ˈsɪŋɡəlˈdekər/ noun, pl -ers [count] Brit : a bus that has only one level — often used before another noun • a single-decker bus — compare DOUBLE-DECKER, TRIPLE-DECKER single digits noun [plural] chiefly US : a number or percentage that is 9 or less • They won the game by single digits. [=by 9 points or fewer than 9 points] • The state's unemployment rate is in the single digits. — called also single figures

— sin·gle—dig·it /ˈsɪŋɡəlˈdɪdʒɪt/ adj, always used before a noun • the state's single-digit unemployment rate • a single-digit increase single file noun [noncount] : a line of people, animals, or things arranged one behind another — used after in • They stood/walked in single file.

— single file adv • The students walked single file out of the classroom. • Boys and girls, please line up single file.

sin·gle—hand·ed /ˈsɪŋɡəlˈhændəd/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : done by one person • single-handed sailing

2 : working alone • a single-handed sailor

— single-handed adv • He sailed the boat home single-handed. — sin·gle—hand·ed·ly adv • She raised the children single-handedly. [=she raised the children by herself] • He is credited with almost single-handedly saving the company from bankruptcy.

single malt noun, pl ~ malts [count, noncount] : a kind of whiskey that comes from one place and that is not blended with other kinds of whiskey — often used before another noun • single-malt Scotch single market noun [singular] economics : a group of countries that have an agreement which allows goods to be moved, bought, or sold between them very easily • the European Union's single market sin·gle—mind·ed /ˈsɪŋɡəlˈmaɪndəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having only one purpose, goal, or interest : focused on one thing • He worked with single-minded dedication/determination/devotion to help the poor. • She is very single-minded and determined to succeed.

— sin·gle—mind·ed·ly adv • He is single-mindedly devoted to his job. — sin·gle—mind·ed·ness noun [noncount] sin·glet /ˈsɪŋɡlət/ noun, pl -glets [count] chiefly Brit : a shirt that has no sleeves or collar and that is worn for playing sports sin·gly /ˈsɪŋɡəli/ adv, formal : without another • The birds can be seen singly or in groups. • The books in the set cannot be sold singly. [= (more commonly) individually]

sing·song /ˈsɪŋsɑːŋ/ noun, pl -songs

1 [singular] : a way of speaking in which the sound of your voice rises and falls in a pattern • They spoke in a singsong. — often used before another noun • a singsong voice

2 [count] Brit : SING-ALONG

¹sin·gu·lar /ˈsɪŋɡjələr/ adj

1 grammar : showing or indicating no more than one thing • In the phrase “his car is red,” the word “car” is a singular

noun. • “Walks” in “she walks everyday” is a singular verb. — abbr. sing.; compare PLURAL

2 a formal : better or greater than what is usual or normal • the singular [=exceptional] beauty of the landscape • Her father noticed her singular [=unique] talent for music. • the singular [=remarkable] importance of the discovery • She showed a singular [=noticeable, obvious] lack of interest. b literary : strange or odd • He had a singular appearance. • singular customs — sin·gu·lar·ly adv • a singularly important discovery • Passion was singularly [=noticeably] lacking in his music.

²singular noun

the singular : a form of a word that is used to refer to one person or thing • “Wolf” is the singular and “wolves” is the plural. • “Mouse” is the singular of “mice.” • The verb should be in the singular. • Rewrite the sentence in the singular. [=using singular forms of words] sin·gu·lar·i·ty /ˌsɪŋɡjəˈlerəti/ noun [noncount] formal : the quality of being strange or odd • People could not understand the singularity of his imagination.

Sin·ha·la /sɪnˈhɑːlə/ noun [noncount] : SINHALESE 2

Sin·ha·lese /ˌsɪnhəˈliːz/ noun, pl Sinhalese

1 [count] : a member of a group of people who live in Sri Lanka

2 [noncount] : the language of the Sinhalese people • He speaks Sinhalese.

— Sinhalese adj

sin·is·ter /ˈsɪnəstər/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having an evil appearance : looking likely to cause something bad, harmful, or dangerous to happen • There was something sinister about him. • He looked sinister. • sinister black clouds

— sin·is·ter·ly adv

¹sink /ˈsɪŋk/ verb sinks; sank /ˈsæŋk/ or sunk /ˈsʌŋk/; sunk; sink·ing

1 a [no obj] : to go down below the surface of water, mud, etc. • The passengers were rescued from the boat before it sank. • a sinking ship • The rock sank to the bottom of the pool. • My foot sank into the deep mud. • She sank up to her knees in the snow. b [+ obj] : to cause (a ship or boat) to go down below the surface of water • The torpedo sank the ship.

2 [no obj] : to move down to a lower position • The sun sank behind the hills. • He sank to his knees and prayed. [=he knelt down and prayed] • She sank back into the cozy chair.

3 [no obj] : to become lower in amount, value, etc. : to decline or decrease • The temperature sinks quickly after the sun sets. • The lake's water level is slowly sinking. • His strength is slowly sinking. • The company's stock sank after it announced that profits were less than expected. • The currency's value is sinking.

4 [+ obj] : to use force to cause (something) to go into the ground or another surface — often + into • He sank [=drove] the fence posts into the ground. • He sank the ax into the tree. • The nail was sunk all the way into the wall. • The cat sank its claws into my arm.

5 [no obj] a : to do something that is morally wrong • How could you sink [=stoop] to cheating? • I never thought he could sink so low. [=do something so wrong] b : to begin to feel sad, depressed, etc. • She sank into a deep depression. • Her heart sank [=she became very sad] at the thought of moving so far away. • With a sinking heart [=with great sadness], she signed the papers to sell the house. • She got that sinking feeling [=a feeling of dread or discouragement] as she viewed the storm damage. c : to go or change to a worse or less active state — often + into • The patient sank into a coma. • He's sinking fast and won't live much longer.

6 [no obj] of a person's voice : to become quieter • Her voice sank to a whisper. [=she began to whisper]

7 a [no obj] : to become less successful : to move toward failure • The company is sinking under the weight of heavy debt. [=the company is failing because it has too much debt] b [+ obj] : to cause (someone or something) to fail • Bad weather sank their plans for a picnic. • If we don't get that money soon, we'll be sunk.

8 [+ obj] : to make (a well, shaft, mine, etc.) by digging down into the earth • The workers are sinking a well.

9 [+ obj] : to spend (a lot of money, work, time, etc.) on something — + in or into • He sank [=invested] five million dollars in the new company. • He keeps sinking money into that old car. • She has sunk a lot of work into the project.

10 [+ obj] : to throw, hit, or roll (a ball) into a hole or basket • He sank [=dropped, holed] the putt. • In pool, you need to sink [=pocket] the eight ball to win. • She sank the jump shot.

 11 [+ obj] chiefly Brit, informal : to drink (something) completely • They sank [=downed] one more pint before leaving.
sink in [phrasal verb] : to become completely known, felt, or understood • I had to tell him what to do over and over before it finally sank in. • The fact that she's left me still hasn't really sunk in.

sink like a stone : to sink very suddenly and quickly • The ship hit an iceberg and sank like a stone. — often used figuratively • His last movie sank like a stone.

sink or swim ♦ A situation in which you either sink or swim is one in which you must succeed by your own efforts or fail completely. • They left me to sink or swim on my own. • In this job, it's sink or swim.

sink without a trace (US) or Brit sink without trace : to sink beneath the water to a place that cannot be seen or found • The boat sank without a trace. — often used figuratively • Her first album was a big success, but after that she sank without a trace.

sink your teeth into see TOOTH

²sink noun, pl sinks [count] : a wide bowl that has a faucet for water and a drain at the bottom and is usually positioned in a counter or on a pedestal • a kitchen sink • (chiefly US) a bathroom sink [= (chiefly Brit) washbasin] — see pictures at BATHROOM, KITCHEN sink-er /'sɪŋkə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a weight used for holding a fishing line or net underwater
 2 baseball : a fast pitch that drops lower as it reaches home plate — called also sinker ball

hook, line and sinker see ¹HOOK sink-hole /'sɪŋk,hoʊl/ noun, pl -holes [count] : a low area or hole in the ground that is formed especially when soil and rocks are removed by flowing water — sometimes used figuratively • The new highway is a financial sinkhole. [=something that constantly uses up money, resources, etc.]

sin-ner /'sɪnə/ noun, pl -ners [count] : someone who has done something wrong according to religious or moral law : someone who has sinned

Si-no- /'saɪnoʊ/ combining form : Chinese and • Sino-Japanese relations [=relations between China and Japan]

sin-u-ous /'sɪnjəwəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + literary

1 : having many twists and turns • a sinuous [=winding] road • sinuous vines

2 : moving and bending in a smooth and attractive way • a sinuous dancer • She moved with sinuous grace.

— sin-u-ous-ly adv

si-nus /'saɪnəs/ noun, pl -nus-es [count] : any of several spaces in the skull that connect with the nostrils — usually plural • My sinuses are blocked. [=they are filled with mucus that will not drain properly] — often used before another noun • a sinus infection/problem

si-nus-itis /'saɪnjə'saɪtəs/ noun [noncount] medical : painful swelling of the tissues inside the sinuses

Sioux /'su:/ noun, pl Sioux /'su:/ [count] : a member of a Native American people originally from the north central U.S.

sip /'sɪp/ verb sips; sipped; sip-ping : to drink (a liquid) slowly by taking only small amounts into your mouth [+ obj] She sipped her coffee while she watched the sun rise. [no obj] He sipped on the bottle of water. — sometimes + at • He sipped at his wine.

— sip noun, pl sips [count] • Have/take a sip of water.

¹si-phon also sy-phon /'saɪfən/ noun, pl -phons [count] : a bent tube used to move a liquid from one container into another container by means of air pressure

²siphon also syphon verb -phons; -phoned; -phon-ing [+ obj]

1 : to move (a liquid) from one container to another by using a siphon • The water needs to be siphoned from the pool. — often + off • He siphoned off gas from the car's tank.

2 : to take and use (something, such as money) for your own purpose • She illegally siphoned money out of other people's bank accounts. • Funds were siphoned from the schools to build a new stadium. • The large chain stores are siphoning profits from the small local stores.

sir /'sə/ noun, pl sirs

¹T [noncount] a — used without a name as a form of polite address to a man you do not know • May I help you, sir? • Sir, your order is ready. — compare MA'AM, MADAM, MISS b — used without a name as a form of polite address to a man of rank or authority (such as a military or police officer, teacher, or master) • “At ease, lieutenant.” “Yes sir, captain.” • Sir, I don't think I was speeding. • Sir, can you help me with this math problem? • Dinner is ready, sir.

²Sir [count] — used without a name as a form of address at the beginning of a formal letter • Dear Sir or Madam • Dear Sir/Sirs

³Sir [noncount] — used as a title before the name of a knight or baronet • Sir Lancelot • Sir Charles • Sir Elton John • Sir Walter Scott

⁴ [noncount] US, informal — used in the phrases no sir and yes sir for emphasis, to show surprise, etc. • I will not have that man in my home, no sir. [=no sirree] • That was a wonderful dinner. Yes sir. [=yes sirree] • “She couldn't have said that to her mom.” “Yes sir, she sure did.” • “The teacher caught them kissing.” “No sir! She did?”

¹sire /'saɪə/ noun, pl sires

1 [noncount] — used formerly to address a man of rank or authority (such as a king or lord) • Your horses are ready, sire. [=my lord]

2 [count] technical : a male parent of some animals (such as dogs and horses) • the foal's sire — compare ³DAM

²sire verb sires; sired; sir-ing [+ obj]

1 of an animal : to become the father of (an animal) • The horse sired several champion racers.

2 old-fashioned : to become the father of (a child) • He sired [=fathered] six children.

si-ren /'saɪrən/ noun, pl -rens [count]

1 : a piece of equipment that produces a loud, high-pitched warning sound • an ambulance siren • the wailing of air-raided sirens • We heard police sirens. [=sirens on police cars]

2 : a woman who is very attractive but also dangerous : TEMPTRESS • a Hollywood siren

³Siren : one of a group of female creatures in Greek mythology whose singing attracted sailors and caused them to sail into dangerous water or toward rocks siren song noun, pl ~ songs [count] : something that is very appealing and makes you want to go somewhere or do something but that may have bad results — often + of • They could not resist the siren song of fame and money. — called also siren call

sir-loin /'sə,loɪn/ noun, pl -loins [count, noncount] : a piece of beef from the lower back area of a cow — often used before another noun • a sirloin steak • sirloin tips

sir-ree also sir-ee /sə'ri:/ noun [noncount] US, informal — used in the phrases no sirree and yes sirree for emphasis, to show surprise, etc. • I won't let them do it. No sirree. [=no sir] • “Did you like the movie?” “Yes sirree, I sure did.”

sis /'sɪs/ noun [noncount] informal : SISTER — used as a name for your sister especially when you are talking to her • Sis, can you help me with this?

si-sal /'saɪsəl/ noun [noncount] : a strong white fiber made from a tropical plant — often used before another noun • sisal fibers/rope/twine • a sisal rug

sis-sy also Brit cis-sy /'sɪsi/ noun, pl sis-sies [count] informal + disapproving

1 : a boy who is weak or who likes things that girls usually like • The other kids laughed at him and called him a sissy because he didn't like sports.

2 : a person who is weak and fearful • Don't be such a sissy. [=wimp] It's just a frog.

— sissy adj • He thinks golf is a sissy sport.

¹sis-ter /'sɪstə/ noun, pl -ters

¹T [count] : a girl or woman who has one or both of the same parents as you • my little/younger sister • his big/older sister • She's my twin sister. • He has two sisters. — compare HALF SISTER, SISTER-IN-LAW, STEPSISTER

2 informal — used when talking to a woman • Sister, you have got to relax. • Sister, you don't need him in your life.

³ or Sister [count] : a member of a religious community of women : NUN • The sisters live in the convent. — often used as a title • the Sisters of St. Joseph • Sister Christine — abbr. Sr.

4 [count] : a woman who is from the same group or country as you • her college sorority sisters • We must support our brothers and sisters fighting overseas. • She speaks for her Asian sisters.

5 [count] US, informal : a black woman — used especially by African-Americans

6 or Sister [count] chiefly Brit : a nurse in a hospital ward or clinic

— see also WEAK SISTER

²sister adj, always used before a noun : belonging to the same kind or group : having similar qualities or characteristics •

The two cruise liners are sister ships. • sister companies/schools

sister city noun, pl ~ cit-ies [count] US : one of two cities or towns in different areas that have a special relationship and are usually similar in some way • A choir from our sister city in France is performing here next week. — called also (Brit) twin town

sis·ter·hood /ˈsɪstə,hʊd/ noun, pl -hoods

1 [noncount] : the close relationship among women based on shared experiences, concerns, etc. • The bonds of sisterhood have helped unite women to fight for social equality.

2 [count] : a community or society of women — usually singular • She is a member of the sisterhood; especially : a community of nuns — usually singular • Sister Katherine joined the sisterhood 10 years ago.

sis·ter·in·law /ˈsɪstərən,lɑ:/ noun, pl sis·ters-in-law /ˈsɪstəzən,lɑ/ [count]

1 : the sister of your husband or wife

2 : the wife of your brother

sis·ter·ly /ˈsɪstəli/ adj [more ~; most ~] : showing or suggesting the closeness of a sister • She gave her brother a sisterly kiss on the cheek. • She received sisterly support from other women. • a sisterly friendship sit /ˈsɪt/ verb sits; sat /ˈsæt/; sit·ting

1 a [no obj] : to be in a position in which your bottom is resting on a chair, the ground, etc., especially with your back upright • He was sitting in a chair next to the window. • She sat across from me during dinner. • The children sat cross-legged on the floor playing a game. • Are you going to sit there and watch TV all day? • Don't just sit there—do/say something! • You can't expect young children to sit still [=sit without moving around] for that long. b [no obj] : to begin to sit : to put yourself in a sitting position • He went over and sat [=sat down] in a chair next to the window. • She walked around the table and sat across from me. c always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to be seated : to put (someone) in a sitting position • She sat the toddler in the chair.

2 [no obj] a of an animal : to rest with the tail end of the body on the floor and the front legs straight • The cat likes to sit by the window. • He taught the dog to sit (on command). • Sit! Good dog! b of a bird : to rest on the top or the edge of something • The bird sat on the ledge.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to be or stay in a particular place, position, or condition • The limousine is sitting outside. • A vase sat on the table. • The sled sits unused in the garage during the summer.

4 [no obj] : to be a member of an official group that has meetings • She sits on the board of directors.

5 [no obj] : to meet in order to carry on official business : to hold a session • The court is now sitting. • Parliament will sit for four months.

6 [no obj] a : to take care of a child while the child's parents are away : BABYSIT • She sits for the neighbors' kids. = She sits for the neighbors. b : to take care of something while the owner is away — usually used in combination • Can you dog-sit [=take care of my dog] for me this weekend? — see also HOUSE-SIT

7 [+ obj] US : to have enough seats for (a certain number of people) • The car sits [=seats] five (people).

8 [no obj] : to pose for a portrait, photograph, etc. • She agreed to sit for the painting/painter.

9 Brit : to take (an examination) [+ obj] Students will sit the exam next week. [no obj] The course prepares students to sit for the exam.

sit around also chiefly Brit sit about [phrasal verb] : to spend time doing nothing useful • He sits around and does nothing while I do all the work. • She just sits around watching television all day.

sit back [phrasal verb] 1 : to get into a comfortable and relaxed position in a chair, seat, etc. • Sit back and enjoy the ride. 2 : to make no effort to do something • He sat back and watched us do all the work. • How can you just sit back and let him insult you like that?

sit by [phrasal verb] : to make no effort to stop something bad or unpleasant from happening • We cannot just sit by and watch him ruin his life. • I won't sit idly by while he ruins his life!

sit down [phrasal verb] 1 : to begin to sit : to put yourself into a sitting position • She called just as we were sitting down to eat. • Come on in and sit down. [=have a seat] • Please sit down and be quiet. — sometimes used figuratively • We need to sit down and figure this problem out. [=we need to give our attention to figuring this problem out] 2 be sitting down : to be in a sitting position • She made sure everyone was sitting down before she began. • I have some shocking news. Are you sitting down? 3 sit (someone) down : to cause (someone) to be seated : to put or get (someone) in a sitting position • He sat the child down. • You need to sit him down and have a talk with him. • She sat herself down on the couch.

sit in [phrasal verb] 1 : to take the place of someone who is not present • The President could not attend the meeting, so the Vice President is sitting in. = The Vice President is sitting in for the President. 2 sit in on (something) : to attend (something, such as a class or meeting) without officially participating • She's been asked to sit in on the meetings. • I would like to sit in on one of your classes.

sit on [phrasal verb] sit on (something) informal : to delay dealing with or talking about (something) • Let's sit on the problem for a while and see if anything changes. • They have been sitting on my insurance claim for months! • Let's just sit on this news for the time being.

sit on your hands : to make no effort to deal with or respond to something • She accused the administration of sitting on its hands while industries violated the law.

sit on your laurels see LAUREL sit out [phrasal verb] sit out (something) or sit (something) out 1 : to stay in a place and wait for (something) to end • Though the movie was very boring, he sat it out to see how it ended. 2 : to not take part in (something) • She sat out several dances/practices. • You can start the game without me. I'm going to sit this one out.

sit pretty informal : to be in a very good or favorable situation • Our team sits pretty at the top of the rankings. — usually used as be sitting pretty • He bought stock in the company early on, and now he is sitting pretty.

sit through [phrasal verb] sit through (something) : to go to (something) and stay until the end • We had to sit through another boring meeting. • I can't believe the kids sat through the whole movie.

sit tight 1 : to not move or change your position : to stay where you are • Sit tight, I'll go get help. 2 : to not change your situation : to stay in the same situation • This isn't a good time to sell a house. Let's just sit tight and see if the market improves.

sit up [phrasal verb] 1 : to stay awake until late at night • They sat up talking until almost dawn. 2 : to sit with your back very straight • Quit slouching and sit up (straight). 3 sit up or sit (someone) up : to move or help (someone) to move into a sitting position • He sat up in bed. • She sat the child up.

sit up and take notice : to suddenly pay attention to (someone or something) • The news made them sit up and take notice.

sit well/comfortably (etc.) ♦ If something does not sit well/comfortably (etc.) with you, you do not like it. • The decision didn't sit well with him. • That attitude doesn't sit comfortably with me.

si·tar /sɪˈtɑ:/ noun, pl -tars [count] : a musical instrument from India that is like a guitar and that has a long neck and a round body sit·com /ˈsɪt,kɑ:m/ noun, pl -coms [count, noncount] : a show that is on television regularly and that is about a group of characters who are involved in different funny situations — called also situation comedy

¹ sit-down /ˈsɪtˈdaʊn/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : done or used while sitting down • a sit-down job/interview • a sit-down lawn mower

2 a : served to people who are sitting down at a table • Will the reception be a sit-down dinner or a buffet? b : serving sit-down meals • a sit-down restaurant

² sit-down /ˈsɪtˈdaʊn/ noun, pl -downs

1 [count] : a strike or protest in which a group of people sit down to block a road, entrance, etc., and refuse to leave until they are given what they demand • The students staged a sit-down. — often used before another noun • a sit-down strike/protest

2 [count] chiefly US : a meeting held to talk about a problem or disagreement • The group arranged a sit-down with city officials.

3 [singular] Brit : a short rest while sitting down • I need a sit-down and a cup of tea.

¹ site /ˈsaɪt/ noun, pl sites [count]

- 1 : the place where something (such as a building) is, was, or will be located • Hard hats must be worn on the construction site. • They visited the site of their future house. • The company has chosen a new site for its office building.
- 2 : a place where something important has happened • the site of the battle • Federal investigators combed through the crash site.
- 3 : a place that is used for a particular activity • an archaeological site • a nuclear test site
- 4 : WEB SITE
- 2 site verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition sites; sit-ed; sit-ing [+ obj] formal : to place or build (something) in a particular location — usually used as (be) sited • The office building will be sited on this lot.
- sit-in /'sit,ɪn/ noun, pl -ins [count] : a strike or protest in which people sit or stay in a place and refuse to leave until they are given what they demand • The activists staged a sit-in at the State House to protest the treatment of prisoners.
- sit-ter /'sitə/ noun, pl -ters [count]
- 1 chiefly US : a person who takes care of a child while the child's parents are away : BABYSITTER • They hired a sitter so they could go out.
- 2 : a person who poses for a portrait or photograph
- 1 sit-ting /'sitɪŋ/ noun, pl -tings [count]
- 1 : a period of time during which someone sits and does a particular activity • I got through the book in one sitting.
- 2 : a period of time when a person poses for a portrait or photograph • He finished the portrait in one sitting.
- 3 : a time when a meal is served to a number of people at the same time • We'll eat at the second sitting. • We have reservations for the 5:30 sitting.
- 4 : a formal meeting of a court of law, a legislature, etc. • a sitting of the legislature
- 2 sitting adj, always used before a noun
- 1 : currently holding an office • a sitting President • a sitting member of Parliament
- 2 : used in or for sitting • a sitting position
- 3 : easily hit • a sitting target
- sitting duck noun, pl ~ ducks [count] : a person or thing that is easy to hit, attack, trick, etc. • The tourists were sitting ducks for local thieves.
- sitting room noun, pl ~ rooms [count] : LIVING ROOM
- sitting tenant noun, pl ~ -ants [count] Brit : a person who is living in a rented house or apartment and has the legal right to stay there
- sit-u-ate /'sɪtʃə,weɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] formal : to place (someone or something) in a particular location • They decided to situate the new office building near the airport. • We situated ourselves in the seats nearest the exit. — often used figuratively • You need to situate the events in the proper historical context.
- situated adj, formal
- 1 : located in a particular place • The building is situated in the bad part of town. • Situated above the valley, the house offers beautiful views. • beautifully/ideally/well situated
- 2 : in a particular living situation • My parents are not rich, but they're comfortably situated.
- sit-u-a-tion /'sɪtʃə'weɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count]
- 1 : all of the facts, conditions, and events that affect someone or something at a particular time and in a particular place • He's in a bad/difficult/dangerous situation. • You may find yourself in a situation where you lose control of the vehicle. • How is your financial situation? • I'm worried about the current political/economic situation. • I've been in your situation [=position] before, so I think I can help you. • My parents are retired and in a good situation.
- 2 : an important or sudden problem • I have a situation that I have to deal with at the moment.
- 3 somewhat formal + old-fashioned : a place or location • The house is in a wonderful situation overlooking the valley.
- 4 old-fashioned : JOB 1 • She found a situation as a governess.
- situation comedy noun, pl ~ -dies [count] : SITCOM
- sit-up /'sɪt,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] : an exercise in which you lie on your back and use your stomach muscles to raise the top part of your body to a sitting position • She does 50 sit-ups every morning. — compare 2 CRUNCH 4
- six /'sɪks/ noun, pl sixes
- 1 [count] : the number 6
- 2 [count] : the sixth in a set or series • the six of hearts
- 3 [noncount] : six o'clock • "What time is it?" "It's six." • I leave each day at six.
- at sixes and sevens* chiefly Brit, informal : disorganized and confused • The change left everyone at sixes and sevens. • Everything will be at sixes and sevens until our computer system is fixed.

hit/knock (someone) for six Brit, informal : to have an unpleasant and shocking effect on (someone) • The news of the accident really hit me for six.

six of one, half (a) dozen of the other (US) or chiefly Brit six of one and half a dozen of the other informal — used to say that you do not see any real difference between two possible choices • "Which do you prefer?" "I don't care; it's six of one, half a dozen of the other."

— six adj • six possibilities/hours — six pronoun • Six (of them) will be coming tonight.

six-figure adj, always used before a noun : in the hundreds of thousands : totaling 100,000 or more but less than one million • a six-figure income/salary six-fold /'sɪks,fəʊld/ adj : six times as great or as many • a sixfold increase — six-fold /'sɪks'fəʊld/ adv • Membership has increased six-fold.

six-gun /'sɪks,gʌn/ noun, pl -guns [count] : SIX-SHOOTER six-pack /'sɪks,pæk/ noun, pl -packs [count]

1 : a group of six cans or bottles sold together • We bought/drank a six-pack. • a six-pack of soda/beer

2 informal : a group of strong and well-shaped muscles that can be seen on a person's stomach • Check out his six-pack. • He has six-pack abs.

six-pence /'sɪkspəns/ noun, pl sixpence or six-penc-es [count] : a coin formerly used in Britain that was worth six pennies six-shoot-er /'sɪks,ʃu:tə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a type of gun (called a revolver) that can hold six bullets — used especially to describe guns used in the old American West • a cowboy's six-shooter — called also six-gun

six-teen /,sɪk'sti:n/ noun, pl -teens [count] : the number 16

— sixteen adj • sixteen years — sixteen pronoun • Sixteen (of them) will be coming tonight. — sixteenth /,sɪk'sti:nθ/ noun, pl -teenth [count] • I'll see you on the sixteenth of April. • The bill is due on the sixteenth (of the month). • one sixteenth of the total — sixteenth adj • The paintings were made in the sixteenth century. • He finished in sixteenth place. — sixteenth adv • She finished sixteenth in the race. • the nation's sixteenth largest city sixteenth note noun, pl ~ notes [count] US : a musical note equal in time to 1/16 of a whole note — called also (Brit) semiquaver

1 sixth /'sɪksθ/ noun, pl sixths

1 [singular] : the number six in a series • I'll be flying in on the sixth. [=the sixth day of the month] • He got a base hit in the sixth. [=the sixth inning]

2 [count] : one of six equal parts of something • Only about a sixth of the town voted for her.

2 sixth adj : occupying the number six position in a series • on the sixth day • the book's sixth edition • I finished in sixth place in the competition.

— sixth adv • She finished sixth in the race. • the nation's sixth largest city sixth form noun [singular] Brit : the two final years of secondary school in Britain for students aged 16 to 18

— sixth-former noun, pl -mers [count] Brit

sixth form college noun, pl ~ -leges [count] Brit : a school in Britain providing education for students aged 16 to 18 sixth sense noun [singular] : a special ability to know something that cannot be learned by using the five senses (such as sight or hearing) • She claimed to have a sixth sense for knowing when someone was about to call her.

six-ty /'sɪksti/ noun, pl six-ties

1 [count] : the number 60

2 sixties [plural] a : the numbers ranging from 60 to 69 b : a set of years ending in digits ranging from 60 to 69 • She likes music from the sixties. [=from 1960 to 1969] • He retired when he was in his sixties.

— six-ti-eth /'sɪkstɪjəθ/ noun, pl -eths [count] • one sixtieth of the total — sixtieth adj • his sixtieth birthday — sixty adj • sixty books — sixty pronoun • Sixty (of them) arrived this morning.

siz-able or size-able /'saɪzəbəl/ adj : fairly large • a sizable contribution/donation • a sizable portion/percentage/proportion of the population • He won by a sizable margin.

— siz-ably /'saɪzəbli/ adv, chiefly US • Costs have increased sizably.

1size /'saɪz/ noun, pl sizes

1 a : the total amount of physical space that a person or thing occupies : how large or small someone or something is [count] The size of the box is 12 inches long, 6 inches wide, and 5 inches tall. • The bug was about the size of a dime. • The twins are the same size. [=height] • The tomatoes haven't quite reached their full size. • The house is a good size. • pieces of wood in all shapes and sizes • televisions in large and small sizes [noncount] The cars are similar in size. b : the total number of people or things in a group [count] I was impressed by the size of the audience. • The size of the population keeps increasing. [noncount] There is a big difference in size between 50 people and a hundred! c [noncount] : the very large size of something • It's hard to imagine the canyon's size until you see it in person. • You should have seen the size of the shark they caught!

2 [noncount] : a specific size • The lumber can be cut to size. [=cut to the specific size you need]

3 : one of a series of standard measurements in which clothing, shoes, etc., are made. [count] What is your shoe size? • The dress is a size 12. • Do you have this dress in a larger size? • She's a size six. [=the clothes that fit her are size six] [noncount] Try this shoe on for size. [=try this shoe on to see if it is the correct size] down to size ♦ If people cut/bring (etc.) you down to size, they make you realize that you are not as powerful and important as you thought you were. • He thinks he's so smart! I wish someone would cut him down to size.

that's about the size of it informal — used to say that what has been stated about a situation is correct • "So there's no chance of getting finished on time?" "That's about the size of it, I'm afraid."

— compare ⁴SIZE

2size verb sizes; sized; siz-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (something) a particular size • The jeweler sized the ring (up/down) to fit her finger.

2 : to arrange or classify (things) in different groups according to size — usually used as (be) sized • Men's pants are sized in inches.

size up [phrasal verb] size (something or someone) up or size up (something or someone) informal : to consider (something or someone) in order to form an opinion or conclusion • The news media has been sizing the candidates up. • She quickly sized up the situation.

— compare ⁵SIZE

3 size adj : having a specified size — used in combination • a small-size dog • a decent-size house

4 size noun [noncount] : SIZING — compare ¹SIZE

5 size verb sizes; sized; siz-ing [+ obj] : to cover (something, such as paper) with a sticky substance (called sizing) in order to make it stiff or smooth or to attach something else to it — compare ²SIZE sized /'saɪzd/ adj : having a specified size — used in combination • a small-sized dog • a modest-sized apartment sizing noun [noncount] : a sticky substance that is used to make a material (such as paper) stiff or smooth or to attach something (such as wallpaper) to a surface — called also size

siz-zle /'sɪzl/ verb siz-zles; siz-zled; siz-zling [no obj]

1 : to make a hissing sound like the sound water makes when it hits hot metal • bacon sizzling in the pan

2 chiefly US, informal : to be very exciting, romantic, etc. • Their romance sizzled throughout the whole summer. • The book sizzles with excitement.

— sizzle noun [singular] • I heard the sizzle of frying bacon.

siz-zler /'sɪzlə/ noun, pl -zlers [count] US, informal

1 : a very hot day • It looks like tomorrow's going to be another sizzler.

2 : something that is very exciting, thrilling, sexy, etc. • a sizzler of a movie sizzling adj, chiefly US, informal

1 : very hot • a sizzling summer

2 : very exciting, romantic, etc. • a sizzling love affair

ska /'ska:/ noun [noncount] : a type of fast popular music that combines elements of traditional Caribbean rhythms and jazz skank /'skæŋk/ noun, pl skanks [count] chiefly US, informal + impolite : a person and especially a woman who is very sexually active or dresses in an overly sexual way • She was dressed like a skank.

— skanky /'skæŋki/ adj skank-i-er; -est

1 skate /'skeɪt/ noun, pl skates [count] : a kind of shoe with blades or wheels on the bottom that allow you to glide or roll on a surface: such as a : ICE SKATE b : ROLLER SKATE c : IN-LINE SKATE get/put your skates on Brit, informal — used to tell someone to hurry

— compare ³SKATE

2skate verb skates; skat-ed; skat-ing

1 : to move or glide over a surface on skates [no obj] hockey players skating into position • Couples skated around the rink. [+ obj] She skated an excellent program in the competition.

2 [no obj] : to ride or perform tricks on a skateboard • We skate at the park.

3 [no obj] : to move or glide quickly along a surface • The bugs skated along the surface of the water.

skate over/around [phrasal verb] skate over/around (something) : to avoid talking about (something) especially because it is difficult to talk about or embarrassing • He skated over the issue/question.

— skat-er /'skeɪtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • She's a very good skater. • Olympic ice skaters

3 skate noun, pl skates [count, noncount] : a type of fish that has a flat, wide body and a long narrow tail — compare ¹SKATE

1 skate-board /'skeɪt,bɔ:d/ noun, pl -boards [count] : a short board that is on wheels and that a person stands on to move along a surface or to perform tricks

2 skateboard verb -boards; -board-ed; -board-ing [no obj] : to ride or perform tricks on a skateboard • He skateboards to school every day.

— skate-board-er /'skeɪt,bɔ:də/ noun, pl -board-ers [count]

— skateboarding noun [noncount] • Skateboarding is not allowed in the parking lot.

skate park noun, pl ~ parks [count] chiefly US : a place with special structures and surfaces on which people can roller-skate or skateboard skating noun [noncount] : the activity or sport of gliding on skates or a skateboard • No skating is allowed in the parking lot. • We used to go skating on the pond every winter.

skating rink noun, pl ~ rinks [count] : an area or place that is used for skating ske-dad-dle /ski'dæd/ verb -dad-dles; -dad-dled; -dad-dling [no obj] informal + humorous : to leave a place very quickly • I've got to skedaddle or I'll be late.

skeet shooting /'ski:t-/ noun [noncount] US : the sport of shooting at targets (called clay pigeons) that are thrown in the air skein /'skeɪn/ noun, pl skeins [count] : a long piece of yarn or thread that is loosely wound — compare HANK

skel-e-tal /'skelətəl/ adj

1 technical : of or relating to a skeleton • skeletal muscles • the skeletal system • The archaeologist found skeletal remains.

2 : very thin • She was skeletal after her illness.

1 skel-e-ton /'skelətən/ noun, pl -tons [count]

skateboard

1 a : the structure of bones that supports the body of a person or animal • They found the fossil skeleton of a mastodon.
b : a set or model of all the bones in the body of a person • He hung a plastic skeleton on the door for Halloween. — see picture at HUMAN

2 : a very thin person or animal • She was a skeleton after her illness.

3 a : the frame of a building • Only the charred skeleton of the house remained after the fire. b : a basic outline of a plan, piece of writing, etc. • We saw a skeleton of the report before it was published. • a skeleton draft skeletons in the/your closet or Brit skeletons in the/your cupboard informal : something bad or embarrassing that happened in your past and that is kept secret • He asked if she had any skeletons in her closet that might affect her political campaign.

2 skeleton adj : having the smallest possible number of people who can get a job done • a skeleton crew/staff

skeleton key noun, pl ~ keys [count] : a key that is made to open many different locks

skep·tic (US) or Brit scep·tic /'skeptɪk/ noun, pl -tics [count] : a person who questions or doubts something (such as a claim or statement) • Skeptics have pointed out flaws in the researchers' methods. • You can believe in ghosts if you like, but I'm still a skeptic. : a person who often questions or doubts things • He is a skeptic and a cynic.

skep·ti·cal (US) or Brit scep·ti·cal /'skeptɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or expressing doubt about something (such as a claim or statement) • She's highly skeptical of/about the researchers' claims. • I'm skeptical that he can win. [=I doubt he can win] • He says he can win, but I remain skeptical. • When I said I'd finished my homework early, Mom looked skeptical.

— skep·ti·cal·ly (US) or Brit scep·ti·cal·ly /'skeptɪkli/ adv • People regarded the claims skeptically. • She looked at me skeptically.

skep·ti·cism (US) or Brit scep·ti·cism /'skeptə,sɪzəm/ noun : an attitude of doubting the truth of something (such as a claim or statement) [noncount] She regarded the researcher's claims with skepticism. [singular] It's good to maintain a healthy skepticism about fad diets.

1 sketch /'sketʃ/ noun, pl sketch-es [count]

1 : a quick, rough drawing that shows the main features of an object or scene • He made/drew a sketch of his house.

2 : a short description of something • He wrote up a sketch of the plot. • There is a biographical sketch of the author on the book's back cover. • She gave us a thumbnail sketch [=short description] of the movie's plot.

3 : a short, funny performance • a comedy sketch

2 sketch verb sketches; sketched; sketch-ing

1 : to make a quick, rough drawing of (something) [+ obj] He sketched the trees outside his window. [no obj] He likes to sit outside and sketch. — often + out • He sketched out the house's floor plans.

2 [+ obj] : to describe (something) briefly • She sketched the plan for us. — often + out • She sketched out the company's financial situation.

sketch in [phrasal verb] sketch in (something) or sketch (something) in : to add (something, such as details) to a drawing, description, etc. • She looked over her picture and then sketched in a few more clouds. • The author decided to sketch in some minor characters.

sketch·book /'sketʃ,bʊk/ noun, pl -books [count] : a book filled with paper that is used for drawing sketch·pad /'sketʃ,pæd/ noun, pl -pads [count] : SKETCH-BOOK sketchy /'sketʃi/ adj sketch-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : not complete or clear • The details about the accident are still a little sketchy. • sketchy information/reports • I have only a sketchy idea of how it works.

2 : done quickly without many details • a sketchy drawing

3 US, informal : likely to be bad or dangerous • a sketchy neighborhood

— sketch-i·ly /'sketʃəli/ adv • a sketchily drawn figure

— sketch-i·ness /'sketʃɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

skew /'skju:/ verb skews; skewed; skew-ing [+ obj]

1 : to change (something) so that it is not true or accurate • They were accused of skewing the facts to fit their theory. • A few unusual cases may have skewed the data. [=may have made the data show something that is not normal or typical]

2 : to make (something) favor a particular group of people in a way that is unfair • He accused them of skewing the rules in their favor. — usually used as (be) skewed; usually + toward • The tax cuts are skewed toward the wealthy.

skewed adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not true or accurate • skewed facts • The ratio seems skewed.

2 : not straight • The line is skewed.

1 skew·er /'skju:wə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a long pointed piece of metal or wood that is pushed through pieces of food to keep them together or hold them in place for cooking

2 skewer verb -ers; -ered; -ering [+ obj]

1 : to push a skewer through (food) • skewer a marshmallow

2 chiefly US, informal : to criticize (someone or something) very harshly • Critics skewered the movie.

skew-whiff /'skju:'wɪf/ adj [more ~; most ~] Brit, informal : not straight : CROOKED • a slightly skew-whiff door — often used figuratively • Their plans went a little skew-whiff.

1 ski /'ski:/ noun, pl skis [count]

1 : one of a pair of long narrow pieces of wood, metal, or plastic that curve upward slightly in front, are attached to shoes, and are used for gliding over snow

2 : WATER SKI

2 ski verb skies; skied; ski-ing : to move or glide on skis over snow or water [no obj] He loves to ski. [+ obj] I have skied that mountain before. — see also WATER-SKI

— ski·er noun, pl -ers [count] • My brother is a very good skier. • Skiers love fresh snow.

3 ski adj, always used before a noun : of, relating to, or used in skiing • ski equipment/goggles • a ski slope • She is on her school's ski team. • a ski instructor • ski resorts/lodges

ski boot noun, pl ~ boots [count] : a boot or shoe made to be fastened to skis — see picture at SKI

1 skid /'skɪd/ verb skids; skid-ded; skid-ding [no obj] : to slide along a road or other surface in an uncontrolled way • The truck skidded on/across the icy road. • The car skidded off the road and into the gully. • He slammed on the brakes, and the car skidded to a halt. • I skidded on the ice and fell.

2 skid noun, pl skids [count]

1 : a sudden, uncontrolled sliding movement • The car hit a patch of ice and went into a skid. • The police measured the skid marks [=marks made by a skidding vehicle] on the road.

2 : one of a pair of long narrow parts on which a helicopter or airplane rests — usually plural • the skids of a helicopter

3 US, sports : a series of losses that happen one after the other : a losing streak • This victory ends a five-game skid.

4 : PALLET 1 • They loaded the packages onto a skid.

hit the skids informal : to begin to fail or get worse very suddenly and quickly • After he was injured his career hit the skids. • The stock market has hit the skids.

on the skids informal : failing or getting worse : in a bad state or situation that is likely to result in failure • The company is on the skids. • Her marriage was on the skids.

put the skids under Brit, informal : to make (something or someone) likely or certain to fail • He scored the goal that put the skids under our hopes for victory.

skid row noun [noncount] chiefly US, informal : a poor part of a town or city where people who are homeless or who drink too much often go on skid row chiefly US, informal : having no money, job, home, etc., and not able to take care of yourself • You'll end up on skid row if you don't stop drinking so much.

skiff /'skɪf/ noun, pl skiffs [count] : a small, light boat that is usually for only one person skiing noun [noncount] : the activity or sport of gliding on skis • cross-country/downhill skiing • Skiing is my favorite winter activity. • We are planning to go skiing tomorrow.

ski jump noun, pl ~ jumps [count] : a large, steep platform that slopes downward but curves upward slightly at the end so that skiers can glide down it and jump off the end — ski jumper noun, pl ~ -ers [count] — ski jumping noun [noncount] • He won a gold medal in Olympic ski jumping.

skilful Brit spelling of SKILLFUL ski lift noun, pl ~ lifts [count] : a series of seats or handles that are attached to a moving cable and that are used to carry skiers up a mountain skill /'skɪl/ noun, pl skills : the ability to do something that comes from training, experience, or practice [noncount] Poker is a game of luck and skill. • I was impressed by her skill at writing. = I was impressed by her skill as a writer. • The work is difficult and requires a lot of skill. [count] Cooking is a useful skill. • He has excellent social skills. • reading and writing skills — see also PEOPLE SKILLS

skilled /'skɪld/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : having the training, knowledge, and experience that is needed to do something : having a lot of skill • skilled workers • a very skilled and talented writer • He is skilled at cooking.

2 always used before a noun : requiring training • Carpentry is a skilled trade. — opposite UNSKILLED skil-let /'skɪlət/ noun, pl -lets [count] chiefly US : FRYING PAN

skill-ful (US) or Brit skil-ful /'skɪlfəl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : having the training, knowledge, and experience that is needed to do something well : having a lot of skill • a skillful artist • He is skillful at diplomacy. • an artist skillful in the use of color

2 : showing or requiring skill • the skillful manner in which the doctor and nurses treated the patient • These issues require skillful handling.

— skill-ful-ly (US) or Brit skil-ful-ly adv • The furniture was skillfully made. • The manager handled the problem skillfully. — skill-ful-ness (US) or Brit skil-ful-ness noun [noncount] • the skillfulness of a craftsman

skim /'skɪm/ verb skims; skimmed; skim-ming

1 [+ obj] : to remove a layer of something from the surface of a liquid • I skimmed the fat from the broth. = I skimmed the broth to remove the fat. • He skimmed the leaves from the pool. • The cream is skimmed from the milk. • The milk is skimmed before it is bottled. — see also SKIM MILK

2 : to look over or read (something) quickly especially to find the main ideas [+ obj] She only skimmed the reading assignment. [no obj] She only skimmed through/over the reading assignment.

3 [+ obj] Brit : to throw (a flat stone) along the surface of water so that it bounces • He is really good at skimming [(US) skipping] stones.

4 : to move quickly or lightly along, above, or near the surface of something [no obj] The ducks skimmed across/over the water before landing. [+ obj] The ducks skimmed the surface of the pond before landing.

skim off [phrasal verb] skim off (something) or skim (something) off : to take (something valuable) for yourself out of something else • He skimmed off some of the profits.

ski mask noun, pl ~ masks [count] : a knitted fabric mask that covers your head, has openings for your eyes, mouth, and sometimes your nose, and is worn especially by skiers for protection from the cold skim-mer /'skɪmə/ noun, pl -mers [count] : a spoon with holes in it that is used by cooks for skimming things skim milk noun [noncount] chiefly US : milk from which all the cream and fat has been removed — called also (chiefly Brit) skimmed milk

skimp /'skɪmp/ verb skimps; skimped; skimp-ing [no obj] : to spend less time, money, etc., on something than is needed • Parents shouldn't skimp when it comes to their child's safety. — often + on • Don't skimp on sleep. • The book doesn't skimp on details. [=the book provides plenty of details] • The roof is already leaking because the builder skimped on materials. [=the builder bought cheap materials]

skimpy /'skɪmpi/ adj skimp-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : very small in size or amount • a skimpy portion • skimpy evidence • a skimpy dress [=a dress which does not cover very much of the body]

— skimp-i-ly /'skɪmpəli/ adv • skimpily [=scantly] clad/dressed — skimp-i-ness /'skɪmpɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • I dislike the skimpiness of that restaurant's portions.

¹skin /'skɪn/ noun, pl skins

1 : the natural outer layer of tissue that covers the body of a person or animal [noncount] I have dry skin. • She has pale/dark/fair skin. • the rough skin of a shark • skin creams/lotions • skin cancer • Choose makeup that matches your skin tone. • The horrible things I saw made my skin crawl/creep [=made me feel disgusted, afraid, etc.] [count] These snakes shed their skins once a year.

2 : the skin of an animal that has been removed from the body often with its hair or feathers still attached and that is used to make things (such as clothes) [count] Native Americans had many uses for animal skins. [noncount] His boots are made of alligator skin.

3 : the outer covering of a fruit, vegetable, etc. [count] apple/sausage skins [noncount] Potato skin is very nutritious.

(a) thick/thin skin ✧ If you have (a) thin skin, you are easily upset or offended by the things other people say or do. • He has such a thin skin that he can't even take a little good-natured teasing. If you have (a) thick skin, you are not easily upset or offended by the things other people say and do. • She has pretty thick skin when it comes to criticism. • If you want to perform publicly, you'll need to grow a thicker skin [=become less sensitive to criticism]

by the skin of your teeth informal : only by a small difference in time, space, or amount : just barely • He escaped by the skin of his teeth. [=he just barely escaped] • She only passed the test by the skin of her teeth. [=she almost did not pass the test]

get under your skin informal 1 : to irritate or upset you • She really gets under my skin. 2 : to affect you emotionally even though you do not want or expect to be affected • I used to hate the city, but after a while it kind of got under my skin. [=I grew to like it] • The actress accepted the role because the character really got under her skin.

jump out of your skin informal ✧ If you almost/nearly (etc.) jump out of your skin, you are suddenly surprised or frightened very much by something. • I didn't hear her come in, so I nearly jumped out of my skin when she spoke to me.

no skin off my nose informal — used to say that you do not care or do not have a strong opinion about something • Go if you like—it's no skin off my nose.

save someone's skin see ¹SAVE

skin and bones or skin and bone informal : very thin in a way that is unattractive and unhealthy • After the illness, he was skin and bones. • The starving dog was nothing but skin and bones

— skin-less /'skɪnləs/ adj • skinless chicken breast

²skin verb skins; skinned; skin-ning [+ obj]

1 : to remove the skin of (an animal, fruit, or vegetable) • The hunter skinned the rabbit and prepared it for cooking. • Skin [(more commonly) peel] the tomatoes/peppers.

2 : to scrape or rub off some of the skin from (a body part) • I skinned my knee when I fell.

keep your eyes skinned see ¹EYE skin (someone) alive informal : to punish (someone) severely • Mom is going to skin me alive when she finds out about the broken window.

skin-deep /'skɪn'di:p/ adj : not very deep at all : relating to, affecting, or involving only the surface • Beauty is only skin-deep. • These reforms are more than skin-deep.

skin-dive verb -dives; -dived; -div-ing [no obj] : to swim underwater with special equipment (such as a face mask, snorkel, and flippers) but without a diving suit or air tank • We plan to skin-dive while on vacation.

— skin diver noun, pl ~ -ers [count] — skin diving noun [noncount] • We went skin diving while on vacation.

skin-flint /'skɪn,flɪnt/ noun, pl -flints [count] informal + disapproving : a person who hates to spend money • She is a penny-pinching skinflint.

skin-head /'skɪn,hed/ noun, pl -heads [count] : a person with a shaved head; especially : a young white person who belongs to a gang whose members shave their heads and have racist beliefs skinned /'skɪnd/ adj : having skin of a specified kind — used in combination • pale-skinned • dark-skinned • smooth-skinned

¹skin·ny /'skɪni/ adj skin·ni·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal : very thin or too thin • a skinny actress • skinny arms/legs synonyms see ²LEAN

²skinny noun

the skinny US, informal : the true information about someone or something that is not known by most people • What's the skinny on their supposed breakup? • Give me the inside/straight/real skinny.

skin·ny·dip /'skɪni,dɪp/ verb -dips; -dipped; -dip·ping [no obj] informal : to swim without wearing any clothes • We used to skinny-dip in the lake.

— skinny·dip noun, pl -dips [count] • They went for a skinny-dip in the lake. — skin·ny·dip·per /'skɪni,dɪpə/ noun, pl -pers [count] — skinny·dipping noun [noncount] • Let's go skinny-dipping.

skint /'skɪnt/ adj, Brit, informal : having no money : BROKE • I'm completely skint.

skin·tight /'skɪn'taɪt/ adj : very closely fitted to the body : very tight • a skintight dress

¹skip /'skɪp/ verb skips; skipped; skip·ping

1 [+ obj] : to not do (something that is usual or expected) • He skipped the meeting. [=he didn't go to the meeting] • I skipped breakfast, and now I'm really hungry. • (chiefly US) They got in trouble for skipping school/class. — see also skip bail at ¹BAIL

2 : to not discuss, read, do, or deal with (something) and go instead to the next thing : to pass over or leave out (something) [+ obj] I skipped the boring parts of the book. • If you are having trouble with one of the questions on the test, skip it and come back to it later. • She will skip a grade and go right from the fourth to the sixth grade next September. — often + over • You can skip over the introduction if you want. [no obj] I don't like this song. Let's skip to the next one.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] a : to change quickly from one subject, place, etc., to another • It's hard to understand him when he skips from topic to topic like that. • The movie skips around in time. b ♦ If a CD, DVD, record, etc., skips, it fails to play part of a song or movie properly because it is damaged. • The record keeps skip·ping.

4 [no obj] : to move forward in a light or playful way by taking short, quick steps and jumps • The kids skipped happily down the street.

5 [+ obj] informal : to leave (a place) in a sudden and unexpected way especially to avoid trouble, punishment, etc. • Police are afraid he might try to skip the country. • They skipped town while awaiting trial.

6 US : to throw (a flat stone) along the surface of water so that it bounces [+ obj] She's really good at skipping [=(Brit) skimming] stones. [no obj] I got the rock to skip six times!

7 [no obj] Brit : to jump over a rope that is being swung near the ground for exercise or as a game • The children are outside skipping. [=(US) skipping rope, jumping rope]

heart skips a beat see HEART

skip it chiefly US, informal — used to say that you do not want to do something, talk about something, etc. • I meant to . . . oh, skip it. It's not important anyway.

skip out (US) or Brit skip off [phrasal verb] informal : to leave a place quickly in a secret and improper way • They skipped out before the check arrived. • She skipped out with all the money. — often + on in U.S. English • They skipped out on the bill/check. • She skipped out on me and took all the money.

skip rope see ¹ROPE

²skip noun, pl skips [count]

1 : a short, quick step and jump forward • a quick skip

2 Brit : a large metal container for putting trash in a hop, skip, and (a) jump see ²HOP ski pole noun, pl ~ poles [count] : one of two long sticks that are used to control your movements and balance while you are skiing — see picture at SKI

¹skip·per /'skɪpə/ noun, pl -pers [count] informal

1 : the captain of a ship or boat

2 informal : someone who leads a group; especially : the manager of a baseball team

²skipper verb -pers; -pered; -per·ing [+ obj] informal

1 : to be the captain of (a ship or boat) • The boat was skip·pered by a skilled veteran sailor.

2 : to be the person who leads or manages (a team) • He skip·pered the team to their latest World Series win.

skipping rope noun, pl ~ ropes [count] Brit : JUMP ROPE

¹skir·mish /'skɜːmɪʃ/ noun, pl -mish·es [count]

1 : a brief and usually unplanned fight during a war • Skir·mishes broke out between rebel groups. • Violent skirmishes with the enemy continue despite talks of peace.

2 : a minor or brief argument or disagreement • a political skirmish

²skirmish verb -mishes; -mished; -mish·ing [no obj] : to be involved in a skirmish • Rebel groups are skirmishing with military forces. • The presidential candidates skirmished over their economic plans.

¹skirt /'skɜːt/ noun, pl skirts [count]

1 a : a piece of clothing worn by women and girls that hangs from the waist down • She was wearing a short/long skirt. — see color picture on page C14; see also MINISKIRT b : the part of a dress, coat, etc., that hangs from the waist down • The skirt of her coat got caught in the car door. — sometimes plural • He gathered up the skirts of his robe as he climbed the stairs. • a dress with full skirts

2 : an outer covering that hangs down to protect something • They put a protective skirt around the base of the machine.

²skirt verb skirts; skirt·ed; skirt·ing

1 : to avoid (something) especially because it is difficult or will cause problems [+ obj] The mayor skirted the issue by saying that a committee was looking into the problem. • They tried to skirt the new regulations. [no obj] He tried to skirt around the question.

2 : to lie or go along the edge of (something) [+ obj] Pine trees skirt the northern edge of the pond. [no obj] The road skirts around the lake. • We skirted around the edge of the city.

skirting board noun, pl ~ boards [count, noncount] Brit : BASEBOARD — called also (Brit) skirting skit /'skɪt/ noun, pl skits [count] : a short, funny story or performance • One of the funniest skits in the show was about cheerleading.

skit·ter /'skɪtə/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition -ters; -tered; -ter·ing [no obj] : to move quickly and lightly along a surface • Dry leaves skittered over the sidewalk. • Mice skittered across the floor.

skit·tish /'skɪtɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 of an animal : easily frightened or excited • a skittish horse

2 : nervous or fearful about doing something • We've been skittish about taking on such a large mortgage. • skittish consumers/investors

3 chiefly US : tending to change often : not dependable or stable • a skittish stock market

— skit·tish·ly adv — skit·tish·ness noun [noncount]

skit·tle /'skɪtl/ noun, pl skit·tles

1 skittles [noncount] : a British game played by rolling a wooden ball toward a set of objects in order to knock over as many objects as possible

2 [count] : one of the objects that a player tries to knock over in a game of skittles

skive /'skaɪv/ verb skives; skived; skiv·ing Brit, informal : to avoid school or work by staying away or by leaving without permission — often + off [no obj] He works for his mother and feels he can skive off whenever he feels like it. [+ obj] She skived off school twice last month.

— skiv·er /'skaɪvə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

Skiv·vies /'skɪvɪz/ trademark, US — used for men's underwear

skiv·vy /'skɪvi/ noun, pl -vies [count] Brit, informal : a female servant who does work that is dirty and unpleasant • I'm tired of being treated like a skivvy.

skul·dug·gery or skull·dug·gery /'skʌl'dʌɡəri/ noun [noncount] old-fashioned : secret or dishonest behavior or activity • tales of espionage and skulduggery skulk /'skʌlk/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition skulks; skulked; skulk·ing [no obj] : to move or hide in a secret way especially because you are planning to do something bad • A man was skulking around outside. • She skulked into her sister's room.

skull /'skʌl/ noun, pl skulls [count] : the structure of bones that form the head and face of a person or animal • He had a fractured skull. • (informal) You need to get it into/through your thick skull [=you need to realize/understand] that you can't just sit there and expect everyone else to do your work for you! • (informal) He can't seem to get it through his skull that I don't like him. — see picture at HUMAN skull and cross·bones /'skʌlən'krɔːs,bəʊnz/ noun [singular] : a picture of a human skull above two crossed bones that was used on the flags of pirate ships in the past and is now used as a warning label on containers of poisonous or dangerous substances skull-cap /ˈskʌl,kæp/ noun, pl -caps [count]

1 : a small, round cap that fits on top of the head and that is worn especially by Jewish men and Catholic clergymen

2 : a tight-fitting cap that is made of material that stretches

skunk /ˈskʌŋk/ noun, pl skunks [count]

1 : a small black-and-white North American animal that produces a very strong and unpleasant smell when it is frightened or in danger

2 US, informal : a very bad or unpleasant person • Her brother's a low-down, dirty skunk.

skunk

skunk cabbage noun

[noncount] : a North American plant that grows in wet, shady areas and that produces a strong odor

sky /ˈskaɪ/ noun, pl skies : the space over the Earth where the sun, moon, stars, and clouds appear [count] a starry sky • the night/desert sky • There wasn't a cloud in the sky. • Dark clouds moved quickly across the sky. • Hailstones suddenly fell out of the sky. • The sun/moon was high in the sky. • The forecast is for sunny/blue/gray/overcast skies tomorrow. • partly cloudy skies [noncount] a patch of blue sky praise (someone or something) to the skies see ¹PRAISE take to the sky/skies chiefly US : to begin flying • The new airliner will take to the skies next year.

the sky's the limit see ¹LIMIT

— see also PIE IN THE SKY

sky blue noun [noncount] : a pale to light blue color — see color picture on page C2

sky-box /ˈskaɪ,bɔːks/ noun, pl -box-es [count] US : an area with a roof and private seats near the top of a sports stadium sky-cap /ˈskaɪ,kæp/ noun, pl -caps [count] US : a person whose job is to carry people's luggage at an airport sky-div-ing /ˈskaɪ,darvɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the sport of jumping from an airplane and falling through the sky before opening a parachute

— sky-dive /ˈskaɪ,darv/ verb -dives; -dived; -div-ing [no obj] • Have you ever skydived? — sky-div-er noun, pl -ers [count]

¹sky-high /ˈskaɪˈhaɪ/ adj : extremely high • sky-high prices • Her blood pressure is sky-high.

²sky-high adv : to a very high degree, level, or amount • Stock prices rose sky-high. • Rubble was piled sky-high.

sky-lark /ˈskaɪ,lɑːk/ noun, pl -larks [count] : a small bird of Europe, Asia, and northern Africa that sings while it flies sky-light /ˈskaɪ,lart/ noun, pl -lights [count] : a window in the roof of a house or on a ship's deck sky-line /ˈskaɪ,lain/ noun, pl -lines [count] : the outline of buildings, mountains, etc., against the background of the sky • the New York City skyline

¹sky-rock-et /ˈskaɪ,rɔːkət/ verb -ets; -et-ed; -et-ing [no obj] : to increase quickly to a very high level or amount • Costs/Sales have skyrocketed. • skyrocketing prices • His popularity skyrocketed after his latest movie.

²skyrocket noun, pl -ets [count] : ¹ROCKET 3 sky-scraper /ˈskaɪ,skreɪpər/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a very tall building in a city sky-ward /ˈskaɪwəd/ also chiefly Brit sky-wards /ˈskaɪwədz/ adv : toward the sky : up into the sky • Everyone looked skyward as the jets passed by. • The bird soared skyward.

slab /ˈslæb/ noun, pl slabs [count]

1 : a thick, flat piece of a hard material (such as stone or wood) • concrete slabs • slabs of rock

2 : a thick, flat piece of food (such as bread or meat) • a slab of bacon • a thick slab of homemade bread

¹slack /ˈslæk/ adj

1 : not stretched or held in a tight position : LOOSE • slack rope • His broken arm hung slack at his side. • The rope suddenly went slack. • Her jaw went slack [=fell open] in amazement.

2 : not busy : lacking the expected or desired activity • The fall is our slack [=slow] season. • a slack market

3 a : doing something poorly because you are not putting enough care or effort into it • I've been a little slack [=careless] about taking my medication lately. b : done poorly and carelessly • He accused the government of slack supervision of nuclear technology.

— slack-ly adv • Streamers hung slackly from the walls.

— slack-ness noun [noncount] • the slackness of the rope • His slackness at work has been noticed.

²slack noun, pl slacks

1 [noncount] : the part of a rope, chain, etc., that hangs loosely • Take in/up the slack of the rope. — sometimes used figuratively to describe a part of something that is available but not used • We left some slack in the budget so that we can hire more people if we have to.

2 slacks [plural] chiefly US : pants or trousers • He was wearing a white shirt and (a pair of) cotton slacks. • She wore dress slacks and a nice blouse.

give/cut (someone) some slack informal : to treat (someone) in a less harsh or critical way • Would you give/cut me some slack? I'm doing the best I can.

pick/take up the slack : to provide or do something that is missing or not getting done • When he didn't get the pay raise he was expecting, he had to take another job to pick up the slack. [=to make up for the money he was not making] • The manager has to take up the slack when employees don't do their jobs correctly.

³slack verb slacks; slacked; slack-ing [no obj] : to give little or no effort or attention to work • They need to stop slacking and get down to work.

slack off [phrasal verb] 1 : to do something with less effort or energy than you did it with before • I was exercising regularly last summer, but I've been slacking off recently. 2 : to become less active, forceful, etc. • Their business has been slacking off in recent months.

slack-en /ˈslækən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 a [no obj] : to become slower or less active : to slow down • Sales show no sign of slackening. • The wind slackened (off) and the sky cleared. b [+ obj] : to make (something) slower or less active • She slackened her speed/pace [=she slowed down] after she slipped on the ice.

2 : to become less tight or to make (something) less tight : LOOSEN [no obj] As he began to relax, his grip on the steering wheel slackened. [+ obj] He slackened his grip. • The captain ordered us to slacken the sails.

slack-er /ˈslækər/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal : a person who avoids work and responsibilities • The people I work with are a bunch of slackers.

¹slag /ˈslæg/ noun [noncount] : the material that is left when rocks that contain metal are heated to get the metal out • a slag heap [=a large pile of slag] — compare ²SLAG

²slag noun, pl slags [count] Brit slang, offensive : a woman who has many sexual partners — compare ¹SLAG

³slag verb slags; slagged; slag-ging

slag off [phrasal verb] slag (someone) off or slag off (someone) Brit slang : to criticize (someone) harshly • She often slags off other musicians to try to make herself look good.

slain past participle of SLAY

slake /ˈsleɪk/ verb slakes; slaked; slak-ing [+ obj] literary : to provide, do, or have what is required by (something) : SATISFY • trying to slake his curiosity/lust slake your thirst : to cause you to stop feeling thirsty : to quench your thirst • They slaked their thirst with cold water.

sla-lom /ˈslɑːləm/ noun, pl -loms [count, noncount] : a race especially on skis over a winding course that is marked by flags — often used before another noun • a slalom course/race • slalom skiers/racers/skis

¹slam /ˈslæm/ verb slams; slammed; slam-ming

1 : to close (something) in a forceful way that makes a loud noise [+ obj] He slammed the door in my face. • She slammed the drawer shut. [no obj] He stepped inside and let the door slam behind him. • The window slammed shut.

2 [+ obj] : to set or throw (something) in a forceful way that makes a loud noise • In her anger, she slammed the ball against the fence. — usually + down • He slammed the books down on the table and ran outside. • She slammed down the phone.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to hit something with a lot of force • The car slid on the ice and slammed into a tree. • Her arm slammed against the table.

4 [+ obj] informal : to criticize (someone or something) harshly • Her decision is getting slammed in the press. — often + for • Many people have slammed the company for not paying its workers decent wages.

slam on the brakes : to press down hard on the brakes of a car to make it stop suddenly • He slammed on the brakes to avoid hitting the dog.

²slam noun, pl slams [count]

1 a : an act of closing something in a forceful way that makes a loud noise — usually singular • He closed the book with a slam. b : a loud noise that is made when something is closed in a forceful way — usually singular • I heard the slam of a car door in the driveway.

2 chiefly US : a competition in which people read their poetry out loud so that it can be judged by other people • a poetry slam • slam poets

— see also GRAND SLAM

slam dunk noun, pl ~ dunks [count]

1 basketball : ²DUNK

2 US, informal : something that is sure to happen or be successful • The vote proved to be a slam dunk for our side with a 24 to 5 win. • There's no doubt that he's guilty. The case is a slam dunk.

slam-dunk verb -dunks; -dunked; -dunk-ing basketball : to jump high in the air and push (the ball) down through the basket : DUNK [+ obj] He slam-dunked the ball. [no obj] At his height, it's not so hard to slam-dunk.

slam-mer /'slæmə/ noun

the slammer informal : a prison or jail • He got 10 years in the slammer.

¹slan-der /'slændə/ noun, pl -ders

1 [noncount] : the act of making a false spoken statement that causes people to have a bad opinion of someone • She is being sued for slander. • He was a target of slander. — compare LIBEL

2 [count] : a false spoken statement that is made to cause people to have a bad opinion of someone • We've heard countless unsupported slanders about her.

— slan-der-ous /'slændərəs/ adj • slanderous claims/attacks/allegations

²slander verb -ders; -dered; -der-ing [+ obj] : to make a false spoken statement that causes people to have a bad opinion of someone • She was accused of slandering her former boss.

slang /'slæŋ/ noun [noncount] : words that are not considered part of the standard vocabulary of a language and that are used very informally in speech especially by a particular group of people • American slang • local/military/street slang — slang adj • a slang word/expression/term • The word "phat" is slang. — slangy /'slæŋi/ adj • slangy expressions slang-ing match /'slæŋɪŋ-/ noun, pl ~ matches [count] Brit, informal : an angry argument in which people insult each other : SHOUTING MATCH

¹slant /'slænt/ verb slants; slanted; slant-ing

1 : to not be level or straight up and down [no obj] The floor slants [=slopes] down slightly. • a slanting table • His handwriting slants [=leans] to the left. • The sunlight slanted down through the leaves and branches of the trees. [+ obj] She slanted her hat a little to the right.

2 [+ obj] : to present (something, such as a news story) in a way that favors a particular group, opinion, etc. • They deliberately slanted the story to make themselves look good. — often used as (be) slanted • The media coverage of the strike was slanted against the union.

— slanted adj [more ~; most ~] • Her attic bedroom has slanted ceilings. • a slanted roof/floor • The news program claimed to be objective but was very slanted. [=biased]

²slant noun, pl slants

1 [singular] : a direction, line, or surface that is not level or straight up and down • The computer keyboard is positioned at a slant so that typing is more comfortable for the wrists. • He sliced the carrots on a/the slant.

2 [count] : a way of thinking about, describing, or discussing something — usually singular • The book offers a new slant on the history of the country. • The latest evidence puts an entirely different slant on the case. • His writings have a liberal/religious slant.

¹slap /'slæp/ verb slaps; slapped; slap-ping

1 a [+ obj] : to hit (someone or something) with the front or back of your open hand • She slapped him across/in the face. • She slapped his face. • He slapped me on the back and said "Good job!" • He called the dog by slapping his hand against his thigh. b : to hit something with a sound like the sound made when your hand slaps something [no obj] Waves were slapping against the side of the boat. [+ obj] Gentle waves slapped the side of the raft.

2 [+ obj] : to put (something) on a surface quickly or forcefully — + down or on • He slapped the book down on the desk. • She slapped down her cards and shouted "I win!" • He slapped a fresh coat of paint on (the wall). • I grabbed a slice of bread and slapped on some peanut butter.

3 [+ obj] sports : to hit (something) with a forceful swing of your arms, hands, etc. • (ice hockey) He slapped the puck into the net. • (baseball) She slapped a single to right field.

slap around [phrasal verb] slap (someone) around also slap around (someone) informal : to hit or slap (someone) many times • The children screamed when they saw him slapping her around. [=beating her up] slap on [phrasal verb] slap (something) on or slap on (something) informal : to add (something, such as an extra charge) to an amount • The hotel slapped an extra $100 on his bill to cover the damage. • The judge slapped on an additional fine. — see also ¹SLAP 2 (above)

slap together [phrasal verb] slap together (something) or slap (something) together informal : to create (something) by putting parts together in a quick or careless way • I slapped a sandwich together as I was running out the door. • The company slapped together a Web site and then waited for the customers to come pouring in.

slap with [phrasal verb] slap (someone) with (something) US, informal : to punish (someone) with (a fine, lawsuit, etc.) • They were slapped with a lawsuit. • The judge slapped the company with a fine for polluting the river.

²slap noun, pl slaps [count]

1 : a hit with the front or back of your open hand • I was so angry that I felt like giving him a slap.

2 : a loud sound made when something hits a flat surface • I could hear the slap of the waves against the side of the boat. a slap in the face : a surprising act that offends or insults someone • Her decision to leave the company to work for our competitors was a slap in the face.

a slap on the back : the act of slapping someone's back usually to express praise or approval • He gave me a slap on the back and said "Good job!"

a slap on the wrist : a mild punishment that is given to someone who should be punished more severely • Even though he was proven guilty, he got away with a slap on the wrist. • The fine was just a slap on the wrist.

³slap adv, informal : exactly or directly • I walked slap into the post. • Her apartment is slap in the middle of the city. = Her apartment is slap bang in the middle of the city.

slap-dash /'slæp,dæʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : quick and careless • slapdash repairs • The writing is slapdash.

slap-happy /'slæp,hæpi/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal

1 : PUNCH-DRUNK • a slaphappy boxer • We were all a bit slaphappy after staying up all night to finish the report.

2 : happy and careless • She has a slaphappy attitude about her work.

slap shot noun, pl ~ shots [count] ice hockey : a shot that is made by swinging your stick with a lot of force slap-stick /'slæp,stɪk/ noun [noncount] : comedy that involves physical action (such as falling down or hitting people) — often used before another noun • slapstick comedy slap-up /'slæp,ʌp/ adj, always used before a noun, Brit, informal, of a meal : excellent and very large • a slap-up dinner

¹slash /'slæʃ/ verb slashes; slashed; slash-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to make a long cut in (something) with a knife or other sharp weapon • Someone slashed his car's tires. • He threatened to slash the man's throat. b : to make (a path) by cutting plants • She slashed a path through the underbrush. • They slashed their way through the jungle.

2 : to reduce (something) by a large amount • The company has slashed prices to increase sales. • Funding for the program was slashed.

slash at [phrasal verb] slash at (someone or something) : to attack (someone or something) violently with a knife or other sharp weapon • He slashed at me with a knife.

²slash noun, pl slashes

1 [count] : a thin and usually long cut made with a knife or other sharp object • There was a horrible slash on his arm.

2 [count] : a quick movement with a sharp knife or weapon to cut someone or something • He cut my cheek with a quick slash of the knife.

3 [count] : a patch or line of bright light or color • slashes of sunlight on a wall • a dark painting with a slash of red

4 [count] : the mark / that is used to mean "or" (as in and/or), "and or" (as in bottles/cans), or "per" (as in kilometers/hour) or as a division sign in fractions (as in $\frac{3}{4}$) — called also slash mark, (Brit) oblique

5 [singular] Brit slang : an act of urinating • He got out of the car to have/take a slash.

slash-and-burn adj

1 : done by cutting down and burning trees and plants in order to clear an area of land and grow crops on it for usually a brief time • slash-and-burn agriculture

2 : using extremely harsh methods : RUTHLESS • slash-and-burn tactics/politics

slash-er /'slæʃə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who kills people with a knife or other sharp weapon • a slasher movie/film [=a movie in which many people are violently murdered by a slasher] slat /'slæt/ noun, pl slats [count] : a thin, narrow strip of wood, plastic, or metal • the slats of a venetian blind • The fence has two broken slats.

– slat-ted /'slætəd/ adj • slatted blinds

¹slate /'sleɪt/ noun, pl slates

1 [noncount] : a type of hard rock that splits easily into thin layers • Some school blackboards are made of slate.

2 [count] : a small sheet of slate in a wooden frame that was used in schools in the past for writing on with chalk — see also BLANK SLATE

3 [count] : a piece of slate that is used with others to cover a roof or wall • roofing slates • The house has a slate roof.

4 [count] US : a list of people who are trying to win an election • The party has fielded an impressive slate of candidates this year.

clean slate see ¹CLEAN

wipe the slate clean see ¹WIPE

²slate verb slates; slat-ed; slat-ing [+ obj] chiefly US : to arrange or plan for something to happen, someone to be chosen, etc. — usually used as (be) slated • The new art museum is slated [=is scheduled] to open next spring. • She is slated to become the company's next president. — often + for • Her latest album is slated for release in July. — compare ³SLATE

³slate verb slates; slated; slating [+ obj] Brit, informal : to criticize (someone or something) very harshly • The film/book was slated by most critics. — compare ²SLATE

slate blue noun [noncount] : a grayish-blue color — see color picture on page C2

– slate blue adj

slate gray (US) or Brit slate grey noun [noncount] : a bluish-gray color — see color picture on page C2

– slate gray (US) or Brit slate grey adj

slath-er /'slæðə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing [+ obj] : to cover something with a thick layer of a liquid, cream, etc. • We ate lobster slathered with/in butter • She slathered her skin with sunscreen. = She slathered sunscreen on her skin.

slat-tern /'slætən/ noun, pl -terns [count] old-fashioned : an untidy, dirty woman

– slat-tern-ly /'slætənli/ adj • a slatternly housewife

¹slaugh-ter /'slɔ:tə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing [+ obj]

1 : to kill (an animal) for food • slaughter cattle

2 : to kill (many people) in a very violent way • Hundreds of people were slaughtered [=massacred] by the invaders.

3 informal : to defeat (someone or something) easily or completely • Our team got slaughtered yesterday. • They slaughtered us.

²slaugh-ter noun [noncount]

1 : the act of killing animals for their meat • Thousands of cows are sent to (the) slaughter every day.

2 : the violent killing of a large number of people • the slaughter of innocent people — see also MANSLAUGHTER

like a lamb to the slaughter see ¹LAMB

slaugh-ter-house /'slɔ:tə,haus/ noun, pl -houses [count] : a building where animals are killed for their meat — called also (chiefly Brit) abattoir

Slav /'slɑ:v/ noun, pl Slavs [count] : a person from eastern Europe who speaks a Slavic language

¹slave /'sleɪv/ noun, pl slaves [count]

1 : someone who is legally owned by another person and is forced to work for that person without pay • freed/escaped/former slaves • He treats her like a slave. • Do it yourself! I'm not your slave!

2 disapproving : a person who is strongly influenced and controlled by something — + to or of • She's a slave to fashion. • a slave of desire

²slave verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition slaves; slaved; slav-ing [no obj] : to work very hard • I slaved all morning to get the work done on time. • I spent all day slaving over a hot stove. [=I spent all day cooking] • She's been slaving away at her homework.

slave driver noun, pl ~ -ers [count]

1 : someone who is in charge of slaves and makes them work

2 disapproving : someone who makes people work very hard • The new boss is a real slave driver.

slave-hold-er /'sleɪv,houldə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : a person who owns slaves

– slave-hold-ing /'sleɪv,houldɪŋ/ adj • slaveholding towns slave labor (US) or Brit slave labour noun [noncount]

1 : work that is done by slaves or by people who are treated like slaves • prisoners being forced to do slave labor • a slave labor camp

2 : slaves doing work • The pyramids were built by slave labor.

¹sla-ver /'slævə/ verb -vers; -vered; -ver-ing [no obj] : to allow liquid to drip out of the mouth : DROOL • The dog slavered [= (more commonly) slobbered] over his food.

²slav-er /'sleɪvə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who was involved in buying and selling slaves in the past

2 : a ship that was used to carry slaves from one place to another in the past slav-ery /'sleɪvəri/ noun [noncount]

1 : the state of being a slave • She was sold into slavery.

2 : the practice of owning slaves • the abolition of slavery slave state noun, pl ~ states [count] : a state of the U.S. in which slavery was legal until the American Civil War slave trade noun [noncount] : the activity or business of buying and selling slaves — used especially to refer to the business of buying and selling people as slaves before the American Civil War

¹Slav-ic /'slɑ:vɪk/ noun [noncount] : a group of related languages that includes Russian, Bulgarian, Czech, Polish, etc.

²Slavic adj : of or relating to the Slavs or their languages • Slavic people/languages/lands/folklore slav-ish /'sleɪvɪʃ/ adj, disapproving : copying or following someone or something completely without any attempt to be original or independent • a politician and his slavish followers • slavish obedience/imitation • He has been criticized for his slavish devotion/adherence to the rules.

– slav-ish-ly adv • He slavishly copies everything his older brother does. – slav-ish-ness noun [noncount]

Sla-von-ic /slə'vɑ:nɪk/ noun [noncount] : SLAVIC

– Slavonic adj

slaw /'sla:/ noun [noncount] US, informal : COLESLAW

slay /'sleɪ/ verb slays; slew /'sli:/ also slayed; slain /'sleɪn/; slay-ing [+ obj]

1 a literary : to kill (someone or something) especially in a battle or war • The knight slew the dragon. b US : to kill (someone) — used especially in newspaper stories and headlines; usually used as (be) slain • The victims were slain in their homes. • The headline read "Three Slain in Bank Robbery."

2 chiefly US, informal + old-fashioned : to delight or amuse (someone) very much • That guy slays me. [=that guy kills me; I think he's very funny]

– slay-er noun, pl -ers [count] – slaying noun, pl -ings [count] chiefly US • Police have arrested a man in connection with three slayings that happened last month.

sleaze /'sli:z/ noun, pl sleaze-es

1 [noncount] somewhat informal : behavior that is dishonest or immoral • political sleaze and corruption • The newspaper editorial addresses the sleaze factor [=dishonesty] in political campaigns.

2 [count] US, informal : a dishonest or immoral person • He's a real sleaze.

sleaze-bag /'sli:z,bæg/ noun, pl -bags [count] informal : a dishonest or immoral person • She was involved with some sleazebag. • a sleazebag lawyer sleaze-ball /'sli:z,bɔ:l/ noun, pl -balls [count] informal : a dishonest or immoral person • He is a lying sleazeball.

slea-zy /'sli:zi/ adj slea-zi-er; -est informal

1 : dishonest or immoral • a sleazy lawyer/trick

2 : dirty and in bad condition from being neglected • a sleazy neighborhood

3 : not decent or socially respectable • sleazy nightclubs/tabloids • a dancer in a sleazy outfit

– slea-zi-ness /'sli:zinəs/ noun [noncount]

¹sled /'sled/ noun, pl sleds [count] chiefly US : a small vehicle that has a flat bottom or long, narrow strips of metal or wood on the bottom and that is used for moving over snow

or ice — called also (Brit) sledge; compare SLEIGH, TOBOGGAN; see also DOGSLED

²sled verb sleds; sled-ded; sled-ding [no obj] chiefly US : to ride on a sled especially down a hill • We went sledding [= (Brit) sledging] on the hill.

— sled-der noun, pl -ders [count] sled dog noun, pl ~ dogs [count] chiefly US : a dog that is trained to pull a sled — called also (Brit) sledge dog

¹sledge /ˈsledʒ/ noun, pl sledg-es [count] Brit : ¹SLED

²sledge verb sledges; sledged; sledg-ing [no obj] Brit : ²SLED

sledge-ham-mer /ˈsledʒ,hæmə/ noun, pl -mers [count] : a large, heavy hammer with a long handle — often used figuratively • The news hit me like a sledgehammer. [=I was shocked by the news]

sleek /ˈsli:k/ adj sleek-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : straight and smooth in design or shape • the sleek lines of a sports car • a sleek, modern building

2 : smooth and shiny • sleek, dark hair

3 : stylish and attractive • a sleek young executive — sleek-ly adv • a sleekly modern building — sleek-ness noun [noncount]

¹sleep /ˈsli:p/ verb sleeps; slept /ˈslept/; sleep-ing

1 [no obj] : to rest your mind and body by closing your eyes and becoming unconscious • I couldn't sleep last night. I was awake all night long. • I usually try to sleep for at least eight hours every night. • Did you sleep soundly/well last night? • I slept badly/poorly. • We were sleeping peacefully when a sudden loud noise woke us up. • I can never sleep on airplanes. • He has trouble sleeping. [=finds it difficult to fall asleep] — sometimes used figuratively • New York is the city that never sleeps. [=a city that is full of activity all night]

2 [+ obj] : to have enough space for (a specified number of people) to sleep in it • The tent sleeps five adults.

let sleeping dogs lie see ¹DOG

sleep around [phrasal verb] informal + disapproving : to have sex with many different people • I heard he sleeps around.

sleep away [phrasal verb] sleep away (something) or sleep (something) away chiefly US : to spend (a period of time) sleeping • Don't sleep your day away.

sleep a wink informal : to sleep for even a very brief time — used in negative statements • I didn't/couldn't sleep a wink [=didn't/couldn't sleep at all] last night.

sleep in [phrasal verb] informal : to sleep past the time when you usually get up • On Sundays, we always sleep in.

sleep like a baby/log informal : to sleep very well • After a long day of skiing, I slept like a baby/log last night.

sleep off [phrasal verb] sleep (something) off or sleep off (something) informal : to sleep until the effects of alcohol, medication, etc., are no longer felt • She was sleeping off the anesthesia. • He had too much to drink, and I'm letting him sleep it off.

sleep on it informal : to think more about something overnight and make a decision about it later • You've heard my offer. Why don't you sleep on it and let me know what you decide.

sleep over [phrasal verb] : to stay overnight at another person's house • My mother said that you could sleep over on Saturday. — see also SLEEPOVER sleep through [phrasal verb] sleep through (something) : to sleep without being awakened by (something, such as a loud noise) • She slept (right) through the thunderstorm.

sleep tight : to sleep deeply and well • Good night. Sleep tight.

sleep together [phrasal verb] informal : to have sex with each other • She found out that her husband and his secretary were sleeping together.

sleep with [phrasal verb] sleep with (someone) informal : to have sex with (someone) • She found out that her husband was sleeping with his secretary.

²sleep noun

1 [noncount] : the natural state of rest during which your eyes are closed and you become unconscious • I just need to get some sleep. • How much sleep did you get last night? • He was diagnosed with a sleep disorder. [=a medical problem

sled

that prevents him from sleeping normally] • Her roommate talks/walks in her sleep. • The baby cried himself to sleep. [=cried until he fell asleep] • She sang the baby to sleep. [=she sang to the baby until it fell asleep] — see also REM SLEEP

2 [singular] : a period of sleep especially of a particular kind • The noise woke her from a deep/light sleep. • Sometimes all you need to feel better is a good night's sleep. [=a full night of sleep] • (Brit) I think I'll go to my bedroom and have a sleep.

3 [noncount] informal : the dry substance that sometimes forms in the corners of your eyes while you are sleeping • He woke up and rubbed the sleep out of his eyes.

get to sleep : to succeed in beginning to sleep : to fall asleep • It took me almost an hour to get to sleep last night. • I woke up in the middle of the night, but I eventually got back to sleep. [=started sleeping again]

go to sleep 1 : to begin sleeping • She lay down on the couch and went (right) to sleep. • Tell the kids it's time to go to sleep. [=go to bed] • After the party, I just wanted to go to sleep. 2 ♠ If a part of your body (such as a foot or leg) goes to sleep, it is not able to feel anything for a brief time, usually because you have kept it in an awkward position for too long. • I have to move because my foot is going to sleep.

in your sleep ♠ If you can do something in your sleep, you can do it very easily because you have done it many times before. • She could bake those cookies in her sleep. • I can drive that route in my sleep.

lose sleep over : to worry about (something) so much that you cannot sleep — usually used in negative statements • I'm disappointed about their decision, but I'm not losing any sleep over it. • I wouldn't lose sleep over it if I were you.

put to sleep 1 put (an animal) to sleep : to give (a sick or injured animal) drugs that will make it die without pain • We had to put my cat to sleep last week. 2 put (someone) to sleep a informal : to use a drug to make (someone) unconscious before a medical operation : to give (someone) anesthesia before a medical operation • The doctor put the patient to sleep. b : to get (someone) ready to sleep for the night • Did you put the kids to sleep? [=did you put the kids to bed?] c : to make someone fall asleep from boredom • That movie practically put me to sleep. • Her lectures used to put him to sleep.

sleep-away /ˈsli:pə,weɪ/ adj, always used before a noun, US : providing beds and rooms so people can stay overnight for a number of nights • We sent the kids off to sleepaway camp for the week.

sleep-er /ˈsli:pə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 a : a person who sleeps in a particular way • a light sleep-er [=someone who does not sleep well and wakes up easily] • a heavy sleep-er [=someone who sleeps well and does not wake up easily] • a sound sleep-er b : someone who is asleep • Sleep-ers were awakened by the sound of a loud crash.

2 a : a place or piece of furniture that can be used for sleeping — usually used before another noun • the sleep-er cab of a truck • Our guests will use the sleep-er sofa. [=a sofa that folds out to form a bed] b : SLEEPING CAR

3 chiefly US, informal : someone or something that suddenly becomes successful in a way that was not expected • He may turn out to be the sleep-er in this year's election. • The movie was the summer's sleep-er. • The movie became the sleep-er hit of the summer.

4 : a spy who lives and works for a long time like an ordinary person among the people he or she is spying on — often used before another noun • a sleep-er agent • The police discovered a sleep-er cell [=a small organized group of spies] that had been operating in the city for years.

5 US : a piece of clothing that covers the entire body including usually the feet and that is worn by a baby or small child

6 Brit : one of the heavy beams to which the rails of a railway are attached : TIE sleeping bag noun, pl ~ bags [count] : a warm, long bag that is used for sleeping outdoors or in a tent — see picture at CAMPING sleeping car noun, pl ~ cars [count] : a railroad car with beds for people to sleep in — called also sleep-er

sleeping partner noun, pl ~ -ners [count] Brit : SILENT PARTNER sleeping pill noun, pl ~ pills [count] : a pill that contains a drug which helps a person sleep sleeping sickness noun [noncount] : a tropical disease that causes fever, sleepiness, and usually death sleep-less /'sli:ples/ adj

1 always used before a noun : without sleep • a sleepless night

2 not used before a noun : not able to sleep • He lay sleepless in bed.

— sleep-less-ly adv • He lay sleeplessly. — sleep-less-ness noun [noncount] • He suffers from sleeplessness. [=insomnia] sleep-over /'sli:p,ouvə/ noun, pl -overs [count] : a party where one or more people (especially children) stay overnight at one person's house • Our daughter is having a sleep-over for her friends tomorrow. — see also sleep over at ¹SLEEP sleep-walk /'sli:p,wɑ:k/ verb -walks; -walked; -walk-ing [no obj] : to walk around while you are asleep

— sleep-walk-er /'sli:p,wɑ:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count]
— sleepwalking noun [noncount]

sleepy /'sli:pi/ adj sleep-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : tired and ready to fall asleep • She felt sleepy and went to bed.

2 : quiet and not active or busy • a sleepy little town

— sleep-i-ly /'sli:pəli/ adv • “Yes,” she murmured sleepily.

— sleep-i-ness /'sli:pinəs/ noun [noncount]

sleepy-head /'sli:pi,hed/ noun, pl -heads [count] chiefly US, informal : a sleepy person — used especially to address someone (such as a child) • Are you ready for bed, sleepy-head?

¹sleet /'sli:t/ noun [noncount] : frozen or partly frozen rain • The snow turned to sleet and made driving very dangerous.

²sleet verb sleets; sleet-ed; sleet-ing [no obj] — used with it to say that sleet is falling • It's sleeting outside. [=sleet is falling from the sky]

sleeve /'sli:v/ noun, pl sleeves [count]

1 : the part of a shirt, jacket, etc., that covers all or part of your arm • a shirt with long/short sleeves — see color picture on page C15; see also SHIRTSLEEVE

2 a : a part that fits over or around something to protect it or to hold its parts together • The joint is covered with a metal sleeve. • a plastic document sleeve b : JACKET 2b • a record/CD sleeve

an ace up your sleeve see ¹ACE have/keep (something) up your sleeve informal : to have/keep a secret method, trick, etc., that you can use when it is needed • The coach always keeps a few tricks up his sleeve. • They still have some surprises up their sleeves

laugh up your sleeve see ¹LAUGH on your sleeve informal : in a way that can be clearly seen • Many politicians wear religion on their sleeves. [=show their religious beliefs in a very open way] • He wears his emotions/heart on his sleeve. [=his emotions are easy to see]

roll up your sleeves see ¹ROLL

— sleeved /'sli:vd/ adj • a long-sleeved shirt — sleeve-less /'sli:vles/ adj • a sleeveless dress

sleeve notes noun [plural] Brit : LINER NOTES

sleigh /'slei/ noun, pl sleighs [count] : a large, open vehicle that is usually pulled by a horse over snow or ice sleight of hand /'slait-/ noun [noncount]

1 : quick or deceptive hand movements that are used especially to perform magic tricks • He performs sleight of hand with cards and books of matches.

2 : the act of tricking or deceiving someone in a clever way • Investigative journalists exposed the company's financial sleight of hand.

slender /'slendə/ adj slen-der-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : thin especially in an attractive or graceful way • She has a slender figure. • Deer have slender legs. b : very narrow : not wide • a flower with a slender stem • an animal with a long, slender snout

2 : small or limited in amount or size • The President has a slender [=narrow, slim] lead in the polls. = The President leads by a slender margin in the polls. • (formal) young people of slender means [=young people who do not have much money]

— slen-der-ness noun [noncount]

slept past tense and past participle of ¹SLEEP

sleuth /'slu:θ/ noun, pl sleuths [count] old-fashioned : someone who looks for information to solve crimes : DETECTIVE • a clever sleuth

— sleuth-ing /'slu:θɪŋ/ noun [noncount] • He did some sleuthing to see if he could turn up any clues.

S level noun, pl S levels [count] Brit : the highest of three tests in a particular subject that students in England, Wales, and Northern Ireland take usually at the age of 18 • She got an A in her S levels in math, physics, and chemistry. — called also Scholarship level; compare A LEVEL, O LEVEL

¹slew past tense of SLAY

²slew /'slu:/ noun [singular] informal : a large number of people or things • A whole slew of people [=a lot of people] were waiting. • He has written a slew of books.

³slew verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition slews; slewed; slew-ing : to turn or slide in another direction very quickly [no obj] His car *slew*ed [=skidded, veered] sideways off the road. [+ obj] He *slew*ed the telescope three degrees south.

¹slice /'slais/ noun, pl slic-es [count]

1 a : a thin piece of food that is cut from something larger • a slice of bread • thin slices of roast beef b : a piece that is cut from a pie, cake, etc. • They sell pizza by the slice. [=they sell individual pieces cut from a pizza] • a slice of pie c : a piece that is cut from a piece of fruit • slices of melon/cantaloupe

2 informal a : a part of something • A good slice [=portion] of the population saw the game on TV. b : an example of something • The Fourth of July parade was a real slice of Americana.

3 sports : a shot in golf and other games that curves to the side instead of going straight • He hit a slice into the right rough.

a slice of life : something (such as a story or movie) that shows what ordinary life is like • The story is/shows/presents a slice of life in a small Midwestern town. — see also SLICE-OF-LIFE

a slice of the action see ACTION

a slice of the cake see ¹CAKE

a slice of the pie see PIE

²slice verb slices; sliced; slic-ing

1 a : to cut something with a sharp object (such as a knife) [+ obj] She sliced the lemon in half. • He sliced the board in two. [=he cut the board into two pieces] • He sliced open his finger while cleaning the fish. [no obj] The knife sliced through the cake easily. — sometimes used figuratively • His jokes sliced [=cut] through the tension in a room. b [+ obj] : to cut (something) into pieces or slices • She sliced the bread/tomato/pie. — often + up • He sliced up a banana.

2 [+ obj] : to make (something) smaller by removing part of it • The university sliced [=cut] the research budget in half.

3 sports : to hit or kick (a ball or shot) in a way that causes it to curve : to hit a slice [+ obj] (golf) She sliced her drive into the rough. [no obj] (golf) The ball sliced into the rough.

4 : to move quickly and easily through something (such as air or water) [no obj] — usually + through • The ship's hull sliced through the waves. [+ obj] The conductor sliced the air with his arms.

any way you slice it or no matter how you slice it US, informal — used to say that the truth of a statement is not changed or affected by the way you describe or think about a situation • Losing is disappointing no matter how you slice it. [=losing is always disappointing] • Any way you slice it, online commerce is here to stay.

slice and dice chiefly US : to divide something into many small parts especially so you can use the result for your own purposes • You can slice and dice the data any way you want.

slice off [phrasal verb] slice off (something) or slice (something) off : to remove (something) by cutting : to cut off (something) with a sharp object (such as a knife) • Slice off the excess fat after you cook the steak. — often used figuratively • The salesperson sliced 10 percent off of the cost of the car.

the best/greatest thing since sliced bread informal — used to describe something or someone that you think is very good, useful, etc. • He thinks wireless Internet access is the greatest thing since sliced bread.

— sliced adj • thinly sliced beef • sliced bread — slic-er noun, pl -ers [count] • a bread slicer

slice-of-life adj, always used before a noun : showing what ordinary life is like • a slice-of-life drama

¹slick /'slɪk/ adj slick-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : very smooth and slippery • Be careful as you drive home—the roads are slick.

2 : clever in usually a dishonest or deceptive way • a slick salesman • big corporations and their slick lawyers

3 a : skillful and clever • The new kid had some slick moves on the basketball court. b : very good : of the highest quality • The students did a slick job of promoting the concert. • The video game has slick graphics. • a slick Broadway-style production

— slick-ly adv • very slickly done — slick-ness noun [non-count]

2 slick verb slicks; slicked; slick-ing [+ obj] : to make (something) smooth and slippery • The rain slicked the roads. • rain-slicked roads slick back/down [phrasal verb] slick back/down (hair) or slick (hair) back/down : to pull (hair) back and make it look smooth or shiny by using water or some wet substance (such as hair gel) • He climbed out of the pool and slicked back his hair. • He had long sideburns and dark slicked-back hair.

3 slick noun, pl slicks [count]

1 : a thin layer of liquid that makes a surface very slippery; especially : OIL SLICK

2 : a smooth tire that is used in car racing • racing slicks

slick-er /'slikə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : a long, loose raincoat — see also CITY SLICKER

1 slide /'slaid/ verb slides; slid /'slɪd/; slid-ing

1 a : to move smoothly along a surface [no obj] The door slides open easily. • The firefighters slid down the pole to their trucks. [+ obj] He slid the bottle across the table. • Slide your finger along the seam. • She slid the paper under the door. b [no obj] : to move over ice or snow smoothly and often in a way that cannot be controlled • He slid across the ice. • Cars were slipping and sliding all over the roads during the snowstorm.

2 [no obj] : to slip and fall • Her purse slid out of her hands. • The strap of her dress kept sliding down/off.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition a : to move or pass smoothly and easily into or out of something [no obj] She slid into the booth beside us. • He slid into [=began doing] his impersonation of the president. [+ obj] He slid the key into his pocket. • He always finds a way to slide in a reference to his new book. b : to move so you or your movements are not noticed [no obj] They slid [=slipped] out of the room when nobody was looking. [+ obj] He quietly slid the money into my hand.

4 [no obj] : to become gradually worse over time • His parents are concerned that their son's grades have started to slide. [=worsen] • Sales figures have been sliding [=declining] for the last three quarters. • The restaurant's new management is really letting the quality of the food slide.

5 [no obj] baseball : to dive toward a base to avoid being tagged out • He slid into second base.

let (something) slide informal : to do nothing about (something, such as another person's mistake or bad behavior) : to ignore (something) • You were late this morning. I'll let it slide this time, but don't let it happen again. • It may be best to let things slide this time.

2 slide noun, pl slides [count]

1 : a movement to a lower or worse state or condition : DECLINE — usually singular • The recent slide in the stock market has made investors nervous. • The book describes her slide into depression. • the slide in television ratings • (chiefly Brit) Her career has been on the slide [=on the decline] for a couple of years.

2 : an act of moving along or over a surface by sliding — usually singular • The car hit a patch of ice and went into a slide. [=began sliding] — see also LANDSLIDE, MUDSLIDE, ROCKSLIDE

3 : a structure with a slippery surface that children slide down • a playground slide — see picture at PLAYGROUND; see also WATERSLIDE

4 baseball : the act of diving towards a base to avoid being tagged out • a slide into home plate

5 : a small piece of film with an image on it that can be shown on a wall or screen by using a special machine (called a projector) • They showed us slides from their vacation in Europe. • a slide presentation/show/projector

6 : a small, thin, and usually rectangular piece of glass that holds an object to be looked at under a microscope • She sent the slides to the lab.

7 : a part of a musical instrument or a machine that is moved backward or forward • He oiled the slide of his trombone. • The slide mechanism on the machine was broken.

8 Brit : BARRETTE

slid-er /'slaidə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 baseball : a fast pitch that curves slightly in the air

2 : something that slides

slide rule noun, pl ~ rules [count] : an old-fashioned instrument that is like a ruler with a middle piece that slides back and forth and that is used to do calculations sliding door noun, pl ~ doors [count] : a door that opens and closes by sliding sideways instead of by swinging on hinges sliding scale noun, pl ~ scales [count] : a system in which the amount that people are required to pay in fees, taxes, etc., changes according to different situations or conditions — usually singular • Patients at the clinic pay on a sliding scale based on their income.

1 slight /'slait/ adj slight-er; -est

1 : very small in degree or amount • slight adjustments/errors • a slight odor/cold/fever • There is a slight chance of rain. • Her head is tilted at a slight angle in the picture. • The medication didn't have the slightest effect. [=did not have any effect] • If you have even the slightest doubt, then don't do it. • There is not the slightest danger [=there is no danger] of that happening.

2 : thin and not very strong or muscular • a slight woman not in the slightest : not at all : not in the least • "Does it bother you?" "Not in the slightest."

2 slight verb slights; slight-ed; slight-ing [+ obj] : to offend or insult (someone) : to treat (someone) with disrespect • I'm sure he didn't mean to slight you. • He was slighted by his colleagues.

— slight noun, pl slights [count] • a deliberate slight • The remark was not intended to be a slight on his character.

— slighting adj • He made slighting references to her book. • a slighting remark slight-ly /'slaitli/ adv : in a very small amount or degree : a little • I got only a slightly better grade when I retook the test. • I'm slightly confused. • The sauce has a slightly bitter taste. • The price has increased slightly. • Keep your knees slightly bent. • He seemed to move ever so slightly closer. [=he moved closer only by a very small amount] slightly built : thin and not very strong or muscular • a slightly built girl

1 slim /'slɪm/ adj slim-mer; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : thin in an attractive way • She looked slim and fit for her age. • He has a slim build. • I was a lot slimmer in those days.

2 : small in amount, size, or degree • a slim majority • They have only a slim chance of winning. • "What are their chances of winning?" "Slim to none." [=they have almost no chance of winning]

— slim-ly adv [more ~; most ~] • He was tall and slimly built.

— slim-ness noun [noncount]

2 slim verb slims; slimmed; slim-ming

1 [+ obj] : to make (something) thinner • She started exercising to slim her thighs.

2 [no obj] Brit : ²DIET • I'll skip dessert; I'm slimming.

slim down [phrasal verb] 1 : to lose weight : to become thinner • She's been trying to slim down. • He looks like he's really slimmed down since last year. 2 slim down (something) or slim (something) down : to make (something) smaller : REDUCE • We have to slim down the company's advertising budget.

slime /'slaim/ noun, pl slimes

1 [noncount] : a thick, slippery liquid • Green slime covers the surface of the pond.

2 US, informal : a very bad, unpleasant, or dishonest person [noncount] That guy's slime. • She thinks men are slime. [count] — usually singular • That guy's a real slime.

slime-ball /'slaim,bɔ:l/ noun, pl -balls [count] informal : a very bad, unpleasant, or dishonest person • He's a real slime-ball for leaving her.

slim-line /'slɪm,lain/ adj, always used before a noun, chiefly Brit : smaller or thinner in size than usual • a slimline CD case slim-mer /'slɪmə/ noun, pl -ers [count] Brit : a person who is trying to lose weight : DIETER

1 slimming adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : making you look thinner • That dress is slimming on you. • Black suits are slimming.

2 always used before a noun : intended to help people lose weight • a controversial slimming [(more commonly) diet] drug • slimming exercises

2 slimming noun [noncount] chiefly Brit : the act of losing weight • I know I'm in need of a little slimming.

slimy /'slaimi/ adj slim-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : covered with slime • a slimy rock/worm b : resembling slime • slimy mud • a slimy gel

2 informal : very dishonest, bad, or immoral • a slimy businessman/politician • slimy business practices

3 informal : causing disgust : OFFENSIVE • Get your slimy fingers off my jacket.

— slim-i-ness noun [noncount]

¹sling /ˈslɪŋ/ verb slings; slung /ˈslʌŋ/; sling-ing [+ obj]

1 : to throw (something) with a forceful sweeping motion • She slung the bag over her shoulder. • The protesters started slinging [=flinging] stones at the police. — often used figuratively • They slung [=hurled] insults at each other. • He was slung [=thrown] into jail for the night. — see also MUDSLING-ING

2 : to hang (something) loosely • He slung a hammock between two trees. — often used as (be) slung • His guitar was slung around his neck. • a low-slung belt sling your hook Brit, informal : to go away : LEAVE • She angrily told him to sling his hook.

²sling noun, pl slings [count]

1 : something that is used to lift, carry, or support something; such as a : a piece of cloth that hangs around your neck and is used to support an injured arm or hand • He has to keep his arm in a sling. b : a long strap attached to something • a leather rifle sling c : a large piece of cloth that is worn usually around your neck and that forms a bag which is used to hold a baby close to you d : a large net, rope, chain, etc., that is used to lift heavy things • We attached the sling to the crane.

sling

2 : a strap usually with a pocket in the middle that is used to throw something (such as a stone) slings and arrows : the problems and criticisms that are experienced in someone's life • Politicians must be willing to endure/suffer the slings and arrows of public life.

sling-back /ˈslɪŋ,bæk/ noun, pl -backs [count] : a woman's shoe that is open at the back and has a thin strap that goes around the heel sling-shot /ˈslɪŋ,ʃɔ:t/ noun, pl -shots [count] US : a Y-shaped stick with an elastic band attached to it that is used for shooting small stones — called also (Brit) catapult

slink /ˈslɪŋk/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition slinks; slunk /ˈslʌŋk/ also US slinked; slink-ing [no obj] : to move in a way that does not attract attention especially because you are embarrassed, afraid, or doing something wrong • I thought I saw someone slinking [=sneaking] around outside. • He slinked away in shame.

slingshot

slinky /ˈslɪŋki/ adj slink-i-er; -est

1 : fitting closely to the body in a sexy way • a slinky black dress • The dancers wore slinky costumes.

2 : slow in a sexually attractive way • the song's slinky rhythm • slinky dance movements

¹slip /ˈslɪp/ verb slips; slipped; slip-ping

1 [no obj] : to slide out of the proper position • The ring was too big and slipped off my finger. • The engine's belt continued to slip. • The hammer slipped out of my hands. • The knife slipped and she cut herself. • My foot slipped on the stair and I fell.

2 [no obj] : to lose your balance especially on a slippery surface • She slipped and fell. — often + on • He slipped on the stairs. • Be careful not to slip on the ice.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move easily across or over something [no obj] The drawer should just slip [=slide] into place. • The bib slips over the baby's head. [+ obj] Help me slip the cover over the piano.

4 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move into or out of a place without being noticed • Someone was able to slip through security. • We'll slip out the back door. — see also SLIP AWAY (below)

5 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to put on or take off a piece of clothing quickly or easily • He stood up and slipped on his jacket. • He slipped off his shoes. • Let me just slip into my bathrobe. • You should slip out of those wet clothes.

6 [+ obj] a always followed by an adverb or preposition : to put or place (something) somewhere in a quiet or secret way • He slipped the key into his pocket. • Someone slipped a drug into his drink. • He managed to slip in [=include] a few jokes during his speech. b : to give (something) to someone in a quiet or secret way • He slipped the envelope to his secretary. = He slipped his secretary the envelope.

7 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to happen or pass without being noticed by someone or something • Time keeps slipping away. • Her birthday slipped by without us knowing. • Despite all our efforts, some errors do slip past us. • We didn't want to let the opportunity slip through our fingers. [=we did not want to let the opportunity pass without taking advantage of it]

8 [no obj] a : to go from one state or condition to another • She was slipping out of consciousness. — often + into • The patient slipped into a coma. • The word has slipped into disuse. • The actor slipped into character. [=the actor began to behave, speak, etc., like the character he was playing] b : to move into a lower or worse state or condition • The stock market has slipped to its lowest level in a month. • I can't believe he beat me. I must be slipping. • Test scores slipped [=declined] this year.

9 [+ obj] a : to escape (someone) : to get away from (someone) • The thief slipped his pursuers. b : to get free from (something) • The dog slipped its collar.

10 [+ obj] medical : to have (a part of your body) move out of its normal position especially in a joint • I slipped a disc.

let (something) slip or let slip (something) : to say (something that you did not want to say) by mistake • He let slip that he's looking for a better job. • Don't let it slip that we hadn't planned on inviting her.

slip away [phrasal verb] 1 : to pass out of existence • The afternoon quietly slipped away. • They saw their four-run lead slip away. • Their grandmother slipped away [=died] in her sleep last night. 2 : to leave a place without being noticed • They slipped away from the party right after dinner.

slip out [phrasal verb] : to be said by mistake • I didn't intend to tell them. It just slipped out.

slip through/between the cracks see ²CRACK

slip through the net see ¹NET slip up [phrasal verb] informal : to make a mistake • Make sure you don't slip up again.

slip your mind/memory informal : to be forgotten • Her birthday completely slipped my mind. [=I completely forgot about her birthday]

²slip noun, pl slips [count]

1 a : a small piece of paper • He wrote the number on a slip of paper. b : a piece of paper that has a specified use or purpose • a deposit slip • a betting slip • a rejection slip — see also PINK SLIP, SALES SLIP

2 : a mistake • a careless slip • Their performance was very good except for a few minor slips. — see also A SLIP OF THE TONGUE (below), FREUDIAN SLIP

3 : a movement to a lower or worse state or condition : DECLINE — usually singular • a ratings slip = a slip in the ratings

4 : the act of losing your balance and falling especially on a slippery surface — usually singular • The bruise is from a slip on the ice.

5 : a piece of woman's underwear that is like a thin dress or skirt and that is worn under a dress or skirt • Her slip was showing. • You will need a half slip [=a slip that only covers you from the waist down] for that dress. — see color picture on page C13

6 : a place for a ship or boat in the water between two piers • She guided her boat into one of the slips.

a slip of the tongue : something that is said by mistake • a careless slip of the tongue give (someone) the slip informal : to escape (someone) : to get away from (someone) • The intruder ran from the police and gave them the slip.

— compare ³SLIP, ⁴SLIP

³slip noun [singular] old-fashioned : a young, thin person or animal — + of • He was a mere slip of a boy. [=he was just a small boy] • She was a wee slip of a thing. — compare ²SLIP, ⁴SLIP

⁴slip noun [noncount] technical : thin, wet clay that is used in pottery — compare ²SLIP, ³SLIP slip-case /ˈslɪp,keɪs/ noun, pl -cas-es [count] : a hard protective box for books or magazines that is open at one end slip·cov·er /'slɪp,kʌvə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : a loose, removable cloth cover for a piece of furniture • We put a slipcover on the sofa.

slip·knot /'slɪp,nɔ:t/ noun, pl -knots [count] : a knot that can slide along the rope around which it is made and that is tightened by pulling on one end slip-on /'slɪp,ɔ:n/ noun, pl -ons [count] : a shoe that does not have ties, buckles, etc., and that you can put on or take off very easily • a pair of slip-ons • slip-on sandals slip·page /'slɪpɪdʒ/ noun, pl -pag-es formal

1 : a movement downward : an act of moving into a lower or worse condition or state [count] price slippages • a slip-page [=decrease] in sales [noncount] There has been some slippage in the stock's price/value. [=the price/value of the stock has gone down]

2 : the act of sliding or slipping [noncount] The boot's sole prevents slippage. [count] an accidental slippage

slipped disc also chiefly US slipped disk noun, pl ~ discs also chiefly US ~ disks [count] medical : an injury to the spine in which one of the connecting parts between the bones slips out of its proper position and causes back pain slip·per /'slɪpə/ noun, pl -pers [count] : a light, soft shoe that is easily put on and taken off and that is worn indoors — called also (Brit) carpet slipper; see picture at SHOE slip·pery /'slɪpəri/ adj slip·per·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : difficult to stand on, move on, or hold because of being smooth, wet, icy, etc. • The trails were muddy and slippery. • The floor looks slippery. • Fish are slippery to hold. • The sign cautions: "Slippery when wet."

2 : not easy to understand or identify in an exact way • a slippery definition • slippery concepts/notions

3 informal : not able to be trusted : TRICKY • slippery politicians

— slip·per·i·ness noun [noncount] slippery slope noun [singular] : a process or series of events that is hard to stop or control once it has begun and that usually leads to worse or more difficult things • His behavior will lead him down a slippery slope to ruin.

slip road noun, pl ~ roads [count] Brit : a short road that is used to get on or off a major road or highway : an on-ramp or off-ramp slip·shod /'slɪpʃɑ:d/ adj : very careless or poorly done or made • slipshod construction • He did a slipshod job! • Her scholarship is slipshod at best.

slip·stream /'slɪpstri:m/ noun, pl -streams [count] technical : an area of low air pressure that is immediately behind a vehicle that is moving very fast and that other vehicles can ride in to go faster with less effort • The motorcycle was riding the truck's slipstream.

slip·up /'slɪpʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] : a careless mistake • We were late because of a slipup in the schedule.

¹slit /'slɪt/ verb slits; slit; slit·ting [+ obj] : to make a long, narrow cut or opening in (something) with a sharp object • I slit the bag open at the top. • The bag of seeds had been slit open. • Someone tried to slit his throat. [=someone tried to kill him by cutting his throat] • She tried to slit her wrists. [=to kill herself by cutting her wrists]

²slit noun, pl slits [count] : a long, narrow cut or opening in something • You could see through the slit in the fence. • The skirt has a slit on one side. • a dress with a slit skirt

slith·er /'slɪðə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er·ing

1 [no obj] : to move by sliding your entire body back and forth • The snake slithered through the garden. • To get under the porch, I lay on my stomach and slithered like a snake.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move smoothly, quietly, or secretly like a snake [no obj] She slithered quietly into the room. [+ obj] He slithered his hand around her waist.

slith·ery /'slɪðəri/ adj slith·er·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having an unpleasantly slippery surface, feeling, or quality • slithery reptiles

2 : having a flowing and smooth look or way of moving • She wore a sexy, slithery dress.

¹sliv·er /'slɪvə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a small, thin piece that has been cut, torn, or broken from something larger — often + of • My son has a sliver [=splinter] of wood in his finger. • Just a sliver [=a very thin slice] of cake for me, please. — often used figuratively • A sliver of light peeked through the curtains. • a sliver of hope

²sliver verb -ers; -ered; -er·ing [+ obj] somewhat formal : to cut or break (something) into small, thin pieces • The vase (was) slivered into thousands of shards when she dropped it. — slivered adj • slivered almonds slob /'slɑ:b/ noun, pl slobs [count] informal

1 disapproving : a person who is lazy and dirty or messy • He's a disgusting slob.

2 : an ordinary person • Some poor slob got robbed.

slob·ber /'slɑ:bə/ verb -bers; -bered; -ber·ing [no obj] : to let saliva or liquid flow from your mouth : DROOL • Her baby just slobbered on the blanket. • The puppy slobbered all over me.

slobber over [phrasal verb] slobber over (someone or something) informal : to show that you like (someone or something) in an excessive and uncontrolled way • His friends were slobbering (all) over his new sports car.

— slobber noun [noncount] • I have dog slobber [=saliva] all over me.

slob·bery /'slɑ:bəri/ adj : full of drool or saliva • a big, slobbery (wet) kiss • a slobbery dog : covered in drool or saliva • The toy was all slobbery because the dog had been chewing on it.

¹slog /'slɑ:g/ verb, always followed by a preposition or adverb slogs; slogged; slog·ging informal

1 : to keep doing something even though it is difficult or boring : to work at something in a steady, determined way : PLOD [no obj] He slogged away at the paperwork all day. • She slogged through her work. [+ obj] She slogged her way through her work.

2 : to walk slowly usually with heavy steps : PLOD [no obj] We've been slogging along for hours. • He slogged through the deep snow. [+ obj] They slogged their way through the snow.

slog it out Brit, informal : to fight or compete until one side wins : to slug it out

— slog·ger noun, pl -gers [count]

²slog noun [singular] informal

1 : a long period of hard work or effort • It will be a long, hard slog before everything is back to normal.

2 : a long, difficult walk • It was a long slog up the mountain.

slo·gan /'slougən/ noun, pl -gans [count] : a word or phrase that is easy to remember and is used by a group or business to attract attention • political/campaign slogans • advertising/marketing slogans slo·gan·eer·ing /,slougə'nɪrɪŋ/ noun [noncount] usually disapproving : the use of slogans in advertising or politics • There's been too much sloganeering in this year's mayoral race.

sloop /'slu:p/ noun, pl sloops [count] : a small sailboat with one mast

¹slop /'slɑ:p/ verb slops; slopped; slop·ping

1 a [no obj] : to spill from a container • Water slopped (over the edge) as he handed her the glass. b always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to splash or spill (a liquid) • She slopped coffee on her sweater. • Huge waves slopped water into the boat.

2 [+ obj] US : to feed slop to (an animal) • slop the pigs slop around/about [phrasal verb] Brit, informal : to move or act in a lazy or relaxed way : to spend time resting or relaxing • He slopped around the house all day.

²slop noun, pl slops

1 : food that is fed to pigs and other animals [noncount] The pigs are fed slop. [plural] The pigs ate the slops.

2 [noncount] informal : soft, wet food that is very unappealing • I won't eat that slop!

3 [noncount] chiefly US, informal : something that is worthless, foolish, etc. • The movie is just a lot of sentimental slop. [=garbage]

¹slope /'sloup/ noun, pl slopes [count]

1 a : ground that slants downward or upward : ground that slopes • They climbed the steep slope. • a slight/gentle slope b : an area of land on a mountain that is used for skiing • a ski slope — often plural • Let's hit the slopes. [=let's go skiing] • I love being on the slopes. [=I love skiing]

2 : an upward or downward slant • What is the angle of the slope? • You can adjust the slope of the ramp. • a slope of 30 degrees

— see also SLIPPERY SLOPE

²slope verb slopes; sloped; slop·ing [no obj]

1 : to not be level : to have a downward or upward slant • The ground sloped downward. • sloping mountainsides

2 : to not be straight : to lean or slant to the left or right • His handwriting slopes to the left.

slope off [phrasal verb] Brit, informal : to leave a place quietly or secretly • He sloped off to bed.

slop-py /'sla:pi/ adj slop-pi-er; -est

1 : not careful or neat : showing a lack of care, attention, or effort • a sloppy effort/essay • sloppy handwriting • Your work has been very sloppy lately.

2 informal : romantic in a foolish or exaggerated way • a sloppy love song

3 : containing or involving a lot of liquid or too much liquid • sloppy food • a sloppy mixture/kiss

— slop-pi-ly /'sla:pəli/ adv — slop-pi-ness noun [non-count]

sloppy joe /'sla:pi'dʒou/ noun, pl ~ joes [count] US : ground beef that is cooked in a thick, spicy sauce and usually served on a bun

slosh /'sla:f/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition slosh-es; sloshed; slosh-ing

1 [no obj] : to walk through water, mud, etc., in a forceful and noisy way • The children sloshed through the big puddle.

2 a [no obj] of a liquid : to move in a noisy or messy way • Water sloshed in the bottom of the boat as it rocked. • Juice sloshed over the rim of her glass. b [+ obj] : to cause (a liquid) to move in a noisy or messy way • The child sloshed the water in the tub.

sloshed /'sla:ft/ adj [more ~; most ~] slang : very drunk • They were/got totally sloshed last night.

1 slot /'sla:t/ noun, pl slots [count]

1 : a long, thin opening • a box with a slot in the top • He put three quarters into the machine's (coin) slot.

2 a : a period of time that is available or used for a particular occurrence, event, etc. • The doctor has an open slot at 2 p.m. • The network moved my favorite TV show to a different time slot. b : a place or position in an organization, group, etc. • They offered him a regular slot on the newspaper's editorial page. • We need someone to fill an open slot in the marketing department.

3 US : SLOT MACHINE — usually plural • He likes to play the slots.

2 slot verb slots; slot-ted; slot-ting

1 [+ obj] : to put (something) into a space which is made for it • He slotted the piece of wood into the groove.

2 [no obj] : to fit easily into something • Her ideas slot neatly into the theory.

slot in [phrasal verb] slot (someone or something) in informal : to find a place for (someone or something) in a schedule, plan, etc. • I can slot you in at 2 p.m.

sloth /'sla:θ/ noun, pl sloths

1 [noncount] formal : the quality or state of being lazy : LAZINESS • the sins/vices of gluttony and sloth

2 [count] : a type of animal that lives in trees in South and Central America and that moves very slowly

sloth-ful /'sla:θfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : LAZY • a slothful person • slothful behavior/habits slot machine noun, pl ~ -chines [count]

1 : a machine used for gambling that starts when you put coins into it and pull a handle or press a button — called also (informal) one-armed bandit, (Brit) fruit machine

2 Brit : VENDING MACHINE

slotted adj : having a slot or slots • a slotted spoon [=a spoon that has narrow holes in it so that liquid can pass through]

1 slouch /'slaʊtʃ/ verb slouch-es; slouched; slouch-ing [no obj] : to walk, sit, or stand lazily with your head and shoulders bent forward • Sit up straight. Please don't slouch. • She slouched into the room. • The boy was slouching over his school books.

2 slouch noun, pl slouches

1 [singular] : a way of walking, sitting, or standing with the head and shoulders bent forward • She walks with a slouch.

2 [count] informal : a lazy or worthless person • (chiefly US) They're just a bunch of lazy slouches. — usually used in the phrase no slouch to say that someone is very good at a particular job, activity, etc. • She's no slouch when it comes to cooking. [=she's a very good cook] • He's no slouch as a director.

1 slough /'slaʊ/ verb sloughs; sloughed; slough-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to lose a dead layer of (skin) • Snakes slough (off) their skin annually.

2 : to get rid of (something unwanted) — usually + off • We have to slough off our fears and face the challenge that confronts us.

2 slough /'slu:, Brit 'slau/ noun, pl sloughs

1 [singular] : a sad or hopeless condition — usually + of • a slough of depression/frustration/sadness

2 [count] : an area of soft, wet ground or deep mud • a slough of mud slov-en-ly /'slʌvənli/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : messy or untidy • slovenly clothes • a slovenly man • He dressed in a slovenly manner. • slovenly habits

2 : done in a careless way : SLOPPY • slovenly thinking/grammar

— slov-en-li-ness noun [noncount]

1 slow /'sləʊ/ adj slow-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : not moving quickly : not able to move quickly • a slow, old dog • a slow runner/pace/speed b : not happening quickly : taking more time than is expected or wanted • a slow growth/increase/process • Bureaucracy is always slow. c : not operating quickly • a slow computer d : not doing something quickly • The buyers were slow to act, and the house was sold to someone else. : not able to do something quickly • a slow reader/learner e : not allowing someone or something to move quickly • a slow racetrack/route

2 : not easily able to learn and understand things • He was a quiet boy who seldom spoke, and some people thought he was a little slow.

3 : not very busy or interesting • a slow market • Business is slow during the summer. • The first few chapters are slow, but after that it gets better.

4 of a clock or watch : showing a time that is earlier than the correct time • The clock is (five minutes) slow.

5 photography : not allowing photographs to be taken very quickly or when there is very little light • slow film a slow start ♦ Someone or something that has a slow start is not successful at first but does well eventually. • Despite a slow start at the box office, the movie's popularity has increased steadily. • The team got off to a slow start this season but is playing well now.

do a slow burn see ²BURN

slow off the mark see ¹MARK

— slow-ish /'sləʊɪʃ/ adj — slow-ness noun [noncount]

2 slow adv slower; -est [also more ~; most ~] : in a slow way or at a low speed • go/move/walk/drive slow • My computer is working slow. — opposite FAST

3 slow verb slows; slowed; slow-ing

1 a [no obj] : to begin to move at a lower speed • The car slowed and gradually came to a stop. — often + down or up • The car slowed down a little as it approached the intersection. • I slowed up and let the others catch up with me. b [+ obj] : to make (something, such as a car) move at a lower speed • The extra weight slowed the truck. — often + down or up • Slow the car down so that I can read the sign. • The extra weight slowed up the truck.

2 a [no obj] : to become slower • a slowing economy — often + down or up • Business slowed down/up after the holidays. b [+ obj] : to make (something) slower — often + down or up • They tried to slow down/up the process somewhat.

slow down [phrasal verb] : to stop being very active, talking very fast, etc. • You've been working too hard. You need to slow down and take it easy for a while. • Slow down! You're talking so fast I can hardly understand you.

— slowing noun [singular] There has been a slowing of job growth in recent months. [noncount] There has been some slowing of the economy.

slow-coach /'sləʊ,kəʊtʃ/ noun, pl -coach-es [count] Brit, informal : SLOWPOKE slow-down /'sləʊ,daʊn/ noun, pl -downs [count] : a decrease in the speed at which something is moving or happening • an economic slowdown • The business had a slowdown after the holidays.

slow lane noun, pl ~ lanes

1 [count] : a section of a highway for cars that are traveling at slower speeds • He's a nervous driver and always stays in the slow lane.

2 [singular] : a situation in which someone or something is not advancing as quickly as others or is not as successful as others • His career is still stuck in the slow lane.

sloth

slow-ly /'sləʊli/ adv [more ~; most ~] : in a slow way or at a low speed • go/walk/drive slowly • working/talking/moving slowly • Things are slowly getting better.

slowly but surely : by making slow but definite progress — used to stress that something is happening or being done even though it is not happening or being done quickly • We're getting the work done, slowly but surely.

slow motion noun [noncount] : a way of showing action that has been filmed or photographed at a speed that is slower than the actual speed • The scene was shot in slow motion. • They showed the goal in slow motion.

— slow-mo-tion /'sləʊ'məʊʃən/ adj • a slow-motion replay • slow-motion photography slow-poke /'sləʊ,pəʊk/ noun, pl -pokes [count] US, informal : a person who moves, acts, or works very slowly • We're going to be late if that slowpoke doesn't hurry up. — called also (Brit) slowcoach

slow-wit-ted /'sləʊ'wɪtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : slow to learn or understand things • a slow-witted child — opposite QUICK-WITTED sludge /'slʌdʒ/ noun [noncount]

1 : thick, soft, wet mud

2 : a soft, thick material that is produced in various industrial processes (such as in the treatment of sewage)

3 : a thick material that can form in the oil in an engine and cause engine problems

— sludgy /'slʌdʒi/ adj sludgy-i-er; -est • sludgy ground

¹slug /'slʌɡ/ noun, pl slugs [count]

1 : a small, soft creature that is like a snail without a shell • a garden slug

2 US, informal : a lazy person • He's such a slug.

— compare ²SLUG, ³SLUG

²slug noun, pl slugs [count]

1 US : a small piece of metal that is fired from a gun : BULLET • a .45 slug

2 US, informal : a disc shaped like a coin that is used illegally instead of a coin in a machine

3 informal : a small amount of liquor taken in one swallow — usually + of • a slug of whiskey

— compare ¹SLUG, ³SLUG

³slug noun, pl slugs [count] US : a hard punch with the fist • a slug to the jaw — compare ¹SLUG, ²SLUG

⁴slug verb slugs; slugged; slug-ging [no obj] informal : to hit (someone or something) hard with your fist, a bat, etc. • He said something nasty, and she slugged him. • (baseball) He slugged two home runs in yesterday's game.

slug it out informal : to fight or compete over something until one side wins • The companies are slugging it out in court.

slug-ger /'slʌɡə/ noun, pl -gers [count] : someone who hits someone or something hard: such as a : a boxer who punches hard b baseball : a batter who hits many home runs slug-gish /'slʌɡɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : moving slowly or lazily • a sluggish lizard/stream • The game picked up after a sluggish start.

— slug-gish-ly adv • The water flowed sluggishly. — slug-gish-ness noun [noncount]

¹sluice /'sluːs/ noun, pl sluices [count]

1 : an artificial passage for water to flow through with a gate for controlling the flow

2 : a device (such as a floodgate) used for controlling the flow of water

²sluice verb sluices; sluiced; sluic-ing

1 [+ obj] : to wash or spray (something or someone) with a stream of water • He sluiced (down) the floor.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to flow or pour down heavily • Rain came sluicing down.

¹slum /'slʌm/ noun, pl slums

1 [count] : an area of a city where poor people live and the buildings are in bad condition • a city slum • He grew up in the slums of New York.

2 [singular] Brit, informal : a very untidy place • His house is a slum.

²slum verb slums; slumped; slum-ming [no obj] informal : to spend time in places or conditions that are much worse than your usual places or conditions • She's never been one to slum around (in cheap hotels). • He had no problem slum-ming (it) in cheap hotels. • He sometimes likes to go slum-ming in bars around the city.

¹slum-ber /'slʌmbə/ verb -bers; -bered; -ber-ing [no obj] literary : SLEEP • The children quietly slumbered.

²slumber noun, pl -bers literary : SLEEP [count] a dreamless slumber [noncount] She fell into deep slumber.

slumber party noun, pl ~ -ties [count] US : a party where one or more people (usually girls) stay overnight at one person's house : SLEEPOVER • My 12-year-old daughter is having a slumber party tonight.

slum-lord /'slʌm,lɔəd/ noun, pl -lords [count] chiefly US, disapproving : a person who owns a building with apartments that are in bad condition and rents them to poor people

¹slump /'slʌmp/ verb slumps; slumped; slump-ing [no obj]

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition a : to sit or fall down suddenly and heavily • She fainted and slumped to the floor. • Exhausted, he slumped down into the chair. b : to move down or forward suddenly • His shoulders slumped forward in disappointment.

2 : to decrease suddenly and by a large amount • Real estate prices slumped during the recession.

— slumped adj • The driver of the car was found slumped over the steering wheel unconscious. • He was/sat slumped in front of the TV all afternoon.

²slump noun, pl slumps [count]

1 : a sudden decrease in prices, value, amount, etc. • a market slump — often + in • a slump in real estate prices

2 : a period of time when an economy is doing poorly • The economy's been in a slump since last year.

3 US, sports : a period of time when a team or player is doing poorly • They've been in a slump ever since they traded their best player. • He's in a batting slump.

slung past tense and past participle of ¹SLING

slunk past tense and past participle of SLINK

¹slur /'slə/ verb slurs; slurred; slur-ring

1 a [+ obj] : to say (something) in an unclear way especially because you are drunk or tired • She was slurring her words. • His speech was slurred. b [no obj] of speech : to become unclear especially because you are drunk or tired • His speech/words slurred as he got drunker

2 [+ obj] : to say critical and unfair things about (someone or someone's character) • They tried to slur him by lying about his war record. • They tried to slur his character/reputation.

3 [+ obj] music : to sing or play musical notes so that each one runs smoothly into the next one

²slur noun, pl slurs [count]

1 : an insulting remark about someone or someone's character • a racial/ethnic slur [=an insult based on someone's race/ethnicity]

2 music : a symbol in music that is used to show that notes are to be sung or played smoothly with no break in between them slurp /'slɜp/ verb slurps; slurped; slurp-ing [+ obj] informal : to eat or drink (something) noisily or with a sucking sound • He always slurps his soup/tea.

— slurp noun, pl slurps [count] — usually singular • a quick slurp of coffee slur-ry /'sləri/ noun, pl -ries [count, noncount] : a thick mixture of water and another substance (such as mud or lime)

slush /'slʌʃ/ noun [noncount]

1 : partly melted snow • a sidewalk covered with slush

2 informal : something that is thought to be silly because it is too romantic or emotional • The movie is just a lot of romantic/sentimental slush.

— slushy /'slʌʃi/ adj slush-i-er; -est • slushy snow slush fund noun, pl ~ funds [count] : an amount of money that is kept secretly for illegal or dishonest purposes • a political slush fund • a secret slush fund for paying bribes slut /'slʌt/ noun, pl sluts [count] informal + offensive : a woman who has many sexual partners

— slut-ty /'slʌti/ adj slut-ti-er; -est • a slutty woman • slutty clothes

sly /'slʌi/ adj sli-er or sly-er; sli-est or sly-est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : clever in a dishonest way • a sly con man • a sly scheme

2 : showing that you know a secret • a sly wink/glance/smile on the sly informal : in a secret way • They've been meeting each other on the sly. [=secretly]

— sly-ly adv • He winked slyly. — sly-ness noun [noncount]

sm. abbr small

S-M or S/M /,ɛsənd'ɛm/ abbr sadomasochism

slug

¹smack /'smæk/ verb smacks; smacked; smack-ing [+obj]

1 : to slap or hit (someone or something) hard • He smacked the child on the bottom. • I was so angry I felt like smacking someone.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to set or hit (something) on or against something else so that it makes a loud noise • She smacked the plate down on the table. • He accidentally smacked his head against the shelf.

3 US; informal : to kiss (someone) loudly • His aunt likes to smack him on the cheek every time she comes over.

smack of [phrasal verb] smack of (something) : to seem to contain or involve (something unpleasant) • That suggestion smacks of hypocrisy.

smack your lips : to close and open your lips noisily especially before or after eating or drinking • She smacked her lips (together) and announced that dinner was delicious.

²smack noun, pl smacks [count]

1 : a hard slap or hit • He gave the child a smack on the bottom.

2 : a loud noise that is made when something hits something else in a forceful way • The dictionary fell to the floor with a smack.

3 informal : a loud kiss • She gave him a smack on the cheek. — compare ³SMACK, ⁵SMACK, ⁶SMACK

³smack noun [noncount] : a small, noticeable amount of a particular thing • a smack [=hint, trace] of vanilla flavor • There's a smack of condescension in the book's tone. — compare ²SMACK, ⁵SMACK, ⁶SMACK

⁴smack adv, informal : exactly or directly • She dropped the book smack in the middle of the table. • The ball hit me smack in the face.

⁵smack noun [noncount] slang : HEROIN — compare ²SMACK, ³SMACK, ⁶SMACK

⁶smack noun, pl smacks [count] Brit : a small fishing boat — compare ²SMACK, ³SMACK, ⁵SMACK

smack-dab /'smæk'dæb/ adv, US, informal : exactly or directly • They planted a tree smack-dab in the center of the lawn.

smack-er /'smækə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal

1 : a U.S. dollar or British pound — usually plural • I won 1,000 smackers gambling.

2 : a loud kiss • She gave him a smacker right on the lips.

¹small /'smɑ:l/ adj small-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : little in size • They live in a small house. • a small glass of soda • She moved to a smaller town. • The toy is small enough to fit in my pocket. • He has small hands. • This room is a little smaller than that one.

2 : few in number or little in amount • a small crowd/group/company/party/school • a small supply/number • The movie was a small success. • There is a small [=slight] chance that they can still win. — see also small hours at HOUR

3 : not very important : MINOR • a small matter • There are still a few small details we have to deal with. • It's only a small mistake. • The change had only a small impact on the community.

4 : very young • I loved the playground when I was small. • a small boy • They have two small children.

5 : involving or including few people, things, etc. • She works for a small company. • small businesses/dealers/investors • a small advertising campaign • a small fund-raiser

6 : LOWERCASE • The first letter is a capital, but the rest are small.

7 : very soft and quiet • a small voice

8 : foolish or ashamed • He's just trying to make you feel small. • He felt very small to be caught cheating.

a big fish in a small pond see ¹FISH

in no small measure : to a great degree : largely or mostly • A child's happiness is due in no small measure [=in no small part] to its parents.

(it's a) small world see ¹WORLD

not (in) the smallest bit see ¹BIT

— small-ish /'smɑ:lɪʃ/ adj — small-ness /'smɑ:lnəs/ noun [noncount]

²small noun, pl smalls [count] : something that is sold in a small size : something that is smaller than other things of the same kind • These shirts are all *small*s. • "What size ice-cream cones do you want?" "We'll take three larges and a small."

the small of the/your back : the lower part of your back that is smaller and narrower than the rest • I felt a sharp pain in the small of my back.

small ad noun, pl ~ ads [count] Brit : ²CLASSIFIED small arms noun [plural] : weapons (such as handguns and rifles) that are fired while being held in one hand or both hands small beer noun [noncount] Brit, informal : SMALL POTATOES small change noun [noncount]

1 : coins that are not worth a lot of money • a pocket full of small change

2 informal a : an amount of money that is not large or important • The fine is a lot of money to some people, but to him it's small change. b : something or someone that is not important • My problems are small change compared to yours. • He wasn't a major criminal. He was strictly small change.

small-claims court noun, pl ~ courts [count] law : a court where legal disputes over small amounts of money are settled small fry noun, pl ~ fries informal

1 US a [count] : a child — usually singular • I remember going to the beach when I was just a small fry. b [noncount] : CHILDREN • fun activities for the small fry

2 [noncount] : people or things that are not important • Big businesses are not concerned with the small fry.

small-hold-ing /'smɑ:l,hoʊldɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count] chiefly Brit : a small farm

— small-hold-er /'smɑ:l,hoʊldə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

small intestine noun, pl ~ -tines [count] : the long, narrow upper part of the intestine in which food is digested after it leaves the stomach — see picture at HUMAN; compare LARGE INTESTINE

small-minded /'smɑ:l'maɪndəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving

1 : not interested in new or different ideas : not willing to accept the opinions of other people • small-minded people

2 : typical of a small-minded person • a small-minded attitude

— small-minded-ness noun [noncount]

small potatoes noun [noncount] US, informal : someone or something that is not important or impressive • Last week's storm was small potatoes compared to the blizzard we had two years ago. • These changes are small potatoes. [= (Brit, informal) small beer] small-pox /'smɑ:l,pɔ:ks/ noun [noncount] : a serious disease that causes fever and a rash and often death ♦ Small-pox is now very rare.

small print noun [noncount] chiefly Brit : FINE PRINT

small-scale /'smɑ:l'skeɪl/ adj

1 : involving few people or things • a small-scale production • small-scale manufacturing

2 : covering or involving a small area • a small-scale network • a small-scale map small screen noun

the small screen : TELEVISION • a movie made for the small screen small talk noun [noncount] : informal, friendly conversation about unimportant subjects • They made small talk while waiting for the meeting to start.

small-time /'smɑ:l'taɪm/ adj : not very important or successful : PETTY • small-time racketeering • a small-time thief small-town /'smɑ:l,taʊn/ adj : of or relating to a small town • small-town values/life/charm : coming from or living in a small town • a small-town girl — compare BIG-CITY

smarmy /'smɑ:mi/ adj smarm-i-er; -est informal + disapproving : behaving in a way that seems polite, kind, or pleasing but is not genuine or believable • a smarmy salesman/politician • smarmy politeness

¹smart /'smɑ:t/ adj smart-er; -est

1 chiefly US a : very good at learning or thinking about things : INTELLIGENT • He's a smart [=bright, clever] guy. • Poodles are said to be smart dogs. — see also STREET-SMART

b : showing intelligence or good judgment : WISE • That was a smart investment. • Taking that job was a smart move. [=a good decision]

2 informal + disapproving : behaving or talking in a rude or impolite way : showing a lack of respect for someone • Don't get smart with me. [=don't be rude to me] • He gave her a smart answer.

3 : very popular : stylish and fashionable — somewhat old-fashioned in U.S. English • one of the smartest restaurants in town • He hangs out with the smart set. [=the popular and usually rich people]

4 : very neat and clean — somewhat old-fashioned in U.S. English • What a smart [=beautiful, charming] little kitchen you have! • He looks smart [= (US) sharp] in his new suit.

5 : very quick and energetic • I gave him a smart slap on the head. • We continued along at a very smart pace.

6 : controlled by computers and able to do things that seem intelligent • smart bombs/weapons smart money — used to say who or what is expected to win, be successful, etc. • The smart money is on Jones to win the election. [=people think that Jones will win the election]

— smart-ly adv • She slapped him smartly. • He was smartly dressed. — smart-ness noun [noncount]

²smart verb smarts; smart-ed; smart-ing [no obj]

1 : to feel a sudden sharp pain • “Ouch! That smarts!” • Her eyes were smarting from the smoke.

2 : to be upset about something — usually used as (be) smarting • He’s still smarting at/from/over losing the match last month.

smart off [phrasal verb] US, informal : to say rude and irritating things to someone • Ignore her, she is just smarting off again.

³smart adv smart-er; -est : in a smart way : SMARTLY • He plays smart and the fans appreciate that. • I dress smarter than she does. • Play it smart during the contract negotiations and you’ll get more vacation time.

smart-al-eck /ˈsmɑːt,ælk/ noun, pl -ecks [count] informal + disapproving : a person who says things that are clever or funny but that are also disrespectful or rude • He’s a nice kid but sometimes he can be a real smart-aleck. • Don’t be such a smart-aleck.

— smart-aleck or smart-al-ecky /ˈsmɑːt,ælkɪ/ adj [more ~; most ~] • smart-aleck remarks • a smart-alecky comment

smart-arse /ˈsmɑːt,ɑːs/ noun, pl -ars-es [count] Brit, informal + impolite : SMART-ALECK

— smart-arse or smart-arsed /ˈsmɑːt,ɑːst/ adj [more ~; most ~] • smart-arse remarks smart-ass /ˈsmɑːt,æs/ noun, pl -ass-es [count] US, informal + impolite : SMART-ALECK • Quit being a smart-ass and behave yourself.

— smart-ass or smart-assed /ˈsmɑːt,æst/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a smart-assed remark • a smart-ass attitude smart card noun, pl ~ cards [count] : a plastic card (such as a credit card) that has a small computer chip for storing information smart-en /ˈsmɑːtɪn/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

smart-en up [phrasal verb] 1 US a : to become more intelligent or aware : to become smarter • He told me to smart-en up and pay attention to the teacher. • He’d better smart-en up [=wise up] or he’ll get fired. b smart-en (someone or something) up or smart-en up (someone or something) : to make (someone or something) smarter or more aware • Someone needs to smart-en him up before he gets in trouble. 2 smart-en (someone or something) up or smart-en up (someone or something) : to make (someone or something) neat and attractive • They smartened [=spruced] themselves up for the party. • They smartened up the room for the party.

smart-mouth /ˈsmɑːt,maʊθ/ or smart-mouthed /ˈsmɑːt,maʊθt/ adj, US, informal + disapproving : saying rude or disrespectful things • smart-mouth comments • a bunch of smart-mouthed kids

— smart-mouth noun, pl -mouths [count] • He’s a real smart-mouth.

smarts /ˈsmɑːts/ noun [plural] US, informal : INTELLIGENCE • He’s got the smarts [=brains, know-how] to do the job. — see also STREET SMARTS smarty or smart-ie /ˈsmɑːti/ noun, pl smart-ies [count] US, informal

1 : SMART-ALECK • Don’t be such a smarty.

2 : a smart person • She’s a real smarty and does her job very well.

smarty-pants /ˈsmɑːti,pænts/ noun [noncount] informal + disapproving : a person who talks and behaves like someone who knows everything • Go ahead, smarty-pants, tell us about your grade point average. • Don’t be such a smarty-pants. [=know-it-all]

¹smash /ˈsmæʃ/ verb smash-es; smashed; smash-ing

1 : to break (something) into many pieces : to shatter or destroy (something) [+ obj] He smashed the vase with a hammer. • The ball smashed the window. [no obj] The vase fell and smashed to pieces. • The window smashed [=shattered] when the baseball hit it.

2 a : to hit (something) violently and very hard [+ obj] She smashed [=crushed] her finger in the door. [no obj] He smashed into the wall. • The car smashed [=crashed] into the rail. b [+ obj] : to hit (a ball) downward and very hard in tennis and other games • She smashed the ball deep into the opposite corner.

3 [+ obj] : to destroy or beat (someone or something) easily or completely • We smashed our opponents. • He smashed the world record. [=he broke the world record by a large amount] smash down [phrasal verb] smash (something) down or smash down (something) : to hit (something) hard so that it breaks and falls down • Police smashed down the door.

4 [+ obj] : to crash (a vehicle) • He smashed his car. — often + up in U.S. English • She smashed up her new car.

smash in [phrasal verb] smash (something) in or smash in (something) : to hit (something) hard so that you break it or make a hole in it • I smashed in the window. • I was so mad I felt like smashing his face in.

smash up [phrasal verb] smash (something) up or smash up (something) : to break and destroy (something) in a deliberate way • Vandals broke in and smashed the place up. — see also ¹SMASH 4 (above), SMASHUP

— smash-er noun, pl -ers [count]

²smash noun, pl smashes [count]

1 : someone or something that is very successful or popular • The new movie is a smash. • She was a smash at the party. • His new song promises to be a smash hit.

2 : the sound made when something hits a surface very violently • The vase fell to the ground with a loud smash.

3 : a hard downward hit in tennis or other games • She hit an overhand smash that won the match.

4 Brit : CRASH, SMASHUP • a car smash smash-and-grab adj, always used before a noun, chiefly Brit — used to describe a robbery that is done by breaking a window of a car, store, etc., and stealing whatever you can take quickly • a smash-and-grab robbery/thief

smashed /ˈsmæʃt/ adj

1 : broken to pieces • a smashed window

2 not used before a noun [more ~; most ~] slang : very drunk • He had a few too many beers and was smashed.

smash-ing /ˈsmæʃɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] old-fashioned : very good or impressive • (chiefly Brit) You look smashing in that dress. = That dress looks smashing on you. • The play was a smashing success. [=a very great success]

smash-up /ˈsmæʃ,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] informal : an accident that badly damages or destroys a vehicle : CRASH • a four-car smashup

smat-ter-ing /ˈsmætərɪŋ/ noun [singular] : a small amount of something • She only knows a smattering of German. • a smattering of applause

¹smear /ˈsmiə/ noun, pl smears [count]

1 : a dirty mark, spot, streak, etc., made by touching or rubbing something • There was a smear [=smudge] on the mirror.

2 medical : a very small sample of something (such as skin or blood) that someone examines with a microscope • The blood smear revealed malaria. — see also PAP SMEAR

3 : an untrue story about a person that is meant to hurt that person’s reputation • a deliberate smear — often used before another noun • a smear campaign • His opponent did a smear job on him.

²smear verb smears; smeared; smear-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make (something) dirty by rubbing it with something else • The children smeared the window with fingerprints.

2 [+ obj] : to spread (something) over a surface • She smeared jam on her toast. • Butter was smeared all over the counter. • The axle was smeared [=covered] with grease. • children with paint-smeared faces

3 a [no obj] : to spread or drip in an untidy way • Her mascara smeared when she cried. • The ink smeared [=smudged] when she folded the letter. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to spread or drip in an untidy way • Water smeared [=smudged] the ink so I could barely read the letter.

4 [+ obj] : to make untrue statements about someone in order to hurt that person’s reputation • political opponents smearing each other • They deliberately tried to smear him by telling lies about his war record. • They tried to smear his reputation.

smear test noun, pl ~ tests [count] Brit, medical : PAP SMEAR

¹smell /'smel/ noun, pl smells

¹ [count] a : the quality of a thing that you can sense with your nose : ODOR • the distinctive smell of onions • the smell [=scent] of her perfume b : an unpleasant odor • What is that smell?

² [noncount] : the ability to notice or recognize odors : the ability to smell things • Dogs have a keen sense of smell.

³ [singular] : an act of smelling something • One smell [=whiff] of this perfume and you will fall in love with it.

²smell verb smells; smelled or Brit smelt /'smelt/; smelling

¹ a [+ obj] : to use your nose to sense smells • She leaned over and smelled the flowers. • She smelled [=sniffed] the milk to see if it was sour. b : to be able to use your nose to sense smells [no obj] I have a cold right now so I can't smell. [+ obj] I can't smell anything because I'm so stuffed up. c not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to notice something because of its smell • I could smell dinner cooking. • I think I smell gas.

² a [linking verb] : to have a particular smell • This car smells like mold. • That soup smells good. — sometimes + of • He smelled of alcohol. b not used in progressive tenses [no obj] : to have a bad smell • Whew, what smells? • These sneakers smell. [=stink]

³ a [+ obj] : to sense or detect (something) : to think that (something) is going to happen • Can't you smell the profits? • As the end of the game got closer, our team began to smell victory. [=began to sense/feel that victory was very near] • I smell trouble [=I think there's going to be trouble] b [no obj] : to appear or seem to have a certain quality • Something doesn't smell [=seem] right about this deal.

come out/up smelling like a rose see ²ROSE

smell a rat see ¹RAT

smell out [phrasal verb] smell (something) out or smell out (something) : to find (something) by smelling it • Police have trained the dogs to smell out [=sniff out] drugs.

(stop and) smell the roses see ²ROSE

smelling salts noun [plural] : a chemical that has a strong smell and that is used to wake people up after they faint smelly /'smeli/ adj smell-i-er; -est : having a bad smell • I don't like smelly cheese. • smelly sneakers • smelly [=stinky] feet

¹smelt /'smelt/ noun, pl smelts or smelt [count] : a type of small fish that can be eaten

²smelt verb smelts; smelt-ed; smelt-ing [+ obj] : to melt rock that contains metal in order to get the metal out • the process used for smelting iron ore

³smelt Brit past tense and past participle of ²SMELL

smelt-er /'smeltə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a machine used for smelting metal

smid-gen also smid-geon also chiefly Brit smid-gin /'smidʒən/ or US smidge /'smidʒ/ noun [singular] informal : a small amount • I'll just have a smidgen of ice cream. • a smidgen of dignity • Could you move just a smidge [=bit] to the left?

¹smile /'smajəl/ noun, pl smiles [count] : an expression on your face that makes the corners of your mouth turn up and that shows happiness, amusement, pleasure, affection, etc. • He greeted me with a big smile. • I like your smile. • She gave me a smile. [=she smiled at me] • a polite smile • a smile of pleasure/satisfaction

all smiles : happy and smiling • She was all smiles as she opened her birthday presents.

wipe that/the smile off someone's face see ¹WIPE

²smile verb smiles; smiled; smiling

¹ [no obj] : to make a smile : to make the corners of your mouth turn up in an expression that shows happiness, amusement, pleasure, affection, etc. • The photographer asked us to smile for the camera. • She smiled when she saw him. • She hasn't had much to smile about lately. [=she hasn't had much reason to feel happy lately] • He smiled to himself [=he smiled or felt happy] as he looked at the photos. — often + at • She smiled at me. • I had to smile at his silly comments.

² [+ obj] a : to show or express (something, such as approval, encouragement, etc.) by a smile • Both parents smiled their approval. • I smiled my encouragement. b : to say (something) with a smile • "Nice job," she smiled.

smile on/upon [phrasal verb] smile on/upon (someone or something) : to make (someone or something) have good luck or success • Fortune smiled upon us. [=we were lucky]

• Lady Luck smiled on me and I won the jackpot.

¹smil-ey /'smaɪli/ adj [more ~; most ~] : happy and cheerful : smiling a lot • She's a very smiley kid.

²smiley noun, pl smil-ies [count] : SMILEY FACE

smiley face noun, pl ~ faces [count] : a symbol used in typing, writing, or drawing that represents a person smiling • He ended his e-mail with a smiley face. • The teacher drew a smiley face on the student's homework. • a smiley-face button

smil-ing-ly /'smaɪlɪŋli/ adv [more ~; most ~] : with a smile : while smiling • "May I help you?" he asked smilingly. • The waiter smilingly described the specials.

smirk /'smɜ:k/ verb smirks; smirked; smirk-ing [no obj] : to smile in an unpleasant way because you are pleased with yourself, glad about someone else's trouble, etc. • She tried not to smirk when they announced the winner. — often + at • She smirked at the thought of how this would hurt him.

— smirk noun, pl smirks [count] • He had a big smirk on his face when he told me the news.

smite /'smaɪt/ verb smites; smote /'smoʊt/; smit-ten /'smitn/ or smote; smit-ing [+ obj] literary + old-fashioned

¹ : to hurt, kill, or punish (someone or something) • He vowed that he would smite his enemy. • Misfortune smote him and all his family.

² : to hit (someone or something) very hard • He smote the ball mightily.

smith /'smɪθ/ noun, pl smiths [count] : a person who makes things (such as tools or horseshoes) with iron : BLACKSMITH • Ancient smiths developed the techniques needed to make metal tools. — see also GOLDSMITH, GUNSMITH, SILVERSMITH

smith-er-eens /'smɪðə'ri:nz/ noun [plural] informal : small broken pieces : tiny bits • The car was blown to smithereens. [=was completely destroyed by an explosion] • The vase was smashed to smithereens. • An explosion here could blow us all to smithereens.

smithy /'smɪθi/ noun, pl smith-ies [count]

¹ : the place where a blacksmith works • They tore down the old smithy behind the general store.

² : SMITH • In earlier times, the town smithy [=blacksmith] would repair pots and wagon wheels.

smit-ten /'smitn/ adj [more ~; most ~]

¹ : in love with someone or something • From the moment he saw her, he was smitten. — usually + by or with • He was smitten with her from the moment he laid eyes on her. • I was smitten by his good looks. • consumers smitten with the latest gadgets

² : suddenly affected by something (such as a strong emotion or a serious illness) — usually + by or with • He was smitten by disaster. • She was smitten with terror.

— see also SMITE

smock /'sma:k/ noun, pl smocks [count]

¹ : a light and loose long shirt usually worn over your regular clothing to protect it from getting dirty • an artist's smock • The children's smocks were covered with paint. — called also (Brit) overall

² : a long shirt usually worn by women smock-ing /'sma:kɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : a type of decoration for clothing that is made of many small folds that are sewn into place smog /'sma:g/ noun [noncount] : fog mixed with smoke : a cloud of dirty air from cars, factories, etc., that is usually found in cities

smog-gy /'sma:gi/ adj smog-gi-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : having a lot of smog • smoggy cities

¹smoke /'smoʊk/ noun, pl smokes

¹ [noncount] : the cloud of black, gray, or white gases and dust that is produced by burning something • Smoke from the campfire stung my eyes. • cigarette smoke • We could see black smoke from the house fire. • I smell smoke. • smoke inhalation — see also SECONDHAND SMOKE

² a [count] informal : a cigarette, cigar, etc. : something that people smoke • Hey, (have you) got a smoke? • Can I bum a few smokes off you? b [singular] : the act of smoking a cigarette, cigar, etc. • He went outside for a smoke. = He went outside to have a smoke. [=to smoke a cigarette, cigar, etc.] blow smoke chiefly US, informal : to lie about something : to say things that are not true in order to fool or impress people • Don't listen to him. He's just blowing smoke.

go up in smoke ¹ : to burn up completely • All their possessions went up in smoke. [=burned in a fire] ² informal

: to end or disappear completely • When she hurt her back, all her dreams of being a dancer went up in smoke.

where there's smoke, there's fire (chiefly US) or there's no smoke without fire — used to say that if people are saying that someone has done something wrong there is usually a good reason for what they are saying • “Do you believe those rumors about the mayor?” “Well, you know what they say, where there's smoke, there's fire.”

²smoke verb smokes; smoked; smok-ing

1 : to suck the smoke from a cigarette, cigar, pipe, etc., into your mouth and lungs and then exhale it [+ obj] I caught her smoking a cigarette. • He was thrown out of school for smoking marijuana. [no obj] She smokes and drinks, but I don't. • Do you mind if I smoke in here? — see also CHAIN-SMOKE, SMOKING

2 [+ obj] : to produce smoke • That old car smokes when you start it up. • the smoking remains of a fire • Olive oil has a high smoking point. [=it does not begin to produce smoke until it is heated to a high temperature]

3 [+ obj] : to use smoke to flavor and preserve (food, such as meat, cheese, or fish) • We smoke our hams over hickory. — see also SMOKED

4 [+ obj] US, informal a : to beat (someone or something) completely : DEFEAT • They smoked the competition. • We got smoked. b : to hit (a ball) very hard and fast • (baseball) He smoked a line drive into left field. • (tennis) She smoked a forehand down the line.

put/stick that in your pipe and smoke it see ¹PIPE smoke like a chimney chiefly US, informal : to smoke a lot of cigarettes, cigars, etc. • She still smokes like a chimney despite warnings from her doctor.

smoke out [phrasal verb] smoke (someone or something) out or smoke out (someone or something) : to force (someone or something) to leave a place by filling the place with smoke • The hunters tried to smoke the foxes out of the den. — often used figuratively • She's determined to smoke out [=find out] the truth about what really happened.

smoke alarm noun, pl ~ alarms [count] : a device that makes a loud and harsh noise when smoke fills a room — called also smoke detector smoke and mirrors noun [plural] chiefly US : something that seems good but is not real or effective and that is done especially to take attention away from something else that is embarrassing or unpleasant • The new proposal brings no real changes—it's all just smoke and mirrors.

smoke bomb noun, pl ~ bombs [count] : a bomb that produces a lot of smoke when it explodes • Police threw smoke bombs at the rioters.

smoked adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : treated with smoke to add flavor and prevent spoiling • smoked ham/mozzarella/salmon

2 : covered by a gray film : tinted gray • smoked glass/windows smoke detector noun, pl ~ -tors [count] : SMOKE ALARM

smoke-filled room noun, pl ~ rooms [count] : a room or place where secret decisions are made by a small group of powerful people • political deals made in smoke-filled rooms smoke-free adj [more ~; most ~] — used to describe a place where people are not allowed to smoke • We guarantee a smoke-free working environment.

smoke grenade noun, pl ~ -nades [count] chiefly US : SMOKE BOMB smoke-house /'smouk,haus/ noun, pl -houses [count] : a building where meat or fish is given flavor and kept from spoiling by the use of smoke • Hams hung from the rafters of the smokehouse.

smoke-less /'smoukləs/ adj : not producing or containing smoke • smokeless powder • a smokeless cigarette smokeless tobacco noun [noncount] : tobacco that is placed in the mouth between the cheek and the gum instead of being smoked

smok-er /'smoukə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who smokes cigarettes, cigars, etc. • She's a heavy smoker.

2 : a piece of equipment used for smoking foods

smoke screen noun, pl ~ screens [count]

1 : something that you do or say to hide something or to take attention away from something • His campaign promises were just a smoke screen. • The truth was hidden behind a smoke screen of lies.

2 : a cloud of thick smoke that is used to hide ships, soldiers, etc.

¹smoke-stack /'smouk,stæk/ noun, pl -stacks [count] : a tall chimney on a factory, ship, etc., for carrying smoke away — called also (Brit) chimney stack

²smokestack adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US : of or relating to companies that manufacture products in large factories • She invested in smokestack stocks. • Car manufacturing and other smokestack industries need to adapt to the global economy.

smoking /'smoukɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the activity of smoking a cigarette, cigar, pipe, etc. • There is no smoking allowed in this restaurant. • When did you start smoking? • Would you like to be seated in the smoking section? [=an area where smoking is allowed] • You need to quit/stop smoking. — see also NONSMOKING, PASSIVE SMOKING smoking gun noun, pl ~ guns [singular] : a piece of evidence that clearly proves who did something or shows how something happened • This document is the smoking gun that proves that he was lying.

smoking jacket noun, pl ~ -ets [count] : a loose jacket or robe worn especially in the past by men at home smoky also smok-ey /'smouki/ adj smok-i-er; -est

1 : filled with smoke • a smoky bar • smoky rooms

2 : having a flavor, taste, or appearance of smoke • a smoky, full-bodied wine • smoky eyes • Her dress was a smoky blue.

3 : very attractive or sexy • Her smoky voice drew me in. • She gave him a smoky look.

— smok-i-ness /'smoukinəs/ noun [noncount]

smol-der (US) or Brit smoul-der /'smouldə/ verb -ders; -dered; -der-ing [no obj]

1 : to burn slowly without flames but usually with smoke • The remains of the campfire smoldered. • smoldering ruins • a smoldering fire

2 literary a : to feel a strong emotion but keep it hidden • He smoldered with lust. • Her eyes smoldered with anger. b : to be felt strongly by someone without being directly shown or expressed • Anger smoldered in my heart. • Their discontent smoldered [=simmered] for years.

3 : to be attractive in a sexy way • He gave her a smoldering look. [=he looked at her in a very sexy way] smooch /'smu:tʃ/ verb smooch-es; smooched; smooch-ing informal : to kiss [no obj] They smooched while sitting on the porch swing. [+ obj] She smooched him while they were on the porch swing.

— smooch noun, pl smooches [count] • Give me a big smooch [=kiss] on the cheek before you go.

¹smooth /'smu:ð/ adj smooth-er; -est

1 a : having a flat, even surface : not rough : not having any bumps, ridges, or uneven parts • smooth skin • They groomed the ski trail so it was smooth. • The river rocks had been worn smooth by the water. • The surface is (as) smooth as silk. [=very smooth] b of a liquid mixture : not having any lumps : mixed together so there are no lumps • Whisk the flour into the gravy until it is smooth. • The milkshake was smooth and creamy.

2 : happening or done without any problems • With the aid of observers, the election process was a smooth one. • Our trip was smooth and uneventful.

3 a : even and regular without sudden movements • the smooth movements of a swimmer • She has a nice, smooth golf swing. b : not having or causing sudden, violent movements • His new car has a smooth ride. • Our flight was very smooth. — opposite ROUGH

4 informal : relaxed, confident, and pleasant in a way that may be intended to deceive people • I don't trust him—he's just too smooth. • He has a smooth manner. • He's a real smooth talker. [=he says flattering things] • She's a smooth operator. [=a person who is smooth] — see also SMOOTHIE

5 a : not sharp, bitter, or unpleasant in taste or smell • The wine was full and smooth. • a smooth cup of coffee b : pleasant to hear or listen to • He has a rich, smooth voice.

smooth sailing see SAILING

take the rough with the smooth see ³ROUGH

— smooth-ness noun [noncount]

²smooth verb smoothes; smoothed; smooth-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (something) smooth • He smoothed his tie and headed out the door. • The coin's date had been smoothed away over time. — often + back or down • She smoothed back her hair. • Smooth the surface down with sandpaper. — see also SMOOTH OUT (below)

2 : to remove problems or difficulties from a situation •

They smoothed the way for a quick end to the dispute. [=they made it easier to achieve a quick end to the dispute] • She has helped smooth a path [=has helped make it easier] for more women to run for office.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to spread (something) over a surface (such as your skin) : to apply (something) by rubbing it on a surface • Smooth the cream on after your shower. • Smooth the wax over the wood before polishing. • She smoothed on some moisturizer before she put on her makeup. • He smoothed ointment over the cut.

smooth away [phrasal verb] smooth (something) away or smooth away (something) : to make (problems, difficulties, etc.) less serious : to remove (problems, difficulties, etc.) • We'll help smooth away any legal trouble.

smooth out [phrasal verb] smooth (something) out or smooth out (something) 1 : to make (something) smooth or flat • Help me smooth out the tablecloth. • The ground was rocky, so we smoothed out the path with cedar chips.

2 : to make (something) easier by removing or dealing with problems • We will smooth out the election process by next year. • She tried to smooth things out [=end an argument or disagreement] with her daughter-in-law, but the damage was done.

smooth over [phrasal verb] smooth (something) over or smooth over (something) : to make (a disagreement, problem, difficulty, etc.) seem less serious than it really is • Don't worry about missing the application deadline—we'll smooth that over with the office. • She smoothed over the objections to his candidacy.

smooth-ie or smoothy /'smu:ði/ noun, pl -ies [count]

1 : a person who has a relaxed, polite, and confident way of speaking and behaving but who may not seem honest or sincere • He's a real smoothie around women.

2 : a thick, cold drink that is made of fruit mixed with milk, yogurt, or juice • fruit smoothies smooth-ly /'smu:ðli/ adv [more ~; most ~] : in a smooth way: such as a : without any problems or difficulties • The whole trip went very smoothly. • As long as things go smoothly, she'll be fine. b : without delays or sudden starts or stops • The accident has been cleaned up and traffic is flowing smoothly once again. • The software enables you to move smoothly from one screen to the next. c : with confidence and ease : in a relaxed and confident way • She made the jump shot smoothly and easily. • "Don't worry," she said smoothly, "Just leave it all to me."

smooth-talking adj [more ~; most ~] : talking in a friendly and pleasant way that is not completely honest or sincere • a smooth-talking salesman • smooth-talking politicians s'more /'smoə/ noun, pl s'mores [count] US : a sweet food that is made by putting a melted marshmallow and a piece of chocolate between two crackers

smor-gas-bord /'smoəgəs,bɔəd/ noun [singular]

1 : a meal with many different foods that are placed on a large table so that people can serve themselves : BUFFET

2 : a large mixture of many different things • We were presented with a smorgasbord [=variety] of options.

smote past tense and past participle of SMITE

smoth-er /'smʌðə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing [+ obj]

1 : to kill (someone) by covering the face so that breathing is not possible • He tried to smother her with a pillow.

2 : to cover (something) in order to keep it from growing or spreading • She smothered the fire with a blanket. — often used figuratively • She smothered her son with love/affection. [=she gave her son a lot of love and affection in a way that prevented him from feeling free to live his own life]

3 : to try to keep (something) from happening : to try to stop doing (something) • I tried to smother [=stifle, suppress] a yawn.

4 : to cover (something or someone) thickly or completely • She smothers her pancakes in/with syrup. [=she puts a lot of syrup on her pancakes] • The potatoes were smothered in gravy. • She smothered him with/in kisses. [=she kissed him many times]

smoulder Brit spelling of SMOLDER

1 smudge /'smʌdʒ/ noun, pl smudges [count] : a dirty mark, spot, streak, etc. • His hand left a grimy smudge on the wall.

— smudgy /'smʌdʒi/ adj smudg-i-er; -est

2 smudge verb smudges; smudged; smudg-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make a dirty mark, spot, streak, etc., on (something) • Don't smudge the picture with your dirty hands! • His face was smudged with grease.

2 a [no obj] : to become blurry and unclear by being touched or rubbed • Charcoal drawings smudge easily. b [+ obj] : to make (something) blurry or unclear by touching or rubbing it • Be careful not to smudge [=smear] the ink.

smug /'smʌg/ adj smug-ger; smug-gest disapproving : having or showing the annoying quality of people who feel very pleased or satisfied with their abilities, achievements, etc. • It's OK to celebrate your success, but try not to be too smug about it. • You can wipe that smug look off your face. • a smug smile/expression — smug-ly adv [more ~; most ~] • She smiled smugly.

— smug-ness noun [noncount]

smug-gle /'smʌgəl/ verb smug-gles; smug-gled; smug-gling [+ obj]

1 : to move (someone or something) from one country into another illegally and secretly • He was arrested for smuggling drugs into the country. • They smuggled immigrants across the border. • The paintings had been smuggled out of the country before the war. • smuggled goods

2 informal : to take or bring (something) secretly • We smuggled his favorite sandwich past the nurse.

— smug-gler /'smʌglə/ noun, pl -glers [count] • drug smugglers

smut /'smʌt/ noun [noncount] informal + disapproving : language, pictures, or stories that deal with sex in a way that is offensive • Smut is not allowed in this house. • obscenity laws that aimed to stamp out smut

smut-ty /'smʌti/ adj smut-ti-er; -est informal + disapproving : relating to sex in a way that is offensive • smutty jokes/humor • a smutty magazine

1 snack /'snæk/ noun, pl snacks [count] : a small amount of food eaten between meals • He had a snack of chips and dip. • between-meal snacks • I didn't have time for lunch so I just grabbed a quick/light snack. • peanuts, potato chips, and other snack foods

2 snack verb snacks; snacked; snack-ing [no obj] informal : to eat a small amount of food between meals : to eat a snack • She tries not to snack between meals. • I'll just snack on an apple if I'm hungry.

snack bar noun, pl ~ bars [count] : a public place where small meals and snacks are served usually at a counter • There's a snack bar at the pool where we can get nachos.

sna-fu /snæ'fu:/ noun, pl -fus [count] chiefly US, somewhat informal : a problem that makes a situation difficult or confusing • a major scheduling snafu

1 snag /'snæg/ noun, pl snags [count]

1 : an unexpected problem or difficulty • We hit a snag with our travel plans. = We ran into a snag with our travel plans. [=we had a problem with our travel plans]

2 : a sharp or broken part of something that sticks out from a smooth surface • I caught my sleeve on a snag and tore it.

3 : a thread that sticks out from a piece of cloth • My sweater has a snag where I caught it on a nail.

4 : a dead tree or tree stump that is still standing up • After the fire, there were a few snags still smoldering.

2 snag verb snags; snagged; snag-ging [+ obj]

1 : to catch and tear (something) on something sharp • I snagged my favorite sweater on a nail.

2 US, informal : to catch, capture, or get (something or someone) by quick action or good luck • The shortstop snagged the grounder. • The police snagged the suspect as he was trying to run away. • I managed to snag the information I needed from/off the Internet. • Can I snag a ride from/with you?

snail /'sneil/ noun, pl snails

[count] : a small animal that lives in a shell that it carries on its back, that moves very slowly, and that can live in water or on land at a snail's pace : very slowly • The work is progressing at a snail's pace.

snail mail noun [noncount] in- formal + humorous : ordinary mail that is delivered by a postal system : mail that is not e-mail • She still uses snail mail for paying bills. • I can be contacted by e-mail and snail mail.

1 snake /'sneik/ noun, pl snakes [count]

1 : an animal that has a long, thin body and no arms or legs • snail

a poisonous snake — see also GARTER SNAKE, RATTLESNAKE

2 chiefly US, informal : a bad person who tells lies and betrays other people • He's a dirty snake! • I thought she was my friend, but she turned out to be a snake in the grass

3 : a long thin tool that is used to clear out blocked pipes — called also plumber's snake

— snake-like /'sneɪk,laɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~]

2 snake verb snakes; snaked; snak-ing : to move like a snake : to follow a twisting path with many turns [no obj] The road snakes through the mountains. • Cables snaked across the floor. [+ obj] Technicians snaked cables through the set. • He snaked his way through the crowd.

snake-bit /'sneɪk,bɪt/ also snake-bitten /'sneɪk,bɪtən/ adj [more ~; most ~] US slang : having bad luck : very unlucky • The team was snakebit this year, winning only 1 game out of 10. • He's so snakebit that nothing he does comes out right.

snake-bite /'sneɪk,bɑɪt/ noun, pl -bites [count, noncount] : the wound you get when a snake bites you snake charmer noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : someone who appears to make snakes move by playing music to them snake oil noun [noncount] chiefly US, informal + disapproving : something that is sold as medicine but that is not really useful or helpful in any way • snake oil remedies — often used figuratively • He thinks politicians are just a bunch of snake oil salesmen. [=dishonest people] snake-skin /'sneɪk,skɪn/ noun [noncount] : leather made from the skin of a snake • boots made of snakeskin = snake-skin boots snaky /'sneɪki/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : moving like a snake • the dancer's snaky movements

2 chiefly US : long, thin, or twisting like a snake • a snaky river • His hair was long and snaky.

— snak-i-ly /'sneɪkəli/ adv

1 snap /'snæp/ verb snaps; snapped; snap-ping

1 : to break quickly with a short, sharp sound [no obj] The branch snapped and fell to the ground. • The cable suddenly snapped. • The earpiece of his glasses snapped off. [+ obj] She snapped the twig in two. • The boy snapped the wing off his toy airplane.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move into a specified position with a short, sharp sound [no obj] The trap snapped shut. • The bent tree snapped back into an upright position. • The pieces snap [=click] easily into place. [+ obj] I snapped the lid shut. • She snapped the pieces together.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to close (something) with a fastener and especially with a snap • She snapped her handbag shut. • He snapped (up) his jacket.

4 [+ obj] : to turn (something) on or off with a switch • snap on/off the lights

5 : to make a short, sharp sound or to cause (something) to make a short, sharp sound [no obj] A fire snapped [=crackled] in the wood stove. [+ obj] The driver snapped [=cracked] the whip to get the horses moving. • a bored student snapping her chewing gum

6 : to use your thumb and fingers to make a short, sharp sound [+ obj] People snapped their fingers to the beat. • He snapped his fingers to get the waiter's attention. [no obj] People in the audience snapped to the beat.

7 [+ obj] informal : to take (a photograph) • tourists snapping pictures • The images were snapped by a satellite camera. : to photograph (someone or something) • A photographer snapped the famous couple leaving a London club last week.

8 : to speak using short, angry sentences or phrases [no obj] — usually + at • They argued and snapped at each other all the time. [+ obj] She snapped that I was lucky to have a job at all. • "Leave me alone!" he snapped.

9 [no obj] : to suddenly no longer be able to control your emotions because of a difficult situation, circumstance, etc. • She snapped under the pressure of the job. • He just snapped and started swearing at everybody.

10 : to move with a quick, short movement or to cause (something) to move with a quick, short movement [no obj] Flags snapped in the wind. [+ obj] When you're throwing, snap your wrist as you release the ball.

11 [+ obj] US, informal : to cause the end of (a series of wins, losses, successes, etc.) • They snapped [=broke] a 10-game losing streak. [=they won a game after losing 10 games] • His hitting streak was snapped at 18 games.

snake

12 [+ obj] American football : to pass (the ball) back to a teammate and especially to the quarterback by passing it between your legs at the start of a play • The center snapped [=hiked] the ball.

13 [no obj] : to try to bite someone or something suddenly and quickly — usually + at • The dog snapped at a fly.

snap out of [phrasal verb] snap out of (something) or snap (someone) out of (something) informal : to stop being in or to cause (someone) to stop being in (an unhappy condition or mood, a daydream, etc.) • I don't know how to get her to snap out of her depression. [=to stop being depressed] • The sound of a door slamming snapped me out of my daydream. • Come on, snap out of it! You can't let your break-up get you so depressed.

snap to attention ♦ A soldier who snaps to attention moves quickly to a position of standing silently with the body stiff and straight, the feet together, and both arms at the sides. The phrase is also used figuratively. • The children snapped to attention [=suddenly stopped moving around, talking, etc.] when the teacher clapped his hands.

snap to it informal : to start working harder or more quickly • You'll have to snap to it if you want to finish on time.

snap up [phrasal verb] snap (something or someone) up or snap up (something or someone) : to buy or take (something or someone) quickly or eagerly • Shoppers came to the store to snap up bargains after the holidays. • When they see your work history, they'll snap you up! [=hire you immediately]

2 snap noun, pl snaps

1 [count] : a sudden, short, sharp sound caused by something breaking or moving into a new position — usually singular • We could hear the snap of twigs beneath our feet. • the snap of the alligator's jaws

2 [count] : the act of snapping your fingers or the sound made when you snap your fingers • I've trained the dog to come to me with a snap of my fingers.

3 [count] US : a device that fastens something by closing or locking with a short, sharp sound • The snap of the bracelet broke.; especially : a set of two metal or plastic pieces that fit tightly together when you press them • pockets with snaps — called also (Brit) popper, (Brit) press stud

4 [count] : a thin, hard cookie — see also GINGERSNAP

5 [singular] US, informal : something that is very easy to do : CINCH • The software is a snap to install. = Installing the software is a snap. • The recipes are a snap (to prepare).

6 [singular] US, informal : a small amount of time • I'll be ready in a snap. [=jiffy]

7 [count] : a sudden brief period of a specified kind of weather • We had a cold snap [=a brief period of very cold weather] last week.

8 [count] : a quick, short movement • She pulled the rope taut with a snap [=flick] of her wrist.

9 [count] chiefly Brit : SNAPSHOT • family snaps [=informal photographs of family members that are taken quickly]

10 [count] American football : the act of snapping the ball back to a teammate and especially to the quarterback at the start of a play • the first snap of the game • The quarterback fumbled the snap. [=fumbled the ball when it was snapped to him]

11 [noncount] Brit : a card game in which players put down cards in a pile and try to be the first to say "snap" when two cards that are the same have been played

3 snap adj, always used before a noun : done or made suddenly or without careful thought • a snap judgment/decision • (chiefly Brit) a snap election

4 snap interj, Brit — used to express surprise when two things are alike • Snap! I ate spaghetti last night, too.

snap bean noun, pl ~ beans [count] : any of several types of beans whose long green seed cases are eaten as a vegetable when they are young and tender snap-drag-on /'snæp,dræɡən/ noun, pl -ons [count] : a tall plant that has many usually pink, white, red, or yellow flowers

snap pea noun, pl ~ peas [count] : SUGAR SNAP PEA snap

snap·per /'snæpə/ noun, pl -pers

1 [count, noncount] : a type of fish that lives in the ocean and that is eaten as food • red snapper

2 [count] chiefly Brit, informal : PHOTOGRAPHER

3 [count] : SNAPPING TURTLE

4 [count] American football : the player who passes the ball to another player at the start of a play snapping turtle noun, pl ~ turtles [count] : a large American turtle that has strong jaws and that is sometimes used for food — called also snapper snap·pish /'snæpɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly US : feeling or showing irritation • a snappish mood/remark • The shoppers were snappish and rude.

— snap·pish·ly adv • “I’ve been waiting for you,” he said snappishly.

snap·py /'snæpi/ adj snap·pi·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal

1 a : exciting or lively • snappy colors • a snappy tune b : moving or able to move quickly • a snappy pace • a car with a snappy engine

2 : fashionable or stylish • a snappy [=sharp] dresser • a snappy [=snazzy] bow tie

3 : clever and funny • a snappy [=witty] joke/remark • The show is well-acted, and the dialogue is snappy.

4 : feeling or showing irritation : SNAPPISH • He got pretty snappy about it. • She was awfully snappy with me.

make it snappy or Brit look snappy informal : to act, move, or go quickly : HURRY UP • Clean your room, and make it snappy! [=do it quickly]

— snap·pi·ly /'snæpəli/ adv • snappily written essays • snappily dressed snap·shot /'snæpʃɔ:t/ noun, pl -shots [count]

1 : an informal photograph that is taken quickly • family snapshots — often + of • snapshots of the baby

2 : a quick view or a small amount of information that tells you a little about what someone or something is like — often + of • Television news presents only snapshots of the war. • We get a snapshot of 18th-century Japan in his letters.

snare /'sneə/ noun, pl snares [count]

1 : a device that has a loop (called a noose) which gets smaller when the end of it is pulled and that is used to catch animals : a kind of trap • a rabbit snare

2 : a position or situation from which it is difficult to escape • people caught in the snare of drug addiction

3 : SNARE DRUM

snare verb snares; snared; snar·ing [+ obj]

1 a : to catch (an animal) in a snare • They caught fish and snared seabirds. — often used figuratively • Police snared the thief outside the bank. b : to cause (something) to become caught in something (such as a net or trap) • Unfortunately, the nets also snare turtles. — usually used as (be/get) snared • Thousands of turtles get snared [=ensnared] in the nets each year. — sometimes used figuratively • another politician snared [=caught, entangled] in another scandal

2 : to win or get (something) by skillful action or good luck • I was lucky enough to snare [= (more commonly) snag] a job with a good salary and benefits. • They snared first place in the contest. • trying to snare business from competitors

3 US, sports : to catch (a thrown or hit ball) usually by jumping • The shortstop snared a high throw from the outfield.

snare drum noun, pl ~ drums [count] : a drum of a medium size that is played with special sticks (called drumsticks) — called also snare; see picture at PERCUSSION snarl /'snarəl/ noun, pl snarls [count]

1 : a twisted knot of hairs, thread, etc. : TANGLE • a brush that smoothes out snarls • snarls of string/rope

2 : a situation in which you can no longer move or make progress • a traffic snarl • The project has been plagued by legal/bureaucratic snarls.

— compare ⁴SNARL

snarl verb snarls; snarled; snarl·ing : to become twisted together : to form a snarl or snarls [no obj] Her hair snarls very easily. — sometimes used figuratively • Traffic snarled at the intersection after the accident. [+ obj] The rope had become snarled around the post. — sometimes used figuratively • The accident snarled traffic.

snarl up [phrasal verb] snarl (something) up or snarl up (something) chiefly Brit : to stop (something or someone) from moving or making progress • Traffic was snarled up because of the parade. — see also SNARL-UP

— compare ³SNARL

snarl verb snarls; snarled; snarling

1 [no obj] : to growl and show the teeth — usually + at • The dog snarled at the postman.

2 : to say something in an angry or annoyed way [+ obj] “Get back to work,” she snarled. — often + at • He snarled insults at other drivers. [no obj] The stranger snarled at her. — compare ²SNARL snarl noun, pl snarls [count] : an act of growling and showing the teeth — usually singular • The dog gave a snarl when I reached for its bone. — compare ¹SNARL snarl-up noun, pl -ups [count] chiefly Brit : a situation in which you can no longer move or make progress • a traffic snarl-up [=snarl]

snatch /'snætʃ/ verb snatch·es; snatched; snatch·ing [+ obj]

1 : to take (something) quickly or eagerly • She snatched [=grabbed] the ball out of the air and ran down the court. • An eagle swooped down and snatched one of the hens. — often + up • She snatched up the last copy of the book. — often used figuratively • trying to snatch a few moments of rest • The company snatched him up [=hired him] as soon as he graduated from college.

2 : to take (something or someone) suddenly from a person or place often by using force • A man snatched [=stole] the old woman's purse. • Kidnappers snatched [=abducted] the girl from her bedroom. • She snatched the toy from his hands. — sometimes + away • She snatched her brother's toy away. — sometimes used figuratively • He snatched 30 rebounds in one game. • His life was snatched away (from him) by a tragic accident. [=he died in a tragic accident] snatch at [phrasal verb] snatch at (something) : to grab or try to grab (something) quickly or eagerly • chaotic city streets where thieves snatch at tourists' wallets — often used figuratively • She was an ambitious person who snatched at every opportunity.

snatch noun, pl snatches [count] : a small part of something — usually + of • I only caught a (short) snatch of the music/conversation/dialogue.

in snatches : for short periods of time • sleeping in snatches : in small amounts • The plot of the novel came to me in snatches.

snatch·er /'snætʃə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who takes something from someone else and runs away • a purse/briefcase snatcher [=thief] • a child/baby snatcher [=a person who kidnaps a child/baby]

snaz·zy /'snæzi/ adj snaz·zi·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal : attractive and stylish • a snazzy new computer/car/stereo • a snazzy dresser/hotel/party/tie sneak /'sni:k/ verb sneaks; sneaked or chiefly US snuck /'snʌk/; sneak·ing

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move quietly and secretly in order to avoid being noticed • They tried to sneak into the movie without paying. • As a teenager she would sneak out (of her house/apartment) at night to visit her boyfriend. • He sneaked [=crept] past the guard.

2 [+ obj] : to take or bring (something) secretly and often quickly • She sneaked some cigars through customs. • He snuck a few cookies out of the jar while his mother wasn't looking. • They caught him trying to sneak food into the theater. • I sneaked a note to my friend in class. = I sneaked my friend a note in class. • I'm going to sneak a smoke. [=I'm going to smoke a cigarette while nobody is watching] • I was caught sneaking a look [=secretly looking] at my Christmas presents. • Can I sneak a peek at your quiz answers?

3 [no obj] Brit, old-fashioned : to tell someone (such as a parent or teacher) about something wrong that someone else has done • I got in trouble after she sneaked [=squealed, (chiefly US) tattled] on me.

sneak up on [phrasal verb] sneak up on (someone) 1 : to approach (someone) quietly and secretly in order to avoid being noticed • My father likes to sneak up on my mother and tickle her. • Don't sneak up on me like that! 2 : to approach, happen, or develop without being noticed • My birthday really snuck up on me this year. • This kind of problem can sneak up on you if you're not attentive.

sneak noun, pl sneaks [count]

1 US, informal : a person who acts in a secret and usually dishonest way • What a rotten sneak! I should have known not to trust her.

2 Brit, old-fashioned : TATTLETALE

3 American football : QUARTERBACK SNEAK • He ran a sneak up the middle for a touchdown.

³sneak adj, always used before a noun : done while others are not paying attention • a sneak [=surprise] attack • She took a sneak peek [=a secret look] at the birthday presents hidden in the closet.

sneak·er /'sni:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : a shoe with a rubber sole that is designed for people to wear while running, playing sports, etc. — called also (Brit) trainer, (chiefly Brit) training shoe; see picture at SHOE

sneaking adj, always used before a noun

1 : behaving in a secret and dishonest manner • a sneaking [=sneaky] eavesdropper

2 : not openly expressed — usually + for • He had a sneaking admiration for his opponent. • a sneaking fondness for bad movies

3 ✧ If you have a sneaking feeling/suspicion, you think that something might be true or might happen even though you have no definite reason to think so. • I have a sneaking feeling/suspicion that we're going to have a test today. • I have a sneaking suspicion that he's lying.

sneak preview noun, pl ~ -views [count] : a special showing of something (such as a movie, play, or product) before it becomes available to the general public • A few prominent writers were invited to a sneak preview of the new film/play. • a sneak preview of this fall's fashions sneaky /'sni:ki/ adj sneak·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : behaving in a secret and usually dishonest manner • a sneaky, untrustworthy person

2 : done in a secret and dishonest manner • They make it look like you're getting a lot more than you really are. It's a sneaky trick. • It's a sneaky way of getting people to buy something they don't need.

— sneak·i·ly /'sni:kəli/ adv • a sneakily subversive movie

— sneak·i·ness /'sni:kinəs/ noun [noncount]

¹sneer /'sniə/ verb sneers; sneered; sneer·ing

1 [no obj] : to smile or laugh at someone or something with an expression on your face that shows dislike and a lack of respect — usually + at • She sneered at me in disgust.

2 : to express dislike and a lack of respect for someone or something in a very open way [no obj] — usually + at • an academic who sneers at anyone who doesn't have a PhD • Critics sneered at his first novel. [+ obj] "You obviously don't know what you're talking about," she sneered.

— sneering adj, always used before a noun • the sneering villain of the comic book • sneering contempt — sneer·ing·ly adv • Critics sneeringly referred to the novel as "juvenile."

²sneer noun, pl sneers [count] : an expression on a person's face that is like a smile but that shows dislike and a lack of respect for someone or something • She looked at me with a sneer of disgust. • "They're paranoid," he said with a sneer; also : a statement, criticism, etc., that shows dislike and a lack of respect • The novel elicited sneers from the critics.

sneeze /'sni:z/ verb sneez·es; sneezed; sneez·ing [no obj] : to suddenly force air out through your nose and mouth with a usually loud noise because your body is reacting to dust, a sickness, etc. • She was constantly sneezing and coughing.

sneeze at [phrasal verb] sneeze at (something) not used in progressive tenses, informal : to regard (something) as not important, worth noticing, etc. — always used in negative statements • The award is nothing to sneeze at. = The award is not to be sneezed at. [=the award is important]

— sneeze noun, pl sneezes [count] • Germs can be spread through a sneeze or a handshake.

snick·er /'snɪkə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er·ing [no obj] chiefly US : to make a short, quiet laugh in a way that shows disrespect — usually + at • They snickered [= (chiefly Brit) sniggered] at my strange hat.

— snicker noun, pl -ers [count] • His crazy story drew/got snickers from the police. • She heard snickers behind her back.

snide /'snaɪd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : unkind or insulting in an indirect way • snide remarks/comments/references • a snide tone

— snide·ly adv • "Are you having a problem?" she asked snidely.

¹sniff /'snɪf/ verb sniffs; sniffed; sniff·ing

1 a [no obj] : to take air into your nose in short breaths that are loud enough to be heard • She sniffed and wiped her nose with a tissue. b : to smell (something or someone) by putting your nose close to it and taking air in through your nose in short breaths [+ obj] She put perfume on her wrist and sniffed it. • The dog sniffed the carpet. [no obj] He held the flower up to his nose and sniffed. — often + at • The cat sniffed at the food and walked away. c [+ obj] : to take (something, such as fumes or a drug) into your body by inhaling it through your nose in order to get intoxicated • sniffing glue/ether • sniffing [= (more commonly) snorting] cocaine

2 a [+ obj] : to discover or find (something) by smelling — usually + out • dogs that are trained to sniff out drugs — often used figuratively • Several companies, sniffing [=sensing] profit potential, are investing in the area. • My mother is an expert at sniffing out trouble. • the ability to sniff out bargains • By asking around, we were able to sniff out the truth. b [no obj] : to search for something by smelling • A dog sniffed (around) for drugs in the car. — often used figuratively • The detective sniffed for clues. • She has been sniffing (around/about) for a new job.

3 [+ obj] : to say (something) in a way that shows dislike, disapproval, etc. • "I guess you don't need my help," she sniffed.

sniff around/round [phrasal verb] sniff around/round (someone) Brit, informal : to try to get (someone) as a romantic partner, employee, etc. • His engagement hasn't stopped him from sniffing around other girls. • Rival companies have been sniffing around her for years.

sniff at [phrasal verb] sniff at (something) : to show dislike or disapproval of (something) especially because you think it is not important or worthy of respect • Some people sniff at the idea of using fake flowers. • It's not a big profit, but it's not to be sniffed at. = It's not a big profit, but it's nothing to sniff at.

²sniff noun, pl sniffs

1 [count] : an act or the sound of drawing air into the nose especially in order to smell something or because you are sick or have been crying • He took a big sniff [=whiff] of the soup. • She said that she felt fine, but her sniffs and coughs told a different story.

2 [singular] : an expression of dislike or disapproval • "I refuse to answer that question," she said with a sniff.

3 [singular] : a small amount or sign of something • He wanted to avoid the slightest sniff of a scandal. • They ran away at the first sniff [=hint] of trouble. • There was still a sniff of hope left for the team.

4 [singular] : an opportunity to come close to achieving or experiencing something — usually + of • The team did not even get a sniff of the play-offs last year. [=did not even come close to reaching the play-offs]

sniff·er /'snɪfə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : someone who sniffs a drug or other substance in order to become intoxicated • a cocaine/glue/paint sniffer

2 : a dog that is trained to find people, illegal drugs, explosives, etc., by recognizing and following scents • Sniffers were brought in to search bags at the airport. — called also sniffer dog

¹snif·fle /'snɪflə/ verb snif·fles; snif·fled; snif·fling

1 [no obj] : to repeatedly take air into your nose in short breaths that are loud enough to be heard because you are sick or have been crying • The children have been sniffing for a week now.

2 [+ obj] : to say (something) while crying or sniffing • "In your family's eyes," she sniffled, "I'm not good enough."

²sniffle noun, pl sniffles [count]

1 : an act or the sound of sniffing • He couldn't stop his sniffles.

2 the sniffles informal : a slight or mild cold that causes you to sniffle a lot • I have (a case of) the sniffles.

sniffy /'snɪfi/ adj sniff·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] chiefly Brit, informal + disapproving : having or showing the attitude of people who believe that they are better or more important than other people • a sniffy [=snooty] man in an expensive suit • She wrote a sniffy letter rejecting his offer.

snif·ter /'snɪftə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : a glass with a narrow rim, a wide bowl, and a short stem that is used especially for drinking brandy snig·ger /'snɪgə/ verb -gers; -gered; -ger·ing [no obj] chiefly Brit : SNICKER — usually + at • The class sniggered at her mistake.

— snigger noun, pl -gers [count] • His awkwardness drew sniggers from the other boys.

¹snip /'snɪp/ noun, pl snips

1 [count] : a small piece that is cut from something : a small piece that is snipped • a snip of yarn

2 [count] : an act or the sound of snipping something — usually singular • She removed the dead flowers with a snip of her scissors.

3 [singular] Brit, informal : something bought or sold for a good price • Tickets are a snip [=bargain] at only three euros each.

— see also SNIPS

2 snip verb snips; snipped; snip·ping : to cut (something) with scissors : to remove (something) by cutting with scissors [+ obj] He snipped some fresh herbs from plants on the windowsill. • snipping pictures out of magazines • Snip the uneven ends off. = Snip off the uneven ends. [no obj] She snipped at the hanging strings.

1 snipe /'snaɪp/ verb snipes; sniped; snip·ing

1 [no obj] : to shoot at someone from a hidden place • Enemy fighters sniped at them from vacant buildings.

2 : to criticize someone or something in a harsh or unfair way [no obj] — usually + at • The candidates have been snip·ing at each other in speeches. [+ obj] One of the senators sniped, “What does he think this is, a monarchy?”

— sniping noun [noncount] • Soldiers took cover when the sniping started. • There has been a lot of sniping between the candidates.

2 snipe noun, pl snipes or snipe [count] : a bird with a long thin beak that lives in wet areas snip·er /'snaɪpə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who shoots at another person from a hidden place • The soldiers were attacked by a sniper. — often used before another noun • a sniper attack

snip·pet /'snaɪpət/ noun, pl -pets [count]

1 : a small piece of information or news — usually + of • snippets of gossip/information

2 : a small part of something (such as a piece of music, a conversation, etc.) • snippets from the author's newest novel — often + of • I heard only a snippet of their conversation.

snip·py /'snaɪpi/ adj snip·pi·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] US, informal : feeling or showing irritation • I'm sorry. I didn't mean to get snippy with you. • snippy comments

snips /'snaɪps/ noun [plural] : heavy scissors that are used especially for cutting metal • tin snips

snit /'snaɪt/ noun

have a snit US, informal : to become annoyed and angry usually about something minor • She's going to have a snit when she sees this mess.

in a snit US, informal : in a very annoyed and angry state usually because of something minor • He left in a snit when they told him he'd have to wait another hour. • She got in a snit when she found out he was late.

1 snitch /'snaɪtʃ/ verb snitch·es; snitched; snitch·ing informal

1 [no obj] disapproving : to tell someone in authority (such as the police or a teacher) about something wrong that someone has done • Someone must have snitched to the police. — usually + on • She snitched [=tattled, squealed] on her brother when he skipped school.

2 [+ obj] : to take or steal (something that is not very valuable) • He snitched a dime from the kid next door.

2 snitch noun, pl snitches [count] informal + disapproving : a person who tells someone in authority (such as the police or a teacher) about something wrong that someone has done : someone who snitches — usually singular • Who's the snitch who ratted on me?

sniv·el /'snaɪvəl/ verb -els; US -eled or Brit -elled; US -el·ing or Brit -el·ing : to complain or cry in an annoying way [no obj] millionaires sniveling about their financial problems [+ obj] “Woe is me,” she sniveled.

— sniveling adj • He's a sniveling, lying coward.

snob /'snaʊb/ noun, pl snobs [count] disapproving : someone who tends to criticize, reject, or ignore people who come from a lower social class, have less education, etc. • Most of the people in the club are snobs who look down on people who attended public schools. • Don't be such a snob. • food/wine/art snobs [=people who think they are better than other people because they know about fine food/art/wine] • an intellectual snob

— snob·bism /'snaʊbɪzəm/ noun [noncount] • She accused me of snobbism. [=she accused me of being a snob]

snob appeal noun [noncount] disapproving : a quality that makes something attractive to people who are snobs • Expensive cars have snob appeal. • old foreign films with snob appeal — called also (Brit) snob value

snob·bery /'snaʊbəri/ noun [noncount] disapproving : the behavior or attitude of people who think they are better than other people : the behavior or attitude of snobs • the snobbery of some wine connoisseurs • (chiefly US) By a kind of reverse snobbery, he hated people from educated families and bragged about his working-class relatives. • (Brit) inverted snobbery

snob·bish /'snaʊbɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : having or showing the attitude of people who think they are better than other people : of or relating to people who are snobs • a snobbish rich kid • a snobbish attitude

— snob·bish·ly adv • She snobbishly refused to watch mainstream movies. — snob·bish·ness noun [noncount]

snob·by /'snaʊbi/ adj snob·bi·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal + disapproving : SNOBBISH • a snobby brat • snob·by prep schools

sno·cone variant spelling of SNOW CONE

snog /'snaʊg/ verb snogs; snogged; snog·ing Brit, informal : to kiss for a long time [no obj] They were snogging on the couch. [+ obj] They were snogging each other on the couch.

— snog noun [singular] • They were sharing a snog.

snook /'snuːk, Brit 'snuːk/ see cock a snook at at ²COCK

1 snook·er /'snuːkə, Brit 'snuːkə/ noun [noncount] : a version of the game of pool that is played chiefly in Britain with a cue ball, 15 red balls, and 6 balls of other colors on a table that has 6 pockets — often used before another noun • a snooker player/table — compare BILLIARDS, POOL

2 snooker verb -kers; -kered; -ker·ing [+ obj] informal

1 US : to trick or deceive (someone) • She snookered [=hoodwinked] her parents into buying her a new car. — often used as (be) snookered • I have a feeling we've been snookered.

2 Brit : to prevent (someone) from doing or achieving something • He was ahead early in the match, but he snookered himself. [=he caused his own defeat by performing badly] — often used as (be) snookered • They wanted to build a museum but were snookered [=thwarted] by city regulations.

1 snoop /'snuːp/ verb snoops; snooped; snoop·ing [no obj] informal : to look for private information about someone or something • She locks up her diary to keep her brother from snooping. • I caught her snooping (around) in my desk drawers. • Government agencies have been snooping on them for years. • She doesn't want reporters snooping into her personal life.

— snoop·er noun, pl -ers [count] — snooping noun [noncount] • electronic/government snooping — snooping adj • a snooping device/cop • snooping software/technology

2 snoop noun, pl snoops informal

1 [count] : someone who looks for private information about someone or something : someone who snoops • No, I didn't read your e-mail. I'm no snoop.

2 [singular] : a secret look around a place • We had a snoop around their apartment.

— snoopy /'snuːpi/ adj snoop·i·er; -est • a snoopy reporter

snoot /'snuːt/ noun, pl snoots [count]

1 a : SNOUT 1 b informal + humorous : the nose of a person • She has a great big snoot.

2 US, informal : a snooty person : SNOB • That little snoot thinks he deserves only the best!

snooty /'snuːti/ adj snoot·i·er; est [also more ~; most ~] informal + disapproving : having or showing the insulting attitude of people who think that they are better, smarter, or more important than other people • a snooty [=snobbish] rich girl • a snooty accent/attitude • a snooty restaurant

— snoot·i·ness /'snuːtɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

1 snooze /'snuːz/ verb snooz·es; snoozed; snooz·ing [no obj] informal : to sleep lightly especially for a short period of time : DOZE • She lay down on the sofa and snoozed [=napped] for a while.

2 snooze noun [singular] informal

1 : a short period of light sleep : NAP • take/catch a snooze

2 US : something that is dull or boring — usually singular • The novel was a real snooze. [=bore]

3 : SNOOZE BUTTON • Most mornings I hit (the) snooze at least twice.

snooze button noun, pl ~ -buttons [count] chiefly US : a button on an alarm clock that stops the alarm from making noise for a short time so that the sleeper can rest for a few more minutes • He woke up and hit the snooze button. — called also (chiefly US) snooze alarm

snooz·er /'snuːzə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US, informal : something that is dull and boring — usually singular • a snoozer of a film

¹snore /'snoʊ/ verb snores; snored; snoring [no obj] : to breathe noisily while sleeping • My husband snores.

— snor-er noun, pl -ers [count] • a loud snorer — snoring noun [noncount]

²snore noun, pl snores [count]

1 : an act of snoring or the sound made when someone is snoring • a loud/soft snore

2 US, informal : something that is dull and boring — usually singular • The movie was a real snore. [=snooze, bore]

¹snor-kel /'snoʊkəl/ noun, pl -kels [count] : a special tube that makes it possible to breathe while you are swimming with your head underwater — see picture at SCUBA DIVING

²snorkel verb -kels; US -keled or Brit -kelled; US -kel-ing or Brit -kel-ling [no obj] : to swim underwater while using a snorkel • We snorkeled in the Caribbean on our vacation last year.

— snor-kel-er (US) or Brit snor-kel-ler noun, pl -ers [count] — snorkeling (US) or Brit snorkelling /'snoʊkəlɪŋ/ noun [noncount] • She went snorkeling with her sister.

¹snort /'snoʊt/ verb snorts; snorted; snorting

1 [no obj] : to force air noisily through your nose • The old dog snorted like a pig when it smelled food. • He snorted with disgust.

2 a [no obj] : to express dislike, disapproval, anger, or surprise by snorting • She snorted at his suggestion that he could fix the sink himself. b [+ obj] : to say (something) with a snort or while snorting • “Yeah, you’re a writer, and I’m the King of Spain!” he snorted.

3 [+ obj] : to take (a drug) into your body by inhaling it through your nose • They were snorting cocaine.

²snort noun, pl snorts [count]

1 : an act or the sound of noisily forcing air through the nose : an act or the sound of snorting • the snorts of a pig/horse/bull • a snort of laughter/derision/disapproval

2 : an amount of a drug taken into the body by inhaling it through the nose • a snort of cocaine

snot /'snoʊt/ noun, pl snots informal + impolite

1 [noncount] : mucus from the nose • Snot was dripping from his nose.

2 [count] disapproving : a rude and annoying person • an obnoxious little snot

snot-ty /'snoʊti/ adj -ti-er; -ti-est [also more ~; most ~] informal

1 : rude and annoying — used especially to describe people who think they are better than other people • a snotty reply/manner/person • She was very snotty to me.

2 : covered or filled with mucus from the nose : dirty with mucus • a snotty nose

— snot-ti-ly /'snoʊtəli/ adv • She took a bite and said snottily, “So you think you can cook?” — snot-ti-ness /'snoʊtɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

snout /'snoʊt/ noun, pl snouts [count]

1 : the long nose of some animals (such as pigs) • The dog raised his snout and sniffed. — sometimes used figuratively • The boat’s snout bounced on the waves.

2 informal + humorous : the nose of a person • a punch in the snout have/get your snout in the trough see TROUGH

¹snow /'snoʊ/ noun, pl snows

1 : soft, white pieces of frozen water that fall to the ground from the sky in cold weather [noncount] Snow fell softly on the town. • The mountains were blanketed/covered with snow. • She took a walk in the snow. • We got 12 inches of snow. [=we had a snowstorm that left 12 inches of snow on the ground] • We haven’t had much snow this year. • The weatherman is forecasting heavy/light snow. [=the weatherman is saying that a large/small amount of snow will fall] • She went out to shovel the snow. [count] Soon the warm spring sun will melt the winter snows. • the snows of the Rocky Mountains • A light/heavy snow was falling.

2 [noncount] : white dots that appear on the screen of a television when it is receiving a weak signal

²snow verb snows; snowed; snow-ing

1 [no obj] — used with it to say that snow is falling • Look—it’s snowing! [=snow is falling from the sky] • It snowed all day. • The weatherman says that it will snow tomorrow. • It was snowing heavily, making it difficult to drive.

2 [+ obj] US, informal : to impress, deceive, or persuade (someone) — usually used as (be) snowed • She was not snowed by the special treatment she received. • I was com- pletely snowed by the presentation. [=I was very impressed by it] snowed in also Brit snowed up 1 : unable to leave a place because a lot of snow is falling or has fallen • We got snowed in at my sister’s house. • They were snowed in for a week. 2 : blocked with snow • The road was snowed in.

snowed under : having to deal with too much of something : overwhelmed by something • He was snowed under with e-mail. [=he had a lot of e-mails to respond to]

¹snow-ball /'snoʊbɑ:l/ noun, pl -balls [count] : a ball of snow that someone makes usually for throwing • This snow is perfect for making snowballs. • During recess, the children had a snowball fight. [=a playful fight in which people throw snowballs at each other]

a snowball’s chance in hell informal : any chance at all — used to say that something is extremely unlikely or impossible • Let’s be honest—there isn’t a snowball’s chance in hell that we’ll win this game. [=there’s no chance that we’ll win] • Unfortunately, he doesn’t have a snowball’s chance in hell of getting the job. [=there is no chance that he will get the job; he will not get the job]

²snowball verb -balls; -balled; -ball-ing [no obj] : to increase, grow, etc., at a faster and faster rate • Problems snowball when early trouble signs are ignored. • What started as a small annual concert has snowballed into a full-fledged music festival. • consumers dealing with snowballing debt snowball effect noun [singular] : a situation in which one action or event causes many other similar actions or events • The city hopes that these improvements will have a snowball effect and spur private investment in the community.

snow-bank /'snoʊbæŋk/ noun, pl -banks [count] : a pile of snow especially along the side of a road • The car slid into a snowbank.

snow-bird /'snoʊbɜ:d/ noun, pl -birds [count] US : someone who spends the winter months in a warm place • Like many of the state’s snowbirds, they live in Florida from November through March.

snow-blow-er /'snoʊblowə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a machine that picks up snow from a driveway, sidewalk, etc., and throws it aside

¹snow-board /'snoʊboʊd/ noun, pl -boards [count] : a board like a wide ski that is used for sliding down hills of snow while standing

²snowboard verb -boards; -board-ed; -board-ing [no obj] : to slide down a hill of snow on a snowboard especially as a sport • Do you snowboard?

— snow-board-er noun, pl -ers [count] • She is an expert snowboarder. — snowboarding noun [noncount] • Snowboarding is my favorite sport. • He went snowboarding yesterday.

snow-bound /'snoʊbaʊnd/ adj

1 : unable to leave a place because a lot of snow is falling or has fallen • We were snowbound for a week.

2 : blocked with snow • snowbound roads/airports snow-capped /'snoʊkæpt/ adj : having the top covered with snow • snowcapped mountains

snow cone or sno-cone /'snoʊkoun/ noun, pl ~ cones or -cones [count] US : a cone-shaped paper cup that contains very small pieces of ice flavored with a sweet syrup snow day noun, pl ~ days [count] US : a day when schools and businesses are closed because a lot of snow is falling snow-drift /'snoʊdrɪft/ noun, pl -drifts [count] : a hill of snow that is formed by wind • The car was almost buried in a snowdrift.

snow-drop /'snoʊdra:p/ noun, pl -drops [count] : a small white flower that blooms in early spring snow-fall /'snoʊfɑ:l/ noun, pl -falls : an amount of snow that falls in a single storm or in a particular period of time [count] The yearly snowfall here is over 30 feet! • after a heavy snowfall [=after a large amount of snow has fallen] [noncount] 30 feet of annual snowfall • The area is expecting heavy snowfall this weekend.

snow-field /'snoʊfi:ld/ noun, pl -fields [count] : a large flat area of fallen snow snow-flake /'snoʊfleɪk/ noun, pl -flakes [count] : a small, snowblower

soft piece of frozen water that falls from the sky as snow : a flake of snow

snow job noun, pl ~ jobs [count] US, informal : a strong effort to make someone believe something by saying things that are not true or sincere • They'd been promised a big return on their investments, but all they got was a snow job.

snow line noun, pl ~ lines [count] : an imaginary line on a mountain that marks the height above which snow does not completely melt • climbing above the snow line snow-man /'snou,mæn/ noun, pl -men /-,men/ [count] : a figure made of snow that is shaped to look like a person • The kids built a snowman in the front yard.

snow-melt /'snou,melt/ noun [noncount] : water from melting snow that flows over the surface of the ground into streams and rivers

snow-mo-bile

/'snoumou,bi:l/ noun, pl -biles [count] : a vehicle used for traveling on snow or ice

snowmobile

snow-mo-bil-ing

/'snoumou,bi:liŋ/ noun [noncount] : the activity or sport of driving a snowmobile • The park has trails for snowmobiling. • Let's go snowmobiling.

— snow-mo-bil-er /'snoumou,bi:lə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • In winter the park is full of snowmobilers.

snow pea noun, pl ~ peas [count] US : a type of pea whose flat outer part and seeds may be eaten — called also (Brit) mangetout; see color picture on page C4

snow-plow (US) or Brit snow-plough /'snou,plau/ noun, pl -plows [count]

1 : a flat or curved piece of metal that is attached to the front of a vehicle and used for clearing snow from a road, driveway, etc.; also : a vehicle (such as a truck) that has a snowplow attached — see picture at plow

2 : a position in skiing in which the front ends of the skis are moved together in order to stop, slow down, or turn — often used before another noun • a snowplow turn/stop snowplow (US) or Brit snowplough verb -plows; -plowed; -plow-ing [no obj] : to move the front ends of your skis together in order to stop, slow down, or turn • He snowplowed to a stop.

snow-shoe /'snou,ʃu:/ noun, pl -shoes [count] : a light, wide frame that is attached to your shoe to make it easier to walk on soft snow without sinking snowshoe verb -shoes; -shoed; -shoe-ing [no obj] : to walk with snowshoes • We snowshoed through the woods.

snowshoe

— snowshoeing noun [noncount] • Snowshoeing is one of her favorite winter activities. • We went snowshoeing in the mountains.

— snow-sho-er /'snou,ʃu:wə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

snow-storm /'snou,stoəm/ noun, pl -storms [count] : a storm with a large amount of falling snow

snow-suit /'snou,su:t/ noun, pl -suits [count] : a piece of clothing or a jacket and matching pants that is worn by children over their regular clothes when they go outdoors in the winter snow thrower noun, pl ~ -ers [count] US : SNOWBLOWER

snow tire noun, pl ~ tires [count] US : a special tire that is used to give a vehicle better control when you are driving on snow and ice snow-white /'snou'waɪt/ adj : white as snow : completely white • snow-white hair snowy /'snoui/ adj snow-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : having a lot of snow • a snowy day • This is the snowiest winter in years. b : covered in snow • snowy mountaintops/streets/fields

2 : white like snow • snowy hair • snowy white flower petals

Snr abbr, Brit senior • Dave Smith Snr

snub /'snʌb/ verb snubs; snubbed; snub-bing [+ obj]

1 : to ignore (someone) in a deliberate and insulting way • She snubbed me in the hallway.

2 : to not accept or attend (something) as a way to show disapproval • He snubbed their job offer. • They deliberately snubbed the meeting.

— snub noun, pl snubs [count] • His refusal to accept the award/invitation was a deliberate snub. • Her name was left off the guest list by mistake, but she took it as a snub.

snub-nosed /'snʌb,nouzɪd/ adj

1 : having a short, wide nose • a snub-nosed child

2 of a gun : having a very short barrel • a snub-nosed revolver/handgun snuck (US) past tense and past participle of ¹*SNEAK* snuff /'snʌf/ verb snuffs; snuffed; snuff-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (something, such as a candle or cigarette) to stop burning by pressing it with your fingers, covering it, etc. • She snuffed the candles after everyone had left the table. — often + out • She snuffed out her cigarette.

2 informal a : to cause the end of (something) • The home run ended the game and snuffed their chances to win a championship. • Their hopes were snuffed. — often + out • Their chances of winning were snuffed out. • Her life was snuffed out by cancer. b : to kill (someone) • a gangster who was/got snuffed by a rival — often + out • They threatened to snuff him out.

snuff it Brit, informal : to die • He snuffed it at a young age.

snuff noun [noncount] : a type of tobacco that is chewed, placed against the gums, or inhaled into the nose • He took a pinch of snuff.

up to snuff US, informal : good enough : as good as expected or wanted • I'm trying to get my math skills up to snuff.

The performances by the actors were not up to snuff.

snuf-file /'snʌfəl/ verb snuf-fles; snuf-fled; snuf-fling [no obj] : to breathe loudly because you have a cold or have been crying • The child was snuffling in his room.

snug /'snʌg/ adj snug-ger; snug-gest [also more ~; most ~]

1 : fitting closely and often too tightly • a snug coat • The shoes were too snug. • These jeans are snug around the hips.

2 : providing or enjoying warmth, shelter, and comfort : COZY • a snug little apartment/room • We were snug in the cabin. • She felt snug under the warm blanket. • The children were snug in their beds.

— snug-ly adv • The coat fits snugly. • The children slept snugly in bed.

snug noun, pl snugs [count] Brit : a small private room in a pub snug-gle /'snʌgəl/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition snug-gles; snug-gled; snug-gling

1 [no obj] : to lie or sit close together in a comfortable position • The puppy snuggled up against the sleeping boy. • The boy snuggled close to his mother. • We snuggled (together) under a blanket.

2 [+ obj] : to place (something) close to or against someone or something : NESTLE • The dog snuggled its nose between the pillows. • The baby snuggled his head against my chest.

so /'soʊ/ adv

1 a : to a degree that is suggested or stated • She had never felt so happy. [=had never felt as happy as she did then] • You shouldn't eat so fast. [=you should eat more slowly] • I don't think they can score twice in so short a time. • It was hot last summer—but less so than this summer. [=but not as hot as it was this summer] • The play was impressive—(all) the more so [=it was even more impressive] because the students had written it themselves. • There has always been an interest in genetic cloning, but never more so than in recent years. — often + that • She was so tired that she almost fell asleep at the dinner table. • The library is so large (that) you could get lost in it. — often used with as when making a comparison, when giving an example of some quality, or when describing someone or something • She had never been so [=as] nervous as when she performed for the queen. • His latest novel is not so suspenseful as his others. • How can you be so cruel as to criticize her weight? • Would you be so kind as to help me with my bags? [=would you please help me with my bags?] • Sailing is not so much a science as an art. [=sailing is more of an art than a science] — see also SO MUCH AS (below) b

: to a great degree : very or extremely • He looked so handsome in his suit. • We are all so excited about the trip. • I'm so happy that you decided to join us for dinner. • He loves her so. [=very much] • Not so long ago [=a short time ago], she was the nation's best gymnast. • I feel so much better after taking that nap. • Thank you so much for your help. • The game is so much fun. [=is very enjoyable] • He dislikes her so much that he won't even talk to her. • The test was not so very hard after all. ♦ When this sense of so is used before an adjective alone, it is considered informal. • The apple pie tasted so good. [=tasted very good] • This computer is so out-of-date. C informal : without any doubt — used to make a statement more forceful • I so don't believe you. • I so wanted them to win. • That was so not the right thing to say! • That shirt is so you. [=it looks like something you would wear; it is very typical of your style] • Her hairstyle is so 1980s. [=it's out of date and looks like the hairstyles that were popular in the 1980s] • It's so not fair. [=it's very unfair]

2 : to a definite but not specified amount • "He is about so tall," she said, raising her hand about six feet in the air. • I can only move so fast. • I have never seen so many geese on one pond before. • I can only do so many things at a time. • I can do only so much in a day. • There is still so much to be done before the guests arrive. • There is only so much negative criticism a person can take. [=a person can only take a certain amount of negative criticism] • The house burned like so much paper. [=like something made of paper] • The explanation sounded like so much [=like a lot of] nonsense.

3 : in the same way • She was always a hard worker and so was her father. [=and her father was too] • "I'm going to the concert." "So am I." [=I am also going] • "I wish I had a coffee right now." "So do I." [=I do too] • (US, informal) "I really like her music." "So don't I." [=so do I; I do too]

4 : in the way that is stated or suggested • The bell rang, we took our seats, and so began another new school year. — often + that • The football arena was so designed that every seat had a good view of the field. • It (just) so happens that I know her son. [=I happen to know her son]

5 informal : most certainly • "I never said that" "You did so." [=too, indeed] • "You're not really leaving." "I am so."

and so forth or and so on : and other things often of the same or similar kind • Magazines, newspapers, journals, and so forth are on the second floor of the library. • She wanted to know about my family, my childhood, my hopes and fears, (and so on) and so forth. • I bought milk, eggs, bread, and so on.

even so see ²EVEN

ever so see EVER every so often see EVERY

how so see ¹HOW never so much as see NEVER

so far see ¹FAR

so help me (God) see ¹HELP

so long see ²LONG

so much : an amount, price, etc., that is not stated or known • You are charged so much a mile when renting a vehicle. • You can only believe so much of what he says. [=you can only believe some of what he says]

so much as — used after a negative word (such as not or a contraction of not) to stress the smallness of an amount or effort • We didn't hear so much as a word from her the whole time. [=we didn't hear a word from her] • Not only did they not help, they didn't so much as [=even] offer to help! • They ended their date without so much as a hug. — see also ¹SO 1a (above)

so much for informal 1 — used to say that everything that can be said about or done with something or someone has been said or done • So much for the history of the case. Now we'll look at its implications. • Well, so much for that idea. [=that idea was not successful] We'll have to try something else. 2 — used to say that something has ended • Well, it's raining. So much for our perfect weather.

so much so (that) : to the extent that • The twins look alike—so much so that even their parents sometimes confuse them. [=the twins look so alike that even their parents sometimes confuse them]

so much the better see ³BETTER

so to speak see SPEAK

²SO pronoun — used to refer to something that has just been stated or suggested • "Has she left?" "I believe so." [=I believe she has left] • If you have not yet returned the form, please do so immediately. [=please return it immediately] • "Is it true?" "I think/hope so." • They're going to help us move, or so they said. • If you wanted to leave early, you should have said so. • "They're getting married." "Really? Who said so?" • "I heard you're moving to New York." "Who told you so?" [=who told you that?] • I didn't like the dress and told her so. [=told her I didn't like it] • "Is he coming to the meeting?" "So he says." [=he says he's coming] • "You were late this morning." "So I was—what's it to you?" • I might be late. If so [=if I am late], please start the meeting without me. • Fold the paper like so [=like this] • If they insist on going, so be it [=if they insist on going, they will go, and there is nothing I can do to stop them] • "Today is the first day of winter." "Why, so it is"

if I may say so see ¹SAY or so — used to say that a number, amount, etc., is not exact • We plan to stay a week or so. [=we plan to stay about a week] • Tickets cost $20 or so.

³SO conj

1 : for that reason : and therefore • We were bored with the movie, so we left. • I don't want to go, so I won't. • There are no more chairs available, so you'll have to stand.

2 — used to say the reason for something • Please be quiet so I can study. • She pulled him to the side so that no one else could hear their conversation. • Let's get there early so that we can get good seats.

3 — used in speech to introduce a statement or question • So here we are. • So, we meet at last! • So, as I was saying, the car is used but in good condition. • So, how did the test go?

4 — used in speech to say in a somewhat rude or annoyed way that something is unimportant • So I mispronounced the word. You still understood what I meant. • "I'm taller than you!" "So?" • She has a glass of wine now and then—so what? = So what if she has a glass of wine now and then? [=why should anyone object if she has a glass of wine now and then?]

5 — used in speech to say that you have just become aware of someone or something • So, that's who did it! • So there you are. I've been looking for you. • "Goodbye, then." "So you're not coming with me after all!"

so as see ²AS

so far as see ¹FAR

so long as see ²LONG

⁴SO adj, not used before a noun : agreeing with actual facts : TRUE • You are saying things that are just not so. • I heard you met the president—is that so? • She thinks I'm angry at her, but that just isn't so. [=I'm not angry at her]

just so see ²JUST

⁵SO /'sou/ noun [noncount] music : SOL

So, or so, abbr south or southern

SO abbr 1 strikeout 2 significant other

¹soak /'sok/ verb soaks; soaked; soak-ing

1 a : to put (something) in a liquid for a period of time [+ obj] Soak the beans overnight (in water). • He soaked his feet (in a tub of warm water). • You should soak those dirty clothes before you wash them. • The cucumbers are soaked [=marinated] in vinegar. [no obj] The beans soaked in water overnight. b [no obj] : to take a long bath • He relaxed and soaked in the tub. c [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) very wet with water or another liquid • After planting the seeds, soak the soil. • She soaked the dog with the hose. • His shirt was soaked with sweat. • I was/got soaked by the rain. • My shirt and pants were soaked through [=made completely wet] by the rain. • I was soaked to the skin [=made completely wet] within minutes.

2 [no obj] of a liquid : to enter or pass through or into something • The oil soaked into the wood. • Sweat soaked through his shirt. • Rain soaked through her jacket. • Blood soaked through the bandage.

3 [+ obj] informal : to make (someone) pay a lot of money for something • People are getting soaked by city taxes. • They're soaking their customers by charging high fees for routine services.

soak in [phrasal verb] of a liquid : to enter something by a gradual process • Pour water around the base of the plant and allow it to soak in. — often used figuratively • He sat quietly, letting her words soak in. • Close your eyes and let the music soak in.

soak up [phrasal verb] soak up (something) or soak (something) up 1 : to take in (liquid) : ABSORB • The rag soaked up most of the water. • This kind of paper soaks up ink easily. 2 : to enjoy feeling or experiencing (something pleasant) in usually a slow or relaxed way • We went to the beach and soaked up the sun/sunshine all afternoon. • I sat at my table for an hour soaking up [=savoring] the atmosphere of the café. • The performers stood on the stage, soaking up the applause. 3 : to learn and remember (something) quickly • He eagerly soaked up [=took in] every word she said. • She has an ability to soak up new information very quickly. 4 : to use a large amount of (money, supplies, etc.) • This project is soaking up resources that could be used elsewhere.

²soak noun [singular]

1 : an act of letting something stay in a liquid for a long time in order to soften or clean it • This shirt needs a good soak [=needs to be soaked] to get out the stains.

2 informal : a long bath • I had a long, hot soak in the tub.

soaked adj : made completely wet by water or another liquid • a soaked towel • My socks are soaked. — often used in combination • a blood-soaked bandage • an oil-soaked rag • a rain-soaked field — sometimes used figuratively • a sun-soaked beach

soaking noun [singular]

1 : an act of leaving something in a liquid for a long time : SOAK • These dishes need a good soaking.

2 : an act of making someone or something very wet • People at the game got a soaking [=got soaked] from an unexpected rain shower.

— soaking adj • a soaking rain • I was soaking [=completely wet] after walking home in the rain. • I was soaking wet.

so-and-so /'sowən,sou/ noun, pl so-and-sos or so-and-so's /'sowən,souz/ informal

1 [noncount] — used when the name of a person is unknown or not important • She's always gossiping and telling people that so-and-so [=some person] is getting married or divorced or something. • Let's say Mr. So-and-so, who is related to you, asks to borrow $1,000. Would you give it to him?

2 [count] : a rude or annoying person • He's an arrogant so-and-so. • I can't believe that stupid so-and-so got the job.

¹soap /'səʊp/ noun, pl soaps

1 : a substance that is used for washing something [non-count] Make sure you use soap and water to wash your hands. • a bar of soap • dish/laundry soap [=detergent] • soap bubbles/scum • a soap dish/dispenser [count] The store sells many different brands of liquid/hand/antibacterial soaps. — see picture at GROOMING

2 [count] informal : SOAP OPERA • Her first acting job was on a soap. • a soap star

²soap verb soaps; soaped; soap-ing [+ obj] : to rub soap over or into (someone or something) • I soap my hair/body first when I take a shower. • He soaped and rinsed the car. — often + up • He soaped up the car.

soap-box /'səʊp,bɑːks/ noun, pl -boxes [count] : a box or small platform that someone stands on to give a speech to people in an outdoor, public place • a soapbox speech — often used figuratively to describe making speeches or expressing strong opinions • His fame as an actor provides him with a soapbox to encourage young people to vote. • He jumped on the soapbox and spoke out against the war. • She needs to get off her soapbox and stop telling people what to do.

soap opera noun, pl ~ -eras [count] : a television or radio program that has continuing stories about the daily lives and problems of a group of people • She loves to watch daytime soap operas. — sometimes used figuratively • My life is a soap opera. [=my life has a lot of dramatic events and problems like the ones that occur in soap operas] — called also (informal) soap

soap powder noun, pl ~ -ders [count, noncount] chiefly Brit : a powder that is made from soap and other substances and used for washing clothes soap-stone /'səʊp,stəʊn/ noun [noncount] : a type of soft stone that feels like soap — often used before another noun • a soapstone sculpture soap-suds /'səʊp,sadz/ noun [plural] : the bubbles that form when water is mixed with soap : SUDS soapy /'səʊpi/ adj soap-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : containing soap • soapy water

2 : like soap • The stone has a soapy feel.

soar /'sɔː/ verb soars; soared; soar-ing [no obj]

1 : to increase very quickly in amount or price • The temperature soared to 100 degrees. • Stock prices are beginning to soar. • The oil shortage sent prices soaring. • The nation's divorce rate has soared. • Interest rates have soared (up) to new heights.

2 a : to fly or sail often at a great height by floating on air currents • The eagle soared above us. • A hang glider soared in the air. b : to rise quickly upward to a great height • The rocket soared into the sky. • The ball soared out of the stadium. — often used figuratively • The song is soaring in popularity. = The popularity of the song is soaring. • Her spirits soared [=she became very happy and excited] when she heard the news.

3 : to reach or rise to a great height • The mountain soars over 20,000 feet above sea level.

— soaring adj, always used before a noun • a soaring divorce rate • a soaring eagle • She is enjoying her soaring popularity. • soaring skyscrapers sob /'sɑːb/ verb sobs; sobbed; sob-bing

1 [no obj] : to cry noisily while taking in short, sudden breaths • He began to sob uncontrollably. • She could not stop sobbing.

2 [+ obj] : to say (something) while sobbing • "I hate you," she sobbed. • She sobbed (out) her goodbye.

— sob noun, pl sobs [count] • "I don't know what I'll do," she said with a sob.

SOB /,es,ou'biː/ noun, pl SOBs [count] chiefly US, informal : SON OF A BITCH • I hate that miserable SOB.

¹so-ber /'səʊbə/ adj so-ber-er; -est [or more ~; most ~]

1 : not drunk • I'm driving, so I have to stay sober tonight. • She has been sober for three years. [=she stopped drinking alcohol three years ago] • I haven't been drinking at all. I'm (as) sober as a judge. [=I'm completely sober] • He claims that he was stone cold sober [=completely sober] when the accident happened.

2 : having or showing a very serious attitude or quality • He is a sober, hardworking farmer. • The story is a sober look at drug abuse. • Illness is a sober reminder of our mortality. • The article is a sober reflection on the state of our nation.

3 : plain in color • a sober gray suit

— so-ber-ly adv • He talked soberly about his life. • She was soberly dressed.

²sober verb -bers; -bered; -ber-ing [+ obj] : to make (someone) serious or thoughtful • He returned home from the war, saddened and sobered by his experiences.

sober up [phrasal verb] sober up or sober (someone) up : to become sober or less drunk or to make (a drunk person) sober or less drunk • You need to sober up before you go. • I tried to sober her up. • I have to sober myself up.

so-ber-ing /'səʊbəɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : making you feel serious and thoughtful • His death is a sobering reminder of the dangers of mountaineering. • a sobering fact/thought

so-bri-ety /sə'braɪəti/ noun [noncount]

1 : the state of not being drunk • The police tested him for sobriety. [=tested him to see if he was sober] • They did a sobriety test on him. • He has had 10 years of sobriety. [=he stopped drinking alcohol 10 years ago]

2 formal : the quality of being serious • the sobriety of the situation

so-bri-quet also sou-bri-quet /'səʊbrɪ,keɪ/ noun, pl -quets [count] formal : a name or phrase that describes the character of someone or something : NICKNAME • Baseball player Ty Cobb was also known by the sobriquet "The Georgia Peach."

sob story noun, pl ~ -ries [count] informal : a sad story about yourself that you tell in order to make people feel sorry for you • She told a sob story about how she had to starve herself to pay for the rent. • I don't want to hear any of your sob stories.

SOC. abbr 1 society 2 sociology

so-called /'səʊ'kɔːld/ adj, always used before a noun

1 — used to indicate the name that is commonly or usually used for something • an epidemic of the so-called mad cow disease • so-called Generation Xers

2 — used to indicate a name or description that you think is not really right or suitable • I was lied to by a so-called friend. [=by someone who claims to be my friend but who is not really my friend] • The restaurant's so-called specials can be ordered any day of the week.

soc-cer /'sɑːkə/ noun [noncount] : a game played between two teams of 11 players in which a round ball is moved toward a goal usually by kicking • Both of their children play soccer. — often used before another noun • a soccer ball/player/team/coach/field/game — called also (Brit) football; see picture at BALL; see also TABLE SOCCER

soccer mom noun, pl ~ moms [count] US, informal : a mother usually from the middle class who brings her children to soccer games and similar activities — often used to refer in a general way to such women as a group of people having similar interests, values, etc. • politicians trying to win the vote of soccer moms

so-cia-ble /'səʊʃəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : liking to be with and talk to other people • They are sociable people who enjoy having parties. • Their daughter is very sociable. [=friendly]

2 : involving or allowing friendly and pleasant social relations • They had a very sociable evening.

— so·cia·bil·i·ty /ˌsoʊfəˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount]

¹so·cial /ˈsoʊʃəl/ adj

1 a : relating to or involving activities in which people spend time talking to each other or doing enjoyable things with each other • She has poor/good social skills. • The vacation resort held a lot of social events. • She has a busy/hectic social life [=she spends a lot of time doing things with her friends, going to parties, etc.] • I joined the club to improve my social life. • He's a social drinker. [=he only drinks alcohol at parties and other social occasions] • social drinking b [more ~; most ~] : liking to be with and talk to people : happy to be with people • He's not feeling very social [=sociable] this evening. • Her sister is much more social than she is. — opposite ANTISOCIAL

2 : of or relating to people or society in general • social institutions like marriage and family • Health care is a major social issue. • Child abuse has become a serious social problem. • Martin Luther King, Jr., fought for social change/reform.

3 : tending to form relationships and live together in groups : not solitary • Most humans are social beings. • Bees are social insects. • Elephants are social animals.

4 always used before a noun : of, relating to, or based on rank in a particular society • The established social order was challenged by the peasants' rebellion. • Men and women are considered social equals in our culture. • Social classes are based on wealth and property. • The family's social status is middle class.

— so·cial·ly /ˈsoʊʃəli/ adv • She's socially active in the community. • I only know her socially. • He only drinks socially. [=he only drinks alcohol at parties and other social events] • socially unacceptable behavior • socially disadvantaged families

²social noun, pl -cials

1 [count] : an informal social event for members of a group • The club/church has socials every month.

2 the social Brit, somewhat informal : SOCIAL SECURITY • He's living on the social now.

social climber noun, pl ~ -ers [count] disapproving : someone who tries to gain a higher social position or status (such as by becoming friendly with wealthy people)

social democracy noun, pl ~ -cies formal

1 [noncount] : a political movement that uses principles of democracy to change a capitalist country to a socialist one

2 [count] : a country that uses both capitalist and socialist practices

— social democrat noun, pl ~ -crats [count] — social democratic adj

social engineering noun [noncount] formal : the practice of making laws or using other methods to influence public opinion and solve social problems or improve social conditions

— social engineer noun, pl ~ -neers [count]

social housing noun [noncount] Brit : houses or apartments that are made available to be rented at a low cost by poor people so·cial·ism /ˈsoʊʃəˌlɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : a way of organizing a society in which major industries are owned and controlled by the government rather than by individual people and companies — compare CAPITALISM, COMMUNISM

so·cial·ist /ˈsoʊʃəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]

1 : a person who believes in socialism

2 Socialist : a member of a political party that supports socialism

— socialist or Socialist adj • a socialist country/government • socialist ideas • the Socialist party — so·cial·is·tic /ˌsoʊʃəˈlɪstɪk/ adj • socialistic countries/ideas

so·cial·ite /ˈsoʊʃəˌlaɪt/ noun, pl -ites [count] : someone who is well-known in fashionable society and is often seen at parties and other social events for wealthy people • New York City socialites

so·cial·ize also Brit so·cial·ise /ˈsoʊʃəˌlaɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing

1 [no obj] : to talk to and do things with other people in a friendly way • She danced and socialized at the party. — often + with • He doesn't socialize with the other players on the team. • She enjoys socializing with her coworkers.

2 [+ obj] formal : to teach (someone) to behave in a way that is acceptable in society — usually used as (be) socialized • Children are socialized at an early age.

— so·cial·i·za·tion also Brit so·cial·i·sa·tion /ˌsoʊʃəˌ

ˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˌsəʊʃəˌlaɪˈzeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the socialization of children socialized medicine noun [noncount] chiefly US : medical and hospital services that are provided by a government and paid for by taxes social science noun, pl ~ -ences

1 [noncount] : the study of human society

2 [count] : a particular area of study that relates to human behavior and society • Economics is a social science.

— social scientist noun, pl ~ -tists [count]

social security noun [noncount]

1 : a program in which the government provides money to people who are unable to work because they are old, disabled, or unemployed

2 or Social Security : a program in the U.S. that requires workers to make regular payments to a government fund which is used to make payments to people who are unable to work because they are old, disabled, or retired • Social Security benefits/tax — abbr. SS

3 or Social Security : money that is paid out through a social security program • She is living on social security. • He began collecting/receiving Social Security checks.

Social Security number noun, pl ~ -bers [count] : a number that is given to each citizen of the U.S. by the government and that is used for the Social Security program and for official forms and records — abbr. SSN social services noun [plural] : a program supported by a government or private organization that helps people who have financial or family problems • the Department of Social Services • Contact social services for help.

— social service adj, always used before a noun • a social service agency/worker social studies noun [plural] : a course of study that deals with human relationships and the way society works social work noun [noncount] : the work done by someone who works for a government or private organization that helps people who have financial or family problems • She is doing social work. • He has a job in social work.

— social worker noun, pl ~ -ers [count]

so·ci·e·tal /səˈsɪətl/ adj, always used before a noun, formal : of or relating to society : SOCIAL • societal changes/needs/problems/values

so·ci·ety /səˈsɪəti/ noun, pl -eties

1 [noncount] : people in general thought of as living together in organized communities with shared laws, traditions, and values • Poverty hurts society as a whole.

2 : the people of a particular country, area, time, etc., thought of especially as an organized community [count] ancient/modern societies • Christian/consumer societies • We need to do more to help the poorer members of our society. [noncount] the values of Western/American society • wealthy/poor members of society • These problems affect only a small segment of society. [=only a small number of people] • That kind of behavior isn't allowed in polite society. [=among people of the middle and upper classes who speak and behave in a polite way]

3 [noncount] : people who are fashionable and wealthy • She was introduced to society at a formal reception. • The club's members are drawn from the ranks of high society. — often used before another noun • society ladies/fashions/parties • the newspaper's society page

4 [count] : a group of people who work together or regularly meet because of common interests, beliefs, or activities • a literary/musical society • historical societies • The American Cancer Society • The Society of Newspaper Editors

5 [noncount] formal : the state of being with other people • He avoided the society [=company] of other writers.

socio- combining form

1 : society • sociology

2 : social and • socioeconomic so·cio·eco·nom·ic /ˌsoʊsɪˈjəʊˌekəˈnɑːmɪk/ adj, formal : of, relating to, or involving a combination of social and economic factors • Their socioeconomic backgrounds are very different.

— so·cio·eco·nom·i·cal·ly /ˌsoʊsɪˈjəʊˌekəˈnɑːmɪkli/ adv

so·ci·ol·o·gy /ˌsoʊsiˈɑːlədʒi/ noun [noncount] : the study of society, social institutions, and social relationships — abbr. soc.

— so·cio·log·i·cal /ˌsoʊsɪˈjəˈlɑːdʒɪkəl/ adj • The problem is sociological. • a sociological study — so·cio·log·i·cal·ly /ˌsoʊsɪˈjəˈlɑːdʒɪkli/ adv • The experiment is sociologically important. — so-ci-ol-o-gist /ˌsɒsiˈɔːlədʒɪst/ noun, pl -gists [count]

so-cio-path /ˌsɒsijəˈpæθ/ noun, pl -paths [count] : someone who behaves in a dangerous or violent way towards other people and does not feel guilty about such behavior

— so-cio-path-ic /ˌsɒsijəˈpæθɪk/ adj • a sociopathic personality • sociopathic behavior • He is sociopathic.

¹sock /ˈsɔːk/ noun, pl socks [count] : a piece of clothing that is worn on your foot and that covers your ankle and sometimes the lower part of your leg • a white cotton sock — usually plural • a pair of socks • wool/ankle/athletic socks — see color picture on page C13; see also BOBBY SOCKS, TUBE SOCK

knock/blow your socks off informal : to affect or impress you in a very strong and favorable way • This song will knock your socks off. [=you will enjoy this song very much]

put a sock in it informal — used to tell someone to stop talking • I wish someone would tell him to put a sock in it. — compare ²SOCK

²sock noun, pl socks [count] informal : a hard hit with the fist : PUNCH — usually singular • She gave him a sock in the jaw/stomach. — compare ¹SOCK

³sock verb socks; socked; sock-ing [+ obj] informal : to hit (someone or something) hard • He socked [=punched] him in the eye/nose/jaw. • (baseball) He socked a home run over the left-field wall. — often used figuratively • The city was socked by a blizzard. • He socked us with a huge lawsuit.

sock away [phrasal verb] sock away (something) or sock (something) away US, informal : to save (something, such as money) by putting it in a safe place • My father had been socking away money since I was a young boy.

socked in US : affected by bad weather conditions that prevent people from leaving • The whole metro region is socked in with snow. • The airport was socked in by fog.

sock it to informal : to do or say something to (someone) in a strong and forceful way • He really socked it to her. • Legislators are getting ready to sock it to homeowners with high property tax increases.

sock-et /ˈsɔːkət/ noun, pl -ets [count]

1 a : a device in a wall into which an electric cord can be plugged : OUTLET • She plugged the lamp into the socket. b : an opening on a piece of electrical equipment into which a plug, lightbulb, etc., fits • He screwed the lightbulb into the socket.

2 : a hollow part in a bone that holds an eye, a tooth, or another bone • an inflamed tooth socket • the hip socket • His shoulder popped out of its socket.

socket wrench noun, pl ~ wrenches [count] US : a tool that has a part which fits over the end of a bolt or nut and is used to turn it

So-crat-ic /səˈkrætɪk/ adj, formal : of or relating to the ancient Greek philosopher Socrates, his followers, or his method of asking questions to discover the truth • Socratic questioning/thinking • the Socratic method

¹sod /ˈsɔːd/ noun, pl sods chiefly US

1 [noncount] : the upper layer of soil that is made up of grass and plant roots • The grounds crew repaired the sod [=turf] after the football game.

2 [count, noncount] : a piece of sod • They were laying sod in the yard.

— compare ²SOD

²sod noun, pl sods Brit, informal

1 [count] a offensive : a person who is unpleasant, offensive, or annoying • He's a nasty old sod. b impolite : a man who you think is lucky, unlucky, etc. • That poor old sod has been waiting there for hours.

2 [singular] impolite : something that is annoying or difficult • The problem was a real sod to fix.

give a sod also care a sod Brit, informal + impolite : to care at all about someone or something — used in negative statements • I don't give/care a sod about what people say.

odds and sods Brit, informal : ODDS AND ENDS • The store sells art supplies and other odds and sods.

sod all Brit, informal + impolite : nothing at all • You've done (sweet) sod all to help me! • They were wearing sod all.

— compare ¹SOD

³sod verb sods; sod-ded; sod-ding [+ obj] Brit, informal + impolite — used to show that you are angry or annoyed at a person, thing, or situation • Sod [=damn] you! I'm not going to do it. • Sod this machine. • Sod it (all). I can't be bothered with this.

sod off Brit, informal + impolite — used to tell someone to leave or go away • Sod off or I'll call the police.

so-da /ˈsɒdə/ noun, pl -das

1 a [noncount] : SODA WATER • Scotch and soda b [count, noncount] chiefly US : SODA POP • orange/grape soda • I ordered fries and a soda. — often used before another noun • a soda machine • soda cans/bottles

2 [count] US : a drink made of soda water, flavoring, and often ice cream • a chocolate soda • an ice-cream soda

3 [noncount] : a white powdery substance that contains salt and is used in cooking and medicine — see also BAKING SODA, WASHING SODA soda cracker noun, pl ~ -ers [count] US : a thin, usually salted cracker that is often served with soup soda fountain noun, pl ~ -tains [count] chiefly US, somewhat old-fashioned : a counter usually in a store at which cold drinks, types of ice cream, etc., are prepared and served soda jerk noun, pl ~ jerks [count] US, old-fashioned : a person who prepares and serves drinks and ice cream at a soda fountain soda pop noun, pl ~ pops [count, noncount] US : a drink consisting of soda water, flavoring, and a sweet syrup — called also pop, (chiefly US) soda soda water noun, pl ~ -ters [count, noncount] : water that has bubbles in it and that is often used to make other drinks — called also (US) club soda, soda sod-den /ˈsɔːdn/ adj : very heavy and wet • sodden sandbags/fields sod-ding /ˈsɔːdɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun, Brit, informal + impolite

1 — used to show that you are angry, annoyed, or surprised • The sodding [=damn] thing broke again!

2 — used to emphasize a statement • That sodding (great) lorry almost crashed into me.

so-di-um /ˈsɒdijəm/ noun [noncount] : a soft silver-white element that is found in salt, baking soda, and other compounds sodium bicarbonate noun [noncount] : BAKING SODA — called also bicarbonate of soda

sodium chloride noun [noncount] technical : the chemical compound that forms salt sod-o-mite /ˈsɔːdəˌmaɪt/ noun, pl -mites [count] old-fashioned : a person who has anal sex with another person : someone who practices sodomy sod-o-my /ˈsɔːdəmi/ noun [noncount] : anal sex with someone

— sod-o-mize also Brit sod-o-mise /ˈsɔːdəˌmaɪz/ verb -miz-es; -mized; -miz-ing [+ obj] chiefly US

Sod's Law noun [noncount] Brit : MURPHY'S LAW

so-fa /ˈsɒfə/ noun, pl -fas [count] : a long and comfortable piece of furniture on which a person can sit or lie down — see picture at LIVING ROOM sofa bed noun, pl ~ beds [count] : a sofa that can be folded out to form a bed — see picture at BED

¹soft /ˈsɔːft/ adj soft-er; -est

1 : easy to press, bend, cut, etc. : not hard or firm • a soft mattress • soft cheese/dough • The ground was soft after the heavy rain. • Iron and lead are soft metals. — opposite HARD 2 : smooth and pleasant to touch • soft skin • a soft silk • The rabbit's fur is soft.

3 a : having a very light color : not strong or bright in color or tone • soft colors • The room was painted in soft pink. • soft blues b of light : not bright or harsh • soft lighting [=lighting that is not too bright] • the soft glow of the moon

4 a : gentle in manner : not harsh • He has a soft touch. • She gave him a soft kiss on the cheek. • We decided to take a soft-er approach in disciplining the children. b : not strong or very forceful • a soft [=mild, gentle] breeze • A soft [=light] rain fell. c : having a low, gentle sound • a soft voice

5 : having a curved or rounded outline • soft rolling hills • a sweater with soft shoulder lines

6 disapproving : not strict, harsh, or critical enough • The students thought their teacher was soft. • You're too soft with your children. — often + on • Some people accuse the mayor of being soft on crime.

7 : involving little work or effort : EASY • He has a pretty soft job. • a soft life • (chiefly Brit) Police insisted that community service work was not a soft option.

8 a : not physically strong : not muscular • He had grown soft from years of inactivity. b : not brave or tough • He used to love adventure, but he has gone/gotten soft in his old age.

9 : feeling sympathy for other people : sympathetic and kind • He has a soft heart. — opposite HARD

10 : relating to matters that are not serious or important • soft news stories — opposite HARD

11 of an illegal drug : not as strong or harmful to the health as other drugs • Marijuana is a soft drug. — opposite HARD

12 of water : not containing many minerals and able to make bubbles with soap • soft water — opposite HARD

13 : sounding like the “c” in “ace” or the “g” in “gem” • The “c” in “cell” is soft, but the “c” in “cabbage” is hard. • the soft “g” in “general” — opposite HARD soft in the head informal : stupid or crazy • He’s a nice old man but he’s a bit soft in the head. • Have you gone soft in the head? [=are you crazy?]

soft on informal + old-fashioned : attracted to (someone) • I think he’s a little soft on her. — see also SOFT 6 (above)

– soft-ly adv • She spoke softly but firmly. • She chuckled/laughed softly. • a softly lit room • The ball landed softly in the grass. — soft-ness /ˈsɑːftnəs/ noun [singular] • the soft-ness of silk • Her voice has a gentle softness.

2 soft adv soft-er; -est chiefly US

1 : in a soft or gentle way • She kissed him soft [(more commonly) softly] on the lips. • Can you please talk softer? [=more softly]

2 : in a way that is not strong or forceful • He hit the ball soft. [(more commonly) softly] • a soft-hit ball

soft-ball /ˈsɑːftbɑːl/ noun, pl -balls

1 [noncount] : a sport that is similar to baseball but that is played on a smaller field and with a ball that is pitched underhand and that is larger and softer than a baseball • Do you want to play softball? • softball teams

2 [count] : the ball that is used in softball — see picture at BALL

3 [count] US : a question that is very easy to answer • All the questions in the interview were softballs. • The reporter threw him a softball. [=asked him an easy question] • softball questions.

soft-boiled /ˈsɑːftˈboɪld/ adj, of an egg : boiled until the white is solid but the yolk is liquid • soft-boiled eggs — compare HARD-BOILED soft-bound /ˈsɑːftbaʊnd/ adj, US, of a book : having a flexible cover • softbound books — compare HARDBOUND

soft-core /ˈsɑːftˈkoʊ/ adj : showing or describing sex acts but not in an extremely open and shocking way — usually used before a noun • soft-core pornography — compare HARD-CORE soft-cov-er /ˈsɑːftˌkʌvə/ noun, pl -ers US : a book that has a flexible cover [count] Softcovers sell quickly. [noncount] The novel is now available in softcover. — often used before another noun • softcover books — compare HARDCOVER, PAPERBACK

soft drink noun, pl ~ drinks [count] : a cold drink that is usually sweet, does not contain alcohol, and is often sold in bottles or cans soft-en /ˈsɑːfən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 : to become less hard or firm or to make (something) less hard or firm [no obj] The butter will soften if left on the counter overnight. • The wax softened (up) quickly. [+ obj] The recipe called for one stick of butter, softened. • Heat soft-ens (up) wax quickly.

2 [+ obj] : to make (something) less dry or rough • The oil is used to soften and preserve the leather. • The lotion softens dry skin.

3 a [+ obj] : to make (something) less severe, harsh, extreme, etc. • The company has softened its stance on dating in the workplace. • His arrogance is softened by a good sense of humor. [=his sense of humor makes his arrogance less annoying] • Passing clouds softened the glare of the sun. [=passing clouds made the sun less bright] b [no obj] : to become less harsh, severe, extreme, etc. • Her face/voice/expression soft-ened when he entered the room. • His criticism of the president has softened in the past year. c [+ obj] : to make (something) less painful, forceful, or harmful • The grass softened my fall. — often used figuratively • Management tried to soften the impact of the layoffs by offering early retirement packages. = They tried to soften the blow by offering early retirement packages.

4 [+ obj] : to make (something) seem rounder or less sharp • Her new haircut softened her features.

soften up [phrasal verb] soften (someone) up or soften up (someone) 1 : to treat (someone) very well or kindly in order to make that person more likely to help you, give you something, etc. • He tried to soften her up by buying her flowers. 2 : to weaken (an enemy) through military attacks • They used artillery to soften up the enemy’s defenses before launching a full-scale attack.

soft-en-er /ˈsɑːfənə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a substance that makes something smoother or softer • a new skin softener — see also FABRIC SOFTENER

soft focus noun [noncount] : a way of producing a photograph so that the edges of the image are not completely clear or sharp

– soft-focus adj • used a soft-focus lens • soft-focus photography soft fruit noun, pl ~ fruits [count, noncount] chiefly Brit : small fruits (such as berries) that do not have pits or stones soft furnishings noun [plural] Brit : things (such as curtains or rugs) that are made of cloth and used to decorate a room, house, etc.

soft-heart-ed /ˈsɑːftˌhɑːtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having feelings of kindness and sympathy for other people • He looks tough, but he’s really very softhearted. • She’s too soft-hearted to fire anyone. — compare HARD-HEARTED soft-ie or softy /ˈsɑːfti/ noun, pl soft-ies [count] informal : a kind person : a softhearted person • He may look tough, but he is really a softie at heart.

– soft-heart-ed-ness noun [noncount]

soft landing noun, pl ~ -ings [count] : a landing in which an airplane, a spacecraft, etc., touches the ground in a controlled and gradual way that does not damage it • The lunar module made a soft landing on the moon. — often used figuratively to describe an ending or solution that is not difficult or harmful • Market analysts are predicting a soft landing for the economy after the economic boom.

softly-softly adj, Brit, informal : careful and patient in dealing with someone or something • a softly-softly approach/strategy

softly-spoken adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly Brit : SOFT-SPOKEN soft money noun [noncount] chiefly US : money that is given to a political party rather than to a particular candidate soft-ped-al /ˈsɑːftˈpɛd/ verb -als; US -aled or Brit -alled; US -al-ing or Brit -al-ling [+ obj] chiefly US, informal : to treat or describe (something) as less important than it really is • I’m not trying to soft-pedal the issue/problem.

soft rock noun [noncount] : rock music with a gentler sound and slower beat than hard rock — compare HARD ROCK soft sell noun [singular] : a way of selling something that uses persuasion rather than aggressive pressure — often used before another noun • using soft-sell tactics • a soft-sell approach to marketing — compare HARD SELL

soft-shell /ˈsɑːftˈʃɛl/ or soft-shelled /ˈsɑːftˈʃɛld/ adj, US : having a shell that is soft or easily broken • soft-shell crabs soft-soap /ˈsɑːftˈsoʊp/ verb -soaps; -soaped; -soap-ing [+ obj] Brit, informal : to try to persuade (someone) to do something by using praise, kind words, etc. — often + into • Don’t be soft-soaped into going out with him.

– soft soap noun [noncount] Brit, informal soft-spo-ken /ˈsɑːftˈspoukən/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having a gentle, quiet voice or manner • a soft-spoken teacher soft spot noun, pl ~ spots [count]

1 : a strong liking for someone or something — usually singular • He has a soft spot for children. [=he likes children very much] • She has a soft spot for chocolate ice cream.

2 : a weak point that can be attacked • They found a soft spot in the enemy’s defenses.

soft target noun, pl ~ -gets [count] : a target that can be attacked easily because it does not have military defenses • hospitals, schools, and other soft targets — often used figuratively • elderly people who are a soft target for criminals soft-top noun, pl -tops [count] informal : a car with a roof made of thick fabric that can be lowered or removed : CONVERTIBLE — compare HARDTOP soft touch noun, pl ~ touches [count] US, informal : a person who is easily deceived or taken advantage of • His friends all know that he’s a soft touch.

soft toy noun, pl ~ toys [count] Brit : STUFFED ANIMAL soft-ware /ˈsɑːftˌweə/ noun [noncount] : the programs that run on a computer and perform certain functions • word-processing software • antivirus software • I installed/loaded the software. — often used before another noun • the soft- ware industry • software programs/development — compare HARDWARE

soft·wood /'sɔ:ft,wud/ noun, pl -woods

1 [count, noncount] : the wood of a tree (such as a pine tree) that is soft and easy to cut — often used before another noun • softwood lumber

2 [count] : a tree that produces softwood • pines, firs, and other softwoods — compare HARDWOOD

softy variant spelling of SOFTIE

sog·gy /'sɔ:gi/ adj sog·gi·er; -est

1 : heavy with water or moisture : completely wet and usually soft • The cereal got all soggy. • soggy bread

2 informal : RAINY • soggy weather

— sog·gi·ness /'sɔ:ginəs/ noun [noncount]

soh /'sou/ noun [noncount] chiefly Brit, music : SOL soil /'sojəl/ noun, pl soils

1 : the top layer of earth in which plants grow [noncount] This kind of plant grows well in moist soil. • The soil in this area is very fertile/sandy. • Cleaning up contaminated soil [=soil that has harmful chemicals in it] can be very costly. [count] Certain plants cannot live in poorly drained soils. — see also POTTING SOIL

2 [noncount] formal + literary : the land of a particular country • They have returned to their native soil [=the place they are originally from] • I had never set foot on Japanese/Italian soil before. [=I had never been to Japan/Italy before]

3 [noncount] : a place where something begins or develops • Poor neighborhoods can be fertile soil for crime. [=there is often a lot of crime in poor neighborhoods]

4 the soil literary : farming as a way of making a living • Her ancestors had felt a closeness to the soil.

soil verb soils; soiled; soil·ing formal

1. [+ obj] : to make (something) dirty • I soiled my blouse/shirt at the cocktail party. • The ink soiled his hands. • Her clothes were soiled and very wet. • soiled linens/underwear/diapers — sometimes used figuratively • He refused to soil his hands [=do anything dishonest or wrong] for her.

2 [no obj] : to become dirty • This fabric soils easily.

soi·ree or soi·rée /swɑ'rei/ noun, pl -rees or -rées [count] : a formal party that is usually at night • a fashionable soiree at a fancy hotel so·journ /'sou,dʒən/ noun, pl -journs [count] formal : a period of time when you stay in a place as a traveler or guest • Our family enjoyed a two-week sojourn in the mountains.

— sojourn verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition -journs; -journed; -journ·ing [no obj] formal • We sojourned for two weeks at a resort.

sol /'soul/ noun [noncount] music : the fifth note of a musical scale • do, re, mi, fa, sol, la, ti — called also so, (chiefly Brit) soh

so·lace /'sɔ:ləs/ noun, formal : someone or something that gives a feeling of comfort to a person who is sad, depressed, etc. : a source of comfort [singular] Her presence was a great solace for/to me. [noncount] — often + in • We took/found solace in the knowledge that she hadn't been alone at the end. • I urged him not to seek solace in alcohol. [=I urged him not to drink to feel better]

so·lar /'soulə/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : of or relating to the sun • a solar eclipse/phenomenon

2 : produced by or using the sun's light or heat • solar energy/power • a solar heating system solar cell noun, pl ~ cells [count] : a device that uses light or heat from the sun to produce electricity

so·lar·i·um /sou'leri:jəm/ noun, pl -ums [count]

1 : a room with walls and a ceiling that are made of glass to allow in sunlight

2 Brit : a room where you can lie in the sun or get a tan solar panel noun, pl ~ -els [count] : a large, flat piece of equipment that uses the sun's light or heat to create electricity • All of the house's electricity is produced by solar panels on the roof.

so·lar plex·us /'soulə'pleksəs/ noun

the solar plexus : the area on the front of your body just below the ribs • He punched him in the solar plexus.

solar system noun, pl ~ -tems

1 the solar system : our sun and the planets that move around it

2 [count] : a star other than our sun and the planets that move around it sold past tense and past participle of SELL sol·der /'sɔ:də, Brit 'sɒldə/ noun [noncount] : a mixture of metals (such as lead and tin) that is melted and used to join metal parts together solder verb -ders; -dered; -der·ing [+ obj] : to join (something made of metal) to something else with solder • Wires are soldered onto the circuit board.

soldering iron noun, pl ~

irons [count] : a tool that is electrically heated and used for joining parts with solder

sol·dier /'souldʒə/ noun, pl

-diers [count] : a person who is in the military : a member of an army • Many soldiers were wounded in combat. • an American soldier • British/German soldiers — see also FOOT SOLDIER

soldering iron

soldier verb -diers; -diered; -dier·ing soldier on [phrasal verb] : to continue to do something or to try to achieve something even though it is difficult • We soldiered on to the end. • The researchers encountered many problems but they soldiered on.

sol·dier·ing /'souldʒərɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the life or job of a soldier sol·dier·ly /'souldʒəli/ adj [more ~; most ~] : suited to or typical of a good soldier • soldierly virtues • a soldierly manner soldier of fortune noun, pl soldiers of fortune [count] : someone who will fight as a soldier for any country or person in return for payment sol·diery /'souldʒəri/ noun [singular] old-fashioned : a group of soldiers sold·out /'sould'au/ adj : having all the tickets sold completely • a sold-out show/performance/concert : of or relating to an event where all the tickets have been sold • A sold-out crowd attended the show. — see also sell out at SELL

sole /'soul/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : only or single • He became the sole heir to the property. • the sole owner • The sole aim/objective/purpose of the program is to help the poor. • She was the sole survivor of the tragedy. • Icy roads were the sole cause of the accident.

2 : belonging only to the person or group specified • She has the sole authority to hire new staff members. [=only she can hire new staff members] • He has sole jurisdiction of the area.

sole noun, pl soles [count]

1 : the bottom part of the foot

2 : the part of a shoe, boot, etc., that touches the ground • shoes with slippery soles • heavy boots with thick rubber soles — see picture at SHOE

— compare SOLE

sole verb soles; soled; sol·ing [+ obj] : to put a new sole on (a shoe, boot, etc.) • My shoes need to be soled.

sole noun, pl soles [count, noncount] : a type of ocean fish that is eaten as food • fillet of sole — compare SOLE

so·le·cism /'sɔ:lə,sɪzəm/ noun, pl -cisms [count] formal

1 : a mistake in speech or writing • a verbal solecism

2 : an impolite or improper way of behaving • a stylistic solecism soled /'sould/ adj, of a shoe : having a particular type of sole — used in combination • leather-soled shoes • thick-soled hiking boots

sole·ly /'soulli/ adv

1 : without anything or anyone else involved • His rank was based solely on merit. • You will be held solely responsible for any damage. • The decision is solely [=entirely] yours.

2 : only or just • She did not write solely for money.

sol·emn /'sɔ:ləm/ adj

1 : very serious or formal in manner, behavior, or expression • a solemn occasion/moment • He spoke in a solemn and thoughtful manner. • a solemn religious ceremony/procession • He wore a very solemn expression on his face. • He recited the poem in a solemn voice.

2 : sad and serious • A solemn crowd gathered around the grave.

3 : done or made sincerely • a solemn declaration/oath • We made a solemn promise/vow to love each other forever.

— sol·emn·ly adv • We listened solemnly as the president spoke. • Do you solemnly swear to tell the truth?

so·lem·ni·ty /sə'lemnəti/ noun, pl -ties formal

1 [noncount] : the quality of being formal or serious • the so- lemnity of the occasion • Her voice conveyed the solemnity of the passage. • The visiting statesman was welcomed with appropriate solemnity.

2 solemnities [plural] : formal ceremonies • Elaborate solemnities marked the 100th anniversary of the event.

sol-em-nize (US) also Brit sol-em-nise /'sɑ:ləm,naɪz/ verb -niz-es; -nized; -niz-ing [+ obj] formal : to mark or celebrate (something) officially or formally especially with a religious ceremony • The priest solemnized their marriage.

so-lic-it /sə'lisət/ verb -its; it-ed; -it-ing formal

1 a : to ask for (something, such as money or help) from people, companies, etc. [+ obj] The center is soliciting donations to help victims of the earthquake. • The company is soliciting bids from various firms. • The organization is soliciting new memberships/subscriptions. • The newspaper's editors want to solicit opinions/comments from readers. [no obj] The organization is soliciting for donations. b [+ obj] : to ask (a person or group) for money, help, etc. • Special interest groups are soliciting Congress for funds.

2 [+ obj] : to offer to have sex with (someone) in return for money • The prostitutes were arrested for soliciting customers.

— so-lic-i-ta-tion /sə'lisə'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions formal [count] E-mail solicitations for comments didn't generate much response. [noncount] the solicitation of funds • Solicitation is not allowed in the store or its parking lot.

— soliciting noun [noncount] • No soliciting is allowed on store property. • He was arrested for soliciting.

so-lic-i-tor /sə'lisətə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

1 US : a person whose job involves talking to many people and trying to persuade them to buy things, donate money, etc. • Solicitors will be arrested for trespassing.

2 : a lawyer in Britain who assists people in legal matters and who can represent people in lower courts of law — compare BARRISTER

3 US : a chief law officer of a city, town, or government department solicitor general noun, pl solicitors general [count] : a law officer who assists an attorney general and is just below the attorney general in rank so-lic-i-tous /sə'lisətəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : showing concern or care for someone's health, happiness, etc. • I appreciated his solicitous inquiry about my health. • He had always been solicitous for the welfare of his family.

— so-lic-i-tous-ly adv

so-lic-i-tude /sə'lisə,tu:d, Brit sə'lisə,tju:d/ noun [noncount] formal : concern that someone feels about someone's health, happiness, etc. • He expressed solicitude for my health.

¹sol-id /'sɑ:ləd/ adj

1 : firm or hard : not having the form of a gas or liquid • Concrete is a solid material. • particles of solid matter • When ice melts, it passes from a solid to a liquid form. • I was on a liquid diet when I was sick because I couldn't digest solid food. • His muscles are very solid. [=hard] • I was glad to get off the plane and back on solid ground. • The pond was frozen solid.

2 : having no space inside : not hollow • a solid rubber ball • a solid object

3 a always used before a noun : made entirely from the specified material • The ring is solid gold/silver. • solid oak/cher-ry/mahogany furniture • a chunk of solid marble/granite b : consisting only of the color specified or only of one color • I prefer solid colors like blue or green instead of plaids and stripes. — see color picture on page C12

4 : having no breaks, spaces, or pauses • The road was divided by a solid yellow line. • We talked for three solid hours. [=we talked for three hours without stopping] — often used figuratively • The rain fell in solid sheets. [=the rain fell very heavily] • The stores are always packed solid [=very crowded] during the holidays. • The hotels in the city were booked solid for the conference.

5 [more ~; most ~] a : good and able to be trusted to do or provide what is needed • He plays solid defense. • The team's defense is very solid. • She gave a solid performance. • She's a good, solid player. b : having a strong basis : good and dependable • His friend gave him some good, solid advice. • The company has built/established a solid reputation. • She had solid reasons for her decision. • Students need a solid foundation in language skills. • The prosecution has no solid evidence. • He had a solid alibi. • Financially, the company is (as) solid as a rock. [=the company is in very good condition]

6 [more ~; most ~] : strong and well-made • solid furniture • This chair is very solid.

7 US : agreeing with or supporting something (such as a political party) in a completely loyal and dependable way • She is a solid Democrat/Republican.

8 geometry : having length, width, and height : THREE-DIMENSIONAL • a solid geometric figure

— sol-id-ly adv • solidly constructed furniture • a solidly built athlete • She put her feet solidly [=securely] on the ground. • Her reputation was solidly established. • a solidly Republican area/suburb [=an area/suburb where most people vote for Republicans] • Environmentalists were solidly [=completely] opposed to drilling in the area. • The quarterback played solidly during the second half. — sol-id-ness noun [noncount]

²solid noun, pl -ids

1 [count] : a solid substance : a substance that is not a gas or a liquid

2 [count] geometry : an object that has length, width, and height : a three-dimensional object — see picture at GEOMETRY

3 solids [plural] : foods that are not liquid • She couldn't eat solids after the surgery.

sol-i-dar-i-ty /sə:lə'derəti/ noun [noncount] : a feeling of unity between people who have the same interests, goals, etc. • national solidarity • The vote was a show of solidarity.

so-lid-i-fy /sə'lidə,fai/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing

1 : to make (something) solid or hard or to become solid or hard [+ obj] Work is under way to solidify the concrete that supports the building. • solidified lava [no obj] Hot wax solidifies as it cools.

2 : to make (a plan, project, etc.) stronger and more certain or to become stronger and more certain [+ obj] Recent findings helped to solidify our position. • The international community is working to solidify its alliances. [no obj] Their plans have solidified.

— so-lid-i-fi-ca-tion /sə'lidəfə'keɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

so-lid-i-ty /sə'lidəti/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of being solid • the solidity of stone/granite/concrete • The solidity of his convictions impressed us.

so-lil-o-quy /sə'lɪləkwɪ/ noun, pl -quies [count, noncount] : a long, usually serious speech that a character in a play makes to an audience and that reveals the character's thoughts

so-lip-sism /'souləp,sɪzəm/ noun [noncount] technical : a theory in philosophy that your own existence is the only thing that is real or that can be known

— so-lip-sis-tic /souləp'sɪstɪk/ adj • a solipsistic view

sol-i-taire /'sɑ:lə,tɛə/ noun, pl -taires

1 [noncount] chiefly US : a card game that is played by one person — called also (Brit) patience

2 [count] : a single jewel that is set alone in a piece of jewelry • a diamond solitaire bracelet

¹sol-i-tary /'sɑ:lə,teri, Brit 'sɒlətri/ adj

1 a : without anyone or anything else : not involving or including anyone or anything else • a solitary traveler • We saw one solitary [=single] figure coming over the horizon. — sometimes used in negative statements to emphasize a complete lack of something • I could not hear a solitary [=single] word of what he said. b : done by a person who is alone • He took a solitary walk/stroll on the beach. • a solitary job

2 : separate from other people or things • A solitary house stood on top of the cliff.

3 [more ~; most ~] : tending to live or spend time alone • Most cats are solitary creatures. • He's a very solitary man.

— sol-i-tar-i-ly /sə:lə'terəli, Brit 'sɒlətrəli/ adv — sol-i-tar-i-ness /sə:lə'terɪnəs, Brit 'sɒlətrɪnəs/ noun [noncount] solitary confinement noun [noncount] : the state of being kept alone in a prison cell away from other prisoners • He spent three months in solitary confinement.

²solitary noun [noncount] : SOLITARY CONFINEMENT • The prisoner was kept in solitary.

sol-i-tude /'sɑ:lə,tu:d, Brit 'sɒlə,tju:d/ noun [noncount] : a state or situation in which you are alone usually because you want to be • She wished to work on her novel in solitude. • He enjoyed the peace and solitude of the woods.

¹so-lo /'soulou/ noun, pl -los [count]

1 : a piece of music that is performed by one singer or musician • a piano/guitar solo • an operatic solo

2 : something that is done without another person • She is learning to fly and she flew her first solo yesterday.

²solo adj, always used before a noun

1 a : done without another person • a student pilot's first solo flight b : involving or done by a single performer instead of a group • a solo performance • She left the band last year and started a solo career. • He just issued his first solo album. • a solo artist/performer [=a singer or musician who is not part of a group]

2 baseball : hit with no runners on base • a solo home run [=a home run that scores one run]

— solo adv • She is traveling solo. [=by herself] • The singer went solo after being with the band for 10 years.

³solo verb -los; -loed; -lo-ing [no obj]

1 : to perform a piece of music without another singer or musician • The guitarist solos on practically every song.

2 : to fly an airplane without an instructor • She soloed for the first time yesterday.

so-lo-ist /'soulowist/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who performs a musical solo • a piano soloist

sol-stice /'sɔ:lstəs/ noun, pl -stic-es [count] : one of the two times during the year when the sun is farthest north or south of the equator ♦ The summer solstice occurs around June 22 and the winter solstice occurs around December 22. — compare EQUINOX sol-u-ble /'sɔ:ljəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : capable of being dissolved in a liquid • Sugar is soluble in water. • soluble fiber — sometimes used in combination • water-soluble vitamins/compounds — opposite INSOLUBLE

2 formal : capable of being solved or explained • a soluble [= (more commonly) solvable] problem

— sol-u-bil-i-ty /,sɔ:ljə'biləti/ noun [noncount]

so-lu-tion /sə'lu:ʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 a [count] : something that is used or done to deal with and end a problem : something that solves a problem • Medication may not be the best solution for the patient's condition. • The solution is simple/obvious: you need to spend less money. — often + to • There is no simple solution to the country's drug problem. • She suggested a number of creative solutions to the housing crisis. b [noncount] : the act of solving something • a problem that has so far resisted solution [=a problem that no one has been able to solve]

2 [count] a : a correct answer to a problem, puzzle, etc. — often + to • The solutions to the math problems are in the back of the book. • I can't figure out the solution to this puzzle. b : an explanation for something that is difficult to understand (such as a mystery) — often + to • The police haven't yet found a solution to this crime/mystery.

3 a : a liquid in which something has been dissolved [count] She made a solution of baking soda and water. • a 40 percent saline solution [noncount] He rinsed the contact lens with saline solution. b [noncount] : the act or process of dissolving a solid, liquid, or gas in a liquid • the solution of sucrose in water solve /'sɔ:lv/ verb solves; solved; solv-ing [+ obj]

1 : to find a way to deal with and end (a problem) • They are working to solve the traffic problem. • If they'll lend us the money we need, all our problems will be solved.

2 a : to find the correct answer to (something, such as a riddle) • She solved the riddle/puzzle. • He couldn't solve the math problem. b : to find the correct explanation for (something, such as a mystery) • The mystery/crime has been solved. • The FBI has been trying to solve the case for years.

— solv-able /'sɔ:lvəbəl/ adj • an easily solvable mystery — solv-er noun, pl -ers [count] • She's a good problem solver.

sol-ven-cy /'sɔ:lvənsi/ noun [noncount] : the state of being able to pay debts • They reviewed financial records to measure the borrower's solvency.

¹sol-vent /'sɔ:lvənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : able to pay debts • He couldn't stay/remain solvent after losing his business.

²solvent noun, pl -vents [count, noncount] technical : a liquid substance that is used to dissolve another substance • turpentine and other solvents

som-ber (US) or Brit som-bre /'sɔ:mbə/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : very sad and serious • Her death put us in a somber mood. • The movie is a somber portrait of life on the streets. 2 : having a dull or dark color • He wore a somber suit.

— som-ber-ly adv • He shook his head somberly at the sad news. — som-ber-ness noun [noncount] som-bre-ro /səm'brerou/ noun, pl -ros [count] : a type of hat with a very wide brim that is often worn in Mexico and the southwestern U.S. — see picture at HAT

¹some /'sʌm, səm/ adj, always used before a noun

1 — used to refer to a person or thing that is not known, named, or specified • Some guy called while you were out. • She works for some company (or other/another) out west. • For some reason, the lights went out. • I tried to offer him some type/sort/kind of payment for the favor. • Could you call back some other time? I'm busy right now. • Some birds cannot fly. • I like some kinds of nuts but not all of them. • Some people believe it and others don't.

2 a : of an unspecified amount or number • Can I have some water? • I bought some apples. • She had some interest in the job. • I have some money left, but not much. • I hope I've been of some help. b : of a fairly large amount or number • Their decision was met with some surprise. [=people were fairly surprised by their decision] • It will be some time [=a considerable amount of time] before she comes back. • We met some years ago. • He spoke at some length about his problems.

3 informal a — used to express approval • That was some game! [=that was a very good/enjoyable game] b — used to express disapproval, disappointment, etc. • You have some nerve [=a lot of nerve] to say that! • You don't know how to get there? Some navigator you are! [=you're not a good navigator] • Some friend he is—he left me stranded at the train depot.

²some /'sʌm/ pronoun : an unspecified amount or number of people or things • Some of the apples are bruised. • Some of the people at the party had too much to drink. • This bakery makes some of the best bread in town. • Most birds can fly but some cannot. • Some [=some people] say that patience is a virtue. • I'm making coffee; do you want some?

and then some informal : and more in addition to that • I ran a mile and then some. • He got what he deserved and then some. [=he got more than he deserved]

³some /'sʌm, sʌm/ adv

1 — used to indicate that a number is approximate • Some 80 people [=about 80 people] showed up for the lecture. — sometimes used in combination • The drug is illegal in 20-some states.

2 : to an unspecified amount or degree • Would you like some more potatoes? • I need to work on it some more. — often used informally in U.S. English without more • He needs to grow up some before he can live on his own. • The cut bled some. [=a little] • He helped me some.

¹-some /səm/ adj suffix

1 : having a specified quality • burdensome

2 : causing a specified feeling or condition • fearsome • awesome • quarrelsome

²-some noun suffix : a group of (so many) people or things • foursome [=a group of four people]

¹some-body /'sʌm,bədi/ pronoun : a person who is not known, named, or specified : SOMEONE • Somebody left you a message. • The singer waved to somebody in the crowd. • We need somebody who can work nights and weekends. • Is that somebody you know? • Somebody has to do it. • After I turned down the job, she offered it to somebody else.

²somebody noun, pl -bod-ies [count] : an important person — usually singular • The teacher convinced her that she could grow up to be somebody.

some-day /'sʌm,deɪ/ adv : at some time in the future • Someday we'll buy a house. • She hopes to publish her novel someday. • Let's have lunch someday next week.

some-how /'sʌm,hau/ adv : in a way that is not known or certain • Somehow (or other/another) we got lost. • She somehow managed to find her earring in the sand. • It will all work out somehow.

some-one /'sʌm,wʌn/ pronoun : some person : SOMEBODY • Someone left you a message. • Is that someone you know? • We need someone who can work nights and weekends. • Someone took the last piece of cake. • I'll do it because some-one has to. • She offered the job to someone else. — compare ANYONE

some-place /'sʌm,pleɪs/ adv, US : SOMEWHERE • Should we eat here or go someplace else? • I put my keys someplace but I can't remember where. — compare ANYPLACE

¹som-er-sault /'sʌm,ə,sɔ:lt/ noun, pl -saunts [count] : a forward or backward movement of your body on the ground or in the air that is made by bringing your feet over your head • The gymnast turned/performed/did a somersault. • a forward/backward somersault — sometimes used figuratively •

S

His heart did a somersault when he heard the news.

²somersault verb -saults; -sault-ed; -sault-ing [no obj] : to make a complete turn forward or backward on the ground or in the air : to do a somersault • The diver somersaulted in midair. • He flew off his bike and somersaulted over the bushes.

¹some-thing /ˈsʌm,θɪŋ/ pronoun

1 : a thing that is not known, named, or specified • Something came in the mail for you. • I thought I heard something outside. • He said something that really bothered me. • I started to say something but she interrupted me. • I have something to tell you. • There's something wrong with my car. • Something is going on at the school, but I don't know what. • "The job doesn't pay very well and the hours are long." "I think you should look for something better." • I don't know what she studies, but it has something to do with computers. [=it relates to computers] • Would you like something [=anything] to drink? • Is there something [=anything] wrong? • Is there something [=anything] good on TV tonight? • I just got my tax refund. It's not much, but it's something. [=it's better than nothing] • "They won't give us an extra week to finish, but they'll give us a couple of days." "Well, that's something anyway." • Do you want pizza for dinner or something else? [=or a different thing for dinner] • I got you a little something [=a small thing] for your birthday.

2 : a person or thing that is important or worth noticing • She thinks she's really something ever since her promotion. • That waterfall is really something, isn't it? • He decided to go back to college and make something of himself [=become successful]

3 : an amount that is more than a specified number — used in combination • His friends are all twentysomething singles. [=his friends are single people between the ages of 20 and 29] • The bill came to fifty-something dollars.

4 — used to make a statement or description less forceful or definite • He is something of an expert [=he is an expert to some degree] with car repair. • We have something of a problem here. • The movie was something of [=somewhat of] a disappointment. [=was somewhat disappointing]

or something informal — used to suggest another name, choice, etc., that is not specified • Are you crazy or something? • You can probably clean that stain with club soda or something. [=or something like that] • The man wearing the badge must be a guard or something. • Can I get you a glass of wine or something?

something else informal : a person or thing that is special or impressive • That magician really is something else. • The Grand Canyon is something else, isn't it?

start something see ¹START

²something adv

1 : in a very small amount or degree : somewhat or slightly • The total repairs cost something over $300. • He does look something like his father. [=he resembles his father somewhat] • The movie was something like what I expected.

2 informal — used before an adjective that is being used like an adverb to add emphasis • He was snoring something awful/terrible [=was snoring very loudly] last night.

something fierce see FIERCE

¹some-time /ˈsʌm,tʰaɪm/ adv

1 : at an unspecified time in the future • We should get together sometime. • It's likely to happen sometime soon. • She will return from her trip sometime in December.

2 : at an unspecified or unknown time in the past • A burglar broke in sometime during the night. • The book was written sometime around the turn of the century.

²sometime adj, always used before a noun

1 formal — used to say what someone or something was in the past • the sometime [=former] prime minister

2 US — used to say what someone sometimes does or is • He is a talented pianist and sometime teacher of music. [=he sometimes teaches music]

some-times /ˈsʌm,tʰaɪmz/ adv : at certain times : OCCASIONALLY • His jokes are funny, but sometimes he goes too far. • Sometimes I take the bus to work. • We all make mistakes sometimes. • She works nine hours a day, sometimes more than that. • The word is sometimes used figuratively.

some-way /ˈsʌm,weɪ/ adv : SOMEHOW • We'll do it some-way.

¹some-what /ˈsʌm,wʌt/ adv : in a small amount or degree : to some degree • He felt somewhat awkward in his suit. • The instructions were somewhat [=slightly, a little] confusing. • Our work has progressed somewhat. • The course is some- what more difficult than I was told it would be.

²somewhat pronoun — used to make a statement or description less forceful or definite • We have somewhat of a problem. [=we have a slight/minor problem] • To say he has improved is somewhat of [=something of] an understatement.

¹some-where /ˈsʌm,weə/ adv

1 : in, at, or to a place not known, named, or specified • The boy ran off somewhere. • She lives somewhere in the city. • I've seen you somewhere before. • His house must be around here somewhere. • Do you want to go somewhere else?

2 : close to a specified number, time, or amount — usually + around or between • We met up somewhere around nine o'clock. • There must be somewhere around 100 people here. • The event attracted somewhere between 300 and 500 people. • The car costs somewhere around $25,000 to $30,000.

get somewhere informal : to make progress • After hours of questioning, the police began to get somewhere with the suspect. • The work has been very slow, but I feel like we're finally getting somewhere.

²somewhere noun [noncount] : a place not known, named, or specified • We looked for somewhere to park the car. • I know somewhere nice where we can eat.

som-me-lier /ˌsʌməlˈjeɪ/ noun, pl -liers /ˌsʌməlˈjeɪz/ [count] : a waiter in a restaurant who is in charge of serving wine som-no-lent /ˈsɑːmnələnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : tired and ready to fall asleep : SLEEPY • somnolent travelers — sometimes used figuratively • a somnolent little village

2 : causing a person to fall asleep : very boring • a somnolent lecture

— som-no-lence /ˈsɑːmnələns/ noun [noncount] son /ˈsʌn/ noun, pl sons

1 [count] : a male child • She gave birth to a son. • They have two sons and a daughter. • He is the son of a lawyer and a doctor. • an adopted son — sometimes used figuratively • our town's own native son [=a boy/man who is from our town] — sometimes used by an older person to address a younger man or a boy • Slow down, son, I can't understand what you're saying. — see also FAVORITE SON, GODSON, GRANDSON, STEPSON

2 the Son : the second person of the Trinity in the Christian religion : Jesus Christ • the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit like father, like son see ¹FATHER

prodigal son see PRODIGAL

so-nar /ˈsoʊ,nɑː/ noun [noncount] : a device used for finding things that are underwater by using sound waves • They detected the submarine by using sonar. • a sonar signal

so-na-ta /səˈnɑːtə/ noun, pl -tas [count] music : a piece of music written for one or two instruments that has usually three or four large sections that are different from each other in rhythm and mood • a piano/cello sonata

song /ˈsɔːŋ/ noun, pl songs

1 [count] : a short piece of music with words that are sung • He sang a love song. • The song was playing on the radio. — see also FOLK SONG, SIREN SONG, SWAN SONG, THEME SONG, TORCH SONG

2 [noncount] : the act of singing • She suddenly burst/broke into song. [=began singing] • The event was celebrated in song by a folk group.

3 [count, noncount] : a series of musical sounds that are produced by a bird or an animal (such as a whale) • I could hear the song of a sparrow.

for a song chiefly US, informal : for a very small amount of money • This old car can be bought/had for a song.

song and dance noun [singular]

1 : a performance that combines singing and dancing

2 US, informal + disapproving : a long story, explanation, or excuse that may not be true or directly related to what is being discussed — often + about • When I asked him why the work wasn't finished, he gave me a long song and dance about some problem he's been having with his computer.

make a song and dance about (something) Brit, informal 1 : to cause a lot of excitement about (something) • The film is nothing to make a song and dance about. 2 : to complain about (something) in a way that is excessive or unnecessary • He was making a big song and dance about the new regulations.

song-bird /ˈsɔːŋ,bɜːd/ noun, pl -birds [count]

1 : a bird that produces a series of musical sounds : a bird that sings especially in an appealing way

2 chiefly US, somewhat old-fashioned : a female singer • a talented songbird song·book /'sɑ:ŋ,bʊk/ noun, pl -books [count] : a book that contains the music and words to songs song·fest /'sɑ:ŋ,fest/ noun, pl -fests [count] US : an informal gathering where people sing songs together song·ster /'sɑ:ŋstə/ noun, pl -sters [count] : a person who sings usually very well • a Broadway songster song·stress /'sɑ:ŋstrəs/ noun, pl -stress-es [count] : a woman who sings usually very well • a jazz songstress song·writ·er /'sɑ:ŋ,rɪtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who writes the words or music to songs • an award-winning singer and songwriter — see also SINGER-SONGWRITER song·writ·ing /'sɑ:ŋ,rɪtɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the act or process of writing the words or music to songs — often used before another noun • a famous songwriting duo son·ic /'sɑ:nɪk/ adj, always used before a noun : of or relating to sound, sound waves, or the speed of sound • sonic waves • The concert was a sonic extravaganza. [=a very exciting and entertaining musical event]

sonic boom noun, pl ~ booms [count] : a very loud and explosive noise that is produced by an aircraft when it travels faster than the speed of sound son-in-law /'sʌnən,lɑ:/ noun, pl sons-in-law /'sʌnzən,lɑ:/ [count] : the husband of your daughter son·net /'sɑ:nət/ noun, pl -nets [count] : a poem made up of 14 lines that rhyme in a fixed pattern son·ny /'sʌni/ noun, old-fashioned — used by an older person to address a younger man or a boy • Watch your mouth, sonny.

son of a bitch noun, pl sons of bitches chiefly US, informal + impolite

1 [count] : a person (especially a man) who you strongly dislike or hate • That son of a bitch insulted my family. • He's a mean son of a bitch.

2 — used to express surprise, disappointment, anger, etc. • Son of a bitch! You won! • We've run out of gas? Son of a bitch!

3 [singular] : something that is very difficult or unpleasant • The test turned out to be a real son of a bitch.

son of a gun noun, pl sons of guns US, informal

1 [count] : a person (especially a man) or thing that you are annoyed with • That son of a gun never called me back. • I had to bring the car to the shop. The son of a gun broke down again.

2 old-fashioned — used by a man to address a male friend • How are you, you old son of a gun?

3 — used to express mild surprise, disappointment, etc. • Son of a gun, I lost a button. • Well, son of a gun, you made it!

sono·gram /'sɑ:nə,græm/ noun, pl -grams [count] US, technical : a picture that is taken of the inside of something (such as a person's body) by using a special machine : ULTRASOUND • The sonogram showed that the fetus was developing normally.

so·no·rous /'sɑ:nərəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : having a sound that is deep, loud, and pleasant • He has a deep, sonorous voice.

— so·nor·i·ty /sə'norəti/ noun, pl -ties [count, noncount] • the sonority of the singer's voice — so·no·rous·ly adv • He sang sonorously.

soon /'su:n/ adv soon·er; -est

1 a : at a time that is not long from now • We will soon be making changes. • I'll see you soon. • The soonest I can get there is tomorrow. • When is the soonest possible date of delivery? • We'll find out the answer soon enough. [=we'll find out the answer soon] • We need to fix this problem sooner rather than later. [=we need to fix this problem soon] b : in a short time after something happens • The audience soon realized that it wasn't a stunt. • She found a job soon after graduation. • Please give me a call as soon as you get there. [=give me a call immediately when you get there] • I had no sooner walked through the door when the phone rang. = No sooner did I walk through the door than the phone rang. [=the phone rang immediately after I walked through the door] • I told them we needed more copies. No sooner said than done. [=they immediately gave us more copies]

2 : in a quick way : QUICKLY • How soon can you finish the job? • The sooner you finish your homework, the sooner you can go outside and play. • I will let you know as soon as possible. • I'll get there as soon as I can. • The sooner [=more quickly] we get the pipe fixed, the better. = We need to get the pipe fixed, the sooner the better.

sooner or later : at an unspecified time in the future : EVENTUALLY • Sooner or later, we'll have to tell her the truth. • The bus should be here sooner or later.

too soon : before the time that is proper, preferred, or specified • I spoke too soon. • It's too soon to tell what will happen. • The show was over all too soon. • The plumber arrived, and not a moment too soon. [=the plumber arrived just in time; if the plumber had arrived later, it would have been too late] would sooner or would just as soon — used to indicate what you want or prefer to do, have, etc. • He would sooner [=would rather] lose everything than admit that he was wrong. • We asked him to come with us, but he said he'd just as soon stay home.

soot /'sut/ noun [noncount] : a black powder that is formed when something (such as wood or coal) is burned

— sooty /'su:ti/ adj soot·i·er; -est • the worker's sooty hands

soothe /'su:ð/ verb soothes; soothed; sooth·ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (someone) to be calmer, less angry, etc. • She played music to soothe [=comfort] the baby. • The waiter tried to soothe the angry customer.

2 a : to cause (a part of the body) to feel better • This cream soothes aching muscles. • Her nerves were soothed by a warm bath. b : to cause (pain) to go away or become less severe • Nothing can soothe their pain. — sometimes + away • The massage soothed away my back pain.

soothing adj [more ~; most ~] : producing feelings of comfort or relief • a soothing bath/cream/massage • soothing words • The music had a soothing effect on the baby.

— sooth·ing·ly adv • She sang soothingly to the baby.

sooth·say·er /'su:θ,sejə/ noun, pl -ers [count] old-fashioned : someone who makes predictions about what is going to happen in the future

1 sop /'sɑ:p/ noun, pl sops [count] disapproving : something that is done or given to someone in order to prevent trouble, gain support, etc. — usually singular • Critics say that the proposed tax cut is just a sop to wealthy taxpayers. — see also MILKSOP

2 sop verb sops; sopped; sop·ping

sop up [phrasal verb] sop up (a liquid) or sop (a liquid) up : to remove (a liquid) from a surface by using soft paper, bread, etc. • He sopped up the gravy with pieces of bread. • The water was sopped up [=mopped up] with a mop.

soph. abbr sophomore so·phis·ti·cate /sə'fɪstɪkət/ noun, pl -cates [count] formal : a person who has a lot of knowledge about the world and about culture, art, literature, etc. : a sophisticated person • urban sophisticates

so·phis·ti·cat·ed /sə'fɪstə,ketəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : having or showing a lot of experience and knowledge about the world and about culture, art, literature, etc. • She was a sophisticated and well-traveled woman. • She has sophisticated tastes. b : attractive to fashionable or sophisticated people • a swank and sophisticated restaurant

2 : highly developed and complex • a sophisticated computer network • sophisticated technologies • Her knitting technique is more sophisticated than mine.

— so·phis·ti·cat·ed·ly adv — so·phis·ti·ca·tion /sə'fɪstə'keɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • She is admired for her sophistication and sense of style. • the growing sophistication of new technologies

soph·ist·ry /'sɑ:fəstri/ noun, pl -ries formal

1 [noncount] : the use of reasoning or arguments that sound correct but are actually false

2 [count] : a reason or argument that sounds correct but is actually false

soph·o·more /'sɑ:f,mɔə/ noun, pl -mores [count] US : a student in the second year of high school or college • She's a sophomore in high school. — often used before another noun • Their son is in his sophomore year in college. • The team's quarterback improved during his sophomore season. — compare FRESHMAN, JUNIOR, SENIOR soph·o·mor·ic /sɑ:f'mɔrɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] US, disapproving : having or showing a lack of emotional maturity : foolish and immature • a sophomoric joke • His behavior at the party was sophomoric.

sop·o·rif·ic /sɑ:pə'rɪfɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : causing a person to become tired and ready to fall asleep • the soporific heat of summer • a soporific drug — soporific noun, pl -ics [count] • a substance used as a soporific

sop·ping /'sɑ:pɪŋ/ adj, informal : completely or thoroughly wet • His clothes were sopping from the rain. • a sopping wet sponge sop·py /'sɑ:pi/ adj sop·pi·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 US : soaked through with water : very wet • soppy towels

2 Brit, informal a : sad or romantic in a foolish or exaggerated way • The radio played nothing but soppy [= (US) sappy] love songs. b : foolish or silly • She gets all soppy [= (US) sappy] when she's around babies.

¹sop·ra·no /sə'prænəu, sə'pra:nou/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : relating to the highest female singing voice or the highest voice part in a singing group • the soprano tones

2 : having a high sound range • a soprano saxophone

²soprano noun, pl -nos [count]

1 : the highest voice part in a singing group

2 : the highest female singing voice or a person with this voice • She sings in a high soprano. • an opera soprano

— compare ALTO, BASS, TENOR

sor·bet /soə'bet/ noun, pl -bets [count] : a frozen sweet dessert that is made usually from fruit or fruit juices • a raspberry sorbet — called also (Brit) water ice

sor·cer·er /'soəsərə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who practices sorcery : a wizard or warlock

sor·cer·ess /'soəsərəs/ noun, pl -ess-es [count] : a woman who practices sorcery : WITCH

sor·cery /'soəsəri/ noun [noncount] : the use of magical powers that are obtained through evil spirits : WITCHCRAFT

sor·did /'soədəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : very bad or dishonest • He shared the sordid details of his past. • sordid business deals • a sordid scandal/affair

2 : very dirty : FILTHY • sordid living conditions

¹sore /'soə/ adj sor·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : feeling or affected by pain : PAINFUL • sore muscles • Her back felt sore. • After I fell I was sore [= achy] all over. • a dog limping on a sore leg • The patient has a sore throat

2 always used before a noun : causing emotional pain or distress • That's a sore subject to bring up. • The discussion touched on a sore spot.

3 chiefly US, informal : angry or upset • My neighbor is sore at me. • Are you still sore about what happened last night? • He's a sore loser. [=he becomes very upset or angry when he loses]

a sight for sore eyes see ¹SIGHT

(like) a bear with a sore head see ¹BEAR

stick/stand out like a sore thumb informal : to be very noticeable in usually a bad way • I wasn't wearing the right clothes for the party, and I stuck out like a sore thumb.

— sore·ness noun [noncount] • muscle soreness • There will be some soreness after you get the injection.

²sore noun, pl sores [count] : a sore or painful spot on the body • He has a sore on his lip. — see also BEDSORE, CANCER SORE, COLD SORE, EYESORE sore·head /'soə'hed/ noun, pl -heads [count] US, informal + disapproving : a person who easily becomes angry or upset • Just because you lost, don't be a sorehead!

— sore·head·ed /'soə'hədəd/ adj • a soreheaded loser sore·ly /'soəli/ adv : very much : BADLY • You will be sorely missed. • She provided some sorely needed help. • The house is sorely in need of paint. • He is sorely lacking in social skills.

sor·ghum /'soəgəm/ noun [noncount] : a kind of tropical grass that is grown for food; also : the grain that grows on this grass

so·ror·i·ty /sə'rorəti/ noun, pl -ties [count] : an organization of female students at a U.S. college • She wanted to pledge/join a sorority. — compare FRATERNITY

¹sor·rel /'sorəl/ noun, pl -rels [count] : a reddish-brown horse • a sorrel mare — compare ²SORREL

²sorrel noun [noncount] : a plant that has sour juice and that is used in cooking — compare ¹SORREL

¹sor·row /'sarou/ noun, pl -rows

1 [noncount] : a feeling of sadness or grief caused especially by the loss of someone or something • I felt sorrow at/over the death of my friend. • an expression of sorrow • (chiefly Brit) He spoke more in sorrow than in anger. [=because of sadness or disappointment rather than anger]

2 [count] : a cause of grief or sadness • a life filled with joys and sorrows • She had a secret sorrow. • He went to the bar to drown his sorrows. [=to forget about the things that were making him sad by getting drunk]

²sorrow verb -rows; -rowed; -row·ing [no obj] formal + lit- erary : to feel or express sorrow • a sorrowing mother, grieving over the death of her son sor·row·ful /'sarəfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + literary : feeling or showing sadness : full of sorrow • a sorrowful young man • a sorrowful goodbye • sorrowful eyes • Her expression was sorrowful.

— sor·row·ful·ly adv

sor·ry /'sari/ adj sor·ri·er; -est [more ~; most ~]

1 : feeling sorrow or regret • I'm sorry if I offended you. • She was sorry to hear about their divorce. • I'm sorry for your loss. • I'm sorry for saying that. • I'm sorry that I wasted your time. • He felt sorry for her. [=he felt sympathy for her because she was in a bad situation] • Stop feeling sorry for yourself. [=feeling pity for yourself] • It's probably not necessary to check the figures again, but (it's) better (to be) safe than sorry. [=it is better to be careful now so that problems do not occur later on]

2 a — used to express polite regret • Sorry, but I disagree. • Sorry [=excuse me], I didn't mean to interrupt you. b — used to introduce disappointing or bad news in a polite way • I'm sorry, but I couldn't find any information for you. • Sorry, but it's too late to change our plans. c — used as an apology for a minor fault or offense (such as bumping into someone) • Sorry. I didn't see you standing there. • I forgot to pick up the dry cleaning. Sorry about that [=I'm sorry; I apologize] d — used as a polite way of asking someone to repeat something spoken • Sorry? [=Pardon?] I couldn't hear what you said. e — used to introduce a correction to what you have said or written • (humorous) Any football nut—sorry, fan—will know what I mean.

3 always used before a noun a : very bad or poor • What a sorry state of affairs we're in now. • That's the sorriest excuse I've heard. b : causing feelings of disappointment or pity • The sorry [=sad] truth is that he was right all along. • I dragged my sorry [=pitiful] self out of bed.

¹sort /'soət/ noun, pl sorts

1 [count] : a group of people or things that have some shared quality : a particular kind or type of person or thing • animals of various sorts • What sort of car do you drive? • Is this some sort of a joke? [=is this a joke?]

2 [singular] : a person of a particular type • He's not a bad sort. • She's not the sort to complain.

3 [count] technical : the act of separating things and putting them in a particular order : the act of sorting things • The program did a numeric sort of the data.

all sorts of : a large number or variety of (things or people) : MANY • The movie appeals to all sorts of people. • They've been having all sorts of problems. [=they've been having a lot of problems] of sorts or of a sort : in some ways but not entirely or exactly • It was a vacation of sorts. [=it was like a vacation in some ways, although it wasn't really a vacation] • He's a poet of sorts. [=he writes some poetry but he is not really a poet] of the sort : like the person or thing mentioned • "You said you didn't like him." "I said nothing of the sort." [=I didn't say that at all] • I would like to go to a movie or a concert, or something of the sort. [=something like that] out of sorts 1 : somewhat angry or unhappy • My boss is (feeling) out of sorts today. 2 : somewhat ill • I don't know what's wrong with me, but I'm feeling a little out of sorts.

sort of informal : to some small degree : slightly or somewhat • I feel sort of foolish. • I think he sort of likes me. • You look sort of like my cousin. • "Did you enjoy the movie?" "Sort of." • The walls were (painted) sort of blue. = The walls were (painted in) sort of a blue color.

²sort verb sorts; sort·ed; sort·ing [+ obj]

1 : to separate and put (people or things) in a particular order • She started to sort the mail. • They sorted the winners from the losers. • The program can sort data alphabetically or numerically. — often + out • He sorted out the socks by color. • I finally sorted out the mess in the attic.

2 Brit, informal : to deal with (something or someone) in a successful way • We need to get this problem sorted. [=sorted out]

sort out [phrasal verb] 1 sort (something) out or sort out (something) a : to understand or find (something, such as a reason or a solution) by thinking • I'm trying to sort out [=find out, figure out] a way to do it. b : to find an answer or solution for (something) • He's still trying to sort out his problems. • We need to get these problems sorted out as soon as possible. c ♢ If something sorts itself out, it stops being a problem without anyone having to do anything. •

They decided to wait until things sorted themselves out. 2 sort (someone) out or sort out (someone) a : to solve the problems of (someone) • They're still trying to sort their son out. [=trying to sort out their son's problems] • I just need a little more time to sort myself out. b Brit, informal : to deal with (someone who is causing problems) in a forceful way • I told my brother they were bullying me, and he promised to sort them out (for me). — see also ²SORT 1 (above) sort through [phrasal verb] sort through (something) : to look at things and put them in a particular order especially while you are searching for something • He sorted through the papers.

— sort-er noun, pl -ers [count]

sorta /'soʊtə/ — used in writing to represent the sound of the phrase sort of when it is spoken quickly • It's sorta cold out. ♠ The pronunciation represented by sorta is common in informal speech. The written form should be avoided except when trying to represent or record such speech.

sor-tie /'soʊti/ noun, pl -ties [count]

1 : a sudden attack in which a group of soldiers rush forward against an enemy

2 : a mission or attack by a single plane sort-out noun [singular] Brit : an activity in which you make a room, closet, etc., neat and organized • Let's have a sort-out of the attic.

SOS /ˌɛs,ouˈes/ noun [singular] : a signal used by ships and airplanes to call for help — often used figuratively • The team sent out an SOS for a replacement player. • The club has issued an SOS for volunteers. — compare MAYDAY

so-so /'soʊ'sou/ adj, informal : neither very good nor very bad : fair or average • The reviews were only so-so. • a so-so movie/performance • The food was good, but the service was just so-so.

sot /'sɔ:t/ noun, pl sots [count] old-fashioned : a person who is often drunk : DRUNKARD • a pathetic old sot

sot-to vo-ce /ˌsɔ:touˈvoutʃi/ adv

1 formal : in a very quiet voice • He gave his opinion sotto voce.

2 music : very softly • play the last part sotto voce

— sotto voce adj • sotto voce comments sou /'su:/ noun [singular] chiefly Brit, informal : a small amount of money • I'm not giving you anything. Not a sou.

soubriquet variant spelling of SOBRIQUET

souf-flé /suˈfleɪ/ noun, pl -flés : a food that is made with eggs, flour, and other ingredients (such as cheese, vegetables, fruit, or chocolate) and that is baked until its top rises and it becomes very light and fluffy [count] cheese soufflés [non-count] a serving of chocolate soufflé sought past tense and past participle of SEEK sought-after adj [more ~; most ~] : wanted by many people and hard to get or find • sought-after antiques • the most sought-after artists souk /'su:k/ noun, pl souks [count] : a marketplace in North Africa or the Middle East soul /'soul/ noun, pl souls

1 [count] a : the spiritual part of a person that is believed to give life to the body and in many religions is believed to live forever • salvation of the human soul [=spirit] • the souls of the dead b : a person's deeply felt moral and emotional nature • He could not escape the guilt that he felt in the inner recesses of his soul.

2 [noncount] : the ability of a person to feel kindness and sympathy for others, to appreciate beauty and art, etc. • She has no soul.

3 [count] : a human being : PERSON • a brave/gentle/kind soul • Some poor soul was asking for handouts on the street. • There wasn't a soul in sight. [=there wasn't anyone in sight] • He didn't tell a soul [=anyone] that he was leaving. • a village of barely a hundred souls

4 [noncount] : a quality that gives emotional force and effectiveness to a performance, a work of art, etc. • He's a skillful performer, but his music lacks soul.

5 [noncount] : SOUL MUSIC • My favorite types of music are jazz and soul.

6 [singular] : a person who has a lot of a particular quality — + of • He is the soul of integrity. [=he is a very honest person] • I promise I'll be the soul of discretion. [=I'll be very discreet]

7 [singular] : the central or most important part of something that makes it effective, valuable, etc. — usually + of • Honesty is the very soul of any good relationship. • Our employees are the heart and soul of our company.

bless my soul see BLESS body and soul see BODY

keep body and soul together see BODY pour your soul out see POUR sell your soul (to the devil) see ¹SELL soul brother noun, pl ~ -thers [count] US, informal + old-fashioned : a black man or boy — called also brother soul-destroying adj [more ~; most ~] : causing a person to feel very unhappy or depressed • the soul-destroying confinement of city life • Rejection is soul-destroying.

soul food noun [noncount] : the type of food traditionally eaten by African-Americans in the southern U.S.

soul-ful /'soulfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : full of or expressing feeling or emotion • soulful music • a soulful performer • a handsome actor with soulful eyes

— soul-ful-ly adv • She sang soulfully. — soul-ful-ness noun [noncount]

soul-less /'souləs/ adj

1 : not having or showing any of the qualities and feelings (such as sympathy and kindness) that make people appealing • a government run by soulless bureaucrats • These companies are heartless, soulless, money-making machines.

2 : having or showing no special or interesting qualities • The houses in the new development are completely soulless.

— soul-less-ly adv — soul-less-ness noun [noncount]

soul mate noun, pl ~ mates [count]

1 : a close friend who completely understands you • a husband and wife who are perfect soul mates

2 : a person who has the same beliefs and opinions as another person • They are ideological soul mates.

soul music noun [noncount] : a popular style of music expressing deep emotion that was created by African-Americans soul-search-ing /'soul,səʃɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the activity of thinking seriously about your feelings and beliefs in order to make a decision or to understand the reasons for your own behavior • I decided to take the job after a lot of soul-searching.

¹sound /'saund/ noun, pl sounds

1 : something that is heard [count] the sound of footsteps/thunder • the sounds of laughter • I heard a loud, buzzing sound. [=noise] • I didn't hear a sound. [=I didn't hear anything] • They never made a sound. • speech sounds [=the sounds people make when they speak words] • the sound of "th" in "this" [noncount] devices used to record sound • measuring the speed of sound [=the speed at which the vibrations that create sounds move through the air]

2 [noncount] : the speech, music, etc., that is heard as part of a broadcast, film, or recording • The film was good, but the sound was poor. • digital sound • "Can you turn up the sound? [=volume] I can't hear what they're saying."

3 [count] : the particular musical style of an individual, a group, or an area — usually singular • the Nashville sound • I like the band's sound.

4 [noncount] : the idea that is suggested when something is said or described • "The doctor says my case is unusual." "I don't like the sound of that." [=I don't like the way that sounds; that sounds bad/serious] • By/from the sound of it, you may have poison ivy.

sound and fury : loud and angry words that attract a lot of attention but do nothing useful • The town meeting created lots of sound and fury, but no resolution.

— compare ⁵SOUND

²sound verb sounds; sound-ed; sound-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to cause (something) to make a sound or be heard • sound a trumpet • sound a horn/buzzer — sometimes used figuratively • He sounded a confident note [=he expressed confidence] when he talked about the company's future plans. b [+ obj] : to make (something) known by making a sound • They sounded the alarm. • The clock sounded noon. c [no obj] : to make a sound • The game was over when the buzzer sounded. • A ringing noise kept sounding in his ears.

2 [linking verb] : to seem to be something when heard • You sound tired. You should get some rest. : to seem to be something when heard about • Their plan sounds good to me. • Her story sounds false. • It sounded too good to be true. • I'll plan to pick you up at noon. How does that sound? [=do you think that is a good/acceptable plan?] • His new job sounds exciting. • A picnic sounds lovely. — often used in the phrases sound as if, sound as though, and sound like • It sounds to me as if they won't be coming. • The movie sounds as though it might be good. [=the things I have heard about the movie suggest that it might be good] • It sounds like the weather may be bad tomorrow. [=I have heard that the weather may be bad tomorrow] • You sound like you're tired. • That sounds like a good idea. = (Brit) That sounds a good idea. — see also SOUND LIKE (below)

S

3 [+ obj] : to make the sound of (a word or letter) with your voice : PRONOUNCE • He sounded each syllable clearly. • The "k" in "know" is not sounded.

sound like 1 : to have a voice that is like the voice of (someone else) • I knew he must be your brother. He sounds just like you. 2 : to say something that is like what is commonly said by (someone else) • You sound just like your mother when you say that.

sound off [phrasal verb] 1 : to say your opinions in a very direct and often angry way • She sounded off about the unequal pay raises. 2 US : to count out loud the steps you take while marching • The troops were sounding off during their exercises.

— compare ⁶SOUND

3 sound adj sound·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : in good condition : solid and strong • a building of sound construction • The bridge is structurally sound. b : in good health : HEALTHY • a sound mind in a sound body • The tests show that his heart is sound. • My health is sound. [=I am healthy] • (law) He was found to be of sound mind [=sane] when he committed the murder.

2 : free from mistakes : showing good judgment • a sound argument • She used sound reasoning in making the decision. • She gave us some sound advice. • a sound investment

3 always used before a noun : complete or thorough • She has a sound understanding of the system's structure. • The stock market has made a sound recovery. • They gave us a sound beating in yesterday's game. [=they beat/defeated us easily by a large amount]

4 of sleep : deep and restful • She fell into a sound sleep. • I was never a sound sleeper. [=someone who sleeps deeply]

(as) sound as a bell informal : in excellent condition • There's nothing wrong with your health. You're as sound as a bell. • The car's engine is as sound as a bell.

— sound·ly /'saundli/ adv • I slept more soundly last night than I have in a while. • an argument soundly based on logic • We were soundly beaten/defeated in yesterday's game.

— sound·ness /'saundnəs/ noun [noncount]

4 sound adv, of sleep : deeply and completely • He was sound asleep. • She slept sound. [= (more commonly) soundly]

5 sound noun, pl sounds [count] : a long and narrow area of water that connects two larger areas — often used in names • Long Island Sound — compare ¹SOUND

6 sound verb sounds; sounded; sounding [+ obj] technical : to measure the depth of the water in a lake, ocean, etc. sound out [phrasal verb] sound (someone or something) out or sound out (someone or something) : to try to find out the opinions of someone by asking questions • They sounded me out on the idea. [=they asked me what I thought about the idea] • polls that sound out public opinion

— compare ²SOUND

sound barrier noun

the sound barrier : the large increase in air resistance that occurs as an aircraft nears the speed of sound • a plane that is able to break the sound barrier [=to travel faster than the speed of sound] sound bite noun, pl ~ bites [count] : a short recorded statement that is broadcast on a television or radio news program • His campaign relies on catchy sound bites.

sound card noun, pl ~ cards [count] computers : a device in a computer system designed to produce or reproduce sound sound·ing /'saundɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count]

1 : a measurement of the depth of water • The sailors were taking soundings as the ship approached the coast.

2 : something that is done to find out what people think about something — usually plural • They took soundings on his chances of winning. [=they talked to and questioned people about his chances of winning] sounding board noun, pl ~ boards [count] : a person or group with whom you discuss ideas to see if the ideas are good • My friend is my sounding board for new ideas.

sound·less /'saundləs/ adj : making no sound : SILENT • Her footsteps were soundless. • the almost soundless approach of the boat — sound·less·ly adv • The cat moved soundlessly through the room.

1 sound·proof /'saund,pru:f/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not allowing sound to enter or leave • a soundproof room/studio • soundproof walls

2 soundproof verb -proofs; -proofed; -proof·ing [+ obj] : to make (something) soundproof • soundproof a room • The studio is soundproofed.

sound system noun, pl ~ -tems [count] : equipment that is used to play music through speakers sound·track /'saund,træk/ noun, pl -tracks [count] : the sounds and especially the music recorded for a movie • The movie's soundtrack is now available on CD.

sound wave noun, pl ~ waves [count] : a wave that is formed when a sound is made and that moves through the air and carries the sound to your ear

1 soup /'su:p/ noun, pl soups : a food made by cooking vegetables, meat, or fish in a large amount of liquid [count] a delicious chicken soup [noncount] a bowl of soup • a soup spoon — see also PEA SOUP in the soup informal + old-fashioned : in a bad situation : in trouble • That stunt landed her in the soup.

soup to nuts US, informal 1 : covering every detail or part of something • The book provides a soup to nuts look at the current political scene. 2 from soup to nuts : in every detail or part • The entire procedure from soup to nuts is changing.

2 soup verb soups; souped; soup·ing

soup up [phrasal verb] soup (something) up or soup up (something) informal : to increase the power of (something, such as an engine) • soup up a car's engine • His hobby was souping up older cars. — see also SOUPED-UP soup·çon /'su:p,sɑ:n/ noun, pl -çons [count] : a small amount of something : TRACE • Add just a soupçon of salt.

souped-up /'su:pt'ʌp/ adj : made greater in power or appeal • souped-up cars • My computer is a souped-up version of the standard machines. — see also soup up at ²SOUP soup kitchen noun, pl ~ -chens [count] : a place that gives food (such as soup and bread) to poor people

soupy /'su:pi/ adj soup·i·er; -est

1 : resembling soup • The gravy/sauce was too soupy.

2 informal : very foggy or cloudy • soupy weather

1 sour /'sawə/ adj sour·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having an acid taste that is like the taste of a lemon : TART • sour pickles • a sour apple • a slightly sour taste — see also SWEET-AND-SOUR

2 : having the unpleasant taste or smell of food that is no longer fresh • The milk had turned/gone sour. • The cream smells sour. • a sour odor • sour [=bad] breath

3 : unpleasant or unfriendly • a sour, cynical person • He made a sour face. • Their relationship ended on a sour note. [=ended unpleasantly]

4 informal : bad or wrong • Their relationship had turned/gone sour. • All their investments went sour.

sour on informal : having a bad opinion of (something) • She was sour on politics in general.

— sour·ly adv • She noted sourly that something was wrong. — sour·ness noun [noncount] • The dish gets its sourness from lemons.

2 sour noun, pl soures [count] : an alcoholic drink that has a sour taste • a whiskey sour

3 sour verb sours; soured; sour·ing

1 [no obj] of food : to lose freshness and get an unpleasant taste or smell : to become sour • The milk soured quickly.

2 a [no obj] : to become unpleasant or unfriendly • Her disposition has soured in recent years. • Their friendship has soured. [=they are no longer friends] b [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) unpleasant or unfriendly • Jealousy has soured their relationship. • His experiences have soured him.

3 [+ obj] : to make (something good) less pleasant or enjoyable • The team's victory was soured by an injury to one of their best players.

sour on [phrasal verb] sour on (something) or sour (someone) on (something) US : to stop liking or being interested in (something) or to cause (someone) to stop liking or being interested in (something) • Investors have soured on (buying) the company's stock. • Many fans have soured on the team after years of losing. • The disappointing result of the election soured her on politics.

source /'soʊs/ noun, pl sour·es [count]

1 : someone or something that provides what is wanted or needed • The college had its own power source. • a water source = a source of water • She has been a great source of strength to me. • His job is the family's main source of income.

2 : the cause of something (such as a problem) — usually + of • The delays are a source of concern. • The team's bad play has been a source of disappointment.

3 : a person, book, etc., that gives information • A government source spoke to the press today. • The reporter has refused to reveal his sources. • According to one source, the program will not cost a lot. • information from various intelligence sources • print sources • a reference source

4 : the beginning of a stream or river of water • the source of the Nile sour cream noun [noncount] : a thick cream that has a sour flavor • He put sour cream on his baked potato. — called also (Brit) soured cream

sour-dough /'sawəˌdou/ noun [noncount] : a type of dough that is allowed to ferment before it is baked and that has a slightly sour taste • sourdough bread sour grapes noun [plural] informal : unfair criticism that comes from someone who is disappointed about not getting something • His remarks are nothing but sour grapes.

sour-puss /'sawəˌpus/ noun, pl -puss-es [count] informal : a person who complains frequently or constantly and looks unhappy • He's just an old sourpuss.

soused /'saust/ adj

1 : completely covered by a liquid • cucumbers soused in vinegar

2 informal : very drunk • He sat at the bar quietly getting soused.

¹south /'sauθ/ noun

1 [noncount] : the direction that is to your right when you are facing the rising sun : the direction that is the opposite of north • The nearest town is 20 miles to the south (of here). • The wind blew from the south. • Which way is south?

2 the south or the South : regions or countries south of a certain point • The birds migrate from the South; especially : the southern part of the U.S. • Parts of the South were hit hard by the storm. • I grew up in the South. • The American Civil War was between the North and the South.

²south adj

1 : located in or toward the south • the south entrance • South America

2 : coming from the south • a south wind

³south adv

1 : to or toward the south • Turn south onto Elm Street. • It's a mile south of here. • The birds fly/go south in the winter.

2 US, informal : into a worse state or condition • The company's profits have gone south in recent months. • The TV show's ratings have been heading south.

down south informal : in or to the southern part of a country or region • She spent a few years down south. • We'll be heading down south for the winter. — compare up north at ³NORTH south-bound /'sauθˌbaund/ adj : going or heading south • a southbound train • The southbound lanes are closed to traffic.

¹south-east /'sauθ'i:st/ noun

1 [noncount] : the direction between south and east

2 the southeast or the Southeast : the southeastern part of a country or region • A mountain range is in the southeast of the country; especially : the southeastern part of the U.S. • Rain is moving into the Southeast. • He grew up in the Southeast.

²southeast adj

1 : located in or toward the southeast • southeast Europe • My office is in the southeast corner of the building.

2 : coming from the southeast • a southeast wind

³south-east adv : to or toward the southeast • It's a few miles southeast of here. • We headed southeast.

south-east-er /'sauθ'i:stə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a strong wind that blows from the southeast

2 : a storm with winds that blow from the southeast

south-east-er-ly /'sauθ'i:stəli/ adj

1 : located in or moving toward the southeast • They sailed in a southeasterly direction.

2 : blowing from the southeast • southeasterly winds south-east-ern /'sauθ'i:stən/ adj

1 : located in or toward the southeast • the southeastern corner of the state

2 : of or relating to the southeast • a southeastern bird south-east-ern-er or South-east-ern-er /'sauθ'i:stənə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person born, raised, or living in the southeast; especially : a person born, raised, or living in the southeastern U.S.

south-east-ward /'sauθ'i:stwəd/ also chiefly Brit south-east-wards /'sauθ'i:stwədz/ adv : toward the southeast • The storm is moving southeastward.

— southeastward adj • The storm followed a southeastward course.

south-er-ly /'sʌðəli/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : located in or moving toward the south • southerly latitudes • We sailed in a southerly direction.

2 : blowing from the south • a southerly wind — southerly adv • We sailed southerly around the island. • The storm is headed southerly.

south-ern /'sʌðən/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : located in or toward the south • southern U.S. • the southern part of the state • the southern shore of the lake

2 a : of or relating to the south • a southern species • southern cities

b Southern : of or relating to the people born, raised, or living in the southeastern U.S. • a Southern accent • Southern hospitality/cooking south-ern-er or South-ern-er /'sʌðənə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person born, raised, or living in the south; especially : a person born, raised, or living in the southern U.S. — compare NORTHERNER

Southern Lights noun

the Southern Lights : large areas of green, red, blue, or yellow light that sometimes appear in the night sky in far southern regions — called also aurora australis

south-ern-most /'sʌðənˌmoust/ adj : furthest to the south • the southernmost tip of the island south-paw /'sauθˌpɑː/ noun, pl -paws [count] informal : someone who is left-handed; especially : a left-handed baseball pitcher or boxer

South Pole noun

the South Pole : the most southern point on the surface of the earth south-ward /'sauθˌwəd/ also chiefly Brit south-wards /'sauθˌwədz/ adv : toward the south • birds flying southward — southward adj • a southward course/expansion

¹south-west /'sauθˌwest/ noun

1 [noncount] : the direction between south and west

2 the southwest or the Southwest : the southwestern part of a country or region • A mountain range is in the southwest of the country; especially : the southwestern part of the U.S. • These plants grow in the Southwest.

²southwest adj

1 : located in the southwest • the southwest corner of the building • southwest France

2 : blowing from the southwest • a southwest wind

³southwest adv : to or toward the southwest • It's about 80 miles southwest of here. • traveling southwest

south-west-er-ly /'sauθˌwestəli/ adj

1 : located in or moving toward the southwest • The storm is headed in a southwesterly direction.

2 : blowing from the southwest • a southwesterly wind

— southwesterly adv • We sailed southwesterly.

south-west-ern /'sauθˌwestən/ adj

1 : in, toward, or from the southwest • southwestern Arizona • the southwestern border

2 : of or relating to the southwest • a southwestern bird south-west-ern-er or South-west-ern-er /'sauθˌwestənə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person born, raised, or living in the southwest; especially : a person born, raised, or living in the southwestern U.S.

south-west-ward /'sauθˌwestwəd/ also chiefly Brit south-west-wards /'sauθˌwestwədz/ adv : toward the southwest • The storm is moving southwestward.

— southwestward adj • The storm will follow a southwestward course.

sou-ve-nir /ˌsuːvəˈniə/ noun, pl -nirs [count] : something that is kept as a reminder of a place you have visited, an event you have been to, etc. • When I went to the Super Bowl, I kept my ticket stub as a souvenir. • a souvenir shop [=a shop that sells souvenirs] — often + of • This coffee mug is a souvenir of our trip to Hawaii.

sou'-west-er /'sauˌwestə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a hat that is worn when it rains and that is longer in the back than in the front and ties under the chin

2 : a long coat worn by sailors that keeps them dry during stormy weather

¹sov·er·eign /'sɑ:vɹən/ noun, pl -eigns [count]

1 formal : a king or queen • a Spanish sovereign
2 : a British gold coin that was used in the past

²sovereign adj, formal

1 a : having unlimited power or authority • a sovereign prince b : not limited • the sovereign power of a king
2 : having independent authority and the right to govern itself • a sovereign state/nation
3 US : highest and most important • The government's sovereign duty is to protect the rights of its citizens.

sov·er·eign·ty /'sɑ:vɹənti/ noun [noncount]

1 : unlimited power over a country — often + over • He claimed sovereignty over the nation.
2 : a country's independent authority and the right to govern itself • national sovereignty • a claim of/to sovereignty

so·vi·et /'souvi,et/ noun, pl -ets

1 [count] : an elected council in the former U.S.S.R.
2 Soviets [plural] chiefly US : the people and especially the political and military leaders of the former U.S.S.R. • disputes between Americans and Soviets • The plan was opposed by the Soviets.

Soviet adj : of or relating to the former U.S.S.R. or its people • the Soviet government

¹sow /'sou/ verb sows; sowed; sown /'soun/ or sowed; sowing

1 : to plant seeds in an area of ground [+ obj] Every year we sow corn. • Farmers sowed the fields with corn. [no obj] We'll sow in the early spring.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (fear, doubt, etc.) to affect many people • Threats of war have sown fear in the region. [=have made many people in the region afraid] • They have been deliberately attempting to sow discord. [=to cause people to disagree and argue with each other]

reap what you sow see REAP

sow the seeds of : to create a situation in which (something) is likely or certain to happen or develop • Opponents have succeeded in sowing the seeds of suspicion/doubt. [=have succeeded in making people have suspicions/doubts] • They have sowed the seeds of their own destruction. [=they have done something that will lead to their own destruction]

sow your (wild) oats : to have many sexual relationships particularly when you are young • He sowed his wild oats in his younger years, but he's married now and has a family.

— sow·er /'sowə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

²sow /'sau/ noun, pl sows [count] : a fully grown female pig

soy /'soi/ noun [noncount] US

1 : soybeans and the food products that are made from soybeans • His book promotes the health benefits of soy. — often used before another noun • soy flour • soy milk [=a drink that resembles cow's milk but that is made from soybeans]
2 : SOY SAUCE • The recipe calls for two tablespoons of soy.

soya /'sojə/ noun [noncount] Brit : soybeans and the food products that are made from soybeans : SOY soy·bean /'soi,bi:n/ noun, pl -beans [count] US : the bean of an Asian plant that contains a large amount of protein and that is used as a food — called also (Brit) soya bean

soy sauce noun [noncount] : a brown sauce that is made from soybeans and used especially in Chinese and Japanese cooking — called also (Brit) soya sauce soz·zled /'sa:zəld/ adj, slang : very drunk • He got sozzled at the party last night.

spa /'spa:/ noun, pl spas [count]

1 a : a place where water that has many minerals in it comes up naturally from the ground and where people go to improve their health by swimming in, bathing in, or drinking the water b : a place where people go to improve their health and appearance by exercising, relaxing, etc. — called also health spa, (chiefly Brit) health farm

2 US : a bathtub in which a pump causes hot water and air bubbles to move around your body • Their property includes a swimming pool and spa.

¹space /'speis/ noun, pl spac-es

1 a [noncount] : the amount of an area, room, surface, etc., that is empty or available for use • There's still some space for a bookshelf. • the space behind/above/near the couch • Is there space in the cabinet for these dishes? • There's not much empty/clear space. • He moved the books to create more space on his desk. • Those old boxes take up a lot of space. • There should be plenty of space [=room] on the disk to save the files. — see also a waste of space at ¹WASTE b : an area that is used or available for a specific purpose [count] a parking space • She needs a space [=place] where she can do her homework. [noncount] floor space • storage space • The magazine devotes a lot of space to advertising.

2 a : an empty area between things [count] She has a space between her front teeth. [noncount] There isn't much space between our houses. • Is there enough space [=room] for me to park there? b : an area of land with no buildings on it [plural] the wide open spaces of the western U.S. [noncount] They live in an area where there's a lot of open space.

3 [noncount] : the region beyond the Earth's atmosphere in which there are stars and planets : OUTER SPACE • sent the satellite into space — often used before another noun • space exploration/travel • the space program [=the program devoted to exploring space]

4 [noncount] : the limitless area in which all things exist and move • the movement of sound waves through space • exploring the relationship between time and space

5 [count] : a period of time — usually singular • a short space of time [=a short time] • They finished in/within the space of an hour. [=within an hour]

6 a : a blank area separating written or printed words or lines [count] There should be a space after the comma. [noncount] Let's leave more space between the paragraphs.

b : a blank part or section on a document where something can be written [count] There's a space for your name and address. [noncount] There is space at the bottom for your name and address.

7 [noncount] a : the freedom and time to behave and think as you want to without being controlled or influenced by someone else • I need more space in our relationship. b : PERSONAL SPACE • You're invading my space. [=you're too close to me] stare/gaze (off) into space : to look straight ahead without looking at anything specific • He wouldn't even look at me. He just sat there, staring into space.

8 [count] : an available seat on a bus, train, etc. • There are no spaces left on the bus.

²space verb spaces; spaced; spac-ing [+ obj]

1 : to place or arrange (things) so that there is a particular amount of space between them • widely/closely spaced posts • Space the seedlings about six inches apart. — often + out • Try to space out the poles evenly.

2 : to separate (things) by particular periods of time • He spaces his albums so that he puts one out every two to three years. • They spaced the births of their three children two years apart. — often + out • They spaced out the births of their three children.

space out [phrasal verb] informal : to stop paying attention : to become unaware of what is happening around you • I spaced out for a minute and didn't hear what she said. • She spaced out halfway through the lecture.

space-age /'speis'eɪdʒ/ adj, informal : very modern • a space-age machine/design space bar noun, pl ~ bars [count] : the wide key at the bottom of a computer keyboard or typewriter that is used to make a space space cadet noun, pl ~ -dets [count] informal : a person who does not pay attention or who tends to forget things • Don't be such a space cadet.

space-craft /'speis,kɹæft, Brit 'speis,kɹɑ:ft/ noun, pl spacecraft [count] : a vehicle that is used for travel in outer space spaced /'speɪst/ adj [more ~; most ~] US, informal : SPACED OUT • He was too spaced on drugs to know what he was doing.

spaced out adj, informal : unable to think clearly or to pay attention to what is going on around you • He looked like he was spaced out on drugs. • I was tired and feeling pretty spaced out. • She had a spaced out look on her face.

space-flight /'speɪs,flaɪt/ noun, pl -flights : flight into outer space in a spacecraft [count] the first manned spaceflight [noncount] a history of human spaceflight space heater noun, pl ~ -ers [count] US : a small device that is used for heating a room space-man /'speɪs,mæn/ noun, pl -men /-,men/ [count]

1 informal : a person (especially a man) who travels in a spacecraft into outer space : ASTRONAUT

2 in stories : a visitor to Earth from outer space • spacemen from Mars space probe noun, pl ~ probes [count] : a device that is used to obtain information from outer space and send it back to Earth space-ship /'speɪs,ʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships [count] : SPACE-CRAFT space shuttle noun, pl ~ shuttles [count] : a spacecraft that can be used more than once and that carries people into outer space and back to Earth space station noun, pl ~ -tions [count] : a large spacecraft in which people live for long periods of time in order to do research and experiments space suit noun, pl ~ suits [count] : a special suit that is designed to keep astronauts alive in outer space space walk noun, pl ~ walks [count] : an activity in which an astronaut moves around and does work outside a spacecraft while it is in outer space spac·ey /'speɪsi/ adj spac·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : SPACED OUT • I'm a little spacey today.

spac·ing /'speɪsɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the amount of space between letters, words, or lines on a printed page • The spacing between characters should be even.

spa·cious /'speɪʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having a large amount of space • a spacious room/office/house • The dining room is spacious [=roomy] enough to seat our whole family and several guests.

– spa·cious·ly adv • a spaciously arranged room – spa·cious·ness noun [noncount]

spade /'speɪd/ noun, pl spades

1 [count] : a tool with a heavy metal blade attached to a handle that is used for digging — see picture at GARDENING

2 [count] : a playing card that is marked with a black shape that looks like a pointed leaf • two hearts, one club, and three spades — see picture at PLAYING CARD

3 spades [plural] : the suit in a deck of playing cards that consists of spades • the queen of spades

call a spade a spade : to speak in an honest and direct way • Why don't you just call a spade a spade and say that he's a liar?

in spades : to a great degree : in large amounts • We've been having problems in spades. • His hard work and dedication were rewarded in spades.

spade·work /'speɪd,wæk/ noun [noncount] : difficult work that is done especially to prepare for something • She had her assistants do the spadework in preparation for the trial.

spa·ghet·ti /spə'ɡeti/ noun [noncount] : pasta in the shape of long, thin strings — see picture at PASTA

spaghetti strap noun, pl ~ straps [count] : a very thin piece of material that is worn over the shoulder and that holds up a piece of clothing (such as a dress) — see color picture on page C15 spaghetti western noun, pl ~ -erns [count] : a movie about the old American West that is produced in Italy • I'm a fan of spaghetti westerns of the 1960s.

spake /'speɪk/ archaic past tense of SPEAK

spam /'spæm/ noun [noncount] informal : e-mail that is not wanted : e-mail that is sent to large numbers of people and that consists mostly of advertising • tips to reduce spam • a spam filter [=software that identifies and blocks spam]

spam verb spams; spammed; spam·ming [+ obj] : to send unwanted e-mail to (someone) • That company keeps spamming me. [=keeps sending me spam]

– spam·mer noun, pl -mers [count]

Spam /'spæm/ trademark — used for a type of meat that is sold in cans

span /'spæn/ noun, pl spans [count]

1 : the period of time between two dates or events • a 25-year span • a brief time span — often + of • a brief span of time • The symphonies were composed over a span of eight years. • I received two job offers within the span of a week. — see also ATTENTION SPAN, LIFE SPAN

2 : the part of a bridge or other structure that goes across a space from one support to another

3 : the width of something from one side to the other — often + of • the span of his shoulders • It's a span of a few hundred miles to cross the state. — see also WINGSPAN

– see also SPIC-AND-SPAN

span verb spans; spanned; span·ning [+ obj]

1 : to continue throughout (a period of time) • His career as a singer spanned three decades.

2 : to cover or include (a wide area, a large number of things, etc.) • Their empire once spanned several continents.

• Her academic interests span a wide variety of topics.

3 : to cross over (something) • A bridge spans the river.

span·dex /'spæn,dɛks/ noun [noncount] : a material that stretches easily and is used especially to make sports clothing; also : clothing made of this material

span·gle /'spæŋɡəl/ verb span·gles; span·gled; span·gling [+ obj] : to decorate or cover (something) with many small, shiny objects — usually used as (be) spangled • span-gled pants/gloves — often used figuratively • a night sky spangled with stars spangle noun, pl spangles [count] : a small, shiny piece of metal or plastic that is used to decorate clothing • showgirls dressed in costumes with gold spangles

Span·glish /'spæŋɡlɪʃ/ noun [noncount] chiefly US : Spanish that includes the use of English words

Span·iard /'spænjəd/ noun, pl -iards [count] : a person born, raised, or living in Spain : a Spanish person span·iel /'spænjəl/ noun, pl -iels [count] : a type of small dog that has long ears and a soft coat

Span·ish /'spæniʃ/ noun

1 [noncount] : the language of Spain, Mexico, and many countries in Latin America

2 the Spanish : the people of Spain : Spanish people

– Spanish adj • Spanish art/cooking/culture/territories • She has a Spanish accent.

Spanish American noun, pl ~ -cans [count] : a person living in the U.S. whose native language is Spanish

– Spanish–American adj • Spanish-American culture

Spanish moss noun [noncount] : a type of American plant that has long gray strands and that hangs down from the branches of trees

Spanish rice noun [noncount] US : rice cooked with onions, green peppers, and tomatoes spank /'spæŋk/ verb spanks; spanked; spank·ing [+ obj] : to hit (someone) on the buttocks with your hand as a form of punishment • Parents shouldn't spank their children.

– spanking noun, pl -ings [count] • If you don't stop jumping on the couch, you're going to get a spanking. [=get spanked] • She gave him a spanking. [=spanked him] spank·ing /'spæŋkɪŋ/ adv, informal : VERY • spanking new [=brand-new] sneakers • He keeps his apartment spanking clean.

span·ner /'spænə/ noun, pl -ners [count] Brit : 'WRENCH 1 put/throw a spanner in the works informal : to cause something to not go as planned • We were ready to start the project when the bank threw a spanner in the works by denying the loan.

spar /'spɑː/ verb spars; sparred; spar·ring [no obj]

1 : to box with someone as a form of training or practice • He's been sparring with his trainer.

2 : to argue with someone in a friendly way • They sparred playfully over whose team was better. — see also SPARRING PARTNER

spar noun, pl spars [count] : a thick pole or similar structure that supports something (such as the sails of a ship or the wing of an aircraft)

spare /'speə/ adj spar·er; spar·est

1 always used before a noun a : kept as something extra that can be used if it is needed • a spare pair of gloves • spare parts • I keep a spare set of keys in my desk. • a spare bedroom [=an extra bedroom where guests can sleep] — see also SPARE TIRE b : available to be used in whatever way you want • He likes to ski in his spare time. [=his free time; the time when he is not working] c : not needed by you and available to be shared or given to someone else • Do you have any spare cash/change? [=any extra cash/change that you could give to me]

2 : somewhat thin • He has a spare frame. • He was tall and spare.

3 : simple or plain • I like her spare style of writing.

going spare Brit, informal : not being used : available for someone to use • land that is going spare go spare Brit, informal : to become very angry or upset • My dad went spare when he found out what I'd done.

– spare·ly adv • a sparely decorated room – spare·ness noun [noncount] • the spareness of her writing spare verb spares; spared; spar·ing [+ obj]

1 a : to choose not to punish or harm (someone) • No one knows why the gunman shot some people and spared others.

• No one knows why he spared their lives. [=why he didn't kill them] b : to not destroy or harm (something) • Somehow the storm spared our house while nearby buildings were destroyed.

2 : to prevent (someone or something) from experiencing or being affected by something unpleasant, harmful, etc. • She was spared from having to answer any more questions. • He wanted to spare his family from the stress he had endured. • Our church was spared the fate of many others that have been closed. [=our church was not closed] • I could have spared myself the trouble. • He spared them the embarrassment of a public apology.

3 : to give (something, such as time, money, etc.) to someone • Can you spare (me) a few minutes? [=can you spend a few minutes with me?] • I can't spare the time to see you today. [=I don't have enough time to see you today] • If you could spare a cup of sugar, it would save me a trip to the store. • You should spare a thought for [=think about] those who are less fortunate than you.

4 : to not do or provide (something) • Nothing was spared by the hotel [=the hotel provided everything possible] to make its guests relaxed and comfortable. • We will spare no effort [=we will do everything we can] to ensure the safety of the tunnels. • When they go on vacation, they spare no expense. [=they do not worry about spending too much money; they spend a lot of money] • He said that he would spare no expense [=he would spend as much money as necessary] to make the restaurant successful.

5 : to use or give out (something) in small amounts — usually used in negative statements • More pancakes, please, and don't spare the syrup. [=give me a lot of syrup]

spare someone's blushes Brit, informal : to prevent someone from being embarrassed • The manager spoke up to spare the blushes of his young employee.

spare someone's feelings : to avoid doing or saying something that will hurt someone emotionally : to avoid upsetting someone • He admitted that he hadn't told me the whole story because he wanted to spare my feelings.

spare (someone) the details : to not tell someone all the unpleasant or boring details about something • "I drank too much last night and got sick." "Please, spare me the details."

to spare ✧ If you have money, time, energy, etc., to spare, you have more than enough money, time, energy, etc. • He seems to have energy to spare. [=he seems to have a lot of energy] • We have very little time to spare. [=we do not have a lot of time] • I have no money to spare [=I do not have enough money] for such things. • He got there with (only) minutes/seconds to spare. [=he got there only minutes/seconds before he needed to; he got there just in time] • He got there with time to spare. [=he got there early; he got there in plenty of time]

3 spare noun, pl spares [count]

1 : something extra that is kept to be used if it is needed • "I've lost the key." "You'll find a spare in the drawer." • If that one breaks, I've got a spare.; especially : SPARE TIRE 1 • Most cars come with spares.

2 bowling : the achievement of knocking down all 10 pins with the first two balls • He got a strike and two spares. • He made/bowled a spare. — compare 2 STRIKE 6 spare-rib /'speərɪb/ noun, pl -ribs [count] : a piece of meat from a pig that includes a rib — usually plural • barbecued spareribs

spare tire (US) or Brit spare tyre noun, pl ~ tires [count]

1 : an extra tire for a car

2 informal : a roll of fat around your waist • I have to go on a diet and try to lose this spare tire.

spar-ing /'sperɪŋ/ adj : not using or giving a lot of something • an artist who is sparing in her use of color [=who does not use much color] • He has been sparing with details about his personal life. [=he has not talked much about his personal life]

— spar-ing-ly /'sperɪŋli/ adv • He used the funds only sparingly.

1 spark /'spɑːk/ noun, pl sparks

1 [count] a : a small piece of burning material that comes from a fire or is produced by rubbing or hitting two hard objects together • A spark from the fireplace set the rug on fire. • The car's tailpipe made sparks as it scraped the road. b : a short, bright flash of electricity between two points • A spark ignites the stove's burner.

2 [noncount] : a quality that makes someone or something enjoyable, interesting, successful, etc. • In its fourth year, the TV series has lost its spark. • She's a talented gymnast but she doesn't have the spark of some of her competitors.

3 [count] : a small amount of something • A spark of hope remains. • Sometimes there were surprising sparks of humor in his letters. • occasional sparks of insight

4 [count] : an action, occurrence, etc., that causes something larger to happen • His death was the spark that ignited the revolution. • Her suggestion was the spark for the entire renovation project.

bright spark Brit, informal + disapproving : a person who says or does something that seems intelligent but is really not • Who's the bright spark who came up with this rotten idea?

sparks fly ✧ When sparks fly, it means that two people are either having an argument with each other or are sexually attracted to each other. • The sparks flew [=they had an angry argument] when he arrived late for her special dinner. • Sparks flew when they met for the first time.

2 spark verb sparks; spark-ing; sparked

1 [+obj] : to cause (something) to start or happen • The question sparked a debate. • Her fifth-grade teacher sparked her interest in history. — sometimes + off • The arrests sparked off [=touched off] a riot. • His hit sparked off [=started] a rally that brought in four runs.

2 [no obj] : to produce sparks • The fire sparked and crackled. • The wires made contact and sparked.

3 [+obj] : to add interest, liveliness, or flavor to (something) • prose sparked with humor — often + up • spark up an otherwise bland sauce

1 spar-kle /'spɑːklə/ verb spar-kles; spar-kled; sparkling [no obj]

1 : to produce small flashes of light • The diamond sparkled.

2 : to perform very well • The dancers sparkled on stage.

3 : to be or become bright and lively • The conversation sparkled. • Her eyes sparkled with pride. — see also SPARKLING

2 sparkle noun, pl sparkles

1 : a small flash of bright light [count] The sun reflected off the water in bright sparkles of light. [noncount] He caught the sparkle of her diamond out of the corner of his eye.

2 [noncount] : a lively quality • a performance full of sparkle and originality • the sparkle in her eyes spar-kler /'spɑːklə/ noun, pl -klers [count] : a type of firework that you hold in your hand and that throws off very bright sparks as it burns sparkling adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : shining with or reflecting bright points of light • the sparkling blue sea • sparkling jewels

2 : bright and clever • sparkling wit

3 : of the best quality : excellent or outstanding • a sparkling performance • The building is a sparkling example of modern architecture at its best. • (Brit) athletes in sparkling [=superb, brilliant] form

4 always used before a noun : containing bubbles • sparkling wine • sparkling grape juice spark plug noun, pl ~ plugs [count] : a part of an engine that produces a spark that makes the fuel burn — see picture at ENGINE

sparky /'spɑːki/ adj spark-i-er; -est chiefly Brit, informal : lively and energetic • sparky youngsters • a sparky heroine • sparky conversation sparring partner noun, pl ~ -ners [count]

1 : someone who helps a boxer practice : someone a boxer spars with for training

2 : a person that you have serious but friendly arguments with • They have been political sparring partners for years.

spar-row /'sperou/ noun, pl -rows [count] : a common type of small bird that usually has brown or gray feathers — see color picture on page C9 sparse /'spɑːs/ adj spars-er; -est : present only in small amounts : less than necessary or normal • Reliable data is sparse.; especially : thinly covering an area : not thick or full • sparse vegetation • a sparse beard synonyms see MEAGER — sparse-ly adv • a sparse-ly populated area • The room was sparse-ly furnished. — sparse-ness noun [noncount] spar-tan also Spar-tan /'spɑːtən/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very bare and simple : lacking the things that make life comfortable or more pleasant • They lived in spartan conditions.

spasm /'spæzəm/ noun, pl spasms [count]

1 : a sudden uncontrolled and often painful tightening of a muscle • violent back spasms • a disease that causes muscle spasms

2 : a sudden and usually brief occurrence of something you cannot control • He was racked with coughing spasms. • She was suffering spasms of guilt. • spasms of joy/rage

spas·mod·ic /spæz'mɑ:dɪk/ adj

1 : relating to or caused by a spasm • spasmodic movements/jerks

2 : happening suddenly and briefly at different times in a way that is not regular • He made only spasmodic attempts to lose weight. • spasmodic [=intermittent] activity

— spas·mod·i·cal·ly /spæz'mɑ:dɪkli/ adv • His neck was jerking spasmodically. • Outbursts of violence continued spasmodically after the war ended.

spas·tic /'spæstɪk/ adj

1 medical a : relating to or affected with spasms • a spastic colon • spastic paralysis b old-fashioned : suffering from cerebral palsy or a similar disease that causes uncontrolled movements • a spastic child

2 [more ~; most ~] informal : having movements like spasms : clumsy or awkward • spastic fingers • spastic dancing

— spastic noun, pl -tics [count]

1 spat past tense and past participle of ¹SPIT

2 spat /'spæt/ noun, pl spats [count] : a short argument about something that is not important • The newlyweds were having another spat. — compare ⁴SPAT

3 spat verb spats; spat·ted; spat·ting [no obj] somewhat old-fashioned : to argue or fight : to have a spat • They were typical sisters, spatting one minute, playing together the next.

4 spat noun, pl spats [count] : a cloth or leather covering for the ankle and foot that men wore over their shoes in the past — usually plural • a pair of spats — compare ²SPAT

spate /'spert/ noun, pl spates [count] : a large number of things that appear or happen in a short period of time • A spate of books on the subject have come out recently. • the recent spate [=rash] of forest fires • There was a spate of corporate mergers in the 1980s.

in spate chiefly Brit, of a river, stream, etc. : very full : filled with water flowing very fast • The river was in spate due to heavy rains.

spa·tial /'speɪʃəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] technical : of or relating to space and the relationship of objects within it • the spatial dimensions of a room • tests of spatial ability

— spa·tial·ly adv

1 spat·ter /'spætə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter·ing : to cause drops of a liquid to be thrown forcefully in different directions [+ obj] A passing car spattered [=splattered] mud all over her new coat. • The dog jumped in the pool and spattered us with water. • His clothes were spattered with paint. [no obj] When you cook bacon, the grease spatters everywhere. • He showed me how to use the paintbrush so the paint wouldn't spatter.

2 spatter noun, pl -ters : a mark made when something wet hits a surface [count] There were grease spatters all over the wall. • The floor was covered with spatters of paint. [non-count] There was a lot of paint spatter on the floor. • (US) He cleaned the bug spatter off the windshield.

spat·u·la /'spætʃələ/ noun, pl -las [count]

1 US a : a kitchen tool that has a handle which is bent upward and a wide, thin blade used for lifting and turning foods on a hot surface — called also (Brit) fish slice; see picture at KITCHEN b : a kitchen tool that has a long handle and short, soft blade and that is used especially for mixing, spreading, etc.

2 : a kitchen tool similar to a knife that has a flexible blade and that is used for mixing, spreading, etc. — called also (Brit) palette knife

3 Brit : TONGUE DEPRESSOR

1 spawn /'spɑ:n/ verb spawns; spawned; spawn·ing

1 [no obj] : to produce or lay eggs in water — used of animals such as fish or frogs • Salmon spawn in late summer or fall.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to develop or begin : to produce or create (something) • The health-food craze spawned a multimillion-dollar industry. • the incident that spawned a generation of student protests • a TV show that spawned a host of imitations

2 spawn noun [noncount] : the eggs of a fish or frog • Pacific salmon return to Alaskan streams to deposit their spawn.

spawning ground noun, pl ~ grounds [count]

1 : a place where animals (such as fish or frogs) go to lay eggs • Pacific salmon swim to their spawning grounds in Alaskan rivers.

2 : a place where something is created or produced often in large numbers • The country is a spawning ground for terrorists.

spay /'speɪ/ verb spays; spayed; spay·ing [+ obj] : to remove the sex organs of (a female animal) : to make (a female animal) unable to have babies • Our cat has been spayed. — compare NEUTER

spaz /'spæz/ noun, pl spaz·zes [count] US slang : a person who is very clumsy or awkward : KLUTZ • I'm a real spaz on the ski slopes.

speak /'spi:k/ verb speaks; spoke /'spouk/; spo·ken /'spoukən/; speak·ing

1 a [no obj] : to say words in order to express your thoughts, feelings, opinions, etc., to someone : to talk to someone • Have you two spoken since yesterday? • She and I spoke this morning. • He never speaks at the meetings. • Without speaking, she walked from the room. • They were speaking in Japanese. — often + to • We need to speak to our son's teacher about his grades. • He spoke to the police through an interpreter. • They spoke to each other in a whisper. — often + with in U.S. English • The coach refused to speak with the reporters. • May I speak with you privately? • I spoke with him on the phone yesterday. — often used at the beginning of telephone conversations • "Hello. May I speak to Noah?" "Speaking." [=I am Noah] • "Hello. This is Noah speaking."

b [no obj] : to talk about a particular subject or person — often + about or of • She spoke intelligently about the current political situation. • He still speaks of his ex-wife with affection. • The company is doing very well, financially speaking. [=is doing very well financially] c [no obj] : to say words to express yourself in a particular way • When I said you were my best friend, I was speaking sincerely. • Speaking personally, I don't think you should take the job. [=my personal opinion is that you should not take the job] • Generally speaking, people like her as a leader. [=people in general like her as a leader] • The restaurant isn't too expensive, comparatively/relatively speaking. [=when compared to other restaurants] • Speaking as a student (myself), I'm concerned about the alarming increase in school violence. d [+ obj] : to say (something) to someone • She must be speaking the truth. • Not a word was spoken between them the whole time. • Don't be afraid to speak your mind. [=say what you think] • Do not speak a word of this to anyone else. [=do not tell anyone else anything about this]

2 : to use your voice to say words [no obj] He has laryngitis and can't speak. • You're speaking too fast/loudly. • She speaks with a Southern accent. • I was so surprised I could hardly speak. • She got a speaking part/role in the play. [=she got a part/role for which she says words] • He has a very deep speaking voice. [=his voice is very deep when he speaks] [+ obj] The singer speaks the last verse instead of singing it.

3 [no obj] : to be willing to talk to someone after having a disagreement, fight, etc. • They haven't spoken since the argument two years ago. • Are they still not speaking? • He apologized, so I'm speaking with/to him again. • They're not on speaking terms. [=they're not friendly and do not speak to each other]

4 [+ obj] : to use (a particular language) to talk to someone • He can speak German and French. • English is widely spoken in many parts of the world. • We didn't know what language they were speaking. • the Spanish-speaking population/world • I can't speak a word of French. [=I do not know any French]

5 [no obj] : to talk about something formally to a group of people : to make or give a speech • She was asked to speak at the conference. • He has a talent for speaking to large audiences. • While most of the senators spoke against tax increases, one senator spoke in favor of them. • I have a speaking engagement [=I will be giving a speech] this evening. — see also PUBLIC SPEAKING actions speak louder than words see ACTION in a manner of speaking see MANNER

so to speak — used to indicate that you are using words in an unusual or figurative way rather than a literal way • We need to be all on the same wavelength, so to speak.

speak for [phrasal verb] 1 speak for (someone) : to express the thoughts or opinions of (someone) • They chose him to speak for the group. • Speaking only for myself, I'm against the plan. [=I'm only expressing my own opinion when I say that I'm against the plan] • "We don't want any dessert." "Speak for yourself. I want some." — often used figuratively • I have nothing more to say. The facts speak for themselves. [=the facts clearly show what is true] 2 speak for (something or someone) chiefly US : to show that (something or someone) does or does not deserve to be praised, admired, etc. • It speaks well for [=says a lot for] the company that it donates so much money to local charities. • Her calm reaction to the crisis speaks well for her ability to perform under pressure. • The test results speak poorly for our school system. 3 be spoken for : to not be available because of already being claimed by someone else or in a relationship with someone else • I'm sorry. This seat is spoken for. • I can't go out with you; I'm already spoken for.

speak of [phrasal verb] 1 speak of (someone or something) : to talk or write about (someone or something) : to mention (a subject) in speech or writing • Speaking of Jill, where is she? • It was the first time she spoke of going to law school. • She never speaks of her suffering during the war. • In the letter, he spoke of feeling ill. 2 speak of (something) : to indicate or suggest (something) • His diaries speak of a troubled mind. [=they show that he had a troubled mind] 3 speak of (someone or something) a : to talk about (someone or something) in a specified way • He spoke well/highly/favorably of both job candidates. b chiefly US : to show that (someone or something) does or does not deserve to be praised, admired, etc. • The continued success of the business speaks well of their judgment. [=shows that their judgment is good] • Her bad behavior speaks poorly of her upbringing.

speak of the devil see DEVIL

speak out [phrasal verb] : to speak freely and confidently about something : to express an opinion in an open way • She is never afraid to speak out on controversial issues. — often + against • Protesters spoke out against the decision.

speak the same language see LANGUAGE speak up [phrasal verb] 1 : to speak loudly and clearly • “Speak up. I can't hear you.” 2 : to speak at a meeting, in a class, etc. • Seeing that no one was going to answer the teacher's question, he decided to speak up. 3 : to speak freely and confidently about something : to express an opinion openly • Several of us decided to speak up about our working conditions. — often + for • She is always ready to speak up for animal rights.

speak volumes see VOLUME

speak your mind see MIND to speak of : worth mentioning or noticing • There was no progress to speak of.

synonyms SPEAK and TALK mean to express yourself by saying words. SPEAK refers to anything that is said, whether it is understood or not and whether it is heard or not. • What language are they speaking? • She spoke to the class. TALK suggests that there is a listener who understands what is said and often that both people do some speaking. • Do you have time to talk? • We talked about school.

-speak /ˈspi:k/ noun combining form — used to form words that refer to the special languages or words used for particular activities or by particular groups • computerspeak [=the language used by people talking about computers] • Californiaspeak [=the type of language used by people in California]

speak-easy /ˈspi:k,i:zi/ noun, pl -eas-ies [count] : a place where alcoholic drinks were sold illegally in the U.S. during the 1920s speak-er /ˈspi:kə/ noun, pl -ers

1 [count] : someone who speaks a particular language • fluent speakers of French = fluent French speakers — see also NATIVE SPEAKER

2 [count] : someone who talks about something to a group of people • I disagree with the last speaker. • He is an excellent public speaker. • She was invited to be a guest speaker [=to give a speech] at the conference.

3 the Speaker : the person who controls the discussions in a legislature • She became the Speaker of the House (of Representatives).

4 [count] : someone who is speaking • improper grammar used by a writer or speaker • The word “take” often indicates movement away from the speaker, while “bring” indicates movement toward the speaker.

5 [count] : the part of a radio, television, computer, etc., that changes electric signals into sound • I bought new speakers for my stereo system. — see picture at LIVING ROOM; see also LOUDSPEAKER speak-er-phone /ˈspi:kə,fəʊn/ noun, pl -phones chiefly US : a feature on a telephone that allows you to talk and listen to someone without holding the receiver to your head [count] We used the speakerphone for the call so that everyone could hear what was said. [noncount] He put her on speakerphone so that everyone could hear what she said.

¹spear /ˈspiə/ noun, pl spears [count]

1 : a weapon that has a long straight handle and a sharp point • The hunters used spears.

2 : a new part of a plant that is thin and pointed : a shoot or sprout of a plant • spears of grass • asparagus spears

²spear verb spears; speared; spear-ing [+ obj] : to push a spear or other pointed object into (something) • spear a fish • She speared an olive with a toothpick.

¹spear-head /ˈspiə,hed/ noun, pl -heads [count] : a person, thing, or group that organizes or leads something (such as a movement or attack) • Her book was the spearhead of the clean water movement.

²spearhead verb -heads; -head-ed; -head-ing [+ obj] : to be the leader of (something, such as a political movement) • She spearheaded the campaign for better schools. • The movement was spearheaded by the teachers' union.

spear-mint /ˈspiə,mɪnt/ noun [noncount] : a plant that has a strong and pleasant flavor and smell and that is grown especially for its oil

spec /ˈspek/ noun, pl specs : a detailed description of work to be done or materials to be used in a project : SPECIFICATION [count] — usually plural • technical/design specs • products that conform to specs [noncount] (US) • parts built according to spec

on spec 1 : without having a definite buyer or customer but with the hope or expectation of finding one when work is completed • He built the house on spec. • She wrote the script on spec. 2 chiefly Brit : without being sure of success but with the hope of success • He wrote to the company on spec, hoping for a job.

— see also SPECS

¹spe-cial /ˈspeʃəl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : different from what is normal or usual • This is a special case and I want you to handle it personally. • Only under special circumstances will you be allowed to retake the test. • Is there any special [=particular] reason why you're not coming?; especially : unusual in a good way : better or more important than others • Your many years of service put you in a special category. • Why should you receive any special treatment? • It takes a special quality to do what he did. • This is a very special occasion. • Are you doing anything special over the holidays? • The movie was nothing special. [=was not particularly good] • We have a special guest tonight—the mayor.

2 [more ~; most ~] : especially important or loved • a special friend • No one is more special to me than my wife. • He always made her feel special. • He holds a special place in her heart.

3 always used before a noun a : more than is usual • Pay special attention to the last paragraph. • Take special care on the way down the stairs. • They showed special concern for the children. • The report places special emphasis on new technology. b : additional or extra • a special edition of a newspaper • He won't tell us the special ingredient in his salad dressing. • This camera has a special feature that lets you take panoramic views.

4 always used before a noun : relating to or intended for a particular purpose • a special diet • He was on special assignment for the government. • special election coverage • I was given special orders not to let you in. • To clean the oven, I had to wear special gloves. [=a particular kind of glove] • Do you have any special instructions for the babysitter? • a special correspondent/prosecutor

²special noun, pl -cials [count]

1 : a television or radio program that is not part of a regular series • a one-hour special on whales • an after-school special

2 : a meal that is not on a restaurant's usual menu • Today's lunch special is chili. • The specials are on the board.

3 : SALE 2 • They were having a special on paper towels so I stocked up.

handyman's special see HANDYMAN on special US : selling at a price that is lower than usual : on sale • Pork chops are on special [= (Brit) on special offer] this week.

special agent noun, pl ~ agents [count] : an agent who works for the FBI

Special Air Service noun [noncount] : SAS

Special Branch noun [noncount] : the department of the British police force that deals with political crimes and terrorism • Officers from Special Branch are investigating the case.

special character noun, pl ~ -ters [count] : a symbol used in writing, typing, etc., that represents something other than a letter or number • The symbol § is a special character.

special delivery noun [noncount] : a special service that delivers mail more quickly than usual for an extra fee • She sent him a letter by special delivery.

special education noun [noncount] : classes for children who have special needs because of physical or learning problems — called also special ed

special effect noun, pl ~ -fects [count] : an image or sound that is created in television, radio, or movies to represent something real (such as an explosion) or imaginary (such as a monster) — usually plural • The movie is worth seeing just for the spectacular special effects.

special forces noun [plural] : a part of an army made up of soldiers specially trained to fight against enemies (such as guerrilla forces or terrorists) who do not belong to a regular army special interest noun, pl ~ -ests [count] chiefly US : a group that tries to influence the people who run a government in order to help a particular business, cause, industry, etc. — often plural • The congressmen were accused of selling out to special interests. • contributions made by special interests — often used before another noun • special interest money/politics • the influence of special interest groups

spe·cial·ism /ˈspeʃəˌlɪzəm/ noun, pl -isms [count] Brit : a particular subject or area of study or practice • The professor's specialism [=specialty] is labor law. — often + in • a doctor whose specialism [=specialty, specialization] is in blood disorders [=a doctor who specializes in blood disorders] • an accounting firm with a specialism in corporate mergers

spe·cial·ist /ˈspeʃəˌlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]

1 a : a person who has special knowledge and skill relating to a particular job, area of study, etc. : EXPERT • She consulted a marketing specialist when she decided to go into business. • child development specialists • He's a specialist in international law. [=he specializes in international law] — compare GENERALIST b : a doctor who deals with health problems that relate to a specific area of medicine • He saw a specialist for his foot problem. • a leading cancer specialist • a skin specialist — compare GENERAL PRACTITIONER

2 : a rank in the U.S. Army that is above the rank of private and below the rank of corporal — specialist adj, always used before a noun • specialist publications specialist shop noun, pl ~ shops [count] Brit : SPECIALTY SHOP

spe·ci·al·i·ty /ˌspeʃiˈæləti/ noun, pl -ties [count] chiefly Brit : SPECIALTY

spe·cial·ize also Brit spe·cial·ise /ˈspeʃəˌlaɪz/ verb -izes; -ized; -iz·ing [no obj] : to limit your business or area of study to one specific subject • Some carpenters do a wide range of jobs, while others specialize. — usually + in • My mechanic specializes in repairing foreign cars.

— spe·cial·i·za·tion also Brit spe·cial·i·sa·tion /ˌspeʃəˌləˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˌspeʃəˌlaɪˈzeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [noncount] a law firm whose area of specialization is family law [count] She studies government with a specialization in foreign policy.

specialized also Brit specialised adj [more ~; most ~] : made or used for one particular purpose, job, place, etc. • specialized regions of the brain • specialized gear for deep-sea fishing • a specialized habitat • specialized knowledge/skills

spe·cial·ly /ˈspeʃəli/ adv

1 : for a special purpose : SPECIFICALLY • dresses made specialy for a wedding • The speech was written specialy for the occasion. • The room was specialy designed to be used as a library. • specialy trained troops

2 : to a special or unusual degree : particularly or especially • I was specialy pleased with your gift. • people who are not specialy gifted special needs noun [plural] : mental, emotional, or physical problems in a child that require a special setting for education • a child with special needs — often used before another noun • special-needs students • a special-needs teacher [=a teacher who teaches children with special needs] • a special-needs classroom special offer noun, pl ~ -fers [count] : a product that is being sold for less than its usual price or the act of selling something for less than the usual price • Shoppers will be able to take advantage of special offers after the holidays. • (Brit) Fresh turkeys are on special offer [=US on special] this week.

3 [more ~; most ~] : in a special manner • I don't want to be treated specialy.

special school noun, pl ~ schools [count] : a school for children who have physical or mental problems

spe·cial·ty /ˈspeʃəlti/ noun, pl -ties [count] US

1 : something that a person or place is known for making or producing very well • Eggs are my dad's specialty. [=US specialty] • Buttermilk pie is a Southern specialty.

2 : an area of study or business that a person specializes in or has special knowledge of • a doctor whose specialty [=US specialty] is skin problems specialty shop noun, pl ~ shops [count] US : a shop that sells one type of thing • a cheese specialty shop

spe·cies /ˈspiːʃiz/ noun, pl species [count]

1 biology : a group of animals or plants that are similar and can produce young animals or plants : a group of related animals or plants that is smaller than a genus • There are approximately 8,000 species of ants. • All European domestic cattle belong to the same species. • laws that protect endangered/threatened species — see also SUBSPECIES

2 : a particular group of things or people that belong together or have some shared quality • the different species [=kinds, types] of criminals

spe·cif·ic /spɪˈsɪfɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 always used before a noun : special or particular • Is there anything specific you want for dinner? • There is a specific word for this kind of feeling. • a bird species that requires a specific environment • We were each given a specific topic to talk about.

2 : clearly and exactly presented or stated : precise or exact • The doctor gave the patient specific instructions on how to care for the wound. • Can you be more specific? What exactly did the policeman say? • He gave her a ring—or, to be more specific, he gave her an engagement ring. • She was very specific—you have to use a certain kind of tomato in the sauce. • Give specific examples. • Do you have a specific [=certain] date in mind for your party?

3 a : relating to a particular person, situation, etc. • an education plan specific to each student's interests and abilities • problems specific to this one housing project • a tax regulation specific to this kind of business b technical : having a particular function or effect • highly specific antibodies • an antibiotic that is specific to/for the organism that causes the disease — see also SPECIFICS

spe·cif·i·cal·ly /sprɪˈsɪfɪkli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 : in a definite and exact way • The report specifically names two companies that were involved. • I specifically told her not to bother you. • Knead the bread dough for several minutes, or, more specifically, until it forms a smooth ball.

2 — used to indicate the exact purpose or use of something • The show is aimed specifically at a female audience. • The new rules apply specifically to situations like this. • furniture designed specifically for outdoor use

spec·i·fi·ca·tion /ˌspesəˈfeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] : a detailed description of work to be done or materials to be used in a project : an instruction that says exactly how to do or make something — usually plural • the architect's specifications for a new building • The equipment will be manufactured to your specifications.

specific gravity noun [noncount] technical : a measurement that indicates how dense a substance is by comparing it to the density of water • determining the specific gravity of a mineral spec·i·fic·i·ty /ˌspesəˈfɪsəti/ noun [noncount] formal : the quality of being specific • I was impressed by the specificity of her instructions.

spe·cif·ics /sprɪˈsɪfɪks/ noun [plural] : the specific facts or details that relate to something • While avoiding specifics, he made it pretty clear that the presentation was full of flaws. • I'd like to know the specifics [=particulars] of your plan. • Let's get down to specifics.

spec·i·fy /ˈspesəˌfaɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy·ing [+ obj] : to name or mention (someone or something) exactly and clearly : to be specific about (something) • Can you specify the cause of the argument? • Specify the color and quantity when you order. • He clearly specified California wine. • The instructions do not specify what kind of screws to use. • All subscriptions are for one year unless otherwise specified. • At the specified time, we rang the bell. • She agreed to the terms specified in the contract.

spec-i-men /'spesəmən/ noun, pl -mens [count]

1 a : something (such as an animal or plant) collected as an example of a particular kind of thing • a museum specimen
b : a small amount or piece of something that can be tested or examined • a urine/blood specimen [=sample]

2 a : a notable example of something • The church is a magnificent specimen of baroque architecture. b humorous : an example of a type of person • Her dance partner is a superb physical specimen. • fine specimens of manhood spe-cious /'spi:fəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : falsely appearing to be fair, just, or right : appearing to be true but actually false • a specious argument • He justified his actions with specious reasoning.

— spe-cious-ly adv, formal — spe-cious-ness noun [non-count] formal • the speciousness of his reasoning

speck /'spek/ noun, pl specks [count]

1 : a very small piece or spot • There was not a speck of dust anywhere. • Soon the balloon was only a speck in the sky.

2 : a very small amount : BIT • She writes without a speck of humor.

specked /'spekt/ adj : marked with many small spots • bread specked with black pepper • paint-specked pants speck-le /'spekəl/ noun, pl speck-les [count] : a small mark of color • a ripe banana with lots of brown speckles

speck-led /'spekəld/ adj [more ~; most ~] : covered with many small marks • speckled trout • a gold-speckled scarf specs /'speks/ noun [plural] informal : glasses or spectacles • I have to wear my specs when I drive. — see also SPEC

spec-ta-cle /'spektɪkəl/ noun, pl -ta-cles

1 [count] : a very impressive show • a giant film spectacle • a Broadway spectacle

2 [count] : something that attracts attention because it is very unusual or very shocking — usually singular • The photo exhibit was quite a spectacle. • She hoped the situation would not become a spectacle.

3 spectacles [plural] old-fashioned : GLASSES • He peered through his spectacles.

make a spectacle of yourself : to do something in front of other people that is very embarrassing • You made a spectacle of yourself at the party.

rose-colored spectacles see ROSE-COLORED

spec-ta-cled /'spektɪkəld/ adj : wearing glasses • The spectacled [=bespectacled] clerks bent over their account books.

spec-tac-u-lar /spek'tækjələ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing wonder and admiration : very impressive • a spectacular sunset • a spectacular play in a football game • The stock market has made a spectacular [=sensational] recovery. • spectacular [=thrilling] aerial photography • The autumn foliage was spectacular.

— spec-tac-u-lar-ly adv • He played spectacularly. • a spectacularly successful novel • The new system failed spectacularly. [=it was a complete failure]

spec-tate /'spek,tet/ verb -tates; -tat-ed; -tat-ing [no obj] : to watch something (such as a sports event) • She no longer participates in sports but merely spectates. [=she is just a spectator]

spec-ta-tor /'spek,tetə/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a person who watches an event, show, game, activity, etc., often as part of an audience • The spectators lining the road cheered the racers on. • The accident attracted a large crowd of spectators. • I wasn't a participant in the preparations, merely a spectator.

spectator sport noun, pl ~ sports [count]

1 : a sport (such as football, baseball, ice hockey, etc.) that many people watch • People generally don't think of sailboat racing as a spectator sport.

2 : something that people watch other people do without becoming involved themselves • For many, politics has become a spectator sport.

spec-ter (US) or chiefly Brit spec-tre /'spektə/ noun, pl -ters [count] literary : a ghost or spirit of a dead person • "Ghost of the Future," he exclaimed, "I fear you more than any spectre I have seen . . ." —Charles Dickens, A Christmas Carol (1867) the specter of (something) : something bad that might happen in the future • a nation alarmed/haunted by the specter of famine/war • News of the disease raised the specter of [=made people worry about] a possible plague.

spectra plural of SPECTRUM

spec-tral /'spektrəl/ adj

1 literary : of, relating to, or suggesting a ghost : GHOSTLY • a spectral figure

2 technical : of, relating to, or made by a spectrum • spectral lines

spec-tro-scope /'spektrə,skoup/ noun, pl -scopes [count] technical : a device that is used to measure the properties of light

— spec-tro-scop-ic /,spektrə'skɑ:pɪk/ adj • spectroscopic analysis — spec-tros-co-py /spek'trɑ:skəpi/ noun, pl -pies [count] • infrared/laser spectroscopy

spec-trum /'spektrəm/ noun, pl spec-tra /'spektrə/ or spec-trums [count]

1 a : the group of colors that a ray of light can be separated into including red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo, and violet : the colors that can be seen in a rainbow • beautiful scarves in all the colors of the spectrum b technical : an entire range of light waves, radio waves, etc.

2 : a complete range of different opinions, people, etc. • reaching voters across the political spectrum [=voters with all the different political beliefs that people have] — often + of • the whole spectrum of emotions • The city's populations represent a broad/wide spectrum of society.

spec-u-late /'spekjə,leɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing

1 : to think about something and make guesses about it : to form ideas or theories about something usually when there are many things not known about it [no obj] She could only speculate about/on her friend's motives. • He speculated as to whether she would come. • We don't know what happened—we can only speculate. [+obj] — + that • Scientists speculate that the illness is caused by a virus.

2 [no obj] : to invest money in ways that could produce a large profit but that also involve a lot of risk • speculating on the stock market

— spec-u-la-tor /'spekjə,leɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • a land speculator • a Wall Street speculator

spec-u-la-tion /,spekjə'leɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : ideas or guesses about something that is not known [noncount] He dismissed their theories as mere speculation. • The book is just a lot of idle speculation about the future. • There is speculation that he will run for president again [=some people think that he might run for president again] [count] Her speculations leave many questions unanswered.

2 [noncount] : activity in which someone buys and sells things (such as stocks or pieces of property) in the hope of making a large profit but with the risk of a large loss • He lost everything in foolish land speculation.

spec-u-la-tive /'spekjələtɪv/ adj

1 a : based on guesses or ideas about what might happen or be true rather than on facts • His conclusions are highly/purely speculative. b : tending to think about what might happen or be true : tending to speculate • a writer with a speculative mind c : showing curiosity or uncertainty • She gave him a speculative glance. [=she looked at him in a way that showed she was thinking/wondering about him]

2 : involving financial risk : of or relating to financial activity that could result in either a large profit or a large loss • a speculative boom in housing construction • speculative deals

— spec-u-la-tive-ly adv • The question can only be answered speculatively. • She eyed him speculatively.

sped past tense and past participle of ²SPEED

speech /'spi:tʃ/ noun, pl speech-es

1 [count] : a spoken expression of ideas, opinions, etc., that is made by someone who is speaking in front of a group of people • She has to make/give/deliver a speech at the convention. • a graduation speech about/on embracing future challenges • He kept revising his speech [=the words that he had written for his speech] right up until the last minute. • She thanked us in her acceptance speech. [=a speech given by someone receiving an award or prize] — see also STUMP SPEECH

2 [noncount] : the ability to speak • I was so flustered that I momentarily lost the power of speech. • She has a mild speech impediment. [=a condition that makes it difficult to speak normally] • They fought for freedom of speech. = They fought for the right to/of free speech. [=they fought for the legal right to express their opinions freely]

3 [noncount] : spoken language • Slang is used mostly in informal/casual speech. • Many words are more common in speech than in writing.

4 [noncount] : the manner or style of speaking that is used by a particular person or group • His speech was slurred. • local/regional speech patterns

5 [count] : a group of lines spoken by a character in a play • I get to perform one of the best speeches in the play.

— see also FIGURE OF SPEECH, PART OF SPEECH

speech day noun, pl ~ days [count] Brit : an event held once a year in some British schools at which prizes are awarded to students and speeches are given speech-ify /'spi:tʃə,faɪ/ verb -ifies; -ified; -ify-ing [no obj] informal + disapproving : to make a speech especially in a way that is boring, annoying, etc. • We had to listen to him speechify about what a wonderful governor he would be.

— speechifying noun [noncount] • The political speechifying has begun.

speech-less /'spi:tʃləs/ adj : unable to speak because of anger, surprise, etc. • I was speechless with shock/anger. • Your story left me speechless.

speech therapy noun [noncount] : treatment or therapy to help people who have speech problems learn to pronounce words correctly

— speech therapist noun, pl ~ -pists [count]

speech-writ-er /'spi:tʃ,raɪtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person whose job is to write speeches that are given by someone else (such as a politician) • She is the President's principal speechwriter.

¹speed /'spi:d/ noun, pl speeds

1 : the rate at which someone or something moves or travels [noncount] The trucks gain/gather speed as they drive down the hill. = The trucks pick up speed as they drive down the hill. [=the trucks go faster as they drive down the hill] • This instrument measures wind speed. • He was running at full/top speed. [=as fast as possible] • The machine was operating at high/medium/low speed. • traveling at nearly the speed of light/sound [count] Under the right conditions the car can reach speeds over 200 miles an hour. • The vehicle maintained a speed of 40 miles per hour.

2 : the rate at which something happens or is done [noncount] The work was done with remarkable speed. • They ate their lunch at lightning speed. [=extremely quickly] [count] This computer works at a much faster processing speed than my old one. • He types at a speed of about 50 words per minute. = His typing speed is about 50 words per minute.

3 [noncount] : the quality of being quick • The machine chops up tree branches and leaves with speed and ease.

4 [count] photography a : a measurement that indicates how quickly film reacts to light and that is expressed as a number (such as 100 or 200) • 200 speed film b : the time during which a camera's shutter is open • faster/slower shutter speeds

5 [count] : a gear in a vehicle or bicycle • a three-speed bicycle • Her old car has four speeds.

6 [noncount] informal : an illegal drug that makes a person feel more excited and full of energy • He was high on speed. at speed chiefly Brit : very quickly : at a fast speed • He ran at speed out of the room.

full speed ahead see ¹FULL

up to speed : having the latest information about something • Everyone here is up to speed. • Let me bring you up to speed on our plans. [=let me tell you about the changes in our plans] : having the knowledge that is needed to do or understand something • It will take some time for the new secretary to get up to speed. [=to learn the job]

²speed verb speeds; sped /'spɛd/ or speed-ed; speed-ing

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move fast • A group of kids sped past us on their bikes. • They jumped in the car and sped/speeded away. • A car was speeding down/up the street.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to move (someone or something) somewhere very quickly • An ambulance sped her to the hospital.

3 [no obj] : to drive faster than the legal speed limit • I got pulled over twice last month because I was speeding on the highway. • Don't speed.

4 [+ obj] somewhat formal : to cause (an action, movement, process, etc.) to happen faster • We kept the plants under artificial lights at night to speed their growth. • Is there anything we can do to speed the process (along)?

speed up [phrasal verb] speed up or speed up (something or someone) or speed (something or someone) up : to become faster or to make (something or someone) faster • I hate it when cars speed up [=accelerate] while you're trying to pass them. • The work has been slow so far but it should speed up soon. • They add another chemical to the photo developer to speed up the process. • I'm afraid there's nothing you can do to speed things up. • They're working too slowly. How can we speed them up? — see also SPEEDUP speed-boat /'spi:d,bəʊt/ noun, pl -boats [count] : a motorboat that can go very fast speed bump noun, pl ~ bumps [count] : a low raised ridge across a road or parking lot that causes people to drive more slowly — called also (Brit) speed hump speed demon noun, pl ~ -mons [count] chiefly US, informal : someone or something that moves or works very fast • The new cook is a regular speed demon. • This computer is a real speed demon compared with/to my old computer.

speed dial noun [noncount] chiefly US : a feature on some telephones that allows a person to call certain phone numbers quickly by pressing only one button • a phone with speed dial • I have you on speed dial. = I have your number on speed dial.

— speed-dial verb -dials; -dialed; -dialing [+ obj] chiefly US • I've added your number to my phone so I can speed-dial you now.

speed-er /'spi:də/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who drives faster than the legal speed limit • The cops were out ticketing speeders yesterday.

speed hump noun, pl ~ humps [count] Brit : SPEED BUMP speeding noun [noncount] : the offense of driving faster than the legal speed limit • I got a ticket for speeding.

speeding ticket noun, pl ~ -ets [count] : a piece of paper that a police officer gives to someone who was driving too fast and that indicates a fine that the driver will have to pay • I got a speeding ticket and a $150 fine.

speed limit noun, pl ~ -its [count] : the highest speed at which you are allowed to drive on a particular road • The speed limit here is 55 mph. • She got a ticket for breaking/exceeding the speed limit.

speed-om-e-ter /spi'da:mətə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : an instrument in a car, truck, etc., that indicates how fast the vehicle is going — called also (Brit) speedo /'spi:dou/; see picture at CAR; compare ODOMETER, TACHOMETER

speed-read-ing /'spi:d,ri:dɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : a method of reading something very quickly — speed-read verb -reads; -read; -reading [+ obj] • I speed-read the book in one night.

speed skating noun [noncount] : the sport of racing on ice skates

— speed skater noun, pl ~ -ers [count]

speed-ster /'spi:dstə/ noun, pl -sters [count] : someone or something that moves or works very fast • She drives a sporty little speedster. • The team has a couple of talented speedsters.

speed trap noun, pl ~ traps [count] : an area of road where police hide from drivers and use special equipment to catch people who are driving too fast speed-up /'spi:d,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups : an increase in the speed or rate of something [count] — usually singular • Economists are worried about a possible speedup in/of inflation. [noncount] I'd like to see some speedup in the selection process. — see also speed up at ²SPEED

speed-way /'spi:d,weɪ/ noun, pl -ways

1 [count] chiefly US : a track where cars or motorcycles race

2 [noncount] Brit : the sport of racing motorcycles on a special track speedy /'spi:di/ adj speed-i-er; -est

1 : moving or able to move quickly : fast or quick • a speedy car/boat

2 : happening quickly • a speedy process • They wished her a speedy recovery.

— speed-i-ly /'spi:dəli/ adv • They worked speedily and efficiently. • We must move speedily to address the problem.

— speed-i-ness /'spi:dɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

¹spell /'spel/ verb spells; spelled or chiefly Brit spelt /'spelt/; spell-ing chiefly US

1 a : to say, write, or print the letters of (a word or name) [+ obj] How do you spell your last name? • You spelled "catastrophe" wrong. • "Foggy" is spelled with two g's. — sometimes + out • Please spell out your full name. [no obj] He doesn't spell very well. b [+ obj] — used to indicate the letters that form a particular word • S-O-N spells "son."

2 [+ obj] : to have or lead to (a particular result or effect) • Her boss's resignation spelled the end to her troubles. [=her troubles ended when her boss resigned] • The amount of planning you do could spell [=mean] the difference between success and failure. • Their carelessness could spell trouble/disaster for all of us.

spell out [phrasal verb] spell (something) out or spell out (something) 1 : to explain the details of (something) clearly • The contract spelled out the terms of his employment. • She didn't get the hint, so he had to spell it out for her. 2 : to write out (something) in complete words instead of using a number, an abbreviation, etc. • When addressing the invitations, spell out "street," "road," etc. • On this line you need to spell out the dollar amount. — see also ¹SPELL 1 (above)

— compare ³SPELL

²spell noun, pl spells

1 [count] a : a group of secret words that are believed to have magic power • He said a magic spell of protection. b : magic that is performed by saying a group of secret words • In the story, the witch casts a spell on/over the children. • Drinking the potion will break the spell. [=end the magic] • She felt like she was under a spell. [=affected by magic]

2 [singular] : a quality that attracts or influences someone or something in a powerful or seemingly magical way • The sound of the phone ringing broke the spell of the music. • Many people think she has fallen under his spell, but I think she knows what she's doing.

— compare ⁴SPELL

³spell verb spells; spelled; spell-ing [+ obj] chiefly US : to take the place of (another person who has been working or doing something for a period of time) : to take over for (someone) • When they're taking care of their grandson, they spell [=relieve] each other throughout the day. — compare ¹SPELL

⁴spell noun, pl spells [count]

1 : a short period of time usually marked by a particular activity or condition • a dizzy/fainting spell • I'm tired and need to sit down for a spell. • It looks like we're in for a spell of rainy weather. • The flowers died during a dry/cold spell. [=a period of dry/cold weather]

2 : a period spent doing a job or duty • After a spell as an editor she went back to teaching.

— compare ²SPELL

spell-binding /'spel,baɪndɪŋ/ adj : holding your attention completely : extremely interesting, entertaining, etc. • I found her performance spellbinding. [=fascinating, riveting] • He's a spellbinding speaker.

spell-bound /'spel,baʊnd/ adj : giving all of your attention and interest to something or someone • The children were spellbound by the puppet show. • She's a storyteller that will hold/keep you spellbound.

spell-check /'spel,tʃek/ verb -checks; -checked; -check-ing [+ obj] : to use a computer program (called a spell-checker) to find and correct spelling errors in (something you have written) • I spell-checked my homework.

spell-check-er /'spel,tʃekə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a computer program that finds and corrects misspelled words in documents, e-mail, etc. — called also spell-check, spelling checker spell-er /'spelə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who spells words in a particular way • She is a bad/good speller. [=she is bad/good at spelling words]

spell-ing /'spelɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [noncount] : the act of forming of words from letters • He's very good at spelling. = His spelling is very good. [=he spells words correctly] — often used before another noun • Make sure there are no spelling mistakes/errors in the application. • The students have a spelling test every Friday.

2 [count] : the way in which a word is correctly spelled • The American spelling is "color" while the British spelling is "colour." • The words "made" and "maid" sound alike but have different spellings.

spelling bee noun, pl ~ bees [count] chiefly US : a contest in which contestants spell words aloud and are removed from the contest when they spell a word wrong

spelling checker noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : SPELL-CHECK-ER spelt chiefly Brit past tense and past participle of ¹SPELL

spe-lunk-er /sɪ'lʌŋkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : a person who explores and studies caves as a hobby — called also caver spe-lunk-ing /sɪ'lʌŋkɪŋ/ noun [noncount] US : the sport or practice of exploring or studying caves • Her hobbies include hiking, biking, and spelunking. • They love to go spelunking. — called also caving

spend /'spend/ verb spends; spent /'spent/; spend-ing

1 : to use (money) to pay for something [+ obj] I spent $30 on his birthday gift. • They spend a lot on clothes and cars. • I want to buy a new car, but I don't have much money to spend. • This computer wasn't cheap, but it was money well spent. [=it was worth its price] [no obj] Her willingness to spend freely made her popular among her friends. • He spends lavishly on vacations.

2 [+ obj] : to allow (time) to pass in a particular place or while doing a particular activity • I spent my summer at the beach. • She spent eight months living in New York City. Relaxing with friends is a great way to spend a weekend. • Our cat spends most of his time sleeping. • Too much of my time is spent arguing with customers.

3 [+ obj] : to use (energy or effort) to do something • She spends far too much energy worrying about her daughter. • I wish he spent as much (of his) effort/energy on studying as he does on video games. • Our energy/effort(s) would be better spent (in) solving the problem rather than just complaining about it.

spend the night ♦ If you sleep at a place for a night, you spend the night there. • After the party she was too drunk to drive so she spent the night. • They spent the night at her brother's. If you spend the night with someone, or if you and someone else spend the night together, you stay with someone overnight and have sex with that person. • We spent the night together. • I spent the night with her/him.

spend-er /'spendə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who spends money • The restaurant gives the big spenders [=people who spend lots of money] special treatment.

spending noun [noncount] : the money that is spent especially by a government or organization • government/federal/public spending • They have proposed cuts in military/defense spending.

spending money noun [noncount] : extra money that you can spend on whatever you want • She earned spending money at an after-school job.

spend-thrift /'spend,θrɪft/ noun, pl -thrifths [count] : a person who spends money in a careless or wasteful way — spendthrift adj • their spendthrift way of life

spent /'spent/ adj

1 : used up and no longer useful • spent nuclear fuel • (chiefly Brit) He was once one of the most powerful men in the government, but now he's largely a spent force. [=he no longer has the power or influence he once had]

2 somewhat formal : tired and drained of energy • By the end of the race I was completely spent. [=exhausted]

sperm /'spɜ:m/ noun, pl sperm also sperms biology

1 [count] : a cell that is produced by the male sexual organs and that combines with the female's egg in reproduction • The sperm fertilizes the egg. • a man with a low sperm count [=a man whose body produces few active sperm] — called also spermatozoon, sperm cell

2 [noncount] : fluid that is produced by the male sexual organs which contains sperm cells : SEMEN

sper-ma-to-zo-on /spə'mætə'zou,ɑ:n/ noun, pl -zoa /-'zowə/ [count] biology : SPERM 1

sperm bank noun, pl ~ banks [count] : a place where sperm are collected, stored, and then used to help women become pregnant sperm cell noun, pl ~ cells [count] biology : SPERM 1

sperm donor noun, pl ~ -nors [count] : a man who gives his sperm usually to a sperm bank so that it can be used to help women get pregnant

sper-mi-cide /'spəmə'saɪd/ noun, pl -cides [count, non-count] : a substance that is used to kill sperm in order to prevent pregnancy

— sper-mi-cid-al /'spəmə'saɪdəl/ adj • a spermicidal gel sperm whale noun, pl ~ whales [count] : a type of whale that has a very large head and is hunted for its fat and oil

spew /'spju:/ verb spews; spewed; spew-ing

1 a always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to flow out of something in a fast and forceful way • Exhaust spewed out of the car. • Smoke and ashes spewed from the volcano. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to flow out in a fast and forceful way • The volcano spewed hot ash. • The faucet started spewing dirty water. — often used figuratively • They spewed (out) an endless stream of questions. • He spewed insults at his critics.

2 informal : ¹VOMIT [no obj] The dog spewed (up) all over the rug. [+ obj] The dog spewed vomit on the rug.

SPF /ˌɛsˌpiːˈɛf/ noun : a number that indicates how well a cream, lotion, etc., protects your skin from the sun [singular] a sunscreen with an SPF of 15 [noncount] a sunscreen with SPF 15 — called also sun protection factor

sphag-num /ˈsfæɡnəm/ noun [noncount] : PEAT MOSS sphere /ˈsfɪə/ noun, pl spheres [count]

1 a : a round object : GLOBE • a glass sphere b geometry : a three-dimensional shape that looks like a ball • All points on a sphere are the same distance from the center. — see picture at GEOMETRY

2 somewhat formal : an area of influence or activity • Women at that time were confined to the domestic sphere. • They recognize that jobs in the public/private sphere are valuable. • The region has moved back and forth between Spanish and Portuguese spheres of influence. [=has been under the control or influence of Spain and Portugal at different times]

spher-i-cal /ˈsfɪrɪkəl, ˈsfɛrɪkəl/ adj : having the shape of a sphere : ROUND • a spherical object

spher-oid /ˈsfɪəɔɪd, ˈsfɛəɔɪd/ noun, pl -oids [count] technical : an object that is somewhat round but not perfectly round sphinc-ter /ˈsfɪŋktə/ noun, pl -ters [count] medical : a ring-shaped muscle that surrounds a body opening and that can tighten to close the opening sphinx or Sphinx /ˈsfɪŋks/ noun, pl sphinx-es or Sphinx-es [count] in ancient Greek and Egyptian stories : a creature with the body of a lion and the head of a person • a statue of the Sphinx; also : something (such as a statue) in the shape of a sphinx • the (Great) Sphinx of Giza spic also spick /ˈspɪk/ noun, pl spics also spicks [count] US, informal + offensive : a person who is a native Spanish-speaker or whose family is from a Spanish-speaking country ✧ The word spic is very offensive. Do not use this word.

spic-and-span or spick-and-span (chiefly US) also chiefly Brit spick and span or spic and span /ˈspɪk-ənˈspæn/ adj : very clean and neat • He keeps the house spic-and-span.

¹spice /ˈspaɪs/ noun, pl spice-es

1 : a substance (such as pepper or nutmeg) that is used in cooking to add flavor to food and that comes from a dried plant and is usually a powder or seed [count] herbs and spices [noncount] The soup needs a little more spice. — often used before another noun • a spice mix/blend • a spice cake • a spice rack [=a shelf, cabinet, etc., used to hold small containers of spices]

2 [noncount] : something that adds interest or excitement • The elaborate costumes added a little spice [=interest] to the performance. • Variety is the spice of life. [=variety makes life more interesting]

²spice verb spices; spiced; spicing [+ obj]

1 not used in progressive tenses : to flavor (food) with spices • I spiced the chicken with ginger. • a highly/heavily/lightly/mildly spiced dish

2 : to add interest or excitement to (something) — usually + up • They looked for advice on how to spice up their living room. • We need to spice up our relationship. • We tried to spice things up by putting on some lively music.

spicy /ˈspaɪsi/ adj spic-i-er; -est

1 of food : flavored with or containing strong spices and especially ones that cause a burning feeling in your mouth • This salsa is too spicy [=hot] for me.

2 : exciting and somewhat shocking • a spicy sex scandal • a spicy story/tale

— spic-i-ness /ˈspaɪsɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

spi-der /ˈspaɪdə/ noun, pl -ders [count] : a small creature that has eight legs and usually creates a web of sticky threads in which it catches insects for food • We watched the spider spin its web. — see color picture on page C10

spider monkey noun, pl ~ -keys [count] : a monkey of Central and South America that has long, thin arms and legs and a very long tail spider plant noun, pl ~ plants [count] : a plant that is often grown in people's houses and that has long narrow leaves and stems which produce smaller plants at the end

spi-der web /ˈspaɪdəˌweb/ noun, pl ~ webs [count] US : a network of sticky threads made by a spider and used as a resting place and a trap for food — called also spider's web, web; see color picture on page C10; compare COBWEB

spi-dery /ˈspaɪdəri/ adj : long and thin like the legs of a spider • spidery arms and legs • spidery handwriting [=writing that is long, uneven, and often difficult to read]

spiel /ˈspi:l/ noun, pl spiels [count] informal : a fast speech that someone has often said before and that is usually intended to persuade people to buy something, agree to something, etc. • I listened to the salesman's spiel but still refused to buy anything. • He gave me a long spiel about the benefits of joining the club.

spiff /ˈspɪf/ verb spiffs; spiffed; spiff-ing

spiff up [phrasal verb] spiff (someone or something) up or spiff up (someone or something) US, informal : to make (someone or something) neater or more attractive • She wants to spiff up her wardrobe. • A fresh coat of paint would really spiff the place up. • The company is trying to spiff up [=improve] its image.

spiffy /ˈspɪfi/ adj spiff-i-er; -est chiefly US, informal : neat, stylish, and attractive • a spiffy new uniform • She looked very spiffy in her new dress.

spig-ot /ˈspɪɡət/ noun, pl -ots [count]

1 : a device that controls the flow of liquid from a large container • the spigot on a beer keg — called also tap

2 US : FAUCET; especially : an outdoor faucet • Hook the hose up to the spigot behind the house.

¹spike /ˈspaɪk/ noun, pl spikes

1 [count] : a long, thin rod that ends in a point and is often made of metal • There are spikes on top of the fence. • The climbers drove metal spikes into the ice. • a railroad spike [=a large nail used to attach rails to railroad ties]

2 [count] : a sudden, rapid increase in something • There's been a spike in traffic since the new grocery store opened. • a price spike

3 a [count] : a metal point attached to the bottom of shoes worn by athletes in some sports — usually plural • I need to replace the spikes on my golf shoes. b spikes [plural] : shoes with metal points attached to the bottom • Baseball players usually wear spikes. • a pair of spikes c spikes [plural] : women's shoes with high, thin heels • She wore (a pair of) spikes. [=spike heels]

4 [count] : a long, narrow group of flowers that grow on one stem • a spike of flowers = a flower spike

²spike verb spikes; spiked; spiking

1 [+ obj] a : to add alcohol or drugs to (food or drink) • Someone spiked the punch at the party. — often + with • They spiked the punch with tequila. • The brownies were spiked with marijuana. b : to add something that gives flavor or interest to (something) — usually + with • She spiked the sauce with vinegar. • Her writing is spiked with sarcasm.

2 [no obj] chiefly US : to increase greatly in a short period of time • The medication caused his blood pressure to spike. • Oil and gas prices have spiked (upward) again.

3 [+ obj] sports a : to hit (a volleyball) sharply downward towards the ground • She spiked the ball and scored the winning point. b US : to throw (a ball) sharply downward • After he scored a touchdown he spiked the ball in the end zone.

4 [+ obj] : to form (something, such as hair) into spikes or points • She spikes her hair.

5 [+ obj] : to pierce or cut (someone or something) with a sharp point or spike • The second baseman was spiked by the runner. [=injured by the spikes on the runner's shoes]

6 [+ obj] : to prevent (something, such as a story or rumor) from being published or becoming known by many people • The newspaper's editors spiked the article.

spike someone's guns Brit : to ruin an opponent's plans spiked /ˈspaɪkt/ adj : having sharp points : formed into points • spiked [=spiky] hair • a lizard with a spiked tail spike heel noun, pl ~ heels chiefly US

1 [count] : a very tall and thin heel on women's shoes — called also spiked heel

2 spike heels [plural] : shoes with tall, thin heels • She wore (a pair of) spike heels. [=spikes] spiky /ˈspaɪki/ adj spik-i-er; -est

1 : having sharp points : formed into points • He has short, spiky [=spiked] hair. • a plant with spiky leaves

2 Brit, informal : tending to become angry or annoyed easily • He has a spiky personality.

¹spill /ˈspɪl/ verb spills; chiefly US spilled /ˈspɪld/ or chiefly Brit spilt /ˈspɪlt/; spill-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to cause or allow (something) to fall, flow, or run over the edge of a container usually in an accidental way • I accidentally spilled coffee all over my new suit. • Clean up the flour you spilled on the floor. • a puddle of spilled water • She opened her purse and spilled its contents (out) onto the table. • The bag ripped open and spilled (out) its contents all over the floor. — sometimes used figuratively • He spilled his thoughts out to her. [=he told her his thoughts in a very free and open way] b [no obj] : to fall or flow over the edge of a container • Milk spilled (out) onto the table. • Water spilled over the dam. • The bag ripped open and the flour spilled (out) onto the floor. — sometimes used figuratively • Her hair spilled down her back. • All his thoughts suddenly came spilling out [=he suddenly began to express all his thoughts]

2 [no obj] : to move or spread out into a wider place or area • After the movie the crowd spilled (out) into/onto the street. • She opened the door and light spilled into the room.

3 [+ obj] US, informal : to tell (a secret) to someone • an interviewer who gets celebrities to spill their secrets • Come on, spill it. Who gave you the money?

cry over spilled/spilt milk see ¹CRY

spill blood see BLOOD

spill over [phrasal verb] 1 : to be completely covered or filled with something : to be overflowing with something • The platter was spilling over with grapes and melon slices and cheeses. • They were spilling over with happiness. [=they were very happy]

2 : to spread and begin to affect other people, areas, etc. • The stress at work began to spill over into other aspects of his life. — see also SPILLOVER spill the beans see BEAN

spill your guts see ¹GUT

²spill noun, pl spills [count]

1 : an accident in which liquid is spilled or an amount of liquid that is spilled • Please clean up the spill on the kitchen floor. • The coastline was seriously damaged by an oil spill.

2 : an accidental act of falling • She was injured in a spill the last time she went riding. • He took a spill [=he fell] while skiing and broke his leg.

spill-age /'spɪlɪdʒ/ noun, pl -ages formal : an occurrence in which something is spilled accidentally [noncount] The design of this travel mug helps prevent/reduce/avoid spill-age. [count] an oil spillage • small leaks and spillages

spill-over /'spɪl,ovə/ noun, pl -overs : something that flows out of or spreads beyond a container, space, area, etc. [count] Put a pan under the pie to catch any spillovers. • We have benefited from a spillover of prosperity from neighboring states. [=the prosperity of neighboring states has spread to our state] [noncount] Nearby stores were getting some spillover from the festival. [=some people who went to the festival also visited the stores] • New technology has a positive spillover effect into countless fields. — see also spill over at ¹SPILL

¹spin /'spɪn/ verb spins; spun /'spʌn/; spin-ning

1 : to turn or cause someone or something to turn around repeatedly [no obj] The Earth spins [=rotates] on its axis once a day. • The car hit a patch of ice and spun into the wall. • a spinning propeller • He spun around [=turned around quickly] and looked at me in surprise. [+ obj] The children were spinning a top. • He grabbed her and spun her around. [=he grabbed her and turned her around quickly]

2 [no obj] : to seem to be moving around in a way that makes you feel dizzy or sick • I tried to stand up but the room was spinning. • After the night of drinking, my head was spinning. [=I was dizzy] • All of that information made my head spin. [=made me feel confused or dizzy]

3 : to draw out and twist fibers of cotton, wool, silk, etc., into yarn or thread [+ obj] She spun the silk into thread. • They spun the wool into yarn. [no obj] tools used for spinning — see also SPINNING WHEEL

4 [+ obj] of insects : to form (something) by producing a fluid that quickly hardens into a thread • a spider spinning its web • worms spinning silk

5 [+ obj] : to tell (a story, especially a story that you create by using your imagination) • He was spinning yarns [=telling stories] about his adventures in the navy. • She spun a tale [=made up a story] about her car breaking down to explain why she was late.

6 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move very quickly on wheels or in a vehicle • The motorcycles spun [=sped] along the country road.

7 [+ obj] : to describe (something, such as an event) in a certain way in order to influence what people think about it • Both parties tried to spin the debate as a victory for their candidate. • He accused the companies of spinning the results of their studies to their own benefit.

8 [+ obj] chiefly US, informal : to play recorded music at a party or nightclub • We hired my favorite DJ to spin records/tunes/discs at the party.

spinning in his/her grave see ¹GRAVE

spin off [phrasal verb] spin off or spin (something) off or spin off (something) : to create something new (such as a new television show or company) by basing it on or taking it from something that already exists • The show was so popular that it spun off a new series. [=a new series was created based on the show] • The cartoon has spun off dolls and other merchandise. • They spun off their specialty foods line into a separate company. • The auto parts manufacturer spun off from another company. — see also SPIN-OFF

spin on your heel see ¹HEEL

spin out [phrasal verb] 1 US, of a vehicle : to slide and turn around quickly in an uncontrolled way • The truck spun out on a patch of ice. • He took a sharp corner too fast and spun out. 2 spin (something) out or spin out (something) chiefly Brit : to make (something) last for a very long time • They're deliberately trying to spin out the debate. 3 spin out of control a : to move in a way that is not controlled • The rocket spun out of control and crashed. b : to keep getting worse in a way that is hard to stop or fix • Her drinking problem is spinning out of control.

spin your wheels US, informal : to stay in the same condition or position without making progress • I need to look for a new job. I feel like I'm just spinning my wheels here.

²spin noun, pl spins

1 a : the act of turning around and around : an act of spinning [noncount] the direction of the Earth's spin [count] The ice-skater executed graceful jumps and spins. b : a rapid turning motion given to a ball by someone who throws or hits it [noncount] A baseball thrown with spin is harder to hit. • She put spin on the ball/shot. [count] The bowler put a sideways spin on the ball. — see also BACKSPIN, TOPSPIN

2 : a certain way of describing or talking about something that is meant to influence other people's opinion of it [singular] Each author puts a new/different spin on the story. • a positive/favorable spin [noncount] They claim to report the news with no spin. — see also SPIN CONTROL, SPIN DOCTOR

3 [count] informal : a short trip in a vehicle • He took me for a spin in his new car. • Would you like to go for a spin?

4 [count] : a condition in which an airplane is falling rapidly while turning around and around • The plane went into a spin. [=tailspin] — sometimes used figuratively • The news of her death sent him into a spin. [=caused him to become very unhappy, to lose control of his life, etc.]

5 [singular] : a state of being mentally confused or anxious • Her head was all in a spin. [=her head was spinning; she was very confused]

spi-na bi-fi-da /,spainə'bɪfɪdə/ noun [noncount] medical : a condition in which a person's spine does not develop completely before birth and does not completely cover the spinal cord spin-ach /'spɪnɪʃ/ noun [noncount] : a plant with dark green leaves that are eaten as a vegetable — see color picture on page C4

spi-nal /'spain/ adj : of, relating to, or affecting the spine • a spinal injury

spinal column noun, pl ~ -umns [count] technical : BACKBONE — see picture at HUMAN spinal cord noun, pl ~ cords [count] : the large group of nerves which runs through the center of the spine and carries messages between the brain and the rest of the body spinal tap noun, pl ~ taps [count] medical : a procedure in which a needle is inserted into the spinal cord in order to take out fluid or inject medicine spin bowler noun, pl ~ -ers [count] cricket : SPINNER 3 spin control noun [noncount] : the activity of trying to control the way something (such as an important event) is described to the public in order to influence what people think about it • political spin control • When the defective part was recalled, the company had to do some clever spin control.

spin-dle /'spɪndl/ noun, pl spin-dles [count]

1 a : a thin rod or stick with pointed ends that is used in making yarn b : the long, thin pin on a spinning wheel that is used to make thread

2 : something shaped like a long, thin rod; especially : a long, thin part of a machine which turns around something or around which something turns spin-dly /'spɪndli/ adj spin-dli-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : long and thin and usually weak • spindly legs spin doctor noun, pl ~ -tors [count] informal : a person (such as a political aide) whose job involves trying to control the way something (such as an important event) is described to the public in order to influence what people think about it • The spin doctors from both sides were already declaring victory for their candidates as soon as the debate ended. — called also spinner

spin-dryer also spin-drier noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly Brit : a machine that partly dries washed clothes by spinning them very fast — spin-dry verb -dries; -dried; -dry-ing [+ obj] • The clothes were washed and spin-dried.

spine /ˈspaɪn/ noun, pl spines

1 [count] : the row of connected bones down the middle of the back : BACKBONE • This X-ray shows her spine. — see picture at HUMAN

2 [count] : a sharp, pointed part on an animal or plant • Hedgehogs are covered with spines. • cactus spines

3 [noncount] informal : courage or strength of character • They lack the spine to do what needs to be done.

4 [count] : the part of a book to which the pages are attached • Stack the books so that all the spines are facing the same way. ✧ A book's spine often has the title and author's name printed on it.

up/down your spine ✧ If something sends a chill/shiver up/down your spine or if a chill/shiver runs up/down your spine, you become frightened, thrilled, etc. • Her performance of the national anthem sent a chill up my spine. [=her performance was thrilling and emotional] • The very thought of what those people did sends a shiver down my spine. [=scares me] • A (cold) shiver ran down my spine when I heard his voice.

spine-chill-ing /ˈspaɪn,tʃɪlɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very exciting, thrilling, or frightening : SPINE-TINGLING • a spine-chilling scream • spine-chilling musical moments spine-less /ˈspaɪnləs/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] disapproving : lacking courage or strength • a spineless coward • spineless displays of cowardice
2 : having no spine or spines • Jellyfish are spineless. • a spineless cactus — spine-less-ness noun [noncount]

spin-et /ˈspɪnət/ noun, pl -ets [count]

1 US a : a small piano b : a small electric organ
2 : a small harpsichord

spine-tingling adj [more ~; most ~] : very exciting, thrilling, or frightening • spine-tingling suspense • a spine-tingling performance spin-na-ker /ˈspɪnɪkər/ noun, pl -kers [count] : a large triangular sail on a boat that is used when the wind is blowing from behind spin-ner /ˈspɪnər/ noun, pl -ners [count]

1 : someone or something that spins yarn or thread
2 : a small device that spins and that is used by fishermen to attract fish
3 cricket : a bowler who throws the ball so that it spins — called also spin bowler
4 : SPIN DOCTOR

spin-ney /ˈspɪni/ noun, pl -neys [count] Brit : a small group of trees spinning wheel noun, pl ~ wheels [count] : a machine that was used in the past for making yarn or thread spin-off /ˈspɪn,ɑːf/ noun, pl -offs [count]

1 : a television program, movie, book, etc., that is based on characters from another television program, movie, book, etc. • a spin-off of a hit TV show • The comic book is a spin-off of the movie.

2 : a new company created by a large company • companies that are spin-offs of large corporations

3 : something useful that results from work done to produce something else • spin-offs [=by-products] of space research — see also spin off at ¹SPIN spin-ster /ˈspɪnstər/ noun, pl -sters [count] old-fashioned + often disapproving : an unmarried woman who is past the usual age for marrying and is considered unlikely to marry — now often considered an insulting word • She was afraid of becoming a spinster. • my spinster aunts

— spin-ster-hood /ˈspɪnstər,hud/ noun [noncount]

spiny /ˈspaɪni/ adj spin-i-er; -est : having or covered with many sharp, pointed parts • a spiny fish • spiny underbrush/fish

¹spi-ral /ˈspɑɪrəl/ noun, pl -rals [count]

1 : a circular curving line that goes around a central point while getting closer to or farther away from it • The glider flew in a wide spiral over the field.

2 : a situation in which something continuously increases, decreases, or gets worse — usually singular • an inflationary spiral [=a continuous increase in prices] • a spiral of problems • Gas prices continued their dizzying upward spiral. [=gas prices got higher] • His drug use drove him into a downward spiral. [=his condition became worse and worse]

3 American football : a kick or throw in which the ball spins while moving through the air • The quarterback threw a tight spiral to the receiver.

²spiral verb -rals; US -raled or Brit -ralled; US -ral-ing or Brit -ral-ling [no obj]

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move in a circle around a central point while getting closer to or farther away from it : to move in a spiral • Smoke spiraled up from the chimney. • Vultures spiraled [=circled] overhead. • The airplane spiraled to the ground and crashed.

2 : to greatly increase, decrease, or get worse in a continuous and usually fast and uncontrolled way • The unemployment rate has been spiraling upward. • The stock market is spiraling downward. • spiraling [=rapidly increasing] costs • Let's deal with this crisis before it spirals out of control.

³spiral adj, always used before a noun : winding or circling around a central point and usually getting closer to or farther away from it : shaped or moving like a spiral • a spiral seashell • a spiral driveway

spi-ral-bound /ˈspɑɪrəl,baʊnd/ adj, of a book : having pages held together along one edge by a continuous piece of wire or plastic that passes through holes in the pages • a spiral-bound notebook spiral staircase noun, pl ~ -cases [count] : a set of stairs that winds around a central post or column spire /ˈspɑɪər/ noun, pl spires [count] : a tall, narrow, pointed structure on the top of a building • church spires

— spired /ˈspɑɪəd/ adj • a twin-spired cathedral

¹spir-it /ˈspɪrət/ noun, pl -its

1 a : the force within a person that is believed to give the body life, energy, and power [count] the spirits of my ancestors • Some religions believe that the same spirit is reincarnated many times in different bodies. [noncount] Yoga is very healthy for both body and spirit. • I'm sorry I can't make it to your wedding, but I'll be there in spirit. [=I will be thinking about you] b [count] : the inner quality or nature of a person • He still has a curious and youthful spirit. [=he is still a curious and youthful person] • We will all miss her generous spirit.

2 [count] : a person • My father was a proud spirit. • They are kindred spirits. [=people with similar interests or concerns] — see also FREE SPIRIT

3 a [count] : GHOST • evil spirits b the Spirit : HOLY SPIRIT

4 a : a desire or determination to do something [count] His many disappointments never broke his spirit. [=never took away his desire to succeed] • He has a strong fighting spirit. [noncount] She's a good athlete with a lot of skill and spirit. b [noncount] : enthusiastic loyalty • The students showed their school spirit by having a rally to support the football team.

5 [singular] a : the attitude or feeling that a person has about a particular job, activity, etc. • He didn't approach the work in/with the right spirit. b : a shared attitude or feeling that relates to a particular time, place, activity, etc. — often + of • the spirit of the times • a new spirit of cooperation • the spirit of competition • We all got/entered into the spirit of the holidays. • You'd have more fun if you'd just relax and get into the spirit of things.

6 spirits [plural] : feelings of happiness or unhappiness • Spirits were low [=people were unhappy] after our team lost again. • We need to do something to lift your spirits. [=to make you feel better/happier] • It's hard work, but try to keep your spirits up. [=keep a happy and positive attitude] • We were all in high spirits [=happy, cheerful] after the game. • She was in low spirits. [=she was unhappy] • He's still in the hospital, but he's in good spirits. [=happy and positive] — see also HIGH-SPIRITED, LOW-SPIRITED

7 [noncount] : the real meaning or intention of something (such as a law) • They seem to be more concerned with obeying the letter of the law than with understanding the spirit of the law. [=what was intended by the law when it was written] as/when the spirit moves you : when you feel like it : when the time is right • I'll write when the spirit moves me.

8 spirits [plural] : strong alcoholic drinks : LIQUOR • The store sells wines and spirits.

moving spirit see MOVING that's the spirit informal — used to express approval of someone's attitude • "I know I can do it if I keep trying."

"Yeah, that's the spirit!" [=that's the right attitude to have] the spirit is willing but the flesh is weak — used to say that you want to do something but you cannot because you do not have the strength or energy; often used humorously • I try to get up early and exercise, though sometimes the spirit is willing but the flesh is weak.

— see also SURGICAL SPIRIT, WHITE SPIRIT

²spirit verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition -its; -it-ed; -it-ing [+ obj] : to carry (someone or something) away secretly • The singer was spirited away in a limousine after the show. • Some of the funds had been spirited away to other accounts.

spir-it-ed /ˈspɪrətəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : full of courage or energy : very lively or determined • We had a spirited [=lively] discussion. • The team put up a spirited defense. • She's a very spirited young lady. — see also HIGH-SPIRITED, LOW-SPIRITED, MEAN-SPIRITED, PUBLIC-SPIRITED

— spir-it-ed-ly adv

spir-it-less /ˈspɪrətləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : lacking courage, energy, or cheerfulness • a spiritless performance spirit level noun, pl ~ -vels [count] chiefly Brit : ¹LEVEL 5

¹spir-i-tu-al /ˈspɪrɪtʃwəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : of or relating to a person's spirit • Doctors must consider the emotional and spiritual needs of their patients. • I'm working on my spiritual growth/development. [=the growth of my mind and spirit]

2 : of or relating to religion or religious beliefs • I regularly consult our pastor about spiritual matters. • an influential spiritual leader

3 : having similar values and ideas : related or joined in spirit • The Romantic composers saw Beethoven as a spiritual ancestor. • France will always be the spiritual home of wine lovers.

— spir-i-tu-al-ly adv • She was physically and spiritually exhausted. • a spiritually uplifting performance

²spiritual noun, pl -als [count] : a religious folk song that was sung originally by African-Americans in the southern U.S. • The congregation sang hymns and spirituals.

spir-i-tu-al-ism /ˈspɪrɪtʃwəlɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : a belief that the spirits of dead people can communicate with living people

— spir-i-tu-al-ist /ˈspɪrɪtʃwəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]

spir-i-tu-al-i-ty /ˈspɪrɪtʃwəˈlɪti/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of being concerned with religion or religious matters : the quality or state of being spiritual • a man of deep spirituality [=a very religious man] • We studied Eastern traditions of spirituality.

¹spit /ˈspɪt/ verb spits; spat /ˈspæt/ or chiefly US spit; spit-ting

1 a [no obj] : to force saliva from your mouth • She saw him spit on the sidewalk. • I scolded the child for spitting at another student. • He spit/spat in my face. b [+ obj] : to force (something, such as food or liquid) from your mouth — often + out • He took a taste of the soup and quickly spat/spit it out. • She spit out her gum before class. — sometimes used figuratively • Our manager was spitting blood/venom [=was extremely angry] when he found out what had happened. • I'm so angry, I could spit nails!

2 [+ obj] : to say (something) in a quick and angry way • She spat a few nasty remarks at him as he left. • "You make me sick!" he spat.

3 [no obj] : to throw off or send out something (such as sparks or drops of fat) especially while burning or cooking • The meat was spitting in the pan. • The wet wood hissed and spat in the fireplace.

4 informal : to rain or snow lightly [no obj] Take your umbrella, it's spitting. • a cold, spitting rain [+ obj] The sky briefly spat rain.

spit it out informal — used to tell someone to say something that he or she does not want to say or is having a hard time saying. • "Come on, spit it out! What happened?"

spit up [phrasal verb] spit up or spit (something) up or spit up (something) US, informal, of babies : to vomit or throw up a usually small amount of food or liquid • The baby spit up all over my blouse. • The baby spat up his breakfast.

²spit noun [noncount]

1 : the liquid produced in your mouth : SALIVA • I wiped the spit [=drool, spittle] off the baby's chin.

2 : someone who looks very much like someone else : SPITTING IMAGE • She's the spit and image of her mother. = (Brit) She's the (dead) spit of her mother.

spit and vinegar US, informal : strength and energy • She's 80 years old but still full of spit and vinegar.

— compare ³SPIT

³spit noun, pl spits [count]

1 : a thin pointed rod or stick that is used for holding meat over a fire to cook it

2 : a narrow piece of land that goes out into a body of water • a narrow spit of land

— compare ²SPIT

spit and polish noun [noncount] informal : careful attention to making something clean and polished • All the car needs is some spit and polish.

spit-ball /ˈspɪt,bɔ:l/ noun, pl -balls [count] US

1 : a small piece of paper that is chewed and rolled into a ball so that it can be thrown or shot at someone • The kids were shooting spitballs at each other.

2 baseball : an illegal pitch in which the ball is made wet with saliva or sweat

¹spite /ˈspɪt/ noun [noncount] : a desire to harm, anger, or defeat another person especially because you feel that you have been treated wrongly in some way • He is jealous and full of spite. • an act of spite • You only denied his request out of (pure) spite.

in spite of : without being prevented by (something) : DESPITE — used to say that something happens or is true even though there is something that might prevent it from happening or being true • He failed the test in spite of all his studying. • She went ahead in spite of the snow. • They made it on time in spite of the fact that they got a flat tire.

in spite of yourself : even though you do not want to or expect to • I ended up having a good time in spite of myself.

²spite verb spites; spit-ed; spit-ing [+ obj] : to deliberately annoy, upset, or hurt (someone) • He only did it to spite me. cut off your nose to spite your face see ¹NOSE spite-ful /ˈspɪtʃfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing a desire to harm, anger, or defeat someone : having or showing spite • She's just being spiteful. • a spiteful remark

— spite-ful-ly adv • She spitefully refused my request — spite-ful-ness noun [noncount] spitting distance noun [noncount] informal : a short distance • Our house is within spitting distance of the park.

spitting image noun, pl ~ -ages [count] : someone who looks very much like someone else — usually singular • She is the spitting image of her mother.

spit-tle /ˈspɪtl/ noun [noncount] : the liquid produced in your mouth : saliva or spit • Spittle sprayed from his lips as he shouted at them.

spit-toon /ˈspɪtu:n/ noun, pl -toons [count] : a container that people spit into ♦ Spittoons were common in the past but are now rare. — called also (chiefly US) cuspidor spit-up noun [noncount] US, informal : a small amount of vomit from a baby • She wiped the spit-up off the baby's chin.

spiv /ˈspɪv/ noun, pl spivs [count] Brit slang, old-fashioned : a man who makes money dishonestly • a smooth-talking spiv

¹splash /ˈsplæʃ/ verb splash-es; splashed; splash-ing
1 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] of a liquid : to move, fall, or hit something in a noisy or messy way • Water/Mud splashed everywhere. • He dropped the bottle and bleach splashed onto the floor. • We could hear the waves splashing against the side of the boat.

2 [+ obj] a : to cause (water or another liquid) to move in a noisy way or messy way • The baby splashed the water. • Don't splash water at your brother. • I accidentally splashed some water on the floor. • She splashed cold water on her face. b : to make (someone or something) wet with large drops of water or another liquid • Don't splash your brother. • We were splashed by a passing car. • She splashed her face with cold water.

3 [no obj] : to move through water in a noisy and messy way • The kids love splashing (around) in the pool. • The dog was splashing through the waves.

4 [+ obj] : to mark (something) with patches of color or light • The sunset splashed the sky with red. — often used as (be) splashed with • The canvas was splashed with bold colors.

splash across/over [phrasal verb] splash (something) across/over (something) : to put (something, such as a photograph or news headline) in a place or position where it will be easily seen by many people • The scandal was splashed across the front page. • Her picture was splashed (all) over the news.

splash down [phrasal verb] of a spacecraft : to land in the ocean • The space capsule splashed down in the Gulf of Mexico. — see also SPLASHDOWN splash out [phrasal verb] splash out or splash out (something) or splash (something) out Brit, informal : to spend a lot of money • If you really want to splash out [=splurge], let's go to dinner and a show in town. • We can't afford to splash out that much money for luxuries.

²splash noun, pl splash-es

1 [count] a : the sound made when someone or something hits liquid or when liquid hits something — usually singular • He listened to the gentle splash of the waves against the boat. • We heard a splash from the pool. • The bird dived into the pond with a splash. b : the movement of liquid when something hits it — usually singular • There was barely a splash when the diver hit the water. • I was hit by the splash when a truck drove through the puddle.

2 [count] : a mark or spot made when a liquid is splashed on something — often + of • You've got splashes of mud on your pants.

3 [count] : a small area of bright color or light — + of • a splash of color • splashes of light on the floor

4 [singular] informal : a small amount of liquid added to a drink — usually + of • coffee with just a splash of cream make a splash informal : to attract a lot of attention in an exciting way • The young director is making (quite) a splash in Hollywood. • The news of her arrest made a huge splash.

splash-down /ˈsplæʃdaʊn/ noun, pl -downs [count, non-count] : the landing of a spacecraft in the ocean — see also splash down at SPLASH

splash guard noun, pl ~ guards [count] US : MUD FLAP

splashy /ˈsplæʃi/ adj splash-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : having a bright or exciting quality that attracts attention or is meant to attract attention • bright splashy colors • big, splashy movie musicals • a splashy ad splat /ˈsplæt/ noun, pl splats [singular] informal : the sound made when something wet hits a surface • The water balloon hit the ground and broke with a splat.

— splat verb splats; splat-ted; splat-ting [no obj] informal • A bug splatted on the windshield.

¹splat-ter /ˈsplætər/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing

1 [no obj] a of a liquid : to move, fall, or hit something in large drops • Mud splattered everywhere when the wet dog shook himself. • Rain splattered against the windows. b of something that contains liquid : to hit something and break apart • A big bug splattered against the windshield of the car. • The egg splattered on the floor.

2 [+ obj] a : to cause (a liquid) to move or fall in large drops • You're splattering paint everywhere. b : to make (something) wet or dirty with large drops of liquid • The paint splattered my clothes. — often used as (be) splattered with • My clothes were splattered with paint.

²splatter noun, pl -ters : a mark or spot made by a large drop of liquid [count] I had paint splatters on my jeans. • There were mud splatters all over the carpet. [noncount] Blood splatter was found at the crime scene.

splay /ˈspleɪ/ verb splays; splayed; splay-ing : to move (things, especially your legs, fingers, etc.) out and apart from each other [+ obj] He sat with his legs splayed apart. • Her son was splayed out [=spread out, stretched out] on the couch watching TV. • She splayed her fingers to show off her manicure. [no obj] His fingers splayed out over the table as he steadied himself.

spleen /ˈspliːn/ noun, pl spleens

1 [count] : an organ located near your stomach that destroys worn-out red blood cells and produces white blood cells • a ruptured spleen — see picture at HUMAN

2 [noncount] literary : feelings of anger • I listened patiently while she vented her spleen. [=while she expressed her angry feelings] splen-did /ˈsplendəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very impressive and beautiful • The balcony gave us a splendid [=magnificent] view of the river.

2 somewhat old-fashioned : very good : EXCELLENT • We have a splendid opportunity to do something really useful. • I have some splendid news. • "We'll be coming out to visit over the summer." "Oh, splendid!"

— splen-did-ly adv • She performed splendidly.

splen-dor (US) or Brit splen-dour /ˈsplendər/ noun, pl -dors

1 [noncount] : great and impressive beauty • The palace had lost much of its original splendor. • the splendor of nature

2 US splendors or Brit splendours [plural] : things that are very beautiful or impressive • architectural splendors — often + of • the splendors of the countryside

sple-net-ic /splɪˈnetɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly Brit, formal : very angry and annoyed • splenetic political commentators • a splenetic rant

¹splice /ˈsplaɪs/ verb splic-es; spliced; splic-ing [+ obj]

1 : to join ropes, wires, etc., by weaving or twisting them together

2 : to join (pieces of film, magnetic tape, etc.) by connecting their ends together get spliced Brit, informal : to get married • So, when are you two getting spliced?

— splic-er /ˈsplaɪsər/ noun, pl -ers [count]

²splice noun, pl splic-es [count]

: the place where two things (such as two pieces of rope or film) have been joined by being spliced together

splice

spliff /ˈsplɪf/ noun, pl spliffs [count] Brit slang : a marijuana cigarette : JOINT splint /ˈsplɪnt/ noun, pl splints [count] : a piece of wood, metal, plastic, etc., that is used to hold a broken bone in the correct position while it heals • His leg was in a splint. • a wrist splint

splint

¹splin-ter /ˈsplɪntər/ noun, pl -ters [count]

: a thin, sharp piece of something (such as wood, glass, etc.) that has broken off a larger piece : SLIVER • I got a splinter in my finger. • There were splinters of glass everywhere.

— splin-tery /ˈsplɪntəri/ adj [more ~; most ~] • planks of splintery wood

²splinter verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing

1 : to break (something) into small pieces or splinters [no obj] The board splintered under his weight. [+ obj] The impact of the crash splintered the glass.

2 : to divide or split a group of people into smaller groups [no obj] groups that have splintered off to form new political movements [+ obj] a political party that has been splintered by disagreements

— splintered adj • a splintered tree stump splinter group noun, pl ~ groups [count] : a group of people that has separated from a larger group (such as a political party)

¹split /ˈsplɪt/ verb splits; split; split-ting

1 : to break apart or into pieces especially along a straight line [no obj] The board split in two. • The floorboards are starting to warp and split (up). • The hull of the ship split apart on the rocks. • A large chunk of ice split off/away from the iceberg and crashed into the water. [+ obj] split (up) a log • She split the muffin and gave me half.

2 a : to separate or divide into parts or groups [no obj] The class split into several small groups. • Two of the band members split off to form their own band. — often + up • Let's split up and look for the lost dog. [+ obj] The teacher split the class into groups. • The river splits the town in two. — often + up • Families were often split up during the war. b : to separate or divide into groups that disagree [no obj] The party is split over/on the issue of taxes. • The church split into moderate and conservative factions. [+ obj] The budget issue has split (up) the town. • Opinion is split on the wording of the new law.

3 [+ obj] : to divide (something, such as money or food) among two or more people or things • We should split [=share] the costs. • Why don't we just split a pizza for dinner? • She splits her time between Boston and New York. [=she spends time in both Boston and New York] • The prize money should be split (up) evenly.

4 : to cut, rip, or tear (something) especially along a straight line [+ obj] I split my lip when I fell. • He bent over and split the seat of his pants. [no obj] His pants split when he bent over.

5 informal : to end or cause the end of a relationship [no obj] My parents split when I was little. — usually + up • The band split up just after they released their new album. [+ obj] — + up • Creative differences eventually split up the band.

6 [no obj] informal + somewhat old-fashioned : to leave quickly • “Let’s split!” [=let’s get out of here]

split hairs see HAIR

split on [phrasal verb] split on (someone) Brit, informal : to give information about the secret or criminal activity of (someone) to the police • He would never split on [= (US) inform on] his chums.

split the difference : to agree to an amount that is halfway between two given amounts • He thought I should pay $40 and I thought I should pay $30, so we decided to split the difference at $35.

split the ticket US : to vote for candidates from more than one political party — see also SPLIT TICKET split your sides (laughing) informal : to laugh very hard • The movie was hilarious. I (almost) split my sides laughing.

²split noun, pl splits

1 [count] : a narrow break, tear, or crack • There’s a split down the back of your jacket.

2 [count] : a division or separation in a group that is caused by a disagreement • The new policy has caused a split in the organization. • a split between liberals and conservatives

3 [count] : a clear separation or difference between two or more things • a wide split of opinions

4 [singular] a : a part of something that has been divided • Here’s your split [=portion, share] of the proceeds. b : the act of dividing something among two or more people or things • We agreed to a fifty-fifty split of the profit. [=we agreed to divide the profits equally]

5 [count] : a position in which you are sitting on the floor with your legs extended in a straight line and in opposite directions • The ballerina did a split. = The ballerina did the splits.

— see also BANANA SPLIT

split ends noun [plural] : hairs that have become dry or damaged and have split apart at the end • She has split ends. • You should trim off your split ends.

split-fingered fastball noun, pl ~ -balls [count] baseball : a fast pitch that drops quickly as it nears the batter — called also split-finger, splitter split infinitive noun, pl ~ -tives [count] grammar : an English phrase in which an adverb or other word is placed between to and a verb • “To really start” is an example of a split infinitive. ♦ Some people feel that the use of split infinitives should be avoided, but they are common in both speech and writing.

split-level /ˈsplɪtˈleɪvəl/ adj : divided so that the floor in one part is about halfway between two floors in the other part • a split-level house

— split-level /ˈsplɪtˈleɪvəl/ noun, pl -levels [count] US • They bought a nice split-level in a quiet neighborhood.

split pea noun, pl ~ peas [count] : a dried pea that has had the outer skin removed and that is split into two parts • split pea soup split personality noun, pl ~ -ties [count] : a condition in which a person behaves in two very different ways at different times — sometimes used figuratively • a city with a split personality split second noun [singular] : a very short period of time • In a split second, it was all over.

split-second adj, always used before a noun

1 : done very quickly • a split-second decision

2 : very accurate or precise • split-second timing

split-ter /ˈsplɪtər/ noun, pl -ters [count]

1 : a device that divides or splits something (such as wood or electronic signals) • a log splitter • a three-way phone line splitter

2 baseball : SPLIT-FINGERED FASTBALL

split ticket noun, pl ~ -ets [count] US : a ballot on which a voter votes for candidates from more than one political party splitting headache noun, pl ~ -aches [count] : a very bad headache

splodge /ˈsplɑːdʒ/ noun, pl splodges [count] Brit, informal : SPLOTCH • a splodge of ink

splotch /ˈsplɑːtʃ/ noun, pl splotches [count] chiefly US : a large spot or mark of dirt, paint, etc. • There’s an ink splotch [= (Brit) splodge] on your shirt. • splotches of ink/rust

— splotched /ˈsplɑːtʃt/ adj • Her pants were splotched with paint. [=there were splotches of paint on her pants] — splotchy /ˈsplɑːtʃi/ adj splotch-i-er; -est • splotchy skin splurge /ˈsplɜːrʃ/ verb splurge-es; splurged; splurging [no obj] informal : to spend more money than usual on something for yourself • You should let yourself splurge once in a while. — often + on • We decided to splurge on a bottle of good wine for dinner.

— splurge noun, pl splurges [count] informal — usually singular • She went on a shopping splurge. [=spree] • This year’s big splurge [=expensive purchase] was a new car.

splut-ter /ˈsplʌtər/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing

1 [no obj] : to make a series of short, loud noises like the noises of someone who is struggling to breathe • She coughed and spluttered as she climbed out of the icy water. • The old lawn mower spluttered [=sputtered] to life. [=noisily started working]

2 : to say (something) in short, confused phrases [no obj] When I demanded an explanation, he just stood there spluttering. [+ obj] She spluttered an excuse. • “Th-that’s simply not true,” he spluttered.

— splutter noun, pl -ters [count]

¹spoil /ˈspɔɪəl/ verb spoils; spoiled or chiefly Brit spoilt /ˈspɔɪlt/; spoil-ing

1 [+ obj] : to have a bad effect on (something) : to damage or ruin (something) • The fight spoiled the party. • The camping trip was spoiled by bad weather. • Don’t let one mistake spoil your day. • He always spoils everything. • Don’t spoil your appetite by snacking too much. • Exposure to air will spoil the wine. • I spoiled the sauce by adding too much garlic.

2 [no obj] : to decay or lose freshness especially because of being kept too long • The milk/fruit was beginning to spoil. synonyms see ¹DECAY

3 [+ obj] disapproving a : to give (someone, such as a child) everything that he or she wants : to have a bad effect on (someone) by allowing too many things or by not correcting bad behavior • Her grandparents spoil her. — often used as (be) spoiled • He was spoiled by his parents. • a spoiled brat • That child is spoiled rotten. [=very spoiled] — sometimes used figuratively • We’ve been spoiled lately by/with this beautiful weather. [=we’ve had so much beautiful weather that we expect the weather always to be beautiful] • (Brit) Customers are spoiled/spoilt for choice [=customers have a lot of choices] when buying a new car. b : to treat (someone) very well • The hotel spoils their guests with fine dining and excellent service. • She always spoils me on my birthday. • You should spoil yourself with a day at the spa.

(be) spoiling for : to have a strong desire for (something, such as a fight) • They are spoiling for a fight/argument. • The team is spoiling for a rematch.

²spoil noun, pl spoils [count] formal

1 : something stolen or taken by thieves, soldiers, etc. — usually plural; usually used with the • The pirates divided the spoils among themselves. • the spoils of war

2 : something valuable or desirable that someone gets by working or trying hard — usually plural; usually used with the • We shared the spoils of victory. • the spoils of success spoil-age /ˈspɔɪlɪdʒ/ noun [noncount] technical : the process or result of decaying • food spoilage • The milk should be refrigerated to prevent spoilage.

spoiler /ˈspɔɪlər/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person or thing that spoils something: such as a : a political candidate who cannot win but who prevents another candidate from winning by taking away votes b chiefly US : a person or team that surprisingly defeats a competitor that is expected to win • They played (the role of) the spoiler and ruined our chance to play in the finals. c : information about the things that happen in a movie, book, etc., that spoils the surprise or suspense for someone who has not seen it or read it yet • The review contains a few spoilers, so don’t read it if you haven’t seen the movie.

2 a : a long narrow part on the back of an automobile that prevents it from lifting off the road at high speeds b : a part of an airplane’s wing that may be raised to control the amount of lift produced by the wing spoil-sport /ˈspɔɪəlˌspɔːrt/ noun, pl -sports [count] informal : someone who spoils other people’s fun or enjoyment • Oh, don’t be a spoilsport. Let them try it. • Dad’s a spoilsport. He won’t let us play football.

spoilt chiefly Brit spelling of ¹SPOIL

¹spoke past tense of SPEAK

²spoke noun, pl spokes [count] : one of the bars that connect the center of a wheel to the rim • The stick got caught in the wheel’s spokes. — see picture at BICYCLE

¹spo-ken /ˈspoukən/ past participle of SPEAK

²spoken adj

1 : using speech and not writing • a spoken statement • the spoken word/language

2 : speaking in a specified manner — used in combination • She is soft-spoken. • a plainspoken man [=a man who speaks plainly] — see also WELL-SPOKEN

spokes·man /'spouksmən/ noun, pl -men /'spouksmən/ [count] : someone who speaks for or represents a person, company, etc. • A White House spokesman answered questions from the reporters. — often + for • a spokesman for the musician/company • The success of his books has made him a spokesman for his generation. • a spokesman for AIDS awareness spokes·per·son /'spouks,pəsn/ noun, pl spokes·people /'spouks,pi:pəl/ [count] : a man or woman who speaks for or represents someone or something • a statement from the company's spokesperson spokes·wom·an /'spouks,wumən/ noun, pl -wom·en /'spouks,wimən/ [count] : a woman who speaks for or represents someone or something • The company's spokeswoman addressed the reporters.

¹sponge /'spʌndʒ/ noun, pl spong·es

1 [count] : a piece of light natural or artificial material that becomes soft when it is wet, is able to take in and hold liquid, and is used for washing or cleaning • a kitchen sponge — sometimes used figuratively • His mind is (like) a sponge. [=he remembers a lot of information easily] — see picture at KITCHEN

2 [count] : a type of sea animal from which natural sponges are made

3 [count, noncount] Brit : SPONGE CAKE • a slice of sponge

4 [count] informal + disapproving : someone who gets something from someone else without doing or paying anything in return : SPONGER • He's a lazy sponge.

5 [count] : a device like a sponge that is used by women to prevent pregnancy • a contraceptive sponge

²sponge verb sponges; sponged; spong·ing

1 [+ obj] a : to clean or wipe (something) with a sponge • He sponged the table. • She sponged up the spilt milk. • He sponged off his face. • She sponged the dirt off her shirt. b : to put (paint) on a surface with a sponge • She sponged the paint on the walls. = She sponged the walls.

2 informal + disapproving : to get money, food, etc., from (someone) without doing or paying anything in return [+ obj] She always sponges meals from us. [no obj] — often + off • She lives at home and sponges off her parents.

sponge bath noun, pl ~ baths [count] US : a bath in which someone or something is not placed in water but is cleaned with a wet, soapy sponge or cloth • The nurse gave him a sponge bath.

sponge cake noun, pl ~ cakes : a very light cake made with flour, eggs, and sugar [count] a lemon sponge cake [noncount] layers of sponge cake

spong·er /'spʌndʒə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal + disapproving : someone who gets money, food, etc., from someone else without doing or paying anything in return • Her brother's a lazy sponger.

spongy /'spʌndʒi/ adj spong·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : soft and full of holes or water : resembling a sponge • spongy bread • The ground was spongy.

— spong·i·ness noun [noncount]

¹spn·sor /'spɑ:nsə/ noun, pl -sors [count]

1 a : a person or organization that pays the cost of an activity or event (such as a radio or television program, sports event, concert, etc.) in return for the right to advertise during the activity or event • Our company is a sponsor of the race. • corporate sponsors b : a person or organization that gives someone money for participating in a charity event (such as a walk or race) • I have over 50 sponsors for next week's race. c : an organization that gives money to an athlete for training, clothes, equipment, etc., in return for the right to use the athlete for advertising • Her sponsors include a major sneaker company.

2 a : someone who takes the responsibility for someone or something • He agreed to be my sponsor so that I could join the club. • The senator is a sponsor of the proposed bill. b : a person who teaches and guides someone in religious or spiritual matters • She was my sponsor at my confirmation. [=she helped to prepare me for my confirmation]

²sponsor verb -sors; -sored; -sor·ing [+ obj] : to be a sponsor for (something or someone) • The radio station sponsored the concert. • The tournament is sponsored by local businesses. • Will you sponsor me for the charity race? • He sponsored me at my confirmation. • She sponsored the new tax bill. • sponsored events — sometimes used in combination • a state-sponsored study • government-sponsored programs

spn·sor·ship /'spɑ:nsəʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships

1 : an arrangement in which a sponsor agrees to give money to someone or something [noncount] You cannot race without sponsorship. • He receives millions of dollars in sponsorship. • sponsorship deals [count] She has a sponsorship from the sneaker company. • corporate sponsorships

2 [noncount] : the act of sponsoring someone or something — often + of • The group protested the tobacco company's sponsorship of the tournament.

spn·ta·ne·i·ty /'spɑ:ntə'nejəti/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of being spontaneous • the spontaneity of their behavior • She liked his spontaneity.

spn·ta·ne·ous /'spɑ:ntə'nijəs/ adj

1 : done or said in a natural and often sudden way and without a lot of thought or planning • spontaneous laughter • a spontaneous kiss/decision • The comment was completely spontaneous.

2 [more ~; most ~] : doing things that have not been planned but that seem enjoyable and worth doing at a particular time • He's a guy who's spontaneous and fun.

— spn·ta·ne·ous·ly adv • He laughed spontaneously. • She acted spontaneously. • They spontaneously decided to go to the beach.

spontaneous combustion noun [noncount] technical : burning that is caused by chemical actions inside of something rather than by heat from the outside spoof /'spu:f/ noun, pl spoofs [count] : a humorous movie, book, play, etc., that copies something in a silly and exaggerated way • a Shakespearean spoof — often + of or on • a spoof of horror films • a spoof on Shakespeare's play — spoof verb spoofs; spoofed; spoof·ing [+ obj] • The movie spoofs horror films.

¹spook /'spu:k/ noun, pl spooks [count] informal

1 : 'GHOST 1 • scary spooks

2 chiefly US : 'SPY 1 • a CIA spook

²spook verb spooks; spooked; spook·ing chiefly US, informal

1 [+ obj] : to scare or frighten (a person or animal) • The noise spooked the cat. • The little girl was spooked by scary masks.

2 [no obj] : to become frightened • She doesn't spook easily. — usually used of an animal • The horse spooked and ran away.

spooky /'spu:ki/ adj spook·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : strange and frightening • a spooky movie • The music was pretty spooky. • a spooky old house • He looks spooky. = He's spooky looking. • a spooky coincidence [=a very strange coincidence that makes you feel uneasy]

spool /'spu:l/ noun, pl spools [count] : a round object that is made to have something (such as thread, wire, or tape) wrapped around it • a spool of film • (US) a spool of thread [= (Brit) a cotton reel] — see picture at SEWING

¹spoon /'spu:n/ noun, pl spoons [count]

1 : an eating or cooking tool that has a small shallow bowl attached to a handle • a wooden spoon — see picture at PLACE SETTING; see also TABLESPOON, TEASPOON

2 : SPOONFUL — often + of • two spoons of sugar

born with a silver spoon in your mouth see BORN

— see also GREASY SPOON

²spoon verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition spoons; spooned; spoon·ing [+ obj] : to move or pick up (food) with a spoon • She spooned the gravy onto her potatoes. • He spooned the ice cream into a bowl.

spoo·ner·ism /'spu:nə,rɪzəm/ noun, pl -isms [count] : a humorous mistake in which a speaker switches the first sounds of two or more words • the spoonerism "tons of soil" for "sons of toil" spoon·feed /'spu:n,fɪ:d/ verb -feeds; -fed /-,fed/; -feed·ing [+ obj]

1 : to feed (someone) with a spoon • She spoon-fed the baby.

2 disapproving : to give someone information in a way that requires or allows no further thinking or effort • The material was spoon-fed to the students. • The students are being spoon-fed facts and dates without having any opportunity for discussion. • Misleading facts about the war are being spoon-fed to the public.

spoon·ful /'spu:n,ful/ noun, pl -fuls [count] : as much as a spoon can hold — often + of • one spoonful of sugar spo·rad·ic /spə'rædɪk/ adj : happening often but not regularly : not constant or steady • Sporadic cases of the disease were reported. • sporadic [=intermittent] gunfire/fighting

— spo-rad-i-cal-ly /spəˈrædɪkli/ adv • The gunfire was heard sporadically. [=intermittently] • Occurrences of the disease were sporadically reported.

spore /ˈspoʊ/ noun, pl spores [count] biology : a cell made by some plants that is like a seed and can produce a new plant • mold spores

1 sport /ˈspoʊt/ noun, pl sports

1 a [count] : a contest or game in which people do certain physical activities according to a specific set of rules and compete against each other • My favorite (competitive) sports are tennis and volleyball. • the sport of boxing • Do you play a sport? = Do you play any sports? • Baseball is a team sport [=a sport played by teams] — often used in the plural especially in U.S. English to refer to sports in a general way • My brother likes sports. [=he enjoys playing and/or watching games such as football, baseball, basketball, golf, etc.] • I like watching sports on TV. • She likes to play sports — see also SPECTATOR SPORT, WINTER SPORT b [noncount] Brit : sports in general • He's not interested in sport. [= (US) sports] • She likes to play sport

2 : a physical activity (such as hunting, fishing, running, swimming, etc.) that is done for enjoyment [count] Ice-skating with friends is my favorite sport. [noncount] He hunts and fishes for sport [=he hunts and fishes because he enjoys it and not as a job or because he needs food for survival] — see also BLOOD SPORT

3 [count] a — used with good, bad, etc., to say if someone has behaved politely or not after losing a game or contest • He lost but he was a good sport about it. [=he was not rude or angry about losing] • Don't be a poor/bad sport [=don't be angry or rude if you lose] b informal + old-fashioned : someone who is kind or generous • Be a (good) sport and let him play with you. c informal + old-fashioned — used as a friendly way to address someone (especially a man) • See you later, sport. • Hey, sport [=buddy]. Can you tell me where the nearest gas station is?

in sport somewhat formal + old-fashioned : in a joking way : in a way that is not serious • Don't take offense. I was only saying it in sport. [=in fun] make sport of somewhat formal + old-fashioned : to laugh at and make jokes about (someone or something) in an unkind way • They made sport of [=made fun of] the way he talked.

2 sport adj, always used before a noun

1 : done for enjoyment rather than as a job or for food for survival • sport fishing/hunting

2 chiefly US : participating in an activity (such as hunting or fishing) for enjoyment rather than as a job or for food for survival • a sport fisherman — compare SPORTS

3 sport verb sports; sport-ed; sport-ing

1 [+ obj] : to wear (something) in a way that attracts attention • She showed up at the party sporting a bright red hat.

2 [no obj] literary : to play in a happy and lively way • The lambs sported [=frolicked] in the meadow.

sport coat noun, pl ~ coats [count] US : a man's coat that is like the top part of a suit but is less formal — called also sports coat, sports jacket, (US) sport jacket; see color picture on page C15

sport-ing /ˈspoʊtɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : of, relating to, or used in sports • sporting events • sporting dogs • (US) a store that sells sporting goods = a sporting goods store

2 : fairly good — used in the phrase a sporting chance • There is a sporting chance that your plan will work. • He may not win, but he should at least be given a sporting chance [=a fair chance] to succeed.

3 [more ~; most ~] chiefly Brit : done or behaving in a way that treats the other people in a sport or competition fairly • It wasn't very sporting of you to trip him. • a sporting gesture [=a gesture that shows good sportsmanship] — opposite UNSPORTING sport of kings noun

the sport of kings somewhat old-fashioned : the sport of racing horses : HORSERACING

sports /ˈspoʊts/ adj, always used before a noun : of, relating to, or suitable for sports • a sports team/fan • a sports center • the sports section/pages of the newspaper • sports equipment/facilities • a sports bra — compare ²SPORT sports bar noun, pl ~ bars [count] US : a bar that has televisions for watching sports and is decorated with sports items

sports car noun, pl ~ cars [count] : a low, small car that seats two people and that is made for fast driving — see picture at CAR

sports-cast /ˈspoʊts,kæst, Brit ˈspɔːts,kɑːst/ noun, pl -casts [count] US : a television or radio broadcast of a sports event or of news about sports sports-cast-er /ˈspoʊts,kæstə, Brit ˈspɔːts,kɑːstə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : someone who describes the action of a sports event or gives news about sports during a sportscast

sports coat noun, pl ~ coats [count] : SPORT COAT

sports day noun, pl ~ days [count] Brit : FIELD DAY

sport shirt noun, pl ~ shirts [count] US : an informal shirt; especially : POLO SHIRT — called also sports shirt

sports jacket noun, pl ~ -ets [count] : SPORT COAT

sports-man /ˈspoʊtsmən/ noun, pl sports-men /ˈspoʊtsmən/ [count]

1 US : a man who participates in outdoor activities like hunting and fishing

2 chiefly Brit : a man who participates in sports • a champion sportsman [=athlete] • He was a keen sportsman all his life.

sports-man-like /ˈspoʊtsmən,laɪk/ adj : fair, respectful, and polite toward other players when participating in a sport : showing sportsmanship • She is always sportsmanlike when she plays. • sportsmanlike behavior — opposite UNSPORTSMANLIKE sports-man-ship /ˈspoʊtsmən,ʃɪp/ noun [noncount] : fair play, respect for opponents, and polite behavior by someone who is competing in a sport or other competition • He's a great player who's also admired for his sportsmanship. • She showed good/bad/poor sportsmanship.

sports medicine noun [noncount] : a field of medicine that relates to the prevention and treatment of injuries and other health problems that affect people who play sports

sports shirt noun, pl ~ shirts [count] : SPORT SHIRT

sports-wear /ˈspoʊts,weə/ noun [noncount]

1 : clothes that people wear for playing sports

2 chiefly US : comfortable clothes that people wear for informal activities sports-wom-an /ˈspoʊts,wʊmən/ noun, pl -wom-en /-wɪmən/ [count] : a woman who participates in sports • a champion sportswoman sports-writ-er /ˈspoʊts,raɪtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who writes about sports for a newspaper, magazine, etc.

sport-util-i-ty vehicle /ˈspoʊtjuˈtɪləti-/ noun, pl ~ -hicles [count] : SUV sporty /ˈspoʊti/ adj sport-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 of clothing : attractive and suitable for informal wear • a sporty jacket/shirt

2 of a car : having the qualities or appearance of a sports car • a sporty red convertible

3 chiefly Brit : liking sports : active in and good at sports : ATHLETIC • sporty children

1 spot /ˈspɔːt/ noun, pl spots [count]

1 a : a small area of a surface that is different from other areas • The wood still has some rough spots. • The chair's original paint is still visible in spots. • He fell through a weak spot in the ice. — often + on • The dog is black with a white spot on its chest. • There are wet spots on the floor. • a sore spot on his hand • He tries to cover up the bald spot on his head. • a bruised spot on the apple — see also BEAUTY SPOT, SUNSPOT

b : a small amount of a substance that is on something • The tablecloth had a couple of spots. • There were mud spots on the back of his pants. • rust spots on the metal — often + of • a spot of grease • There was a tiny spot of ketchup at the corner of her mouth. • There wasn't a spot of dust anywhere. c : a small mark or lump on your skin, on the surface of a plant, etc. • I noticed some red spots on my arms. • spots of rot on the leaf

d Brit : PIMPLE • a teenager with spots on his face

2 : a particular space or area : PLACE • This looks like a good spot for a picnic. • a sunny/shady spot • a quiet spot by the river • our family's favorite vacation spot • We had trouble finding a parking spot. [=space] • The battle happened exactly on/at this spot over 150 years ago. • There are spots in the essay where the writer drifts from his argument. • This is a good spot to stop the movie. — see also BLACK SPOT, HOT SPOT, NIGHTSPOT, TROUBLE SPOT, bright spot at BRIGHT

3 : a particular position in a competition, organization, program, etc. • The teams are battling for the last play-off spot. •

The band deserves a better spot in the festival's lineup. • The talk show has been moved to a daytime spot. • He's trying out for a spot on the team. • With such a large lead, the team is in a comfortable spot.

4 : an appearance on a television or radio program • The host has several guest spots lined up tonight.

5 : a short announcement or advertisement on television or radio • advertising spots

6 : a difficult or embarrassing position or situation — usually singular • When the truth came out, they found themselves in an awful spot. [=fix, mess, predicament] • You put me in a (tight) spot

7 Brit : a small amount of something • I had a spot of [=bit of] trouble putting the bicycle together. • How about a spot of tennis before lunch? • a spot of lunch • Just a spot of brandy, please. • They had a spot of bother with the Inland Revenue. a leopard can't change its spots see LEOPARD hit the spot informal, of food or drink : to be very enjoyable or satisfying • That dinner really hit the spot. [=I enjoyed that dinner very much] knock spots off Brit, informal : to be much better than (someone or something) • They knock spots off the competition.

on the spot 1 : right away at the place that has been mentioned : IMMEDIATELY • I offered him the job when he came for an interview, and he accepted the offer on the spot. • When the boss saw him stealing, he was fired on the spot. 2 : at the place where something is happening • She was on the spot reporting on the fire soon after the alarm was sounded. 3 : in a difficult or dangerous position or situation • The question put me on the spot. 4 Brit : in the same location without moving forward or backward • running/jogging on the spot [= (US) in place]

— see also BLIND SPOT, SOFT SPOT

2 spot verb spots; spot-ted; spot-ting [+ obj]

1 not used in progressive tenses : to see or notice (someone or something that is difficult to see or find) • She spotted a deer in the woods. • He spotted a typo. • Can you spot [=recognize] the difference between the pictures? • The band's lead singer was recently spotted with a well-known actress.

2 US a : to give (an opponent) a specified advantage at the beginning of a race, game, etc., in order to make a competition more even • They spotted us five points, and we still lost. • (golf) He spotted him two strokes a hole. b informal : to lend (someone) a small amount of money • I'm a little short of cash. Can you spot me five bucks?

3 American football : to put (the football) at the appropriate place on the field in preparation for the next play • The official spotted the ball at the 10-yard line.

4 : to mark (something) with spots • A trail of blood spotted the snow. — usually used as (be) spotted with • His pants were spotted with mud. [=there were spots of mud on his pants]

3 spot adj, always used before a noun, finance : relating to goods or shares that are paid for and delivered immediately instead of at a future time • the difference between futures and spot commodities • the spot price of wheat/oil • the spot market • spot cash [=cash paid immediately for something] spot check noun, pl ~ checks [count] : an act of looking at a few things or people in a group in order to find possible problems • Police carried out spot checks of/on cars at the border.

spot-check /'spɑ:t,tʃek/ verb -checks; -checked; -check-ing : to check (something) quickly for problems especially by looking at a few things or people in a group [+ obj] He spot-checked the data for errors. • Police spot-checked cars at the border. [no obj] — often + for • She spot-checked for errors.

spot-less /'spɑ:tləs/ adj : perfectly clean • a spotless kitchen • She keeps her room spotless. — often used figuratively • He has a spotless record/reputation.

— spot-less-ly adv • The house is spotlessly clean

1 spot-light /'spɑ:t,lart/ noun, pl -lights

1 [count] a : a device that directs a narrow, bright beam of light on a small area • They aimed the spotlight at the center of the stage. b : the area of light created by a spotlight • A spotlight moved across the stage. • The actor stood in the spotlight. • performing under the spotlights

2 the spotlight : public attention or notice • a baseball star who hates the spotlight • They're always in the spotlight • School violence is once again under the media spotlight [=getting a lot of attention from the media] • The news article turned/put the spotlight on the city's financial problems.

2 spotlight verb -lights; -light-ed or -lit; -light-ing [+ obj]

1 : to shine a spotlight on (someone or something) • She was spotlighted as she sang her solo. • a spotlit area

2 : to give special attention to (something) • The news spotlighted the city's financial problems.

spot-on /'spɑ:t'ɑ:n/ adj, chiefly Brit, informal : exactly correct : completely accurate • The weather forecast was spot-on. • a spot-on impersonation spot-ted /'spɑ:təd/ adj : marked with spots • a spotted cat spotted dick noun, pl ~ dicks [count, noncount] Brit : a hot dessert that is like a moist cake made with suet and currants or raisins spot-ter /'spɑ:tə/ noun, pl -ters [count]

1 : someone who looks for a particular type of person or thing • a trend spotter • plane spotters — see also TRAINSPOTTER

2 : a person who watches and helps someone who is exercising in order to help prevent injuries • When you lift weights, you should always have a spotter.

spot-ty /'spɑ:ti/ adj spot-ti-er; -est

1 chiefly US : not always good : good in some parts or at some times but not others • Her work has been spotty. • The service at that restaurant is a little spotty. • students with spotty attendance records • spotty [=inconsistent] data/results

2 : marked with spots • The photograph was spotty. • (Brit) a spotty [=pimply] youth spouse /'spaus/ noun, pl spous-es [count] : someone who is married : a husband or wife • my brothers and sisters and their spouses

— spou-sal /'spauzəl/ adj, always used before a noun • spousal abuse/consent/support

1 spout /'spaut/ verb spouts; spout-ed; spout-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to shoot out (a liquid) with force • The well was spouting oil. • The volcano spouted lava. b [no obj] : to flow out with force • Blood spouted [=spurred] (out) from the wound.

2 : to say or talk about (something) in a way that is boring or annoying [+ obj] He started spouting poetry. — often + off • He spouted off a long list of statistics to prove his point. [no obj] She kept spouting on and on about politics. — often + off • I'm tired of hearing him spout off about his adventures.

2 spout noun, pl spouts [count]

1 : a tube, pipe, or hole out of which a liquid flows • Water was flowing from/down the spout. • the spout of a tea kettle — see also DOWNSPOUT, WATERSPOUT

2 : a sudden strong stream of liquid • a spout of water/blood up the spout Brit, informal — used to describe something that has completely failed, been ruined, etc. • The economy's up the spout. • His marriage is going up the spout. [=down the drain]

sprain /'sprein/ verb sprains; sprained; sprain-ing [+ obj] : to injure (a joint) by twisting it in a sudden and painful way • I fell and sprained [=twisted] my ankle/wrist. • a sprained ankle — compare STRAIN

— sprain noun, pl sprains [count] • My wrist isn't broken. It's just a bad sprain.

sprang past tense of 2 SPRING

sprat /'spræt/ noun, pl sprats [count, noncount] : a small fish that is used for food

1 sprawl /'sprɑ:l/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition sprawls; sprawled; sprawl-ing [no obj]

1 : to lie or sit with your arms and legs spread wide apart • The kids sprawled on the floor to watch TV. • He sprawled (out) on the couch. • One punch sent him sprawling to the floor. [=caused him to fall to the floor in a violent and uncontrolled way] • She tripped and went sprawling into the table.

2 : to spread or develop in an uneven or uncontrolled way • The city sprawls along the coastline. • The bushes were sprawling along the road.

— sprawled adj • He saw her sprawled across the bed. • He was sprawled (out) in his chair. — sprawling adj • a sprawling city • It was hard to follow the sprawling plot of the novel.

2 sprawl noun

1 [singular] : a group of things (such as buildings) that cover an area in an uneven and ugly way — often + of • a sprawl of stores and restaurants

2 [noncount] : URBAN SPRAWL • efforts to stop/prevent sprawl

1 spray /'sprei/ noun, pl sprays

1 a [count] : liquid that is forced out of a container in a stream of very small drops • The paint was applied in a fine spray. b : a liquid substance that is used or applied by being forced out of a container in a stream of very small drops [count] A nasal/nose spray should help you breathe better. • Hand me the bug spray. [noncount] a can of hair spray — see also PEPPER SPRAY c [count] : the act of putting a liquid on something in a stream of small drops : the act of spraying something • Give your hair one more spray to be sure it stays in place. • a quick spray of perfume

2 [noncount] : very small drops of water moving through the air • sea spray

3 [count] : a stream of liquid in the form of very small drops — often + of • a spray of water/blood • The car splashed a spray of mud on me. — sometimes used figuratively • a spray of bullets [=a number of bullets that are shot quickly] • A spray of gravel hit the car.

— compare ³SPRAY

²spray verb sprays; sprayed; spray-ing

1 [+ obj] a : to put a stream of small drops of liquid on (someone or something) • She sprayed herself with perfume. • I sprayed the plants (with a pesticide). • The crops are sprayed monthly. • We were sprayed by water from the crashing waves. b : to put (something) on a surface or into the air using a special container that produces a stream of small drops of liquid • The boys sprayed graffiti on the wall. • He sprayed the paint evenly over the surface. • She sprayed some perfume into the air.

2 [no obj] : to flow out in a stream of very small drops • The soda sprayed from the bottle. • The blood sprayed onto the wall.

3 [+ obj] : to shoot many bullets at someone or something • The gunmen sprayed the house with bullets. = The gunmen sprayed bullets into the house. • They sprayed the crowd with bullets.

4 a [no obj] of a cat : to wet something (such as a bush) with urine • Cats may spray to mark their territory. b [+ obj] of a skunk : to wet (an animal or person) with a liquid that has a very bad smell • He was sprayed by a skunk. • The skunk sprayed the dog.

³spray noun, pl sprays [count]

1 : a branch of a plant that usually has flowers and is used as a decoration — often + of • a spray [=sprig] of apple blossoms

2 : an attractive arrangement of flowers — often + of • a spray of roses

— compare ¹SPRAY

spray can noun, pl ~ cans [count] : a can that contains a liquid (such as paint) that can be sprayed spray-er /'sprejə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a device that is used for spraying a liquid on or into something • a paint sprayer spray paint noun, pl ~ paints : paint that is sprayed onto a surface from a can that you can hold in one hand [noncount] a can of spray paint • I used spray paint on the table. [count] Spray paints cannot be sold to children.

— spray-paint verb -paints; -paint-ed; -paint-ing [+ obj] • I'm going to spray-paint the table. • Graffiti was spray-painted on the wall.

¹spread /'spred/ verb spreads; spread; spread-ing

1 [+ obj] a : to open, arrange, or place (something) over a large area • The newspaper was spread across his lap. • Her notes were spread all over the desk. • Help me spread the cloth on the table. — often + out • He spread out the map on the table. = He spread the map out on the table. • The cards were spread out across the table. • The city is spread out over a wide area. [=the city covers a wide area] b : to place (things) over a large area • We spread fertilizer on our yard. • The seeds are spread by wind, birds, and animals.

2 a [no obj] : to become larger or to affect a larger area : to move into more places • The fire spread quickly through the building. • The cancer has spread to her throat. • The use of computer technology has spread into all fields of work. • The odor spread throughout the room. • The plant will spread. [=the plant will produce more plants in the area around it] • The fashion quickly spread from France to England. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to be present in more places throughout a large area • Flies spread diseases. • Missionaries were sent to the colonies to spread Christianity. • The religion was spread through/over much of Europe.

3 a [no obj] : to pass from person to person • Her determination and desire to win spread to the other players. b [no obj] : to become known by many people • The rumor spread quickly. • The news spread like wildfire. [=the news became known very quickly] c [+ obj] : to cause (something) to become known by many people • He was spreading lies/gossip/rumors about her. • People are spreading the word [=telling others] about his book.

4 : to move (parts of your body) outward or away from each other [+ obj] She spread [=stretched] her arms wide and hugged him. • The bird spreads its wings. • Spread your fingers wide apart. — often + out • Spread out your toes. = Spread your toes out. • There's no room on the couch to spread yourself out. • Spread your arms out. [no obj] — + out • There's no room on the couch to spread out. [=stretch out]

5 [no obj] of a smile or other facial expression : to appear and slowly grow more apparent • A smile slowly spread across her face. • A look of disbelief spread across/over their faces.

6 [+ obj] : to put a layer of (something) on top of something else • He spread butter on the bread. = He spread the bread with butter. • She carefully spread the plaster over the hole. • Spread the glue evenly on the paper.

7 [+ obj] : to divide up (something) over a period of time or among members of a group • The payments are spread over a period of six years. • You should spread the wealth. [=share your money or good fortune with others] — often + out • I plan to spread the work out over the next couple of weeks. • The course is spread out over two semesters.

spread out [phrasal verb] : to move apart from the other members of a group especially to search an area • The police spread out [=fanned out] to search the area faster. — see also ¹SPREAD 1a, 4, 7 (above)

spread your net wide see ¹NET

spread your wings see ¹WING

²spread noun, pl spreads

1 [noncount] : growth or increase that causes something to cover a larger area, affect a larger number of people, etc. — often + of • We need to slow the spread of the disease/virus. • the spread of infection • the spread of new technology • the spread of drugs in the city • the spread of civilization/religion/peace

2 : a soft food that is spread on bread, crackers, etc. [count] She offered crackers and a cheese spread. [noncount] He uses low-fat spread on his toast.

3 [count] : the total distance between the two outer edges of something — usually singular; often + of • the spread of a bird's wings • The plant has a spread of three feet.

4 [count] informal : a large meal — usually singular • We always have a huge spread for Thanksgiving.

5 [count] : something (such as an advertisement or a series of photos) that covers two or more pages in a newspaper or magazine • a two-page spread

6 [count] US : BEDSPREAD

7 [count] US : a large farm or ranch — usually singular • He bought a spread of 100 acres. • They have quite a spread.

8 [count] : a variety or range of things or people — usually singular; often + of • The poll showed a large spread of opinions.

spread-ea-gled /'spred,i:gəld/ adj : with arms and legs spread wide apart • He lay spread-eagled on the bed. • a spread-eagled position spread-er /'spredə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person or thing that spreads something • Mosquito are spreaders of disease. • a manure/seed spreader • a spreader of gossip/lies spread-sheet /'spred,ʃi:t/ noun, pl -sheets [count]

1 : a computer program that calculates numbers and organizes information in columns and rows

2 : a document that has columns and rows which are used to calculate numbers and organize information spree /'spri:/ noun, pl sprees [count] : a short period of time when you do a lot of something • a buying/shopping/spending spree [=binge] • They went on a killing/crime spree.

sprig /'sprɪg/ noun, pl sprigs [count] : a small twig or stem that has leaves or flowers on it • a sprig of parsley sprightly /'sprɪtli/ adj sprightly-ly; -er; -est : full of life and energy — used especially to describe an older person • a sprightly old woman of 80

— sprightly-li-ness noun [noncount]

¹spring /'sprɪŋ/ noun, pl springs

1 : the season between winter and summer : the season when plants and trees begin to grow [count] We'll plant the seeds next spring. • We've had a rainy spring. • the spring of 1984 [noncount] a beautiful day in early/late spring • The first few weeks of spring were unusually warm. — often used before another noun • our spring catalog • a new spring wardrobe • spring colors/flowers

2 a [count] : a twisted or coiled piece of metal that returns to its original shape when it is pressed down or stretched • The mattress is old and some of the springs are broken. — see also BOX SPRING b [noncount] : the ability of something to return to its original shape when it is pressed down, stretched, twisted, etc. • The cushion has lost its spring.

3 [count] : a source of water coming up from the ground • a mineral spring — see also HOT SPRING

4 [singular] : a lively and energetic quality • She had a spring in her step.

5 [singular] : a quick sudden leap up or forward • The deer gave a spring and was gone. — see also HANDSPRING

2 spring verb springs; sprang /ˈspræŋ/ or sprung /ˈsprʌŋ/; sprung; spring-ing

1 [no obj] a : to move or leap suddenly forward or upward • The lion was waiting to spring. • The deer sprang up the path. • I sprang to my feet. • He sprang out of his seat and ran to the door. b always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move quickly to a different position • The lid sprang open/shut. • The branch sprang back and hit her. • The rope stretches and springs back into shape. [=returns to its original shape]

2 [+ obj] informal : to help (someone) to get out of or escape from jail, prison, etc. • He tried to spring his accomplice. • His lawyer managed to get him sprung from prison.

spring a leak : to start to leak : to suddenly let water in or out through a crack or break • The boat/pipe sprang a leak.

spring a surprise : to do, ask, or say something that is not expected • Everyone knows she's not likely to spring a surprise. • The teacher sprang a surprise on us and gave a quiz.

spring a trap : to capture someone or something (such as an animal or criminal) with a trap — often + on • Police sprang a trap on the drug smugglers.

spring for [phrasal verb] spring for (something) US, informal : to pay for (something) : to spend money on (something) • She refuses to spring for a new coat. • I'll spring for dinner.

spring from [phrasal verb] spring from (something) informal : to start from or be caused by (something) • The idea sprang from [=came from] a dream I had.

spring from the loins see LOIN

spring into/to action/life : to become suddenly very active and energetic • They sprang into action as soon as they received their orders. • The crowd sprang to life after the first goal was scored.

spring on [phrasal verb] spring (something) on (someone) : to surprise (someone) with (something, such as a request or announcement) • You should try to prepare them for your decision instead of just springing it on them suddenly.

spring to mind see ¹MIND

spring up [phrasal verb] : to grow or appear suddenly • The weeds sprang up overnight. • New housing developments are springing up all over the state.

tears spring to your eyes ✧ If tears spring to your eyes, you suddenly start to cry. • Tears sprang to his eyes when he read about the accident.

spring-board /ˈsprɪŋ,bɔːd/ noun, pl -boards [count]

1 : a strong, flexible board that is used for jumping very high in gymnastics or diving

2 : something that helps you start an activity or process • The news served as a springboard for a class discussion.

spring-bok /ˈsprɪŋ,bɔːk/ noun, pl springbok or springboks [count] : a small, very fast deer that lives in Africa spring break noun, pl ~ breaks US : a vacation from classes at a school usually for a week in the spring; especially : such a vacation at a college or university [noncount] Many students go to Florida for/on spring break. [count] How was your spring break?

spring chicken noun, pl ~ -ens [count] informal + humorous : a young person — usually used in negative statements to say that someone is not young • She's no spring chicken, that's for sure.

spring-clean verb -cleans; -cleaned; -cleaning [+ obj] : to clean (a place) thoroughly in the spring • It's time to spring-clean the house and air out the place.

— spring-clean noun [singular] Brit • It's time to give the house a spring-clean. — spring-cleaning noun [noncount] • We were busy with spring-cleaning.

spring fever noun [noncount] : a feeling of wanting to go outdoors and do things because spring is coming and the weather is getting warmer • The children all have spring fever.

spring-loaded adj : containing a metal spring that presses

one part against another • a spring-loaded mousetrap spring onion noun, pl ~ -ions [count] chiefly Brit : GREEN ONION spring peeper noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : PEEPER

spring roll noun, pl ~ rolls [count] : EGG ROLL

spring tide noun, pl ~ tides [count] : a tide in which the sea rises and falls more than usual ✧ Spring tides happen when the moon, earth, and sun are aligned with each other.

spring-time /ˈsprɪŋ,taim/ noun [noncount] : the season of spring • Springtime is her favorite time of year. • It's beautiful here in (the) springtime. [=in the spring]

spring training noun [noncount] US : the time in the spring when baseball teams prepare for the regular season by playing practice games

springy /ˈsprɪŋi/ adj spring-i-er; -est

1 : returning to an original shape when pressed down, twisted, stretched, etc. • a springy bed • springy vines

2 : having or showing lively and energetic movement • He walks with a springy step.

— spring-i-ness /ˈsprɪŋɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • The cushion has lost its springiness.

1 sprin-kle /ˈsprɪŋkəl/ verb sprin-kles; sprin-kled; sprin-kling

1 [+ obj] a : to drop or spread small pieces or amounts of something over something • He sprinkled water on the plants. • I sprinkled grass seed over the soil. • She sprinkled grated cheese on the pasta. = She sprinkled the pasta with grated cheese. — often used figuratively • The essay is sprinkled with quotations. [=there are quotations in different parts of the essay] b : to put small drops of liquid on (someone or something) • She sprinkled the clothes before ironing them.

2 [no obj] US : to rain lightly • “Is it raining?” “It's just sprinkling a little.”

2 sprinkle noun

1 [singular] : a light rain • a sprinkle of rain • It rained last night, but it was just a sprinkle.

2 [singular] : a small amount that is sprinkled on something • She topped the pasta with a sprinkle of parsley. — sometimes used figuratively • We've received a sprinkle [=a very small number] of complaints.

3 sprinkles [plural] US : tiny candies that are put on top of a sweet food (such as ice cream) • chocolate sprinkles

sprin-kler /ˈsprɪŋklər/ noun, pl -klers [count]

1 : a device that is used to spray water on plants or soil — see picture at GARDENING

2 : a device in a building that sprays water if there is a fire

sprin-kling /ˈsprɪŋklɪŋ/ noun [singular] : a small amount that is sprinkled on something • She put a sprinkling of parsley on the pasta. [=she sprinkled a small amount of parsley on the pasta] — often used figuratively • We received only a sprinkling of suggestions. [=only a few suggestions]

1 sprint /ˈsprɪnt/ verb sprints; sprint-ed; sprint-ing [no obj] : to run or go very fast for a short distance • He sprinted to class. • The bicycle racers sprinted for the finish line.

— sprint-er noun, pl -ers [count]

2 sprint noun, pl sprints

1 [count] : a race over a short distance at a very fast speed

2 [singular] : a short period of running or going very fast • He made a sprint for the finish line.

sprite /ˈsprɪt/ noun, pl sprites [count] in stories : a small creature that has magical powers : an elf or fairy • a water sprite

spritz /ˈsprɪts/ verb spritz-es; spritzed; spritz-ing [+ obj] US : to spray (something) quickly with a small amount of liquid • Make sure to spritz the plants with water every day. • She spritzed her hair with hairspray.

— spritz noun, pl spritzes [count] • a spritz of water spritz-er /ˈsprɪtsər/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a drink made of wine mixed with soda water • a white wine spritzer

sprock-et /ˈsprɔːkət/ noun, pl -ets [count] : a wheel that has a row of teeth around its edge which fit into the holes of something (such as a bicycle chain or a piece of film) and cause it to turn when the wheel turns; also : any one of the teeth on such a wheel

sprog /ˈsprɔːɡ/ noun, pl sprogs [count] Brit, informal : a child or baby • a cute little sprog

1 sprout /ˈsprɔʊt/ verb sprouts; sprout-ed; sprout-ing

1 : to produce new leaves, buds, etc. [no obj] seeds sprouting in the spring • Potatoes will sprout in the bag if kept in a warm place. [+ obj] The garden is sprouting weeds. • The tree is already sprouting leaves.

2 : to grow or develop (something) [+ obj] He sprouted a beard since the last time I saw him. • She dreamed that her boss had sprouted horns. [no obj] Hair sprouted on his face.

3 [no obj] : to appear suddenly and in large numbers — often + up • Dozens of new restaurants have been sprouting up [= popping up] around the city.

²sprout noun, pl sprouts

1 [count] : a new part (such as a leaf or bud) that is growing on a plant

2 sprouts [plural] chiefly US : very young plants that come from alfalfa or bean seeds and that are used as a vegetable

3 [count] chiefly Brit : BRUSSELS SPROUT

¹spruce /'spru:s/ noun, pl spruces also spruce

1 [count] : a type of tree that has long, thin needles instead of leaves and that stays green throughout the year

2 [noncount] : the wood of a spruce tree

²spruce verb spruces; spruced; sprucing

spruce up [phrasal verb] spruce (someone or something) up or spruce up (someone or something) : to make (someone or something) look cleaner, neater, or more attractive • We spruced up the room with a fresh coat of paint. • I need to spruce myself up a bit before we go out to dinner.

³spruce adj spruc-er; -est somewhat old-fashioned : neat, clean, or stylish in appearance • He looked very spruce in his new suit.

— spruce-ly adv • a sprucely decorated room

sprung past tense and past participle of ²SPRING

spry /'sprai/ adj spry-er or spry-er /'sprajə/; spry-est or spry-est /'sprajəst/ : full of life and energy — used especially to describe an older person • She's 64 and still as spry as she was at 30.

— spry-ly adv — spry-ness noun [noncount]

spud /'spad/ noun, pl spuds [count] informal : POTATO 1

spume /'spju:m/ noun [noncount] literary : bubbles that form on ocean waves : FOAM

spun past tense and past participle of ¹SPIN

spun glass noun [noncount] : FIBERGLASS

spunk /'spʌŋk/ noun [noncount]

1 informal : spirit, courage, and determination • That little girl has a lot of spunk.

2 Brit slang, impolite : SEMEN spunky /'spʌŋki/ adj spunk-i-er; -est informal : full of spirit, courage, and determination • a spunky little girl

— spunk-i-ness /'spʌŋkinəs/ noun [noncount]

¹spur /'spɜ:/ noun, pl spurs

1 [count] : a sharp pointed object that is attached to the heel of a horse rider's boot and that is pressed into the horse's side to make the horse go faster

2 [singular] : something that makes you want to do something or that causes something to happen : INCENTIVE — often + to • The reward was offered as a spur to greater work/achievement. • a spur to the imagination

3 [count] : a mass of sharp rock on the side of a mountain

4 [count] : a short section of railway track that leads from the main line on/at the spur of the moment ✧ If something is done on/at the spur of the moment, it is done immediately without planning. • We decided on the spur of the moment to go to the beach. — see also SPUR-OF-THE-MOMENT win/earn your spurs : to do something which shows that you deserve to be respected or noticed • He earned/won his spurs by doubling the company's profits in the past year.

²spur verb spurs; spurred; spur-ing [+ obj]

1 : to encourage (someone) to do or achieve something • The reward spurred them to work harder. — often + on • His encouragement spurred them on to finish the project.

2 : to cause (something) to happen or to happen more quickly • Lower interest rates should spur economic growth.

3 : to urge (a horse) to go faster by pushing spurs into its sides • He spurred the horse onward.

spu-ri-ous /'spɜ:riəs/ adj

1 : not genuine, sincere, or authentic • spurious [= fake] gems • spurious [= insincere] kindness

2 : based on false ideas or bad reasoning • spurious claims/justifications

— spu-ri-ous-ly adv — spu-ri-ous-ness noun [noncount]

spurn /'spɜ:n/ verb spurns; spurned; spurn-ing [+ obj] literary : to refuse to accept (someone or something that you do not think deserves your respect, attention, affection, etc.) • She spurned [= rejected] their offer. • a spurned lover spur-of-the-moment adj, always used before a noun : done suddenly and without planning • They made a spur-of-the-moment decision to go the movies. — see also on/at the spur of the moment at ¹SPUR

¹spurt /'spɜ:t/ verb spurts; spurt-ed; spurt-ing

1 : to pour out or come out quickly and suddenly [no obj] Water spurted from the broken pipe. • Blood was spurting out of his nose. • Flames spurted from the open window. [+ obj] His nose spurted blood.

2 [no obj] : to move at a fast speed for a short distance • He spurted [= sprinted] for the finish line.

²spurt noun, pl spurts [count]

1 : an amount of liquid, flame, etc., that comes out of something suddenly • a spurt of water/blood • a spurt of venom

2 : a short period of greatly increased effort, activity, or development • a spurt of hard work • When he was 11 he had a growth spurt. [= he grew quickly and suddenly in a short period of time] • They worked on the house in spurts, whenever they had time.

3 US : a short period of time • They played well for a brief spurt but then started losing again.

sput-ter /'spʌtə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing

1 [no obj] : to make loud sounds like explosions • The motor sputtered and died.

2 : to speak quickly or in a confused way because you are upset, surprised, etc. [no obj] He was sputtering with rage. [+ obj] She sputtered an angry protest. • "You, you have to be kidding!" he sputtered.

— sputter noun, pl -ters [count] • The motor gave a sputter and died.

spu-tum /'spju:təm/ noun [noncount] medical : a thick liquid that comes up from your lungs when you are sick

¹spy /'spai/ noun, pl spies [count]

1 : a person who tries secretly to get information about a country or organization for another country or organization • He was a spy for the CIA. • a Cold War spy — often used before another noun • a spy novel/thriller [= a novel/thriller about spies] • a spy camera/plane [= a camera/plane used for spying]

2 : someone who secretly watches the movement or actions of other people • My coworker is a spy for the boss. • the neighborhood spy

²spy verb spies; spied; spy-ing

1 [no obj] : to try secretly to get information about a country, organization, etc. : to act as a spy • They were accused of spying for a foreign government. — often + on • They were accused of spying on a rival company.

2 [+ obj] : to see or notice (someone or something) • She spied [= caught sight of] a friend in the crowd.

spy on [phrasal verb] spy on (someone or something) : to watch (someone) secretly • He spies on his neighbors. • Have you been spying on me? — see also ²SPY 1 (above)

spy out [phrasal verb] 1 spy (something) out or spy out (something) : to notice, find, or learn about (something) by looking often in a secret way • They were trying to spy out the enemy's position. 2 spy out the land chiefly Brit : to find or get more information about a situation secretly and before making a decision spy-glass /'spai,glæs, Brit 'spai'glɑ:s/ noun, pl -glass-es [count] : a small telescope used by sailors in the past spy-ware /'spai,weə/ noun [noncount] : computer software that secretly records information about the way you use your computer

sq. abbr square

squab-ble /'skwɑ:bəl/ verb squab-bles; squab-bled; squab-bling [no obj] : to argue loudly about things that are not important • The children were squabbling over the toys.

— squabble noun, pl squabbles [count] • A squabble broke out among the children.

squad /'skwɑ:d/ noun, pl squads [count]

1 : a part of a police force that deals with a specific type of crime • the bomb/fraud/vice squad

2 : a small organized group of soldiers • an elite infantry squad • the squad leader

3 : a group of people who are involved in a particular activity • a rescue squad • the cheerleading squad • a squad of searchers spur

4 sports : a group of people from which a team is chosen • the Olympic gymnastics squad

— see also FIRING SQUAD squad car noun, pl ~ cars [count] : POLICE CAR squad·die or squad·dy /'skwɑ:di/ noun, pl squad·dies [count] Brit slang : a soldier of low rank : a soldier who is not an officer squad·ron /'skwɑ:drən/ noun, pl -rons [count] : a military unit consisting of soldiers, ships, or aircraft • a bomber/reconnaissance squadron squadron leader noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a high-ranking officer in the British air force squal·id /'skwɑ:ləd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very dirty and unpleasant • The family lived in squalid conditions. • a squalid [=run-down] apartment building

2 : immoral or dishonest • a squalid affair • squalid behavior

— squal·id·ness noun [noncount]

1 squall /'skwɑ:l/ verb squalls; squalled; squall·ing [no obj] : to cry loudly • a squalling baby

2 squall noun, pl squalls [count] : a loud cry • The baby gave a sudden squall of hunger. — compare 3 SQUALL

3 squall noun, pl squalls [count] : a sudden violent wind often with rain or snow • a snow squall — compare 2 SQUALL

— squally /'skwɑ:li/ adj squall·i·er; -est • a squally day

squa·lor /'skwɑ:lə/ noun [noncount] : very bad and dirty conditions • The family was living in squalor. • I was shocked by the squalor of their surroundings.

squan·der /'skwɑ:ndə/ verb -ders; -dered; -der·ing [+ obj] : to use (something) in a foolish or wasteful way • She squandered her inheritance/allowance. • He vowed not to squander this opportunity. • The government squandered [=wasted] the money on failed programs.

— squan·der·er /'skwɑ:ndəɹə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 square /'skweə/ noun, pl squares [count]

1 : a four-sided shape that is made up of four straight sides that are the same length and that has four right angles • The fabric is decorated with circles and squares. • Cut the brownies into squares. — often + of • a square of tile/cloth — see picture at GEOMETRY; compare RECTANGLE

2 : any of the squares on a board for playing games (such as chess and checkers) • The board has red and black squares. — see picture at CHESS

3 mathematics : the number that results from multiplying a number by itself • The square of 2 [=2²] is 4. [=2 x 2 = 4] — compare 1 CUBE 2

4 : an open area in a village, city, etc., where two or more streets meet • The bank is located at the main square. • the market/town square

5 somewhat old-fashioned, informal + disapproving : someone who does not like or try unusual things that other people consider exciting, interesting, etc. • Don't be such a square. Let's try something different for a change.

6 technical : a flat tool that is used to mark or check angles • a carpenter's square — see picture at CARPENTRY; compare T SQUARE

7 chiefly US, informal : SQUARE MEAL • I try to have three squares a day.

2 square adj squar·er; squar·est [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : shaped like a square : having four straight sides that are the same length and four right angles at each corner • The room is square. • a square box b : forming a right angle • The room has four square corners. • Make sure the post is square to the floor. [=make sure that there is a right angle where the post and the floor meet]

2 — used to describe a measurement that is produced by multiplying something's length and width • a tile measuring one square foot [=a tile that is one foot long and one foot wide] • a square inch/meter/mile — compare CUBIC

3 : shaped more like a right angle than a curve • a square jaw • square shoulders ♦ This sense of square often suggests strength and toughness.

4 somewhat old-fashioned : honest and fair • a square deal • She is square in all her dealings. — see also fair and square at 1 FAIR

5 somewhat old-fashioned, informal + disapproving — used to describe someone who does not like or try unusual things that other people consider exciting, interesting, etc. • He's nice but he's kind of square.

6 a informal : having nothing owed by either side : EVEN • Here's the rest of the money. Now we're square. [=now we don't owe each other anything] b not used before a noun : having the same number of points : TIED • The teams were all square after the first half.

a square peg in a round hole see 1 PEG

3 square verb squares; squared; squar·ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (something) square : to give (something) straight edges, flat surfaces, or sharp, even corners • The machine squares the wood into flat boards. — often + off • I still need to square off the end of the board.

2 mathematics : to multiply (a number) by itself • If you square 3, you get 9. — usually used as (be) squared • 3 squared is/equals 9. [=3 x 3 = 9] — compare 2 CUBE 2

3 : to pay money that is owed for (something) • We squared [=settled] our accounts. — often + up • Is this enough money to square up my part of the bill?

4 : to make the score of (something, such as a game or series) the same : TIE • The goal squared the game 2–2. • Their win squares the series at three games apiece.

square away [phrasal verb] square (something) away or square away (something) US : to put (something) in an organized and proper state or condition — often used as (be/get) squared away • I need to get my work squared away [=taken care of] before I leave for vacation. • I can finally relax since everything is squared away.

square off [phrasal verb] 1 a : to prepare to fight : to get into the position of two people who are going to fight each other • The two men squared off, but no punches were thrown. b : to fight or argue — often + against • They squared off against each other in a heated debate. 2 : to compete in a contest • The two teams will square off again tomorrow. — often + against • They squared off against each other in the election. — see also 3 SQUARE 1 (above) square up [phrasal verb] 1 : to turn so that you are facing something or someone directly • She squared up (with/to the basket) for a three-point shot. • They squared up for a fight. [=they faced each other and prepared to fight] — see also 3 SQUARE 3 (above) 2 square up to (someone or something) : to begin to deal with (a difficult person or situation) in a direct way • We need to square up to this problem. • He's finally squaring up to his critics.

square with [phrasal verb] 1 square with (something) : to agree with (something) • Your story doesn't square with the facts. 2 square (something) with (something) : to make (something) agree with (something) • How can they square what they've done with what they've said? 3 square (something) with (someone) : to get agreement about or approval of (something) from (someone) • I'll go on the trip if I can square it with my parents. [=if my parents will agree to let me go] square yourself : to turn so that you are facing something or someone directly • He squared himself and prepared for the hit.

square your shoulders : to stand with your shoulders pulled back in a straight line in a way that shows you are ready to do or deal with something directly • She stood up straight and squared her shoulders.

4 square adv : in a direct way • She ran square [=directly, right] into me. • Look (at) me square in the eye and tell me you're not lying.

square bracket noun, pl ~ -ets [count] : 1 BRACKET 3a square dance noun, pl ~ dances [count] : a dance for four couples that begins with each couple facing one of the other couples so that the four couples form a square — square dancer noun, pl ~ -ers [count] — square dancing noun [noncount] • We enjoy square dancing. = We like to go square dancing.

square knot noun, pl ~ knots [count] US : a strong and simple type of knot — called also (chiefly Brit) reef knot square·ly /'skweəli/ adv

1 : in a direct and honest way • We must face these problems/issues squarely. • It's time to deal squarely with the facts.

2 : in the exact location or position that is mentioned : EXACTLY, RIGHT • literature that is squarely in/within the American tradition • Their marketing campaign is aimed squarely at adolescents. • The dart hit the board squarely in the middle/center. • Look me squarely in the eye and tell me you're not lying.

3 : in a way that makes direct contact • He hit the ball squarely. • Her feet were squarely planted.

4 : in a way that is not limited in any way : COMPLETELY • The responsibility lies squarely with us.

square meal noun, pl ~ meals [count] : a full or complete meal • Inmates receive three square meals a day.

S

square one noun [noncount] : the beginning stage or starting point • His idea didn't work, so he had to go back to square one. [=he had to start over] • They lost everything and found themselves back at square one.

square root noun, pl ~ roots [count] mathematics : a number that produces a specified number when it is multiplied by itself • The square root of 9 is 3. — compare CUBE ROOT squar-ish /'skwɛrɪʃ/ adj : having a shape that is almost like a square • a squarish face • The dog's nose is squarish.

¹squash /'skwɔːʃ/ verb squash-es; squashed; squashing

1 [+ obj] : to press (something) into a flat or flatter shape • She squashed the bug. • He squashed his nose against the window. • The tomatoes got squashed.

2 [+ obj] : to stop (something) from continuing by doing or saying something • She tried to squash [=quash] the rumors. • His poor performance squashed any hope he had of a promotion. • The boss squashed my idea immediately.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move into a space that is very tight or crowded [no obj] Four of us squashed [=squeezed] into the backseat. • (Brit) Squash up [=move closer together] to make room for one more person. [+ obj] Someone had squashed all the ribbons together in one box. — often used as (be) squashed • We were squashed between the table and wall. • The ribbons had all been squashed together into one box.

²squash noun, pl squashes

1 [noncount] : a game played by two people with rackets and a rubber ball in a court with four walls • We play squash [= (Brit) squash rackets] once a week. • a squash court/racket — see picture at RACKET

2 [count, noncount] Brit : a drink made with fruit juice, sugar, and water • a glass of lemon squash

3 [singular] Brit : a situation in which people or things are pushed into a space that is too small or crowded • It's a real squash with six people in the car. — compare ³SQUASH

³squash noun, pl squash or squashes : a type of vegetable (such as a pumpkin) that has a usually hard skin and that is eaten cooked [noncount] Would you like some squash? [count] I cooked two squashes. — see color picture on page C4; see also BUTTERNUT SQUASH, SUMMER SQUASH, WINTER SQUASH — compare ²SQUASH

squashy /'skwɔːʃi/ adj squash-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] chiefly Brit : soft and easy to press into a different shape • squashy [=squishy] cushions/pillows • a squashy sofa

¹squat /'skwɔːt/ verb squats; squat-ted; squat-ting [no obj]

1 : to bend your knees and lower your body so that you are close to your heels or sitting on your heels • He squatted behind the bush to avoid being seen. • a squatting position [=a position in which you are squatting] — often + down • She squatted down to pick up the paper.

2 : to live in a building or on land without the owner's permission and without paying • A family has been squatting in that house for months.

²squat noun, pl squats

1 [count] : a position in which your knees are bent and your body lowered so that you are close to your heels or sitting on your heels

2 [noncount] US slang : the least amount : anything at all • I don't know squat [=diddly-squat] about baseball. • He didn't do squat all day. • The car is worth squat. [=nothing at all]

3 [count] chiefly Brit : an empty building that squatters live in • She lives in a squat.

³squat adj squat-ter; squat-test : short and thick • a squat man = a man with a squat body • a squat tower squat-ter /'skwɔːtə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : someone who lives in a building or on land without the permission of the owner and without paying : someone who squats squaw /'skwɔː/ noun, pl squaws [count] often offensive : a Native American woman squawk /'skwɔːk/ verb squawks; squawked; squawking [no obj]

1 of a bird : to make a short, harsh cry • The crow squawked loudly.

2 : to complain or protest loudly or with strong feeling • The customers squawked about the high prices. • Opponents of the project have been squawking.

— squawk noun, pl squawks [count] • The bird gave a squawk. • squawks from customers

¹squeak /'skwi:k/ verb squeaks; squeaked; squeak-ing

1 [no obj] : to make a short, high-pitched cry or noise • I could hear the mouse squeaking. • She squeaked when I pinched her. • My shoes squeak when I walk. • The wheel squeaks when it turns. • a squeaking sound/wheel

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to barely succeed at doing something : to almost lose or fail but to finally succeed, win, etc. • The team squeaked into the finals. [=the team almost did not get into the finals] • She squeaked out a 5–4 win. [=she won narrowly by getting 5 points while her opponent got 4] • The bill squeaked through the Senate. [=it barely got enough votes to be accepted] • He squeaked into office by fewer than 2,000 votes.

3 [+ obj] : to say (something) in a high-pitched voice especially because you are nervous or excited • “I can't believe it!” she squeaked.

²squeak noun, pl squeaks [count] : a sharp, high-pitched cry or sound • She gave/let out a squeak.

squeak-er /'skwi:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal : a contest (such as a game or an election) that is won by only a small amount • The election was a squeaker. [=the election was very close] • They won in a 10–9 squeaker.

squeaky /'skwi:ki/ adj squeak-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : making or likely to make a sharp, high-pitched sound • a squeaky door • Her voice is squeaky.

a/the squeaky wheel gets the grease/oil see ¹WHEEL — squeak-i-ly /'skwi:kəli/ adv — squeak-i-ness /'skwi:kinəs/ noun [noncount]

squeaky-clean adj

1 : completely clean • The glass is squeaky-clean. • squeaky-clean hair

2 : not connected with or involving anything morally wrong • He has a squeaky-clean reputation/image.

¹squeal /'skwi:l/ verb squeals; squealed; squeal-ing

1 : to make or cause (something) to make a long, high-pitched cry or noise [no obj] The pigs were squealing. • The car squealed to a stop. — often + with or in • The children squealed with/in delight when they saw the clown. [+ obj] He squealed the tires and drove off.

2 [no obj] informal + disapproving : to tell someone in authority (such as the police or a teacher) about something wrong that someone has done • She squealed to the teacher. • “How did they find out?” “Someone must have squealed.” [=snitched] • He squealed on [=informed on] his friend.

3 [+ obj] : to say (something) in a high and excited voice • “Let me go,” she squealed.

— squeal-er noun, pl -ers [count] informal + disapproving • I won't tell anyone what you did. I'm no squealer.

²squeal noun, pl squeals [count] : a long, high-pitched cry or noise • She heard the pig's squeals. — often + of • a squeal of delight • We heard the squeal of the brakes.

squea-mish /'skwi:mɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : afraid to deal with or do things that might hurt or offend people — often used in negative statements • Journalists can't be squeamish. • My parents are not squeamish about talking about sex. • As a supervisor, you can't be squeamish about firing people. b : having an unpleasantly nervous or doubtful feeling • I used to be squeamish about eating raw fish.

2 : easily shocked, offended, or disgusted by unpleasant things • I'm too squeamish to watch horror movies.

3 : having a sick feeling in the stomach : suffering from nausea • She gets squeamish [=queasy] at the sight of blood.

the squeamish : squeamish people : people who are easily shocked or offended by unpleasant things • The movie is not for the squeamish.

— squea-mish-ness noun [noncount] • You'll have to get over your squeamishness about firing people.

squee-gee /'skwi:ʒi:/ noun, pl -gees [count] : a tool that has a blade of rubber attached to a handle and that is used for spreading or wiping liquid on, across, or off a surface (such as a window or floor)

— squeegee verb -gees; -geed; -gee-ing [+ obj] • He squeegeed the water into the drain.

squeeze-able /'skwi:zəbəl/ adj : having parts or sides that can be pressed together • a squeezable bottle of ketchup • squeezable toys

¹squeeze /'skwi:z/ verb squeez-es; squeezed; squeezing

1 : to press together the parts and especially the opposite sides of (something) [+ obj] Squeeze the bottle/tube. • He lightly squeezed her hand and smiled. • Gently squeeze the fruit to see if it's ripe. • She squeezed her eyes shut. [=she closed her eyes very tightly] [no obj] Hold it securely but don't squeeze too hard.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to get or remove (something) by squeezing something • He squeezed the juice from the orange. • She squeezed out some ketchup. = She squeezed some ketchup out. • freshly squeezed orange juice — sometimes used figuratively • They can't squeeze much more money out of the business.

3 [+ obj] : to pull back on (a gun's trigger) with your finger • He took aim and squeezed [=pulled] the trigger. — see also SQUEEZE OFF (below)

4 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move into or through a small or crowded space [no obj] We had to squeeze past/by the people in the aisles. • trying to squeeze into tight jeans • The cat squeezed through the opening. • We all squeezed into the elevator. • (Brit) Squeeze up [=move closer together], please. We need to make room for one more person. [+ obj] We can squeeze one more person in the back seat. • The instructor squeezed a lot of information into one week. • We were all squeezed [=squashed] into the elevator.

5 [+ obj] : to barely succeed at getting or doing (something) • The police squeezed a confession from her. — often + out • The team squeezed out a victory. • The police squeezed a confession out of her.

6 [+ obj] a : to decrease the amount of (something, such as money) • Rising costs have squeezed profits. b : to cause financial problems for (a business or organization) • The availability of music on the Internet has squeezed the record industry. c informal : to force (someone) to give you something or to do something by using threats or pressure • The banks are squeezing them for more money. • She tried to squeeze me for $100.

squeeze in [phrasal verb] squeeze (someone or something) in or squeeze in (someone or something) : to find time for (someone or something) • I can try to squeeze you in after my one o'clock appointment. • The teacher tried to squeeze in a few more lessons before school vacation.

squeeze off [phrasal verb] squeeze off (a round) : to fire (a shot) by squeezing the trigger of a gun • He quickly squeezed off four rounds.

squeeze out [phrasal verb] squeeze out (someone or something) or squeeze (someone or something) out : to force (someone or something) out of a position, place, etc. • The city's low-income residents have been squeezed out [=have been forced to leave their homes] by rising real estate prices. • These big stores have squeezed out a lot of the smaller locally owned shops.

2 squeeze noun, pl squeezes

1 [singular] : a situation in which people or things are crowded together • Fifty guests will be a bit of a squeeze. • It'll be a tight squeeze, but we can all fit.

2 [count] : an act of squeezing something — usually singular • He gave the bottle a good squeeze. • She gave his hand a squeeze. [=she squeezed his hand]

3 [count] : a small amount that is gotten or removed from something (such as a piece of fruit) by squeezing it — often + of • a squeeze of lemon/lime

4 a [count] : a situation in which there is not enough of something — usually singular • There is a serious housing squeeze [=shortage] in the city. [=there are not enough houses, apartments, etc., available] • a credit squeeze [=a situation in which it is difficult for people, companies, etc., to get credit] b the squeeze informal : a situation that causes feelings of stress and pressure • We are really feeling the squeeze since I lost my job. • The government is putting the squeeze on tax evaders.

5 [noncount] chiefly US slang : a romantic partner : a boyfriend or girlfriend • So who's your current squeeze? • She's my main squeeze.

squeeze bottle noun, pl ~tles [count] : a plastic bottle that forces out its contents when it is squeezed : a squeezable bottle snelch /'skwɛlʃ/ verb snelch-es; snelched; snelch-ing [+ obj] US : to stop (something) from continuing by doing or saying something • A statement was made to snelch [=squash, scotch, quash] the rumors. • Police snelched [=quelled] the protest. = The protest was snelched by police.

squib /'skwɪb/ noun, pl squibs [count] : a small firecracker damp squib Brit : something that is disappointing because it is not as exciting or effective as expected • The stock turned out to be something of a damp squib.

squib kick noun, pl ~ kicks [count] American football : a kickoff in which the ball is kicked so that it bounces along the ground

squid /'skwɪd/ noun, pl squid or squids [count] : a sea animal that has a long, thin, soft body and 10 long arms

squid

squig-gle /'skwɪɡəl/ noun, pl squig-gles [count] : a short line with many curves : a short, wavy line

• His handwriting looks like a bunch of squiggles.

– squig-gly /'skwɪɡli/ adj squig-gly-er; -est • squiggly lines

1 squint /'skwɪnt/ verb squints; squint-ed; squint-ing

1 [no obj] : to look at something with your eyes partly closed • She had to squint to read the small print. • They were squint-ing into the sun. [=looking toward the sun with their eyes partly closed] • He squinted through the haze of smoke.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (your eyes) to partly close • I had to squint my eyes to focus on the tiny letters.

3 [no obj] chiefly Brit : to have a medical condition that makes your eyes unable to look in the same direction • I noticed that he squints.

2 squint noun, pl squints

1 [singular] : a condition in which you are looking at something with your eyes partly closed : an act of squinting • Her gaze narrowed into a squint.

2 [count] chiefly Brit : a medical condition in which your eyes are unable to look in the same direction — usually singular • She was born with a squint.

3 [singular] Brit, informal : a quick look — + at • He took a squint at the document. • Have a squint at this.

squinty /'skwɪnti/ adj squint-i-er; -est of the eyes : partly closed or seeming to be partly closed • He looked at me with squinty eyes. • a squinty-eyed scowl squire /'skwɪə/ noun, pl squires [count]

1 : a young man in the Middle Ages who helped a knight before eventually becoming a knight himself

2 : a man in the past in England who owned most of the land in a village or district in the country

3 Brit, informal + old-fashioned — used to address a man whose name is unknown • “Where to, squire?” asked the taxi driver.

squirm /'skwɜːm/ verb squirms; squirmed; squirm-ing [no obj] : to make a lot of twisting movements because you are nervous, uncomfortable, bored, etc. • The baby squirmed a lot when I tried to hold him. • She squirmed under her father's angry stare. • The children squirmed with delight. • He tried to hold onto her but she squirmed free. • The frog squirmed out of his hands. • The gory details of the story had me squirming in my seat. — sometimes used figuratively • a Congressional investigation that is making the industry squirm [=making people in the industry very nervous and uncomfortable]

– squirm-y /'skwɜːmi/ adj squirm-i-er; -est • an audience of squirm-y kids

1 squir-rel /'skwɪrəl, Brit 'skwɪrəl/ noun, pl squir-rels also squirrel [count] : a small animal with a long tail and soft fur that lives in trees — see picture at RODENT

2 squirrel verb -rels; US -reled or Brit -relled; US -rel-ing or Brit -rel-ling squirrel away [phrasal verb] squirrel away (something) or squirrel (something) away : to put (something) in a safe or secret place especially so that it can be kept for future use • She's squirreled a lot of money away in a secret bank account. • Most of his money is squirreled away somewhere.

squir-rel-ly also squir-rely /'skwɪrəli, Brit 'skwɪrəli/ adj [more ~; most ~] US, informal

1 : tending to move around a lot : RESTLESS • It was the end of the school year, when all the kids get a little squirrely.

2 : very odd, silly, or foolish • squirrely behavior

1 squirt /'skwɜːt/ verb squirts; squirt-ed; squirt-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to suddenly force (a liquid) out through a small opening • He squirted some oil on the door hinge. • She squirted ketchup all over her fries. • Some snakes can squirt venom from their mouths. b [no obj] of a liquid : to suddenly be forced out through a small opening • Water squirted out from/of a hole in the pipe. • Juice from the lemon squirted into my eye.

2 [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) wet with a stream of liquid — often + with • My brother squirted me with the hose. [=made me wet with water from the hose] • He squirted the door hinge with oil.

²squirt noun, pl squirts [count]

1 : a small amount of liquid that is produced by squeezing or squirting something — often + of • He added a squirt of lemon (juice) to the fish.

2 informal a : an annoying person who is small and usually young • an annoying little squirt who kept pestering me • Listen squirt, I'm in charge here. b : CHILD • She started playing guitar when she was just a little squirt.

squirt gun noun, pl ~ guns [count] US : WATER PISTOL

squish /'skwɪʃ/ verb squish-es; squished; squish-ing

1 [+ obj] : to press (something) into a flatter shape : SQUASH • She squished the bug. • The cake accidentally got squished.

2 : to move into a space that is tight or crowded : SQUASH [no obj] We squished together to make more room. [+ obj] We managed to squish four people in the backseat of the car. — often used as (be) squished • Four of us were squished together in the backseat.

3 [no obj] : to make the sound that is made when something very wet is pressed, stepped on, etc. • His wet shoes squished when he walked.

squishy /'skwɪʃi/ adj squish-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : soft and often wet • The ground was wet and squishy. • squishy cushions

Sr. (chiefly US) or Brit Sr abbr 1 senior 2 sister

SS abbr 1 saints 2 Social Security 3 steamship

SSN abbr Social Security number st abbr, Brit stone • She weighs 7st 5lbs. [=7 stone and 5 pounds]

St. (chiefly US) or Brit St abbr 1 saint 2 street

-st symbol — used in writing after the number 1 for the word first • He's in the 1st [=first] grade. • It is her 21st birthday.

¹stab /'stæb/ noun, pl stabs [count]

1 : a wound made by a pointed weapon (such as a knife) • He died from a stab to the heart. [=died from being stabbed in the heart] • a stab wound/victim

2 : a sudden, strong feeling of physical or emotional pain — + of • a stab of pain/regret/doubt/fear

3 informal : an attempt to do something successfully — often + at • She took/made a stab at solving the problem. [=she made an attempt to solve the problem] • Let me give it a stab. = Let me have a stab at it [=let me try to do it] a stab in the back : an action or way of behaving that hurts someone who trusts you : an act of betrayal • I can't believe that someone I had helped and supported would steal from me. It's a real stab in the back.

a stab in the dark 1 : a guess that is based on very little or no information or evidence • They don't really know how much the work will cost. They're just taking a stab [=shot] in the dark. 2 : an attempt that is not likely to succeed • It's a stab [=shot] in the dark, but we should try anyway.

²stab verb stabs; stabbed; stab-bing

1 [+ obj] : to wound (someone or something) with a pointed weapon (such as a knife) • He stabbed her with a dagger. • The victim was stabbed in the chest five times.

2 : to quickly or suddenly push a pointed object into or toward someone or something [+ obj] He stabbed the piece of meat with a fork. = He stabbed the fork into the piece of meat. • She stabbed [=jabbed] the air with her pen as she spoke. [no obj] — often + at • She stabbed at the dead animal with a stick.

stab (someone) in the back : to hurt (someone who trusts you) by not giving help or by doing something morally wrong : to betray (someone) • He's the kind of person who gets you to trust him but then stabs you in the back.

¹stab-bing /'stæbɪŋ/ noun, pl -bings [count] : an attack in which someone is wounded with a pointed weapon (such as a knife) • a fatal stabbing

²stabbing adj, always used before a noun

1 : of or relating to a stabbing • a stabbing victim [=a person who has been stabbed] • a stabbing death

2 : felt very suddenly in part of your body : very sharp and sudden • She felt a stabbing pain in her back.

sta-bil-i-ty /stə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of being stable; such as a : the quality or state of something that is not easily changed or likely to change • the country's political and economic stability b : the quality or state of something that is not easily moved • Test the platform for stability before using it. c : the quality or state of someone who is emotionally or mentally healthy • There are some questions about the applicant's mental stability.

sta-bi-lize also Brit sta-bi-lise /'sterbə,laɪz/ verb -liz-es; -lized; -liz-ing

1 : to become stable or to make (something) stable; such as a : to stop quickly changing, increasing, getting worse, etc.

[no obj] The country's population has stabilized at 3.2 million. • Prices have stabilized. [+ obj] The government's efforts to stabilize prices have not succeeded. • Even the administration's most vocal critics agree that the President has succeeded in stabilizing the economy. — opposite DESTABILIZE b [+ obj] : to make (something) less easily moved • We'll use ropes to stabilize the platform. c [+ obj] technical : to give (something) a chemical structure or to put (something) into a physical state that does not change easily • a process that stabilizes the vaccine

2 [+ obj] : to make (something) steady • drugs that stabilize a patient's heartbeat • The pilots were able to stabilize the airplane and land safely.

— sta-bi-li-za-tion also Brit sta-bi-li-sa-tion /,sterbələ-'zeɪʃən, Brit ,sterbə,laɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • political/economic stabilization sta-bi-liz-er also Brit sta-bi-lis-er /'sterbə,laɪzə/ noun, pl -ers

1 [count] : a device or substance that is used to make something stable or steady; such as a : a device that is used to keep a ship steady in rough seas b : the part of an airplane's tail that cannot be moved c : a substance that is added to something (such as a food mixture) to keep it in a desired condition

2 stabilisers [plural] Brit : TRAINING WHEELS

¹sta-ble /'steɪbəl/ adj sta-ble-er; sta-blest [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : in a good state or condition that is not easily changed or likely to change • a stable community/government • They have a stable relationship. • Children need to be raised in a stable environment. • a stable income • The economy is stable. b medical : not getting worse or likely to get worse • The patient is stable. • (US) She is in stable condition after suffering multiple injuries. = (Brit) She is in a stable condition after suffering multiple injuries.

2 : not easily moved • Make sure the platform is stable. • The ladder doesn't seem very stable. [=secure]

3 : emotionally or mentally healthy : calm and reasonable • a mentally/emotionally stable person

4 technical : having a chemical structure or physical state that does not change easily • a stable compound/element

²stable noun, pl stables [count]

1 : a building in which horses are kept, fed, and cared for • She rode the horse back to the stable. • a horse stable — sometimes used in the plural form stables especially to mean a place where horses are kept for riding lessons • She rode the horse back to the stables. • riding stables

2 a : the group of racehorses that belong to the same owner • There have been three winners from his stable this season.

b : a group of people (such as athletes, writers, or performers) who work for or are trained by the same person, organization, or business • a stable of actors/writers c : a group of products that are made by the same company • A new model will be added to the car company's stable of sedans.

³stable verb sta-bles; sta-bled; sta-bling [+ obj] : to put or keep (a horse) in a stable • She stabled the horse. • Where do you stable your horses?

sta-ble-mate /'steɪbəl,meɪt/ noun, pl -mates [count] : a horse, person, product, etc., that belongs to the same stable as another horse, person, product, etc. • horses that are stablemates • a new car model and its stablemates

stac-ca-to /stə'kɑ:tou/ adj

1 music : short and not sounding connected • staccato notes/chords • the staccato blasts of a horn — compare LEGATO

2 : sudden and brief • the dialogue's staccato sentences • staccato movements

— staccato adv • playing/singing staccato

¹stack /'stæk/ noun, pl stacks

1 [count] : a usually neat pile : a group of things that are put one on top of the other • He had arranged the letters in stacks. • She took a magazine from near the top of the stack. — often + of • a stack of dishes/papers — see also HAYSTACK

2 [count] : a large amount of something — usually + of • There is a stack of evidence against her. • They have stacks of money.

3 [count] : a tall chimney on a factory, ship, etc., for carrying smoke away : SMOKESTACK

4 the stacks : the rows of shelves where books are stored in a library • I couldn't find the book in the stacks.

blow your stack see ¹BLOW

²stack verb stacks; stacked; stack-ing

1 : to arrange (things) in a stack : to put (things) in a usually neat pile [+ obj] She spent the afternoon splitting and stack-ing firewood. • She stacked the plates in the cupboard. • He stacked the books on the table. — often + up • She stacked the wood up against the fence. [no obj] The chairs don't stack. [=the chairs cannot be put in a stack; the chairs cannot be stacked]

2 [+ obj] a : to cheat at a card game by arranging (a deck of cards) in a special way • The other players accused him of stacking the deck b — used to describe a situation in which one person, team, etc., is given an advantage over others often in a way that is unfair • In many ways, the cards are stacked against immigrants. [=immigrants face unfair and difficult circumstances] • There are things you can do to stack the odds in your favor. [=to make it more likely for you to win, succeed, etc.] • The odds are stacked against you. [=the odds are against you; you do not have a good or fair chance of winning, succeeding, etc.]

stack up [phrasal verb] 1 : to increase in number or amount to a total that is difficult to deal with • Cars quickly stacked up behind the bus. • My bills are stacking up. [=piling up] 2 : to be good enough or equally good • The camera doesn't stack up [=measure up] when it comes to performance. • This model stacks up well when compared with other cameras. [=the camera is as good as or better than others] 3 stack up against (something or someone) or stack (something or someone) up against (something or someone) : to compare (something or someone) with others of the same kind • How does this computer stack up against other models? [=how good is it compared to other models?] • How does he stack up against the other candidates? • The camera does pretty well when you stack it up against the competition.

stack-able /'stækəbəl/ adj : able to be arranged in a stack • The chairs are stackable. • stackable plastic crates stacked /'stækt/ adj, informal + impolite, of a woman : having large breasts sta-di-um /'stɛɪdijəm/ noun, pl -ums [count] : a very large usually roofless building that has a large open area surrounded by many rows of seats and that is used for sports events, concerts, etc.

¹staff /'stæf, Brit 'sta:f/ noun, pl staffs or staves /'steɪvz/

1 pl staffs a : a group of people who work for an organization or business [count] The entire staff has done a great job this year. • The staff is at a meeting. • a teaching/sales/editorial/coaching/pitching staff • the hospital/library/kitchen staff • The department has a staff of 40 (people). • She's a new member of the staff. • He has been on the staff [=a member of the staff] for 25 years. [noncount] (US) There are 100 people on staff [=working as members of the staff] • (Brit) She's a new member of staff • a staff member/director/writer/meeting — see also WAITSTAFF b [count] : a group of military officers who help a commanding officer but who do not take part in active fighting • The general's staff is planning the army's next move. — see also CHIEF OF STAFF, JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF usage Staff may be used as a plural noun to mean the members of a staff. • The company employs 20 full-time staff. • The staff are at a meeting.

2 pl staves [count] a old-fashioned : a long stick that you carry in your hand for support while walking b : a long stick that is carried as a symbol of authority • a bishop's staff 3 pl staves [count] music : the five horizontal lines and the spaces between them on which music is written — called also stave

staff of life literary : a basic food; especially : BREAD

²staff verb staffs; staffed; staff-ing [+ obj]

1 : to supply (an organization or business) with workers • We'll need 300 workers to properly staff the hotel. — often used as (be) staffed • The department is staffed with an equal number of men and women. • The office is fully staffed. — see also OVERSTAFFED, SHORT-STAFFED, UNDERSTAFFED

2 : to work for (an organization or business) as a member of a staff • the 300 workers who staff the hotel — often used as (be) staffed • The organization is staffed by volunteers.

— staffing adj • staffing needs/problems/levels

staff-er /'stæfə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : a member of a staff • newspaper staffers • a congressional staffer [=a person who is a member of a congressman's or congresswoman's staff]

staff nurse noun, pl ~ nurses [count] : a nurse who is on the staff of a hospital — compare CHARGE NURSE staff officer noun, pl ~ -cers [count] : an officer who is a member of a military commander's staff staff sergeant noun, pl ~ -geants [count] : an officer in the army, air force, or marines with a rank above a sergeant stag /'stæg/ noun, pl stags or stag [count] : an adult male deer go stag US : to go to a party or other social event by yourself • He's going stag [=going alone] to the party. — see also STAG PARTY

¹stage /'steɪdʒ/ noun

1 [count] : a particular point or period in the growth or development of something • an early/late stage of the disease • children at the same stage of development • the first/last stage [=phase] of the plan

2 a : a raised platform in a theater, auditorium, etc., where the performers stand [count] The actors walked out onto the stage. • She has shared a stage with [=performed with] many great actors. • The band took the stage [=walked onto the stage] and the concert began. [noncount] He was on stage for the entire show. • an actor with a commanding stage presence [=an actor with a powerful quality that attracts attention on the stage] — see picture at THEATER; see also BACKSTAGE, CENTER STAGE, OFFSTAGE b [noncount] : the art or profession of acting and especially of acting in theaters • He is a star of stage [=theater], screen, and television. • She went on the stage [=became an actor] at age 15. • a stage actor/play

3 [singular] : a place or area of activity in which the things that happen are watched with great interest by many people • She has become an important figure on the national political stage. [=an important figure in national politics] • He has no intention of leaving the political stage. • The company wants to compete on the world stage.

4 [count] : a section of a rocket that has its own fuel and engine • a three-stage missile in stages : in a series of separate steps rather than all at one time • The changes will be made in stages. • The new law will be implemented in stages.

set the stage (for something) : to make (something) possible or likely • His discoveries set the stage for a revolution in medical research. • Her early training set the stage for her later success.

²stage verb stag-es; staged; stag-ing [+ obj]

1 : to produce (a play, performance, etc.) on a stage • The school stages two plays each year.

2 a : to organize and produce (a public event) • The students staged a protest/demonstration. • The school is staging a track meet. b : to arrange or do (something that is intended to get a lot of public attention) • The prisoners are staging a hunger strike. • The photograph of the two leaders shaking hands was deliberately staged.

3 : to succeed in doing or making (something) • His career as a singer appeared to be over, but then he staged a comeback • The company has staged a (remarkable) recovery in the past two years.

stage-coach /'steɪdʒ,kəʊtʃ/ noun, pl -coach-es [count] : a large carriage pulled by horses that was used in the past to carry passengers and mail along a regular route stage direction noun, pl ~ -tions [count] : a written instruction in a play telling an actor what to do stage door noun, pl ~ doors [count] : the door at the back of a theater that is used by actors and the people who work in the theater stage fright noun [noncount] : a nervous feeling felt by someone who is going to appear in front of an audience • She got over her stage fright by the second act. • I get stage fright whenever I have to speak in front of a large group of people.

stage-hand /'steɪdʒ,hænd/ noun, pl -hands [count] : someone who prepares the scenery, lights, etc., for a performance on a stage stage left adv : on the left side of a stage when you are on the stage and facing the audience • The actor exited stage left.

stage-man-age /'steɪdʒ,mæɪnɪdʒ/ verb -ag-es; -aged; -ag-ing

1 : to organize the details of (a performance in a theater) [+ obj] She stage-managed last year's production of the school play: [no obj] She was hired to stage-manage for the show. [=to be the show's stage manager]

2 [+ obj] : to carefully plan and arrange (something) in order to achieve a desired effect • The press conference was carefully stage-managed, and only approved questions were allowed. • He stage-managed his son's tennis career.

stage manager noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a person who is in charge of the stage, scenery, lighting, etc., for a performance in a theater stage name noun, pl ~ names [count] : a name used by an actor instead of the actor's real name stage right adv : on the right side of a stage when you are on the stage and facing the audience • The actor exited stage right.

stage-struck /'steɪdʒ, strʌk/ adj : very interested in the theater; especially : having an eager desire to become an actor • He was a stagestruck young man with dreams of stardom.

stage whisper noun, pl ~ -pers [count]

1 : a loud whisper by an actor that can be heard by the audience but which the other actors on the stage pretend not to hear

2 : a loud whisper that is intended to be heard by everyone • "I've had more than I can stand," she complained in a stage whisper.

stagey variant spelling of STAGY

stag-fla-tion /ˌstægˈfleɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : an economic situation in which prices of goods and services continually increase, many people do not have jobs, and businesses are not very successful stag-ger /'stægə/ verb -gers; -gered; -ger-ing

1 : to move or cause (someone) to move unsteadily from side to side [no obj] The drunk stagged away/off. • She stagged over to the sofa. [+ obj] A hard slap on the back stagged him.

2 [+ obj] : to shock or surprise (someone) very much • Their indifference stagges me. • It stagges me to see how much money they've spent on this project.

3 [+ obj] : to arrange (things) in a series of different positions or times • They stagged the runners' starting positions. • stagge work shifts — see also STAGGERED stagger noun, pl -ers [count] : an unsteady movement while walking or standing • He walked with a slight stagger.

staggered adj

1 : extremely shocked or surprised • I'm just staggered at/by her attitude.

2 : arranged so that things are positioned at different places or happen at different times • staggered finish lines • stagged conference dates stag-ger-ing /'stægərɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very large, shocking, or surprising • stagging medical bills • The storm caused a stagging amount of damage.

— stag-ger-ing-ly adv • The bills are staggingly large.

stag-ing /'steɪdʒɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 : the performance of a play on a stage [count] She has acted in several stagings [=productions] of the play. [noncount] The staging of the play was more difficult than expected.

2 [noncount] : a temporary raised platform that a person can sit or stand on while working • Once the staging [=scaffolding] is in place we can start painting the ceiling.

staging area noun, pl ~ areas [count] : a place where soldiers gather and military equipment is prepared before a mission staging post noun, pl ~ posts [count] : a place where people can stop for rest, supplies, etc., during a long journey

stag-nant /'stægnənt/ adj

1 : not flowing • a stagnant puddle • stagnant water/air

2 : not active, changing, or progressing • a stagnant economy • stagnant wages [=wages that are not increasing] stag-nate /'stæɡneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [no obj] : to stop developing, progressing, moving, etc. : to be or become stagnant • Wages have stagnated recently. • Their relationship is stagnating. • a puddle of stagnating water

— stag-na-tion /stægˈneɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

stag party noun, pl ~ -ties [count] : a party for men only that is usually on the night before a man's wedding — called also (Brit) stag night

stagy or stag-ey /'steɪdʒi/ adj stag-i-er; -est : looking or seeming like something from a performance on a stage rather than something natural • an artificial and stagy manner • a stagy gesture • The movie looks stagy.

staid /'steɪd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : serious, boring, or old-fashioned • a staid and solemn businessman • a staid demeanor/manner

— staid-ness noun [noncount]

stain /'steɪn/ verb stains; stained; stain-ing

1 a : to leave a mark on something [+ obj] The red wine stained the carpet. • a wine-stained carpet [no obj] Be careful—grape juice stains. b [no obj] : to be marked or damaged by a stain • This fabric stains easily.

2 [+ obj] : to use a special liquid to change the color of (something) • He stained the wood a dark cherry color.

3 [+ obj] : to damage or spoil (something, such as someone's reputation) • The accusations stained his reputation.

— stain-er /'steɪnə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

stain noun, pl stains [count]

1 : a mark made on a surface, a piece of clothing, etc., that is very hard or impossible to remove • There's a juice/wine stain on the floor. • She has a stain on her shirt. • Will those grass stains wash out? — see also BLOODSTAIN

2 : a special liquid that is used to change the color of something (such as wood or cloth)

3 : something that causes people to have less respect for someone : something that damages a person's reputation — usually singular • The accusation left a stain that followed him the rest of his life. • a stain on her honor/reputation — stain-less /'steɪnləs/ adj • He has a stainless reputation.

stained glass noun [noncount] : colored glass that is used to make pictures and patterns in windows • a cathedral with beautiful stained glass windows stainless steel noun [noncount] : a type of steel that does not rust stair /'steə/ noun, pl stairs

1 stairs [plural] : a series of steps that go from one level or floor to another • She ran down the stairs. • He waited at the foot/bottom of the stairs. • She slipped and fell down the stairs. • The stairs lead to the roof. • We had to climb another flight/set of stairs to get to the roof.

2 [count] : one of the steps in a set of stairs • a squeaky stair • He tripped on the bottom stair and almost fell.

3 [singular] literary : STAIRCASE • climbing the stair

stair-case /'steə, keɪs/ noun, pl -cas-es [count] : a set of stairs and its supporting structures • a wooden staircase — see also MOVING STAIRCASE, SPIRAL STAIRCASE

stair-climb-er /'steəˈklaɪmə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : an exercise machine on which you make a continuous series of upward steps like someone who is climbing stairs — see picture at GYM

stair-way /'steə, weɪ/ noun, pl -ways [count] : a set of stairs that go from one level or floor to another • He took the stairway up to the third floor. [=he went to the third floor by walking up the stairs]

stair-well /'steə, wel/ noun, pl -wells [count] : a space in a building where stairs are located stake /'steɪk/ noun, pl stakes

1 [count] : a pointed stick or post that is pushed into the ground especially to mark a place or to support something

2 the stake : a post that a person was tied to and burned on in the past as a form of punishment • Joan of Arc was burned at the stake.

3 stakes [plural] : something (such as money) that you could win or lose in a game, contest, etc. • a poker game with high stakes • The stakes are too high/low/big.

4 [count] a : an interest or share in a business • They have a stake in the company. [=they own part of the company] • a majority stake b : an interest or degree of involvement in something • We all have a stake in the health of our economy. [=the health of our economy affects us all]

at stake : in a position to be lost or gained • Millions of dollars are at stake in the battle over his inheritance. • Thousands of jobs are at stake. • Many lives are at stake. • My reputation is at stake if this project fails. [=my reputation will be lost/damaged if this project fails] go to the stake for/over Brit : to defend (something or someone) even though your actions or statements may cause you trouble or harm • She's willing to go to the stake for her beliefs.

pull up stakes US, informal : to leave your job or home • Her career was going nowhere, so she decided it was time to pull up stakes.

stake verb stakes; staked; stak-ing [+ obj]

1 : to risk the loss of (something, such as money) — usually + on • She staked [=bet, wagered] all her money on the race. • He staked [=risked] his reputation on the success of the new plan. • The corporation staked billions of dollars on the deal. • She staked everything on one last attempt. • That's the man who robbed the bank. I would stake my life on it [=I am absolutely sure]

2 : to support (something, such as a plant) with stakes • She staked the tomatoes to keep them from falling over.

stake out [phrasal verb] stake (something) out or stake out (something) 1 : to mark the limits of (an area) with stakes • stake out a mining area • We staked out the area where the pool will be installed. 2 : to watch (a place) secretly especially because you are looking for illegal activity • The police staked out the building until they caught the vandals. — see also STAKEOUT 3 : to state (your opinion) in a very clear and definite way • He staked out his position on this issue in a speech he gave last month.

stake (out) a/your claim : to say or show that you believe you should have something or that you deserve something • They staked their claim to the land. • With her strong showing in the early rounds of the tournament, she has staked her claim to be considered one of the favorites.

stakeholder /'steɪk,hoʊldə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person or business that has invested money in something (such as a company) • corporate stakeholders

2 : a person who holds the money that people have bet on something and then gives it to the winner stake-out /'steɪk,aut/ noun, pl -outs [count] : a situation in which the police secretly watch a place in order to look for illegal activity • The drug deal was witnessed during a stake-out of the building. • The police were on a stakeout — see also stake out at STAKE

stalactite /stə'lækt,taɪt, Brit 'stælək,taɪt/ noun, pl -tites [count] : a pointed piece of rock that hangs down from the roof of a cave and that is formed by dripping water which contains minerals stalagmite /stə'læg,maɪt, Brit 'stælæg-,maɪt/ noun, pl -mites [count] : a pointed piece of rock that sticks up from the floor of a cave and that is formed by dripping water which contains minerals stale /steɪl/ adj stal-er; -est [more ~; most ~]

1 a of food : no longer good or appealing : no longer fresh • stale food • stale bread b : not clean, clear, or pure : having an unpleasant taste or smell • stale air/water • a room filled with stale smoke

2 : not interesting or new : boring or unoriginal • stale news/jokes • Their relationship went stale. [=became dull or predictable]

3 : not as strong, effective, or energetic as before • She felt stale [=bored] in her job.

stalemate /'steɪl,meɪt/ noun, pl -mates

1 : a contest, dispute, competition, etc., in which neither side can gain an advantage or win [count] The budget debate ended in a stalemate. • The new agreement could break the stalemate. [noncount] The budget debate ended in stalemate.

2 [count, noncount] : a situation in chess in which a player cannot successfully move any of the pieces and neither player can win • The game ended in (a) stalemate. — compare CHECKMATE

— stalemate verb -mates; -mat-ed; -mat-ing [+ obj] • He was stalemated by the opposition.

stalk /stɑ:k/ noun, pl stalks [count]

1 : a thick or tall stem of a plant • a flower stalk • celery stalks — see color pictures on pages C4 and C6; see also CORNSTALK

2 : a thin, upright object or part that supports or connects something • the stalk of a goblet

stalk verb stalks; stalked; stalk-ing

1 [+ obj] a : to follow (an animal or person that you are hunting or trying to capture) by moving slowly and quietly • Lions stalked the herd. • a movie about a detective being stalked by a killer b : to go through (a place or area) while hunting • This is the time of year when hunters are stalking the woods for deer. — often used figuratively • A killer stalks the streets of the city. [=there is a killer somewhere in the city] • a city that is stalked by fear [=a city where people are in a constant state of fear]

2 [+ obj] : to follow, watch, and bother (someone) constantly in a way that is frightening, dangerous, etc. • She called the police because her ex-boyfriend was stalking her.

3 always followed by an adverb or a preposition [no obj] : to walk in a stiff or proud manner • She angrily stalked out of the room.

— stalk-ing /'stɑ:kɪŋ/ noun [noncount] • He was arrested and charged with stalking.

stalk-er /'stɑ:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who closely follows and watches another person for a long period of time in a way that is threatening, dangerous, etc. • a famous actress who is being threatened by a stalker • She has a stalker. [=someone is stalking her]

2 : a person who slowly and quietly hunts an animal • a deer stalker

stalking horse noun, pl ~ horses [count] : someone or something that is used to hide a true purpose; especially : a candidate for a political office or position who has no real chance of winning but is being used by a political party to weaken the support for an opposing party, to find out if another candidate might be successful, etc.

stall /stɑ:l/ noun, pl stalls

1 [count] : a small open counter or partially enclosed structure where things are displayed for sale • food stalls • a souvenir stall • a market stall • She set up a stall selling jewelry in the marketplace.

2 [count] : an enclosed area in a building where a farm animal (such as a horse or cow) is kept • She cleaned the horses' stalls.

3 [count] : a seat in a church that is wholly or partly enclosed • choir stalls

4 [count] chiefly US : a small, enclosed area with room for one person in a bathroom • shower stalls; especially : a small, enclosed area with a toilet • All the (bathroom) stalls were occupied.

5 the stalls Brit : the seats on the main level of a theater in front of the stage • Our tickets are for seats in the stalls. [= (US) the orchestra]

— compare STALL

stall verb stalls; stalled; stall-ing

1 of an engine : to stop suddenly because of a problem [no obj] The engine suddenly stalled. [+ obj] Stopping too quickly can stall the engine.

2 of an airplane : to stop flying suddenly and begin to fall because the wings cannot produce enough lift [no obj] The airspeed got very low and the plane nearly stalled. [+ obj] The pilot almost stalled the airplane.

3 [+ obj] : to put or keep (an animal) in a stall • They stalled the horses for the night.

— compare STALL

stall noun [singular] : a situation in which an engine suddenly stops or an airplane suddenly stops flying • an engine stall • The airplane went into a stall. — compare STALL

stall verb stalls; stalled; stalling

1 : to avoid doing something or to delay someone in a deliberate way because you need more time, do not want to do something, etc. [no obj] Please stop stalling and answer the question. [+ obj] Try to stall them until I get the place cleaned up.

2 : to stop progressing or developing [no obj] The economic recovery has stalled. • His career has stalled in recent years. [+ obj] Budget problems have stalled the project.

— compare STALL

stallholder /'stɑ:l,hoʊldə/ noun, pl -ers [count] Brit : someone who manages a stall at which goods are sold stallion /'stæljən/ noun, pl -lions [count] : an adult male horse and especially one that is used for breeding — compare GELDING stalwart /'stɑ:lwɔ:t/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : very loyal and dedicated • stalwart fans/supporters

2 : physically strong • their strong and stalwart son • stalwart fortifications

— stalwart-ly adv

stalwart noun, pl -warts [count] formal : a loyal supporter • party stalwarts [=people who support a political party very loyally] stamen /'steɪmən/ noun, pl -mens [count] botany : the part of a flower that produces pollen — see picture at FLOWER; compare PISTIL stamina /'stæmənə/ noun [noncount] : great physical or mental strength that allows you to continue doing something for a long time • Do you have the/enough stamina to finish the job?

stammer /'stæmə/ verb -mers; -mered; -mer-ing : to speak with many pauses and repetitions because you have a stalactite and stalagmite

speech problem or because you are very nervous, frightened, etc. [no obj] He stammers [=stutters] when he's nervous. [+ obj] "I d-don't know what you're talking about!" she stammered. • He stammered an excuse and fled.

– stammer noun [singular] • He develops a stammer [=stutter] when he's nervous. – stam-mer-er /'stæməɾə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 stamp /'stæmp/ noun, pl stamps

1 [count] a : a small piece of paper that you buy and then stick to an envelope or package to pay the cost of mailing it • a 39-cent stamp — called also postage stamp; see picture at MAIL b : a small piece of paper that is attached to something and that shows that a tax or fee has been paid — see also FOOD STAMP

2 [count] a : a device or tool that is used to mark something (such as a piece of paper) with a design, pattern, word, etc., by being pushed against a surface : a device or tool used for stamping something — see also RUBBER STAMP b : the mark made by a stamp • There was a stamp on the letter showing the date when it was received.

3 a [singular] : a sign of a special or specific quality — usually + of • Her poetry bears the stamp of genius. • His quiet manner gives/lends his words the stamp of authority. [=makes his words seem authoritative] b [count] : an indication of something — usually singular • She gave the plan her stamp of approval. [=she approved the plan] c [singular] : an important or lasting effect • He put/left his stamp on the process. [=he affected/changed the process in some important way]

4 [singular] literary : a particular kind or type • He was a man of a different stamp. [=he was a different sort of man]

5 [count] : the act of bringing your foot down heavily and noisily • an angry stamp of his foot

2 stamp verb stamps; stamped; stamp-ing

1 [+ obj] : to bring (your foot) down heavily and noisily • He stamped his foot in anger. • The fans cheered and stamped [=stomped] their feet as the team took the lead.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to walk heavily and noisily • She stamped [=stomped] off in a huff. • He stamped out of the room.

3 [+ obj] a : to use a special device (called a stamp) to put a design, word, etc., on something : to create a mark by pressing a special tool against a surface • She stamped the bill "paid." • He stamped the date on the letter. = He stamped the letter with the date. b [+ obj] : to form (something) with a device that presses down on a material and cuts out shapes • newly stamped coins

4 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to stay in your mind or memory • The event is stamped [=imprinted] in her mind.

5 [+ obj] : to attach a postage stamp to (something) • stamp a letter • a stamped envelope stamp as [phrasal verb] stamp (someone) as (something) : to show that (someone) is (a particular type of person) • The decision stamped him as a man of honor.

stamp on [phrasal verb] stamp on (something) 1 : to step heavily on (something) with your foot • She accidentally stamped on my toe. 2 : to end (something) in a forceful way • The city council stamped on any efforts to build a liquor store.

stamp out [phrasal verb] stamp (something) out or stamp out (something) 1 : to stop or destroy (something bad) • stamp out smallpox/corruption 2 : to stop (something) from burning by stepping on it forcefully with your feet • stamp out a fire • She stamped the cigarette out. [=she put out the cigarette by stepping on it]

– stamp-er noun, pl -ers [count]

stamp collecting noun [noncount] : the hobby of collecting postage stamps

– stamp collector noun, pl ~ -tors [count]

1 stamp-pede /stæm'pi:d/ noun, pl -pedes [count]

1 : an occurrence in which a large group of frightened or excited animals or people run together in a wild and uncontrolled way to escape from something, get out of a place, etc. • a buffalo stampede • a stampede to the exits

2 : a situation in which a lot of people try to do the same thing at the same time • a stampede to buy the stock • a stampede of new applicants

2 stampede verb -pedes; -ped-ed; -ped-ing

1 a [no obj] : to run away in a large group from something especially because of fear • The cattle stampeded. • People stampeded to the exits. b [+ obj] : to cause (animals) to run away in a large group • The gunshot stampeded the cattle.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (a person or a group of people) to do something suddenly and without proper thought — often used as (be) stampeded into • Don't let yourself be stampeded into doing something you don't really agree with.

stamping ground noun, pl ~ grounds [count] Brit : STOMPING GROUND stance /'stæns, Brit 'sta:ns/ noun, pl stanc-es [count]

1 : a publicly stated opinion — usually singular • He changed his stance after new evidence was discovered. • She has maintained a neutral stance [=position] during the negotiations. • She was criticized for her antiwar stance.

2 : a way of standing — usually singular • She adopted a casual/relaxed stance. • a batting stance [=the way someone stands to bat in baseball] stanch (chiefly US) or staunch /'stɑ:nʃ/ verb stanch-es or staunch-es; stanch-ed or staunch-ed; stanch-ing or staunch-ing [+ obj] : to stop something (especially blood) from flowing • He used a towel to try to stanch the (flow of) blood. • I applied pressure to stanch the wound. [=to stop the flow of blood from the wound]

stan-chion /'stænfən/ noun, pl -chions [count] : a strong, upright pole that is used to support something

1 stand /'stænd/ verb stands; stood /'stud/; stand-ing

1 [no obj] a : to be in an upright position with all of your weight on your feet • She was standing near the window. • He was standing next to me. • All of the seats on the bus were taken so we had to stand. • Don't just stand there (doing nothing)—do something! • He can stand using a cane. • You're standing on my foot. [=you're standing with your foot on top of my foot] • He was standing in a puddle of water. • The deer stood still, listening for danger. • The soldiers stood (up) straight. • We had to stand in line for over an hour. • People were just standing around [=standing without doing anything], waiting to get inside the theater. b : to move onto your feet from a sitting or low position • Please stand [=more formally rise] for the national anthem. — often + up • He stood up to greet her. • She was crouching down to look at something, but she stood up when she saw me.

2 a [no obj] : to be in an upright position • Two bowling pins were left standing. • A shovel and rake stood in the corner. • The house she grew up in is no longer standing. [=the house has been destroyed or knocked down; the house no longer exists] b [+ obj] : to put (something or someone) in an upright position • She stood the ladder against the house. — often + up • He stood the boy up on a chair. • Could you stand the picture frame back up?

3 [no obj] a always followed by an adverb or preposition : to be in a particular place or position • A clock stood on the mantelpiece. • The mansion stands on a hill. • A row of trees stands between the two houses. — often used figuratively • A single putt stands between her and the title. [=if she makes the putt, she will win the title] • Go ahead and leave. I won't stand in your way. [=I won't try to stop you] • We won't let anyone or anything stand in the way of our happiness. [=prevent us from being happy] b : to remain in a place or position without moving or being moved • The plane stood on the runway ready for takeoff. • The machine stood idle. • rainwater standing in stagnant pools • Add the water and let the mixture stand for three minutes.

4 not used in progressive tenses [no obj] : to be a specified height • He stands six feet two (inches tall). • The tower stands over 1,000 feet high.

5 [no obj] : to be in a particular state or situation • Where do we stand financially? [=what is our financial condition?] • She stands accused of murder. [=she has been accused of murder]

6 [no obj] : to have a particular belief or opinion about something • Where do you stand on the death penalty? Do you think it should be used or not? • We still don't know where he stands on this issue. • They stand divided [=they disagree] on this issue. • She stands for/against the new regulations. [=she supports/opposes the new regulations] • We ask you to stand (with us) in support of this proposal. [=we ask you to support this proposal] • From where I stand, I think we have to do it.

7 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to have a particular rank or position within a group • The team still stands [=ranks] first in the division. • She is currently standing in second place. • (chiefly Brit) He stands high/low with the voters. [=the voters have a good/bad opinion of him]

8 [no obj] : to continue to be at a specified number or amount — often + at • Interest rates stand at 13 percent. • The home run record stands at 73.

9 [no obj] : to not be changed : to remain valid or effective • The decision still stands. • The record she set seems likely to stand for many years.

10 [no obj] : to exist at the present time • You must take or leave our offer as it stands. • That is how the situation stands at present. • As things stand, we will not be able to meet your deadline.

11 [no obj] : to be in a position in which you are likely to gain or lose something — followed by to + verb • We stand to make a sizable profit from the sale. • They stand to lose their home if they can't find a way to pay their bills.

12 [+ obj] a : to be willing or able to accept (something or someone unpleasant) without complaint — usually used with can, can't, cannot, could, and couldn't • Can you stand [=tolerate, put up with] waiting a few more minutes? = Can you stand to wait a few more minutes? • How can you stand her friends? • He couldn't stand [=bear, endure] the pain. • I can only stand so much of your nonsense. • His behavior was more than I could stand. • I couldn't stand the thought/idea of having to move again. b — used to say that someone strongly dislikes a person or thing • I can't stand him. [=I hate him] • She can't stand cooking. = She can't stand to cook. • They can't stand being apart. • I can't stand it when people behave like that!

13 [+ obj] : to not be harmed by (something) : WITHSTAND • I need a frying pan that can stand being placed in the oven. • These plants can stand [=endure] very cold temperatures. • His plays have stood the test of time. [=his plays are still read by many people today]

14 [+ obj] — used to say that someone or something should have or do something or would be helped by something; usually used after could • You look like you could stand some sleep. [=you look very tired; you look like you need some sleep] • He could stand losing a few pounds. = He could stand to lose a few pounds. • That bush could stand to be trimmed. [=that bush needs to be trimmed]

15 [no obj] Brit : to be a candidate in an election for a particular office — often + for • He is standing [= (US) running] for a seat in Parliament.

16 [+ obj] Brit, informal : to pay for (a meal or drink) • I'll stand a meal for you. = I'll stand you a meal. • He stood drinks for the table.

(as) sure as I'm standing here US, informal — used to say that you believe that something is certainly true, will happen, etc. • They may claim that this was a surprise to them, but as sure as I'm standing here, they planned it all along.

I stand corrected see ²CORRECT make your hair stand on end see HAIR not have a leg to stand on see ¹LEG

stand a chance see ¹CHANCE

stand alone 1 : to be in a position or situation in which you are not helped or supported by others • She stood alone in her opposition to the proposal. 2 — used to say that someone or something is better than all others • For great sound quality, this system stands alone.

stand aside [phrasal verb] 1 : move to the left or right with one or a few small steps • Please stand aside and let me pass. 2 : to allow something to happen : to not try to stop someone from doing something • I'm not going to stand aside [=stand by] and watch you ruin your life.

stand back [phrasal verb] 1 : to take a few steps backwards • The paramedics told the crowd to stand back. 2 : to stop doing something or being actively involved in something for a time so that you can think about it and make decisions in a calm and reasonable way • It's time to stand back [=step back] and take a long hard look at your problems.

stand behind [phrasal verb] stand behind (someone or something) : to support (someone or something) • I'll stand behind you no matter what you decide to do. • I'll stand behind your decision 100 percent.

stand by [phrasal verb] 1 : to stand or be present without taking any action while something is happening • A group of students stood by and watched the boys fight. • How can you stand by and do nothing? 2 : to be ready or available for use • An ambulance was standing by in case anyone got seriously injured. • Operators are standing by (to take your calls). — see also ¹STANDBY 3 stand by (something) a : to support or defend (something) • He said that he was standing by what he said earlier. • I stand by my actions and have no regrets. b : to act in the way that is required by (something, such as belief or promise) • She stood by her promise. 4 stand by (someone) : to remain loyal to (someone) : to continue to support (someone) • They promised to stand by each other until the end. • She stood by her husband throughout the trial.

stand down [phrasal verb] Brit 1 : to leave the witness stand in a court of law • The judge thanked the witness and allowed her to stand down. 2 : to leave a job or official position • He stood down [=stepped down] (from his office) as Lord Mayor. • She stood down in favour of a more popular candidate.

stand firm : to refuse to change your decision, position, etc. • The judge stood firm in her ruling.

stand for [phrasal verb] stand for (something) 1 : to have (a specified meaning) • "FYI" stands for "for your information." • The sign @ stands for "at." • The color white often stands for [=represents] innocence and purity. 2 : to support (something) • The political party has always stood for reform. 3 : to allow (something) to continue to happen — usually used in negative statements • I will not stand for [=put up with] any more of this nonsense. — see also ¹STAND 15 (above) stand guard/watch : to stand in a position and guard or watch someone or something in order to look for possible danger, threats, etc. • A soldier stood guard by the door.

stand in [phrasal verb] : to take the place of (someone who is away for a time) • He can't be here today, so he asked me to stand in. [=fill in] — often + for • He asked me to stand in for him while he was away. — see also ¹STAND-IN stand on ceremony see CEREMONY stand on your head/hands : to be in a position in which your legs and feet are straight up in the air and your weight is supported by your head or hands • She can stand on her head/hands. [=she can do a headstand/handstand]

stand on your own two feet see ¹FOOT stand or fall — used to say that the future or success of someone or something depends on another person or thing • We (will) stand or fall by their decision. [=their decision will control what happens to us] • Our company will stand or fall on our ability to make better products than our competitors. [=our success or failure depends on our ability to make better products than our competitors]

stand out [phrasal verb] 1 : to be easily seen or noticed • His bright tie made him stand out (in the crowd). • The trees' red leaves stood out against the gray sky. 2 : to be better or more important than the other people or things in a group in a way that is easily seen or noticed • As a student, she stood out above/from the rest. • Only one contestant really stands out [=sticks out] in my mind. • Two facts stand out from her testimony. • His performance really stood out. 3 : to stick out from a surface • The hat made her ears stand out. — see also ¹STANDOUT

stand out like a sore thumb see ¹SORE

stand pat see ³PAT

stand someone/something in good stead see STEAD stand tall : to stand with your body very straight — often used figuratively in U.S. English • We can stand tall and take pride in what we've accomplished. • Despite the criticism, he has continued to stand tall.

stand to reason see ¹REASON stand trial : to be on trial in a court of law • He is standing trial for the murder of his wife.

stand up [phrasal verb] 1 : to remain valid or acceptable when tested or examined • We need evidence that will stand up in court. 2 stand (someone) up informal : to fail to meet or keep an appointment with (someone) • You stood me up yesterday. • I got stood up by my date. 3 stand up for (someone or something) : to defend (someone or something) against attack or criticism • He stood up for his friend. • You have to stand up for yourself. • They were standing up for their rights. 4 stand up to (someone) : to refuse to accept bad treatment from (someone) • She finally stood up to the girl who had been teasing her at school. 5 stand up to (something) : to remain in good condition despite (something) • These boots have stood up to [=withstood] a lot of abuse. 6 stand up and be counted : to make your opinions or beliefs publicly known especially when such action may cause trouble • It's time for everyone who cares about this issue to stand up and be counted. — see also ¹STAND 1b, 2b (above), ¹STAND-UP

stand your ground see ¹GROUND

²stand noun, pl stands

1 [count] : a strongly held opinion about something — usually singular • The senator took a firm/strong stand against higher taxes. — often + on • What is your stand on this issue?

2 [count] : a strong effort to defend yourself or oppose something • The team insured their victory with an impressive goal-line stand. • The army is preparing to make a stand against the enemy. • students making a stand against the war
3 [count] : a partially enclosed structure where things are sold or displayed • a hot-dog/ice-cream/vegetable stand • He set up a stand [=booth] at the fair. • We have display stands in many bookstores. • concession stands • a roadside stand — see also NEWSSTAND

4 [count] : a device or piece of furniture that holds an object in an upright position • an umbrella stand • a bicycle/microphone stand — see also NIGHTSTAND, WASHSTAND

5 [count] : a raised platform for people (such as performers or hunters) to stand on

6 the stands : the rows of seats in a stadium that people sit in when they are watching a sports event, concert, etc. • The ball was hit into the stands. — see also GRANDSTAND

7 the stand : the place where a witness testifies in court : WITNESS STAND • She lied while on the stand. • The witness was asked to take the stand.

8 [count] chiefly US : a series of performances, games, etc., that are at a particular place for a period of time • The magician was booked for a three-night stand. • (baseball) The team has a six-game stand at home. = The team has a 6-game home stand. — see also ONE-NIGHT STAND

9 [count] : a group of plants growing close together • a stand of pines

— see also HANDSTAND, HEADSTAND, TAXI STAND

stand-alone /'stændə'loun/ adj : able to operate without control from another system, company, etc. • stand-alone computers • stand-alone businesses

¹stand-ard /'stændəd/ noun, pl -dards

1 a : a level of quality, achievement, etc., that is considered acceptable or desirable [count] high/low standards of quality • His work is not up to our standards. [=is not as good as we require it to be] • By modern/today's standards, the house is just too small. • industry standards • Their standards are slipping. [noncount] His work is not up to standard. = His work is below standard. [=his work is not good enough] — see also DOUBLE STANDARD, STANDARD OF LIVING b standards [plural] : ideas about morally correct and acceptable behavior • She has high moral standards. [=principles]

2 [count] : something that is very good and that is used to make judgments about the quality of other things • This book is the standard by which all others must be judged.
3 [count] : a fixed official unit of measurement • a standard of weight — see also GOLD STANDARD

4 [count] : a flag that is used in official ceremonies

5 [count] : a song that has been sung by many different artists • an old standard

²standard adj

1 : regularly and widely used, seen, or accepted : not unusual or special • a standard approach/treatment • the standard features/colors • a standard medical procedure • standard weight • a window of standard width • The movie was a pretty standard romantic comedy.

2 : generally accepted and used because of high quality or excellence • standard reference works

3 : accepted and used by most of the educated speakers and writers of a language • standard spelling/English • The word is considered standard. — opposite NONSTANDARD; compare SUBSTANDARD stan-dard-bear-er /'stændəd,berə/ noun, pl -ers [count] formal

1 : the leader of an organization, movement, or political party

2 : someone who carries a flag or banner stan-dard-is-sue /'stændəd,iʃu:/ adj : of the common or usual type • a standard-issue [=typical] action movie • a standard-issue blue suit

stan-dard-ize also Brit stan-dard-ise /'stændə,dəiz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -izing [+ obj] : to change (things) so that they are similar and consistent and agree with rules about what is proper and acceptable • He standardized procedures for the industry. • standardized tests

— stan-dard-i-za-tion also Brit stan-dard-i-sa-tion /,stændədə'zeɪʃən, Brit ,stændə,dəɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun [non-count]

standard lamp noun, pl ~ lamps [count] Brit : FLOOR LAMP standard of living noun [singular] : the amount of wealth, comfort, and possessions that a person or group has • People in that area enjoy a high standard of living. [=they have a lot of money and are able to live very comfortably] • raising/lowering/improving our standard of living standard time noun [noncount] : the official time of a particular region or country

¹stand-by /'stænd,bai/ noun, pl stand-bys /'stænd,bəiz/ [count] : a person or thing that is available especially in emergencies • More police officers were sent as standbys. • We bought an electric generator as a standby. — see also stand by at ¹STAND on standby 1 : ready or available for immediate action or use • The police officers were put on standby. 2 : ready to travel if a ticket becomes available • We're on standby for the next flight to Washington, D.C.

²standby adj, always used before a noun : relating to or traveling by an airline service in which the passenger must wait for an available seat • standby tickets/passengers — see also stand by at ¹STAND stand-ee /stæn'di:/ noun, pl -ees [count] chiefly US : a person who is standing when other people are sitting • The audience of 3,000 included several hundred standees.

stand-in /'stænd,in/ noun, pl -ins [count] : a person or thing that takes the place of someone or something else for a period of time • He was the boss's stand-in during her illness. — see also stand in at ¹STAND

¹stand-ing /'stændɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun

1 a : used in or for standing • Start the exercise in a standing position. b : done while in a standing position • a standing jump

2 : not flowing : STAGNANT • standing water

3 : remaining at the same level or amount until canceled • The standing offer for the computer system is $1,499.

4 : continuing to exist or be used for an unlimited period of time : PERMANENT • standing armies/committees • She has a standing invitation to use the university's research laboratory. • a standing tradition • It's a standing joke at the office. [=it's something that often happens or is said or done and that the people in the office think is funny] — see also FREE-STANDING, LONG-STANDING

²standing noun, pl -ings

1 [count] : the position or rank of someone in a group • He's trying to improve his standing with the voters. [=trying to get the voters to rank him more highly] • a lawyer of high standing • (chiefly US) a member in/of good standing [=status]

2 standings [plural] US, sports : a list that shows the positions of the players or teams that are competing against each other • They've won five games in a row and are starting to move up in the standings. • They're in first place in the current standings.

3 [noncount] : length of existence : DURATION • a marriage of many years' standing standing order noun, pl ~ -ders [count, noncount] : an order or procedure that continues to be followed until it is changed or canceled • She placed a standing order for fresh flowers every week. • They were on standing orders never to leave the prisoner unattended.

standing ovation noun, pl ~ -tions [count] : an occurrence in which the people at a play, speech, sporting event, etc., stand up and applaud to show enthusiastic approval or appreciation • The crowd gave her a standing ovation. — called also (US, informal) standing O

standing room noun [noncount] : space available for people to stand after all seats are filled • There was standing room only at the concert. [=all the seats for the concert had been sold]

stand-off /'stænd,ɔ:f/ noun, pl -offs [count] : an argument, contest, etc., in which there is no winner • The two governments are currently in a standoff over who has rights to the land. • They played to a 3–3 standoff. [=tie] stand-off-ish /,stænd'ɔ:fɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not friendly toward other people • She tends to be a bit standoff-ish with strangers.

stand-out /'stænd,aut/ noun, pl -outs [count] US : a person or thing that is better or more important than the others in a group • She is a standout among the available candidates. • All the cameras we tested were good, but there was no real standout. — often used before another noun • a standout candidate/performance — see also stand out at ¹STAND stand-point /'stænd,point/ noun, pl -points [count] : a way in which something is thought about or considered stand-still /'stænd,stil/ noun [singular] : a state in which all activity or motion is stopped • Production is at a standstill. [=production has stopped completely] • The accident brought traffic to a standstill.

: POINT OF VIEW • From an economic standpoint, the policy is sound.

¹stand-up /'stænd,ʌp/ adj, always used before a noun

1 a : done by a performer who is standing alone on a stage • stand-up comedy • a stand-up act/routine b : performing stand-up comedy • a stand-up comedian/comic

2 : done in or requiring a standing position • a stand-up lunch/bar

3 : designed to stand upright • a stand-up collar

4 US, informal : able to be trusted and respected : very good, loyal, etc. • His friends say he's a real stand-up (kind of) guy.

5 Brit : involving very angry or violent behavior • a stand-up fight/argument — see also stand up at ¹STAND

²stand-up noun, pl -ups

1 [noncount] : stand-up comedy • I've always wanted to try stand-up.

2 [count] : a performer who does stand-up comedy : a stand-up comedian • a talented stand-up

stank past tense of ¹STINK

stan-za /'stænzə/ noun, pl -zas [count] : a group of lines in a poem : VERSE

staph /'stæf/ noun [noncount] medical : a group of bacteria that cause many common illnesses (such as skin infections and food poisoning) • a resistant strain of staph • a staph infection

¹sta-ple /'steɪpəl/ noun, pl sta-ples [count] : a piece of metal or wire in the shape of a U that is used for attaching things: such as a : a short, thin wire that goes through papers and is bent over at the ends to hold the papers together or that goes through a piece of paper, a photograph, etc., to attach it to a surface • Please fasten the pages (together) with paper clips rather than staples. • The notice was attached to the wall with staples. — see also STAPLER b : a piece of metal or thick wire that is pushed into a surface to hold or attach something (such as rope or wire) — see also STAPLE GUN — compare ³STAPLE

²staple verb staples; sta-pled; sta-pling [+ obj] : to attach (something) with staples • I stapled the pages in the upper left corner. — often + to or together • I stapled the check to the form. • The notice had been stapled to the wall. • I stapled the pages together.

³staple noun, pl staples [count]

1 : an important food that is eaten very often • I need to buy some staples, like bread and milk. • Rice is the staple of their diet.

2 : the main product of a country, area, company, etc. • Technology has replaced steel as the region's staple.

3 : something that is used widely and often • Rock music was a staple when I was growing up. — often + of • His writings are a staple of [=a basic part of] economic theory.

— compare ¹STAPLE

⁴staple adj, always used before a noun

1 : used, needed, or enjoyed constantly by many people • such staple items as flour and sugar • That's a staple plot in mystery novels. — see also STAPLE DIET

2 : produced regularly or in large quantities • staple crops like wheat, rice, or sugarcane staple diet noun [singular] : the food or foods that a person or animal eats most often • Environmental changes are depriving the birds of the insects that form their staple diet. — often used figuratively • I grew up on a staple diet of cartoons and comic books.

staple gun noun, pl ~ guns [count] : a tool used for putting large staples into walls, wood, etc.

sta-pler /'steɪplə/ noun, pl -plers [count] : a device that you use to put staples into something (such as paper) — see picture at OFFICE

¹star /'stɑː/ noun, pl stars [count]

1 : any one of the objects in space that are made of burning gas and that look like points of light in the night sky • They gazed up at the stars. • There are billions of stars in the universe. • bright star clusters • a distant star system • The stars are out [=are not hidden by clouds] tonight. • I'm glad we didn't use the tent. It's so much nicer to sleep outside under the stars. — see also EVENING STAR, MORNING STAR, NORTH STAR, POLE STAR, SHOOTING STAR

2 : a star or planet especially in a certain position that is believed in astrology to influence people's lives • I was born under a lucky star. [=I was born lucky] — usually plural • (Brit) Did you read your stars [=horoscope] today? • I guess romance just isn't in the stars for me right now. [=romance isn't going to happen for me right now] • You can thank your lucky stars [=you are lucky] that no one was hurt. — see also STAR-CROSSED

3 a : something (such as a symbol or medal) with five or more points that represents or suggests a star • The teacher gives out gold stars [=gold stickers in the shape of stars] for good behavior. • I put stars [=asterisks] next to the most important items in the list. — see also BRONZE STAR, SILVER STAR, STARS AND STRIPES

b : a symbol that is shaped like a star and that is used as part of a rating system to show how good something is • The restaurant was awarded four stars for excellence. • Critics give the movie three stars. — see also FIVE-STAR, FOUR-STAR

4 a : the most important and well-known performer in a movie, play, etc. • She's the star of the show. b : an extremely famous and successful performer or athlete • His performance in that film made him a star. • She always dreamed of being a movie star. • baseball/football/track stars • a rock/pop star • He's made a name for himself as the hair stylist to the stars. [=for famous people] — often used before another noun • star athletes • the star system [=the practice of using famous actors in movies, etc., in order to attract a bigger audience] • The producers are looking for someone with star quality. [=the talent, looks, etc., needed to become a star] c : a person who is very successful, important, etc. • There were many talented students in the class, but she was clearly the star. [=the most talented one] • He is a rising star [=a person who is becoming more popular and successful] in the world of politics. — often used before another noun • a star student • our star trumpeter • She was the star witness at the trial. • The pandas are the zoo's star attraction. [=they are the most popular attraction at the zoo] — see also MEGA-STAR, SUPERSTAR

5 Brit, informal : someone who is good or helpful • "Thank you. You're a star!"

(have) stars in your eyes ✧ If you have stars in your eyes you are very hopeful and excited about something and think that it will be much better or more enjoyable than it actually is. • When she left home she had stars in her eyes.

promise (someone) the stars see ²PROMISE reach for the stars : to try to do something that is very difficult and impressive • She always encouraged her children to reach for the stars.

see stars : to see flashes of light usually because you have been hit on the head • I bumped into the wall so hard that I saw stars.

— star-less /'stɑːləs/ adj • a cloudy, starless sky — star-like /'stɑːləɪk/ adj • a starlike pattern • white starlike flowers

²star verb stars; starred; star-ring

1 a [no obj] : to play the most important role in a movie, play, etc. — usually + in • an actor who has starred in many films • The couple will star together in a new play. • She had the starring role [=she was the star] in her last three films. b [+ obj] : to have (someone) as the most important performer • The new television series stars a famous movie actress. • a concert starring some of the biggest names in the business

2 [no obj] : to perform extremely well • He starred in both baseball and football when he was in college. • She starred for/with the basketball team last year.

3 [+ obj] : to mark (something) with a star or other symbol • This restaurant is starred in the guidebook.

— see also ILL-STARRED star anise noun [noncount] : a small brown star-shaped fruit that is dried and used as a spice especially in Chinese cooking star-board /'stɑːbəd/ noun [noncount] : the side of a ship or aircraft that is on the right when you are looking toward the front • The ship turned to starboard. — compare PORT — starboard adj • the starboard side/engine star-burst /'stɑːbəst/ noun, pl -bursts [count] : something (such as a pattern) that looks like rays of light spreading out from a center • a starburst of color • a starburst design

¹starch /'stɑːʃ/ noun, pl starch-es

1 : a substance that is found in certain foods (such as bread, rice, and potatoes) [noncount] the starch in pasta • They tried to limit starch [=starchy foods] in their diet. [count]

star

The body breaks down starches [=carbohydrates] into sugars.

— see also CORNSTARCH

2 [noncount] : a powder or liquid that contains starch and is used to make clothing stiff take the starch out of US, informal + old-fashioned : to make (someone) weak or unsure : to cause (someone) to lose energy or confidence • When he lost the second game, it seemed to take the starch out of him.

²starch verb starches; starched; starch-ing [+ obj] : to make (clothing) stiff by using starch • He starches the collars of his shirts. • a starched collar • a starched white uniform starchy /'stɑ:ʃi/ adj starch-i-er; -est

1 : containing, consisting of, or resembling starch • a starchy diet • starchy foods

2 : very formal and serious in behavior • a starchy traditionalist — starch-i-ness /'stɑ:ʃinəs/ noun [noncount] star-crossed /'stɑ:kra:st/ adj : not lucky : having bad luck • star-crossed lovers star-dom /'stɑ:dəm/ noun [noncount] : the state of being a very famous performer • an actress who has achieved movie stardom • When he went to Hollywood he had dreams of stardom. [=dreams of becoming a star] • the path to stardom

¹stare /'steə/ verb stares; stared; star-ing [no obj] : to look at someone or something for a long time often with your eyes wide open • She was staring straight ahead. = Her eyes were staring straight ahead. • She stared out the window. • His mother told him not to stare. — often + at • We just sat and stared at each other. • They stared in disbelief at the accident scene. • I spend a lot of my time staring at a computer screen. — often used figuratively • The solution was staring right at me but I didn't see it. [=the solution was obvious but I failed to see it] synonyms see ¹GAZE

stare daggers (at someone) see DAGGER

stare down (US) or Brit stare out [phrasal verb] stare (someone) down/out or stare down/out (someone) : to look directly into someone's eyes without fear until he or she becomes uncomfortable and looks away • The batter tried to stare down the pitcher. — often used figuratively • They had stared down danger more than once.

stare (off) into space see ¹SPACE

stare (someone) in the face also chiefly US stare (someone) in the eye(s) : to look directly into the eyes of (someone) • She stared me in the face and told me to leave. — usually used figuratively • The solution was staring me in the face. [=the solution was obvious but I failed to see it] • Failure was staring him in the face. [=he was very close to failing; he was almost certain to fail] • They stared death in the face/eye [=they came very close to death; they did something that was very dangerous and that could have caused their death] and didn't flinch.

²stare noun, pl stares [count] : the act of looking directly at someone or something for a long time : the act of staring • They looked at me with accusing stares. • I asked him about it, but my question only drew/got a blank stare. [=he looked at me in a way that showed he did not understand or know the answer to my question]

fix (someone) with a stare see ¹FIX

star-fish /'stɑ:ʃɪ/ noun, pl -fish also -fish-es [count] : a sea animal that has five arms and that looks like a star star-gaz-er /'stɑ:geɪzə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who looks at the stars : a person who studies astronomy or astrology star-gaz-ing /'stɑ:geɪzɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the act or practice of looking at or studying the stars • We left the city after dark to do some star-gazing.

¹stark /'stɑ:k/ adj stark-er; -est

1 : having a very plain and often cold or empty appearance • a stark white room • a stark landscape • a stark winter day • The room was decorated with stark simplicity.

2 : unpleasant and difficult to accept or experience • the stark reality of death • She gave the facts of the case in stark [=harsh] and sobering detail. • This tragedy serves as a stark reminder of the dangers of drunk driving.

3 : very obvious : very plain and easily seen • There is a stark difference between them. • His criticism of the movie stands in stark contrast to the praise it has received from others.

— stark-ly adv [more ~; most ~] • a starkly modern building

— stark-ness noun [noncount] • the starkness of black and white

²stark adv : completely or fully • He was standing there stark naked. [=he was wearing no clothes at all] • That noise is going to drive me stark raving mad. = (Brit) That noise is going to drive me stark staring mad. [=completely insane] stark-ers /'stɑ:kəz/ adj, chiefly Brit, informal : completely naked • He was standing there starkers.

star-let /'stɑ:lət/ noun, pl -lets [count] : a young movie actress • She was a starlet in the 1940s.

star-light /'stɑ:lait/ noun [noncount] : the light produced by stars • We had to find our way by starlight.

star-ling /'stɑ:lɪŋ/ noun, pl -lings [count] : a dark brown or black bird that is common in Europe and the U.S. — see color picture on page C9 star-lit /'stɑ:lɪt/ adj : lighted by the stars • We slept outdoors under a starlit sky.

Star of Da-vid /-'dɛrvəd/ noun, pl Stars of David [count] : a six-pointed star that is used as a symbol of Judaism and of Israel — usually singular star-ry /'stɑ:ri/ adj star-ri-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : full of stars • the starry heavens • a starry sky

2 : having a shape like a star • starry flowers

3 : including many famous actors, athletes, etc. • a starry [=star-studded] cast

4 : shining brightly • She gazed at him with starry eyes.

star-ry-eyed /'stɑ:raɪd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having hopes and desires that are not realistic or practical • starry-eyed lovers • She was too starry-eyed about her future.

Stars and Stripes noun

the Stars and Stripes : the flag of the United States star sign noun, pl ~ signs [count] : one of the 12 symbols of the zodiac • What is your star sign? — called also sign star-struck /'stɑ:stɹʌk/ adj : feeling or showing great interest in and admiration for famous people • starstruck fans • She stared at him in starstruck awe. • I know she's famous, but try not to act starstruck when you meet her.

star-stud-ded /'stɑ:stʌdəd/ adj : having many famous actors, athletes, etc. • The play featured a star-studded cast.

¹start /'stɑ:t/ verb starts; start-ed; start-ing

1 a : to do the first part of something : to begin doing something [+ obj] They started clearing land for the new housing development. • He started the speech (out) with a joke. • He started studying music at the age of five. • She saw her divorce as an opportunity to start a new life. = She saw her divorce as an opportunity to start life anew/afresh/over. [no obj] As soon as you're ready to play, we'll start. • Let's start with some warm-up exercises. • He deleted what he wrote and started fresh/again/over. • Nothing like this had ever been done before, so we had to start from scratch. [=we had to begin from a point at which nothing had been done yet] • Olympic athletes start young and train hard. • The tire tracks at the scene of the crime were a starting point for investigators. [=investigators used the tire tracks to start their investigation] b [+ obj] : to begin to work on, produce, or give attention to (something) • I started the quilt last month. • Have you started your book report? • Did you start (reading) the book yet? c [+ obj] : to cause (something) to begin • We started the meeting at 6:30. : to cause (something) to begin in a specified way • She started the meeting with a brief review of the previous meeting. • He starts every day with a cup of coffee. d [+ obj] : to begin to have a feeling, thought, etc. — usually followed by to + verb • She started to feel dizzy soon after the accident. • I'm starting to think the oversight was intentional. — sometimes + -ing verb • She started feeling dizzy soon after the accident. • He started having chest pains. e : to begin working at a new job or going to school. [+ obj] I start my new job next Monday. • When does she start school? [no obj] I just got a new job. I start next week.

2 a : to begin to happen, to exist, to be done, etc. [no obj] The fire started in the cellar. • The rain will start soon and should end sometime this evening. • The game started late. • Starting next week, all employees will be required to wear ID tags. • The movie just started. • What is the movie's starting time? • When does school start? • The game was just starting when it began to rain. [+ obj] — often followed by to + verb • It started to rain. • The leaves are starting to change colors. — often + -ing verb • It started raining. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to exist or happen • He started a scholarship fund. • The tradition was started many years ago. • “Stop fighting, you two!” “He started it.” [=he did something to cause the fight] • She’s always starting arguments. • They want to start a family [=begin to have children] soon.

starfish

3 a [no obj] : to begin to function or operate • The car/engine won’t start. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to begin to function or operate • She started the car and drove away.

4 [+ obj] : to begin the use of (something) • You’ll have to start a new roll of tape. This one’s empty.

5 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] a : to have a particular beginning : to begin at a specified place or in a specified way • The English alphabet starts with A and ends with Z. • The first word in a sentence should start with a capital letter. • The parade starts at the intersection of First and Main. • The path/trail starts here and ends at the lake. b : to have a specified quality, identity, job, etc., at the beginning — often + as • What started (off) as a simple idea has become an expensive and complicated project. • She started (out) as a sales assistant but is now the marketing director.

6 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to begin to move toward a particular place or in a particular direction • We’ll start for home soon. • We should start back to the camp before it gets dark. • He started toward the door. • The dog started after the squirrel.

7 [no obj] — used to indicate the beginning of a range, series, etc.; often + at • The rates start at $10 per hour. • At his company, salaries start at around $30,000. [= $30,000 is the lowest salary] • Interest rates for CDs were starting at 3.9 percent. • What is the starting salary for the job? [=what is the salary people are paid when they start the job?] • The starting price [=the basic price when nothing extra has been added] for the car is $18,000.

8 a : to participate in a game or contest at its beginning [no obj] Despite his injury, he’ll start in center field today. • The manager removed the starting pitcher [=the pitcher who was playing at the beginning of the game] in the third inning. • He’s in the starting lineup. [=a list of the players who will be playing when the game begins] — often + for • Who’s starting for the home team? [+ obj] He’ll start today’s game in center field. • a pitcher who has started five games so far this year • She started the race but wasn’t able to finish. b [+ obj] : to put (someone or something) into a game or contest at its beginning • The coach is starting him at quarterback for the next game. • He plans to start [=enter] the horse in only a few races this year.

9 [+ obj] a : to cause (someone) to begin doing something • Her questions started me thinking. : to cause (someone) to begin a job or activity in a particular way, at a particular level, etc. • The company started him at the same salary he had been getting at his previous job. b : to cause (someone) to begin talking about a particular subject • “What do you think of the new boss?” “Don’t get me started. I can’t stand him.” — often + on • Don’t get him started on the war; he’ll never stop!

10 [no obj] : to move suddenly and quickly because you are surprised or frightened • The loud noise made him start. [=jump] • The horse started when the shot rang out.

11 [no obj] informal : to begin complaining, arguing, etc. • He started with me, so I hit him. • Don’t (you) start (with me). I made a mistake—that’s the end of it.

get started : to begin doing or working on something • You (had) better get started if you want to finish on time. • newlyweds who are just getting started [=who are just starting their lives together] start in [phrasal verb] chiefly US, informal 1 : to start doing a particular activity or action • He took a break from painting to eat lunch, then started in again. — often + on • She started in on another book. 2 start in on (someone) : to criticize (someone) about something • My dad started in on me about not having a job.

start off [phrasal verb] 1 start off or start (something) off or start off (something) : to start or cause (something) to start in a specified way • He started off by introducing himself. • She started off (her run) at a slow jog. • The performance started off badly. — often + with • I started off my speech with a joke. • We started off the meal with shrimp cocktails. • The team started the season off with a 10-game winning streak. 2 : to have a specified quality, identity, job, etc., at the start • She started off as a sales assistant but is now the marketing director. 3 : to begin an important period in your life or career • The house is perfect for a couple just starting off. 4 : to begin to move toward a particular place or in a particular direction • She ate breakfast before starting off for work. 5 start (someone) off or start off (someone) : to cause (someone) to begin doing a particular activity or action • He started his daughter off on the piano. • The game-show host started her off with some easy questions.

start on [phrasal verb] 1 start on (something) : to begin doing (something) • Did you start on your homework yet? 2 start (someone) on (something) : to cause (someone) to start doing or using (something) • The doctor started him on [=made him start taking] antibiotics. • When should we start the baby on solid food? [=start feeding the baby solid food] 3 start on at (someone) chiefly Brit, informal : to criticize (someone) about something • Don’t start on at me again about spending money!

start out [phrasal verb] 1 : to begin in a specified way • He started out by introducing himself. • She started out at a slow jog. • The day started out hot and humid. • The story started out good, but I didn’t like the ending. • She started out wanting to be a doctor but became a midwife instead. — often + with • I started out with $100 but I have only $10 left. • Let’s start out with some warm-up exercises. 2 : to have a specified quality, identity, job, etc., at the start • What started out as a simple idea has become an expensive and complicated project. • He started out in teaching before becoming a lawyer. 3 : to begin an important period in your life or career • The couple is just starting out. • She started out on a career in teaching. 4 : to begin to travel • They started out in the early morning. 5 : to have a particular place as a beginning point • The parade starts out at the intersection of First and Main.

start over [phrasal verb] chiefly US 1 start over or start (something) over : to begin doing something again • I’m sorry, but you’ll have to start over. = I’m sorry, but you’ll have to start (all) over again. • She saw her divorce as an opportunity to start (her life) over. 2 : to begin to happen again • In the spring, the eggs hatch, and the cycle starts over. = The cycle starts (all) over again.

start something also start anything informal : to do something that causes trouble • She is always trying to start something. • Don’t start anything.

start the ball rolling see ¹BALL

start up [phrasal verb] 1 : to begin to happen or exist • New businesses are starting up all over the state. • The rain started up again. 2 start up or start (something) up or start up (something) : to begin to function or to make (something) begin to function • The car/engine won’t start up. • He started the lawn mower up.

to start with 1 — used to introduce a statement that is the first in a series of statements • “I don’t think we should buy the car.” “Why not?” “To start with, I’m not sure we can afford it.” 2 : at the beginning : before the current time or situation • She has lost a lot of weight, and she wasn’t very heavy to start with. • He didn’t like his job to start with [=at first, initially], but he got used to it eventually.

²start noun, pl starts

1 [count] : the time at which something begins — usually singular • At the season’s start, the team didn’t play well. • It was clear from the (very) start that she would eventually succeed. • The game was close from start to finish. — often + of • The start of the race was delayed.

2 [count] : the first part of an activity, development, event, etc. — usually singular • The restaurant is off to a promising/shaky start. • His parents gave him a good start in life. • Their marriage got off to a good/bad start. [=was good/bad at the beginning] — often + of • We missed the start of the game. • Their discovery could be the start of something big. — see also FLYING START, RUNNING START, a slow start at ¹SLOW

3 [count] : the first opportunity to begin a career — usually singular • the company where he got his start [=where he started his career] — often + in • She got her start in an off-Broadway play. • She gave him his start in the business.

4 [count] : the act of starting something • Housing starts [=the number of new houses that people started to build] declined in September. — usually singular • Despite his late start, he managed to take the lead in the race. • She got an early start working in the garden the next morning. • We didn’t get as much done as we’d hoped, but it’s a start. • Her divorce gave her an opportunity to make a fresh/new start. [=to start a new life] • He made a start on dinner. [=he started dinner] — see also FALSE START

5 [singular] : a brief, sudden action or movement • She gave a start [=started, jumped] when he tapped her on the shoulder. • He woke with a start.

6 the start : the place where a race begins • The runners lined up at the start.

7 [count] sports a : a game in which someone (such as a baseball pitcher) is playing at the beginning • He's undefeated in six starts this year. [=he has started six games and has won them all] • He pitched poorly in his last start. b : a race in which a person, horse, etc., participates as a competitor • The horse has had 10 starts this season.

8 [count] : HEAD START

by/in fits and starts see FIT for a start — used to introduce a statement that is the first in a series of statements • “What was the restaurant like?” “Well, for a start [=for starters], the food was fantastic.”

1 start-er /'stɑ:tə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a player, horse, etc., that is in a game or race at its beginning • The team is playing only five regular starters.

2 : someone who gives the signal for a race to start

3 : a device that is used for starting an engine • The car's starter needs to be replaced.

4 : someone or something that starts an activity, process, etc. • He was a late starter in school. [=he started school later than most children] • The question was a good conversation starter. • He bought a starter kit for building a model airplane. — see also SELF-STARTER

5 chiefly Brit : APPETIZER

for starters — used to introduce a statement that is the first in a series of statements • “Why don't you like him?” “Well, for starters [=first of all], he was rude to my parents.”

2 starter adj, always used before a noun — used to describe something small or basic that you get when you are doing something for the first time • She bought a starter piano for her daughter. • This small house would make a great starter home/house [=a first home] for a young couple.

starting block noun, pl ~ blocks [count] : a device that has two blocks for runners to put their feet on and push against at the start of a race — sometimes used figuratively • He came charging out of the starting blocks to take an early lead in the campaign.

starting gate noun, pl ~ gates [count] : a gate or set of gates that opens at the start of a horse or dog race to let the animals begin racing starting gun noun, pl ~ guns [count] : a special gun used to signal the beginning of a race • The official fired the starting gun and the runners were off; also : the signal made by a starting gun • As soon as she heard the starting gun, she took off running.

starting line noun, pl ~ lines [count] : a line that marks the beginning of a race star-tle /'stɑ:təl/ verb star-tles; star-tled; star-tling

1 [+ obj] : to surprise or frighten (someone) suddenly and usually not seriously • The noise startled me. • I'm sorry that I startled you. — often used as (be) startled • I was startled by the noise. • He was startled to discover he knew the answer. • She was startled into wakefulness by a loud noise.

2 [no obj] : to move or jump suddenly because something surprises you or frightens you • The cat startles easily.

star-ting /'stɑ:tɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very surprising, shocking, or frightening • Startling new evidence/facts came to light during the trial. • He made a startling discovery/revelation. • It is a city of startling contrasts.

— star-ting-ly adv • startlingly loud noises • The prediction was startlingly accurate.

start-up /'stɑ:tʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] : a new business • They were looking for money to fund/launch a start-up. — often used before another noun • small start-up businesses/companies • start-up funds/money star turn noun, pl ~ turns [count]

1 : a performance or role in a movie, play, etc., that is done by a star or that makes someone become a star • She was nominated for an Oscar for her star turn as a single mother raising three children alone. • do a star turn

2 Brit : the most important or successful person or thing in a group (such a sports team) : STAR • She was the star turn in yesterday's game.

star-va-tion /'stɑ:vəʃən/ noun [noncount] : suffering or death caused by having nothing to eat or not enough to eat : the condition of someone who is starving • The famine brought mass starvation. • Millions of people face starvation every day. • They died from/of starvation.

starvation diet noun, pl ~ diets [count] : a diet that does not provide a person with enough food to be healthy starvation wages noun [plural] : money paid to workers that is not enough to pay for the things (such as food and shelter) that are needed to live starve /'stɑ:v/ verb starves; starved; starv-ing

1 [no obj] : to suffer or die from lack of food : to suffer extreme hunger • Without food they would starve. • They left him to starve out in the desert. • Those people are starving. • providing food for starving children • The famine caused many to starve to death. [=to die from lack of food]

2 [+ obj] : to cause (a person or animal) to suffer or die because of lack of food • They tried to starve their enemies into submission. • It was clear that the dog had been starved. • You don't have to starve yourself to lose weight.

3 a [no obj] chiefly US : to want or need something very much — usually used as (be) starving for • Those children are starving for attention. [=they badly need to be given more attention] • After being alone for so long, I was starving for conversation. • a government program that is starving for funds

b [+ obj] : to not give (someone or something) enough of something that is wanted or needed • Those children have been starved of attention. [=they have not been given enough attention] • (chiefly US) Those children are starved for attention. [=they badly need to be given more attention]

— sometimes used in combination • a cash-starved company • be starving or be starved chiefly US, informal : to be very hungry • I skipped lunch, so by dinnertime I was starving. • When are we eating? I'm starved!

1 stash /'stæʃ/ verb stashes; stashed; stash-ing [+ obj]

informal : to put (something) in a secret or hidden place • The police found where he had stashed the drugs. • The gifts were stashed in the closet. • He stashed the equipment under the bed. • We wondered what they had stashed in their backpacks. — often + away • She kept her money stashed safely away. • The papers were stashed away in a box.

2 stash noun, pl stashes [count] informal : an amount of something that is stored or hidden • a drug stash — often + of • a stash of guns • She kept a stash of money for emergencies. • We found her stash of candy.

sta-sis /'steɪsəs/ noun [noncount] formal : a state or condition in which things do not change, move, or progress • The country is in economic stasis. • His art was characterized by bursts of creativity followed by long periods of stasis.

1 stat /'stæt/ noun, pl stats [count] US, informal : STATISTIC • an interesting stat • baseball stats • a stat sheet [=a list of statistics]

2 stat adv : without delay : IMMEDIATELY — used chiefly in medicine • Get this patient to the operating room, stat! ♦ Stat comes from the Latin word statim, which means “immediately.”

1 state /'steɪt/ noun, pl states

1 [count] a : a way of living or existing • Happiness is the state or condition of being happy. • We must keep our armed forces in a constant state of readiness. • She meditates to achieve a higher state of being.

b : the overall physical condition of something : the ability of something to be used, enjoyed, etc. • The museum restored the painting to its original state. [=condition] • The building is in such a sorry state that it's hardly worth fixing. • The car is in a good/bad state of repair. [=the car is in good/bad condition]

c : the things that affect the way you think or feel : your physical or mental condition • her mental/emotional state • By the time I arrived, he was in quite a state. [=he was very upset, worried, angry, etc.] — often + of • They were in a state of shock/confusion. [=they were shocked/confused] • I'm worried about the state of her health. • The drug creates an altered state of consciousness. • an unhappy state of mind • She was in no (fit) state [=in no condition] to drive. [=she was too sick, drunk, etc., to drive]

d : the things that affect the way something is or happens : the characteristics of a situation • What is the company's financial state? [=condition] — often + of • the current/present state of the economy • Her life is in a state of complete chaos. • The empire fell into a state of decline. • The country is in a state of war. [=the country is at war] • Tonight the President will give the State of the Union address. [=an annual speech given to the U.S. Congress by the President to report on the state of the country] — see also STATE-OF-THE-ART, state of emergency at EMERGENCY

2 [count] : the fact of being a liquid, solid, or gas • water in a gaseous state • the solid and liquid states

3 [count] a : a politically organized group of people usually occupying a definite territory : NATION • African/Arabic states • the member states of the United Nations Security Council — see also CITY-STATE, NATION-STATE b : a particular kind of government or politically organized society — see also POLICE STATE, SLAVE STATE, WELFARE STATE

4 a [count] : a region of a country that is controlled by the country's central government but that has the authority to make its own laws about certain things • the 50 states of the U.S. • Chihuahua is a state in northern Mexico. • Vermont was the only New England state to pass the law. • the state legislature • state and federal laws • state lines/borders • This matter falls under state jurisdiction. • Today is a state holiday here. [=it is an official holiday in this state but not nationally] — often used in combination • a state-run program • state-funded scholarships • This land is state-owned. — see also DOWNSIDE, UPSIDE b the States informal : the United States of America • My cousin from England is coming to visit me in the States. • The band plans to tour the States.

5 [noncount] : the government of a country • matters of state [=government business] • the separation of church and state • a crown worn only on state occasions • The President will make a state visit to China. • the (U.S.) Department of State = the State Department [=the part of the U.S. government that is responsible for how the U.S. deals with other countries] — see also STATE'S EVIDENCE lie in state ✧ When the body of a famous leader (such as a former U.S. president or the pope) lies in state, it is displayed in a coffin in a public place so that people can view it and show respect.

2 state verb states; stat-ed; stat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to express (something) formally in speech or writing • The lawyer will state the facts of the case. • He stated his name in full. • I was merely stating an opinion. • “This is a difficult situation,” he stated simply. • Please state the purpose of your visit. • I'd like to state for the record that I disagree with the board's decision. • For the reasons stated above, I hereby withdraw from the competition. • She accused me of stating the obvious. [=telling people things they already know]

2 : to give (specific information, instructions, rules, etc.) in writing • The rules clearly state that you can only draw one card. — often used as (be) stated • The rules of the contest are stated at the bottom of the page. • You must comply with the terms as stated [=written, specified] in the contract.

state attorney noun, pl ~ -neys [count] US, law : a government official (such as a district attorney) who represents a U.S. state in court cases within a district — called also state's attorney

state college noun, pl ~ -leges [count] : a college that is owned and run by one of the states of the U.S. as part of the state's public educational system state-craft /'stɛɪt,kraɪft/ Brit 'stɛɪt,kra:ft/ noun [noncount] formal : the art or skill of conducting government affairs • The treaty was a triumph of statecraft. [=statesmanship] stated adj : expressed formally or officially • The board shall meet at the stated [=indicated] times. • Their stated [=declared] intention/goal is to settle the dispute quickly.

state-hood /'stɛɪt,hud/ noun [noncount] : the condition of being a state; especially : the condition or status of being one of the states of the U.S. • Alaska and Hawaii achieved statehood in 1959. [=they officially became U.S. states in 1959]

state-house /'stɛɪt,haus/ noun, pl -hous-es [count] : the building in which the legislature of a U.S. state meets and works state-less /'stɛɪtləs/ adj : not belonging to a nation : not a citizen of any country • a stateless refugee state-ly /'stɛɪtli/ adj state-li-er; -est [or more ~; most ~] : very impressive in appearance, manner, or size • stately pine trees • a stately building • a slow stately rhythm — state-li-ness noun [noncount] • the stateliness of the building stately home noun, pl ~ homes [count] Brit : a large and impressive old home that has an interesting history and that can usually be visited by the public state-ment /'stɛɪtmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 [count] : something that you say or write in a formal or official way : something that is stated • His office issued/released an official statement concerning his departure. • This is his first public statement about the investigation. • I disagree with your earlier statement about my record on this issue. • The advertisement included misleading/false statements about the product. • The police took the witness's statement. • We have a signed statement from a witness. • a sworn statement [=a statement that someone makes under oath and swears to be true] — often used in the phrase make a statement • He made a statement to the police. • We can't make a definitive statement on the matter until all the facts are in. — see also MISSION STATEMENT

2 [count] : an opinion, attitude, etc., that you express through the things you do, the way you dress, etc. • The boycott was intended as a political statement. — often used in the phrase make a statement • The government made a statement [=sent a message] by setting stiff punishments for repeat offenders. • The painting makes a strong/clear statement. • The way you dress can make a statement about you. • She thinks she's making a fashion statement [=being fashionable in a bold way], but I think she looks ridiculous.

3 [count] : a document which shows amounts of money that you have received, spent, etc. : a brief record of a financial account • a statement of expenses • a monthly bank statement • We'll need to review your recent financial statements.

4 [count] : a line of information in a computer program

5 : the act or process of stating something in speech or writing [noncount] His writing shows great eloquence and precision of statement. [singular] She began her speech with a statement of her beliefs.

state-of-the-art adj : using or having the most modern methods, knowledge, or technology • state-of-the-art surgical procedures • His stereo system is state-of-the-art.

state park noun, pl ~ parks [count] : an area of land that is owned and protected by a U.S. state because of its natural beauty or its importance in history state-room /'stɛɪt,ru:m/ noun, pl -rooms [count]

1 : a private room on a ship or on a railroad car

2 Brit : a large room in a palace or home that is used for special occasions state's attorney noun, pl ~ -neys [count] US : STATE ATTORNEY state's evidence noun

turn state's evidence US, law ✧ If you are charged with a crime and you turn state's evidence, you agree to give information (such as the names of other criminals) to the court in order to reduce your own punishment. • One of the gang members turned state's evidence [= (Brit) turned King's/Queen's evidence] and testified against the other members.

state-side or State-side /'stɛɪt,said/ adv : in or to the U.S. • It's a car model that will be sold stateside for the first time next year. • He's been living in England for several years but he's returning stateside next month.

— stateside or Stateside adj • It was the band's first stateside tour.

states-man /'stɛɪtsmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : a usually wise, skilled, and respected government leader • He was a soldier and statesman. • a great/eminent statesman — see also ELDER STATESMAN

— states-man-like /'stɛɪtsmən,lai/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a politician with a gift for sounding statesmanlike

— states-man-ship /'stɛɪtsmən,ʃɪp/ noun [noncount]

states-woman /'stɛɪts,wʊmən/ noun, pl -wo-men /-wɪmən/ [count] : a woman who is a wise, skilled, and respected government leader • a great stateswoman

state university noun, pl ~ -ties [count] : a university that is owned and run by one of the states of the U.S. as part of the state's public educational system state-wide /'stɛɪt'waɪd/ adj : including all parts of a U.S. state • a statewide survey of voters • a statewide election • She is running for statewide [=state] office. [=she is trying to get elected as an official in the state government]

— statewide adv • The big game will be televised statewide.

1 stat-ic /'stætɪk/ adj

1 : showing little or no change, action, or progress • a static population • Culture is not static. • The computer program can turn static [=still] images into movies.

2 : of, relating to, or producing static electricity • a static charge • Use a fabric softener to prevent static cling. [=a condition in which clothes stick to one another because of static electricity]

2 static noun [noncount]

1 : unwanted noise caused in a radio or television receiver by electricity or by conditions in the atmosphere • There was so much static on the radio we couldn't hear the broadcast.

2 : STATIC ELECTRICITY

3 US, informal : criticism or complaints • He was getting a lot of static about his decision.

static electricity noun [noncount] : electricity that collects on the surface of something and does not flow as a current and can cause a mild shock if you touch it • In dry weather, static electricity can cause clothes to cling.

statics /'stætiks/ noun [noncount] technical : the science that studies the relationship between forces that keep objects in balance

¹sta-tion /'steɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count]

1 : a place where buses, trains, etc., regularly stop so that passengers can get on and off • They drove him to the bus/train station. • a subway station — see also WAY STATION

2 : a place where someone does a job or waits for a task • The waiters were at their stations in the dining room. • a nurse's/nursing station [=an office area for the nurses working in a hospital] • The sailors were ordered to man their battle stations. • After joining the army, he spent five years at his first station. [=post]

3 old-fashioned : a person's social or official position in relation to others : RANK • He had married above his station. • They were aware of her station in life.

4 : a building, area, etc., where a certain kind of work or activity is done • a research/space/weather station • a computer station • a feeding station for livestock

5 : a place that provides a certain kind of service to the public • A firefighter led the children on a tour of the station. [=fire station] • She stopped for gas at the first station [= (US) gas station, (Brit) petrol station] she saw. • Officers brought him to the station [=police station] for questioning.

6 : a company that makes radio or television broadcasts • He turned to his favorite sports station. • What station is the game on? also : the building from which radio or television broadcasts are made • Our offices are located next door to a TV station.

7 : a farm or ranch in Australia or New Zealand • a sheep station

²station verb -tions; -tioned; -tion-ing [+ obj]

1 : to assign (someone) to a station or position : POST • He stationed the guards around the camp. • They stationed troops at the border. — often used as (be) stationed • She has been stationed at the base for a few years. • They were stationed in the region of the fighting.

2 : to put (yourself) in a place and stay there for a period of time • He stationed himself by the door to greet the guests.

sta-tion-ary /'steɪʃə,neri, Brit 'steɪʃənri/ adj

1 : not moving : staying in one place or position • stationary machinery • shooting at stationary objects/targets • The weather front has remained stationary over the Southeast.

2 : not changing • a stationary [=stable] population

Do not confuse stationary with stationery.

stationary bike noun, pl ~ bikes [count] US : an exercise machine that you pedal like a bicycle but that stays in one place — called also exercise bike, stationary bicycle; see picture at GYM station break noun, pl ~ breaks [count] US : a pause in a broadcast during which a radio or TV station announces its name or runs an advertisement sta-tio-ner /'steɪʃənə/ noun, pl -ners [count] : a business or person that sells stationery sta-tio-nery /'steɪʃə,neri, Brit 'steɪʃənri/ noun [noncount]

1 : materials (such as paper, pens, and ink) that are used for writing or typing • a store that sells stationery = a stationery store • stationery items/supplies

2 : paper that is used for writing letters and that usually has matching envelopes • business stationery

Do not confuse stationery with stationary.

station house noun, pl ~ houses [count] : a house or building that is part of a station; especially, US : POLICE STATION sta-tion-mas-ter /'steɪʃən,mæstə, Brit 'steɪʃən,mɑːstə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : an official who is in charge of the operation of a railroad station

Stations of the Cross noun [plural] : a series of usually 14 pictures in some Christian churches that show the sufferings and death of Jesus Christ station wagon noun, pl ~ -ons [count] US : a car that has a large open area behind the back seat instead of a trunk and that has a door at the back for loading and unloading things — called also (US) wagon, (Brit) estate car; see picture at CAR sta-tis-tic /stə'tɪstɪk/ noun, pl -tics

1 [count] : a number that represents a piece of information (such as information about how often something is done, how common something is, etc.) • One statistic that stuck out is that 40 percent of those surveyed did not have college degrees. — often plural • The statistics show that teenagers are involved in a high percentage of traffic accidents. • Her speech included some revealing statistics about unemployment rates in rural areas. • basketball statistics — sometimes used figuratively • I may be just another statistic to my employer, but I am a human being and have feelings. — called also (US, informal) stat

2 statistics [noncount] : a type of mathematics that deals with the study of statistics

— sta-tis-ti-cal /stə'tɪstɪkəl/ adj • Statistical evidence indicates smokers are more likely to get lung cancer than non-smokers. — sta-tis-ti-cal-ly /stə'tɪstɪkli/ adv

stat-is-ti-cian /,stætə'stɪʃən/ noun, pl -cians [count] : a person who collects and studies statistics

stat-u-ary /'stætʃə,weri/ noun [noncount] formal : a collection of statues • a fine example of late Renaissance statuary

stat-ue /'stæ,tʃuː/ noun, pl stat-ues [count] : a figure usually of a person or animal that is made from stone, metal, etc. • bronze statues — compare SCULPTURE

stat-u-esque /,stætʃə'weɪsk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : tall and beautiful • a statuesque young woman

stat-u-ette /,stætʃə'wet/ noun, pl -ettes [count] : a small statue

stat-ure /'stætʃə/ noun [noncount]

1 : the level of respect that people have for a successful person, organization, etc. • We are honored to be working with a writer of his stature. [=a writer who is so highly respected] • The university has grown/gained in stature during her time as president.

2 somewhat formal : a person's height • a woman of rather short stature [=a rather short woman]

sta-tus /'steɪtəs, 'stætəs/ noun, pl -tus-es

1 a : the position or rank of someone or something when compared to others in a society, organization, group, etc. [noncount] He likes his job and the high (social) status that comes with it. • She has achieved celebrity status. [=she has become a celebrity] • They want to maintain the city's status as a major tourist attraction. • The book quickly achieved best-seller status. [=became a best seller] [count] He wants to improve his status in the community. • people of different social and economic statuses b [noncount] : high position or rank in society • She married a man of status and wealth. • This job brings with it a measure of status.

2 : the official position of a person or thing according to the law [noncount] They sought asylum and were given refugee status by the government. [count] They are still considered refugees. Their statuses have not changed. — see also MARITAL STATUS

3 [count] : the current state of someone or something — usually singular • What is the status of the project? • What is their financial status? • The boss asked for a status report.

status quo /-'kwou/ noun [singular] : the current situation : the way things are now • He is content with the status quo and does not like change. • She wants to maintain the status quo. [=to keep the situation as it is now]

status symbol noun, pl ~ -bols [count] : something (such as an expensive car) that you own and that shows that you are wealthy or have a high social status

stat-ute /'stæ,tʃuːt/ noun, pl -utes

1 : a written law that is formally created by a government [count] The state legislature passed the statute by an overwhelming margin. [noncount] business practices that are prohibited/protected by statute synonyms see LAW

2 [count] : a written rule or regulation • college/university statutes statute book noun

the statute book — used to refer to the written laws that have been formally and officially approved by a government • a law that is now on the statute book(s) [=a law that has now been officially approved] statute of limitations noun, pl statutes of limitations [count] law : a law that states the amount of time that must pass before a crime can no longer be punished or a right can no longer be given

stat-u-to-ry /'stætʃə,tori, Brit 'stætʃətri/ adj, law

1 : of or relating to formal laws or statutes • statutory acts

2 : controlled or determined by a law or rule • He had reached the statutory age of retirement. [=the age at which retirement was required by law]

statutory rape noun, pl ~ rapes [count, noncount] law

: the crime of having sex with someone who is younger than an age that is specified by law

¹staunch variant spelling of STANCH

²staunch /'sta:ntʃ/ adj, always used before a noun staunch- er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : very devoted or loyal to a person, belief, or cause • She is a staunch advocate of women's rights. • He's a staunch believer in the value of regular exercise. • I'm one of his staunchest supporters.
— staunch-ly adv • She is staunchly opposed to the death penalty.

¹stave /'sterv/ noun, pl staves [count]

- 1 : one of the narrow strips of wood that form the sides of a barrel
- 2 : a long wooden stick : STAFF
- 3 chiefly Brit : ¹STAFF 3

²stave verb staves; staved also stove /'stouv/; stav-ing stave in [phrasal verb] stave in or stave (something) in or stave in (something) : to be broken or crushed inward or to break or crush (something) inward • The hull of the boat stove in when it hit the rocks. • The rocks stove in the hull of the boat.

stave off [phrasal verb] stave (someone or something) off or stave off (someone or something) : to keep (someone or something) away usually for a short time • He's trying to stave off his creditors. • Our company cannot stave bankruptcy off any longer. • She ate a few crackers to stave off hunger. [=to prevent herself from getting too hungry]

staves plural of ¹STAFF

¹stay /'steɪ/ verb stays; stayed; stay-ing

1 a [no obj] : to continue to be in the same place or with the same person or group for a period of time : REMAIN • Please stay in the auditorium. • I stayed in my seat until I was dismissed. • He decided to stay with the team. • I decided to stay in Montreal for a couple more days. • We stayed home last night and watched TV. • Go to your room and stay there. • I'll stay around for a few more minutes. • I need a man who will stay around. [=remain in the relationship and not leave suddenly] • You can go on ahead. I'll stay behind [=not leave yet] to help clean up. b : to continue to be in a specified state, condition, or position : REMAIN [no obj] Please stay seated through the entire show. • She stayed angry all night. • Can you stay awake through the whole show? • The guard urged everyone to stay calm. • The store will stay open until midnight tonight. • We have stayed in touch/contact over the years. • He stayed in the game although he was injured. [linking verb] They stayed friends [=continued to be friends] throughout their lives.

2 [no obj] : to live in a place as a guest for a short period of time • I will be staying in a hotel this weekend. • Do you want to stay [=sleep] at my place tonight? • I stayed overnight at his house. • Is he staying (with us) all week?

3 [+ obj] : to give a legal order that stops or delays (something) • The judge agreed to stay [=halt] the execution.

here to stay see ¹HERE

stay away [phrasal verb] : to not go near someone or something • I know I shouldn't go there, but it's hard to stay away. — usually + from • Stay away from my girlfriend! • He usually stays away from [=avoids] large crowds. • I try to stay away from [=avoid] caffeine.

stay in [phrasal verb] : to stay inside or at home instead of going out • We went to a movie last night, but tonight we're staying in.

stay off [phrasal verb] stay off (something) 1 : to avoid (something) • She's doing a good job of staying off drugs. [=of not taking drugs] • Let's stay off the subject of politics. 2 : to not go on (something) • Please stay off [=keep off] the grass.

stay on [phrasal verb] 1 : to continue to work at a job • She thought about retiring, but she finally decided to stay on for a few more years. • After she graduated, she stayed on at the college, working in the alumnae office. 2 stay on (something) : to continue taking (a medication, drug, etc.) • I have to stay on the antibiotics for a full two weeks.

stay out [phrasal verb] 1 a : to avoid going into (a place) • They kicked us out of the bar and told us to stay out. — often + of • I told her to stay out of my room. b stay out of (something) : to avoid becoming involved in (something) • Please try to stay out of trouble. • This is not your business, so stay out of it. 2 : to spend time away from home • She stayed out dancing all night.

stay over [phrasal verb] : to sleep at another person's house for the night • Can she stay over tonight?

stay put see ³PUT

stay the course : to continue with a process, effort, etc., even though it is difficult • We'll succeed in the end if we just stay the course.

stay the night : to sleep at another person's house for the night • After the party she was too drunk to drive so she stayed the night. [=stayed over, spent the night] • They stayed the night at her brother's.

stay tuned see ²TUNE

stay up [phrasal verb] : to continue to be awake past the time when you usually go to bed • Don't stay up past your bedtime. • She stayed up to watch the late movie. • I can't stay up that late.

stay with [phrasal verb] 1 stay with (someone) ✧ If something from the past stays with you, you remember it and it continues to influence or affect you in some way. • The memory of that tragic day has stayed with her ever since. • That is an image that has stayed with me. 2 stay with (something) : to continue using or doing (something) • Stay with the medication for a couple more days and see if the rash clears up. • I know the work is hard, but if you just stay with it for a while longer, it'll be done. 3 stay with (someone) : to go or make progress at the same rate as (someone) : to keep even with (someone) in a race, competition, etc. • The other runners struggled to stay with the leader.

²stay noun, pl stays [count]

1 : an occasion in which you spend time at a place as a guest or visitor • I hope you have a pleasant stay. [=visit] • Our stay in the country was a short one. — see also SHORT-STAY

2 : a legal order that stops or delays something • The court issued a stay of execution. [=an order that temporarily stops an execution]

— compare ³STAY

³stay noun, pl stays [count]

1 : a rope or wire that supports a pole, a ship's mast, etc. • The men tightened the stays on the circus tent.

2 : a piece of stiff plastic, bone, etc., that provides shape to a piece of clothing • a corset stay • a collar stay

— compare ²STAY

stay-at-home /'steɪət'həʊm/ adj, always used before a noun : staying at home to take care of a child instead of working somewhere else • a stay-at-home mom/dad staying power noun [noncount] : the quality or ability that allows someone or something to continue to be effective, successful, popular, etc., for a long period of time • a long-distance runner with a lot of staying power • a song with staying power • Her staying power as a pop icon is remarkable.

std. abbr standard

STD /,es,ti:'di:/ noun, pl STDs [count] : any one of various diseases that you can get by having sex with a person who has the disease • a discussion of AIDS and other STDs ✧ STD is an abbreviation for “sexually transmitted disease.”

stead /'sted/ noun

in someone's/something's stead formal : in the place of someone or something • She conducted the meeting in his stead. • One empire died, and another arose in its stead.

stand someone/something in good stead formal : to be useful or helpful to someone or something • His language skills will stand him in good stead when he is traveling.

stead-fast /'sted,fæst, Brit 'sted,fɑ:st/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very devoted or loyal to a person, belief, or cause : not changing • They were steadfast friends. • He was steadfast in his support of the governor's policies. • a steadfast refusal — stead-fast-ly adv • She steadfastly held to her views.
— stead-fast-ness /'sted,fæstnəs, Brit 'sted,fɑ:stnəs/ noun [noncount]

¹steady /'stedɪ/ adj stead-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : not shaking or moving : held firmly in one place or position • She used a tripod to keep the camera steady. • Painting takes a steady hand and a good eye. • a steady gaze • He was drunk and wasn't very steady on his feet. [=his balance was not good; he looked like he might fall]

2 : not changing as time passes: such as a : not increasing or decreasing • Prices have remained steady over the last month. • a steady heart rate b : lasting or continuing for a long period of time in a dependable way • He finally has a steady job. • They do a steady business at the restaurant. c — used to describe a romantic relationship with one person that lasts for a long time • He's never really had a steady relationship with one woman. • a steady boyfriend/girlfriend

3 : happening or developing in a continuous and usually gradual way • There has been a steady increase in prices. • I am making steady progress on refinishing the basement. •

There was a steady rain all day. • We've received a steady stream of donations.

4 : not nervous or excited • steady nerves • Her voice was calm and steady.

5 : dependable or reliable • She has been a steady friend to me. • He's a very steady worker.

at a steady clip see ³CLIP

ready, steady, go see ¹READY steady on Brit, informal — used to tell someone to be calmer, to stop thinking or saying foolish or unreasonable things, etc. • "Everything's going wrong!" "Steady on, now. It's not as bad as that."

— steadily /'stɛdəli/ adv [more ~; most ~] • He held the camera steadily. • Wages have steadily increased. — steadiness /'stɛdɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

²*steady verb* stead-ies; stead-ied; steady-ing : to make (something or someone) steady or to become steady: such as a [+ obj] : to keep (something or someone) from moving, shaking, falling, etc. • He steadied the gun and fired. • She used a tripod to steady the camera. • He held the rail to steady himself. [=to keep himself balanced] b : to cause (something) to stop changing, increasing, decreasing, etc. [+ obj] The doctor gave her medication to help steady her heart rate. [no obj] Her heart rate had been erratic but eventually steadied. • Prices have steadied in recent months.

steady your nerves : to make yourself calm or calmer • She took a drink to try to steady her nerves.

³*steady adv* : in a steady way • Hold the camera steady.

go steady informal + old-fashioned : to have a lasting romantic relationship with one person and no one else • He asked me after the dance if I wanted to go steady. • We went steady for over a year before we got engaged.

⁴*steady noun, pl stead-ies* [count] US, informal + old-fashioned : the only person you are having a romantic relationship with : the person you are going steady with • He's my steady. [=my steady boyfriend]

steak /'steɪk/ noun, pl steaks

1 : a thick, flat piece of meat and especially beef [count] I grilled a steak for dinner. • ham steaks [noncount] We had steak and potatoes for dinner. • a slice of steak

2 [count] : a thick, flat piece of fish • a tuna/swordfish steak

3 [noncount] Brit : beef that is cut into small pieces and used for stews, casseroles, etc. • steak and kidney pie steak house noun, pl ~ houses [count] : a restaurant that serves mostly steaks — compare CHOP HOUSE steak knife noun, pl ~ knives [count] : a very sharp knife that is used for cutting meat

¹*steal* /'sti:l/ verb steals; stole /'stəʊl/; sto-len /'stəʊlən/; steal-ing

1 a : to take (something that does not belong to you) in a way that is wrong or illegal [+ obj] They stole thousands of dollars' worth of jewelry from the store. • Someone stole my bicycle. • He discovered that his car had been stolen. • a stolen watch [no obj] The store manager accused the boy of stealing. b [+ obj] : to take (something that you are not supposed to have) without asking for permission • I stole a cookie from the cookie jar. c [+ obj] : to wrongly take and use (another person's idea, words, etc.) • He stole my idea. d [+ obj] : to persuade (someone who has been with someone else) to be with you especially by doing things that are unfair or dishonest • He stole my girlfriend. • They stole our best pitcher away from our team.

2 [+ obj] : to get (something that is difficult to get) in usually a quick and often secret way • I stole a nap this afternoon. [=I managed to take a brief nap this afternoon] • He stole a peek/look [=took a quick peek/look] at the birthday cake. • He stole a glance at her [=glanced at her quickly] before riding away. • She stole a kiss from him [=kissed him in a quick and sudden way] and ran away.

3 [+ obj] : to get more attention than others during (a performance, scene, etc.) • Her impassioned acting stole the scene. [=everyone in the audience watched her during the scene because of her impassioned acting] • His outstanding performance stole the show.

4 a baseball : to reach (a base) safely by running to it from the previous base when the ball has not been hit by a batter [+ obj] He reached first base on a single and then stole second (base). [no obj] She tried to steal but got thrown out. • He leads the league in stealing. b [+ obj] sports : to take (the ball, puck, etc.) from another player • (basketball) He stole the ball and took it down the court for two points. • He stole the pass.

5 [no obj] : to come or go quietly or secretly • They stole out of the room. • She stole away silently.

beg, borrow, or/and steal see BEG steal a march on see ²MARCH

steal someone's thunder see ¹THUNDER

²*steal noun, pl steals* [count]

1 informal : something that is being sold at a low price • This car is a steal at only $5,000.

2 a baseball : the act of stealing a base • He has 40 steals this season. b sports : the act of taking the ball, puck, etc., from another player • a nifty steal by the defender

¹*stealth* /'stɛlθ/ noun [noncount] : a secret, quiet, and clever way of moving or behaving • The fox uses stealth and cunning to hunt its prey.

²*stealth adj, always used before a noun*

1 technical — used to describe military aircraft that are designed so that they cannot be easily seen by radar • a stealth bomber/fighter

2 chiefly US : done or happening in a secret or quiet way that does not attract attention • He says his political enemies have been conducting a stealth [=secret] campaign to block his nomination.

stealthy /'stɛlθi/ adj stealth-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : quiet and secret in order to avoid being noticed • the stealthy movements of the crocodile • a stealthy burglar — stealth-i-ly /'stɛlθəli/ adv • She moved stealthily from room to room.

¹*steam* /'sti:m/ noun [noncount]

1 a : the hot gas that is created when water is boiled • Careful, the steam from the pot is hot. b : steam that is created by a machine and kept under pressure to provide power • Steam drives the turbines. • a steam-powered engine • The boat runs on steam. — often used before another noun • a steam engine/train

2 : very small drops of water that form on a surface when warm air that contains a lot of water is cooled down • He wiped the steam from the mirrors.

3 informal : the strength, force, or energy that allows something or someone to continue, to go faster, etc. • Sales have lost steam [=have slowed down] in recent weeks. • The campaign quickly gained/gathered steam. [=became more popular and successful] • He was afraid he would run out of steam before the end of the race. • I was making good progress this morning, but now I'm starting to run out of steam. • The project is slowly picking up steam. [=slowly beginning to move ahead in a faster and more effective way]

full head of steam see ¹HEAD

full steam ahead see ¹FULL

let/blow off (some) steam informal : to calm down and get rid of energy or anger by doing something active • I play racquetball every evening just to let off some steam. • Tell him to go blow off some steam and then we can talk.

under its own steam of a ship, boat, etc. : by using its own power • The ship was damaged but was able to return to port under its own steam. — often used figuratively • He got there under his own steam. [=by himself; by his own efforts]

²*steam verb* steams; steamed; steam-ing

1 [no obj] : to produce steam • a steaming bowl of soup

2 [+ obj] : to cook, heat, or treat (something) with steam • She prefers to steam carrots rather than boil them. • steamed vegetables

3 : to cause (something, such as a piece of glass) to become covered with small drops of water [+ obj] Their breath steamed the windows. — usually + up • Try not to steam up your glasses. • The windows were all steamed up. [no obj] My glasses steamed up [=fogged up] when I came indoors from the cold.

4 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] a : to move by using power produced by steam • The ship steamed into port. • We steamed up the river. [=we went up the river on a ship powered by steam] b : to move forward in a quick and forceful way • He steamed into the room and began shouting orders. — sometimes used figuratively • Our plans are steaming ahead. — see also STEAMED, STEAMING steam-boat /'sti:m,bəʊt/ noun, pl -boats [count] : a boat that is powered by steam steam clean verb ~ cleans; ~ cleaned; ~ cleaning [+ obj] chiefly US : to clean (something) with a machine that produces hot steam • I steam cleaned the carpets.

steamed /'sti:md/ adj, not used before a noun [more ~; most ~] chiefly US, informal : angry or irritated • I am so steamed! — often + up • What are you getting steamed up about?

steam·er /'sti:mə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a container in which food is cooked with steam

2 : a boat or ship that is powered by steam • We rode a steamer down the Mississippi.

3 US : a type of clam that has a thin shell and that is often cooked by being steamed steaming adj, informal

1 : very hot • steaming weather • The weather has been steaming hot.

2 : very angry • steaming drivers stuck in traffic • His wife was steaming when he finally got home. • She was steaming mad.

steam·roll /'sti:m,roul/ verb -rolls; -rolled; -roll·ing US, informal

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to go forward or make progress in a forceful and steady way [no obj] The project steamrolled on. • The bill steamrolled through Congress. [+ obj] The bill steamrolled its way through Congress.

2 [+ obj] : to defeat (someone or something) in a very forceful and complete way • Our team got steamrolled in last year's game. The final score was something like 54–7.

¹steam·roll·er /'sti:m,roulə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a large, heavy machine that is used for making a road or other surface flat

²steamroller verb -ers; -ered; -er·ing [+ obj] informal : STEAMROLL 2

steam·ship /'sti:m,ʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships [count] : a ship that is powered by steam steam shovel noun, pl ~ -els [count] US : a large machine that is powered by steam and that is used for digging large holes — called also excavator

steamy /'sti:mi/ adj steam·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : full of steam or warm, moist air • a steamy bathroom • It is 92 degrees in steamy Miami this afternoon. • steamy [=hot and humid] weather

2 : showing or relating to sex : sexually exciting • a steamy love scene steed /'sti:d/ noun, pl steeds [count] literary : a horse that a person rides • a brave knight and his noble steed

¹steel /'sti:l/ noun, pl steels

1 [noncount] a : a strong, hard metal made of iron and carbon • The beams are made of steel. — often used before another noun • steel bars • a steel mill [=a mill/factory where steel is made] — see also STAINLESS STEEL b : the industry that makes steel • Steel is an important industry in this area. • She came from a steel town [=a town where steel is made] in Pennsylvania. • Big Steel [=the steel industry] is lobbying Congress for new legislation.

2 a [noncount] literary : things (such as weapons) that are made of steel • The invaders were driven back by steel. • the clash of steel b [singular] : the part of something that is made of steel • the steel of a knife c [count] : a device or tool that is made of steel • a sharpening steel [=a steel rod that has a rough surface and is used for sharpening knives] — see also PEDAL STEEL

3 — used to describe something or someone that is very strong • He had a grip of steel. = He had a grip like steel. [=he had a very powerful grip] • a man of steel [=a very strong man] — see also nerves of steel at NERVE steel yourself : to make (yourself) ready for something difficult or unpleasant : to fill (yourself) with determination and courage • Steel yourself [=brace yourself]—I have bad news. • He steeled himself for the interview.

²steel verb steels; steeled; steel·ing

steel band noun, pl ~ bands [count] : a group of musicians who play steel drums steel drum noun, pl ~ drums [count] : a metal drum shaped like a bowl or barrel that makes different sounds when it is hit at different places steel guitar noun, pl ~ -tars [count] : PEDAL STEEL steel wool noun [noncount] : long threads of metal that are wound together to form a rough pad which is used for cleaning and polishing things steel·work·er /'sti:l,wə:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : a person who works at a place where steel is made steely /'sti:li/ adj steel·i·er; -est

1 : very strong and determined often in a cold or unfriendly way • a thief with steely nerves • He had a steely determination to succeed. • She gave him a steely gaze.

2 : resembling steel especially in color • a sky filled with steely gray clouds • the judge's steely blue eyes

¹steep /'sti:p/ adj steep·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : almost straight up and down : rising or falling very sharply • a steep slope/hillside • The stairs are very steep.

2 : going up or down very quickly • a steep drop/increase in prices

3 : very high • The store's prices are too steep for me. • Their rates are pretty steep.

pay a steep price see ¹PAY

— steep·ly adv [more ~; most ~] • The hill rose steeply. • Stock prices rose/fell steeply today. — steep·ness noun [noncount]

²steep verb steeps; steeped; steep·ing : to put (something) in a liquid for a period of time [+ obj] Steep the tea for three minutes. [no obj] The tea steeped for five minutes.

steep in [phrasal verb] 1 steep (someone) in (something) : to make (someone) know and understand a lot about (something) • Prior to his trip, he spent a few weeks steeping himself in the language. [=learning a lot about the language] — often used as (be) steeped in • She was steeped in the classics. [=she had learned a lot about the classics] 2 — used as (be) steeped in to say that there is a lot of something in a place, time, etc. • an area steeped in history [=an area where many important historical events occurred] • It was a time in the nation's history that was steeped in bloodshed. [=a time when there was a lot of bloodshed] steep·en /'sti:pən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en·ing : to become steep or steeper or to make (something) steep or steeper [no obj] The path steepened as we approached the summit. [+ obj] A large glacier steepened the side of the mountain.

stee·ple /'sti:pəl/ noun, pl stee·ples [count] : a tall, pointed tower on a church

— stee·pled /'sti:pəld/ adj • a steepled church

stee·ple·chase /'sti:pəl,tʃeis/ noun, pl -chas·es [count]

1 : a race in which people riding horses jump over fences, water, etc.

2 : a race in which runners jump over fences and water

stee·ple·chas·er /'sti:pəl,tʃeisə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person or horse that takes part in a steeplechase stee·ple·jack /'sti:pəl,dʒæk/ noun, pl -jacks [count] old-fashioned : a person who repairs chimneys, towers, etc.

¹steer /'stiə/ verb steers; steered; steer·ing

1 a : to control the direction in which something (such as a ship, car, or airplane) moves [+ obj] She steered the ship through the strait. • He steered his car carefully into the parking space. • He steered the wheelchair through the aisles. [no obj] Skillful navigators can steer by the positions of the stars. b [no obj] — used to describe how easy or difficult it is to steer a vehicle • The car steers well.

2 [no obj] : to be moved or guided in a particular direction or along a particular course • The car was steering right at us. • The boat steered out to sea.

3 [+ obj] a : to direct or guide the movement or progress of (something) • He tried to steer the conversation away from his recent problems. • She skillfully steered the bill through the legislature. • He steered the team to another championship last year. b : to cause (someone) to act in a particular way • The high recent returns on stocks have steered many investors away from bonds. • You should listen to me. I won't steer you wrong. [=I won't give you bad advice]

steer clear US : to keep away from someone or something completely • He's in a bad mood. You'd better steer clear [=avoid him] if you don't want trouble. — usually + of • You'd better steer clear of him. • I try to steer clear of the subject of politics when I talk to him.

²steer noun, pl steers [count] : a male cow that has had its sex organs removed and is raised for meat steer·age /'stɪrɪdʒ/ noun [noncount] : the section on a passenger ship in the past where passengers who had the cheapest tickets would stay steering noun [noncount] : the mechanical parts of a car, boat, etc., that are used to control its direction • The steering on this car is a little stiff. • There's a problem with the boat's steering.

steering column noun, pl ~ -umns [count] : the thick post in a car that holds the steering wheel steering committee noun, pl ~ -tees [count] : a group of people who are in charge of managing or directing something • The CEO consulted with the project's steering committee and asked for a status report. — called also (chiefly Brit) steering group steering wheel noun, pl ~ wheels [count] : a wheel in a vehicle that the driver turns to steer the vehicle — see picture at CAR

stein /'stain/ noun, pl steins [count] : a large mug for beer

stel-lar /'stɛlə/ adj

1 technical : of or relating to the stars • stellar light • the rate of stellar expansion

2 [more ~; most ~] : very good : EXCELLENT • The movie has a stellar cast. • a stellar performance

¹stem /'stem/ noun, pl stems [count]

1 a : the main long and thin part of a plant that rises above the soil and supports the leaves and flowers • He cut the plant off at the base of the stem. — see color picture on page C6 b : the long, thin part of a fruit, leaf, flower, etc., that connects it to its plant • Hold the cherry by the stem.

2 : a long and thin part: such as a : the long, thin piece that supports the bowl of a wine glass b : the long, thin part of a tobacco pipe

3 grammar : the main part of a word that does not change when endings are added to it • The stem of "winded" is "wind."

from stem to stern : from one end of a ship or boat to the other • We scrubbed her down from stem to stern. [=we cleaned the entire ship/boat] — often used figuratively • We cleaned the house from stem to stern.

— stem-less /'stɛmləs/ adj • stemless cherries

²stem verb stems; stemmed; stem-ming [+ obj] : to remove the stem from (a fruit, leaf, flower, etc.) • She stemmed and quartered the figs. • The strawberries need to be stemmed.

stem from [phrasal verb] stem from (something or someone) : to be caused by (something or someone) : to come from (something or someone) • Most of her health problems stem from an accident she had when she was younger. • His love of the outdoors stems from his father.

— compare ³STEM

³stem verb stems; stemmed; stem-ming [+ obj] : to stop the progress or spread of (something) • efforts to stem the dramatic decline of an endangered species • The doctor stemmed the flow of blood by applying pressure to the wound. • Voters hope that the proposition will stem the tide of illegal immigration. — compare ²STEM stem cell noun, pl ~ cells [count] technical : a simple cell in the body that is able to develop into any one of various kinds of cells (such as blood cells, skin cells, etc.)

stemmed adj : having a stem — usually used in combination • long-stemmed roses stem-ware /'stɛm,wɛə/ noun [noncount] : drinking glasses that have a long stem between the bowl and the base • crystal stemware

stench /'stɛntʃ/ noun [singular] : a very bad smell : STINK • the stench of rotting meat — sometimes used figuratively • the stench of corruption/fear

¹sten-cil /'stɛnsəl/ noun, pl -cils [count]

1 : a piece of paper, metal, etc., that has a design, letter, etc., cut out of it ✧ You use a stencil by putting it on a flat surface and painting over it so that the design appears on the surface • letter/number/floral stencils

2 : a design or a print that is made with a stencil • The walls of the living room had a delicate vine stencil drawn on them.

²stencil verb -cils; US -ciled or Brit -cilled; US -cil-ing or Brit -cil-ling [+ obj] : to make a design on something with a stencil : to use a stencil on (something) • We stenciled our mailbox with our house number. = We stenciled our house number on the mailbox. • We stenciled the room's walls.

steno /'stɛnoʊ/ noun, pl sten-os US, informal

1 [count] : STENOGRAPHER

2 [noncount] : STENOGRAPHY — often used before another noun • a steno pad [=a pad of paper used for stenography]

ste-nog-ra-pher /stə'nɑ:grəfə/ noun, pl -phers [count] : a person whose job is to write down the words that someone says by using a special type of writing (called shorthand) • a courtroom stenographer ste-nog-ra-phy /stə'nɑ:grəfi/ noun [noncount] : a method used for writing down the words that someone says very quickly by using a special type of writing (called shorthand) • Secretaries must be able to do stenography.

— steno-graph-ic /,stɛnə'græfɪk/ adj • stenographic notes

stent /'stɛnt/ noun, pl stents [count] medical : a metal or plastic tube that is put in a blood vessel to keep it open sten-to-ri-an /stɛn'tɔ:riən/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary : very loud • a stentorian voice

¹step /'stɛp/ noun, pl steps

1 [count] a : a movement made by lifting your foot and putting it down in a different place • counting our steps • She took one step forward/backward. • The baby took her first steps today. • He had to retrace his steps [=go back along the way he had come] to find his keys. b : the sound of a foot making a step : FOOTSTEP • I heard steps on the stairs. c : the distance covered in one step • The edge of the cliff was only about three steps to my left.; also : a short distance • The cottage is just steps from the beach. d : a mark left by a foot or shoe : FOOTPRINT • steps in the sand

2 [singular] : the way that someone walks • He walks with a spring in his step. • She walked down the hall with a quick/light step. — see also GOOSE STEP, LOCKSTEP

3 [count] : one of a series of actions that are done to achieve something • a major/important step towards independence • We are taking steps to correct the situation. • The court's decision is a step backward/forward for the reform movement. [=it is something that will hurt/help the reform movement] • Exercise won't solve all your health problems, but it's a step in the right direction. [=it will improve your health] • They're taking baby steps. [=they're doing minor things that produce only a small amount of progress toward achieving something]

4 [count] : a stage in a process • We're in the first/intermediate/last steps of the negotiations. • She's one step nearer/closer to graduation. • I want to take it a step further. [=I want to move to the next stage in the process] • He was criticized at every step. = He was criticized every step of the way. • We'll guide you through the process step by step. • Let's take this one step at a time.

5 [count] : a level or rank in a scale • a step above/below average • a step beyond what was expected • The new job is a step up/down for her. [=the new job is more/less important, challenging, etc., than the job she had before]

6 [count] : the flat piece of wood, stone, etc., that forms one of the levels of a staircase • They sat on the steps in front of the house. • The top step [=stair] squeaks when you step on it. — see picture at HOUSE; see also DOORSTEP

7 [count] : a movement or pattern of movements made by someone who is dancing • a ballet step • dance steps

8 US, music : the distance from one tone of a musical scale to the next [count] The melody moves up/down a step. [noncount] The melody moves upward by step [=in a series of steps] from D to C. — see also HALF STEP, WHOLE STEP

9 [count] : a piece of exercise equipment consisting of a small platform that you use by stepping on and off it • Working out with a step can be very rigorous. — see also STEP AEROBICS

10 steps [plural] Brit : STEPLADDER

a/one step ahead of 1 : better prepared than (someone or something) • The teacher really has to work to keep one step ahead of the class. • She always seems to be one step ahead of me. 2 : able to avoid being caught or found by (someone or something) • So far the killer has managed to stay one step ahead of the police/law. [=managed to avoid being caught by the police] break step : to stop walking or marching with the same rhythm as another person or group of people • The soldier was startled and broke step.

fall into step : to begin walking or marching with the same rhythm as another person or group of people • He fell into step beside her and struck up a conversation.

in step 1 : with the same rhythm as someone or something • They walked in step down the avenue. — usually + with • We danced in step with the music. 2 : matching or agreeing with someone or something • She's in step with people her age. [=she has the same ideas, problems, etc., as other people her age] • The practice is not in step with modern morality.

mind/watch your step 1 : to walk carefully • It's slippery, so watch your step. 2 : to speak or behave carefully • You'd better watch your step with me, young lady.

out of step 1 : not moving with the same rhythm as someone or something • One of the dancers was out of step. 2 : not matching or agreeing with someone or something • Her fashion sense is completely out of step. — often + with • She's out of step with current fashion. • Critics say the rule is out of step with the times. [=the rule does not agree with the ideas that are popular or important now]

— step-like /'stɛp,lai/ adj — stepped /'stɛpt/ adj • a stepped pyramid [=a pyramid with sides made of steps]

²step verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition steps; stepped; step-ping [no obj]

1 : to move in a specified direction by lifting your foot and putting it down in a different place • The sailor stepped ashore. • She stepped onto/off the bus. • They stepped aside/forward/backward to let her pass. • Please step away from the door. : to move somewhere by walking • He stepped outside for a moment. • Step in/into my office for a minute.

2 : to put your foot down — usually + in or on • He accidentally stepped on a nail. • She stepped in a puddle.

step aside/down [phrasal verb] : to leave a job or official position • He stepped down [=resigned] as president. • She'll step aside after her replacement is appointed.

step back [phrasal verb] : to stop doing something or being actively involved in something for a time so that you can think about it and make decisions in a calm and reasonable way • You need to step back and give yourself some time to work through this.

step forward [phrasal verb] : to give or offer help, information, etc. • A witness stepped forward to identify the robber.

step in [phrasal verb] : to become involved in an activity, discussion, etc., in order to prevent trouble or provide help • He stepped in and took charge. • She stepped in before a fight could start.

step into [phrasal verb] step into (something) : to take a particular role or do a particular task • She stepped into the role/position of director. • She's retiring, and it won't be easy to find someone who can step into her shoes. [=fill her shoes; who can do her job]

step lively see LIVELY

step on it or US step on the gas informal : to drive faster • Step on it, they're getting away!

step on someone's toes see ¹TOE

step out [phrasal verb] US : to briefly leave a place • I need to step out [=pop out] for a moment. • She just stepped out to get some milk.

step out of line informal : to disobey rules or behave badly • If you step out of line, you'll get kicked off the bus.

step right up chiefly US — used to invite people to gather around to see a show or to buy things • Step right up [= (Brit) roll up, roll up] and see the world's greatest magic show!

step up [phrasal verb] 1 : to increase in amount or speed • Production has stepped up in recent months. 2 a : to say openly or publicly that you are the person who should get something or who can do something : to come forward • No one yet has stepped up to claim responsibility. b : to do better : to succeed in providing what is needed by making a greater effort, improving your performance, etc. • The team's best player is injured, so someone else needs to step up. 3 step (something) up or step up (something) a : to increase the amount or speed of (something) • The company has stepped up production. b : to improve (something) • The other players need to step up their performance. — see also STEP-UP

step up to the plate see ¹PLATE

— step-per /'stepə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

step- combining form — used to describe family relationships that are created when a person who already has a child marries someone who is not the child's parent • stepsister • stepson • stepmother • stepfather step aerobics noun [noncount] : a system of exercise that involves repeatedly stepping on and off a raised platform often while music is playing • a class in step aerobics = a step aerobics class; also [plural] : exercises in this system • I do step aerobics twice a week.

step-broth-er /'step,brʌðə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : the son of your stepmother or stepfather

step-by-step /,step,baɪ'step/ adj

1 : showing or explaining each stage in a process • step-by-step directions/procedures

2 : happening or done in a series of steps or stages : GRADUAL • the step-by-step approach to the problem

— step by step adv • We're moving ahead with the project slowly, taking it step by step. [=one step at a time]

step change noun [singular] chiefly Brit : an important change in something • There has been a step change [=sea change] in our understanding of the problem.

step-child /'step,tʃaɪld/ noun, pl -chil-dren [count]

1 : your wife's or husband's child by a past marriage or relationship : a stepson or stepdaughter

2 : someone or something that does not receive enough care or attention • The school has long been the forgotten step-child of the state university system.

step-daugh-ter /'step,dɑ:tə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : your wife's or husband's daughter by a past marriage or relationship

step-fa-ther /'step,fɑ:ðə/ noun, pl -thers [count] : a man that your mother marries after her marriage to or relationship with your father has ended

step-lad-der /'step,lædə/ noun, pl -ders [count] : a ladder that has wide, flat steps and two pairs of legs which are connected at the top and that opens at the bottom so that it can stand without being attached to or supported by something else

step-moth-er /'step,mʌðə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a woman that your father marries after his marriage to or relationship with your mother has ended

step-par-ent /'step,perənt/ noun, pl -ents [count] : someone that your mother or father marries after the marriage to or relationship with your other parent has ended steppe /'step/ noun, pl steppes [count] : a large, flat area of land with grass and very few trees especially in eastern Europe and Asia

step-ping-stone /'stepɪŋ,stoun/ noun, pl -stones [count] 1 : a large, flat stone that you step on to cross a stream

2 : something that helps you get or achieve something • He regarded his first job as a stepping-stone to a better career.

step-sis-ter /'step,sɪstə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : the daughter of your stepmother or stepfather step-son /'step,sʌn/ noun, pl -sons [count] : your wife's or husband's son by a past marriage or relationship

step stool noun, pl ~ stools [count] : a usually short stool with one or two steps

step-up /'step,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] : an increase in size or amount • a step-up in production — see also step up at ²STEP

— -ster /stə/ noun combining form

1 : someone who does or handles or operates something • teamster

2 : someone who makes or uses something • songster • prankster

3 : someone who is associated with or participates in something • gangster

4 : someone who has a specified quality • youngster

¹ste-reo /'steriə/ noun, pl -reos

1 [count] : a piece of electronic equipment that plays the radio, CDs, etc., and that uses two speakers for the sound — see picture at LIVING ROOM

2 [noncount] : a way of recording and playing back sound so that the sound comes from two directions • broadcasting in stereo — compare MONO

²stereo adj : of or relating to a system that directs sound through two speakers • stereo headphones/equipment

ste-reo-phon-ic /,steriə'fɒ:nɪk/ adj : ²STEREO • stereo-phonetic sound ste-reo-scope /'steriə,skəʊp/ noun, pl -scopes [count] : a device that is used for viewing stereoscopic images

ster-eo-scop-ic /,steriə'skɒ:pɪk/ adj

1 — used to describe an image that appears to have depth and solidness and that is created by using a special device (called a stereoscope) to look at two slightly different photographs of something at the same time • stereoscopic images/photographs

2 technical : able to see depth and solidness • normal stereoscopic vision

¹ste-reo-type /'steriə,taɪp/ noun, pl -types [count] : an often unfair and untrue belief that many people have about all people or things with a particular characteristic • racial/cultural stereotypes • the stereotype of the absentminded professor

— ste-reo-typ-i-cal /,steriə'tɪpɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a stereotypical representation/idea/approach • He's the stereotypical absentminded professor. [=he's a professor who is absentminded in the way that people often think of professors as being] — ste-reo-typ-i-cal-ly /,steriə'tɪpɪkli/ adv

stepladder

²stereotype verb -types; -typed; -typ-ing [+ obj] : to believe unfairly that all people or things with a particular characteristic are the same • It's not fair to stereotype a whole group of people based on one person you don't like.

— stereotyped /'steriə,taɪpt/ adj • a stereotyped representation/approach/character • stereotyped roles
— stereotyping noun [noncount] • ethnic/gender stereotyping

ster-ile /'sterəl, Brit 'stɛ,raɪəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not able to produce crops or plants • sterile soil/fields
2 a : not able to produce children, young animals, etc. • Mules are sterile. • sterile offspring b : not able to grow or develop • sterile eggs
3 : clean and free of bacteria and germs • a sterile dressing for a wound • sterile needles
4 : not producing or containing new ideas, useful results, etc. • a sterile debate/subject
5 : very plain and not interesting or attractive • a sterile building/room

— ste-ri-li-ty /stə'riləti/ noun [noncount] • a disease that causes sterility • emotional/creative sterility

ster-il-ize also Brit ster-il-ise /'sterə,laɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj]

1 : to clean (something) by destroying germs or bacteria • sterilize the dental instruments
2 : to make (someone or something) unable to produce children, young animals, etc. • The organization encourages people to sterilize their cats and dogs.

— ster-il-i-za-tion also Brit ster-il-i-sa-tion /,sterələ'zeɪʃən, Brit ,sterə,laɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

— ster-il-iz-er also Brit ster-il-is-er /'sterə,laɪzə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

¹ster-ling /'stɜːlɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : silver that is 92 percent pure — called also sterling silver
2 : British money • a drop in the value of sterling — see also POUND STERLING

²sterling adj

1 : made of silver that is 92 percent pure • a sterling bracelet
2 always used before a noun : very good : EXCELLENT • sterling ideas/work • a sterling example of democracy at work

¹stern /'stɜːn/ adj stern-er; -est

1 a : very serious especially in an unfriendly way • a stern judge • a stern warning b : expressing strong disapproval or criticism • He gave me a stern look.

2 : not likely to change or become weaker • stern determination/resolve be made of sterner stuff : to be an emotionally and morally strong person with more determination than other people • Another woman would have broken down, but she is made of sterner stuff.

— stern-ly adv • "No running in the house," he said sternly.

— stern-ness /'stɜːnnəs/ noun [noncount]

²stern noun, pl sterns [count] : the back part of a boat or ship — see picture at BOAT; opposite ³BOW from stem to stern see ¹STEM

ster-num /'stɜːnəm/ noun, pl -nums [count] technical : BREASTBONE

ste-roid /'stɛ,roɪd/ noun, pl -roids [count]

1 : a natural substance that is produced in the body
2 : ANABOLIC STEROID • a steroid user/abuser • He was accused of taking/using steroids.

on steroids 1 : using anabolic steroids • There were many rumors that she was on steroids. 2 US, informal + humorous : very large or impressive • a cookie on steroids [=a very large cookie]

stetho-scope /'stɛθə,skəʊp/ noun, pl -scopes [count] medical : an instrument that is used for listening to someone's heart or lungs

Stet-son /'stɛtsən/ trademark — used for a somewhat tall hat with a wide brim

ste-ve-dore /'sti:və,doʊ/ noun, pl -dores [count] : a person whose job is to load and unload ships at a port : LONGSHOREMAN

¹stew /'stuː, Brit 'stjuː/ noun, pl stews : a dish of vegetables and usually meat cooked in hot liquid for a long time [count] I cooked/made a stew for dinner. [non-count] Would you like some stew?

in a stew informal : excited, worried, or confused • He got himself in a stew over nothing. • She's been in a stew for days.

²stew verb stews; stewed; stew-ing

1 : to cook (something) slowly in hot liquid [+ obj] stewing the meat. [no obj] The meat still needs to stew. • a can of stewed tomatoes

2 [no obj] : to be upset or worried • She's been stewing over/about what he said for days.

stew in your own juice/juices informal : to worry and suffer because of something that you did • Let him stew in his own juices for a while.

stew-ard /'stu:wəd, Brit 'stju:wəd/ noun, pl -ards [count]

1 : a person and especially a man whose job is to serve meals and take care of passengers on a train, airplane, or ship — compare FLIGHT ATTENDANT

2 a : someone who protects or is responsible for money, property, etc. • the steward of their investments • teaching our children to be good stewards of the land b : a person whose job is to manage the land and property of another person • the steward of the estate — called also (Brit) bailliff

3 chiefly Brit : someone who is in charge of a race, contest, or other public event • The race stewards are reviewing the results.

— see also SHOP STEWARD, WINE STEWARD stew-ard-ess /'stu:wədəs, Brit 'stju:wədəs/ noun, pl -esses [count] somewhat old-fashioned : a woman whose job is to serve meals and take care of passengers on a train, airplane, or ship — compare FLIGHT ATTENDANT stew-ard-ship /'stu:wəd,ʃɪp, Brit 'stju:wəd,ʃɪp/ noun [non-count] : the activity or job of protecting and being responsible for something — usually + of • the stewardship of their investments/estate • the stewardship of our natural resources

¹stick /'stɪk/ noun, pl sticks

1 [count] : a cut or broken branch or twig • They collected dry sticks for the campfire. • a pile of sticks

2 [count] a : a long, thin piece of wood, metal, plastic, etc., that is used for a particular purpose • He served pieces of fruit on sticks. • a candied apple on a stick • a measuring/hiking stick — see also BROOMSTICK, CHOPSTICK, DIPSTICK, DRUMSTICK, WALKING STICK, YARDSTICK b : a long, thin object that is used for hitting or moving a ball or puck in a game • a hockey/lacrosse stick c : a stick that is used as a weapon • You know the old saying: "Sticks and stones may break my bones, but words/names can/will never hurt me." — often used figuratively in British English • The minister's inappropriate comments gave his opponents a new stick with which to beat him. — see also NIGHTSTICK

3 [count] a : something that is long and thin like a stick • He has sticks for legs. • cinnamon/carrot/celery sticks — often + of • a stick of dynamite — see also FISH STICK, MATCHSTICK, POGO STICK b : a long piece of something that is usually wrapped in paper, plastic, etc. • a stick of gum/butter c : a solid substance that is sold in a tall container which is open at the top • a glue stick • a stick of deodorant — see also LIPSTICK

4 [count] a : JOYSTICK • The pilot pulled back on the stick. b : STICK SHIFT • Does your car have a stick?

5 the sticks informal : an area in the country that is far away from towns and cities • We live way out in the sticks. [=the boonies, the boondocks]

6 [count] informal : punishment or the threat of punishment that is used to try to persuade someone to do something ✧ This sense of stick is often contrasted with carrot, which refers to the reward or advantage someone will get if they do something. • She'll have to choose between the carrot and the stick. • They say that a carrot works better than a stick. • The administration was criticized for its carrot-and-stick approach to foreign policy.

7 [noncount] Brit, informal : CRITICISM • I gave him a lot of stick [=flak] for his mistake.

get on the stick US, informal : to start working hard at something that you have been avoiding doing • You'd better get on the stick with those college applications!

more than you can shake a stick at see ¹SHAKE stick to beat someone with or stick with which to beat someone Brit, informal : something that is used to attack or punish someone or to make an attack or punishment seem reasonable or right • The fee is just another stick with which to beat the unions. • These charges have given her opponents a new stick to beat her with.

the short end of the stick chiefly US, informal : unfair or stethoscope

unfavorable treatment • She got the short end of the stick in the deal.

the wrong end of the stick chiefly Brit, informal : an incorrect understanding of something • You've got (hold of) the wrong end of the stick. He didn't push me; I fell.

up sticks Brit, informal : to pack up your belongings and move to a different place • They upped sticks and left for London.

— see also BIG STICK, CANDLESTICK, SLAPSTICK

²stick verb sticks; stuck /'stʌk/; stick·ing

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition a [+ obj] : to push (something usually sharp or pointed) into something • He stuck a toothpick in/into the sandwich. • The jacket was too thick to stick a pin through. • The nurse stuck the needle into the patient's leg. • Stick these candles in the birthday cake. b [no obj] of something usually sharp or pointed : to go partly into something • The thorn stuck in the dog's paw. • The spears stuck into the ground. : to have a part that has been pushed into something : to be partly inside something • The victim was found with a knife sticking out of her back. • darts sticking out of the wall • I saw a letter sticking (out) from his pocket. = I saw a letter sticking out of his pocket.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] informal : to put (something or someone) in a specified place • He stuck [=tucked] the pencil behind his ear. • The dog stuck its head out the window. • She stuck [=pushed] the letter under the door. • She stuck [=reached] her hand into the box and pulled out a piece of paper. • The librarian stuck [=put] the book back on its shelf. • The little girl stuck her fingers in the batter. • The photographer stuck the shorter people in the front row. • The deer stuck its nose up in the air. • He pointed the gun at me and said "stick 'em up." [=put your hands up in the air]

3 a always used before an adverb or preposition [+ obj] informal : to attach (something) to a surface with glue, tape, pins, etc. • She stuck two stamps on the letter. • He stuck a note (up) on the door. • She stuck the pieces of wood together with glue. b [no obj] : to become attached to the surface of something • The suction cup wouldn't stick. • Several pages had stuck together. • Spray the pan with oil to keep the biscuits from sticking. — often + to • The peanut butter stuck to the knife. • Magnets stick to steel. • The glue had stuck to her fingers.

4 [no obj] : to become difficult or impossible to move from a place or position • The door's handle has a tendency to stick. • That door always sticks. • Her foot stuck in the mud. • A piece of food stuck [=lodged] in her throat. — often used figuratively • His words stuck in my mind. [=I remembered his words] • One of the kids called him "Stretch," and the name stuck. [=everyone started calling him "Stretch"] • You can charge them with fraud, but you'll need more evidence if you want to make it stick. [=if you want them to be legally punished for fraud]

5 [+ obj] Brit, informal : to deal with or accept (an unpleasant situation, experience, person, etc.) : STAND — usually used in questions and negative statements with can, can't, cannot, could, and couldn't • He couldn't stick the new job. • How can you stick being there all the time? • She can't stick his friends. [=she strongly dislikes his friends] stick around [phrasal verb] informal : to stay somewhere especially in order to wait for something or someone • Stick around. The band should start playing soon. • If you stick around, you can meet my girlfriend.

stick at it Brit, informal : to continue doing or trying to do something • If you stick at it [=keep at it] long enough, you'll succeed.

stick at nothing Brit, informal : to be willing to do anything in order to get or achieve something • She'll stick at nothing [=stop at nothing] to get what she wants.

stick a toe in the water see ¹TOE

stick by [phrasal verb] stick by (someone or something) : to continue to support or be loyal to (someone or something) • The troops stuck by [=stood by] their general to the end. • She stuck by [=stood by] her husband throughout the trial. • I stick by my promise. [=I still will do what I promised] • He stuck by what he said earlier.

stick in your craw see CRAW stick it to (someone) US, informal : to treat (someone) harshly or unfairly especially in order to get something for yourself (such as revenge or money) • Her political rivals used the scandal as an opportunity to stick it to her. • businesses that stick it to consumers by charging high fees • The government is really sticking it to the taxpayers.

stick like glue informal 1 : to stay very firmly attached to something • Wash the egg off before it dries, or it will stick like glue. — often used figuratively • One of the kids called him "Stretch," and the nickname stuck (to him) like glue. [=everyone started calling him by that nickname] 2 : to stay very close to someone • Her dog always stuck to her like glue. • The two friends stick (together) like glue.

stick out [phrasal verb] 1 : to extend outward beyond an edge or surface • His ears stick out. [=they extend outward more than most people's ears] • A peninsula sticks out from the shore into the bay. 2 stick out (something) or stick (something) out : to extend (something, such as a body part) outward • She said "hello," and stuck her hand out. • He stuck out his chest and walked away. • She was sitting with her feet stuck out in the aisle. • Stick out your tongue and say "ah." 3 : to be easily seen or recognized • You will certainly stick out [=stand out] with that orange hat. 4 : to be better or more important than the other people or things in a group in a way that is easily seen or noticed • Only one contestant really sticks out [=stands out] in my mind. • Two facts stick out from her testimony. 5 stick out (something) or stick (something) out informal : to continue doing (something unpleasant or difficult) • She stuck the job out for the remainder of the summer. • Though the home team was down by 20 points, a few fans stuck it out [=stayed and watched the game] until the very end. 6 stick out for (something) Brit, informal : to refuse to accept or agree to something in order to get (something) • The strikers are sticking out for [=holding out for] higher pay.

stick out like a sore thumb see ¹SORE

stick to [phrasal verb] stick to (something) : to continue doing or using (something) especially when it is difficult to do so • She stuck to her story about the money already being missing when she got there. • Please stick to the script/subject/rules. • Stick to the marked trails. • If you want to succeed, you've got to stick to it! [=keep trying, working, etc.] : to not change (a decision, belief, etc.) • I intend to stick to my promise/word. • She's sticking to her decision to retire.

stick together informal : to continue to support each other • Families need to stick together.

stick to your guns see ¹GUN

stick two fingers up at see ¹FINGER

stick up [phrasal verb] 1 : to extend upward above a surface • The baby's hair sticks (straight) up. • A large rock was sticking up in the middle of the river. 2 stick up for (someone) informal : to defend (someone) against attack or criticism • He stuck up for his friend. • She stuck up for herself. — see also STICKUP stick with [phrasal verb] informal 1 stick with (something) : to continue using or doing (something) • You need to find a job and stick with it. • I'll stick with my usual brand. : to not change (a decision, belief, etc.) • The company is sticking with its decision to close the store. 2 stick (someone) with (something or someone) : to force (someone) to deal with (something or someone unpleasant) • They always stick me with the bill. [=make me pay the bill] • The teacher always sticks me with Tom. — often used as (be/get) stuck with • I was stuck with washing dishes. • I got stuck with Tom again. 3 stick with (someone) a : to stay close to (someone) in a race or competition • The challenger stuck with the champion until the very last round. b : to stay near (someone) in order to gain knowledge, protection, etc. • Stick with me, kid, and you'll learn something! c : to be remembered by someone for a very long time • The lessons she learned from that experience stuck with her.

stick your head above the parapet see PARAPET

stick your neck out see ¹NECK stick your nose in/into see ¹NOSE stick your oar in see OAR

— see also STUCK

stick·ball /'stɪk,bɑ:l/ noun [noncount] US : a game like baseball that is played on the street or in a small area with a stick (such as a broomstick) and ball stick·er /'stɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a piece of paper with a picture or writing on it and a sticky substance on its back that is used to attach it to a surface — see also BUMPER STICKER sticker price noun, pl ~ prices [count] US : the price of a vehicle that is suggested by the manufacturer and that is shown on a sticker which is attached to the vehicle • We managed to negotiate 15 percent off the sticker price; also : the stated price of something • The speakers are excellent and well worth the sticker price.

sticker shock noun [noncount] US : a feeling of surprise and disappointment caused by learning that something you want to buy is very expensive • We left the store suffering severe sticker shock.

stick figure noun, pl ~ -ures [count] : a drawing that shows the head of a person or animal as a circle and all other parts as usually straight lines stick-han-dling /'stɪk,hændlɪŋ/ noun [noncount] sports : the use of a stick to control a puck or ball • a hockey player who is skilled at stickhandling sticking plaster noun, pl ~ -ters [count] Brit : a piece of material that is put on your skin over a small cut or wound : PLASTER sticking point noun, pl ~ points [count] : something that people disagree about and that prevents progress from being made in discussions • The length of the contract has become a sticking point in the negotiations.

stick insect noun, pl ~ -sects [count] : an insect with a long, thin body that looks like a stick — called also (US) walking stick stick-in-the-mud /'stɪkənðə,mʌd/ noun, pl stick-in-the-muds [count] informal + disapproving : someone who has old-fashioned ideas or who does not like trying new or exciting things • He's just an old stick-in-the-mud.

stick-ler /'stɪkələ/ noun, pl -lers [count] : a person who believes that something is very important and should be done or followed all the time • an etiquette stickler — usually + for • a stickler for proper etiquette • He's a stickler for the rules.

stick-on adj, always used before a noun : having a sticky substance on one side for attaching to something • stick-on labels stick-pin /'stɪk,pɪn/ noun, pl -pins [count] US : a decorative pin that is worn on a jacket or used to hold the ends of a necktie in place stick shift noun, pl ~ shifts [count] US

1 : a device in a car that you move into different positions in order to change the car's gears — called also stick; compare GEARSHIFT

2 : a car that has a stick shift : MANUAL • Do you know how to drive a stick shift? — called also stick stick-to-it-ive-ness /stɪk'tu:wətɪvnəs/ noun [noncount] US, informal : the quality that allows someone to continue trying to do something even though it is difficult or unpleasant • I admire her stick-to-itiveness. [=perseverance, tenacity]

stick-up /'stɪk,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] US, informal : a robbery that is done using a gun : HOLDUP • He pulled out a gun and shouted, "This is a stickup!" — see also stick up at ²STICK stick-work /'stɪk,wɜ:k/ noun [noncount] sports : the use of a stick to control a puck or ball • a hockey player who's known for his skillful/fancy stickwork

sticky /'stɪki/ adj stick-i-er; -est

1 : having a substance (such as glue or honey) on it that things easily attach to : covered in a substance that things stick to • My fingers are sticky. • sticky hands • The floor is sticky.

2 of a substance : tending to have things attach to it : tending to have things stick to it • The sap is very sticky. • There is a sticky substance on the table. • The paint was still sticky.

3 informal : unpleasantly warm and humid • It's sticky outside. • a sticky summer afternoon • The weather was hot and sticky.

4 informal : difficult or unpleasant • It's a sticky [=tricky] situation.

— stick-i-ness /'stɪkɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • The tape has lost its stickiness.

sticky bun noun, pl ~ buns [count] chiefly US : a usually round sweet cake made with cinnamon and topped with melted brown sugar and butter sticky fingers noun [noncount] informal : a tendency to steal things • people with sticky fingers • She's known for having sticky fingers.

sticky note noun, pl ~ notes [count] : a small piece of paper that has a strip of a sticky substance on the back so that it can be attached to a surface — see picture at OFFICE sticky-sweet adj, chiefly US, informal : extremely sweet : too sweet • sticky-sweet caramel • a sticky-sweet smell • a love song full of sticky-sweet sentiment sticky tape noun [noncount] Brit : a type of clear tape that is used for sticking things (such as pieces of paper) together : clear adhesive tape • a roll of sticky tape sticky wicket noun [singular] Brit, informal : a difficult situation • It's a bit of a sticky wicket. • She was on a sticky wicket when she saw her friend steal the fund-raiser money.

¹stiff /'stɪf/ adj stiff-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : difficult to bend or move • stiff valves/cardboard/fabric • stiff hairs/bristles • The brush was as stiff as a board. [=very stiff] b : painful to move or use • stiff muscles • a stiff back/neck • When I got out of bed this morning my back was stiff as a board; also : showing pain in movement or use • a stiff walk

2 : thick and difficult to stir or pour • Beat the egg whites until they are stiff. • stiff batter

3 : difficult, strict, or severe • a stiff [=heavy] penalty/fine • a stiff task/challenge • stiff competition

4 : not graceful, relaxed, or friendly • Our host seemed somewhat stiff. • a stiff manner : too formal • stiff writing/dialogue

5 : very expensive • a stiff price

6 : strong and forceful • a stiff wind/breeze • The troops encountered stiff resistance.

7 : containing a lot of alcohol • a stiff drink/cocktail stiff upper lip : a calm and determined attitude in a difficult situation • She managed to keep a stiff upper lip even as everything fell apart.

— stiff-ly adv • "Excuse me," he said stiffly. — stiff-ness noun [noncount]

²stiff adv, informal : very much : to an extreme degree • She was scared/bored stiff.

frozen stiff 1 : completely stiff because of being wet and frozen • The shirt was frozen stiff. 2 informal : extremely cold • We were frozen stiff by the time we got indoors.

³stiff noun, pl stiffs [count] informal

1 : the body of a dead person

2 US a : a person who you think is lucky, unlucky, etc. • You lucky stiff! • That poor stiff never gets a break. b : an ordinary or dull person • (disapproving) He's OK but his friends are a bunch of stiffs. • They have the kind of luxuries the average working stiff can't afford.

⁴stiff verb stiffs; stiffed; stiff-ing [+ obj] US, informal : to not give as much money as you should give to (someone) • He stiffed the waiter on the tip. [=he didn't give the waiter a tip or he gave a tip that was too small] stiff-arm /'stɪf,ɑ:m/ noun, pl -arms [count] American football : STRAIGHT-ARM

— stiff-arm verb -arms; -armed; -arm-ing [+ obj] • The ball-carrier stiff-armed the tackler.

stiff-en /'stɪfən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 [no obj] : to stop moving and become completely still especially because of fear, anger, etc. • She stiffened when he grabbed her shoulder. • The dogs stiffened in alarm.

2 [no obj] : to become painful to move or use — often + up • My muscles stiffened up the next day.

3 : to become more severe or strong or to make (something) more severe or strong [no obj] The wind stiffened. • His resolve has stiffened. [+ obj] He stiffened his resolve. • The law would stiffen penalties for tax evasion.

4 [+ obj] : to make (something, such as cloth) difficult to bend or move • stiffen a shirt with starch

— stiff-en-er /'stɪfənə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

stiff-necked /'stɪf'nekt/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : very proud and formal • a stiff-necked military man • stiff-necked arrogance • She's too stiff-necked to ask for help.

sti-file /'staɪfəl/ verb sti-files; stifled; sti-fling

1 [+ obj] a : to not allow yourself to do or express (something) • trying to stifle a cry/yawn • I had to stifle the desire/urge to yell "Stop!" b : to stop (someone) from doing or expressing something • Students at the school are stifled by the pressure to score high on tests.

2 [+ obj] : to make (something) difficult or impossible • Too many regulations stifle innovation. • something that stifles the growth of the plant/economy

3 a [no obj] : to be unable to breathe easily • I wish we could go outside instead of stifling in this tiny room. b [+ obj] : to make (someone) unable to breathe or unable to breathe easily • He was almost stifled by the smoke.

stifling adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : making it difficult to breathe • The heat was stifling. : very hot and humid • a stifling day

2 : not allowing something to be done or expressed • stifling rules/regulations/requirements • a stifling relationship [=a relationship that prevents someone from behaving freely, expressing emotion, etc.]

- stifling adv • The weather was stifling hot. [=very hot]
 – sti-pling-ly adv • stiflingly hot stig-ma /ˈstigmə/ noun, pl -mas

- 1 [singular] : a set of negative and often unfair beliefs that a society or group of people have about something • the stigma associated with mental illness = the stigma of mental illness • the stigma of being poor = the stigma of poverty • There's a social stigma attached to receiving welfare.
 2 [count] botany : the top part in the center of a flower which receives the pollen

stig-ma-ta /stɪgˈmɑ:tə/ noun [plural] : marks on someone's hands and feet which resemble Jesus Christ's wounds from being nailed on the cross

stig-ma-tize also Brit stig-ma-tise /ˈstigmə,taɪz/ verb -tiz-es; -tized; -tiz-ing [+ obj] usually disapproving : to describe or regard (something, such as a characteristic or group of people) in a way that shows strong disapproval • Society stigmatizes welfare recipients. • a legal system that stigmatizes juveniles as criminals

– stig-ma-ti-za-tion also Brit stig-ma-ti-sa-tion /ˌstigmətəˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˌstigmə,taɪˈzeɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

stile /ˈstajəl/ noun, pl stiles [count] : a set of steps to help people climb over a fence or wall

sti-let-to /stəˈletou/ noun, pl -tos or -toes [count]

- 1 a : a woman's shoe with a very high, thin heel • a pair of stilettos [=spikes, spike heels] b : the heel of a stiletto — called also spike heel

- 2 : a knife with a thin, pointed blade

¹still /ˈstɪl/ adv

- 1 : happening or existing before now and continuing into the present — used to say that an action or condition continues • He still lives there. [=he continues to live there] • It's still early/cold/Tuesday. • She's still mad about what happened yesterday. • Eat your soup while it's still hot. [=while it continues to be hot; before it cools]

- 2 : in spite of that — used to say that something happens or is true even though there is something that might prevent it from happening or being true • Careful people can still make mistakes. • I tried again and still I failed.

- 3 : without moving : without motion • Sit still. It'll just take a minute. • She stood very still.

- 4 : to a greater extent or degree — used to add force to words like more, better, bigger, etc. • a still more difficult problem = a problem that is more difficult still • still bigger/better/longer

- 5 : in addition — used for emphasis • He won still [=yet] another tournament. • still more complications

jury is still out see JURY

still less see ²LESS

²still adj

- 1 a : not moving • still water • The cat twitched slightly, and then was still. — see also STOCK-STILL b : lacking motion or activity • Everyone had left, and the house was finally still. • a hot, still day [=a day without wind]

- 2 photography a — used to describe an ordinary photograph that does not show movement as compared to a movie • still photographs b : relating to or used for still photographs • a class in still photography • a still camera

- 3 chiefly Brit, of a liquid : not having bubbles • They had still and fizzy drinks. • still wine

- still waters run deep — used to say that people who are quiet or shy are often very intelligent and interesting

– still-ness noun [noncount]

³still verb stills; stilled; still-ing literary

- 1 [+ obj] : to make (something) less severe or strong • Her reassuring words stilled our fears/apprehensions.

- 2 : to become still or to make (something) still : to stop moving or to cause (something) to stop moving [no obj] The water stilled at last. [+ obj] river waters stilled by dams

- 3 [+ obj] : to stop (something) from continuing • The report has not stilled debate about whether the procedure is safe.

⁴still noun, pl stills

- 1 [noncount] literary : quiet or silence • the still of late evening • the still of the deep woods

- 2 [count] : PHOTOGRAPH; specifically : a photograph of actors or scenes from a movie • a series of stills from the movie the still of the night literary : the time late at night when it is very quiet and dark

– compare ⁵STILL

⁵still noun, pl stills [count] : a piece of equipment that is used for making strong alcoholic drinks • a whisky still — compare ⁴STILL still-birth /ˈstɪl,bɜθ/ noun, pl -births [count] : the birth of a dead baby still-born /ˈstɪlˈboʊn/ adj

- 1 of a baby : dead at birth

- 2 : never able to begin operating or proceeding • The plan was stillborn. [=the plan had failed even before it had begun to be used] still life noun, pl ~ lifes [count] : a painting, drawing, etc., of a carefully arranged group of objects (such as flowers and fruit) • an exhibit of still lifes; also [noncount] : the art or activity of making still lifes • She prefers portraiture to still life.

stilt /ˈstɪlt/ noun, pl stilts [count]

- 1 : one of a set of upright posts that are used to hold a building up above water or the ground

- 2 : one of a pair of long poles with platforms for your feet that you can stand on to walk high above the ground • a circus performer walking on stilts

stilt-ed /ˈstɪltəd/ adj : awkward especially because of being too formal • a stilted speech • stilted dialogue/language

stim-u-lant /ˈstɪmjələnt/ noun, pl -lants [count]

- 1 : something (such as a drug) that makes you more active or gives you more energy • Caffeine is a stimulant.

- 2 : something that causes more activity : STIMULUS • The movie was a stimulant to discussion.

stim-u-late /ˈstɪmjəleɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing [+ obj]

- 1 : to make (something) more active • Caffeine stimulates the heart. : to cause or encourage (something) to happen or develop • A raise in employee wages might stimulate production. • The economy was not stimulated by the tax cuts. • a hormone that stimulates the growth of muscle tissue

- 2 : to make (a person) excited or interested in something • Their discussion stimulated him to research the subject more. • He was stimulated by their discussion.

– stim-u-la-tion /ˌstɪmjəˈleɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • physical/intellectual/sexual stimulation stimulating adj [more ~; most ~]

- 1 : exciting or interesting • a stimulating conversation • a stimulating environment for studying

- 2 : causing someone to become more energetic or alert • the stimulating effects of caffeine

stim-u-lus /ˈstɪmjələs/ noun, pl stim-u-li /ˈstɪmjə,laɪ/ [count]

- 1 : something that causes something else to happen, develop, or become more active • The pay raise was a stimulus for production. • an economic stimulus plan

- 2 : something that causes a change or a reaction • Heat and light are physical stimuli. • The dog responded to the stimulus of the ringing bell.

¹sting /ˈstɪŋ/ verb stings; stung /ˈstʌŋ/; sting-ing

- 1 of an insect, plant, or animal : to hurt (someone) by piercing the skin with a sharp, pointed part that usually contains poison [+ obj] I got stung by a bee. • The jellyfish stung the swimmer. [no obj] The bees will sting if you bother them.

- 2 : to cause a quick, sharp pain [no obj] The iodine will sting for a few minutes. [+ obj] The cold rain stung my eyes.

- 3 a [no obj] : to feel a quick sharp pain • The smoke made our eyes sting. b not used in progressive tenses : to cause (someone) to feel emotional or mental pain [+ obj] She was stung by their harsh criticism. • His words stung her. [no obj] Your comment stung.

- 4 [+ obj] informal : to treat (someone) unfairly in a business deal — usually used as (be/get) stung • He got stung on that deal.

sting for [phrasal verb] sting (someone) for (something) Brit, informal : to ask (someone) to give or lend you (something) • Can I sting you for some gum?

– stinging adj • stinging tentacles • a stinging feeling • She gave him a stinging rebuke.

²sting noun, pl stings

- 1 [singular] : a quick, sharp pain • When you get the shot, you'll feel a little sting. — often used figuratively • He'll eventually overcome the sting of being rejected. • His smile took the sting out of his words. [=his smile showed that his words were not meant to be hurtful]

- 2 [count] : an injury caused when an insect or animal stings

stilts

you • His arm was covered with bee stings.

3 [count] : a complicated and clever plan that is meant to deceive someone especially in order to catch criminals • They were caught in a drug sting. • a sting operation by police

4 [count] Brit : STINGER

sting·er /'stɪŋə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly US : a pointed part on an insect and animal that is used to sting someone • the stinger of a bee — called also (Brit) sting

sting·ray /'stɪŋ, reɪ/ noun, pl -rays [count] : a type of fish that has a large, flat body and a long tail with spines on it that are used to sting other animals

stin·gy /'stɪndʒi/ adj sting·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] disapproving

1 : not liking or wanting to give or spend money • a stingy old miser • The company was too stingy to raise salaries. : not generous • He is stingy with compliments. [=he doesn't give many compliments]

2 : small in size or amount • stingy portions of food

-stin·gi·ly /'stɪndʒəli/ adv — stin·gi·ness /'stɪndʒɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • He is known for his stinginess.

¹stink /'stɪŋk/ verb stinks; stank /'stæŋk/ or stunk /'stʌŋk/; stunk; stink·ing [no obj]

1 : to have a very bad smell • These dirty clothes stink. • Something stinks in here. — often + of • His clothes stank of dead fish. — sometimes used figuratively • Something stinks about his story. [=something about his story does not seem true or honest] • The whole project stinks of corruption.

2 informal a : to do something very poorly • I stink at golf. [=I'm a very bad golfer] b : to be very low in quality • The movie stunk. [=the movie was very bad] • The food is good at that restaurant, but the service stinks. c : to be very unpleasant, unfair, etc. • Having a root canal stinks. • It stinks that you can't stay longer. [=I'm very sorry/disappointed that you can't stay longer] stink up (US) or Brit stink out [phrasal verb] stink (something) up/out or stink up/out (something) : to give a very bad smell to (something) • His cigars stink up the house.

stink up the joint see ¹JOINT

²stink noun [singular]

1 : a very bad smell • the stink of garbage

2 informal : a situation in which someone complains in a very angry and often public way • She caused (quite) a stink when her request was refused. • People raised a stink about the new law. • He kicked up a stink about the way he'd been treated.

stink bomb noun, pl ~ bombs [count] : a small device that produces a very bad smell when it is broken, burned, etc. • Someone set off a stink bomb at the school.

stink·er /'stɪŋkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal

1 somewhat old-fashioned : a person or thing that is disliked • He is a dirty little stinker.

2 : something (such as a book or film) that is very bad • Her last movie was pretty good, but this one's a stinker. [=this one stinks] • a real stinker of a performance

¹stink·ing /'stɪŋkɪŋ/ adj

1 : having a very bad smell • Put out that stinking cigar.

2 always used before a noun, informal — used for emphasis when you are angry • I hate this stinking job.

²stinking adv, informal : very or extremely • They're stinking rich. [=filthy rich] • He was stinking drunk.

stinky /'stɪŋki/ adj stink·i·er; -est informal : having a very bad smell • Move your stinky feet!

¹stint /'stɪnt/ noun, pl stints [count] : a period of time spent doing a certain job or activity • He had a brief stint as a mail carrier. • a four-year stint in the army

²stint verb stints; stint·ed; stint·ing [no obj] : to use or give something in limited amounts — usually + on or with • She doesn't stint on spices in her cooking. [=she uses a lot of spices] • He can be stinting with praise. [=he tends not to praise people very often]

sti·pend /'staɪ,pend/ noun, pl -pends [count] : a usually small amount of money that is paid regularly to someone • He receives a small stipend for his work as a research fellow. • a weekly stipend stip·ple /'stɪpəl/ verb stip·ples; stip·pled; stip·pling [+ obj] : to draw or paint small dots on (something) — usually used as (be) stippled • The paper was stippled with paint.

-stippled adj • a stippled background — stippling noun [noncount] • The pages were decorated with stippling.

stip·u·late /'stɪpjə,leɪt/ verb -lates; -lat·ed; -lat·ing [+ obj] : to demand or require (something) as part of an agreement • The cease-fire was stipulated by the treaty. • The rules stipu- late that players must wear uniforms.

stip·u·la·tion /,stɪpjə'leɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : something that is required as part of an agreement [count] contract stipulations • We agreed to the deal with the stipulation that she pay the expenses herself. [noncount] stipulation of requirements

¹stir /'stə/ verb stirs; stirred; stir·ring

1 [+ obj] : to mix (something) by making circular movements in it with a spoon or similar object • She stirred her coffee. • The cake batter must be stirred for 10 minutes. • Stir one cup of sugar into the batter.

2 : to move or cause (someone or something) to move after being still [no obj] She heard him stir (in bed). [=heard him begin to move in bed as he woke up] • He never stirred from the couch [=he stayed on the couch] all afternoon. [+ obj] She was stirred from her sleep by the noise. • The breeze stirred the leaves on the tree.

3 a [no obj] : to be active or busy • We could see people stirring inside the shop. • “Not a creature was stirring” —Clement Moore, “A Visit from Saint Nicholas” (1822) b

[+ obj] : to cause (someone or something) to be active • A good book can stir the imagination. • He stirred himself to action. [=he began to take action]

4 [+ obj] : to cause (an emotion or reaction) • The bad economic news has stirred anxiety among investors. [=has caused investors to worry] — usually + up • The bad news has stirred up a lot of anxiety. • The story stirred up some deep emotions within him.

stir up [phrasal verb] ¹stir up (someone) or stir (someone) up : to cause (someone) to feel a strong emotion and a desire to do something • The speech stirred up the crowd. 2

stir (something) up or stir up (something) a : to cause (something) to move up into and through the air or water • The workers stirred up a lot of dust. b : to cause (something, usually something bad or unpleasant) to happen • They're trying to stir up trouble. • stirring up racial hatred • His comments certainly stirred things up. [=caused a lot of excitement, anger, etc.] — see also ¹STIR 4 (above)

²stir noun [singular]

1 : a state of excitement, anger, or surprise among a group of people • His comments have caused quite a stir.

2 : a small movement • the stir of the leaves in the breeze

3 : the act of stirring something with a spoon or similar object • She gave the sauce a stir. [=she stirred the sauce]

4 chiefly US slang, old-fashioned : PRISON • He spent five years in stir.

stir·cra·zy /'stə'kreɪzi/ adj, not used before a noun : unhappy and upset because you have been in a place for a long time and want to get out • I was going stir-crazy after being stuck in the house all week.

¹stir·fry /'stə,fraɪ/ noun, pl -fries [count, noncount] : a dish made of foods (such as meat or vegetables) that are fried quickly over high heat while being stirred constantly • We had (a) chicken stir-fry for dinner last night.

²stir·fry /'stə'fraɪ/ verb -fries; -fried; -fry·ing [+ obj] : to fry (something) quickly over high heat while stirring it constantly • Stir-fry the pork for four minutes. • stir-fried chicken stir·rer /'stərər/ noun, pl -rers [count]

1 : something that is used to stir liquids • a coffee/paint stirrer

2 Brit, informal : a person who causes trouble

¹stir·ring /'stərɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing strong feelings • She gave a stirring [=moving] speech at the awards banquet. • a stirring rendition of the national anthem

²stirring noun, pl -rings [count] : the beginning of a motion, activity, feeling, idea, etc. — + of • We felt the first stirrings of hope when we heard the news.

stir·rup /'stərəp, Brit 'stɪrəp/ noun, pl -rups [count] : one of two loops that are attached to a saddle for the rider's feet — see picture at HORSE

stirrup pants noun [plural] US : a pair of women's pants that have a strip of fabric on the bottom of each leg that goes underneath the foot

¹stitch /'stɪtʃ/ noun, pl stitch·es

1 [count] : a piece of thread that is passed through a piece of material with a needle • the stitches on a baseball • She pulled out the stitches. — see also CROSS-STITCH

2 [count] medical : a special piece of thread that is used to hold a large cut or wound closed • His cut required six stitches. • She gets her stitches removed tomorrow.

3 a [count] : a single loop of thread or yarn that is wrapped around a tool (such as a knitting needle) and is linked to other loops to make fabric • After knitting another row she realized she had dropped a stitch. [=let a loop fall off a knitting needle] b : a particular type or style of stitch used in sewing, knitting, crocheting, etc. [count] The book teaches a variety of stitches. [noncount] a scarf worked in knit/purl stitch 4 [count] : a sudden sharp pain in your side — usually singular • I've got a stitch (in my side).

a stitch informal ✧ If you are not wearing a stitch, do not have a stitch on, etc., you are naked. • She wasn't wearing a stitch (of clothes/clothing).

a stitch in time (saves nine) ✧ The phrase a stitch in time (saves nine) means that it is better to fix a problem when it is small than to wait and let it become a bigger problem.

in stitches informal : laughing very hard • His jokes had us all in stitches.

²stitch verb stitches; stitched; stitch-ing [+ obj]

1 : to use a needle and thread to make or repair (something, such as a piece of clothing) : to join (something, such as a piece of fabric or a button) to something else with stitches : SEW • He stitched a patch onto his coat.

2 : to make (something, such as a design) out of stitches • Her initials were stitched on the pillowcase. • He stitched a design along the border of the tablecloth.

stitch together [phrasal verb] stitch (something) together or stitch together (something) : to make (something) out of many different things • I stitched together a novel from several stories I had written earlier.

stitch up [phrasal verb] 1 stitch (someone or something) up or stitch up (someone or something) : to use a needle and thread to close a large cut or wound on someone • The doctor stitched him up. = The doctor stitched up his wound.

2 stitch (someone) up or stitch up (someone) Brit, informal : to make (an innocent person) appear to be guilty of a crime : FRAME • They stitched him up for murder.

3 stitch (something) up or stitch up (something) Brit, informal : to do the final things that are needed to complete (something) in a successful way : to finish or do (something) successfully • The mayor stitched up a deal with the union. • We thought that we had the game stitched up. [=sewn up; we thought we were definitely going to win the game]

— stitch-er noun, pl -ers [count]

stitching noun [noncount] : a series of stitches or the type of stitches that are used in something • He admired the stitching on the quilt.

stoat /'stout/ noun, pl stoats [count] chiefly Brit : a small animal that has a long body and brown fur that turns white in winter; especially : this animal when its fur is brown — compare ERMINE

¹stock /'stɔ:k/ noun, pl stocks

1 : the supply of goods available for sale in a store [noncount] That camera is out of stock. • Do you have any more light bulbs in stock? [singular] They carry a large/small stock of computer software.

2 : a supply of something that is available for use [count] We built up an ample stock of food before the storm. • She always seems to have a fresh stock of funny jokes. [noncount] There was a decrease in available housing stock [=houses and apartment buildings] last year.

3 : a share of the value of a company which can be bought, sold, or traded as an investment [count] The value of his stocks has soared. • Most of her money is invested in stocks. [noncount] Do you own any stock? — often used before another noun • stock prices • a stock certificate

4 [count] : the part of a gun that is held against your shoulder • the stock of a rifle — see picture at GUN

5 [noncount] : the country or group of people that a person comes from • He is of Irish stock. [=his family comes originally from Ireland]

6 [noncount] : farm animals (such as cattle) from which meat, wool and other products are obtained : LIVESTOCK

7 [noncount] : liquid in which meat, fish, or vegetables have been cooked and then removed and which is used to make soups, sauces, etc. • The recipe calls for one cup of chicken/beef stock.

8 [noncount] US : confidence or faith in someone or something • He placed/put a lot of stock in her ability to get the job done. [=he had a lot of trust in her ability to get the job done] • I don't put much stock in the rumors. [=I don't think the rumors are believable; I doubt the rumors]

9 [noncount] — used to describe how popular or unpopular someone or something is at a particular time • The mayor's stock with voters is high/low right now. [=the mayor is popular/unpopular with voters right now]

10 stocks [plural] : a wooden frame with holes in it for a person's feet, hands, or head that was used in the past as a form of punishment • He was sent to the stocks.

lock, stock, and barrel see LOCK take stock : to carefully think about something in order to make a decision about what to do next • We need to take stock and formulate a plan. — often + of • We should take stock of our finances.

²stock verb stocks; stocked; stock-ing [+ obj]

1 : to have a supply of (something) in a store for sale • Our store stocks only the finest goods. • Do you stock this item?

2 : to fill (something, such as a room or a building) with a supply of food, drinks, etc. • The bar is stocked with beer, wine and liquor. • a well-stocked kitchen • They stocked the shelves in the store with a variety of imported foods.

stock up [phrasal verb] : to get a large quantity of something so that you will have it for later use • I need to head to the store to stock up. — often + on • We made sure to stock up on food before the storm hit.

³stock adj, always used before a noun

1 a : regularly used or included with something : STANDARD • Here are the stock patterns you can choose from. b : commonly used and not original or interesting • She gave a stock answer to the reporter's question. • a dull narrative with stock characters

2 : usually available for sale in a store • That item is a stock model. • stock sizes stock-ade /'stɔ:'keɪd/ noun, pl -ades [count] : a line of tall posts that are set in the ground and used as a barrier to protect or defend a place • a fort stockade

stock-bro-ker /'stɔ:k,broukə/ noun, pl -kers [count] : someone whose job is to buy and sell shares of stock for other people stock car noun, pl ~ cars [count] : a car used for racing that has the same basic structure as a car normally sold to the public but has a more powerful engine, a stronger frame, etc. — often used before another noun • stock car racing stock company noun, pl ~ -nies [count] US

1 : a company whose ownership is divided into shares that can be bought and sold

2 : a theater group made up of actors who perform together stock cube noun, pl ~ cubes [count] Brit : BOUILLON CUBE stock-er /'stɔ:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : a person whose job is to put products on a store's shelves, in a store's cases, etc. • He works as a produce stocker at the grocery store.

stock exchange noun, pl ~ -changes [count] : a system or place where shares of various companies are bought and sold • domestic and international stock exchanges • Shares of the company were trading at $20 on the New York Stock Exchange. • He works as a stockbroker on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

stock-hold-er /'stɔ:k,houldə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : someone who owns stock in a company : SHAREHOLDER

stock-ing /'stɔ:kɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count]

1 : a close-fitting usually long covering for the foot and leg • a pair of wool stockings

2 : a covering for the foot and ankle : SOCK

3 : a decorative pouch shaped like a large sock that is used for holding gifts at Christmas • The children hung their (Christmas) stockings on the mantel.

in your stockinged/stocking feet : wearing socks but not shoes • Don't go outside in your stocking feet!

stocking cap noun, pl ~ caps [count] US : a knitted close-fitting cap that sometimes has a decorative part (called a tassel or pom-pom) at the top stocking stuffer noun, pl ~ -fers [count] US : a small gift that is usually placed in a Christmas stocking • Small toys make great stocking stuffers. — called also (Brit) stocking filler stock-in-trade /'stɔ:kən'treɪd/ noun [noncount] : something that someone or something does or makes very well and often • Ballads were her stock-in-trade. • Sitcoms are the stock-in-trade of the major networks.

stock-ist /'stɔ:kɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] Brit : a person or store that sells a particular kind of product • a stockist of medical supplies stockman /'stɔ:kmen/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : a person who raises cattle, sheep, etc.

stock market noun, pl ~ -kets

1 [noncount] : the business or activity of buying and selling stocks • We lost money in the stock market. • He made a lot of money playing the stock market. [=buying and selling stocks]
2 [count] : a system for buying and selling stocks or a place where stocks are bought and sold • International stock markets saw declines at the end of the trading day. • The stock market [=the total value of stocks traded on the stock market] dropped 15 points today.

stock option noun, pl ~ -tions [count] US : a right that is given by a company to an employee that lets the employee purchase stock in the company usually for a price that is lower than the normal price — usually plural • He decided to exercise his stock options. [=he decided to buy stock in the company that he works for] — called also (Brit) share option

¹stock-pile /'stɑ:k,pajəl/ noun, pl -piles [count] : a large supply of something that is kept for future use • a stockpile of ammunition/weapons • a stockpile of medical supplies

²stockpile verb -piles; -piled; -pil-ing [+ obj] : to get and keep a large supply of (something) for future use • The government stockpiled vaccines to prepare for a flu epidemic.

stock-pot /'stɑ:k,pɑ:t/ noun, pl -pots [count] : a large pot for making stock, soups, stews, etc.

stock-room /'stɑ:k,ru:m/ noun, pl -rooms [count] : a storage area for the supplies and goods that are used or sold in a business stock-still /'stɑ:k'stɪl/ adj, not used before a noun : very still : not moving at all • He stood/stayed stock-still.

stock-tak-ing /'stɑ:k'teɪkɪŋ/ noun

1 chiefly Brit : the activity or process of thinking about a problem or situation in order to decide what to do [non-count] It is time for some stocktaking. [=it's time to take stock of the situation] [singular] It is time for a stocktaking.

2 [noncount] Brit : the act or process of making a complete list of the items or things that are in a place : INVENTORY stocky /'stɑ:ki/ adj stock-i-er; -est : short and heavy or broad • a short, stocky man • That outfit makes you look stocky.

— stock-i-ly /'stɑ:kəli/ adv • He is stockily built.

stock-yard /'stɑ:k,jæd/ noun, pl -yards [count] chiefly US : an enclosed area where farms animals (such as cattle) are kept so they can be slaughtered, sold, or shipped stodge /'stɑ:dʒ/ noun [noncount] Brit : heavy food that makes you feel very full • We filled up on stodge at the banquet.

stodgy /'stɑ:dʒi/ adj stodg-i-er; -est disapproving

1 a : having very old-fashioned opinions, attitudes, etc. • a stodgy old man b : too plain or dull to be interesting • stodgy clothes

2 Brit, of food : unpleasantly heavy and causing you to feel very full • a stodgy meal

— stodg-i-ness /'stɑ:dʒɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

sto-gie or sto-gy /'stougi/ noun, pl sto-gies [count] US, informal : CIGAR • He was smoking a stogie.

¹sto-ic /'stowɪk/ or sto-i-cal /'stowɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : showing no emotion especially when something bad is happening • She remained stoic [=she did not complain or become upset] even as he continued to insult her. • He had a stoic expression on his face.

— sto-ical-ly /'stowɪkli/ adv • He accepted the punishment stoically.

²stoic noun, pl -ics [count] : a person who accepts what happens without complaining or showing emotion sto-i-cism /'stowə,sɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : the quality or behavior of a person who accepts what happens without complaining or showing emotion • She endured his criticism with her usual stoicism.

stoke /'stouk/ verb stokes; stoked; stok-ing [+ obj]

1 : to stir or add fuel to (something that is burning) • stoke a fire • The engineer stoked the coals. • He stoked the furnace. [=he added more fuel to the furnace to make the fire hotter] • stoke the flames

2 : to increase the amount or strength of (something) • The new ad campaign has helped to stoke sales. • Poor revenue figures have stoked concerns about possible layoffs.

— stok-er /'stoukə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly Brit • He worked as a coal stoker for the railroad.

stoked adj, not used before a noun [more ~; most ~] US slang : very excited • He was stoked to see her.

¹stole past tense of ¹STEAL

²stole /'stoul/ noun, pl stoles [count] : a long, wide piece of clothing that is usually worn across the shoulders • a mink stole stolen past participle of ¹STEAL

stol-id /'stɑ:ləd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : showing little or no emotion : not easily excited or upset • She remained stolid during the trial. • a stolid face

— stol-id-ly adv • The guard stood stolidly at his post.

¹stom-ach /'stʌmək/ noun, pl -achs

1 [count] a : the organ in your body where food goes and begins to be digested after you swallow it • She has problems with her stomach. • I've had enough to eat. My stomach is full. • His stomach was growling. — often used before another noun • a stomach ulcer • stomach gas — see picture at HUMAN b : the part of your body that contains the stomach • She punched him in the stomach. [=belly] • He was lying on his stomach.

2 [noncount] : the desire, courage, etc., that is needed to do or accept something difficult or unpleasant — usually used in negative statements • She didn't have the stomach to confront him. • He has no stomach for controversy.

a strong/weak stomach ✧ If you have a strong stomach, you are not bothered by things that many people find disgusting, shocking, or offensive. • You need a strong stomach to watch that movie. If you have a weak stomach, you are easily bothered by disgusting, shocking, or offensive things. • It's a very violent movie. Don't watch it if you have a weak stomach.

on a full stomach : after eating a lot of food • Don't try to go swimming on a full stomach.

on an empty stomach : with nothing in your stomach • Take this medication on an empty stomach. [=when your stomach is empty because you have not eaten for a time]

sick to your stomach see ¹SICK

turn your stomach ✧ Something that turns your stomach or makes your stomach turn makes you feel ill or uncomfortable usually because it is offensive or disgusting. • The violence in his movies really turns my stomach.

your eyes are bigger than your stomach see ¹EYE

²stomach verb stom-achs; stom-ached; stom-ach-ing [+ obj]

1 : to accept or experience (something unpleasant) without becoming sick, upset, etc. • I could barely stomach the smell. • His behavior is very hard to stomach [=tolerate] sometimes.

2 : to eat (something) without getting a sick or unpleasant feeling in your stomach • I can't stomach raw onions.

stom-ach-ache /'stʌmək,eɪk/ noun, pl -aches : pain in or near your stomach [count] Eating too much food will give you a stomachache. [noncount] Side effects include gas, bloating, and stomachache.

stomp /'stɑ:mp/ verb stomps; stomped; stomp-ing

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to walk or move with very heavy or noisy steps • He stomped angrily out of the room. • She stomped [=stamped] around the yard in her muddy boots.

2 [+ obj] chiefly US : to put (your foot) down forcefully and noisily • He angrily stomped [=stamped] his foot. • The fans were stomping their feet and shouting.

stomp on [phrasal verb] stomp on (someone or something) : to step on (something or someone) very forcefully • He stomped on the bug. • The elephant almost stomped on them. • I stomped on the brakes.

stomp out [phrasal verb] stomp out (something) 1 : to stop or destroy (something bad) • They are determined to stomp out [=stamp out] corruption. 2 : to stop (something) from burning by stepping on it forcefully with your feet • She stomped out her cigarette.

stomp-er /'stɑ:mpə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal : a piece of music that is very lively and makes you want to dance • a jazzy stomper

stomping ground noun, pl ~ grounds [count] US : a place where someone likes to go or often goes • The mall was their stomping ground. — usually plural • We enjoyed going back home and visiting our old stomping grounds. — called also (Brit) stamping ground

¹stone /'stoun/ noun, pl stones

1 [noncount] : a hard substance that comes from the ground and is used for building, carving, etc. • The pedestal is made of stone. — often used before another noun • stone buildings • a stone wall

2 [count] a : a small piece of rock • We threw stones [=US] rocks] at the sign. b : a piece of rock used for a particular purpose • His birthdate and date of death were carved on the stone. — see also HEADSTONE

3 [count] : a jewel • precious stones [=gemstones]

4 [count] : a small, hard object that sometimes forms in a part of the body (such as the kidney) • She had stones in her bladder. — see also GALLSTONE, KIDNEY STONE

5 [count] chiefly Brit : a large, hard seed found in the center of some fruits (such as plums and peaches) : PIT

6 pl stone [count] Brit : a British unit of weight equal to 14 pounds (6.35 kilograms) • He weighs 12 stone. — abbr. st

a stone's throw : a short distance • The high school is just a stone's throw from his house. • She lives just a stone's throw away from the beach.

carved/etched/set/written in stone : permanent or not able to be changed • These new rules are not carved in stone; if they don't work, we'll change them.

kill two birds with one stone see ¹KILL

leave no stone unturned : to make every possible effort to find someone or something • Their lawyer said that he would leave no stone unturned in trying to find more evidence. • The researchers left no stone unturned in their search for the original documents.

sink like a stone see ¹SINK

²stone verb stones; stoned; ston-ing [+ obj]

1 : to throw stones at (someone or something) • Rioters stoned the building.

2 : to kill (someone) by throwing stones • He was stoned to death for his crimes.

3 Brit : to remove the hard, large seed of (a fruit) : PIT • Stone the peaches before serving.

stone the crows Brit, informal + somewhat old-fashioned — used to express surprise • “He’s won the lottery!” “Well, stone the crows!”

³stone adv : totally or completely • (US) They sat there, stone silent. • The soup was stone cold. • He was stone broke. [=he had no money at all] • stone dead — sometimes used in combination • I thought I had gone stone-deaf. — see also STONE-COLD

Stone Age noun

the Stone Age : the oldest period in which human beings are known to have existed : the age during which humans made and used stone tools • It was a skill developed during the Stone Age. • Stone Age weapons — often used figuratively • His political ideas are from the Stone Age. [=are from the distant past; are very out of date] • I’m still using a Stone Age computer. [=an outdated/obsolete computer] — compare BRONZE AGE, IRON AGE stone-cold /'stoun'kould/ adv, chiefly US, informal : completely or totally • He’s stone-cold sober.

stone-cut-ter /'stoun,kʌtə/ noun, pl -ters [count] US : a person who cuts or carves stone stoned /'stound/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : intoxicated by a drug (such as marijuana) • He was stoned on pot. • They got stoned at the party.

stone-faced /'stoun,feɪst/ also stony-faced /'stouni,feɪst/ adj [more ~; most ~] : showing no emotion • He stood there stone-faced while the verdict was announced. • a stone-faced judge stone-ground /'stoun'graund/ adj : ground by being crushed between two large stones (called millstones) • stone-ground flour

stone-ma-son /'stoun,meɪsn/ noun, pl -sons [count] : a person who cuts, prepares, and builds with stone

ston-er /'stounə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US, informal : a person who uses drugs frequently : a person who is often stoned on drugs (such as marijuana) • The movie’s a comedy about a couple of stoners. — often used before another noun • a stoner comedy stone-wall /'stoun,wɔ:l/ verb -walls; -walled; -wall-ing : to refuse or fail to answer questions, to do what has been requested, etc., especially in order to delay or prevent something [no obj] They stonewalled until they could come up with a response. • They were just stonewalling for time. [+ obj] (chiefly US) • They’re trying to stonewall the media/investigation. • We’re trying to get the information, but we’re being stonewalled.

stone-ware /'stoun,weə/ noun [noncount] : objects made of a special baked clay — often used before another noun • a set of stoneware dishes stone-washed /'stoun,wɔ:ʃt/ adj — used to describe clothes (such as jeans) that are made lighter in color and softer by being washed with small stones • She was wearing stonewashed jeans, a sweater, and cowboy boots.

stone-work /'stoun,wək/ noun [noncount] : a structure or part of a structure that is built of stone • The stonework on this house is over 100 years old.

— stone-work-er /'stoun,wəkə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

¹stonk-ing /'sta:ŋkɪŋ/ adj, Brit slang

1 : very large • We spent a stonking sum on the tickets. • stonking amounts of money

2 : very good • We had a stonking time.

²stonking adv, Brit slang : very or extremely • a stonking good book • a stonking great victory stony /'stouni/ adj ston-i-er; -est

1 : full of stones • stony [=rocky] soil • a stony beach

2 : made of stone or hard like stone • a smooth, stony surface • a stony material

3 : showing no emotion or friendliness • She gave him a stony stare. • stony silence

— ston-i-ly /'stounəli/ adv • He remained stonily silent.

stood past tense and past participle of ¹STAND

stooge /'stu:dʒ/ noun, pl stoog-es [count]

1 disapproving : a weak or unimportant person who is controlled by a powerful person, organization, etc. • a gangster and his stooges • He’s just a stooge for the oil industry. • a government stooge

2 : a performer in a show who says and does foolish things that other performers make jokes about stool /'stu:l/ noun, pl stools [count]

1 a : a seat that fits one person and that has no back or arms • She sat on a stool. • a bar stool • a piano stool b : a piece of furniture that supports the feet of a person who is sitting : FOOTSTOOL

2 medical : a piece of solid waste that is released from the body • The patient had bloody/loose/hard stools. • a stool sample • stool softener [=a medicine that makes it easier to discharge bodily waste]

stool-ie /'stu:li/ noun, pl -ies [count] US, informal + old-fashioned : STOOL PIGEON

stool pigeon noun, pl ~-geons [count] chiefly US, informal : a criminal who gives the police information about other criminals

¹stoop /'stu:p/ verb stoops; stooped; stoop-ing [no obj]

1 : to bend down or over • She stooped down to hug the child. • He had to stoop to pick it up.

2 : to walk or stand with your head and shoulders bent forward • He tends to stoop as he walks.

3 : to do something that is not honest, fair, etc. • She would never stoop to lying. [=she would never lie; she is too good a person to lie] • He really did that? I didn’t think he could stoop so low.

stoop to someone’s level see ¹LEVEL

²stoop noun [singular] : a bend or curve forward of your back and shoulders • He walks with a slight stoop. — compare ³STOOP

— stooped adj • His shoulders are stooped. [=his shoulders are bent forward]

³stoop noun, pl stoops [count] US : a raised area (such as a porch, platform, or stairway) at the entrance to a house or building • I found a package on the (front/back) stoop. — compare ²STOOP

¹stop /'sta:p/ verb stops; stopped; stop-ping

1 a [no obj] : to not move, walk, etc., after doing so before • She was walking toward me, and then she suddenly stopped. • The bus stopped at the corner. • He stopped to watch the sun set. • She had to stop to catch her breath. = She had to stop and catch her breath. • He stopped to pick up a penny. • The car was going so fast that it couldn’t stop in time. • The traffic light turned red, so she had to stop. • Stop. [=halt] Who goes there? • I stopped (dead) in my tracks [=stopped suddenly] when I saw the bear. b [+ obj] : to cause (someone or something) to not move, walk, etc., after doing so before • Stop that man! He stole my wallet. • They stopped us at the border to check our passports. • She stopped the car and turned back. • He was stopped by the police for speeding. • The goalie stopped [=blocked] the ball/shot. • The sight of the bear stopped me (dead) in my tracks.

2 a : to not do something that you have been doing before : to not continue doing something [no obj] He constantly teases her and never knows when to stop. • We’ve been working all morning. It’s time to stop and take a break. • The boss said that he was unhappy with some of his employees, but he stopped short of naming which ones. [=but he did not say which ones] • Did you ever stop [=pause] to think about the risk you took? • She never stopped to consider how her decision might affect others. [+ obj] Can you please stop what you are doing to help me? • I stop work at 5 o'clock. • The phone stopped ringing. • Stop arguing/talking/running. • She stopped [=quit] smoking last year. • The patient suddenly stopped breathing. • His heart stopped beating. • Stop it/that or I'll tell Mom. b [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) no longer do something : to keep (someone or something) from continuing to do something • I'm leaving and you can't stop me. • Stop me if you've heard this joke before. • It's too late. There's no stopping them now. [=they can't be stopped now] • (Brit) I couldn't stop him crying. — often + from in U.S. English • I couldn't stop him from crying. • He stopped [=restrained] himself from laughing out loud. • Nothing can stop me from leaving. • Environmentalists tried to stop them from cutting down the trees. • There is nothing to stop you from going. • We need to stop the disease from spreading.

stool

3 [+ obj] a : to cause (something) to end : to end (something) • The teacher stopped the fight. • We need to stop the violence in our city. • They tried to stop the bleeding. b : to cause (a recording) to not play • She stopped the CD because it was skipping. • We stopped [=paused] the movie to grab some snacks.

4 [no obj] : to no longer happen or exist : to end • The music suddenly stopped. • The path stops about halfway up the mountain. • The rain had stopped by the time we left. [=it was not raining anymore when we left]

5 [no obj] : to suddenly not work or function • The engine just stopped. • His heart stopped.

6 [no obj] a : to not travel during a journey for a short period of time in order to rest, eat, etc. — + for • We stopped for lunch. • We need to stop for gas. [=we need to get gas] • We stopped for a night in Atlanta. [=we stayed in Atlanta for a night] b : to go to a place during a journey • I'll stop for a short visit. • The tour stops in several cities. c : to make a brief social visit • I'm not stopping. [=staying] I just wanted to drop this off. — see also STOP BY, STOP IN, STOP OFF, STOP OVER (below)

7 [+ obj] : to close, block, or fill (a hole) • He stopped his ears with his fingers. [=he put his fingertips in his ears so that he couldn't hear] — usually + up • She stopped up the cracks with plaster. • The sink is stopped up [=blocked] with food.

8 [+ obj] a : to tell your bank not to pay a check • I called to stop payment on the check. = I called to stop the check. b chiefly Brit : to take (money) from something — often + from • £200 will be stopped [=withheld] from your wages next week.

9 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] Brit, informal : to stay or remain • I am stopping at home. — see also STOP IN, STOP OUT, STOP UP (below)

stop and smell the roses see ²ROSE

stop at nothing — used to say that someone will do anything to achieve a goal or purpose • She will stop at nothing to get what she wants.

stop by [phrasal verb] informal : to visit someone briefly • Feel free to stop by [=drop by, drop in] anytime. • I'll stop by for a short visit.

stop in [phrasal verb] informal 1 : to visit someone briefly • You should stop in [=stop by] for tea sometime. 2 Brit : to stay at home • I'm stopping [=staying] in tonight.

stop off [phrasal verb] informal : to go or stay somewhere briefly while traveling to another place • I'll stop off (at the store) to pick up some milk. • She is stopping off in Miami to visit a friend. • Could you stop off at the house to water the plants?

stop out [phrasal verb] Brit, informal : to stay out at night • He doesn't normally stop out late.

stop over [phrasal verb] informal : to go to or stay in a place while traveling to another place • The plane stops over in Chicago before going on to Seattle. • She stopped over at a friend's house for a couple of days.

stop up [phrasal verb] Brit, informal : to stay up at night • She stopped up late last night. — see also ¹STOP 7 (above)

the buck stops here see ¹BUCK

²stop noun, pl stops [count]

1 : an act of stopping or a state of being stopped: such as a : a state in which someone or something is no longer moving — usually singular • The car skidded/slowed to a stop. [=to a halt] • The ball rolled to a stop. • The train came to a stop. • He slowly brought the car to a stop. — see also FULL STOP

b : a state in which no further activity happens — usually singular • Production was brought to a stop [=was stopped] by the strike. • Negotiations brought a stop to [=ended] the conflict. • Work on the project came to a stop [=work on the project stopped] because of a lack of funding. • The fighting came to a sudden stop. • We need to put a stop to [=end] these practices. • She wanted to put a stop to the rumors. c sports : a play that stops an opponent from scoring a goal • The goalie made a great stop. [=save]

2 a : a place that you visit or go to for a short period of time during a journey • His first stop will be Washington, D.C. • Our first stop has to be the gas station. — see also PIT STOP, REST STOP, TRUCK STOP, WHISTLE-STOP b : a short period of time during which you stop or stay at a place during a journey • The trip includes an overnight stop [=stay] in Paris. • We'll make a stop [=stop, rest] when we get to the top of this hill. • We should make a stop at the museum. [=we should visit the museum] • I need to make a stop at the grocery store on the way home.

3 a : the place where a bus or train regularly stops on a route to let passengers get on and off • a bus stop • The next stop is Main Street and Tower Square. • I'm getting off at the next stop. • What is your stop? b US : a place on a road (such as an intersection) where traffic must stop • a four-way stop • Slow down as you approach the stop. • a stop sign [=a sign telling drivers to stop and wait until they can continue safely] — see also STOPLIGHT

4 : an order that tells a bank not to pay a check — usually singular • I put a stop on the check.

5 music a : a set of organ pipes that produce a similar sound b : STOP KNOB

6 linguistics : a sound (such as the “p” of “apt” or the “g” of “tiger”) that is made by stopping the flow of air completely and then suddenly letting air out — see also GLOTTAL STOP pull out all the stops informal : to do everything possible in order to do or achieve something • The company pulled out all the stops to advertise their new product. = The company pulled out all the stops in advertising their new product. • When he throws a party, he really pulls out all the stops.

— see also DOORSTOP, SHORTSTOP

stop-action /'sta:p'ækʃən/ noun [noncount] : STOP-MOTION stop-and-go /,sta:pən'gou/ adj, chiefly US : making or having many stops : stopping and starting again and again • stop-and-go driving/traffic • It was stop-and-go on the highway.

stop-cock /'sta:p,kɑ:k/ noun, pl -cocks [count] : a device used for controlling or stopping the flow of a liquid or gas through a pipe stop-gap /'sta:p,gæp/ noun, pl -gaps [count] : someone or something that is intended to be used for a short time and then replaced by someone or something better : a temporary substitute • The new law is intended only as a stopgap. — often used before another noun • a stopgap solution stop-go adj, Brit : having inactive periods followed by active periods • a stop-go economy/policy stop knob noun, pl ~ knobs [count] music : any one of the handles that an organ player pushes in or pulls out to stop or allow sound from certain pipes stop-light /'sta:p,lait/ noun, pl -lights [count] US : TRAFFIC LIGHT stop-motion /'sta:p'mouʃən/ noun [noncount] : a filming technique in which objects (such as clay models) are photographed in a series of slightly different positions so that the objects seem to move • The show was filmed with stop-motion. — often used before another noun • stop-motion films/animation stop-over /'sta:p,ouvə/ noun, pl -overs [count] : a brief period of time when you stop at a place during a journey • We have a six-hour stopover [=layover] in Puerto Rico.; also : a place where a stopover occurs • The city is a favorite stopover for tourists.

stop-page /'sta:pɪdʒ/ noun, pl -pag-es [count]

1 : the act of stopping something • the stoppage of payments

2 : a situation in which workers stop working for a period of time as a protest • Workers threatened a stoppage [=strike] if their wages were not increased. • work stoppages

3 sports : an occurrence in which play is stopped during a game • The penalty caused a stoppage in play. • There have been more than 10 minutes in stoppages. • 10 minutes of stoppage time

¹stop-per /'sta:pə/ noun, pl -pers [count]

1 : someone or something that stops something • crime stoppers • His comment was a conversation stopper. — see also SHOWSTOPPER
2 : something that is used to block an opening • a plastic bottle stopper • a wine stopper

2 stopper verb -pers; -pered; -per-ing [+ obj] : to close (something) with a stopper • Please stopper the bottle. • a stoppered bottle stopping distance noun, pl ~ -tances [count, noncount] : the distance that a driver needs in order to safely bring a vehicle to a complete stop stop-watch /'stɒp.wɑ:tʃ/ noun, pl -watch-es [count] : a watch that can be started and stopped very quickly and that is used for measuring the amount of time that is taken to do something (such as to run a race)

stor-age /'stɒrɪdʒ/ noun [noncount]

1 a : space where you put things when they are not being used • The house has plenty of storage. [=the house has plenty of space in its closets, cabinets, etc.] • Her new house is much smaller, so she had to rent additional storage. b : the state of being kept in a place when not being used : the state of being stored somewhere • We need to get our furniture out of storage. • He kept his belongings in storage [=he stored his belongings] until he found an apartment. c : the act of putting something that is not being used in a place where it is available, where it can be kept safely, etc. : the act of storing something • the body's storage of fat • the storage of nuclear waste • The table folds down for storage. [=when you want to store it; when you are not using it] • The cellar is used for (food/wine) storage.

2 computers a : space for placing information • a computer with 64 megabytes of storage [=memory] • disk storage b : the act of placing information in a computer memory • data storage

— storage adj, always used before a noun • There is plenty of storage space in the attic. • a storage room/area • a rental/rented storage unit • storage costs • a storage capacity of 64 megabytes • an internal/external storage device storage battery noun, pl ~ -teries [count] : a type of battery that can be given a new charge by passing an electric current through it — called also storage cell

1 store /'stɔː/ verb stores; stored; stor-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to put (something that is not being used) in a place where it is available, where it can be kept safely, etc. • I stored my furniture until I found a new apartment. • She stores her jewels in a safe. • The wine should be stored at room temperature. — often + away • The grain was stored away for the winter. • We stored away her old toys in the attic. b : to collect and put (something) into one location for future use • The body stores fat. • The solar panels store energy. — often + up • The squirrels are storing up nuts for the winter. • Plants store up the sun's energy. • (Brit) If you get yourself into debt, you're only storing up trouble/problems for the future.

2 : to place (information) in a person's memory or a computer's memory • They're studying how our brains store memories. — often + away • He stored away his childhood memories. • The file is stored away on the backup drive.

2 store noun, pl stores

1 [count] a : a building or room where things are sold • a grocery/furniture/pet/candy store • I'm going to the store to buy groceries. • The stores are always crowded around the holiday season. — see also BOOKSTORE, CHAIN STORE, CONVENIENCE STORE, DEPARTMENT STORE, DIME STORE, DRUGSTORE, GENERAL STORE, PACKAGE STORE, SUPERSTORE, VARIETY STORE usage see 1 SHOP 1a b : a large building in which something is kept for future use • a grain/weapons store

2 [count] : a large amount or supply of something that is kept for future use • the body's fat stores — often + of • a store of wood/information

3 stores [plural] : things that are collected and kept for future use • medical/military stores

4 [noncount] — used to say that something is regarded as having a lot of value or importance • Our family sets/lays great store by tradition. [=our family values tradition very highly] • He puts considerable store in/by her opinions. [=he feels her opinions are very important and valuable] in store : in a state of being ready or prepared to happen or be done • We have a big surprise in store [=ready, prepared] for you. — used to talk about what will happen to someone in the future • I wonder what the future holds in store for us. = I wonder what lies in store for us in the future. [=I wonder what will happen to us in the future]

mind the store see 2 MIND

store-bought /'stɔː.bɔ:t/ adj, US : bought at a store or shop and not made at home • store-bought cookies store brand noun, pl ~ brands [count] : a product that is made for a store and has the store's name on it — compare NAME BRAND

— store-brand adj, always used before a noun • store-brand products store card noun, pl ~ cards [count] : a credit card that is given out by a store and that can be used to buy goods at that store store-front /'stɔː.frʌnt/ noun, pl -fronts [count] US

1 : the front side of a store • The storefront [=shop front] was decorated for the holidays.

2 : a room or group of rooms in the front part of a store building • He rented a storefront on Main Street.

— storefront adj, always used before a noun • a storefront window/office store-house /'stɔː.haʊs/ noun, pl -hous-es [count]

1 : a building where goods are kept for future use : WAREHOUSE

2 : a large amount or supply of something • a storehouse of information/knowledge/ideas store-keep-er /'stɔː.ki:pə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : someone who owns or manages a store or shop : SHOP-KEEPER store-room /'stɔː.ru:m/ noun, pl -rooms [count] : a room or space where things are stored store-wide /'stɔː'waɪd/ adj, US : including all or most of the things that are being sold in a store • a storewide sale/clearance storey chiefly Brit spelling of 2 STORY

1 sto-ried /'stɒrɪd/ adj, always used before a noun : having an interesting history • a storied castle/player/leader : interesting because of stories that relate to it • She has a storied past/career. — compare 2 STORIED

2 storied (US) or Brit sto-reyed /'stɒrɪd/ adj : having a specified number of stories — used in combination • a two-storied house • a 50-storied building — compare 1 STORIED

stork /'stɔːk/ noun, pl storks [count] : a large bird that has long legs and a long bill and neck

1 storm /'stɔːm/ noun, pl storms [count]

1 : an occurrence of bad weather in which there is a lot of rain, snow, etc., and often strong winds • The sky got dark and it looked like a storm was coming. • A storm was brewing. • We made it home before the storm struck/broke. [=before the storm began] • I went out for a walk and got caught in a storm. [=I was outside when the storm began] — see also DUST STORM, ELECTRICAL STORM, ELECTRIC STORM, FIRE-STORM, HAILSTORM, ICE STORM, RAINSTORM, SANDSTORM, SNOWSTORM, THUNDERSTORM, TROPICAL STORM, WIND-STORM

2 a : a sudden occurrence of something in large amounts — usually singular; often + of • a storm of publicity • The speaker was greeted with a storm of applause. • a storm of punches — see also BRAINSTORM b : a situation in which many people are angry, upset, etc. — usually singular • His racial comments kicked/whipped/stirred up a storm in the newspapers. [=newspapers criticized his racial comments very strongly] — often + of • a storm of controversy/protest

any port in a storm see 1 PORT

a storm in a teacup Brit : a situation in which people are very angry or upset about something that is not important • The whole controversy turned out to be a storm in a teacup. [= (US) a tempest in a teapot] take (something) by storm 1 : to quickly become very successful or popular in (a particular place) or among (a particular group) • The writer has taken the literary world by storm. • The new fashion has taken London by storm. 2 : to attack and capture (a place) suddenly by using a lot of force or a large number of people • The soldiers took the castle by storm.

the calm/lull before the storm : a period of quiet that comes before a time of activity, excitement, violence, etc. • The college was quiet that morning, but it was the calm before the storm. Thousands of students would arrive later.

up a storm informal — used to say that something is being done with a lot of energy or enthusiasm • They danced/sang up a storm. • He was cooking up a storm.

weather the storm or ride out the storm : to deal with a difficult situation without being harmed or damaged too much • Newspapers have weathered the storm of online information by providing news online themselves. • It was a difficult time but they managed to ride out the storm.

²storm verb storms; stormed; storm-ing

1 [no obj] — used with it to say that a storm (sense 1) is happening • It stormed all night.

2 : to attack (something) suddenly with a lot of force or with a large number of people [+ obj] Soldiers stormed the fort. • Police stormed the building. [no obj] The army stormed ashore.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to go quickly and in an angry, loud way • The mob stormed through the streets. • She yelled at us and stormed off. • He stormed out of the room. • She stormed into the office.

4 : to shout loudly and angrily [no obj] — often + at • She stormed at her parents and ran to her room. [+ obj] “Do you know who I am?” he stormed.

storm cloud noun, pl ~ clouds [count] : a dark cloud which shows that a storm is coming — sometimes used figuratively • Economic storm clouds loom on the horizon.

storm door noun, pl ~ doors [count] US : a second door that is placed outside the usual outside door of a building for protection against cold and bad weather storm drain noun, pl ~ drains [count] : a drain that carries water (such as rainwater) away from a street, parking lot, etc.

storm trooper noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a member of a group of specially trained and violent soldiers especially in Nazi Germany during World War II storm window noun, pl ~ -dows [count] US : a second window that covers the usual outside window of a building for protection against cold and bad weather stormy /'sto:mi/ adj storm-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : relating to or affected by a storm • a dark, stormy sky • a stormy sea • The weather/day was cold and stormy.

2 : full of anger, shouting, etc. • a stormy meeting • Their relationship was very stormy. • a stormy family life — storm-i-ness /'sto:mi-nəs/ noun [noncount]

¹sto-ry /'stori/ noun, pl -ries

1 [count] : a description of how something happened • The movie is based on a true story. • What is the story behind (the making of) this painting? • That's not the whole story. [=there are more details to be told] • Many years later they met again, but that's another story. • He said he wasn't at the scene of the crime, but the fingerprints tell a different story. [=the fingerprints show that he was there] • “Why are you late?” “It's a long story. [=it is too complicated to explain] I'll tell you later.” • (US) They were having a lot of problems. To make a long story short, she decided to leave him. = (Brit) To cut a long story short, she decided to leave him. • (informal) He yelled at me, and I left. End of story. [=there is nothing more to say about it] — often + about or of • We're still waiting to hear the full story [=all of the details] of what happened. • She's told us the story of the great snowstorm of 1977 many times. • He told all sorts of stories [=anecdotes] about his childhood. • Tell them the story about that time you got stuck in the elevator. ✧ The phrase the story goes is used to say that you are telling a story that you heard from other people. • The story goes [=people say] that after he died, he haunted the house. • The story goes like this: He was walking through the woods when he spotted a huge bear. • She was very depressed or so the story goes. [=or so people say] — see also HORROR STORY, SOB STORY, SUCCESS STORY, WAR STORY

2 [count] a : a description of imaginary events that is told as a form of entertainment • Don't be scared. It's only a story. • The story (of the book) is about growing up in Harlem during the 1920s. • The movie is a story of three single women looking for true love. • a horror/detective story • She read the child a bedtime story. [=a story that you read or tell a child at bedtime] — see also GHOST STORY, SHAGGY-DOG STORY, SHORT STORY b : the series of events that happen in a story • The story [=plot] is the same in all her books/movies/plays. 3 [count] : something that is reported in a newspaper, on television, etc. : a news article or broadcast • a news story [=report] • The lead story in the news today is about the earthquake. • His death was one of the biggest stories of the year. • The story about the fire made the front page of the newspaper. = The front-page story was about the fire. • The magazine ran a story [=printed an article] about the scandal.

— see also COVER STORY

4 [count] : a description of the most important events in someone's life • the Princess Diana story = the story of Princess Diana • The biography is a story of courage. • She told her life story to him. [=she told him about the things that had happened in her life] — sometimes used figuratively • Having bad luck with men is the story of my life. [=I have often had bad luck with men] • Gaining and losing weight is the story of her life.

5 a [count] : a condition or set of conditions that affects someone or something : SITUATION • We lost power, and it's the same story throughout the city. [=people throughout the city also lost power] • Living on your own is a whole different story [=matter] from living with your parents. • She got good grades in math, but English was another story. [=she did not do well in English] • The restaurant has great desserts, but that's only/just half the story. [=part of the story] It also has wonderful entertainment. • It's the same old story [=things have not changed] with her—she just can't or won't keep a job. b the story somewhat informal : basic information about someone or something • I'm still trying to find out the story [=the reason] behind this new policy. • What's the story [=the deal] with that guy? [=what can you tell me about that guy?]

6 [count] a : a lie that someone tells : a false story • You shouldn't tell stories. — see also COCK-AND-BULL STORY, FISH STORY b : an explanation or excuse and especially one that is not true • The police don't believe his story. — often + about • She made up some story about getting stuck in traffic.

a likely story see ¹*LIKELY*

— compare ²*STORY*

²story also chiefly Brit sto-rey /'stori/ noun, pl stories [count] : a group of rooms or an area that forms one floor level of a building • She lives/works on the second floor of a five-story building. [=a building that has five stories/floors] • The building is 20 stories high. — see also MULTISTORY — compare ¹*STORY*

sto-ry-board /'stori,bɔ:rd/ noun, pl -boards [count] : a series of drawings or pictures that show the changes of scenes and actions for a movie, television show, etc.

— storyboard verb -boards; -board-ed; -board-ing [+ obj] • He storyboarded the fight scene.

¹sto-ry-book /'stori,buk/ noun, pl -books [count] : a book of stories for children

²storybook adj, always used before a noun : like something described in a storybook • a storybook [=fairy-tale] ending/romance story line noun, pl ~ lines [count] : the series of events that happen in a story : PLOT

sto-ry-tell-er /'stori,telə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who tells or writes stories • She's a good/master storyteller.

— sto-ry-tell-ing /'stori,teliŋ/ noun [noncount] • She is good at storytelling.

stoup /'stu:p/ noun, pl stoups [count] : a container for holy water at the entrance of a church

¹stout /'staut/ adj stout-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : thick and strong • The plant has a stout [=sturdy] stem. • stout legs • a stout neck

2 : having a large body that is wide with fat or muscles • a short, stout [=stocky] man

3 a literary : brave and strong • a stout leader • He has a stout heart. b formal : forceful and determined • His lawyer put up a stout defense in court.

— stout-ly adv • a stoutly built man • She stoutly defended him.

²stout noun, pl stouts [count, noncount] : a very dark, heavy beer stout-heart-ed /'staut,hə:təd/ adj, literary : brave and determined • a stouthearted soldier

¹stove /'stouv/ noun, pl stoves [count]

1 chiefly US : a flat piece of kitchen equipment for cooking that usually has four devices (called burners) which become hot when they are turned on and that often is attached to an oven • Is the stove on/off? • She put the pan on the stove over medium heat. • I cooked the burgers on the stove. — called also (Brit) cooker; compare COOKTOP; see also COOKSTOVE

2 : a device that burns fuel for heating or cooking • a wood-burning/gas stove — see also POTBELLIED STOVE

3 : an oven or furnace that is used for hardening, burning, or drying something (such as pottery) : KILN

²stove past tense and past participle of ²*STAVE*

stove-pipe /'stouv,paɪp/ noun, pl -pipes [count]
1 : a metal pipe used for carrying away smoke from a stove
2 : a very tall silk hat • a stovepipe hat stove-top /'stouv,tɑ:p/ noun, pl -tops [count] US : the top of a stove — compare COOKTOP stow /'stou/ verb stows; stowed; stow-ing [+ obj] : to put (something that is not being used) in a place where it is available, where it can be kept safely, etc. : STORE • He stowed his gear in a locker. • Luggage may be stowed under the seat. — often + away • The supplies were stowed away below deck.
stow away [phrasal verb] : to hide on a ship, airplane, etc., in order to travel without paying or being seen • When he was a young boy he stowed away on a merchant ship headed for China. — see also STOWAWAY stow-age /'stowɪdʒ/ noun [noncount] : space especially on a ship or airplane for stowing things • There's a lot of stowage below deck.
stow-away /'stowə,wei/ noun, pl -aways [count] : someone who hides on a ship, airplane, etc., in order to travel without paying or being seen • A stowaway was discovered on the ship. — see also stow away at STOW
strad-dle /'strædl/ verb strad-dles; strad-dled; strad-dling [+ obj]
1 : to sit or ride with a leg on either side of (something) • He straddled the stool. • She straddled the horse.
2 a : to be on both sides of (something) • Campsites straddled the river. — often used figuratively • Their music straddles the line between rock and jazz. b : to have parts that are in (different places, regions, etc.) • Turkey straddles Asia and Europe. — often used figuratively • The movie straddles too many genres.
3 : to agree with or seem to agree with two opposite sides of (something) • She straddled the issue.
strafe /'streɪf/ verb strafes; strafed; straf-ing [+ obj] : to attack (something) with machine guns from low-flying airplanes • The planes strafed the town/battleship.
strag-gle /'stræɡəl/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition strag-gles; strag-gled; strag-gling [no obj]
1 : to walk slowly into or from a place in a way that is not continuous or organized • The children straggled in from outside. • People straggled off the train.
2 : to move away or spread out from others in a disorganized way • She straggled behind the rest of the group. • Branches straggled out and blocked the path.
strag-gler /'stræɡlə/ noun, pl -glers [count] : a person or animal that moves slower than others and becomes separated from them • People waited for the stragglers to finish the race. • The cowboy had to round up a few stragglers.
strag-gly /'stræɡli/ adj strag-gli-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : growing or hanging in an untidy way : SCRAGGLY • straggly hair • His beard is straggly.
straight /'streɪt/ adj straight-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]
1 : not having curves, bends, or angles • a straight line/edge • She has long, straight hair. • Keep your back straight.
2 : vertical or level • The flagpole is perfectly straight. • The picture isn't quite straight.
3 always used before a noun : following one after the other in order • He has won three straight [=consecutive] tournaments. : following each other without interruption • We sat in the airport for five straight hours.
4 : honest and direct • They wouldn't give me a straight answer. • He's known for his straight dealing. • They're not being straight with you. • What we want is some straight talk.
5 always used before a noun a : including only two people or things • It was a straight choice: accept the offer or don't. • a straight exchange/swap b : not including any things or parts of a different kind • a straight romance novel • The band plays straight blues. • (US) He always votes a straight Democratic ticket. [=he always votes for Democratic candidates] • (US) She got straight A's in all her classes last year. [=she got an A in every class] • (US) a straight-A student
6 not used before a noun : with everything in its proper place • After supper, the kids helped set/put the kitchen straight. [=tidy up the kitchen]
7 not used before a noun : agreeing with what is true or what is stated to be true • We have to have our stories straight or else the police will get suspicious. • Let me get this straight [=I am surprised/confused by what you are saying and I want to be sure that I understand you correctly]: You want me to lend you $2,000? • You need to get your facts straight. [=you need to get your facts correct] • He set/put her straight

about/on what happened. [=he corrected her and explained to her what actually happened] — see also set/put the record straight at RECORD
8 not used before a noun, informal : having nothing owed by either side • You pay for my ticket, and I'll consider us straight. [=even]
9 : behaving in a way that is socially correct and acceptable • (disapproving) She's too straight [=conventional] and needs to lighten up. • (informal) He left the gang and promised himself that he would go straight. [=stop being a criminal] 10 informal : HETEROSEXUAL • He's gay but he has a lot of straight friends.
11 : not using drugs or alcohol • She has been straight for two years now.
12 US, of alcoholic drinks : not mixed with anything : without ice or water added • I like my bourbon/whiskey straight. [=neat] • I'll have a martini straight up.
13 : not joking or funny : SERIOUS • a straight actor • straight theatrical drama — see also STRAIGHT MAN
— straight-ness noun [noncount] straight adv
1 : in a straight or direct way • She looked him straight [=right, directly] in the eye and told him to leave. • She walked straight up to him and slapped him in the face. • The tunnel goes straight through the mountain. • The library is straight ahead. • This road will take you straight [=directly] to the next town. • He was so drunk he couldn't walk straight. • She sat with her legs straight out. • The tree fell straight down. • The car went straight off the road. • She told him straight to his face that she hated him.
2 : in or into a vertical position • Pine trees stood straight along the path. • Sit up straight and don't slouch.
3 a : without any delay : directly or immediately • She came straight [=right] home from school. • The company hires many people straight [=right] out of college. • He went straight to bed when he came home. • Let me get/come straight to the point: I think we should break up. b : without interruption • The rescue crew has been working for three days straight. • The baby slept straight through the night. • Since no one objected to her plan, she went straight on to talk about how to begin.
4 : in an honest and direct way • Tell me straight: did you do it or didn't you? • Are you dealing/playing straight with me? [=are you being honest with me?] • (informal) Straight up, what did you really pay for the tickets?
5 : in the usual, normal, or correct way • She was so drunk she couldn't see straight. • Can you please be quiet? I can't think straight.
ramrod straight see RAMROD straight off US, informal : without delay or hesitation : IMMEDIATELY • I told him straight off that I wouldn't help him. • I knew straight off [=right away] that she was lying.
straight out informal : in a very direct way • I asked him straight out if he was doing drugs.
straight noun, pl straights [count]
1 informal : HETEROSEXUAL — usually plural • gays and straights
2 : a straight part of a racecourse : STRAIGHTAWAY — usually singular • He overtook them on the straight.
3 : a hand of playing cards in poker that contains five cards in sequence (such as a five, a six, a seven, an eight, and a nine) the straight and narrow informal : the way of living that is honest and morally proper • His wife keeps him on the straight and narrow.
straight-arm /'streɪt,ɑ:m/ noun, pl -arms [count] American football : the act of pushing another player away from you with the palm of your hand while your arm is fully extended — called also stiff-arm
— straight-arm verb -arms; -armed; -arm-ing [+ obj] • The ball-carrier straight-armed the tackler.
straight arrow noun, pl ~ -rows [count] US, informal : a person who is very honest and morally proper • He doesn't drink or smoke. He's a real straight arrow.
straight-away /'streɪtə'wei/ adv : without any delay : IMMEDIATELY • He found the information straightaway.
straight-away /'streɪtə'wei/ noun, pl -aways [count] chiefly US : a straight part of a racecourse — usually singular • He overtook them on the straightaway.
straight-edge /'streɪt,ɛdʒ/ noun, pl -edg-es [count] : a piece of wood, metal, plastic, etc., with a straight edge that you use to make sure something (such as a line or surface) is straight or to make straight lines or cuts straight-en /'streɪtn/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 : to make (something) straight or to become straight [+ obj] He straightened the bent antenna. • Straighten your legs. — often + out • You need to straighten out your legs for this stretch. [no obj] The drooping flowers straightened in the rain. — often + out • The river curves and then straightens out again.

2 [+ obj] : to make (something) organized or tidy : to put (something) in order — usually + out or up • He took time to straighten out the papers on his desk. • They straightened up the house after the party.

straighten out [phrasal verb] 1 straighten out (something) or straighten (something) out : to deal with (something) successfully • I need more time to straighten out my problems. 2 a straighten out or straighten out (something) or straighten (something) out : to improve in behavior or condition • He straightened out after joining the army. • The problem will not straighten out on its own. • You need to straighten your life out. b straighten (someone) out or straighten out (someone) : to improve the behavior of (someone) • Her parents sent her to boarding school to straighten her out.

straighten up [phrasal verb] 1 : to move your body to an upright position • Straighten up. There's no excuse for slouching. 2 US : to improve in behavior • You need to straighten up, young man.

— straight-en-er /'streɪtnə/ noun, pl -ers [count] She uses a straightener to make her hair straight. [noncount] a bottle of hair straightener straight face noun, pl ~ faces [count] : a face that shows no emotion and especially no amusement • She lied with a straight face. • It was hard to keep a straight face. [=to not laugh or smile] • The students quickly put on straight faces as the teacher walked into the room.

— straight-faced /'streɪt'feɪst/ adj • straight-faced lawyers • He told the story straight-faced. [=with a straight face] straight flush noun, pl ~ flushes [count] : a hand of playing cards in poker that contains five cards of the same suit in sequence (such as a five, a six, a seven, an eight, and a nine of clubs) — compare ROYAL FLUSH straight-for-ward /'streɪt'fɔːwəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : easy to do or understand : not complicated • Using the computer program is fairly straightforward. • The instructions are straightforward.

2 : honest and open • He was very straightforward with us. • She gave a straightforward account of what happened.

— straight-for-ward-ly adv • She spoke straightforwardly about what had happened. — straight-for-ward-ness noun [noncount]

straightjacket variant spelling of STRAITJACKET

straightlaced variant spelling of STRAITLACED straight man noun, pl ~ men [count] : a member of a comedy team who says things that allow a partner to make jokes straight-out /'streɪt'au/ adj : very clear and direct • Her answer was a straight-out no.

straight razor noun, pl ~ -zors [count] chiefly US : a razor that is enclosed in a case which forms a handle when the razor is pulled out for use — called also (Brit) cut-throat razor straight shooter noun, pl ~ -ers [count] US, informal : a person who is very honest • He's a straight shooter who says what he thinks.

straight-way /'streɪt'weɪ/ adv, old-fashioned : STRAIGHT-AWAY, IMMEDIATELY • I spotted them straightway.

¹strain /'streɪn/ noun, pl strains

1 : a feeling of stress and worry that you have because you are trying to do too much, are dealing with a difficult problem, etc. [count] The work has been a strain on me. [=it has been stressful for me] • The strain of working and going to school full-time was too much for her. • He talked about the stresses and strains of owning a business. • The long hours at work have put/placed a strain on me. • She has been under a strain lately. [noncount] Help from other workers took some of the strain [=pressure] off me. • She has been under (a lot of) strain lately. • He is holding up under the strain. [=he is able to deal with the pressure] • He cracked/collapsed/buckled under the strain. [=he was not able to deal with the pressure]

2 : something that is very difficult to deal with and that causes harm or trouble [count] There are strains [=problems] in their relationship. • Being deeply in debt has been a strain

[=burden] on our marriage. • The disagreement has put/placed a strain on their friendship. • Sending their children to college has put/placed a strain on their finances. [non-count] Being in debt has been a source of strain on our marriage. • Their friendship is under strain.

3 : a force that pulls or stretches something : STRESS [count] The cable is designed to withstand strains of more than four tons. — usually singular • The strain on the cables supporting the bridge is enormous. • The cables could not take the strain of the extra weight. [noncount] If there is too much strain on the cables they will snap. • Moving the piano will put/place too much strain on our back muscles. • The cable broke under the strain.

4 : an injury to a body part or muscle that is caused by too much tension, effort, or use [count] a leg/muscle strain [noncount] Long hours of study can cause eye strain. • Heavy lifting is a cause of muscle strain.

— compare ³STRAIN

²strain verb strains; strained; strain-ing

1 [+ obj] : to injure (a body part or muscle) by too much tension, use, or effort • I strained my back trying to lift the couch. • Too much computer work strains the eyes. • He strained a muscle in his leg. — compare SPRAIN

2 : to try very hard to do or get something [no obj] — often + for • He was straining for air. [=he was struggling to breathe] — often followed by to + verb • He strained to open the jar. • She strained to sing the high notes. • The people in the back of the room strained to hear the speaker. [+ obj] I strained my ears to hear [=I tried very hard to hear] what they were whispering. • I strained my eyes [=I tried very hard to see] in the darkness.

3 a : to be pulled or stretched in a forceful way [no obj] His muscles strained under the heavy weight. [+ obj] People were straining their necks [=were lifting their heads as high as they could by stretching their necks] to see the fight. — sometimes used figuratively • You are straining (the limits of) my patience with your nagging. b [no obj] : to pull hard on or push hard against something — + at or against • The dog strained at its leash. • His belly strained against the buttons of the shirt. — sometimes used figuratively • The kids were straining at the leash to get going. [=were very eager to get going]

4 [+ obj] : to cause problems or trouble for (something) • The disagreement strained their relationship. • The rent has strained our finances. • The company is financially strained.

5 [+ obj] : to separate a liquid from solid pieces by using a special device (called a strainer) • He strained the pasta. = He strained the water from the pasta. • She strained the gravy. = She strained the lumps out of the gravy.

strain yourself 1 : to injure yourself by making your muscles do too much work • Don't strain yourself trying to move the couch. 2 : to put a lot of physical or mental effort into doing something • Don't strain yourself trying to think of the answer. I can tell you what it is.

³strain noun, pl strains

1 [count] : a group of closely related plants or animals : VARIETY — often + of • a strong strain of wheat • a new strain of bacteria • This strain of mice is resistant to the disease.

2 [count] literary + somewhat old-fashioned : a usually bad quality that someone or something has — usually singular; usually + of • There is a strain of snobbery in her. • There is a strain of madness in that family.

3 [singular] formal + literary : a small amount of something • There was a strain [=touch, trace] of sadness in his voice.

4 [count] : a kind or sort of something — usually + of • a different strain of philosophy • a new strain of pop music

5 strains [plural] formal : the musical sounds of someone or something • We relaxed to the strains of Chopin. • the strains of a harp

— compare ¹STRAIN

strained /'streɪnd/ adj

1 : feeling or showing the effect of too much work, use, effort, etc. • Her voice sounded strained. • a strained face

2 : not natural and sincere : FORCED • a strained smile • He made a strained attempt at being polite. • His apology seemed strained.

3 : not friendly and relaxed • Their relationship was strained.

strain-er /'streɪnə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a kitchen device that has many small holes and that is used to hold back solid pieces while a liquid passes through : SIEVE strait /'streɪt/ noun, pl straits

1 [count] : a narrow passage of water that connects two large bodies of water • the Bering Strait — often plural • the Straits of Gibraltar

2 straits [plural] : a very difficult situation • Her campaign is in desperate straits. • The company is in desperate financial straits. • The economy is in dire straits.

strait-ened /ˈstreɪtnd/ adj, always used before a noun, formal : not having enough money : having less money than before • They live in straitened circumstances.

strait-jack-et also straight-jack-et /ˈstreɪt,dʒækət/ noun, pl -ets [count] : a jacket that has long arms which can be tied together behind someone's back and that is used to control the movements of a violent prisoner or patient — sometimes used figuratively • He struggled to free himself from the straitjacket of debt.

strait-laced or straight-laced /ˈstreɪtˈleɪst/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very proper in manners, morals, or opinion • She is very straitlaced.

1 strand /ˈstrænd/ noun, pl strands [count]

1 : a thin piece of thread, wire, hair, etc. • The strands were twisted together. — often + of • a strand of thread • The police found a single strand of hair at the crime scene.

2 : something that is long like a string — often + of • a strand of pearls • a strand of DNA

3 : one of the parts of something that is very complicated — often + of • All the strands of the story's plot are woven together in the final chapter. • The police are slowly putting the strands of evidence together.

— compare ³STRAND

2 strand verb strands; strand-ed; strand-ing [+ obj]

1 : to leave (a person or animal) in a place without a way of leaving it — usually used as (be) stranded • She was stranded in a foreign city with no money. • They were stranded on a deserted island. • His car broke down, and he was stranded in the middle of nowhere. • Her flight was canceled, so she was left stranded at the airport.

2 : to cause (something, such as a boat or a sea animal) to become stuck on land — usually used as (be) stranded • The ship was stranded on the sandbank. • a stranded [=beached] whale

3 baseball : to leave (a base runner) on base at the end of an inning • The team stranded 10 runners during the game. • Two base runners were left stranded at the end of the inning.

3 strand noun, pl strands [count] : the land along the edge of a sea, lake, etc. : a shore or beach • We walked along the strand. — compare ¹STRAND strange /ˈstreɪndʒ/ adj strang-er; strang-est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : different from what is usual, normal, or expected : ODD • Does his behavior seem strange to you? • Truth is sometimes stranger than fiction. • That is one of the strangest creatures I have ever seen. • What a strange-looking animal. • There was something strange [=peculiar] about his new friend. • She got a strange [=weird] feeling when the phone rang. • He gave me a strange look. • Strange as it may seem, I don't like walking barefoot on the grass. • It's strange that nobody told me about this before. • It's strange [=surprising] how quickly a person's opinion can change. • It is strange (that) he would leave town and not tell anybody. • That's strange: He was here a minute ago. • The strange thing is that nobody saw him enter or leave the building. • A strange [=funny] thing happened to me on my way home. • For some strange reason, we thought you weren't coming. [=it is strange that we thought you weren't coming] • Strange to say [=strangely], I was thinking the same thing.

2 : not known, heard, or seen before : UNFAMILIAR • Children are taught not to talk to strange people. • The language was strange to me. • a strange city/country

3 not used before a noun : not entirely comfortable or well • He felt strange being the boss of people who were as old as his parents. • My stomach feels a little strange. • I began to feel strange, and then I fainted.

— strange-ness /ˈstreɪndʒnəs/ noun [noncount] • The strangeness of the dream puzzled me.

strange-ly /ˈstreɪndʒli/ adv

1 [more ~; most ~] : in a strange way • He has been acting very strangely lately. • She had never been there before, but the place seemed strangely [=oddly] familiar to her.

2 — used to say that something is strange or surprising • Strangely, my dad never asked me why I needed to borrow the car. • Strangely enough, he wasn't disappointed that he didn't get the job.

strang-er /ˈstreɪndʒə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : someone who you have not met before or do not know • Children are taught not to talk to strangers. • He is a complete/total/perfect stranger to me.

2 : someone who has not experienced something — + to • He is a stranger to losing. [=he does not know what losing is like] — usually used in negative statements • She is no stranger to controversy. [=she has been involved in controversy before]

3 : someone who is in a new and unfamiliar place • “Excuse me. Do you know where the library is?” “I'm sorry. I'm a stranger here myself.” • I'm a stranger to the area.

4 informal a — used to greet someone you have not seen in a long time • Hello, stranger. I haven't seen you in ages. b — used to say that you hope to see someone again soon • Don't be a stranger, now. Come back real soon.

stran-gle /ˈstræŋɡəl/ verb stran-gles; stran-gled; stran-gling [+ obj]

1 : to kill (a person or animal) by squeezing the throat • He used a rope to strangle her (to death). = He strangled her (to death) with a rope.

2 : to stop (something) from growing or developing • The weeds are strangling the plant. • The company is trying to strangle the smaller competition.

— stran-gler /ˈstræŋɡlə/ noun, pl -glers [count] • She was the first victim killed by the strangler.

strangled adj — used to describe a cry or other sound that stops suddenly or that seems strained because of tightness in the throat • She let out a strangled cry/sob. • He spoke in a strangled voice.

stran-gle-hold /ˈstræŋɡəlˌhoʊld/ noun, pl -holds [count]

1 : an illegal hold in wrestling by which your opponent is choked

2 : a force or influence that stops something from growing or developing — usually singular • He finally broke free from the stranglehold of his domineering parents. — often + on • The state has a stranglehold on the city's finances.

stran-gu-la-tion /ˈstræŋɡjəˈleɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : the act of killing someone by squeezing the throat : the act of strangling someone • The cause of death was strangulation.

1 strap /ˈstræp/ noun, pl straps [count] : a narrow and usually flat piece of a material that is used for fastening, holding together, or wrapping something • a bra/leather strap • a watch strap — see pictures at BAG, SHOE; see also BOOTSTRAPS, JOCKSTRAP, SHOULDER STRAP, SPAGHETTI STRAP

2 strap verb straps; strapped; strap-ping [+ obj]

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to fasten (someone or something) by using a strap • We strapped our snowshoes on. • She climbed the mountain with a 40-pound pack strapped to her back. • She strapped the children in [=fastened the children's seat belts] and drove away. • She made sure that both children were strapped in.

2 chiefly Brit : to wrap (an injured or broken part of the body) with bandages — often + up • His broken leg will be strapped up for a long time.

strap on the feedbag see FEEDBAG strap-less /ˈstræpləs/ adj : made or worn without straps over the shoulders • a strapless evening gown strapped adj, informal : not having enough money : lacking money • The company is financially strapped and is expected to file for bankruptcy. • I can't go out tonight. I'm strapped for cash.

strapping adj, always used before a noun, of a person : tall, strong, and healthy • a strapping young man strap-py /ˈstræpi/ adj, always used before a noun : having straps • strappy sandals/shoes strata plural of STRATUM

strat-a-gem /ˈstrætədʒəm/ noun, pl -gems [count] formal : a trick or plan for deceiving an enemy or for achieving a goal • a clever stratagem

stra-te-gic /strəˈtiːdʒɪk/ also stra-te-gi-cal /strəˈtiːdʒɪkəl/ adj

1 : of or relating to a general plan that is created to achieve a goal in war, politics, etc., usually over a long period of time • strategic planning/warfare • The bridges have great strategic value. • strategic maneuvers [=maneuvers that are done as part of a general strategy] • strategic bombing • a strategic retreat [=a retreat that is done in order to help accomplish a general plan] • strategic nuclear weapons [=powerful nuclear weapons that are designed to be used against targets that are chosen as part of a general plan to defeat an enemy rather than in an attempt to win a specific battle]

2 : useful or important in achieving a plan or strategy • The hill is located at a strategic position. • a strategic location

– stra-te-gi-cal-ly /strə'ti:dʒikli/ adv ▪ strategically placed armies ▪ The road is strategically located.

strat-e-gist /'strætədʒɪst/ noun, pl -gists [count] : a person who is skilled in making plans for achieving a goal : someone who is good at forming strategies ▪ military/political/campaign strategists strat-e-gize /'strætə,dʒaɪz/ verb -giz-es; -gized; -giz-ing [no obj] US : to make a plan for achieving a goal and especially a military or political goal : to form a strategy ▪ The organization strategizes for Republican candidates.

strat-e-gy /'strætədʒi/ noun, pl -gies

1 [count] : a careful plan or method for achieving a particular goal usually over a long period of time ▪ They are proposing a new strategy for treating the disease with a combination of medications. ▪ The government is developing innovative strategies to help people without insurance get medical care. ▪ marketing/business/investment/defense strategies

2 [noncount] : the skill of making or carrying out plans to achieve a goal ▪ a specialist in campaign/military strategy

strat-i-fi-ca-tion /,strætəfə'keɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count, noncount] : the state of being divided into social classes ▪ social stratification/stratifications

2 [noncount] technical : the state of having many layers ▪ the stratification of the Earth's crust

strat-i-fied /'strætə,faid/ adj

1 : arranged or formed in layers ▪ stratified rock

2 [more ~; most ~] : divided into social classes ▪ stratified societies

strato-sphere /'strætə,sfiə/ noun

the stratosphere 1 : the upper layer of the Earth's atmosphere that begins about 7 miles (11 kilometers) above the Earth's surface and ends about 30 miles (50 kilometers) above the Earth's surface 2 : a very high position, level, or amount ▪ Tuition at many colleges has soared into the stratosphere. [=has become extremely expensive] ▪ His career is clearly headed for the stratosphere.

stra-tum /'streɪtəm, Brit 'strɑ:təm/ noun, pl stra-ta /'streɪtə, Brit 'strɑ:tə/ [count]

1 : one of usually many layers of a substance (such as rock) ▪ a rock stratum ▪ a stratum of earth

2 : a level of society made up of people of the same rank or position ▪ Drug abuse is a problem in every stratum of society. = Drug abuse is a problem in all social strata.

straw /'strɑ:/ noun, pl straws

1 a [noncount] : the dry stems of wheat and other grain plants ▪ a bed/pile of straw — often used before another noun ▪ a straw hat/mat b [count] : a single dry stem of a grain plant ▪ He was chewing on a straw.

2 [count] : a thin tube used for sucking up a drink ▪ He asked for a straw for his iced tea. ▪ She drank the juice through a straw.

clutch/grasp at straws : to try to solve a problem by doing things that probably will not help ▪ I asked her for a loan. I didn't think she'd agree, but at that point I was grasping at straws.

draw straws see ¹DRAW

straw in the wind : a sign of what might come in the future ▪ A few straws in the wind—such as increased tourism and shopping—suggest that the economy is improving.

the final/last straw or the straw that breaks/broke the camel's back : the last in a series of bad things that happen to make someone very upset, angry, etc. ▪ It had been a difficult week, so when the car broke down, it was the last straw.

straw-ber-ry /'strɑ:,beri, Brit 'strɔ:bri/ noun, pl -ries [count] : a soft, juicy red fruit that grows on a low plant with white flowers ▪ We picked strawberries. — often used before another noun ▪ a strawberry plant ▪ strawberry jam/preserves/sauce — see color picture on page C5 strawberry blonde or strawberry blond noun, pl ~ blondes or ~ blonds [count] : a person who has reddish-blond hair

– strawberry blonde or strawberry blond adj ▪ strawberry blonde hair strawberry mark noun, pl ~ marks [count] : a red mark on a person's skin : a red birthmark straw-colored (US) or Brit straw-coloured adj : light yellow in color : like the color of straw ▪ straw-colored hair straw man noun, pl ~ men [count] US : a weak or imaginary argument or opponent that is set up to be easily defeated — called also (chiefly Brit) man of straw straw poll noun, pl ~ polls [count] : an informal and unofficial poll or vote that is done to get information about what people think about something — called also (US) straw vote

¹stray /'streɪ/ verb strays; strayed; stray-ing [no obj] : to go in a direction that is away from a group or from the place where you should be ▪ Two cows strayed [=wandered] into the woods. ▪ The airplane strayed off course. — often + from ▪ She strayed from the group and got lost. ▪ Her eyes strayed from her computer to the window. [=she stopped looking at her computer and began looking at/out the window] — often used figuratively ▪ She never strayed [=deviated] from the path her parents envisioned for her. ▪ The menu at their house rarely strays (too) far from meat and potatoes. ▪ The class discussion strayed [=deviated] from the original topic. ▪ a straying husband [=a husband who has sexual relations with a woman who is not his wife]

²stray adj, always used before a noun

1 of an animal : lost or having no home ▪ a stray cat/dog

2 : separated from another or others of the same kind ▪ a stray sock

3 : not in or going in the proper or intended place ▪ a few stray hairs ▪ He was hit by a stray bullet. [=a bullet that was supposed to go somewhere else]

³stray noun, pl strays [count]

1 : an animal (such as a cat or dog) that is lost or has no home ▪ Both of her cats were strays that she found wandering in the neighborhood.

2 : a person or thing that is separated from a group ▪ I matched up the socks in the laundry but I was left with one stray. [=one extra sock]

¹streak /'stri:k/ noun, pl streaks [count]

1 : a long, thin mark that is a different color from its background ▪ He left streaks where he wiped the glass. ▪ The miners had streaks of coal dust on their faces.

2 : a quality that is noticeable especially because it is different from a person's other qualities — usually singular ▪ a streak of stubbornness = a stubborn streak ▪ She has an adventurous/competitive streak in her. ▪ He has a mean streak. [=a tendency to be mean]

3 : a period of repeated success or failure ▪ a lucky streak ▪ a streak of 11 straight victories ▪ a winning/losing streak [=a series of wins/losses] ▪ The team has recently been on a hot streak. [=the team has been winning a lot of games recently]

4 : a long, narrow area or flash of light ▪ a streak of lightning/light

²streak verb streaks; streaked; streak-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make long lines of a different color on or in (something) ▪ Tears streaked her face. — often used as (be) streaked with ▪ Her face was streaked with tears. ▪ Her hair is streaked with gray.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to go or move very quickly ▪ A shooting star streaked across the sky. ▪ A skateboarder streaked past us.

3 [no obj] : to run through a public place naked in order to get attention streak-er /'stri:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who runs through a public place naked in order to get attention ▪ The ceremony was interrupted when a streaker ran across the stage.

streaky /'stri:ki/ adj streak-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having or showing streaks ▪ streaky windows

2 chiefly US : good or successful at some times and bad or unsuccessful at others : not reliably or consistently good ▪ a streaky player/golfer ▪ The team's play has been very streaky this year. [=the team has played very well at times and very badly at other times]

¹stream /'stri:m/ noun, pl streams [count]

1 : a natural flow of water that is smaller than a river ▪ a mountain stream ▪ A stream flows/runs through the field. — compare RIVER

2 : any flow of liquid or gas — often + of ▪ a stream of urine ▪ A stream of cold air came in through the crack. — see also BLOODSTREAM, JET STREAM, SLIPSTREAM

3 : a continuous flow of people or things — usually + of ▪ a stream of words ▪ The island is visited by a continuous/constant/steady stream of tourists. ▪ an endless stream of traffic on stream chiefly Brit : in or into a working or functioning state : in or into operation ▪ This week the new factory came on stream. [=on line]

4 Brit : ¹TRACK 8

²stream verb streams; streamed; stream-ing

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move in a steady flow • Tears streamed down his cheeks. • I could feel the cold air streaming in through the crack in the window. • Sunlight was streaming in through the window. • rays of light streaming through the clouds

2 of the body or a body part a : to produce a liquid continuously and often in large amounts [no obj] — usually + with • Her eyes were streaming with tears. [+ obj] Her eyes streamed tears. b [no obj] : to be or become wet with a liquid • His face streamed with sweat.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to come or flow continuously to a place in large numbers • People streamed into the hall. • Immigrants streamed into the country. • Hundreds of letters streamed in from listeners.

4 [no obj] : to move freely in one direction especially in wind or water • Her long hair streamed behind her as she ran.

5 [+ obj] Brit : to group students in a particular grade according to their abilities and needs : TRACK • Children were streamed according to ability.

stream-er /'stri:mə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a long, narrow piece of colored paper or plastic that is used as a decoration

2 : a long, narrow flag stream-ing /'stri:mɪŋ/ adj, computers : playing continuously as data is sent to a computer over the Internet • streaming audio/media/video stream-line /'stri:m,laɪn/ verb -lines; -lined; -lin-ing [+ obj]

1 : to design or make (something, such as a boat or car) with a smooth shape which makes motion through water or air easier • The manufacturer has streamlined the car's design.

2 : to make (something) simpler, more effective, or more productive • The business is looking for ways to streamline production/operations.

— stream-lined /'stri:m,laɪnd/ adj [more ~; most~] • a very streamlined car/design stream of consciousness noun [noncount] : the continuous series of thoughts that occur in someone's mind especially when they are expressed in writing as a constant flow of words • the narrator's stream of consciousness

¹street /'stri:t/ noun, pl streets [count]

1 : a road in a city or town that has houses or other buildings on one or both sides • They live on a busy/residential street. • a deserted street • a dead-end/one-way street • You should look both ways before crossing the street. • Trash littered the streets. • The police car cruised up/down the street. • People don't feel safe walking the streets (of the city) at night. [=don't feel safe walking outside in the city at night] • our neighbor down the street [=our neighbor who lives farther down on our street] • They live across the street (from us). [=they live across from us on the other side of the street] •

Many of our customers walk in off the street without having heard of us before. • Angry citizens took to the streets [=went outside on the streets] to protest the war. • He lost his job and eventually was living on the street(s). [=was homeless] — often used in names • The store is at 84th Street and 35th Avenue. • My address is 156 Elm Street. — sometimes used figuratively • Word on the street is that the company is going out of business. [=people are saying that the company is going out of business] — see also EASY STREET, FLEET STREET, HIGH STREET, MAIN STREET, WALL STREET

2 informal : a poor part of a city where there is a lot of crime — usually plural • He is from the streets. • the raw language of the streets

hit the streets see ¹HIT pound the streets see ²POUND

streets ahead of Brit, informal : much better than (other people or things) • She is streets ahead of the other students.

the man in the street see ¹MAN up someone's street Brit, informal : suited to someone's tastes or abilities • The job is right up his street. [=the job suits him very well] • Working with animals is right up her street. [=chiefly US] right up her alley

²street adj, always used before a noun

1 : of or relating to streets • a street map • the store's street address • poor street lighting • I saw him standing on the street corner [=the area of the sidewalk where two streets meet] waiting for the bus. • Our apartment is at street level. [=our apartment is on the ground floor of the building]

2 : occurring, performing, working, or living on a street or sidewalk • street fighting/musicians/vendors • a street fair/demonstration • street people [=homeless people]

3 : of, relating to, or characteristic of a poor part of a city where there is a lot of crime • street drugs/crime/culture/gangs/slang street-car /'stri:t,kɑː/ noun, pl -cars [count] US : a vehicle that travels on streets on metal tracks and that is used for carrying passengers — called also (chiefly Brit) tram street clothes noun [noncount] : the ordinary clothes that people wear in public • She changed out of her uniform and into her street clothes.

street cred noun [noncount] informal : the acceptance and respect of people who live in poor city neighborhoods • the tough neighborhood where he earned his street cred street hockey noun [noncount] chiefly US : a game like ice hockey that is played on a hard surface using hockey sticks and a small ball street-light /'stri:t,laɪt/ noun, pl -lights [count] : a light on a tall pole next to a public road — called also street lamp; see picture at STREET

street-smart /'stri:t,smɑ:t/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly

US : STREETWISE • street-smart teenagers street smarts noun [plural] chiefly US : the knowledge needed to survive in difficult and dangerous places or situations in a city street-walk-er /'stri:t,wɑ:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a prostitute who finds customers by walking around in the streets street-wise /'stri:t,wɑ:z/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having the knowledge needed to survive in difficult and dangerous places or situations in a city • a smart, streetwise cop strength /'streŋkθ/ noun, pl strengths

¹ [noncount] : the quality or state of being physically strong • I don't have enough strength [=I'm not strong enough] to lift the box by myself. • I was impressed by his strength. • She's doing exercises to build up the strength in her legs. • Don't work too hard. You need to conserve/save your strength for tomorrow. • Pull-ups increase upper body strength. • muscular strength • Working on a farm requires a lot of physical strength. • He didn't mean to knock you down; he just doesn't know his own strength [=doesn't realize how strong he really is]. • She hit the ball with all her strength [=she hit the ball as hard as she could]. • She goes to the gym for strength training [=activities that make muscles stronger]

² [noncount] : the ability to resist being moved or broken by a force • the strength and durability of the material • bone strength

³ [noncount] : the quality that allows someone to deal with problems in a determined and effective way • I pray that I'll have the strength to do what I have to do. • moral strength • His determination shows real strength of character. • Her inner strength is an inspiration to us all.

⁴ [count] : a quality or feature that makes someone or something effective or useful • Her greatest strength is her keen attention to details. • We talked about the strengths and weaknesses [=the good parts and bad parts] of the movie. — opposite WEAKNESS

⁵ [noncount] : the power or influence of a group, organization, etc. • The antiwar movement is gathering/gaining strength. [=is becoming stronger and more effective] • The country has great military/economic strength. • There is strength in numbers. [=a group of people has more influence or power than one person] • We are negotiating from a position of strength [=from a strong position; from a position that gives us an advantage] • The strike was intended as a show of strength by the union's leaders.

⁶ [noncount] — used to describe how strong or deeply held an emotion or opinion is • The strength of their feelings inspired us all. = Their strength of feeling inspired us all. • I was impressed by the strength of her convictions.

⁷ — used to describe how powerful something is [noncount] the strength of the wind • This device measures the strength of radio signals. • maximum/regular/extra strength cough syrup • industrial-strength floor cleaner • The cleaning solution should be used at half-strength. [count] medicines that come in lower strengths

⁸ [noncount] : the number of people in a group, army, team, etc. • The battle cost the army about a quarter of its strength. • Now that the quarterback has recovered from his injury, this week the team will be functioning at full strength again. [=the team will have all its players again] • We're only at half strength today. [=only half the usual number of people are here today] • (chiefly Brit) The team is under/below strength today. [=the team does not have all of its players today] • The enemies attacked in strength [=in great numbers]

⁹ [noncount] a : the value of a country's money when it is compared to money from other countries • the strength of the U.S. dollar b : the financial condition of something • measuring the strength of the economy/market

go from strength to strength : to become better or more successful as time passes • Her career as a lawyer continues to go from strength to strength.

on the strength of : because of the influence of (something) • I went and saw the film on the strength of his recommendation.

pillar of strength see PILLAR

tower of strength see ¹TOWER

strength-en /'streŋkθən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

¹ [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) stronger, more forceful, more effective, etc. • These exercises will strengthen your stomach muscles. • He takes herbs to strengthen his immune system. • The development of new electronic products has strengthened the company's position as the leader in digital technology. • Holidays often serve to strengthen bonds between family members. • Their financial situation strengthened her determination to find a new career. • The team has been strengthened by the addition of several new players.

² [no obj] : to become stronger, more forceful, more effective, etc. • The winds are expected to strengthen. • The storm is continuing to strengthen [=to become more powerful] as it approaches land. • Her determination has strengthened. • The economy is slowly strengthening.

³ of money : to increase in value when compared to money from other countries [no obj] The Canadian dollar is strengthening against the U.S. dollar. [+ obj] The trade restrictions will strengthen the pound. — opposite WEAKEN

stren-u-ous /'strenjəwəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : requiring or showing great energy and effort • Avoid all strenuous exercise until the sprain heals. • a strenuous climb • Today has been a very strenuous day. • strenuous efforts • The proposal has faced strenuous opposition.

— stren-u-ous-ly adv

strep throat /'strep-/ noun [noncount] US, medical : a painful infection of the throat caused by streptococcus bacteria • He has strep throat. — called also strep

strep-to-coc-cus /,streptə'kɑ:kəs/ noun, pl -coc-ci /-'kɑ:,kai/ [count] medical : a type of bacteria that causes diseases in people and animals

¹ stress /'stres/ noun, pl stress-es

¹ a [noncount] : a state of mental tension and worry caused by problems in your life, work, etc. • She uses meditation as a way of reducing/relieving stress. • Hormones are released into the body in response to emotional stress. • He needs help with stress management [=ways to deal with stress] b : something that causes strong feelings of worry or anxiety [noncount] I'm sorry for being grumpy. I've been under (a lot of) stress at work lately. [count] She is dealing with the stresses of working full-time and going to school. • He talked about the stresses and strains of owning a business.

² : physical force or pressure [noncount] Carrying a heavy backpack around all day puts a lot of stress on your shoulders and back. • To reduce the amount of stress on your back, bend your knees when you lift something heavy. • The ship's mast snapped under the stress of high winds. [count] measuring the effects of stresses on the material

³ [noncount] : special importance or attention that is given to something • The teacher laid/put stress on [=emphasized] the need for good study habits.

⁴ : greater loudness or force given to a syllable of a word in speech or to a beat in music [noncount] Stress falls on the first syllable of the word "language." [count] Stresses fall on different beats in different parts of the song. • The stress [=accent] is on the first syllable.

² stress verb stresses; stressed; stress-ing

¹ [+ obj] : to give special attention to (something) • The dentist repeatedly stressed [=emphasized] the importance of flossing regularly. • The union stressed the need for stricter safety standards. • The risks involved in the procedure should/must be stressed.

² [+ obj] : to pronounce (a syllable or word) in a louder or more forceful way than other syllables or words • Some people stress the second syllable of "harassment," while others stress the first. • When she said, "We need lots of money," she stressed the word "lots."

³ US, informal : to feel very worried or anxious about something : to feel stress [no obj] It's not an important decision and it isn't worth stressing over. • You don't need to stress [=stress out] about the exam. You'll do fine. [+ obj] Not having a clear plan was stressing me. [=stressing me out] stress out [phrasal verb] stress out or stress (someone) out or stress out (someone) informal : to feel very worried or anxious or to make (someone) feel very worried or anxious • I hate being around her when she's stressing out. • Work is stressing him out.

stressed /'strest/ adj

¹ [more ~; most ~] : feeling very worried or anxious • He was feeling pretty stressed about the deadline. — often + out • They were stressed out.

² technical : having a lot of physical pressure or force on it • stressed beams stress fracture noun, pl ~ -tures [count] medical : a crack on the surface of a bone caused by repeated pressure • The gymnast developed a stress fracture in her ankle.

stress-ful /'stresfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : full of or causing stress : making you feel worried or anxious • I had a stressful day at work today. • a stressful situation/event/job stress mark noun, pl ~ marks [count] : a mark (such as ' or ,) used to show the part of a word that should be given greater stress when it is spoken stress-or /'stresə/ noun, pl -ors [count] : something that makes you worried or anxious : a source of stress • Credit card debt is a major stressor in her life.

stress test noun, pl ~ tests [count] : a test to show how strong something is; especially : a medical test to show how strong and healthy your heart is during a period of exercise

stretch /'stretʃ/ verb stretch-es; stretched; stretch-ing
1 a [+ obj] : to make (something) wider or longer by pulling it • Don't yank on my sweater. You'll stretch it. • I'm trying to stretch (out) the wool hat that shrank in the wash. • Carefully stretch the dough. b [no obj] : to become longer or wider when pulled • The elastic waistband of my pants won't stretch any more. • jeans/pants that stretch • The material/fabric stretches.

2 a : to put your arms, legs, etc., in positions that make the muscles long and tight [no obj] It's important to stretch before you exercise. • The baby stretched and yawned. [+ obj] She woke up and stretched her arms above her head. • These exercises stretch (the muscles of) your lower back. b always followed by an adverb or preposition : to extend your arm, leg, etc., in order to reach something [no obj] She stretched over us to open the window. — often + out • Her hand stretched out toward him. [=she reached toward him with her hand] [+ obj] She stretched her hand toward him. — often + out • She stretched out her hand.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to pull (something) so that it becomes flat and smooth and goes across a surface or area • She stretched the canvas over the wooden frame. • The T-shirt was stretched tight over his belly. • A big banner was stretched across the doorway.

4 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] a : to continue for a specified distance : to extend over an area • The cornfields stretch as far as the eye can see. • The restaurant chain began in Chicago but now stretches to the West Coast. — used to describe how long something is • The horse's tail stretches three and a half feet from base to end. b : to continue over a period of time • Her interest in art stretches back to her childhood. [=she has been interested in art since she was a child] • Construction that began in late April stretched [=continued] into June.

5 [+ obj] : to say something that is not exactly true • He was stretching the truth [=exaggerating] to make the story more interesting. • Although it may be stretching a point [=exaggerating slightly] to say that this was his best win ever, it was nevertheless impressive. • (informal) She's a good musician but comparing her to the legends is stretching it. [=she's good but she can't really be compared to the legends] • (informal) It's stretching things to say that she enjoys his visits. [=she doesn't really enjoy his visits]

6 [+ obj] a : to cause or force (something) to be used for a longer time or for more purposes than originally planned or expected • They were forced to stretch their food supplies. • The unexpected expenses have stretched their budget to the breaking point. • The country is stretching its military forces to the limit. — often + out • They were forced to stretch out their food supplies for another week. b : to cause (something, such as a rule) to have a meaning or purpose that is different from what was originally intended • He is clearly stretching the rules in his favor. [=he is doing something that is not really allowed by the rules] • The clause was stretched beyond its original meaning. c — used figuratively in various phrases • Her bad behavior is stretching my patience (to the limit). [=is causing me to lose patience] • His explanation stretches credulity. [=is hard to believe]

7 [+ obj] : to require (someone) to use a lot of effort, ability, skill, etc., in order to succeed • The work doesn't stretch me intellectually. [=the work is too easy for me; the work is not intellectually challenging]

stretch out [phrasal verb] stretch out or stretch (yourself) out : to extend your body in a flat position : to spread out in a relaxed position • She stretched out on the bed. • He stretched himself out on the couch. — often used as (be) stretched out • He was (lying) stretched out on the couch. — see also 1 STRETCH 2b, 6a (above)

stretch your legs informal : to stand up and walk especially after sitting for a long period of time

— stretch-able /'stretʃəbəl/ adj • a stretchable fabric

2 stretch noun, pl stretches

1 [count] : a continuous area or length of land or water • a 60-mile stretch of beach • an open stretch of highway/road

2 [count] a : a continuous period of time • We sat silently for a long/short/brief stretch (of time). • She can sit and read for hours at a stretch. [=at one time without stopping] b informal : a period of time spent in prison — usually singular • He just got out of prison after a six-year stretch.

3 : an act of stretching your body or part of your body [count] These are good stretches for your leg muscles. • I always spend a few minutes doing stretches before I exercise. [noncount] I can feel the stretch in the back of my legs.

4 the stretch : the final straight part of a racecourse before the finish line • the horses are in the (final) stretch — often used figuratively • They won some crucial games down the stretch. [=in the last part of the season] • She's in the final stretch. The baby's due next month. — see also HOME-STRETCH

5 [noncount] : the ability to be stretched without breaking or being torn • material with a lot of stretch

6 [singular] chiefly US a : something that requires a special effort to be done : something that is beyond a person's usual abilities • Portraying a famous actress was not much of a stretch [=challenge] for the popular movie star. b : a statement, description, etc., that is not strictly true or accurate • Some people think it's a stretch to call fishing a sport.

at full stretch Brit, informal : with as much effort as possible • The medical team worked at full stretch.

by any/no stretch of the imagination — used to emphasize that something is not true, does not happen, etc. • They're not wealthy by any stretch of the imagination. [=they're not wealthy at all] • By no stretch of the imagination does the factory operate efficiently. [=the factory does not operate at all efficiently]

the seventh-inning stretch baseball : the time between the two halves of the seventh inning when the people watching a game traditionally stand up and stretch their legs

3 stretch adj, always used before a noun : made to stretch easily and then return to the original shape and size • stretch socks/pants

1 stretch-er /'stretʃə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a device that is made of a long piece of thick cloth stretched between two poles and that is used for carrying an injured or dead person • They carried her out to the ambulance on a stretcher.

stretcher

2 stretcher verb -ers;
-ered; -er-ing [+ obj] Brit : to carry (someone) on a stretcher — often used as (be) stretchered • The injured player was stretchered off the field.

stretch limo noun, pl ~ lim-os [count] : a very large and fancy car that is longer than standard cars and that is driven by a professional driver • The chauffeur drove her to the wedding in a stretch limo. — called also stretch limousine

stretch marks noun [plural] : long marks on the skin left after the skin has been stretched especially by pregnancy stretchy /'stretʃi/ adj stretch-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : able to stretch and then return to the original size and shape • a tight stretchy shirt • The fabric is very stretchy.

strew /'stru:/ verb strews; strewed; strewed or strewn /'stru:n/; strew-ing [+ obj]

1 : to spread or scatter things over or on the ground or some other surface • She strewed the birdseed on the ground. • He strewed fresh hay on the floors of the stable. = He strewed the floors of the stable with fresh hay. — often used as (be) strewed/strewn • The children's toys were strewed [=scattered] all around the room. [=were lying in different places all around the room] • The park was strewn with litter. [=there was litter scattered throughout the park] — often used figuratively • Her stories are strewn with clichés. [=her stories have many clichés]

2 literary : to lie on or cover (something) • Leaves strewed the ground.

stri-at-ed /'straɪ,etəd/ adj, technical : having lines, bands, or grooves • striated muscle tissue
— stri-a-tion /'straɪ'eɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] strick-en /'stri:kən/ adj : powerfully affected by disease, trouble, sorrow, etc. • I saw her stricken face looking up at us. — often + by or with • He was too stricken by embarrassment to speak. • a nation stricken with grief • She had been stricken with polio as a child. — often used in combination • disease-stricken villages — see also GRIEF-STRICKEN, PANIC-STRICKEN, POVERTY-STRICKEN, ¹STRIKE strict /'strikt/ adj strict-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 — used to describe a command, rule, etc., that must be obeyed • strict rules/laws/regulations • They want to impose strict limits on government spending. • We are under strict orders not to leave the prisoner alone.

2 : demanding that people obey rules or behave in a certain way • a strict teacher • Her parents aren't very strict.

3 a : carefully obeying the rules or principles of a religion or a particular way of life • a strict Hindu • a strict vegetarian b : complete or thorough • This project requires strict [=absolute] secrecy. • He insists on strict adherence to the rules.

4 : completely correct : exact or precise • He's not a volunteer in the strict/strictest sense (of the word) [=he is not really a volunteer] because he receives a small stipend.

— strict-ly /'striktli/ adv • The speed limit is strictly enforced. • Smoking is strictly forbidden/prohibited. • From a strictly practical perspective, this is the best way of doing things. • She follows a strictly vegetarian diet. • All personal information is kept strictly confidential. • Strictly speaking the book is not a novel but a series of short stories.

— strict-ness /'striktnəs/ noun [noncount] stric-ture /'striktʃə/ noun, pl -tures [count] formal

1 : a law or rule that limits or controls something : RESTRICTION • moral strictures — often + against or on • strictures on/against the sale and possession of weapons

2 : a strong criticism — usually plural • I don't agree with all of her strictures on the state of contemporary literature.

¹stride /'straɪd/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition strides; strode /'stroʊd/; strid-den /'strɪdn/; striding /'straɪdɪŋ/ [no obj] : to walk with very long steps • She strode across the room towards me.

²stride noun, pl strides [count]

1 a : a long step • She crossed the room in only a few strides. • As he ran down the field, the defender kept up with him stride for stride [=the defender ran next to him at the same speed] — sometimes used figuratively • The company has matched its competitors stride for stride. [=has not fallen behind its competitors] b : the distance covered by a long step • He was standing only a few strides away from me.

2 : a way of walking • He has a distinctive bouncy stride. • She entered the room with a confident stride.

3 : a change or improvement that brings someone closer to a goal — usually plural • Great strides [=advances] have been made in the control of tuberculosis. • The patient is making strides toward a complete recovery.

break (your) stride chiefly US : to stop walking or running in a regular and steady way • He caught the ball and passed it to a teammate without breaking stride. — often used figuratively • She graduated from college, went to law school, and without breaking stride joined a successful law firm.

hit your stride (US) or Brit get into your stride : to begin to do something in a confident and effective way after starting slowly • Both teams seem to have hit their stride in the second half.

off stride ♦ If you are walking or running and someone or something (chiefly US) throws/knocks you off (your) stride or (chiefly Brit) puts you off your stride, you are unable to continue walking or running steadily. • Another runner bumped into him and threw/knocked him off his stride. These phrases are often used figuratively. • She was surprised and thrown off stride [=thrown off balance] by the unexpected question. • He was working steadily until an interruption put him off his stride.

take (something) in stride (US) or Brit take (something) in your stride : to deal with (something difficult or upsetting) in a calm way • I thought she'd be upset, but she has taken the news in stride.

stri-dent /'straɪdn̩t/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : sounding harsh and unpleasant • The strident tone in his voice revealed his anger. • a strident voice

2 : expressing opinions or criticism in a very forceful and often annoying or unpleasant way • strident critics/slogans

— stri-den-cy /'straɪdn̩si/ noun [noncount] — stri-dent-ly adv strife /'straɪf/ noun [noncount] formal : very angry or violent disagreement between two or more people or groups • political/religious strife • civil strife

¹strike /'straɪk/ verb strikes; struck /'strʌk/; struck also

strick-en /'stri:kən/; striking /'straɪkɪŋ/

1 [+ obj] a : to hit (someone or something) in a forceful way • The ship struck an iceberg. • The car struck the tree. • The bullet struck him in the leg. • The cyclist was struck by a car. • The tree was struck by lightning. • He fell and his head struck the pavement. • I could hear the rain striking the rooftop. b : to cause (something) to hit something in a forceful way • I struck [=banged, bumped] my knee against the leg of the table. • She struck the cymbals together. c : to hit (someone or something) with your hand, a weapon, etc. • The killer struck him with a blunt object. • She accidentally struck another player in the face.

2 [no obj] : to attack someone or something suddenly • The snake was about to strike. • Police say that the killer may strike again. — often + at • The snake struck at the mouse. • He struck at her with a knife. — often used figuratively • He hurt her feelings by striking at [=attacking, criticizing] her personal beliefs. • The proposed law strikes at the foundations of our democracy.

3 not used in progressive tenses : to affect (someone or something) suddenly in a bad way : to cause damage, harm, illness, etc., to (someone or something) [+ obj] The flu strikes millions of people each year. [=millions of people get sick with the flu each year] • A hurricane struck the island. • The city has been struck by a powerful earthquake. — often used as (be) stricken • He was stricken with a high fever. [no obj] The hurricane is expected to strike tomorrow. • When disaster strikes, will you be prepared? — often used figuratively • The home team struck [=scored] first on the opening drive.

4 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to be in a certain condition suddenly — usually used as (be) struck • They were struck speechless with surprise. • He was struck deaf/blind [=he became deaf/blind] at an early age. • I was struck dumb [=dumbstruck] by the news.

5 [+ obj] a : to cause someone to feel (a strong emotion) suddenly — often + in or into • Their war cries struck terror in (the hearts of) their enemies. • Her words struck fear into the hearts of her listeners. b : to affect (someone) with a strong emotion • He was struck with horror at the sight. = The sight struck him with horror.

6 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to happen or exist : to do or achieve (something) • He needs to strike a better balance between his work life and his family life. [=he needs to spend less time at work and more time with his family] • They struck a blow for freedom and against tyranny. [=they did something that helped freedom and opposed tyranny] • Fate has struck a heavy blow against us. = Fate has struck us a heavy blow.

7 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to be thought of by (someone) suddenly : to occur to (someone) • It suddenly struck me [=I realized suddenly] that I would never see her again. • The answer just struck me. • It strikes me [=I realize] that there is a larger issue at stake.

8 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to think about someone or something in a particular way • What really struck me was their enthusiasm. [=I especially noticed their enthusiasm] • It strikes me [=it surprises me] that so few of them were willing to help. — often + as • Her comment struck me as odd. [=her comment seemed odd to me] • She strikes us as a very qualified candidate. [=we think she is a very qualified candidate]

9 [no obj] of a group of workers : to stop work in order to force an employer to agree to demands : to refuse to work until your employer does what you want • The teachers are threatening to strike. [=go on strike] • striking workers — often + for • The workers are striking for an increase in pay.

10 of a clock : to make the time known by making a sound [no obj] The clock struck as they entered the room. [+ obj] The clock struck one.

11 [+ obj] : to cause (a match) to start burning by rubbing it against a surface • She struck a match and lit the candle.

12 [+ obj] : to make (an agreement) • The two parties have finally struck a bargain/deal

13 [+ obj] : to remove (something) from (something) • She struck the song from the album at the last minute. • He struck [=deleted] the sentence from the paragraph. • The clause has been stricken from the contract.

14 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to find or discover (something) especially by digging • They are hoping to strike oil/gold. — see also STRIKE GOLD (below)

15 [+ obj] : to place yourself in (a particular position, posture, etc.) • She struck [=assumed, took on] a dramatic pose. • He struck a defensive attitude.

16 [+ obj] : to play (a note, chord, etc.) on a musical instrument by using your fingers on keys or strings • Fans cheered when he struck the song's opening chords. — often used figuratively • She struck the right note/tone with her speech. [=she said things in a way that appealed to her audience]

17 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to begin to walk or go in a particular direction — usually + off or out • He struck off through the woods. • The men struck out for/toward their campsite when they saw the storm clouds moving in. — see also STRIKE OUT 4 (below)

18 [+ obj] : to make (a coin, medal, etc.) by pressing an image into a piece of metal • The coins were struck in 1789.

be struck by informal : to be very impressed by or pleased with (something or someone) • Visitors are always struck by the beauty of the landscape.

lightning never strikes (the same place) twice see ¹LIGHTNING

strike a chord see ²CHORD strike a nerve see NERVE

strike back [phrasal verb] : to try to hurt someone who has hurt you or treated you badly • When he called her lazy, she immediately struck back by calling him fat. — often + at • He angrily struck back at his critics.

strike down [phrasal verb] 1 strike (someone) down a : to make (someone) unable to work, act, or function in the usual way — usually used as (be) struck down • She was struck down by an injury at the height of her athletic career. b : to cause (someone) to die suddenly — usually used as (be) struck down • He was struck down by a heart attack at age 55. 2 strike (something) down or strike down (something) chiefly US, law : to say officially that (something) is no longer legally valid • The board struck down the appointment. • The Supreme Court struck down the law.

strike gold : to have great success with something • The studio struck gold with their latest film. — see also ¹STRIKE 14 (above)

strike home see ²HOME

strike it rich informal : to become rich suddenly • Her family struck it rich when they won the lottery.

strike off [phrasal verb] 1 strike off (something) or strike (something) off : to draw a line through (a name or item on a list) • The teacher struck off [=crossed out] the names as he called them out. 2 strike off (something) or strike (something) off : to remove (something) by hitting it with a tool in a forceful way • He struck off the top of the coconut with a machete. 3 strike off (someone) or strike (someone) off Brit : to remove the name of (someone, such as a doctor or lawyer) from an official register — usually used as (be) struck off • The doctor was struck off for unethical practices. [=the doctor is no longer allowed to practice] — see also ¹STRIKE 17 (above)

strike on/upon [phrasal verb] 1 strike on/upon (something) not used in progressive tenses : to find or discover (something) especially suddenly • He struck on an idea for his novel. • They struck upon a salt mine. 2 be struck on Brit, informal : to like or be impressed by (someone or something) very much • He was quite struck on her. • She seems to be very struck on herself. [=stuck on herself] strike out [phrasal verb] 1 baseball a strike (someone) out or strike out (someone) of a pitcher : to cause (a batter) to be out by pitching three strikes • The pitcher struck him out with a curve. • The pitcher struck out the first two batters. b of a batter : to make an out by getting three strikes • The first two batters struck out. — see also STRIKEOUT 2 strike (something) out or strike out (something) : to remove (something) from a document : DELETE • The editor struck out the last paragraph. 3 US, informal : to be unsuccessful : FAIL • “Did you get her phone number?” “No, I struck out.” 4 : to begin a course of action • She struck out on her own after graduation. — see also ¹STRIKE 17 (above) 5 : to try to hit someone or something suddenly • He struck out wildly with his arms. — often + at • He struck out wildly at the police officers. 6 : to make a sudden and angry attack against someone — often + at • Both candidates struck out at their critics.

strike pay dirt see PAY DIRT strike (someone) dead : to kill (someone) in a quick and unexpected way • A bolt of lightning struck him dead.

strike up [phrasal verb] 1 strike up (something) a : to begin to play (a piece of music) • The orchestra struck up a waltz. b : to cause (an orchestra, a band, etc.) to begin playing • The conductor struck up the band. 2 strike up (something) also strike (something) up : to begin (something) • I struck up a conversation with him at the party. • The two boys struck up a friendship.

strike while the iron is hot : to do something immediately while you still have a good chance to do it • We may not have a chance like this again. We need to strike while the iron is hot.

— see also STRIKING DISTANCE

²strike noun, pl strikes

1 : a period of time when workers stop work in order to force an employer to agree to their demands [count] a teachers' strike • a strike by airline pilots [noncount] The workers are on strike. • Workers are threatening to go (out) on strike. = (Brit) Workers are threatening to come out on strike. • Workers threatened to take strike action. — see also HUNGER STRIKE, LIGHTNING STRIKE

2 [count] : a military attack • The allies have launched several strikes. • an air strike [=an attack by aircraft] — see also FIRST STRIKE, SURGICAL STRIKE

3 [count] : the act of hitting something with force • The forest fire was caused by a lightning strike. [=was caused when something on the ground was hit/struck by lightning]

4 [count] a baseball : a pitch that passes through a certain area over home plate without being hit and that counts against the batter • The first pitch was a ball but the next two pitches were strikes. • That's strike two. One more strike and he's out. — see also STRIKE ZONE b US : a perfectly thrown ball or pass • The quarterback threw a strike to the receiver.

5 [count] chiefly US : something that makes someone or something less likely to be accepted, approved, successful, etc. • Her poor attendance was a strike against her. [=her poor attendance counted against her] • He has a criminal record, so that's one strike against him. • I want the job, but I'm young and I don't have much experience, so I feel like I already have two strikes against me.

6 [count] bowling : the achievement of knocking down all 10 pins with the first ball • She made/bowled a strike. — compare ³SPARE 2

7 [count] : a discovery of something valuable (such as oil) — usually singular • an oil strike

strike-breaker /'straɪk,breɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who is hired to replace a worker who is on strike or who continues to work during a strike

— strike-break-ing /'straɪk,breɪkɪŋ/ noun [noncount] strike force noun, pl ~ forces [count]

1 : a military force that is ready to attack

2 US : a team of federal agents assigned to investigate organized crime in a specific area strike-out /'straɪk,aʊt/ noun, pl -outs [count] baseball : an out in baseball that occurs when a batter gets three strikes • The pitcher had 10 strikeouts in the game. [=the pitcher struck out 10 batters] — see also strike out at ¹STRIKE striker /'straɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a worker who is on strike

2 : a forward in soccer

strike zone noun

the strike zone baseball : the area over home plate where the baseball must pass after it is pitched in order to be called a strike striking /'straɪkɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : unusual or extreme in a way that attracts attention • a place of striking [=remarkable] beauty • The poverty of the city is striking. • There is a striking resemblance between the girls. • The building's modern style is/stands in striking contrast to the surrounding neighborhood. [=is very different from the surrounding neighborhood]

2 : very attractive especially in an unusual or interesting way • a striking young man • an actress known for her striking good looks — striking-ly adv • a strikingly beautiful woman • The two islands are strikingly different.

striking distance noun [noncount] : the distance from which something can be easily reached • The snake was within striking distance. • They live within striking distance of the city. [=they live close to the city] — often used figuratively • They were almost within striking distance of their goal. = Their goal was almost within striking distance. [=they were close to achieving their goal]

¹string /'strɪŋ/ noun, pl strings

1 : a long, thin piece of twisted thread that you use to attach things, tie things together, or hang things [count] She tied a string around the boxes. [noncount] a piece/loop/ball of

string • He tied the packages together with string. — see also APRON STRING, DRAWSTRING, G-STRING, SHOESTRING

2 [count] : a group of objects that are connected with a string, wire, chain, etc. — + of • She was wearing a string of pearls. • We used four strings of Christmas lights to decorate the tree.

3 [count] a : a series of similar things — + of • He owns a string of movie theaters. • a long/whole string of names/numbers b : a series of events which follow each other in time — + of • a string of robberies • The band had a string of hits in the 1990s. c technical : a group of letters, words, or numbers which is treated as a single unit in a computer program • a character string

4 [count] : a long, thin piece of tightly stretched wire or other material (such as nylon) that is used to produce sounds in a musical instrument (such as a violin or piano) • guitar/piano strings — see also THE STRINGS (below)

5 [noncount] chiefly US : a group of players on a team that play together because they have similar abilities • the first/second string of a football team • He was demoted to the second string. — see also FIRST-STRING, SECOND-STRING

6 strings [plural] : requirements that are connected with something : things that you have to do, give, etc., if you accept something (such as a gift or an offer) • She won't accept the gift if there are strings. [=if she is expected to do something in return for it] • They offered her the job with no strings attached. [=with no conditions] • He's generous, but there are always strings attached. [=he always expects something in return for what he gives to people]

7 [count] : a long, thin piece of nylon or other material that is stretched tightly across a tennis racket or similar object have more than one string to your bow Brit : to have more than one idea, skill, plan, etc., that you can use if it is needed • That didn't fix the problem, but I have more than one string to my bow.

have (someone) on a string informal : to be able to make (someone) do anything you want • He has his girlfriend on a string.

how long is a piece of string Brit, informal — used as a reply to a question when the answer is not known • "How long will you be staying?" "How long is a piece of string?"

pull strings : to use the influence that you have with important people to get or achieve something • His father had to pull (some) strings to get him the job.

pull the strings : to control someone or something often in a secret way • It turned out that his brother was the person pulling the strings behind the operation.

purse strings see ¹PURSE

the strings or the string section : the instruments of an orchestra (such as the cello, violin, or piano) that have strings or the musicians who play them • The concert was excellent, especially the strings. • The orchestra's string section is excellent.

²string verb strings; strung /'strʌŋ/; string-ing [+ obj]

1 : to put (things) together on a string, thread, chain, etc. • string beads • We strung popcorn garlands for the Christmas tree.

2 : to place or hang (things) in a line or series • They strung wires from tree to tree. • We strung [=hung] Christmas lights along the railing. • Scouts strung lanterns along the trail.

3 : to tie, hang, or fasten (something) with string • She strung the key around her neck.

4 : to attach strings to (something, such as a musical instrument or tennis racket) • You'll have to string your guitar/racket before you can play.

string along [phrasal verb] 1 string (someone) along : to continue to deceive or trick (someone) for a long time • He was just stringing us along with false promises. • He really loved her but she was just stringing him along. [=making him think that she loved him so she could use him] 2 string along with (someone or something) Brit, informal : to go with or follow (someone or something) • She strung along with them to the museum.

string out [phrasal verb] string (something) out or string out (something) : to make (something) take longer than it should • You're just stringing this out to avoid having to leave. — see also STRUNG OUT string together [phrasal verb] string (something) together or string together (something) : to combine (different things) into something that is complete, useful, etc. • See if you can string the theories together into something that makes sense. • The filmmaker strung together interviews with a number of experts on the subject. : to create (something) by putting different things together • She was finding it hard to string together a coherent argument.

string up [phrasal verb] string (someone) up or string up (someone) informal : to hang (someone) by the neck : to kill (someone) by hanging • They threatened to string him up in a tree.

string bean noun, pl ~ beans [count] chiefly US

1 : a type of long, thin green bean

2 informal : a very tall thin person • Her boyfriend's a real string bean.

string cheese noun [noncount] chiefly US : cheese that can be pulled apart in narrow strips stringed instrument /'strɪŋd-/ noun, pl ~ -ment [count] : a musical instrument (such as a guitar, violin, or piano) that has strings and that produces sound when the strings are touched or struck stringed instrument

strin·gent /'strɪndʒənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very strict or severe • stringent training • stringent budgetary constraints — used to describe a command, rule, etc., that must be obeyed • stringent rules/requirements/restrictions/standards

— strin·gen·cy /'strɪndʒənsi/ noun [noncount] — strin·gent·ly adv • The rule is stringently applied/enforced.

string·er /'strɪŋə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a journalist who is not on the regular staff of a newspaper but who writes stories for that newspaper

stringy /'strɪŋi/ adj string·i·er; -est

1 : containing long, thin pieces that are like string and that are hard to chew • stringy vegetables • a tough, stringy piece of meat

2 of hair : long, thin, and dirty • a stringy beard

3 : having long, thin muscles • stringy arms • a stringy woman

— string·i·ness noun [noncount]

¹strip noun, pl strips

1 [count] : a long, narrow piece of something • strips of bacon • a small strip of cloth/paper

2 [count] : a long, narrow piece of land • a strip of land • strips of forest/coastline • the half-mile strip of road — see also DRAG STRIP, MEDIAN STRIP, RUMBLE STRIP

3 [count] US : a road that has a lot of shops, restaurants, etc., along it • driving along the strip • the Las Vegas strip

4 [count] : AIRSTRIP

5 [count] : COMIC STRIP • Peanuts has always been one of my favorite strips.

6 [singular] Brit : the uniform worn by a sports team • the team's away strip [=the uniform that the team wears when it is not playing at its home field, stadium, etc.]

7 [count] Brit : the act of taking your clothes off in a sexually exciting way while someone is watching • She did a strip [=striptease] for her husband.
tear (someone) off a strip or tear a strip off (someone) Brit, informal : to talk angrily to (someone who has done something wrong) • His dad tore him off a strip for denting the car.
— see also POWER STRIP

2 strip /'stri:p/ verb strips; stripped; strip-ping
1 a : to remove your clothing [no obj] I stripped for bed. • He stripped to the waist. [=he took off all the clothes on his upper body] • The prisoners were told to strip naked. [=remove all their clothes] — often + down • He stripped down to his underwear. [=he took all his clothes off except for his underwear] [+ obj] He stripped himself down to his underwear.
b [+ obj] : to take the clothes off (someone) • The prisoners were stripped naked. c [no obj] : to remove your clothing in a sexually exciting way while someone is watching • She gets paid to dance and strip at the club.
2 [+ obj] : to remove an outer covering or surface from something • strip the bark from a tree = strip a tree of its bark • We are going to strip [=remove] the old wallpaper. • They stripped the table and refinished it. • Please strip your bed [=remove all the sheets] so I can wash the sheets.
3 [+ obj] : to remove everything (such as furniture or equipment) from (a room, building, car, etc.) • They stripped the room when they left. • The building had been completely stripped of its original woodwork.
4 [+ obj] : to separate (a machine or piece of equipment) into parts for cleaning or repair • strip a rifle — often + down • They stripped down the engine.
5 [+ obj] : to take (something) away from someone in a forceful way — + of • They stripped the slaves of their dignity. — often + away • Their rights were stripped away. — often used as (be) stripped • The pageant winner was stripped of her crown/title after the scandal. [=she was forced to give up her crown/title after the scandal]
6 [+ obj] : to damage part of a screw or gear so that it does not work properly • Pushing too hard will strip the screw.
strip away [phrasal verb] strip (something) away or strip away (something) 1 : to remove (something that covers a surface) : to pull pieces of a covering away from a surface • strip away the bark of a tree 2 : to remove (unimportant material) from something • The editor stripped away repetitive sections of the essay. — see also 2STRIP 5 (above)

strip cartoon noun, pl ~ -toons [count] Brit : COMIC STRIP strip club noun, pl ~ clubs [count] informal : a place where people go to watch performers take their clothes off in a sexually exciting way : a nightclub with performances by strippers — called also (US) strip joint stripe /'straɪp/ noun, pl stripes [count]

1 : a long, narrow line of color • light gray stripes on a black background • a zebra's stripes — see also PINSTRIPE, STARS AND STRIPES
2 : a piece of material worn on the arm of a military uniform to show the rank of the person wearing the uniform • He finally got his sergeant's stripes.
3 : a particular type of person or thing • classes for artists of all stripes [=for all kinds of artists] • activists of any/every stripe earn your stripes : to do something which shows that you deserve to be accepted and respected by the other people in a field or profession • She has yet to earn her stripes as a reporter.

striped /'straɪpt/ adj : having stripes or bands of color • a striped shirt — see color picture on page C12

stripey variant spelling of STRIPY

strip lighting noun [noncount] Brit : a type of lighting that uses long white tubes • The bright strip lighting in the office was not very flattering.

— strip light noun, pl ~ lights [count]

strip-ling /'stri:plɪn/ noun, pl -lings [count] old-fashioned + humorous : a boy or young man • I've known him since he was a mere stripling. [=since he was very young] strip mall noun, pl ~ malls [count] US : a long building that is divided into separate shops which usually have outside entrances and which share a parking lot strip mine noun, pl ~ mines [count] : a mine that is dug by removing the surface of a large piece of land one section at a time — strip-mine verb -mines; -mined; -min-ing [+ obj] • a region where coal is strip-mined strip-per /'stri:pə/ noun, pl -pers

1 [count] : a performer who removes his or her clothing in a sexually exciting way : a dancer who does a striptease • She worked as a stripper for a few years.
2 a [count] : a tool that you use to remove something (such as paint) from a surface b [count, noncount] : a liquid chemical that you use to remove something (such as paint) from a surface • a can of paint stripper strip search noun, pl ~ searches [count] : an act of removing someone's clothing to see if that person is hiding illegal drugs, weapons, etc. • The administrators ordered random strip searches of all prisoners.
— strip-search verb -search-es; -searched; -search-ing [+ obj] • They were strip-searched at the airport.
strip-tease /'stri:p,tɪ:z/ noun, pl -teas-es [count] : a performance in which someone removes clothing in a sexually exciting way stripy or strip-ey /'straɪpi/ adj strip-i-er; -est Brit, informal : STRIPED • stripy shirts strive /'straɪv/ verb strives; strove /'strəʊv/ also strived; striv-en /'straɪvən/ or strived; striv-ing [no obj] formal : to try very hard to do or achieve something • We must all strive to do better. • She always strives for perfection. • They strove for success. = They strove to succeed. • They continue to strive toward their goals. • striving against injustice [=working hard to fight injustice] synonyms see 1ATTEMPT
— striv-er /'straɪvə/ noun, pl -ers [count] strobe light /'strəʊb-/ noun, pl ~ lights [count] : a bright light that flashes on and off very quickly strode past tense of 1STRIDE
1 stroke /'strəʊk/ noun, pl strokes
1 [count] medical : a serious illness caused when a blood vessel in your brain suddenly breaks or is blocked • He had/suffered a stroke last winter. • a stroke patient/victim — see also SUNSTROKE
2 [count] a : an act of hitting a ball or the movement made to hit a ball during a game • She has a strong backhand stroke. • a forceful stroke — see also GROUND STROKE b golf : an act of hitting the ball that is counted as part of a player's score • He is ahead by two strokes.
3 [count] a : one of a series of repeated movements of your arms in swimming or rowing that you make to move yourself or the boat through the water • She swims with long, smooth strokes. • the stroke of an oar b : a style of swimming • She knows the four basic strokes. — see also BACK-STROKE, BREASTSTROKE
4 [count] : one of a series of repeated movements by something that goes up and down or back and forth • The bird soared higher with each stroke of its wings. • the stroke of a piston
5 [count] : an act of hitting someone or something with a stick, whip, etc. • a stroke of the whip
6 [count] : a gentle movement of your hand over or along something • She gave the cat a stroke. [=she stroked the cat]
7 [count] : a single act of moving a pen or brush when it is being used to write or paint • He writes with smooth strokes. • You can see the strokes of the painter's brush throughout the painting. • (figurative) He has the power to end this policy with a (single) stroke of a/the/his pen. [=by signing a law, order, etc., which ends it]; also : a line or mark made by a pen or brush • A few strokes (of paint) form the basic shape of the horse. — see also BRUSHSTROKE, KEYSTROKE
8 a [count] : one of the sounds made by a clock or bell to indicate a particular time • the first stroke of the clock at midnight b [singular] : an exact time • They arrived at the stroke of midnight. [=exactly at midnight]
9 [count] : a single decisive action • She solved all our problems with a single, brilliant/bold stroke. • We can resolve this at/by/in/with one stroke.
10 [count] : something good, lucky, etc., that happens or is thought of suddenly — usually singular • Her idea for the design for the interior was a stroke of inspiration. • It was only by a stroke of luck that we found a parking spot. • It was a lucky stroke. • Deciding to relocate the company was a stroke of genius. [=a brilliant idea]
11 [count] : a bright flash of lightning • a stroke of lightning a stroke of work informal : any work at all • They haven't done a stroke of work all day.

put (someone) off their stroke Brit : to cause someone to hesitate or be confused • The last-minute change of plans put me off my stroke.

²stroke verb strokes; stroked; strok-ing [+ obj]

1 : to move your hand over (someone or something) gently and in one direction • She was stroking the cat's fur.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition a : to move (something) gently in one direction • He stroked the pen lightly over the paper. b : to hit or kick (a ball) with a smooth movement • She stroked the ball toward the hole.

3 chiefly US, informal : to say nice things to (someone) in order to get approval, agreement, etc. • You're just stroking me so I'll go along with you. • She works with celebrities and spends half her time stroking their egos.

— strok-er noun, pl -ers [count]

stroll /'strɒl/ verb strolls; strolled; stroll-ing : to walk slowly in usually a pleasant and relaxed way [no obj] They strolled along/down/across the street looking in the store windows. [+ obj] We strolled the streets of the village.

— stroll noun, pl strolls [count] • He went for a stroll in/through the park.

stroll-er /'strɒlə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 US : a small carriage with four wheels that a baby or small child can ride in while someone pushes it — called also (Brit) pushchair

2 : someone who is walking in a slow and relaxed way : someone who is strolling • I met a few strollers on the beach.

strong /'strɒŋ/ adj strong-er /'strɒŋgə/; strong-est /'strɒŋgəst/

1 : having great physical power and ability : having a lot of strength • a big strong kid • an athlete with strong muscles/legs • He's as strong as an ox. — opposite WEAK

2 : not easy to break or damage • The table should be strong enough to survive the trip. • The builder added supports to make the walls stronger.

3 : not sick or injured : HEALTHY • He'll return to work when he's feeling a little stronger.

4 : very noticeable • He speaks with a strong accent. • She has strong features like her father. • He bears a strong resemblance to his father.

5 : having great power or force • a strong breeze/wind • a good strong kick

6 a : very powerful in action or effect • Morphine is a strong drug. • a strong detergent • He needs strong glasses for reading. b : having a powerful and sometimes unpleasant taste or smell • strong cheese • The spices are too strong for me. • a strong perfume • A strong smell came from the basement.

7 : containing a large amount of an important ingredient (such as alcohol) • I could use a strong drink. • She drank nothing stronger than iced tea. • a strong cup of coffee

8 : having a lot of power or influence • a strong leader/government

9 : likely to persuade or convince people that something is true, real, correct, etc. • He made a strong [=compelling, persuasive] argument/case for keeping the center open. • strong evidence

10 : very confident and able to deal with difficult situations • a strong character/personality • I don't think I'm strong enough to handle this by myself. • Her spirit remained strong throughout her illness.

11 : felt, believed, or expressed in a very definite and powerful way • an especially strong conviction/commitment • She is a woman of strong and independent opinions. • a strong desire/liking/hatred • He has a strong sense of responsibility. • I had a strong desire/temptation/urge to call him. • He has a strong need for control. • The proposal has faced strong opposition. • He thanked them for their strong support.

12 : powerful and effective in supporting something, opposing something, etc. • She is a strong advocate for child welfare. • a strong opponent of the proposal

13 : well established and likely to continue • strong traditions • strong friendships/relationships/ties

14 : likely to succeed or to happen • a strong candidate/contender • There is a strong [=very good] possibility/chance that he will be promoted.

15 a : great in number • There was a strong turnout for the election. [=a large number of people voted in the election] b — used to indicate the number of people in a large group • The army was ten thousand strong. [=there were 10,000 soldiers in the army]

16 a : having a value that is great or that is increasing • The dollar has been strong. b : in a good financial condition

: doing well • The business remains strong despite the setbacks. • The economy is strong.

17 : very forceful and sometimes obscene or offensive • The movie contains some strong language. [=swearing]

18 : very bright • She likes strong colors. • a strong light a bit strong Brit, informal : unfair or too critical • Weren't you a bit strong on him?

a strong stomach see ¹STOMACH

come on strong see ¹COME

going strong : very active, healthy, or successful • The company has been going strong for nearly a century. • He's 92 years old and still going strong.

strong on 1 : very good at (something) • She's strong on vocabulary but not grammar. • The author is not strong on characterization. 2 : containing a lot of (something) • The explanation was strong on detail.

— strong-ly /'strɒŋli/ adv [more ~; most ~] • I feel very strongly about this. • She spoke strongly against the idea. • I strongly agree/disagree with her. • I strongly advise you to see a doctor. • The kitchen smelled strongly of baking. • strongly flavored • a strongly worded letter of complaint

¹strong-arm /'strɒŋ'ɑ:m/ adj, always used before a noun : using force or threats to make someone do what is wanted • They accused the government of using strong-arm tactics to silence its opponents.

²strong-arm verb -arms; -armed; -arm-ing [+ obj] : to use force or threats to make (someone) do what is wanted • She strong-armed us into cooperating.

strong-box /'strɒŋ,bɔ:ks/ noun, pl -box-es [count] : a box that is usually made of metal, that can be locked, and that is used to keep money or valuable things : SAFE

strong-hold /'strɒŋ,həʊld/ noun, pl -holds [count]

1 : an area where most people have the same beliefs, values, etc. : an area dominated by a particular group • The area/district/state is a Republican stronghold.

2 : a protected place where the members of a military group stay and can defend themselves against attacks • The rebels retreated to their mountain stronghold.

3 : an area where a particular type of uncommon animal can still be found • the last stronghold of the endangered deer strong-man /'strɒŋ,mæn/ noun, pl -men /-,men/ [count]

1 : a politician or leader who uses violence or threats

2 : a man who performs in a circus and who is very strong strong-minded /'strɒŋ'maɪndəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having very strong and definite beliefs and opinions : not easily influenced • a strong-minded woman • He is the most strong-minded child I have ever known.

— strong-minded-ly adv — strong-minded-ness noun [noncount] strong room noun, pl ~ rooms [count] : a special room in a bank where money and other valuable things can be kept safe strong suit noun [singular] : something that a person does well — often used in negative statements • Irony is not my strong suit. • Swimming has never been his strong suit.

strong-willed adj [more ~; most ~] : very determined to do something even if other people say it should not be done • two strong-willed children

stron-tium /'strɒ:nʃijəm/ noun [noncount] : a soft silver-white metal that is used in color TV tubes and red fireworks

strop /'strɒ:p/ noun, pl strops

1 [count] : a narrow piece of leather that is used for sharpening a razor

2 [singular] Brit, informal : a bad mood • He gets in a strop if he has to wait for someone.

strop-py /'strɒ:pi/ adj strop-pi-er; -est Brit, informal : easily annoyed and difficult to deal with • There's no need to get strop-py with me.

— strop-pi-ness noun [noncount] strove past tense of STRIVE struck past tense and past participle of ¹STRIKE

struc-tur-al /'strʌktʃərəl/ adj, always used before a noun : relating to the way something is built or organized : relating to the structure of something • The house suffered no structural damage. • structural defects/weaknesses

— struc-tur-al-ly adv • The building is structurally sound.

¹struc-ture /'strʌktʃə/ noun, pl -tures

1 [count] a : the way that something is built, arranged, or organized • They studied the compound's molecular structure. • The film had a simple narrative structure. • the structure of a plant b : the way that a group of people are organized • a solid family structure • the social structure of a college campus • changes to the company's power structure

2 [count] : something (such as a house, tower, bridge, etc.) that is built by putting parts together and that usually stands on its own • a brick/steel structure • The structure was damaged by fire. • a 12-story structure

3 [noncount] : the quality of something that is carefully planned, organized, and controlled • The novel lacks structure. • Children need a lot of structure in their lives.

2 structure verb -tures; -tured; -tur-ing [+ obj] : to arrange or organize (something) in a particular way • She structured the essay chronologically. • The story is structured [=built] around several main themes.

strudel /'stru:dl/ noun, pl -dels [count, noncount] : a German pastry made of thin dough rolled up with fruit filling and baked • apple strudel

1 strug-gle /'strʌgəl/ verb strug-gles; strug-gled; strug-gling [no obj]

1 : to try very hard to do, achieve, or deal with something that is difficult or that causes problems • He has been struggling with the problem of how to keep good workers from leaving. • They struggled for the right to vote. • She is struggling with her health. [=she is having problems with her health] • They struggled against injustice. • I had to struggle against the impulse to laugh. [=I had to make a strong effort to keep myself from laughing] — often followed by to + verb • She's struggling to survive. • He was struggling to breathe. • They have been struggling to pay their bills.

2 a : to move with difficulty or with great effort • She struggled up the hill through the snow. b : to try to move yourself, an object, etc., by making a lot of effort • She struggled to lift the package by herself, but it was too heavy. • He struggled to get free of the wreckage. • She was struggling with the door. [=trying to open the door] c : to fight with someone in order to get something • They struggled (with each other) for/over the gun. [=they fought with each other as they each tried to get the gun]

3 : to be failing : to be doing something without success • He's been struggling in math class for most of the year. • The team has continued to struggle in recent weeks. • He was living as a struggling artist in the city.

struggle on [phrasal verb] : to continue doing something that is difficult or tiring • I suppose all we can do now is struggle on.

— strug-gler /'strʌglə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

2 struggle noun, pl struggles

1 [count] : a long effort to do, achieve, or deal with something that is difficult or that causes problems • a struggle to succeed • a struggle against injustice [=an effort to stop injustice] • the struggle for civil rights/freedom/survival • She talked about her struggles with depression. [=the problems she has had because of her depression; her attempts to find a cure for her depression] • The power struggle [=the fight for control] between the two owners destroyed the company.

2 [count] : a physical fight between usually two people • There was a struggle for/over the gun. • There was no sign of a struggle.

3 [singular] : something that is difficult to do or achieve • The work is a real struggle for me. [=the work is very difficult] • It was a struggle getting out of bed this morning.

strum /'strʌm/ verb strums; strummed; strum-ming [+ obj]

1 : to play (a guitar or similar instrument) by moving your fingers across the strings • She strummed the guitar/banjo.

2 : to play (music) on a guitar, banjo, etc., by moving your fingers over the strings • He strummed a tune on the guitar.

— strum-mer noun, pl -ers [count]

strum-pet /'strʌmpət/ noun, pl -pets [count] old-fashioned + offensive : a woman who has sex with men for money or who has sex with many men strung past tense and past participle of 2STRING strung out adj

1 [more ~; most ~] informal : strongly affected by an illegal drug — often + on • They were strung out on heroin.

2 : spread out with spaces between • stars strung out across the galaxy strung up adj [more ~; most ~] Brit, informal : very nervous, excited, or worried • Don't get so strung up about everything.

1 strut /'strʌt/ verb struts; strut-ted; strut-ting [no obj] : to walk in a confident and proud way • She strutted across the stage.

strut your stuff informal : to proudly show your abilities •

The audition gave aspiring actors a chance to strut their stuff.

— strut-ter noun, pl -ers [count]

2 strut noun, pl struts

1 [count] : a long, thin piece of wood or metal used for support in a building, vehicle, etc.

2 [singular] : a proud and confident walk • the strut of a supermodel strych-nine /'stri:k,nain/ noun [noncount] : a poisonous substance that can be used in very small amounts as a medicine

1 stub /'stʌb/ noun, pl stubs [count]

1 : a short part left after a larger part has been broken off or used up • a pencil stub

2 : a part of a ticket that is kept by the person who uses the ticket • Hold onto your ticket stub in case you leave the theater and want to come back in again.

3 : a piece of paper that is attached to a check and has information (such as the amount and the date) printed on it • a check stub — see also PAY STUB

2 stub verb stubs; stubbed; stub-bing [+ obj] : to put out (a cigarette) by pressing it down against something — usually + out • He stubbed his cigarette out in/on the ashtray.

stub your toe : to hurt your toe by hitting it against something • She stubbed her toe against/on the leg of the chair.

stub-ble /'stʌbəl/ noun [noncount]

1 : short hairs growing from the face of a man who has not shaved very recently • He ran his hand over his stubble. — see picture at BEARD

2 : the short ends of crops left in the ground after the crops have been cut down

— stub-bled /'stʌbəld/ adj • his stubbled chin • We drove past stubbled fields. — stub-bly /'stʌbəli/ adj • a stubbly beard stub-born /'stʌbən/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : refusing to change your ideas or to stop doing something • She's wrong, but she's too stubborn to admit it. • I admire his stubborn refusal to quit. • She has a stubborn streak. [=she is often stubborn] • He's (as) stubborn as a mule. [=he's very/extremely stubborn]

2 : difficult to deal with, remove, etc. • stubborn hair • trying to treat a stubborn infection • a stubborn stain

— stub-born-ly adv • She stubbornly refused to move. • The fever persisted stubbornly. — stub-born-ness /'stʌbən-nəs/ noun [noncount]

stub-by /'stʌbi/ adj stub-bi-er; -est : short and thick • hands with thick stubby fingers • My dog has a short stubby tail. • stubby legs

stuc-co /'stʌkou/ noun [noncount] : a type of plaster used for decoration or to cover the outside walls of houses

— stuc-coed /'stʌkoud/ adj • stuccoed buildings/ceilings/walls

1 stuck /'stʌk/ adj, not used before a noun

1 a : difficult or impossible to move from a position • The ring is stuck on my finger. • The zipper is stuck. • The door keeps getting stuck. • The elevator got stuck on the fifth floor. — sometimes used figuratively • He's an old man and stuck in his ways. [=completely unwilling to change his ways of doing or thinking about things] • The song is stuck in my head. [=I keep hearing the song over and over again in my head] b : in a place or situation that is difficult or impossible to get out of • The car was stuck in the mud. • We were stuck there for three days because of bad weather. • She was stuck in an awful marriage. • I was stuck at the office all day. • stuck at home with nothing to do • I got stuck in traffic. c : forced to keep or deal with someone or something unpleasant • We're stuck with this old sofa that nobody wants. • I was stuck washing dishes. = I got stuck washing dishes. — see also stick with at 2STICK

2 informal : unable to think of a solution, an idea, etc. • I'm stuck. Can you help me? • I'm stuck on this math problem. • I got stuck on the very first problem. • If you're stuck for ideas, I can help. • (chiefly Brit) She's never stuck for words. [=lost for words] get stuck in/into Brit, informal : to start doing something with a lot of energy • Grab a plate and get stuck in.

stuck on informal : loving or admiring someone foolishly or too much • He was stuck on her for a while in high school. • She is stuck on herself. [=stuck-up]

2 stuck past tense and past participle of 2STICK stuck-up /'stʌk'ʌp/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : acting unfriendly towards other people because you think you are better than they are : CONCEITED • They're just stuck-up people with too much money.

¹stud /'stʌd/ noun, pl studs

1 : a male animal (such as a horse) kept for breeding [count] retired racehorses being used as studs [noncount] retired racehorses at stud • a horse that has been put out to stud

2 [count] informal : a very attractive and masculine man : a man who has sexual relations with many women • She left her husband and ran off with some young stud.

— compare ²STUD

²stud noun, pl studs [count]

1 US : one of the upright pieces of wood that are used to build the frame of a wall

2 : a small metal knob that is used for decoration • a belt decorated with silver studs

3 : a small metal object used as a clothing fastener or for decoration • shirt studs

4 : a small piece of jewelry that is attached through a hole in part of a person's body (such as an ear) • She was wearing diamond studs. — see color picture on page C11

5 : one of the short pieces of metal or rubber on the surface of a snow tire

— compare ¹STUD

³stud verb studs; stud-ded; stud-ding [+ obj] : to decorate or cover (something) with many small items • Beads stud the surface of the gown. — often used figuratively • Bright stars studded the sky.

studded adj : covered or decorated with many small parts or pieces • a studded tire • a gown studded with jewels — often used figuratively • a sky studded with stars • a career studded with honors — sometimes used in combination • celebrity-studded shows [=shows that have many celebrities]

stu-dent /'stu:dnt, Brit 'stju:dnt/ noun, pl -dents [count]

1 : a person who attends a school, college, or university • a high school student • a group of college students • She is a student at Georgetown University. • She is a student [=pupil] at our local elementary school. — often used before another noun • student athletes/groups/leaders/loans/trips — see also MATURE STUDENT

2 : a person who studies something — + of • She is a student of human nature.

student body noun, pl ~ -ies [count] : the students at a school • The school has a large student body. [=a large number of students attend the school] student council noun, pl ~ -cils [count] : a group of students who are elected to help plan activities and to organize and manage life at school for other students student driver noun, pl ~ -ers [count] US : someone who is learning to drive a car — called also (Brit) learner, (Brit) learner driver student government noun, pl ~ -ments : a group of students in a school who are elected to help plan activities and to organize and manage life at school for other students [count] She was president of the student government. [noncount] He is active in student government.

student teacher noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a student who is learning how to teach and practicing teaching for the first time — student teaching noun [noncount] • Where did you do your student teaching?

student union (chiefly US) or Brit students' union noun, pl ~ unions [count]

1 : a building at a college or university that is used for students' social activities

2 Brit : an association of students at a college or university stud-ied /'stʌdɪd/ adj

1 : carefully thought out or prepared : THOUGHTFUL • She gave a studied response.

2 : done deliberately • a studied insult • He viewed us with a studied indifference.

stu-dio /'stu:di,ou, Brit 'stju:di,əu/ noun, pl -dios [count]

1 : the building or room where an artist works

2 : a place where people go to learn, practice, or study an art (such as singing, dancing, or acting)

3 a : a place where movies are made b : a company that makes movies • the president of a major Hollywood studio

4 : a place where radio or television programs are broadcast

5 : a place where music is recorded

6 : STUDIO APARTMENT • I rented a studio in the city.

studio apartment noun, pl ~ -ments [count] US : a small apartment that has a main room, a very small kitchen, and a bathroom — called also studio, (Brit) studio flat

stu-di-ous /'stu:dijəs, Brit 'stju:diəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very serious about studying, reading, learning, etc. • a studious child • studious habits

2 : very careful and serious • He made a studious effort to obey the rules. • studious avoidance of trouble

— stu-di-ous-ly adv • They did the homework assignment studiously. • She has been studiously avoiding/ignoring me.

— stu-di-ous-ness noun [noncount] • The teacher complimented the student on her studiousness.

stud-ly /'stʌdli/ adj stud-li-er; -est US slang, of a man : very attractive and masculine • a studly [=hunky] actor

¹study /'stʌdi/ noun, pl stud-ies

1 : the activity or process of learning about something by reading, memorizing facts, attending school, etc. [noncount]

Becoming a doctor requires years of study. • You can improve your knowledge of the natural world by study and observation. • She is engaged in the study of law. [=she is studying law] • You can design your own course of study. [=you can choose the subjects you will study] [plural] She will return to her studies after vacation. • He left the service to pursue his studies.

2 a [count] : an area of learning taught in a school : SUBJECT — usually plural • literary/American/women's studies — see also SOCIAL STUDIES b [singular] : something that a person studies or gives attention to • Their habits make an interesting study. [=it is interesting to study their habits] • She has made a study of the problem. [=she has studied the problem]

3 [count] a : an organized experiment in which many things are looked at, measured, recorded, etc., in order to learn more about something • The agency conducted an environmental study. • He took part in a study of childhood obesity. b : a report or publication based on a study • The study of the new drug will be published next year.

4 [count] : a quiet room in someone's home for reading, writing, etc. • She spent the evening reading in her/the study.

5 [singular] US : a person who learns or memorizes something • He's a fast/quick study. [=he learns things quickly] • When it comes to computers, I'm a slow study.

6 [singular] : something or someone that clearly has or shows a particular quality or feature • The evening was a study in contrasts. [=some parts of the evening were very different from other parts] • He was a study in concentration as he gazed at the computer screen.

7 [count] art : an artistic work that deals with a particular subject and that is done especially to prepare for a larger work

8 [count] music : a musical composition that is created for the practice of a particular technique under study : being thought about and considered so that a decision can be made : being studied • The proposal is under study.

²study verb studies; stud-ied; study-ing

1 : to read, memorize facts, attend school, etc., in order to learn about a subject [no obj] She studied hard. • Did you study for the test? • She's studying to be a teacher. [+ obj] He is studying music.

2 [+ obj] a : to give careful attention to (something) • I studied the request carefully. • She was studying his face for a reaction. • The proposal was studied in great detail. b : to conduct an organized experiment in order to learn more about (something) • The effects of the drug have never been thoroughly studied.

study hall noun, pl ~ halls US : a time during the school day when a student is expected to go to a particular room in the school to study or to complete work assigned in other classes [noncount] I have study hall next period. • She got in trouble for talking in/during study hall. [count] a required study hall • My study hall starts at 11:04.

¹stuff /'stʌf/ noun [noncount]

1 informal a : materials, supplies, or equipment • She got out the cooking stuff to bake some cookies. • computers, word processors, and stuff like that • I need a place to store my stuff. b : a group or pile of things that are not specifically described • Pick that stuff up off the floor.

2 informal — used to refer to something when you do not need to name exactly what it is • They sold tons of the stuff. • Trust me. This stuff works. • That stuff's expensive. • She wears cool stuff. • They're giving away free stuff at the door. • I didn't like her early books, but her recent stuff is very good. • The stuff he says about me is just not true. • I drink wine and beer occasionally, but I never touch the hard stuff.

[=hard liquor; alcoholic drinks like whiskey, vodka, etc.] — see also HOT STUFF, KID STUFF

3 informal — used to speak in a general way about something that is talked about, written about, etc. • There's some fascinating stuff in this book. • I can't believe the stuff teenagers talk about.

4 informal — used to describe the quality of a performance, experience, etc. • The presentation of facts in history can be pretty dull stuff. [=can be pretty dull] • This is great stuff [=is very enjoyable] for music fans.

5 informal : actions or behavior of a particular kind • How do they get away with such stuff? • Don't try any funny stuff. • There's all this crazy stuff going on. • He does stuff that bugs his parents.

6 : personality or character • He's a coward but his brother is made of sterner/tougher stuff. [=his brother is a stronger/tougher person] • A person who has the right stuff [=who has the necessary personal qualities] will do well here.

7 : the material that something is made of • The floor tiles are made of very tough stuff. — often used figuratively • He has the stuff of greatness. [=he has the qualities that can make a person great] • Her partying became the stuff of legend. [=became very famous or legendary]

8 baseball : the ability to throw pitches that are hard to hit • a pitcher with good stuff and stuff informal — used in speech to refer to things that are similar to the thing just mentioned • They asked me about my plans for the future and stuff. • The store sells TVs and stereos and stuff (like that).

do your stuff informal : to do the things that you are able to do well : to do things that you are known for doing • You'll succeed if you just get out there and do your stuff.

know your stuff informal : to be an expert at something • When it comes to gardening, she really knows her stuff. [=she knows a lot about gardening] show your stuff informal : to show what you are able to do : to show your skills • The competition gives young performers a chance to show their stuff.

strut your stuff see ¹STRUT

²stuff verb stuffs; stuffed; stuff-ing [+ obj]

1 : to fill (something) so that there is no room for anything else • The boy stuffed his pockets with candy. • She stuffed the laundry bag full. — often used figuratively • The book is stuffed [=filled] with information. • The students were stuff-ing their heads with facts.

2 : to push (something) quickly and carelessly into a small space — usually + into • The boy stuffed the candy into his pockets. • He tried to stuff [=cram] all his clothes into one suitcase.

3 : to put a seasoned mixture of food into (something that is being cooked) • stuff a turkey • stuff a pepper

4 : to fill the skin of (a dead animal) so that it looks the way it did when it was alive — often used as (be) stuffed • He had the deer's head stuffed.

stuff it informal — used as an angry and rude way to say that you do not want something or are not interested in something • When they offered me the job I told them they could stuff it.

stuff the ballot box see BALLOT BOX stuff yourself or stuff your face informal + often disapproving : to eat a large amount of food • They stuffed themselves with pizza.

stuffed adj

1 not used before a noun : filled with food : not hungry any more • "Would you like another piece of pie?" "No, thanks. I'm stuffed."

2 : filled with mucus because of illness • My nose is stuffed (up). = I'm (all) stuffed up. • a stuffed (up) nose get stuffed chiefly Brit, informal — used as an angry and rude way to tell someone to go away or to leave you alone • When they refused to consider him for the promotion he told them they could get stuffed.

stuffed animal noun, pl ~ -mals [count] US : a toy in the shape of an animal that usually has fake fur and is filled with soft material — called also (Brit) soft toy stuffed shirt noun, pl ~ shirts [count] informal + disapproving : a person who behaves in a very formal way and expects to be treated as someone very important stuff-ing /ˈstʌfɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [noncount] : soft material that is used to fill a pillow, cushion, etc.

2 : a seasoned mixture of food that is put inside another food and cooked [noncount] Would you like more stuffing? [count] a delicious bread stuffing knock the stuffing out of informal : to cause (someone) to lose energy and confidence : to make (someone) feel weak or overwhelmed • When he found out that he didn't get the job, it really knocked the stuffing out of him.

stuffy /ˈstʌfi/ adj stuff-i-er; -est

1 : lacking fresh air • a stuffy attic/room • It's very stuffy in here.

2 : filled with mucus because of illness : STUFFED • She had a stuffy nose. • I had a stuffy feeling in my head.

3 informal + disapproving : very formal, serious, or old-fashioned • the stuffiest members of that exclusive club • a stuffy old judge — stuff-i-ly /ˈstʌfəli/ adv • stuffyly respectable people

— stuff-i-ness /ˈstʌfɪnəs/ noun [noncount] stul-ti-fy /ˈstʌltəˌfaɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing [+ obj] formal

: to cause (someone or something) to become dull, slow, etc. • The government has been stultified by bureaucracy.

— stultifying adj [more ~; most ~] • stultifying boredom stum-ble /ˈstʌmbəl/ verb stum-bles; stum-bled; stum-bling [no obj]

1 : to hit your foot on something when you are walking or running so that you fall or almost fall : TRIP • I stumbled on the uneven pavement. • The horse stumbled and almost fell.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to walk in an awkward way • He stumbled drunkenly across the room. • He stumbled over to the table. • She usually stumbles out of bed [=gets out of bed] around 7:00 am.

3 a : to speak or act in an awkward way • I heard him stumble over the unfamiliar words. • She stumbled through an apology. b : to begin to have problems after a time of success • The economy has stumbled in recent months.

4 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to find or learn about something unexpectedly • I stumbled across/on/upon [=found] this book by chance. • He stumbled onto [=found out] the truth. • We stumbled onto/across the ruins of an old fort. • They stumbled on/upon [=discovered] a bizarre plot.

— stumble noun, pl stumbles [count] • After a few stumbles, the economy was back on track. — stum-bler /ˈstʌmbələ/ noun, pl -blers [count]

stum-ble-bum /ˈstʌmbəlˌbʌm/ noun, pl -bums [count] US, informal : a clumsy and stupid person • His political opponents have portrayed him as an inept stumblebum.

stumbling block noun, pl ~ blocks [count] : something that stops you from doing what you want to do • Lack of funds is a major stumbling block to the project. • My plans hit a stumbling block.

¹stump /ˈstʌmp/ noun, pl stumps [count]

1 : a part that remains after something has been broken off, removed, worn down, etc. • the stump of a pipe/tooth

2 : the part of a tree that remains in the ground after the tree is cut down • a tree stump

3 : the part of an arm or leg that remains after most of it has been cut off

4 cricket : one of the three sticks that form a wicket on the stump : traveling around and giving speeches during a campaign for election to a political office • candidates who give the same speech over and over when they're on the stump — see also STUMP SPEECH

²stump verb stumps; stumped; stump-ing

1 [+ obj] : to be too difficult for (someone) to answer • The question completely stumped the contestant. [=the contestant did not know the answer to the question] • This problem has me stumped. [=I do not know the solution to this problem]

2 US : to go to different places and make speeches during a political campaign [no obj] She will be stumping in our district this week. [+ obj] Several candidates have been stumping the state for the past month.

3 [+ obj] cricket : to cause (a batsman who is away from the hitting area) to be out by touching the wicket with the ball stump up [phrasal verb] stump up or stump up (something) also stump (something) up Brit, informal : to pay (an amount of money) especially when you do not want to • He may be required to stump up for the repairs. • If she can't pay, I'll have to stump up [=cough up] the money.

stump-er /ˈstʌmpə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US, informal : a very difficult question • Some of the questions on the test were real stumppers.

stump speech noun, pl ~ speeches [count] US : a speech that is made many times by a politician who is traveling to different places during a campaign for election

stumpy /'stʌmpi/ adj stump-i-er; -est : short and thick • a dog with a stumpy [=stubby] tail • stumpy legs

stun /'stʌn/ verb stuns; stunned; stun-ning [+ obj]

1 : to surprise or upset (someone) very much • a theft that stunned [=shocked] the art world • The angry criticism stunned them. • They were stunned by the news. = The news stunned them. • His old friends were stunned at his success. • She sat in stunned disbelief/silence. • There was a stunned expression on her face.

2 : to cause (someone) to suddenly become very confused, very dizzy, or unconscious • weapons that can stun people temporarily

stung past tense and past participle of ¹STING stun gun noun, pl ~ guns [count] : a gun that produces an electric shock which makes someone unconscious or stops someone from moving

stunk past tense and past participle of ¹STINK stun-ner /'stʌnə/ noun, pl -ners [count] informal

1 : a very attractive person • His wife is a real stunner.
2 : something that amazes or shocks people • The jury's decision was a stunner.

stunning adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very surprising or shocking • Researchers have made a stunning discovery. • stunning news • a stunning decision

2 : very beautiful or pleasing • Our room had a stunning view of the lake. • a stunning gown • a stunning young woman

— stun-ning-ly adv • a stunningly beautiful woman • a stunningly clear/sharp picture • a stunningly rude remark

¹stunt /'stʌnt/ verb stunts; stunt-ed; stunt-ing [+ obj] : to stop (someone or something) from growing or developing • Poor soil can stunt a plant's growth. • Too many restrictions have stunted the economy.

²stunt noun, pl stunts [count]

1 : something that is done to get attention or publicity • Some people say that the announcement of his retirement was just a stunt. • a promotional/publicity stunt

2 : a difficult and often dangerous action • a pilot doing loops and other dangerous stunts; especially : a difficult action or scene that is done by actors in a movie • a star actor who does/performs his own stunts pull a stunt informal : to do something foolish or dangerous • Don't ever pull a stunt like that again!

stunt double noun, pl ~ doubles [count] : a person who takes an actor's place during the filming of stunts and dangerous scenes for a movie or TV show stunt-man /'stʌnt,mæn/ noun, pl -men /-,men/ [count] : a man who takes an actor's place during the filming of stunts and dangerous scenes for a movie or TV show • a Hollywood stuntman

stunt-woman /'stʌnt,wʊmən/ noun, pl -women /-,wi-mən/ [count] : a woman who takes an actor's place during the filming of stunts and dangerous scenes for a movie or TV show • a Hollywood stuntwoman

stu-pe-fy /'stu:pə,fai, Brit 'stju:pə,fai/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing [+ obj] : to shock or surprise (someone) very much : to cause (someone) to become confused or unable to think clearly — usually used as (be) stupefied • I was stupefied by their decision.

— stu-pe-fac-tion /,stu:pə'fækʃən, Brit ,stju:pə'fækʃən/ noun [noncount] • They looked at her in stupefaction.

— stupefied adj [more ~; most ~] • They looked at her with stupefied expressions on their faces. — stupefying adj [more ~; most ~] • a stupefying display of arrogance • stupefying boredom — stu-pe-fy-ing-ly /'stu:pə,fajɪŋli, Brit 'stju:pə,fajɪŋli/ adv • a chore that's stupefyingly boring

stu-pen-dous /'stu'pendəs, Brit 'stju'pendəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : so large or great that it amazes you • a stupendous [=magnificent] fireworks display • a person with stupendous wealth

— stu-pen-dous-ly adv • a stupendously wealthy person

stu-pid /'stu:pəd, Brit 'stju:pəd/ adj stu-pid-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : not intelligent : having or showing a lack of ability to learn and understand things • She angrily described her boss as a stupid old man. • He had a stupid expression on his face. • I'm not stupid enough to fall for that trick.

2 : not sensible or logical : FOOLISH • Why are you being so stupid? • It was stupid of me to try to hide this from you. • We were stupid to wait so long before we made a decision. • I did some pretty stupid things when I was young. • a stupid movie • a silly, stupid song • a stupid decision/mistake

3 : not able to think normally because you are drunk, tired, etc. • Two glasses of wine are enough to make me stupid. • I was stupid with fatigue.

4 informal — used to refer to something in an angry or irritated way • The stupid car won't start. • Where did I put those stupid keys?

— stu-pid-ly adv • He's been acting stupidly. • I stupidly thought it was a good idea. • She was staring stupidly out the window.

stu-pid-i-ty /'stu'pidəti, Brit 'stju'pidəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the state of being foolish or unintelligent : the condition of being stupid • I was shocked by the stupidity of their decision/behavior.

2 [count] : a stupid idea or action — usually plural • the stupidities of war

stu-por /'stu:pə, Brit 'stju:pə/ noun, pl -pors [count] : a condition in which someone is not able to think normally because of being drunk, drugged, tired, etc. • He fell into a drunken stupor. • drug-induced stupors • in a stupor of fatigue stur-dy /'stɜ:di/ adj stur-di-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : strongly made • a sturdy ship • sturdy furniture

2 : strong and healthy • sturdy, muscular legs • a sturdy athlete • a dog with a strong sturdy build

3 : having or showing mental or emotional strength • sturdy common sense • sturdy self-reliance

— stur-di-ly /'stɜ:dəli/ adj • sturdily made furniture — stur-di-ness /'stɜ:dɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • the sturdiness of the furniture • the bank's financial sturdiness [=strength]

stur-geon /'stɜ:dʒən/ noun, pl -geons [count, noncount] : a type of large fish that is eaten as food ♦ The eggs of the stur-geon are eaten as caviar.

¹stut-ter /'statə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing : to have a speech problem that causes you to repeat the beginning sound of some words [no obj] I used to stutter when I was a child. • She stutters when she gets excited. [+ obj] He stuttered [=stammered] something that I didn't understand.

— stut-ter-er /'statərə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • I was a stutterer as a child. — stuttering noun [noncount] • He had speech therapy for his stuttering.

²stutter noun [singular] : a speech problem that causes someone to repeat the beginning sounds of some words • He has a stutter. = He speaks with a stutter. [=he stutters]

¹sty /'stai/ noun, pl sties also styes [count]

1 : a place where pigs are kept : PIGSTY

2 informal : a dirty or messy place : PIGSTY • His room was a sty.

— compare ²STY

²sty or sty /'stai/ noun, pl sties or styes [count] medical : a painful, swollen red area on the edge of an eyelid — compare ¹STY

¹style /'stajəl/ noun, pl styles

1 : a particular way in which something is done, created, or performed [count] I don't like the flowery style of his writing. • She has a unique style of singing. • a baseball pitcher with an unusual style [noncount] She writes with more attention to style than to content. • The room was decorated in modern style.

2 [count] : a particular form or design of something • The car is available in several different styles. • a new dress style • the Greek style of architecture • The range of clothing styles has become more varied. • Victorian-style drapes

3 [count] : a way of behaving or of doing things • His management style is abrasive. • Openly criticizing a fellow worker is just not my style [=I would never openly criticize a fellow worker] • You're a good negotiator. I like your style [=I like the way you do things]

4 [noncount] : a particular way of living • He has been living in high style [=he has been living the way rich people live] — see also LIFESTYLE

5 [noncount] : the quality that makes things attractive, fashionable, etc. • He has a real sense of style. • She's a woman of style [=she's a stylish woman]

6 [noncount] : an easy and graceful manner • It was an awkward moment but she handled it with style.

7 [count] : the way that written words are spelled, capitalized, etc. • Each newspaper had its own style. • a style guide cramp your style see ²CRAMP in style 1 : popular or fashionable • clothes that are always in style [=in fashion] 2 : in a way that is impressive or admired because it shows talent, good taste, etc. : in a stylish way • When she travels she likes to do it in style. • He finished the tournament in style by winning his last match very quickly and easily.

out of style : not popular or fashionable : not stylish • a fad that has fallen/gone out of style

²style verb styles; styled; styl-ing [+ obj]

1 formal : to give (yourself) a name or title even if you do not really deserve it • She styles [=calls] herself a “spiritual adviser.” — often + as • He styles himself as an expert in international politics. — see also SELF-STYLED

2 : to give a particular shape to (someone's hair) • She cuts and styles hair. • She's having her hair styled tomorrow.

3 : to design (something) for a particular purpose • clothing styled for teenagers • a book styled for a general audience

¹styling noun [noncount] : the way in which something is designed • a car with sleek new styling • clothing with classic styling

²styling adj, always used before a noun : used for creating a hair style • styling products/salons

styl-ish /'stailɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : following the popular style : FASHIONABLE • She wears styl-ish clothes. = She's a styl-ish dresser. • a styl-ish apartment/house

— styl-ish-ly adv • a styl-ishly dressed person — styl-ish-ness noun [noncount]

styl-ist /'stailɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]

1 : a person whose job is to make something (such as a person's hair) look attractive • a hair stylist • a fashion/food styl-ist

2 : a person known for writing, singing, etc., in a particular style • She is a fine literary/prose/song stylist.

sty-lis-tic /star'listɪk/ adj : of or relating to style • There are a number of stylistic changes in the new car. • stylistic differences among various writers

— sty-lis-ti-cal-ly /star'listɪkli/ adv • stylistically different writers • Stylistically, the movie resembles a documentary.

styl-ized also Brit styl-ised /'stajə,laɪzd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : made to look like a style or pattern rather than the way it would really look in nature • stylized floral/flower motifs • fabric with highly stylized animal prints

sty-lus /'stailəs/ noun, pl sty-li /'stai,laɪ/ also sty-lus-es /'stailəsəs/ [count]

1 : a very small, pointed piece of metal that touches a record and produces sound when the record is played : NEEDLE

2 : a tool used long ago for writing on clay or wax tablets

3 : a small tool that is used to write or touch buttons on a computer sty-mie /'staimi/ verb -mies; -mied; -mie-ing [+ obj] : to stop (someone) from doing something or to stop (something) from happening • The bad weather has stymied [=thwarted] the police in their investigations. • Progress on the project has been stymied by lack of money.

Sty-ro-foam /'stairə,fəʊm/ trademark — used for a type of light and usually white plastic suave /'swɑ:v/ adj suav-er; -est [or more ~; most ~] : behaving in a relaxed, confident, and pleasant way in social situations • a suave and sophisticated businessman

— suave-ly adv — suave-ness noun [noncount] — sua-vi-ty /'swɑ:vəti/ noun [noncount]

¹sub /'sʌb/ noun, pl subs [count] informal

1 : someone who does the job of another person when that person is not able to do it : SUBSTITUTE • The team's subs need to be versatile. • (US) We had a sub [=substitute teacher] in English class all week.

2 Brit : SUBEDITOR

— compare ³SUB

²sub verb subs; subbed; sub-bing

1 : to take the place of another person : to act as a substitute [no obj] Smith subbed for Jones at halftime. • subbing in a Broadway play • Mr. Johnson will be subbing [=working as a substitute teacher] at the high school. [+ obj] (chiefly Brit) • Smith subbed Jones at halftime. — usually used as (be/get) subbed • Jones was subbed (by Smith) at halftime.

2 [+ obj] : SUBCONTRACT • The company subs (out) some of its jobs.

³sub noun, pl subs [count] informal

1 : SUBMARINE • a nuclear sub

2 US : SUBMARINE SANDWICH • I had a sub for lunch.

— compare ¹SUB

sub- prefix

1 : under : beneath : below • subsoil • subfreezing

2 a : at a lower rank or secondary level • substation b : division or smaller part of • subcommittee • subtopic

sub-al-tern /sə'bɑ:ltən, Brit 'sʌbɔltən/ noun, pl -terns [count] : a junior officer in the British army sub-aq-ua /,sʌb'ækwə/ adj, always used before a noun, Brit : relating to activities done under water : UNDERWATER • sub-aqua diving • joined a sub-aqua club

sub-atom-ic /,sʌbə'tɑ:mɪk/ adj

1 : smaller than an atom • subatomic particles

2 : of or relating to the inside of an atom • studied subatomic physics sub-com-mit-tee /'sʌbkə,mɪti/ noun, pl -tees [count] : a part of a committee that is organized for a certain purpose • The Senate has formed a subcommittee to set up an investigation.

sub-com-pact /'sʌb'kɑ:m,pækt/ noun, pl -pacts [count] US : a very small car

¹sub-con-scious /,sʌb'kɑ:nʃəs/ adj : existing in the part of the mind that a person is not aware of : existing in the mind but not consciously known or felt • subconscious desires/motives • the subconscious mind

— sub-con-scious-ly adv • Things can influence us subconsciously. • Perhaps I subconsciously wanted it to happen.

²subconscious noun [noncount] : the part of a person's mind that has ideas, feelings, etc., that the person is not aware of • A person's behavior can be influenced by urges that exist only in the subconscious. • Those feelings had been hidden in her subconscious. — compare UNCONSCIOUS

sub-con-ti-nent /,sʌb'kɑ:ntənənt/ noun, pl -nents [count] : a large area of land that is a part of a continent — used especially to refer to the area that includes India, Pakistan, and Bangladesh • the Indian subcontinent

— sub-con-ti-nen-tal /,sʌb,kɑ:ntənəntl/ adj

¹sub-con-tract /,sʌb'kɑ:n,trækt/ verb -tracts; -tract-ed; -tract-ing : to hire another person or company to do part of a job that you have been hired to do [+ obj] Parts of the project were subcontracted (out) to specialists. = Specialists were subcontracted for parts of the project. [no obj] The large firm subcontracted with a smaller company.

— sub-con-trac-tor /,sʌb'kɑ:n,træktə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • There are several subcontractors working at the new building site. • He has good relationships with all the subcontractors he hires.

²subcontract noun, pl -tracts [count] : a legal agreement by which you hire another person or company to do part of a job you have been hired to do sub-cul-ture /'sʌb,kʌltʃə/ noun, pl -tures [count] : a group that has beliefs and behaviors that are different from the main groups within a culture or society • a subculture of local painters/writers • a subculture of poverty and crime

— sub-cul-tur-al /,sʌb'kʌltʃərəl/ adj • subcultural groups • subcultural differences sub-cu-ta-ne-ous /,sʌbkju'teɪniəs/ adj, medical : under the skin • subcutaneous tissues • a subcutaneous injection

— sub-cu-ta-ne-ous-ly adv

sub-di-vide /,sʌbdə'vaɪd/ verb -vides; -vid-ed; -vid-ing [+ obj]

1 : to divide (something) into several or many smaller parts • The house is being subdivided into several apartments. • The people who attend the conference can be subdivided into three distinct groups.

2 US : to divide (a piece of land) into smaller areas on which houses will be built • He plans to subdivide his property. • The land will be subdivided into building lots.

sub-di-vi-sion /'sʌbdə,vɪʒən/ noun, pl -sions

1 [count] : one of the parts into which something is divided • a political subdivision of the state

2 [noncount] : the act or process of dividing something into smaller parts • The plan calls for (the) subdivision of the property into several building lots.

3 [count] US : an area of land that has been divided into smaller areas on which houses are built • She lives in a new subdivision [=development] out in the suburbs.

sub-due /səb'du:, Brit səb'dju:/ verb -dues; -dued; -du-ing [+ obj]

1 : to get control of (a violent or dangerous person or group) by using force, punishment, etc. • The troops were finally able to subdue the rebel forces after many days of fighting. • He was injured while trying to subdue a violent drunk.

2 : to get control of (something, such as a strong emotion) • She struggled to subdue her fears.

sub-dued /səb'du:d, Brit səb'dju:d/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not strong, loud, intense, etc. • She spoke in a subdued voice. • a subdued manner • The color/lighting in the lobby is subdued.

S

sub-ed-i-tor /ˌsʌb'ɛdətə/ noun, pl -tors [count] Brit : a person whose job is to prepare a book, newspaper, etc., for printing by making sure the words are correct : COPY EDITOR

— sub-ed-it /ˌsʌb'ɛdət/ verb - its; -it-ed; -it-ing [+ obj]

sub-freez-ing /ˌsʌb'fri:zɪŋ/ adj, chiefly US : colder than the temperature at which water freezes : colder than 32°F or 0°C • subfreezing temperatures/weather

sub-head /ˌsʌb,hɛd/ noun, pl -heads [count] : SUBHEADING

sub-head-ing /ˌsʌb,hɛdɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count]

1 : an additional headline or title that comes immediately after the main headline or title • The newspaper headline read "House burns down on Elm Street" with the subheading "Arson suspected."

2 : a title given to one of the parts or divisions of a piece of writing • You can find the chart in the "Financial Matters" chapter under the subheading "Mortgages and Loans."

sub-hu-man /ˌsʌb'hju:mən/ adj

1 : not having or showing the level of kindness, intelligence, etc., that is expected of normal human beings • The prisoners suffered subhuman treatment. • subhuman murderers

2 : not suitable for human beings • subhuman living conditions — compare INHUMAN, NONHUMAN

¹sub-ject /ˌsʌbdʒɪkt/ noun, pl -jects [count]

1 : the person or thing that is being discussed or described : TOPIC • The new museum is the subject of an article in today's paper. • Death is a difficult subject that few people like to talk about. • I need to break the news to her, but I'm not sure how to bring up the subject. • If you're interested in linguistics, I know an excellent book on the/that subject. • an excellent book on the subject of linguistics • While we're on the subject of [=talking about] work, have you met the new boss? • Every time I talk to her, we seem to get on/onto the subject of work. [=we start talking about work] • These meetings would be much shorter if we could keep him from getting off the subject. • I didn't want to talk about work, so I changed the subject. [=started a new topic of conversation] • When he started getting upset, I dropped the subject. [=stopped talking about that topic] • The morality of capital punishment is a frequent subject of/for debate.

2 : an area of knowledge that is studied in school • Chemistry was my favorite subject in high school. • The classes cover a variety of subject areas, including mathematics and English.

3 : a person or thing that is being dealt with in a particular way — + of • He was the subject of a criminal investigation. [=he was investigated to find out if he had committed a crime] • She was the subject of a lawsuit.

4 : someone or something that is shown in a photograph, painting, etc. • Love between a mother and child is the subject of many of her paintings. • The photographer's principal subjects were poor immigrant workers. • What kind of exposure should I use for a dark subject on a light background?

5 : a person or animal that is used in an experiment, study, etc. • Each subject was asked to fill out a questionnaire. • The hospital is recruiting test subjects for the study.

6 grammar : a noun, noun phrase, or pronoun that performs the action of a verb in a sentence • In English, the subject goes before the verb and the object comes after. • "He" is the subject (of the verb "kissed") in the sentence "He kissed me." — compare OBJECT

7 : a person who lives in a country that is ruled by a king or queen : a citizen of a monarchy • British subjects

²sub-ject /ˌsʌbdʒɪkt/ adj : under the control of a ruler • subject peoples — often + to • They were subject to the emperor.

subject to 1 : affected by or possibly affected by (something) • Clothing purchases over $200 are subject to tax. [=tax must be paid on clothing purchases over $200] • Anyone caught trespassing is subject to a $500 fine. [=anyone caught trespassing will have to pay a $500 fine] • The firm is subject to state law. • The schedule is tentative and subject to change. [=the schedule may be changed at a later date] 2 : likely to do, have, or suffer from (something) : PRONE • My cousin is subject to panic attacks. • I'd rather not live in an area that is subject to flooding. [=an area where floods occur] 3 : dependent on something else to happen or be true • The sale of the property is subject to approval by the city council. [=the property cannot be sold unless the city council approves the sale] • All rooms are just $100 a night, subject to availability.

³sub-ject /səb'dʒɛkt/ verb -jects; -ject-ed; -ject-ing

subject to [phrasal verb] subject (someone or something) to (something) 1 : to cause or force (someone or something) to experience (something harmful, unpleasant, etc.) • They are suspected of subjecting their children to abuse. [=of abusing their children] • The test involved subjecting the sample to intense heat. — often used as (be) subjected to • The prisoners were subjected to torture. • During the hurricane, many buildings were subjected to [=many buildings experienced] 100 mile-per-hour winds. • No one should have to be subjected to my uncle's bad jokes. • His argument was subjected to careful analysis. [=was carefully analyzed] 2 : to bring (someone or something) under (your control or rule) • He subjected her to his will. [=he forced her to do what he wanted her to do] • Alexander the Great subjected much of Europe and Asia to his rule.

— sub-jec-tion /səb'dʒɛkʃən/ noun [noncount] formal • the prisoners' subjection to torture • The tyrant kept the people in subjection.

sub-jec-tive /səb'dʒɛktɪv/ adj

1 philosophy : relating to the way a person experiences things in his or her own mind • subjective reality • Dreaming is a subjective experience. • a person's subjective perception of the world

2 [more ~; most ~] : based on feelings or opinions rather than facts • a subjective judgment/decision • Personal taste in clothing is very subjective. • In reviewing applicants, we consider both objective criteria, such as test scores, and subjective criteria, such as leadership ability. • Law can be maddeningly subjective. So much is left up to your own interpretation. — opposite OBJECTIVE

3 grammar : relating to nouns, noun phrases, or pronouns that are the subjects of verbs • The pronoun "we" is in the subjective [=nominative] case in the sentence "We saw her." — compare OBJECTIVE

— sub-jec-tive-ly adv • Contest entries are subjectively evaluated. — sub-jec-tiv-i-ty /səb,dʒɛk'tɪvəti/ noun [noncount] • the subjectivity of opinions and judgments subject matter noun [noncount] : the information or ideas that are discussed or dealt with in a book, movie, etc. : what something is about • I found the film's subject matter to be quite disturbing. • The magazine's editors care more about style than about subject matter. [=content] • She disapproves of the artist's choice of subject matter.

sub-ju-gate /ˌsʌbdʒɪ,geɪt/ verb -gates; -gat-ed; -gat-ing [+ obj] formal : to defeat and gain control of (someone or something) by the use of force : to conquer and gain the obedience of (a group of people, a country, etc.) • The emperor's armies subjugated the surrounding lands. • a people subjugated by invaders — often used figuratively • a legal system that subjugates [=oppresses] women

— sub-ju-ga-tion /ˌsʌbdʒɪ'geɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

¹sub-junc-tive /səb'dʒʌŋktɪv/ adj, grammar : of or relating to the verb form that is used to express suggestions, wishes, uncertainty, possibility, etc. • In "I wish it were Friday," the verb "were" is in the subjunctive mood. • a subjunctive verb form — compare INDICATIVE

²subjunctive noun, pl -tives grammar

1 the subjunctive : the form that a verb or sentence has when it is expressing a suggestion, wish, uncertainty, possibility, etc. • "I wish it were not so" is in the subjunctive.

2 [count] : a subjunctive verb or sentence • Subjunctives can be used to express doubt.

¹sub-lease /ˌsʌb'li:s/ noun, pl -leas-es [count] US : a legal agreement by which someone who is renting an apartment, house, etc., is allowed to rent it to someone else for a period of time

²sublease /ˌsʌb'li:s/ verb -leas-es; -leased; -leas-ing [+ obj] US : ¹SUBLET • She subleased her apartment to a student for the summer. • The agency subleases office space from a law firm.

¹sub-let /ˌsʌb'let/ verb -lets; -let; -let-ting

1 : to allow someone to use (an apartment, house, etc., that you are renting) for a period of time in return for payment [+ obj] She sublet her apartment to a student for the summer. [no obj] He asked his landlord if he could sublet.

2 : to use (an apartment, house, etc., that is rented by someone) in return for payment [+ obj] The agency sublets office space from a law firm in the building. • I need someone to sublet my apartment for the summer. [no obj] She agreed to sublet.

²sublet /ˈsʌb,lɛt/ noun, pl -lets [count] : an apartment, house, etc., that you sublet from someone • I'm looking for a sublet since I'm only going to be here for the summer.

sub-li-mate /ˈsʌblə,meɪt/ verb -mates; -mat-ed; -mat-ing [+ obj] psychology : to express a desire or feeling by changing it into a form that is socially acceptable • She sublimated her erotic feelings into a series of paintings. • I sublimated my grief at the death of my mother by throwing myself into my work.

— sub-li-ma-tion /ˌsʌbləˈmeɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

sub-lime /səˈblaɪm/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very beautiful or good : causing strong feelings of admiration or wonder • Her paintings are sublime. • He composed some of the most sublime symphonies in existence. • the sublime beauty of the canyon

2 : complete or extreme : UTTER • sublime ignorance/stupidity

the sublime : something that is very beautiful or good • writings on the sublime • They have brought ordinary food to the level of the sublime. [=they have made ordinary food extraordinary] • The movies shown at the festival ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous.

— sub-lime-ly adv • a sublimely stunning landscape — sub-lim-i-ty /səˈblɪməti/ noun [noncount] • I've never heard anyone who could match the sublimity of her playing.

sub-lim-i-nal /səˈblɪmənl/ adj : relating to things that influence your mind in a way that you do not notice • The studio denied the existence of subliminal messages in the movie. • I am skeptical that subliminal advertising actually works.

— sub-lim-i-nal-ly adv

sub-ma-chine gun /ˌsʌbməˈʃiːn/ noun, pl ~ guns [count] : a small, light machine gun

¹sub-ma-rine /ˈsʌbməˈriːn/ noun, pl -rines [count]

1 : a ship that can operate underwater • nuclear submarines

2 US : SUBMARINE SANDWICH

²submarine adj, always used before a noun, technical : located below the surface of the water : UNDERWATER, UNDERSEA • a submarine canyon

sub-ma-ri-ner /ˌsʌbməˈriːnə, Brit ˌsʌbˈmæɪrənə/ noun, pl -ners [count] : someone who is a member of a submarine crew submarine sandwich noun, pl ~ -wiches [count] US : a sandwich that is made by splitting a long roll and filling it with meat, cheese, etc. — called also grinder, hero, hoagie, po'boy, sub, submarine sub-menu /ˈsʌb,mɛn,jʊː/ noun, pl -men-us [count] computers : a menu in a computer program that you reach by going through another menu first • Selecting “Options” from the main menu brings up a submenu.

sub-merge /səbˈmɜːdʒ/ verb -merg-es; -merged; -merg-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) go under the surface of water or some other liquid : to cover (someone or something) with a liquid • After boiling the broccoli, submerge it in ice water to stop the cooking process. • The town was submerged by the flood.

2 [no obj] : to go underwater • We watched as the divers prepared to submerge.

3 [+ obj] : to make (yourself) fully involved in an activity or interest • After his sister died, he submerged [=immersed] himself in his work. • She's a marvelous actress who submerges herself totally in her roles.

4 [+ obj] : to keep (emotions, opinions, etc.) from being openly shown or expressed • It's a job where you'll have to submerge [=suppress] your ego and do what you're told. • The passion is there in the music, though it's often submerged.

— submerged adj • Some seals can stay submerged for an hour. • tales of a submerged city in the Mediterranean Sea

¹sub-mers-ible /səbˈmɜːsəbəl/ adj : able to be used underwater • a submersible pump

²submersible noun, pl -ibles [count] : a small vehicle that can operate underwater and that is used especially for research

sub-mis-sion /səbˈmɪʃən/ noun, pl -sions

1 a : an act of giving a document, proposal, piece of writing, etc., to someone so that it can be considered or approved : an act of submitting something [noncount] I'm preparing the results of my study for submission to a medical journal. • the electronic submission of tax returns [count] The deadline for submissions is January 31st. b [count] : something that is submitted • We cannot accept submissions longer than 2,000 words. • Over 5,000 submissions were received.

2 [noncount] : the state of being obedient : the act of accepting the authority or control of someone else • a religion that preaches submission to God's will • The prisoners were beaten into submission.

sub-mis-sive /səbˈmɪsɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : willing to obey someone else • a submissive person • submissive behavior

— sub-mis-sive-ly adv • He behaved submissively. — sub-mis-sive-ness noun [noncount]

sub-mit /səbˈmɪt/ verb -mits; -mit-ted; -mit-ting

1 [+ obj] : to give (a document, proposal, piece of writing, etc.) to someone so that it can be considered or approved • Candidates interested in the position should submit their résumés to the Office of Human Resources. • Submit your application no later than January 31st. • Requests must be submitted in writing. • Photographs submitted for publication will not be returned.

2 [no obj] : to stop trying to fight or resist something : to agree to do or accept something that you have been resisting or opposing • He vowed that he would never submit. [=give in] — often + to • He refused to submit to their demands. • We will not submit to you without a fight. • Public outcry caused him to submit to an investigation of his finances.

3 [+ obj] formal : to offer (something) as an opinion or suggestion — often + that • I submit that his guilt has not been proven.

sub-nor-mal /ˌsʌbˈnɔːməl/ adj, technical

1 : lower or smaller than normal • subnormal body temperature • subnormal levels of vitamin C • subnormal intelligence

2 : having less of something than is normal • people who are subnormal in insulin production • mentally subnormal people

sub-op-ti-mal /ˌsʌbˈɑːptəməl/ adj, formal : less than the best or most desirable • working under suboptimal conditions

¹sub-or-di-nate /səˈbɔːdənət/ adj

1 : in a position of less power or authority than someone else • a subordinate officer/commander — often + to • The priests are subordinate to the bishops.

2 : less important than someone or something else • a subordinate concern — often + to • In some cultures, the welfare of the individual is subordinate to the welfare of the group.

²subordinate noun, pl -nates [count] : someone who has less power or authority than someone else : someone who is subordinate to someone else • She leaves the day-to-day running of the firm to her subordinates.

³sub-or-di-nate /səˈbɔːdəˌneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [+ obj] formal : to think of or treat (someone or something) as less important than someone or something else — usually + to • The company is guilty of subordinating safety to profit. • His personal life has been subordinated to his career.

— sub-or-di-na-tion /səˌbɔːdəˌneɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

subordinate clause noun, pl ~ clauses [count] grammar : a clause that does not form a simple sentence by itself and that is connected to the main clause of a sentence • In the sentence “I went home because I felt ill,” “because I felt ill” is a subordinate clause. — called also dependent clause; compare COORDINATE CLAUSE, MAIN CLAUSE

subordinating conjunction noun, pl ~ -tions [count] grammar : a conjunction that joins a main clause and a clause which does not form a complete sentence by itself

sub-orn /səˈbɔːn/ verb -orns; -orned; -orn-ing [+ obj] law

1 : to persuade (someone) to do something illegal (such as to lie in a court of law) • He's accused of suborning a witness.

2 : to get (false testimony) from a witness • The lawyer suborned (false) testimony. • suborn perjury sub-par /ˈsʌb,pɑː/ adj, US : below a usual or normal level • a subpar performance sub-plot /ˈsʌb,plɔːt/ noun, pl -plots [count] : a plot that is related to but less important than the main plot of a story

¹sub-poe-na /səˈpiːnə/ noun, pl -nas [count] law : a written order that commands someone to appear in court to give evidence — compare SUMMONS

²subpoena verb -nas; -naed; -na-ing [+ obj] law : to order someone to appear in court to give evidence : to issue a subpoena to (someone) or for (something) • He was subpoenaed to testify in a hearing. • The prosecutor subpoenaed the defendant's financial records.

sub-rou-tine /ˈsʌb,rʊːtiːn/ noun, pl -tines [count] computers : a set of computer instructions that performs a particular task, that is part of a larger computer program, and that can be used repeatedly sub-scribe /səb'skraɪb/ verb -scribes; -scribed; -scribing [no obj]

1 : to pay money to get a publication or service regularly • Subscribe today and get your first issue free! • You'll receive a user name and password when you subscribe. — often + to • I subscribe to several newspapers/magazines. • He's thinking of subscribing to satellite TV.

2 : to agree to buy shares in a company — usually + for • She subscribed for 100 shares.

3 Brit : to belong to or support something (such as an organization) by paying money regularly — usually + to • subscribe to a charity subscribe to [phrasal verb] subscribe to (something) : to agree with or support (an opinion, theory, etc.) • I subscribe to the idea that voting is my civic duty. • She subscribes to the theory that some dinosaurs were warm-blooded and others were cold-blooded.

— sub-scrib-er noun, pl -ers [count] • cable TV subscribers • The magazine has about a million subscribers.

sub-scrip-tion /səb'skrɪpʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : an agreement that you make with a company to get a publication or service regularly and that you usually pay for in advance [count] a magazine/newspaper subscription = a subscription to a magazine/newspaper • Annual/monthly subscriptions cost $20. • She bought a subscription. = She took out a subscription. • online subscription services • I'm going to renew/cancel my subscription. [noncount] You won't find this magazine at newsstands. It's sold only by subscription.

2 [count, noncount] Brit : a fee that you pay regularly to belong to or support an organization sub-section /ˈsʌb,sekʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] : a part of a section especially of a legal document • as provided/stat-ed in Subsection (b)

sub-se-quent /ˈsʌbsəkʁwənt/ adj, formal : happening or coming after something else • The rate of population growth reached a peak in 1999 and declined in subsequent years. • Her work had a great influence on subsequent generations. • Subsequent studies confirmed their findings. • his arrest and subsequent conviction — often + to • events subsequent to [=after] the war

— sub-se-quent-ly /ˈsʌbsəkʁwəntli/ adv, formal • She graduated from college and subsequently [=afterward] moved to New York. • Subsequently, the drug was found to cause cancer.

sub-ser-vi-ent /səb'səvɪjənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very willing or too willing to obey someone else • She left her first husband because he wanted a subservient [=submissive] wife. • She refused to take/accept/play a subservient role in their marriage. — often + to • She refused to be subservient to her husband.

2 formal : less important than something or someone else — usually + to • He believes that rights of individuals should be subservient to the rights of society as a whole.

— sub-ser-vi-ence /səb'səvɪjəns/ noun [noncount]

sub-set /ˈsʌb,set/ noun, pl -sets [count] technical : a group of things, people, etc., that is part of a larger group • The set {1,2,3} is a subset of the set {1,2,3,4,5}. • Only a small subset of the patients in the study experienced these side effects.

sub-side /səb'saɪd/ verb -sides; -sided; -siding [no obj]

1 : to become less strong or intense • The pain/swelling will subside in a couple of hours. • After his anger had subsided, he was able to look at things rationally. • We'll have to wait until the wind/storm/rain subsides.

2 : to move down to a lower level • The road will remain closed until the water/flood/river subsides. • a place where the ground has subsided [=sunk, settled] sub-si-dence /səb'saɪdn̩s/ noun [noncount] technical : movement of the ground to a lower level • Subsidence can cause a building's collapse.

¹sub-sid-i-ary /səb'sɪdɪəri, Brit səb'sɪdɪəri/ adj

1 : not as important as something else • a subsidiary issue • subsidiary streams • subsidiary details

2 : owned or controlled by another company • a subsidiary corporation

²subsidiary noun, pl -iar-ies [count] : a company that is owned or controlled by another company • one of the company's foreign subsidiaries

sub-si-dize also Brit sub-si-dise /ˈsʌbsə,daɪz/ verb -dizes; -dized; -dizing [+ obj] : to help someone or something pay for the costs of (something) • The state subsidizes housing for low-income families. • She feels that private businesses should not be subsidized by taxpayers. • The company subsidizes health insurance for its employees. • subsidized agriculture/housing

— sub-si-di-za-tion also Brit sub-si-di-sa-tion /ˌsʌbsə,daɪˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˌsʌbsə,daɪˈzeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the government's subsidization of agriculture

sub-si-dy /ˈsʌbsədi/ noun, pl -dies [count] : money that is paid usually by a government to keep the price of a product or service low or to help a business or organization to continue to function • The city is increasing subsidies for public transit. • housing/farm subsidies sub-sist /səb'sɪst/ verb -sists; -sisted; -sisting [no obj] formal : to exist or continue to exist • The author's right to royalties shall subsist for the term of the copyright.

subsist on [phrasal verb] subsist on (something) : to use (something) as a way to stay alive : to live on (something) • poor people subsisting on just one or two dollars a day • The villagers subsist almost entirely on rice and fish. • (humorous) My brother subsists on [=eats a lot of] pizza.

sub-sis-tence /səb'sɪstəns/ noun [noncount] : the amount of food, money, etc., that is needed to stay alive • They depended on hunting and fishing for subsistence. • Farming is their means of subsistence. • subsistence farming/agriculture [=farming that provides enough food to live on but not enough food to sell to other people] • More than a quarter of the population lives below (the) subsistence level. [=a level of income that provides only enough money for basic needs]

sub-soil /ˈsʌb,soɪl/ noun [noncount] : the layer of soil that is under the top layer — compare TOPSOIL sub-son-ic /ˌsʌb'sɒ:nɪk/ adj : slower than the speed of sound • subsonic aircraft • subsonic speeds sub-spe-cies /ˈsʌb,spi:fɪz/ noun, pl subspecies [count] : a group of related plants or animals that is smaller than a species : a division of a species • There are two subspecies of bison in North America.

sub-stance /ˈsʌbstəns/ noun, pl -stances

1 [count] a : a material of a particular kind • chemical/toxic/hazardous/dangerous substances • The pancreas secretes a substance called insulin. • The floor was covered with a white, powdery substance that turned out to be flour. b : a drug that is considered harmful and whose use is controlled by law or made illegal • heroin and other illegal substances • He had a history of substance abuse. • Codeine is a controlled substance. [=a drug that you need permission from a doctor to use]

2 [noncount] a : the quality of being meaningful, useful, or important • matters of substance • When has he ever said anything of substance? • The book lacks substance. b : the quality of being true or believable • These rumors have no substance. = These rumors are without substance. [=these rumors are not true] • The results of the study give substance to their theory.

3 [noncount] : the most basic or necessary part or quality of something : ESSENCE • the substance of my argument • These two books differ in both style and substance. [=content] • He stated, in substance [=in essence, essentially], that it is not his fault and he will not pay for damages.

a man/woman/person of substance literary : a person who is rich and powerful • She married a man of substance. sum and substance see ¹SUM sub-stan-dard /ˌsʌb'stændəd/ adj : below what is considered standard, normal, or acceptable • a substandard performance • substandard housing — compare NONSTANDARD sub-stan-tial /səb'stænʃəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : large in amount, size, or number • A substantial number of people commute to work each day. • This will save us a substantial [=considerable] amount of money/time. • Activities like that pose a substantial risk of injury. • She purchased her tickets at a substantial discount.

2 : strongly made : STURDY • a substantial house • Only the buildings that were constructed of more substantial materials survived the earthquake.

3 of food : enough to satisfy hunger • I was hoping that they would serve us something more substantial than wine and cheese. • a substantial [=filling] meal

sub-stan-tial-ly /səb'stænʃəli/ adv

1 : very much : a lot • It's substantially [=considerably] less expensive to buy a used car than a new car. • A new car costs substantially more than a used car. • Costs have increased substantially [=significantly] in recent years.

2 a : in a general or basic way • The methods are substantially [=essentially] the same. b : almost completely : MOSTLY • There are still a few details to wrap up, but the project is substantially complete.

sub-stan-ti-ate /səb'stænʃi,ert/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] formal : to prove the truth of (something) • He offered no evidence to substantiate [=support] his claim.

— sub-stan-ti-a-tion /səb'stænʃi'eɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 sub-stan-tive /'sʌbstəntrɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : important, real, or meaningful • substantive issues/matters • These changes are more symbolic than substantive. • No substantive changes were made to the document.

2 : supported by facts or logic • substantive arguments • There is no substantive reason to change the law.

— sub-stan-tive-ly adv

2 substantive noun, pl -tives [count] grammar : NOUN

sub-sta-tion /'sʌb,steɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count]

1 : a place where the strength of electricity is changed as the electricity passes through on its way from the power plant to homes and businesses

2 : a police station that serves a particular area

1 sub-sti-tute /'sʌbstə,tu:t, Brit 'sʌbstə,tju:t/ noun, pl -tutes [count]

1 : a person or thing that takes the place of someone or something else • a fat/sugar/meat substitute — often + for • Carob is used as a substitute for chocolate. • When learning a language, there is no substitute for living among native speakers. • Watching the movie is a poor substitute for reading the book.

2 sports : a player who takes the place of another player during a game • Gonzales came on as a substitute [=replacement] during the second half.

3 US : SUBSTITUTE TEACHER

— substitute adj, always used before a noun • a substitute mother/father • substitute players

2 substitute verb -tutes; -tut-ed; -tut-ing

1 [+ obj] : to put or use (someone or something) in place of someone or something else • If cream is unavailable, you can substitute milk. [=you can use milk instead of cream] — often + for • You can sometimes substitute applesauce for vegetable oil in cake recipes. • The coach substituted Jones for Smith in the last few minutes of the game.

2 [no obj] : to do the job of someone else or serve the function of something else • One of our teachers is sick, so we need someone to substitute. — often + for • She'll be substituting for the regular teacher today. • Applesauce can substitute for vegetable oil in this recipe.

3 [+ obj] : to replace (one person or thing) with another • They substituted real candles with electric ones. — often used as (be) substituted • Real candles were substituted by with electric ones. • (chiefly Brit) Smith was substituted by Jones in the last few minutes of the game.

substitute teacher noun, pl ~ -ers [count] US : a teacher who teaches a class when the usual teacher is not available — called also (US) sub, (US) substitute, (Brit) supply teacher

sub-sti-tu-tion /,sʌbstə'tu:ʃən, Brit ,sʌbstə'tju:ʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : the act of substituting or replacing one person or thing with another [count] The coach made three substitutions in the second half of the game. • I'd prefer rice with my steak instead of potatoes, but the menu says "no substitutions." [noncount] Substitution of applesauce for oil is one way of reducing the fat in recipes.

2 [count] : someone or something that is or can be substituted for another • The cookbook has a long list of substitutions for ingredients that may be hard to find.

sub-stra-tum /'sʌb,streɪtəm/ noun, pl -stra-ta /-,streɪtə/ [count] : a layer of something (such as soil or rock) that is under another layer • drilled into the bedrock substratum — often used figuratively • the city's social substrata

sub-struc-ture /'sʌb,strʌktʃə/ noun, pl -tures [count] : a supporting part or structure that is below something • The bridge's substructure was damaged. — often used figuratively • political/economic substructures — compare SUPERSTRUCTURE sub-ter-fuge /'sʌbtə,fju:ʒ/ noun, pl -fug-es formal : the use of tricks especially to hide, avoid, or get something [noncount] They obtained the documents by/through subterfuge. [count] a clever subterfuge

sub-ter-ra-nean /,sʌbtə'reɪniən/ adj, formal

1 : located or living under the surface of the ground • subterranean caverns/termities

2 : existing or working in secret • the subterranean [=underground] world of organized crime

sub-ti-tle /'sʌb,tʌɪt/ noun, pl -ti-tles [count]

1 : words that appear on the screen during a movie, video, or television show and that are translations of what the actors are saying — usually plural • The film is in Chinese with English subtitles.

2 : a title that comes after the main title of a book and that often gives more information about the contents of the book

— subtitle verb -titles; -ti-tled; -ti-ting [+ obj] • It takes a lot of work to subtitle a film. — subtitled adj • a subtitled movie sub-tle /'sʌt/ adj sub-tler; sub-tlest [or more ~; most ~]

1 : hard to notice or see : not obvious • a subtle difference in meaning between the words • subtle changes/variations • the subtlest details • Racial discrimination still exists, only now it's subtler than it once was. • subtle flavors

2 : clever and indirect : not showing your real purpose • When it comes to giving criticism, sometimes it's best to take a subtle approach. • He didn't seem to understand my subtle hints. • It was her subtle way of telling me to mind my own business.

3 : having or showing skill at recognizing and understanding things that are not obvious : PERCEPTIVE • She has a subtle mind. • a subtle analysis

— sub-tly /'sʌtli/ adv • subtly different shades of red

sub-tle-ty /'sʌtlti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the quality or state of being subtle • The pianist performed with subtlety and passion. • The movie lacks subtlety.

2 [count] : a small detail that is usually important but not obvious — usually plural • the subtleties of social interaction sub-top-ic /'sʌb,tɒpɪk/ noun, pl -ics [count] : a topic that is one of the parts or divisions of the main topic of a piece of writing • Each chapter is broken down into subtopics.

sub-to-tal /'sʌb,təʊt/ noun, pl -tals [count] : the sum of a set of numbers that is then added to another number or set of numbers • Your subtotal is $14, and with tax, that will be $14.70.

sub-tract /səb'trækt/ verb -tracts; -tract-ed; -tract-ing : to take (a number or amount) from another number or amount [+ obj] — usually + from • If we subtract 5 from 9, we get 4. • Subtract the expenses from your income. [no obj] The children are learning how to add and subtract. [=to perform subtraction] — opposite ADD sub-trac-tion /səb'træksən/ noun [noncount] mathematics : the act or process of subtracting one number from another • The children are learning addition and subtraction.

sub-trop-i-cal /,sʌb'trɒpɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : relating to or living in an area that is close to tropical parts of the world • a subtropical [=semitropical] region • subtropical vegetation • a subtropical bird

sub-trop-ics /,sʌb'trɒpɪks/ noun

the subtropics : parts of the world that are close to the tropics : subtropical regions sub-urb /'sʌ,bəb/ noun, pl -urbs [count] : a town or other area where people live in houses near a larger city • She left the city and moved to the suburbs. [=one of the suburbs near that city] — often + of • the suburbs of Chicago • I grew up in a suburb of Denver.

sub-ur-ban /sə'bəbən/ adj : living in or relating to a suburb or to suburbs in general • a suburban mother of two • typical suburban houses • suburban Denver [=the suburbs near Denver]

sub-ur-ban-ite /sə'bəbə,nait/ noun, pl -ites [count] : a person who lives in a suburb

sub-ur-bia /sə'bəbijə/ noun [noncount] : suburbs in general • a problem that is common in suburbia • the percentage of the country's population living in suburbia; also : people who live in suburbs • The film is an interesting critique of suburbia. • the values of suburbia

sub-ven-tion /səb'venʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] chiefly Brit : an amount of money that is given to a person or group by a government or organization • government subventions [=subsidies]

sub-ver-sive /səb'vəsɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : secretly trying to ruin or destroy a government, political system, etc. • subversive groups/activities • The government blamed a subversive organization for the riots.

2 : criticizing something in a clever and indirect way in order to make it weaker or less effective • I enjoy her subversive sense of humor. • the author's subversive attitude toward pop culture • ideas that are subversive of society/authority – subversive noun, pl -sives [count] • The government claims that the riots were incited by subversives. – sub-ver-sive-ly adv – sub-ver-sive-ness noun [noncount]

sub-vert /səb'vɜ:t/ verb -verts; -vert-ed; -vert-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to secretly try to ruin or destroy a government, political system, etc. • They conspired to subvert the government.

2 : to make (something) weaker or less effective • subvert [=undermine] the rule of law • trying to subvert the electoral process

– sub-ver-sion /səb'vɜ:ʒən/ noun, pl -sions [count, non-count] • They were charged with subversion. • a subversion of the rule of law – sub-vert-er noun, pl -ers [count] • subverters of democracy

sub-way /'sʌb,weɪ/ noun, pl -ways [count]

1 chiefly US : a system of underground trains in a city • I took/rode the subway to midtown. • No one on the subway seemed to mind how crowded it was. • I've been on both the New York subway and the Underground in London. — often used before another noun • a subway car/station • the subway platform

2 Brit : a road or passage for walking under a road, set of railroad tracks, etc. : UNDERPASS sub-woof-er /'sʌb'wʊfə/ noun, pl -ers [count] technical : a speaker (sense 5) that produces very low sounds — compare TWEETER, WOOFER sub-ze-ro /,sʌb'zi:rou/ adj : below zero degrees : extremely cold • subzero temperatures/weather

suc-ceed /sək'si:d/ verb -ceeds; -ceed-ed; -ceed-ing

1 [no obj] a : to do what you are trying to do : to achieve the correct or desired result • You can succeed where others failed. • She hopes to succeed [=to do well] at her job. — often + in • He will never succeed in this business. [=he will never be successful in this business] • Our team succeeded in stopping their offensive momentum. • She finally succeeded in persuading me to go. • I tried to apologize but only succeeded in making her angrier. [=all I did was make her angrier when I tried to apologize] b : to happen in the planned or desired way • The plan just might succeed. • Their attempt seemed unlikely to succeed.

2 a [+ obj] : to come after (something) in a series • The new model will succeed [=replace] the current one next spring. b : to get a particular job, position, or title after the person who had it before you has retired, died, etc. [+ obj] Both of them have ambitions to succeed the prime minister. • She will succeed him as chair of the committee. • The Queen died and was succeeded by James I. [no obj] James I succeeded to the throne upon the Queen's death in 1603.

nothing succeeds like success — used to say that one success often results in another success succeeding adj, always used before a noun : coming after something : coming or happening at a later time • now and for succeeding decades • The trait is apparent in succeeding generations.

suc-cess /sək'ses/ noun, pl -cess-es

1 [noncount] a : the fact of getting or achieving wealth, respect, or fame • Success came easily to him. • With success comes responsibility. • the secret of my success [=why I am successful] b : the correct or desired result of an attempt • Did you have any/much success in finding the dog? [=did you find the dog?] • The project met with little success. [=was not successful] • He tried to repair the engine but without success [=he was not able to repair the engine]

2 [count] : someone or something that is successful : a person or thing that succeeds • The play was an immediate success. [=it was immediately popular] • one of her many successes [=one of many things she has done successfully] • She is country music's most recent success. • The growth of the tourism industry is one of the city's great successes.

suc-cess-ful /sək'sesfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having the correct or desired result : ending in success • a successful attempt • The treatment was successful. • a successful movie [=a movie that makes a large profit] • Our search was successful. [=we found what we were searching for]

2 : having gotten or achieved wealth, respect, or fame • a successful businesswoman

– suc-cess-ful-ly adv • We have successfully finished the project. • The infection was treated successfully.

suc-ces-sion /sək'seʃən/ noun, pl -sions

1 [noncount] : the act of getting a title or right after the person who had that title or right before you has died or is no longer able or allowed to have it • His succession to the throne occurred in 1603. [=he became king in 1603]; also : the process by which this happens • royal succession • As third in the line/order of succession, she would only become queen if her brothers both died or became ineligible.

2 [count] : a series of people or things that come one after the other — usually singular; usually + of • The exhibit has attracted a succession of visitors. • We hired a succession of temporary workers.

in succession : following one after the other • The guests arrived in succession. • He won the championship twice in succession. [=in a row] • She listed the names in quick/rapid succession

suc-ces-sive /sək'sesɪv/ adj, always used before a noun : following one after the other in a series : following each other without interruption • It snowed for three successive [=consecutive] days. • the third successive day • a trait found in successive generations • their fourth successive [=consecutive] victory

– suc-ces-sive-ly adv • He has owned a series of successively larger boats. [=a series of boats in which each boat is larger than the one before it]

suc-ces-sor /sək'sesə/ noun, pl -sors [count] : a person who has a job, position, or title after someone else : someone who succeeds another person • The CEO's successor used to be the vice president here. • the successor to the throne — opposite PREDECESSOR success story noun, pl ~ stories [count] : a successful person or thing; such as a : someone or something that has achieved a goal • I am one of the diet clinic's success stories. [=the diet clinic was able to help me] b : someone or something that has achieved wealth, respect, or fame • That company is one of this area's biggest success stories.

suc-cinct /sək'sɪŋkt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : using few words to state or express an idea • He gave a succinct overview of the expansion project. • a succinct description synonyms see CONCISE – suc-cinct-ly adv • Tell me as succinctly as you can what happened.

suc-cor (US) or Brit suc-cour /'sʌkə/ noun [noncount] literary : something that you do or give to help someone who is suffering or in a difficult situation • We see it as our duty to give succor to those in need.

– succor (US) or Brit succour verb -cors; -cored; -cor-ing [+ obj] • It is our duty to succor those in need.

suc-co-tash /'sʌkə,tæʃ/ noun [noncount] US : a dish consisting of corn and lima beans that are cooked together

¹suc-cu-lent /'sʌkjələnt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : full of juice • a succulent steak • succulent [=juicy] oranges

2 of plants : having thick, heavy leaves or stems that store water • Cacti are succulent plants.

– suc-cu-lence /'sʌkjələns/ noun [noncount] • the succulence of these oranges

²succulent noun, pl -lents [count] : a plant that stores water in its leaves or stems : a succulent plant • cacti and other succulents

suc-cumb /sə'kʌm/ verb -cumbs; -cumbed; -cumb-ing [no obj] somewhat formal

1 : to stop trying to resist something • They will pressure you, and you must try not to succumb. — often + to • Try not to succumb to the pressure. • It's easy to succumb [=give in] to the temptation to oversimplify this kind of problem.

2 : to die • The patient eventually succumbed. — usually + to • He succumbed to his injuries. [=he died because of his injuries] • She fought a good fight but finally succumbed to cancer.

¹such /'sʌʃ/ adj

always used before a noun — used to say that something is great in degree, quality, or number • I've been such a fool! [=I've been very foolish] • How could you believe such nonsense? • I've never seen such a (large) crowd here before. • Where are you off to in such a rush? • The building had deteriorated to such a degree [=so much] that they had to tear it down. • I was surprised that the town had changed to such an extent [=so much]

2 not used before a noun — used to say that something has a quality that results in something specified • The evidence is such as to leave no doubt of his guilt. = The evidence is such that there can be no doubt of his guilt. • Her excitement was such that she could hardly contain herself. [=she was so excited that she could hardly contain herself]

3 always used before a noun : of the kind specified • The gun had his fingerprints on it. Such evidence [=evidence of that kind] leaves little doubt of his guilt. • She has published her first sci-fi novel and hopes to write more such novels. • No such agreement was made. • I know it was an accident, but such people [=people like that] should not be allowed to drive. • “Can I talk to Mary?” “I’m sorry. There is no such person here.” [=there is no one named Mary here] • In such a situation (as this), it is important to remain calm. • The magazine publishes articles about such varied subjects as astronomy, politics, and gardening. • It will be documented in such a way/manner as to prevent misunderstanding. = It will be documented in such a way/manner that there can be no misunderstanding. [=it will be documented in a way that prevents misunderstanding] • I’ve never heard of such a thing! • “You will apologize at once!” “I’ll do no such thing!” [=I will not apologize] • There is no such thing as having too many friends. [=you cannot have too many friends] • She said she was too busy or some such nonsense. [=or something similar]

²such pronoun, somewhat formal

1 : that kind or type of person or thing • She has a plan, if it may be called such. [=if it deserves to be called a plan; if it is good/practical enough to be referred to as a plan] • He was not only a politician but also an inventor and well-known as such. [=well-known as an inventor] • It is a serious problem and should be treated as such. — see also AS SUCH (below)
2 : something previously stated or specified • If such is the decision, nothing further should be done. • We were outnumbered and surrounded. Such being the case [=since that was the case], we had to surrender. • If you retained a receipt, please enclose a copy of such. [=please enclose a copy of the receipt] and such : and things of that kind • Pens, pencils, markers, and such are in this drawer.
as such 1 : of the usual or expected kind : in the usual sense • I have no boss as such [=there is no one who is actually my boss], but I do have to answer to my clients. 2 : by, of, or in itself — used to indicate that something is being considered by itself and not along with other things • There’s nothing wrong with gambling as such [=per se], but it’s best to do it in moderation. — see also ²SUCH 1 (above) such is life : life is like that and cannot be changed • We’ve had our share of problems, but such is life.

³such adv

1 somewhat informal — used to make a description more forceful • The team has such tall players. [=the team’s players are very tall] • She wears such stylish clothes. [=her clothes are very stylish] • She hasn’t been in such good spirits lately. • We had such a good time [=a very good time] at the party! • It is such a long trip. • It was such an awkward moment. • Today was such a nice/beautiful day! • I don’t think that’s such a good/great idea. [=I don’t think that’s a good idea]
2 : to the degree that is specified or understood • Such violent movies (as these) are not suitable for children. • We’ve never had such a cold winter (as this). • I have never seen such a large cat! • I had such a bad headache that I couldn’t think straight.
ever such see EVER such as 1 — used to introduce an example or series of examples • You will need some form of identification, such as [=like] a driver’s license. • “I have my reasons for not wanting to go.” “Such as?” [=give me an example] 2 : of the specified kind • In cases such as [=like] this (one), it’s best to be cautious. • Questions such as the one you’ve asked are difficult to answer.
such as it is — used to say that something is not very good in quality or condition • The meal, such as it was, was served quickly. [=the meal, which was not very good, was served quickly] • Welcome to my humble home—such as it is.

¹such and such adj, always used before a noun : not named or specified • people from such and such areas • If you were born in such and such a year . . .

²such and such pronoun : something that is not specified • If you earn such and such per year, then . . .

¹such-like /ˈsʌtʃlaɪk/ adj, always used before a noun, chiefly Brit : sharing qualities or characteristics : SIMILAR • rakes, shovels, and suchlike things and suchlike chiefly Brit : and things of that kind • Pens, pencils, markers, and suchlike are in this drawer.

²suchlike pronoun

¹suck /ˈsʌk/ verb sucks; sucked; suck-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to pull (liquid, air, etc.) into your mouth especially while your lips are forming a small hole • sucking milk through a straw b : to pull on (something in your mouth) with the muscles of your lips and mouth [+ obj] a toddler sucking his thumb • She just sucked her teeth and stared. [no obj] She sucked on an orange slice. c : to let (something, such as candy or medicine) stay in your mouth as it melts [+ obj] I sucked a cough drop. [no obj] sucking on a lollipop
2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] a : to pull (something) with the force of moving water, air, etc. • The tide almost sucked us out to sea. • The boat was sucked under the water in the storm. b : to remove (something) from an area or substance by pulling it with the force of moving water, air, etc. • These plants suck moisture from the soil. • The fan sucks smoke from the air. • a vacuum cleaner that sucks up water as well as dirt — sometimes used figuratively • She just seems to suck the joy out of the room. • This heat has sucked every ounce of energy out of me.

3 [+ obj] : to make (part of your body) flatter or tighter by pulling your muscles inward — + in • He was sucking in his gut. [=pulling in his stomach to make himself seem thinner] • It looked like she had sucked her cheeks in for the picture.

4 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to become involved or interested in something — + in or into • Their lifestyle seemed exciting, and I admit it really sucked me in. — often used as (be/get) sucked in/into • Hundreds of people got sucked into the scheme and many lost their entire life savings.

5 not used in progressive tenses [no obj] informal + sometimes impolite a : to be very bad or unpleasant • You lost your job? That sucks. • People who went to the party said it sucked. b : to do something very badly • He sang a few songs, and man, he sucks. [=he sings badly] — often + at • I suck at golf. [=I play golf badly] suck it and see Brit, informal : to try something in order to find out if it is good, effective, etc. • We don’t know if it will work. We’ll have to just suck it and see. [=try it and see] • a suck-it-and-see approach/situation suck (someone or something) dry see ¹DRY suck up [phrasal verb] 1 informal + disapproving : to try to get the approval of someone in authority by saying and doing helpful and friendly things that are not sincere • There he goes, sucking up again. — usually + to • She’s always sucking up to [=kissing up to] the boss. — see also SUCK-UP

2 suck it up US, informal : to do or deal with something unpleasant by making a special effort • I know you don’t want to see him, but you’ll just have to suck it up and be polite. • I had to suck it up and play with an injured finger. — see also ¹SUCK 2b (above)

²suck noun, pl sucks [count] : an act of sucking • He took a suck on his pipe.

¹suck-er /ˈsʌkə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 informal : a person who is easily tricked or deceived • He’s just a con artist looking for another sucker. • There’s a sucker born every minute. [=there are many people who are easily tricked or deceived]

2 informal : a person who is very strongly attracted to a particular type of thing or person — + for • She’s a sucker for mystery novels. [=she likes mystery novels very much] • He’s a sucker for women with dark hair.

3 chiefly US, informal : an annoying person or thing • That kid is a mean little sucker. • I got the other window open, but I just can’t seem to get this sucker [=this window] to budge.

4 : a person who sucks something specified — usually used in combination • She’s a thumb-sucker.

5 : a part of an animal’s body that is used for sucking or for attaching to things • the suckers on an octopus’s arms

6 : a new branch that grows from the base of a plant • Cut off any suckers growing at the base of the bush.

7 US, informal : LOLLIPOP

8 Brit : SUCTION CUP

²sucker verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing

sucker into [phrasal verb] sucker (someone) into (something) US, informal : to deceive or trick (someone) in order to make that person do (something) • I was suckered into volunteering at the cookout. • She suckered me into paying for her meal. • How did I get suckered into (doing) this?

sucker punch verb ~ punches; ~ punched; ~ punch-ing [+ obj] US : to hit (a person) suddenly and usually without any obvious reason • One of them sucker punched me. — sometimes used figuratively • a series of bad storms that have sucker punched the island — sucker punch noun, pl ~ punches [count] • He hit me with a sucker punch.

suck·le /ˈsʌkəl/ verb suck·les; suck·led; suck·ling [+ obj] : to give (a baby or young animal) milk from a breast or from an udder • a mother suckling [=breast-feeding] her baby • a cat suckling her kittens suck·ling pig /ˈsʌklɪŋ-/ noun, pl ~ pigs [count, noncount] : a young pig that is roasted and served at a meal suck·up /ˈsʌkʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] US, informal + disapproving : a person who tries to get the approval of someone in authority by saying and doing helpful and friendly things that are not sincere • I don't think you can give your professor a gift without being considered a suck-up. — see also suck up at ¹SUCK

su·crose /ˈsuːkroʊs/ noun [noncount] technical : a type of sugar that is found in most plants ✧ Sucrose is the kind of sugar commonly used for cooking and baking.

¹suc·tion /ˈsʌkʃən/ noun [noncount] : the act or process of removing the air, water, etc., from a space in order to pull something into that space or in order to cause something to stick to a surface • The vacuum cleaner picks up dirt by suction. • The octopus grasps things using suction; also : the force with which the air, water, etc., in a space is removed • a vacuum cleaner with enough suction to pick up the heaviest particles of dirt • strong suction

²suction verb -tions; -tioned; -tion-ing [+ obj] technical : to remove (something) by pulling it with the force of moving water, air, etc. : to remove (something) by using suction • The surgeon will suction blood out of the area.

suction cup noun, pl ~ cups [count] : a round, shallow cup made of a flexible material (such as rubber) that you attach to a surface by pressing the cup against the surface until the air between the cup and surface is removed • The device is held to the wall with two suction cups.

sud·den /ˈsʌdn/ adj [more ~; most ~] : happening, coming, or done very quickly in a way that is usually not expected • a sudden change/rise in temperature • Sudden fame/success can be difficult to deal with. • She had a sudden urge to be outside. • His death was very sudden. • a sudden turn in the road • I was surprised by her sudden decision to quit. • The director's sudden departure leaves the organization's future uncertain.

all of a sudden : SUDDENLY • I was walking down the street when, all of a sudden, it started raining. • All of a sudden, I saw what he was looking at.

— sud·den·ness /ˈsʌdnəs/ noun [noncount] • the suddenness of the attack • I was surprised by the suddenness of her decision.

sudden death noun [noncount]

¹ sports : a period of extra play that is added when teams or players are tied at the end of normal play and that ends as soon as one team or player scores a point or gains the lead • We won 27–24 in sudden death. — often used before another noun • a sudden-death play-off in golf

² medical : quick and unexpected death from any cause other than violence • a serious heart condition that can result in sudden death

sudden infant death syndrome noun [noncount] technical : the death of a healthy baby that happens for no known reason while the baby is sleeping — called also crib death, (Brit) cot death, SIDS

sud·den·ly /ˈsʌdnli/ adv : very quickly in usually an unexpected way : in a sudden way • Suddenly the lights went out. • I was suddenly very nervous. • There were no instances of the disease here until it suddenly appeared last year. • She suddenly decided to quit her job. • He died suddenly of a heart attack.

suds /ˈsʌdz/ noun

¹ [plural] : bubbles that form on top of water that contains soap — called also soapsuds

² [noncount] US, informal : BEER • a bottle of suds

— sudsy /ˈsʌdzi/ adj suds·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] • sudsy water

sue /ˈsuː, Brit ˈsjuː/ verb sues; sued; su·ing : to use a legal process by which you try to get a court of law to force a person, company, or organization that has treated you unfairly or hurt you in some way to give you something or to do something : to bring a lawsuit against someone or something [no obj] Some people sue over the most minor things. • People injured in accidents caused by the defective tire have threatened to sue. — often + for • They're suing for damages. [=suing to get money for the unfair treatment, damage, etc., that they have suffered] • His wife is suing for divorce. [=his wife has begun a legal process in order to get a divorce]

[+ obj] They've threatened to sue the company. • He is suing the doctor who performed the unnecessary surgery. — often + for • They're suing the company for damages. • She's suing her husband for divorce.

sue for peace formal : to officially ask for an end to fighting • a decisive battle after which the rebels sued for peace

suede /ˈswɛd/ noun [noncount] : soft leather that has been rubbed on one side to make a surface that looks and feels like velvet • The gloves are suede. — often used before another noun • a suede jacket su·et /ˈsuːwət/ noun [noncount] : a type of hard fat that is found in cows and sheep • beef suet

suf·fer /ˈsʌfə/ verb -fers; -fered; -fer-ing

¹ : to experience pain, illness, or injury [no obj] Before the surgery it was clear that she was really suffering. [=was in pain] • He died instantly and did not suffer. — often + from • She suffers from arthritis. • This patient is clearly suffering from shock. [+ obj] He suffered a heart attack and died instantly. • She suffered an injury during the game.

² : to experience something unpleasant (such as defeat, loss, or damage) [no obj] We suffered a great deal during the war. • I hate to see a child suffer. • She suffered through another one of their long visits. [+ obj] The team suffered a defeat in the play-offs. • He broke the law, so he has to suffer the consequences. [=he has to be punished for what he has done]

³ [no obj] : to become worse because of being badly affected by something • Their relationship suffered because of her work. • He was working so hard that his health began to suffer. [=he began to have health problems] • His parents told him he could play football as long as his grades didn't suffer (as a result).

suffer fools gladly : to be kind to and patient with people who annoy or bother you — usually used in negative statements • My mother was a woman who did not suffer fools gladly.

suf·fer·ance /ˈsʌfərəns/ noun

on sufferance Brit, formal ✧ If you are allowed to do something on sufferance, you are allowed to do it by someone who does not want you to do it. • She was allowed in only on sufferance.

suf·fer·er /ˈsʌfərə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who has a particular illness or condition • asthma sufferers

suf·fer·ing /ˈsʌfərɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

¹ [noncount] : pain that is caused by injury, illness, loss, etc. : physical, mental, or emotional pain • ways to alleviate human suffering • They hope these new drugs will help to bring an end to the suffering of arthritis patients. • His lawsuit seeks damages for pain and suffering.

² sufferings [plural] : feelings of pain • the sufferings of the dying suf·fice /səˈfaɪs/ verb -fic-es; -ficed; -fic-ing [no obj] : to be or provide as much as is needed : to be sufficient • No, you don't need to write a letter. A phone call will suffice. • Her example alone should suffice to show that anything is possible.

suffice (it) to say — used to say that you could give more information about something but that the statement that follows is enough • First, the car wouldn't start, and then I got stuck in traffic—suffice it to say, there was no way I could get here on time. • Suffice to say, she has a lot on her hands with four children.

suf·fi·cient /səˈfɪʃənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal : having or providing as much as is needed : ENOUGH • A brisk walk is sufficient to raise your heart rate. • A 15 percent tip is sufficient. [=adequate] • There must be sufficient funds in your bank account to cover the check. • sufficient savings • Her explanation was not sufficient to satisfy the police. — see also SELF-SUFFICIENT

— suf·fi·cien·cy /səˈfɪʃənsi/ noun, pl -cies [count, noncount] • challenging the sufficiency of the evidence/proof — suf·fi·cient·ly adv • He was sufficiently bothered by the noise to complain to the manager. • Her health has improved sufficiently to allow her to return to work. • Make sure that the temperature is sufficiently cool.

suf·fix /ˈsʌfɪks/ noun, pl -fix-es [count] : a letter or a group of letters that is added to the end of a word to change its meaning or to form a different word • The adjective “smokeless” is formed by adding the suffix “-less” to the noun “smoke.” • The adverb “sadly” is formed by adding the suffix “-ly” to the adjective “sad.” — compare AFFIX, PREFIX

suf·fo·cate /ˈsʌfəkeɪt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing

¹ a [no obj] : to die because you are unable to breathe •

Don't put that pillow over her face—she could suffocate. • The poor dog could suffocate in the car on a hot day like this. — sometimes used figuratively • I'm suffocating in this job. [=I can't express myself, act freely, etc., in this job] b [+ obj] : to kill (someone) by making breathing impossible • She was afraid that thick pillows and blankets could suffocate [=smother] the baby. • The victims were found suffocated. — sometimes used figuratively • Anger and resentment slowly suffocated their marriage. • Critics say that the new tax will suffocate local businesses.

2 [no obj] : to be uncomfortable because there is not enough fresh air — usually used as (be) suffocating • We were suffocating in the stuffy boardroom.

— suf·fo·ca·tion /ˌsʌfəˈkeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • The victims died of suffocation.

suffocating adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very unpleasant or uncomfortable because there is not enough fresh air • suffocating heat • a suffocating room

2 — used to describe something that makes it difficult to act freely • a suffocating bureaucracy/relationship

3 — used to describe something that makes you very uncomfortable • a suffocating silence

— suffocatingly adj • a suffocatingly hot day • a suffocatingly close relationship suf·frage /ˈsʌfrɪdʒ/ noun [noncount] : the right to vote in an election • women who fought for suffrage • universal suffrage [=the right of all adult citizens to vote in an election]

suf·frag·ette /ˌsʌfrɪˈdʒet/ noun, pl -ettes [count] : a woman who worked to get voting rights for women in the past when women were not allowed to vote

suf·frag·ist /ˈsʌfrɪdʒɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person in the past who worked to get voting rights for people who did not have them

suf·fuse /səˈfjuːz/ verb -fus-es; -fused; -fus-ing [+ obj] literary : to spread over or fill (something) • Morning light suffused the room. — usually used as (be) suffused • The room was suffused with morning light.

Su·fi /ˈsuːfi/ noun, pl -fis [count] : a member of a Muslim group of people who try to experience God directly especially by praying and meditating

— Su·fism /ˈsuːˌfɪzəm/ noun [noncount]

¹sug·ar /ˈfʊgə/ noun, pl -ars

1 a [noncount] : a sweet substance usually in the form of white or brown crystals or white powder that comes from plants and is used to make foods sweeter • Would you pass the sugar, please? • Do you take sugar in your coffee? • a lump/cube/packet of sugar — see also BROWN SUGAR, CANE SUGAR, CONFECTIONERS' SUGAR, MAPLE SUGAR, POWDERED SUGAR b [count] : the amount of sugar in one spoonful, lump, packet, etc. • Coffee with two sugars and milk, please.

2 [count] technical : any one of various substances that are found in plants and that your body uses or stores for energy — usually plural • Everyone's body metabolizes sugars differently. • Simple sugars are easier to digest than complex sugars.

3 [noncount] informal : the amount of sugar present in a person's blood at a particular time • Her sugar (level) is very high. — called also blood sugar

4 chiefly US, informal — used to address someone you like or love • “Hey, sugar [=honey], how are you doing?”

²sugar verb sugars; sugared; sugaring

1 [+ obj] : to put sugar on or in (something) • The clean fruit is then dried and sugared. • She sugared her coffee.

2 [no obj] US : to make maple syrup or maple sugar by boiling sap from maple trees • They've been sugaring since they were children.

sugar the pill see ¹PILL

— sugared adj • heavily sugared coffee/tea [=coffee/tea with a lot of sugar added to it] • sugared almonds sugar beet noun, pl ~ beets [count] : a white beet that is grown for the sugar in its root sug·ar·cane /ˈfʊgəˌkeɪn/ noun [noncount] : a tall grass that is grown in warm places as a source of sugar sug·ar·coat /ˈfʊgəˌkəʊt/ verb -coats; -coat-ed; -coat-ing [+ obj] : to talk about or describe (something) in a way that makes it seem more pleasant or acceptable than it is • textbooks that sugarcoat history • She has very strong opinions, and she doesn't try to sugarcoat them.

sugar-coated adj

1 : covered in sugar • sugar-coated cereal

2 [more ~; most ~] disapproving : made to seem more pleasant or acceptable than it is • a sugar-coated version of history sugar cube noun, pl ~ cubes [count] : a small cube of sugar that is put in coffee or tea to make it sweet — called also (Brit) sugar lump sugar daddy noun, pl ~ -dies [count] informal : a rich, older man who gives money, gifts, etc., to someone (such as a young woman) in exchange for sex, friendship, etc. • She's on the lookout for a new sugar daddy. — sometimes used figuratively in U.S. English • politicians getting money from their corporate sugar daddies

sugar-free adj : not containing sugar : containing an artificial sweetening substance instead of sugar • sugar-free gum

sug·ar·less /ˈfʊgələs/ adj : SUGAR-FREE • sugarless gum sugar maple noun, pl ~ -ples [count] chiefly US : a kind of maple tree that grows in eastern North America and that has sweet sap that is used to make maple syrup and maple sugar sugar pill noun, pl ~ pills [count] : a pill that is given to a patient like a drug but that has no medicine in it : PLACEBO • Half the patients were given the medication and the other half received a sugar pill.

sug·ar·plum /ˈfʊgəˌplʌm/ noun, pl -plums [count] US, old-fashioned : a small, sweet candy that is usually shaped like a ball sugar snap pea noun, pl ~ peas [count] : a type of pea whose thick outer part and seeds can be eaten — called also snap pea sug·ary /ˈfʊgəri/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : tasting like sugar or containing a lot of sugar • sugary breakfast cereals

2 disapproving : showing or expressing a pleasant emotion in a way that seems excessive and false : too sweet • a sugary ballad • sugary cheerfulness/sentiment

sug·gest /səˈdʒest/ verb -gests; -gest-ed; -gest-ing [+ obj]

1 : to mention (something) as a possible thing to be done, used, thought about, etc. • I suggest (that) you call the store. • We suggested to the committee that they review the case again. • It was suggested that we leave early. • He suggested several different ways of dealing with the problem. • She suggested a stroll after dinner. = She suggested that we go for a stroll after dinner.

2 : to say that (someone or something) is good or deserves to be chosen : RECOMMEND • Who would you suggest for the job? • They suggested a restaurant we might want to try. • I suggest caution in a situation like this.

3 : to show that (something) is likely or true : to indicate (something) usually without showing it in a direct or certain way • The evidence suggests arson as the cause of the fire. • There is nothing to suggest that the two events are connected. • As the name suggests, a yarn winder is a device used to wind balls of yarn.

4 : to say (something) in an indirect way • Are you suggesting [=implying] (that) he deliberately cheated? • I think he's suggesting that we shouldn't have helped them.

suggest itself somewhat formal, of an idea, plan, etc. : to be thought of : to seem or become obvious • No good solution suggested itself. [=I was unable to think of a good solution] sug·gest·ible /səˈdʒestəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : likely to believe that what someone says is true or may be true : easily influenced • The patient/child was highly suggestible.

sug·ges·tion /səˈdʒestʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] a : an idea about what someone should do or how someone should behave • Do you have any suggestions? • Please send comments and suggestions to our post office box. • I have a suggestion: call the store and ask them about it. • I'd like to offer/make a suggestion. • I am always open to suggestions. [=ready to hear new ideas] b : something that is said in an indirect way • I'm shocked at the suggestion that he deliberately cheated. = The very suggestion that he deliberately cheated is shocking (to me). • I reject his suggestion that we shouldn't have helped them.

2 a : an action, quality, appearance, etc., that seems to indicate the presence or existence of something [count] — usually singular • There was a suggestion of boredom in his tone of voice. [noncount] They were careful to avoid any suggestion of impropriety. [=avoid doing anything that could be seen as improper] • There was some suggestion of swelling around his ankle. [=his ankle appeared to be slightly swollen]

b [count] : a very small amount of something — usually singular • a flavor of chocolate with a (slight) suggestion [=hint] of pepper

3 [noncount] : the process by which you make people think or feel something by saying, expressing, or showing something that is related only indirectly • trying to influence people's thoughts by using suggestion • The director relies on the power of suggestion rather than explicitly showing the murder.

at/on someone's suggestion : because someone said that you should • On his suggestion, I applied for the job. [=I applied for the job because he suggested that I should] • She went to Germany at my suggestion.

sug-ges-tive /sə'dʒestɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : bringing thoughts, memories, or feelings into the mind — + of • music suggestive [=evocative] of a past era b : showing or seeming to show something — + of • symptoms suggestive of AIDS

2 : causing or tending to cause sexual feelings or excitement • a suggestive [=revealing] nightgown • suggestive [=provocative] song lyrics

— sug-ges-tive-ly adv • The dancers moved suggestively.

sui-cid-al /su:'wə'saɪd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : wanting to kill yourself • psychiatrists working with suicidal patients • Her friends are worried that she might be suicidal. [=that she might want to kill herself] : showing a desire to kill yourself • She had suicidal thoughts/tendencies.

2 : extremely dangerous : likely to cause your death • The mission is suicidal. • a suicidal rescue attempt : likely to cause great harm to yourself • He knows that supporting a tax increase would be politically suicidal.

¹sui-cide /'su:wə'saɪd/ noun, pl -cides

1 a : the act of killing yourself because you do not want to continue living [noncount] She had thoughts of suicide. • He committed suicide. [=he killed himself] • He attempted suicide. [=he tried to kill himself] [count] Authorities have officially ruled the death a suicide. • There were two suicides last year at the university. — see also ASSISTED SUICIDE, PHYSICIAN-ASSISTED SUICIDE b [count] : a person who commits suicide • Her father was a suicide. [=her father killed himself]

2 [noncount] : an action that ruins or destroys your career, social position, etc. • Accepting that kind of support is political suicide. [=it will cause the end of your career in politics] • It would be suicide for the company to try to expand too quickly. [=the company would fail if it tried to expand too quickly]

²suicide adj, always used before a noun : of or relating to suicide • a suicide attempt • Did he leave a suicide note? [=a note/letter explaining why he killed himself] — used especially to describe something that is done by a person who plans and expects to be killed while doing it • a suicide mission/bombing • a suicide bomber [=a person who commits suicide by exploding a bomb in order to kill other people] suicide pact noun, pl ~ pacts [count] : an agreement between two or more people to kill themselves at the same time • The two friends died in what appeared to be a suicide pact.

sui ge-nér-is /su ,aɪ'dʒenərəs/ adj, formal : in a class or group of its own : not like anything else • As a scholar, she is sui generis. [=unique]

¹suit /'su:t/ noun, pl suits

1 [count] : a set of clothes that usually consists of a jacket and a skirt or pair of pants that are made out of the same material • a tweed/wool suit • He wore his gray suit to the job interview. — see color picture on page C15; see also BUSINESS SUIT, LEISURE SUIT, LOUNGE SUIT, PANTSUIT, SAILOR SUIT, SHELL SUIT, THREE-PIECE SUIT, TROUSER SUIT, TWO-PIECE SUIT, ZOOT SUIT

2 [count] : a set of clothes or protective covering that is worn for a special purpose or under particular conditions • a gym suit • a suit of armor — see also BATHING SUIT, BODYSUIT, CATSUIT, JUMPSUIT, SNOWSUIT, SPACE SUIT, SWEAT SUIT, SWIMSUIT, UNION SUIT, WET SUIT

3 : a process by which a court of law makes a decision to settle a disagreement or problem between people or organizations : LAWSUIT [count] a civil/criminal suit • divorce/custody/paternity suits • He filed/brought a suit [=started legal proceedings] against her. [noncount] He filed/brought suit [=started legal proceedings] against her.

4 [count] : all the cards that have the same symbol in a pack of playing cards • The trump suit is hearts/clubs/diamonds/spades.

5 [count] informal + disapproving : a person who has an important job in an office and who wears a suit : a business executive • She described her boss as “an empty suit.” [=a stupid and ineffective businessman] — usually plural • Get back to work. The suits just walked in.

birthday suit see BIRTHDAY

follow suit see ¹FOLLOW

— see also LONG SUIT, STRONG SUIT

²suit verb suits; suit-ed; suit-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to provide what is required or wanted by or for (someone or something) • This program should suit [=satisfy] your needs. • The restaurant offers meals to suit [=please] all tastes. • I can schedule the meeting for tomorrow. Does that suit you? [=is that convenient for you?] • That suits me fine. • He only helps out when it suits him. [=when he wants to; when it is convenient for him to help out] b : to be proper or suitable for (someone or something) • This kind of behavior hardly suits a person of your age. • She gave a serious speech that suit-ed the occasion. • The formal furniture really suit-ed the style of the house. • The job suits her very well. • (Brit) This kind of work suits me down to the ground. [=suits me perfectly; I like/enjoy this kind of work very much]

2 : to be attractive on (someone) — not used in passive constructions • Your new hairstyle suits [=becomes] you. • That dress doesn't really suit her.

suit someone's book Brit, informal : to be suitable or satisfactory to someone • The changes should suit your book.

suit up [phrasal verb] US : to put on a uniform or special clothing • The players are suiting up for the game. • The divers suit-ed up.

suit yourself informal : to do what you want to do — used especially to tell people that they can do what they want even though you do not think it is what they should do • “I don't want to go.” “Suit yourself. [=do what you want] We'll go without you.”

suit-able /'su:təbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having the qualities that are right, needed, or appropriate for something • The dress was a suitable choice. • We upgraded the computer to make it suitable to our needs. — often + for • Is this shirt suitable for work? • Her experience makes her more suitable for the job. • What is a suitable time/place for us to meet? • The movie is not suitable for children. [=children should not watch it] — opposite UNSUITABLE — suit-abil-i-ty /su:tə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] • No one questioned her suitability for the job. — suit-ably /'su:təbli/ adv • They were suitably dressed for the occasion. • The old house was a suitably spooky place for a Halloween party.

suit-case /'su:t,keɪs/ noun, pl -cas-es [count] : a large case that you use to carry your clothing and belongings when you are traveling • She packed her suitcases the night before she left.

suite /'swi:t/ noun, pl suites [count]

1 a : a group of rooms that is used for one purpose • a suite of offices on the fifth floor • The executive suite is on the top floor. b : a group of rooms in a hotel that is used by one person, couple, family, etc. • She checked into a suite. • We stayed in the hotel's honeymoon/bridal suite. — see also EN SUITE

2 : a piece of music that is made up of many short pieces that are taken from a larger work (such as a ballet) • The orchestra will be performing a suite. • the Nutcracker Suite

3 chiefly Brit : a set of matching pieces of furniture for a room • a bedroom/bathroom suite • We bought a three-piece suite [=a couch and two chairs] for the living room.

4 : a set of computer programs that are designed to work together • a suite of business software suit-ed /'su:təd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having the qualities that are right, needed, or appropriate for something — + for or to • The land is well suit-ed for farming. • We will hire the person who is best/most suit-ed to the job. • The plant is suit-ed to (living in) tropical climates.

suit-ing /'su:tɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : cloth that is used in making suits suit-or /'su:tə/ noun, pl -ors [count]

1 old-fashioned : a man who wants to marry a particular woman • He was her most persistent suit-or, and she eventually agreed to marry him.

2 technical : a company that wants to take over another company • An unwanted suit-or is buying up the company's stock.

sul-fate (US) or chiefly Brit sul-phate /'sʌl,feɪt/ noun, pl -fates [count, noncount] chemistry : a salt that is formed when sulfuric acid reacts with another chemical element • copper sulfate

sul·fide (US) or chiefly Brit sul·phide /ˈsʌlˌfaɪd/ noun, pl -fides [count, noncount] chemistry : a compound that contains sulfur and one or more other chemical elements sul·fur (US) or chiefly Brit sul·phur /ˈsʌlfə/ noun [noncount] chemistry : a yellow chemical element that has a strong, unpleasant odor when it is burned and that is used in making paper, gunpowder, medicine, etc.

usage In U.S. English, the spelling sulfur is chiefly used in technical writing, while both sulfur and sulphur are common in general writing.

sulfur dioxide (US) or chiefly Brit sulphur dioxide noun [noncount] chemistry : a gas that has a strong smell, that is used in many industries, and that contributes to air pollution sul·fu·ric acid (US) or chiefly Brit sul·phu·ric acid /sʌlˈfjərɪk-/ noun [noncount] chemistry : a very strong type of acid sul·fu·rous (US) or chiefly Brit sul·phu·rous /ˈsʌlfərəs/ adj, chemistry : of, relating to, or containing sulfur • sulfurous compounds/gas • a sulfurous odor

¹sulk /ˈsʌlk/ verb sulks; sulked; sulk·ing [no obj] : to be angry or upset about something and to refuse to discuss it with other people • He went to sulk in his room. • She has been sulking all day.

²sulk noun, pl sulks [count] : a period of time when someone is angry or upset and refuses to speak • tantrums and sulks • He was in a sulk. [=he was sulking] • She has a case of the sulks. [=she's sulking]

sulky /ˈsʌlki/ adj sulk·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : angry or upset about something and refusing to discuss it with others • She is very sulky today. • She's in a sulky mood.

2 : often quiet and angry or upset • a sulky [=moody] child

— sulk·i·ly /ˈsʌlkəli/ adv • He sat sulkily in the chair. — sulk·i·ness /ˈsʌlkinəs/ noun [noncount]

sul·len /ˈsʌlən/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 — used to describe an angry or unhappy person who does not want to talk, smile, etc. • sullen teenagers • He's in a sullen mood. • She sat in sullen silence. • His face was sullen. = He had a sullen expression on his face.

2 literary : gray and dark • a sullen [=gloomy] sky/morning

— sul·len·ly adv • He stared sullenly out the window. — sul·len·ness /ˈsʌlənnəs/ noun [noncount] sul·ly /ˈsʌli/ verb sul·lies; sul·lied; sul·ly·ing [+ obj] formal : to damage or ruin the good quality of (something) • The scandal sullied [=tarnished] her reputation.

sulphate, sulphide, sulphur, sulphur dioxide, sulphuric acid, sulphurous chiefly Brit spellings of SULFATE, SULFIDE, SULFUR, SULFUR DIOXIDE, SULFURIC ACID, SULFUROUS sul·tan /ˈsʌltʌn/ noun, pl -tans [count] : a king or ruler of a Muslim state or country

sul·ta·na /ˌsʌlˈtænə, Brit ˌsʌlˈtɑːnə/ noun, pl -nas [count]

1 : the wife, mother, sister, or daughter of a sultan

2 chiefly Brit : GOLDEN RAISIN

sul·tan·ate /ˈsʌltəˌneɪt/ noun, pl -ates [count]

1 : a state or country that is ruled by a sultan

2 : the position of a sultan or the period of time when a sultan rules • His sultanate ended in 1923.

sul·try /ˈsʌltri/ adj sul·tri·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : very hot and humid • a sultry day • sultry air/weather

2 : attractive in a way that suggests or causes feelings of sexual desire • She looked at him with a sultry glance. • a sultry woman/dress • an actress with a sultry voice

— sul·tri·ness /ˈsʌltrɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • the sultriness of her voice

¹sum /ˈsʌm/ noun, pl sums

1 [count] : an amount of money • They spent large/considerable sums (of money) repairing the house. • We donated a small sum (of money) to the charity. • The sellers were asking for a modest sum. • I paid the sum of $500. — see also LUMP SUM

2 [count] a : the result of adding two or more numbers together • The sum of 5 and 7 is 12. b : a simple problem in mathematics — usually plural • schoolchildren doing sums

3 [singular] : the whole amount of something • Working odd summer jobs has been the sum of my experience so far. [=has been all the experience I've had so far] — see also SUM TOTAL in sum 1 : as a brief statement of the most important information in a piece of writing or speech • In sum [=in summary], we need a better public health-care system. 2 : in a few words • The movie was, in sum [=in short], entertaining as well as educational.

sum and substance : the general or basic meaning of something said or written • What is the sum and substance [=gist] of the argument?

sum of its parts ♦ Something that is greater/better/more than the sum of its parts is better or more effective as a team, combination, etc., than you would expect it to be when you look at the different parts that form it. • The team lacks standout players, but it has proved to be greater than the sum of its parts.

— see also ZERO-SUM GAME

²sum verb sums; summed; sum·ming

sum up [phrasal verb] 1 sum up or sum up (something) or sum (something) up : to tell (information) again using fewer words : to give a summary of (statements, facts, etc.)

: SUMMARIZE • I would like to take a moment to sum up the facts that I presented earlier. • She sums up the main arguments of the essay in the final paragraph. • The judge summed up the evidence in his speech to the jury. • To sum up, we need a better public health-care system. 2 sum up

(someone or something) or sum (someone or something) up a : to describe or show the most important parts or qualities of (someone or something) in a brief or simple way • The article nicely sums up her career. • That picture sums him up perfectly. [=that picture perfectly shows what kind of person he is] b : to describe (someone or something) using few words • The solution to the landfill problem can be summed up in one word: recycling. • The word

“lazy” sums him up pretty well. • “So, you don’t want to go because you think it will be boring?” “That just about sums it up.” — see also SUMMING-UP su·mac /ˈʃuˌmæk, ˈsuːˌmæk/ noun, pl -macs [count, noncount] : a type of tree, bush, or vine that has many small leaves and produces red or white berries — see also POISON SUMAC sum·ma cum lau·de /ˌsʌməˌkʌmˈlɑːdə/ adv, formal

: with highest honor — used in the U.S. to indicate that a student has graduated from a college or university at the highest of three special levels of achievement • She graduated summa cum laude. — compare CUM LAUDE, MAGNA sum·ma·rise (US) also Brit sum·ma·rise /ˈsʌməˌraɪz/verb -riz·es; -rized; -riz·ing : to tell (information) again using fewer words [+ obj] I would like to take a moment to summarize the facts that I presented earlier. • She summarizes the essay’s main arguments in the final paragraph. = She summarizes the essay in the final paragraph. [no obj] He summarized by saying we needed better planning and implementation. • To summarize, we need better schools.

CUM LAUDE

— sum·ma·ri·za·tion also Brit sum·ma·ri·sa·tion

/ˌsʌməˌreɪˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˌsʌməˌraɪˈzeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

[count, noncount] • A summarization [=summary] of the study’s results can be found at the end of the report.

¹sum·ma·ry /ˈsʌməri/ noun, pl -ries [count] : a brief statement that gives the most important information about something • He concluded the report with a brief summary. • a chapter/plot summary • They gave a summary of their progress in building the bridge.

in summary : as a brief statement of the most important information in a piece of writing or speech • In summary [=in conclusion, in sum], we need a better public health-care system.

²summary adj, always used before a noun

1 : using few words to give the most important information about something • a summary account of the accident • a summary report

2 formal : done quickly in a way that does not follow the normal process • a summary dismissal/execution/judgment • a summary court proceeding — sum·mar·i·ly /səˈmərəli/ adv, formal • He was summarily dismissed/executed.

sum·ma·tion /səˈmeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count]

1 formal : a brief description of the most important information about something • A summation can be found at the end of the report. • We gave a summation of our discovery.

2 US, law : a final speech made by a lawyer in a court of law to give a summary of the main arguments in a case • The defense attorneys and prosecutors are set to make their final summations today.

¹sum·mer /ˈsʌmə/ noun, pl -mers : the warmest season of the year that is after spring and before autumn [count] What are your plans for this summer? • the summer of 2005 • We visited them two summers ago. [noncount] in early/late summer • the first day of summer — often used before another noun • the summer months • a hot summer day • the company's summer catalog • summer clothes • a summer job • summer vacation • The children have fond memories of summer camp. — see also INDIAN SUMMER

²summer verb -mers; -mered; -mer-ing [no obj] : to spend the summer in a particular place • We summer (at our house) in Virginia.

sum-mer-house /'sʌməˌhaʊs/ noun, pl -hous-es [count]

1 chiefly Brit : a covered structure in a garden or park that is used as a resting place in summer

2 summer house : a house that someone lives in during the summer • They have a summer house on the lake. — called also summer home

summer school noun, pl ~ schools [count, noncount] : special classes that are taught at a school during the summer summer squash noun [count, noncount] US : a long, usually yellow vegetable that is a type of squash and that has soft skin which can be eaten — see color picture on page C4; compare WINTER SQUASH sum-mer-time /'sʌməˌtaɪm/ noun [noncount]

1 : the season of summer • We go there to pick strawberries in the summertime.

2 Summer Time Brit : BRITISH SUMMER TIME sum-mery /'sʌməri/ adj [more ~; most ~] : suitable for or typical of summer • a summery dress • summery afternoons sum-ming-up /ˌsʌmɪŋˈʌp/ noun, pl sum-mings-up /ˌsʌmɪŋzˈʌp/ [count]

1 : the act of telling information again using fewer words • a summing-up of the results

2 law : a final speech made by a lawyer or judge in a court of law to give a summary of the arguments and evidence in a case — see also sum up at ²SUM

sum-mit /'sʌmət/ noun, pl -mits [count]

1 a : the highest point of a mountain : the top of a mountain • The mountain range has summits over 10,000 feet high. • the summit [=peak] of Mount Everest • The climbers failed to reach the summit. b : the highest level • He reached the summit [=peak] of his career three years ago.

2 : a meeting or series of meetings between the leaders of two or more governments • Leaders of several nations attended the economic summit. • A summit on global warming was held that year. • a summit meeting/conference sum-mon /'sʌmən/ verb -mons; -moned; -mon-ing [+ obj] formal

1 a : to order (someone) to come to a place • The queen summoned him back to the palace. b : to order (someone) to appear in a court of law — often used as (be) summoned • She was summoned to (appear in) court. • She was summoned (to appear) before a judge.

2 : to ask for (someone or something) to come : to send or call for (someone or something) • She summoned a doctor. • The boy summoned help.

3 : to get (the courage, energy, strength, etc., that you need to do something) by making a special effort • She couldn't summon [=muster] the strength/energy to finish the race. — often + up • He finally summoned up the courage to ask her out on a date.

4 : to ask or order a group of people to come together for (a meeting) • The president summoned [=convened] a meeting/conference.

summon up [phrasal verb] summon up (something) : to bring (a memory, feeling, image, etc.) into the mind • Visiting his old house summoned up memories of his childhood. — see also SUMMON 3 (above)

¹sum-mons /'sʌmənz/ noun, pl -mons-es

1 law : an official order to appear in a court of law [count] The judge issued a summons. • He was served with a summons (to appear in court). [noncount] a writ/service of summons — compare SUBPOENA

2 [count] : an official order to appear at a particular place • He received a royal summons.

²summons verb -monses; -monsed; -mons-ing [+ obj] law : to order (someone) to appear in a court of law : SUMMON — usually used as (be) summonsed • She was summonsed to (appear in) court as a witness.

su-mo /'su:mou/ noun [noncount] : a Japanese form of wrestling that is performed by very large men • sumo wrestlers sump /'sʌmp/ noun, pl sumps [count]

1 : a low part or area where liquid collects when it drains from something • sump pits/trenches

2 chiefly Brit : OIL PAN

sump pump noun, pl ~ pumps [count] US : a pump that removes water from underneath a house or building

sump-tu-ous /'sʌmpˌtʃəwəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very expensive, rich, or impressive • a sumptuous banquet/dinner/feast • sumptuous [=luxurious] hotels

— sump-tu-ous-ly adv • a sumptuously furnished house

— sump-tu-ous-ness noun [noncount] • the sumptuousness of the dessert sum total noun

the sum total : the whole amount : the entire total of something — usually + of • The sum total of the payments will be $28,000. • That's the sum total of what I know about cars. [=that's all I know about cars]

¹sun /'sʌn/ noun, pl suns

1 a the sun also the Sun : the star that the Earth moves around and that gives the Earth heat and light • The rain has stopped and the sun is shining. • The sun rises in the east and sets in the west. • the rising/setting sun • the warmth of the sun's rays b [count] : any star that has planets which move around it • They dream of traveling to distant suns.

2 [noncount] : the heat or light produced by the sun : sunshine or sunlight • The plant needs full sun. [=it should not be in the shade] • Try to keep out of the sun. • The cat lay basking in the sun. • I couldn't see because the sun was in my eyes. [=the bright light of the sun was shining directly in my eyes] • We went to the beach to get/catch some sun. [=to spend time in the sunlight] in the sun ✧ If someone or something has a day/moment/time, etc., in the sun, that person or thing is popular or gets a lot of attention during a period of time. • Organic foods are having their moment in the sun. • The singer is still waiting for his day in the sun.

make hay (while the sun shines) see HAY

place in the sun : a very good, successful, or desirable position • After years of struggling as an unknown actor, he has finally found his/a place in the sun.

under the sun : in the world — used to emphasize the large number of things that are being mentioned • There is nothing under the sun [=nothing at all] that we cannot do. • We talked about everything under the sun. • She called me every name under the sun.

²sun verb suns; sunned; sun-ning : to sit or lie in the light of the sun especially in order to make your skin darker [no obj] He is sunning [=sunbathing] by the pool. [+ obj] People sunned themselves on the hillside.

Sun. abbr Sunday

sun-baked adj

1 : made very hard and dry by the heat of the sun • bricks made out of sun-baked mud

2 : receiving a lot of heat and light from the sun • sandy, sun-baked beaches sun-bathe /'sʌnˌbeɪð/ verb -bathes; -bathed; -bath-ing [no obj] : to sit or lie in the light of the sun especially in order to make your skin darker • She sunbathes every afternoon. • People were sunbathing on the beach.

— sun-bath-er /'sʌnˌbeɪðə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

sun-beam /'sʌnˌbi:m/ noun, pl -beams [count] : a ray of sunlight sun-bed /'sʌnˌbed/ noun, pl -beds [count]

1 chiefly Brit : TANNING BED

2 Brit : CHAISE LONGUE

Sun-belt /'sʌnˌbelt/ noun

the Sunbelt : the southern and southwestern states of the U.S. • She moved to the Sunbelt.

sun-block /'sʌnˌblɔ:k/ noun, pl -blocks [count, noncount] : a lotion that you put on your skin to prevent sunburn by completely blocking out the sun's rays — compare SUN-SCREEN sun-burn /'sʌnˌbɜ:n/ noun, pl -burns : a condition in which your skin becomes sore and red from too much sunlight [count] He has a bad sunburn. [noncount] Use sunscreen to prevent sunburn.

— sunburn verb -burns; -burned /-ˌbɜ:nd/ or -burnt /-ˌbɜ:nt/; -burn-ing [no obj] chiefly US • Her skin sunburns [=burns] easily. = She sunburns easily.

sunburned also sunburnt adj

1 : sore and red from too much sunlight : having a sunburn • Her skin is badly sunburned. • a sunburned nose

2 Brit : having attractive skin that has been turned darker by being in the sun • a handsome, sunburned [=tanned] surfer

sun cream noun, pl ~ creams [count, noncount] chiefly Brit : a cream or lotion that you put on your skin to prevent sunburn

sun-dae /'sʌn,deɪ/ noun, pl -daes [count] : a dessert of ice cream that is topped with a sweet sauce, nuts, whipped cream, etc. • a hot-fudge sundae

Sun-day /'sʌn,deɪ/ noun, pl -days : the day of the week between Saturday and Monday [count] She visited me last Sunday. • What are you doing this/next Sunday? = What are you doing this coming Sunday? • We go to church on Sundays. [=every Sunday] • My birthday falls on a Sunday this year. • (Brit) Next week I'll arrive on the Monday and leave on the Sunday. [noncount] Next week I'll arrive on Monday and leave on Sunday. • I will leave on Sunday morning. • the Sunday newspaper • a Sunday brunch — abbr. Sun.

a month of Sundays see MONTH

— Sundays adv • He works Sundays. [=he works every Sunday]

Sunday best noun [noncount] : your best clothing that you wear to church or on special occasions • All the people at the concert were wearing their Sunday best.

Sunday school noun [count, noncount] : a school especially for children that is held on Sunday for religious education

sun-deck /'sʌn,dek/ noun, pl -decks [count] : a deck on a ship or an outside area on a building where people can sit in the sun

sun-der /'sʌndə/ verb -ders; -dered; -der-ing [+ obj] formal + literary : to split apart (an organization, two people, etc.) especially in a violent way • a family sundered by scandal — see also ASUNDER

sun-di-al /'sʌn,dajəl/ noun, pl -als [count] : a device that is used to show the time of day by the position of the sun and that consists of a plate with markings like a clock and an object with a straight edge that casts a shadow onto the plate sun-down /'sʌn,daʊn/ noun [noncount] chiefly US : the time when the sun goes below the horizon : SUNSET • Passover ends tomorrow at sundown.

sun-drenched adj, always used before a noun : receiving a lot of heat and light from the sun • sun-drenched beaches/islands

sun-dress /'sʌn,dres/ noun, pl -dress-es [count] : a dress that is worn in warm weather and that does not cover the arms, shoulders, or neck

sun-dried adj, always used before a noun : dried by the heat of the sun • sun-dried tomatoes sun-dries /'sʌndriːz/ noun [plural] formal : various small things that are not mentioned specifically • pins, needles, and other sundries

sun-dry /'sʌndri/ adj, always used before a noun, formal : made up of different things • sundry [=various] items • for sundry reasons all and sundry formal : every person • It was clear to all and sundry [=everyone, everybody] that something was wrong.

sun-fish /'sʌn,fɪʃ/ noun, pl -fish [count] : a large fish with a round body that lives in the sea — see color picture on page C8

sun-flow-er /'sʌn,flaʊə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a tall plant that has very large yellow flowers and that produces seeds which can be eaten • a row of sunflowers • sunflower seeds/oil — see color picture on page C6

sung past tense and past participle of SING

sun-glass-es /'sʌn,glæsəz, Brit 'sʌn,glɑːsəz/ noun [plural] : glasses with dark lenses that protect the eyes from the sun • a pair of sunglasses — called also (informal) shades

sun god noun, pl ~ gods [count] : a god that represents the sun in various religions sun hat noun, pl ~ hats [count] : a hat that you wear to protect your head and neck from the sun sunk past tense and past participle of SINK

sunk-en /'sʌŋkən/ adj

1 always used before a noun : completely covered with water : lying at the bottom of a sea, lake, etc. • a sunken ship • sunken treasure

2 : curving inward because of illness, age, etc. • sunken [=hollow] cheeks • Her eyes were sunken and lifeless.

sundae

3 always used before a noun : lying or built at a lower level than the surrounding area • a sunken garden • a sunken living room • a sunken tub

sun-kissed adj

1 : SUNNY • the sun-kissed beaches/shores of the Caribbean

2 of a person's skin : having an attractive color because of having been in the sun • sun-kissed skin/faces • a sun-kissed glow

sun-lamp /'sʌn,læmp/ noun, pl -lamps [count] : a special lamp that produces light similar to sunlight and that is used to make your skin darker or to treat illness

sun-less /'sʌnləs/ adj : having little light from the sun : not sunny • a sunless room/day sun-light /'sʌn,lart/ noun [noncount] : the light of the sun : SUNSHINE • the early morning sunlight • Sunlight streamed through the windows. • Avoid exposure to (bright/direct) sunlight.

sun-lit /'sʌn,lɪt/ adj : lighted by the sun • a sunlit room

sun lounge noun, pl ~ lounges [count] Brit : SUNROOM

sun lounger noun, pl ~ -ers [count] Brit : a long chair that is used for sitting or lying outdoors

Sun-ni /'sʌni/ noun, pl -nis or -ni

1 [noncount] : one of the two main branches of Islam — compare SHIA

2 [count] : a Muslim who is a member of the Sunni branch of Islam — compare SHIITE

— Sunni adj, always used before a noun • the Sunni faith/tradition • Sunni Muslims/Arabs

sun-ny /'sʌni/ adj sun-ni-er; -est

1 : having plenty of bright sunlight • a sunny room/day • sunny weather • the sunniest parts of the country • We found a sunny place/spot to have lunch. • If it's sunny later, we can go to the park.

2 : cheerful and happy • a sunny smile/disposition sun-ny-side up /'sʌni,sɑɪd'ʌp/ adj, chiefly US, of an egg : fried on one side only • "I'd like my eggs sunny-side up."

sun protection factor noun [noncount] : SPF

sun-rise /'sʌn,raɪz/ noun, pl -rises

1 [noncount] : the time when the sun appears above the horizon in the morning : dawn or daybreak • We were up before/at sunrise. • We worked from sunrise to sunset

2 : the colors that are in the sky when the sun slowly appears above the horizon [count] a beautiful sunrise • We watched the sunrise from the beach. [noncount] the pink light of sunrise

sun-roof /'sʌn,rʊ:f/ noun, pl -roofs [count] : a part of the roof of a car or truck that can be opened to let air and light in — see picture at CAR; compare MOONROOF

sun-room /'sʌn,rʊ:m/ noun, pl -rooms [count] US : a room in a house that has a lot of windows and glass to let sunlight in — called also (Brit) sun lounge

sun-screen /'sʌn,skri:n/ noun, pl -screens [count, noncount] : a lotion that you put on your skin to prevent sunburn by blocking out some of the sun's rays — compare SUNBLOCK

sun-set /'sʌn,set/ noun, pl -sets

1 [noncount] : the time when the sun goes below the horizon in the evening • We arrived just before sunset. [= (chiefly US) sundown] • Prayers begin at sunset. • We worked from sunrise to sunset

2 : the colors that are in the sky when the sun slowly goes below the horizon [count] a beautiful sunset [noncount] the golden light of sunset

sun-shade /'sʌn,ʃeɪd/ noun, pl -shades [count] : something (such as a parasol or awning) that blocks sunlight

sun-shine /'sʌn,ʃaɪn/ noun [noncount]

1 : the sun's light or rays : warmth and light from the sun • Today's forecast calls for sunshine. • Let's go out and enjoy the sunshine!

2 informal : a feeling of happiness • She was the kind of person who brought sunshine into people's lives. • She was a ray of sunshine for her patients. [=she made her patients feel happier and more cheerful]

3 Brit, informal — used as a form of address that can be either friendly or rude • "Hey, sunshine. What are you doing?"

sun-shiny /'sʌn,ʃaɪni/ adj, US

1 : bright with the sun's rays • a sunshiny [=sunny] day

2 : full of happiness • sunshiny songs • the children's sunshiny [=happy] faces sun-spot /'sʌn,spɔ:t/ noun, pl -spots [count] astronomy : a dark spot that sometimes appears on the surface of the sun

sun-stroke /'sʌn,straʊk/ noun [noncount] medical : a serious condition that happens when someone has been in the sun too long and that causes a person to stop sweating, have a very high body temperature, and become exhausted or unconscious — compare HEATSTROKE

sun-tan /'sʌn,tæn/ noun, pl -tans [count] : a browning of the skin that is caused by the sun's rays • She has a nice sun-tan. [=tan] • suntan lotion

— sun-tanned /'sʌn,tænd/ adj [more ~; most ~] • sun-tanned bodies/faces — sun-tan-ning /'sʌn,tæniŋ/ noun [noncount] sun-up /'sʌn,ʌp/ noun [noncount] chiefly US : SUNRISE • We will meet at sunup.

sun worshipper noun, pl ~ -pers [count] informal : someone who enjoys lying in the sun to get a suntan

¹sup /'sʌp/ verb sups; supped; sup-ping [no obj] old-fashioned + literary : to eat dinner : DINE • journalists sup-ping with politicians • They supped on local delicacies. — compare ²SUP

²sup verb sups; supped; supping [+ obj] Brit : to drink (a liquid) especially in small amounts • He supped [=sipped] a glass of wine while waiting for his meal. — compare ¹SUP

¹su-per /'su:pə/ adj, informal : extremely good • She's a super cook. • We had a super time. • The party was super. • "Yes, I'd love to come." "Super! I'll see you later."

²super adv, US, informal : very or extremely • She's super nice/rich/smart. • a super fast car

³super noun, pl -pers [count] US, informal : SUPERINTENDENT 3

super- prefix

1 : bigger, better, or more important than others of the same kind • superhuman

2 : superior in position or rank • a military superpower

su-per-abun-dance /,su:pərə'bændəns/ noun [singular] formal : a great or excessive amount of something • a super-abundance of wealth

— su-per-abun-dant /,su:pərə'bændənt/ adj • a superabundant supply su-per-an-nu-at-ed /,su:pə'ænɹə,weɪtəd/ adj, formal : old and therefore no longer very effective or useful • a superannuated opera star • superannuated [=outdated] software

su-per-an-nu-a-tion /,su:pə'ænɹə'weɪʃən/ noun [noncount] Brit : a type of pension that both the employee and the employer pay for • an improved superannuation scheme su-perb /su'pəb/ adj : extremely good : excellent or brilliant in a very noticeable way • a superb example • wines of superb quality • They've done a superb job. • The performance was absolutely superb.

— su-perb-ly adv • a superbly gifted writer • The defense played superbly.

Super Bowl service mark — used for the annual championship game of the National Football League su-per-charged /'su:pə,tʃɑ:dʒd/ adj

1 : supplied with air or fuel at a higher pressure than normal to increase power • a supercharged engine

2 informal : filled with energy, tension, or emotion • a supercharged atmosphere

su-per-cil-ious /,su:pə'sɪljəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + disapproving : having or showing the proud and unpleasant attitude of people who think that they are better or more important than other people • a supercilious professor • a supercilious tone/attitude • supercilious behavior

— su-per-cil-ious-ly adv • He glanced at her and smiled superciliously. — su-per-cil-ious-ness noun [noncount]

su-per-com-put-er /'su:pəkəm,pju:tə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a large and very fast computer su-per-con-duc-tiv-i-ty /,su:pəkən'dʌk'tɪvəti/ noun [noncount] technical : the ability of something (such as a metal) to allow electricity to flow through it easily especially at very low temperatures su-per-con-duc-tor /,su:pəkən'dʌktə/ noun, pl -tors [count] technical : a material or object that allows electricity to flow through it easily at very low temperatures

su-per-ego /,su:pə'i:gou/ noun, pl -egos [count] psychology : a part of a person's mind that relates to attitudes about what is right and wrong and to feelings of guilt — compare EGO, ID

su-per-fi-cial /,su:pə'fɪʃəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : concerned only with what is obvious or apparent : not thorough or complete • a superficial analysis of the results/data • They had a superficial knowledge/understanding of the topic. • These superficial changes/solutions don't address the underlying problem.

2 a : affecting only the outer part or surface of something : not deep or serious • superficial wounds/cuts • The storm only caused superficial damage to the building. b : lying close to the surface • superficial veins

3 — used to describe a quality, characteristic, etc., that can be seen in the outward appearance or manner of something or someone but that is not deep or genuine • Despite a superficial resemblance, the paintings are by two different artists. • These similarities/differences are only superficial. • Don't be deceived by his superficial charm. • On a superficial level, his theory works, but the facts don't support it.

4 disapproving : not caring about or involving important matters or deep emotions • He thinks she's vain and superficial. [=shallow] • I'm not interested in superficial relationships.

— su-per-fi-ci-al-i-ty /,su:pə'fɪʃi'æləti/ noun [noncount] • the superficiality of pop culture — su-per-fi-cial-ly /,su:pə'fɪʃəli/ adv • Superficially, at least, the two paintings are similar.

su-per-fine /,su:pə'faɪn/ adj, chiefly US : extremely fine: such as a : extremely thin • superfine wire b : made up of extremely small pieces • superfine sugar c : of very high quality • superfine wool su-per-flu-i-ty /,su:pə'flu:wəti/ noun [singular] formal : more of something than is needed • a superfluity of volunteers su-per-flu-ous /su'pəfluwəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : beyond what is needed : not necessary • a superfluous word/detail • Further discussion seemed superfluous.

— su-per-flu-ous-ly adv

su-per-glue /'su:pə,glu:/ noun [noncount] : a very strong glue su-per-grass /'su:pə,græs, Brit 'su:pə,grɑ:s/ noun, pl -grass-es [count] Brit, informal : a criminal who gives information to the police about a large number of other criminals

su-per-he-ro /'su:pə'hɪrou/ noun, pl -roes [count]

1 : a fictional character who has amazing powers (such as the ability to fly) • comic-book superheroes

2 : a very heroic person • The people who do this dangerous work are real-life superheroes who deserve our gratitude.

su-per-high-way /,su:pə'hɑɪ,weɪ/ noun, pl -ways [count] US : a large and wide highway used for traveling at high speeds over long distances su-per-hu-man /,su:pə'hju:mən/ adj : greater than normal human power, size, or ability • The character in the film acquires superhuman powers. • superhuman strength/courage • tales of superhuman feats • It will take a superhuman effort for them to win the championship.

su-per-im-pose /,su:pə'ɪm'pouz/ verb -pos-es; -posed; -pos-ing [+ obj] : to place or lay (something) over something else • A triangle superimposed on an inverted triangle forms a six-pointed star. • superimposed images — often used figuratively • a Shakespearean play superimposed upon a modern setting • We should not try to superimpose our values on other cultures. [=should not try to make other cultures accept/adopt our values]

— su-per-im-po-si-tion /,su:pə'ɪmpə'zɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the superimposition of two images su-per-in-tend /,su:pə'ɪn'tend/ verb -tends; -tend-ed; -tend-ing [+ obj] formal : to direct or manage (something, such as a project or activity) • A licensed contractor will superintend [=supervise] the work.

— su-per-in-ten-dence /,su:pə'ɪn'tendəns/ noun [noncount] • Decisions will be made under the superintendence [=supervision] of the board of directors.

su-per-in-ten-dent /,su:pə'ɪn'tendənt/ noun, pl -dents [count]

1 : a person who directs or manages a place, department, organization, etc. • (US) Our district superintendent (of schools) is retiring soon. • a park superintendent

2 : a high rank in a police department or a person who has this rank

3 US : a person who is in charge of cleaning, maintaining, and repairing a building — called also (informal) super

¹su-pe-ri-or /su'pɪrɪə/ adj

1 a : of high quality : high or higher in quality • superior products/results • a superior wine = a wine of superior quality • This new model offers superior performance. — often + to • The new model is (vastly/far) superior to the old one. b

: great or greater in amount, number, or degree • her superior strength/intelligence • The small army was overwhelmed by superior numbers.

2 disapproving a : better than other people • He only helps us because it makes him feel superior. — often + to • He thinks he's superior to everyone else. b : having or showing the attitude of people who think that they are better or more important than other people : ARROGANT • a superior manner/tone

3 always used before a noun : high or higher in rank • Report to your superior officer. • The verdict was reversed by a superior court. — compare SUBORDINATE

2 superior noun, pl -ors [count] : a person of higher rank or status than another • His superior gave him an excellent evaluation. • You should report any problems to your immediate superior. — compare SUBORDINATE; see also MOTHER SUPERIOR

su-pe-ri-or-i-ty /su,piri'orəti/ noun [noncount]

1 : the quality or state of being high or higher in quality — often + of or over • The superiority of our product is obvious. • one product's superiority over another

2 : the belief that you are better than other people • His success has given him a false sense of superiority. • an irritating air of superiority [=an arrogant way of behaving]

3 : the quality or state of being larger, stronger, etc., than others • the country's technological/economic superiority • To win this war, we must achieve air superiority. [=we must have a larger/better air force than our enemies]

1 su-per-la-tive /su'pələtiv/ adj

1 grammar : of or relating to the form of an adjective or adverb that is used to indicate the greatest degree of a particular quality • The superlative form of “nice” is “nicest”; the superlative form of “bad” is “worst”; the superlative form of “interesting” is “most interesting.” — compare COMPARATIVE

2 somewhat formal : of very high quality • superlative [=excellent] work • a superlative performance

— su-per-la-tive-ly adv • He's superlatively qualified. • They performed superlatively (well).

2 superlative noun, pl -tives [count] grammar : the form of an adjective or adverb that is used to indicate the greatest degree of a particular quality : the superlative form of an adjective or adverb • “Simplest” is the superlative of “simple.” — compare COMPARATIVE su-per-man /'su:pə,mæn/ noun, pl -men /-,men/ [count] : a man who is very strong, successful, etc. — compare SUPERWOMAN

su-per-mar-ket /'su:pə,mɑ:kət/ noun, pl -kets [count] : a store where customers can buy a variety of foods and usually household items • I made a quick trip to the supermarket. [= (chiefly US) grocery store] • a supermarket chain • supermarket coupons — compare SUPERSTORE su-per-mod-el /'su:pə,mɑ:d/ noun, pl -els [count] : a very famous and successful fashion model

su-per-mom /'su:pə,mɑ:m/ noun, pl -moms [count] US, informal : a woman who raises a child and takes care of a home while also having a full-time job

su-per-nat-u-ral /,su:pə'nætʃərəl/ adj : unable to be explained by science or the laws of nature : of, relating to, or seeming to come from magic, a god, etc. • supernatural powers/phenomena/beings

the supernatural : things that cannot be explained by science and seem to involve ghosts, spirits, magic, etc. • their belief in the supernatural

su-per-no-va /,su:pə'nouvə/ noun, pl -vas or -vae /-,nouvi/ [count] astronomy : the explosion of a star that causes the star to become extremely bright su-per-pow-er /'su:pə,pawə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : an extremely powerful nation • economic/military superpowers

su-per-script /'su:pə,skript/ noun, pl -scripts [count] : a symbol (such as a number or letter) written above and immediately to the left or right of another character — su-per-script adj • superscript characters/letters su-per-se-de /,su:pə'si:d/ verb -sedes; -sed-ed; -sed-ing [+ obj] : to take the place of (someone or something that is old, no longer useful, etc.) : to replace (someone or something) • This edition supersedes the previous one. • Former stars were being superseded by younger actors.

su-per-size /'su:pə,sɑ:z/ verb -siz-es; -sized; -siz-ing [+ obj] : to make (something, such as a serving of food in a fast food restaurant) very large • “I'll have the combo meal.” “Would you like to supersize it?”

— supersize or supersized adj, always used before a noun • a supersize meal/drink • supersized houses/cars su-per-son-ic /,su:pə'sɑ:nik/ adj : faster than the speed of sound • a supersonic airplane

— su-per-son-i-cal-ly /,su:pə'sɑ:nikli/ adv

su-per-star /'su:pə,staə/ noun, pl -stars [count] : an extremely famous and successful performer, athlete, etc. • a Hollywood superstar • a football superstar

su-per-sti-tion /,su:pə'stɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : a belief or way of behaving that is based on fear of the unknown and faith in magic or luck : a belief that certain events or things will bring good or bad luck [count] It is a common superstition that a black cat crossing your path is bad luck. [non-count] tales of superstition, witchcraft, and magic su-per-sti-tious /,su:pə'stɪʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : of, relating to, or influenced by superstition • superstitious practices/beliefs • He's very superstitious and won't pitch without his lucky mitt.

— su-per-sti-tious-ly adv

su-per-store /'su:pə,stoə/ noun, pl -stores [count] : a very large store that sells a wide variety of goods • an electronics superstore [=megastore] — compare SUPERMARKET

su-per-struc-ture /'su:pə,straʃtʃə/ noun, pl -tures [count] : the part of a structure (such as a ship or bridge) that is above the lowest part — compare SUBSTRUCTURE

su-per-tank-er /'su:pə,tæŋkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a very large ship that has tanks for carrying large amounts of liquid • an oil supertanker

su-per-vene /,su:pə'vi:n/ verb -venes; -vened; -ven-ing [no obj] formal : to happen unexpectedly in a way that interrupts, stops, or greatly changes an existing situation • a supervening event • They had a quiet, happy life until the war supervened.

su-per-vise /'su:pə,vaɪz/ verb -vis-es; -vised; -vis-ing [+ obj] : to be in charge of (someone or something) : to watch and direct (someone or something) • The builder supervised the construction of the house. • She supervises a staff of 30 workers. • a supervised study period su-per-vi-sion /,su:pə'vɪʒən/ noun [noncount] : the action or process of watching and directing what someone does or how something is done : the action or process of supervising someone or something • Young children need constant supervision. • Parental supervision is recommended. • She's responsible for the supervision of a large staff. • The medication should be taken under a doctor's supervision. = The medication should be taken under the supervision of a doctor.

su-per-vi-sor /'su:pə,vaɪzə/ noun, pl -sors [count] : a person who supervises someone or something • The supervisor fired him after he showed up at work drunk. • If you have a problem, go to your supervisor. • an office/plant supervisor

— su-per-vi-so-ry /,su:pə'vaɪzəri/ adj • He took on a supervisory role in the company. • supervisory personnel • candidates with supervisory experience

su-per-wom-an /'su:pə,wʊmən/ noun, pl -wom-en /-,wɪmən/ [count] : a woman who is very strong, successful, etc.; especially : a woman who has both a successful career and a family — compare SUPERMAN su-pine /'su:pain/ adj, formal

1 : lying on your back with your face upward • a supine position • He was lying supine on the couch. — compare PRONE

2 disapproving : willing to be controlled by others : weak or passive • a supine attitude • a supine legislature that is afraid to take action

sup-per /'sʌpə/ noun, pl -pers

1 : the evening meal — used especially to refer to an informal meal that you eat at home [count] I always enjoyed our Sunday night suppers. [noncount] It's almost time for supper. • We had supper together. • We took a walk after supper. • I had too much wine at supper. • He didn't come home for supper.

2 [count] chiefly US : a social event especially for raising money that takes place in the evening and includes a meal • a church supper

3 [count, noncount] chiefly Brit : a light meal or snack that is eaten late in the evening

sup-per-time /'sʌpə,taim/ noun, pl -times : the usual time for supper [noncount] The doorbell rang right at *supper*time. [count] When is your *supper*time?

sup-plant /sə'plænt/ verb -plants; -plant-ed; -plant-ing [+ obj] : to take the place of (someone or something that is old or no longer used or accepted) • DVDs have supplanted videos. — often used as (be) supplanted • Videos have been supplanted by DVDs. • Older workers are being supplanted by recent college graduates.

sup·ple /ˈsʌpəl/ adj sup·pler /ˈsʌpələ/; -plest /-pələst/ [also more ~; most ~]

1 of a body or body part : able to bend or twist easily • a supple body • her long, supple limbs • Stretching helped to keep him supple. [=limber]

2 : soft and able to bend or fold easily • supple leather/skin — opposite STIFF

— sup·ple·ness /ˈsʌpələnəs/ noun [noncount]

¹sup·ple·ment /ˈsʌpləmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count]

1 : something that is added to something else in order to make it complete • dietary/vitamin supplements

2 : an extra part that is added to a book or newspaper • an advertising/literary supplement • the supplement to the encyclopedia

3 Brit : an amount of money that must be paid in addition to the regular price • First-class accommodation is available for a supplement.

²sup·ple·ment /ˈsʌpləmənt/ verb -ments; -ment·ed; -ment·ing [+ obj] : to add something to (something) in order to make it complete • He sells his paintings to supplement his income. = He supplements his income by selling his paintings. • She began supplementing her diet with vitamins.

— sup·ple·men·ta·tion /ˌsʌpləˈmentəʃən/ noun [noncount]

sup·ple·men·tal /ˌsʌpləˈmentl/ adj, chiefly US : added to something else to make it complete • She receives a supplemental income every month from the government. • supplemental information

sup·ple·men·ta·ry /ˌsʌpləˈmentəri/ adj : SUPPLEMENTAL • a list of supplementary material/readings for the class

sup·pli·ant /ˈsʌplijənt/ noun, pl -ants [count] formal : SUPPLICANT

— suppliant adj [more ~; most ~] • a suppliant tone

sup·pli·cant /ˈsʌplikənt/ noun, pl -cants [count] formal : a person who asks for something in a respectful way from a powerful person or God • a humble suppliant

sup·pli·ca·tion /ˌsʌpləˈkeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions formal : an act of asking for something in a respectful way [count] their prayers and supplications to God [noncount] They knelt in supplication before the king.

sup·pli·er /səˈplajə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person or company that supplies goods or services • food/drug/paper suppliers • They are the biggest supplier of books in the area.

¹sup·ply /səˈplai/ noun, pl -plies

1 : the amount of something that is available to be used [count] the nation's food/oil supply • adequate/sufficient supplies of fresh water • He bought a month's supply of cigarettes. [noncount] Doctors are in short supply. [=there are not enough doctors] — see also MONEY SUPPLY

2 supplies [plural] : things (such as food, equipment, fuel, etc.) that are needed for a particular purpose and that will be used by a particular person or group • They took a month's worth of supplies on the camping trip. • The town is in need of basic medical supplies. • a store that sells art/office/cleaning supplies

3 [noncount] : the process or system by which something is provided to a person, place, etc. • The state is trying to disrupt the supply of illegal drugs. • The storm interrupted the town's electricity supply.

4 [noncount] : the quantities of goods or services that are offered for sale at a particular time or at one price • When demand increases, will supply increase, too? — see also SUPPLY AND DEMAND

²supply verb -plies; -plied; -ply·ing [+ obj] : to make (something) available to be used : to provide someone or something with (something that is needed or wanted) • The company supplied the necessary money. • You'll have to supply your own food. — often + to • He supplied the information to us. — often + with • The company supplied us with the necessary money. • He kept us supplied with the latest news.

supply and demand noun [noncount] : the amount of goods and services that are available for people to buy compared to the amount of goods and services that people want to buy • If the company produces less of a product than the public wants, the law of supply and demand says that the company can charge more for the product.

supply line noun, pl ~ lines [count] : the route that is used to deliver food, equipment, etc., to soldiers during a war • enemy supply lines supply-side economics noun [noncount] economics : a theory that reducing taxes especially for rich people will lead to an improved economy supply teacher noun, pl ~ -ers [count] Brit : SUBSTITUTE TEACHER

¹sup·port /səˈpoʊt/ verb -ports; -port·ed; -port·ing [+ obj]

1 a : to agree with or approve of (someone or something) • I completely support your decision to stay. • She no longer supports the war. • The senator says that he supports the proposed legislation. • Which presidential candidate do you support? • The study is supported by the American Medical Association. b : to show that you approve of (someone or something) by doing something • The country's citizens were asked to support the war effort. • Her friends supported her by signing her petition.

2 a : to give help or assistance to (someone or something) • The charity supports needy families. • Bombers were called in to support the ground troops. b : to provide what is needed by (someone or something) • The planet's atmosphere cannot support human life. • This computer does not support that software. [=you cannot use that software on this computer] c : to provide the money that is needed by or for (someone or something) • He works two jobs to support his family. • She has two children to support. • We support the charity by making annual donations. • The foundation supports cancer research. • The theater is supported by donations. • She sold illegal drugs to support her own drug habit.

3 : to hold (something or someone) up : to stop (something or someone) from falling down • Thick cables help support the bridge. • The roof is supported by thick wooden pillars throughout the house. • She supported herself on my arm as we walked together. • He supports himself with a cane.

4 : to provide evidence for (something) : to help show that (something) is true • His alibi is supported by his neighbors. • The results of the study support her theory. • Their claims are not supported by the evidence.

5 chiefly Brit : to be a fan of (a sports team) • She supports both teams.

²support noun, pl -ports

1 [noncount] : the act of showing that you believe that someone or something is good or acceptable : approval of someone or something • The proposal has had little public support. [=few people have supported the proposal] • The team gets a lot of support from its fans. • The candidate is gaining support among young voters. [=many more young voters say they will vote for the candidate] — often + for • There isn't much support for the proposal. • You can show your support for our cause by wearing one of these red ribbons.

2 [noncount] a : the act of helping someone by giving love, encouragement, etc. • I'd like to thank my parents for all of their love and support over the years. • He depended on his wife for emotional support. • We all came along to give her moral support. [=to give her encouragement] b : help that is given in the form of money or other valuable things • He applied for financial support from the state. • They had no means of support [=source of income] after they lost their farm. — see also CHILD SUPPORT c : the act of helping someone by giving information or services • She was having trouble connecting to the Internet, so she called technical/tech support [=a department or person that helps people with computer problems] for assistance. • the company's friendly support staff

3 a [count] : something that holds a person or thing up and stops that person or thing from falling down • Inspectors found that some of the bridge's supports were weak. • She used my arm as a support and limped to the chair. b [noncount] : the act of holding something up • These sneakers are designed to give your feet extra support. — often used after for • He grabbed the railing for support.

4 [noncount] : evidence which shows that something is true • The results of the study give further support to the hypothesis. • The police continue to gather support for their case.

in support of 1 : in a way that shows approval of (something) : in favor of (something) • A majority voted in support of the bill. 2 : in order to support (something) • He presented evidence in support of his hypothesis. [=evidence that helps to prove his hypothesis] • The band is touring in support of their latest album. [=to help promote their latest album]

— see also LIFE SUPPORT

sup·port·er /səˈpoʊtə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who supports an idea, a politician, a cause, etc. • the proposal's supporters • the President's supporters • a supporter of the Independent party

2 : a fan of a sports team • the team's loyal supporters

— see also ATHLETIC SUPPORTER support group noun, pl ~ groups [count] : a group of people who have similar experiences and concerns and who meet in order to provide emotional help, advice, and encouragement for one another • He joined an alcoholics' support group.

supporting adj, always used before a noun

1 : having a less important part than the main actor or actress • She won the award for best supporting actress. • He has a supporting role in the movie.

2 : holding something up : keeping something from falling down • the house's supporting beams/walls

3 : showing that something is true • There is no supporting evidence for her claim. [=there is no evidence that supports her claim]

— see also SELF-SUPPORTING sup-port-ive /sə'pɔːtɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : giving help or encouragement to someone • She has very supportive parents. • Try to be more supportive of your teammates.

support system noun, pl ~ -tems [count] : a group of people who give someone help, money, encouragement, etc. • students who have good support systems at home

sup-pose /sə'pəʊz/ verb -pos-es; -posed; -pos-ing [+obj]

1 : to think of (something) as happening or being true in order to imagine what might happen • Suppose a fire broke out. How would we escape? • Just suppose for a moment that you agreed with me. • Supposing he refuses to help, what do we do then?

2 a : to believe (something) to be true • The renovations will cost much more than we originally supposed. • Who do you suppose [=think] will win? b : to believe (something) to be possible — usually used following the pronoun I • I suppose [=chiefly US] I guess you're right. • I suppose that could happen, but it's not likely. • You could say, I suppose, that he was not ready for marriage. • "Do you suppose it's true?" "Yes, I suppose it is." ♦ In responding to a question, the phrase I suppose (so) is used as a way of agreeing or saying "yes" when you are not certain or not very excited or interested. • "The pink one is prettier, isn't it?" "I suppose." • "Do you want to come along?" "I suppose so." ♦ The phrase I suppose not is used as an informal way of agreeing with a negative statement or of saying "no." • "That wasn't a very smart thing to do, was it?" "I suppose not."

3 — used to ask a question in a polite way • Do you suppose you could help me make dinner? = I don't suppose you could help me make dinner? [=could you help me make dinner?] • I don't suppose you found the keys, did you? [=did you find the keys?]

be supposed 1 a : to be expected to do something • They are supposed to arrive tomorrow. • She was supposed to be here an hour ago. • The movie was supposed to earn a lot of money at the box office, but it didn't. b : to be intended or expected to be (something) • The party was supposed to be a surprise. c — used to show that you are angry or offended by something; followed by to + verb • Was that supposed to be funny? I thought it was quite rude. • "Well, you've done it again." "What's that supposed to mean?" [=what do you mean by that comment?] 2 a — used to say what someone should do; followed by to + verb • You are supposed to listen to your parents. • I'm supposed to clean my room before I go outside. • What are we supposed to do [=what should/can we do] in a situation like this? • Do what you're supposed to. b — used to say what someone is allowed to do; followed by to + verb • We were not supposed to leave the room. • Are you supposed to be here after the building has closed? 3 — used to indicate what people say about someone or something; followed by to + verb • She is supposed to be the best doctor in town. [=people say that she's the best doctor in town] • That breed of dog is supposed to be good with kids. • The word is supposed to be derived from Latin.

sup-posed /sə'pəʊzəd/ adj, always used before a noun : claimed to be true or real — used to say that a particular description is probably not true or real even though many people believe that it is • a supposed cure for cancer • supposed experts sup-pos-ed-ly /sə'pəʊzədli/ adv : according to what someone has said or what is generally believed to be true or real • These detergents are supposedly better for the environment. • He has supposedly changed since then, but I'm doubtful that he really has. • Supposedly, she left a message on my answering machine. I never actually got it.

sup-po-si-tion /ˌsʌpə'zɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : an idea or theory that you believe is true even though you do not have proof [count] an idle supposition [=assumption] • a supposition that proved correct • Her decision was made on the supposition that we would all agree. [=when she made her decision she supposed/assumed that we would all agree] [noncount] This is just idle supposition.

sup-pos-i-to-ry /sə'pɔːzə'tɔːri, Brit sə'pɔːzə'tri/ noun, pl -ries [count] medical : a small piece of solid medicine that is placed in the rectum or vagina and left there to dissolve

sup-press /sə'pres/ verb -press-es; -pressed; -press-ing [+obj]

1 : to end or stop (something) by force • Political dissent was brutally suppressed. • suppressing a rebellion

2 : to keep (something) secret : to not allow people to know about or see (something) • The governor tried to suppress the news. • The judge may decide to suppress the evidence. [=to not allow the evidence to be used at a trial] • She ordered the magazine (to be) suppressed.

3 a : to not allow yourself to feel, show, or be affected by (an emotion) • He struggled to suppress his feelings of jealousy. • She could not suppress her anger. • I had to suppress an urge to tell him what I really thought. b : to stop yourself from doing something (such as smiling, coughing, or laughing) that might bother other people • I found it hard to suppress a smile [=to keep myself from smiling] when he told me about what happened. • She tried to suppress a cough/laugh. [=she tried not to cough/laugh]

4 : to slow or stop the growth, development, or normal functioning of (something) • a drug that suppresses the immune system • The pill works by suppressing your appetite.

— sup-pres-sion /sə'preʃən/ noun [noncount] • political suppression • the suppression of evidence • the suppression of your emotions • appetite suppression

sup-pres-sant /sə'presnt/ noun, pl -sants [count] : a drug that prevents or controls something • cough suppressants • an appetite suppressant

su-pra-na-tion-al /ˌsuːprə'næʃənəl/ adj, formal : involving more than one country • a supranational treaty

su-prem-a-cist /sə'preməsɪst/ noun, pl -cists [count] : a person who believes that one group of people is better than all other groups and should have control over them • racial/religious/cultural supremacists • a supremacist group/organization — see also WHITE SUPREMACIST su-prem-a-cy /sə'preməsi/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of having more power, authority, or status than anyone else : the state of being supreme • military/economic supremacy • a battle/struggle for supremacy

su-preme /sə'pri:m/ adj

1 : highest in rank or authority • NATO's supreme commander • She reigns supreme [=is the best] in the world of tennis.

2 : highest in degree or quality : greatest or highest possible • The board has supreme authority over such issues. • She has an air of supreme confidence about her. • the supreme example of what not to do • a problem of supreme importance • It's a matter of supreme indifference to her. • He made the supreme sacrifice [=he died] for his country.

— su-preme-ly adv • supremely [=extremely] confident/indifferent/imaginative • supremely boring/unimportant

Supreme Being noun

the Supreme Being literary : GOD 1

supreme court or Supreme Court noun [singular] : the highest court of law in a country or U.S. state • Supreme Court justices/decisions • The case went all the way to the (U.S.) Supreme Court.

su-pre-mo /sə'pri:mou/ noun, pl -mos [count] Brit, informal : a person who has the most authority or power in a particular activity • drug supremos • a banking supremo

Supt. (US) or chiefly Brit Supt abbr superintendent

sur-charge /'sɜːtʃɑːdʒ/ noun, pl -charg-es [count] : an amount of money that must be paid in addition to the regular price • The airline has added a $20 fuel surcharge on all international flights.

1 sure /'ʃʊə, Brit 'ʃɔː/ adj sur-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 not used before a noun : not having any doubt about something : convinced or certain • I am sure (that) everything will be fine. • We are quite/completely sure (that) we will be finished on time. • She's not sure who will be there. • Are you sure you want to go? • Are you sure about that? • She'll be there, I'm sure of it. • Are you sure of the results?

2 : not allowing any doubt or possibility of failure • The return of the robins is a sure sign of spring. • The letter is a sure indication that she cares. • Pizza is a sure crowd pleaser. • The surest way to lose weight is with diet and exercise. • One sure way to improve your health is to stop smoking. • He's a sure bet to receive the award. [=he's sure/certain to receive the award] • It's a sure thing that they'll win. [=it is certain that they'll win] • Flowers and chocolates are always sure things [=people always like to be given flowers and chocolates], but consider giving your wife something different this year. — see also SURE THING (below)

3 — used to say that something will definitely happen or that someone will definitely do something; usually followed by to + verb • It's sure to be a great party. • I'll be sure to call when I get home. • They are sure to win. • Her latest movie is sure to make you laugh. • Whatever you say, he's sure to disagree with you.

4 : known to be true or correct • What is sure [=definite, indisputable] is that they have a problem, and we have the means to fix it. • Nothing else is sure. • One thing is (for) sure, we'll never eat there again. [=we certainly will never eat there again]

5 a : firm or solid • a sure hold/grip • a hiking boot that provides sure footing [=that helps to keep your foot from slipping] — often used figuratively • He lacks a sure grasp of the issue. [=he does not understand the issue well] • She has a sure command of the French language. b : calm, steady, and confident • the sure hands of a surgeon be sure — used to tell someone not to forget to do something • Be sure to lock the door when you leave.

for sure : without a doubt : definitely or certainly • No one knows for sure [=for certain] what happened. • That was a mistake for sure. = That for sure was a mistake. • (US, informal) “Do you want to come to the party?” “For sure.” [=I certainly do] • “We don't want that to happen again.” “That's for sure!” [=that is certainly true]

make sure : to find out or do something so that you have no doubt about whether something is true, correct, will happen, etc. • Make sure (that) you turn the oven off. • Remember to make sure (that) all the doors are locked. • They made sure everyone knew where they were supposed to be. • Make sure it doesn't happen again.

sure of yourself 1 : confident in your abilities • He was never very sure of himself as a comedian. 2 somewhat disapproving : overly confident or arrogant • They seem awfully sure of themselves.

sure thing informal — used to say “yes” or to agree to a request or suggestion • “Can you be here in five minutes?” “Sure thing.” — see also SURE 2 (above) to be sure formal — used to say that you admit that something is true • It will be challenging, to be sure, but I am confident that we will succeed.

²sure adv, informal

1 a — used to say “yes” or to agree to a request or suggestion • “Can you help me with this?” “Sure.” [=certainly] b — used to disagree with a negative statement or suggestion • “I don't think he's coming.” “Sure he is. He's just a little late.” • “Don't you like popcorn?” “Sure I like popcorn. I just don't want any right now.”

2 — used to emphasize that you agree with the first part of the statement that you are about to make • Sure, she's very talented, but other factors could limit her success.

3 US — used as an informal way to accept someone's thanks • “Thank you for your help.” “Sure.” [=you're welcome]

4 US — used for emphasis • I sure am tired. • This sure beats working. • “Do you want to come?” “I sure do!” • (impolite) I sure as hell hope you know what you're doing!

sure enough — used to say that what happened was not surprising or unexpected • We were finally ready to go outside, and sure enough, it started to rain.

sure-fire /'ʃə'fajə, Brit 'ʃɔ:'fajə/ adj, always used before a noun, informal : certain not to fail : sure to be successful • surefire solutions • The movie is a surefire hit/success with teenagers. • There is no surefire way to predict the outcome.

sure-foot-ed /'ʃə'fʊtəd, Brit 'ʃɔ:'fʊtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not likely to slip or fall when walking, climbing, or running • a surefooted athlete • as surefooted as a mountain goat — often used figuratively • a surefooted leader [=a confident leader who is not likely to make mistakes] • surefooted leadership

— sure-foot-ed-ly adv • He surefootedly made his way through the difficult terrain. — sure-foot-ed-ness noun [noncount]

sure-hand-ed /'ʃə'hændəd, Brit 'ʃɔ:'hændəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] US : not likely to drop something (such as a ball) that you are holding or catching • a sure-handed ball player — often used figuratively • a confident and sure-handed director [=a director who is not likely to make mistakes] • sure-handed leadership

— sure-hand-ed-ly adv — sure-hand-ed-ness noun [noncount]

sure-ly /'ʃəli, Brit 'ʃɔ:li/ adv

1 : in a confident way • She answered quickly and surely.

2 formal a : without a doubt : CERTAINLY • He will surely be missed. • This is surely the best dessert you have ever made. • Surely you must admit that it was a good decision. b — used in negative statements to show surprise that something could be true • “Are they going to get away with it?” “Surely not.” • Surely you don't think that we are responsible for this! • Surely you haven't forgotten my name!

slowly but surely see SLOWLY sure-ness /'ʃənəs, Brit 'ʃɔ:nəs/ noun : a feeling that you know what you want to do and that you are able to do it [singular] He spoke with a newfound sureness [=confidence] in his voice. [noncount] She performs with the sureness of a veteran actress. • the artist's sureness of touch/technique/hand sure-ty /'ʃərəti, Brit 'ʃɔ:rəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [count] law : money that you give as a guarantee that you will do what you are legally required to do (such as to appear in court) • a surety of $10,000 = a $10,000 surety bond

2 law : someone who agrees to be legally responsible if another person fails to pay a debt or to perform a duty [count] As sureties, they will be liable in his place. [noncount] She will stand surety for him. [=she agrees to be legally responsible if he fails to do what he promised]

3 [noncount] formal : the state of being or feeling sure or certain • She answered with surety. [=certainty]

¹surf /'sɜf/ verb surfs; surfed; surf-ing

1 [no obj] : to ride on ocean waves using a special board (called a surfboard) • He learned to surf when he was living in California. — see also WINDSURF

2 : to look for information or other interesting things on the Internet [+ obj] surfing the Internet/Web [no obj] surfing on the Internet/Web — see also CHANNEL SURFING, SURFING — surf-er noun, pl -ers [count]

²surf noun [noncount] : large waves that fall on the shore and the white foam and sound that they produce • We could hear the roar of the surf. — see color picture on page C7

¹sur-face /'sɜfəs/ noun, pl -fac-es

1 [count] : an outside part or layer of something • The painting's surface is covered with fine cracks. • The bowl has a shiny surface. • The surface of wood was rough. • Be careful of icy surfaces on the roads. • a textured surface

2 [count] : the upper layer of an area of land or water — usually singular • Hot lava bubbled up to the Earth's surface. • exploring the surface of Mars • The pipes are buried deep below the surface. • The pond's surface was covered with leaves. • bubbles rose/floated to the surface (of the water)

3 [count] : the flat, top part of something (such as a table or desk) that you can work on • kitchen work surfaces

4 the surface : the part of someone or something that is easy to see or notice : the outer quality or appearance of someone or something that may not show true or hidden problems, feelings, etc. • On the surface the plan seems simple. • She seemed fine on the surface, but underneath, she was suffering. • Their relationship has a lot of problems simmering below/beneath/under the surface. • His true feelings lie close to the surface. [=they are easy to see] • The tension between them is beginning to rise to the surface. [=it is becoming easy to see]

5 [count] : a flat or curved side of an object • Each surface of the die is marked with one to six black dots.

scratch the surface see SCRATCH

²surface verb -faces; -faced; -fac-ing

1 [no obj] : to rise to the surface of water • The whale surfaced and then dove back down. • The submarine surfaced.

2 [no obj] : to appear or become obvious after being hidden or not seen • The information surfaced many years later. • After several years, the actress surfaced in a comedy. • Suspicions eventually surfaced.

3 [+ obj] : to put a surface on (something, such as a road) • The road needs to be surfaced again.

4 [no obj] chiefly Brit, informal : to wake up and get out of bed • She hasn't surfaced yet.

³surface adj, always used before a noun

1 : involving only the parts that are easy to see or notice : SUPERFICIAL • surface friendships • Despite the surface differences between the two candidates, they are very similar in most ways.

2 : involving the removal of the surface of a large area of land to get at coal or other material that is near to the surface • surface mining • a surface mine surface area noun [singular] : the amount of area covered by the surface of something • The lake has roughly the same surface area as 10 football fields.

surface mail noun [noncount] : mail that is carried on land rather than by air or by sea surface tension noun [noncount] technical : the force that causes the molecules on the surface of a liquid to be pushed together and form a layer surface-to-air missile noun, pl ~ -siles [count] : a missile that is fired from the ground or a ship and directed at an airplane surface-to-surface missile noun, pl ~ -siles [count] : a missile that is fired from the ground or a ship and directed at a target on the ground surf and turf noun [noncount] chiefly US : seafood and steak served together as a meal at a restaurant • We both ordered the surf and turf.

surf-board /'səf,boəd/ noun, pl -boards [count] : a long, light, narrow board that is used for surfing surfeit /'səfət/ noun [singular] formal : an amount that is too much or more than you need — + of • a surfeit of choices

surfing /'səfɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the activity or sport of riding ocean waves on a special board (called a surfboard) • Her hobbies include diving and surfing. • We went surfing yesterday.

2 : the activity of looking for information or interesting things on the Internet • Web surfing — see also CHANNEL SURFING

¹surge /'sɜːdʒ/ verb surg-es; surged; surg-ing [no obj]

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to move very quickly and suddenly in a particular direction • We all surged toward the door. • She surged past the other runners. • Thoughts of what could happen were surging through his mind. • She has been surging in the polls. [=she is quickly becoming more popular as a candidate]

2 : to suddenly increase to an unusually high level • Housing prices have surged in recent months. • Interest in the sport has been surging.

— surging adj • surging oil costs • surging demand/growth • the country's surging population • a surging interest in the sport

²surge noun, pl surges [count]

1 : a sudden, large increase • The sport is enjoying a surge in popularity. • a surge of support for the candidate • a surge of excitement — see also UPSURGE

2 : a sudden movement of many people • There was a sudden surge toward the door. • There has been a surge of immigrants into the city.

3 : a large wave of water • an ocean surge

4 : a sudden increase in the amount of electricity that is flowing through an electrical circuit • an electrical/power surge

surgeon /'sɜːdʒən/ noun, pl -geons [count] : a doctor who performs operations that involve cutting into someone's body in order to repair or remove damaged or diseased parts : a doctor who performs surgery • a brain/heart surgeon — see also PLASTIC SURGEON surgeon general noun, pl surgeons general or surgeon generals [count] : the chief medical officer of a branch of the military or of a public health service • a health warning from the (U.S.) Surgeon General surge protector noun, pl ~ -tors [count] : a device that prevents an electrical surge from damaging electronic equipment

surfboard

sur-gery /'sɜːdʒəri/ noun, pl -ger-ies

1 : medical treatment in which a doctor cuts into someone's body in order to repair or remove damaged or diseased parts [noncount] He's a specialist in brain surgery. • The doctor has recommended surgery. • He has recently undergone surgery on his shoulder. • The patient is still in surgery. [=still being operated on] • The doctor has been in surgery [=performing an operation] for two hours. [count] (chiefly US) • She is now recovering from her surgery. [=operation] • a doctor who has performed many surgeries — see also PLASTIC SURGERY

2 [noncount] chiefly US : the area in a hospital where surgery is performed • The patient was taken directly to surgery. — compare OPERATING ROOM

3 [count] Brit : a place where a doctor or dentist treats people • I was waiting in the doctor's surgery. [= (US) office]

4 [noncount] Brit : OFFICE HOURS 3

5 [count] Brit : a special period of time when people can visit a member of the British Parliament to ask questions

sur-gi-cal /'sɜːdʒɪkəl/ adj, always used before a noun

1 a : of or relating to the process of performing a medical operation : of or relating to surgery • a simple surgical procedure/treatment b : used during surgery • surgical instruments/gloves/masks/tape c : resulting from a surgery • a surgical scar/fever

2 : very careful and accurate • The work was done with surgical precision/exactness. • a surgical strike [=a carefully planned military attack that does not damage the surrounding area]

— sur-gi-cal-ly /'sɜːdʒɪkli/ adv • The tumor will have to be surgically removed.

surgical spirit noun [noncount] Brit : RUBBING ALCOHOL sur-ly /'sɜːli/ adj sur-li-er; -est : rude and unfriendly • surly customers

— sur-li-ness /'sɜːlɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

sur-mise /sə'maɪz/ verb -mis-es; -mised; -mis-ing [+ obj] formal : to form an opinion about something without definitely knowing the truth : GUESS • We can only surmise what happened. • He must have surmised that I was not interested.

— surmise noun, pl -mises [count, noncount] • This is no more than a surmise. [=guess]

sur-mount /sə'maʊnt/ verb -mounts; -mount-ed; -mount-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to deal with (a problem or a difficult situation) successfully • Women often have to surmount [=overcome] social barriers to advance their careers. • surmounting obstacles

2 : to be placed at the top of (something) — usually used as (be) surmounted • a chain-link fence that is surmounted [=topped] by barbed wire

— sur-mount-able /sə'maʊntəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • These setbacks are surmountable.

sur-name /'sɜːneɪm/ noun, pl -names [count] : the name that is shared by the people in a family • In English, your surname comes after your first name and middle name. • She took her husband's surname when they got married. — called also FAMILY NAME; compare LAST NAME sur-pass /sə'pæs, Brit sə'paɪs/ verb -pass-es; -passed; -pass-ing [+ obj] : to be better or greater than (someone or something) • She soon surpassed [=exceeded] her teacher in skill and proficiency. • Attendance is expected to surpass last year's record. • Last quarter, sales surpassed two million. • His work regularly surpasses all expectations.

sur-pass-ing /sə'pæsnɪŋ, Brit sə'paɪsnɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun, formal : very great : to a much greater degree than others • a woman of surpassing grace and beauty — sur-pass-ing-ly adv • surpassingly difficult

sur-plice /'sɜːpləs/ noun, pl -plic-es [count] : a loose, white piece of clothing that is worn by priests or singers at church services

¹sur-plus /'sɜːpləs/ noun, pl -plus-es : an amount (such as an amount of money) that is more than the amount that is needed [noncount] If there is any surplus, it will be divided equally. [count] crop surpluses • There is a surplus of workers and not enough jobs. • The state currently has a $3 million budget surplus. [=has $3 million more than it needs to pay for all of its planned expenses] — opposite DEFICIT; see also TRADE SURPLUS surplus to requirements Brit, formal : no longer needed • His services had become surplus to requirements.

²surplus adj : more than the amount that is needed • surplus food/cloth/equipment • The government bought the surplus grain to help growers.

¹sur-prise /sə'praɪz/ noun, pl -pris-es

1 [count] a : an unexpected event, piece of information, etc. • What a pleasant surprise to see you! • It's no surprise that he doesn't want to go. • Is it any surprise that she should feel disappointed? • The news came as a (complete/total) surprise to everyone. [=everyone was surprised by the news] • It came as no surprise to me. [=I was not surprised by it] • The teacher sprang a surprise on us and gave a pop quiz. • They are in for a (big/real) surprise [=they are going to be very surprised] when they come home. b : an unexpected gift, party, etc. • I have a special surprise for the children. • The trip was a surprise for her birthday. • Is the party a surprise?

2 [noncount] : the feeling caused by something that is unexpected or unusual • She expressed surprise at their decision. [=she said that she was surprised by their decision] • Imagine our surprise when they sold their house and moved to the Bahamas. • Much to our surprise, she refused. [=we were very surprised when she refused] • He stared at her in surprise. • The attackers were relying on the element of surprise. [=they were relying on their attack being unexpected]

3 — used as an interjection • Surprise! Happy Birthday!
catch/take (someone or something) by surprise 1 : to happen to (someone or something) unexpectedly : to surprise (someone or something) • The question caught him by surprise. • The organization was taken completely by surprise by the announcement. 2 : to attack, capture, or approach (someone or something) without warning • The enemy troops took us completely by surprise. • Photographers caught the couple by surprise as they were leaving a restaurant.

surprise, surprise informal — used to say in a joking or ironic way that something is not surprising at all • “She’s going to be late again.” “Surprise, surprise.”

2 surprise verb -prises; -prised; -pris-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (someone) to feel surprised • The results will surprise you. • Nothing you could say would surprise me. • They surprised everyone by moving to the Bahamas. • He surprised her at work with a vase of flowers. [=he unexpectedly gave her a vase of flowers while she was at work]

2 : to find, attack, or meet (someone or something) unexpectedly • A police officer surprised the burglars. • The troops were surprised by an attack from the north.

3 surprise adj, always used before a noun : not expected : causing a feeling of surprise • a surprise best seller/success • She made a surprise announcement/appearance at the concert. • I got a surprise call/visit from the governor. • We threw him a surprise party. [=we secretly planned a party for him and did not tell him about it until he arrived] surprised adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing the feeling that people get when something unexpected or unusual happens : feeling or showing surprise • She had a surprised expression on her face. • Are you surprised that they aren't going? • I'm not surprised. I always thought he would do it. — often followed by to + verb • I am surprised to hear about the changes. • They seemed very surprised to see us. — often + at or by • I wasn't at all surprised by the news. • You would be surprised at how much things have changed.

surprising adj [more ~; most ~] : unexpected or unusual : causing surprise • surprising results • It's not surprising that he doesn't want to go. • The changes to the campus were surprising. • He shows a surprising lack of concern for others. • A surprising number of people were laid off at the factory.

— sur-pris-ing-ly /sə'praɪzɪŋli/ adv • Not surprisingly, he agreed. • She earns a surprisingly low salary. • The event went surprisingly well, considering the bad weather.

sur-re-al /sə'ri:l/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very strange or unusual : having the quality of a dream • a surreal atmosphere/experience • The whole thing was completely surreal.

sur-re-al-ism /sə'ri:jə,lɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : a 20th-century art form in which an artist or writer combines unrelated images or events in a very strange and dreamlike way

— sur-re-al-ist /sə'ri:jəlist/ noun, pl -ists [count]
— surrealist adj • a surrealist painting

sur-re-al-is-tic /sə'ri:jə'lɪstɪk/ adj

1 : very strange : SURREAL • It was a surrealistic experience.

2 : of or relating to surrealism • a surrealistic painter/painting

1 sur-ren-der /sə'rendə/ verb -ders; -dered; -der-ing

1 : to agree to stop fighting, hiding, resisting, etc., because you know that you will not win or succeed [no obj] The enemy finally surrendered after three days of fighting. • The gunman surrendered and was taken into custody. — often + to • After a short chase, the suspect surrendered to the police.

[+ obj] The suspect surrendered himself (to the police).

2 [+ obj] : to give the control or use of (something) to someone else • The troops were forced to surrender the fort. • He surrendered [=handed over] his weapon to the police. • They were required to surrender their passports. • They surrendered their rights. • the surrendering of land to the government

3 : to allow something (such as a habit or desire) to influence or control you — often + to [no obj] She surrendered [=gave in] to temptation and ordered dessert. • He refused to surrender to despair. [+ obj] He refused to surrender himself to despair.

2 surrender noun [singular]

1 : an agreement to stop fighting, hiding, resisting, etc., because you know that you will not win or succeed : an act of surrendering • Their surrender was formalized in a treaty. • They demanded an unconditional surrender.

2 : the act of giving the control or use of something to someone else • the surrender of territory

3 : the act of allowing yourself to be influenced or controlled by someone or something • a surrender to desire sur-rep-ti-tious /sə'rep'tɪʃəs/ adj : done in a secret way • She had a surreptitious relationship with her employee. • a surreptitious glance

— sur-rep-ti-tious-ly adv • He contacted her surreptitiously.

— sur-rep-ti-tious-ness noun [noncount]

sur-rey /'səri/ noun, pl -reys [count] US : a light, old-fashioned carriage that has two wide seats and four wheels and that is pulled by a horse sur-ro-ga-cy /'sərəgəsi/ noun [noncount] : the practice by which a woman (called a surrogate mother) becomes pregnant and gives birth to a baby in order to give it to someone who cannot have children • choosing between adoption and surrogacy

sur-ro-gate /'sərəgət/ noun, pl -gates [count]

1 : a person or thing that takes the place or performs the duties of someone or something else • He could not attend the meeting, so he sent his surrogate. • The governor and her surrogates asked the public to support the change.

2 : SURROGATE MOTHER • They had their baby through a surrogate.

— surrogate adj, always used before a noun • She considered them her surrogate family.

surrogate mother noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a woman who agrees to become pregnant in order to give the baby to someone who cannot have children

1 sur-round /sə'raʊnd/ verb -rounds; -round-ed; -round-ing [+ obj]

1 : to be on every side of (someone or something) • A wall surrounds the old city. — often used as (be) surrounded • The lake is surrounded by cottages.

2 : to move close to (someone or something) on all sides often in order to stop a person from escaping • Police surrounded the house. • They had the suspect surrounded. • She was suddenly surrounded by a crowd of excited fans.

3 : to be closely related or connected to (something) • There's a lot of uncertainty surrounding the decision. • His departure was surrounded by secrecy.

4 of a family, group, etc. : to always be near (someone) — often + with • Her family surrounded her with love and attention. [=her family gave her a lot of love and attention] — often used as (be) surrounded • As a child she was surrounded by her large, loving family.

surround yourself with (someone or something) : to cause (certain types of people or things) to be near you • He surrounds himself with very talented people. • They surround themselves with luxuries. [=they have many luxuries]

2 surround noun, pl -rounds [count] : a border or an area that is around the outside edge of something • a fireplace/bathtub surround • the park's urban surrounds

surrounding adj, always used before a noun : near or around someone or something • the surrounding area/neighborhood/land sur-round-ings /sə'raʊndɪŋz/ noun [plural] : the places, conditions, or objects that are around you : ENVIRONMENT • They will need some time to become familiar with their new surroundings.

sur-tax /'sə,tæks/ noun, pl -tax-es [count] : a tax that is charged on income which is more than a certain amount and that is charged in addition to the normal income tax sur-veil-lance /sə'veɪləns/ noun [noncount] : the act of carefully watching someone or something especially in order to prevent or detect a crime • government surveillance of suspected terrorists • The bank robbery was recorded by surveillance video cameras. • electronic surveillance [=the act of using electronic devices to watch people or things] • The police kept her under surveillance. [=watched her closely]

¹sur·vey /səˈveɪ/ noun, pl -veys [count]

1 : an activity in which many people are asked a question or a series of questions in order to gather information about what most people do or think about something : POLL • The survey found/revealed some surprising tendencies among the population. • We conducted an opinion survey on the issue and found that most people agree. • a survey on American drinking habits

2 : an act of studying something in order to make a judgment about it • Surveys of each department were conducted earlier this year. • A survey of recent corporate layoffs reveals a new trend in business management.

3 : an act of measuring and examining an area of land • A new land survey changed the borders of their property.

4 : a general description of or report about a subject or situation • a survey [=overview] of current events • surveys of English literature

5 Brit : a close examination of a building to see if it is in good condition • A survey [= (US) inspection] must be done before the house can be sold.

²sur·vey /səˈveɪ/ verb -veys; -veyed; -vey-ing [+ obj]

1 : to ask (many people) a question or a series of questions in order to gather information about what most people do or think about something • A total of 250 city residents were surveyed about the project. • 64 percent of the people surveyed said that the economy was doing well. • The magazine surveyed its readers on their romantic relationships. [=the magazine took/conducted a survey of its readers to find out about their romantic relationships]

2 : to look at and examine all parts of (something) • The teacher surveyed the room. • People were surveying the damage after the storm.

3 : to measure and examine (an area of land) • Engineers surveyed the property to see what could be built on it.

4 : to give a general description or report of (something, such as a subject or a situation) • The class surveys American history before the Civil War.

5 Brit : to examine (a building) to make sure it is in good condition • The house must be surveyed [= (US) inspected] before it can be sold.

survey course noun, pl ~ courses [count] US : a class at a college or university that gives general information about a subject for students who have not studied it before : an introductory course at a college or university

sur·vey·or /səˈvejə/ noun, pl -ors [count]

1 : someone whose job is to measure and examine an area of land • a land surveyor

2 Brit : someone whose job is to examine buildings • Surveyors [= (US) inspectors] condemned the building. — see also QUANTITY SURVEYOR sur·viv·al /səˈvaɪvəl/ noun, pl -als

1 [noncount] : the state or fact of continuing to live or exist especially in spite of difficult conditions • The refugees depend on foreign aid for their survival. • Small businesses are fighting/struggling for survival. • the survival of an old folktale • The doctor said her chance of survival [=chance that she would get better and continue to live] was about 50 percent. — often used before another noun • The scouts learned basic survival skills/techniques. • Patients have a high survival rate if the cancer is detected early. • an animal's survival instinct [=an animal's ability to know what to do to stay alive] • He uses his wits as a survival mechanism. [=as a way of protecting himself from being hurt by other people]

2 [count] : something from an earlier period that still exists or is done — usually singular • The holiday custom is a survival from colonial times.

survival of the fittest 1 : NATURAL SELECTION 2 — used to refer to a situation in which only the people or things that are strongest, most skillful, etc., are able to succeed or to continue to exist • In the business world, it's survival of the fittest.

sur·viv·al·ist /səˈvaɪvəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who believes that government and society will soon fail completely and who stores food, weapons, etc., in order to be prepared to survive when that happens

— survivalist adj • survivalist techniques

sur·vive /səˈvaɪv/ verb -vives; -vived; -viv-ing

1 [no obj] a : to remain alive : to continue to live • I don't see how any creature can survive under those conditions. • bacteria that survive in extreme temperatures • (humorous) He didn't think he could survive without golf. — often + on • The plant survives on very little water. • They managed to survive on his small salary. • (humorous) I mainly survived on peanut butter and jelly sandwiches when I was in college. b : to continue to exist • Only a few written records survive from those times. • These ancient practices still survive in some regions. • Some of the original bridges survive. • Many businesses are struggling to survive in today's economy.

2 [+ obj] : to remain alive after the death of (someone) : OUT-LIVE • Only his son survived him. • She survived her husband by only a few years. — often used as (be) survived • She is survived by her three children.

3 [+ obj] a : to continue to be alive or to exist after (something) • They survived the crash/flood. • The fruit trees didn't survive [=live through] the harsh winter. • This type of plant cannot survive [=withstand] temperatures below freezing. b : to continue to function, succeed, etc., in spite of (something) • He survived a political scandal and was elected to the state legislature. • The company survived the recession. • helpful hints for surviving the holidays

— sur·viv·able /səˈvaɪvəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • This form of cancer is survivable if it's detected early.

— surviving adj • one of the few surviving traditions • His son is his sole surviving heir.

sur·vi·vor /səˈvaɪvə/ noun, pl -vors [count]

1 a : a person who continues to live after an accident, illness, war, etc. • She interviewed survivors of the flood. • a Holocaust/cancer survivor • The plane crashed and there were no survivors. • There was only one survivor of the accident.

b : a member of a group who continues to live after other members have died • Most of the people I went to school with are gone now. I'm one of the few survivors. c : a family member who remains alive after another person's death • He died without any survivors.

2 : someone or something that continues to exist, function, compete, etc. • The survivors of the first round of competition will be meeting today in the second round. • This newspaper is the only survivor of six newspapers that were founded in the city in the 19th century.

3 : someone who is able to keep living or succeeding despite a lot of problems • There's no question about it—Aunt Annie's a survivor.

sus·cep·ti·bil·i·ty /səˈseptəˈbɪləti/ noun, pl -ties

1 : the state of being easily affected, influenced, or harmed by something — usually + to [count] — usually singular • They are concerned about the city's susceptibility to attack. • A weak immune system increases your susceptibility to disease. [noncount] A weak immune system causes increased susceptibility to disease.

2 susceptibilities [plural] chiefly Brit, formal : a person's feelings • We do not want to offend their susceptibilities. [=we do not want to offend them]

sus·cep·ti·ble /səˈseptəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : easily affected, influenced, or harmed by something • The virus can infect susceptible individuals. — often + to • He is very susceptible to colds. [=he catches colds easily] • a surface highly susceptible to scratches • He is susceptible to flattery.

2 formal : capable of being affected by a specified action or process — + of • a contract that is susceptible of modification [=a contract that can be modified] su·shi /ˈsuːʃi/ noun [noncount] : a Japanese dish of cold cooked rice shaped in small cakes and topped or wrapped with other ingredients (such as pieces of raw fish)

¹sus·pect /səˈspekt/ verb -pects; -pect-ed; -pect-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to think that (someone) is possibly guilty of a crime or of doing something wrong • He's suspected in four burglaries. — often + of • The police suspect him of murder. • No one suspects you of cheating. b : to think that (something) is possibly the cause of something bad — usually + of • The pesticide is suspected of causing cancer. c : to think that (a crime) has possibly been committed • The police do not suspect murder in this case. • The fire chief suspects arson.

2 : to think that (something, especially something bad) possibly exists, is true, will happen, etc. • We suspected a trap. • I suspect it will rain. • Call the doctor immediately if you suspect you've been infected. • The latest research confirms what scientists have long suspected. • I suspect she's not who she says she is. • "We haven't done our homework." "I suspected as much."

3 : to have feelings of doubt about (something) : to be suspicious about (something) • I suspected his motives in giving me the money. • I have reason to suspect her sincerity when she makes promises like that.

— suspected /sə'spektəd/ adj, always used before a noun • a suspected arsonist • The pesticide is a suspected carcinogen. • a suspected case of smallpox

2 sus·pect /'sʌspekt/ noun, pl -pects [count]

1 : a person who is believed to be possibly guilty of committing a crime • a murder suspect • One suspect has been arrested. • She is a possible/prime suspect in connection with the kidnapping.

2 : a thing that is thought of as a possible cause of something bad • The prime suspect for the food poisoning is the potato salad.

the usual suspects : the usual people or things that are suspected or thought of in a particular situation — often used humorously • The breakfast menu had all the usual suspects [=the usual things]—eggs, pancakes, waffles, and French toast.

3 sus·pect /'sʌspekt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not able to be trusted : causing feelings of doubt or suspicion • The suspect [=suspicious] vehicle was reported to the police. • The witness's claim was suspect. [=dubious, questionable] • The room had a suspect odor.

sus·pend /sə'spend/ verb -pends; -pend·ed; -pend·ing [+ obj]

1 : to force (someone) to leave a job, position, or place for a usually short period of time as a form of punishment • He was suspended from the team for missing too many practices. • The police officers were suspended without pay for their conduct. • The principal suspended the student from school for fighting.

2 a : to stop (something) for a usually short period of time • The city suspended bus service during the storm. • The company was forced to suspend operations. • They have suspended the peace talks. • The plot is ridiculous, but if you can suspend (your) disbelief [=allow yourself to believe that something is true even though it seems impossible], it's an enjoyable movie. b : to make (something) happen later : to delay (something) • The judge suspended [=postponed] the hearing for one week. • I advise suspending judgment until the investigation is over. c : to make (something) invalid or ineffective for a usually short period of time • Her license to practice law was suspended. • We can suspend the rules just this once. • He's driving with a suspended license.

3 a : to hang something so that it is free on all sides except at the point of support • They suspended the lantern from the ceiling. • A pot of stew was suspended over the fire. • a wire suspended between two poles [=hung so that it is attached at each end to a pole] b : to prevent (something) from falling or sinking by some invisible support — usually used as (be) suspended • Dust was suspended [=was floating] in the air. • The structure appears to be suspended in space.

suspended animation noun [noncount] : a state in which the processes of the body (such as blood circulation) stop or become very slow for a period of time while a person or animal is unconscious • animals that sleep through the winter in a state of suspended animation — often used figuratively • The project has been in (a state of) suspended animation for over 15 years.

suspended sentence noun, pl ~ -tences [count] law : a legal arrangement in which a person who has been found guilty of a crime is not sentenced to jail but may be sentenced for that crime at a future time if he or she commits another crime during a specified period • The judge handed down a suspended sentence to the first-time offender.

sus·pend·er /sə'spendə/ noun, pl -ers

1 suspenders [plural] US : straps that are used for holding up pants and that go over a person's shoulders — called also (Brit) braces; see color picture on page C14

2 [count] Brit : GARTER 2

suspender belt noun, pl ~ belts [count] Brit : GARTER BELT

sus·pense /sə'spens/ noun [noncount] : a feeling or state of nervousness or excitement caused by wondering what will happen • I can't bear/stand the suspense. • The suspense builds as the story progresses. • a novel of suspense • Alfred Hitchcock was a master of suspense. • The movie is a suspense thriller. • I don't know who won and the suspense is killing me. [=I am very anxious to know who won] • She kept him in suspense [=waiting anxiously] for two whole days before she agreed to marry him.

— sus·pense·ful /sə'spensfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a suspenseful story/situation/movie

sus·pen·sion /sə'spenʃən/ noun, pl -sions

1 : the act of forcing someone to leave a job, position, or place for a usually short period of time as a form of punishment : the act of suspending someone [count] He was angry about his suspension from the team. • His record shows several suspensions from school. [noncount] He's under suspension for breaking the rules.

2 [singular, noncount] : the act of stopping or delaying something for a usually short period of time • (a) suspension of peace talks

3 : the act of making something invalid or ineffective for a usually short period of time [count] a 30-day license suspension • a suspension of the rules [noncount] She was punished by suspension of her driver's license.

4 [count] technical : a substance (usually a liquid) that has very small pieces of a solid material mixed throughout it

5 [noncount] technical : the parts of a vehicle that connect the body to the tires and allow the vehicle to move more smoothly over uneven surfaces • the car's front/rear suspension suspension bridge noun, pl ~ bridges [count] : a bridge that is hung from two or more cables that are held up by towers

sus·pi·cion /sə'spiʃən/ noun, pl -cions

1 [noncount] : a feeling that someone is possibly guilty of a crime or of doing something wrong • Her strange behavior has aroused suspicion. [=has made people think that she is doing something wrong] • He is under suspicion of [=suspected of] selling illegal drugs. • He was arrested on suspicion of robbery. [=he was arrested because the police suspect that he committed a robbery] • They are not above/beyond suspicion. [=they are not considered to be obviously or certainly innocent and unable to be suspected]

2 [count] : a feeling that something bad is likely or true • There has long been a suspicion that the painting is a fake. • There was not the slightest suspicion of a trap. [=no one suspected a trap] • I thought the water might be making us sick, and my suspicions were confirmed by the lab tests. • The note aroused her suspicions that he was having an affair. • I have a sneaking suspicion that those cookies aren't really homemade.

3 : a feeling of doubt [noncount] The new policies are regarded by many with suspicion. • His story has raised some suspicion. [count] I have my suspicions about his motives.

4 [singular] : a very small amount of something : TRACE • a suspicion of garlic

the finger of suspicion see ¹FINGER

sus·pi·cious /sə'spiʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : causing a feeling that something is wrong or that someone is behaving wrongly : causing suspicion • We were instructed to report any suspicious activity/behavior in the neighborhood. • The suspicious vehicle was reported to police. • He died under suspicious circumstances. [=under circumstances that suggest a crime may have been committed] • Suspicious characters were seen hanging around the bank. • He found a suspicious lump on his back and was afraid it might be cancer.

2 : having or showing a feeling that something is wrong or that someone is behaving wrongly : feeling or showing suspicion • Officials are suspicious about her death. • His manner made me suspicious. — often + of • She became suspicious of his behavior. • The dog is suspicious of strangers. [=the dog does not trust strangers] • We noticed the suspicious stare of the security guard.

— sus·pi·cious·ly adv • "Is there someone in the bedroom?" he asked suspiciously. • The security guard stared at us suspiciously. • He was acting/behaving suspiciously. • The answers on the two students' tests are suspiciously alike. • This sounds suspiciously like an excuse to get out of work.

suss /'sʌs/ verb suss·es; sussed; suss·ing [+ obj] Brit, informal

1 : to find or discover (something) by thinking — usually + out • They had to suss out [=figure out] whether he was telling the truth. • I think I've got him sussed out. [=I understand what kind of person he is]

2 : to inspect or investigate (something) in order to gain more knowledge — usually + out • He carefully sussed out the situation.

sus·tain /sə'steɪn/ verb -tains; -tained; -tain·ing [+ obj]

1 : to provide what is needed for (something or someone) to exist, continue, etc. • There is not enough oxygen to sustain [=support] life at very high altitudes. • Hope sustained us during that difficult time. • The movie sustained our interest [=kept us interested] from beginning to end. • The country is enjoying a period of sustained [=continuing] economic growth. • a sustained discussion/effort

2 formal : to hold up the weight of (something) • The roof, unable to sustain the weight of all the snow, collapsed.

3 formal : to deal with or experience (something bad or unpleasant) : SUFFER • The army sustained heavy losses. • He sustained serious injuries in the accident.

4 law : to decide or state that (something) is proper, legal, or fair • The judge sustained the motion. • The lawyer's objection was sustained.

5 formal : to show that (something) is true or correct : to confirm or prove (something) • The report sustains their story/claims. • The evidence does not sustain a guilty verdict.

sus·tain·able /sə'steɪnəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : able to be used without being completely used up or destroyed • sustainable energy resources • a sustainable water supply

2 : involving methods that do not completely use up or destroy natural resources • sustainable agriculture/farming/techniques

3 : able to last or continue for a long time • sustainable development/growth

— sus·tain·abil·i·ty /sə'steɪnə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

— sus·tain·ably /sə'steɪnəbli/ adv

sus·te·nance /'sʌstənəns/ noun [noncount] formal

1 : something (such as food) that keeps someone or something alive • Tree bark provides deer with sustenance in periods of drought. • The village depends on the sea for sustenance.

2 : something that gives support, help, or strength • She draws spiritual sustenance from daily church attendance. • reading for intellectual sustenance

1 su·ture /'su:tʃə/ noun, pl -tures [count] medical : a stitch or a series of stitches used to close a cut or wound

2 suture verb -tures; -tured; -tur·ing [+ obj] medical : to sew together (a cut, wound, etc.) : to close (something) with a suture • The surgeon sutured the incision.

SUV /'ɛs,ju:'vi:/ noun, pl SUVs [count] : a large vehicle that is designed to be used on rough surfaces but that is often used on city roads or highways — called also sport-utility vehicle; see picture at CAR

svelte /'svelt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : thin in an attractive or graceful way : SLENDER • She has a svelte figure. • a svelte young actor • a svelte aircraft

SW abbr southwest, southwestern

1 swab /'swɑ:b/ noun, pl swabs [count]

1 : a small piece of soft material sometimes on the end of a small stick that is used for applying medicine, cleaning a wound, etc. • Use a cotton swab dipped in alcohol to disinfect the area.

2 : a small amount of material taken with a swab as a sample from a person's body • The doctor took a throat swab and sent it to the lab.

2 swab verb swabs; swabbed; swab·bing [+ obj]

1 : to wipe or clean (something, such as a wound) with a swab • The nurse swabbed the cut with a disinfectant.

2 : ²MOP 1 • sailors swabbing the decks

swad·dle /'swɑ:dl/ verb swad·dles; swad·dled; swad·dling [+ obj] : to wrap (someone, especially a baby) tightly with a blanket, pieces of cloth, etc. • He swaddled the baby in a blanket.

swaddling clothes noun [plural] : narrow strips of cloth that were wrapped around babies in the past • an infant wrapped in swaddling clothes

swag /'swæg/ noun [noncount] informal + old-fashioned : stolen property : LOOT • The robbers divided the swag.

1 swag·ger /'swægə/ noun, pl -gers [count] : a way of walking or behaving that shows you have a lot of confidence • He has a swagger that annoys some of his teammates.

2 swagger verb -gers; -gered; -ger·ing [no obj] : to walk in a very confident way : to walk with a swagger • He swaggered [=strutted] into the shop like he owned the place.

Swa·hi·li /'swɑ'hi:li/ noun [noncount] : a language widely used in East Africa and the Congo region swain /'swɛɪn/ noun, pl swains [count] old-fashioned + humorous : a man who is a woman's lover • a fair maiden and her swain

1 swal·low /'swɑ:lou/ verb -lows; -lowed; -low·ing

1 a : to take (something) into your stomach through your mouth and throat [+ obj] He swallowed the grape whole. [no obj] Chew your food well before you swallow. b [no obj] : to move the muscles in your throat as if you are swallowing something often because you are nervous • I swallowed before answering. • The boss said, "Come in." I swallowed hard and walked in. — sometimes used figuratively • If she insults you, just swallow hard [=make an effort to control yourself] and don't say anything.

2 [+ obj] a : to flow over and cover (something) completely — often + up • The wave swallowed up the small vessel. — often used figuratively • More small companies are being swallowed (up) [=taken over, absorbed] by giant conglomerates. • We watched as he was swallowed up by the crowd. [=as he disappeared into the crowd] b : to use up (an amount of money) — usually + up • The cost of childcare swallows up most of her income.

3 [+ obj] informal : to accept or believe (something) • Her story is pretty hard to swallow. • I can usually take criticism, but this is more than I can swallow.

4 [+ obj] : to not allow yourself to show or be affected by (an emotion) • We have to swallow our disappointment/anger about the election and keep trying to make things better. • She had to swallow her pride and ask for help.

(a) bitter pill to swallow see ¹PILL

2 swallow noun, pl -lows [count] : an amount that is swallowed at one time • She took a swallow of water to wash down the pill. : the act of swallowing something • He drank the water in/with one swallow. — compare ³SWALLOW

3 swallow noun, pl -lows [count] : a small bird that has long wings and a deeply forked tail — compare ²SWALLOW

swam past tense of ¹SWIM

swa·mi /'swɑ:mi/ noun, pl -mis [count] : a Hindu priest or religious teacher

1 swamp /'swɑ:mp/ noun, pl swamps : land that is always wet and often partly covered with water [noncount] The area is mostly swamp. [=swampland] [count] Alligators live in the lowland swamps.

— swampy /'swɑ:mpi/ adj swamp·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] • swampy land

2 swamp verb swamps; swamped; swamp·ing [+ obj]

1 : to cover (something) with water • The sea level rose and swamped the coastal villages. • The boat sank after it was swamped by waves.

2 : to cause (someone or something) to have to deal with a very large amount of things or people at the same time — usually used as (be) swamped • The agency has been swamped by requests for assistance. • I'm swamped with work right now. [=I'm extremely busy right now] • Because of the new laws, we were swamped with paperwork. • In the summer, the town is swamped with/by tourists.

swamp·land /'swɑ:mp,lænd/ noun, pl -lands : wet land that is partly covered with water : SWAMP [noncount] attempting to build on swampland [plural] the ecology of the coastal swamplands

1 swan /'swɑ:n/ noun, pl swans also swan [count] : a large usually white bird that lives on or near water and that has a very long and graceful neck

2 swan verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition swans; swanned; swan·ning [no obj] chiefly Brit, informal + disapproving : to go to or move about a place in a very relaxed and aimless way for your own pleasure • She's always swanning off to some exotic locale. • He's been swanning around foreign countries for the last six months.

1 swank /'swæŋk/ adj swank·er; -est chiefly US : very fashionable and expensive : SWANKY • a swank club/hotel/restaurant

2 swank verb swanks; swanked; swank·ing [no obj] Brit, informal + disapproving : to behave in a way that is intended to impress people • rich people swanking around in their expensive cars

swanky /'swæŋki/ adj swank·i·er; -est informal : very fashionable and expensive • a swanky club/hotel/restaurant swan song noun, pl ~ songs [count] : the last performance or piece of work by an actor, athlete, writer, etc. • She has announced that this tournament will be her swan song.

swan

[=this will be her last tournament]

¹swap also Brit swop /'swɑ:p/ verb swaps; swapped; swap-ping informal

1 : to give something to someone and receive something in return : to trade or exchange (things) [+ obj] He swapped his cupcake for a candy bar. • He swapped desserts with his brother. = He and his brother swapped desserts. • I'll swap my sandwich for your popcorn. = I'll swap you my sandwich for your popcorn. • I swapped seats with my sister so she could see the stage better. • We often get together and swap [=exchange] recipes. • We spent some time swapping stories about our college days. [=telling each other stories about our college days] [no obj] I liked her blue notebook and she liked my red one, so we swapped. • He wanted the window seat so we swapped. = (Brit) He wanted the window seat so we swapped over.

2 : to replace (something) with something else [+ obj] He swapped (out) his hard drive for a bigger one. • The nurse swapped [=switched] the patients' charts by mistake. [no obj] (Brit) Our company decided to swap over to a new supplier.

²swap noun, pl swaps [count] : an act of giving or taking one thing in return for another thing : a trade or exchange • They made the swap in secret. • an even swap swap meet noun, pl ~ meets [count] US : an event at which people can buy, sell, or trade used items sward /'swɔ:d/ noun, pl swards [count, noncount] literary : an area of land covered with grass

¹swarm /'swɔ:m/ noun, pl swarms [count] : a very large number of insects moving together • a swarm of bees/mosquitoes/ants/locusts — often used figuratively • The tourists arrived in swarms.

²swarm verb swarms; swarmed; swarm-ing

1 [no obj] : to move in a large group • Bees were swarming near the hive. • Spectators swarmed into the stadium.

2 a [no obj] : to be surrounded or filled with a large group of insects, people, etc., moving together • The hive was swarming with bees. • The island was swarming with tourists. b [+ obj] : to surround (something or someone) with a large group • Police swarmed the smuggler's hideout. • The movie star was swarmed by adoring fans. • Enemy soldiers swarmed the castle.

swarthy /'swɔ:ði/ adj swarthy; -est [also more ~; most ~] : having dark skin • a swarthy man/complexion

swash-buck-ler /'swɑ:f,bʌklə/ noun, pl -lers [count] : a person or a character in a movie, book, etc., who is very brave and has many exciting adventures

— swash-buck-ling /'swɑ:f,bʌkəlɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] • swashbuckling heroes • a swashbuckling tale/adventure swas-ti-ka /'swɑ:stɪkə/ noun, pl -kas [count] : a symbol in the form of a cross with its ends bent at right angles all in the same direction ♦ The swastika was used as a symbol of the German Nazi Party.

swat /'swɑ:t/ verb swats; swat-ted; swat-ting [+ obj] : to hit (someone or something) with a quick motion • She swat-ted the fly with a magazine. • The cat was swatting the injured mouse with its paw. • He swatted the tennis ball out of bounds.

— swat noun, pl swats [count] • He took a swat at the ball but missed. • She gave the ball a swat. [=she swatted the ball]

SWAT /'swɑ:t/ noun [noncount] chiefly US : a police or military unit that is specially trained to handle very dangerous situations — usually used before another noun • a SWAT team ♦ SWAT is an abbreviation of "special weapons and tactics."

swatch /'swɑ:tʃ/ noun, pl swatches [count] : a small piece of cloth that is used as a sample for choosing colors, fabrics, etc. • She looked at fabric swatches to select material for the drapes.

swath /'swɑ:θ/ or swathe /'swɑ:ð/ noun, pl swaths or swathes [count]

1 : a long, wide strip of land • An aerial view of the countryside shows wide swathes of green.

2 : an area of grass or grain that has been cut or mowed • He cut a swath through the field with his scythe. — often used figuratively • The tornado cut a swath through the county.

swathe /'swɑ:ð/ verb swathes; swathed; swath-ing [+ obj] literary : to wrap or cover (someone or something) • The nurse swathed the wounded soldier's leg in bandages. • Her neck was swathed in jewels. • mountains swathed in mist

¹sway /'sweɪ/ verb sways; swayed; sway-ing

1 [no obj] : to move slowly back and forth • branches sway-

ing in the breeze • He swayed a moment before he fainted.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to agree with you or to share your opinion • The lawyer tried to sway the jury. • She persisted in her argument, but I wouldn't let her sway me. — often used as (be) swayed • He can be easily swayed.

²sway noun [noncount]

1 : a slow movement back and forth • the sway of the ship • the sexy sway of her hips

2 : a controlling force or influence • He has them under his sway. [=he controls them] • He has come/fallen under the sway of terrorists. • The ancient Romans held sway over most of Europe. • The theory still holds sway today. [=still influences people today]

¹swear /'sweə/ verb swears; swore /'swɔə/; sworn /'swɔ:n/; swear-ing

1 a : to state (something) very strongly and sincerely [+ obj] I swear (that) I was there. [=I was definitely there; I am telling you the truth when I say that I was there] • Her English is so good that you would swear she has been studying it for years. [=you would really think that she has been studying it for years, even though she has not] • You'd swear (that) the jewels are real. [=the jewels look very real even though they are not] • I could have sworn that I left my keys on the counter. [=I'm very surprised that my keys are not on the counter because I definitely remember putting them there] • (US) She swore up and down [=insisted] (that) she didn't do it. • (Brit) He swore blind [=insisted] (that) he was innocent. [no obj] I didn't do anything wrong. I swear (on my mother's grave). [=I am being absolutely honest when I say that I didn't do anything wrong] • I wouldn't swear to it [=I'm not absolutely sure about it], but I think he's written three books so far. b : to promise very strongly and sincerely to do or not do something [+ obj] He swore [=vowed] to seek revenge. • He swore revenge on the killers. • I swear (that) I'll never do that again. [no obj] I swear to God, I'll kill him if he comes back. • I'll never do that again. Swear to God. [=I promise you that I'll never do that again]

2 [no obj] : to use offensive words when you speak • Don't swear in front of the children. — often + at • The other driver swore at me and drove away.

3 : to make a formal or official promise especially in a court of law [+ obj] I do solemnly swear to tell the whole truth. • They swore (an oath of) allegiance to the United States of America. [=they formally promised that they would be loyal to the United States of America] [no obj] Witnesses are required to swear on the Bible [=to put a hand on the Bible and make a formal promise to tell the truth] before they testify.

4 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to make a promise • He swore us to secrecy/silence. [=he made us promise not to tell anyone his secret] — often used as (be) sworn • Witnesses are sworn to tell the truth.

I swear informal — used for emphasis • I swear, every time I see her she's got a new boyfriend. • I swear, if I had a nickel for every time you did that, I'd be rich.

swear by [phrasal verb] swear by (something) : to have or express a lot of confidence in (something) : to say that (something) is very good or useful • She swears by this diet. • His method sounds pretty strange, but he swears by it.

swear in [phrasal verb] swear (someone) in or swear in (someone) : to place (someone) in a new office or position by having an official ceremony in which that person makes a formal promise to do the work properly, to be honest and loyal, etc. • When do they swear him in? — often used as (be) sworn in • The new president will be sworn in tomorrow. — see also SWEARING-IN swear off [phrasal verb] swear off (something) chiefly US : to stop doing, having, or being involved in (something) • He was so disgusted by the election results that he swore off politics for good. • She tried to swear off chocolate, but she couldn't do it.

— see also SWORN

²swear noun, pl swears [count] US, informal : SWEARWORD • I heard him say a swear.

swearing-in noun, pl swearings-in [count] : an occasion or ceremony in which someone begins a new official job or position by making a formal promise to do the work properly, to be honest and loyal, etc. — see also swear in at ¹SWEAR swear-word /'sweə,wɔ:d/ noun, pl -words [count] : an offensive word • a movie filled with violent images and rough swearwords

¹sweat /'swet/ verb sweats; sweat or sweat-ed; sweating

1 [no obj] : to produce a clear liquid from your skin when you are hot or nervous • He sweats a lot when he exercises. • The dancers were sweating [= (more formally) perspiring] profusely. • (informal) He was sweating like a pig. [=sweating a lot]

2 [no obj] informal : to work very hard • They sweated and saved so their children could go to college. — often + over • She was sweating over her law books all afternoon. • He sweated over the wording of his speech for several days.

3 informal a : to feel worried or nervous about something [no obj] We'll let them sweat a while longer. — often + over • After they took the test, they were sweating over [=worrying about] their scores. [+ obj] We'll let them sweat it out for a while longer. b [no obj] : to go through an experience that causes a lot of emotional stress or worry — usually + through • The cops made him sweat through 15 minutes of intense questioning before they let him go. • I sweated [=struggled] through geometry in high school. c [+ obj] US : to worry or be nervous about (something) • "The car won't start—what are we going to do?" "Don't sweat it. I know all about fixing cars." • Don't sweat the small stuff. [=don't worry about minor things]

4 [no obj] : to produce small drops of liquid on the surface • Cheese sweats during ripening. • A pitcher of ice water sweats on a hot day.

5 [+ obj] chiefly Brit : to cook (something) slowly in a covered pan with a little fat • Sweat sliced onions in a little olive oil until they are soft.

sweat blood see BLOOD

sweat bullets US, informal : to be very nervous or worried • I was sweating bullets while I waited to talk to my boss.

sweat off [phrasal verb] sweat off (something) or sweat (something) off : to lose (an amount of weight) by sweating (especially by exercising a lot) • He's trying to sweat off a few more pounds.

sweat out [phrasal verb] sweat out (something) or sweat (something) out informal 1 : to wait nervously until the end of (something) • It was a close game, and the fans were really sweating it out at the end. 2 US a : to work hard at (something) • She was sweating it out on the treadmill. [=she was exercising and sweating on the treadmill] b : to get or achieve (something, such as a victory) by working very hard • He managed to sweat out a narrow victory in the semifinals. 3 : to end (an illness) by exercising and sweating • He's trying to sweat out his cold at the gym.

²sweat noun

1 [noncount] : the clear liquid that forms on your skin when you are hot or nervous : PERSPIRATION • We were drenched/bathed in sweat after the workout. • The runners were dripping with sweat. • Her forehead was covered with beads of sweat.

2 [count] : the state or condition of someone who is sweating • nervous sweats — usually singular • After a few minutes of exercise, we had worked up a sweat. [=we were sweating] • I broke into a sweat as I struggled up the hill. = I broke out in a sweat as I struggled up the hill. [=I began to sweat as I struggled up the hill] — see also COLD SWEAT

3 [noncount] : hard work • It took a lot of sweat and toil to build the house. • We helped them not with money but with our blood and sweat.

4 [noncount] : moisture that forms in drops on a surface • He wiped the sweat [=condensation] off the bottle.

break a sweat (US) or Brit break sweat : to begin to sweat • He started running and soon broke a sweat. • He loaded all five boxes without breaking a sweat. — often used figuratively to say that something is not hard for someone to do • He gave a perfect performance and didn't break a sweat. • She rattled off the answers without breaking a sweat. [=she gave the answers very easily] by the sweat of your brow : by doing hard, physical work • He earned his money by the sweat of his brow.

in a sweat informal : very nervous or worried about something • He's in a sweat about his exams. • There's no need to get in a sweat about minor details.

no sweat informal : with little or no difficulty : EASILY • I can do that no sweat. • "Can you move that big board for me?" "Sure, no sweat." • "Thanks a lot for your help." "No sweat." [=helping was not difficult and I was glad to do it]

sweat-band /'swet,bænd/ noun, pl -bands [count]

1 : a band of material that you wear around your head or wrist to absorb sweat while you are exercising

2 : a band of material along the inner edge of a hat or cap to absorb sweat sweated labour noun [noncount] Brit : people who work hard and in poor conditions for low pay • goods made cheaply by sweated labour; also : the type of work done by such people sweat equity noun [noncount] US : value in a property, business, etc., that results from the work that a person does to improve it • He's built up a lot of sweat equity in his house; also : the work itself • He put countless hours of sweat equity into that old house.

sweat-er /'swetə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a warm usually knitted piece of clothing for the upper part of your body: such as a : one that is put on by pulling it over your head : PULLOVER — called also (Brit) jumper; see color picture on page C15 b US : one that opens like a jacket and that is fastened in the front with buttons or a zipper — called also cardigan

sweater vest noun, pl ~ vests [count] US : a sleeveless sweater worn over a shirt — called also (Brit) tank top sweat-pants /'swet,pænts/ noun [plural] chiefly US : pants made from a thick, soft material that are worn mostly when you are exercising — see color picture on page C14

sweats /'swets/ noun [plural] US, informal

1 : SWEATPANTS

2 : SWEAT SUIT

sweat-shirt /'swet,ʃɜ:t/ noun, pl -shirts [count] : a piece of clothing for the upper part of your body that is made from a thick, soft material — see color picture on page C14

sweat-shop /'swet,ʃɑ:p/ noun, pl -shops [count] : a place where people work long hours for low pay in poor conditions • clothing made in sweatshops • sweatshop conditions/labor/workers sweat suit noun, pl ~ suits [count] US : clothing that consists of a matching sweatshirt and sweatpants sweaty /'sweti/ adj sweat-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : causing you to sweat • sweaty work • a hot and sweaty afternoon

2 : wet with sweat • We were hot and sweaty after playing basketball. • sweaty palms • My clothes are all sweaty from my workout.

swede /'swi:d/ noun, pl swedes [count, noncount] Brit : RUTABAGA

Swede /'swi:d/ noun, pl Swedes [count] : a person born, raised in, or living in Sweden

¹sweep /'swi:p/ verb sweeps; swept /'swept/; sweep-ing

1 a always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to remove (something, such as dust or dirt) from a surface with a broom or brush or with a quick movement of your hand, fingers, etc. • He swept the dirt off the driveway. • He swept the crumbs from the table. b : to remove dust, dirt, etc., from (something) with a broom or brush [+ obj] She swept the floor. • I need to sweep the kitchen. • Are you finished sweeping the porch? [no obj] Have you swept yet? — see also SWEEP OUT (below), SWEEP UP (below)

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition a [no obj] : to move or pass quickly, forcefully, or smoothly • A storm swept across the plains. • Fires swept through the forest. — often used figuratively • She swept to victory on a wave of popularity. b [no obj] : to move or walk in a smooth, quick, and impressive way • She proudly swept into the room. • The limo swept up to the door. c [+ obj] : to push or move (something) quickly or forcefully • He swept the curtains aside. • She swept the books off the desk. d [+ obj] : to push, carry, or lift (someone or something) with great force • The debris was swept [=carried] out to sea by the tide. • She was swept toward the door by the crowd. • He swept her into his arms. — often used figuratively • We were swept along/away by her enthusiasm. • The party was swept into power in the last election.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] of a feeling or emotion : to be felt suddenly • Fear swept over/through her. [=she suddenly felt afraid] • A feeling of relief swept over him.

4 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to move (your hand, arm, etc.) in a wide, curving motion • He swept his arm across the table.

5 [+ obj] : to pass over (all of an area or place) in a continuous motion • The teacher's gaze swept the classroom. • A searchlight swept the area. • Strong winds sweep the mountainside.

6 [+ obj] : to become very popular or common suddenly in (a particular place) • It's the latest craze sweeping the nation.

7 [+ obj] : to win everything that can be won in (something, such as an election) in an easy or impressive way • The opposition party swept the election.

8 [+ obj] US, sports : to win all of the games in a series of games against another team • They swept their rivals in a three-game series. • They swept the series/doubleheader. • They were swept in the play-offs last year.

9 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to brush or pull (your hair) away from your face • She swept her hair up/back and clipped it in place.

10 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to form a long, smooth curve • The property sweeps down to the water's edge.

sweep aside [phrasal verb] sweep (something) aside or sweep aside (something) : to treat (something) as not important : to ignore (something) • He swept aside [=brushed aside] questions about his son's arrest. • He swept aside [=dismissed] their objections, refusing to change his plans.

sweep away [phrasal verb] sweep (something) away or sweep away (something) : to destroy or remove (something) completely • Floods swept away several houses. • an ancient civilization swept away by war • His performance today swept away any doubts about his ability to play.

sweep out [phrasal verb] sweep (something) out or sweep out (something) : to remove dust, dirt, etc., from (something) by using a broom or brush • Please sweep out the room when you're done working.

sweep (someone) off his/her feet : to make (someone) suddenly become very attracted to you in a romantic way • She says that he swept her off her feet, and they were married six months later.

sweep (something) under the rug (US) or chiefly Brit sweep (something) under the carpet : to hide (something that is illegal, embarrassing, or wrong) • He tried to sweep his past mistakes under the rug. • This is not something we can just sweep under the rug.

sweep the board chiefly Brit : to win everything that can be won in a competition • She swept the board at the awards ceremony.

sweep up [phrasal verb] 1 sweep up or sweep (something) up or sweep up (something) a : to remove dust, dirt, etc., from (something) by using a broom or brush • When I was sweeping up, I found an earring that I had lost. • Can you please sweep up the porch? b sweep (something) up or sweep up (something) : to remove (something, such as dust, dirt, etc.) from a surface by using a broom or brush • She swept up the broken glass. 2 sweep (someone or something) up or sweep up (someone or something) : to pick up (someone or something) in one quick, continuous motion • She swept the baby up and carried her to the crib.

²sweep noun, pl sweeps

1 [count] : an act of cleaning an area with a broom or brush — usually singular • He gave the floor/room a quick sweep. [=he swept the floor/room quickly]

2 [count] : a long, smooth movement often in a wide curve — often + of • He brushed the crumbs away with a sweep of his hand.

3 [count] : a large area of land often forming a wide curve — + of; usually singular • the sweep of the coastline

4 [singular] : everything that is included in something : the full range or extent of something — + of • The book attempts to cover the whole sweep of American history.

5 [count] : a search for something over a large area — usually singular • The search party made a sweep of the forest.

6 [count] US, sports : an occurrence in which one team wins all the games in a series of games against another team • They won the series in a sweep. • a World Series sweep — see also clean sweep at CLEAN

7 sweeps [plural] US : a time during the year when television stations try to see which shows are the most popular in order to decide how much can be charged for advertising • The network is trying to increase ratings during (the) sweeps. • sweeps week/month

8 [count] : CHIMNEY SWEEP

sweep-er /'swi:pə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person or machine that sweeps something — see also MINESWEEPER

2 soccer : a player whose position is behind other defending players

¹sweeping adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : including or involving many things : wide in range or amount • sweeping changes/reforms • a sweeping view of the valley • The election was a sweeping victory [=a victory that is won by a large margin] for the party.

2 disapproving : too general : including or involving too many things or people • sweeping claims/generalizations • a sweeping condemnation

3 always used before a noun : having a curving form : forming a curve • a sweeping coastline • He dismissed the idea with a sweeping motion of his arm.

²sweeping noun [singular] : an act of cleaning an area with a broom or brush • The porch needs a good sweeping.

sweep-stakes /'swi:p,steiks/ noun [plural] : a race or contest in which the winner receives all the prize money

¹sweet /'swi:t/ adj sweet-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : containing a lot of sugar • sweet dishes/foods • sweet desserts • She likes her coffee sweet. • a sweet wine • That candy is too sweet.

2 : very gentle, kind, or friendly • a sweet elderly couple • He's a really sweet guy. • She has a sweet smile. • It was sweet of her to take care of them.

3 chiefly Brit : very pretty or cute • The baby looks sweet [=adorable] in her bonnet.

4 a : having a very pleasant smell, sound, or appearance • the sweet fragrance/scent of spring flowers • sweet music/voices • a sweet-smelling perfume b : clean and fresh • The spring air was sweet. • The water from the well is sweet. c US : not salty or salted • sweet butter

5 : making you feel happy or pleased • Victory/success/revenge is sweet. : very pleasant • "Good night and sweet dreams" [=I hope you will sleep well and have pleasant dreams]

6 chiefly US, informal : very good or impressive • Prosecutors offered him a sweet deal if he'd testify. • a sweet job offer • This video game is pretty sweet. [=cool] • "I got backstage passes." "Sweet!"

be sweet on old-fashioned + informal : to be in love with (someone) • He's been sweet on her since they were kids.

home sweet home see ¹HOME

keep someone sweet Brit, informal : to be kind and friendly so that someone will do something for you later short and sweet see ¹SHORT

sweet nothings see ³NOTHING

your own sweet time see ¹TIME

²sweet noun, pl sweets

1 a [count] : a food that contains a lot of sugar : a sweet food • I'm trying to cut down on sweets. b [count] Brit : a piece of candy • a bag of sweets c [count, noncount] Brit : a sweet food served at the end of a meal : DESSERT

2 [noncount] old-fashioned — used to address someone you love • Good morning, my sweet

sweet-and-sour /'swi:tŋ'sawə/ adj, always used before a noun : having a flavor that is both sweet and sour • sweet-and-sour chicken/pork sweet-bread /'swi:t,bred/ noun [count, noncount] : a part (called the pancreas) of a young cow or sheep that is eaten as food — usually plural

sweet corn noun [noncount]

1 US : a kind of corn (sense 1) that contains a lot of sugar

2 sweetcorn Brit : ¹CORN 1b

sweet-en /'swi:tŋ/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (something) sweet or sweeter in taste • She sweetened her coffee. • He sweetened his cereal a little.

2 : to make (something) more valuable or attractive • He sweetened the deal with a large signing bonus.

sweeten the pill see ¹PILL

sweeten up [phrasal verb] sweeten up (someone) or sweeten (someone) up informal : to be very nice to (someone) in order to get something • He's been trying to sweeten his mother up so she'll lend him the car.

— sweet-en-er /'swi:tŋə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • She used an artificial sweetener in the pie instead of sugar.

sweet FA /-'ef'eɪ/ also sweet Fan-ny Adams /-'fæni-'ædəmz/ noun [noncount] Brit slang : nothing at all • You've done sweet FA to help me and I'm angry! • Don't listen to him. He knows sweet FA about this.

sweet-heart /'swi:t,ha:t/ noun, pl -hearts

1 a [count] somewhat old-fashioned : a person you love very much • childhood/college sweethearts b — used to address someone you love • How was your day, sweetheart? [=darling, dear] • Sweetheart, what's the matter?

2 [count] : a kind or helpful person : someone who is very nice • Be a sweetheart and help your grandmother. • She is such a little sweetheart.

sweetheart deal noun, pl ~ deals [count] chiefly US : an unusually good arrangement or agreement that helps someone who has a lot of influence or who knows someone important • He got a sweetheart deal on the new job/car because he knows the manager.

sweetie /'swi:ti/ noun, pl -ies informal

1 a [count] : a person you love very much • My sweetie and I will be at the party. b — used to address someone you love • “How are you feeling, sweetie?”

2 [count] : a kind or helpful person : someone who is very nice • She's a total/real sweetie.

3 [count] Brit : a candy or sweet — used especially by children or when speaking to children • a jar of sweeties sweetie pie noun, pl ~ pies informal

1 [count] : a person you love very much • my sweetie pie

2 — used to address someone you love • “Sweetie pie, what's wrong?”

sweet-ish /'swi:tɪʃ/ adj : slightly or somewhat sweet in taste or smell • a sweetish red wine

sweet-ly /'swi:tli/ adv

1 : in a kind or loving way • He asked sweetly if she was all right. • She smiled sweetly at him.

2 : smelling or tasting sweet • a sweetly scented candle • sweetly flavored dishes

3 : in a pleasant or appealing way • sweetly melodious music sweet-meat /'swi:tmi:t/ noun, pl -meats [count] old-fashioned : a piece of candy or a piece of fruit covered with sugar

sweet-ness /'swi:tnəs/ noun [noncount]

1 : the quality of tasting or smelling sweet • I like the sweetness of the sauce.

2 : the quality of being kind or loving • the sweetness of his nature • I'll never forget the sweetness of her smile.

3 : the quality of being pleasant or appealing • the sweetness of the melody sweetness and light : pleasant and enjoyable • Life is not all sweetness and light. • She was yelling at us all morning, but when the guests arrived, she was all sweetness and light.

sweet pea noun, pl ~ peas [count] : a climbing plant with flowers that have a sweet smell sweet pepper noun, pl ~ -pers [count] : a type of hollow vegetable (called a pepper) that is usually red, green, or yellow, that has a mild flavor, and that can be eaten raw or cooked • a red/green sweet pepper

sweet potato noun, pl ~ -toes [count, noncount] : a large root of a tropical plant that has orange skin and orange flesh, that is eaten as a vegetable, and that tastes sweet — see color picture on page C4; compare YAM sweet-talk /'swi:t,tɔ:k/ verb -talks; -talked; -talk-ing [+ obj] : to say nice things to (someone) in order to persuade that person to do something — often + into • He tried to sweet-talk her into doing his work for him.

— sweet talk noun [noncount] • Don't fall for his sweet talk.

sweet tooth noun [singular] informal : a liking for sweet foods • He's always had a sweet tooth. [=he has always liked sweets]

swell /'swel/ verb swells; swelled; swelled or swollen /'swoulən/; swell-ing

1 [no obj] : to become larger than normal • Her broken ankle swelled badly. — often + up • The bee sting made my whole arm swell up.

2 [+ obj] : to make (something, such as a river) larger or more full than normal • Heavy rains swelled the river.

3 : to increase in size or number [no obj] The population has swelled/swollen in recent years. • The economy is swelling at an annual rate of five percent. [+ obj] Immigrants have swelled the population.

4 [no obj] : to become louder • The music swelled.

5 : to cause (something, such as a sail) to stretch outward and become full [+ obj] The breeze swelled (out) the sails. [no obj] The sails swelled (out) in the breeze.

6 [no obj] : to feel an emotion strongly — + with • His heart swelled with pride. [=he felt very proud]

a swelled head see ¹HEAD

— swollen adj • a swollen ankle/gland • a swollen river swell noun, pl swells

1 [count] : an upward and downward movement of the water in the sea • The storm has brought high winds and heavy swells along the coast.

2 [noncount] : the curved or rounded shape of something • the swell of a pregnant woman's belly

3 [singular] a : an increase in size or number • a swell in the population b : an increase in loudness • the swell of the music c : an increase in the strength of an emotion • a swell of enthusiasm/fear/hope — see also GROUNDSWELL

4 [count] informal + old-fashioned : a socially important or fashionable person • a party for a bunch of swells swell adj, US, informal + old-fashioned : very good : EXCELLENT • That was a swell party. • He's a swell guy.

swell-ing /'swelɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [count] : an area on someone's body that is larger than normal because of an illness or injury • There was a swelling above her eye.

2 [noncount] : the condition of being larger than normal • The swelling around her eye should subside in a few days.

swel-ter /'sweltə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing [no obj] : to be very hot and uncomfortable • We were sweltering in the summer heat.

swel-ter-ing /'sweltəɪŋ/ adj : very hot • a sweltering summer day swept past tense and past participle of ¹SWEEP

swerve /'swəv/ verb swerves; swerved; swerv-ing [no obj] : to change direction suddenly especially to avoid hitting someone or something • The car swerved [=turned] sharply to avoid hitting the deer. • He lost control of the car and swerved toward a tree.

swift /'swɪft/ adj swift-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : happening or done quickly or immediately • a swift and accurate response • a swift kick

2 : moving or able to move very fast • a swift horse/runner • a swift river current

3 US, informal : smart or intelligent — usually used in negative statements • She's a nice kid, but she's not too swift. • “I locked myself out of my car.” “That wasn't very swift.”

— swift-ly adv [more ~; most ~] • He answered swiftly.

— swift-ness /'swɪftnəs/ noun [noncount]

swift noun, pl swifts [count] : a small bird that has long, narrow wings

swig /'swɪg/ verb swigs; swigged; swig-ging [+ obj] informal : to drink (something) quickly and in large amounts : to swallow a lot of (a drink) • She was swigging [=gulping] water from a bottle after her workout.

— swig noun, pl swigs [count] • He took a swig of whisky.

swill /'swɪl/ verb swills; swilled; swill-ing

1 [+ obj] informal : to drink (something) quickly in large amounts • They were swilling (down) beer and playing cards.

2 a [no obj] of a liquid : to move around in a container • She watched the water swill around in the bucket. b [+ obj] : to cause (a liquid) to move around in a container • He swilled the water around in the pot.

3 [+ obj] chiefly Brit : to clean (something) by pouring water on it • He swilled the floor with buckets of water.

swill noun [noncount]

1 : food for animals (such as pigs) made from scraps of food and water

2 informal : food or drink that is very bad or unappealing • I refuse to eat this swill. [=garbage]

swim /'swɪm/ verb swims; swam /'swæm/; swum /'swʌm/; swim-ming

1 a [no obj] : to move through water by moving your arms and legs • He's teaching the children to swim. • She swam across the pool. • I can't swim. • He swam (for) almost a mile. — see also SWIMMING

b [+ obj] : to move through or across (an area of water) by swimming • He swam the English Channel. c [+ obj] : to swim by using (a specified method) • The racers must swim the backstroke. d [no obj] of a fish, bird, etc. : to move through or over water • We watched the fish swimming in the river. • Ducks swam in/on the pond.

2 [no obj] : to be completely covered with a liquid — usually used as (be) swimming in • The potatoes were swimming in butter/gravy.

3 [no obj] a : to feel dizzy or unable to think clearly because you are sick, confused, etc. • I felt weak and my head was swimming. • All the facts and figures he was reciting were starting to make my head swim. [=starting to make me feel confused, unable to think clearly, etc.] b of something you are looking at : to seem to be moving around because you are tired, sick, etc. • The room swam before my eyes.

sink or swim see ¹SINK

swim with/against the tide see ¹TIDE swim noun, pl swims [count] : an act or period of swimming — usually singular • We have time for a quick swim before dinner. • Would you like to go for a swim? • The schools competed in a swim meet. [=a swimming competition with many races] in/into the swim (of things) informal : involved in an activity or informed about a situation • She likes to be in the swim of things. • When he gets into the swim of things, he'll be much happier.

swim·mer /'swimə/ noun, pl -mers [count] : a person who swims • She's a good/strong/fast swimmer. : a person who is swimming • There were a few swimmers at the lake this morning.

swimming noun [noncount] : the sport or activity of moving through water by moving your arms and legs • Swimming keeps her fit. • I am going swimming later today. — see also SYNCHRONIZED SWIMMING swimming bath noun, pl ~ baths [count] Brit : a public swimming pool that is usually indoors swimming cap noun, pl ~ caps [count] chiefly Brit : a tight rubber cap that you wear while you swim to keep your hair dry

swimming costume noun, pl ~ -tumes [count] Brit : SWIMSUIT swimming hole noun, pl ~ holes [count] US : a place in a river, pond, etc., where people swim • The boys cooled off at the swimming hole.

swim·ming·ly /'swimɪŋli/ adv, informal : very well • We expect everything to go swimmingly.

swimming pool noun, pl ~ pools [count] : a large structure that is filled with water and that is used for swimming • Our neighbors have a swimming pool in their backyard. • a public swimming pool

swimming trunks noun [plural] : special shorts that men and boys wear for swimming — called also trunks; see color picture on page C13 swim·suit /'swim,su:t/ noun, pl -suits [count] : special clothing that women and girls wear for swimming — called also (chiefly US) bathing suit, (Brit) swimming costume; see color picture on page C13 swim·wear /'swim,weə/ noun [noncount] : special clothing worn for swimming swin·dle /'swɪndl/ verb swin·dles; swin·dled; swin·dling [+ obj] : to take money or property from (someone) by using lies or tricks : CHEAT — usually + out of • He swindled elderly women out of their savings.

— swindle noun, pl swindles [count] • an insurance swindle • bank swindles — swin·dler /'swɪndlə/ noun, pl -dlers [count]

swine /'swain/ noun, pl swine [count]

1 : PIG 1 • methods of raising swine • a herd of swine

2 informal : a very bad person • He's such a swine! • He's a filthy swine.

cast/throw pearls before swine see ¹PEARL swine·herd /'swain,hərd/ noun, pl -herds [count] old-fashioned : a person whose job is to take care of pigs

¹swing /'swɪŋ/ verb swings; swung /'swʌŋ/; swing·ing

1 : to move backward and forward or from side to side while hanging from something [no obj] The sheets swung on the clothesline. • The clock's pendulum stopped swinging. [+ obj] She sat on the edge of the table, swinging her legs. • She swung the bag by the handle. [=she held the handle of the bag and made the bag swing]

2 always followed by an adverb, adjective, or preposition : to move with a smooth, curving motion [no obj] The monkeys were swinging from branch to branch high up in the trees. • The door swung open/shut. [+ obj] He swung himself (up) into the truck. • I swung my suitcase into the backseat of the car. • She sat on the counter and swung her legs over to the other side. • She swung the door open.

3 : to move (your arm, a tool, etc.) with a quick, curving motion especially to try to hit something [+ obj] Be careful how you swing that ax. • She swung the bat but missed the ball. • She swung her purse at me. [no obj] She swung (at the ball) but missed. • He swung at me [=tried to hit me with his fist] for no reason.

4 [no obj] : to move back and forth on a special type of seat (called a swing) • a playground where kids go to swing

5 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to turn or move quickly in a particular direction [no obj] The road swings to the left sharply after a few miles. — often + around • He swung around to look at the clock. [+ obj] She swung the car into the driveway. • He swung the flashlight toward the noise.

6 a always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to change suddenly from one state or condition to another • Sales swung up sharply at the end of the year. • The game suddenly swung in favor of the home team. • His mood can swing wildly from cheerful to angry. • They have to be ready to swing into action [=to start doing something quickly] at a moment's notice. b [+ obj] : to change or influence (something) in an important way • His strong performance in the second half swung the game in our favor. • Her promise to lower taxes may have swung [=changed the outcome of] the presidential election. • They may still swing their votes to the other candidate.

7 [+ obj] informal : to do or manage (something) successfully • Do you think you can swing the job? • She isn't able to swing [=afford] a new car on her income. • If he can swing it, he'll visit next month.

8 [no obj] informal + somewhat old-fashioned : to be lively or exciting • The bar really swings on weekends. • The party was swinging.

9 [no obj] old-fashioned : to die by hanging • He swung for his crimes.

swing both ways informal : to be bisexual swing by also swing over [phrasal verb] US, informal : to make a brief visit • I'll swing by [=stop by] after work to drop off the paperwork.

swing the balance : to change a situation so that one person, group, etc., is more able or likely to succeed than another • Both candidates are qualified, but her experience could swing the balance in her favor.

²swing noun, pl swings

1 [count] a : an act of moving something with a quick, sweeping motion : an act of swinging a bat, fist, etc. • One swing of the hammer was all it took to drive the nail through the board. • She needs to work on her (golf) swing. [=she needs to practice the way she swings a golf club] • He took a swing at the pitch. [=he swung at the pitch; tried to hit the ball with his bat] • Some drunk took a swing at me. [=tried to hit me] b : the movement of something that swings backward and forward or from side to side • the swing of a pendulum

2 [count] : a usually sudden change from one state or condition to another • upward/downward swings in the stock market • She couldn't deal with his unpredictable mood swings. [=changes in his mood]

3 [count] : a seat that hangs from ropes or chains and that moves back and forth • The kids were playing on the swings. • We sat on the porch swing and watched the neighbors. — see picture at PLAYGROUND

4 [noncount] : a style of jazz music that has a lively rhythm and that is played mostly for dancing go with a swing Brit, informal : to be lively and enjoyable • What a great party! It really went with a swing!

in full swing : at the highest level of activity • Work on the project is in full swing. • The party was in full swing by the time we arrived.

in/into the swing of informal : fully involved and comfortable with (a regular activity, process, etc.) • After a while, she got into the swing of her job. [=she got used to her job and was able to do it well] • I've been away on vacation but I should be (back) in the swing of things in a few days.

swings and roundabouts Brit, informal — used to say that two choices or situations are basically the same because they have an equal number of advantages and disadvantages • It is a case of swings and roundabouts.

³swing adj, always used before a noun

1 : of or relating to the style of jazz music called swing • a swing band • swing music/dancing

2 : not certain to vote for a particular candidate or party in an election and therefore often able to decide the result of the election • swing voters/states swing bridge noun, pl ~ bridges [count] : a bridge that can be moved or raised so that tall boats can pass under it

swinge·ing /'swɪŋdʒɪŋ/ adj, Brit

1 : very large and difficult to deal with • Homeowners now face swingeing increases in their bills. • swingeing fines/penalties/taxes • swingeing cuts in pay

2 : very critical or severe • a swingeing criticism of the government's policies swing·er /'swɪŋə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 informal + old-fashioned : someone who is lively, entertaining, and fashionable

2 : someone who has sex with many people • She and her husband are swingers. [=they have a relationship in which each of them is allowed to have sex with many other people] swing-ing /'swɪŋɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal + old-fashioned : lively or exciting • This music is really swinging. • a swinging party swinging door noun, pl ~ doors [count] US : a door that can be pushed open from either side and that swings shut when it is released — called also (Brit) swing door swing set noun, pl ~ sets [count] US : a wooden or metal structure that has swings hanging from it and that may have a slide or other things attached to it for children to play on swing shift noun, pl ~ shifts [count] US : a scheduled period of work that begins in the afternoon and ends at night • He works the swing shift.

¹swipe /'swaɪp/ verb swipes; swiped; swip-ing

1 : to reach toward and try to hit (something) with a swinging motion [+ obj] The cat swiped the dog across the nose. [no obj] — usually + at • The cat swiped at the dog.

2 [+ obj] informal : to steal (something) • They swiped some candy from the store. • She swiped my idea.

3 [+ obj] : to pass (a credit card, ATM card, etc.) through a machine that reads information from it • The cashier swiped the credit card and gave it back to me.

²swipe noun, pl swipes [count]

1 informal : a criticism or insult that is directed toward a particular person or group • She took a swipe at her former company in her latest column.

2 : a swinging movement of a person's hand, an animal's paw, etc., that is done in an attempt to hit something • a swipe of the cat's paw • He took a swipe at the ball. [=he swung at the ball and tried to hit it]

swipe card noun, pl ~ cards [count] : a special plastic card with a magnetic strip that has information which can be read by special machines

¹swirl /'swɜːl/ verb swirls; swirled; swirl-ing : to move in circles or to cause (something) to move in circles [+ obj] She swirled the drink (around) in her glass. [no obj] The water swirled around/down the drain. • strong swirling winds — often used figuratively • Rumors are swirling about/around the team. [=there are a lot of rumors about the team]

²swirl noun, pl swirls [count]

1 : a twisting or swirling movement, form, or object • A swirl of smoke rose from the chimney. • He painted swirls of color on the canvas. • ice cream with chocolate swirls

2 : a state of busy movement or activity — usually + of • She was caught up in the swirl of events.

¹swish /'swɪʃ/ verb swish-es; swished; swish-ing : to move with or cause (something) to move with a soft sweeping or brushing sound [no obj] He watched as the windshield wipers swished back and forth. • The horse's tail swished back and forth. [+ obj] The horse swished its tail back and forth.

— swish noun [singular] • The horse shooed the flies away with a swish of its tail.

²swish adj, Brit, informal : fashionable and expensive : SWANKY • a swish hotel

¹Swiss /'swɪs/ adj : of or relating to Switzerland or its people • Swiss history • the Swiss ski team

²Swiss noun

the Swiss : the people of Switzerland • the traditions of the Swiss

Swiss chard noun [noncount] : CHARD

Swiss cheese noun [noncount] : a type of cheese that is hard and pale yellow and that has many large holes

Swiss roll noun, pl ~ rolls [count, noncount] Brit : JELLY ROLL

¹switch /'swɪtʃ/ noun, pl switch-es [count]

1 : a small device that starts or stops the flow of electricity to something (such as a lamp or a machine) when it is pressed or moved up and down • She flicked a switch and turned the lamp/lights on. • a light/dimmer switch • He threw the switch to stop the machine. — see also DIP SWITCH, TOGGLE SWITCH

2 : a sudden change from one thing to another — usually singular • a switch from the old way of doing things • There has been a switch in plans. [=the plans have changed] • If you're not happy in your current job, maybe it's time to make a switch (to another job). • "He says he'll do it himself." "Well, that's a switch." [=that's something unusual] — see also BAIT AND SWITCH switch

3 US : a device for moving the rails of a track so that a train may be turned from one track to another

4 : a thin stick that can be easily bent

²switch verb switches; switched; switch-ing

1 : to make a change from one thing to another : to start doing or using something that is different [no obj] I switched to a new doctor. • He kept switching back and forth between topics. • She switched back to/from her original insurance company. • We switched over to a different telephone service. [+ obj] Why did you switch jobs?

2 : to make a change from one thing to another by turning or pushing a button or moving a switch, lever, etc. [no obj] He switched (over) to a different channel. [+ obj] Stop switching channels.

3 [+ obj] : to change or replace (something) with another thing • They switched places/positions/roles/sides. • He switched (around) his last two appointments. • (US) He is going to switch (shifts) with me Monday. [=he will work my shift and I will work his shift on Monday]

switch gears see ¹GEAR

switch off [phrasal verb] 1 switch (something) off or switch off (something) : to turn off (something) by turning or pushing a button or moving a switch, lever, etc. • He switched off the light/lamp. 2 informal : to stop paying attention • When the topic turned to the stock market, he switched off. [=tuned out] switch on [phrasal verb] switch (something) on or switch on (something) : to turn on (something) by turning or pushing a button or moving a switch, lever, etc. • I switched on the TV and watched the news.

switch-back /'swɪtʃ,bæk/ noun, pl -backs [count] : a road, trail, or section of railroad tracks that has many sharp turns for climbing a steep hill switch-blade /'swɪtʃ,bleɪd/ noun, pl -blades [count] chiefly US : a knife that has a blade inside the handle which springs out when a button is pressed — called also (Brit) flick-knife

switch-board /'swɪtʃ,bɔːrd/ noun, pl -boards [count] : a system used to connect telephone calls with many separate phone lines in a building • She used to work as a switchboard operator. • Angry callers flooded/jammed the company's switchboard. [=made telephone calls to the company] switch-er-oo /,swɪtʃə'ruː/ noun, pl -oos [count] US, informal : an unexpected or secret change • They changed to a different system without telling anyone that they had pulled a switcheroo.

switch-hit-ter /'swɪtʃ'hɪtə/ noun, pl -ters [count] baseball : a batter who bats right-handed against a left-handed pitcher and left-handed against a right-handed pitcher — switch-hit /'swɪtʃ'hɪt/ verb -hits; -hit; -hit-ting [no obj] • His father taught him how to switch-hit when he was a kid.

¹swiv-el /'swɪvəl/ noun, pl -els [count] : a device that joins two parts so that one of the parts can turn or spin while the other part does not move • a swivel chair [=a chair with the seat mounted on a swivel so that it turns freely]

²swivel verb -els; US -eled or Brit -elled; US -el-ing or Brit -el-ling : to turn around [no obj] He swiveled [=spun] around to see who was calling him. • She swiveled in her seat to check the time. [+ obj] The owl swiveled [=twisted] its head around. • She swiveled the chair around to face us.

swollen see ¹SWELL

swoon /'swuːn/ verb swoons; swooned; swoon-ing [no obj]

1 : to become very excited about someone or something — usually + over • Teenage girls swooned over the band's lead singer.

2 old-fashioned : to suddenly become unconscious : FAINT • She almost swooned from fright.

— swoon noun [singular] old-fashioned • She fell into a swoon. [=she swooned] swoop /'swuːp/ verb swoops; swooped; swoop-ing [no obj]

1 : to fly down through the air suddenly — usually + down • A hawk swooped down and caught a rabbit in the field.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to arrive at a place suddenly and unexpectedly • The police swooped in and captured the criminals.

in/at one fell swoop see ³FELL

— swoop noun, pl swoops [count] • the swoop of a hawk swoosh /'swuːʃ/ verb swoosh-es; swooshed; swoosh-ing [no obj] : to make sound by moving quickly through the air • The ball swooshed by/past my head.

— swoosh noun, pl swooshes [count] • I heard a loud swoosh as the ball flew past my head.

S

swop Brit spelling of SWAP sword /'so:əd/ noun, pl swords [count] : a weapon with a long metal blade that has a sharp point and edge beat/turn swords into plowshares literary : to stop fighting wars and begin to live peacefully cross swords see ²CROSS put (someone) to the sword literary : to kill (someone) with a sword sword of Dam-o-cles /-'dæmə,kli:z/ : something bad and frightening that might happen at any time • a threat that hangs over us like a/the sword of Damocles swordfish /'so:əd,fɪʃ/ noun, pl -fish [count] : a very large fish that lives in the ocean, that has a long, pointed upper jaw which looks like a sword, and that is eaten as food swordplay /'so:əd,pleɪ/ noun [noncount] : the art or skill of fighting with a sword swordsman /'so:ədzmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : a person who fights with a sword • a skilled swordsman swore past tense of ¹SWEAR

¹sworn past participle of ¹SWEAR

²sworn /'swɔ:ən/ adj, always used before a noun

1 — used to describe people who have openly stated their feelings, opinions, etc. • He's a sworn conservative. • They are sworn enemies/friends.

2 : made or given by someone who has made a formal promise to tell the truth • sworn testimony/statements

¹swot /'swɔ:t/ noun, pl swots [count] Brit, informal + disapproving : a person who works or studies too much • At university he had a reputation as a swot. [= (US) grind]

²swot verb swots; swotted; swotting [no obj] Brit, informal : to study very hard for an exam — + for • He's been swotting for the French exam.

swot up [phrasal verb] swot up or swot (something) up or swot up (something) : to study (something) very hard • She swotted up for the French exam. = She swotted up French for the exam. — often + on • He needs to swot up on French verbs.

swum past participle of ¹SWIM

swung past tense and past participle of ¹SWING

syb-a-rit-ic /,sɪbə'ɹɪtɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary : relating to, desiring, or involving expensive comforts and pleasures • sybaritic desires/pleasures/entertainments/excesses • a sybaritic lifestyle

syc-a-more /'sɪkə,məʊ/ noun, pl -mores [count]

1 : a tree of the eastern and central U.S. that has light-brown bark that peels off in thin flakes

2 : a type of European maple tree with five-pointed leaves sy-co-ph-ant /'sɪkəfənt/ noun, pl -phants [count] formal + disapproving : a person who praises powerful people in order to get their approval — sy-co-ph-ant-cy /'sɪkəfənsi/ noun [noncount] • Her praise was obvious sycophancy. — sy-co-ph-ant-ic /,sɪkə'fæntɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • sycophantic praise/flattery

syl-lab-ic /sə'læbɪk/ adj, linguistics : of or relating to syllables • syllabic accent/stress syl-la-ble /'sɪləbəl/ noun, pl -la-bles [count] : any one of the parts into which a word is naturally divided when it is pronounced • The word "doctor" has two syllables. • "Doctor" is a two-syllable word. • The first syllable of the word "doctor" is given stress.

in words of one syllable see ¹WORD

syl-la-bus /'sɪləbəs/ noun, pl -bi /-,baɪ/ or -bus-es [count] : a list of the topics or books that will be studied in a course syl-lo-gism /'sɪlə,dʒɪzəm/ noun, pl -gisms [count] formal : a formal argument in logic that is formed by two statements and a conclusion which must be true if the two statements are true • An example of a syllogism is: "All men are human; all humans are mortal; therefore all men are mortal."

sylph /'sɪlf/ noun, pl sylphs [count] literary : a thin and graceful woman or girl

— sylph-like /'sɪlf,ləɪk/ adj • a sylphlike young woman

syl-van /'sɪlvən/ adj, literary : having a lot of woods or trees • a sylvan setting • sylvan surroundings

sym-bi-o-sis /,sɪmbi'əʊsəs/ noun, pl -o-ses /-'əʊ,sɪ:z/

1 biology : the relationship between two different kinds of living things that live together and depend on each other [count] — usually singular • The bacteria exist in a symbiosis with the plant's roots. [noncount] The bird lives in symbiosis with the hippopotamus.

2 formal : a relationship between two people or groups that work with and depend on each other [count] — usually singular • There is a symbiosis between celebrities and the media. [noncount] Their professional association was one of symbiosis.

— sym-bi-ot-ic /,sɪmbi'ə:tɪk/ adj • a symbiotic relationship

— sym-bi-ot-i-cal-ly /,sɪmbi'ə:tɪkli/ adv

sym-bol /'sɪmbəl/ noun, pl -bols [count]

1 : an action, object, event, etc., that expresses or represents a particular idea or quality — often + of • The wearing of black clothing is often a symbol of mourning in Western cultures. • The lion is a symbol of courage. • The flag is a symbol of our country. — see also SEX SYMBOL, STATUS SYMBOL

2 : a letter, group of letters, character, or picture that is used instead of a word or group of words • The company's symbol [=logo] is a red umbrella. — usually + for • "K" is the symbol for a strikeout in baseball. • "Cl" is the chemical symbol for chlorine. • "+" is the symbol for addition.

sym-bol-ic /sɪm'bə:lɪk/ also sym-bol-i-cal /sɪm'bə:lɪkəl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : expressing or representing an idea or quality without using words • The lighting of the candles is symbolic. • a purely symbolic act/gesture [=an act/gesture that is intended as a symbol of something but that does not have any real effect] — often + of • Wedding rings are symbolic of eternal love. • The dove is symbolic of peace.

2 [more ~; most ~] : relating to or being used as a symbol • The number 7 has symbolic significance/importance [=has significance/importance as a symbol] in their religion. • The sharing of the wine has symbolic meaning.

3 : using symbols • symbolic writing

— sym-bol-i-cal-ly /sɪm'bə:lɪkli/ adv • Symbolically, the color green represents envy. • The storm is symbolically important in the story.

sym-bol-ism /'sɪmbə,lɪzəm/ noun [noncount]

1 : the use of symbols to express or represent ideas or qualities in literature, art, etc. • The story was filled with religious symbolism.

2 : the particular idea or quality that is expressed by a symbol • What is the symbolism of the lion in the picture? [=what does the lion symbolize in the picture?]

sym-bol-ize also Brit sym-bol-ise /'sɪmbə,ləɪz/ verb -izes; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] : to be a symbol of (something) • The lion symbolizes [=represents] courage. • She came to symbolize the women's movement in America.

sym-met-ri-cal /sə'metɹɪkəl/ also sym-met-ric /sə'metɹɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having sides or halves that are the same : having or showing symmetry • The human body is symmetrical. • a symmetrical design/pattern — opposite ASYMMETRICAL

— sym-met-ri-cal-ly /sə'metɹɪkli/ adv • symmetrically arranged/divided sym-me-try /'sɪmətri/ noun [noncount] : the quality of something that has two sides or halves that are the same or very close in size, shape, and position : the quality of having symmetrical parts • the symmetry of the human body • The building has perfect symmetry.

sym-pa-thet-ic /,sɪmpə'θetɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : feeling or showing concern about someone who is in a bad situation : having or showing feelings of sympathy • He received much help from sympathetic friends. — often + to or toward • She is very sympathetic to/toward the poor.

2 not used before a noun : having or showing support for or approval of something — often + to or toward • He was not sympathetic to/toward their cause. [=he did not support their cause]

3 : having pleasant or appealing qualities : causing feelings of sympathy • The book doesn't really have any sympathetic [=likable] characters. • I didn't find the hero in the movie very sympathetic.

— sym-pa-thet-i-cal-ly /,sɪmpə'θetɪkli/ adv • She sympathetically asked how she could help. • The character was treated sympathetically.

sym-pa-thize also Brit sym-pa-thise /'sɪmpə,θaɪz/ verb -thiz-es; -thized; -thiz-ing [no obj]

1 : to feel sorry for someone who is in a bad situation : to feel sympathy for someone because you understand that person's problems • I sympathize but how can I help? — often + with • I sympathize with you. — compare EMPATHIZE

2 : to feel or show support for or approval of something — + with • She sympathized with their cause.

— sym·pa·thiz·er also Brit sym·pa·this·er noun, pl -ers [count] • The group has many sympathizers. [=supporters]

sym·pa·thy /ˈsɪmpəθi/ noun, pl -thies

1 : the feeling that you care about and are sorry about someone else's trouble, grief, misfortune, etc. : a sympathetic feeling [noncount] She went to her best friend for sympathy. • Letters of sympathy were sent to the families of the victims. — often + for • There is a lot of sympathy for the families of the victims. • I have no sympathy for her. [count] My deepest sympathies go out to the families of the victims. • Our sympathies are with them. — often + for • She has/feels a deep sympathy for the families of the victims. — compare EMPATHY; see also TEA AND SYMPATHY

2 : a feeling of support for something [noncount] — often + for • He expressed sympathy for the rebels. [plural] She has liberal/conservative sympathies. — often + with • Her sympathies are/lie with the rebels.

3 [noncount] : a state in which different people share the same interests, opinions, goals, etc. • There was no sympathy between them. — often + with • He's not in sympathy with the other members of the group. = He's out of sympathy with the other members. • He seems to be in sympathy with our views. [=to agree with and support our views]

sym·phon·ic /sɪmˈfɒnɪk/ adj : of or relating to a symphony or symphony orchestra • symphonic music

sym·pho·ny /ˈsɪmfəni/ noun, pl -nies [count]

1 : a long piece of music that is usually in four large, separate sections and that is performed by an orchestra symphony orchestra noun, pl ~ -tras [count] : a large orchestra of musicians who play classical music together and are led by a conductor • She's a member of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

2 : SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

sym·po·sium /sɪmˈpouzɪjəm/ noun, pl -sia /-ziə/ or -siums [count] formal

1 : a formal meeting at which experts discuss a particular topic • Professors and graduate students attended the symposium. — often + on • a symposium on cloning

2 : a collection of articles on a particular subject — often + on • The organization will be publishing a symposium on genetic research.

symp·tom /ˈsɪmptəm/ noun, pl -toms [count]

1 : a change in the body or mind which indicates that a disease is present • cold/flu symptoms — often + of • symptoms of heart disease • a symptom of depression

2 : a change which shows that something bad exists : a sign of something bad — often + of • Layoffs and salary freezes are symptoms of a company in financial trouble.

symp·tom·at·ic /ˌsɪmptəˈmætɪk/ adj

1 medical a : showing that a particular disease is present — usually + of • A fever and runny nose are symptomatic of the flu. [=are symptoms of the flu] b : relating to or showing symptoms of a disease • symptomatic relief/improvement/treatments • The patient was not symptomatic. [=the patient did not have any symptoms] — opposite ASYMPTOMATIC

2 formal : showing the existence of a particular problem — usually + of • The child's behavior is symptomatic of an unstable home life. • Poor sales are symptomatic [=characteristic] of a poor economy.

— symp·tom·at·ic·al·ly /ˌsɪmptəˈmætɪkli/ adv

syn·a·gogue /ˈsɪnəɡɑːɡ/ noun, pl -gogues [count] : a building that is used for Jewish religious services syn·apse /ˈsɪnæps/ noun, pl -aps-es [count] biology : the place where a signal passes from one nerve cell to another

— syn·ap·tic /səˈnæptɪk/ adj • synaptic connections sync also synch /ˈsɪŋk/ noun

in sync 1 : in a state in which two or more people or things move or happen together at the same time and speed • The dancers moved in sync. • The film's sound and picture need to be in sync. — often + with • She moved in sync with her partner. 2 : in a state in which two or more people or things agree with or match one another and work together properly • Our ideas are in sync. — often + with • The quarterback was in sync with his receivers. • The President is not in sync with [=the President does not understand] the interests and concerns of the people. • Her views are in sync with [=her views agree with] our own.

out of sync 1 : in a state in which two or more people or things do not move or happen together at the same time and speed • Some of the soldiers were marching out of sync. • The soundtrack was out of sync so they stopped the film. — often + with • She was out of sync with the other dancers.

2 : in a state in which two or more people or things do not agree with or match one another • All the clocks in the office are out of sync. [=all the clocks show different times] — often + with • His actions are completely out of sync with our goals.

— see also LIP-SYNCH

syn·chro·nize also Brit syn·chro·nise /ˈsɪŋkrəˌnaɪz/ verb -niz-es; -nized; -niz-ing

1 [+ obj] : to cause (things) to agree in time or to make (things) happen at the same time and speed • They synchronized their watches. [=they adjusted their watches so that they all showed the same time] • The dancers practiced until they synchronized their movements.

2 [no obj] : to happen at the same time and speed • The sound and picture have to synchronize perfectly. — often + with • The sound has to synchronize with the picture.

— syn·chro·ni·za·tion also Brit syn·chro·ni·sa·tion /ˌsɪŋkrənəˈzeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the synchronization of sound and action • The dancers moved in perfect synchronization.

synchronized swimming noun [noncount] : a sport in which swimmers move together in patterns to music

— synchronized swimmer noun, pl ~ -mers [count] syn·chro·nous /ˈsɪŋkrənəs/ adj, formal + technical : happening, moving, or existing at the same time • synchronous developments/movements syn·chro·ny /ˈsɪŋkrəni/ noun [noncount] formal + technical : a state in which things happen, move, or exist at the same time • The objects moved in synchrony with each other. [=at the same time]

syn·co·pat·ed /ˈsɪŋkəˌpɛtəd/ adj, of music : of, relating to, or having a rhythm that stresses the weak beats instead of the strong beats • syncopated beats • a syncopated melody/rhythm

syn·co·pa·tion /ˌsɪŋkəˈpeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] music : musical rhythm in which stress is given to the weak beats instead of the strong beats

1 syn·di·cate /ˈsɪndɪkət/ noun, pl -cates [count]

1 a : a group of people or businesses that work together • A syndicate owns the company. — often + of • The company is owned by a syndicate of investors. • The money for the project was provided by a syndicate of banks. b : a group of people who are involved in organized crime • a crime syndicate

2 : a business that sells something (such as a piece of writing, comic strip, or photograph) to several different newspapers or magazines for publication at the same time : a business that syndicates something

3 : a group of newspapers that are managed by one company • a newspaper syndicate

2 syn·di·cate /ˈsɪndəˌkeɪt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to sell (something, such as a piece of writing, comic strip, or photograph) to many different newspapers or magazines for publication at the same time • The company syndicates her work. — often used as (be) syndicated • His column is syndicated in all the major newspapers. • a syndicated column/columnist

2 : to sell (a series of television or radio programs) to many different stations at the same time • The company syndicated the show to local stations. — often used as (be) syndicated • The program has been syndicated nationally. • a syndicated program

— syn·di·ca·tion /ˌsɪndəˈkeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • The television show's syndication begins next fall. • The show is now in syndication. [=reruns of the show are being shown on different stations that have paid to show them]

syn·drome /ˈsɪndroum/ noun, pl -dromes [count] : a disease or disorder that involves a particular group of signs and symptoms • a rare syndrome • psychological syndromes — see also CARPAL TUNNEL SYNDROME, DOWN SYNDROME, PREMENSTRUAL SYNDROME, SUDDEN INFANT DEATH SYNDROME, TOURETTE'S SYNDROME, TOXIC SHOCK SYNDROME syn·er·gy /ˈsɪnədʒi/ noun, pl -gies technical : the increased effectiveness that results when two or more people or businesses work together [count] A synergy has developed among the different groups working on this project. [non-count] two companies that have found synergy

syn·od /ˈsɪnəd/ noun, pl -ods [count]

1 : a formal meeting of church leaders

2 : a group of church leaders who are in charge of making decisions and laws related to the church

syn-o-nym /ˈsɪnə,nɪm/ noun, pl -n_yms [count]

1 : a word that has the same meaning as another word in the same language • “Small” and “little” are synonyms. — often + for or of • Can you think of a synonym for “original”? • “Small” is a synonym of “little.” — opposite ANTONYM

2 : a word, name, or phrase that very strongly suggests a particular idea, quality, etc. — + for • He is a tyrant whose name has become a synonym for oppression.

syn-on-y-mous /səˈnɑ:nəməs/ adj

1 : having the same meaning • “Small” and “little” are synonymous. [=are synonyms] • synonymous words — often + with • “Small” is synonymous with “little.”

2 not used before a noun : strongly suggesting a particular idea, quality, etc. : very strongly associated with something — + with • The company’s name is synonymous with quality.

— syn-on-y-mous-ly adv • two words that are used synonymously syn-op-sis /səˈnɑ:psəs/ noun, pl syn-op-ses /səˈnɑ:psɪz/ [count] formal : a short description of the most important information about something : a summary or outline • a plot synopsis — often + of • She gave us a brief synopsis of the report/story.

— syn-op-tic /səˈnɑ:ptɪk/ adj • He gave a synoptic overview of the project.

syn-tac-tic /sɪnˈtæktɪk/ or syn-tac-ti-cal /sɪnˈtæktɪkəl/ adj, linguistics : of or relating to syntax • syntactic rules/structures

— syn-tac-ti-cal-ly /sɪnˈtæktɪkli/ adv • The sentence is syntactically incorrect.

syn-tax /ˈsɪn,tæks/ noun [noncount] linguistics : the way in which words are put together to form phrases, clauses, or sentences • “I saw that she a cookie ate” is an example of incorrect syntax.

syn-the-sis /ˈsɪnθəsəs/ noun, pl -the-ses /-θə,sɪz/

1 [count] formal : something that is made by combining different things (such as ideas, styles, etc.) — often + of • The band’s sound is a synthesis of jazz and rock music. • His theory is actually a synthesis of several other theories.

2 technical : the production of a substance by combining simpler substances through a chemical process [count] — usually singular; often + of • the synthesis of water from hydrogen and oxygen [noncount] protein synthesis — see also PHOTOSYNTHESIS

3 [noncount] : the production of sounds or speech by using electronic equipment • voice/speech synthesis

syn-the-size also Brit syn-the-sise /ˈsɪnθə,sɪz/ verb -siz-es; -sized; -siz-ing [+ obj]

1 formal a : to make (something) by combining different things • She synthesized the treatment from traditional and modern philosophies of medicine. b : to combine (things) in order to make something new • He synthesized old and new ideas to form his theory.

2 technical : to make (something) from simpler substances through a chemical process • Scientists synthesize new drugs. • Glands synthesize the enzymes. • Amino acid is synthesized in the body.

3 : to produce (sounds, speech, etc.) by using electronic equipment • He synthesized the drumbeat. [=he created the drumbeat by using a synthesizer]

— synthesized also Brit synthesised adj • synthesized proteins/drugs • synthesized music • a synthesized voice • The drumbeat is synthesized.

syn-the-siz-er also

Brit syn-the-sis-er

/ˈsɪnθə,sɪzə/ noun, pl

-ers [count] : an electronic machine that produces and controls sound and is used especially in music

and for reproducing

speech • The band used a synthesizer for the drumbeat.

¹syn-thet-ic /sɪnˈθetɪk/ adj : made by combining different substances : not natural • synthetic drugs/chemicals/rubber • The material is synthetic. [=man-made]

— syn-thet-i-cal-ly /sɪnˈθetɪkli/ adv • The fibers are synthetically produced.

²synthetic noun, pl -ics [count] : something made by combining different artificial substances • The drug is a synthetic.

— usually plural • The fabric is made of synthetics.

syph-i-lis /ˈsɪfələs/ noun [noncount] medical : a very serious disease that is spread through sexual intercourse

— syph-i-lit-ic /ˌsɪfəˈlɪtɪk/ adj • syphilitic symptoms/patients syphon variant spelling of SIPHON sy-ringe /səˈrɪndʒ/ noun, pl -ring-es [count] : a device made of a hollow tube and a needle that is used to force fluids into or take fluids out of the body

syr-up /ˈsɪrəp/ noun, pl -ups

1 [noncount] : a sweet, thick liquid made of sugar and water with flavoring or medicine added to it • a medicinal syrup • ice cream and chocolate syrup — see also COUGH SYRUP

2 [count, noncount] : a sweet, thick liquid made from the juice of a fruit or plant • She poured syrup all over her pancakes. • fruit syrups — see also CORN SYRUP, MAPLE SYRUP

syr-upy /ˈsɪrəpi/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : thick and sweet like syrup • a syrupy liquid • ice cream topped with a syrupy fruit sauce

2 disapproving : too romantic or emotional • a syrupy [=sap-py] love song

sys-tem /ˈsɪstəm/ noun, pl -tems

1 [count] : a group of related parts that move or work together • a system of rivers • railroad systems • a security/telephone/heating system • an alarm system • a stereo/computer system — see also ECOSYSTEM, PA SYSTEM, PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM, SOLAR SYSTEM, SOUND SYSTEM

2 [count] a : a body of a person or animal thought of as an entire group of parts that work together — usually singular • The disease affected her entire system. • Greasy foods are not good for your system. • No drugs were found in his system.

b : a group of organs that work together to perform an important function of the body • the digestive/reproductive/respiratory system — see also CENTRAL NERVOUS SYSTEM, IMMUNE SYSTEM, NERVOUS SYSTEM

3 [count] : a way of managing, controlling, organizing, or doing something that follows a set of rules or a plan • the legal system • The players like the coach’s system. • Under the new system, students will have to pass an exam to graduate. • She devised a new filing system. • We need a better system for handling incoming e-mail. — often + of • the state’s system of education • a democratic system of government • Every religion has its own system of beliefs and practices. — see also HONOR SYSTEM, METRIC SYSTEM, OPERATING SYSTEM

4 the system disapproving : a powerful government or social organization that controls people’s lives • You can’t beat the system. • We spent our youth rebelling against the system.

all systems (are) go see ²GO

a shock to the/your system see ¹SHOCK

get it out of your system informal 1 : to do something that you have been wanting to do so that you no longer feel a strong desire to do it • You keep talking about making a cross-country trip. I think you just need to do it and get it out of your system. 2 : to get rid of a strong emotion (such as anger) by doing something • He really angered her, so she went for a walk to get it out of her system.

the buddy system see ¹BUDDY sys-tem-at-ic /ˌsɪstəˈmætɪk/ adj : using a careful system or method : done according to a system • We used a systematic approach to solve the problem. • She made a systematic study of the evidence. • He is very systematic [=methodical] in his work. • the systematic production of cars

— sys-tem-at-i-cal-ly /ˌsɪstəˈmætɪkli/ adv • We approached the problem systematically.

sys-tem-a-tize also Brit sys-tem-a-tise /ˈsɪstəməˌtaɪz/ verb -tiz-es; -tized; -tiz-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to make (something) into a system • The country is systematizing yearly exams for high-school students.

2 : to organize (something) by using a system • The computer program systematizes the data and enters it into a table.

sys-tem-ic /sɪˈstemɪk/ adj

1 formal : of or relating to an entire system • The company made some systemic changes to the way it operated. • The problem seems to be systemic.

2 medical : of, relating to, or affecting the entire body • a systemic disease systems analysis noun, pl ~-y-ses [count] : the process of studying a procedure or business in order to identify its goals and purposes and create systems and procedures that will achieve them in an efficient way

— systems analyst noun, pl ~-lysts [count] synthesizer